Heavy Security Marks Ford Tour

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP) — President Ford, pledging to continue two-way contact with the people "by every prudent and practical means," says he expects to visit by the end of the year the 11 states he has not seen as President.

Actually, Ford told a Republican fund-raising dinner in nearby Chicago Tuesday night that he still had 12 states to go before visiting all 50. However, aides later said his speechwriters made a mistake and that he has already visited 39 of the 50 states.

Now in the midst of a two-day Midwest swing marked by stringent security precautions, Ford invited about 30 small-town mayors from Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin to meet with him here this morning before he flies to his native Omaha, Neb., for a White House-sponsored conference on domestic policy at which the President promised to respond to questions from the floor.

In his Chicago speech, he declared: "I can only say that two-way communication with my friends and fellow Americans is for me an essential part of doing my job properly. I intend to keep my communications open, not in any foolhardy spirit, but by every prudent and practical means."

Following incidents 17 days apart in California in which two women pulled guns on Ford and one fired in his direction, new security measures were introduced in Chicago.

Police with hand-held metal detectors mingled in crowds near the Conrad Hilton Hotel where Ford spoke, and a veteran Chicago policeman said security was the tightest "since the Democratic convention (in 1968) — the most policemen ever for a presidential visit."

About 12 minutes before Ford arrived at the Conrad Hilton, police arrested Carmen Teresa Pulido, 37, who was allegedly carrying a 25-caliber pistol, near the hotel's rear door. She was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and failure to register the gun or carry a state registration card.

White House officials said the incident had nothing to do with Ford's trip. Mrs.

Pulido works at a currency exchange near the hotel.

The President himself curtailed his zest for hand shaking, limiting his face-to-face contacts to people who had already passed through security cordons.

Ford told his GOP audience that he has been traveling to all parts of the country "to let people know what this administration is trying to do" and also "learn what our fellow Americans want us to do."

Stating that he already had gone to 38 states as President — although he meant 39 — he said, "Before the end of the year, I hope and expect to visit the remainder of our states."

The President will subtract two states from his visiting list next Saturday when he serves as grand marshal for a forest festival in Elkins, W. Va., and addresses a GOP fund-raising dinner in Newark, N.J.

After those appearances, Ford must visit the following states by the end of the year if he is to reach his goal of stopping in all 50 by then: Alabama, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Dakota, Tennessee and Wyoming.

CIA Director Avoids Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — CIA Director William Colby apparently ended a move to hold him in contempt of Congress by turning over to the House intelligence committee all but about 50 words of subpoenaed documents.

Colby turned the documents over late Tuesday with the understanding that President Ford will decide what could be made public.

The committee was to meet today to decide whether to accept the arrangement. Chairman Otis Pike, D-N.Y., later said Colby no longer was a potential target for a contempt of Congress citation.

But Pike also said his fight for secret information is not over and that he still intends to ask full House backing for the committee's right to enforce its subpoenas.

The material Colby turned over consisted of 711 pages of documents on the 1968 Vietnam Tet offensive, including 25 pages of secret material on intelligence warnings of the offensive.

Meanwhile, an effort began on the House floor to make the CIA's annual budget public every year despite Colby's objections. Indicating that the CIA appropriation this year is something less than $2 billion, Rep. Robert Giaimo, D-Conn., introduced an amendment to disclose the precise lump-sum figure each year in the defense appropriation bill.

By disclosing the figure each year, congressmen could watch it and cut it when it "grows excessively," he said.

But Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., said this would "simply help the enemy — you can't get around that fact." Kemp supported Colby's argument that annual publication of the figure would enable potential enemies to track the scope and trends of U.S. intelligence activities.

Giaimo proposed the amendment to an $112 billion defense appropriation bill and disclosed that this year's CIA figure is within a $2 billion item listed as "Other Procurement, Air Force."

Meanwhile, a new policy order from Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger blocked the first testimony to the committee. Pike also had named Kissinger as a possible target of contempt citations if the panel's fight for information goes that far.

A foreign service officer told the committee he had been instructed under terms of a new Kissinger order not to tell the committee the policy recommendations he made during the 1974 Cyprus crisis.

Probe Death Threat Against Ford, Hirohito

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI officials today were investigating a reported assassination threat against President Ford and Japanese Emperor Hirohito allegedly involving three men traveling from Montreal to the United States, an FBI spokesman said.

"We have unsubstantiated information and at the present time, we are checking out its validity," the spokesman said.

"The information came from another agency," he added. He confirmed that he was referring to another government agency but would not identify it and would not say whether it was a federal or a local agency.

The spokesman confirmed that the information being checked out involves an assassination threat against Ford and Hirohito and involves three men entering this country from Montreal.

Hirohito is visiting Williamsburg, Va., and is scheduled to meet with Ford in Washington on Thursday.

TIMING DEFENDED Waiting At Red Lights In Idling Car Costly

By JAMES WERRELL
Many motorists in Big Spring have been wondering lately whether much thought has been put into the synchronization or timing of traffic lights in the city. Waiting at red lights in an idling car can be a costly experience in terms of both fuel and nerves if figured over the long run.

According to Big Spring Traffic Coordinator Susan Thomas, the timing of lights in Big Spring has been done as efficiently as possible, taking both driver safety and convenience into consideration.

"We have timed the lights on Gregg Street so that if you are going at the right speed you should only have to stop once," said Ms. Thomas. "The area between Third and Fourth streets on Gregg was our second worst accident location in the city. The timing of the lights there should help eliminate rear end collisions," she said.

Ms. Thomas claims that many lights have been synchronized for driver convenience but that many remain untimed in order to slow down traffic in the interest of safety. "A good example of this is the situation at the corners of Bell and Gregg on Fourth Street. In both cases the corners intersect interstate highways. For traffic to go straight through at 30 miles an hour would be too dangerous," she said.

A case in point is Scurry Street. Drivers are often required to stop as many as three times in a six block area. Those turning south onto Scurry from Third Street, however, may drive through lights in a synchronized sequence. "This helps to accommodate more downtown traffic," Ms. Thomas said. "Besides, synchronizing equipment for a pair of lights costs over $1,500," she added.

Ms. Thomas also contends that the city has concentrated on synchronizing high accident areas and in some cases this throws the timing off of lights on intersecting streets.

As well as defending the timing of the city's traffic lights, Ms. Thomas wishes to advise the public of a new law which took effect on Sept. 1. This law requires the turning car at a T-intersection to yield to any oncoming cars. This is a direct reversal of the previous law which required the oncoming car to yield.

RECOGNIZED FOR SERVICE — County Judge Bill Tune (left) presents Justice of the Peace Walter Grice (center) with a letter of appreciation from County Commissioners Court for Grice's 31 years as a public official. Witnessing the presentation is Earl Hull, a county commissioner under then County Judge Grice when the courthouse was built. Officials, relatives and friends crowded the second floor of the courthouse at Grice's retirement party Tuesday afternoon.

Grice Honored, West Takes Oath

As retiring Justice of the Peace Walter Grice met with friends and officials Tuesday afternoon, Bobby West, the man named to succeed him, took the oath of office.

Mrs. West hugged and kissed her husband after County Judge Bill Tune administered the oath.

A crowd of county officials and West's family witnessed the signing of a $1,000 bond.

County Commissioners Court will approve this bond Monday, County Clerk Margaret Ray said.

Grice, 78, retired after 31 years as a county and precinct official, including one term as county judge when courthouse bonds were approved.

West, who resigned as assistant manager of a lumber yard to accept the appointment, is a former special investigator for former District Attorney,

BOBBY WEST

Guilford Jones.

West will serve until January, 1977, if not elected to the post.

GRAND JURORS TO MULL

Allegations Of Rape, Murder, Embezzlement

By JOHN EDWARDS
Allegations of murder, rape, embezzlement and abandoning a baby will be considered by the grand jury convening Thursday. District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III listed the following among the cases which will be presented: Embezzlement of $10,000 from the O & A Tex-Pack Express. No criminal complaint has been filed in this case.

The newborn baby girl was found July 17 in an apartment complex trash container. Again, no one has been charged. Eusebio Morales, 26, Coahoma, is charged with involuntary manslaughter for the Aug. 10 traffic accident resulting in the death of Texas Highway Patrolman Jimmie W. Parks. Jose Antonio Saracho, 28, state prison inmate, aggravated sexual abuse on Aug. 28. Judi Carol Cotton, 21, 207½ NW 2nd St., the June 20 murder of Robert Allen.

Ramon Holguin Jr., 38, 3620 Calvin Ave., Aug. 8 aggravated assault on Doug Long. Martin M. McDonald, 18, of a local motel, theft on Aug. 17 from Jimmy Hopper. Tony Castellon Rodriguez, 21, Camp LeJune, N.C., possession of 11½ ounces of marijuana on June 22. Manuel Lopez, 19, 818 W. 7th St., theft on July 8 from Gerald Ayers. Raymond Bill Lopez, 19, 405½ W. 7th St., and Jesus Angel Vega, 19, 1002 N. Main St., apartment 21, burglary of a vehicle belonging to Cliff Blyth on Sept. 18. Reynaldo Hernandez, 18, 215 NE 10th St., theft on Aug. 28 from Philip D. Clark. Kevin Lynn Calley, 20, 605, E. 13th St., theft from Howard College on Aug. 8. And the following persons charged with second-offense driving while intoxicated. Israel Aguirre, 37, Weslaco, Sept. 7 with a prior offense in Jim Wells County. Clarence James Birdwell, 47, Snyder, April 26 with a prior offense in Scurry County.

James Percy Rhone, 49, Snyder, March 20 with a prior offense in Scurry County. Marcus Monroe Smith, 55, 709 E. 16th St., with a prior offense in Taylor County.

Maximino Fuentes Jr., 23, Westbrook, with a prior offense in Mitchell County. And Lorraine Harvey, 50, 309 Dundee St., with a prior offense in Tom Green County.

Attorney Says Patty Can Get Fair Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "They tell me I am going to have to pull a rabbit out of a hat" to defend Patricia Hearst successfully against federal bank robbery charges, says attorney F. Lee Bailey.

But the flamboyant Boston attorney, who has defended such clients as Dr. Sam Sheppard and Capt. Ernest Medina, said Tuesday: "That's not my impression. I've never seen anyone pull a rabbit out of a hat to win a case. I don't know how to pull a rabbit out of a hat."

Bailey said it "won't be an insurmountable task" to obtain a fair trial for Miss Hearst and that depending her will not be an impossible job.

He said he did not yet know what the basis of Miss Hearst's defense will be, but "obviously, the state of mind of the defendant will be a big issue in the trial."

Bailey said he wanted to determine whether the 21-year-old newspaper heiress is competent to cooperate in her own defense.

Jury Considers Carrillo Verdict

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — After hearing 15 days of testimony from 34 witnesses plus four hours of closing arguments and examining hundreds of financial documents, the sequestered jury in the income tax trial of suspended District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo and Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo began deliberations today.

Deliberations began at 10:50 a.m. after U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox took 53 minutes to read a 42-page charge. Defense lawyers took about 30 minutes to state their objections to the charge.

The Carrillo brothers are being tried in federal court on charges of conspiring with Arturo Zertuche, a cousin, to file false income tax returns and on charges of filing such returns.

At the center of the government's case is a contention that the Carrillos and Zertuche, who faces trial later, set up Zertuche's General Store at Benavides as a sham to conceal what would have been illegal, conflict of interest sales to various Duval County government agencies.

Income from the Zertuche store actually represented sales made by the Farm and Ranch Supply Store, a Benavides firm owned by the Carrillos, and should have been reported as their income, according to prosecutors.

The World At-A-Glance

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Terrorists killed one policeman and injured three others in attacks in Madrid today as the Spanish government replied to its critics abroad with a massive demonstration of public support for Generalissimo Francisco Franco. The four attacks on armed police officers were apparently a coordinated terrorist demonstration on the 39th anniversary of Franco's rebellion against democracy at the start of the Spanish Civil War. The attacks came as crowds assembled in the Plaza del Oriente, in front of the National Palace, to cheer Western Europe's only remaining dictator when he appeared on the palace balcony.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is nearing a vote that could determine whether Americans will have adequate natural gas and how many more billions of dollars they will have to pay for it. The Senate arranged a vote this afternoon on an amendment by Sen. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., that would remove federal controls from the price of virtually all U.S. natural gas immediately. The proposal is expected to fail, but it could indicate how many senators are willing to let prices climb. The dispute over the government's role in natural-gas pricing is the latest energy-policy battle between Congress and President Ford.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has vetoed U.N. membership for South and North Vietnam again because of the continued exclusion of South Korea from the world organization. U.S. officials said the Security Council's failure to give equal treatment to all three membership applicants was the sole reason for the American vetoes Tuesday.

75-Member Delegation Makes IS 27 Pitch

(Special to The Herald)
AUSTIN — A 75-member delegation from Lubbock, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Big Spring, San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Junction and Kerrville appeared this morning before officials of the Highways and Public Transportation Department to speak on behalf of the extension of IS 27 from Lubbock through Big Spring and San Angelo to a point connecting with IS 10.

The meeting took place in the State Highway Department building and ended shortly before noon. No new information was submitted today, but information on the proposal as prepared by the individual cities was updated.

Armistead (Army) Rust of San Angelo took the lead in the presentation made by the West Texas delegation. He strongly proposed that Highway 87 from Lubbock to San Angelo be designated now as IS 27.

Rust suggested that when Federal funds become available, the proposed route could quickly be brought up to interstate highway standards. Rust reminded the group that much of US 87 is already a four-lane highway. For that reason, he pointed out, the highway would be far less expensive to convert. The particular area US 87 now serves is the largest in the United States without an interstate highway.

Kimble County Judge Wilbur R. Dunk spoke for the Junction delegation. He strongly recommended that the highway connect with Junction and added Junction could be the hub for routes leading to Mexico, San Antonio and Austin.

Naomi Ingram spoke on behalf of the Kerrville group. She is president of the Kerr County Chamber of Commerce. She also promoted the idea to extend IS 27 through Junction to Kerrville.

The Big Spring group flew to Austin this morning in private planes. Of the nine who originally planned to go, only Jim Gregg failed to make the trip.

Requesting Mail Users To Register Problems

Beginning today, the U.S. Postal Service introduces a program at the Big Spring Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service, announced Big Spring

Postmaster Frank Hardesty. Unhappy customers will be able to obtain a "consumer service card" from post offices and from letter carriers. The complaints written on the card will get quick attention, the Postal Service says.

The card is a two-piece postal card with carbon paper between it. "One copy goes to me or a supervisor so work can begin on the problem," Hardesty said. "The other goes to Postal Service Headquarters in Washington for cataloging and analysis. The cards will help management spot problem areas and trends and take corrective action if necessary," he added.

Hardesty urges customers in Big Spring to use the cards, and to bring their inquiries and complaints to the attention of postal managers. "If people feel their problems have not been properly handled, they should see me, personally," the Postmaster said.

"Good service is a far broader concept than just fast mail handling, as important as that is," said Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar in announcing the program nationally. "It is also built on employee courtesy, our responsiveness to customer needs, the sympathy and understanding we bring to your own expectations of what good postal service is all about," he added.

The Consumer Service Program was tested earlier this year in Illinois, Massachusetts, Arizona and Rhode Island. Postal customers in the test found the cards easy to complete, and most complaints were resolved to the customer's satisfaction, according to the Postal Service.

Hostage Collapses, Siege Begins Fourth Day

LONDON (AP) — One of six Italian hostages held by gunmen in the stifling basement storeroom of a London restaurant since Sunday has collapsed, but his captors refuse to let him go, police reported today.

The three gunmen repeated their demand for a plane to fly them to the West Indies, but Police Commissioner Sir Robert Mark refused to make any deals.

"They are criminals and they will come out under arrest," he told newsmen at the siege of the Spaghetti House restaurant went into its fourth day.

The gunmen made a medical check on the ailing hostage under the direction of a police doctor speaking through the steel door of the 10-by-12-foot storeroom.

Police Comdr. Christopher Payne told newsmen, "The man is vomiting and perspiring, but I'm satisfied he is not seriously ill."

Italian Consul-General Mario Manca offered to take the hostage's place if the gunmen would let him go. But Mark vetoed the proposal. Then as the man's condition apparently worsened, the police tried to talk the gunmen into releasing him. But they refused.

One officer said the trio was "tired and confused. Their conversation is sometimes irrational."

But the police said they did not expect the siege to end soon.

"If you look at other events of this kind in the world, we could be in for a six-day siege," said Deputy Asst. Comm. Ernest Bond.

Politics Did Decide It

Boris Spassky is perhaps tasting the fruit reserved for losers in a Communist state. The former world champion chess player, who lost his title in the celebrated match with American Bobby Fischer, has lost his right to travel outside the Soviet Union, and apparently will be prevented from marrying the woman of his choice. She, a French citizen, has been told to leave Moscow.

But if Spassky's case shows it's bad news to be a loser behind the Iron Curtain, tennis star Martina Navratilova is showing the world it's not so great to be a winner, either.

Miss Navratilova is the fourth-ranked woman tennis player in the world. At the age of 19, she has a tremendous future in tennis. But she says her Czechoslovakian government is putting roadblocks in her path to the top; officials want her to stay home more, which would mean compete in international tournaments less, and she must request permission before competing anywhere.

So Miss Navratilova is saying goodbye Czechoslovakia, hello U.S.A. She's asked for political asylum in this country, and her request will be honored.

"Politics had nothing to do with my decision," she says. "It was strictly a tennis matter." But that's not quite accurate. Politics had everything to do with it, for it is the politics of Communist states — the constant suspicion and mistrust, even of their own citizens who bring their country honor — that precipitate actions like that of Miss Navratilova. And that's a fact the world would do well to note.

No Excitement Evident

Undaunted by the fact that he did little to enhance the Democratic ticket when he agreed to come out as George McGovern's running mate in the last presidential election, Sargeant Shriver recently announced that he wanted to be considered for the nation's highest office in the 1976 national election.

In announcing his candidacy, Shriver was not bashful in invoking the image and memory of the late President, John F. Kennedy, who happened to be his brother-in-law.

He said he can offer "the honest and truthful leadership that summons the best that is in us — as John Kennedy once did."

"I intend to claim that legacy...for those billions of unknown human beings around the world for whom the memory of those days is still an inspiration."

Shriver denied that he was a stalking horse for the surviving Kennedy brother, Senator Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts. "He doesn't need a stalking horse," Shriver said. "We ought to take him at his word — let him alone — and get on about the business of selecting a presidential candidate."

His candidacy may be interpreted by some as a stalking horse, by others as evidence that Senator Edward Kennedy really means it when he says he will not run.

Whatever the motive behind Shriver's candidacy, it did not set off tremors of political excitement. He is just another of the host of Democrats who are engulfed in a sea of voter indifference.

Crash Course

Around The Rim

Julie Simmons

If you would have said the word "football" to me three months ago, I would have gotten a general picture of a bunch of guys out on a field running in every direction like the neighborhood kids playing kick-the-can. I could seldom pick out who was carrying the ball in that shuffle or knew who was supposed to do what.

MY CONCEPT of football has never been too clear. I always blamed my two older brothers for not teaching me the game when I was little. But they let me grow up playing with dolls and coloring books, not thinking of my future need of football knowledge.

When I went to football games during my early education, I was hardly aware of any action down on the field. My friends and I just went to "run around," as I'm sure they still do today. I was concerned with who Becky or Rhonda was sitting by and who wasn't sitting by me.

And I'm sure the ground underneath the stadium bleachers has been considerably worn down by the generations of young fans beating a path to the cotton candy, popcorn and coke booths.

When I entered high school my three years of band experience provided me with another excuse for my football ignorance. After all, I was going to march at the games and play the songs by memory and would have to sit in the band section during the game. That was enough to worry about. Or so I thought.

A FEW weeks after I started high school an announcement was made about powder-puff football. The freshman-junior girls were to play the sophomore-senior girls after a few weeks practice. Terror and insecurity set to work on me immediately. Could I learn the game in a few weeks or was I to be sidelined and not participate at all. I decided not to make a complete fool of myself and did not sign up for the team. I never did play a powder-puff game.

Going to a high school as small as mine was, you could not escape football. And with the Phillips Blackhawk's reputation of being a powerhouse of the Panhandle, everybody was a football fan and spirit booster. I went to all the games and during my senior year, made spirit banners and wrote and directed most of the skits for pep rallies. I just didn't understand the game.

I didn't make it to a college that had a football team until my senior year when I attended Texas Tech. I did learn a little more about football with my boyfriend coaching me on the plays. But I still caught myself looking in the backfield for the tackle when the ball carrier had moved around to the left side and on up the field.

WHEN I joined the staff of the Herald as women's editor I heard a rumor about football coverage and thought it was some sort of a joke about my ignorance. But they meant it. And I'm learning football in what you might call a crash course.

During the first game I covered along with Elaine Schilling, a backshop worker, I sat by the announcer for Sands High School. Bless him, he answered all my questions and was very patient with my ignorance. I did learn to ask the right questions and make them sound half-way intelligent.

My football eyes are improving. Judging yards gained has been the hardest for me. When I am up there in that press box trying to see the down markers and remember where they were on the previous play, well, it is frustrating.

And every time I miss a play or have to ask who the ball carrier was or why that play was called back, I wonder why my stupid brothers didn't get me in the back yard and teach me the great American sport of football.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I'm puzzled by the statement in the Bible that suggests we confess our faults one to another. Isn't that a revelation of self which might prove destructive?

THE reference is James 5:16. And what is suggested there is occasional, not regular — particular, not indiscriminate. Furthermore, there are only certain sins which are proper to be confessed to our fellow men. Secret faults ought to be shared with God alone.

I would think James had in mind here wrongs done to society and to our brethren. Perhaps he meant the public sort of sin, which by virtue of its general knowledge might bring reproach on one's faith. Remember too that he's speaking here of relationships in a church setting. If this suggestion has any general application, it would be to a husband and wife. That intimate relationship depends on an "open mutuality" where disorders of conduct and thought can be quickly cleared.

A great advantage among Christians confessing their sins is to then engage in mutual prayer. How fortunate is the person who not only gets a listening ear, but a praying heart, interceding with God for the matter revealed.

Jerusalem Eyed

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Late last month a high-level Soviet Diplomat here secretly sought out one of this country's top Middle East experts to ask about reaction here and in the Middle East if the Kremlin restored diplomatic relations with Israel.

THAT A Soviet Diplomat would seek U.S. advice on such a volatile matter is strong evidence how worried the Soviets are at having been blocked by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's skillful diplomacy from playing more than a bystander role in Arab-Israeli mediation.

Restoration of the Moscow-Jerusalem diplomatic link, broken during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, would have these probable results, in the view of American officials:

Cut the heart out of the Palestine Liberation Organization's campaign that Israel can't continue as a Jewish state; weaken radical Arab states, including Libya and Iraq; and give Soviet diplomacy far more scope than it has now.

The immediate result of a new Soviet-Israeli link would subject Moscow to political attack from radical Arabs, particularly extremists in the PLO. But Arab moderates — now dominant within the Arab world — would privately cheer Moscow.

THESE MODERATES, led by Saudi Arabia and Egypt, want settlement, not the extinction of Israel. They fear further radicalization of the PLO and feel renewal of Soviet diplomacy in Israel might undercut the radicals.

None of this means the Kremlin has finally decided to set up housekeeping in Tel Aviv. But the secret approach to the American Mideast expert, coupled with last Wednesday's Manhattan talk between Soviet foreign minister Andrei Gromyko and Israeli foreign minister Yigal Allon, shows how the Kremlin winds are now blowing.

A footnote: Some U.S. diplomats worry that a Moscow move back to Israel might make Israel less flexible, although in the long run the U.S. would favor it.

The latest effort by the Democratic party establishment to stack the delegate deck against Gov. George Wallace is being opposed not only by Wallace but by some unlikely allies: McGovernite forces on the party's left. State chairman Don Fowler of South Carolina, close to national chairman Robert Strauss, is pushing a rules change to permit up to 25 per cent uncommitted delegates on each state delegation to the 1976 convention — thereby mitigating Wallace victories in the presidential primary elections.

Wallace's meager forces within the national committee are powerless alone to stop adoption of Fowler's proposal when the committee meets here Oct. 14-15. But now Wallace is supported by the Democratic Planning Group (DPG), organ of the committee's big left-wing bloc. Alan Baron, top DPG staffer, plotted against Fowler's proposal in a long-distance telephone conversation last week with Wallace aide Mickey Griffin, Democratic national committeeman from Alabama.

"WHAT THEY can do to Wallace this time, they can do to McGovern next time," Baron, who is also McGovern's press secretary, explained. Beyond that, McGovernites shudder over establishment Democrats huddling with Strauss behind closed convention doors to pick the presidential nominee.

Rules for the 1976 convention permit up to 25 per cent of a delegation to be selected at large by the state central committee. That was intended to bring to the New York convention the governors, Senators, and state chairmen sadly lacking at Miami Beach in 1972. But the rules require these at-large delegates to vote in the same proportion as elected district delegates.

For example, if Wallace sweeps Tennessee's district delegates in the primary, anti-Wallace state party leaders must vote for Wallace as at-large delegates.

Fowler would fix that by permitting at-large delegates to stay uncommitted, regardless of primary election rules. Insisting this is not aimed at Wallace, Fowler says he wants to assure the presence of party notables in New York.

To Wallace, this is only the latest attempt by national party leaders to nullify his popularity. When the national committee meets, Griffin will attack the Fowler proposal as an intolerable last straw.

Sales Reflect Doubts

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Of growing importance, almost by the day, will be the attitude of ordinary Americans toward economic news between now and the Christmas season.

In a secular context, that period is more than one of good will and charity. It is a period when merchants seek what for them is the biggest gift of all, a sales bonanza.

Whether or not they will have it depends, it is popularly argued, on an annual, dollar basis. Because of 8.6 per cent inflation, that meant a real decline.

A good deal of the decline results from weakness in sales of certain big-ticket items, including furniture, whose markets have been damaged by the slow pace of homebuilding. But overall, the exuberance merchants seek isn't evident.

For at least one large merchant the situation, unless corrected, might lead to an additional financial crisis. W. T. Grant Co., which lost $111.3 million in the first half of the year, needs big Christmas season of the economy. The consumer buying mood, which is said to be improving, still remains weak when compared to some of the peaks over the past 10 years. Fears about jobs are common, and so are doubts about future spending power.

These doubts are reflected in retail sales, which in the third week of September were only 6 per cent higher than a year earlier, on an annual, dollar basis. Because of 8.6 per cent inflation, that meant a real decline.

It has been demonstrated before that even though the consumer might have cash in his or her pocket, that cash isn't necessarily spent if there are doubtably about jobs or inflation or other aspects sales to pay its nervous creditors.

Grant is being kept alive with a $540 million loan from 27 banks, a loan that will come up for payment or rewriting next July 30. Store officials say the critical factor will be Christmas sales.

In fact, Grant is depending heavily on improved consumer attitudes as well as cost-cutting to turn the tide. No longer does it expect to make a profit for the August-September-October quarter, but it does hope to be in the black for the final three months of its fiscal year, which ends Jan. 31.

It would ease the anxiety of merchants and consumers too, if they were able to make assumptions they were reasonably certain would hold. But this is difficult at the moment; too many imponderables exist.

The consumer has enormous spending power, despite the economic troubles of recent years. How he uses it during the Christmas shopping season will make or break a good many merchants.

EDITORIALS / OPINIONS

What Others Say

In a recent series of articles in The Tribune concerning the troubles of the Post Office Department it was pointed out that the letter-sorting machines average a two per cent error. While there are still some mechanical snafus the chief cause of mis-sending millions of letters daily is the tedious process by which operators sitting at consoles must record the first three digits of the zip code at the rate of one letter a second.

For years now the Post Office has been working on sophisticated scanners capable of reading zip codes even in handwriting. None has yet proven practical. Senders address letters in various quadrants of the envelope. Handwriting of zip code numbers is highly individualistic, and even typewritten numbers are hard for a machine to scan. That is why your bank check carries peculiar-looking but highly identifiable numbers to help the computers.

The Tribune thinks the time has come to adopt a simple system, well within the present state of the art, whereby citizens mailing letters can send them fully automatically not only to the post office of destination but to the last digit zip code subdivision within that post office.

More than 30 years ago machines capable of reading and grading true-false examination papers by sensing options blocked out by pen or pencil were well developed. The process didn't require magnetic inks or any of the other devices of modern computer technology.

If a standard box which could include all zip code possibilities were printed in a standard place in the lower left corner of any envelope, and if the zip number were blocked out by the sender with any writing instrument, such an envelope could be sorted and resorted at high speed without ever being looked at by a human eye.

At the cost of a few seconds the sender could initiate an automatic postal handling service at a probable saving of delivery time and a certain saving of expense.

Where the zip code is unknown or for letters of foreign destination the box would remain unmarked. The machine would automatically kick these out to be manually handled.

Sure, such a system would cost a lot of post office jobs. But in recent years postal rates have risen faster than the commodity index while huge deficits persist. We are going to have to decide whether the Post Office is an employment organization or a service organization. TULSA TRIBUNE

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

September 30, 1775:

During much of September, John Hunter Holt, publisher of the Norfolk Gazette, has used his newspaper relentlessly to harangue John Murray Dunmore, the royal governor of Virginia. The printed attacks enrage Dunmore, who has taken refuge aboard HMS Otter at Hampton Roads. Dunmore proclaims that Holt's newspaper favors "sedition and rebellion." Today about noon, Dunmore sends ashore a landing party which seizes Holt's press and two printers; Holt himself escapes. Until shipping the press to British forces in New York in the spring, Dunmore uses it to publish his own pro-British newspaper from the Otter. The seizure is the first of several outrages that force the Virginians to retaliate later in the year.

Blithe Spirit Casting Made

The Howard College Fine Arts Department has now completed casting for its forthcoming local presentation of Blithe Spirit, Noel Coward's greatest laugh hit for the stage. The presentation has been scheduled for Oct. 17 and 18 at the college auditorium.

Lee Gordon will be seen as "Charles," a part in which he will be attempting to duplicate the success of some of the most illustrious stars of stage and screen. In the original London production this part was played by the versatile Mr. Coward himself, and so completely did he make it his own, it was felt anyone succeeding him as "Charles" would be pallid by comparison.

Yet, when the play was done in New York with Clifton Webb in the part, some of the reviewers who had also seen the London presentation claimed there was little or nothing to choose between the two interpretations. Local friends of the theater say how Lee Gordon fares as the latest in a long line of distinguished "Charleses."

In addition to "Charles," each of the other parts is of almost equal importance. They will be filled by Cindy McDonald as "Edith," Debbie Martin, "Ruth," David Zant, "Dr. Bradman," Robin von Rosenberg, "Violet Arcati," and Jan Cass as "Elvira."

The production will be directed by John S. Gordon. Kathy Spannaus is assistant director, and Mark Sheedy is stage manager.

Gas Company, Town Feud Continues

COOPER, Tex. (AP) — It appears this Northeast Texas town may be one up in a running battle with Lone Star Gas Co. over a rate increase.

Starting three weeks ago the company sought a 46 percent boost along with provision for a fuel adjustment. City councilmen simply tabled the request.

In turn, Lone Star Gas let it be known that its one serviceman in this town of 2,500 residents was being withdrawn. It said a serviceman would drive the 30 miles here from Sulphur Springs to handle emergencies on Monday, Wednesday and Friday each week.

City officials complained that if a gas line broke, it would take 30 minutes to shut off escaping fuel under that arrangement.

The company's district manager at Sulphur Springs, J.M. Holland, replied that the serviceman could stay if the town of Cooper would pay his salary.

City council members, still dissatisfied, met in emergency session Monday night and adopted an ordinance requiring all public utility firms to keep a serviceman on duty here. It provides a penalty for noncompliance a fine of $200 per day.

Lone Star spokesman Bob Arnold said Tuesday that the company's lawyers are checking to see whether Cooper has authority to take such a step.

"If it's legal," he said of the ordinance, "we'll have to abide by it. If the people of Cooper want the service, they will have to pay the cost."

"Each utility in each town must earn a fair return. It must stand on its own for profitability. But we want to stay within the legal aspects."

Recommend Higher Auto Insurance Rates

AUSTIN (AP) — State Insurance Board actuaries today recommended a 17 percent average statewide increase in car insurance rates—a change that would boost Texas motorists' premiums by $112.8 million.

To the typical motorist, this would mean an increase of from $8 to $43 in his insurance costs, depending on where he lives.

Insurance companies sought an even greater increase—24.9 percent, which would raise total Texas premium volume by $165.4 million.

The 17 percent increase recommended by the staff at the board's annual car insurance hearing would, if granted, be the biggest in more than 15 years.

Broken down by categories, statewide average increases proposed by the staff include:

- Full comprehensive, 8.8 percent.
- $100 deductible collision, 12 percent.
- Bodily injury liability, 21.1 percent.
- Property damage liability, 16 percent.
- Uninsured motorists coverage, 32.4 percent.

The staff used a formula approved by the board for estimating how much accidents will cost insurance companies during 1976, so board approval of the increases recommended by its employees is expected.

Increases in the past 15 years have not exceeded 16.7 percent. Texas car insurance premiums for 1975 are estimated at $663.6 million. They would be $829 million in 1976 if the industry gets its full increase.

The board sets standard rates, which vary according to the county where a driver lives, his age, the make and model of his car and the uses to which he puts it. Companies can deviate upward or downward from those rates after obtaining the board's permission.

David Irons of the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office said the industry's rate request was based on more recent data than the board staff recommendation. The "fast track" system used by the industry gathered the loss experience of 23 major companies through June 30. The firms write 60 percent of the car insurance in Texas.

Last year, the board used the fast track method to hold a rate increase to 8.8 percent, half that recommended by the industry. Gaylon Daniel, board actuary, said his recommendations this year do not use that technique.

Irons recommended these statewide average increases:

- Full comprehensive, 20.2 percent.
- $100 deductible collision, up 22.6 percent.
- Bodily injury liability, 22.5 percent.
- Property damage liability, 26.1 percent.
- Uninsured motorists coverage, 34.2 percent.

"The national picture is distressing to auto insurers. One would hope there would be more positive results in Texas, as has been the case in other years, but this is not so," Irons said.

The two critical factors in rate setting—the frequency of accidents and the average cost of each claim—both are rising, he said.

"Now that people have plenty of fuel and are using it to travel more, now that the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit is being flaunted (sic) every day on every mile of Texas highways, . . . fast track shows our loss costs are skyrocketing," Irons said.

Inflation, he said, has pushed prices for "crash parts" up 22.5 percent from a year ago and hospital care expenses average 17.5 percent higher.

Bust Nets Four Tons Of Weed

HOUSTON AP — Charges were pending today against three men arrested over the weekend as U.S. Customs agents seized more than four tons of marijuana worth $1.25 million in two unrelated raids along the Texas border.

Regional Customs Commissioner Cleburne Maier said 1,350 pounds of marijuana were seized Saturday night at Garcano, in Starr County, when smugglers floated the cache across the Rio Grande in a boat.

Merkel Lands New Industry

MERKEL — The Wilkerson Manufacturing Company has started construction of a plant here which will eventually employ between 65 and 70 persons. The firm will make hunting clothes and purses.

The industry will have an annual payroll of about $325,000.

BEAUTY SPOT AT FAIR . . . D & M always blooms

D & M Garden Center Brightens The Corner

D&M Garden Center was selected as the best commercial booth at the recent Howard County Fair. And no wonder, they brighten up any spot wherever they are with an arrangement of gay mums, fountains and greenery.

To add a touch of beauty and color to your home this fall, D&M has a selection of colored sand terrariums, macrame hangers, decorator pots, a large selection of beautiful foliage plants and dried flowers, as well as life-like artificial flowers. They will make you an arrangement using your chosen colors.

It is much less expensive to redecorate your home than to move. If you're tired of the same colors and furnishings, a few plants and hanging baskets from D&M can brighten your whole house.

D&M reminds us that we need living plants around us to help purify the atmosphere. They give us oxygen and they also absorb noise pollution. Masses of plants in a closed space will keep the house smelling fresh.

At D&M, they can help you select a plant for any particular spot, shady or sunny and in any price range from 69 cents to $95.

It is also time to think of spring color. D&M has just received a gorgeous selection of bulbs from Sassenheim, Holland.

Included is a "Happy Birthday U.S.A." selection of red, white and blue hyacinths. These can also be forced for winter bloom and color. D&M has a chart which shows planting plans to form a flag, star and rectangle with U.S.A. which will form when the bulbs bloom. In the selection, there are also paperwhite narcissi, croci, daffodils, anemones, iris and tulips.

For help in adding color to brighten your home and lift your spirits during the autumn days, go out to D&M. If your club or organization needs to raise money, contact Ruby or Doris. They will meet with your group and explain the new exciting way to have a plant party.

JUST BRUSH IT ON

No Roach Means No More Roaches

The manufacturers of Johnston's No-Roach are not bragging or boasting . . . they are just stating a fact — No-Roach means exactly that . . . no roaches!

This claim is made with knowledge obtained through twenty years sales experience, thousands of laboratory tests, and millions of satisfied customers.

Johnston's No-Roach (comes in a brown amber bottle with brush attached) is different . . . and it's different for many reasons. No-Roach eliminates the need for frequent application of messy, unsafe sprays and powders . . . No-Roach is clean and easy to use and is effective for months.

When you use Johnston's No-Roach, simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around baseboards, sinks, table legs . . . behind cabinets and appliances . . . on shelves and inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and anywhere else cockroaches may breed. No-Roach dries fast to form an invisible path of death that kills cockroaches, ants, silverfish, spiders, all crawling insects — and best of all, it continues to kill effectively for months.

To keep ants out of the house, brush No-Roach across window frames and door sills. Ants will not cross the coating. No-Roach is available at Safeway, Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. It is distributed by Kimbell.

How To Get Rid Of Roaches and Ants

Spray non-toxic No-Roach for fast, quick kill of roaches and ants. Apply Brushon No-Roach for long term control. Take your choice, or better yet . . . take them both. Johnston's No-Roach. Available at Safeway, Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. Dist. by Kimbell.

Playoff Teams Evenly Matched

THEY COMBINED FOR A NO-NO — These four Oakland A's pitchers combined for a no-hit no-run game against the California Angels last Sunday. Vida Blue, left, started game and went five innings to record the win. In order after Blue and left to right in picture are Glenn Abbott, Paul Lindblad and Rollie Fingers. A's were working out in preparation for playoff series with Boston starting Saturday.

NEW YORK (AP) — You couldn't find more evenly matched teams than those in the baseball playoffs which start Saturday.

The Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates, contenders for the National League pennant, split a 12-game series during the 1975 season.

The West-winning Reds and East champion Pirates were so closely matched during the season, in fact, that they scored the same amount of runs—55.

The Oakland A's, champions in the West, and the East-winning Boston Red Sox similarly each won six games of their 12-game American League series.

But the A's showed more explosive bat power, outscoring the Red Sox 67-50 during the season.

The home field advantage was significant in each case—with each of the teams holding a 4-2 edge at home. This could come into play next week since the defending World Champion A's will play three of the fivegame sets in Oakland and the Pirates also will have that extra game at home.

The playoffs open with twogame sets over the weekend in Boston and Cincinnati.

Jerry Reuss, who won three of four games from the Reds during the season, and Jim Rooker, who started and lost a game to Cincinnati, will pitch the first two games—but not necessarily in that order.

Gary Nolan, the only Cincinnati pitcher to beat Pittsburgh twice this year, ironically probably won't start any of the first two games. Sparky Anderson has said he'll probably open with two left-handers against the East champions—Don Gullett and Fred Norman.

In the American League series, Boston Manager Darrell Johnson has named Luis Tiant as his opening day pitcher. He beat the A's twice without a loss this season. Either Rick Wise (1-1 against Oakland) or Reggie Cleveland (also 1-1 with the A's) will pitch the second game.

The A's are going with Ken Holtzman on Saturday and probably Vida Blue on Sunday.

Cowboys Caught

The College Heights Cowboys suffered their first loss in two seasons at the hands of the Dolphins, 18-0, Tuesday night at Blankenship Field.

The Cowboys averaged almost six-yards per attempt on the ground, but fumbles, interceptions and penalties prevented them reaching end zone territory.

College Heights began a sustained drive when Kip McLaughlin intercepted a Dolphin pass on his own 10-yard line. This drive was interrupted five plays later by the halftime whistle, 30 yards short of paydirt.

A Dolphin fumble recovered by Stewart Sullivan early in the second half was nullified by an off-side penalty. Late in the third period Rob Pekowski made an outstanding defensive play by blocking a Dolphin punt.

The Cowboys will next meet the Packers at 6 p.m., Monday at Blankenship Field.

If old man weather oblige, one of the best ever city golf championships could zip across the Comanche Trail course Saturday and Sunday.

Thirty-nine linksters rivaled for honors last year with this year's roll called to reach 100 or better.

Royce Cox won the 1974 championship flight, firing a 106 for 27 holes. For the second straight year, Harold Stewart was runnerup, trailing Cox by only one stroke.

Entry deadline is 6 p.m., Friday with the entry fee $10 per person. Bobby Howell, new pro, will be looking at his first tournament presentation.

The sandhill crane season will open Oct. 25 in Zone A, an area west of a line from Del Rio north along U. S. 277 to San Angelo, then along U. S. 87 north to Amarillo and north along U. S. 287 to the Oklahoma State line. The season in Zone A will close Jan. 25, 1976.

Zone B crane season will open Nov. 29 and close Jan. 25, 1976. This area is east of Zone A and west of a line from San Angelo north along U. S. 277 to Albany and north along U. S. 283 to Vernon and north to the Oklahoma state line.

Daily bag limits for both zones will be three birds and a possession limit of six. Shooting hours for crane are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset daily.

COLLEGE FORECAST

Bufs, Bruins Will Put In Their 2 Cents Worth

NEW YORK (AP) — Colorado and UCLA, themselves among the Top Twenty, get a chance this weekend to stick their two cents into the dispute over whether Oklahoma or Ohio State is the nation's No. 1 college football team.

While Barry "I'm Still Happy to Remain No. 1" Switzer's Oklahoma Sooners open defense of their Big Eight crown by entertaining Colorado, Woody "We Deserve to Be No. 1" Hayes' Ohio State Buckeyes will be in Los Angeles for a nationally televised game (ABC-TV, 9 p.m., EDT) against UCLA.

Upset Special of the Week... UCLA 27-24.

Last week's score was 45 right, 21 wrong, three ties for a .682 percentage. For the season, it's 135-67-668.

Missouri at Michigan: If Mizzou wins this one, the fifth-ranked Tigers will have to be considered a serious threat for the national championship. Michigan is No. 1 only in ties, so why are the 12th-ranked Wolverines a 10-point favorite? Simple...Michigan 20-14.

Southern California at Iowa: Will Iowa be looking back to Penn State or ahead to Ohio State? Southern Cal 31-7.

Miami, Fla. at Nebraska: Can the Hurricanes, coached by long-time Nebraska aide Carl Selmer, give the Cornhuskers as tough a battle as they gave Oklahoma? Uh...Nebraska 28-7.

Texas A&M at Kansas State: Last year, the Aggies were unbeaten until they ran afoul of Kansas. They're unbeaten again, and they'll stay that way for awhile...Texas A&M 35-7.

Utah State at Texas: Will the Longhorns be looking ahead to Oklahoma? "That would be a logical concern," admits Darrell Royal, "but I know the biggest mistake you make is to underestimate your opponent. It's pretty obvious we should win this game, but it's also pretty obvious that the best team doesn't always win." Texas 34-6.

Michigan State at Notre Dame: Spartans usually give the Irish a battle and their offense is coming on, but defense tells the story...Notre Dame 21-7.

Mississippi at Alabama: "Anybody who counts us out had better do some re-counting," Bear Bryant said after the Tide's opening-game loss to Missouri. The counting has reached 96 points, as in Alabama 96, Clemson 0; Alabama 40, Vanderbilt 7 and now...Alabama 38, Ole Miss 0.

Kentucky at Penn State: Nittany Lions' Eastern crown could be on the line next week against West Virginia but they'd better not overlook Kentucky...Penn State 30-13.

West Virginia at Southern Methodist: Logical spot for an upset since Mountaineers' minds have to be on Penn State next week. It's also SMU's "home opener. Nevertheless...West Virginia 26-22-10.

Texas Tech at Oklahoma State: Both sides looking ahead, Tech to Texas A&M, State to Missouri...Oklahoma State 28-14.

SCOUTING EXPLAINED

JVs Recognized At Quarterback

Tuesday night's Big Spring Quarterback Club meeting at the high school cafeteria focused on the Steer junior varsity team before a good crowd for the second week in a row.

The squad was introduced by coach Larry Horton, who named other staff members, Ben Neel and Mike Caraway. The junior varsity cheerleaders were also recognized.

Horton pointed out even though the squad has lost all three of its games played, two were by only one point and the other by a touchdown. A lot of these players Horton emphasized are laying the ground work for a varsity promotion next year.

Horton hopes a good home crowd will be on hand at 1 p.m., Saturday at Blankenship, when the Steer JV's meet the same classified team from Abilene

Hawkettes Trip Up McMurry

The Howard College Hawkette volleyball team tripped up McMurry of Abilene here Tuesday night at the Hawk gym, 11-5, 15-6.

High servers for HC were Ruth Knight and Helen Ray, nine points each with McMurry's Kathy Carter recording five.

Howard College connected on 94 per cent of its serves and grounded 63 per cent of spikes. Ray hit 6 of 6 spike attempts and her teammate, Regina Lewis made 3 for 3.

The Hawkettes will be entered in the TWU Tournament at 4 p.m., Friday at Denton.

QUARTERBACK CORNER

By PASCHAL ODOM
Quarterback Tri-Captain

The first conference game for all members of District 5-4A unfolds Friday night. Big Spring has had an extra week to prepare for the Abilene Eagles.

The coaches say the Steers have had excellent workouts and appear to be in both good physical and mental condition. All are ready to put forth the same 110 per cent shown in previous games played.

Every Steer member is well except Ricky Watkins, who is out for the season with an injured knee.

Let's all plan to travel to Abilene Friday night and watch the Steers win their first 5-4A game of the 1975 season. It has been years since Big Spring has been a district contender.

The attitude and ability of the Steers have improved to the point that with a few good breaks this will be the year. These breaks are normally made and don't just happen.

A positive attitude of the fans will give the support needed to help the Steers make these breaks occur. It is distressing to hear fans give a negative approach. The attitude of the fans, parents, classmates and teachers does rub off. Let's show the positive attitude that we would like to rub off on our Steers.

We can show this positive attitude by being vocal and enthusiastic at all of the Steer games, and each time you see a player or coach. When we attend games regardless whether on the road or at home, let's all show good sportsmanship.

Club membership dues are still coming in but we still need more members to reach our anticipated goal. Check to see if you have sent in yours.

The attendance at the Tuesday night Quarterback Club meetings is increasing, but we would like to see more attend.

Film of the previous week's game is always good and the scouting report on the upcoming opposition lets you know what to expect. Everyone is welcome at the club meeting.

At the next Quarterback Club get-together, Oct. 6, the Big Spring freshman players will be saluted. See you in Abilene.

Lead Slips

By The Associated Press
 Grambling remains atop The Associated Press college division poll this week, but the Tigers' lead over second-place Western Kentucky slipped to a meager 19 points.

In balloting by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters, Grambling 3-0-0, which was idle last week, took 18 first-place votes out of 44 cast and had a total of 357 points. The Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky, a 30-3 winner over Austin Peay, got 11 first-place votes and 338 points.

Boise State, with four votes for No. 1, Texas A&I, with five, and Jackson State, with one, rounded out the top five, just as they did a week ago.

Idaho State and Eastern Kentucky held onto sixth and seventh places, respectively, meaning the top seven teams remained the same this week.

Northern Michigan, a 41-14 winner over Nebraska-Omaha last Saturday, advanced from 11th to eighth, while North Dakota State shot from 15th to ninth on the strength of a 49-7 victory over Morningside.

Delaware, the only team in the top 10 with a loss, as 10th, down one spot from a week ago.

Rounding out the top 15 are Wittenberg, Henderson State, Montana, Ithaca and Abilene Christian.

Wittenberg slipped from eighth to 11th despite winning, Henderson State slipped from 10th to 12th and Abilene Christian fell from 14th to 15th after a narrow 24-21 loss to fourth-ranked Texas A&I.

Montana and Ithaca are the newcomers to the poll, and both made it on the strength of first-place votes.

Wrestling Interest Is Shown

An almost packed house watched the return, after a long absence, of professional wrestling here Tuesday night at the City Auditorium.

A double main event was featured.

The final match resulted in Dory Funk, Jr., and Scott Casey defeating Don Fargo and "Killer" Brooks, two falls to one.

In the first main go, popular Ricky Romero won his match against "Mad Dog" Vashon on a disqualification.

The special event between Johnny Starr and "Sputnik" Monroe ended in a draw.

Ray Candy pinned Angelo Poffo in the curtain-raiser.

It was announced that wrestling will return to the auditorium for the second straight week, next Tuesday.

The complete card will appear in the Herald's Sunday edition.

Agrees To Play For Milan Team

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Red Robbins, who played last season with the Virginia Squires of the American Basketball Association, has agreed to play with a pro team of Milan, a club spokesman said Tuesday.

Cesare Rubini, general manager of the team, said Robbins' transfer to Italy was finalized in the United States and the veteran forward was expected to leave for Milan within the next few days.

SPRAY FLIES — Challenger Joe Frazier ducks away as champ Muhammad Ali comes across with a right and the spray flies off Joe in the ninth round of their bout in Manila Wednesday.

Ali Delivers TKO Blow In Round 14

MANILA (AP) — It was a great fight, one of the greatest, brutally physical and gutsy. The combatants—the stand-up matador with lightning reflexes and the charging, pursuing bull, his attack unrelenting—gave no quarter.

And at the end of it—after 42 incredible minutes of warfare, of intense battle among two bitter and familiar rivals—there stood Muhammad Ali, undisputed king of all he surveyed in boxing's heavyweight ranks.

The record books will record it simply: Ali over Joe Frazier, TKO, 14th round. But the cold statistics don't pay proper tribute to the durability and refusal to fold on the part of a great champion and the raw courage of the challenger.

"He could have whupped any fighter in the world, except me," a weary Ali said afterward. "He is great—he is greater than I thought. He is one hell of a fighter and it was one hell of a fight."

It was the third meeting between these two powerful black men—the champion out of Louisville, Ky., 33, a man who has been at center stage for 15 years now, and the challenger, 31, out of the Jim Crow South and a one-time slaughterhouse butcher in a Philadelphia ghetto.

Both of the early battles were slugging matches which went the limit—Frazier taking the first in 15 and Ali the second in 12—and this one went through 14 rounds with little to choose between them.

But in the 14th, drawing upon some mysterious source of strength after appearing on his last legs in

MANILA (AP) — Ali vs. Frazier—a composite picture painted with grace, power, stamina and plain old guts.

The picture, one that excited peoples and governments and made boxing something extra for four years, faded out Wednesday morning.

Muhammad Ali sent Joe Frazier reeling around the ring in the 14th round before a howling crowd here. And when the bell sounded ending the round, the fight was over. And so, for all practical purposes, was Frazier's career.

Frazier, whose trainer wouldn't let him go out for the 15th round, said he would think about retiring. Most observers believe Smokin' Joe will quit. There's nothing left for him in the game. The series with Ali is over, closed as spectacularly as it opened.

The two men fought three times, and their first fight ushered in a boxing era which brought fighters such as Ali, Frazier and George Foreman sky-high purses. And it earned other heavyweights more than they could have gotten before, or perhaps deserved.

It also brought promoters' ulcers, for several of the big money fights over the last five years meant big money only to the fighters.

When a press conference was called one winter's day in New York in 1970 to announce that the unbeaten Ali would fight the unbeaten champion, Frazier, at Madison Square Garden, the press was stunned.

Reporters were told each fighter would receive a guarantee of $2.5 million. Incredible.

It was. But it became routine. Ali and Frazier each got $3 million for their second fight; Ali and George Foreman were each guaranteed $5 million for their fight in Zaire; Ali fought here for a guarantee of $4.5 million against an option of 43 per cent while Frazier got $2 million against 22 per cent.

While their final meeting was the richest of the three, it also might have been the best.

Perhaps for drama and schmalz, it did not rival their first battle of unbeatens, won by Frazier on a 15-round decision. But it certainly was more important than the second fight, a 12-rounder won by Ali when neither man was king.

And for fighting, sheer finesse and brute strength—for guts, for man-to-man, toe-to-toe—it will rank as one of the best heavyweight title fights over.

It lived up to its advance billing, it prolonged Ali's career for at least one more fight and it most likely sent Frazier into retirement. And it probably marked the beginning of the end for the gold mine fights.

Once Ali leaves, it will be a long time before governments seek a fighter's services. It also will be a long time before the chemistry of Ali vs. Frazier will be matched, before people the world over see two men stay on top and after each other for so long.

While it lasted, it was a some picture to behold.

Lewis Waivered By Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Raymond Lewis, a 6-foot-1 guard who finally showed up at the Philadelphia 76ers basketball camp after a three-year hiatus, was placed on waivers Tuesday, the team said.

Lewis mysteriously left the National Basketball Association team's camp in 1973 after signing a three-year contract.

The bonus No. 1 draft pick out of Los Angeles State had complained of back pains after working out Thursday and Friday. A team physician who examined Lewis said he had a chronic back ailment.

SCHOOLBOY POLL

Permian Advances

By The Associated Press
 The Bryan Vikings, strapped with forfeits in their first three games because they used an ineligible player, nonetheless retained their No. 1 Class 4A ranking this week in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll.

Bryan Coach Merrill Green said he discovered through a routine check this week that starting fullback Richard Harris was too old to participate under University Interscholastic League UIL rules.

Under UIL guidelines a player who reaches his 19th birthday prior to Sept. 2 is ineligible. Harris, a second team all-state nose guard on defense last season, is 15 days too old.

Although the Vikings won all three of their opening games, they'll go into this week's Dist. 15-4A opener against No. 3 ranked Killeen with an official 0-3 record.

Grapeland, the defending Class A state champion, became the first No. 1 ranked team to lose this season when No. 8 Groveton blasted the champs 39-12 last week and vaulted up to the runnerup position this week. Grapeland fell to seventh.

Cuero in 3A Cameron in 2A, and Big Sandy in B, maintained their tip rankings.

Fifth-ranked Jacksboro and sixth-ranked Alpine were losers in Class 2A and No. 3 Cisco was tied by Hamlin. Jacksboro lost to Breckinridge and Alpine was shutout by rugged Class 3A entry Pecos, 24-0.

Breckinridge moved into the No. 9 position this week and McGregor and Tulia tied for 10th.

Seventh ranked Brookshire-Royal and Holliday, tied for 10th, were other Class A losers. Royal dropped to ninth this week and Holliday fell from the top 10.

Sudan disappeared from the Class B rankings and was replaced by Evant, 4-0 as the No. 10 team.

Schedules Revised

The Goliad Junior High football schedules have been revised, with only the eighth grade team seeing action this week.

The eighth graders will play Snyder Lamar Thursday at 5:30 at Blankenship Field.

The seventh graders were originally scheduled to play Thursday also, but instead, will play their next game on Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 4:30 at Blankenship Field.

Their opponents on that date will be the seventh graders from cross-town rival Runnels Junior High School.

ACTION ASKED

Only 4 Television Black College Games Since '69

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. (ABC) and the NCAA have participated in a scheme which perpetuates racial segregation by not televising football games involving traditionally black schools, a black coalition has charged.

Alvin O. Chambliss, lawyer for North Mississippi Rural Legal Services, said Tuesday he had petitioned the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to revoke the licenses of six Southern ABC affiliate stations.

"We are saying in essence that the federal act says a station is responsible for the content of all programs, and cannot delegate the responsibility to the NCAA," he said.

Chambliss said that since 1969 there had been only four football telecasts which involved teams from largely black colleges.

He said the lack of black schools indicated assumptions that the quality of black football is inferior to that played by traditionally white schools.

The petition to the FCC charged the stations, ABC and the NCAA with "aiding, abetting and participating in an illegal scheme which perpetuates and fosters racial segregation."

He said that the "benign neglect... of black colleges and their football teams is arbitrary, capricious and nonfactual. This presents a controversial issue of public importance and the other side of the issue has not been aired, thus violating the fairness doctrine."

Chambliss said he had asked the FCC to take action against television Stations WABG in Greenwood, WAPT in Jackson, WVUE in New Orleans, WRBT in Baton Rouge, La.; WHBQ in Memphis and KTRK in Houston, Tex.

The petition was filed in the name of interested black groups in each city.

Chambliss said he had requested immediate hearings on the petition so the stations could explain their positions to the FCC.

He said he thought a favorable FCC ruling would pressure the NCAA into including black schools on its telecasts. He said he felt the petitioners would settle for inclusion of black teams on two regional and one national telecast each year.

Chambliss' petition charged that since 1969, ABC and the NCAA had aired more than 200 college games, with schools collecting over $82.5 million. He said only $1.03 million of this went to black schools.

The local organizations listed on the petition were the Delta Coalition for Better Broadcasting, Greenville; Columbia Media Coalition, Jackson; Southern Media Coalition, New Orleans; Concerned Citizens of Baton Rouge; Black Citizens for Media Access, Houston, and Save Black Colleges Committee, Memphis.

THAT'S SHOW BIZ

It's Sunny Days All Way From Coahoma To Variety

By MARJ CARPENTER

When a musical group is mentioned in "Variety", a top publication for show business, it has really attained an honor in the business.

On Sept. 10, in a column called "New Acts", one of four groups mentioned is Sunny Days. The publication lists the group as a "45 minute show of instrumental, vocals at the Holiday Inn in Kansas City." The review says briefly, "This unit is out of Texas and headed by David Crawford. All five are youngsters in their 20s.

"They range through a wide selection of tunes in 45 minute sessions, covering standards, country, soul, folk, and Latin, basically rhythmic for the dancers. Crawford leads on electric piano and synthesizer, and warbles a good baritone. His wife, Susan Crawford, handles much of the lead singing in a very deep contralto, and the others pitch in for backup vocals, as well as solo innings.

"Larry Velez has the lead guitar, with frequent solo interludes on the string and an occasional vocal. Bob Morland does the base guitar and George Harvey the drums."

David is the son of Mrs. Mary Crawford of Big Spring, Howard College librarian, and the late Trevor Crawford, who was a senior project engineer for Cosden until his death in 1966.

The group will go from Kansas City to Alexandria and Bossier City, La., and play at the Sheraton Inn and Holiday Inn. They then go to Corpus Christi and will perform at the La Quinta Royale Downtown.

Crawford was a student of Mrs. Ann Houser when he was in high school. He graduated from Coahoma High in 1968. His wife, Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Clark of Sheffield and formerly of Coahoma, graduated from Balmorhea High in 1970. She completed three years at Sul Ross as a voice major before their marriage in 1972.

David was at one time a member of the Coahoma band and played trombone. He played trombone and drums in the Border Brass of Coahoma in 1967-68. This group was active, playing for the state student council convention at Austin two years and winning second place in a Texas Teen-age band contest at Dallas in 1968.

David set his sights for success in one of the most difficult fields — that of music in show business. But thus far, David Crawford and the Sunny Days are making a mark in that difficult world.

Wails Alert Murder Discovery In Rome

ROME (AP) — Alerted by long wails, police opened the trunk of a parked car in one of Rome's most exclusive districts today and found the battered, naked body of one girl and another girl bruised, bleeding and naked.

Residents of the area had called police before dawn, reporting that an endless wailing from somewhere in front of the house kept them awake.

Police were holding four young men for questioning after the surviving girl told them of a drug party in a seaside villa and a sudden fit of violence by their male friends.

The dead girl was identified as Rosaria Lopez, 19. The other was 17-year-old Donatella Colasanti.

Doctors said Miss Colasanti would recover fairly soon. Police said that before falling under sedation, Miss Colasanti said she and Miss Lopez had driven out of Rome on Sunday with four youths and gone to spend a few days at a seaside villa in fashionable San Felice del Circeo, 70 miles to the south. Authorities quoted her as saying that on Tuesday night the men attacked them with a crowbar and other iron bars.

"I survived because I pretended I was dead. I heard the killers say: 'At last we have made it and killed them.' Then they dragged us out and packed us into the car," the girl was quoted by police as saying.

The dead girl was found wrapped in a plastic bag and a red blanket. Her skull and face were smashed beyond recognition and she had injuries all over her body.

Doctors said she died only after suffering several hours. Witnesses reported the car had been parked in a private garden in Viale Pola, a sidestreet off Via Nomentana in eastern Rome, 3 1/2 hours before police got there.

The four men picked up for questioning, all around 20, belong to well-to-do families, police said. They said the son of the owner of the car was caught by a night watchman as he tried to run out a back door when police went to his house.

Enrollment

Dragging

Enrollment in Big Spring public schools continues to decrease.

A total of 6,377 were enrolled here for the week ending Sept. 26, nine fewer than the previous week and 116 fewer than the corresponding period last year.

Bauer, Marcy and Moss were the three elementary schools to show gain but the over-all loss on that level was six and was especially felt at Cedar Crest (five fewer students) and College Heights (four less).

The head count in senior high was down by four, to 1,918.

Nets Record

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The 16th annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children cattle sale here has netted a record $107,249 for the West Texas

Rehabilitation Center.

And a duck named Charlotte helped raise $1,395 as she paraded 12 times through the auction ring here Monday while donating bidders bought her each time.

About two-thirds of the money came through serious bids on cattle such as the Charolais bull that brought $2,000 while just over $40,000 came from outright donations.

The record total exceeded last year's amount by almost $10,000 as an estimated crowd of 1,500 made bids on 319 head donated by cattlemen around the state. And Charlotte? She went back to the first grade class here that had donated her for the event.

Big Springers Check Out Industrial Prospects

Three Big Spring business men, Roger Brown, member of the chamber of commerce industrial team, John Currie, local banker, and Ron Mercer, industrial man for the chamber, travel to the West Coast today to visit with industrial prospects in Los Angeles, Monterey and San Francisco.

According to reports from the chamber of commerce, local industrial activity has been steadily increasing since mid-August, and this recent change of events has sparked new life to industrial prospecting for the community.

Reports from the Texas Industrial Commission in Austin also indicate increasing daily inquiries about the Big Spring area. In December, Big Spring will be represented in a West Texas industrial prospecting trip to New York.

Food Allergies Can Be Controlled

COLLEGE STATION — Food allergies can have several warning signals — and causes, Mrs. Mary K. Sweeten, a goods and nutrition specialist, says.

Reactions such as headache, nausea, swelling, itching or burning indicate a possible food allergy, she noted.

"These sensitivities may occur because the food substance (called an allergen) contains some protein. But some researchers believe that starches, fats and other chemicals may produce the reaction."

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Although any food may produce reactions in some individuals, the most common offenders are eggs, milk, wheat, corn, chocolate, potatoes, fish, shellfish, tomatoes, and citrus fruit such as oranges, grapefruits or lemons," she said.

One cause of a food sensitivity may be eating too much of that particular item. This is why it's unwise to follow fad diets calling for an excess of any one food, Mrs. Sweeten reminded.

"And frequently people who 'just don't like' certain foods really may be allergic to them. Nature's protective effort may be misinterpreted as just a whim or fancy — such as the preschooler who refuses to drink his milk."

"Or a teenager may be fully aware that when he eats chocolate he has a reaction such as a stomach ache, headache or bad skin condition."

"Any food giving mild symptoms should be placed on the suspect list," the specialist said.

If family members seem sensitive to certain foods, the family physician or a specialist in allergic disease, can identify the exact allergies and prescribe the proper treatment, she noted.

Because nutritional needs of an allergic person are the same as anyone else's, physicians usually recommend a diet based on the Four Food Groups — but individually modified to the person's allergies.

"Remember to read prepared food labels carefully to see that the offending substance isn't contained. Foods causing an allergic reaction should be omitted," she said.

For diets excluding wheat and milk, Mrs. Sweeten suggested these peanut butter cookies for snacking.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES
5 dozen cookies
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup peanut butter
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. salt
1 egg
3/4 cup soy flour
1/2 cup potato flour
1/2 tsp. baking soda

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate). Grease baking sheets.

Beat fat, peanut butter, sugar, vanilla and egg until creamy. Mix flours, baking soda, and salt thoroughly. Add to creamy mixture and beat well. Roll dough into balls, about 1 inch in diameter. Place about 2 inches apart on baking sheet. Press balls down with fork to make crisscross design.

Bake 15 minutes or until cookies are set, but not hard. Remove cookies from pan to rack. Cool.

And for people who have to exclude wheat and eggs, she suggested this Brown Bread.

BROWN BREAD
1 1/2 cups soy flour
1 1/2 cups rye flour
1 cup cornmeal
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup raisins
2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
2 cups buttermilk
1 cup mild molasses

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderate). Grease five 16-ounce fruit or vegetable cans. Mix flours, cornmeal and sugar. Stir soda and salt into buttermilk. Add to flour mixture. Mix in molasses. Stir in raisins. Pour about 1 cup batter into each can.

Bake 30 minute or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from oven. Let stand 5 minutes. Remove bread from can. Cool on wire rack.

Wrap tightly. Store overnight in refrigerator before serving. Makes 5 loaves, about 10 slices each.

City HD Club Meets Friday

The City Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Waymon Etchison. Mrs. Granville Dawson, vice president, presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Etchison gave a report on the State Home Demonstration Convention which she attended recently in Abilene.

Mrs. Ray D. Williams was introduced as a guest. The door prize was won by Mrs. J. W. Elrod.

Mrs. Polly Mays presented an informative talk on Big Spring, using slides showing the early settlers and the historical points of interest in and near the city.

Refreshments were served from a table with bi-centennial decorations.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Oct. 10 in the home of Mrs. A. L. Lancaster, 702 W. 17th.

New Jobs

Social change is so rapid that of the 100 children seen playing on a playground, 50 will eventually work at jobs that do not even exist today, notes Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Knott 4-H Club Elects Officers

New officers of the Knott 4-H club were presented at the Monday evening meeting in the Knott Community Center.

The officers are Kaye Hunt, president; Kent Robinson, vice president and clean-up chairman; Susie Brasher, secretary-treasurer; Van Gaskins, program chairman; David Hall, refreshment chairman; and Danny Peugh, reporter.

The adult leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins.

Miss Hunt presided at the meeting with David Long leading the pledge of allegiance. David Hall gave the club motto and D'Ann Hall gave the inspiration.

The program was presented by Miss Hunt on her 4-H sponsored trip to Europe this summer. She showed slides of the 250-member tour, calling them "people-to-people ambassadors to Europe."

During the business meeting, program books were distributed and Rebecca Fryar was welcomed as a new member.

The club made plans to attend the 4-H banquet to be held Oct. 6.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 27 at the Knott Community Center.

Bachelor Wooed By Fat Woman's Presents

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old professional man who is just getting started — on a shoestring, you might say.

A very bright (but terribly overweight) 26-year-old woman has been aggressively pursuing me. She's good company, but I have no real love interests in her.

I do not like being seen with her because of her size. (She wears clothes that look like tents or maternity clothes.)

She has plenty of money, since she just came into an inheritance, and has been buying me some very expensive presents. She has offered to buy me a car, but so far I have refused although it would come in very handy.

She is an excellent bed partner, but I have to take her out in public occasionally, which makes it awkward.

My brother, who has met her, tells me that if I do not have marriage in mind, I should not see her or accept any more gifts from her.

What do you advise?

CANADIAN
DEAR CANADIAN: Your brother is wiser than you are. The more you accept from this girl, the greater your obligation. Furthermore, she may equate your accepting her as a bed partner with having a "real love interest" in her — which you have not. The advice from here is to either level with her or say goodbye.

DEAR ABBY: Why should anyone be made to feel guilty for having mistaken a boy for a girl? I wouldn't let the kid put the onus on ME, I'd put it on HIM, where it belongs. This happened to me once, and I asked, "Well, if you don't want people to think you're a girl, why do you go around looking like one?"

VIVIANG.: PALM SPRINGS

DEAR VIV: Thanks for a beautiful gender bender!

CONFIDENTIAL TO THOSE WHO INQUIRED: A reader signed, "Why Not Take All Of Me?" wanted to know if there was some way he could leave all usable parts of his body after death — not only his eyes and kidneys.

Yes: Write to The Living Bank, Box 6725, Houston, Texas 77005, or the Nat'l. Kidney Foundation: 116 East 27 St. N.Y., N.Y. 10016.

FOR A LIVING

Country Singers' Widow Doesn't Have To Fight

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Billie Jean Horton, fighting widow of two country music legends, Hank Williams and Johnny Horton, doesn't have to battle for a living any more.

She's big business in the country music world—collecting copyright renewals on songs written by Williams and publishing records cut from old tapes of singer-composer Horton of the million-selling golden disks.

She's married again, to insurance executive Kent Berlin, although she keeps the Horton name for business. She drives her silver Mark IV upholstered in burgundy velvet up to her Shreveport mansion, where she lives with two daughters, Yanina, 21 and Melody, 17. A third daughter, Jeri Lynn, 25, is a Shreveport nurse.

To her it seems just a little time back she was picking cotton on her father's Bossier City farm, trying fruitlessly to stop Williams' drinking and working to get Horton a start in country music. It took 15 more years of scrapping to make the going so easy.

Williams died 22 years ago and Horton 15 years ago. That was when the prolonged fighting began.

First, she single-handedly took on Metro Goldwyn Mayer, CBS and an Atlanta, Ga., television station in an indignant war against the movie, "Your Cheatin' Heart," a portrayal of Williams' life.

"That movie portrayed me as a harlot," the 43-year-old Shreveport woman said. "It grossed $44 million, but I shut 'em down. They had lawyers stacked on top of one another, but I whupped 'em all over town."

"They just weren't ready for Billie Jean. Yeah, the movie portrayed me as a harlot, but there they were in court looking at my marriage certificate with mine and Hank's signatures on it."

She figures the triumph over MGM was worth about $1 million.

After that warmup, the present Mrs. Berlin began battling for the copyright renewals on all of Williams' songs—"Your Cheating Heart" and "Hey, Good Looking" and "Cold, Cold Heart" and a hundred others.

Last March, she convinced a Nashville court that in her $30,000 estate settlement two decades ago she had not released copyright renewals, some of which became renewable in 1972.

Copyrights last 28 years after which legal heirs may renew them.

Mrs. Berlin splits half the copyright renewals with the publishers, as does the son, Hank Williams Jr., but, even so, she calculates the income will run about $250,000 a year.

That's only part of the scope of Billie Jean Horton Enterprises.

When Horton died, he had recorded on tape hundreds of songs he had written. He gave the tapes to friends. His widow began collecting the tapes and cutting new albums.

She has sold more than a million records a year since his death.

"A few days after Johnny died I decided I could either stand or fall," she said. "So I decided to stand because I had three girls to think about."

Medicare Costs Will Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced Tuesday that out-of-pocket hospitalization costs for the nation's 24.1 million Medicare beneficiaries will go up 13 per cent next Jan. 1.

Each aged and disabled person on Medicare will have to pay the first $104 of his or her hospital bill next year, up from the present $92.

Social Security Commissioner James B. Cardwell said the increase is necessary to keep pace with hospital costs which have been increasing 50 per cent faster than the over-all cost of living.

The $104 is equivalent to the average cost of one day of hospitalization, Cardwell said. The average hospital stay under Medicare now is about 13½ days, at a cost of $1,400.

The agency also announced comparable increases in Medicare deductible charges for extended hospital care beyond 60 days and for post-hospitalization care in skilled nursing homes beyond 20 days.

Beginning next year, Medicare beneficiaries will have to pay $26 daily compared with the present $23 for hospitalization from the 61st through the 90th day.

For extended nursing home care after release from the hospital, the beneficiary will be charged $13 compared with the present $11.50 for the 21st through the 100th day.

After the first charge of $104, Medicare will pay all the bills for the first 60 days in a hospital and the first 20 days in a skilled nursing home.

Medicare also provides a "lifetime reserve" of 60 extra hospital days that a beneficiary can use when he needs more than 90 days to recover from an illness. The daily out-of-pocket charge for that once only benefit will increase to $52 from the present $46.

The monthly charge for Medicare beneficiaries who choose the optional medical coverage for doctors' bills has been frozen at $6.70 since July 1974 because of a quirk in the law. The administration has asked Congress repeatedly to remove that freeze so that the charge can keep pace with medical costs.

Of the 24.1 million people on Medicare, 22 million are aged 65 and older and 2.1 million are disabled.

Realtor Brown Is Appointed

Local Realtor Jeff Brown has been appointed Chairman, Long Range Planning Committee, for the Texas Association of Realtors. The appointment was announced by TAR president-elect Frank Nix, of Waco. The committee assignment carries with it the responsibility of planning until 1985 in the fields of legislation, licensing law, and membership.

Brown is currently serving his fourth two-year term as a director for the State Realtors Association. He is twice past-president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors.

He is a graduate, Realtors Institute, and a Certified Real Estate Appraiser.

Soviet Writer Permitted To Marry

MOSCOW (AP) — Writer Alexander Sokolov says he has received official permission to go Vienna to marry his Austrian fiancée.

He was to have married Johanna Steindl, 32, last week in the Soviet Union, but Soviet officials barred her return to the country.

Passport officials relented only after Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky appealed personally to Communist party boss Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Shortly afterward, Sokolov said he received a call to report to the agency and was immediately granted a one-month exit visa.

"I want to return with my wife if it is possible," he said.

Sokolov, 31, said Monday that when he went to the Soviet passport office he was told, "You may go to Vienna, but there was no need to make such a great noise."

Sadat Will Visit U.S.

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat will arrive in the United States on Oct. 27 for an 11-day state visit.

The semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram said Sadat expects to discuss with President Ford plans to buy American arms and to argue for a $400 million annual increase in U.S. aid, now $250 million.

CAUTION

Your savings may be costing you money.

Your savings are earning interest, right? But are they earning as much as they could be? If not, your savings are actually costing you money.

The truth of the matter is that many financial institutions, including banks and credit unions, are simply not structured to pay the highest interest rates. In fact, some can't even guarantee payment of the interest rates they quote.

And other kinds of investments have even higher degrees of risk. For example, mutual funds and other stock investments don't even guarantee return of the money you put in, much less earnings.

If you want to make the most of what you've got, and you want guaranteed interest rates, you've got to go to a savings specialist. Like First Federal Savings and Loan.

We call ourselves savings specialists because we can offer you higher guaranteed interest rates, more specialized savings-related services, and more ways to save than anyone in town.

And if none of our standard plans fit your particular needs, we'll custom tailor a savings plan specifically for you, whereby you can receive your interest checks any way you want. Monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

The following are just a few of the many special services and savings plans available to you from First Federal:

PASSBOOK SAVINGS Our Passbook Savings account is basically the same as a regular savings account offered by a bank — only our interest rates are higher. Passbook Savings earn a full 5½% interest compounded daily, and paid daily. For example, if you make a deposit and withdraw it three days later, you'll be paid interest for the three days your money was on deposit.

Anyone can open a Passbook Savings account with only a $5.00 deposit. There are no term restrictions. You can make deposits and withdrawals whenever you want. And with our new convenient, easy-to-use Tele-Transfer service, you can transfer money from your Passbook account to your checking account with just a phone call.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT First Federal offers you four Certificate of Deposit savings plans to choose from.

- 4-year plan (min. $5,000) earns 7½ per cent interest
- 2½-year plan (min. $1,000) earns 6½ per cent interest
- 1-year plan (min. $1,000) earns 6½ per cent interest
- 6-month plan (min. $1,000) earns 5½ per cent interest (Above rates apply to new Certificates only)

Interest on all of our Certificate of Deposit savings plans is compounded daily and distributed quarterly.

SELF-EMPLOYED PENSION PLAN (KEOGH) This plan is designed for the individual who wants to establish a retirement plan for both himself and his employees. All contributions are TAX DEDUCTIBLE. You don't have to pay any income tax on either the contributions or interest until you begin drawing funds.

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT (IRA) This plan is designed for employed individuals, not currently participating in a retirement plan. Self-employed persons are eligible, but are not required to include employees in this plan.

All contributions are TAX DEDUCTIBLE. You don't have to pay any income tax on the money you contribute to the plan or the interest it earns until you start drawing funds.

AUTOMATIC DEPOSIT OF SOCIAL SECURITY PAYMENTS This service allows you to deposit your Social Security check in your savings account without lifting a finger. The check is sent directly from the U.S. Department of Treasury to First Federal.

And deposit is guaranteed. You never have to worry about losing it. What's more, our new Tele-Transfer allows you to transfer as much of it as you want to your checking account. All it takes is one phone call.

INTEREST COMPOUNDED DAILY Interest on all First Federal Savings Plans is compounded daily. That means that if you leave your Passbook savings on deposit a full year, or your Certificates of Deposit in until they mature, your money actually earns more interest than quoted as our standard rates.

Here's how it works. When you make a deposit, your money (principal) starts earning paid interest the first day. Then each day following, the interest on your principal is compounded along with the interest accumulated from the preceding day or days. So if you have a Passbook account which earns 5.25% daily, and you leave your principal on deposit for a full year, you have actually earned 5.39% interest at the end of the year.

The following chart shows how much interest (percentage-wise) your savings actually earns annually when the principal is left on deposit until maturity, and the interest is compounded daily.

STANDARD INTEREST RATE	TYPE OF SAVINGS PLAN	ACTUAL PERCENTAGE OF INTEREST PAID ANNUALLY
7.50%	4-year Certificate of Deposit	7.79%
6.75%	2½-year Certificate of Deposit	6.98%
6.50%	1-year Certificate of Deposit	6.72%
5.75%	6-month Certificate of Deposit	5.92%
5.25%	Passbook account	5.39%

All things considered, it just makes better sense to save the First Federal way.

For more information about any of the services or savings plans outlined above, drop by First Federal today. Or call Mrs. Margie Hill or any of our other savings counselors at 267-8252.

Clear Ground For Nuclear Power Plant

HOUSTON (AP) — Site preparation work is under way near Bay City for a nuclear power plant.

The work began after a safety review board gave conditional approval for construction of the plant by Houston Lighting & Power Co., Central Power & Light Co. of Corpus Christi, and the cities of Austin and San Antonio.

The Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards advised the Nuclear Regulatory Commission the plant can be built with "reasonable assurance" it will create no undue risk to public health and safety.

A public hearing on health and safety aspects of the project will be held later this year.

The advisory committee's report called for further evaluation of the plant's emergency core cooling system. The report said the project will be the first to use a new Westinghouse nuclear reactor producing about 1,250 megawatts of electrical power.

The committee said Westinghouse must satisfy the commission on the safety of all features, including the core cooling system.

Tourists Buy More Useful Souvenirs

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — Tourists today are more interested than ever before in buying souvenirs which have a utilitarian value as well as a sentimental value, according to Lester B. Dill, owner of Meramec Caverns here, who is marking his 50th year in the cave business.

They are buying more ash trays, food trays and bookends, "points out Dill, "because they are things they can always use in their homes. It saves them from buying them, thus they are killing two birds with one souvenir."

Lack Of Competition Mellows TV In Mexico

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Televisa, Mexico's four-network commercial TV company, is a unique operation by U.S. standards. For one thing, only one cop and robbers show is allowed each night on any network.

For another, none of the Mexico City-based company's channels are programmed to compete against each other, says Miguel Aleman Jr., Televisa's executive vice-president.

Instead, he says, they try to complement each other with "horizontal" programming, letting viewers see on one channel what they might have missed on another channel the same night.

For example, a Mexican cultural program might be on one channel in the same hour a variety show is on another. But the cultural show would appear later that night on the second channel.

It's a far cry from the years before 1973, when Televisa was created through a merger of two companies — Telesistema Mexico, operating channels two, four and five, and Independent Mexican Television, operating channel eight.

"When we had the competition, the tone of the programs was going down, becoming vulgar and cheap," says Aleman, in town last week for an industry salute to Televisa executives.

"We were killing each other, fighting for ratings and not giving a damn about the public," added Fernando Azcarraga, Televisa's operations director, the man in charge of all its programming.

They said the two companies grew so concerned about the video blight they formed Televisa, which Aleman calls a "permitted (by the government) monopoly" to do something about the situation.

In this arrangement, Televisa operates, but doesn't own, the four networks — two of which are national networks and two are regional networks serving Mexico City and the Valley of Mexico, respectively.

Their only competition comes from two government-run channels.

Televisa pays no government license fees. Instead, it gives 12 1/2 per cent of its daily air time to the government, Aleman says. It buys or produces programs for each Televisa channel.

Aleman, who estimates there are TV sets in at least 4.5 million homes in Mexico (compared with 69.6 million TV-equipped homes in the United States), says Televisa's creation has greatly helped the tone of Mexican TV by ending its dog-eat-dog competition for viewers.

He says that by this he means the fact that it allowed "horizontal" programming let the company put far more cultural and educational programming on commercial TV than was possible in past years.

Ammonia Leak Evacuates Area

KLEMME, Iowa (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. John Hrubes were back home Tuesday night after being evacuated Monday because of ammonia fumes that covered a five-mile area here.

The Hrubes and several other families were asked to leave their homes after a rotary tiling machine severed an underground pipeline owned by Mapco, Inc., Tulsa, Okla. Maintenance crews from nearby Sanborn and Lincoln, Neb., installed a shutoff valve south of the leak early Tuesday after fire fighters worked overnight spraying water on the break.

The ruptured six-inch pipeline from Borger, Tex., is used to transport anhydrous ammonia fertilizer to a terminal two miles east of Garner.

Suit Filed To Open Justice Dept. File

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Public Radio has asked a federal court to order the Justice Department to turn over its documents relating to the death of Karen Silkwood, an Oklahoma plutonium worker.

Miss Silkwood was killed in an auto accident while on her way to meet with a New York Times reporter and an official of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union.

Miss Silkwood, an employee of the Kerr-McGee Nuclear Corp. facility at Crescent, Okla., had promised to deliver documents at that meeting substantiating her charges about health and safety violations at the facility.

The plant produces experimental plutonium under a government contract. The fuel is to be used in the liquid metal fast breeder reactor program.

Miss Silkwood, an East Texas native, had alleged that Kerr-McGee was producing faulty plutonium fuel and that supervisory personnel were falsifying quality control records.

National Public Radio says a fellow worker of Miss Silkwood had sworn in an affidavit that Miss Silkwood was carrying a folder before she died which she said contained the necessary evidence. No folder was recovered from the wreck.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol classified the incident as an accident but an independent investigator hired by the union concluded there was evidence that Miss Silkwood's car had been forced off the road.

National Public Radio general counsel Ernest T. Sanchez said Monday "dozens of rumors, many of them no doubt incorrect, surround every aspect of the Silkwood death and the Justice Department insistence on secrecy has only made the situation worse."

"If the Justice Department has determined that the death of Karen Silkwood involved no violation of federal law, the public is entitled to know exactly how that determination was made," he said.

The suit was brought under the Freedom of Information Act.

National Public Radio describes itself as an interconnected system of more than 180 noncommercial public radio stations.
