"There is no indication that this was any kind of a political attempt to do anything.

Visser said police concurred.

Nevertheless, the at-tempted break-in evoked memories of the burglary of the Democratic National Committee offices at the Watergate complex on June 17, 1972 — an event which ultimately led to the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon.

Five men were arrested in the Watergate burglary, which proved to have been planned by officials of the Committee to Re-Elect the President. In addition to attempting to photograph political records, their mission was to remove listening devices previously implanted in telephones.

By contrast to the nighttime Watergate burglary, Visser theorized that the attempt to open the file security cabinet at the Ford com- owners.

Washington office building could have occurred during the daytime when staff members and some workmen were in the offices.

He said the committee is on a seven-day week and six to 15 staff members worked both days of the weekend. Several workmen also were in the offices, which are undergoing a major revamping that includes the moving of walls and relocation of electrical and telephone outlets.

There was no sign of forced entry on the office doors or any other cabinets, including those which contain political records, Visser said. He said the locked cabinet is the only one of its kind in the offices.

Visser said the committee's security precautions were under review at the time of the incident and that proposals for changes are expected soon from the firm handling security for the building's

They were arraigned there last month by a U.S. magistrate on charges of threatening the President and are being held in lieu of $100,000 bail each.

The alleged plot came to light the day after their arrest in Santa Barbara when DeSure allegedly told Detective Robert Zapata about the plan. Zapata said he had "built up a rapport" with DeSure, who "told me Zapata said DeSure had not disclosed any motive for the alleged plot - "I don't think he really has any strong political con-victions.... When you try to talk to him about his political views, he doesn't really have strong political convictions that I can see.'

The indictment alleged that DeSure and Mayo planned to plant a bomb in a sewer near the California state Capitol during Ford's visit. DeSure "would detonate the explosives and stand as a lookout" while Mayo "would fire a shot at the president," the indictment charged.

Problem Can't Be Ignored

Jim Mashburn, the Midland district attorney, heads a committee named by the Texas Association of District and County Attorneys to investigate com-plaints about the Board of Pardons and Paroles. Going directly to the board, Mashburn charged that prisoners are being turned loose too soon.

"The board is doing everything it can to get people out on the street as fast as they can, and they are not in the penitentiary long enough to receive meaningful training, rehabilitation, or real correction," Mashburn

Officially, at least, the board denies that its parole policy is related to the prison population. It insists that it releases a prisoner on parole only when it has reason to believe that the prisoner will not return to a life of

As a practical matter, though, the board cannot ignore the growing population in the Texas prison system. Five years ago, in 1970, the Texas Department of Corrections had custody of approximately 12,000 persons. Today the population is approximately 18,000, an increase of about 50 per cent. Furthermore, the constant increase in the crime rate indicates that the prison population will continue to grow.

If the parole board does not act to free some of those prisoners, intolerable overcrowding will result. It will make some mistakes, of course.

But let us also be honest enough to admit that prisons exist for punishment. All the lip service in the world will not support the claim that prisons rehabilitate or correct. Many of those who are sent to prison would not commit another crime, even if they had not been imprisoned. Some, as they reflect on their life, can determine to live a crime-free life, and succeed. Others may discover a trade that truly interests them and pursue it successfully when they return to the free world. Still others will return to crime almost as soon as they are released.

must find first the answer to this question: What causes crime? Until we can answer that question and be guided to a more workable solution the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles and like agencies in other states are condemned to freeing prisoners on parole to make room for incoming prisoners.

Tragedy For All Africa

Idi Amin took his show to the United Nations recently, addressing the General Assembly in a windy speech that ended with a message of hate. The target: Israel, and "Zionists" everywhere.

During the course of his tirade Amin called upon the United Nations to expel Israel and for Israel's extinction, and for all nations to condemn the United States for supplying aid to Israel. He even had some advice for Americans: Rise up and throw the

All of this from a man whose reign has been marked by unbridled terror, by the executions of thousands and

Troy Bryant

Being a traveling reporter on Friday nights, covering local football games, I get a good chance to inspect press boxes at local

MAYBE THAT doesn't seem too important to most folks, but working amid the distraction of bad weather, noisy fans, and chasing notes all over the place doesn't usually make for a good story in Sunday morning's

No reporter would intentionally slant his story against a team with poor facilities, but occasionally bad facilities can't help but hurt the story. If his hands are too cold to write the notes, the reporter can't get an accurate story.

Nobody expects a shelter akin to the Texas Stadium press facilities, but there are some facilities in the area that are bad with no excuse.

So, I'm going to rate some of the area press boxes and the hospitality shown the reporter on a scale of zero to ten. A zero means no press box and a 10 would have to be a heated, air conditioned box on the fifty yard line, fully carpeted with an easy chair and dancing girls.

Needless to say, all the area press boxes will fall between those two

Grady was the first place I visited this year, and the facilities over there were not finished. However, considering the size of the school the press box rates a score of about a six when finished.

It only holds four persons, but that would be as big as it needs to be, if there was a separate place for the game filmer. The people over there were very cooperative and seemed flattered that their little school would get coverage from a daily newspaper.

STANTON'S PRESS box is big enough, and there is even a little one across the field to keep the radio station guys out of our hair. But it rates only a five. The serious drawbacks for this box were the dirty windows and the difficulty of getting into the thing. The only way to get in is to climb up the stands and then when you get to the top, climb a narrow ladder about four feet tall. Nobody can get up there in a hurry and it is almost impossible to climb while you're holding a coke or camera. One scout fell off the ladder the night I was covering the game and could have been jured if it weren't for the tin covering the underside of the stands. that are better than Coahoma's Forsan's box is brand new, good looking and solid. I couldn't find too many things wrong with it, except maybe the size. It doesn't have a place for radio broadcasts, but then didn't see anyone broadcasting the game. The hospitality is excellent, with someone bringing up coffee and cokes for everyone in the press box each quarter. Forsan's box rates an

The sun also shines in the back if the door is open for air and the noise is usually pretty bad. Otherwise, it is a fine facility, complete with an ice chest full of canned cokes, compliments of Colorado City. It was by far the easiest box to get into.

I covered the college game at Memorial Stadium, and everything about the Big Spring press box is satisfactory. There is plenty of room, visibility is excellent, and there are no radio station employes in sight or sound. This one rates an 8, along with Forsan's box.

I HATE TO do it, because I live in the Coahoma school district, but Coahoma's press box rates only a

When I went there last week, all six places in the box were filled, although the places are supposed to be reserved.

The three places for announcer, time keeper, and score keeper were filled with Coahoma officials and the three places marked "local newspaper", "local radio" and "visiting newsaper" were all filled with three local radio station employes. I wound up sitting in the stands, I guess because they got there first.

The box is just a shell of boards, no sheet rock or anything, and the only way you can see is by opening the windows and letting the cold air in.

I tried sitting in a chair in the back of the box, looking over somebody's shoulder, but the only chair in there had a leg missing. Even some Coahoma coaches were standing up in the press box, relaying messages to the sidelines. I'll review some more boxes at the end of the season, hopefully some

Why Not Help?

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The Government has since given

I have during the past ten days run into a cliche, uttered triumphantly at a dozen American forums from sea to shining sea, which I undertake, herewith, to discredit. In the name of truth, justice, and rational discourse, I beseech your help: Go forward and give out the facts to your fellow man.

IT GOES, in its distilled form, as follows: "Why shouldn't the federal government bail out New York City? It didn't hesitate to bail out Lockheed and Penn Central for the benefit of its stockholders.

1. Re Lockheed, as a matter of fact it did hesitate: the vote in the Senate was only 49-48. The vote in the House was 192-189. New hear this. The Democrats in the House who voted to "bail out" Lockheed exceeded the Republicans (102 Dems, 90 Reps).

What the government did, under pressure of labor unions who feared unemployment, the Pentagon which feared the dismantling of a vital defense facility, and Lockheed's management, which feared losing its jobs, was to guarantee a 250 million dollar loan. Almost the entire sum was subsequently borrowed; $50 million has already been repaid. The government, so far, has lost not a penny; indeed, it has made $15 million in administrative costs.

In 1967, Lockheed was selling for $74 per share. In July, 1971, before the loan guarantee, the stock was selling for $10. After the vote to guarantee the loan, the stock went down a point. Now it sells at about $8. Economic analysts will explain all of this: the liquidation value of Lockheed would have meant more to the stockholders than shoring up the company by a federally-guaranteed loan. Needless to say, no dividends have been paid. In other words, the federal government did nothing for the stockholders of Lockheed. 2. Penn Central. It filed for bankruptcy on June 21, 1970. Since then, it has lost 1.5 billion dollars on operations for the most part required by government. Penn Central has not paid one penny of interest to the more than 100,000 holders of its bonded indebtedness. In other words, using the New York City analogy, Penn Central was not 'bailed out" - it was permitted to default. Its bonds are in default.

the railroad money and guaranteed the principal and interest on a $100 million loan. This datum is meaningless in the current discussion because the principal operations of Penn Central are dictated by the government. The value of the stock was $85 shortly after the merger of February, 1968. Just before it went into receivership, the stock was trading at $13. After it went into receivership, the stock sank to $3. Now it is selling at below THE FACT of the matter is that the only reason there is any trading at all in the stock is that there is always the hypothetical possibility of liquidation, in which case the shareholders would own a treasureland of assets. The notion that Congress stepped in for the purpose of helping stockholders is the kind of economic ignorance on which Democratic oratory thrives.

Let us, however — just for the sake of it — suppose that we were living back in the days of the Great Barbecue, when big business ran the legislature, either by giving Congressmen simple cash bribes, or perks of various kinds. Would that be a reason for federal redemption of New York bonds? In respect of New York City, nobody, really, is interested in the fate of the bondholders who put out money for New York's securities. What they want is for other Americans to subsidize New York City's way of life: and in order to make the case for it, they are willing to talk tantalizingly about Penn Central and Lockheed as though they were examples of commercial favoritism by the federal government for the benefit of the rich. Bah humbug!

AN APOLOGY

In a recent column, I alluded to Senator Lowell Weicker of Connecticut as an ally of those forces in Congress that seek to take over, or otherwise mismanage the oil industry. In fact, Senator Weicker opposes price controls for oil, and is now explicitly dissociated from a position he once took. I apologize to him, and to my readers, for this error. Yours faithfully,

The first nine teams, led by Ohio State, retained their positions in The Associated Press college football poll today while Colorado moved into the Top Ten and South Carolina made the Second Ten for the first time this season.

Colorado, which wasn't even in the Top Twenty until three weeks ago, jumped from 12th to 10th by defeating Missouri, which had been 10th, 31-20. The losers fell to 15th.

Ohio State was No. 1 for the third week in a row. The Buckeyes trounced Wisconsin 56-0 and received 51 first-place votes and 1,164 of a possible 1,180 points from a nationwide panel of 59 sports writers and broad-

Runner-up Oklahoma received the other eight first-place votes and 1,053 points by defeating Kansas State 25-3. Third-place Southern California earned 851 points for a 17-3 victory over Oregon while No. 4 Nebraska accumulated 828 points by downing Oklahoma State 28-20.

Last week, with 55 panelists voting, Ohio State outpolled Oklahoma with 42 first-place ballots to 12 for the Sooners and 1,066-982 in points. At that time, Southern Cal received the other first-place vote and 844 points while Nebraska had 762 points.

Texas A&M, a 14-6 victor over Texas Christian, was a distant fifth with 618 points. Then came Alabama with 572 points for a 30-7 triumph over Tennessee, Michigan with 551 points for crushing Northwestern 69-0, Texas with 478 points following a 24-18 decision over Arkansas which dropped the Razor-backs out of the Top Twenty, Penn State with 418 points for downing Syracuse 19-7 and Colorado with 367 points.

The Second Ten consisted of Arizona State, Florida, Arizona, Notre Dame, Missouri, Michigan State, Pitt, Maryland, UCLA and South Carolina.

Pitt, which was in the Second Ten the first two weeks of the season, climbed back with a 52-20 rout of Army while South Carolina made it by beating Mississippi 35-29. Both Pitt and South Carolina have 5-1 records. They replaced Tennessee and Arkansas.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The done what they did. . . ' former Austin policeman credited with killing University of Texas tower sniper Charles Whit-man—subject of an NBC television movie last Saturday night—says the racist image given police "was a bunch of bull."

Ramiro Martinez, now a Texas Ranger, said "I have the highest regard for the Austin police. I received good treatment while I was there and I am proud to have been a member of that department."

The movie's narrator said it was based on the story of Whitman, who killed 16 and wounded 31, most of them from the University of Texas tower, on Aug. 1, 1966. The movie showed Martinez being twice passed over for promotion, the second time after making a score of 93 on a test. "This business about being passed over for a promotion is just a lot of malarky," Martinez said. The producers of the movie talked with him only briefly, he said.

"Parts of the movie, like going up to the top of the tower, were realistic." But he objected to the characterization of his wife. "That was not my wife, in no way whatsoever," he said.

Lt. Bolton Gregory, a sergeant at the time of the sniper incident, said an autopsy showed a shotgun blast killed Whitman. Buckshot was recovered from his brain. Martinez fired six pistol bullets, missing Whitman with all but one, which struck him in the arm, Bolton said. Patrolman Houston McCoy fired the shotgun and killed Whitman, Bolton said. "We were both shooting and we were both scared,

In an energy message last January, President Ford said the government should promote development of a synthetic fuels industry capable of producing the equivalent of one million barrels of oil a day by 1985 through conversion of shale to oil and coal to oil and gas.

Briefing reporters on Monday, however, officials said an interagency task force will recommend an immediate start on a more limited program and wait to decide whether to proceed to the million-barrel level.

Robert Seamans, head of the Energy Research and Development Administration, and William McCormick, chief of science and energy technology at the Office of Management and Budget, said the administration is proposing to un-derwrite up to $6 billion of private industry's inment of synthetic fuels.

McCormick said that would be the government's maximum risk in the unlikely event that all of the projects failed. He said that if all succeeded the government would lose nothing.

Aspects of the proposal have been assembled by the task force, headed by McCormick, for a final report due for publication in McCormick said the report includes an environmental study that warns of potentially severe environmental problems in the development of a million-barrel-a-day synthetic fuel program. He said this was a main reason a more extensive program is not being recommended immediately.

Experience with a smaller program, which would not in itself create insurmountable environmental problems, may show how a larger development can be carried out successfully, McCormick

He said the administration believes private industry will not develop synthetic fuel production early enough on its own because of high costs and uncertainties markets regulations. Commercial liquefaction or gasification plants may cost around $1 billion each.

McCormick said that Congress passes such a program quickly, construction of synthetic fuel plants could begin in 1977, and the estimated 14 plants needed for the 350,000-barrel production level could be completed by the end of 1978.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Plan better budget to know exactly where you stand and how you will handle various obligations you have. Take some time out to see how you can best repair whatever is run-down propertywise. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get property, business affairs streamlined. See where to reduce expenses. Make the evening a social and romantic one. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Plan how to increase your charm for greater attractiveness. Think along more social lines and make the right contacts. Renew worthwhile friendships. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle that accumulated bunch of odd jobs early and clear the path for more lucrative outlets. Find greater rapport with loved one.

MON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Have those open talks with good friends and come to a far better understanding. Accept social invitations for right contacts. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Search out that bigwig who can help where public work is concerned. Improve credit rating. Enjoy social side of life in p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Investigate that new project more thoroughly before you put it in operation. Any new trip you have in mind should be planned well. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Follow your hunches and you know how to take care of some responsibility more wisely. Don't spoil a good relationship by stubbornness. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Talk over with partners how your relationship is working and make new arrangements of worth. Avoid strangely behaving person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Discuss with co-workers how to cooperate for better results. Then buy wardrobe accessories to improve charm, up to dateness. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Enjoy recreation during spare time and find release from tensions. Get busy also at profitable, creative things you like doing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan how to make those who live with you happier and thereby feel better yourself. Avoid one in p.m. who doesn't appreciate you. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you don't procrastinate, you can get that data you require from the right sources and then use it wisely. Be with good friends.

prepared. City of San Antonio were In motions filed last week, city lawyers said Lo-Vaca has refused to provide requested data about gas gas shipments were being curtailed. According to the suit, San Antonians paid $118 million above 1962 contract price to obtain natural gas and fuel oil from Lo-Vaca Gathering

The city hopes in its suit to recover that amount plus $43 million in additional damages it claims.

The city also was expected today to seek a court order to compel Coastal States Gas Corp. board chairman Oscar Wyatt to file more complete answers to written questions. Coastal States is the parent corporation of Lo-Vaca and Coastal States Gas

The city will propose a final, pre-trial hearing for Nov. 10, to deal with remaining pre-trial conflicts, lawyers said.

WASHINGTON (AP) -The Supreme Court Monday called for oral arguments between Louisiana and Texas in their dispute over their offshore boundary in hearing "in due course" on a report filed in March by Robert Van Pelt, a senior federal district judge from Lincoln, Neb. Van Pelt, appointed by the court to look into the dispute, recommended a line extending seaward from midway between jetties at River.

By GARTH JONES Associated Press on the proposed new state constitution that will be voted on Nov. 4. This article discusses the provisions concerning the Executive Branch. Others will deal with other phases of the eight propositions on the ballot.)

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The idea of "self destruct" state agencies is the most intriguing, and controversial. part of the proposed new constitution concerning the executive branch of state government

Proponents say the proposal to recreate state agencies every 10 years would give the governor and the legislature more control over the approximately 200 state agencies which sometimes in the past have officials

"Can you imagine the turmoil 10 years hence?" says Sen. Peyton McKnight, D-Tyler, head of a statewide group opposing the entire new constitution. "It puts every agency-those with responsibility for essential services such as mental health and mental retardation, law enforcement, rehabilitation, highways and parks-in the position of lobbying for continuing their existence instead of doing their jobs. It would also create an atmosphere for personal vendetta (by legislators) against various state agencies.' The new constitution

Audit Story Is Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., denied today he ever tried to block an Internal Revenue Service audit of his

As to his tax affairs in particular, Montoya said,

'I'm clean. The senator commented on a Washington Post story that said IRS Commissioner Donald C. Alexander and other officials had blocked tax investigations of Montoya, who heads the Senate Appropriations subcommittee that oversees IRS

An IRS spokesman in Washington said only that no one is immune from the tax system no matter what his

The IRS also released a statement from its regional commissioner in Dallas, Tex., Walter Coppinger, who said he always has had and still has "the authority to do whatever is called for in the Sen. Montoya tax matter.'

Coppinger said three IRS employes in Dallas recently reviewed the senator's tax files for 1966 through 1972.

Coppinger said the review showed that the IRS had acted in a fair and impartial manner and that "no investigation was justified nor is one justified at present." Montoya commented during an appearance at IRS headquarters that was originally billed as a news conference by his aide, Arthur Levin.

Search For Missing Plane Near Hobbs

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol was searching today in parts of West Texas and New Mexico for an airplane reported missing on a Sunday flight from Albuquerque to Hobbs with four persons aboard.

Mission coordinator Bob Trudo said up to 15 aircraft would fly search patterns over parts of northern and southeast New Mexico, and portions of West Texas along the New Mexico border.

Those aboard the twinengine Aztec were identified as the pilot, Ed Marks of Eunice; and passengers Marilon Barker, Deanna Potter and Arnie Wilkins, all of Hobbs. The three passengers, employes of Norte Vista Medical Center in Hobbs, had been in of medical personnel.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers the proposed constitution has said publicly that he affecting the executive likes the executive article because it would strengthen —Upgrade the agriculture the governor's role and commissioner to become a "give him the authority member of the executive which he needs."

However, Shivers said he would vote against Proposition No.1 because he terms for all executive is opposed to a provision in the legislative article that calls for annual sessions of the legislature.

Former Gov. Price Daniel Sr., now an associate justice - Allow governor to of the Texas Supreme Court, praised the new executive article and said he would vote for the entire new constitution. "The governor had needed more say about the budget and the power to do something about seeing that the appropriated funds are spent as they were ap-propriated for a long time," Designate governor as chief planning officer of the state and allow the Former Gov. Preston Smith is against the new constitution. "I see no reason whatever to just junk it and start over," he said. "It's not antiquated, like some say, because we've amended it and kept it up to date.'

We're building power plants that use lignite coal.

It's our answer to the rising price of natural gas.

This power plant is being built in East Texas at Martin Lake near Henderson. It will make electricity by burning lignite coal.

We have to build lignite plants because we're running out of low-cost natural gas, our main fuel today. New supplies are hard to get and very costly. Lignite plants cost more than twice as much to build as comparable gas-fired plants, and that means electricity will cost more. But expensive as they are, lignite plants will still make electricity more cheaply than plants using high-priced gas.

That's because our large lignite supplies, acquired many years ago, are much cheaper than new supplies of gas. And using cheap fuel is one way we're keeping your electric bill as low as possible.

The average bill for Texas Electric customers is already 27 per cent below the national average, and we're working to keep it that way.
