Cost Of Halloween Downright Scary

Inflation has hit even the pseudo-supernatural this year with the cost of everything from trick-or-treat candy to the traditional pumpkin, real or fake, up five to 20 per cent. "But it doesn't seem to have affected sales any. They're buying as much as ever," said one local variety store employee. By "they" he meant parents, who trek to the stores to buy Halloween paraphernalia either alone or in tow behind their youngsters. Candy has gone up in price about five per cent for the bagged Halloween variety and about 20 per cent for "regular" candy in most stores. The increase is attributed to the rising cost of sugar. Two grocery store managers insisted their "holiday" candy prices are "cheaper than last year." Costumes for junior ghosts and witches have increased about 10 per cent with prices ranging from $1.98 to $3.98, depending on style, at one particular store chain. Pumpkins, grown-on-the-vine or plastic, are higher, too. The plastic kind, large enough to carry the collected treats, are up 10 per cent to 98 cents, in one downtown store. A check of supermarkets showed real pumpkins cost anywhere from five to 13 cents a pound, depending on whether the "pie" or "field" pumpkin is sought.

One market chain is selling 10 to 14-pound "field" pumpkins at seven cents a pound. The pie variety last year cost only 10 cents a pound at many stores, while this year a supermarket chain is charging 13 cents a pound, regardless of type or size. Another variety store, where a clerk says sales are "going great," declared "we've got real good prices, lower than last year, on costumes and miscellaneous items." The candy, however, is higher, she added. Another supermarket is "pushing" chewing gum this year and is not selling "Halloween candy."

Patty's Alleged Lover Faces Death Penalty

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Steven Soliah, free of a charge that he harbored fugitive Patricia Hearst, faces a possible death sentence in connection with a bank robbery and murder last April. The stocky, 27-year-old housepainter, believed to have been Miss Hearst's lover, was arraigned Wednesday on a charge of bank robbery resulting in death. His brief court appearance came about four hours after he was indicted by a federal grand jury in connection with the April 21 holdup of a Crocker National Bank branch in suburban Carmichael.

A customer, Myrna Opsahl, 42, was killed by a shotgun blast during the $15,247 robbery, which police say involved at least four persons. The indictment did not name Miss Hearst and others linked to the Symbionese Liberation Army, although the FBI has identified Miss Hearst as the woman who rented a garage used for the getaway car. But U.S. Atty. Dwayne Keyes indicated that others may be charged in the case. Sacramento Dist. Atty. John Price said that Soliah alone was named because the harboring charge might have been too weak to hold him.

The harboring charge was dismissed in San Francisco at the request of the federal government after the filing of the bank robbery charge. Soliah was then whisked to Sacramento by car for arraignment in the bank robbery case. "I do not feel that this indictment should indicate the investigation is terminated," Keyes said. "It is continuing." Keyes said Soliah was "positively identified" as one of those involved in the robbery — but not necessarily the triggerman. The charge against Soliah carries a maximum penalty of death. But Keyes said a 1972 U.S. Supreme Court ruling may eliminate death as a "viable" sentence. That decision said the death penalty was unconstitutional because it was not administered equally. Keyes said he would argue against any defense attempts to remove the death penalty as a sentence open to Soliah's trial judge. Soliah, arrested the day Miss Hearst was seized in San Francisco, had been charged with hiding her in the last days before her arrest Sept. 18. Miss Hearst told a girlfriend after her arrest that she had "lived" with Soliah. She also said she and Soliah were allowed to kiss when they were led past each other in a jail corridor.

SOLIAH AFTER ARRAIGNMENT — Steve Soliah, who has been accused of harboring Patricia Hearst, is taken to the Sacramento County Jail Wednesday by U.S. marshals after his arraignment in Sacramento on bank robbery charges. A woman customer was killed during the robbery and the U.S. attorney says he will ask for the death penalty.

Reds Release Nine Captives

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Nine Americans captured by Communist forces in South Vietnam last spring arrived in Bangkok today along with two Canadians, two Filipinos and an Australian. They were described as "fit and well."

One of the Americans, Paul Struharik, 35, of Barberton, Ohio, a U.S. aid official in Ban Me Thuot, said, "I was captured waving a white flag at my house when I heard them coming through the back gate. The battle for Ban Me Thuot was by that time essentially over. But there were bombs and artillery still going off all over the place."

The 14 civilians were flown from Hanoi to Vientiane, the capital of Laos, and then on to Bangkok in a Laotian plane chartered by the United Nations. U.N. officials said all were "fit and well" although one of the Americans complained of "psychological hardship" during a period of solitary confinement. The Americans included two missionary couples and the small daughter of one of the couples, two government officials and a student. One of the Filipinos also worked for the U.S. government, and the Canadians were missionaries.

They were captured in South Vietnam in March and April during the collapse of the South Vietnamese army and the lightning Communist advance. They said they were taken by truck to Hanoi in mid-August and confined near Hanoi. United Nations officials said the missionaries were John Miller, 45, his wife, Carolyn, 37, and their 6-year-old daughter, Lucille, of Houghton, N.Y.; Norman and Joan Johnson, 39 and 38, of Hamilton, Canada; Richard and Lillian Phillips, 45 and 44, of Bloomington, Minn.; and Betty Janet Mitchell, 66, of Bly, Ore.

The American officials were Paul A. Struharik, 35, Barberton, Ohio, an official of the U.S. Agency for International Development; and James Foley Lewis, 31, of Illinois. The American student was Jay R. Scarborough, 29, of Southern Illinois University. All of those released today except Lewis were captured in Ban Me Thuot, in the Central Highlands, when the Saigon government abandoned it to the Communists in March. Mrs. Mitchell's husband, Archie, was captured there in 1962 by the Viet Cong and has not been heard of since. About 40 other Americans are still in South Vietnam. Most of them are believed living in Saigon.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES RELEASED BY COMMUNISTS — John Miller, 45, and his wife, Carolyn, 37, a missionary couple from Houghton, N.Y., and their 6-year-old daughter, Lucille, arrive at Bangkok airport Thursday after being flown from Hanoi, North Vietnam, via Vientiane. They were captured by Communist forces in South Vietnam last spring.

Bomb Again Rocks London

LONDON (AP) — London's fashionable West End was hit by its second bombing in a week with an explosion in the doorway of a Mayfair restaurant 200 yards from the U.S. Embassy which injured 18 persons, four of them Americans. "We are both fine, the Lord be thanked," said Edwin Daly, 42, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., as he and his 10-year-old daughter, Ruth, were released from a hospital early today. The other two Americans were Alan Ward and his wife, Ruth, both 68, of Riverside, Conn. They were kept in the hospital, Ward with cuts about the head and neck and his wife with cuts on the face and knee. All the injured suffered cuts, bruises or shock. Seven of them were kept in the hospital overnight. The restaurant, the Trattoria Fiori on South Audley street, was wrecked. The bomb exploded just before 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. "As I rushed up to the restaurant, people were shouting and screaming," said photographer Maurice Marucci. "One man was staggering around shouting, 'Bastards! Bastards!' Others were crying for help. Six or seven people collapsed on the sidewalk. There was blood all over them and all over the road." "I heard an explosion and everything went dark," said Daly, who is in England on business. "We were sitting right at the corner table by the door. Fortunately we were not badly hurt." Enrico Sidoli, the restaurant's chef, said the medium-priced eating spot was not very busy and only about 20 people were in it at the time. "All the windows were smashed and a ceiling collapsed," he said. Scotland Yard's bomb squad said the explosion was caused by "a small bomb — seven to 10 pounds of explosive." But bomb squad chief Ernest Bond told reporters the effect on the building was "devastating." "The restaurant is shattered and there is damage to the pavement and the cellar underneath," he said. "Water and gas pipes in the restaurant were broken." The Irish Republican Army is blamed for bombings in Britain that have killed more than 50 persons and injured 750 others since 1972. Five have been killed and 80 injured in 10 bombings since Aug. 27. A bombing last Thursday morning occurred about 2 1/2 miles west of the restaurant blast, in the West Kensington district. A bomb exploded in a car in front of the home of a Conservative member of Parliament with whom the late President Kennedy's daughter, Caroline, is staying, and a leading cancer specialist who was walking his dog was killed. Scotland Yard announced Wednesday that it was questioning four men and four women about recent bombings in London.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department declined to force Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's powerful Cook County Democratic organization to comply with federal campaign finance reporting laws last year, according to informed government sources. The Democratic Party of Cook County whose finances have long been kept secret from all but Daley and a few top aides, was cited early last year by Senate officials for failing to file required reports in 1972, a number of sources said. The failure to file appears to have been deliberate, since Senate sources say that persons involved in the affair had been told repeatedly that reports would have to be filed.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A doomsday spirit blankets Beirut as Christian-Moslem street fighting grips the Middle East's former playground and financial capital. Looted clothes are sold openly on once fashionable Hamra street, which now resembles an Arab market place. The shrill cries of street vendors mingle with the gunfire and exploding rockets. Armed Palestinian guerrillas emerge from their poverty-stricken refugee camps to see how the other half lives. But most of the expensive boutiques are shuttered. The city is split into a patchwork of Christian and Moslem sectors, and front lines sometimes move two or three blocks a day.

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you earn over $14,100 next year, you'll be paying up to $70.20 more in Social Security taxes. The government announced Wednesday that it will levy Social Security taxes on the first $15,300 of your earnings beginning next Jan. 1, up from the $14,000 taxable wage base this year. The result will be that an estimated 18 million workers will be paying higher Social Security taxes next year, to a maximum of $895.05 or $70.20 more than this year. Their employers will pay a like amount. Self-employed persons will pay a maximum of $1,208.70 next year, up $94.80.

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House staff chief Donald Rumsfeld says President Ford's heavy domestic travel schedule is "pretty much behind him" for a while, indicating that Ford will be unable to meet his earlier travel goals.

Con Nabbed After Bank Bomb Seige

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 56-year-old ex-convict who held six persons hostage for more than 20 hours was taken in custody today by police and the last of the hostages were freed unharmed. Two hostages were removed on stretchers about 11:30 a.m., and the last four walked out half an hour later. Edward O. Watkins, the ex-convict who took his hostages after police thwarted his holdup attempt Wednesday afternoon, was brought out by police in handcuffs, a tiny smile on his mustached face. Mayor Ralph Perk said the bomb that Watkins had used as a threat was believed to be a fake. Police Chief Lloyd Garey and an FBI agent had met with Watkins before his surrender. They said at the time that the hostages appeared to be in good condition, though shortly after two of them were carried out on the stretchers. Watkins released three women hostages in the first six hours, one of whom said she had a heart condition and two who became ill. Watkins himself was said to be suffering from a heart condition. One of the women hostages he released told police Watkins had enough dynamite to kill everyone in the bank. Pleas from police, the gunman's girlfriend, a friend from prison and a judge he reportedly respects failed to end the standoff. The released women told police Watkins was smoking cigarettes and drinking coffee. They also said he had a pistol and held a shoebox with what looked like a plunger attached. The drama began at 2:50 p.m. Wednesday, when Watkins was surprised during an attempt to hold up the Society National Bank, police said. Officers responding to a silent alarm surrounded the building, as Watkins ordered nine persons into an employees' lounge in the rear. Authorities bargained with the gunman over an intercom, while sharpshooters cradling rifles with telescopic sights and infrared spotters perched on roofs outside. William Rooney of Cleveland, who knew Watkins in prison, said he believed Watkins would carry out his threats to kill the hostages if necessary.

NYC Aid Bill Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee today approved a bill with $4 billion in loan guarantees for New York City and sent the measure to an uncertain fate on the Senate floor and a threatened presidential veto. On an 8-to-5 vote the committee approved what was a compromise measure between Sen. Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill., and the panel's chairman, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., that would put the city on a spartan fiscal regime to balance its budget and to prevent it from defaulting on its obligations Dec. 1. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., tried to persuade the committee to go along with a substitute measure by Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., which would have allowed the city to default but which would provide guaranteed debt certificates called for by President Ford in his speech Wednesday. Tower said that the committee, in essence, was wasting its time in approving the loan guarantee measure. The only Democrat to vote against sending the loan guarantee measure to the floor was Sen. Thomas Morgan, D-N.C., and the only Republican to vote in favor of it was Sen. Robert Packwood of Oregon. Before the vote, the committee unanimously adopted an amendment by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., which would increase the fee the city would have to pay the federal government for the right to issue tax-exempt notes from 3 per cent to 3.5 per cent of the total amount. Stevenson, during the debate on whether to approve the loan guarantee measure, said President Ford in his speech Wednesday proposed what amounted to be "the largest bailout of all." "To veto this proposal, the President would have to veto his own proposal," Stevenson said.

Franco Worsens, Torch Is Passed

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco's condition has worsened again, the Spanish news agency Europa Press reported today. The agency said its information came from reliable sources. A medical bulletin was awaited from Franco's doctors. Meanwhile, Premier Carlos Arias Navarro called his cabinet into session amid reports that Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, Franco's designated political heir, has agreed to become chief of state temporarily.

Reliable sources said the 37-year-old prince, who had previously refused to step in on a temporary basis, gave in to intense pressure from the government. Franco's doctors said the 82-year-old dictator had a peaceful night although his condition remained "extremely grave." The doctors said there was no change in the clinical condition reported Wednesday night. At that time, the medical team said intestinal paralysis that nearly caused death Tuesday had eased, but cardiac insufficiency continued and a new complication with the heart, "isolated premature ventricular beats," had appeared.

Testers Drop Nuclear Bomb

MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — A canister containing a small nuclear warhead accidentally fell 40 feet to the bottom of a shaft it was being lowered into, causing minor injuries to 11 Nevada Test Site workers but leaking no radiation, officials said today. David Miller, a spokesman for the federal Energy Research and Development Administration, said the accident occurred Oct. 23 at Yucca Flat about 30 miles north of here. The warhead, with a designed yield of less than 20 kilotons, was to have been detonated in a test code-named "Peninsula." The warhead did not detonate nor leak radiation and there was no danger that it could detonate, Miller said.

Parents Should Plan To Tell Child Of His Adoption

DEAR ABBY: We recently adopted a beautiful baby boy who is everything we had ever hoped for in a child.

We were married for 11 years before we accepted the fact that we weren't able to have children of our own, so we decided to adopt. I can't describe the happiness this child has brought into our lives.

Our lawyer advises us not to tell our son that he is adopted since all the records, including the birth certificate, show us as the baby's natural parents.

Abby, there are so many people in this town who know of the adoption, I don't see how we can keep the boy from finding out.

We got him when he was only 3-days-old. He is our child in every sense of the word, and we want him to feel that he is.

Should we tell him he's adopted? And if so, when? We don't want him to hear it from anyone else.

NEW MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I think your lawyer gave you very poor advice. Your son should be told that he was adopted as soon as he is able to understand what it means.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has some relatives who always leave the price tag on gifts they send to us and our children. I just can't understand it. The first thing I do when I buy a gift is to make sure the price tag is removed.

It can't be a coincidence that every gift that comes from these people has the price tag on it. Do you think it could be because they want us to know how much they have spent on us and want us to spend the same amount on them in return?

CURIOUS
DEAR CURIOUS: I think you've come up with the answer. Ignore the hint and spend what you can afford — and continue to remove the price tags!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Big Spring Steers Long To Master Two-Platoon

By CLARK LESHNER
Big Spring would certainly like to work its way into the District 5-4A win column here at 8 p.m. Friday at Memorial Stadium, using Abilene Cooper as the fall team.
The Steers have a long to perfect their two-platoon system with Cooper, the same eleven they initiated it satisfactorily at Abilene last season, winning, 12-7.
Steer Head Football Coach offers two mindful ways of cracking a five-game tailspin. 1. Near perfect play. 2. Lot of emotion.

Stanton Coach Resigns

STANTON — Rookie head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Stanton High, Bill Sears has resigned his coaching position.
Sears was to have coached the Buffalo varsity basketball squad for the 1975-76 season.
Sears came to Stanton from Midland, where he served as coach of the Midland High junior varsity basketball team.
Sears will remain as a teacher in the school system.

Coyotes Face Uphill Climb

GAIL — After being clawed by Garden City, 18-6, last Friday, Borden County faces an uphill battle with Wellman here at 8 p.m., Friday.
The Coyotes dip to 1-2 in 1-B and 5-2 over-all. Borden County's lone score against Garden City came about with Joe Zant flipping a 48-yard TD pass to Richard Long.
Last Friday, Loop lost out to Wellman, 22-14.
The Coyotes finish out seasonal play next week at Klondike.

Pro Sales Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle said today National Football League clubs lost more than $9 million in revenues during the 1974 and 1975 seasons as a result of the lifting of the television blackouts on sold-out home games.
Rozelle said a decrease in season ticket sales meant lost revenue of more than $8.4 million, while the remainder of the losses came from game program sales and the value of radio rights.
He also told Congress the antiblackout law produced more than 1 million no-shows — ticket purchasers who do not attend — last season which, the NFL believes, will result in a decrease in future ticket sales.
In testimony prepared for the House communications subcommittee, Rozelle said season ticket sales by NFL member clubs had shown a steady annual increase prior to 1974, the first full year in which the antiblackout law went into effect.
"The number of season ticket sales decreased for the first time in NFL history in the 1974 season, the first season following the enactment (of the law)," he said. "The trend downward has continued to the 1975 season."
Rozelle said there has been a total decrease of 150,674 season ticket sales since 1973, 55 percent of the total decrease coming from teams which had regularly televised home games during the 1973 and 1974 seasons.
NFL member clubs who televised three or more of their games in 1973 and 1974 accounted for a decline in season ticket sales of 57,908," he said. "The net result is that fully 93 percent of the decrease in season ticket sales comes from those member clubs who were required to televise some or all of their home games locally during the 1973 and 1974 seasons."
Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., chairman of the subcommittee, and Rozelle are at odds over the impact of the measure, which Macdonald wants to make permanent.

Forsan Bent On Bucking Hawley

HAWLEY — Coach George White will endeavor to keep his revitalized Forsan eleven going, bent upon bucking Hawley here at 7:30 p.m., Friday in a District 3-B contest.
Forsan stands even on the district side, 2-2 and 3-5 for the season and Hawley, 1-3 and 2-5.
Welcoming the return of its starting quarterback Ralph Miranda, last Friday, Forsan soundly beat Sterling City, 30-14, for its second straight victory.
Hawley playing last Friday, romped over Sands, 26-0.
Forsan leading the Eagles all the way, jumped on Fem To Pitch Against Men
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Joan Joyce, hailed by some as the best woman's softball pitcher in the world, will pitch against a men's team that includes players from Texas' national championship squad Nov. 9.
She has thrown 105 no-hitters while winning 429 games and losing only 28 in her career.
The "Battle of the Sexes" has been scheduled to raise money for women's athletics at the University of Texas.

WHITHARRAL — Down to its next to last game of the year, Grady, winless in all six appearances, would like to whittle Whitharral down here at 8 p.m., Friday.
In their last game played Oct. 10, Grady let Smyer get away, 50-38.
Statistically, Grady outplayed the Bobcats on defense trapping them repeatedly for big losses. But the deciding factor was contributed to Smyer's polished offensive machine.
Grady, off for two weeks, winds up 1975 play at Southland, Nov. 7.

Big Spring Steers Long To Master Two-Platoon

The deep dark secret that remains to be uncovered is how Cooper will respond to the game situation after dropping two 5-4A contests, San Angelo, 9-7 and Permian, 5-0.
Cooper, though, has three district plus signs on its side.
1. Tailback Mark Allen is the leading rusher, carrying the ball 49 times for 408 yards for an 8.3 average.
2. Kelly Gill leads all opposing quarterbacks in passing, completing 36 of 67 aerial tries for 532 yards and four touchdowns.
3. Wingback Rick Lewis is the best receiver, handling the ball 11 times for 232 yards for a 21.0 average.
All three players are seniors with the majority of the Cooper starting offense classified the same. Only one junior is listed, back Tim Truitt.
Mark Moore, Big Spring's quarterback wizard, trails only Gill in the passing

Coyotes Face Uphill Climb

GAIL — After being clawed by Garden City, 18-6, last Friday, Borden County faces an uphill battle with Wellman here at 8 p.m., Friday.
The Coyotes dip to 1-2 in 1-B and 5-2 over-all. Borden County's lone score against Garden City came about with Joe Zant flipping a 48-yard TD pass to Richard Long.
Last Friday, Loop lost out to Wellman, 22-14.
The Coyotes finish out seasonal play next week at Klondike.

Forsan Bent On Bucking Hawley

HAWLEY — Coach George White will endeavor to keep his revitalized Forsan eleven going, bent upon bucking Hawley here at 7:30 p.m., Friday in a District 3-B contest.
Forsan stands even on the district side, 2-2 and 3-5 for the season and Hawley, 1-3 and 2-5.
Welcoming the return of its starting quarterback Ralph Miranda, last Friday, Forsan soundly beat Sterling City, 30-14, for its second straight victory.

Stanton At Plains Only One Way To Go Up

PLAINS — After three straight losses, the Stanton Buffaloes have only one way to go — up!
Friday night Coach Bob Richardson's crew will meet Plains here for a tussle with the cowboys, who are tied with Seagraves for the District 5-A lead.
Plains will field a good football team, but not the type of them their spotters' loop record indicates. The Cowboys have defeated Showalter and O'Donnell, who will battle it out later this year for the 5-A cellar.
Stanton lost 42-7 last week to top-ranked Seagraves, and Richardson is a little concerned about his team's mental attitude going into Friday night's game.
"Our practices have been pretty good this week, but we need to win desperately Friday night. Plain will be fired-up for us but we should find out how much character our boys have after Friday night," Richardson said.
The Buffs will stick with the Wishbone T attack which the first-year head mentor switched to last week, and will come out in a "52" defense.
Plains will be led by their quarterback, a 6'4", 185-pounder who can run and pass equally well. Stanton will counter with the running of fullback Elvin Brown, halfback Marvin Jones and quarterback Gary Hanson.

Steer injuries continue to take their toll as fullback Jesse Doss will be absent from the Cooper conflict because of recurring ankle trouble, diagnosed a few weeks back. James Thompson will fill in for Doss.
Tony Mann and Mike Abreo, hampered by a bruised knee and an ankle, respectively are expected to be able to go full strength with Cooper.
Cooper's Slot — I offensive pattern is not new to Burris, as his team experienced it against Hobbs and Lee.

San Marcos and Brackenridge School of Nursing in Austin.

During World War II she served as an officer in the Army Nurse Corps with the 94th General Hospital in England and France.

All Saints Day Service Set Friday

St. Mary's Episcopal Church will host a Halloween Party beginning at 6 p.m. Friday with the public invited to the All Saints Day Service, and the party.

The party begins immediately after the service in Parrish Hall with hot dogs, witches brew, goodies and favors to be distributed.

There will be a costume contest for children and adults. A fortune teller will be featured and a nursery is available for baby spoons.

"This is a good way for children to enjoy and celebrate Halloween without being on the street and a way for the entire family to have a good time," church officials point out.

Draws Life In Prison

ODESSA — A 22-year-old Odessa man, Marvin Ray James, was found guilty in 161st District Court here Tuesday of the sale of methamphetamine to an undercover narcotics agent last May 29.

James' sentence of life imprisonment became automatic under Texas law because he had admitted two prior felony convictions. The jury in the case deliberated less than four minutes before reaching a verdict.

James escaped from the prison ward of Medical Center Hospital here a month ago but was recaptured hours later.

Progressive Farmer's Southern Kitchens Cooking School.

TASTY CASSEROLE — Marrow beans, elbow macaroni and pork sausage baked with tomatoes, dark corn syrup and a good blend of seasonings make a savory, nutritious casserole that's easy on the budget.

Beans Brighten Menu, Food Budget

The Southern Kitchens Cooking School has developed many delicious and economical recipes to delight homemakers and family members alike. Area residents will be able to attend the school on Nov. 6 in the Municipal Auditorium. The school is produced by the Progressive Farmers Company and will be sponsored by the Big Spring Herald.

Among the recipes developed by the cooking school are several with beans. Beans brighten the menu planning effort and give the food budget a break when served as the main dish. One of the least expensive sources of protein, the bean family includes a wide variety of beans, not only black eyed peas but also kidney, pea (Navy), and marrow beans. All of them can be prepared in a number of flavorful ways.

To provide the body with the protein it needs, serve beans with rice, bread or pasta or with a small amount of meat, cheese, or eggs.

Beans, Macaroni and Sausage Casserole

1 lb. dry Great Northern or marrow beans
3 c. (about) water
1 pkg. (8 ounces) elbow macaroni
2 tbsp. corn oil
1 lb. fresh pork sausage
1 clove garlic, minced (optional)
1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
¾ c. Karo dark corn syrup
1 tsp. chopped parsley
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. oregano leaves
¼ tsp. pepper
Wash beans; cover with water in 4-qt. saucepan and bring to boil. Remove from heat and let stand 1 hour. Add additional water to cover beans if necessary. Bring to boil; cover and boil gently over low heat about 1 hour or until beans are tender. Drain, reserving 1 c. liquid. Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain. Heat corn oil in large deep skillet over low heat. Add sausage and garlic. Cook, breaking up meat with fork and turning occasionally, about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Add tomatoes, corn syrup, reserved bean liquid, parsley, salt, oregano and pepper. Stir, breaking up tomatoes slightly. Bring to boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 15 minutes. Stir in beans and macaroni. Cover and simmer about 15 minutes or until well heated. Makes 8 (1 ½ c.) servings.

Baked Lima Beans

1 lb. dry large lima beans, rinsed
2 qts. (about) water
½ c. Karo dark corn syrup
¼ c. margarine
1 ½ tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. ground ginger
¼ tsp. thyme leaves
¼ tsp. dried parsley flakes
¼ tsp. pepper
Place beans in large sauce pan and cover with water. Soak overnight. Bring beans to boil, simmer, covered, 30 minutes or until tender. Drain, reserving 2 c. liquid. Place beans in 2 ½ to 3-qt. casserole or bean pot. Mix together corn syrup, margarine, mustard, salt, ginger, thyme, parsley, pepper and reserved liquid. Pour over beans. Bake, covered, in 350 F. 1 ½ hours. Makes 6 servings.
Note: If crispy brown top is desired, remove cover during last 15 minutes of baking.

Baked Kidney Beans With Tomato

1 lb. dry red kidney beans
4 c. water
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
4 slices bacon, cut into ½-inch pieces
2 apples, pared and finely chopped
1 medium onion, finely chopped
½ c. Karo dark corn syrup
1-3rd c. catchup
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. dry mustard.
Soak beans overnight in water to completely cover. Reserve liquid. Gently boil beans in quart of liquid just until tender, about 30 to 35 minutes. (If more liquid is needed add water in which beans were soaked.) Drain, reserving 1 c. cooking liquid. Mix together beans, reserved 1 c. liquid, tomatoes, bacon, apples, onion, corn syrup, catchup, salt and dry mustard in 2 ½-qt. casserole. Partially cover. Bake in 300 F. oven 2 hours. Uncover and bake 1 hour longer. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

COLUMBUS could hardly have guessed what he was starting when he set sail for what he thought was the Far East... and discovered a New World, an adventure we remember this month. Over the centuries the Spanish influence and heritage has waxed and waned, though never entirely leaving the scene. Right now it is more dominant than ever in one special area: home interiors and decor. Mediterranean furnishings, from rich fabrics to elaborately carved woods and bold colors, are among today's most popular. That influence is very much part of the carpet scene. There are beautiful Spanish-inspired prints, for instance, suggesting the artistry of Spanish tiles. There are textures and colors especially designed to blend beautifully with those Mediterranean style furnishings.

Even in luxury shags you'll find patterns reminiscent of Moorish tiles, part of the big new trend toward patterned shag that features everything from waves to plaids to stripes in captivating color mixes. GUNS ON AUCTION BLOCK Treasure In Frontier Firearms May Be Lost

AUSTIN — A treasure in rare frontier firearms may be lost from the Ft. Fisher Texas Ranger Museum in Waco when a $300,000-plus gun collection is sold in Austin in November.

Some 100 items now in the Waco museum will go on the auction block No. 1-3 when the famous Joe W. Bates gun collection will be liquidated in an estate sale.

The late Bates, a car dealer from the small town of Wortham, had loaned part of his 2,000-piece collection to the museum prior to his death a year ago at the age of 76.

The entire collection will be auctioned by Tom Keilman of Round Rock, much to the regret of Gaines de Graffenried, curator of the Ranger museum.

"It will be a real loss to the museum," he said. "It would be a great collection to keep together."

But money is not available to buy the items for the museum, he said.

Unless a philanthropist comes along, de Graffenried said, the museum will be losing such items as rare Walker Colts, made especially for the Texas Rangers when Texas still was a Republic; even rarer Patterson-made Colts and an engraved Bowie knife that belonged to famed Texas gunfighter Ben Thompson when he was city marshal of Austin.

Many items in the Bates collection, accumulated over a 60-year period, cannot be found in museums, according to Keilman.

Currently under 24-hour guard in an Austin office building, the collection features everything from a peeling white board marked "Unknown Indian Grave" to Civil War muskets to old whisky bottles — one with a little frontier firewater still in it.

Bates' consuming interest as a collector was rarity, Keilman said. "He had a lot of things you won't find in a museum, like a lockplate from a musket made for the Confederacy in Tyler during the Civil War."

Keilman said the collection will be one of the biggest ever auctioned. Gun collectors from Germany, Sweden, Canada and all across the U.S. are expected in Austin for the three-day auction.

Though he acquired a wide variety of frontier relics, Bates' main love was the antique firearm.

"He once swapped a Frederick Remington bronze sculpture for a gun. If he had kept that bronze, it probably would be worth more than the whole collection today," Keilman said.

Tax Roll 'Thanks'

"Thanks to everyone for your consideration the past two months while we were preparing information for our tax roll," Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, county tax assessor-collector, said.

She singled out Don Box of Howard College for help in computerizing the tax roll. Also, Mrs. Bednar mentioned her deputies and the county judge's, county auditor's and county engineer's offices.

With the computer which is to be installed in late December, information will be more readily available, Mrs. Bednar said.

Workers are building a wall for the computer room in the tax office this week.

Texas Steel Companies Enter Pleas

HOUSTON (AP) — Five steel firms, charged in a 1973 federal indictment of conspiring to fix prices, have changed their innocent pleas to "no contest."

Bethlehem Steel Corp., Bethlehem, Pa., Structural Metals Inc., San Antonio, Tex., Texas Steel Co., Fort Worth, Tex., U.S. Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Laclede Steel Co., St. Louis, Mo. entered the new pleas Wednesday before U.S. District Court Judge Allen B. Hannay.

The five were among nine steel companies and nine corporate officers accused in the indictment with conspiring to monopolize and restrain commerce affecting the sale of reinforcing steel.

The indictment charged the defendants with forcing independent fabricators in Houston and Fort Worth to limit the price and quotations and bids for supply of the steel for construction projects.

It said the alleged activities occurred from 1969-1972 and affected about 175,000 tons or $30 million worth of reinforced steel in Texas.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Wilford L. Whitley Jr. objected to the no contest pleas, saying the effect of the alleged price fixing "was devastating."

'ALICES' ON ONE-DAY STRIKE — Women observing the "Alice Doesn't" day strike called by the National Organization of Women rally on the steps of the state capitol in Sacramento, Calif., Wednesday. Odessa Brand New Opry Will Feature Toni Lee

ODESSA — The world premiere showing of "The Odessa Brand New Opry," showcase of Country-Western talent will feature Nashville's Toni Lee and her "Little Bit of Country" at The Globe of the Great Southwest, Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Country-Western music is something new for The Globe Theatre which is known throughout the world for its Summer Shakespeare Festival. However, the idea was born to give Odessa and West Texas another form of "live" entertainment, help further the careers of the talented people who perform, and help to preserve the folk music of the West.

The beautiful octagon-shaped theatre has an open thrust stage, plush red seats and carpeting and as many as four acts may be set up at one time. The theatre is in-the-round and built like a miniature "opra" house (it seats 414).

The variety show will consist of Country Pop music, Bluegrass, Country Blues, Gospel Singers, Western Music, Western Dance and comedy acts.

Also featured in the show will be Taysha Evans, young Country Pop Singer from Fort Stockton who was featured at the Fling-Ding Fun-of-a-Gun, the White Family and the Keys Brothers (Hobbs, N.M.), the Melody Masters, John Evans, Terri Lee Evans, Patsy Nell Evans, Ruth Aldridge and Jerry Bustos.

For a full evening of entertainment every Saturday night one can call the Globe office for reservations. Adults tickets cost $3, students $2 and those under 12 pay $1.

Carvings And Drawings Of Brooks On Display

SNYDER — Wood carvings and pen-and-ink drawings of Bill D. Brooks, Big Spring, are being displayed in the Scurry County Museum here through Nov. 15, Mickey Schmidt, curator, has announced.

Brooks, a graduate of Ira High School and North Texas State University, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Algie P. Brooks.

A reception honoring the artist is planned in the museum from 1-5 p.m.

Sunday and the public is invited to meet him at that time. The exhibit will be open each weekday during regular museum hours, 8-5 Monday through Thursday and 8-4 on Friday.

Brooks has won numerous awards with his carvings, including the Purchase Award of the International Wood Carvers Congress in 1974. He has recently completed a commissioned piece for the Hon. Omar Burleson and he has been commissioned to do a large Bicentennial carving for the Heritage Museum in Big Spring. His work was accepted to be shown at the Texas State Arts & Crafts Fair in Kerrville this year.

Austin May Be Site Of Trial

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — George Cisneros, charged in the smuggling of handguns to escape-bent state penitentiary inmate Fred Gomez Carrasco, may be tried in Austin.

Dist. Court Judge James Warren tentatively granted a change of venue to Austin at the same time as setting $25,000 bond for Cisneros last week.

A district attorney's office spokesman said the change of venue is dependent on an Austin court accepting the trial.

Walker County sheriff's deputies said Cisneros was released on bond after his father died and because doctors said the prisoner needed surgery for chest tumors.

Reputed drugs kingpin Carrasco and fellow inmates Rudolfo Dominguez and Ignacio Cuevas took 11 hostages in the prison library in the summer of 1974. The rebel prisoners had handguns.

Carrasco, Dominguez and two women hostages died 11 days later in a bloody gun battle on the prison's courtyard as they tried to run a gauntlet of police behind a crude shield.

Cuevas got the death penalty from a Houston jury for his part in the break.

Besides Cisneros, Lawrence Hall and Benito Alonzo Alonzo were charged with sneaking the guns to Carrasco. All were of San Antonio.

Police still are searching for Carrasco's wife, Rosa, believed implicated in the escape attempt.

Judge Grants Continuance

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — State District Court Judge Curt Steib has granted a motion for continuance and reset the pre-trial and trial dates in the case of Austin attorney Jake Jacobsen.

Jacobsen, a former milk industry lobbyist who was a key witness in the bribery trial of former Gov. John B. Connally, was indicted on charges of misapplication of some $800,000 from the First Savings and Loan association of San Angelo where he was an officer.

Connally was found innocent.

On Wednesday Judge Steib set a pre-trial hearing for Nov. 10 and moved the trial date from Nov. 10 to January 12, 1976.

Prosecution and defense attorneys said they intend to call to the stand several state officials during the pre-trial hearings and the trial.

Federal authorities refused to prosecute Jacobsen on federal charges after Jacobsen agreed to testify against Connally.

EL CAPOTE CABIN — Built in the 1830s along the Guadalupe River near Gonzalez, Tex., the Capote Cabin served as headquarters for one of the state's earliest ranches. It now stands, restored to its original condition, at the Ranching Heritage Center at The Museum of Texas Tech University in Lubbock. Dedication ceremonies for the cabin were held last Sunday.

Study Finds 23 Million Illiterate Adults In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Office of Education today released results of a four-year study which indicate that more than 23 million U.S. adults are functionally illiterate, meaning they are unable to do such things as read help-wanted ads or make the most economical purchases.

"It is surprising, perhaps even shocking," the report said, "to suggest that approximately one of five Americans is incompetent or functions with difficulty and that about half of the adult population is merely functional and not at all proficient in necessary skills and knowledge."

The $1-million project, conducted by the University of Texas at Austin, attempted to redefine literacy and measure the competence of a person to function in an adult world.

The researchers said they found the picture to be more dismal than had been believed previously.

Almost 30 per cent or 34.7 million persons aged 18 to 65 years of age flunked consumer economics and another 39 million were "functional but not proficient in such tests as reading a newspaper grocery ad."

In computations, such as determining the unit price for various sized boxes of breakfast cereal, 39 million adults fell into the lowest scoring category and another one-fourth, 29.5 million, were in the medium range, suggesting they were functional but not proficient.

The greatest competence was scoring in writing, with almost three-fifths of the adult population performing adequately, but 16.4 per cent or 18.9 million persons were "unable to cope successfully," the report said.

Combining the skills in nine areas measured through tests and interviews with thousands of adults during the four years, the researchers said 19.7 per cent scored in the low range, 33.9 per cent in the medium range and 46.3 per cent in the high or proficient range.

The study found that the functionally incompetent were likely to be older, under-educated, unskilled and perhaps unemployed, and living in poverty.

Sixteen per cent of the white population was in the lowest category, compared with 44 per cent of blacks and 56 per cent of Spanish-surnamed persons.

WANTS $2 MILLION FROM U.S. NAVY Plans Cost $57 Million, Sold To Russia For $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union bought blueprints of a new cargo ship from a U.S. company for $1 million; the company offered to sell the same plans to the Navy for $2 million, a Senate subcommittee says.

The Senate permanent investigations panel charged Tuesday that the Lykes Brothers Steamship Co. of New Orleans received more than $1 million in royalties from the Soviets for the plans, developed with over $57 million in federal subsidies. But Lykes flatly refused to give the blueprints to the U.S. Navy in April 1973, offering them instead the more costly deal.

The U.S. Maritime Administration okayed the firm's deal with the Soviets and also upheld the decision not to give the blueprints to the Navy, the probes said. The agency has since changed its position on the Navy sale, the Senate staffers added.

The plans were developed during the construction of three ships for Lykes under a construction subsidy contract with General Dynamics. The maritime agency contributed more than $500,000 to the early design work and later paid General Dynamics in excess of $57 million for more than half the total construction cost, the report said.

The government received nothing of the proceeds of the sale to the Russians, even though it had a proprietary interest in the design data, the probes' report said.

Lykes president, James Amoss said in New York that the $57-million subsidy represented the difference in cost between building the ships at American yards over using foreign facilities.

"That doesn't entitle the government to take over our plans," he said.

Amoss also challenged the $2-million figure in the report as too high. In any case, he said, it should not be compared with a figure reached with the Russians after long negotiations.

"At no time did Lykes and the Navy enter into negotiations based on a firm commitment to build ships," Amoss said.

A spokesman for the maritime agency said the report was in error when it said the commission agreed to have the plans withheld from the Navy.

"We had made the full engineering plans available to the Military Sealift Command which is a branch of the Navy," he said, adding that Lykes objected to giving the Navy the plans for free because another firm was to build the ship and lease it to the Navy.

The Senate probes accused Lykes of "self-interested disregard" of legal requirements and the nation's need to improve its merchant fleet.

SEEKS PLAYER FOR LA's 'BIGGEST DING DONG'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles will pay $14,820 for someone to play the city's new Triforium, a six-story musical light tower with rainbow-colored prisms which one city councilman calls the "biggest ding dong the city ever had."

The City Council voted 9 to 3 Tuesday to hire such a person, and the pay goes up to $18,468 in the fifth year.

The successful applicant must be a graduate of a musical conservatory or a university of music, a keyboard performer, have two years' professional, choral or instrumental experience and be able to program a computer.

The debut will be in December when the multimillion-dollar city mall is dedicated. The $1 million Triforium, as the 65-foot triple tower is called, is the big attraction of the mall.

Zev Yaroslavsky, one of the councilmen who voted against hiring a Triforium player, said Tuesday, "The Triforium is the biggest joke I've ever seen."

"This is the biggest ding dong the city ever had, and probably the most expensive," agreed Robert M. Wilkinson. "We don't even know if the thing will run yet."

Slay Promoted Despite Unauthorized Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Alton D. Slay will become a lieutenant general in the Air Force, despite congressional protests that he knowingly participated in directing unauthorized bombing raids on North Vietnam in 1972.

The Senate, by a vote of 49 to 43, approved Slay's promotion on Tuesday, clearing the way for him to become Air Force deputy chief of staff for research and development.

Slay was defended in Senate debate by Sens. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.,

Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., senior members of the Senate Armed Services Committee. They said Slay was merely carrying out the orders of his superior officer when he became involved in the bombing strikes and a subsequent cover-up.

Thurmond said the committee concluded after an investigation in 1972 that the unauthorized bombing raids were the sole responsibility of Maj. Gen. John D. Lavelle, then commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force in Vietnam. Slay was Lavelle's deputy for operations.

Senate opposition to the promotion was led by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who said Slay's "record of poor judgment" had stripped him of congressional confidence needed to perform effectively in his new position.

Everyone Has Own Idea For Budget Reductions

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C.

17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Ford has thrown out a challenge that the Congress cannot ignore. He proposes that taxes be reduced by $28 billion and that a commensurate amount in spending be cut.

The first part of this proposition is not the problem. The rub comes in cutting federal expenditures. Everybody — both members of Congress and those in their constituency who influence them — have their ideas of where reductions should or should not be made.

Even with a reduction of $28 billion in spending in the coming fiscal year, the Administration's budget will stand at an estimated $395 billion with a deficit of approximately $72 billion.

The choices this nation faces become more and more acute. We can elect not to cut back on government spending and race onward towards economic collapse, or we can choose to stop the growth of federal spending and put the money saved from reduced taxes right into people's pockets, to spend as they wish.

That is a basic decision now in the process of being made. The tax cut of $24 billion last March expires at the end of 1975. Not counting the tax refund for 1975 it will take about a $13 billion extension of that reduction to stay where we were in 1974.

An attempt will be made by those of us who believe there should be a definite commitment by the Congress to cut spending by at least an equal amount of any tax reduction to see this requirement is put into the law. Unless this Congress positively and unequivocally says by a resolution by both the House and the Senate that this be accomplished, it is not likely any spending will be reduced.

It is true enough that the Congress cannot at the moment know exactly where reductions in spending can be made specifically. A budget must be examined in careful detail but if tax cuts are made contingent on the same amounts of less spending, a real incentive will hang right around our shoulders until it is done. We all want less taxes. If we want lower taxes, let's tie lower taxes to lower spending.

This is a big order because our mushrooming government programs have led this nation closer and closer to the British type of socialism in which they find themselves. We are at a point now where many able economists warn that by the year 1980, one half of our people will be supporting the other half. If that point is ever reached, those 50 per cent or more who receive government largesse are not likely to want to turn back, and will in fact have changed our successful form of government to a parental form patterned after England.

Economists of various persuasions and theories have testified before the Budget Committee that a continuation of the temporary tax cut is necessary to stimulate the economic recovery which is now seemingly on its way. Most, however, warn that continuous deficits contribute to more inflationary pressures which could follow a sizable economic upturn. Inflation, the cruelest tax of all, must be brought under control if we are to have economic stability. The only way a tax cut can benefit people is to guarantee that savings will purchase something. Otherwise, it's giving with one hand and taking it away with the other.

The President should, as soon as possible, submit a budget calling for the $395 billion he has already suggested and recommending where cuts of $28 billion should be applied. In the meantime, the Congress should say it will effect those reductions while, at the same time, reducing taxes.

It would take something like a 7 per cent across-the-board reduction in all expenditures to make up this sum. This would be the first thought on how these reductions should be made but it cannot be applied to some things like interest on the public debt. The government would be in the same position as New York City should it default on its obligations. Therefore, this means that selective reductions must be made, although in certain categories a flat percentage on every expenditure could be applied.

State Court Rules For Unadopted 'Son'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that a teen-age boy must share $32,789 from the life insurance policies on his father's life with a "son" who lived with his family but was never formally adopted.

The $7,863 proceeds from a fourth policy should go to the "adopted son," the court ruled, because he is named as the sole secondary beneficiary.

The mother killed her husband and is forbidden by law from claiming any of the death benefits although she was named as the principal beneficiary.

Court records show that Cain Nelson and Helen Whitehead married in 1952 while Nelson was in the Navy in Virginia. The wife had a 4-year-old son named Zan, who had been born out of wedlock.

Nelson agreed to adopt Zan but never followed through. However, he treated Zan as a son.

In 1959, the couple had a son, Edwin. In 1967, the mother murdered the father.

In other cases Wednesday, the Supreme Court:

—Ruled that a "dry" justice precinct remains "dry" even if the county in which it is located votes "wet." The ruling affirmed a decision by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, which rejected an application for a mixed drinks permit from James Coker, doing business as the Olla Podrida Wine Cellar in Dallas.

—Rubbed out a $43,400 judgment for the state, which had sued Lloyd A. Fry Roofing Co. for allegedly polluting the air with emissions from an Irving plant that manufactures asphalt shingles. The Supreme Court also ordered a new trial on a $19,750 judgment against Fry, noting that the trial court had erred in excluding evidence on plant production.

—Upheld the constitutionality of Killen's movie zoning and licensing ordinances, which were attacked by J. Norman Wells, who operated a club that showed motion pictures.

—Agreed to decide whether the term "commercial vehicle" in a car insurance policy applies to a military pickup truck driven by a civilian employee. The case reached the courts after Maryland American General Insurance Co. refused to pay benefits from a policy to the widow of Scott Ramsey, an air conditioning mechanic for Chase Field Naval Air station near Beville. Ramsey was driving a Navy pickup back to the base to get a compressor when he was killed in the June 26, 1973, accident.

—Awarded St. Peter Sterling $5,845 because Roy Gladen Buick Co. of Sherman allegedly reneged on a car sale and took the car from a grocery store parking lot.

—Ordered a new trial in Dallas architect Lewis Faulkner's negligence suit against Hillside Bank & Trust Co., which allegedly told Faulkner a forged $15,000 check he had received was good and then later asked for the money back.

Close Office At Monahans

MONAHANS — The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation resident engineer's office here will close effective Nov. 30. Nine people are employed by the office.

Paul Coleman, resident engineer at Odessa, said the closing of the Monahans residency could be regarded strictly as an austerity measure.

Ten employees in the Odessa resident engineer's office are also being terminated.

No One Plays Hookey Here

NEWTON, N.J. (AP) — Nobody plays hookey at a school here.

It's the Survival School, which teaches people what to do in case of an emergency — earthquake, flood, avalanche, strike of truckers delivering food, etc.

The unique school is operated by a Mormon minister, Jack Chase. He says enrollment is always good and there is a waiting list. "Those enrolling never miss a class because they are anxious to learn about sprouting and grinding wheat, making yeast and bread, as well as dehydrating food so that it can be preserved for about a year with at least 85 per cent of its original nutritional value."

WANT TO BE WARDS OF GOVERNMENT

Refugees Fearful Of American Society

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — As the dusty refugee camps here fade into memory, many of the remaining "hard core" Vietnamese are fearful of entering American society and want to become wards of the government instead, some camp officials say.

The refugee camps here close Friday, and more than 3,000 Vietnamese will be transferred to the only remaining refugee camp, at Ft. Chaffee, Ark. For most it will be their third camp since fleeing their homeland six months ago.

Marine Capt. Lon Getlin, commander of Refugee Camp Four, said many of the Vietnamese still here are deeply worried about their ability to "make it" in the United States and cling almost desperately to the tent camps that for them have become "little Vietnams" on U.S. soil.

"Some of those who do have American sponsors do their best to get out of leaving," he said. "Many drift off into other camps when it is time to leave, hoping to escape notice. Some we almost have to carry through the processing lines.

"We are down to the hard core, the tough ones to sponsor. The doctors, lawyers, professors, senior civil servants and those with fluent English went out snap, snap. Now we have uneducated farmers and fishermen with no English and eight to 13 members in their families. They are going to be tough."

There are signs the Vietnamese sense these problems and this contribute to the apprehension and the lingering depression they feel over abandoning their homeland. On a recent day, about the only activity seen was children at play. Adults seemed to stick to their tents, perched on the edge of canvas cots or sprawled in hammocks fashioned from sheets. There was little talk. More than a few lay immobile, staring upward even when visitors entered their tents.

Libbet Kalemhet, education coordinator for the refugees, said:

"Morale is dropping, apathy is up. There is almost a contagious fear. The camp is home. It's not great, but they're scared to move."

But move they must. First to Ft. Chaffee and then into U.S. society when Ft. Chaffee, the last of the camps, is shut down at year's end.

Marine Maj. Sally Pritchett, spokeswoman for the joint U.S. interagency task force running the refugee program here, said: "The reluctant refugees are being counseled by the task force. Yes, some have turned down sponsors, and some have returned to Pendleton after going out with sponsors. Some fear U.S. society. Obviously sponsors have broken down, and the word has come back that sponsors do not always work out."

Such failures during the transition phase have helped boost the number of Vietnamese in California drawing some sort of welfare to 25 per cent. Officials here and in Washington say in the majority of cases the sponsors, Americans who volunteer to take the responsibility for the refugees' transition from camp to work-a-day American life, have worked out well.

Since the first tent city opened, the camps here have handled nearly 50,000 refugees. More than 45,000 have left, the overwhelming number settled through sponsors. Charitable institutions are paid $500 for each refugee resettled.

There have been seven deaths and 161 births. Each of the babies legally is a native born American. Of the 600 children who arrived without their parents, all but 100 have either been placed in foster homes or made members of some other Vietnamese family passing through the camp.

But there have been problems. Capt. Getlin, who served in a combat unit in Vietnam and lost a brother in the war, said some sponsors have tried to make their Vietnamese charges into personal servants and others have attempted to force young Vietnamese girls into sexual liaisons. He said Los Angeles police were called in one case of a Vietnamese girl who was being threatened with harm if she did not submit to her sponsor's sexual demands.

In interviews with Americans here, the plight of the reluctant refugees receives a lot of sympathy. Their prospects are often likened to the apprehensions an American might feel if he were told he had to leave a refugee camp in Vietnam and go into an alien society, where religion, customs, culture and language were totally foreign.

Some of the reasons the Vietnamese fear new lives in their new country are false but none the less real to the beholder. One report among refugees, who are 45 per cent Buddhist, is that sponsorship through a religious based agency means they must adopt the agency's religion. An attempt by one agency to do that with a group of Cambodian children who arrived without their parents was held unconstitutional by a court in Los Angeles.

A test of the mood among the refugees that must move to Ft. Chaffee is the almost fatalistic attitude toward the prospect of facing an American winter for the first time. Le Quang Tich, 36, the Vietnamese coordinator for Camp Four, said: "Most do not want to go to ZIGGY DIES OF OLD AGE — Ziggie, a 6½-ton bull elephant, shown earlier this year, died of old age Monday night at his Brookfield Zoo home in Brookfield, Ill. He once spent 30 years in solitary confinement as an alleged killer before being bailed out by a children's fund-raising campaign. One of the largest pachyderms in captivity, Ziggie died peacefully at an estimated age of 58, comparable to nearly 100 years in human life.

University Systems Should Avoid Duplication

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The head of the program development division of the Coordinating Board for the Texas College and University System says university programs should be coordinated to avoid duplications at a time when college enrollment is leveling off.

David T. Kelly told the 28th annual Teacher Education Conference Tuesday that the interests of the state should come before the interests of the university when it comes to adding new programs for degree plans.

The board must decide "how much progress of a certain kind is enough for Texas," he said.

Kelly said that state institutions are requesting new programs at the rate of 200 a year, but that many of these requests during the last year were turned down. He said the board for the first time this year has been given the authority to approve offcampus courses and is writing procedures for approval. The new procedures will be considered by the board in December, he said.

Kelly said there are legitimate needs for such programs, but that there are indications there may be a tremendous amount of duplication.

"The state cannot build a university in every part of the state and every town," he said. Offering courses within a school district in areas where a teacher would not be near a university solves many problems, he said.

However, some of these offcampus programs are being set up to keep enrollment up at institutions faced with an "enrollment crunch," and these courses are not justified, Kelly said.

He said that his staff, some of the coordinating board members and some legislators have received complaints from various colleges that other institutions are encroaching on their territory in offering many of the classes within a school district.

GM Earnings Soar, Chrysler In Red

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors' earnings in the third quarter rose nearly 15 times higher than disastrous year-ago levels to $243 million, marking one of the most dramatic financial turnarounds in the auto giant's history.

At the same time, a still-struggling Chrysler Corp., in part a victim like the other U.S. auto makers to GM's renewed strength in the market, disclosed on Tuesday a record third-quarter loss of $79 million. It was the fifth consecutive loss period for the nation's No. 3 car company and pushed its losses since the summer of 1974 to a record $313 million.

Chrysler Chairman John J. Riccardo expressed optimism the firm would turn a modest profit in the fourth quarter.

But he said Chrysler may take "extraordinary actions" concerning operations likely to remain in the red. Such steps might mean another quarterly loss to insure the firm's longterm profitability, he said.

Riccardo did not elaborate, but industry analysts interpreted his statement as a reference to the firm's financially troubled British subsidiary, which lost $32 million in the first six months of 1975.

Ford Motor Co., which releases its third-quarter results on Thursday, is expected to show a decline in profits from last year. American Motors Corp. reports its results next month.

Meanwhile, industry analysts estimated U.S. car production next month would drop from last year's weak levels to the lowest output for a nonstrike November since 1960.

The cautious production plans come despite recent improvements in car sales, indicating company planners are less optimistic about the strength of the new-car market than their spokesmen, who have predicted dramatic sales gains for fall and winter.

Analysts say the firms plan to build about 600,000 cars in November, down 2.5 per cent from 615,000 last
