HC Nursing Plan Wins Initial Accreditation

The Board of Nurse Examiners for the State of Texas has given final approval for the initial accreditation of the Associate Degree Nursing Program at Howard College. Under this approval, Howard College will be authorized to admit 30 students in the spring semester.

This program is a two-calendar-year program leading to an Associate of Applied Science Degree in Nursing. The graduates of this program will be eligible to take examinations leading to licensure as a Registered Nurse.

The primary goal of Howard College School of Nursing is to educate nursing students, who upon graduation, are qualified for beginning staff positions in medical, surgical, pediatric, obstetric, and psychiatric nursing areas of hospitals and similar community facilities.

Howard College School of Nursing is operated in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Applicants are considered for admission regardless of race, creed, sex, age, marital status, or ethnic group. All candidates must have graduated from an accredited high school or present evidence that equivalency has been established through GED examinations.

The applicant can request application forms from Mrs. Lettie A. Acox, Director Allied Health Division, Howard College, or by calling her at 267-6311, extension 75.

NEVER TRUSTED BANKS
Slain Couple's Relatives
Slate 'Treasure Hunt'

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Relatives of the late Horace Ball go on a "treasure hunt" today digging holes and tearing down walls and floorboards in the Ball home in an attempt to find the money they think he hid somewhere in the house because he did not trust banks.

Ball and his wife, Norma, were murdered in their home used furniture store last September and their murderers have never been found. Police speculated that the murder might have been motivated in part by the rumors that Ball kept all his money at home and in trusted banks.

The search of the grounds, authorized by Wichita County Judge Calvin Ashley Thursday, was spurred by the discovery recently of $12,340 in a purse wrapped in plastic and hidden in one of the store's warehouses. The money was found by Jerry Schnedorf, trust officer for the First Wichita National Bank.

Schnedorf, in charge of the estate, is somewhat skeptical of the treasure hunt but feels it is necessary.

"They probably won't find anything buried or hidden, but the search will remove a burden from the administration of the estate and allow us to go ahead and sell the property," Schnedorf said.

The court order authorizing a "thorough search of the grounds" was issued by Wichita County Judge Calvin Ashley.

Rewards of $500 each are posted in connection with the murders by representatives of the estate.

The court order allows all of the Balls' next of kin, and their "duly authorized representatives," to search the grounds between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Schnedorf said the $12,340 he found was under much debris under the rotted out bathroom of one of the storage buildings.

Anything of value found in the search must be turned over to the estate.

While relatives and friends maintain Ball never trusted banks, Schnedorf said Thursday the deceased had an account totalling $7,000—including $6,000 deposited just two days before his death.

Family members "just feel there is much more out there someplace," a relative said Thursday.

"You would have to have known them to understand."

Ball reportedly did not use a cash register, choosing instead to do business out of his pocket.

Ball's inventory was rather extensive.

At an auction to liquidate the assets Oct. 6, there were 400 commode and tank sets, 150 commode tanks, 200 lavatories, 210 metal bathtubs, 100 shower and tub combinations, 200 double sinks, 2,000 yards of vinyl floor covering, 12 new dinettes and hundreds of other items.

Unemployment Rate Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate rose from 8.3 to 8.6 per cent of the labor force in October, reversing a four month decline, the government reported today.

The bleak job report following Thursday's announcement of a new spurt of inflation last month was a double blow to the Ford administration, which is certain to face new questions over its efforts to pull the economy from the worst recession since the 1930s.

In its report, the Labor Department said the number of unemployed in October increased by 230,000 to 8 million. The number of Americans with jobs stood at 85.4 million, about the same as in September.

The size of the nation's labor force increased, rising by about 250,000 to 93.4 million last month.

The increase in joblessness last month was the first since the unemployment rate reached its recession peak of 9.2 per cent last May. Since then, unemployment had dropped gradually as the nation began its recovery from the recession, falling to 8.6 per cent in June and dropping further to 8.4 per cent during the summer and finally to 8.3 per cent in September.

Labor Department officials attributed most of the increased jobs in October to persons re-entering the labor force, apparently in the hope of finding work as production in the nation's factories picked up.

Some economists have expressed concern over the strength of the economic recovery, particularly over fears that renewed inflation could abort new growth.

Inflation as measured by the wholesale price index jumped 1.8 per cent in October, the sharpest rise in a year, the government reported Thursday. At the White House, Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the price news caused some concern among the President's economic advisers but that they wanted to "see evidence over a somewhat longer period of time" before reaching any new conclusions on the economy's direction.

Despite the new uptick in unemployment, not all of the job report was bad.

The government noted that the number of unemployed seeking jobs for 27 weeks or more — the so-called hardcore unemployed — declined, as did the average length of unemployment. A drop from 16.2 to 15.4 weeks in the average duration of unemployment last month was the first decline since the beginning of the year. The number of hard-core unemployed dropped by about 200,000 to nearly 1.4 million.

There was little change in the jobless rate among the major groups in the labor force.

The World
At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO is voicing opposition to legislation granting loan guarantees to financially ailing New York City because aid bills now before Congress would leave city labor contracts at the mercy of the Ford administration. Meanwhile, the House Ways and Means Committee today takes under consideration the House Banking Committee's loan guarantee bill. On Thursday, a House subcommittee rejected the President's recommended changes in federal bankruptcy laws to facilitate the city's default and approved a more lenient measure which would not require the city to balance its budget.

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Congress sends President Ford a bill creating a government agency to protect consumer interests, there's a good indication Ford's expected veto cannot be overridden. Different versions of the legislation approved by the House and Senate are headed for a conference committee to reconcile differences after the House voted Thursday to create the Agency for Consumer Protection. It was the first time both branches of the same Congress had approved such legislation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is traveling to New England today to discuss national security and to raise money for the Republican party. Ford, who shook up his national security leadership earlier this week, scheduled a mid-afternoon address in Boston before the New England Council, following an appearance in Springfield, Mass., before the New England Society of Newspaper Editors. He will wind up the day with three Republican fund-raising events in Boston, expected to attract 3,000 people and raise more than $100,000 for the GOP.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Bangladesh had another upheaval in its top government echelon today as the army chief ousted four days ago announced he was running the country as chief martial law administrator. Radio Bangladesh said thousands thronged the streets of Dhaka, the capital, to cheer the "heroic comeback" of Maj. Gen. Ziaur Rahman. There was no mention of Abu Sadat Mohammed Sayem, the chief justice of the supreme court who was sworn in as president Thursday, or of Maj. Gen. Khalid Musharraf, who replaced Rahman as army chief of staff.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst waits in her jail cell today for the decision by a federal judge on whether she is mentally competent to stand trial on federal bank robbery charges. The ruling will be issued in a written memorandum from U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter, whose decision comes after lengthy consideration of reports submitted by three psychiatrists and a psychologist who examined the 21-year-old heiress in jail.

SELDEN, N.Y. (AP) — "Please understand. I don't have time," said Maryjane Dahl, a 16-year-old honor student who knew she would die but rushed with high hopes into life. "I have Hodgkin's disease. I'm in a hurry," she told English teacher Jay Flescher in asking for help to graduate early. She wanted to get to college, study biochemistry and cure fatal diseases. But Hodgkin's disease, a plague since she was 14, was not the cause of Maryjane's death; it was in remission. She became terminally ill with meningitis in October and fell into a coma. She died last Sunday after her life-sustaining respirator was mysteriously unplugged and turned off.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi won her battle in the courts today to void the conviction on charges of corrupt campaign practices which impelled her to resort to emergency rule four months ago. After seven weeks of arguments and four weeks of deliberation, a five-member panel of the supreme court upheld the validity of retroactive amendments to the election law declaring that the offenses of which Mrs. Gandhi was convicted last June 12 were no longer offenses.

DEFENDS FOREIGN AID REQUEST — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger testifies Thursday before the House International Relations Committee defending the administration's $4.7 billion foreign aid request. He said the U.S. arms sale program is of "substantial political importance" and deserving of support.

Formula For Peace: Sell Guns Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — American foreign policy is now openly rooted in the theory that world peace requires U.S.-fueled arms races abroad.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger testified before the House International Relations Committee on the administration's new foreign aid bill.

"All foreign policy still begins with security," he asserted.

The possibilities for reaching peace by restricting arms sales to other countries are diminishing, he said.

"Instead, regional stability is increasingly bound up with the maintenance of stable balances of power through carefully considered transfers of defense equipment," Kissinger said.

Translation: More U.S. arms supplied around the globe is the way to peace and order.

Kissinger came to this conclusion by using this logic.

"This is a world in which the level and quantity of international military transactions will be substantial," he said.

His next statement was that more nations have an arms industry and more countries have the money to buy arms.

Therefore, the secretary concluded, "It is of substantial political importance to the United States that we be able to respond to the felt needs of nations with which we seek constructive relations across the broad range of contemporary issues."

If America fails to compete, Kissinger said, "the United States cannot expect to retain influence with nations whose perceived defense needs we disregard."

In his testimony, he said the United States maintains four criteria for giving or selling military equipment abroad: What is the threat to the nation; what is the American interest in avoiding that threat; what is the competition from other arms-selling nations; what are the consequences if there is no U.S. response.

But, to repeat some Kissinger quotes, it is important that the United States "respond to the felt needs of nations" and "the United States cannot expect to retain influence with nations whose perceived defense needs we disregard."

In other words, if a country perceives a need for more arms, the Ford administration will attempt to supply the equipment.

The action of the United States since Kissinger assumed the leadership of American foreign policy underscores the movement of the U.S. arms program. In 1969, the American arms program totaled $2 billion. This year, the figure is $9.2 billion, a sum that easily exceeds the inflationary factor.

For the coming fiscal year, Kissinger conceded to the House panel that total U.S. arms transactions will surpass $1 billion.

When questioned about this policy, Kissinger defended it on grounds of meeting reality in an orderly way.

"What we have attempted to do ... is to adjust our foreign relations to new perceptions ... a world of new power centers and emerging nations ... What we are attempting to do is move from one foreign policy to a new one in stages that won't produce chaos."

Energy Plan Franco Has Surgery,
Gets Closer Still Near Death
To Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congressional energy plan is one step closer to approval today after House and Senate conferees endorsed a scheme under which fuel prices would drop briefly before resuming their upward climb following the 1976 elections.

Republicans predicted the President would veto the plan, however, saying the Democratic program would not allow prices to rise as high as Ford would like.

But key Democrats said they think Ford will give in.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate conferees, said, "It has been my feeling all along that the White House would go along. They are not going to veto a price-control bill."

Congressional economists calculate the price-control provisions would result in a rollback of 4 cents a gallon in the price of gasoline and home-heating oil during the next 14 months.

Bad News For Parents

Big Spring teachers are among those attending the district Texas State Teachers association convention in Odessa today. It's a holiday for the students.

Next Friday is the end of the first quarter in the new three-quarter system and again will be a holiday for the students while the teachers grade tests and average grades.

The following Friday, Nov. 21, just in case students are getting in the habit of a four-day week, there is school.

But again on Friday, Nov. 28, the day after Thanksgiving, children are out of school.

Parents are stuck with their offspring for three out of four Fridays in November.

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco was rushed to a hospital today and underwent surgery to remove part of his stomach after suffering massive hemorrhaging, a government official said.

No other details were immediately available.

An official announcement said he was moved to the La Paz clinic on Madrid's outskirts from his Pardo Palace as a "preventive measure" in case of more hemorrhaging.

He had been bedridden at the palace for three weeks.

Franco received an emergency blood transfusion at the palace earlier today, his doctors said.

The 82-year-old leader's medical team said Franco had been given the transfusion — his second in four days — after "limited hemorrhaging" and a sudden drop in his pulse rate.

The doctors said Franco also had suffered new kidney failure and had been put on an artificial kidney machine again to clear poisons from his blood.

Prince Juan Carlos, the acting chief of state, met with the cabinet to discuss the possibilities of a clash between the Moroccan and Spanish armies in the Spanish Sahara.

The cabinet shelved plans to discuss an economic package, a government source said, to concentrate on the Sahara, where the Spanish say their army is backed up by a minefield eight miles from the frontier.

Railroad Unions Announce Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four railroad shop craft unions announced today they will strike the nation's railroads at 6 a.m. Tuesday in a lengthy contract dispute with the industry.

Although the unions represent only about 15 per cent of the nation's half-million railway workers, a walkout could effectively shut down the major rail lines.

Shortly after the unions' announcement, federal mediators requested a one-week delay in the strike deadline in an effort to resolve the dispute. There was no immediate response from the unions.

The four unions involved, members of the AFL-CIO Railways Employees Department, are the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Blacksmiths, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers.

Under a federal railway law, the unions are legally free to walk out anytime after 12:01 a.m. Monday. President Ford invoked emergency action two months ago by appointing a fact-finding board to study the dispute and recommend a settlement.

However, both sides were unable to agree on terms under negotiations with the National Mediation Board.

News From Turkey Not Good

Turkey, it appears, has not been overly impressed by the U.S. Congress' partial lifting of the arms embargo against that country. Far from being mollified, the grateful Turks reportedly are buying 60 helicopters from the Soviet Union.

Considering Turkey's historic antipathy to Russia and its long-standing alliance with the United States through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, this particular purchase takes on special significance. It is also instructive to note that the Turks have been offered MIG 21 and MIG 23 fighters by the Russians, who appear perfectly willing to fill the vacuum created by Congress.

This could be more than a casual flirtation. In the first place, the Turkish government is administering a gentle nudge to the United States: If we do not unbind further, the message goes, Ankara may reluctantly go looking for new weapons.

Less obvious, perhaps, is the fact that the regime of Turkish Premier Suleyman Demirel is itself under a good deal of pressure from the political left. The Republican People's party of Bulent Ecevit — who as Demirel's immediate predecessor masterminded the invasion of Cyprus last year — came within a whisker of upsetting the incumbent Justice party in this month's off-year elections. Demirel thus may have seen the helicopter purchase as a relatively safe means of replying to Ecevit's charge that his regime toadies to the Americans.

The purchase of 60 Russian helicopters in itself is not likely to tilt the balance of power in the Mediterranean; nor should it stampede Congress into meeting Turkish demands. Still, the incident serves to remind us of the unmet need to sort out our relations with Turkey, an old and valued ally, and — more to the point — to seek some workable solution to the Cyprus crisis, which sours U.S. — Turkish amity in the first place.

Thanks, But No Thanks

Better luck, next time, Charley. And next time, go where you're a little more welcome. Unlike Uncle Sam, who motioned your way, the Girl Scouts have said, in so many words, "Get lost!"

In convention assembled in Washington, the Girl Scouts of America overwhelmingly turned down a bid to admit males to their number. That followed action by the Boy Scouts last year who, being more than gentlemanly, perhaps, opened the ranks of Explorer posts (for 14-21-year-olds) to females.

Critics of the idea, who carried the day overwhelmingly, said girls mature faster than boys, making it difficult to group them by age. They foresaw all sorts of problems. Proponents, who argued having a man around the troop might keep older girls interested in scouting longer, failed to sway sentiment.

So boys are boys, and girls are girls, and never shall they meet — within the confines of a Girl Scout unit, that is. Which is probably just as well, since females need someplace to get away from men, now that the beauty parlor has gone the way of the barber shop.

Varied Docket

Around The Rim

John Edwards

Before 1976, District Judge Ralph W. Caton hopes to hold jury trials for alleged cases of murder, robbery and gambling, and for a civil suit over an industrial accident.

A Howard County grand jury may be convened before New Year's Day, too.

Feb. 2, 1975. This defendant is out on $25,000 bond.

Haynie, 50, Lomax, faces trial for bookmaking. The farmer was released on a $2,000 personal bond.

Don Roberts, the indictment alleges, placed three bets on football games with Haynie: $50 on the Dallas-New Orleans game, $25 on the Dallas-St. Louis pro contest and $25 on the University of Texas-Texas Tech game.

All the alleged offenses were dated in September 1973.

One of two murder cases is to be tried Dec. 1.

JACKIE WAYNE Gaines, 34, indicted for the Feb. 5, 1972, shooting of his wife, Betty, is waiting in county jail. By posting $10,000 bond, Gaines could gain at least temporary release.

The former roughneck was found incompetent to stand trial and ordered to the Rusk State Hospital Sept. 19, 1972. After treatment there, another jury declared Gaines "sane at the time," June 9, 1975.

Judge Caton's calendar also lists the trial of Jay Doug Ingram for Dec. 1.

Ingram, 25, a Vincent farmer, was indicted for the April 10 shooting of Michael Ralph Green. Ingram is free on $15,000 bond.

As Christmas nears, traditionally the time for "peace on earth, good will toward men," district court activity will decline, Judge Caton predicted.

OTHER CIVIL suits may be set for trial in 118th District Court, but the suit over the death of Byron E. Conway is the major one scheduled.

Attorneys for Conway's family are seeking $190,000 for the Aug. 4, 1975 death of the welder. Conway was burned in a gas explosion at the Skelly Oil Co. East Vealmoor Gasoline Plant Jan. 18, 1973, the petition claims.

Defendants in the suit are Snyder Well Servicing Inc. and three employees from Snyder.

In addition to the Conway suit, criminal cases against Eusebio Morales, David Paul Gamaleri and Silliman Evans Haynie tentatively are set for Nov. 17.

Morales, 26, Coahoma, is charged with involuntary manslaughter of Texas Highway Patrolman James W. "Jimmy" Parks on Aug. 10.

HE IS accused of driving while intoxicated when Parks was hit in the traffic accident. Morales has been released on $15,000 bond.

Gamaleri, 20, was indicted for aggravated robbery of Penny King at the Pizza Hut, 2601 S. Gregg St.,

WASHINGTON — There is almost unanimous agreement throughout the land that New York City must be punished for its fiscal crimes. Everyone agrees New Yorkers have to be made to realize they cannot start a default without paying for it.

The big question is what kind of punishment should be meted out to 7 million reckless spenders who almost brought the world to the brink of total bankruptcy?

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I read with interest the letters from Ms. Collier and Ms. Drake in the Nov. 3 issue of the Herald, regarding the "Women's Lib" slant in a previous Herald story. Each letter, while reflecting opposite approaches to the problem, made the same very valid point: the movement for equality for women must be taken seriously. While I can appreciate the reporter's attempt at a better-than-cliche angle, she would have been better off reporting this incident as the straight news story that it was, without dragging in "Women's Lib." I also felt that the comment stating that this story was written by a woman reporter was as irrelevant and unresponsive as the original story angle.

As to the headlines, this is a constant source of irritation and amusement, depending on their tenuous relationship with the story they head. While realizing that headlines are often written by someone other than the reporter who wrote the story, it is too much to ask that they at least read the story before attaching a headline? A particularly confusing headline usage that occurs frequently (three times in one issue last week) is "FEM" — what is a FEM? Is this an abbreviation of the word "female"? When used in plural ("FEMS"), the word "women" is only one letter more, and much more meaningful and dignified. If "FEM" stands for "feminine," why not use "MAS" for "Men"? If you can't go along with the equal rights movement, let's at least keep the English language from going down the drain!

Sincerely,

Dear Editor,
We are writing concerning Clark Lesh's columns and articles written about the Big Spring Steers. We feel that he is not attempting to truly support the Steers.

He only writes occasional articles about the Steer football team other than game results. In game articles, only the bad points are emphasized unless the good points cannot be overlooked. His article could be mistaken for an article by the sportswriter of the opposing team. For instance, his first statement in Sunday's write-up was: Only 1,800 spectators braved the high winds here Friday night to see Cooper blow Big Spring out of Memorial Stadium. Another statement was: Cooper took quick note of injury-riddled slow-moving, no-control Steers. Does this sound like the words of a true Steer supporter?

We are not suggesting that the statements Lesh writes are not true, but that they should not be emphasized more than the good points if he truly wants to support the Steers. The Steers should be given more credit for the hard work they have done being in such a tough district as they are. We believe that Lesh should do all he can to promote spirit and support by writing more Steer Football articles in his more or less column.

As students of Big Spring High, we feel, although we have lost many games, that the Steers are still No. 1.

Signed,
Varsity Cheerleaders and others

My Answer

Billy Graham

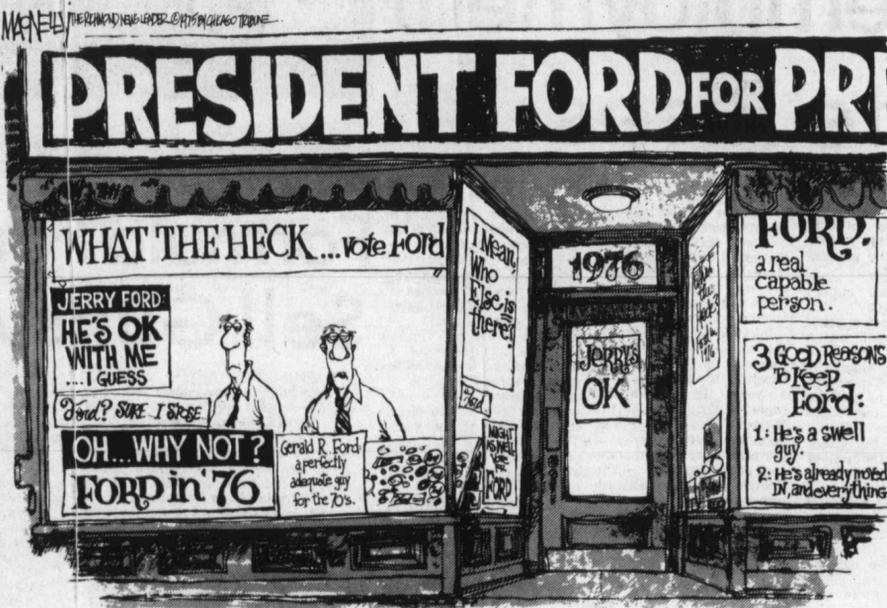

Most ministers including yourself preach against riches. But when you are realistic, how can a person get along without money?

S. A.
There is nothing wrong with men possessing riches. The wrong comes when riches possess men.

In the Bible, Jesus had a lot to say about the rich. But where He condemned wealth were those cases, as in Luke 18:23, where the person had become a slave to possessions. Remember that God looks on the heart, and what He sees there by way of motive and intent are the important issues.

Recently, a newspaper clipping showed graphically the relative value of money. It described how two Minnesota Viking football players got caught in a snowstorm that claimed the life of one of their companions. Near exhaustion, while snowmobiling in the Rockies, they decided they could go no further. One of them took out his lighter, and started a fire with five one dollar bills, a checkbook and a billfold. Facing imminent death, money meant nothing.

The believer in Christ handles money as a manager uses tools — all for the glory of God.

"DO YOU GET THE FEELING THIS CAMPAIGN LACKS A LITTLE SOMETHING?"

Picks Teddy

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Richard M. Nixon has privately told friends the winner of the 1976 presidential election will not be his handpicked successor, Gerald R. Ford, but instead that habitual non-candidate, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

Nixon, who never could resist the temptation to forecast elections, is passing on his eyebrow-raising forecast to close friends — including Pepsi-Cola magnate Donald Kendall, who has widely relayed Nixon's words in Washington and New York.

NIXON FLATLY predicts President Ford will not be elected in 1976. That may indicate lack of gratitude for the President whose blanket pardon protected Nixon from criminal charges, but it certainly shows his longtime low esteem for Mr. Ford's political talents.

More surprising is Nixon's prediction of Kennedy, whose disclaimer of candidacy is now widely accepted by Democrats. That guess, however, may reflect the political awe in which Nixon has held the Kennedys since losing to John F. Kennedy in 1960. He was apprehensive in 1968 that Robert F. Kennedy might be nominated and worried about Teddy Kennedy being drafted in 1972.

BEAUME'S SADAT TWIST
Contrary to claims that New York Mayor Abe Beame was pressure into greeting President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, the mayor sought the meeting and then reneged under political pressure.

APART FROM reflecting the maelstrom of pressures afflicting the hapless Beame, the incident shows improvement in Israeli-Egyptian relations has not been matched by cooling of domestic political controversy stemming from Mideastern rivalries.

On Oct. 14, almost two weeks before Sadat arrived for his state visit, Beame's protocol chief, Angier Biddle Duke, telephoned the Egyptian consul general in Manhattan. What the mayor wanted, said Duke, was either a reception for Sadat at Gracie Mansion or a meeting at Sadat's Waldorf suite. No State Department "pressure" preceded this first contact.

Indeed, Egyptian consul general Abdelhadi Makhlouf informed the Egyptian embassy here that Duke specifically told him the mayor's office had "cleared" the meeting with leaders of the American-Jewish community. It was set for the morning of Oct. 30.

The "clearance," however, disintegrated after passage by a United Nations committee of an anti-Zionist resolution with Egyptian support. Even more influential was Sadat's speech to the National Press Club Oct. 28 in which he said, "We are not against Jews but we are against Zionism."

THAT AROUSED New York's Jewish leadership and Beame (followed by Gov. Hugh Carey) quickly caved in. Next came published reports that Beame had changed his mind despite "heavy pressure" from the State Department.

Yet the State Department did not enter the picture until long after Duke, speaking for the mayor, sought the meeting with Sadat. Beame's office did not get any word from Washington — and certainly no "heavy pressure" — until Oct. 21.

Economists Troubled

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The consensus economic forecast is a bit late in taking shape this year. Too many economists, it seems, fear that the limb upon which they sit might snap and deposit them on the ground.

Many a forecaster has found himself attempting to advise clients from the embarrassing posture over the past three years. The over-all record has not been good, and both seller and buyer of forecasts are acutely aware of it.

As a result, forecasters this year are striving to make clear that "imponderables" cloud the horizon, and that, moreover, they really shouldn't be blamed if consumers or government officials act in bone head ways.

If everyone acts according to the book, they are saying, the U.S. economy should expand by about 5 to 7 percent, and maybe even more. They are convinced it will be a better year than 1975.

Nevertheless, economists are troubled, as this sampling more than suggests.

—Albert T. Sommers, chief economist, The Conference Board, a nonprofit research organization:

"There is certainly no reason any longer to question the present state of the U.S. business cycle." It is upward, says Sommers, but not without its problems.

"The 'feel' of this expansion is thus far not as stimulative or comforting as would be associated with a broad resurgence across the whole front of activity."

"Moreover, very recent information carries the suggestion that the expansion is not accelerating even in the areas that are participating in it."

—Pierre Rinfret, of Rinfret-Boston Associates, consultants:

"There is a pall hanging over the country. It is the pall of doubt, the pall of uncertainty. The optimists are optimists, with hedges. The administration is convinced the recession is past, the economy is expanding."

However, Hagerdorn says he is fearful the country might be in a long term trend in which recoveries are accompanied by inflation and then by renewed economic decline.

country is moving forward but he is not certain it will last. The word missing most noticeably from business terminology, from the economic lexicon, from the vocabulary of the financial journalists is "boom."

—George Hagerdorn, vice president and chief economist, National Association of Manufacturers:

"Next year should shape up as a very good year for the economy. Business volume and employment should be rising fairly steadily and at a brisk pace through most of the year."

"The inflationary trend will be fairly mild, at least relative to what we experienced in 1973 and 1974. In fact, I think that a year from now we will all be telling each other how well things turned out."

However, Hagerdorn says he is fearful the country might be in a long term trend in which recoveries are accompanied by inflation and then by renewed economic decline.

'Swimmer's Ear'— Summer Momento

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am writing to you for help in clearing up an ear infection which is driving me crazy. My doctor says it is an outer ear infection, or "swimmer's ear."

There are terrific, sharp pains at my first bite of food — pain in the head and ringing in the ears. Also, there is a thickening under the skin in front of my ears, and the ear canals close up.

My hearing is impaired. What would be your honest opinion or advice? I am 60 years old. — L.M.

This is a bacterial or fungal infection of the outer ear sometimes referred to as external otitis. The ear canals are, in normal circumstances, kept rather dry and filled with air. When they become damp, as they can in prolonged swimming, they invite germ growth.

The lining of the ears is thin and adheres closely to the underlying structures. It is very susceptible to infection, and trying to clean manually can injure the tissue, making it even more vulnerable to infection.

Antibiotics and solutions are usually ineffective.

A commercial preparation containing acetic acid and alcohol (called VoSol Otic) is effective.

Other preparations are Cortisporin and Debrox. They combat infection and soothe the membranes.

Your hearing could be impaired because of the swelling in the canal or from an accumulation of debris from the infection. This will improve as the infection subsides.

All swimming waters (including pools) have bacteria of one sort or another. Warmer waters harbor more of the offending organisms than does chilly water. I suggest that next summer you find a way to protect your ears from such infection. Perhaps ear plugs may be your solution after your infection has cleared.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please write something about tennis elbow. How do you happen to get it? Is there a cure for it? How bad can it get? I am 50 years old. Will I be able to do any hard work?

—Mrs. A.P.
Many tennis elbow patients have never played tennis. But if you are a player and if your problem is related to that, then it can correctly be called "tennis elbow."

In tennis players it results from a twisting movement of the arm, particularly the forearm, in stroking the ball. Beginners should be careful, especially in serving the ball. Tennis elbow is a stress phenomenon and is in fact more common in persons using their arms in other occupations than it is among tennis players.

It can be a bursitis in the elbow joint, disturbance of the tiny bursa sacs that facilitate joint movements. Or it can result from a tearing of a tendon where it connects a muscle to a bone.

Rest, application of heat, sometimes injection of hydrocortisone, are the usual methods of treatment. Of course, if untreated or further irritated, the condition becomes disabling. With proper treatment and rest you should regain full use of your arm again.

Pecos Farmers Claim Gas Rates Are Unreasonable

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Farmers in the Pecos Valley say new rates established by their natural gas supplier, Delhi Gas Pipeline Corp., will put them out of business if the rates are allowed to go into effect next Jan. 1.

The farmers are going to court today seeking an injunction to prevent Delhi from raising its rates from 35 cents per thousand cubic feet to $1.85.

The farmers, in an area covering approximately 40,000 acres, were notified by the company last June that the rates would be increased next Jan. 1 when the current contracts expire.

Attorney Roddy Harrison, who represents the plaintiffs in the request for an injunction, said the natural gas is used by the farmers to run their irrigation well pumps.

Harrison said most of the farmers in the area pay an average of $500 a month for natural gas during the planting season.

"The farmers will have to pay about five times more than what they are paying now," Harrison said. "And they cannot afford it."

Harrison said 11 farmers filed the suit against the company arguing that Delhi is a monopoly and should be required by law to charge "reasonable and non-discriminatory rates."

The suit is also asking for damages in the amount of $52,000 for Tommy Martinez, claiming that Delhi charged discriminatory rates in 1974 when he was charged $1 per thousand cubic feet for gas while other farmers were being charged only $34 cents.

Musician Slates Five Appearances

Although born blind physically, Ken Medema found something that gave him not only a special insight, but a "New Song for his Life."

Residents will have an opportunity Sunday to hear his testimony and music at three churches — and Monday in a free public concert at 7 p.m. in First Baptist Church. He will also speak at the Howard College Auditorium at 9:45 a.m. Monday.

Ken had one good break — he has Christian parents. When he reached college, he committed his life to Christ. He also met Jane Smith, "who led me to understand the meaning of Christian discipleship." She also was to become Mrs. Medema.

Ken and Jane spent two years as activity therapists at Fort Wayne (Ind.) State Hospital and Training Center, then returned to Michigan State University for graduate study — working their way through while caring for a new baby boy.

He served as director of Music and Creative Arts at Essex County Hospital Center in New Jersey for three years before launching out on faith into a full time singing career.

He has recorded several albums through Word Music. His career has carried him through the New York-New England areas as well as the far reaches of the United States and Canada. He writes and sings many of his numbers, also he arranges extensively. The range is from American folk hymns and contemporary music to the popular and classical.

Medema, who was booked over a year and a half ago for his appearances here, plays his own accompaniment. His Sunday schedule includes the combined youth departments at First Baptist at 9:45 a.m. and a 30-minute concert at 1:45 p.m. (time advanced 15 minutes). At 5:30 p.m. he will be at Prairie View Baptist, and at College Baptist at 7 p.m.

Monday from 7-8 p.m. there will be a free public concert in the First Baptist Sanctuary.

TO APPEAR — Ken Medema, blind musician, will make five appearances at Baptist churches here and one at Howard College while in Big Spring Sunday and Monday.

Tarzan Baptists Eye Anniversary

The First Baptist Church, Tarzan, will observe its fiftieth anniversary Nov. 23.

Rev. Vic Allen, former pastor, will bring the morning worship service message. Lunch will be served at noon to all in attendance.

A Special Celebration Program will be presented at 2 p.m. Rev. Charles Carter, former pastor, will present the history of the church. The present pastor, J. B. Shewmake, will deliver the Programs message. The message will be a sermon Mr. Shewmake's father, the late A. W. Shewmake Sr., presented to the church Nov. 2, 1925 over 23 years ago.

The church began in 1925 with eight members in a local school. There was no building for several years. The present facilities are valued at over $100,000 and have just completely been remodeled.

A cordial invitation is extended to area residents to attend this special day of worship and celebration.

Reverend John Waldron is pastor of St. Joseph's church in San Angelo and has done extensive educational work with youth and adults in the San Angelo area.

Sunday, Nov. 16 will include a repeat of Saturday evening workshops from 9:00 to 10:30 a.m. Celebration of Mass at 11 a.m. will end the convention.

Baptists Praise Family Hour

FORT WORTH, (AP) — The head of the Radio and Television Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention praised Friday television's "family viewing" concept as a "step in the right direction."

Dr. Paul Stevens urged public support of network policies which save adult-oriented programs for later hours of each viewing night.

Stevens reacted in a prepared statement to complaints by Hollywood writers, directors and actors that "this censorship rule has drastically curtailed the free flow of ideas and expressions on television and is stifling the creativity of many artists."

But Stevens said that "seeing what these people are responsible for putting in the theaters of America make me discount their objections by about 90 per cent. They want their standards for theater fare — which many people deplore — to extend to the television set."

Jane Justin To Speak Here

Jane Justin, author of "Mother Jane's Prescriptions for Hunger," will appear at the First United Methodist Church on Saturday, Nov. 15.

She will give a book review on her book between the hours of 2-3 p.m. and 3-4 p.m. Tickets are on sale for 50 cents and may be purchased from any member of the United Methodist Women.

The tea and book review will be held in the home of Mrs. Ike Robb, 4 Highland Cove.

Baptist Temple Church Organized In April 1952

The Baptist Temple Church is an off-shoot from the East Fourth Street Baptist Church. The lot for the church had been purchased, but when the time came to move, a number of the members of East Fourth Street Church became nostalgic about their old church and did not want to move.

Those who wanted to begin the new church agreed to take over the lot which had been bought and build a church on it.

Baptist Temple was organized in April 1952 with 75 members who came from the East Fourth Street Baptist Church, but charter membership was held open until June 1952.

Mrs. Beulah Carnike submitted the name Baptist Temple and Chaplain C. O. Hitt served as interim pastor. The congregation met for Sunday services in the high school auditorium and at Washington Place School for Wednesday evening services until the new building, with a seating capacity of 800, was completed.

Pastors have included James S. Parks, May 15, 1952 to 1954; A. R. Posey, June 1954 to Sept. 1962; James Puckett, Jan. 1963 to Mar. 1973; J. E. Meeks, Sept. 1973 to present. Dr. L. O. Harris and Dr. Ray Ellis have served as interim pastors.

After four years, the church needed more space for the educational unit and in 1958 a wing was added on the southside of the building.

Many people have aided in the church's growth, but those selected by the historian to be mentioned were David Whitaker, Bill Myers and Bruce Hudspeth, who have been music and education directors; Dan McClinton who is now

Minister of Music and Education and also Youth Director; Mrs. Mildred Jarrett, Joe Dunn, Myla McClinton and Catherine Meeks, pianists and organists.

The church is proud of its ministry to shut-ins and of the services which it gives to the nursing homes. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Tonn, Mrs. F. D. Rogers, Mrs. Sam Bennett and Mrs. Ross Hill are among those who give much time to these outside activities.

The original deacons were J. W. Bennett, Otto Couch, Walter Grice, Dr. H. M. Jarratt, A. W. Page, F. D. Rogers, H. L. Shirley and Alvin Smith.

Baptist Temple added to their ministry of outreach in 1972 by establishing their Child Development Center. Beginning with only 35 children, the school has grown to care for over 60 of Big Spring's children.

The school is licensed by the Texas Department of Public Welfare to care for 95 children but because of the quality of education taught and care given, the school only cares for 60.

The curriculum is of the finest in the State of Texas and they specialize in giving special attention to each child. The school has a staff of nine with Mrs. Janet Wiggins as the director.

Coahoma's Putt Choate, is now listed as SMU's backup wing-linebacker to first-string sophomore Tony Jackson. Choate, out of action since the start of the season because of a broken hand, returned to active duty against Texas Tech.

The Mustangs will try to break a three-game tailspin Saturday against undefeated Texas A&M at College Station. KBYG will broadcast the game starting at 1:15 p.m.

SMU's sports hotline is in use six days a week. Monday and Tuesday Head Coach Dave Smith, Wednesday, a player or an opposing coach, home games, and Thursday, interview with another player or an SMU assistant coach about the upcoming game.

Friday and Saturday, last minute changes will be announced. The number to call is AC 214 692-2876.

Odessa Permian has booked practice football games with Roswell, N.M., High School for the 1976 and 1977 seasons. Both games will be in Odessa.

Other non-conference games for Permian in those years will be against El Paso Coronado and Amarillo High.

Texas Tech troops over to Fort Worth's Amon Carter Stadium Saturday and a match with TCU. The game will be aired by KBST at 1:45 p.m. It will be homecoming for the Horned Frogs.

Tech defeated Rice 28-24 before 38,204 fans in Lubbock last Saturday and TCU, same day, was beaten 24-6 by Baylor at Waco.

This will mark the 32nd meeting between the two schools. TCU leads 18-13 in a series begun with a 28-16 win at Fort Worth in 1926.

The Frogs have a 8-7 edge in SWC competition, which began in 1960 and a 21-7 TCU win at Fort Worth. Tech won last year's game in Lubbock, 28-0. Last Cowtown win for Tech was 24-10 in 1973.

Baylor placement ace Bubba Hicks added three more PATs to his string against TCU. He's now booted 58 in a row. On field goals, Hicks is eight of 11, the longest 46 yards against Ole Miss.

Rumors are flying as far north as Amarillo that San Angelo fans were discussing going after West Texas State's Gene Mayfield, former Permian coach, as the Bobcat new coach.

Another rumor has San Angelo interested in Pam-pa's John Welborn. So it appears Scott Hill has little if no chance of returning as Bobcat headmaster.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — Lonnie Choate, 6-1, 175-pound guard, who lists Big Spring as home, is a new face on the Howard Payne basketball team.

Howard Payne finished with an 18-10 record for 1974-75. The included an 11-6 mark in the Lone Star Conference and runnerup finish in the first LSC Championship Basketball Tournament in Brownwood.

KC NOT IN DALLAS' CLASS Paint Vikings Color Of Gray

NEW YORK (AP) — Paint the Minnesota Vikings gray. After all, you wouldn't want the color to clash with their beads.

The Vikings own one of the National Football League's older teams. And, perhaps not coincidentally, they're also one of the most successful.

Stealing a tactic from the George Allen School of Football, Minnesota owns 10 players — almost one quarter of the 43-man roster — with 11 or more years of experience in the NFL.

The Vikes also own the season's only perfect record at the halfway point with seven straight victories.

Coach Bud Grant's club has opened a fat three-game lead in the National Football Conference's Central race as it bids for a third consecutive NFC crown.

Fast starts are nothing new for these old Vikings. They won their first nine games in 1973 and their first five last season on the way to consecutive Super Bowl appearances.

The streak seems safe this week when Minnesota entertains the struggling Atlanta Falcons.

This pro picker knew enough to go 10-3 last week, running the season's log to 66-25 for a 725 percentage.

The picks: Minnesota 30, Atlanta 17 Quarterback Fran Tarkenton is enjoying a super season for the Vikings. He's going so well that even showing up on a national magazine cover this week shouldn't slow him against the Falcons.

Buffalo 27, Baltimore 10 The Bills have no complaints. They gave a game away to the Dolphins with a foolhardy late pass two weeks ago, then got a present from the Jets last Sunday. Now that those two strange games are out of their system, the Bills should return to good, basic football, which means O.J. Simpson and a cloud of dust.

Pittsburgh 19, Houston 14 Another showdown for the Super Bowl champion Steelers, who kayoed Cincinnati last Sunday. This time it's the ambitious Oilers, who are awfully good but in a bit too deep now that the races are getting serious.

Cincinnati 26, Denver 17 Look for a bounce back by the Bengals. But they will have to generate some kind of ground game to go with Ken Anderson's passes. The Broncos, two games behind Oakland in the AFC West, need this game to stay close in that race.

L.A. 38, San Francisco 7 The 49ers got beat by a third-string quarterback last week. Imagine what a first-stringer like talented James Harris and the NFC's leading rusher, Lawrence McCutcheon, will do to them.

Washington 33, N.Y. Giants 14 Speaking of old men, the overtime Washington's old guys had to put in against Dallas last Sunday didn't seem to bother the Redskins. They'll find the Giants considerably easier to deal with than were the Cowboys.

Miami 31, N.Y. Jets 14 Do you think the Jets will take a field goal this time if the situation comes up again? A better question might be: Do you think three more points will make any difference for them against the Dolphins?

Oakland 28, New Orleans 10 After a one-week honeymoon, new Coach Ernie Hefferle learns all about the Saints with the straightened-out Raiders doing the teaching.

St. Louis 24, Philadelphia 7 Cardinals quarterback Jim Hart gets the best protection in the league and the Eagles young, green defensive line won't change that. Running back Terry Metcalf is in a class by himself as an all-around handyman.

Detroit 14, Cleveland 3 The Lions aren't awfully good, but the Browns are awfully bad. Cleveland will win a game this season, but not this week.

New England 24, San Diego 17 The Patriots are improving, and although Steve Grogan won't make them forget Jim Plunkett, he is an acceptable fill-in at quarterback. The Chargers will win sooner or later, probably later.

Chicago 16, Green Bay 14 Forget their sorry seasons. This is the 112th renewal of the NFL's oldest rivalry. The difference could be field goal kicker Bob Thomas of the Bears.

Dallas 23, Kansas City 10 The Cowboys should have beaten Washington last Sunday. They will beat the Chiefs this week. New Coach Paul Wiggan has the Chiefs hustling, but they're not quite in Dallas' class. Not yet, anyway.

Baltimore at Buffalo Cleveland at Detroit Washington at New York Giants St. Louis at Philadelphia Houston at Pittsburgh Green Bay at Chicago Atlanta at Minnesota Cincinnati at Denver San Francisco at Los Angeles New York Jets at Miami New Orleans at Oakland New England at San Diego Memphis at Kansas City at Dallas, n

LOOKING AHEAD — Big Spring's Lance Perry 74 and Mike Abreo 10 will be counted on aiding the Steers in their drive to corral the Bronchos of Odessa here at 8 tonight at Memorial Stadium.

HAWKS THIRD Badgers Tabbed As WC Favorite

ABILENE — The Amarillo College Badgers, in a poll of Western Conference coaches, have been picked to win the basketball championship this year.

Coach Bill McDonald's Badgers picked up five first place ballots to total 85 points to 82 for defending champion Western Texas, which had four first place votes. Howard College was third with 76 points and received the other first place mention.

Points were awarded on the basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2 for nine places. Coaches did not rate their own teams. Rounding out the positions were South Plains 54, New Mexico Military Institute 46, Clarendon and Midland 41, Odessa 39, and Frank Phillips and New Mexico JC 38 each.

Amarillo returns two all-conference players in Alonzo Campbell and Darrell Holliman from a team that was 19-6 for the year. In addition, Mark Creighton is back and gives McDonald three shooters who averaged in double figures.

Western Texas lost its top six players from the team that posted a 36-1 season record and won the national junior college championship. However, Coach Mike Mitchell had a fine year recruiting and should be strong again.

Midland College is in the league for the first time and it helps open the season tonight when it meets Texas State Technical Institute of Waco. Also opening play that night is South Plains College at Hill College in Hillsboro. Saturday, Howard College opens at home against McMurry Junior Varsity and New Mexico JC opens against the Malofman AAU at Hobbs.

The other members open next week with Western Texas starting Nov. 13 against Wayland JV.

Bears Seek '74 Repeat

Some 360-plus days ago the Texas Aggies and Texas Longhorns were showing down large helpings of crow. Revenge Saturday 1975 is upon us.

"You better believe we remember last year," says Texas A&M All-American linebacker Ed Simonini with bitter memories of a shocking 18-14 loss to Southern Methodist that severely damaged Aggie Southwest Conference title hopes.

"I think Baylor is as good a football team as they were last year...and if they shut us down the way they did in the second half last year...we won't keep the ball very long," recalls Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

The Bears, behind 24-7 at halftime, swarmed the Longhorns 34-24 a year ago and jumped onto the SWC throne for the first time in 50 years.

There's a big difference this time. The unbeaten and fourth-ranked Aggies get SMU in Kyle Field where a sellout crowd of 50,000 faithful will be on hand.

The seventh-ranked and once-beaten Longhorns say howdy to the Bears at Memorial Stadium where Texas has captured 38 consecutive games. A crowd of 72,000 interested folks will show.

Texas owns a 4-0 SWC ledger and is half a game ahead of Texas A&M which was idle last week. Other conference matchups find Arkansas at Rice and Texas Tech at winless Texas Christian.

Texas A&M is a 20-point favorite over the Mustangs and the oddsmakers have installed Texas as a 17-point pick over Baylor.

SWC fans with long memories will recall that's about what the odds were in 1974. Arkansas is a 10-point favorite over Rice although the Razorbacks have fallen on hard times in Houston of late. Texas Tech is a 13-point selection over TCU which has the country's longest losing streak standing at 18.

Howard College tips of the 1975-76 basketball season at the Hawk gym at 8 p.m., Saturday with McMurry JV the named opponent.

The Hawks, coached by Harold Wilder and Leroy McClendon, are considered to be the mystery five in the Western Conference with only two returns. Both 6-4 forwards Marvin Johnson and Larry Erves were honored as all-conference performers last season. Johnson averaged 24.2 points per game while Erves flipped in 19.9 per game.

Joining Johnson and Erves in the starting line up will be 6-4 center Jimmy Payne, 6-6 southpaw forward Lowell Walker and 6-3 point-maker guard Ray Martin. Payne was red-shirted last season while Walker and Martin are first-year students.

Also slated for service is Larry Kelley, 5-10 guard from Webb AFB, recovering from a broken bone in his foot, 6-6 Paul Cathey, forward and postman and 6-6 Stephen Brown, forward. Reggie Leffall, 6-3 former All-District 5-4A star from Abilene figures prominently into the Wilder's plans. All are first-year candidate students with the exception of Brown, a transfer student.

Two area players on the Hawk roster, David Crooks and Keith Stone, will see a lot of service. Crooks, 6-0, is a former star at Forsan and Stone played at Coahoma. Both are freshmen and hold down a guard slot. Wilder hopes some of the mystery of the team will be solved against McMurry, a

Area High Schools Near Homestretch

Area high school eleven-man teams near the homestretch tonight as two games remain before the regular season draws to a close.

Tonight's schedule finds Odessa at Big Spring, Jayton at Forsan, Roby at Sands, Colorado City at Ballinger, Sterling City at Bronte, and Wellman at Grady. Both Coahoma and Lamesa have open dates.

Big Spring closes the curtain to its seasonal home stand by running into Odessa High's deadly shotgun offense headed by dandy Darrell Shepard. Game time is 8 at Memorial Stadium.

The Steers, unable to find the winning handle in six straight games, is 0-5 in 5-4A and 2-6 over-all and Odessa, 1-4 and 4-4. A victory for Big Spring would move itself out of the sole cellar position in the district.

Home for the last time, Forsan takes on 3-B leader Jayton at 7:30. After winning two straight, the Buffaloes were somewhat checked against Hawley, settling for a 14-14 last week.

Forsan stands at 2-2-1 in the district and 2-5-1 over-all and Jayton bouncing along at 5-0 and 7-1.

Stanton will be trying to stay out of the 5-4A cellar, entertaining O'Donnell at 8. Sands puts the skids to its yearly home stand at 7:30, meeting Roby. The Mustangs are 2-3 in 3-B and 3-4-1 over-all, bettering last year's record.

Colorado City could cause quite a stir by defeating host Ballinger, a chore that is almost impossible to do there. Ballinger is 8-0 for all games, leader in 6-AA, 4-0 and ranked third in the state poll. Kickoff is 7:30.

The Wolves, one-game ahead in the win column from last year, are 1-3 in 6-AA and 3-5 over-all.

Sterling City will have its hands full in trying to counter the moves of host Bronte, 3-B defending champion. The Eagles are 2-3 in the district and 3-5 over-all and Bronte, 4-1 and 7-1.

Outmanned of game Grady, playing UIL ball for only two years, will no doubt pull all 1-B eight-man stops to end its season on a winning note, hosting Southland at 8.

The Wildcats are winless in all their games played, seven.

Runnels Hands Coahoma Loss

Joe Willie Jones threw two touchdown passes as the eighth grade team from Runnels coached by Bob Zellers handed Coahoma a 16-6 loss here Thursday night at Blankenship Field.

The contest brought to a close the 1975 season for Runnels, ending with a 6-2 record.

Hard-hitting Coahoma put pressure on Runnels as it scored the first touchdown of the game with 3:10 left in the second quarter. Tim Davidson broke loose for a 75-yard run. The drive involved 80 yards, requiring three plays to complete. The PAT was good.

Then Runnels responded to the situation by taking the kickoff following Coahoma's TD, marching 75 yards in two plays for six points. Jones passed to James Hayes for the final five yards. Kevin Cain ran over the two-point PAT and Runnels never trailed thereafter.

With only 1:25 left in the fourth period, Runnels added another TD for good measure. On a fourth and 15 situation, Jones tossed to Nathan Lemon for 25 yards and paydirt. Jones passed to Hayes for two extra points. It took Runnels 47 yards in eight plays to finish the drive.

Runnels back Carlos Castaneda sustained a bruised ankle in the first quarter and had to sit out the remainder of the game.

Junior Varsity Shocks Odessa

Odessa — The Big Spring Junior Varsity evened its District 5-AAAA record at 3-3 by squeezing by Odessa High, 22-21, here Thursday evening. Over-all, the Shorthorns are 3-6.

Big Spring scored first on a three-yard run by Greg Adams and Robbie Webner added two points on a run that proved very important as the game wore on.

Odessa, however, fought back with eight points in the opening period and added 13 in the second to take a 21-8 bulge to the dressing room at half time.

With five minutes left in the fourth period, Mitch Harris ran back a punt 50 yards for Big Spring's second touchdown and Don Stump bisected the uprights with an extra point try. That cut Odessa's margin to 21-15.

With 1:40 left in the game, Big Spring came into possession again on its own 30 and drove 70 yards for the winning score, with aerial artistry swinging the issue. A seven-yard pass from Wade Cobb to Steve Pearson produced the score that tied the game and Stump's successful PAT kick sent Big Spring ahead to stay. The winning score came with only 16 seconds left in the game.

The Shorthorns wind up their season at Blankenship Field at 7 p.m., Thursday, at which time they host San Angelo.

Big Spring Breezes By Odessa

Losing only one volleyball game in second half play, that to 5-4 district leader Midland, Big Spring breezed by Odessa High, 15-1, 15-1, here Thursday night at the Steer gym.

Tammy Newsom was Big Spring's high point server with 15 points followed by offensive spikes by Rose Magers, Denise Burchell, Lana Williams and Jodi Grant. Kathy Foreman was outstanding on defense for Big Spring.

The local varsity holds forth a 5-1 second-half record and 18-6 over-all.

The Big Spring JV also won out in its match with Odessa, 15-2, 13-11. Rhonda Metcalf was high point server for the locals, collecting eight, followed by Susan Johnson's six.

Big Spring concludes its season at San Angelo next Tuesday.

Results Of Grape Variety Research

LUBBOCK — Results of grape variety research and commercial production efforts on the South Plains may bolster the hopes of those with an eye to viticulture.

Dr. William N. Lipe, state grape project leader for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says yield reports from leading varieties on the South Plains have been pegged at the 5- to 10-ton range with quality, sugars, acids and pH set at highly respectable ratings.

Lipe, who heads TAES grape research efforts for Lubbock and the surrounding area, says information accumulated over the past three years from Lubbock and Abernathy research vineyards indicates fresh market varieties most suitable to the home garden vineyard are Siebel 9110, Golden Muscat, Himrod seedless and Niagara.

"The more commonly known Thompson seedless variety and a new variety, Black Monka seedless, are excellent in quality, but are somewhat susceptible to winter kill here on the South Plains," he explains. "Marvelli de Maleiga, Meyers 39-3 and G-255-10 appear to be the best adapted 'Tokay' types."

Lipe says less information is available on wine types, although such dual purpose grapes as Siebel 9110 and Niagara are well adapted and very productive. Several other varieties are showing promise, but it is too early to predict which varieties will make the best wine, he adds.

"A number of prospective growers in the Lubbock-South Plains area are contributing to the variety evaluation picture," the researcher says. "About 90 to 100 acres of grapes are in their second year of growth on the Plains, and some are expected to be in production in 1976."

"Plantings by four private groups — Llano Estacado at Lubbock, Smith and Scioli at Ropesville, Lightfoot at Seagraves, and the Sandy Land Grape Growers Association at Morton and Whiteface — are all experimental and are contributing valuable information about which varieties will eventually be grown for wine production on the Texas South Plains."

A state-wide feasibility study conducted in 1973-74, indicated that the most promising areas for commercial grape production are in far West Texas, the South Plains and the Texas Hill Country of the state.

Far West Texas is well suited for the French grape known as Vinifera. The Texas South Plains is suited to both Vinifera and French-American hybrids, while other areas of the state may be restricted to hybrids and other American types.

Lipe says East Texas may be better suited to the Muscadine types due to better disease resistance.

As a result of the feasibility studies, Lipe says, new plantings were begun in 1974 at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock and El Paso and on a private farm near Junction. Each planting consists of 50 to 60 varieties on three rootstocks. Rootstocks include nematode and disease resistance and more vigorous types.

Plantings will come into production for the first time in 1976, Lipe says, and should yield important information for the developing grape industry in Texas. Plantings at Overton, Uvalde and College Station are expected to yield information on Pierce's disease resistance and Muscadine types.

WITHOUT 'TACKY' PANTS Candy Barr Makes Comeback With 'Staple In Her Navel'

CHICAGO (AP) — Candy Barr, who wowed the 1950s bump and grind circuit with her childlike good looks and her amply-endowed body, is on the comeback trail.

The 40-year-old grandmother has turned her back on her days as a stripper. Instead, she's making her return with a staple in her navel — as the subject of a full-color nude pictorial to be published next spring by Oui magazine.

"Sex is the business I've always been in," says Candy, who spent time in prison on a marijuana conviction. "Everyone knows that I was forced into prostitution when I was 16. Everyone knows about the stag films and pictures and all those years I was a stripper."

"I just wanted to pose for these pictures to kind of complete my own history, you know?"

Her "history" began in the 1950s at the Colony Club in Dallas, where her curves (40-23-36) and blonde good looks catapulted her to success as a stripper. Later, a grand jury refused to return an indictment against her after she shot her estranged husband in the stomach. He survived.

In 1957, she was convicted of marijuana possession and sentenced to 15 years in the Goree Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections. She served three years before she was paroled and later pardoned by then-Texas Gov. John Connally. She has collected a string of husbands — her real name is Juanita Dale Slusher Dabbs Phillips Sakhian.

But Candy hasn't changed. While an art director from Oui magazine crawled on his hands and knees recently in Chicago, spraying bug killer on the studio floor, Candy watched serenely. Wearing only a pair of PF Flyers sneakers. Unlaced.

"I don't know how we get so many ants up this high in the building," confessed the art director.

There were some dead ants over by the brass bed swathed in light blue satin sheets where Candy would soon be posing.

On the floor, nearby was a red shoe box filled with underwear and lingerie. Fegley had selected from Oui's 16th floor prop room. The photographer picked out a pair of sheer, thigh-length bloomer-type underwear and asked Candy to slip them on while he took pictures.

"All this is," observed Candy, "is a pair of tacky drawers."

"Those are considered very fashionable this season in France," he said.

"Well, we're in America, honey," she replied. No tacky drawers.

Later, she talked about her present life. "I just live a quiet life down in Brownwood, Tex. Some days I do the wash, some days I vacuum. From 12:30 in the afternoon to 3:30, I sit with

Make That Three From 'Heaven'

The two visitors from "Heaven" who voluntarily spent one night in the city jail were still in Big Spring as late as 10 p.m. Thursday.

They had been joined by another young man in long flowing robes, also topped with a blanket with armholes. Police received several calls as the trio in long flowing robes made their way about Big Spring on Thursday.

Callers were told that the trio were apparently not violating any laws.

Club Names Sweetheart

Members of the Kiwanis Club, gathered for their regular weekly luncheon Thursday at the Settles Hotel, named Mrs. Betty Newman as their club sweetheart, set March 4 as the date for the annual Pancake Supper and heard a talk by Harold Wilder, basketball coach at Howard College.

The Kiwanians also were told that Nov. 16-21 had been proclaimed by Mayor Wade Choate as Key Club Week.

Wilder discussed the varied sports program offered at the local college and said that his basketball team had been ranked third in the Western Conference race, between Amarillo and Western Texas College of Snyder.

He said he had only two lettermen returning this year. They are Marvin Johnson and Larry Erves. The Hawks open their season at home Saturday night against McMurry College JVs.

GIRL REPORTER HAS BLUSHING EXPERIENCE IN LOCKER ROOM

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Minutes after the New Orleans Jazz smashed a National Basketball Association attendance record, Jennifer Quale, a Times-Picayune reporter, broke another tradition by walking into the team dressing room.

Ms. Quale had been working on a feature story about Coach Bill van Breda Kolff so she asked for permission to talk with him after the game against the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday night. Team officials had said it would be okay.

"You do think they'll be dressed, don't you," asked Ms. Quale as she waited outside the locker room with her escort, Times-Picayune Sports Editor Bob Roesler.

"Possibly," responded Roesler. Just then the door opened to show several naked players heading for the showers.

"I don't think I'll go in," said Ms. Quale. "Too late," replied Roesler, guiding her firmly into the dressing room with one hand on her elbow.

No one screamed, although Mel Counts was apologetic.

"I wish they'd warned us," said the partially clad center. "Otherwise it wouldn't have looked like a nudist colony."

Pete Maravich, exhausted by a tough 113-110 victory over the Lakers, glanced up at the pretty blonde reporter with mischief in his eyes.

"Free spirits are fine with me," he said. "Why don't you go take a shower."

"What do you think are van Breda Kolff's best qualities as a coach," responded Ms. Quale.

And that's the way it went — the night the Jazz allowed the first female into traditionally male-only territory. When it was over, a friend asked Ms. Quale how she felt about breaking the barrier.

"I was petrified," she replied. "I've seen naked men before, but never ones I didn't know."

Oil Spill Traced With 'Fingerprint'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard says a ship that fouled the Florida Keys with an oil spill last July has been tied to the crime by a greasy "fingerprint" it left on the blackened beaches.

The accused pollute-and-run perpetrator: An 825-foot tanker named "Garbis," due to dock in Philadelphia tonight.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the captain of the Garbis will be greeted with a charge of failing to report an oil spill, a criminal offense.

In addition, the ship and its owners, Garbis Maritime Corp. of London, were charged with violating the federal Water Pollution Control Act.

This is the first the Coast Guard has used a new laboratory technique which it said can provide sure proof as to which ship was the source of an oil spill.

If the tanker is convicted, the technique promises to reduce sharply careless or deliberate oil spills by ships, since it could bring the Garbis' owners a $5,000 fine plus a $300,000 assessment.

The $300,000 is what it cost to try to clean up beaches from Marathon, Fla., to Dry Tortuga early last July when an estimated 60,000 gallons of crude oil washed ashore from one of those "mystery spills" that often plague coastal waters.

Ships have always simply pumped contaminated oil over the side. Many kept on doing it despite a 1972 law against it, since such spills were impossible to trace.

In this instance, the Coast Guard was primed for action.

The Coast Guard Research Development Center at Groton, Conn., had discovered that a ship leaves an indelible chemical fingerprint on oil put in its holds.

A quick check was made of known ship positions, in relation to the Florida spill. There were 250 "suspect ships." When they docked in ports along the Atlantic or Gulf coasts, Coast Guardsmen went aboard to take samples of their oil.

Since ships use oil for fuel, every kind of ship was checked, freighters as well as tankers.

The Coast Guard said the matching sample, the telltale "fingerprint," was found in oil taken from the Garbis when it reached New Orleans last July 24, a few days after the oil spill.

Okie Helps Bail Out New York City

MIAMI (AP) — "I'm personally not against helpin' a neighbor out, even a know-it-all New Yorker," Craig Davie said, explaining why he's offering aid to New York City.

Davie, 50, an Oakwood, Okla., farmer-salesman here on business, said he decided to be neighborly and mailed a check for $24 to The Miami Herald to be forwarded to the Treasurer of the City of New York.

He also added a personal note to the people of New York, saying: "Here's my personal effort, however minute, to help chase the wolf from your door."

Davie allowed how he was mighty troubled by the financial bind New York City got itself into.

"I'm just a dust bowl Okie, and I'm having trouble rightly understanding this New York City default thing," he said.

But along with his donation to save the city slickers from bankruptcy, Davie sent along a few polite words of advice:

"Make a real honest effort to straighten out your welfare mess. Seemslike I read that California cut out some of their chiselers and saved a bundle of money."

"Then levy some kind of tax on all them diplomats and their help who work at the U.N."

"See if you can get the union racketeers in your town to kick in. They don't seem to be short of money when it comes to buyin' politicians."

"Quit actin' like a panhandling beggar to congress and the President to bail you out. You oughta know by now, those people can't even run the show they're supposed to when it comes to handlin' money."

A spokesman for the Bank of Canton, Okla., said the check is good.

And at Oakwood, where Davie lives on a 320-acre farm and travels for Anchor Fence Co., Fire Chief Lavern Hart said: "He's a fine feller. Give you the shirt off his back."

Fleeing Youth Shot By Police

(AP WIREPHOTO) AWAITS SENTENCE — Allen Broadwater Jr. is about to be sentenced Nov. 21 in the fatal stabbing of his wife. Meanwhile, he continues to teach social studies in Wells Street Junior High School in Milwaukee.

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas policeman shot and wounded a young suspect Thursday when the youth tried to run away after he was arrested by the officer after a robbery, police said.

A spokesman for the police department said the youth was one of three captured by officers D. P. Steele Jr., 23, and T. P. Yarbro, 30. He said the officers were on patrol in the Live Oak area when they saw three youths trying to rob a woman and beating her. The officers chased them through a park. Yarbro captured one. Steele captured the other two, handcuffed one and held the second at gunpoint.

The police spokesman said that as Steele walked his two suspects back to the car the youth who was not handcuffed lurched back into Steele, caused the patrolman's pistol to discharge, and was shot in the back.

He was in serious condition at Parkland Hospital. The woman was taken to Baylor Hospital, where she was reported in fair condition.

The police spokesman said the three suspects will be charged with aggravated robbery.

The wounded youth is 19. The other two are 18.

Dallas Cops Fired For Hitting Boy

DALLAS (AP) — Two Dallas police rookies have been fired for striking a handcuffed 14-year-old youth arrested in a drag racing incident. A senior patrolman was fired for attempting to cover up the assault.

A fourth officer was suspended 10 days. The dismissals came after an internal investigation prompted by two police sergeants.

Police Chief Don Byrd said the boy did not tell his parents or the police of the assault.

Rookies Arthur W. Canedy, 29, and Robert E., Pitman, 22, and patrolman Johnny E. Gibson, 32, were indefinitely suspended, which is the equivalent of being fired.

Patrolman John S. Minnis, 24, was suspended for 10 days. Police investigators said Minnis failed to give a full account of what he saw at the scene.

Byrd said the victim was among four persons arrested Sept. 7 in South Dallas for racing another car on a city street.

HOUSE UP IN THE AIR — Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Orr check their mailbox for word from Veterans Administration advising them of the sale of the house in which they rent. The Orrs learned the Veterans Administration had foreclosed on the property and would put it up for sale. Repeated queries to the VA failed to inform the Orrs of the sale. In the meantime someone else had bought the house from the VA and now would sell it to the Orrs for double the price.

Island Keeps Secret Of Portuguese Tie

FUNCHAL, Madeira (AP) — With the nervousness of a man who made it big with false credentials, Madeira lives with the fear somebody is going to find out the island is Portuguese.

"We don't exactly broadcast it," said Jose de Andrade, president of the island's tourist board. "There's no one who can force us to commit suicide." The subterfuge is understandable. Based on confusion growing out of Britain's historical ties with the island, Madeira's intense promotional campaigns in northern Europe as a winter holiday destination cloud the notion of who runs the place by banishing the word

Find Clues Of Missing Helicopter

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Faint signals beeping up from the floor of the Gulf of Mexico and spewing work clothes were the latest clues today in the search for a helicopter that crashed with nine men aboard.

The Bell 212 helicopter was equipped with an electronic signaling device designed to activate automatically in case of impact.

"It's pretty difficult to say where the signal is coming from because it's traveling up through the water," a Coast Guard spokesman said Wednesday. "We do know, however, that it's not the type of signal that would come from a survival raft." The motor vessel "Aquamarine" reported picking up the beeping sounds on a sonar detection device about 70 miles southwest of Intracoastal City, La.

The work clothes were spotted floating in the same general area. Earlier, the fragments of the downed chopper and personal effects of the men were found. The craft reportedly was equipped with two eight-man life rafts.

The Petroleum Helicopters, Inc., craft went down Monday afternoon while ferrying the oil rig workers 90 miles from their offshore rig to Intracoastal City.

A partial "Mayday" signal was transmitted about 15 minutes after the helicopter took off and encountered heavy thunderstorms. A fleet of helicopters churned over the Gulf Wednesday, although fog blocked progress during the early morning.

The aerial search was resumed at first light today.

Board Will Recommend New Books

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Board of Education meets today through Saturday to consider 75 textbooks recommended for adoption for 1976-77 by the State Textbook Committee.

The new textbooks would cost the state $3.2 million. All the titles up for consideration drew protests, unlike previous textbook hearings when only some titles found opposition.

The chief protesters in years past, Normal Gabler of Longview and Drusilla Bearden of San Angelo, each protested dozens of books this year, and women's liberationists criticized the rest.

Five books will be approved for each course, and local school boards may select which they want.

Irrigation Inventory

AUSTIN — Continuing a long-term expansion trend, Texas irrigation reached a high of 8.6 million acres in 1974, an inventory of irrigation in Texas published by the Texas Water Development Board shows. Earlier inventories show 6.7 million irrigated acres in 1958, 7.7 million acres in 1964, and 8.2 million acres in 1969. Irrigation water is applied mainly as a supplement to natural rainfall in much of Texas, minimizing the risk from frequently recurring droughts, also improving crop-growing efficiency. Consequently, the amount of water applied to crops fluctuates from year to year with the vagaries of weather.

During the inventory period, water used for irrigation jumped from 9.6 million acre-feet in 1958 to 12.5 million acre-feet in the dry year 1964. Irrigation water use then declined to 11.6 million acre-feet in 1969, a relatively wet year, and rebounded to 13.1 million acre-feet in 1974.

The report points out that over two-thirds of the total irrigated acreage in Texas is from underground sources in the High Plains — 5.9 million acres.

New HD Club Meets Tuesday

A new home demonstration club has been organized to meet the needs and interests of young women in Big Spring. It has adopted the special name Creative Homemakers. Officers have been temporarily elected until the general business meeting to be held in January after the membership becomes established.

The first meeting will be Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Company, located at 409 Runnels. Mrs. Jan Huff will give a demonstration on the art of candle-making.

The theme adopted for programs this year is "Arts of Yesterday and Today," which will help all of us appreciate the developments of the past 200 years.

The Creative Homemakers will take part in the HD clubs Christmas party. They will be in charge of group choral singing.

All Home Demonstration Clubs are sponsored by the Howard County Extension Office. For more information contact Mrs. James Johnston, 267-2364 or Miss Sherry Mullin, County Extension Agent, at 267-8469.

Dear Abby

Teen Female Seeks To Clean Up Her Reputation

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 15-year-old girl with a terrible problem. I wanted to be popular with the dudes, so I smoked grass, got drunk and did things only married people should do. Now I want to change.

I haven't messed around for four months. I took a part-time job as a janitor at a restaurant and I'm getting real good grades, but I'm still called a "whore."

Nobody will give me a chance, Abby. I have no friends. Girls are afraid they'll get a bad name if they're seen with me, and I can't blame them. Boys want only one thing, and since I've stopped putting out, they don't bother with me.

I hate myself. I've been so down and lonely lately. When I was a whore, at least I had someone to talk to. Shrinks are expensive, and there are no free clinics here for counseling.

All my teachers hate me because of my reputation, and I feel too cheap and dirty to go to church. Please help me.

WANTS TO CHANGE

Kentwood PTA Board To Meet

An executive board meeting of the Kentwood PTA will be held at 1 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Jim Stokes, 2303 Cindy. Members will elect a new vice president.

The regular PTA meeting of the Kentwood school will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the cafeteria.

The primary classes of Kentwood Elementary School will give a bicentennial program. Everyone is invited to attend the children's play and program. Mrs. O. C. Mason will direct the children.

Credit News

Creditors must give new-home buyers at least a 12-day notice of closing costs of real estate purchases before the contract can be completed, says Lynn Bourland, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

DEAR WANTS: I'm proud of you. You have already grown spiritually, or you wouldn't have thought of going to church or changing your ways.

You're wrong, honey. Your teachers don't hate you, and you're not too "dirty" to go to church.

Pick the teacher you'd like most for a friend and meet her half-way. Also, go to church and give your clergyman a chance to help you. All you need to change your life is the will to do it.

Please try and write to me again in six months and tell me how things are going. I care.

DEAR ABBY: In response to that 52-year-old woman who is going with a 34-year-old man. She's afraid her children and others will think she's making a fool of herself. She's also afraid people might think she is his mother.

I am 51, and I've been going with a very handsome, 28-year-old man for over two years.

Doyle and I don't care if someone mistakes me for his mother. After all, I am 23 years older than Doyle, and that's old enough to be his mother.

The day I stopped worrying about what other people thought I started living.

I have a son who is older than Doyle, and he says, "Mom, anything that makes you happy is just fine with me."

If people limited their friends to their own age group, they'd miss a lot of fun. I say, enjoy what you have while you have it. It will all be gone too soon.
