Rumsfeld Confirmed As Defense Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — After only brief debate, the Senate today confirmed President Ford's nomination of Donald H. Rumsfeld as secretary of defense.

The vote was 95 to 2. Sens. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and Richard Stone, D-Fla., voted against the nomination. Both said they voted in protest of the "scenario" which brought Rumsfeld the nomination.

Rumsfeld was the only witness at hearings last week by the Senate Armed Services Committee, which then gave the nomination its unanimous approval.

Before becoming Ford's staff chief, the former Illinois congressman served the Richard M. Nixon and Ford administrations as U.S. ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, White House counselor and head of the now-defunct Cost of Living Council.

In two days of hearings on his nomination, Rumsfeld said that President Ford plans a close working relationship with his secretaries of state and defense "so any differences will be brought before him in a timely way." He assured Congress he is "totally dedicated to a strong defense posture for the United States."

Rumsfeld refused to rule himself out as a possible Republican candidate for vice president next year but said, "I would not be seeking anything else" beyond the Pentagon post.

Helms cast what he called "a protest vote, not so much against Mr. Rumsfeld himself, but against the scenario which brought him to this nomination."

The only senator to speak against the nomination in the 30 minutes of debate that preceded the vote, Helms said the substitution of Rumsfeld for Schlesinger "was as unnecessary as it was harmful to our national defense posture."

Helms called Schlesinger "one of those rare men in public service, a man who combines genuine expertise in the area of policy formulation with the ability to translate those policies into effective action."

He said, without mentioning the secretary of state's name, that Ford should have fired Henry A. Kissinger instead of Schlesinger.

"The secretary of state has been a liability to this nation and there is no reason to believe that this state will change," said Helms, one of the Senate's most outspoken conservatives and a backer of Ronald Reagan for the 1976 GOP presidential nomination.

A spokesman for Stone said after the vote that the senator cast his vote in a similar protest against the way in which Rumsfeld came to be nominated.

Hundreds Targets Of FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Americans ranging from suspected Communists to women's liberationists have been the targets of FBI investigations which turned up almost no information of any value, top lawyers for the Senate intelligence committee said today.

The techniques and full extent of the FBI's intelligence operations might never be known because "a substantial number of relevant and highly pertinent bureau documents were destroyed" shortly after the 1972 death of Director J. Edgar Hoover, chief counsel F. A. O. Schwarz III said.

In a detailed account of FBI operations and methods, Schwarz and minority counsel Curtis R. Smothers outlined government domestic intelligence operations from their beginnings in 1919, before the FBI was created, to the present.

"Investigations aimed specifically at American citizens and groups number in the hundreds of thousands," Schwarz said. Smothers said a total of 530,000 dossiers were compiled by the FBI on American citizens and groups.

In another development, the committee abruptly changed its position and agreed to delete from its final report the name of a former CIA official identified as a central figure in plots to kill foreign leaders.

The shift in the committee's position was announced in a one-paragraph statement issued at the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Three Teens Killed In Jail Fire

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Three youths were killed and three others seriously injured today when fire swept through a locked juvenile detention section at the Lycoming County Prison.

A stack of smoldering mattresses was discovered near the entrance to the juvenile area, but it was not immediately known if the fire had been purposely set.

Joe Good, public information director at the hospital, said Stephen M. Sullenberger, 16, and John E. VanHorn, 17, were dead on arrival. The third victim, David W. Reese, died about 2 a.m. in the hospital's emergency room from smoke inhalation, Good said. All three were from Williamsport.

ENDS LIFE ON THE RUN — Eldridge Cleaver, former Black Panther leader, wears a navy blue French fisherman's cap as he prepares to board a plane at Paris' Charles de Gaulle airport Tuesday for the United States. He is flying to New York after seven years of exile, with charges of parole violation and a grand jury indictment awaiting him. As a fugitive, Cleaver is subject to arrest on arrival in America. He faces California charges of assault with intent to murder.

Cleaver Ends Life Of Exile

PARIS (AP) — Finished with his life on the run, Eldridge Cleaver headed back to the United States today, expressing confidence that what he considers a change in the mood of America will assure him a fair trial.

Cleaver's flight from Charles de Gaulle Airport took off three hours and 40 minutes late after an Air France Caravelle skidded across a runway and blocked take offs. Cleaver is due to arrive at Kennedy International Airport in New York at 5:35 p.m. EST.

The former Black Panther leader kissed his wife goodbye and boarded the jetliner accompanied by three FBI agents.

Cleaver was unnoticed in the crowd of American tourists. He was flying to New York after seven years of exile, with charges of parole violation and a grand jury indictment awaiting him. As a fugitive, Cleaver is subject to arrest on arrival in the United States. He faces California charges of assault with intent to murder.

"I feel completely relaxed," he said. "It's all happening very naturally. Somebody must know I'm coming in the States — I got a telegram this morning from a guy who said, 'Stay away from my house.'" Cleaver was smiling, but his wife, Kathleen, was more serious. She said: "Eldridge wanted to go back without going to prison. He sees that's not going to happen. He made up his mind that he'll go to prison. He feels that the situation in which he is returning is one in which he'll be clearly understood." Cleaver, who is 39, said he sent his children back to America on Saturday and his wife would follow him later.

He said his decision to return grew from his conclusion that the end of the Vietnam war, an improvement in the lot of the black man and increased political skepticism in the aftermath of Watergate has created a "really fantastic" climate in America.

RAIN?

Windy with rain clouds. High today in the upper 70s. Low tonight, mid 50s. High Wednesday, mid 60s. Southerly wind 20-30 miles per hour and gusty this afternoon. Diminishing some tonight when rain is rated a 30-per-cent possibility. Wednesday, a 50-per-cent chance of rain.

Carrillo Trial Delayed By Senate

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate voted 16-10 today for another postponement of the impeachment trial of South Texas District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo.

Senators met for only 28 minutes before deciding to come back Jan. 5. Sen. Peyton McKnight, D-Tyler, who made the postponement motion, argued that a special master for the Judicial Qualifications Commission has taken two weeks of testimony in the case and it would be "improper" for two proceedings against Carrillo to be under way at the same time.

Both sides announced they were ready to proceed with the trial, but Carrillo's lawyer, Arthur Mitchell, said he and his client had to be in Corpus Christi next Monday for a ruling in federal court on Carrillo's motion for a new trial in his conviction on income tax charges.

Sen. Tom Creighton, D-Mineral Wells, opposed the postponement. He said it made no difference what the commission did because the Senate under law would have to conclude the impeachment trial sooner or later.

At the suggestion of Sen. Raul Longoria, D-Edinburg, McKnight amended his motion to provide that the senators will not receive per diem payments during the postponement.

Carrillo expressed disappointment after the brief session. "I told my attorneys that we were ready to go today, but I'll not fuss with the Senate," he said. "I'd like to get this over with."

Asked if he had given any thought to resigning, Carrillo said: "I'll never resign."

In Corpus Christi Monday, lawyers presented concluding arguments in the hearing on Carrillo's motion for a new trial on federal income tax charges. U. S. Dist. Court Judge Owen D. Cox postponed the hearing until 2 p.m. next Monday, and indicated he would rule on the motion for a new trial at that time.

Also pending is an incomplete hearing by the Texas Judicial Qualifications Commission.

The House of Representatives last Aug. 5 voted a 10-count impeachment resolution against Carrillo. Carrillo, 51, was suspended from office pending a Senate trial on the impeachment charges. He was accused of using Duval County money to buy groceries; of using county workers and equipment at his ranch and store for private gain; of refusing to disqualify himself in legal matters in which he had a personal interest, and of trying to dominate the grand jury and Benavides schoolboard.

The Senate, acting as a 31-member jury, met first on Sept. 3, then the next day voted to postpone further consideration until after Carrillo's income tax trial. The date was later postponed until Oct. 7 and Nov. 18, the last date to give time for the Qualifications Commission to act.

Carrillo and his brother, Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo, were convicted in Cox's court on tax fraud charges.

Perot Disclaims Amendment Tie

WASHINGTON (AP) — H. Ross Perot denies he had anything to do with an amendment approved by the House Ways and Means Committee that reportedly would give the Texas businessman a $15-million tax refund. The amendment was passed after he contributed more than $27,000 to some members of the panel.

Perot also has offered to be excluded from any benefits conferred by the amendment, which he termed "sound legislation."

In a letter released Monday, Perot denied "that I, and not the merits of the amendment, have become the central issue" in a controversy following a Wall Street Journal article on Nov. 7 that described how Perot would benefit if the amendment became law.

That article reported that former Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen "confirmed that he drafted such an amendment on Mr. Perot's behalf and said it 'apparently was used' as the basis" for the committee amendment.

The amendment, adopted Nov. 4, was introduced by Rep. Phil Landrum, D-Ga. It would allow persons with at least $30,000 of capital losses in a year to take a three-year carryback of losses, lowering taxes owed for those years. It would be retroactive, starting with 1974.

The Wall Street Journal said Perot would gain $15 million in "what may be the most gigantic tax break in history for one person."

The panel adopted the Landrum amendment 20 to 14 as part of a tax-cut bill not expected to reach the floor until next month.

The Journal said Perot gave $1,000 to Landrum's election campaign in October 1974, and $27,400 to 12 others on the 37-person committee.

Perot's statements were contained in a letter dated Nov. 14 to Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of Ways and Means.

"Recent press reports have incorrectly labeled this legislation the 'Perot amendment,' stating that the proposal was created for my benefit," Perot wrote Ullman.

"No one representing my interests created this amendment on my behalf. I understand that this amendment was drafted and introduced as part of a proposed tax reform bill several years ago. I knew neither the author nor anything about the origin of this amendment."

He continued: "The Ways and Means Committee members who voted for this amendment had no way of knowing of my interest. I sincerely regret that these fine men have been subjected to unjustified criticism."

City Receives $44,075 Check

The City of Big Spring received their sales tax check for the month of October for a total of $44,075.67, according to Tom Ferguson, city finance director.

The checks have been issued on a monthly basis since April and were previously sent by the quarter.

'Hopscotch' Burglary Boys Fly, But So Do Officers

BY JOHN EDWARDS

By airplane, car and on foot, law enforcement officers chased three brothers from one burglary to the next Sunday and Saturday.

"HOPSCOTCH"

Then, about 3:30 p.m. Monday, the boys, 8, 10 and 11 years of age, were apprehended in the Midway Community north of IS-20 near railroad tracks, Sheriff A. N. Standard said.

They are accused of burglarizing 10 residences and an office in the past two days, Standard related this story:

Deputy sheriffs began playing "hopscotch" with the boys after neighbors saw the boys run from the Carl Dorton home in the Oasis Addition 2 p.m. Sunday. A .25-caliber pistol and .22-caliber rifle were stolen here.

Capt. David Homrig observed the group fleeing from his residence on Midway Road. A pair of gloves, $20 in cash and model airplane were stolen.

At another home in the Oasis Addition, a .410 shotgun and starter pistol were picked up.

From the home of Mrs. Leonard Foster in Sand Springs, a radio, camera, knife and cash were taken.

A necklace, roast and cash were looted from a nearby house, where the residents have not been positively identified.

A Bowie knife was taken from another home on Hooser Road. At the KOA mobile home court, three mobile homes and the office were entered. One mobile home was used as a shelter during the night.

ROPED HORSE

About 12:30 p.m. Monday, the boys had taken three ropes from stables in Midway and were trying to rope a horse when the woman owning them stopped them. On the ground, officers chased the boys in patrol cars and on foot.

In his private airplane, Police Sgt. J. D. Carter flew Texas Ranger George Frasier, who radioed the boys' locations.

A Border Patrolman and state game warden also assisted.

"We had people continually on it, along with the family too," Standard said. Today, the youngest boy had been released to the State Department of Public Welfare. The other two were in custody.

Among the goods recovered were a watch, .410 shotgun, pistol, knives, hair dryer and mini-bike. The small motorcycle belongs to Bob Arista of Banks Road in Sand Springs.

Standard was glad "we were able to dovetail this situation before anyone was hurt."

To Mull Housing Funds At Town Hall Meetings

Two town hall meetings will be held next Monday and Tuesday in relation to the city's application for Community Development funds under Housing Urban Development.

The City of Big Spring this year received $300,000 earmarked for sewer and water improvements and demolition of run-down houses.

It is not known at this time what the funds will be designated for next year, if they are obtained. The public is invited to comment on their needs at the public meetings.

The first meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the North Side Fire Station. The second meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the council meeting room at City Hall.

A citizen participation plan is available at City Hall by contacting Paul Freazelle, administrative assistant.

The World At-A-Glance

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette Fromme's attorney has asked that charges against her be dropped because prosecutors withheld evidence he says could prove she did not try to kill President Ford. Attorney John Virga accused the U.S. attorney's office Monday of "willful suppression of evidence" and said U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride must at least declare a mistrial if he refuses to drop charges. The issue is a statement one witness made to police that Miss Fromme declared, "it wasn't loaded anyway."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The attorney for Sara Jane Moore says he will seek a delay of her Dec. 15 trial date on grounds there is insufficient time to prepare the ex-FBI informer's case on charges of trying to kill President Ford. Public defender James Hewitt said Monday he would seek the delay at a hearing this afternoon. He wants the period of psychiatric testing which Miss Moore underwent excluded from the 90-day deadline set by the new federal Speedy Trial Act.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Attorneys for Patricia Hearst say they will be ready to present their case under the new Jan. 26 trial date and the prosecution says it expects to wind up its case against the newspaper heiress in two weeks' time. "It's just impossible for us to know right now how many witnesses we will call," said Albert Johnson, one of Miss Hearst's attorneys, following U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter's postponement Monday of the trial from the original Dec. 15 date.

CHICAGO (AP) — Mothers whose babies are delivered at home by midwives have fewer complications and healthier babies than those who go to the hospital, a California study shows. The study, reported today in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, was done by a health research team from Stanford University and the University of California at Santa Cruz.

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco suffered another massive abdominal hemorrhage early today, his doctors reported. The doctors said the internal bleeding, for which the 82-year-old dictator, has undergone three major operations in the past two weeks, "until this moment is being controlled."

The Court May Change

Among the many weighty problems besetting President Ford is the selection of a person whom he will nominate to the Supreme Court to fill the place vacated by Justice William O. Douglas.

The consensus is that he will name someone considerably more conservative in his views, and if so, they may switch the rather evenly divided court in that direction. Alas, conservatives sometime grow to be liberals in their legal opinions, and liberals have been known to become more conservative.

And what is liberal today may be the conservative view tomorrow.

Thus, it is a bit difficult to assess the contribution of Mr. Justice Douglas to the sum total of democratic processes in the heat and tangle of current events. History demands a longer perspective before its verdict is rendered.

However, it is difficult to quarrel with an underlying Douglas philosophy that the constitution is designed to protect the individual, particularly from government. He said that "the basis of American government is the theory that if the mind of man is to be free, his ideas, his beliefs, his ideology, his philosophy must be placed beyond the reach of government."

Whoever President nominates, if he holds to this tenet and is of a high calibre, he will be confirmed and begin to make his contribution to American jurisprudence.

How It Could Happen

The death of Ernest Medders last weekend recalls one of those factual stories which are stranger than fiction.

Medders was a $65 a week mechanic and his wife a nurse helping in the struggle to try to make ends meet. Then they got caught up in the old Spindletop (oil) inheritance fantasy, and soon there were rumors that untold riches were about to be showered on them.

Credit came easy; in fact it sought them. One Catholic order in Indiana loaned them $2 million just on the happy prospect that perhaps Mrs. Medders might someday leave the order a bountiful bonanza. Merchants forked out everything from furs to diamonds without asking questions, and so it went. The Medders, who described themselves later as poor ignorant people, became fabled as party givers — even running special train cars from Dallas to their storied farm at Gainesville.

And then one day someone wanted his money, and then the courts held there wasn't any inheritance, and the fairy tale was at an end. No one, looking back, could see why astute business men and administrators could be so taken in. The answer after is, after all, quite simple. It is the one word which makes every confidence game work — greed. Some people will do almost anything if the pie seems big enough.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Recently I heard you make a statement on television that a temptation was not a sin until you actually gave in to it. Doesn't this contradict Jesus' statements condemning wrong desires as much as wrong actions?

It is certainly true that God is just as concerned with our inward attitudes as our outward actions. This was true in the Tenth Commandment, which forbids covetous thinking (Exodus 20:17). Jesus frequently spoke about inward attitudes which were sinful. In the Sermon on the Mount, for example, He stated that anger or lust were just as evil as actual murder or adultery in God's eyes (Matthew 5:21-28).

There is, however, a difference between wrong attitudes and temptations. Temptations may lead to wrong inward attitudes or outward actions. Remember that Jesus "was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Hebrews 4:15).

If we are honest with ourselves we know that our minds often yield to temptation, and dwell on things that are wrong. For this we need to seek the constant forgiveness of Christ, and the power of the Holy Spirit to resist temptation. Remember the advice of James: "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you" (James 4:7).

EDITORIALS / OPINIONS

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to take exception to the "Letter to the Editor" that appeared in Sunday's Herald berating a local automobile dealer. These past few months, I have been given the opportunity of visiting many neighboring towns, and meeting many fine West Texans. I would not hesitate to compare the people of Big Spring with any of these communities, and feel such a comparison would indicate that we have here some of the finest people in the world.

The circumstances that led up to the events described by the author of that letter are unknown to me. I am truly sorry to learn of his plight; but, I do resent the blanket indictment of all of our automobile dealers in Big Spring. I have found that for the most part they are sincere, dedicated and genuinely interested in serving the public. They support the Chamber of Commerce, the Museum and most other efforts to improve our conditions in Big Spring to a larger degree than most other citizens. They pay taxes to support our schools, the city, the county and Howard College in the same proportion as every other citizen. I do not know of one single "out of town dealer" that contributes as much to my Community as the smallest local dealer that we have.

I am reminded of a story often told by the late Rev. P. D. 'Dick' O'Brien: Once there lived an old man by the side of the road where travelers often stopped for water and a brief respite from the labors of the road. One day a man and his family came down the road and stopped; while visiting and replenishing their meagre water supply the traveler asked the old man "What kind of folks live around here?". The old man replied "Well, what kind of folks live where you came from?", to which the traveler replied "They were the meanest, honoriest, most despicable people that you have ever seen in all your life". The old man replied "Well, that's about the kind of people you will find living around here."

A few days later another traveler came down the way and stopped for a rest. The traveler asked the old man, "What kind of folks live around here?", and the old man replied "What kind of folks live where you came from?", to which the traveler replied, "They are the nicest, kindest, friendliest and most gentle people you could ever hope to see."

To which, the old man replied, "Well, that's the kind of people you will find living around here."

Mr. Editor:

I can understand why the reporter who covered the major accident on Nov. 12 did not include a byline. Obviously, he or she was much more concerned about letting everyone know that the mail delivery was not delayed than he was about the condition of Floyd Morehouse, the injured postman. All of Floyd's friends (and there are many) as well as associates, fellow church members, and I'm sure the people on his mail route were, and are, far more concerned about his condition than they were about whether the "Accident Fails To Delay U.S. Mail."

Money Management Goofs

NEW YORK (AP) — Why do some people stay afloat when the economy grows turbulent while others sink into financial trouble so deep it may take them years to get their heads back above water?

The American Bankers Association sought opinions from members and financial counselors throughout the country and, after analyzing the replies, reached this generalization:

"It's not always how much money you have or how much you earn that makes the difference, but rather your attitude toward money, your spending and borrowing habits and your style of living."

Topping the ABA problem list is "postponing help." "Better to face up immediately," it says, explaining that procrastination is often the thief of money as well as time. It offers these suggestions:

First, see the loan officer at the lending bank, loan association or credit union. He or she may suggest refinancing your loan or may suggest debt consolidation — converting all your debts into a single loan.

On mortgages, some lenders may allow you to space out payments for a year or two or permit you to pay only the interest on the loan until you get back on your feet.

If your financial situation is almost out of control, a lender might suggest a family financial counseling agency to provide free assistance in working out money problems.

In extreme cases, Chapter 13 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act might be of assistance. Called the Wage-Earners Plan, it provides court protection while you work your way out of debt.

Among other money management errors, and the ABA's comments:

—ROBBING PETER TO PAY PAUL. When you pay off excessive debts by incurring new debts, you're aggravating the problem.

—SPENDING MONEY YOU'RE GOING TO EARN.

Don't count on it. Many people get into trouble during the past two years after losing overtime pay they had come to consider as regular income.

—DIVORCE. THE HIGH COST OF LEAVING. If your marriage goes on the rocks there's a good chance your financial structure will land there too. In some areas divorce ranks as the most common reason for financial problems. Warning: The tremendous financial penalties involved in divorce can be more binding than marriage vows.

—LACK OF EMERGENCY FUNDS. Families should have a reserve, especially when the future is so uncertain. Some money management advisers say the equivalent of several months' income is desirable.

Many families sense the approach of poor economic conditions and tend to build their savings at the correct time. Others, the record shows, continue to spend as if tomorrow's income was certain. It isn't.

Dieting Not Recommended

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What do you think about reducing while pregnant? I have gained 35 pounds and am eight months pregnant. — Mrs. K.F.

It would be best to wait until after your baby is born to begin reducing. Weight reduction during pregnancy can be dangerous.

It is not unusual for a woman to gain 25 to 30 pounds during pregnancy. Most of this is lost at delivery, after which any sensible reducing and exercise regimen will correct the problem of lingering excess poundage.

The growing fetus is of course very dependent on adequate maternal nutrition. In attempting weight reduction during pregnancy an inadequate nutrition can easily occur.

Weight gain usually comes from fatty and high carbohydrate meals — candy, sugar, cakes, and the like. These should be reduced. Adequate protein, essential for proper fetal growth is available in such foods as skim milk, eggs, fish and fowl, animal sources in general.

Fruits and vegetables provide vitamins and minerals as well as bulk to avoid constipation.

Frivolous dieting should not be undertaken during pregnancy. But weight gain which goes beyond that expected naturally during pregnancy would pose a different question. Even then a reduction plan should be carefully delineated and supervised by the doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it dangerous to have three abortions? If so, what are the complications? I need this information quickly. — W.R.

There is always a certain amount of risk involved in any abortion, so it ranks lowest medically among the several methods of birth control. It is difficult to answer your specific question. The method employed can be important. Another factor to consider is your experience with your previous two. (I'm assuming that this is your third that you are considering.)

I also assume you are talking about a legal abortion, in which event the physician involved would have final say after careful examination.

You are living dangerously if you plan to use this as your sole method of birth control. I strongly recommend that you look into other methods. There are 12 that I list in my booklet, "The Twelve Methods of Birth Control." If you'd like a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been bothered with constipation. I am 68 years old. Since reading your booklet I have not taken laxatives. I do take bran with a little milk every night, and also eat prunes daily.

I am still constipated, except for about once a week when I do have a movement. The rest of the week I'm constipated. I use enemas to relieve the situation. I wish you could tell me what's wrong. — Mrs. A.J.J.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For years I was bothered with constipation and had to take a laxative several times a week. About a year ago, I sent for your booklet on constipation. In it you stated that a normal, healthy person may go as long as five days without a bowel movement.

I stopped taking a laxative, and had a bowel movement in about five days and thereafter every three days, sometimes every two days. I haven't taken a laxative in over a year and feel like a new person. Thank you. — C.M.

You can lose weight if you really want to! Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and without gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. For a copy write to him in care of The Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Still Just Three

Around The Rim

Troy Bryant

WE HAD A close call over the weekend. My wife decided to make some cinnamon rolls.

That seems harmless enough, but the last time she decided to do that, she had a baby the next day. The rolls were left in the pan unattended for several days in the excitement and they had to be soaked for hours in the dishwasher to get the things out of the pan.

This time, however, nothing momentous happened the day after she made the things and we are still just a family of three.

the 2,000 and over enrollment schools.

Under such a plan, the cut-off point between AAA and AAAA schools would be lowered so that some of the larger AAA schools like Snyder, Lubbock Estacado, and San Angelo Lake View would be put in a AAAA class along with small AAAA schools such as Big Spring, Plainview, Hereford and Borger.

Another solution would be to widen the enrollment requirements for the Class AAA so that there would be 32 districts in Texas instead of the present 16, letting the larger AAAA schools fight among themselves.

Enrollment is a big factor in who can put together championship teams, but it is not the only factor.

Small schools for a class can regularly whip those larger schools in the same class and they do it.

An example is District 6-AAA. Hamlin and Anson are so small that they will go down to Class A this year, but both teams are right up in the top in District standings and Anson actually won the District Championship over a large AA school, Ballinger.

Although the enrollment difference is not as much as the one which plagues Big Spring, there is still a difference from about 250 to about 500.

AFTER LAST weekend's Oklahoma-Kansas football game, our resident Okie didn't feel too well. In fact, it was a good thing he had Monday off, because several friends came into the office to rib him on that day.

Several left their messages, though, one joker left a paper bag with the words "OV Number One. It's in the bag." Of course, the bag had a hole in it.

Those Okies are really going to have to watch out, though, when the Cornhuskers come to town.

A SOLUTION to Big Spring's enrollment problem could be the establishment of a Class AAAA for

WASHINGTON — "Why," I cried the other night in despair, "out of a country of 240 million people can't we find an outstanding person to run for President?"

"IT'S VERY SIMPLE," said Turnbill, starting to write on a cocktail napkin. "There are 144 million people in the United States over 18 who are eligible to vote."

"Right," I said. "But at the moment there are only 99 million registered voters."

"Well, you would still think that we could find one person in 99 million."

TURNBILL ASKED the waiter for another cocktail napkin.

"Out of this 99 million, 38 million are under 35 years of age and therefore ineligible to run for the Presidency."

"That probably eliminates a lot of good people," I admitted.

"Now 1 million were not born in this country so they can't run either."

"That still leaves us with 60 million people to choose from."

"WAIT," SAID TURNBILL, starting on his third napkin. "About half of this number, 30,456,782 to be exact, are women."

"So?"

"Well, you and I know the country isn't ready for a woman President for at least 20 years."

"That long?" I said in sorrow.

"This leaves us roughly 29 million presidential prospects," he said.

"Even that's enough to find an outstanding man for President," I told Turnbill.

"BUT," HE SAID, now writing on the tablecloth, "at least 3 million of the 29 million have a fear of flying. You can't have a President of the United States who is afraid to fly. It would be a sign of weakness to our adversaries."

"All right, we're down to 26 million people to choose from."

TURNBILL TOOK out a pocket computer. "We have to take off 2 million because their wives don't want to move to Washington. Then there are 2 million more who are in some sort of trouble with the IRS and couldn't stand an audit."

"I must admit you're really cutting it down."

Turnbill kept hitting the keys of the pocket computer. "Then there are 12 million who are just about to get a divorce or are living with someone in what Middle America still calls 'sin.'"

"I forgot about them."

"AND YOU have to eliminate the gay people."

"You mean the country would never elect a gay person?"

"They won't even let one serve in the Air Force," Turnbill said.

Turnbill kept hitting the computer. "We're down to 9 million."

"That still is a lot to pick from."

"NOT EXACTLY. There are at least 2 million who could never pass an FBI security check because they belonged to some left-wing organization or were involved some way with Watergate."

"All right, so you have 7 million left. Can't we find one good man in 7 million?"

"We could except that the country will never accept a President who has had a mental disorder or has been treated by a psychiatrist."

"And 7 million people in this country have been treated by psychiatrists?" I asked.

"NOT 7 MILLION," Turnbill said. "There have been only 6,999,987 who have had psychiatric treatment."

"So that leaves us with Ford, Reagan, Humphrey, Wallace, Carter, Jackson, Bentsen, Bayh, Shapp, Udall, Harris, Sanford and Shriver," I said.

"I'm sorry about that," lamented Turnbill.

"Don't be sorry," I told Turnbill. "At least you're the first guy who ever explained it to me."

Rogue Elephant?

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — A widely overlooked declaration by Rep. Otis Pike of New York that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has not been a rogue elephant reflects widening disillusionment with the way Sen. Frank Church of Idaho is conducting his investigation of U.S. intelligence while eyeing a bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

CHURCH, CHAIRMAN of the Senate Intelligence Committee, last July described the CIA as a "rogue elephant rampaging out of control" in plotting assassinations of foreign leaders — a characterization he since has steadfastly defended. Thus, a flat rejection of that charge by Pike, chairman of the House Intelligence Committee, might be viewed as both vindication of CIA officials and repudiation of Sen. Church.

Pike's statement was not personally aimed against Church. Nevertheless, it indicates that the general belief Church is fastidiously conducting a model investigation has given way to disillusionment. While Church's standing on the Democratic party's left wing has been raised to presidential stature, he now may face revolt within his own committee.

THE FIRST SIGN of Church, solemn and studious, running less than a clinically non-political investigation came July 16 in an interview with Muriel Dobbins of the Baltimore Sun. Church predicted the committee's report on political assassinations would reveal the CIA as a "rogue elephant" acting without presidential authorization.

Challenged for substantiation on NBC's "Meet the Press" Aug. 17, Church declared: "I think that that statement will be borne out when the evidence is fully disclosed in the report." Nor has he backed down since then.

BUT SOME Church committee members believe the rogue elephant charge mainly reflected the chairman's desire to shield President John F. Kennedy from complicity in assassination plots against Fidel Castro. Beyond that, the charge may reflect an anti-CIA bias — by committee staffers and perhaps Church himself — so strong they do not want the agency's misadventures blamed on presidential direction.

A Devotion For Today

"I will put my laws on their hearts, and write them on their minds." (Hebrews 10:16 RSV)

PRAYER: Come, Lord Jesus, into the midst of our strivings and inner conflicts. Remove from us the strain of attempted self-justification and give us the peace of Your presence. Amen.

'Phase-Out' Makes Jobs Of 24 VA Nurses BSSH Employees Due To Change

By JAMES WERRELL
Due to a new "phase-out" program instituted by the Texas Rehabilitation Commission in Austin, the jobs of 24 employees in the rehabilitation unit of Big Spring State Hospital will be

HAZEL BAYLOR

Named To Welfare Position

EL PASO — Hazel S. Baylor, Del Rio, has been named by State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell to the top administrative job of the department's vast West Texas region headquartered in El Paso.

Mrs. Baylor will become regional administrator on Jan. 1, 1976, replacing Tom Cragen. Cragen will move to an similar position in another region.

Mrs. Baylor's promotion comes after 12 years of advancement with the department in a broad spectrum of program and administrative responsibilities. She will direct a staff of some 700 persons.

As one of the 10 regional administrators in the state, she will be directly responsible to the commissioner for all programs and functions of the department within a region stretching from El Paso on the west to San Saba County on the east, and from the Big Bend on the south to Gaines, Dawson and Borden Counties on the north — 36 counties in all.

The department administrators 28 separate programs. Born in Uvalde and Spanish speaking, she was a school teacher for five years before joining the department in 1963 as a financial and social service caseworker.

Booster Club Meets Tonight

The Big Spring Band Booster Club will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight in the high school band hall at 7:30 p.m. Members will discuss Campus Revue, stage band tour, and the winter band concert.

The Golden Horns Stage Band will give a preview of the All-American Jazz Concert to be held Dec. 11.

FIRES

Car fire reported at FM 700 and Goliad at 1:58 p.m. Monday.
A fire in a vacant lot behind Big Spring Nursing Inn was extinguished at 3:44 p.m. Monday.

A SIGN OF CONTROVERSY — A billboard, displaying a woman's posterior clad in tight-fitting shorts and branded with the Biblical inscription, "He who loves me, follows me," dominates a building at 54th Street and Third Avenue in New York's borough of Manhattan Tuesday. This ad campaign has drawn denunciations from the Vatican, prompted debate in British Parliament and attracted hundreds of protest letters and calls. The ad is for Italian slacks called "Jesus Jeans."

affected in some way, according to Mike Arrell, state deputy commissioner of the commission.
"This does not necessarily mean that they will be losing their jobs," said Arrell. "Many will be absorbed by community based rehabilitation programs, or by different rehabilitation programs within the hospital, itself," he added.
The "phase-out", which will also affect five other area state hospitals, has been instituted for a variety of reasons.

According to Jess Irwin, state commissioner of the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, patient demands on area hospitals have diminished, and the average stay for a patient has been shortened.

"With the average stay at the hospital being somewhere around 28 days, much of the important work is being done in the field," said Irwin. "This allows for a reduction in rehabilitation personnel who are based at the hospital, itself," he added.

Although resources are not the only consideration, they have been considered, according to Irwin.

"A mandate from our federal offices states that our first priority is the handicapped," said Irwin. Taking this into consideration, funds trimmed from present rehabilitation services could then be channeled to other areas, he explained.

Although some of the rehabilitation services now performed at the hospital will be absorbed by community centers, the hospitals will retain a rehabilitation referral unit, and will monitor the services of itinerant counselors in area communities.

Also affected by the program will be 12 employees from San Antonio State Hospital, 10 employees from Terrell State Hospital, eight employees from Rusk State Hospital, six employees from Wichita Falls State Hospital and two employees from Vernon Center.

The total phasing out program is expected to be completed by April 1, 1976, according to Arrell.

'Gift Of Life' Donors Needed

Tomorrow is again blood donor day for the Big Spring Community Blood Donor Service. Those interested in giving the "gift of life" may do so noon to 6 p.m. Wednesday at the emergency room of Malone and Hogan Hospital. To make an appointment call 263-1211-extensions 124 or 125.

Rules Death Accidental

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — The shooting death last week of Vidor Police Chief Walter Billingsley has been ruled accidental by a Beaumont justice of the peace.

Billingsley died last Wednesday after being shot in the chest at his home in Vidor.

Justice of the Peace Wallace McCasland said Monday an investigation by police and the Orange County Sheriff's Department ruled out the possibility of homicide in the shooting death.

Change In EPA Recommended; Hall Elected

The environment study committee which met at the National Council of Regional Planning Councils recommended that environmental regulations be handled at a regional level rather than through state and federal agencies.

Harold Hall, Big Spring city councilman, one of two municipal representatives in the 17-county Regional Planning Commission elected to serve on the regional board, was an appointed representative to the meeting in Washington.

Hall stated that the committee was almost unanimous in wanting the Environmental Protective Agency regulations to be handled at a regional level. This recommendation will go to the national officers of the organization and from there to Congress. County Judge Barbara Culver of Midland County is a national officer in the organization.

Churches Merge

COLORADO CITY — The Twenty-Second and Austin Streets and North Side Churches of Christ here will merge, it has been announced. The congregations will henceforth use the sanctuary of the Twenty-Second and Austin Street church.

He moved from Clovis to Big Spring in 1973 and was a Baptist.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James

DETROIT (AP) — Two nurses from the Veterans Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor have appeared before a federal grand jury probing a string of apparent murders at the center.

Richard Delonis, chief of the criminal division of the U.S. attorney's office, confirmed Monday that the two women were brought before the grand jury last Thursday. Sources said the nurses are the only persons subpoenaed so far.

Pilipina Narcisco of Ypsilanti and Leonie Perez of Ann Arbor worked in the hospital's intensive care facility last summer when a series of patients suffered breathing arrests.

Both women are registered nurses and citizens of the Philippines, hospital sources told the Detroit Free Press. Miss Narcisco will make a second appearance, probably next week, before the grand jurors in Detroit, the sources said.

Both women are still working at the hospital. Miss Narcisco was transferred in September to a job where she does not come into contact with patients.

The FBI began its probe of the hospital on Aug. 15. Agents said they believed the breathing failures were murders and attempted murders by a psychotic killer who injected patients with a powerful muscle-paralyzing drug, Pavulon. The FBI is continuing its investigation.

Both nurses worked the afternoon shift in the hospital's intensive care unit. Most of the breathing failures last summer occurred in that unit and almost all happened during the afternoon shift.

There were 56 breathing failures at the hospital between July 1 and Aug. 15. Between July 28 and Aug. 15, there were 34 respiratory failures involving 23 patients. Officials said that was roughly five times the normal rate for breathing failures.

Eleven patients who suffered the breathing arrests died.

Airman Shot In Left Arm

Staff Sergeant Louis J. Marshall was treated and released at Webb Air Force Base Hospital Sunday night for a gunshot wound in the upper left arm.

Sgt. Marshall was shot at his home on the base around 10:30 p.m. by his wife, Winnie. The incident is under investigation by Webb security police.

The money will go into the general fund of the center, which meets it will be used to help pay operating expenses of the facility.

Betty Ford Makes Television Debut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Betty Ford, a one-time dancer, is back in show biz. President Ford's wife made her debut as a television actress Monday as CBS shot a segment of the "Mary Tyler Moore Show" in which Mrs. Ford makes a two-minute appearance playing herself.

Asked if she was nervous as she arrived at the hotel where the show was filmed, Mrs. Ford shuddered emphatically and stammered, "n-n-no," then added: "I'm a ham at heart."

Mrs. Ford will be paid minimum union scale, $172.50, for her work, said her press secretary, Sheila Rabb Weidenfeld. She had to sign a Screen Actors Guild waiver restricting her to one performance.

A co-producer of the show, Ed Weinberger, said he first attempted to get the President. But CBS lawyers objected, citing the equality rule that requires

Plano Girl Tells Of Abduction, Rape

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A 16-year-old Texas girl who said she was abducted, raped, locked in the trunk of her car and driven to Oklahoma City was reported in satisfactory condition today in a city hospital.

Authorities said the car apparently was set on fire by the abductor when he abandoned the vehicle with the girl still locked in the trunk. Although suffering from smoke inhalation, the girl avoided suffocation by punching a hole in the trunk lid with a tire tool, officers said. The fire apparently smothered itself after the abductor shut the car doors with the windows rolled up, police said.

The girl, from Plano, Tex., was freed from the car after two children told Sue Clark, principal of Edison Fifth Year Center School, that they had heard a woman call for help from the locked trunk of a car parked on a vacant lot just west of the school. Mrs. Clark called police.

Officers said the girl told them that she was driving to church in Plano to pick up her sister about 8:30 p.m. Sunday, a man opened the car door and said, "Take me as far as you're going." She said she told him she was not going far, but he pulled a nickel-plated revolver and said, "We're going to Oklahoma City."

The girl told officers she was locked in the trunk during the trip, and was taken out and raped at an unknown location about 2 a.m.

She said her abductor stopped once during the trip to ask directions to Oklahoma City. She said a gas station attendant told her kidnaper they were about two miles south of the city.

The girl told officers she guessed the car was parked on the vacant lot in Oklahoma City shortly after she was raped.

Cynthia Carr

STANTON — Cynthia Carr, 79, died at 8:30 a.m. today at a Big Spring nursing home.

Justice of the Peace Bob West ruled the death due to natural causes.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Gilbreath Funeral Home in Stanton.

WEATHER

Northwest and Southwest Texas: Considerable cloudiness tonight and Wednesday. Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms tonight. Occasional rain north and scattered showers and thunderstorms south Wednesday. Low tonight upper 30s north and high valleys to 55 south. High Wednesday 49 north to 71 south.

BABOON EMBRYO SWAP Will The 'Real' Mom Stand Up?

COLLEGE STATION — The first step toward application of embryo transfer techniques to the production of nonhuman primates for biomedical research was made with the successful transfer of an embryo (fertilized egg) from one female baboon to another.

The "foster mother" carried the fetus from the fifth day after its conception until the baboon infant was delivered by Caesarean section following the normal gestation period.

This is the first nonhuman primate infant known to be produced by embryo transfer. The transfer was made March 20, 1975, at Southwest Foundation for Research and Education in San Antonio. The male infant, delivered Sept. 5, 1975 weighing 875 grams (30.6 ounces) and appears entirely normal, said Duane Kraemer, DVM, PhD, associate professor in the College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University.

The embryo was removed from the donor animal, using a surgical flushing technique, and the transfer was made to the recipient uterus following surgical exposure of the uterus.

Dr. Kraemer was the first to apply embryo transfer procedures to the commercial production of purebred cattle in August, 1971. He says procedures used in the baboon are very similar to those which are being applied by various companies around the world for increasing the number of offspring from outstanding cattle.

The significance of this research is its potential for helping to improve human health by increasing the productivity of the individual female nonhuman primates which possess special genetic characteristics that make them particularly valuable as models for the study of human disease.

RRC Rules On Lo-Vaca Surplus

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. can sell any surplus natural gas it has to out-of-state customers provided each deal is approved by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The ruling was made Monday by the commission in answer to a request by Lo-Vaca last week. The firm asked commission approval to sell higher-priced surplus gas to out-of-state companies on a short term interruptible basis.

The request said such sales would be made only if the gas was not needed by Texas users, such as Austin, San Antonio, and the Lower Colorado River Authority, which have long term contracts for Lo-Vaca to furnish gas for electricity generating.

The gathering firm said that mild weather and decreased demand by some of its industrial customers had caused surplus quantities of natural gas at times which was not needed by its contract customers.

Shriners Organizing

COLORADO CITY — A Shriners Club is being organized here and members will meet regularly at 7:30 p.m. the second Thursday of each month in the Civic Center.

James Campbell will serve as first president of the club. Campbell said that 41 have already applied for membership.

CRMWD Revenues Up, Water Deliveries Down

Revenues for the Colorado River Municipal Water District through October are barely ahead of year ago. Yet, water delivered is running 2,245,000,000 behind.

Two things contribute to this anomaly — one is that municipal users are based primarily on fix charges; the other is that oil and industrial users have taken up some of the slack.

For the 10-months period, revenues totaled $4,568,429, up $26,000 over the same interval last year. Revenue from municipalities was $2,783,580, down $59,000, but those from oil and industrial users amounted to $1,716,784 up $78,000. Recreational revenues of $59,234 were up $3,000, and miscellaneous revenues of $6,829 were up about $5,000.

Through October, water deliveries amounted to 15,567,994,000 gallons, down 2.45 billion gallons from the same period in 1974. Most of the production came from Lake E. V. Spence, which, according to officials, was at 85 percent.

Shooting Death Arrest Made

MIDLAND — Sammy Henry Lang, 38, Midland, has been arrested here in connection with the shooting death of his wife, Mary Ellen Lang, also 38. The incident occurred Sunday night.

According to police, Mrs. Lang was struck once in the chest by shotgun pellets. She succumbed around 11 p.m., about four hours after she was shot.

VANDALISM

Harold David reported the air let out of the tires and the spark plug wires taken from a vehicle parked at College Baptist Church.

DEATH RULED HOMICIDE — The Nassau County medical examiner said Monday that someone had pulled the plug from the life sustaining respirator of 16-year-old Maryjane Dahl, shown above in an undated photo. The death was ruled homicide. Dr. Leslie Lukash, who issued the ruling, said an autopsy also showed that the high school pupil from Seldon on New York's Long Island was suffering from meningitis and Hodgkin's disease and was in terminal condition.

Presidential Elections Set ASC Vote Pattern

The Howard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) community and county committee elections are conducted like a Presidential election.

First, community committeemen may be nominated by eligible voters within each of the county's five communities or districts. Tim Hall, (ASC) county executive director, said.

There being no nominations this year, it was left to present community committees to develop a slate of six nominees for each community.

The names of nominees appear on ballots which have been mailed to qualified voters. The (ASC) will provide a ballot to anyone who is eligible but did not receive one.

Eligibility is defined as having an interest in a farm or ranch within the community. You may be an owner, tenant, sharecropper or spouse of one of these.

Ballots returned to the (ASC) office in the Federal Building by Dec. 1 will be counted. On Dec. 2, ballots will be counted publicly.

The three nominees with the most votes become the new community committeemen. On the basis of the number of votes each receives, they are designated chairman, vice-chairman and regular member, respectively.

Each community committee not only serves as an electorate for choosing county committeemen on Dec. 10. But also it advises the county committee on local matters under county committee control, Hall said.

The county committee's administrators the cotton program (yields and allotments), feed grain and wheat program, conservation program, disaster program and any emergency program, Hall explained.

YMCA To Offer Swim Lessons

"He didn't know how to swim" is being heard more and more with an average of 7,300 deaths due to drownings each year.

Families buy insurance for accidents. Why not take the few extra precautionary steps learning to avoid drownings?

The Big Spring YMCA will offer a new series of swim lessons for children 6 years and older beginning Monday, Nov. 24-Dec. 18.

Classes will meet at 4 p.m. two times per week for four weeks. Beginners meet Monday and Wednesday and advanced swimmers meet Tuesday and Thursday.

Loot Valued At $2.6 Billion Stolen, 20,000 Persons Slain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criminals struck 19 times every minute to claim 20,000 lives and $2.6 billion in loot as crime in the United States rose 18 per cent last year, the FBI reported Monday.

Murderers killed enough people to populate a fair-sized town, and robbers and thieves hauled off loot valued at more than twice what it costs to operate the city of Chicago for a year.

While the crime rate continued to climb in all parts of the country, police showed no improvement in their ability to solve crimes with arrests. About one in five crimes reported to police in 1974 were solved with an arrest, about the same performance recorded for the past five years.

The FBI's annual report called "Crime in the United States" showed sharp increases in the number of teen-agers arrested, particularly for crimes committed in the suburbs.

The report contains statistics and an analysis of the murders, rapes, assaults, robberies, burglaries, larcenies and motor vehicle thefts reported to virtually all state and local law enforcement agencies. The FBI and other experts say many more crimes never are reported to police.

Officials say one reason the statistics may reflect an increase is because police have improved their method of crime collecting crime data. There is no conclusive evidence to indicate the effect this has on statistics.

The number of offenses in all seven crime categories were 18 per cent higher in 1974 than in the previous year, a change from the 17 per cent increase the FBI had estimated earlier.

The crime rate — the number of offenses per 100,000 population — rose 17 per cent in the same period.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi called the nation's crime problem immense and said, "A coordinated national response by all segments of the criminal justice system and at all levels of society is vital if we are to bring this problem under control."

The FBI report said 10 per cent of the 16,000 persons charged with homicide were under 18. Police made arrests in four out of every five murders.

Teen-agers comprised about half of all those arrested for burglary, larceny and vehicle theft. But police made arrests in less than one-fifth of the 9.2 million property crime cases.

Nearly one-third of those arrested for robbery, 17 per cent of those charged with assault, and almost 20 per cent of those charged with rape were under 18, the report said.

Teen-agers were charged with 31 per cent of the offenses in all seven categories which resulted in arrests, although they account for only 16 per cent of the population, the report said.

The number of teen-agers charged with those seven crimes was 9 per cent higher in 1974 than the previous year, while the number of adults arrested rose only 1 per cent.

To Use Sawdust For Power

HOUSTON (AP) — An official of Kirby Lumber Corp. says the fuel of the future for lumber companies may be wood because of spiraling natural gas and oil costs.

John Robinson, manager of environmental services for the Houston firm, said Monday he and other timber firms are moving toward the use of wood wastes to power their mills.

"It's an industrywide trend that both reduces fuel costs and eliminates the problem of disposing of wastes," Robinson said.

Waste products include sawdust, wood chips, bark and pole peelings.

Robinson said Kirby is converting its plant in Silsbee, north of Beaumont, to burn wood exclusively to provide heat for manufacturing processes. The plant formerly used natural gas to generate electricity and heat.

He said new wood-burning equipment for the plant cost $750,000, but fuel savings, figured on the current cost of natural gas, should be at least 60 per cent a year.

We're building power plants that use lignite coal.

It's our answer to the rising price of natural gas.

This power plant is being built in East Texas at Martin Lake near Henderson. It will make electricity by burning lignite coal.

We have to build lignite plants because we're running out of low-cost natural gas, our main fuel today. New supplies are hard to get and very costly.

Lignite plants cost more than twice as much to build as comparable gas-fired plants, and that means electricity will cost more. But expensive as they are, lignite plants will still make electricity more cheaply than plants using high-priced gas.

That's because our large lignite supplies, acquired many years ago, are much cheaper than new supplies of gas. And using cheap fuel is one way we're keeping your electric bill as low as possible.

The average bill for Texas Electric customers is already 27 per cent below the national average, and we're working to keep it that way.

Sentenced To Life For Killing Cop

AUSTIN (AP) — A 10-man, two-woman jury decided Monday night that Walter Jennings, convicted killer of policeman Leland Anderson, should be assessed a life sentence in prison.

Jennings was convicted of capital murder last Friday in the June 6 downtown slaying of the Austin officer.

Jennings is the first of three men, all Black Muslims, to be tried in connection with Anderson's death. Also charged with capital murder are Robbie Slaughter, 20, and Harold Earl Curtis, 21.

During the trial several witnesses testified they saw Jennings shoot the officer with a pistol. Jennings testified he struggled with Anderson after the policeman was disrespected to a newspaper, Muhammed Speaks, which the three men were selling.

RECEIVES LIFE SENTENCE — Walter Jennings, 24, leaves district court in Austin Monday where a 10-man, two-woman jury decided that Jennings, convicted killer of police officer Leland Anderson, should receive a life sentence in prison. The prosecution had sought the death penalty.

Briscoe Says More Spending Won't Help Education In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Continued huge increases in funding for Texas schools would break the state and do little for education, Gov. Dolph Briscoe says. "We continue to invest more and more when most of the indicators appear to reflect that in many instances we are getting less and less," the governor said Monday at the 10th Annual Governor's Conference on Intergovernmental Relations and Regional Planning.

Briscoe said state spending on higher education increased five fold since 1967 and now makes up about half of the state's budget.

Health Systems Agency Members To Be Named

An open hearing at which time members will be named to the nominating committee to select members of the Permian Basin Health Systems Agency will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday in the county courtroom at the Howard County Courthouse.

The Health Systems Agency will be responsible for preparing and implementing plans designed to improve the health of the residents in the 17 counties of the Permian Basin Regional Planning area.

The Health System Agency Steering Committee named by the Permian Basin Board has recommended that the legal structure of the Health Service Agency be that of a public regional planning body.

A representative will be selected by each county committee to serve on the nominating committee. This will be done at the public hearing, at which time, the new agency will be explained to those interested. The governing body of the group must reflect the following distribution: 16 consumers of health care services including two from Howard County, three from Midland County, five from Ector County, one each from Dawson, Pecos, Gaines, Winkler and Upton with one for all four counties, including Borden, Terrell, Glasscock and Loving.

The governing body will include 14 providers of health care including two from Howard, three from Midland, four from Ector; one each from Reeves, Ward, Andrews, Martin and Crane Counties. Only the three big counties will have representation from both consumers and providers.

In ethnic distribution, Pecos, Howard, Reeves, Midland and Ector will each have one Mexican-American representative and Ector and Midland will each have one black representative.

have a salable skill." Briscoe called also for better counseling of students coupled with more effective planning for development of post secondary education and elimination of duplication of programs and facilities at state colleges and universities.

During Briscoe's luncheon address, the governor said also:

—Texas should work to reduce the number of state employees.

—That the United States must come up with a national energy policy.

Briscoe said Texas ranks 42nd among all states in the ratio of state employees to total population but that further cuts must be made.

The governor said such a theory led New York to the brink of financial disaster and that the federal government "is obviously heading down that same precarious path."

Briscoe said that despite the increased funding for education, a recent federally-financed study by the University of Texas showed that 21 per cent of Texans over the age 18 "experience difficulty coping with the simple literacy requirements of everyday life."

He said elementary and secondary education should be redirected so that "each high school graduate will

REPORT CLAIMS Soviet Union Mistreats Political Prisoners

LONDON (AP) — Amnesty International, an independent organization based in London, campaigns for the release of nonviolent political prisoners around the world.

The document said there are about 1 million prisoners in the Soviet Union, and that 10,000 of them are "prisoners of conscience" — persons imprisoned for their political or religious beliefs. The population of the Soviet Union is nearly 251 million.

In one case cited by the report, a prisoner named Opanasenko hanged himself at Perm Colony V 398-36 in 1974, leaving a suicide note that read: "No more strength to hold out. Curse you, monsters."

The report said Opanasenko's case was typical in that he had served most of his sentence — in this case 22 of 25 years.

Eduard Kuznetsov, a Leningrad Jew serving a sentence for his part in an attempt to hijack a Soviet plane in 1970, was quoted as having seen several fellow convicts "invite death by feigning escape attempts in full view of armed guards."

Incidents of self-mutilation were also cited by Kuznetsov.

"I have seen convicts sew up their mouths and eyes with thread or wire, sew buttons to their bodies, or nail their testicles to a bed, swallow a nail bent like a hook and then attach this hook by way of a thread so that the door cannot be opened without pulling the 'fish' inside out."

Amnesty was most critical of the special psychiatric hospitals, which it said were more like prisons.

The report said: "Once interned in a special psychiatric hospital, a person can be kept there indefinitely ('pending recovery') and virtually disappear from society."

Lev Smirnov, chairman of the Soviet Supreme Court, described a draft copy of the report as "a vulgar falsification and defamation on Soviet reality."

Gotham Must Shape Up, Says WTCC Board

Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in a recent mid-year meeting in Amarillo, called upon all West Texas congressmen to work to ensure that no federal aid be given New York City until certain financial reforms are made. The city and the state of New York should first demonstrate good faith by exhausting all financial possibilities and actions to correct New York City's present financial position, the resolution said. Then if all such exhaustive actions have been taken and a satisfactory fiscal reorganization and recuperative plan has been initiated, then federal aid, if loaned to New York City, should be allocated in graduated steps in direct proportion to the success of each step in the fiscal reorganization and recuperative plan, the statement continued.

Assaulting Cop Charge Filed

Robert Hoyt Smith, 31 of 1312 Mesa, failed to post $8,000 bond and was transferred from city to county jail. A $100 fine was also paid for indecent exposure.

The bond is for charges of aggravated assault and criminal mischief. He is charged with assaulting Patrolman John Burson when he answered a disturbance call.

Booze Papers Deadline Set

COLORADO CITY — Supporters of an election which would legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages in three Mitchell County precincts have until Dec. 17 to gather enough signatures on petitions to require the Mitchell County commissioners to call for a vote.

The signatures of 10 registered voters from each precinct — one, two and three — are needed on the requests for the petitions.

An election suggesting that the sale of liquor be legalized was held in Precinct 3 as recently as Nov. 4, with negative results.

Cee City Gets New Doctor

COLORADO CITY — Dr. Jan. W. Beuttgen (pronounced Betkin), a native of West Germany, has announced he will set up a practice here shortly.

He is the second doctor within the past year to make such a move. He and his wife have three children.

Beuttgen will open an office in the Medical Building. He has practiced medicine in three Detroit hospitals. He will move here from El Paso shortly after Jan. 1.

Women's Fitness Program Offered

The Big Spring YMCA has developed several health programs for women who wish to use the Y facilities for physical fitness conditioning.

The women's exercise room offers information on exercise, equipment, aerobic exercise program, blood pressure, resting and active heart rate and posture education.

Several exercise classes are offered. Mrs. Margie Faraday teaches exercises every Monday and Thursday evenings from 6-7. She is the women's and health club athletic director on Tuesday and Thursday.

Kathy Howard is the women's health club director. She instructs women in personal exercise programs on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10-11:30.

Mrs. Mary Dige is the assistant health club director.

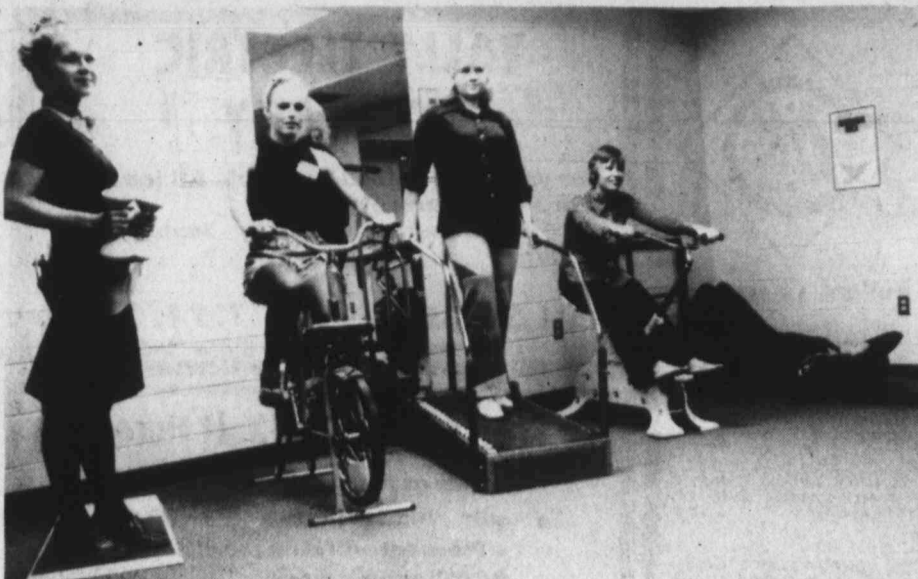

Health club facilities include the whirlpool, sauna, steam room and massage.

The club is open to women 9-11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday and from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

The women's exercise room is open during building hours. Women may also participate in handball, racquetball, swimming and volleyball according to the YMCA schedules.

A woman's one-year health club and YMCA membership is $90. A three-month health club and Y membership is available for $29.95.

A woman's health club membership with family is $135.

Card Club Organized In Coahoma

A new card club has been formed in Coahoma. The club, which is called Cards for Fun, held its first meeting last Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson.

Two separate games were played during the evening. The women played progressive rummy. Loser was Mrs. Paula Reid, with a score of 1,220. Winner was Mrs. Patty Mitchell.

The men played hearts. Loser was Phillip Reid, with a score of 62. Winner was Jerry Mitchell, with a score of 21.

Anyone interested in joining the new club is urged to call Mrs. Anderson by phoning 394-4224.

Next meeting for the club will be announced at a later date.

First Wife's Photo Chills Second Wife's Passion

DEAR ABBY:—I am 39 and Len is 42. We've been married less than a year. My first husband died, and so did Len's first wife.

The problem: Len put two pictures in a large double frame — one of me and one of his first wife. He put these pictures in our bedroom on the dresser facing our bed, and he keeps looking at these pictures when we're in bed. (He's slightly cross-eyed so I can't tell whether he's looking at the picture of me or the one of his first wife.)

I feel very self-conscious with his first wife staring at me from the dresser, but I don't know how to tell him. I wouldn't mind so much if Len kept that picture in another room. Am I making myself clear?

How do I handle this?

INHIBITED IN INDIANA
DEAR INHIBITED: Level with Len. Tell him it's difficult to entertain romantic notions with that picture on the dresser. Len will have to make a choice between a dead wife on the dresser and a live one in bed.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a divorced woman, 23 years old, with two small children. I met a 44-year-old man. He's a widower with a 15-year-old daughter living at home. He wants to marry me and take care of me and my children.

He has offered me a lovely home, a new car and lots of new clothes. He says he loves me. I told him I wasn't sure I loved him because he's my father's age, but he told me that I would learn to love him.

Abby, can a person "learn" to love somebody?

It is hard to pass up every thing he's offering me, but I'm afraid my mom and dad won't think he's right for me because he's kind of bald, wears glasses and is not much to look at.

Also, I'm afraid everyone will notice the difference in our ages, and they'll think I married him for his money.

Another thing: His daughter acts kind of cool to me. I'm afraid she might think I am taking her father away from her but I swear I'm not.

I had such a bad marriage that this offer is tempting. What should I do?

TEMPTED
DEAR TEMPTED: When in doubt, do nothing. You have too many fears and doubts about this man to marry him. Go slowly, dear.

And in answer to your question: No, I don't think a person can "learn" to love somebody. Perhaps in time, you could learn to appreciate his generosity, but that's not love.

He is the son of Johnnie B. Chambers and the late Ladd Chambers of Snyder.

The wedding will be held in the Christian Temple in Colorado City on Jan. 17.

The prospective bride is a graduate of Westbrook High School. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Matlock of Westbrook.

Chambers is a graduate of Snyder High School and has attended Texas Tech University and Western Texas College.

Forsan Report

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Willis of Lubbock, and their son, were recent guests of Mrs. Willis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beason.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wash were Mr. and Mrs. Wally Shulz of Sandia Park, N.M.

Mrs. D. L. Knight is a patient in Scott and White Hospital, Temple.

Mrs. Don Murphy is a patient at Herman's Hospital. Her address is 1203 Ross Sterling, Room 4128, Houston, Texas, 77028.

Guests of the L. S. Camps during a recent weekend were their daughter, Mrs. Boyd Brawley, the Tony Suttles and Donald Gooch, all of Odessa.

Mrs. G. L. Monroney received word that her mother, Mrs. Lettie McCoy of Yale, Ill., recently passed away. The Monroneys and their son, Wayne of Snyder attended the funeral.

Mrs. Benny L. Pickett, and her new son, Garner Lee, were honored last Monday evening at a tea held in the Forsan High School home economics room.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. John Rife, Mrs. Fred Holguin, Mrs. J. W. Overton, Mrs. T. R. Camp and Mrs. D. W. Day. They presented the honoree with a baby walker.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth. A blue western figurine centered the table.

PTA Hears Joni Avery

The Boydston PTA met Thursday evening in the school cafeteria, with Mrs. Joe Blasingame presiding. Devotional was given by Mrs. T. Watts on "strength" in God.

The program, "I am an American" was given by Miss Joni Avery, a student. Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery spoke on upcoming events in the bicentennial celebration. She urged all members of the community to participate in helping the youth of Big Spring to get a perspective of our country.

Business of the group was then discussed. The resignation of Mrs. Wayne Welch was accepted. Mrs. Garland Harrison was appointed secretary. Total membership was reported at 86.

The group discussed a new project of purchasing workbooks for use by the students.

Next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 11, in the cafeteria.

Musical Program Given By Club

A bicentennial musical program was presented by the members of the Music Study Club during the Wednesday evening meeting of the International Women's Club. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Glenn Burton with Mrs. Dorie Mitchell as cohostess.

Mrs. Linda Mason directed the musical program assisted by Mrs. Selma Carlile and Mrs. Susan Dawes. They also led in group singing.

The club welcomed three guests, Mrs. Kape Soon Lebar from Korea, Mrs. Ursula Clarkin, and Mrs. Hanna Clark, both from Germany.

The next meeting will feature a white elephant sale. Members will meet at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 10 in the home of Mrs. Johanna Gilbert, 1101 Lamar.
