Senate Finds FBI Tried To Destroy King

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top FBI official said today there was no justification for the bureau's extensive campaign to destroy Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as a leader of the civil rights movement.

However, Associate Deputy Director James B. Adams defended the bureau's investigation of possible Communist influences on King and said that the late Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had requested and approved FBI wiretaps on the civil rights leader.

Testifying under oath before the Senate intelligence committee, Adams said a total of 25 schemes were directed at discrediting King for which there was "no statutory basis or justification."

MOTIVE KNOWN

Adams said the motive for the campaign against King "was known to (the late FBI Director J. Edgar) Hoover and one top official," but Adams refused to reveal that motive.

Evidence made public Tuesday revealed that the FBI had wiretapped and bugged King, sent his wife an anonymous letter which King took to be a suggestion he commit suicide shortly before he was to receive the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize, and sought to promote a successor to King as the "national Negro leader."

One document raised the possibility that the FBI had been responsible for King's stay at the Memphis hotel where he was shot and killed in April 1968.

WHICH PRESIDENT

Adams' remark about Kennedy's approval of the wiretap did not apply to the electronic bugs, and it remained unclear who had approved the installation of 16 such eavesdropping devices against King.

The FBI official told the committee that "the president of the United States and the attorney general specifically discussed their concern of Communist influence with Dr. King."

He identified Kennedy as the attorney general but did not mention the president by name. Kennedy served as attorney general under both Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

As described by Adams, Robert Kennedy initially requested the wiretap on King but then turned down the wiretap proposal submitted by the FBI. The bureau made a second proposal which Kennedy approved, according to Adams. "I don't know why he changed his mind," Adams said.

According to committee lawyers, the FBI campaign against King also included an unsuccessful 1964 effort to prevent King from meeting Pope Paul VI; a warning to then-New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller not to meet with King, and an attempt to convince a major university which had awarded an honorary degree to then-FBI director J. Edgar Hoover not to make a similar presentation to King.

KING 'NO GOOD'

Chief counsel F. A. O. Schwarz III and Curtis R. Smothers told the committee the campaign began with a January 1962 memo in which Hoover concluded that King was "no good." The campaign escalated sharply after the August 1963 civil rights march on Washington despite a determination by agents just prior to the march that the Communist party had "failed dismally" in its efforts to infiltrate the movement led by King, the lawyers said.

The finding that Communists had failed to infiltrate the civil rights movement was rejected by Hoover with the notation, "Time will only prove you're wrong," according to a series of memos read by the staff.

Several days after the march, William C. Sullivan, chief of the FBI domestic intelligence division, responded with a note that read "the director is correct ... We regret greatly the memo did not measure up to the standards that the director had every right to expect."

KING 'DANGEROUS'

Another memo followed, recommending increased coverage of Communist influence in the civil rights movement, to which Hoover responded, "I can't understand how you can so agilely switch your thinking."

Ten days after that an unofficial memo written by Sullivan stated "it is obvious to us now we did not put the proper interpretation on the facts... We regard Martin Luther King to be the most dangerous and effective Negro leader in the country."

That memo was followed by a December 1963 meeting at which bureau officials discussed a total of 21 different tactics for dealing with King, including "the possibility of placing a good-looking female plant in King's office," staff lawyers said.

'BUGS' INSTALLED

One month later the first of 16 electronic bugs and eight wiretaps on King was installed, according to the lawyers.

Thirty-four days before King was to receive the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize, his wife received an anonymous letter sent by the FBI and accompanied by a tape picked up by one of the bureau's bugs, Schwarz said. The letter read in part, "King, there is only one thing left for you to do. You know what it is. You have just 34 days in which to do (it). You are done. There is but one way out for you."

Staff members refused to describe the contents of the tape except to say that it contained material embarrassing to King. Smothers said the idea behind the letter was that the FBI had enough material to discredit King should he accept the Nobel prize.

According to Mondale, King interpreted the letter to be a suggestion that he commit suicide.

A March 1968 memo whose stated purpose was "to publicize hypocrisy on the part of Martin Luther King" raised the possibility that the FBI may have been instrumental in King's checking into the Lorraine Hotel in Memphis, Tenn., where he was shot and killed on April 4, 1968.

That memo, which a staff lawyer said bore a notation indicating that Hoover had approved it, recommended furnishing "a cooperative news media source" with the information that King, while urging a boycott of white merchants, was staying in a white-owned hotel despite the fact that "there is a first class Negro hotel in Memphis, the Hotel Lorraine."

A staff lawyer said there was no evidence other than Hoover's notation that the scheme had been put into operation but he noted that newspaper stories to that effect appeared at the time. According to the staff lawyer, King went to Atlanta for the weekend and when he returned to Memphis checked into the Lorraine.

CHOSE REPLACEMENT

Smothers read from FBI memos in which he said the bureau outlined its objective of taking King "off his pedestal and reducing him completely in influence." The bureau earmarked a man of its own choosing, a person who was not a civil rights leader, to take King's place as "a new national Negro leader."

Schwarz and Smothers declined to identify the person concerned, saying that he asked to remain anonymous. That person was asked never told by the FBI of the role some proposed he play and was "shocked and astonished" when committee staff members relayed the information to him, Smothers said.

Thornton's To Establish Store In Big Spring

A deal which has been several months in the making was consummated this morning when Thornton's of Abilene announced it had leased properties owned by the S.D.L. Land Company of Albuquerque in the Coronado Shopping Center here.

Dick Hood, general manager of the Thornton corporation, said here this morning that the Abilene-based firm will locate a full-line department store in the building formerly occupied by Cook's Discount Store.

An architect retained by Thornton's will arrive here sometime within the next few weeks to draw plans for what Hood said would be a major remodeling project of the building. Hood added that the store likely would open no later than mid-March.

Thornton's likely will employ about 75 people at the local outlet and most of the hiring will be accomplished locally, Hood stated. No manager of the local store has yet been named, Hood stated.

Accompanying Hood here for a tour of the grounds and premises were Voyd Kuntz, assistant to Hood; Duane Pierce, in charge of the parent firm's Home Furnishings division; and Eldon Mearse, Merchandising manager.

Thornton's is a subsidiary of the P. N. Hirsch Company, which headquarters in St. Louis. Hirsch is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Interco (formerly the International Shoe Company).

Thornton's currently maintains four outlets in Abilene and one each in Sweetwater and Brownwood. Thornton's opened its first store in 1919 in Abilene. E. L. Thornton, founder of the firm, died in 1964.

Hood said that further expansion in this immediate area is planned by the firm.

Big Spring will also serve as a warehouse center for the firm, Hood said. In addition, Thornton's will give and serve as a redemption center for Key trading stamps. Free delivery of merchandise sold by Thornton's will be offered.

Hood said company officials were very pleased that Thornton's was finally locating here. "We have been eyeing Big Spring as a merchandizing outlet for a number of years," he added.

Thornton's sells medium to better-priced goods and handles name-brand goods for such internationally known firms as Westinghouse and Curtis Mathis.

In addition to housewares items, Thornton's will offer such merchandise as furniture, cosmetics, men's and boy's clothing, hosiery, carpeting, white goods, sports wear, baby furniture, a women's boutique, a gift section, stationary, jewelry and watches of all kinds, a bride's department, a sleep shop, women's ready-to-wear, toys, lawn and garden tools and many other items.

The local store will maintain a business schedule in keeping with other local merchants, as has long been the Thornton policy in other cities.

Local civic officials hailed the announcement of the store's opening, especially since Thornton's started as a West Texas institution.

OPEN THE DOOR — Officials from Thornton's, a department store which will move into the former Cook's Building on Coronado Plaza, are shown opening the door to the store this morning. Thornton's plans to open its local outlet by mid-March. Eldon Mearse, merchandising manager; Dick Hood, general manager; Voyd Kuntz, assistant manager and Duane Pierce, manager of the home furnishings division, are shown, left to right.

County Dads Told Revenue Sharing Measure To Pass

U.S. Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Anson, Tex.) predicted legislation extending the revenue sharing program would pass, County Commissioner William B. Crooker Jr. said today.

Crooker was interviewed in a telephone conversation from Washington, D. C., where he and four other Howard County representatives attended a revenue sharing rally sponsored by the National Association of Counties.

Crooker said they told Burleson $270,000 of the county budget comes from revenue sharing. "We'd be put in kind of a budget freeze if revenue sharing wasn't continued," Crooker explained.

In addition to continuing revenue sharing which ends Dec. 31, 1977, county officials want fewer "strings attached to the darn thing."

Burleson indicated he favored revenue sharing, Crooker said. "Being a kind of true politician, he wasn't going to really nail it down," Crooker said.

Both Texas senators approve revenue sharing.

Crooker, County Judge Bill Tune, County Auditor Virginia Black and Commissioners Jack Buchanan and Kie Ruppard were among 250 Texas county officials present. About 1,000 from the United States attended.

The Howard County delegation will fly back to the Midland-Odessa air terminal this afternoon.

Truckers Call Strike In Valley

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — The head of a recently organized truckers organization said today the group will strike at midnight and warned of violence if produce haulers in South Texas don't park their trucks.

David Coers, president of the Produce Haulers of Texas, said there will be picketing and possible roadblocks on highways leading north out of the Valley.

"If they (truckers) don't shut down, I know there's going to be violence," Coers said. His organization says it has 300 members.

HC Volleyballers Bounce To National Tournament

Howard College trustees voted unanimously Tuesday to send the HC championship Girl's Volleyball team to the national tournament in Maryland the last week in November.

They also accepted an offer from James R. Corbell to provide a fenced area for a Howard College Rodeo Team arena. The board expressed gratitude to both Jack Himes and Corbell for their donations to the Rodeo Team which has been incorporated as an organization. The club will lease the facilities for $1 per year. The board backed the venture of the new arena and also agreed to allow the administration to make decisions on rodeo sponsors in the future.

plans for setting up an endowment fund system at Howard College. As a means of accepting donations to various projects at the college.

Dr. Charles Hays told the board that its membership in the American Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges had expired, and $190 in dues was approved.

The board then awarded contracts including the low bid on a steam cleaning machine for the auto mechanics department, to Walker Auto Parts at $841.50; low bid on a salad bar section of the cafeteria serving line to Greyhound Food Services at $827. The low bid for 500 journal sheets went to Big Spring Printing at $52.50; and on 30,000 envelopes to Big Spring Printing at $398.90. On 12,500 vouchers, the board accepted the next to low bid of $488.25 ($8 above) from Moore's Business Forms.

LAMESA CENTER

Dr. Hays told the board that the Lamesa Foundation had funded improvements at the building being used by Howard College in Lamesa. The foundation painted the building, put up a sign and laid carpet in the building. At the present time there are 129 students at the Community College Center there.

Board members went into executive session to discuss a student personnel problem with Coach Harold Wilder.

Dr. Charles Warren presided at the board meeting with board members present including Jimmie Taylor, Harold Davis, Dr. P. W. Malone and Donald McKinney. Administrators attending included Dr. Hays, Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery, Dean Larry Key, Ben F. Johnson and Mike Bruner.

Number Of Truants Probed By City Juvenile Unit Dips

By JOHN EDWARDS

The number of truants investigated by the city juvenile department has declined 90 per cent since meetings of the juvenile board and school officials, Lt. Jim McCain said today.

"They're trying to handle it from their end first," the city juvenile officer explained.

This does not represent a decline in truancy necessarily, McCain said the number of truancy cases presented his department probably will "catch up."

On Oct. 23, the juvenile board, composed of city, county and school representatives, heard evidence of "mushrooming" truancy.

Later, McCain and Ed Cherry, juvenile probation officer, met with Big Spring principals and assistant principals.

A procedure under which school officials counsel truants first before referring them to the city juvenile department was established, McCain said.

Dr. E. H. McKenzie Jr., superintendent of Big Spring schools, said the school officials decided to prepare form letters to send to parents of truuant students.

City juvenile officials will talk to the truant one time, McCain said. The second time, either the parents will face a possible fine, or the youth may be ordered to an orphanage.

Gus Ochotorena Jr. was the only one of two courthouse justices of the peace who had held any truancy hearings where a fine against parents was considered.

"I fined one or two this school year and quite a few last," Ochotorena said.

Monday, Ochotorena held another truancy hearing. The father, the only parent, was sickly, he said, and the boy promised to start attending school regularly. So no action was taken.

Tuesday, the boy slept in, Ochotorena said.

Institutional supervision is being considered now.

A girl accused of truancy got married and was dropped from enrollment, Ochotorena said.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton, who also presides in juvenile court, earlier was asked if any truancy cases had been presented to him.

"They have brought none, and I have handled none," Judge Caton said.

It costs the state from $8,000 to $10,000 yearly to send a truant through the school at orphanages, Judge Caton observed.

The Big Spring Independent School District has not appointed a "visiting teacher" for handling truancy problems.

Dr. McKenzie said the system does not have anyone with the qualifications. The school district could obtain a "special assignment permit" for use until the visiting teacher is certified, though.

Franco Death 'Within Hours'

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco's condition worsened even more today, and a high government source said death was expected within hours.

Doctors said the heart, lungs and kidney of the 82-year-old Spanish leader were failing.

The World At-A-Glance

LONDON (AP) — A bomb packed with ball bearings, nuts and bolts was hurled through the window of an exclusive restaurant crowded with diners in London, killing a man and a woman and injuring 17 others. Police said the three-pound antipersonnel device was tossed into Walton's restaurant, in the fashionable Chelsea district, from a speeding car Tuesday night. There were about 70 diners in the restaurant at the time, and there was no warning. An American woman was among the injured.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford refused again today to give New York City any hope of Federal bailout aid and instead urged the city to continue to work toward fiscal responsibility. "I am convinced that if New York continues to move toward fiscal responsibility, all parties concerned can look forward to a satisfactory resolution despite the current obstacles," Ford said in a five-paragraph statement released by the press secretary Ron Nessen.

UW Campaign Workers Urged To Check Cards

"If we work all our pledge cards and are given a complete report by our teams, I am confident we will be able to wind up the 1975-76 Howard County United Way campaign in the next day or two," Ron McNeil, general chairman of the drive, said this morning.

McNeil said the drive is within a few percentage points of its $131,925 objective. He called for a renewed effort on the part of all campaign workers to check all cards and turn in their reports to the UW office.

"There is no question in my mind that we will be able to announce we have 'gone over the top' in the next few days," McNeil stated. "It's just a question of getting everyone who has played a part in the campaign to give us a report on what they have done."

Collections took a big jump earlier this week when pledges and collections among Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. employees were reported to George Zachariah, executive secretary of the UW.

"The manner in which Cosden employees responded to the appeal for help was all we had hoped for," Zachariah said. "It's very important, though, that campaign workers keep working until our objective is reached. We can't quit now that we are so close."

Chance To Help Your City

Residents of Big Spring have a last opportunity Wednesday to have a voice in the establishment of "Goals for Big Spring."

The public meeting called for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Howard College auditorium is to be the climax of a long series of meetings, studies, hearings, and appraisals.

The Goals committee has been in action for months and months, seeking to pinpoint the over-all needs of the community. Panels were created to concentrate on specific facets of community life — its institutions, its economics, its opportunities, its creativity, its social patterns, its transportation, etc.

When these sub-groups made their studies, they came up with essays and recommendations. Most of these reflected penetrating study and critical analysis; some were general and frankly not of the quality of others.

At any rate, these were all submitted in a series of neighborhood meetings for public reaction. Those who did attend these frequently made sensible observations and a number of worthy suggestions.

To use a current and over-worked phrase, the "input" of these meetings has been considered along with the original essays, and a revised report has been drafted. Thursday's public meeting affords a last chance to comment on the draft.

When the Goals for Big Spring are adopted finally, we will have a blueprint for applying the combined resources, manpower, brain power of the community under an orderly plan.

This will not mean that it is exclusive or immutable. In fact, the plan should be reviewed periodically to allow for new developments, whatever they may be. What the Goals will do is to help us better focus on those things which can bring the most good to the most people and make our community a viable, vibrant one.

Perpetuating A Project

Big Spring continues to get favorable publicity from its colorfully decorated fireplugs, which have been painted to resemble everything from a Continental soldier to Snoopy the dog.

This is not altogether unique or original with us, but we have come up with almost total community involvement in the project. Result: Something that is attractive and catchy.

Which leads us to observe that we hope that this won't become a forgotten activity once the Bicentennial is past. If so, the plugs will become shabby and nondescript. On the other hand, continuing to involve schools and citizens can insure that this bright spot will be perpetuated.

My Answer

Billy Graham

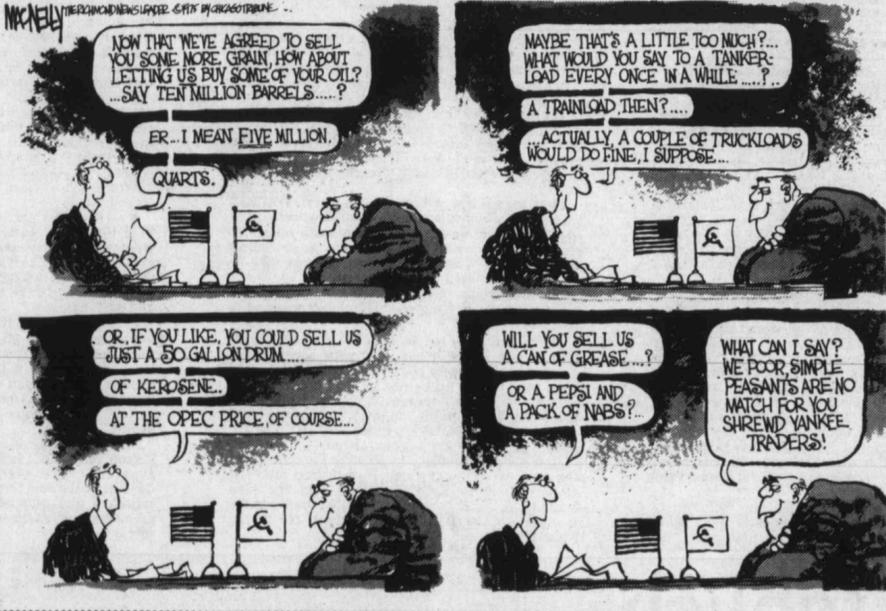

Is there life on other planets?
G.M.
God is the creator of all things, visible and invisible. "All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made" (John 1:3).

While the Bible does not specifically tell us about life on other planets, it does emphasize that God is ruler of the entire universe. If, therefore, there is life on other planets it has been created by God, and any life to which God has given a soul is morally responsible to Him, just as we are.

There is, incidentally, no Biblical grounds for the current pseudo-scientific fad which claims human life on this planet came from other planets through ancient spaceships.

While it is fascinating to speculate on these things, the emphasis of the Bible is on life on this planet, and the need all humans have for forgiveness and salvation through Christ, God's only Son.

I do believe the Bible implies life on other planets. In my mind I am convinced of this.

'I Lost My Job'

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The first thing that came to my mind last week when I heard about all the different changes in President Ford's "team" is what a blow it must have been to the Rockefeller.

IN THE LAST few months the Rockefeller have been throwing party after party to introduce everyone to the new vice-presidential residence on Massachusetts Av., and it cost them a pretty penny. I'm certain they wouldn't have gone to all that expense if they had any idea that President Ford was going to push Rocky off the ticket in 1976.

As a matter of fact I wouldn't have wanted to have been in Rocky's shoes the night he came home and broke the news to Happy.

"ROCKY, YOU LOOK bushed. Have a dry martini. I've been making up the guest list for our next party to show people the new vice-presidential mansion."

"I wouldn't do that if I were you, Happy."

"Why not?"

"I DON'T THINK we're going to be living here much longer."

"You mean you've been fired?"

"Not exactly. But Gerry doesn't want me on his new team."

"That's awful. What are we going to do? How are we going to make a living?"

"DON'T WORRY. I'll find something. My brother David knows a lot of people and I'm sure one of them will give me a job."

"How could he do it to you? You've worked so hard and you've been so loyal."

"That doesn't count when you're a Vice President. Gerry's worried about his own job, and he figures if he gets rid of me the Republican board of directors will get off his back."

"BUT THE LEAST he could have done was tell you before we gave all those parties. We used up our life savings entertaining the very people Gerry is trying to placate."

"Don't be too harsh on him, Happy. He hit his head on a swimming pool a few days ago, and that might have had something to do with his decision."

"It could be worse. Gerry fired Jim Schlesinger and Bill Colby today as well. We're still on the payroll until Dec. 30, 1976. Those poor guys have to apply for unemployment insurance next week. They took one of Henry's jobs away, too."

"IT'S DISGRACEFUL. I think you should write Gerry a letter and tell him what you really think."

"I have to write him a letter, but I don't think I better tell him what I really think."

"Why not?"

"I might need him for references in case someone offers me a job."

Second Income Lost

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Many American families fell into unexpected financial difficulty over the past two years because they came to rely upon a second income, often provided by a working wife, that was lost in the recession.

At one point the second income might have been used for luxuries, such as a vacation or home improvements, while the husband's income paid for the essentials of life.

As times got tougher, the second income became a necessity. More and more it went to support an established lifestyle. It financed needs rather than something extra.

The American Bankers Association found this practice high on the list of financial problems that plague many families today.

Other common difficulties, the ABA found, result from delays in seeking relief from creditors; assuming new loans to meet payments on existing ones; anticipating earnings that don't materialize; divorce, and the absence of emergency fund.

The following difficulties, and their causes, complete the list:

—UNWILLINGNESS TO CHANGE LIFE-STYLES. Some families are unwilling to lower their standard of living to compensate for lost income. Believing their setback to be temporary, they decide to ride it out.

In fact, for many families the belief that material conditions get better each year is the essential element in their interpretation of the American dream.

"These people come to financial counselors bewildered," said one respondent to an ABA survey of members and financial counselors.

The solutions are the obvious ones: more income or fewer expenditures.

—OVERESTIMATING RETIREMENT INCOME. Most retired Americans live on far less income than when they were working. For them, growing old means growing poor.

"Thirty-four per cent of all retired people live entirely on Social Security checks — they have no other income — and the average Social Security check for a retired couple today is just over $300 a month," the ABA says.

Even those who receive company pension income find their funds have diminished in value through inflation.

"Remember, if you need $1,000 a month to live today, in 10 years — if today's inflation continues — you'll need $2,000," the ABA observes.

—INDIFFERENCE TO BUDGETING. "Inflation clobbers these people because they have no way of measuring the true impact it has on their lives," the bankers say. "Because they don't keep records, such people don't realize that something that cost $1.10 years ago now costs $1.70."

—CARELESS ATTITUDE TOWARD MONEY AND CREDIT. Until a few years ago, it seems safe to say, most people in the years since World War II believed money and opportunity were on the upswing. As a consequence, many families believed in spending now, worrying later.

No Slowing Down For Oldster

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My Achilles tendons got sore when I started playing basketball last October. I finally quit playing for the summer, but I play nine holes of golf every day. The Achilles are still sore and my doctor says there is no cure, only relief with muscle relaxants.

I am 67, but I do not like the idea of sore tendons the rest of my life. Is there any hope at all for me? — V.W.

This is the tendon which extends from the leg calf to the heel bone, and it comes under great strain in running and jumping. If you stand on your tiptoes, you will feel the Achilles tendon in action. It is no coincidence that this is the tendon referred to when we speak of athletes whose "legs have gone."

It is also the tendon most subject to tears. Luckily this did not happen to you or you would not now be playing nine holes of golf a day. Indeed, you would be fortunate to be walking about.

I agree with your doctor. There is little to be done beyond application of heat and use of the muscle relaxants. With winter arriving in your part of the country, this might be a good time to try something you don't even mention — that is, rest.

Resting the overworked tendons could leave you in pretty good shape for next summer.

Your letter will be enlightening to many senior citizens who feel that 65 is a magic number that forebodes a sedentary life. However there are many exercises not quite so taxing as basketball which are more suitable for a person of 67. I suggest you shop around for one.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have recently had mononucleosis. Is geographic tongue some sort of after-effect of this? Also, I am told a very allergic person. Can this be related to the tongue problem? — R.S.

Your mononucleosis could have been an indirect cause, but there are so many other possibilities it is difficult to pinpoint one.

The tongue surface consists of many tiny structures called papillae. For some reason these structures can enlarge unevenly causing the pattern we refer to as "geographic tongue." The name stems from the map-like pattern that results.

Irritants such as pipe, cigar, or cigarette smoke or spicy foods can cause this, and the design can change from time to time.

It is common in any ailment accompanied by a fever, as with your mononucleosis. In this it can be related to a general dehydration of the body as well as to changes in diet during your illness. Allergic reaction to certain foods can be involved.

The tongue normally is a healthy pinkish color. Inspection of the tongue is an important office procedure because it can mirror specific disorders, including glossitis (inflammation). The strawberry tip is seen with scarlet fever, the smooth red tongue with pernicious anemia, the beefy, red tongue with certain vitamin deficiencies.

Some liquid diets eliminate the chewing action that normally keeps the tongue cleared and this can result in visible changes.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis," write to him in care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O., Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Rare Talent

Around The Rim

Julie Simmons

As I mentioned a few weeks ago, I am a music fan. And although I don't have any classical albums, I enjoy listening to music of the great composers. Because I have not been trained in the classical compositions, I do not recognize a certain composer's style. I cannot pinpoint just what type of classical music is my favorite.

I DIDN'T KNOW what I was in for when I sat in on the Saturday afternoon session of the Lili Kraus Master Class. Earlier that morning Carol Hart and I went to the Howard College cafeteria to try to speak with Mme. Kraus or some of the students. We just missed Mme. Kraus, but managed to talk with some of the passive participants that attended the morning session. They had nothing but praise for the master pianist.

One teacher who had brought seven of her students to listen assured me that they were learning improved techniques and how to correct their consistent stylistic mistakes.

Another teacher said that any nervousness a student felt was quickly dispelled by Mme. Kraus' warm, kind treatment of each pianist.

So during the afternoon session I wanted to see how this famous concert pianist would make Big Spring pianists feel comfortable playing for her.

Carol and I walked in just in time to hear Karen Franke of San Angelo play several movements of Sonata Op. 26 in A flat. To my untrained ear, her playing was just beautiful. And I wasn't too far off, for when Karen finished, Mme. Kraus pronounced her playing as "Excellent."

While Karen played, Mme. Kraus walked the aisles of the auditorium, stopping in the middle of the aisle and turning to listen to a section of the sonata. She paused for a few moments in various parts of the auditorium to get different perspectives on the student's style.

SHE ALWAYS SMILED at the audience as she walked around, seeming to give each person an individual glance while concentrating on the student's rendering of the classical composition.

The observers on stage and in the audience followed along with the music if they had brought the score or listened attentively, trying to remember the student's style in order to recall the section when Mme. Kraus critiqued the rendering.

Mme. Kraus must have known every composition that was played. She did not have to look at the sheet music to know what notes were wrong or where the crescendos went, for each piece was thoroughly ingrained into her memory.

When Mme. Kraus laughed at a mistake in the student's playing, she made the student and the audience laugh with her. To illustrate the correct style she asked the pianist if she could sit at the piano and then began playing the section exactly as the student had done, recreating the bad habits each student had. Then she played the correct style. I had thought the student was good, but Mme. Kraus made the piano sound like an entire orchestra and expressed the emotions the composer had written into his music with her playing. Just by watching her arms I could see the different moods of the composition.

AFTER THE CONCERT was over, Carol and I wanted to meet Mme. Kraus, talk with her and take a few pictures. She was as gracious as all the people we talked with said she was. She didn't mind having her picture taken and even requested a copy of one of them.

Karen Franke told us later that she had interviewed with Mme. Kraus at Texas Christian University to be one of her students next fall. I could not imagine a better and more loving teacher than Mme. Kraus. If Karen is accepted, I'm sure Mme. Kraus will devote her knowledge and expert interpretation of music to develop in her student the kind of warm professionalism she humbly displays.

Big John Again

Rowland Evans

MONTPELIER, Vt. — The fact that John B. Connally's curious quest for political power would bring him to the Republican back reaches of New England shows how determined the former governor of Texas is to establish a base — no matter how ephemeral — for 1976 presidential politics.

THAT DETERMINATION puzzles even pro-Connally politicians, because until recently there seemed no conceivable way for the 58-year-old Texan to break into 1976 presidential politics — either as a Republican or in some vague Connally third party.

Now, however, with Nelson Rockefeller out of 1976 vice-presidential contention and President Ford and Ronald Reagan on the verge of bitterly bruising primary combat starting in February, Connally's hope for a piece of the action looks less forlorn. If it comes, Connally makes clear to intimates, it will come inside — not outside — the Republican party.

WELL BEFORE he arrived here last week in spring-like weather to address the $25 a plate annual Republican fund-raising dinner, he knew the political climate was distinctly chilly. For one thing, John McLaughrey, Caledonia County party chairman, boycotted the dinner. Conservative Republican McLaughrey attacked ex-Democrat Connally as "a menace to America" for advocating compulsory national service and embracing what McLaughrey called the "corporate socialism" of Lockheed-style federal bail-outs while he was Richard Nixon's Secretary of the Treasury.

FAR MORE important however, was the initial — but quick to change — reaction to Connally of old-line party patrons who came only grudgingly to hear the Dixie accents of Lyndon B. Johnson's political protege.

"I'm here because I have to be," the chairman of one of Vermont's most populous counties told us in the bleak basement of the Barre auditorium near here while awaiting Connally's arrival for dinner. "No matter what the jury said, Connally is still carrying that smear."

WORSE WAS the peremptory dismissal of Connally as a Republican leader, much less a party power, by one of the main managers of Republican Sen. Robert Stafford's Senate election campaign next year. Asked how Connally might fare in New England as a candidate for national office, he said the question was based on an "unimaginable" premise.

Such open hostility to the state committee's controversial choice for the 1975 party fund-raising dinner (addressed last year by President Ford and in 1973 by Ronald Reagan) made Connally's conspicuous success as the evening warmed up all the more glittering.

WHAT CONNALLY proved here, to the great surprise of the Republican establishment, was that his flair and rhetorical drama on the political stump exceed that of any other Republican with the possible exception of Reagan. Even more attractive to the dour, no-nonsense Yankee politicians who heard him was Connally's breathtaking positions on highly controversial political issues (a freedom he blandly tells friends he can indulge in because "I'm not running for anything").

Thus, following his speech here calling for a single, six-year presidential term, a maximum 12 years in Congress, forced retirement at 70 for all federal judges and a host of other proposals, former Gov. Deane Davis was exuberant.

Connally senses the political vacuum and intends to be available to find it — if the chance comes.

Flato Realty Jury Trial Tentatively Scheduled

Judge Ralph W. Caton Tuesday tentatively scheduled an 118th District Court jury trial March 1 over the suit of Flato Realty Investments.

The common law business trust headquartered in Corpus Christi claimed the City of Big Spring, Big Spring school system and Howard County were not taxing all property on the basis of true market value.

A scheme of taxation for rural land which reflects "only a small fraction of the rural lands' true value" was cited by the trust. Defendants denied this.

Urban property was being taxed on the basis of its true market value, the trust alleged.

Flato Investments own the Permian Building.

Pick New Name

SWEETWATER — The new name for Simmons Memorial Hospital here is "Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital," the facility's board of directors has decided. The hospital is now under construction.

Deputy Beaten

Reward Posted

BALLINGER — A reward of $500, possibly more, is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of two men who beat a former Runnels County deputy sheriff, Hershell Hall, outside his home here last Saturday night.

Hall was struck with a chain and cut with a knife after he was called to the back door of his residence. Hall said he saw the outline of two heavy-set men but was not familiar with either.

Hall resigned from the sheriff's force earlier this year and has since been unemployed. Hall was discharged from a Ballinger hospital Tuesday.

FRANK F. FATA

Underwriters To Hear Fata

Frank F. Fata, Lubbock, will address the Big Spring Life Underwriters Association at their regular meeting Thursday noon in the Downtown Tea Room.

Fata, who is a certified life underwriter, has an outstanding record of professional and civic service. He also is one of the most effective speakers for underwriters, said John Bennett, president, who urged members to be at the noon meeting. Special activities of the association also will be discussed.

Fata joined Equitable Life Assurance Society in 1947 in Pampa, headed associations there, at Amarillo and Lubbock and is a past national president of the Equitable CLU association. He has been in the Texas and national million-dollar Round Table, and has been active in affairs of the Kiwanis Club.

$6,890,000 Bonds Issue

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo voters will be asked to approve $6,890,000 in bonds in a March 8, 1976, school election.

The money would be used for interior renovations, repairs to plumbing and lighting, replacing outdated wiring, sagging floors and to relieve overcrowded conditions in the schools of the San Angelo ISD.

Non-Singer Paul Simon To Speak

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pity Paul Simon, that is.

For some time now, he's complained when newspaper readers scan only the headlines and wind up confusing his actions with those of Treasury Secretary William Simon.

Now students at Case Western Reserve University, planning a lecture series and hoping to hear the views of the Paul Simon who used to sing in the Simon and Garfunkel folkrock duo, mailed a letter to Paul Simon of Carbondale, Ill., the congressman's home town.

Who got the invitation? Simon — the congressman, that is.

Ax Museum Admission Fee

ALPINE — Visitors will no longer be charged an admission fee to visit the Museum of the Big Bend, located on the Sul Ross State University campus here, museum officials have decided.

New visiting hours of the museum will be from 1 to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, 1 to 6 p.m., Saturday and 2 to 6 p.m., Sunday.

$27,533 Jury Verdict

Claims of chest, neck and scalp injuries resulted in a $27,533 jury verdict at 11:15 a.m. today.

The 11th District Court jury selected in the civil suit over the IS-20 truck-car accident began deliberations at 9 a.m. today.

N. R. Harvell Sr., Big Spring, sued Meddie E. Williams, a truck driver from Pinola, Miss., and Ralph Walker Truck Inc., Jackson, Miss. The accident happened March 30, 1974.

The jury allowed $15,000 for past pain and anguish, $10,000 for future anguish and $2,533 for medical bills.

Jurors include Mrs. M. W. Baker, D. Snelson, J. Bagnall, Mrs. A. A. Sullivan, G. L. Person Sr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith.

Others are Miss J. L. Huckaby, D. A. Thurman, Mrs. J. A. Augenstein, Mrs. D. Rickey, Mrs. J. G. Allena and Mrs. I. Hernandez.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton presided. Jack Little, Big Spring, represented the trucking firm. James Edwards, Lubbock, was the plaintiff's attorney.

All Faiths Chapel Plans

Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, adjutant general of Texas, has announced plans for the construction of an All Faiths Chapel, to be built at Camp Mabry in northwest Austin.

Camp Mabry has been the nerve center of the Texas Guard since 1890.

Gen. Bishop also announced the appointment of a committee for the purpose of soliciting contributions for the construction of the chapel since tax funds cannot be used for this purpose.

State Court Reviews Farm Tax Exemption

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court changed its mind today and agreed to hear whether a landowner must prove that 51 per cent of his total income comes from farming or ranching to claim an agricultural tax exemption.

On Oct. 22 the Supreme Court said Oscar Lee Gragg had to present such proof but today set a Jan. 7 hearing in the case.

The case before the high court was filed against oilman Oscar Lee Gragg by the Cayuga Independent School District, which contended he owed $30,686 in delinquent taxes for 1971, 1972 and 1973.

A district judge at Palestine ruled in favor of the school district and the Tyler Court of Civil Appeals affirmed the ruling.

At first, the Supreme Court did, too, but decided on second look to grant a rehearing on five alleged points of error in the lower court decisions.

Both the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association have filed special briefs with the Supreme Court, indicating the importance of the case to many landowners.

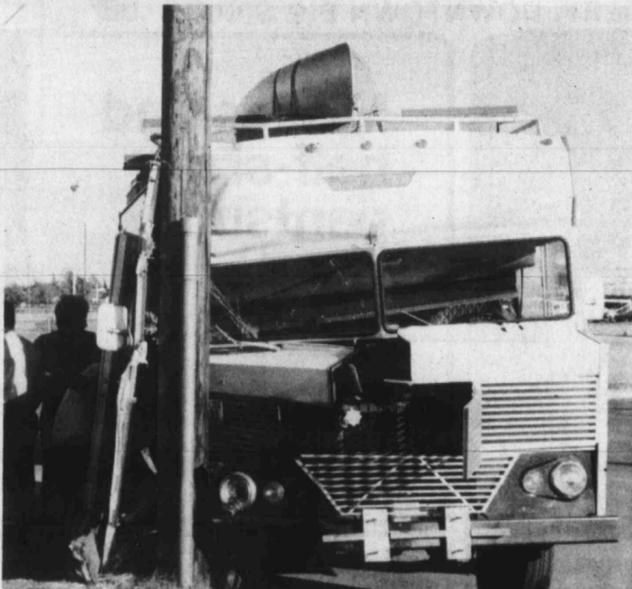

They supported Gragg's contention that "primary occupation and source of income" did not mean 51 per cent but merely the principal source of income.

'Effective Psychotherapy'

Dr. Maurice Watts, clinical director of the Big Spring State Hospital will attend the ninth annual symposium of the Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences to be held Wednesday through Friday at the Texas Medical Center in Houston.

"Effective Psychotherapy" will be the subject of discussion during the symposium and according to Dr. Watts, psychotherapy is an effort to get patients to know more about themselves and the meanings behind their behavior through the talking out of problems.

DAY AT THE POLES — Tuesday was a hard day on utility poles in Big Spring. The truck shown in top photo belongs to United Truck Rentals of Lynnwood, Calif. It was locked and parked at College Park Shopping Center shortly before 1 p.m. For some reason it rolled west and struck a utility pole. The camper, shown in lower photo, was driven by Darrian L. Williams, 707 Scott, and collided with a telephone pole on the parking lot at the high school at 4:11 p.m. There were no injuries in either accident.

Midland Chief Will Retire

MIDLAND — Harold S. Wallace has announced he will retire as Midland city chief of police May 31, 1976.

No successor has yet been chosen by city councilmen and city manager James Brown.

Wallace has been in law enforcement work 33 years, 25 years of that with the Midland city police department. He became police chief less than a year after he joined the force in 1951 as a patrolman.

Wallace now heads a force of 116 officers plus ten civilian employees.

Missing Steer?

Anyone missing a Charolais steer weighing about 450 pounds should contact the sheriff's office.

Bicentennial Projects Garner Recognition For Webb AFB

Congressman Omar Burleson, 17th District, announced Tuesday that the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) in Washington will accord official recognition to Webb AFB for participation in the Bicentennial Armed Forces Installations and Commands Program.

In order to receive official recognition from ARBA, a military installation is required to appoint a Bicentennial committee of not less than seven members composed of persons broadly representative of the installation such as, officers, enlisted men and civilian employees. The installation is also required to originate one or more Bicentennial projects which will perpetuate or preserve something of lasting value into the nation's third century.

In order to meet these qualifications, Webb appointed a 17-person committee with Col. Robert F. Brodman, base commander, as chairman, and Capt. Richard B. Risk, Jr., chief of information division, as coordinator.

The Bicentennial project submitted by the base was the dedication of a new 500-man dining hall. The facility was memorialized to Capt. Steven L. Bennett, who had received his pilot wings here, was killed in action in Vietnam, and was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor for heroism.

Official recognition by ARBA gives Webb AFB equal status with the Big Spring-Howard County Bicentennial Commission. But, Webb's intent is to organize the observance on the base and to increase participation within the entire community in cooperation with the commission, according to Capt. Risk.

ARBA embraces three broad theme areas: Heritage '76, Festival USA and Horizons '76. Webb AFB plans to broaden the scope of its "Let Freedom Ring" program for 1976 under the categories, Heritage '76 and Festival USA.

Thanksgiving Worship Service Will Be Held At Webb Nov. 26

A community Thanksgiving worship service will be held at the base chapel, Webb Air Force Base, Wednesday, Nov. 26, 7:30 p.m.

The service will be co-sponsored by Webb AFB and Big Spring area churches.

The service will feature the Bell Choir from First Methodist Church of Big Spring, as well as the Goliad Junior High School Choir. A Thanksgiving message will be delivered by Carroll Kohl, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and president of the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship.

Other pastors attending the service will be Donald Hudson, Catholic chaplain for Webb AFB, Harlan Birdwell, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Bill Smythe, pastor of the First Christian Church, and Randall Ball, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church.

All offerings received at the service will be donated to the Howard County Family Service Center, 306 W. 3rd.

Fairer Sex Takes To Gridiron Tonight

The fairer sex takes to the gridiron tonight as two all-girl teams face off at 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium for Big Spring High School's benefit for the March of Dimes.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the Powderpuff football game will pit a junior-senior girls' team against a freshman-sophomore girls' squad.

More than 1,000 persons attended the last Powderpuff game, netting $250 for March of Dimes birth defects work.

"It was a close contest last year," said Craig Fischer, high school assistant principal. "The junior-senior team came back strong in the second half, winning 21-14 after the underclass team had led 14-0 at half time."

Boy cheerleaders, Key Club twirlers, traditional pre-game ceremonies, half-time entertainment and play-by-play reporting will all be part of the Powderpuff football game, according to Fischer.

The girls will follow flag football rules. No blocking will be allowed, but the players will be able to screen for their ball carriers.

Admission to the game is 50c for students and $1 for adults.

GUY JAMES

COMING HOME TRAUMATIC EXPERIENCE

Vietnam War-Rich Americans Now Flat Broke

Editors Note: Men grown rich and powerful by the Vietnam war were mostly rich by the time Saigon fell to the communists in April. In the first of two articles of these men, AP special correspondent Peter Arnett writes of the U.S. businessmen in Vietnam who gambled all on the country's future and lost.

By PETER ARNETT
AP Special Correspondent

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — By April of this year Clyde Bauer's 19 years of hard work in Indochina had built him a $3 million business domain.

Robert Burns was $150,000 ahead after recovering from two serious business reverses in South Vietnam.

Steve Konevitch happily contemplated his new $45,000, 65-foot freshwater boat moored in the Saigon river. It had been purchased from the proceeds of a lucrative contract he had netted with the U.S. government.

Now all three are flat broke in Southern California. Like more than a score of other American businessmen who invested their time and money in South Vietnam, they were financially wiped out by the Communist takeover of Saigon in April.

At the beginning of this year the Hollywood-born

Clyde Bauer was overseeing his 6,000 employees and considering establishing yet another chapter of the Lions Club. (He had already started 19 Lions Clubs in South Vietnam in the previous 10 years.) Now he is counting his unsuccessful job applications, 250 so far.

Robert Burns is doggedly attempting to collect the $150,000 which he figures five governments owe him. His last contract was providing food, drink and entertainment in Saigon to the International Control Commission comprised of Polish, Hungarian, Indonesian and Iranian delegations.

Steve Konevitch scrambled out of Vietnam on the last helicopter April 29 with $10 and a change of clothing, and is discovering that he is "too old for work at home, 46 going on 47." He worries about his business disaster in a two-roomed apartment in Hayward, Calif., with his Vietnamese wife and three children.

Adjusting to life back home without hopeful prospects has come hard to the three American expatriates who between them spent 44 comfortable years in Southeast Asia.

"Ironically, the Vietnamese who worked for us in Saigon are better off now in America than we are," said Clyde Bauer who personally arranged for 100 Vietnamese families — about 700 people — to be evacuated to the United States before Saigon fell.

How come these Americans didn't see the writing on the wall in Vietnam and get their money out?

"I kept telling myself I'm going home soon, but I never did," Bauer said. "All my business associates were Vietnamese who seemed to have confidence in the future, and it was catching."

Bauer started out in Saigon in 1956 as the agent for Lufthansa and Civil Air Transport airlines, and eventually established and controlled 12 companies involved in banking, insurance, automobile importing, fishing and travel. Bauer estimated that his share of his flourishing concerns was worth $3 million before Saigon's collapse.

Because he believed that "if a businessman takes something out of a country he has a responsibility to put it back," Bauer, a familiar figure in Saigon over the years, established his Lions Clubs, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the Vietnam Council on Foreign Relations, the Tourist Association and Vietnam, the Cancer Society — even the Vietnam Orchid Society.

Bauer also maintained close personal relations with President Nguyen Van Thieu and other senior officials, many related to his Vietnamese wife Simone. And he was close with American officials.

Robert Burns, born in Middleton, Pa., recalls "I should have known better, I should have gotten out earlier." But the former U.S. Air Force officer who had previously operated businesses in Thailand, kept reinvesting in Vietnam with profits from two contracts with the U.S. government, one to ship rice to Cambodia, the other to air-condition U.S. offices in Saigon.

Coming home was traumatic for all three.

While his wife hocked her jewelry to pay the rent, the newly-poor Bauer looked around for help "and I discovered that while we had lots of friends when we had money, they are not around now that we need them."

His former friends included some of his Vietnamese business associates now in America who were quietly sipping money out of the country while Bauer was reinvesting his own profits in Vietnam.

Bauer has even offered to work six months free to prove his managerial abilities "but it seems impossible to get any takers," he said.

Burns is working temporarily as an adviser to an old friend in the scrap metal business while attempting to recover the $150,000 he claims he is still owed. So far his daily registered letters, including two to the President of the United States, have resulted only in a letter from an aide to the Shah of Iran who suggested that Iran was responsible for only two per cent of the debt.

"Send the money," Burns immediately replied upon receipt of the letter.

Steve Konevitch, like the other two financially ruined Americans, maintains the independence that characterized their business activities abroad. None will accept welfare payments or consider food stamps.

"My pride won't allow me to say I'm broke," said Burns who tries to keep $10 in his bank account to keep it open.

Konevitch said: "The government is giving me nothing; I have not asked for it."

Bauer said: "I've helped Uncle Sam over the years. Maybe he could do us a favor to give us a chance again somewhere where we left off, and not as gas station attendants."

All three men see their only financial salvation as going into business again, and are talking with possible future partners. Bauer's lawyer lent him $25,000 to move into a modest home at Huntington Beach, and Bauer hopes to go into business with an inventor of electronic gadgets.

Konevitch is talking with a potential partner in the real estate business. Burns, who drives around Irvine, Calif., with "Vietnam Evacuated Americans, Jobs Needed," pointed on his auto, is calling up old contacts in government for contract leads.

For all three, life has turned upside down in just a few months.

Houston Really Has Dog Problems

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Houston veterinarians say dog and cat wastes litterally cover the Houston streets and could cause a health problem. Drs. Primo V. Arambulo III and James H. Steele said in a paper delivered Tuesday at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association that there are an estimated 178 billion hookworm eggs deposited daily by infected dogs in Houston alone. "The grounds and lawns of Houston are literally covered with a veneer of dog feces and urine," they said. They made no analysis of whether the problems are as severe in other cities. Arambulo, from the institute of public health at the University of the Philippines, Manila, is undertaking studies at the University of Texas school of public health. Steele is a professor there. They calculated from their sampling that 138.6 million

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ENGAGE IN WEATHER MODIFICATION ACTIVITIES. Notice is hereby given that the Colorado River Municipal Water District, 400 East 24th Street, Big Spring, Texas 77720, who holds License No. 76-5 of the State of Texas, issued December 18, 1974, and renewed September 1, 1975, intends to engage in an operation to change or attempt to change by artificial methods the natural development of atmospheric cloud forms for and on behalf of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 77720, and will conduct a program of weather modification designed to increase precipitation by means of the aerial application of silver iodide or other artificial nuclei as follows: 1. The area over, or within which, treatment may be operated shall include the counties of Lynn, Garza, Kent, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Glasscock, Sterling and Coke. 2. The target area, within which the precipitation is intended to be enhanced, can be described as follows: The boundary may be described by a line beginning at a point of origin at Big Spring, Texas, and running along Highway 87 in a northeasterly direction to Lamesa, thence north-northeast on Highway 87 to the north border of Dawson County, thence east along the north border of Dawson, Borden and Scurry Counties to Highway 84, thence southeast along Highway 84 to Roscoe, in Nolan County; thence south-southeast to Marfa, thence southwest to Silver in Coke County; thence south-southeast to Highway 87 at a point approximately 13 miles northwest of Sterling City; thence northwesterly along Highway 87 to the point of origin at Big Spring, Texas. 3. The materials, equipment and methods to be used in conducting the operation within this area are approximately 3500 square miles, include a 3 cm radar system, cloud seeding aircraft, and the application of silver iodide ice nuclei, hygroscopic nuclei or other nuclei considered appropriate to the official nuclearization of clouds or weather systems. 4. The person in charge of this program shall be Owen H. Ivie, Colorado River Municipal Water District, Big Spring, Texas. 5. The program will be operational during the period from March 1st to November 30 during the years 1976, 1977, 1978 and 1979. 6. Any persons who feel they may be affected in some adverse way by this program may file a complaint with the Texas Water Development Board, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. SIGNED: OWEN H. IVIE, Colorado River Municipal Water District. November 19, 26, December 3, 1975 pounds of feces and 32.3 million gallons of urine are deposited each year by the 500,000 dogs living in Houston. They said there is one dog for every three humans in Houston, with a density of 993 per square mile in the city. "These insulting and staggering quantities of liquid and solid effluents are literally dumped into the heart of the city where there are no facilities for their confined disposal and denaturation," they said. They added that young children frequently play nearby. The veterinarians said the wastes also create obnoxious odors and provide places for rats and flies to breed. They said the intestinal parasite eggs, including roundworm and tapeworm, may live for weeks or months — long after the wastes themselves have been absorbed in the ground. They said the parasites, when they infect humans, can attack the liver, eyes, lungs, skin, intestines and other organs, and cause serious illness, such as blood poisoning.

Theodore Steel, 16, has been held by juvenile authorities since Nov. 7 on a delinquency complaint filed by the Harris County district attorney and the Houston Police Department. Authorities said at the time the complaint was filed Steel would be arraigned on a charge of voluntary manslaughter, if Harvey died. Asst. Dist. Atty. Sara McIntosh said Steel will appear at a hearing next Monday in juvenile court where a judge will determine whether he is to be tried as an adult. Police said Harvey, son of Edward Harvey, had gone to the school apparently to settle an argument in behalf of his younger brother. Although the respirator technically kept the youth alive, his father said he considered his son dead. He said brain specialists said the youth's brain waves were flat and had advised the family there was no possibility for surgery. There had been speculation about disconnecting the machine and the father had sought opinions on that action.

Local Slate Will Attend TFB Confab

Delegates have been chosen by the Howard County chapter for the Texas Farm Bureau Federation meeting in San Antonio No. 30-Dec. 3. Neil Fryar, president, will head up the local slate. Among others going will be Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shaw, Knott, Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Blagrove, Ackerly, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Walker, Big Spring. Fryar noted that the Howard County chapter ended the fiscal year Oct. 31 with 1,008 members. It also recently purchased its own headquarters building at 1318 East Fourth. Among highlights of the TFB state parley will be an address by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, along with one by state president Carol Chaloupka, Dalhart. Delegates will be chosen to the national meeting Jan. 4-8 in St. Louis. Part of the state meeting will spot light the queen's contest, in which Tricia Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wayne Jackson, will represent this district.

DIDN'T LOSE HIS GRIP — Ricky Campbell, 4, of the Bronx, grasps a finger of Dr. Avron Daniller at New York's Montefiore Hospital recently. Last Sept. 13, Ricky was struck by a car and his hand was severed except for a single tendon and a single nerve. Dr. Daniller, who is from South Africa, was one of a team of eight doctors who worked on Ricky for 12 hours to restore the hand and repair the child's two broken legs.

Reagan Says Big Spring YMCA Teens U.S. Needs 'Power Transfer'

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan said Tuesday that a "massive transfer of power and programs" from federal government to state governments is the shot in the arm America needs. He spoke here as part of a nationwide tour that will end later this week in Washington, where Reagan is expected to announce his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination. Reagan told his audience at Memorial Auditorium, "For every minute that I speak to you, the government will spend $700,000." He criticized Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., for his proposed national health care program. Reagan said the health care program would "push the government's share of the gross national product from 37 to 45 per cent. I doubt that any of us can afford that much Teddycare."

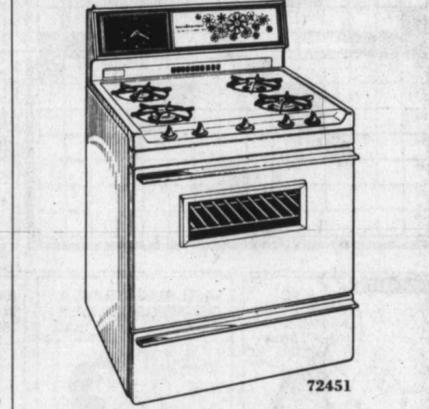

Rail Vets Will Meet Thursday

Big Spring Unit 130, National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees will meet in Kentwood Adult Activity Center at 2805 Lynn Drive 6:30 p.m., Thursday. At this meeting the Thanksgiving turkey meal will be served. This will be an important meeting and all members are urged to be present, officials said, since there will be nomination of officers and committee's to serve Unit 130. These will be elected at the December meeting and will be installed at the January meeting of 1976. Also there will be the regular business meeting with reports from officers and committee's.

Alaska Oil Piped To Texas Refineries?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Alaskan crude oil could be brought directly to Texas for refining, Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton said Tuesday. "We could benefit by having 400,000 barrels of oil a day flowing to Midland, Tex., by as early as 1978," Clayton told a news conference. Clayton urged Texas congressmen to promote a proposal by El Paso Natural Gas Co. filed with the Federal Power Commission which would allow the company to use idle natural gas lines across Arizona and New Mexico to transport Alaskan crude oil from California to Texas. He said it would require construction of about 200 miles of pipeline in California. After reaching Midland, Clayton said, the Alaskan crude would be channeled to various refinery centers, much of it to the Beaumont-Port Arthur and Houston areas. He said he understood El Paso Natural Gas, in cooperation with Standard Oil of Ohio, has twin natural gas pipelines now from California to Texas. In the near future they expect to need only one for transport of natural gas. Clayton also said he urged Congressmen to oppose a proposed amendment to the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act, already passed in the Senate and now in the House.

Wrens Celebrate 55th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wren, 700 E. 14th, recently celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary with a dinner given in their honor by their granddaughter and her husband, the Berry Parkers. The dinner was held Nov. 9 in the Ridgela Country Club in Fort Worth.

Attending the celebration were all the Wren's children, grandchildren and three great grandchildren. They presented the couple with a plaque set with an emerald, the gem symbol of the 55th anniversary. All the family members' names were engraved on the plaque.

The Wrens spent the following week visiting relatives in San Antonio, Austin and Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Wren were married on Nov. 5, 1920 in Snyder.

Wren retired from Phillips 66 several years ago.

They are members of the Baptist Temple Church and are active in the World War I Veterans group and both senior citizens clubs.

Lomax Club Slates Dinner

Lettie Acox Speaks About

RN Program

Mrs. Lettie Acox, director of the Associate Degree program for Registered Nurses at Howard College, spoke to the members of the Texas Nurses Association, District 24. The group met Tuesday evening at the State Hospital.

Mrs. Acox and several of her staff spoke about the RN program offered at Howard College. The program has recently received its accreditation and will accept 30 students for the class beginning in January. They explained the curriculum and clinical facilities at Howard College.

During a business meeting following the program, members made initial plan for a Christmas program to be held in December.

Praters Announce Birth Of Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Gary N. Prater, 1304 Stanford, announce the birth of their daughter, Jennifer Michelle, at 12:57 a.m. Nov. 17 in Medical Arts Hospital. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 5 3/4 ounces.

The Praters have a son, Ricky Nelson, 2 1/2 years old. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray N. Prater, 3215 11th Place, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Williams, 2305 Allendale Road.

Paternal great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto King, 1114 Mulberry, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd N. Prater, Hillsboro.

Maternal great grandparents are Mrs. Jewel Williams, 816 W. Seventh, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams, Knott, and Mrs. Lora Stoudt, Big Spring.

RECIPE FOR A SUCCESSFUL TEA — Jane Justin (right, standing) presented excerpts from her cookbook, "Mother Jane's Prescriptions for Hunger," during a tea honoring her that was held Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ike Robb. Mrs. Hayes Stripling (left) and Mrs. Roger Hefley (seated) were instrumental in bringing Mrs. Justin to Big Spring. Mrs. Justin also brought many place settings which she displayed with coordinating flower arrangements.

Neighbors Lose Sleep While Single Swings

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I live in a beautiful apartment complex. Recently, the apartment directly above us was rented to a young bachelor. This guy brings his girl friends home to spend the night with him. Since his bedroom is directly above ours, we are sometimes jolted wide awake at 2 or 3 a.m. by the sounds of their amorous activities.

We are in our late 20s and are not prudish, but we're tired of being awakened, losing sleep and feeling as though the ceiling will come down on us at any moment.

I say my husband should have a man-to-man talk with the guy. He says the guy probably doesn't care who hears him. We'll go to the manager of the complex only as a last resort. We love our apartment and don't want to move, but we'd like some uninterrupted sleep.

How should we handle this?

TWO SLEEPY PEOPLE
DEAR SLEEPY: Even if your neighbor doesn't care who hears him, he has no right to disturb you. Make a tape recording of the bedroom bedlam and have your husband present it to him as evidence. And if that doesn't work, play it for the manager. Sweet dreams.

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe in kissing on the first date? It seems to me that any guy who takes out a girl and spends his hard-earned money to show her a good time should be entitled to a goodnight kiss.

DISGUSTED WITH WOMEN
DEAR DISGUSTED: A kiss should not be expected in return for an evening's entertainment or anything else. It's strictly a voluntary show of real affection. And if two people feel like kissing on the first date — I say, why not?

DEAR ABBY: I love to cook and entertain, but it irritates me no end when after going to a lot of trouble to prepare a lovely company meal, a guest just picks at the food or says, "Sorry, I can't eat that," or, "No dessert for me, please."

Don't you think calorie-counters should show a little consideration for the hostess, enjoy whatever is served and diet at home?

ANNNOYED HOSTESS
DEAR ANNNOYED: No! Pressing food on calorie counters is as inexcusable as pressing alcohol on an alcoholic. Many people refuse dinner invitations to avoid the possibility of being forced to eat things they shouldn't just to please the hostess.

Staying at home leads to loneliness and depression, which in turn causes many people to eat out of self-pity.

So here's a plea to well-meaning hostesses: Consider calorie counters when you entertain. Have plenty of fresh fruit and vegetables, and DON'T ever point out that someone is eating very little, should you notice it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED IN DAYTON, OHIO: Please, please tell your mother TODAY that you think you might be pregnant. She will know what to do. No girl should have a baby at age 13.

Bridge Game To Benefit American Cancer Society

Bridge players in Big Spring will play a benefit game for the American Cancer Society, according to Jerry Yarbrough, local ACS chairman.

He announced that the American Contract Bridge League has designated the American Cancer Society as its "Charity of the Year" for 1975 in a nation-wide program to "Trump Out Cancer."

Arrangements for a game to be played at 1 p.m., Nov. 21, at Big Spring Country Club are being made by Sandra Rhodes, local ACBL representative. She said the Big Spring Country Club Duplicate will host the charity game which is open to all players interested in the fight against cancer. Regular game fees will be charged plus $1.00 per player designated for the American Cancer Society.

Jerry Yarbrough urged bridge players to make reservations early for this contract bridge game.

"The proceeds from these benefits," he said, "will be used in programs both here and nationally, including the support of vital research seeking new means of curing cancer." The Bridge League has more than 5,000 franchised clubs throughout the United States and other countries in the Western Hemisphere. The ACBL charity programs have contributed more than three million dollars to national charities over the last 30 years.

First Methodist To Host Dinner

The First United Methodist Church of Big Spring will host a family night Country-Western barbecue dinner on Sunday, beginning at 6 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church.

Barbecue and a variety of complimenting dishes will be served for $2.50 per adult and $1 per child 12 and under. The meal will be prepared and served by the United Methodist Men with all profits from the dinner donated to the children's choir, The Joysingers.

Country-Western music will be presented during the evening by the Nuts and Bolts, Beverly Beil and Don Tolle.

Kenneth Wyatt, a well-known Western artist from Tulsa, will be the guest speaker. He is known as a great humorist and after-dinner speaker and is in constant demand for various speaking engagements.

Wyatt's ambition is to paint 5000 paintings in his lifetime. The acceptance of Wyatt's works by cattle and horse-oriented people of the Great Plains is a tribute to his artistic ability. More than 1400 of his paintings have been sold to more than 600 patrons in the past eight years. The list of owners include such notable political figures as Congressman George Mahan and Senator Jack Hightower and Ken Curtis, who was Festus in "Gunsmoke."

Wyatt will display several of his paintings Sunday evening in the church parlor.

Louisville Likes Nickels

LOUISVILLE AP — Chances are 10 to one that somebody who makes a 10-cent phone call here will use two nickels.

Louisvilians and their respect for the 5-cent piece are posing peculiar problems for the Federal Reserve Bank. Dimes go begging in Louisville, while banks want to stock up on nickels.

Stewart's Department Store confirms it; people want change in nickels, not dimes. Nobody knows why.

The Federal Reserve is fighting back. It has asked fast-food restaurants to give change in dimes, not nickels.

CHARGED WITH EXTORTION OF BANK — Josephine Walker, 21, is taken into custody by F.B.I. agents in Miami, Fla. Monday. Walker was charged with extortion after the President of Florida's largest bank, Southeast First National Bank in Miami, met demands that he drop off money or his bank and home would be bombed.

Nixon Says Americans Need Rekindled Spirit

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon says American lives may have to be threatened by war to rekindle Americans' belief in the United States and in the country's need for strength.

In his most extensive remarks since he was forced from office by the Watergate scandal, Nixon told the Ladies Home Journal, "We are so cynical, so disbelieving — it may take the shock of an invasion in Korea or in Thailand. If American lives are threatened, we may regain our sense of belief in our country and our need for strength."

Businessman-author William M. Fine conducted the unpaid, copyrighted interview for the Journal in May at Nixon's home in San Clemente, Calif.

Nixon had begun the interview by asking Fine, "How is the world in general, and what do they think of me lately?"

And at another point the former President said, "Yes, I know all the things that were and are still being said about me. Do you think the mood of the people is changing?" The article included no remarks about the Watergate scandal.

Nixon noted the potential peril in a dispirited America: "We are a compromised country at the moment. The Communist countries don't need any troops or military acts right now."

"They can just keep add-

Krueger Reports On Burleson Bill

WASHINGTON — Congressman Bob Krueger of the 21st District today reported on the status of the so-called Burleson amendment to the Social Security Act; the amendment grants an exemption to hospitals in small rural communities from Social Security-Medicare requirements that all hospitals furnish 24-hour nursing care by a registered nurse, seven days a week.

Congressman Omar Burleson of the 17th District of Texas, the author of the amendment, said the full Ways and Means Committee has approved a three-year extension of the amendment, and it was scheduled for a House vote on Nov. 17.

ing pressure points and take strategic advantage in the Far East and Middle East. Japan will be questioning its position regularly. We gave the Philippines their independence too soon, I fear."

"... Anyhow, if the church and the media and business and educators all allow the undermining of our strength and values, we will keep drifting that way — and our allies in the Far East won't put any belief in our commitments. I worry most about Japan."

To counter what he sees as a loss of pride, Nixon said, "I think I would ask five or six of the best brains around me to go off on a retreat for several weeks and ponder some things — how we could make our people feel more pride, not be so concerned with Arab wealth.

"What's wrong with being the second wealthiest country for a while? We as a country have to provide strength and leadership."

COLLEGE STATION — The vagaries of weather along with the economic system in the Soviet Union continue to limit the potential of agricultural development in that country.

That testimony comes from the director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station after a first-hand look at agriculture in Russia.

"The Soviet Union is making a major, substantial effort to improve its agricultural industry as evidenced by a pouring in of capital investment and

Post Sponsoring Arts, Crafts Fair

POST — The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring a cultural arts and crafts fair here Friday and Saturday. The fair will open at 1 p.m. Friday and close at 7 p.m., and at 9 a.m. and close at 4 p.m. Saturday. Indian jewelry, art, all kinds of hand-made crafts and other items, along with baked goods, will be offered. The Garza County HD clubs are assisting in the fair.

research resources," said Dr. Jarvis E. Miller, director of the state's agricultural research agency, following a three-week research visit to that country. "However, in spite of good soil and water resources, weather problems and a variable rainfall distribution have limited agricultural development. Also, the country's economic system fails to provide competition and economic incentives to farm managers."

"Soviet agriculture has a long way to go to measure up to the efficiency and productivity of the agricultural industry we have here in the United States," emphasized Miller.

As an example of the efforts the Soviets are making to improve livestock production, Miller pointed out that a 20,000-head capacity cattle feedlot had been imported from the U.S.

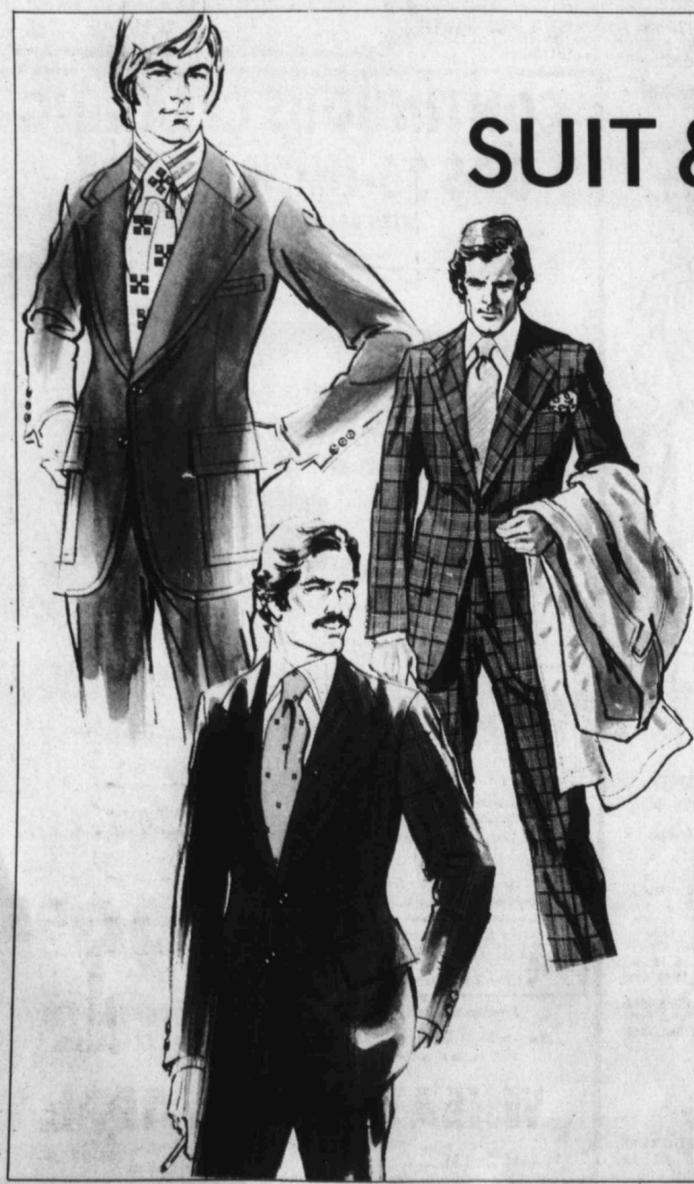

He reported that farms in the Soviet Union operate as state and cooperative farms and range in size from 15,000 to 20,000 acres. Each farm has a technical support staff of five to eight specialists in various fields. Nevertheless, the Soviets will continue to need large quantities of grain and likely will look to the U.S. for it.

NATIONAL LEAGUE Morgan Picked Most Valuable

OAKLAND (AP) — Joe Morgan says he always was his team's smallest player from Little League to the major leagues. But he won the National League Most Valuable Player award by being a "complete player."

As the Big Red Machine ground out pennant and World Series victories this season, Morgan hit .327, fourth in the league, and reached base safely about half the times he came to bat. His 132 walks led the league, his 67 stolen bases on 77 attempts were second, his 107 runs were fourth. He drove in 97 runs, smashed 17 home runs and 27 doubles. He capped the season with the winning hit off Boston in the seventh game of the World Series.

After being selected MVP Tuesday, Morgan said: "The thing I'm most surprised about was the margin of victory. It was the largest margin in the history of the award. That's quite an honor."

Morgan got 321 1/2 points in the balloting, followed by Philadelphia Phillies outfielder Greg Luzinski with 154 and the Pittsburgh Pirates' Dave Parker with 120.

"The only thing that separates me from other guys with great credentials is that I do more things," he said. "Luzinski didn't run bases and steal like Joe Morgan. But on the other hand, I didn't hit home runs like he did."

Morgan's baseball career started in lower middle-class East Oakland, at the foot of the hills where he, his wife and two children now live in a fashionable home with a swimming pool.

"I was always the smallest guy on all the teams I played for, starting with Little League. But I always was the best hitter on the team, always hit more home runs and things like that," he recalls. "Size was never a hindrance to me; it just was in other people's minds. A lot of scouts used to tell me, 'You're a great little ballplayer. I wish I could sign you.'"

"That never really bothered me. I always figured they were the ones who were losing, not me."

After a year at Oakland City College, Morgan was signed in 1963 by Houston for a $3,000 bonus. Eleven years later, Morgan reacted with subdued joy at receiving baseball's highest award.

STEERS' BILL ARENCIBIA AIM ACCURATE Teammate Elroy Green (24) Watching

Steers Experience Down-To-Wire Loss

BY CLARK LESHER The best home crowd in three years filled the Steer gym Tuesday to show its support by watching Big Spring battle Andrews down to the wire only to lose, 71-69.

Opening the lid to the 1975-76 season, Big Spring, anxious to play, was unable to overcome early game tension until the final frame. Behind as much as 11 points, 51-40, Big Spring closed in on Andrews at 2:35 of the final stanza. Elroy Green's floor shot cut the Steer deficit to only two points, 65-63.

But Andrews' ability to hit from the charity line, 33 of 41, compared to Big Spring's nine of 23, plus the Mustangs' Tony Bailey's hot-shot charity line showing proved to be the game winning factor.

Bailey, who wore jersey No. 14, and hit over-all 14 out of 14 free throw attempts, tossed in his 11th and 12th from the line to move the visitors ahead by four, 67-43.

James Ray kept the Steers in contention by canning a field goal, lowering the point spread to 67-65. Andrews then went into a semi-stall, was fouled, and collected two more gift points by Tim Culp. Again the referee whistle was blown against Big Spring and Bailey's 13th and 14th charity contributions proved to be the tribulations win clincher with only 37 seconds to go.

Not to be counted out, Big Spring continued to make a run for it until the final buzzer was sounded. Richard Aldridge zipped in two from the floor at the 24-second mark with James Zapp banging in a field goal with only one second to go, slicing the final margin two points.

The Steers were forced to play the crucial remaining seconds of the game without Ray and Green who fouled out. Ray, Green and Richard Zapp were hit with three personals in the first quarter.

Big Spring was besieged with 22 fouls the first half while the whistle was blown outscored the Sands Mustangs, 20-2, in the opening quarter on its way to a 63-49 victory here Tuesday night. Bobby Evans' team was making its 1975-76 debut.

The Buffaloes poured to competition Friday night against Coahoma in Forsan. Three games are on tap, with the girls' B team clashing in the opener.

Freshman Randy Cregar led the Buffaloes with 18 points while junior Ralph Miranda had 16 for the winners.

Ruff Graded Top Lineman CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Brian Ruff, who says "If they can't score, you can't lose," is the Associated Press College Lineman of the Week. Ruff carries out his philosophy at linebacker for The Citadel and earned the designation with a standout performance Saturday.

It was against cross-state rival Furman in a battle of Southern Conference teams. The Citadel won 13-9 as Ruff made eight tackles, assisted on 11 more, pounced on two Furman fumbles, sacked the quarterback once and broke up one pass.

He was selected over Gary Collins, Colorado linebaker, who starred in a 24-21 win over Kansas.

Ruff is a junior who has started for the Bulldogs since coming to Charleston from Mountainside, N.J.

COLLEGE POLL A&I Lead Holds

By The Associated Press

Texas A&I continues to lead The Associated Press college division football poll by a healthy margin.

A&I raised its record to 9-0 last Saturday with a 48-18 romp over Howard Payne. The Javelinas collected 29 first-place votes and a total of 385 points in voting Tuesday by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

North Dakota, also 9-0, provided the closest competition, holding out second place with five first-place ballots and 341 points. North Dakota was idle last week.

Grambling, 9-1 after shutting out Norfolk State 26-0, moved up one place to third with one first-place vote and 290 points. Western Kentucky, 8-1 after taking the weekend off, advanced one spot to fourth with 221 points.

Henderson State, 10-0 after beating Central Arkansas 13-7, jumped from seventh to fifth with 188 points.

Northern Michigan, 10-1, was up from ninth to sixth and got one first-place vote. Boise State, 8-1-1 after getting clubbed 42-19 by Utah State, dropped from third to seventh. Bethune Cookman, 9-0, moved up from 12th to eighth. Ithaca, 9-0, advanced one position to ninth with the help of one first-place vote, and Wittenberg, 9-1, dropped from sixth to 10th after losing to Muskingum 9-0.

Rounding out the top 15 were Jackson State, 7-2; Northern Iowa, 9-2; Lehigh, 8-2; Eastern Kentucky, 7-2-1, and Massachusetts, 8-1.

On his 71-yard run, the 5-foot-11, 180-pounder took a pitch, left defenders lunging at the corner and maneuvered with innate ease to shake loose from a sideline jamble. "The talent I have is God-given," Dorsett has said.

DALLAS (AP) — The subject got around to Bill Bradley like it always does when the Dallas Cowboys are preparing to meet the Philadelphia Eagles.

Bradley, a former star at the University of Texas, plays with fanatical fervor at defensive safety when the two National Football League teams play and more than once has been flagged for a personal foul or two.

"Bradley is a good football player and wants to win badly," said Cowboy Coach Tom Landry Tuesday. "He hits late some, but he is a player I respect because he is a guy who wants to win."

"He may hit late only against us because he's from Texas and he likes to beat us. He doesn't want to hear any Cowboy talk when he comes home (Palestine, Tex.)."

The Eagle safety is one of the more respected members of a much-maligned Philadelphia defense.

It's ironic that Bradley recently beat out Landry, a former defensive back for the New York Giants, when the All-Time Texas Professional Football team was voted upon by the fans of the state.

Only a few boos greeted Bradley when he was introduced at halftime of the Nov. 10 Kansas City-Dallas game.

Bradley said he doesn't play any harder against the Cowboys than he does any other team.

"Nobody down there gets to see me play except against the Cowboys," said Bradley.

Landry said there always appears to be "bad blood" between the two teams mostly because the Eagles are so "frustrated."

"Philadelphia is just trying to be competitive and it's strictly because we have been on top," said Landry. "I'd be frustrated myself. It's kind of like our old Cleveland series where they use to beat us all the time."

Philadelphia hasn't won in Dallas since 1965 and the Cowboys own an 18-12 edge in the series.

Landry said it was ridiculous for his team to be made an eight-point favorite although Dallas is 6-3 compared to the Eagles' 2-7 ledger.

Dallas beat the Eagles 13-10 on a Tom Fritsch field goal at the gun the last time the teams met in Philadelphia.

DECRIES WOMEN'S SPORTS TRENDS — Bessie H. Rudd, 80-year-old retired women's physical education director at Brown University is the first woman elected to Brown's Athletic Hall of Fame. "Title 9 has ruined (women's sports)," she said. "It has stressed varsity sports, to my mind, out of all proportion."

Dorsett Superb

PITTSBURGH (AP) — He still doesn't have his act together in the end zone, but the artistry Tony Dorsett uses to get there made him Associated Press Back of the Week today in college football.

He averaged 13 yards per try in rushing for 303 yards Saturday in Pitt's 34-20 victory over Notre Dame. One of his two touchdowns came on a classic 71-yard run; he carried a short pass 49 yards for the other.

"He's the best we've seen all year," said Notre Dame announcer Paul Hornung. "Superb isn't a good enough adjective," said Pitt Coach Johnny Majors.

"Fantastic," said Penn State Coach Joe Paterno. They spoke of Dorsett between goal lines. In the end zone, he was still dogged by inconsistency, lack of originality and hot-dogging that backfired.

On his 71-yard run, the 5-foot-11, 180-pounder took a pitch, left defenders lunging at the corner and maneuvered with innate ease to shake loose from a sideline jamble. "The talent I have is God-given," Dorsett has said.

Phillips said he opposed any plan to use instant replay cameras in deciding controversial decisions.

"I'd hate like the devil to take the human factor out of pro football and have to go look at a TV screen after every play," Phillips said.

Phillips said the instant replay would seriously slow down games and possibly would make officials hesitant to make a close call with the instant replay camera looking over his shoulder.

"I just definitely wouldn't want it," Phillips said. "I don't think we should ever get that mechanical."

Winner Can Win No More HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Jets fired head coach Charley Winner today, replacing him with Ken Shipp, the club's offensive coordinator, who will run the National Football League team for the final five weeks of the current season, The Associated Press learned.

Bob Burris, Big Spring High athletic director and head football coach speaks highly of Terry Metcalf, St. Louis Football Cardinals prize possession.

Burris has mixed emotions about where Metcalf should have played his college ball. While at Oklahoma State University as an assistant coach, Burris was told of Metcalf's ability and signed him to a national letter of intent in Seattle.

But here exit OSU, enter Long Beach State. The California school also learned of Metcalf and violated NCAA rules by obtaining his services.

Long Beach State has been in and out of NCAA trouble ever since and is currently on probation, stemming from the Metcalf incident plus other unethical athletic practices.

Willie Starr, 6-1 Howard College freshman from Nacogdoches, issued the uniform with No. 45, as Hawk Assistant coach Leroy McClendon's nephew.

What might become a yearly feature, plans are being worked out to send a major league baseball all-star team to Cuba next spring for an exhibition series.

If this receives the State Department's seal of approval, it will renew pro-sports communications there for the first time since political relations were broken off 15 years ago. Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn has been hard at work on the trip for more than a year.

"This gonna be the foot race of the century," said Bigmouth Bobby Riggs, who helped bring tennis to national attention with a pair of matches against women two years ago. He will race experienced distance runner Bill Emmerton across the floor of the desert on Dec. 15.

The race, in typical Riggs fashion, will be a handicap affair. Emmerton, 56, has run across Death Valley three times and is the "world record holder" for the pace. He is to run 100 miles. Riggs gets a 50-mile head start.

Both are hoping for sponsorship. "Bobby was talking about a $100,000 winner-take-all purse," said Emmerton, "but I'm not so sure I like that idea. He's the craziest man I've ever met."

I understand that a fledgling lobbyist must go through to get a bill passed in legislature after attending the District 5-4A meeting feted by Permian High Monday in Odessa.

The somewhat lengthy get-together to select the all-district team started in the morning, stretching out to middle of the afternoon. The selection bears a Sunday release date.

Grif as he is called wanted to acknowledge the outstanding crowd support that turned out for the game.

Phillips' PHILOSOPHY Feels Officiating Two-Sided Coin

HOUSTON (AP) — O. A. "Bum" Phillips, the Houston Oilers' realistic head coach, recognizes National Football League officiating as a two-sided coin—even if he occasionally loses the flip.

"One thing nobody ever points out are the calls that go their way," Phillips said. "You can take any NFL game film and find calls that officials didn't make against a particular team."

"That means to me the officials are at least being equal. I have great faith in our officials. They are doing the best they can and they are trying to improve."

A major controversy erupted Nov. 9 when Pittsburgh defeated the Oilers 24-17 in Pittsburgh.

Billy Johnson lost a tug-of-war for the ball in the end zone with Steeler defender Mel Blount. The Oilers thought it was a touchdown but the official ruled it an interception.

While the Oilers didn't agree with that call, Phillips said Houston got a break on another key play in the Pittsburgh game.

"When Dan Pastorini quick-kicked 66 yards it drastically changed Pitt's burgh's field position," Phillips said. "But we had a tight end downfield on the kick and the official didn't call it. That could have been a very crucial play."

"It's a tossup," said Landry. "You can look at our last nine games and come to that conclusion. They've all been close except one."

Philadelphia hasn't won in Dallas since 1965 and the Cowboys own an 18-12 edge in the series.

Landry said it was ridiculous for his team to be made an eight-point favorite although Dallas is 6-3 compared to the Eagles' 2-7 ledger.

Dallas beat the Eagles 13-10 on a Tom Fritsch field goal at the gun the last time the teams met in Philadelphia.

"It's a tossup," said Landry. "You can look at our last nine games and come to that conclusion. They've all been close except one."

Inner Peace Lecture Here

Patricia Parker, regional officer for the Inner Peace Movement (IPM), will give an introductory lecture tonight, 7:30, at the Pioneer Natural Gas Building.

IPM is a program of psychic awareness, teaching energy tools and techniques to develop inner materials.

This is Ms. Parker's third trip to Big Spring as part of a West Texas tour. After the lecture tonight, an eight-week Self Discovery group will be formed to be led by local trained IPM leaders.

Admission for tonight's lecture is $1.50. For more information contact Ms. Parker who will be staying at the Ponderosa Motel, Big Spring.

Motorcycle Rider Killed

ODESSA — Jackie Lee Christian, 18, of Odessa was killed early Tuesday morning when a motorcycle he was riding collided with a car in west Odessa.

Glenda Hollingsworth, 26, driver of the car, was treated at an Odessa hospital for leg and back injuries. She was pinned in the overturned car about 20 minutes. The cycle was thrown 97 feet from point of impact.

Bicentennial Airliner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Artist and sculptor Alexander Calder's latest work — an airliner painted in Bicentennial plumage — has been praised by First Lady Betty Ford as "an attractive, bigger-than-life reminder that 1976 is our Bicentennial year."

The "Flying Colors" Boeing 727 for which Braniff International commissioned Calder to design a new exterior paint job for was dedicated Monday at Dulles International Airport.

The second Braniff plane painted to a Calder design in the last several years, this one suggests a flying flag with red and blue wave-like designs on a white background.

Scholarship Grant

SNYDER — The Scurry County Junior College District trustees have accepted a $25,000 scholarship grant from the Carl B. and Florence E. King Foundation of Dallas.

The grant will provide funds for scholarships in the field of petroleum technology. The grant itself is a permanent endowment. Its earnings are expected to yield two annual scholarships of $800 each.

Storms Out Of School

VERNON, Conn. (AP) — School officials say Carroll Spinney, who plays Big Bird on the Sesame Street television program, stormed out of a school and cancelled three scheduled performances.

Principal David Engelson said Spinney, invited by a parent-teachers group to perform at three elementary schools Monday, arrived 70 minutes late at the first school and said he had been lost in Vernon.

Engelson said when he suggested Spinney skip the first show to be on time for the second, Spinney responded: "The hell with all of you."

Then, the principal said, the performer "ran out so fast..." Officials said he did not show up for the other two shows.

Sales Tax Rebates

Area towns received their sales tax rebates this week for the month of October. As announced by the city finance director earlier this week, Big Spring's check was $44,075.67.

Lamesa received $15,434.69; Snyder, $24,439.12; Stanton, $2,098.04; Sterling City, $614.68; Sweetwater, $16,795.35; and Roscoe, $1,419.69.

Some of the larger West Texas cities received sizable amounts including Abilene with $138,902.06; Lubbock, $348,556.49; Midland, $117,816.18; Odessa, $184,167.71 and San Angelo, $86,149.28.

Thaye Lewis In Rodeo Finals

Mrs. Thaye Lewis, Big Spring's top cowgirl is among the 15 best in the nation this year and will take part in the national finals in rodeo at Oklahoma City Dec. 6-14.

According to her husband, Jack Lewis, Thaye plans to enter the finals. She is listed as 12th in the top 15 that are eligible, having earned $5,611 during the season.

Another cowgirl who is well known in Big Spring, Miss Kay Proctor of Odessa, a former Howard College student, was seventh with winnings of $7,791. She also will enter the finals.

Thugs Steal Van, Pickup

Harold Barner reported a Sanitary Linen Van missing from in front of the Sands Motel room where he spent the night Tuesday.

This was the second vehicle reported stolen in the past 24 hours. H. V. (Sonny) Crocker Jr. reported his 1971 pickup stolen from in front of the Giant Food Store while he was delivering newspapers to the store.

Police found the stack of papers thrown out of the back of the pickup, but have not yet located the stolen vehicle.

THEFTS

Glen Perry reported a theft from auto at 3301 W. 80 when a CB radio was taken. Window was broken to gain entry.

VANDALISM

Jimmy Young, 1102 E. 15th reported criminal mischief to his car. Damage estimated at $300.

Love Field Terminal Now Fun Paradise

DALLAS (AP) — Two years ago the Love Field main passenger terminal seemed destined to join the mobball fleet of municipal buildings whose usefulness to the city was over.

The eight major airlines using the building pulled out their ticket counters and moved to the new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport in 1973, leaving the 2½-acre building almost empty.

But this week people returned to the terminal to find Love — a multi-million dollar indoor amusement center complete with three movie theaters, ice and roller skating rinks, dance floors and restaurants.

"To my knowledge, this is the first massive recycling of an old airport terminal in the country," said Pierce Allman, a Love spokesman.

The Love Field terminal was opened in 1957. Its demise was confirmed in 1969 when Dallas and Fort Worth city officials agreed to build a joint airport between the two cities.

Wes Goyer, one of the originators of the Six Flags over Texas theme amusement park, said the Love concept had been in his head for 10 years. In April 1974 the Dallas City Council leased him the terminal. Construction began a year later.

Goyer said he made no structural changes in the terminal. He even left the old tree-filled garden, which can

Complete Stepouts

Two upper Cisco gas producers have been completed as stepouts to the Credo East (upper Cisco gas and Wolfcamp oil) 11 miles, northwest of Sterling City.

HENG Oil No. 1-4 Wilkinson, half a mile southwest of production, completed for a calculated open hole flow of 1,425,000 cubic feet of gas daily with a gas-liquid ratio of 330,000-1, condensate 53.2 gravity. Flow was from perforations 7,384-541, fraced with 56,000 gallons. Location is 400 from the north and west lines of section 4-23, H&TC.

HENG No. 1-9 Wilkinson, is a half-mile northwest stepout, and rated one million cubic feet of gas daily with gas-liquid ratio 102,000-1, condensate 53.2 gravity. Perforations 7,202-644 were fraced with 68,000 gallons. The well is a re-entry of Monsanto No. 1 Virginia, drilled to 7,167 in 1967 and is 2,310 from the north and 660 feet from the east lines section 9-23, H&TC.

In Mitchell County, Dorchester No. 4-A Spade was below 3,475 in dolomite and lime.

Covina No. 3 Holton, a Dawson ventured, made hole below 3,600 feet.

UV Industries No. 4-A Flynt, Martin explorer, was below 10,604.

Two Bound For Prison

The Howard County Sheriff's Office transferred two prisoners to the Texas Department of Corrections (TDC) today.

James Lonnie Howard, 31, Gail Route Box 273, was cited for parole violation in a TDC hearing Tuesday afternoon.

Howard, who was sentenced to four years in 1973 for theft by bailer here was accused of failure to report to his parole officer in Colorado and of moving out of Colorado without permission. He denied the accusations.

Patricia Palmer, 21, 309 Dundee St., faces six years for revocation of probation. She was on probation for check forgery when evidence was presented 118th District Court that she committed the same offense again.

Howard was placed on a prison bus, but Miss Palmer left with a deputy and his wife for Huntsville. Female prisoners are not carried on the prison bus.

Enrollment in Big Spring schools dropped by 10 last week, precisely the number which withdrew from the Senior High rolls.

Elementary totals of 3,254 were down three. Runnels Junior High picked up a couple, leaving the secondary net loss eight in dipping to 3,106. Hospital and homebound enrollment of 115 was up one. This accounted for a week's end total of 6,485, or 31 under the comparable date a year ago.

Says Drug Companies Endanger Lives To Boost Foreign Profits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Multinational drug companies advise doctors in Latin America that the painkilling drug dipyrone is useful in treating "varied minor ailments," despite U.S. law that limits its use to only the most serious cases, asserts writer Robert Ledogar.

Dipyrone and some other drugs available only by doctor's prescription in this country are sold over-the-counter in Latin America, where drug laws are less strict and not so rigidly enforced.

In his soon-to-be published book, Ledogar contends that American drug companies take advantage of the weak laws and lax enforcement in Latin America to push drugs in ways that endanger lives but boost profits. The book, "Hungry for Profits: U.S. Food and Drug Multinationals in Latin America and the Caribbean," says that drug companies ignore the widespread practice of "self-medication" — obtaining drugs without prescriptions — and refuse to change their practices.

The companies reply that they comply with the laws of each country in which they operate, he says.

In the United States, drug laws are among the tightest in the world and are enforced with a vigor that is not seen in the underdeveloped nations of the world, Ledogar adds.

The book says Latin American governments do not devote the resources to enforcement of drug laws that are expanded in this country. Realizing this, the drug companies fail to meet their obligation to protect people's lives beyond simple compliance with the law, Ledogar argues.

Barry Carson, national sales manager for Compact Apparel Inc., which sells the jeans for the manufacturer, Maglificio and Calzificio Torinese of Turin said the ad campaign was the brainchild of the Italian manufacturer.

According to the apparel company, Vatican denunciations of the campaign in Italy and a question raised about it in the British Parliament had brought no change in the company policy.

Hundreds of protest letters and calls have resulted in promises to dismantle one billboard. Bloomingdale's department store says it has canceled its spring order of the jeans, and other retailers are being requested to do the same.

"We don't want any publicity," said George W. Newman, the chairman of Allied Outdoor Advertising Inc., who put up the billboard at 54th Street and Third Avenue. "We're going to take the sign down. It was one of those things that slipped by us."

"The concept is wholly offensive," said the Rev. Kenneth Jadoff of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York. "They are making money off something Christians all over the world hold sacred" with a merchandising campaign that is "less than tasteful."

"The biggest drug ring in the country is an American institution, the cocktail party," an alcoholism expert said today.

"While some drug rings which deal in illicit or controlled substances are secretive, insular and illegal," John J. Lavino, director of health services for the Kemper Insurance Companies said, "Thousands of cocktail parties which promote the further abuse of alcohol, the most abused drug in our society, are held openly every day."

Recommend that cocktail parties become friendly get-togethers rather than an "excuse" for drinking, Lavino said the cocktail party is probably one of the worst possible settings imaginable for responsible social drinking.

"People at cocktail parties are often strangers to each other who are a little tense or ill at ease, and often hungry," he said. "Frequently no substantial food is offered during the course of a party which can run for hours."

Lavino recommended the following guidelines for party situations:

Offer a variety of soft drinks and fruit juices in addition to alcoholic beverages, so that guests who don't want to drink, or only want one or two, can sip non-alcoholic drinks.

Don't serve doubles without a person's knowledge and don't push refills.

Keep people eating. Many cocktail parties fall between the end of the work day and dinner. Be sure hors d'oeuvres or snacks are served right from the start of the party to its conclusion. If dinner is planned, don't wait long before ushering people towards the table.

Be sure to introduce people and get conversations started so that guests don't just sit and drink.

It's your responsibility if someone gets drunk. See that he or she gets home safely and it may be best if they stay overnight. In any case, they should not drive. The only remedy for sobering up someone who is drunk, is time.

Jeans Ad Protest Causes Removal

NEW YORK (AP) — Two billboards, displaying a woman's posterior clad in tight-fitting shorts and branded with the Biblical inscription, "He who loves me, follows me," are part of an ad campaign that has drawn denunciations from the Vatican, prompted debate in the British Parliament and attracted hundreds of protest letters and calls.

The advertising on Manhattan's East Side is for Italian slacks called "Jesus Jeans."

"The concept is wholly offensive," said the Rev. Kenneth Jadoff of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York. "They are making money off something Christians all over the world hold sacred" with a merchandising campaign that is "less than tasteful."
