Blizzard Buries Plains

By The Associated Press

Snow and high winds continued to batter the upper Midwest today as the Central Plains states dug out from the season's first blizzard.

Up to 16 inches of wet snow covered sections of Minnesota. The Nebraska State Patrol urged motorists to stay off Interstate 80. The jail in Springfield, Colo., housed stranded motorists for the second night.

The storm swept out of eastern Colorado on Thursday into Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. It spread blizzard conditions into the Dakotas, Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin before day's end. Schools were closed, highways blocked, airline flights canceled and power outages were reported throughout the region. The Kansas Highway Patrol said a farmer trapped in a field on his tractor for 10 hours was rescued unharmed.

At least three deaths were attributed to the storm. A truck driver was killed when his tractor-trailer jackknifed on a Nebraska highway. Two men in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area died, apparently of heart attacks, while shoveling snow.

South Dakota authorities were still searching for an Ethan, S.D., woman, Joyce Negebauer, whose abandoned truck was found on U.S. 289. One man was reported missing in Colorado.

The National Weather Service said a deep low pressure area over Southwest Iowa caused the storm that ended an extra-long Indian summer in the Midwest.

Charged With Cashing Check Missing From Finance Office

A warrant was issued Thursday for Albert Joseph Multari, 22, on a felony complaint involving the passing of a check said to be taken without authorization from the City of Big Spring.

The check is one of 11 General Fund checks missing from the city's finance department. The check, for more than $400, was passed at a local bank.

City officials said that checks missing from the finance department were blank at the time they were taken. City police have been investigating the loss of these checks.

District Attorney Bob Moore said that Multari had been identified in connection with the case, and that the suspect, formerly stationed here, is now out of state. He had no connection with the city, but the police are continuing the internal investigation on the missing checks.

Charges Considered In CIA Murder Plots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department officials are still weighing whether to bring charges against those involved in the assassination plots described by the Senate intelligence committee.

Department officials are studying a series of statutes for possible use in any prosecution, including a cover-up charge. A spokesman says that Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi will either seek indictments or publicly explain why not in a report on his department's investigation into all categories of alleged CIA wrongdoing.

In its 346-page report made public Thursday, the committee said U.S. officials had investigated at least eight assassination plots against Cuba's Fidel Castro and had launched another scheme to kill Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba. The panel also described the U.S. government as implicated in the killing of Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo.

Of the nine foreign leaders mentioned in the report, only Fidel Castro and his brother Raul are still alive.

But the committee said, "No foreign leaders were killed as a result of assassination plots initiated by officials of the United States."

Neither President Ford nor the CIA commented on the report.

The panel noted with surprise that "there is presently no statute making it a crime to assassinate a foreign official outside the United States" and urged Congress to enact such a law.

Its report told of a CIA official at the agency's old Washington headquarters who was asked to develop plans to kill Lumumba in 1960 and raised the prospect "that conspiracy to commit murder being done in the District of Columbia might be in violation of federal law."

A second official, Richard

Bissell, then head of the agency's clandestine services, "airily dismissed" the prospect, according to evidence submitted to the committee.

Justice Department officials say they are examining the possibility of prosecutions based on any cover-up of the assassination plots. To bring such a charge they would first have to decide that a crime had been committed.

In considering that decision, the law which Justice Department officials are examining most closely makes it a felony to investigate, support or take part in "any military or naval expedition or enterprise" against leaders of a foreign country with which the United States is at peace.

In addition to the Castro and Lumumba plots and the Trujillo affair, government officials also were aware of plots against South Vietnamese president Ngo Dinh Diem and Chilean army chief Rene Schneider where "the risk of death" existed, the committee said.

The 11-member panel also said it came across "evidence of CIA involvement in plans to assassinate President Sukarno of Indonesia and 'Papa Doc' Duvalier of Haiti." Assassination plots against Castro "sometimes contemplated action against Raul Castro and Che Guevara" as well, the committee found.

"The committee also said 'there was insufficient evidence' that Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy or Johnson or any of their close advisers authorized the assassination of Castro."

The committee "found concrete evidence of at least eight plots involving the CIA to assassinate Fidel Castro from 1960 to 1965" using a variety of devices which "ran the gamut from high-powered rifles to poison pills, poison pens, deadly bacterial powders and other devices which strain the imagination." On at least two occasions the plots "progressed to the point of

LACK OF SCHOOL BUSES ASSAILED 'Goals For Progress' Receives Green Light

By TROY BRYANT

About 65 persons gathered at the Howard College Auditorium Thursday night to air their views on the 54 proposed "goals for progress" for Big Spring, but no new goals were suggested and none of the proposed goals were opposed by the group.

According to Steering Committee Chairman and moderator Tom Locke, two goals will be reworded to reflect opinions presented at the town hall meeting and the list will be published as the final "goals for Big Spring."

One area of contention was that of the lack of school buses to take students from the north side to high school.

Gus Ochotorena said that a group of north side residents went before the school board to discuss the matter and that a limit of two miles was set for the transportation of students to the school.

Ochotorena said that two miles from the school would be the corner of the Lamesa Highway and Tenth Streets, leaving the majority of the residents without bus transportation.

"Kids on the north side have to walk across that viaduct every day to get to school, which creates a very dangerous situation,"

FRANK MARTINEZ ...Need Mexican-American History

Ochotorena said, "I had to walk it when I was going to high school and even if it's not two miles, it's still a long walk."

The Rev. Harlan Birdwell also spoke out for public transportation to include the sick and elderly as well as school children.

Frank Martinez suggested that the minority student in Big Spring "...is not being taught who he is or where he came from," and that classes in Mexican-American and Black history should be offered to high school students.

"I think if Mexican-American students learn where they came from and that others of their race contributed a lot to the history of the United States, they would achieve self-identity, and cut the drop-out rate in half."

Martinez said that he dropped out of school here a number of years ago, but since learned of his heritage and managed to get a degree.

The goals committee expects to reword the goal under education concerning the need for improving and expanding counseling services in the schools after a school counselor objected to the implication that local counseling is inadequate.

Opinions expressed at the meeting included:

- Strong support for the goal of establishing a child welfare office in Big Spring.
- Support for the establishment of a legal aid agency for underprivileged persons, along with a medical referral agency and a day-care center for the north side.
- Concern that the vacant Medical Center Hospital and Malone and Hogan Clinic building should be used before they fall into ruin.
- Praise for the City of Big Spring for improvements done on local parks.

'Fixed' Motorcycle Lands 'Wheeler Dealer' In Court

Through a suit filed in 118th District Court Thursday, a Stanton man is seeking payment or possession of a 1973 motorcycle stolen from him.

James K. Meek is suing Leonard Smith doing business as S & H Yamaha, 701 W. 4th St.

The 1973 motorcycle was not reported stolen until the day after the Yamaha dealer bought it from Floyd's

Automotive Supply, Lamesa Highway, Barney Hise, a partner in the motorcycle firm, said.

Floyd had been storing the motorcycle for police who found it, for about a year, Hise said. When it was not claimed, it was sold.

"In the first place, I don't even have possession of this motorcycle," Smith said. Smith said he returned the motorcycle to the Floyd's Automotive.

"That's who they ought to file on," Smith said.

"No comment," Travis Floyd of Floyd's Automotive said. "Get your information from him. The suit's on him not on me."

Smith said S & H Yamaha paid Floyd's $175 for the motorcycle. S & H made $150 worth of repairs to the motorcycle, Smith said.

MIAMI (AP) — The Secret Service, faced with two attacks on President Ford and one on presidential candidate Ronald Reagan within three months, is "over-extended" by the current large field of presidential candidates, says a top service official.

"It's going to get worse, and there are more candidates on the way," said Bob Newbrand, special agent in charge of the Secret Service office in Miami following the attack Thursday on Reagan by a young man wielding a toy gun.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Arab terrorists from Syria attacked an Israeli settlement on the occupied Golan Heights and escaped after killing three religious students and wounding one, officials reported today. The Israeli military command said the raiders, who slipped through the United Nations buffer zone between Israeli and Syrian forces, identified themselves as fighters for Al Fatah, the Palestine guerrilla group headed by Yasser Arafat, the chief of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette Fromme has made her longest courtroom appearance in two weeks, but there are signs she will continue to boycott her trial on charges of attempting to kill President Ford while the defense presents her case. Miss Fromme showed up unexpectedly Thursday during a hearing with the jury absent. She sat for nearly an hour as attorneys argued about a defense move to call a prosecutor as a witness.

BIG SPRING SCHOOL EMPLOYEES SIGN OATHS

The Texas Constitution since 1939 has required all state officials and employees to sign an oath of office, but until this year very little emphasis was placed upon the oath by the Texas Education Agency.

This year the Texas Education Agency told districts across the state "as a reminder" that school employees are included in the requirement, according to L. B. T. Sikes of the agency's administrative division in Austin.

Many schools found that they had never included the oath for anyone except school board members.

However, in Big Spring, it is signed by school employees along with their contracts each year. No one has ever refused to sign it and there is no problem locally, according to school administration office personnel.

The oath is prescribed in Article 16, Section 1 of the constitution. It says, "I, (name) do solemnly swear—or affirm—that I will faithfully execute the duties of the office of (name of office) of the State of Texas and will to the best of my ability preserve, protect and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States and of this state; and I furthermore solemnly swear—or affirm—that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed nor promised to contribute any money or valuable thing or promised any public office or employment as a reward to secure my appointment or the confirmation thereof, So help me God."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accompanied by his wife, Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller will represent the United States at Saturday's ceremony in Madrid proclaiming Prince Juan Carlos as King of Spain, the White House press office announced today.

Rockefeller, along with U.S. Ambassador Wells Stabler, also will represent the United States at Sunday's state funeral for Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Rockefeller will spend about a week overseas since he will also represent the United States at a Nov. 27 religious ceremony and reception honoring King Juan Carlos I and Queen Sophia.

Other members of the delegation to the Nov. 27 ceremony, which coincides with Thanksgiving Day in the United States, will be announced later.

Must Have More Revenue

The Texas Highway and Transportation Department is cutting out the production and distribution of half a dozen pieces of travel literature which last year went to some 6,000,000 visitors or others who requested it.

This has been one of the contributors to the $4.8 billion Texas tourist industry. Why cut back? THTD says it is a case of money. Of the 5-cent Texas gasoline tax — about the lowest in the nation — 1 1/4 goes to schools and 3 3/4 cents to highways.

Well, inflation has about doubled costs of construction and maintenance, and on top of that the fuel shortage and conservation measures have cut gasoline consumption by 3.1 per cent. That's compounding the pinch, but if goals of automotive standards of 31 miles per gallon instead of the current 13.4 mpg come near succeeding in subsequent years, highways plainly are in danger of being starved into second of third class status.

We have long advocated another penny gasoline tax for roads. The Texas Good Roads — Transportation Association, which seemed strangely quiet on the subject as recent as a year ago, appears to be leaning strongly in that direction. Other areas of state government have been caught in the cost — revenue squeeze, but they are geared to expanding resources-higher valued oil, for instance. Not so the highway system. It is caught in a strait jacket. The only way to break out is to get more revenue, whether this course has popular appeal or not.

Advice From Exile

Former President Richard Nixon, almost in self-imposed exile, has availed himself of the American right to express his opinions. In an interview with William M. Fine, Mr. Nixon said the nation was "so cynical, so disbelieving — it may take the shock of an invasion — in Korea or in Thailand" to regain our sense of belief in our country.

He deplored lack of leadership in politics or religion. "Can you name any strong religious leaders? Anyhow, if the church and the media and business and educators all allow the undermining of our strength and values, we will keep drifting. The media has abdicated its fac-gathering to nonbelieving young people, who seem to want to break down our values."

Perhaps our country is in the grips of cynicism, but Mr. Nixon seems oblivious that he, and his entourage, did as much or more than anyone or anything to make it so. He views questioning with non-belief, and among most young people, there is a questioning spirit to validate our beliefs. Institutions and individuals, particularly those in high places, should be subjected constantly to questioning. Most young people want to see actions that give substance to our philosophies. And that won't come from any sense of shock; it will have to come from the soul of America.

2nd Class Citizens

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The New Yorker Magazine, which has always been respected as a stylistic trendsetter in recent years, as everyone knows who is familiar with this entertaining, instructive, and readable weekly, has gone in for high colonial Conscience-Flushing. It is a pity that the lead writers in the Talk of the Town section of the magazine tend to make the rather common mistake of identifying their own conscience with that of the republic. During the Vietnam years, the screech of pain became all but unbearable, and some of us came close to suggesting to the publishers that they bring out two editions of The New Yorker, one with, one without the opening pages — charging double for the shorter, unencumbered version.

IT IS NOT known what exactly happened over there. Perhaps the editors are seeking to do penance for the fit of idolatry in the issue in which they commented on John F. Kennedy's inaugural address — the one in which the new President swore that we would undertake any sacrifice, bear any pain, proceed if necessary alone, to guaranteed freedom everywhere in the world — an exalted rhetoric that greatly impressed many people at the time, and took us to war in Vietnam.

With the removal of U.S. forces, one hoped for remission in The New Yorker, but it is very slow in coming. Most recently, the Talk of the Town rambled on about the CIA hearings, concluding that it is really very hard nowadays to distinguish between conventional bad guys, like the Mafia and the KGB, and ostensible good guys, like the CIA and the FBI. Indeed, the editorial concluded, "the CIA, the SLA, the FBI, and Charles Manson's family were mingling on our television screens, in our thoughts, and, it seemed, in the real world, and it was getting harder by the minute to tell them apart." Here is a fine example of the rhetorical art put to narcissistic excess. It is one thing to say, "I find it harder and harder to tell them apart." Another to say "It is getting harder to tell them apart."

Me, I have no trouble at all telling apart Charles Manson, say, and James Agleton. But no doubt about it, in the real world, which however is a world over-affected by the formative thought of eastern seaboard liberalism, they are having the same trouble, and it is really getting to the point where ex-employees of the CIA, who once were something of an aristocracy among public servants — men and women who worked in anonymity, sometimes risking their lives to forward a foreign policy that had bipartisan political backing, and was oriented to the idealistic task of stemming by means short of war the Communist tide — found themselves, on revealing their past association in the course of applying for another job, being treated as cretins.

IT IS BOTH a pity that Mr. Eric Biddle Jr. now feels he has to take the matter to court, and a relief that he is doing so, in what amounts to something of a class action on behalf of all former members of the CIA who are being treated shabbily — by the government of the United States.

Mr. Biddle worked for the CIA between 1950 and 1960, and so far as is known did not assassinate, or lay the grounds for assassinating, any member of the Kennedy family, or any civil rights leader. When in 1965 he decided to go back into government service, he found himself in due course working for a government agency called Action, about which I know little and therefore suspect it shouldn't even exist.

On the discovery by his employers that he had worked for the CIA, the harassment began, and became so acute that, finally, Biddle was driven to suing the Civil Service Commission. The Commission came up with the most extraordinary finding in recent history: the ban against discrimination by government agencies, e.g. by reason of race, sex, age, etc., did not extend to a ban against discrimination by reason of having worked for another and presumably nefarious branch of government.

So: Eric H. Biddle Jr. vs. The United States of America goes now to the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, and it becomes Mr. Biddle's burden, to return to the language of The New Yorker, to persuade the court that there is an observable difference between having worked for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, and having camped out with Charles Manson and Squeaky and the girls, honing the kitchen knives. Presumably any juror who reads The New Yorker will be disqualified for cause.

'Before Buying . . . Think!'

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has lots of things to worry about these days, but be reassured it has not overlooked its role as protector of the small investor.

The watchdog of federal securities laws and regulations has just come out with a new edition of "Investigate Before You Invest," a little booklet of basic advice that is now offering free to investors.

"Before buying . . . Think!" advises the SEC. "Don't listen to high-pressure sales talk," it adds. And, "Don't buy on tips and rumors."

If those caveats sound a bit dated for these days of supercautious if not necessarily more sophisticated investors, there's a reason: Much of the text was written years ago, and a new cover applied this year.

Nevertheless the SEC believes the warnings are worthwhile, just as they were in the 1960s, when millions of new and naive investors flocked into the stock market.

It's a bit different today. Brokers' phones don't ring all day long as they used to. Hundreds of them have gone out of business. Institutions often dominate trade, with the small investor more observant than active.

In fact, the number of investors has diminished, after increasing sharply throughout the 1960s and early 1970s. For the first time in more than 20 years, the New York Stock Exchange estimates, the number of shareholders fell in 1974, and maybe again this year.

Regardless, some of the advice seems to have a merit other than that of nostalgia. An oldtimer will tell you that the same mistakes are made over and over, especially when people feel they no longer need advice.

With that preface, the SEC's admonitions:

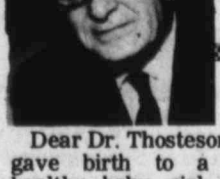

—Before you decide whether to buy securities, check your financial situation. Have you made provisions for a home? Do you have adequate life insurance? A comfortable bank account balance?

—If you decide to go ahead and buy securities, keep in mind that the value of your investment can go down as well as up. No one can guarantee the market price of a security in a month or a year from now.

—Give at least as much consideration to buying securities as you would to buying other valuable property. An engraved stock certificate of a bankrupt company is just as impressive looking as that of a blue chip.

Reliable information is available on all heavily traded securities. Tell the salesperson to put all the information and advice in writing and mail it to you, and then save the information.

Birthmark Can Disappear

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I just gave birth to a lovely, healthy baby girl a week ago. To our surprise she was born with a birth-mark (hemangioma) on her face. It is about the size of a half dollar. I am very concerned and worried. It is pink, but gets darker when she cries.

The doctor said all we can do is wait about a year and hope it goes away by itself. Do they generally disappear on their own? Where does a birth-mark come from? What is it?

If it doesn't go away, what kind of treatment is there? And how long should we wait? —Concerned.

I can readily understand your concern about the birth-mark. There is a strong tendency to "do something" about it. Be patient. Follow your doctor's advice.

increase in size shortly, but chances are good that it will then recede. It represents a localized accumulation of tiny blood vessels, which is why the color changes when she cries.

The "do-nothing" policy should be followed for the next four or five years. If the lesion is still present then, and if it has shown no tendency to regress then you might consider taking action. The use of cortisone-type drug has been reported effective in hastening the disappearance. This is sometimes used earlier if the defect is large. A half-dollar size would not be considered large for such purposes.

If the mark persists into later years, surgical removal can be performed if necessary. Right now the prospect of a five-year wait may seem disturbing, but it is better than tampering with unpredictable treatment which could be painful or scar-producing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife is 79 years old and has no known allergy, but she started having eruptions on the small of her back. These blotches have gradually spread to various parts of the body, including scalp and mouth.

A dermatologist calls it "lichen planus," and said there is no known cause or cure. He said the lesions might disappear in a short time or they may stay for a couple of years. Have you any suggested treatment? —A. A. L.

This is one of a multitude of skin disorders about which we know very little except that they appear, are apparently harmless (except for the discomfort) and for which there is, as your doctor told you, no known cure.

They may disappear spontaneously or be mighty stubborn and last for years.

Major Project?

Around The Rim

John Edwards

One of the proposed "Goals for Progress" submitted for approval at a Town Hall meeting Thursday night specified draining the One Mile Lake near Lakeview Elementary School.

It would be practical to drain the salt lake, County Engineer Neel Barnaby said.

TAKING OUT A CONCRETE structure and doing some ditching work would drain the area, Barnaby said.

"No one ever approached me about the thing before," Barnaby said.

Barnaby had not looked at One Mile Lake in two or three years and had never studied draining it. Barnaby, however, who has been supervising drainage of a flooded area at Knott, does not think draining One Mile Lake would be a major project.

Maps show the city limits line running through the One Mile Lake which feeds Beal's Creek.

The city uses a crane to clean silt from Beal's Creek, City Manager Harry Nagel said.

"To completely drain the One Mile

Lake is going to take a project similar to what the Corps was talking about," Nagel said.

In an interim report dated May 11, 1970, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers outlined plans for improving the Beal's Creek channel at a total cost of $2,526,000, including $948,000 in local funds.

"The District Engineer finds from his investigations that a serious urban flood problem exists at Big Spring, Texas, because of floodflow on Beal's Creek," the report stated.

"THE PROPOSED CHANNEL improvements will provide a high degree of flood protection for a big segment of the business and industrial area of Big Spring," it continued.

"Further benefits will be derived by the reduction of ponding areas which are conducive to mosquito breeding," the report added.

Voters approved bonds for the local share, Nagel said. The bonds were never issued, the city manager said, because federal funds were not appropriated.

Frisco Revolt

Rowland Evans

SAN FRANCISCO — The unexpected presence in the Dec. 11 mayoral runoff election here of a conservative Republican businessman — lacking organization, funds and even campaigning ability — is the latest evidence of spontaneous voters' revolt, this time in the most liberal of American cities.

CONSERVATIVE CITY supervisor John Barbagelata seemingly needs a miracle to win on his anti-labor union platform in this traditionally union town against liberal Democratic state Sen. George Moscone. But discontent over strikes by police and firemen here and fear of going the way of New York are strong enough to provide the ingredients of that miracle.

THERE IS no need for victory by Barbagelata, however, to show that San Francisco is deeply influenced by the harsh new realities in big city politics. While unmistakably the candidate of labor and the left, Moscone is gingerly edging away from them and, if he gets to city hall, almost surely will disappoint them.

Here, as elsewhere, the twin menaces of municipal bankruptcy and deepening crime are revolutionizing politics.

These trends had to be intense to reach San Francisco, easily carried by Sen. George McGovern in 1972. With a national reputation for permissiveness, it is the only city where homosexual support is openly courted by candidates.

Moscone is the archetypal San Francisco liberal of the 1970s — an early McGovern booster, foe of capital punishment and the Vietnam war, reflexively identified with all liberal causes.

IN THIS ENVIRONMENT, Barbagelata was expected to run fifth in five-man field in the Nov. 4 non-partisan election. While often described as a Reagan Republican, he has met Ronald Reagan only twice in his life and is really a non-political businessman who first entered politics with his 1969 election to the 11-member board of supervisors. He gives few political speeches, does little hand-shaking and is remarkably short on the staples of politics — smiles, small talk, organization and money.

His opposition to rapacious demands of municipal unions ("they are destroying our cities"), busing and lax measures against street crime strikes a responsive chord with middle-class whites who live in San Francisco neighborhoods never visited by tourists.

AS THE ally of organized labor and the liberal Burton machine (run by Congressman Phil and John Burton), Moscone would seem the antithesis of Barbagelata. Like Alioto, the bedrock of his support is welfare recipients, minorities and civil servants. But, in private, Moscone on fiscal affairs and crime is not all that different from his conservative opponent.

While Moscone aides expect a rout in the Dec. 11 runoff and rejoice that their victim is "a Reaganite" ("I just love it," one enthusiastically told us), Moscone in private feels the Nov. 4 election brought home a sober warning of taxpayer revolt.

Accordingly, Moscone has quietly modified his tactics. While begging out of a meeting of black leaders earlier in the week, he spent last Saturday night hand-shaking through the middle-class Sunset section carried by Barbagelata. Told by one adviser to divorce his left constituency but not inform them of the divorce, Moscone likely will have some unpleasant surprises for his supporters if he is elected: crackdowns on municipal unions, budget trimming and reorganization of San Francisco's widely criticized police force. The question arises whether a more charismatic, better organized, better financed candidate arguing the same issues as Barbagelata might have been invincible.

My Answer

Billy Graham

In an earlier column, I discussed the question of whether a church should offer jobs which might pay less than the prevailing minimum wage. Of course, that would be permissible only if the church in question is not required by statute to pay such wages. Since then I have been told that in some circumstances a church may not be exempt from complying with the minimum wage laws. I believe every Christian, and certainly every Christian church, has an obligation to follow the laws of their country and state, including minimum wage requirements.

Knox Named To Nominating Committee Of Health Agency

Norman Knox, administrator at Malone-Hogan Hospital, was named as the representative from Howard County to serve on the nominating committee to set up a board of the Health System Agency in the Permian Basin regional planning area.

This happened at a public hearing in the county courtroom Thursday afternoon.

Howard County will be allowed four board members, two must be providers, or people involved in health business and, two must be consumers or recipients of health services.

Of the two board members to be named in the consumer category, one must be a Mexican-American, according to the charter regulations.

The committee named at the public hearing to select nominees for the board named four persons to be nominated for two board positions as providers. They include Dr. Ron Cohorn, Bruce Wright, Dr. Henry Butler and Knox.

Three persons are nominated for two consumer posts, including Tony Ortiz, Lanny Hamby and Julian Patterson.

The selection committee appointed by Judge Bill Tune included Knox, Dr. Clyde Thomas, Dr. Cohorn, Jack Powell, Mrs. Ruby Phillips, Jack Davis and Mayor Wade Choate.

Representatives from the Veterans Administration Hospital, the Big Spring State Hospital, most of the local private hospitals, the nursing association, the county welfare, and the community were on hand at the public hearing with 25 in attendance.

Recycling Cans Getting Results

Recycling of cans is getting results for Adolph Coors Company. During the first 10 months of 1975, the company's 167 distributors in 11 Western states have paid $7.6 million dollars for 50,759,334 pounds of aluminum cans. This compares with $5.9 million for five million less pounds collected in all of 1974. The company last June raised the price from 10 to 15 cents a pound for all aluminum beverage cans bought for recycling.

Civic Service Rewards Noted By Underwriter

Frank Fata, Lubbock, one of the state's leading life underwriters, Thursday challenged members of the Big Spring Life Underwriters Association to not concentrate on their work to the exclusion of civic service.

The greatest satisfactions come from doing something for someone else, he said.

The association made arrangements for one of its traditional services, the annual Christmas party at Big Spring State Hospital. It voted $25 for the party and pledged members to serve as hosts for the event.

Programs for the next six months were announced, and the first, and one of the most outstanding, will be in January when Charlie Flowers, an outstanding spokesman for Texas underwriters, will be the speaker. Members of surrounding associations will be invited to this.

Inducted by John Bennett, president, as new members of the association were Wayne Henry, Big Spring, and Marlen Terrell, Snyder.

TRAGIC LOSS — Mrs. Lavenia Yates, 84, of 705 Johnson, awoke from her afternoon nap Thursday afternoon to find her house on fire. The front part of the house and the roof were destroyed by flames, with the remainder of the house damaged by smoke and water. She awoke to find her eyes watering and when she went to the bathroom to get eyedrops, opened the door to the front bedroom. The room was reported to be engulfed in flames. She escaped unharmed.

Students Air United Way

LAMESA — High school students will take to the air Saturday starting at 9 p.m. broadcasting the annual United Way Telethon.

Telethon volunteers have been making an all-out effort to insure this year's event as bigger and better than ever before.

Merchandise and an assortment of talent has been lined up for the telethon which will be aired live over Cable TV Channel 8.

With the United Way reporting $36,395 or about 88 percent of its $41,400 goal, local young people are hoping to beat every other year's telethon goal.

Big Spring Blood Donor Activities Draw Praise

Donor day activities were praised at the second meeting of the Advisory Committee of the Big Spring Community Blood Donor Services, Thursday 2 p.m.

On the first Wednesday of the Community Donor Program, Nov. 12, 17 units of blood were received in the emergency room of Malone-Hogan Hospital. On the second day, a week later, volunteers gained 18 units.

Grady Sims, district manager of West Texas Blood Services, also praised the work of the Big Spring Jaycees in their two-day bloodmobile drive.

"Through everyone's hard work we received the best support we have ever had on any Big Spring bloodmobile drive, this month," said Sims.

Donors at Howard College offered up 62 units of blood, and Big Spring High School donated 18 units during the drive.

The importance of community education was also stressed at the meeting. Mrs. Jane Thomas and Mrs. Jean Kuykendall, Malone-Hogan Volunteers, are anxious to speak to clubs and civic groups about the services offered by the Community Blood Donor Program. A tape and slide presentation is available for those clubs which might be interested.

There will be no age groups designated. All girls and women will ride against each other and all boys and men will compete in a group.

The high point rider from each of these two groups will win a turkey. First through sixth place ribbons will also be awarded.

Coinciding with the playday will be a Weiner Roast for the members of the club and prospective members. All club members are requested to bring weiners and buns.

Mike Scarbrough, official in the Powderpuff Football game Thursday night replaces the flag gear on Shelly Esquibel, Big Spring High School freshman, who made the most touchdowns of the evening. The freshman-sophomore team won this year 28-14, avenging last year's victory by the upperclasswomen. About 800 people attended the event, and over $500 was collected. The money will be donated to the March of Dimes drive to fight birth defects.

ONE OVER EASY — This trailer home, which belongs to O. H. Boswell, 71, of Troy, N. Y., flipped over on its side this morning in a one vehicle accident on IS 20 near Moss Creek Road. The car, driven by J. J. Jackson, with Boswell as passenger, also went on its side, but was turned upright by five passing motorists to help the men get out of the vehicle. Boswell said that a large truck passed them at a high rate of speed and they went off the right side of the road. He was headed for Scottsdale, Ariz., for the winter months. State Troopers Bill Jennings and Kent Joyce investigated the accident.

BEING CLEARED FOR BANK PARKING LOT — This building, located in the 400 block on Main directly across from the First National Bank, is being leveled to create space for a 60-car parking lot for customers of the bank. This is part of an extensive refurbishing program undertaken by the bank. Major improvements were made to the basement of the bank in order to create office space for the loan department. Bank president Jimmy Taylor said the project was nearing completion. The building here formerly housed a barber shop and a shoe repair firm.

Air Force May Get Fem Pilots

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. Air Force may see its first female military pilots in the near future, Lt. Gen. James R. Allen, superintendent of the Air Force Academy predicts.

Allen talked about women flyers Wednesday during a recruiting trip for the first women cadets at the academy.

Some 150 women in the incoming academy class will get about the same training as their male counterparts except they presently may not be taught to fly.

However, Allen said the academy probably will train young women as non-combat pilots eventually, "perhaps by the time the first class has graduated."

Women never have served as military pilots in the United States although they flew mainly ferrying missions as civil servants for the Army Air Corps during World War II.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: It's wise today to engage in the recreations and other pleasurable outlets you like for there is in the air a desire to feel martyrdom and to wear a long face. This is quite unnecessary if one makes the smallest effort to rise above depression and be optimistic.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Go out for amusement, but do something thoughtful for kin first. Get true facts about a new interest before starting it.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't fall for the bait when others try to egg you on to some needless arguments. Check written material for any errors.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You feel financial lack and could get yourself in a lather. Cool down and think constructively instead. Be thankful and start building.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get into activities that will cheer you. Improve health, dress well, and feel more like yourself. Be happy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get rid of anxieties and push through on whatever is of a constructive nature. Work like a lion at the tasks at hand for big headway.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't criticize your friends, but gain their goodwill. Avoid social gatherings until you are in a better mood.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure not to act in such a way in public that you would be seriously criticized, get into trouble. Handle credit wisely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Not a good day to make changes, so stick to tried and true. Don't make new allies who could get you into trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't procrastinate any longer about handling responsibilities. Losing your temper with mate could lead to big trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't fly into a partner because you could easily be misinformed and the trouble not be his or her fault. Sociable p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You want to rake a co-worker over the coals, but it is best to maintain your cool. Do Saturday tasks and all's well.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Enjoy inexpensive recreation as you'll later regret spending too much. Don't fly off the handle with irritable mate.

Webb May Be Training Site For Women Pilots

The chief of staff, U.S. Air Force, has announced plans for implementing a limited test program on the training and utilization of women as pilots.

Details of the program are still being worked out, but the first increment of women could begin training in the summer or fall of 1976.

The students involved would be selected initially from qualified women officers already on active duty.

The Air Force is studying what curriculum changes may need to be made to accommodate women trainees. In addition, non-combat pilot requirements for the Air Force will be evaluated as the first step in determining how many women might eventually be utilized as pilots.

Female applicants for Air Force flying training will meet the same mental, physical and medical criteria as males. Details of the test program will be announced as soon as they have been approved by the appropriate Air Force agencies.

Webb AFB is one of eight bases currently conducting under-graduate pilot

Will Present Concert, Dedicate Church Library

Mrs. Mary Lou Boggus will present a concert at East Fourth Street Baptist Church from 4-5:30 p.m. Sunday. She has given concerts at churches all over the Southwest and has recorded a sacred album entitled "One Day at a Time."

The public is invited to attend the event Sunday, East Fourth Baptist at Fourth and Nolan will also dedicate a new church library during Sunday morning services.

Two years of intensive work on the part of the church library committee sparked the dedication.

The library has been named the Billy D. Rudd memorial library and is dedicated to his memory.

He served the church 13 years, first as music education director from September 1949 to October 1956 and then as pastor from June 1965 to February 1967. Members of the Rudd family will be special guests at the service.

There will also be an open house Sunday afternoon when members and friends of the church are invited to view the library from 2:30-4 p.m.

Westside Choir Entertains Lions

The Westside Center Choir, now in its sixth year, made its first public appearance of the season Wednesday before the Downtown Lions Club.

The choir, explained Mrs. Susan Dawes, director, has experienced a great turnover by reason of members graduating to Junior high. There are 13 former members who are singing in the Runnels 7-8th grade choirs, she noted.

The group sang several folk and novelty songs, as well as a Stephen Foster medley. The latter included tambourine and kazoo accompaniment on "Oh Suzanna!" Mrs. Betty Newman was accompanist.

Guests at the meeting included Russell DeVore, district deputy governor who is being boomed by his Evening Lions Club as a candidate for governor of District 2A-1.

Oil Fraud Cases Go Before Grand Jury

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Post reports evidence involving several alleged oil fraud cases will be presented to a Runnels County grand jury which convened Thursday.

Authorities said recent investigations brought to light the sale of more than 4,000 barrels of oil to Houston area refineries.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerry Carruth said some of it turned out to be "slop oil" instead of good crude it was supposed to be, while much of the rest is alleged to have been stolen and sold to the firms.

Nine persons have been charged with felony theft based on warrants issued in Runnels County (Ballinger).

Jim Acree and John Reddell, Midland Lee and Midland High head coaches, respectively, had their annual salaries hiked to $19,500 each following the school's Board of Trustees vote to extend both contracts.

Votes to retain Reddell were unanimous with Johnny Warren casting the lone dissenting vote against Acree. He said his vote was based on the fact that Acree and his Lee Rebels were on one year's probation.

"I feel like it is improper to renew his contract for three years," said Warren. He announced he would be willing to support renewing Acree's pact at the end of the probationary period, and then extending it for three more years.

Acree, dean of the 5-4A coaches with six years seniority, came to Midland in 1970 and has compiled a 31-28-2 won-lost-tied record.

O. T. Mitchell didn't go far from home to get his deer Thursday morning.

He tracked his animal and shot it in the Chalk community in southeast Howard County, getting it with a single shot in the neck with a .270 rifle.

It was not exactly a new experience for O. T. He's felled about 20 deer in his time. This one weighed around 60 pounds. O. T. was accompanied by his wife, Almonia.

Texas Tech will play its final football game of the season Saturday against Arkansas in Fayetteville, Ark. Kickoff is set for 1 p.m.

Arkansas leads 15-3 in the series begun in 1957 at Little Rock with a 47-26 Razorback win. The hogs lead 12-3 in SWC competition beginning in 1960 with 34-6 victory in Lubbock. Arkansas beat Tech 21-13 last year in Lubbock.

Baylor's sure-footed placement artist David (Bubba) Hicks booted his 56th consecutive extra punt against Texas Tech to tie the SWC record established by the Raiders' Don Grimes.

Hicks also kicked a personal record 54-yard field goal in the game to run his season's total to nine of 13.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — Forrest Gregg, coach of the Cleveland Browns and David Hawk, a head lineman in the NFL, were co-captains at Southern Methodist 20 years ago.

Gregg made the all-conference team and Hawk became an academic all-american.

COINING IN FOR THE OLYMPICS — Legendary Jesse Owens holds Olympic coins in one hand and $10,000 in the other which he received in New York Tuesday on behalf of U. S. Olympic Committee from Canadian Olympic Coin Program which he's been promoting on television. Proceeds from sale of these silver medals, commemorative of 1976 Montreal Games, has brought $260,000 into U. S. Olympic coffers. Owens, now 62, won four gold medals in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin.

HC Turns Attention To Odessa Tourney

Going over the 100 mark four times, Howard College turns its attention to the 16th Annual Odessa Junior College Tournament. Play started Thursday and ends Saturday.

Howard College, 5-1, losing to College of the Mainland, 85-84, will exchange baskets with Midland College-Temple winner tonight at 7.

The Hawks, first omitted from the tournament entry list after being in attendance since it was founded, was reinstated last Thursday by the sponsor, Odessa Chamber of Commerce.

Howard College was worked into the tournament bracket by virtue of a first-round bye because Head Coach Harold Wilder, not knowing of the sudden tournament change of heart, added Bay Ridge to his already complete schedule.

Only 31 regular games are allowed in compliance with NJCAA regulations.

Last time out, Monday, HC drubbed Texas State Technical Institute of Waco, 132-72. Reggie Leffall, 6-3 freshman from Abilene Cooper, was responsible in changing the game complexion to the Hawks side. He played very tough on defense and tossed in 15 points.

Marvin "Cowboy" Johnson has been HC's high scorer in all games played. He hit 31 or more points in the first four games, dipping to 28 in the fifth contest and 26 in the sixth.

Following the Odessa hookup, HC returns home for three games, McMurry JV, Nov. 25, Hardin-Simmons, JV, Nov. 28 and the Western Conference opener with New Mexico Military Institute, Dec. 1.

Brahmas Beat Forsan, 44-35

The Big Spring Ninth-grade Brahmas started off their basketball season in fine fashion here Thursday night, outscoring the Forsan junior varsity, 44-35.

Ysa Rubio and Oscar James meshed 12 points each for the Brahmas with Danny Crosby sacking 11. Crosby was credited in hauling down 19 rebounds and James, 19.

The next contest for the Brahmas will be against Snyder-Lamar here at 7 p.m., Monday at the Runnels gym.

BRAHMAS (44): Rubio, 5-2; James, 6-0; Crosby, 5-1; Evans, 2-0; Gomez, 1-0; Howell, 1-0; Smith, 0-1.

No Hint To Club Potential Buyer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sale of the San Francisco Giants' National League baseball franchise "very likely could take place at a meeting of owners Dec. 8" in Hollywood, Fla., an executive of the club says.

Jerry Donovan, assistant to owner Horace Stoneham, made the statement Thursday but gave no hint to the identity of a possible purchaser.

The team went up for sale last May, and since then a number of potential buyers have been in and out of the picture.

"We're starting to look at the clock now," said Charles B. Rupert, treasurer and executive vice president of the club.

Both Stoneham and Rupert were optimistic any new owner would keep the Giants in San Francisco. "We've been working toward that in all our efforts," Rupert said.

Manager Wes Westrum and his coaching staff were sent formal dismissal notices Wednesday but were told long ago to expect the move, said Donovan. Terminating the contracts, said Donovan, was done so new owners could install their own men and so Westrum and the four coaches would be free to go after other jobs.

The club's board had a meeting tentatively scheduled for today, but it was canceled late Thursday when Stoneham, here from his home in Scottsdale, Ariz.,

SATURDAY HOOKUP Steers Tread To Plainview

PLAINVIEW — Staying in contention down to the final whistle only to lose its seasonal opener to Andrews, 61-59, Big Spring will be out to break into the win column against Plainview here Saturday.

Three games are slated, sophomores at 4:15 p.m., junior varsity at 6:15 p.m., and the varsity at 8 p.m.

Plainview, 19-12 last season, will be playing its first game of the new year. Bill Phillips enters his eighth year as Bulldog headmaster.

Featuring no starters back, Plainview's lineup will work around three juniors and two seniors. They include: seniors, Mark Stambaugh, 6-3; Jerry Hearn, 6-1; juniors, Lindsay Dye, 6-4; Greg Bassett, 6-2; and Greg Hearn, 6-4.

Last year, Big Spring split with Plainview, winning, 62-53 and losing, 50-47.

In the Steers game with Andrews, the outcome was determined on the Ponce ability to hit from the charity line, 33 of 41, compared to Big Spring's nine of 23 plus Tony Bailey's hot-shot charity line showing.

Bailey, who wore jersey No. 14, made over-all 14 out of 14 free throw attempts.

Preliminary games with Andrews found both Big Spring teams winning. The JV won in a breeze, 70-55, but the sophomore had to fight hard to come out on top, 42-40.

Following the Plainview tiff, Big Spring plays again on the road at Snyder, Nov. 28, returning home Nov. 29 with a Plainview return contest.

Maidens Top Garden City

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo Lake View's Maidens turned back the Garden City girls, 58-50, in a basketball game here Thursday night.

Garden City led at half time, 27-25, and remained very much in contention until Lake View exploded for 19 points in the final eight minutes.

Joann Phillips paced the Maidens with 31 points. Her play was complimented by Charlotte Dehnel, who bucketed 23. Becky Hirt and Donna Plagers each tallied 16 for Garden City.

Lake View also won the JV contest, 41-37, despite an 18-point effort by Garden City's Sheila Halfman.

RED RAIDERS Outside Shot At Fiesta

The catch is that both must win Saturday.

Arkansas is 4-1 in the SWC and will go to the Liberty Bowl if it does not qualify for the Cotton Bowl. For Arkansas to get in the Cotton Bowl, Texas A&M must beat Texas next week and the Razorbacks must defeat Tech Saturday and A&M Dec. 6.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said early in the week that the Razorbacks were relieved when they received the Liberty Bowl bid. He said the challenge of the beating Tech to remain in the Cotton Bowl picture "is the way you want it."

"The good competitor will perform at his best when his best is needed," he said.

Broyles said, however, "We would have been disappointed if we had not gotten the insurance bowl bid. I would hate to think what I would be saying this week if the Cotton Bowl was all we had to shoot for..."

Cowboys Need Decision To Stay Close In East

NEW YORK (AP) — Two teams headed in opposite directions on the National Football League's elevator will be passing each other this week and those will be passes, not floors that Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton is counting against San Diego.

Tarkenton needs just 14 pass completions to set an NFL career record, wiping out the mark of 2,830 set by Johnny Unitas. He is also only seven TD passes shy of Unitas' career record of 290.

The 14 completions seem within reach Sunday — he completed 25 a week ago against New Orleans. The seven TD passes, well, those will be the winless Chargers on the other side of the field Sunday.

On Fran's side will be the Vikings, the NFL's only unbeaten team with nine consecutive victories, a team he has directed to 42 victories in their last 57 games and into two Super Bowls.

"He's the best quarterback around as far as we're concerned and he may be getting better," said Coach Bud Grant.

As for Tarkenton, he's excited about reaching the record book in his 15th NFL season.

"I've always thought of Unitas as the greatest quarterback who ever lived and it's a tremendous thrill to be approaching his records," the Viking passer said. "The Chargers, however, won't be thrilled — just victimized."

The Pro Picker wasn't thrilled, just satisfied, with last week's 9-4. He'll try to improve the season log of 85-32 for 726 this week.

The picks: Minnesota 35, San Diego 10. Tarkenton won't throw seven TDs against the Chargers but three or four isn't out of the question for Minnesota's marvelous

Dear Abby

Girl Has All Qualifications But No Dates Since School

DEAR ABBY: Anyone want a wife? I'm 24-years-old, and I can't find a guy, I haven't had one date since high school.

Let me state my qualifications: I can cook and bake really well. I can sew and make all my own clothes, and I'm told I'm the best-dressed girl at the office. I have nice skin and teeth, and I keep my hair in the most flattering style for me.

I own my own car, color TV, stereo and have money.

Senior Citizens Talent Fair Slated Saturday

All area residents are urged to attend the annual Senior Citizens Talent Fair Saturday to do Christmas shopping early. The Talent Fair will be held in Highland Center mall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This activity is sponsored yearly by the Howard County Council on Aging with the support of the Howard County Extension Service.

County residents over sixty years of age will have products of their talents on display for purchase. These will include crocheted and knitted articles, baked goods, wood working, hand-carved items, lapidary items, houseplants and many other hand-made articles. All proceeds from the sales will go to the participants.

A handmade quilt will be given away at the end of the sale. Not only will shoppers have an opportunity to purchase lovely hand-made Christmas gifts, but each purchase will be helping the Senior Citizens' of Howard County.

Meistersingers Entertain At Booster Meeting

Der Meistersingers performed for the Big Spring Choir Boosters at a meeting held Monday evening in the BSHS choir room.

Director Jack Bowers put the Meistersingers through the paces of a regular choir period, including sight-reading.

Mrs. Leon Pettit presided during the business meeting. She reported that the date for the Christmas concert will be announced soon. She also said that plans for the spring program, "Spirit of '76", are being made.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 15 in the BSHS choir room.

in the bank. I love all kinds of sports and outdoor activities like camping, fishing and hiking. I am well-liked by everyone at work and have many close friends.

Know why I don't get dates? I was told (by one of the guys I work with) it's because I'm overweight! Now before you start condemning me, let me say I am not grossly obese. I have lost some weight, but my doctor says I can't lose any more because I am a large-boned girl. I am well-proportioned and I can play tennis better than my thin friends.

Why do guys want thin girls? I am ready to give up. DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: I don't mean to be unkind, but plenty of overweight girls are dating up a storm. A young woman who has an attractive, outgoing personality and gets involved in activities (church, political or volunteer) is bound to meet a fellow who will want to see her again.

Instead of wondering what's wrong with YOU, forget about yourself and concentrate on doing something for someone else. It will add a charming dimension to your personality and enhance your chances.

DEAR ABBY: I am married and have a lovely set of rings but I am not sure which ring I should put on my finger first, my wedding band or my engagement ring.

Please tell me the proper way to wear my rings. And I hope you print this because I am sure other wives would like to know, too. Thank you.

DEAR WAITING: The wedding band goes on the finger first — then the engagement ring. It's said that the wedding ring should be worn closest to the heart.

State Program Initiated To Teach Law System

Mrs. Dolph Briscoe announced that the First Lady's Volunteer Program, Office of the Governor, will participate in a statewide educational program to teach Texas school children how our system of laws operates.

The program is called "Law in a Changing Society" and operates under a grant from the Governor's Criminal Justice Division. The project is administered through the State Bar of Texas and the Texas Classroom Teachers Association.

Mrs. Briscoe said that regional volunteer coordinators for the First Lady's Volunteer Program attended a recent conference in Dallas to see how the education program worked and how they could help expand it into all schools.

The coordinators unanimously supported the project's unique goals and objectives: to teach every school child respect for our laws by showing them the fascinating background of how the rules we live by are established," Mrs. Briscoe added.

The "Law in a Changing Society" program encourages the students to become directly involved in the course's classroom activities; this often includes a mock trial, a constitutional convention, debates, and the study of actual cases and how they affected our society.

O. P. (Bob) Bobbitt, director of the First Lady's Volunteer Program, says that testing and evaluation has demonstrated that students exposed to "Law in a Changing Society" materials have a better grasp of how laws develop and are administered. He also indicates that the students' attitudes toward law enforcement and government are significantly improved.

Mrs. Florence Lenox gave the devotional. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lillie Mae Lomax, Mrs. Lennox and Mrs. McAlister.

Rose Specialist Speaks To Garden Club

Mrs. Louise McClure of Kermit spoke to the members of the Rosebud "How To Grow" Garden Club at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. S. J. Kamm.

Mrs. Kamm is a member of the American Rose Society and is a rose specialist. She included techniques of pruning and propagation in her program. A plant swap will be featured at the next meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. Robert Simica, 2614 Lynn. The meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m., Dec. 16.

Russians End NASA Meetings

HOUSTON (AP) — Russian space officials were to leave the Johnson Space Center today, ending a series of meetings over the past three years in both countries which made possible the first manned international space mission.

"The mission confirms that international cooperation is possible and valuable," said Professor Konstantin D. Bushuyev, Russian technical director of the flight.

"For the public, the docking and technical matters were not so important as showing the two great nations can cooperate."

Bushuyev and Glynn S. Lunney, United States technical director of the Apollo-Soyuz Test Project (ASTP) held a news conference Thursday at the space center.

"I regret we shall not have a joint manned flight for such a long period of time," Bushuyev said.

The United States plans no cooperational space missions until the space shuttle program is ready in 1980.

Lunney said there was nothing found in the results of ASTP which would prevent the countries from flying a similar flight but "we have decided to put our time, attention and money in the shuttle program, then continue joint flights."

We Should Be More Thankful

Dr. Jimmy Law, minister of the College Park Baptist Church, was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday, using as his theme "American people perhaps are not as thankful as they should be for what they have."

Guests of the club included John Massey, new law enforcement instructor at Howard College; Earl Bohannon and Jay Sanders.

No regular meeting will take place next Thursday, due to the coincidence of the Thanksgiving holidays. However, the club will meet with the Downtown Lions Club the preceding day.

"It really gives the museum a lift after two traveling exhibits," Mrs. Atwell said. "We have planes from WWI through the present time."

"We have a model plane of the Wright Brothers craft, the first airplane flown at Kitty Hawk in 1903. Some of them might recall a later model the Wright brothers landed in Big Spring in 1911. It landed on a horse racing track where Washington Place is now located and which, for a time, was used as a fair grounds.

"We also have the fastest airplane, the one which holds the world's speed record from Paris to New York, also a plane big enough to carry 100 Volkswagens, and many others."

Mrs. Atwell expressed thanks to Class 76-D for putting together the exhibit.

One of the things that he was instrumental in through the years was the beginning of many Bus Ministries.

The public is invited to the meetings here this weekend.

JOHN A. BOOR

BAPTISED IN BIG SPRING

First Christian Church Is Oldest Local Congregation

The first known group in Big Spring to "assemble themselves together for communion and worship" was a group of Christian Church believers, including Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Eddins, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. D. Boydston and Mrs. M. E. Barrett.

Eddins was foreman of the car repairing department while and after the T&P Railroad was being built; Boydston was the first county surveyor; Thomas was first hide and animal inspector and Mrs. Barrett had first come to the Big Spring and camped there in a tent while her husband picked up buffalo bones.

These members are often referred to as charter members of the First Christian Church here, but Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Read, Mrs. J. P. Green and her sister, Mrs. John Birdwell, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, and others were among the very early members of the church here. The first baptisms were held at the "big spring," but John Birdwell later offered the use of the earthen tank, which is now Birdwell Park, for baptism services.

The first meetings were in homes of members and a

Sunday School for children was soon organized. During 1884 they met in the school building and their records state "They had a revival in the school building and this so angered the County Judge, G. W. Walthal, that he nailed the windows and doors shut and later put partitions in the building. This forced members to erect their first building in the 300 block of Gregg Street."

CHURCH GREW

Membership grew under the leadership of Revs. J. Wright, R. C. Charles, Mrs. Roberts, Mr. Thurman, Granville Jones, Harry Barber, E. B. Watson, R. E. Grabe, Mr. Laye, L. A. Dale, E. S. Bledsoe, Arthur Jones, Rev. Montgomery (1914), Chas. Burton, J. Thos. Brown (June 1919-June 1922) and Geo. J. Ruth (Dec. 1922-Oct. 2).

By 1925 the little building on Gregg Street had become too small, even though a dirt-floor shed-room had been added for Sunday School rooms. Under the leadership of Rev. Ruth, plans were made for a new building, a committee consisting of George Wilke, O. Dubberley, H. Clay Read, B. Reagan, Sam Stone, J. L. Milner, and Mrs. G. L. Brown was named. A site on Scurry and Fifth Streets was bought. The old building was sold to Jess Hefferman for $1600.00. Work went ahead, and after celebrating a "Home-Coming Day" which celebrated 43 years of Christian service in Big Spring, the congregation moved into the new home in early 1926.

Officers in addition to most of those men on the building committee were: J. R. Creath, chairman of the board, J. W. Williams, A. J. Sparks, and J. I. Prichard.

BUILD NEW CHURCH

When the move was made, after 43 years, three of the charter members were there to make the change. These were I. D. Eddins, J. B. D. Boydston, aged 90 years, and Mrs. Barrett, who refused to give her age, and Mrs. Carrie Stone aged 91, Claude Wingo followed Bro. Ruth as pastor.

Pastors who have served the congregation since Lloyd Thompson left in Dec. 1951 have been Clyde Nichols (1952-1959), John C. Black Jr. (Sept. '59-April 1967), with Ronald Hanson assistant pastor during 1964, John Beard (Sept. 1967-March 1974), Rev. Clyde Pearce of Ft. Worth served as interim pastor until William (Bill) Smythe was called in Dec. 1974.

Bishop Named First Presbyterian Has Anniversary Celebration

HOUSTON AP — The Rev. Roger Cilley of Galveston has been elected suffragan bishop of the Houston-based Episcopal Diocese of Texas.

Cilley, pastor of Galveston's Trinity Church the past 13 years, was elected Tuesday at a special diocesan council meeting at Christ Church Cathedral. The election is subject to approval by the Episcopal House of Bishops and the standing committee of the Protestant Episcopal Church, two requirements normally considered as procedural.

Cilley will succeed the Rt. Rev. Scott F. Bailey, who resigned to become bishop-elect of the San Antonio-based Episcopal Diocese of West Texas.

Other contender in Tuesday's election included the Rev. Claude Payne of Beaumont and the Rev. Stanley Hauser of San Antonio.

Over 130 persons attended the 84th anniversary supper and program at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday night in the fellowship hall and the old upstairs sanctuary of the church.

Mrs. Lee Porter was general chairman of the event which included three speakers reviewing the past and looking to the future of the church.

The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor emeritus of the church, reviewed the early years from the original 12 members on Nov. 14, 1891 to today.

Pastors of the church and elders through the years were listed and the former pastor also mentioned four generation families of the congregation.

Members who had been in the church over 50 years were given the first special introduction.

Mrs. R. V. Middleton recalled the work of the Women of the Church through the years and outlined the importance of the women in helping to work to finance the church and its programs and serving as a "contributing spirit" through the years.

Mark Stephens discussed the future of the church and told of the growth of the young couples class, the need for a Christian Education worker, and emphasized the need for the experience of the older members, the knowledge of the middle-aged and the enthusiasm of the young.

In the fellowship hall, supper was served followed by a birthday cake. Old hymns were sung by the group led by Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall. Pictures of early church members and leaders were on display.

Rally Slated

There will be a trustees' rally, aimed at raising fund to help renovate the new church plant, at Bakers A.M.E. Church, NW 10th and Lancaster, Sunday 3 p.m.

The Rev. Robert Bracey will be the speaker. The congregation has moved in a church building from Vealmoor and is planning to remodel it so it will replace the present building. "Dinner on the ground" will follow the service.

prayer for tomorrow

My Susan took part in the Thanksgiving pageant at church school. Of course I made her pilgrim costume. Later, as I watched her singing, she looked just like the pictures I have seen of pilgrim children. I felt a lump in my throat and had a real sense of identity with those men, women and children who long ago withstood the hardships of life in a new and alien world.

These immigrants weren't superhuman; they were people just like you and me. They had the courage to believe in a new life -- a new country. They believed their ultimate struggle would lead to the freedom they so fervently sought.

Over three and a half centuries have passed. The foundation the pilgrim fathers laid for us seems to be shaking beneath our feet, and even our faith wavers.

But, reconsider. We owe it to those pilgrims as well as to ourselves to reaffirm our belief in God and in our country. And what better way than in your church -- this Thanksgiving?

A CHRISTMAS CROCODILE — Nolan Ragsdale applies last touches before this large paper crocodile is shipped to downtown Detroit from the Recreational Department garage. It will be shown at the Cobo Hall Christmas Carnival in Detroit beginning Dec. 6 and continuing through Dec. 23. This is only one of hundreds of floats expected.

Canada Mail Strike Threatens Yule Mail

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Many Canadians face the prospect of no Christmas mail — and no Christmas bills — as the postal strike goes into its second month with both sides standing firm.

For the businessman, the strike means unpaid customer bills, cash flow problems and forced borrowing to meet expenses.

Toronto city police say the strike is delaying justice. More than 45,000 summonses have been issued since inside postal workers walked out Oct. 21, and most are piling up in police stations. Additional charges for delayed payment have been waived.

The Ottawa police are delivering summonses by courier, but "it's costing us money," one officer said.

Letter carriers, who are not on strike, are delivering pension checks that have been sorted by supervisory staff and the few inside postal workers who have crossed picket lines.

Veterans' and family welfare checks are to be delivered beginning next week.

Sales of Christmas cards are down 50 per cent. Students of correspondence schools can't send in their assignments.

The business community, including such representative organizations as the Retail Merchants' Association and the Halifax Board of Trade, has sent hundreds of telegrams to the federal government demanding an end to the strike. Many demand back-to-work legislation.

But some businessmen have found ways to get their message, and bills, to the consumer.

Ian Tower, owner of a jewelry chain in New Brunswick, said he and two other companies rotate delivery of bills.

"It's surprising how you find ways of getting from one place to another," said Tower.

In Edmunston, N.B., representatives of a finance company are going from door to door like milkmen collecting payments.

The British Columbia Telephone Co. reports a 10 per cent increase in long-distance calls, but bill payments are off 50 per cent. This is causing a daily cash shortage of $750,000, which the company is borrowing at 10 per cent interest, a spokesman said.

Motorized Bicycles, Mass Transportation Of The Future

By The Associated Press
 It looks like a fat bicycle or an undernourished motorcycle, but it's really the motorized bicycle or "moped," a machine fast becoming the newest American transportation rage.

One must pedal the moped in order to get it started, but once in action, it can obtain speeds as high as 30 miles per hour with the aid of a small one-to two-horsepower engine.

Long a practical and popular method of transit in parts of Europe, Bermuda and the Caribbean, the motorized bike only became legal for sale in this country last year when the federal government issued safety standards. So far 10 states have legalized the moped for use on their highways.

Enthusiasts say the federal move was triggered by the national energy crunch, the faltering economy and concerns for cleaner air.

"Fifty per cent of working people in America live within five miles of work. The motorized bicycle is the most feasible, cheapest way of motorized transportation known to humanity," said J. David Jones.

Valentino Legend Called 'Hoot Movie'

By JAY SHARBUT
 AP TV Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — Every now and then I see a TV movie I know is rotten but still find fun to watch because it moves quickly, has much ripe dialogue, is highly sentimental and even funny in spots.

Such was "Love Story" and such is "The Legend of Valentino," a two-hour TV movie ABC is foisting on America Sunday night. It's what you'd call a hoot movie. You'll hoot at it while enjoying it.

ABC describes the flick as "a romantic fiction based on the life and myth of Rudolph Valentino, the screen's first and most famous male sex symbol." If you don't know who he was, ask Grandma.

The film, written by Mel Shavelson, is a well-constructed yarn about the poor, handsome Italian immigrant who rose to fame and funds in silent films only to die at age 31, at the height of his fame and $500,000 in debt.

The acting is first-rate, with Franco Nero in the title role, Suzanne Pleshette as the cynical, heart-of-gold scriptwriter who gets him started, Judd Hirsch as his cynical, wisecracking publicity man, and Yvette Mimieux as a fiercely ambitious "set designer" who married him only to further her Hollywood career, then divorced him.

The opening scene is of Valentino's empty mansion, with Pleshette recalling off-camera the dreams that died with Valentino, including his long desire to have his own orange grove.

The grove bore fruit, she sighs, but "he never smelled the blossoms."

Yes, indeed. Then we get down to the beginning of his career, which starts when Valentino, broke, hungry and with no aim other than survival, tries to burglarize the scriptwriter's home late at night.

She catches him, calls the cops, then changes her mind after the cops rough him up. She's intrigued by this good-looking footpad and she and Hirsch wangle him an acting job that leads to stardom.

Amid the ensuing proceedings are references to Valentino's distasteful humors he was a homosexual, plus such great lines as "this is Hollywood. We all eat dirt here because it pays so well."

Another good line comes from Valentino's studio boss, who, upon seeing a rival studio boss at a party, leaves, snarling, "You wanna know how much I hate him? I'm going home to my wife."

Yeah, it sounds pretty bad. But the scenes are so well-crafted and the acting so crisp you'll still have fun watching this tableau of Hollywood flimflam, sham and bittersweet love.

East Texas Bus Wreck Sends 38 To Hospital

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP) — Doctors kept five persons at Titus County Memorial Hospital today for treatment of injuries suffered as a light bus overturned.

They sent the 33 other passengers aboard the bus home after emergency treatment.

The eastbound vehicle upset on Interstate 30 near Winfield, seven miles west of here in East Texas, about 11:30 p.m. Thursday. Witnesses reported it crossed the median and rolled three times before coming to a halt upside down.

"The wind just caught us," said driver Evelyn Poer, explaining that heavy gusts whipped across the road as her bus and a second vehicle were returning to Texarkana, Tex. after taking their passengers to a meeting in Dallas. She suffered a sprained ankle and bruised ribs.

The buses were operated by the Texarkana Community Resources Council and occupants live in or near that city.

Mount Pleasant firemen helped ambulance attendants get the 38 occupants of the overturned bus to the hospital. Attendants said it was feared some of the five persons kept for treatment suffered broken bones.

Motorized Bicycles, Mass Transportation Of The Future

Jones is a somewhat prejudiced source (he's president of American Garelli East, an Italian bike manufacturer), but if the booming motorcycle industry is any indicator, mopeds should have plenty of market appeal.

Mopeds weigh between 55 and 100 pounds, get up to 220 miles per gallon and cost between $300 and $499. They're also quieter than motorcycles and automobiles, supporters say.

"Every time I ride a motorized bike I smile," said Mark Rosenker of the Motorized Bicycle Association, an industry trade group. "I never met anyone who didn't giggle a little bit and smile. It's fun to ride and I can fill up my gas tank for 37 cents."

There are 50 million mopeds in use all over the world, according to Serge Sequin, chairman of the association and vice president of Motobecane, another manufacturer. In the United States, some 50,000 people ride the machines.

So far, the only states to pass measures in their legislatures legalizing the machine are Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas, Ohio, Michigan, Nevada, California, Hawaii and New Jersey.

Speed limits and engine capacity differ from state to state. In California, the speed limit is 30 m.p.h., while in New Jersey, the limit is placed at 25 m.p.h. New Jersey law restricts engine capacity to 1.5 horsepower. In Virginia, the engine can only be 1 horsepower.

"Engines cannot be souped up," said Rosenker. "It's just not practical."

When lobbying in state legislatures, he said, the association encourages the lawmakers to try the bike.

"They realize it's a slow-moving bike and not a motorcycle," said Rosenker. "They think it's going to take off and do wheelies. But you can't varoom, varoom, varoom it."
