HE SAYS TRIP HAD MANY PLUSSES

Ford, Returns, Hints Of Mid-East Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford turns his attention to domestic matters this week after proclaiming his Asian trip "beneficial" and indicating that plans are in the works for a trip to the Mideast.

Ford returned to the White House early this morning after a 27,000-mile trip that he said contained "no minuses and many, many pluses." He climaxed his journey in Honolulu with a declaration of a six-point "Pacific Doctrine" for U.S. foreign policy and held out the possibility of future U.S. friendship with Vietnam and Cambodia.

Chatting with reporters just before his jet landed at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Ford was asked if he felt it had been necessary for him to personally make the long journey to China, he replied: "The discussions we had in Peking were mandatory at my level."

Ford said he felt the talks in Indonesia and the Philippines also needed to be conducted at the heads-of-government level.

A reporter, mindful of rumors that Ford now plans to travel to the Mideast early next year, asked about any such plans.

"There are no definite plans," the President replied. But he added that he probably would go to the Mideast "at some point."

Ford said he found his talks in Peking, Jakarta and Manila were "very substantially beneficial."

Ford flew home from Honolulu where he chose the anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor to reveal his "Pacific Doctrine" in a speech in Honolulu.

"The first premise of a new Pacific doctrine is that American strength is basic to any stable balance of power in the Pacific," Ford said. And, noting Japan's transition from enemy to friend, the President held out the chance of U.S. friendship for Cambodia and Vietnam, saying: "Our policies toward the new regimes on the (Indochinese) peninsula will be determined by their conduct toward us. We are prepared to reciprocate goodwill — particularly the return of the remains of Americans killed or missing in action, or information about them. If they exhibit restraint toward their neighbors and constructive approaches to international problems, we will look to the future rather than the past."

Back in the capital, Ford is facing decisions on a variety of issues and is expected to sign a bill to provide emergency assistance to help solve New York's fiscal crisis.

Congress is still struggling with tax and energy measures which could draw another pair of presidential vetoes.

Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb has urged approval of the energy bill which would temporarily lower oil prices, but some conservatives oppose the measure and Ford's campaign director, Howard H. Callaway suggested Sunday that the President might be well advised politically to veto the measure.

Callaway also suggested a veto of the tax measure where Ford is insisting that spending cuts be tacked onto tax reductions and Congress is resisting the idea.

On Sunday the President visited two memorials of World War II.

'TREE' OF TRASH — An unidentified woman looks Monday at a trashy "tree" for Christmas put up by residents at 12th Street and the Avenue of the Americas in New York's Greenwich Village. The "tree" is a conical heap of black trash bags festooned with orange juice containers, crates and other gaudy garbage that has accumulated during a week-old Teamsters Union strike against commercial carters in the city.

Ford's Kissinger Contempt Compromise Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise offer from President Ford to head off contempt action against Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was rejected today by the chairman of the House intelligence committee.

Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., said the House might vote on a contempt resolution against Kissinger as early as this week if the committee agrees with him Tuesday that Ford's new offer is unacceptable and that he should ask for a House vote.

In a compromise from the administration's position Nov. 20, Ford's counsel offered to identify all U.S. covert operations abroad since 1961 that had been requested by the State Department.

But Pike said the committee had subpoenaed all State Department requests for covert operations — not just a list of the ones that were approved.

He said the committee originally was told the State Department requested five covert operations during the 14 years since 1961, but that the number has now grown to 25.

Pike said he was filing a committee-approved contempt citation against Kissinger with the full House today.

He said he will ask for a full House vote only if the committee decides he should.

In a letter sent to all House members last week, Pike said approval of contempt action against Kissinger would not "cause the earth to tremble nor the sun to stop in its tracks."

"No one is seeking to place Mr. Kissinger in jail," Pike said. "And the worst that can happen to him is that he might have to provide the documents subpoenaed to Congress."

The committee voted three contempt citations against Kissinger last month and administration officials had said at one point since they could offer no compromise on the one concerning the covert operations.

They promised full compliance with the other two: minutes on reportedly more than 100 covert operations approved since 1965, and U.S. intelligence estimates on Soviet compliance with arms agreements.

The new offer from Ford's staff is to expand the covert-operation approvals it has already agreed to turn over to include all State Department requests, as the committee asked.

Lease Request Tabled By Commission Here

By JOHN EDWARDS

A federal probated conviction and a delinquent tax suit were disclosed, but a request for a fixed-base operator's lease at Howard County Airport was tabled in County Commissioners Court this morning.

Louis Rosenbaum, the El Paso resident seeking a second lease at the airport, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in 1972 to a firearm violation.

"At this time, this county is in a lawsuit collecting delinquent taxes from Big Spring Aircraft," the firm which has the first lease, attorney Robert Miller said.

Miller said his clients had presented all the information they would provide to get the lease.

Miller started the heated discussion by outlining the "history" of the proposal.

On Sept. 8, Miller said, Trans Regional representatives first verbally requested a lease.

The written request was presented Sept. 30, Miller said.

was found guilty of sale of a firearm "to a person not residing in the State of Texas." The real purchaser was a Mexican citizen, officials in El Paso told this newspaper earlier.

Rosenbaum was fined $5,000 and given a three-year prison sentence suspended for five years.

"It is further ordered that counts two through 13 of the indictment be, and they are hereby dismissed," the judgment states.

"You knew it a month ago," Miller told Judge Tune. "You read a newspaper clipping."

A copy of a newspaper clipping listing the indictment was sent anonymously to the Big Spring Herald and several others here.

Building Spurring

Building permits for the month of November totaled $17,970, according to information released from the city building inspector.

This total included $94,000 for Gary Turner office building at 610 Rummels, $50,000 for storage rental units being constructed by Bill Guinn at 411 Abrams and several residences.

Worthy Construction is building new residences at $45,000 cost at both 2807 Stonehaven and 701 Scott Drive.

Other residential permits include three by Heinze and Wrinkle for $22,000 each at 4114 Bilger, 5118 Bilger and 4201 Bilger.

The list includes residences constructed by E. D. Sawyer, 2608 Alamesa, $25,000; Art Franklin, 2605 Apache Drive, $35,000; B&J Construction, 3610 Parkway, $28,500; Jeff Miller, 2301 Lynn, $33,700 and Heinze Construction, $55,000 at 1603 Kiowa. Tompkins Oil Company has filed a $20,000 remodeling permit. The ten new residences alone total $333,200.

County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. has not prepared a more detailed list of questions to be answered by airlines' representatives, Miller said.

Eysen will meet in his office with Miller to clarify the questions, Judge Tune said.

"PAPER TIGER" — "We've had unending meetings," Miller explained.

"Everything we do has to be like a paper tiger, passing paper back and forth," Miller said.

"I feel like you have been harassing the commissioners court about this to some extent," Judge Tune said.

Court Upholds Jacobsen Deal

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court upheld today the government's deal to dismiss charges against Jake Jacobsen in return for his testimony against former Secretary of the Treasury John Connally.

Jacobsen was the key witness in Connally's bribery trial, a spinoff of the Watergate investigations in which Connally was accused of taking illegal contributions from a milk lobbyist. Connally was acquitted.

Jacobsen was charged with misapplication of $825,000 from a San Angelo saving and loan firm of which he was director and major stockholder.

When the government attempted to drop the charge in exchange for testimony against Connally, U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. Hill said they could not and appointed two special prosecutors to handle the case.

The 5th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed Hill, saying he exceeded his discretion. Since the judge overstepped himself, the appeals court said, there was no need to rule on whether he was right when he appointed the special prosecutors.

Miller said a post-ponement of action on Trans Regional's lease proposal would be taken as a "no" answer.

County Judge Bill Tune tabled the proposal until more detailed information

WHY'S VEEP? — Judge Tune showed copies of documents from the state, which did not list R.E. McClure as vice president of El Paso Air Transport. McClure said a vote to make his designation official would be taken in January or February.

Next, Judge Tune handed Miller a copy of a federal court criminal case judgment. The county judge prodded Miller to read the judgment and explain it.

"I was not the attorney at the time of this action," Miller replied.

"I feel like your investigators and your court know more about this," Miller said, "because I wasn't even involved in this thing."

Rehab Center Given $5,000

A gift of $5,000 was presented to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Foundation by the Fasken Foundation, 414 W. Texas, Midland, with the check received today by Jack Davis, director of the Dora Roberts Rehab Center.

The letter was in answer to a series of letters sent out last spring by the local board soliciting help to stabilize the financial base of the local foundation.

Phil M. Adams is executive director and Murray Fasken, president, of the Fasken Foundation.

FIRST 'EMPLOYEE OF THE WEEK' — Mrs. J. C. (Ellen) Eudy, who works for Big Spring Hardware, is shown accepting her certification from Al Stephens, chairman of the Retail Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, as "Employee of the Week." Mrs. Eudy was selected on the basis of her courtesy and friendliness toward customers. The "Shop in Big Spring" campaign will continue through the month of December and the committee plans to employ some employee each week. There are some 545 employees of Big Spring merchants eligible for the award.

Ruling On Fees Could Cost BS ISD $25,000

AUSTIN — The recent attorney general's opinion outlawing student fees will cost public school districts nearly $22 million during a single year, according to a statewide survey just completed by the Texas Education Agency.

Responses to the survey pinpoint academic fees as the largest single factor at an estimated $15,712,284 loss for the year. They include laboratory fees, workbooks, and towel fees for physical education.

Big Spring's portion of this expected shortage next year is an estimated $25,000, according to Dr. Emmett McKenzie, superintendent of schools. "We are requesting a $5600 amendment to the budget for the balance of this year to cover these costs, and next year estimate that it will cost us $25,000," McKenzie said.

Big Spring was not hit with the problem of cutting out fees for driver education or the amount would have been larger. When driver education is taught during the summer months, as it is in Big Spring, fees may be charged.

Loss of driver education fees will cost districts about $3,282,468 for the year while extra-curricular fees, including band uniform cleaning and rental, will add $2,559,869 to the total. Other miscellaneous fees total $393,349.

These estimates tally out to $21,947,970 for all school districts, according to Raymon Bynum, Texas Education Agency associate commissioner for financial allocations.

A total of 915 of the state's 1,136 districts responded to the survey. These districts represent 2,199,996 students or 87.83 per cent of the average daily attendance in public schools. Their cost estimates are based on 1973-74 data, the most recent figures now available, Bynum said.

Total average daily attendance is estimated at 2,504,907 students with nearly 2.9 million actually enrolled in all grades, kindergarten through 12.

Driver education fees have shown an upward trend during the past three years. The 915 reporting districts show 96,596 students enrolled in the both classroom and on-the-road courses at an average cost of $29.95 per student.

CHEER FUND GETS START

The Christmas Cheer Fund got underway today with three nice gifts.

The Homemakers Class of the First Christian Church led off with a $10 gift. Dr. S. C. Guthrie followed with $15. Then Herb and Ruth R. Heath gave $15 in lieu of local Christmas cards, bringing the total to $40 for the first day of receipts.

Please mail or send your gift to the Herald for grateful acknowledgment.

Time To Press For Peace

Although the Arab-inspired resolution in the United Nations condemning Zionism as racism, and the "preventative" bombing of Arab guerillas by Israeli aircraft have tremendously unsettling influence, now appears to be a time to push for peace.

These harsh realities must not distract from exploring some hopeful straws in the wind, not the least of which is the growing feeling that Palestinian Arabs fit into the equation of a stable settlement in the mid-East.

There is no assurance that the PLO voice would be more moderate in practice than it has been in denouncing the Israeli state, nor that Israel would negotiate with PLO or some other responsible voice. Yet, the ultimate solution must involve this very dialogue.

Any formulae developed by the super-powers will lack the force of personal interest and moral commitment which must come from the parties most directly involved.

To refuse to consider the possibility of some equitable solution to the problem of dispossessed Arabs is to pour fire on an historic international feud. The result will be, as it has been in the past, insane destruction and death for the sake of the feud.

Somehow, some day there must be a forging of "our way" rather than a blind insistence upon my way," the festering sore upon the body of peaceful existence.

Because We Ask

You can be sure that Congress listens more to voices in particular (from influential constituents) than it does to voices in general.

Considering the pressure exerted from every quarter, the restraint of Congress may be rather remarkable. Any practical increase in fiscal restraint will come when individuals, groups, communities and states say "start with me." But don't hold your breath.

America has many interesting pastimes, among them complaining that Congress is spending us into more and more inflation, and finally the poorhouse.

Forgotten or ignored is the other part of feeling about Congress, namely that we do almost anything to get something for us.

Limitation in spending means after our interests are taken care of. What we want is necessary; what the other fellow wants is fat or waste.

My Answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you believe it is right to force religion down someone else's throat? We live under a Constitution that guarantees freedom of religion, so I don't see why some people try to impose their beliefs on others. — T.J.P.

DEAR T.J.P.: It is not right to "force" someone to accept a religious belief, if by that we mean violating their right to accept or reject an idea. True evangelism, in the Biblical sense, is not brainwashing. Not only would this be wrong because it did not allow the person to evaluate fairly, but I think any beliefs imposed upon a person are not likely to last, since they did not come from a sincere and thoughtful commitment.

However, there is another side to this. Christians are convinced that God has revealed Himself to men in Jesus Christ and that whoever puts his trust and faith in Jesus Christ will be saved. The Gospel is God's answer to man's most desperate problem—his sins.

For that reason, a Christian who is in fellowship with Christ will seek to share this good news with as many as possible. He knows that the message of Christ is not simply a nice idea that would make people live better, but that its acceptance or rejection has eternal consequences. As Paul said: "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive good or evil, according to what he has done in the body. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade them..." (11 Corinthians 5:10-11, RSV)

Some few Christians may be too insensitive to people in presenting their message; generally, however, the problem is that we are not bold enough in presenting God's Truth.

Industry Ires Wives

NEW YORK (AP) — An authority on corporate personnel matters says industry is irritating an increasing number of wives and the corporate world must seek a truce or face defeat.

As Eugene Jennings, senior vice president of business consulting firm, says, it cannot meet its challenges if it continues to offend the wives. Literally, he feels, enough unhappy wives can undermine industry.

Jennings, a management professor at Michigan State University who is also an author and counselor to top corporate executives, says the reason is that future management men cannot be developed without the support of wives.

Basic to his argument is the observation, proven over the years, that industry best trains its managers, at least in part, by testing them in various jobs in many parts of the corporation. Usually this requires geographical mobility.

Geographical mobility means the uprooting of the family every few years — new homes, schools, churches, clubs, friends, activities. For the man, his career compensates. For the wife there are few personal rewards.

A mobile manager is most effective when he has a wife willing to make these sacrifices for his career. For many years this has been so; the wives have been willing to stay home and make the sacrifices.

"In the 1960s and before, the vast majority of mobile managers had wives who were homemakers," said Jennings, who began his pioneer studies of corporate mobility in the late 1940s.

"Nine of 10 mobile managers in their early 30s had wives who were homemakers." Now, however, the ratio is down to 6 in 10. "The women are becoming less and less supportive of the husbands' mobility," Jennings explained. They are seeking their own careers.

Seeking the explanation, Jennings spent many weekends with managers and their wives. His conclusion: "The real issue, as the mobile wives perceive it, is social inequity."

The worst injustice encountered by the wife who stays home to take care of the family is to see her husband surpassed by a career woman who sends her kids out to a day care center.

"While the homemaker is pursuing the traditional responsibilities of giving tender loving care to the family and home, another woman captures the brass ring, even though neglecting her family responsibilities," said Jennings.

"There is no wrath like that of a mobile wife when her husband is beaten out by a woman of this type." Adding to the homemaker's rage is the fact that some career women can obtain a tax deduction for child care costs. But, asks Jennings, can the homemaker, whose work is equally important, do so? No.

As the children grow older and often more expensive, the disadvantage of a single income becomes painful to the wife who stays at home. She sees her career counterpart able to afford a considerably higher living standard.

"The irony of this is that while society and our corporations speak of the home as the cradle of civilization, every incentive is offered to get women out of the home," said Jennings.

He added: "In an attempt to live up to the equal opportunity laws, large corporations are offering one of their most vital assets, the mobile wife."

The inequity is reinforced by various corporate practices, said Jennings. When a company attempts to hire a bright young management man whose wife is a careerist, the trend today is to find a job for the spouse too.

Sometimes a company actually will incur the cost of uprooting a career wife and provide compensatory income until she finds another job.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Three Years—No Baby

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband and I have been trying to have a child for three years. My husband's sperm count showed about 80 million, but motility is only 30 per cent. What does this mean and what can be done about it?

Is it possible to become pregnant with these kinds of readings? — Mrs. R.T.

The 80 million reading (80 million sperm per milliliter of seminal fluid) is within normal range. The motility (the percentage of viable sperm), while on the low side, should not be a bar to conception. Pregnancy has occurred with much lower readings than the ones you report. Motility refers to the ability of the sperm to migrate to the waiting ovum, so the odds are reduced somewhat.

Thyroid deficiency on your part can be a factor, and thyroid therapy has been helpful in improving things. An endocrinologist (a gland specialist) could advise you further.

Barring such disorders as glandular malfunction, other problems, such as a physical barrier in the sperm's pathway, can be involved. You do not mention your own status in all of this.

All things being equal (as far as you are concerned) there are steps you can take to increase the chances of impregnation. You might try remaining in a reclining position an hour or two after intercourse. You and your husband should avoid frequent intercourse, concentrating chiefly on the time of your ovulation (mid-cycle). Determining the time of ovulation as closely as possible would be helpful.

Later on, artificial insemination with your husband's sperm is another possibility to consider.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have any information you can give me on ileitis? I have had this diagnosed, and I am told it is in the last 18 inches of my small intestine. — Mrs. C.H.A.

The facts given in your letter indicate what is called "regional ileitis," an inflammation within the last foot or two of the ileum, the ileum being the final portion of the small intestine before it joins the large intestine. So it is in a rather delicate location.

But you have not told me enough in your letter. Your age and the severity of the inflammation would be important, as would the specific infecting organism. Untreated, the problem can lead to serious complications, as an obstruction of the bowel at this point. That would be accompanied by pain and bowel disorder generally.

About half the cases of regional ileitis occur in persons from 20 to 30 years old. Your physician may advise complete rest, and if you can do this, it will pay rich dividends.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

One thing and another:

A lot of people are concerned over how many bushels of corn we'll harvest this year. More than a few are worried about how much of it will be bottled.

IF YOU think you can make both ends meet in this inflationary age, you can be a poor judge of distance.

Which reminds me of what columnist Sydney J. Harris had to say about the hypnotic eye: "Television," remarked Harris, "is the only medium in history that was born into adolescence and keeps regressing toward its infancy."

The Quinlan Case

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The Karen Ann Quinlan case settled not very much, but brought to prominence the whole question of the right of the individual to command the movements of his doctors under dire circumstances.

Dr. Milton Heifetz, a prominent California neurosurgeon, has written a subtle and informative book on the subject called "The Right to Die." He testified in the Karen Ann Quinlan case on the side of the petitioners, Karen's parents, who begged the doctor to "pull the plug," the earthy term, for which however there is no satisfactory substitute conveying exactly that meaning. The distinction is between letting a patient die of natural causes, and causing him to die.

IT IS in the opinion of Dr. Heifetz the critical distinction, and it has a distinguished ethical lineage. Karen Quinlan's parents are Catholics, and before approaching the doctor to recommend that he turn off the respirator that keeps their vegetated daughter technically alive, they consulted their parish priest. Relying on a papal allocation 17 years old, that priest told them to go ahead. There was controversy up the line, when a Franciscan priest writing in "Ossevatore Romano" called for keeping her alive. But a prominent Italian Jesuit disagreed. And everyone, including the judge, studied the relevant phrases of Pope Pius: quite properly, I should think, since ethics are best defined not by legislators, but by moralists.

The Pope began his address to the anesthetologists in 1958 by saying that questions of science, such as when is some one in fact dead, are best settled by scientists. But "considerations of a general nature allow us to believe that human life continues for as long as its vital functions — distinguished from the simple life of organs — manifest themselves spontaneously even with the help of artificial processes."

THE QUESTION concerning which there is discussion is the emphasis that is properly placed on the word "or." It would appear, if read literally, to make the word "spontaneously" entirely meaningless. Either vital organs are working spontaneously, or they are not. If, as in artificial respiration, they are made to work by artificial processes leading to their resuscitation, after which they will resume working spontaneously, then the answer would be clear. Indeed, in "John F. Kennedy Memorial Hospital vs. Heston" a court ordered, against the will of her parents, a Jehovah's Witness to receive a transfusion of blood, — which resulted in the girl's recovery.

THERE IS crystallizing agreement that in cases of irreversible paralysis, doctors should be permitted to pull the plug if that is the will of the patient. The practical problem is ascertaining the will of someone in a comatose condition. We know what Karen Ann's parents believe she would wish. But we do not, in fact, have her word on the matter. Her attending physician — although one doubts that he would disagree that Karen, if competent would agree with her parents — is simply not qualified to transcribe the desires of an unconscious human being. And the judge ruled that her parents were not authorized to make so grave a decision in their capacity as surrogates.

WHAT IS coming up, then, is the question of how to anticipate such circumstances. Much thought has been given to the subject, and in another article I propose to pass along in a subsequent article the specific form recommended by Dr. Heifetz.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

December 9, 1775:

The Battle of Great Bridge, sometimes called "Virginia's Bunker Hill." In the first major engagement of the Revolution in Virginia, about 300 militiamen face about 200 British troops from opposite ends of a 160-yard-long causeway across the southern branch of the Elizabeth River. Located about 12 miles from Norfolk, the causeway is the Virginians' only land route to the town. In the early morning, Virginia's Royal Governor John Murray Dummore orders his troops to attack. Marching six abreast along the causeway, they are cut down by William Woodward's sharp-shooting Virginians. In the 20-minute engagement, the British suffer about 60 casualties; one Virginian is slightly wounded in the hand. Dummore and his followers flee to ships in Hampton Roads; a combined force of Virginians and North Carolinians occupies Norfolk five days later.

Homework

WASHINGTON — There is increasing evidence that students are not doing as well in school these days as they used to. The national tests they take to get into college show that in most subjects this generation of scholars has taken a dive. Are the kids of today any dumber than those of yesterday? I don't think so. I believe one of the reasons there's been such a letdown is that the parents of today's students are doing their kids' homework.

THE PHONE rings in my office about six times a week, and this is a typical conversation.

"Mr. Buchwald, my name is Mrs. Thunderbush, and my son Gerald has to do a paper on freedom of speech and the First Amendment. I wonder if you could help him?"

"Where is Gerald now?" I asked her. "Why doesn't he call me himself?"

"HE'S VERY busy, and I said I would get the information for him."

"What good is it going to do him if you get the information? I assume the teacher gave him the assignment to instruct him in how to gather data for his paper."

"But I'm his mother. It's not as if he asked a stranger to call you up."

"MRS. THUNDERBUSH, you sound like a wonderful parent, but don't you think you would be doing Gerald a better service if you let him do his own homework?"

"Mr. Buchwald, Gerald is only 15 years old. When a boy gets to that age there's so little a mother can do for him. I can't even tell him when to go to bed at night. The only thing he'll still let me do is help with homework."

"BUT," I protested, "someday when Gerald goes out in the cold, cruel world and he has a research assignment, how will he know how to do it?"

"I'll always be there when Gerald needs me."

"MRS. THUNDERBUSH, I believe you're doing your son harm by working on his homework. What pleasure will Gerald get out of a paper he hands in which he knows is not all his own work?"

"He'll get pleasure out of knowing there was a mother who stood by him and cared enough about him to help him through the roughest part of his life — which was school."

"Well, first of all, why didn't you look up the First Amendment in the encyclopedia instead of calling me?"

"Because all the mothers of the kids in Gerald's class use the encyclopedia. I wanted Gerald's paper to be more original. If you'll help, I'll send my husband by to pick it up."

TERRIFIED — An unidentified resident of downtown Salt Lake City's Congress Hotel shows the fear that accompanied the flight this morning of about 90 residents when a five-alarm fire broke out. There was no immediate report of deaths, although officials said some of the residents were not accounted for. Three elderly occupants were admitted to hospitals, mainly for smoke inhalation.

Colorado Plant Sold, Expansion Slated

COLORADO CITY — Jerrell, Inc., a women's apparel manufacturer, has purchased Colorado City Manufacturing, founded in August 1969.

The Dallas-based firm has announced plans to change machinery and expand operations to employ as many as 200 persons by the end of 1976.

The firm now employs 83 and has employed as many as 100 at peak periods. The factory was founded by Izzy Freudenrich of Dallas with the help of the Colorado City Industrial Team, Inc.

Jo Denson, manager, said there will be no changes in the local management, but there may be added benefits for factory employes.

The change in ownership got underway Nov. 20 and was completed Dec. 1. Freudenrich died in June 1974 and since that time the local sewing plant and others have been managed by his widow.

Jerrell now has 20 factories making ladies' dress wear under the labels of Jerrell of Texas, PBJ, Melissa Lane, Strait Lane, Selador and Willow Lane.

The Colorado City plant will cut material for the local plant and the PBJ factory in Big Spring.

How to save up to $3,750 on your 1975 income tax.

As incredible as it sounds, it's true. And it's even sanctioned by the IRS! If you're self-employed, or not participating in a retirement plan where you work, you can save a substantial sum on your 1975 income tax, and start building a nest egg for the future at the same time. How? With a Keogh or IRA account. Since these programs are relatively new, many individuals who qualify for them may not fully understand what they are, or how they work. So as a community service, we at First Federal have decided to hold an informal gathering to explain fully, in easy-to-understand language, what these plans are, and exactly what they have to offer. The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday evening, December 9, from 7:30 to 9:00 pm in the Community Room at First Federal Savings and Loan. It's free. Refreshments will be served. And those attending will receive a comprehensive workbook that includes literature distributed by the IRS, a simplified explanation of both plans, and work sheets to compute how you, personally, can benefit. So if you want to know how you can save up to $3,750 on your income tax, be sure to join us. These plans must be established by December 31 to benefit you on your 1975 tax return. For more information, call or write Mrs. Margie Hill at First Federal Savings and Loan, 500 Main, Big Spring, Texas, 267-8252.

“I'd rather explain higher gas bills than why you don't have gas.”

Your natural gas bill is higher. And, you have every right to know why.

One reason is lower temperatures brought on by winter.

The main reason, however, is simply that you are paying more for natural gas. Because we are paying more. This chart shows how much:

This increase hurts both you and Pioneer. It adds to your bill and to our cost . . . a cost for which Pioneer is not entirely compensated. It is passed through without mark-up or additional charges.

Why does gas cost more? Competition . . . particularly from petrochemical and other industries. The competition for gas has never been so fierce.

We will have to pay more for gas than in the past. But by working together, and without outside interference, you'll have the gas you need today and in the future.

PRIMITIVE BALLOON SOARS — This 7-story high, primitive smoke balloon lifted off Peru's Plains of Nazca Nov. 28 carrying Jim Woodman, of Miami, Fla., and Julian Nott of Great Britain. The balloon and gondola were made entirely of materials believed available to the Incas. It was put together with techniques the Incas are known to have possessed. "It was a fantastic flight," said Nott, a British balloon pilot.

LONDON (AP) — A London newspaper says that Queen Elizabeth, who will be 50 years old next April, may abdicate in favor of Prince Charles "within the next 10 or 15 years."

In a feature on the queen, the Sunday Mirror said that Elizabeth is at "an age when many people, however active they are in their work, begin to turn their thoughts toward retirement and what it entails."

Queen Elizabeth has been on the throne since 1952.

NEW YORK (AP) — John Wayne is dropping out of favor with the movie-going public, if a list of the top 10 box office stars means anything.

For the first time in 25 years, Wayne is not on the list compiled by Quigley Publications. Robert Redford topped the stars, followed by Barbra Streisand. She was the only woman named. The rest of the top ten, in order, were:

Al Pacino, Charles Bronson, Paul Newman, Clint Eastwood, Burt Reynolds, Woody Allen, Steve McQueen and Gene Hackman.

MILAN, Italy (AP) — American soprano Shirley Verrett has scored a new triumph at Milan's La Scala opera house, singing Lady Macbeth in Verdi's opera Macbeth for the first time in her career.

"She was great," Renata Tebaldi, herself an opera star, said after Sunday night's opening performance. An Italian critic said, "She was a splendid Lady Macbeth. She is a great singer, a splendid actress and a real artist."

Miss Verrett, a native of New Orleans who grew up in Los Angeles, was making her fourth premiere at La Scala. She was warmly applauded and received several calls after every act of the opera.

'RAINBOW JONES'

Curtain Going Up Tuesday

"R. J." (for Rainbow Jones), featuring the Hawk Players, will be staged in the Howard College cafeteria as a dinner theater event Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Tickets are being offered for $5 each. A choice of entree will be ham or roast beef.

Reservations can be made by calling 267-6311. Dinner time is 7 p.m.

"R. J." is a modern musical which twists an old fable to make a new one. Written and composed by a young woman named Jill Williams, it is simple without ever seeming silly, with no stain of cuteness and as innocent as "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

It's about a modern girl who falls in love, falls out again and then—as heroines must in musical comedies—falls back again.

SENSIBLE GIRL

Rainbow (Karyle Thames), who is called Beatrice by her Aunt Felicity, who has a felicitous way of chasing her, prefers to think of herself as "Rainbow Jones", which is more sensible for a girl with problems. Her problems are not great, or so it would seem, until "R. J." moves on a way and the author and the players make it plain without shouting that the games she plays are not entirely frivolous. Dreaming her way into another world, Rainbow Jones is carrying, with as much grace as an imagination can, a memory of catastrophe.

When a young man (Dick Risk) comes jogging by and sees her sitting on a park bench, he falls in love with her.

Since "R. J." is a modern musical comedy and therefore much like the old-fashioned musical comedies, she falls in love with him, too. But, when he learns that she sees and talks to and sings with four "animals," he is disturbed. The talented creatures of Rainbow's imagination are a Fox, Lioness, Dog and Lamb, represented with a great deal of wit and imagination by Laurie Choate, Mike Hinton, Lynda Franklin and Steve Corson.

Playwright Williams, having invented the four creatures, had to think hard to find a reason why Joey, who loves Rainbow at first sight, wouldn't love her animals. She hit on a provocative idea. She insists he is an advertising copywriter.

Even a copywriter can be imaginative, of course, and in due course, which is to say after two or three songs, Joey begins to see Leona, the lioness; C.A. Fox, the fox naturally; Bones, the noisy pup; and Cardigan, the modest lamb.

MUST CHANGE

Then, of course, Rainbow thinks he is making fun of her, and, also of course, she has to grow up now. She must discard her dream world and enter the real one, which, in musical comedy at least, is considered superior.

All the characters in the production must have a wide range of talent as there is not only singing and dancing, but intimate acting sequences between Uncle Ithaca and Aunt Felicity, Jim Wiley and Carol Gibson, respectively.

The production on a whole is a county-wide operation, with personnel from the Music and Drama Departments of Howard College, not to mention high school students from Coahoma and Big Spring and Webb AFB is well represented.

Director for Rainbow Jones is John S. Gordon. The musical direction is being handled by Kenneth R. Sprinkle. The Assistant Director and Stage Manager are Mary Mullen and Mark Sheedy, respectively.

Appeals Justice Files Richard Adair Is Transferred

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Chief Justice Charles W. Barrow of the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals filed today as a candidate for the Texas Supreme Court.

Barrow, 54, is seeking the post now held by Justice Ross E. Doughty of Uvalde, who has announced he will not run for a new term.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Doughty to the high court when Justice Ruel C. Walker retired before his term ran out.

As of now, Barrow is the only candidate in the race. Judge Martin Dies Jr. of the Beaumont Court of Civil Appeals had considered running for the supreme court, but announced last week he would not be a candidate.

Barrow has been on the 4th Court of Civil Appeals in San Antonio for 13 years, eight of them as chief justice. He was a district court judge before that.

He said he has traveled 22,000 miles around Texas since he decided in March that he would run. At that time, he said, he knew of Walker's intention not to seek a new term. Although he and Doughty are friends, he said, "I had been too far and looked too many people in the eye" to drop out as a candidate if Doughty had decided to make the race.

Barrow said, "I'd rather not say," how he voted on the Judiciary article of the proposed constitution that was defeated Nov. 4.

"I have people backing me who were on both sides," he said.

Barrow was a charter member of the Texas Judicial Qualifications Commission, and said that body has done its job well. While he was on it, he said, four or five judges were persuaded to resign because they no longer were capable of doing their work.

A Poteet native, Barrow is a graduate of the Baylor University Law School and a decorated Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean War. He is a captain in the Naval Reserve.

City officials who met with the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife learned that they can trim the Roy Anderson baseball complex to meet the funds available in order to go ahead and begin construction.

Harry Nagel, city manager; Roy Trim, city engineer; and Jerry Foresyth, superintendent of parks, learned of this approval when they met with state officials Thursday.

"Some of the items that we already know will be deleted are parking lots and sidewalks and part of the bleachers," city officials said here today.

They are also attempting to obtain additional funds for the complex through other grants if possible.

With the arrest of the man by Chief Deputy Bill Whitton, Deputy Eddie Owen and Deputy Paul Silva, officers recovered five CB radios, a combination stereo-radio unit, and a tool box belonging to a city policeman that had been missing for several weeks.

Bond was set at $20,000 by Justice of the Peace Bobby West.

Ribbon-Cutting Rites Mark Shop's Opening

Special ribbon-cutting ceremonies 9 a.m. today marked the opening of the Big Spring Veteran Administration Hospital Gift Shop. The shop offers free gifts, free wrapping and free mailing for patients at the hospital.

Operated each year since 1921 by the American Legion Auxiliary, the shop allows the hospitalized veterans to select gifts for the members of their immediate families and to have them wrapped and mailed, all at no cost to the men themselves.

Gifts, all new or homemade, are donated by the Legion Auxiliary and other veterans organizations from throughout the 52 counties served by the Big Spring VA Hospital.

This year, in addition to donations from the ALA, the hospital received gifts from Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliaries, 7208, Midland, 4506, Levelland and 6794, Brownfield. Also donating were WWI Auxiliaries, 389, Crosbyton, 1481, Lubbock and Black and Gold, Odessa, as well as the Navy Mothers Club, Lubbock and the TSA-MO-GA Club, Plains.

Dene Sheppard, VAH director of voluntary service, said representatives of the many veterans organizations began arriving yesterday to help set up the shop.

About 80 visitors helped with shop set up Sunday, and about 30 volunteers will be in during the week to help with running the shop until Thursday when it will close.

Patients will be allowed to choose gifts between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Wednesday. Nurses will take care of gift selection for bedridden patients.

The gifts available range from toys and children's clothes to jewelry and lingerie.

Many dignitaries attended today's ribbon cutting ceremonies, including eight members of the ALA and three members of the American Legion.

Chairmen for this year's gift shop activities are Mrs. Peggy Parr, VAVS representative, and Mrs. Vera Leigh, VAVS deputy representative.

Gifts, stamps, wrapping paper and other gift shop items totalling more than $6,500 will be used to bring Christmas joy to destinations throughout the United States and across the seas.

Federal Child Program Bill May Be Cut Before Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Controversial legislation for an extensive federal program of child services may get congressional attention next year, but any measure finally approved is expected to be small in scale compared to pending proposals.

The pending bill would set up an Office of Child and Family Services in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It would authorize, subject to later appropriation, $150 million for the present fiscal year, and annual amounts rising to $1 billion in 1978 for a wide variety of child and family services.

These would include day care for children of working parents, health, social, recreational and educational programs outside of school, social services and counseling for families, diagnosis and treatment of physical, mental and emotional handicaps and dissemination of information to parents.

Special programs would be directed to children of migrant workers, Indians and other minority groups.

The legislation has attracted a recent surge of critical comment, some of it from anonymous sources who are mailing circulars attacking the proposals. Newspapers, broadcasting stations, civic organizations and individuals have been receiving material contending that passage of the proposed Child and Family Services Act would raise a danger of "a Soviet-style system of communal child rearing."

The bill itself has been dormant in Congress since Senate-House subcommittee hearings were concluded last summer. No further action is expected this year. Congressional sources say the full House Education and Labor Committee may take up the measure next year, but that any legislation approved will probably be drastically scaled down from the present proposals, especially in cost.

Aides of the House special education subcommittee say that beginning a few weeks ago, queries and protests have been flooding into its offices.

One unsigned broadside in the subcommittee's files, for example, contends that a "charter of children's rights ... is becoming a part of this Child Development Act." No such charter is in the bill.

The broadside says the charter would, among other things, give children the right to bring suit against parents for "inadequacies in their homes and backgrounds," to be protected against "excessive claims" by parents, such as directions to take out the garbage; and to refuse to be taken to church.

A subcommittee memorandum says some of the allegations could not be found in the Congressional Record while some others apparently trace back to a 1971 debate on a similar bill but that these referred to proposals by an unofficial organization in Great Britain unconnected with past or present legislation in Congress.

Legislation along these general lines has been considered in both chambers of Congress since the 1960s, largely in connection with President Lyndon B. Johnson's "War on Poverty" program.

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) — A State Department spokesman said Saturday that only 153 refugees out of the thousands that poured into this country with the fall of Vietnam and Cambodia remain without sponsors.

Donald G. MacDonald, senior civilian coordinator of the resettlement program here, said there were 4,489 refugees at Chaffee Saturday, but that all but the 153 have sponsors, a person or agency agreeing to help them adjust to American society.

MacDonald said Chaffee's remaining sponsored refugees are waiting for final processing and a ride to their new home.

He predicted the handful left would be sponsored Monday or Tuesday. "There is no such thing as an unsponsorable human being," he said.

MacDonald said Dec. 20 still is the target date for ending resettlement operations at Chaffee, which received its first refugees May 2. Two other refugee centers already have closed and a third, Indiantown Gap, Pa., had 549 refugees Saturday. MacDonald said Indiantown Gap could close at anytime.

Parish Workers Hold Thursday Meeting

The St. Paul Lutheran Parish Workers met Thursday for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Moran Opegard presided. Mrs. Leroy Budke gave the Christmas devotion and topic on Christmas, using the things nature provides.

A reminder was given to all to save coupons and trading stamps for Good Samaritan Home in Cypress, Texas as well as cancelled postage stamps for the Stamps for Missions project.

Final plans were discussed for the Progressive Christmas Party on Dec. 14 beginning at 6 p.m. Various hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilg, the Rev. and Mrs. Carroll Kohl and Mr. and Mrs. George von Hassell.

The dessert will be served and a Chinese Auction will be held at the Parish Hall. Each family attending the party will provide one handmade item for the auction. The proceeds from the auction will be given to Rev. Horn, a missionary in Japan.

The Christmas tree trimming for the church tree will be on Dec. 20 with Mrs. H. T. Hanson and Mrs. Gil Jones in charge.

Elected for the next two years as president is Mrs. von Hassell and treasurer Mrs. Ralph Hadley.

Each member attending brought their favorite Christmas dish for refreshments which were served from a table covered with white linen centered with a Christmas arrangement.

FIRST LADIES — Mrs. Betty Ford and Mrs. Tien Suharto leave the airport at Jakarta, Indonesia, Friday after arrival ceremonies. Mrs. Ford carries a bouquet of flowers presented on her arrival.

Spice Seeds Add Flavor To Various Dishes

A dozen aromatic seeds from various parts of the world are classed as spices. Of these, five including poppy, caraway, sesame, anise and fennel, are called "baking seeds." They are as good in main dishes as they are in breads, cookies and cakes.

For instance, add a teaspoon or two of caraway seeds to a macaroni and cheese casserole. Shower buttered snap beans with toasted sesame seeds.

Sprinkle a half teaspoon fennel seed over the sliced apples before putting the top crust on an apple pie. Or sweeten the fruit for turnovers or a fruit-topped coffee cake with honey and sprinkle with poppy seeds.

Or, another use, scrape the pulp from baked potatoes, season, add butter and a little hot milk and poppy seeds.

Of these seeds all but sesame can be used as they come from the container. If sesame seeds are to be scattered over the top of something which is to be baked, they, too, can be used "as is." Do toast them, however, if they are to be stirred into a batter or showered over salads or cooked vegetables. Just spread thinly in a baking pan and bake 5 to 8 minutes in a moderate oven, until they turn golden brown.

Program for the evening will be presented by Mrs. Joe Whitten, who will portray Mary in a Christmas sketch. Refreshments will be served.

Diabetics Need Holiday Snacks Made With Care

COLLEGE STATION — Holiday snacks have to be "made with care" for diabetics and people on calorie-restricted diets, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist and registered dietitian, says.

"This is because food plays a major part in controlling metabolic disorders such as diabetes, commonly called 'sugar diabetes'."

"Too many carbohydrates, starches and sugars are bad for diabetics because their bodies don't produce enough insulin to counteract the effects of these types of food."

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She suggested that diabetics can eat fresh fruit or unsweetened canned fruits — a baked apple sweetened with artificial sweetener, cinnamon and dietetic lemon-lime soft drink makes a festive dessert.

"Another holiday treat — pumpkin custard — can be made of unsweetened cooked pumpkin combined with artificial sweetener, cinnamon, ginger and saccharin. This baked custard would be counted as a B vegetable or half slice of bread."

Plain or dietetic gelatins can be prepared with or without fruits for many desserts. Try combining plain gelatin with low-calorie cranberry juice, artificial sweetener and orange rind. Pour into orange shells and refrigerate. If fruit is added to the gelatin, count the fruit as the fruit exchange for that meal, she said.

Food Anecdotes Recorded In Book

New York, December 1 — Ice cream sodas were born in 1874 when a concessionaire at a Philadelphia fair ran out of the sweet cream he used in his flavored soda drinks and substituted vanilla ice cream. The new concoction became an overnight success.

In fact, ice cream sodas became so popular that in some Midwestern communities blue-nosed citizens made them an object of Sunday blue laws, banning their sale on the Sabbath. An ingenious soda-fountain operator in Illinois found a way around the prohibition: he kept the ice cream and the syrup and left out the soda — calling his new creation a "Sunday soda." Popularly, they were known as "Sundays" until what was probably another overzealous soul changed the spelling to sundae.

This is one of the many little-known facts in the development of famous American foods, gleaned from the food section of a new book by Reader's Digest called "The Story of America."

Another — did you know that potato chips were developed by a man named George Crumb, of all things? He was an American Indian chef at a resort hotel in Saratoga Springs, N.Y. One evening in the mid-19th century a fastidious diner repeatedly sent back his french fries, complaining they were too thick. Furious, Crumb sliced potatoes paper thin and threw them in the boiling oil. When done, he served them up as Saratoga chips. For a while they were a Saratoga specialty, but you can't contain a good thing and they soon became one of America's favorite snacks.

The St. Louis Fair of 1904 may not be remembered by many today, but three of its food innovations are: iced tea, the hamburger and the ice cream cone. The cone was an invention of necessity. When an ice cream stand ran short of plates, a neighboring vendor of Persian pastry twisted his wafers into cone-shaped cups. A Government antipollution expert recently called the ice cream cone "the only ecologically sound package known."

Do you know how the doughnut got its hole? Doughnuts were originally flat, round, deep-fried cakes brought to this country by early Dutch and German settlers. In 1847, according to legend, a young boy in Maine complained that his mother's doughnuts were raw in the middle. The next time she made a batch, he poked a hole in the middle of each one before they were cooked, and today most, though not all, doughnuts have holes in their centers.

Then there's the graham cracker, invented by Sylvester Graham in the 1830's. A far cry from today's sweet, soft and crumbly cookie, Mr. Graham's cracker was one of America's earliest health foods — an unleavened, unsalted biscuit of whole-grain flour.

Other food items whose origins are traced in The Story of America are apple pie, carbonated soda water, Coca-Cola, hot dogs, Jell-O, peanut butter and popcorn.

But The Story of America, which is The Digest's salute to the Bicentennial contains much more than food facts in its 528 pages. Bedecked with more than 860 illustrations, it helps explain how America in just 200 years has grown from a primitive, unexplored wilderness to become the world leader in invention, science, medicine, music, arts, sports, social action and entertainment. It is available direct from the publishers at $12.99 plus 58 cent postage, or in bookstores at $15.95.

Mom Wants To Bow Out Of Bride's Bizarre Wedding

DEAR ABBY: Our 24-year-old daughter, Phyllis, is getting married, and her plans are unbelievable.

In the first place, Phyllis and Rick have been living together for two years and they have a 4-month-old baby. Phyllis wants to walk down the aisle with the baby in her arms and Rick by her side!

Phyllis' father and I have been divorced for 14 years, but Phyllis wants us to walk down the aisle together. Then she's got my present husband and her father's present wife teamed up as a "couple" to walk down the aisle together. (Have you ever heard of anything so asinine?)

The wedding will be held in church and the kids are paying for everything. Phyllis and Rick wrote their own vows, and they claim the pastor approved all these plans. Can you believe it?

This wedding should take place in a zoo — not a church. I am happy that Phyllis is finally going to marry Rick, but do you think I should take part in this farce, or should I stay home with a migraine headache?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: Unconventional as the wedding may seem, it's the bride's day, and she may do things her way. Please don't get a migraine. Your daughter needs you, and you'd be missing one of the most unorthodox weddings of all time.

DEAR ABBY: Because I am a faithful reader of your column, three members of my family have become card-carrying kidney donors.

We would now like to know to whom we should write for information about how to donate our eyes after death.

COLUMBUS, OHIO

DEAR COLUMBUS: Your local Lions Club can help you. So can any eye doctor. And three cheers for all three of you!

Thornton Wilder, Famed Playwright, Dies At 78

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP) — Thornton Wilder, who wrote the theater classic "Our Town" and collected three Pulitzer prizes for his novels and plays, is dead of a heart attack at age 78.

The playwright, novelist, teacher and traveler died in his sleep Sunday while napping at the Hamden, Conn., house he shared with his sister, Isabel, a family spokesman said.

Wilder, who wrote

Wilder won his first Pulitzer in 1928 for the novel "The Bridge of San Luis Rey." The others were for the plays "Our Town" in 1938 and "The Skin of Our Teeth" in 1943.

He also wrote "The Matchmaker" which was turned into "Hello Dolly," the longest running Broadway musical.

Wilder received in 1963 the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian citation, and was the first recipient of the National Book Committee's National Medal for Literature, which was presented at the White House in 1967. The latter honor was for his novel, "The Eighth Day."

Former Poet Laureate Dies

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Arthur M. Sampley, 72, former poet laureate of Texas and long-time faculty member and administrator at North Texas State University, died Thursday at a Denton hospital.

Amos Tappan Wilder, a nephew, said Wilder had been in poor health for several years but had continued to travel occasionally.

THORNTON WILDER AS AN ACTOR IN "OUR TOWN" — Pulitzer prize-winning playwright and author Thornton Wilder, who died Sunday at his home, is shown with actors John Craven, right, and Dorothy McGuire when he temporarily joined them in the cast of his play, "Our Town," in 1938. The play was one of three written by Wilder that won Pulitzer Prizes.

The star, Alpha Centauri is only 4.3 light years from Earth, not 3,000 light years as was stated in a feature story Sunday in the Herald.

MOVING EM OUT — Houston Oilers Don Hardeman, 30, breaks for good yardage behind great blocking by teammate Billy Johnson, sprawled foreground, and Mack Alston, 82, blocking 49ers Dave Washington, 50, during first half of play Sunday at Candlestick. Oilers defeated Forty Niners, 27-13.

Strock Leads Miami To Win Over Bills

He was just a kid, they said. In his first two years as a reserve quarterback, a third-stringer, he hadn't thrown the ball even once. In this, his third year, he'd thrown it only five times — and that in a game that was already decided.

straight victim with a nine-yard run. The Baltimore defense did its part by sacking Craig Morton eight times. Cardinals 31, Cowboys 17. Jim Hart made up for the four interceptions he threw against Buffalo on Thanksgiving Day by throwing three touchdowns in St. Louis' victory over Dallas that restored the Cardinals' sole possession of first place in the National Conference East.

Oilers Take It Out On 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Houston Oilers believe the only thing tougher than their defense this season was their schedule. "If we had gotten into the playoffs, with our schedule, we would have had a good chance of going all the way," said Dan Pastorini, the quarterback of the team which beat San Francisco's 49ers 27-13 Sunday.

yard punt return. "There's no magic answer to what we did defensively. We just played like we're capable of playing. We've got a very good defensive team," said linebacker Steve Kiner. "We lost our four games to two very tough teams." The defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers and the Cincinnati Bengals, both playoff bound, each beat Houston twice and lead the Oilers in the American Conference Central standings. They also are the only teams in the AFC which have allowed fewer points than the Oilers.

Rams 14, Saints 7. Defensive end Jack Youngblood tackled New Orleans quarterback Archie Manning in the end zone for a safety and linebacker Jim Peterson ran 67 yards for a touchdown with a fumble recovery to lead Los Angeles to victory. Oilers 27, 49ers 13. Houston's defense limited San Francisco to just five net yards rushing and Billy Johnson returned a punt 76 yards late in the game to seal the Oilers' victory over the 49ers.

Dallas Falls On Face Again In Crucial Go

ST. LOUIS (AP) — For Jim Hart, the mental part of getting ready for the Dallas Cowboys was simple. And Hart, a pro quarterback in his 10th season, Sunday made the physical part of his assignment look equally easy while directing the St. Louis Cardinals to a 31-17 National Football League triumph. "I was talking to my wife over breakfast during the week," recalled Hart, an errant passer 10 days earlier with four interceptions in a 32-14 Cards loss to the Buffalo Bills. "I told her my feeling psychologically about this game was that it couldn't get any worse than Thanksgiving Day," said Hart, who redeemed himself with three touchdown passes spilling the Cowboys.

weeks left in the National Conference East. "I guess we are," responded Hart, who for the moment was more intent on savoring the facility of a St. Louis win. "We're on top," he acknowledged, "but I'm having a tough time thinking about that situation. I don't even know what the possibilities are. All I know is I want Dallas to beat the (Washington) Redskins." Not surprisingly a subdued Coach Tom Landry of Dallas, whose team is now tied with Washington at 9-4 for second place, was also thinking ahead. "Whoever wins that game wins the wild card berth," Landry said in reference to the Cowboys' next assignment, Saturday at home against the Redskins. "Even if we'd won today, it wouldn't have done us any good unless we beat Washington."

Williams Propels Bay Team

By The Associated Press

Gus Williams hasn't taken long to make his mark on pro basketball.

The slender, cat-quick rookie from Southern Cal, passed over on the first round of the National Basketball Association draft before being grabbed by Golden State on the second go-round, has given the Warriors a big boost off the bench with his speed, hustle and scoring punch.

Williams came up with one of his best efforts in Sunday's nationally televised game against the Seattle SuperSonics, pouring in 27 points in the Warriors' come-from-behind 115-106 victory, their second win in less than 24 hours over the Sonics. In NBA games Sunday night, the Phoenix Suns whipped the Chicago Bulls 114-97 and the Los Angeles Lakers trimmed the Washington Bullets 114-106. In American Basketball Association games, the Denver Nuggets beat the New York Nets 123-119 and the Kentucky Colonels defeated the Virginia Squires 112-98.

Williams scored 18 of his points in the second half, including 10 in a seven-minute span in which the Warriors turned an eight-point deficit into an eight-point lead. Rick Barry topped the Warriors with 28 points, while Fred Brown and Slick Watts had 22 each for Seattle.

Suns 114, Bulls 97. Dick Van Arsdale scored 23 points and rookie Alvan Adams added 20 as Phoenix jumped out to a 13-point first period lead and was never challenged. Lakers 114, Bullets 106. The Lakers hit on 51 of 82 field goal attempts — 62 percent — in their best shooting night of the season. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 27 points, including a pair of hook shots after Washington had rallied to tie the score at 100-100.

Nuggets 123, Nets 119. Denver built a 29-point lead midway through the third period, then saw the Nets close to within one in the final minute before turning them aside. Dan Issel scored 33 points and David Thompson 30 for Denver. Colonels 112, Squires 98. Kentucky's two 7-footers, Artis Gilmore and Caldwell Jones, helped the Colonels build a 27-point lead and they coasted home. Gilmore led all scorers with 32 points, Louie Dampier added 17 and Jones 15.

Warriors Sub-Par, Says Al McGuire

By The Associated Press

A sub-par performance at Marquette usually gets a tongue-lashing from the headmaster.

"We're having little breakdowns everywhere, it's all breaking down," Coach Al McGuire snapped after his third-ranked Warriors took an unimpressive 56-45 decision over Northern Michigan Saturday night. "I'm talking about more team effort and coming to play. They are just not playing."

McGuire hasn't been happy with his basketball players since their opening-day effort, an 87-60 success over St. Joseph's, Ind. The Warriors played below their capabilities then, too, McGuire insisted. Elsewhere in the country, the rest of the Top Ten played according to form. Second-ranked Maryland blasted Richmond 98-71; fourth-ranked North Carolina defeated Virginia Tech 88-75; No. 5 UCLA ripped Southern Illinois 81-

60; No. 6 Louisville turned back Murray 78-59; No. 8 Tennessee nipped No. 16 Michigan 82-81; No. 10 Cincinnati lashed South Florida 96-75.

Among the other ranked clubs, No. 11 Arizona beat North Arizona 98-81; No. 13 North Carolina State crushed North Carolina-Asheville 111-60 and 14th-ranked Alabama defeated No. 17 Providence 71-67.

Led by Butch Lee's 16 points, Marquette withstood a second-half rally by stubborn Northern Michigan to beat the Wildcats. The Warriors stopped Northern Michigan cold for the first six minutes and 47 seconds and took an 8-0 lead. A rash of turnovers and bad passes allowed Marquette to build a 20-9 lead with about seven minutes left in the first half.

The Wildcats closed the gap to 20-15 with 5:51 left on long outside shots by Bill Uelmen and Kurt Ekberg, but the Warriors ran off six unanswered baskets to lead 32-21 at intermission. In the second half, Lee hit two outside shots to make it 36-25 and Marquette extended the lead to as much as 43-27 with about 12 minutes to play.

Liberty Has Ideal Match

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — An official of the Liberty Bowl football classic says the Dec. 22 matchup of Texas A&M and Southern California will be "the most prestigious game we have ever had."

Southern Cal is the defending national champion and A&M brings the best record (10-1) we've ever had," said A. F. "Bud" Dudley, founder and executive director of the bowl.

Dudley said he was not dismayed that A&M suffered a 31-6 loss Saturday at the hands of Arkansas.

"You have to remember that Saturday A&M was going for a national championship," he said. "It just happened to be one of those bad days for them."

Under a formula announced earlier, the runner-up in the Southwest Conference title slugout Saturday would be the team meeting Southern Cal in Memphis.

Dudley, in New York for a Football Hall of Fame dinner, said he had talked with A&M officials and thinks the sting of the loss to Arkansas is abating. "I think they're getting over it," he said.

Hawks, Wranglers Clash In Odessa

Howard College, shocked by a 112-109 defeat suffered at home last Thursday at the hands of upstart Midland College, will try to regain its momentum in an 8 o'clock game in Odessa this evening against Odessa College.

The Wranglers won't be any push-over for the Hawks, despite the fact that the local beat the Odessans in the recent Odessa Tournament. OC has a way of bristling when the blue chips are showing. The team that loses tonight is going to find itself in a bind, as far as a shot at the Western Junior College Conference championship is concerned.

Odessa has lost four straight games, two of them to conference opponents. The Wranglers were trounced by NMMI last Thursday, 87-67, three days after Howard College had mauled the same club. In their league opener, the Wranglers were mauled by South Plains, 107-92.

Overall, Odessa is 3-4. Howard College is 10-2 over the season and 1-1 against league opponents, having opened with a win over NMMI. Tony Force is Odessa's leading threat but the Wranglers have outstanding gunners, too, in Dave Wood, Kenneth Ray and Dominic Ferrari. The Odessans have been averaging about 95 points a game.

Harold Wilder, the Howard College coach, likely will go with a lineup composed of Marvin Johnson, Daryl Scoggin, Lowell Walker, Larry Erves and Paul Catterton or Jimmy Paye. Johnson is already among the top ten all-time HC scorers, having averaged over 30 points a game this season.

The Hawks return home Thursday night to oppose Clarendon College.

U.S. Is Likely Host For '76 Cup Matches

BANGKOK (AP) — Next year's World Cup Golf Tournament appears headed for the United States, the country which headed home today with both the team and individual titles from the 23rd tournament.

"That will nicely coincide with the 20th anniversary celebrations," tournament director Fred J. Corcoran said after Johnny Miller rallied in the final round Sunday to win the individual title and teamed with Lou Graham for the team championship.

Corcoran, a former caddy who has arranged all of the Cup tournaments, said three states in the United States were bidding to host the 24th renewal. He did not name them.

The United States finished at 22-under-par 554 for four rounds over the 6,906-yard, par-72 Navatane golf course, 10 strokes ahead of Taiwan, Japan was third at 565, followed by Australia, 566, and Argentina, 571.

Lee Triumphs At Plainview

PLAINVIEW — Midland Lee won the Plainview Basketball Tournament title by defeating Snyder, 69-61, here Saturday night.

Billy Ray Ennis scored 23 points for the Rebels. The win was the seventh in nine starts for Lee. Named to the all-tournament teams were Junior Miller, Tom Choate and Ennis, along with Chester Cobb and Randy Gressett, both of Snyder; Jim Ray, Big Spring; Bill Patton, Clovis, N.M.; Sylvester Moore, Amarillo Palo Duro; and Booker Washington, Lubbock Dunbar.

Chaps Decision Angelo Frosh

MIDLAND — Midland College racked up the Angelo State University freshmen, 89-70, in a basketball game played here Saturday night. The Chaparrals return to action this evening at home against Frank Phillips College of Borger.

MC Swim Team In Two Meets

MIDLAND — The Midland College women's swim team will be in College Station next Friday and Saturday for two meets.

On Friday, the MC mermaids will compete in a triangular meet against Texas A&M and Southern Methodist University.

Saturday, they will be entered in the Texas A&M Invitational Swim meet, going against four-year schools.

"Our girls have really done well in their two previous outings," coach Steve Montgomery noted. "They lost a one-point decision to Texas Tech last Wednesday and finished fourth against four-year colleges at New Mexico State's invitational the previous week. A lack of depth is the only problem we have right now."

The Midland College women's team has only nine members, two divers and seven swimmers. This forces Montgomery to use only one swimmer in most events. But the individuals are strong, as Midland College took four individual events and both diving events against Texas Tech. Mc also captured one relay event.

Coronado Wins Odessa Crown

ODESSA — Lubbock Coronado defeated Odessa Permian in the finals of the annual Odessa Basketball Tournament here Saturday night, 65-59.

After two early season defeats, the Coronado team is now 5-2 on the year. Stan Taylor sparked Permian with 12 points while Tom McLemore tossed in 11 for the Panthers. Richard Holland spurred the Lubbock team with 17 points.

Odessa played much of the second half without McElmore and James Hunter, its big men, because both were in foul trouble. El Paso Irwin defeated Amarillo Caprock, 52-40, in consolation finals.

Named to the all-tournament team were McElmore, Hunter and Craig Johnson of Permian, Walter Storrs and Brian Smith of Coronado, David Castillo and Jose Mendoza of Irwin, Dwight Randolph of Ector, Rocky Fiel of Caprock and Lewis Moore of Amarillo Tascosa.

Scoring Mark Set

Texas A&M's football offense could take some lessons from the basket-ballers.

While the nation's former No. 2 ranked college football team was being upset 31-6 by Arkansas Saturday, the Aggie basketball team was setting a school record in a 127-80 victory over Houston Baptist.

The old record was 119 against Southern Methodist in 1969.

A&M (3-0), Arkansas (2-0), and Houston (1-0) are the remaining unbeaten teams in the early going against non-conference foes. The Southwest Conference boasts a 16-8 record against outsiders—a record befeared up with a lot of victories against minor college opponents.

Texas Tech, Texas, Southern Methodist and Baylor are on the plus side with 2-1 records while TCU and Rice own 1-2 ledgers.

There's a steady diet of games this week with Arkansas at Air Force, Missouri at Rice, Cal-Poly at Texas, and Texas Tech at Ole Miss tonight.

Texas Tech tumbled from the unbeaten ranks Saturday when it crumbled before Notre Dame's fullcourt press and lost to the Fighting Irish 88-63. The Red Raiders scored just three points in the first five minutes of the game.

Tech's 6-foot-9 center Rick Bullock still held his on with Notre Dame, scoring 20 points.

The biggest prestige victory by conference schools last week was Texas' 60-55 victory over Oklahoma in Norman, Okla., and Southern Methodist's 75-66 upset of defending Big Eight Champion Kansas in Dallas.

Arkansans Continue Vigil, Make No Plans For Christmas

GRANNIS, Ark. (AP) — "We don't have any special plans for Christmas," says Elizabeth Nance Bard. "We just think maybe we won't be here."

She is one of 25 persons who are closeted in a small brick house waiting for the second coming of Christ and the world to end.

The vigil began 70 days ago with believers abandoning their homes and jobs. Mrs. Bard says the group is "in no way discouraged. We just keep praying and studying and waiting for the end to come."

"Christmas, of course, is a special time," she said. "But what we're doing is even more important."

Last week Mrs. Bard broke the group's self-imposed silence to deny rumors circulating about the vigil in this town of 177.

Residents reported hearing "bloodcurdling screams" from the house, and seeing nighttime parades by vigil keepers dressed in white robes.

"There is nothing sinister, weird or strange about this," Mrs. Bard said. "Nothing goes on in the house that doesn't go on in a church—a lot of praying and religious study."

Mrs. Bard's comments sparked an editorial Saturday by the Arkansas Gazette, the state's largest newspaper, defending the group's freedom of religion.

"If they left their jobs, closed their businesses and moved to the house in accordance with what they believe one member was told by God in a vision, they have done no harm to anyone, nor have they done anything but mind their own business," the newspaper said.

The Gazette criticized county officials who "will not let well enough alone and show the same respect for religious or lack of religious belief to the 25 on the vigil that they expect for themselves."

Several school-age children were removed from the house by court order and officials had considered using health and safety codes as a pretext to evict the occupants.

"The editorial brought some sanity to the whole thing," Mrs. Bard said. "I guess people just needed to know that we're serious about this, not just kooks. People maybe just forget what religion really is."

Whoopers Back In Preserve

CORPUS CHRISTI — The whooping cranes are returning to the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, some 50 miles northeast of this Gulf Coast city, they share this each winter with more than 300 other species of birds, along with alligators, deer, javelina, armadillos and an occasional red wolf.

They also share the 54,000-acre preserve with Continental Oil Company (Conoco), which has had leases in the area since 1934, three years before the wildlife refuge was established, and has been producing oil and gas continuously since 1947.

The rare "whoopers" — largest of all North American birds — begin arriving in October, but some stragglers may not appear until mid-December. They usually start leaving in April for their nesting grounds in Canada. Eight young birds and 45 adult cranes were spotted in the nesting areas this summer.

Eggs No Lower In Cholesterol

COLLEGE STATION — Eggs are loved as food by most people. If proof were needed, some heart patients in Texas have been paying from $5 to $7 per dozen for eggs represented to have no cholesterol or to be significantly lower in cholesterol.

These high prices have been paid for certain species of eggs, notably eggs from the Araucana (South American breed of chicken.)

One article quoting results of a laboratory check on these eggs was checked, and there was no such lab or chief chemist to be found, said Texas A&M Extension Service officials. The service's own lab tests showed no appreciable differences between the cholesterol content of the Araucana and White Leghorn eggs. Quail ranged from the highest to the lowest in cholesterol readings.

Retirees To Meet

Webb AFB is holding a no-host gathering for Air Force retirees on Thursday, Dec. 11, at 7 p.m. at the Officers' Open Mess. Included on the agenda will be the showing of a film from the Air Force Now Series.

The Webb AFB Hospital will give a presentation on services available here to retirees and their dependents, an outlook for the future, and on the CHAMPUS program. The Personnel Division will cover other subjects affecting retirees, and the Big Spring chapter of the Air Force Association will tell what they are doing for the betterment of retirees.

Retired Air Force personnel are 374,000 strong. Currently, in the Big Spring area alone, there are more than 300. Extending the radius to include Midland and Odessa and a few outlying towns, the figure grows to 600 plus.

"The existing means of communicating with you has been limited generally to the USAF News for Retired Personnel and the Air Force Policy Letter for Commanders," wrote Col. Robert A. Owens, wing commander, in his letter of invitation.

"However, recognizing the need for face-to-face communication with our retired force, we are planning periodic gatherings to bring you up-to-date on the latest policies and programs that affect you," he told the invitees.

No reservations are required for the meeting. But, those who plan to stay for dinner at the Officers Open Mess are requested to call 263-8381 so that they may plan accordingly.

Those Air Force retirees who did not receive an invitation may call the Webb Information Division, 267-2511, Extension 2317 or 2319, to assure their name and current address is added to the mailing list.

Shrimpers May Be Fined $40,000

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fines as big as $40,000 may be levied against each of three Texas shrimp boats seized by the Mexican navy when they allegedly entered Mexico's 12-mile territorial sea limit.

The government newspaper "El Nacional" attributed the estimated fines to Jorge Torija of the Ministry of Industry and Commerce.

Torija said, according to the newspaper, that the three American boats were surprised last week with their nets in the water inside Mexico's 12-mile limit.

The boats were captured the same day the Mexican congress approved President Luis Echeverria's bill to create an "exclusive economic zone" 200 miles out to sea.

The shrimpers have been identified as the Miss Thrifty Way, the Matsumoto Maru and the Betty Margaret, all of the Brownsville area at the southern tip of Texas.

The boats were seized in the Gulf of Mexico and towed to port in Tampico and Taupan, northeast of Mexico City.
