Fire Kills Nine In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -A fire believed to be the work of an arsonist swept through a five-story apartment building during predawn darkness today, killing at least nine persons and injuring several others, authorities said. Fire Chief Keith Calden and other fire officials said eight bodies were taken from the gutted Gartland Hotel-Apartments. Officials said they assumed another body found in the building was human but that they were not definite because it was so badly burned. The ninth known victim died at San Francisco General Hospital.

Fifteen others were treated for injuries, and 10 of them — including seven firemen hospitalized, authorities said.

Several of the more than 125 residents of the Gartland Hotel-Apartments in the city's Mission District used blankets to lower themselves to safety from upper floors, and others leaped from one story up.

One man lowered himself from a fourth-floor ledge as far as he could and then jumped, sustaining minor injuries.

Calden said the arson theory was based on statements of witnesses who said they smelled gasoline

Security Needs Assurance

In his weekly column, Sen. John Tower talks about the financial perils of the Social Security System.

Based on the present rate of income as against spending, he said the system will be broke by 1981 only six years away. This year the system pays out $2.5 billion more than it takes in for payroll taxes. In 1976, this is due to jump to $6.1 billion, and to $8.3 billion in

Reduced to its basics, the system is using today's SS taxes to pay today's benefits. The SS trust funds stand at $36.5 billion when, if the same procedures as are required of private insurance trusts were applied, the figure would need to be nearly $550 billion. The reason is that long ago the SS trust ceased to be that and became an easy source of "borrowing" by the Higher benefits have added to the strain on the system because these have not been matched by supporting taxes, which obviously are unpopular. Also, it was estimated at the outset of SS that there would be 30 workers for each retiree. That dropped to 6-1 in 1955 and is 3-1 today. Within the next 20 years this could shrink to 2-1 as the birth rate declines and more and more people live longer and longer.

Of course, there are different ways of interpreting the same set of figures, in any event, there is no denying that the system is in need of drastic reform.

Today's workers, says Sen. Tower, are paying far more in Social Security taxes than they can expect to receive in benefits. Although the maximum annual tax has doubled since 1971, it will have to jump another 70 per cent to keep the system solvent and even that may not be enough to save the system, he adds.

The "free-loaders," or more precisely, to use a less drastic phrase, those who contributed or now contribute little or nothing, should be financed out of the general fund, as should programs not tied to the SS tax base. Workers who are investing, and whose employers invest for them, a substantial amount of SS tax are entitled to assurance that their contributions are entitled to assurance that the contribution are entitled to assurance that the contribution are entitled to assurance that their contributions will return them at least as much as private trusts, and that what they do receive will not be restrictive.

Committee, issued another order which in effect, puts the school in federal receivership.

This sets a dangerous precedent. While the courts have held a firm line in the past to achieve integration or even racial balance, they have done so by indirection. This usually involved consideration of proposed plans, one of which usually could be made to ministration.

Now Judge Garrity has put the federal government directly in control of a local school situation by naming the court's own agent, in effect, to be the headmaster This extraordinary step should be challenged legally, and, we hope, overturned by higher courts. How They Drive

Around The Rim

Starbuck Woolf

The most amazing aspect of moving back to Big Spring after living in the "outside" world for a few years is observing the manner in which people drive.

In the "outside" world, you get in your car and burn rubber at 60 mph to get anywhere, even to a 7-11 store across the street. I always did this, everyone did. I never knew why, it was just natural. I had to race through an automatic car wash just to feel comfortable.

BUT DRIVING in Big Spring is a different matter, and I must confess it is a pleasant difference. . . once I became accustomed to it. But it took

The first day I was back I pulled up to a red light on 4th Street behind a car. Another car pulled up next to me. The light turned green and the car in front of me didn't move. I waited a second, another and another, and then lightly touched my horn, (thinking the driver in front of me had dozed off or had momentarily forgotten the rule.)

The man in the car next to me looked indignantly over and yelled, "Well, what's your problem!?" Well, my problem was obvious. I wished to proceed under a green light, and I was just about to essay the fact to the gentleman when he took off (No one was in front of him.) I was nonplussed. I hadn't even like I was a communist.

mph everywhere I go, (that's slower than Euell Gibbons walks), and I wait at traffic lights until I turn

One other matter I observed in my perusal of driving conditions in Big Spring is that there is an unwritten street law here that pick-ups have the right-of-way. They can go as fast as they want, (even up to 40 mph), and if you get in their way, (which is rarely ever done), they are allowed to give you a special wave, and perhaps a speeding jet of tobacco juice right in the middle of your windshield.

I'VE NOTICED that pick-ups have rank, similar to the military. Those ranks are determined by such accoutrements as bumper stickers, extra running lights, fancy window guards, etc.

Last week I saw a Ford (is there any other kind?) pick-up with exaggerated-extended golden bumper guards, a silver wroughtiron window screen, two shotguns in the window rack, four amber fog lights, six running lights, three Texas A&M decals, and bumper stickers galore — two of which stated "Beefeaters are better stated Lovers", and "Put your (picture of a heart) in America, or get your (picture of a donkey) out!" I pulled my little insignificant sports car over to the side of the road been honking at him, and he acted to let it pass, knowing that I'd just witnessed Big Spring's first four-star general driving by me.

If he had a force of 20,000, he says, it might be possible to stop the holes in this sieve through which each day hundreds of illegals find their way into the United States

APPROXIMATELY 3,000,000 illegals are in the country today, about 5,000,000 are Mexicans, a large part of the balance are from the Caribbean. No one, as Chapman is frank to admit, knows the exact figure but he estimates the increase at roughly a million a year, mostly from Mexico. What this means at a time of recession and unemployment hardly needs underscoring. The sad fact is, it is bound to grow worse — the rate of population growth in Mexico is at least 3.5 per cent, one of the highest in the world. And this is coupled with worsening unemployment in Mexico: a rate estimated, if un-deremployment is included, at 40

The other, commissioned by the Immigration Service, gives a devastating picture of the cost of the illegal influx. The sample in the first study was so small as to be meaningless, according to immigration officials, and since they had been taken as illegals, they were anxious to put as good a look as possible on their stay in the United States.

Ford And PLO

WASHINGTON — In the face of Israel's predictable fury and charges of sellout, the Ford administration is intensifying its policy of forcing the Palestinian issue to the forefront of the Arab-Israeli dispute in an effort to end 25 years of

THE LATEST evidence of President Ford's intention to roll over bitter opposition from the Israeli government was his flat order to United Nations Ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan on Nov. 30. Delivered from Air Force One in Alaska, the order instructed Moynihan not to veto the Security Council resolution extending the UN peacekeeping force for six months on the Golan Heights. Even though the resolution was linked to a fullscale debate next month on the Palestinian question with the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) present, Mr. Ford wanted it

MOYNIHAN, whose highly acclaimed defense of Zionism during the acrimonious Zionism-racism debate in the UN made him the idol of American Jews, wanted the U.S. to take a firmer stand on the peacekeeping force. The President personally overruled him.

This disagreement between Moynihan and the White House over the best political tactics for U.S. handling of the Palestinian issue, still largely under cover, is troubling Mideast experts inside the administration and a few highly placed Jewish leaders outside it. One of Moynihan's most trusted advisers and occasional speechwriter for him is the distinguished Jewish intellectual, Norman Podhoretz, editor of Commentary magazine. Podhoretz is regarded by some other Jewish leaders as "absolutely intransigent" on the Palestinian

That is at the heart of Mr. Ford's difficult decision to go along with the Arab-backed Golan Heights peacekeeping resolution. Moreover, his position has growing bipartisan support in the U.S. Congress.

THE REASONS: first, subtle signals that the controlling centrists of the PLO are moving away from their outrageous and ridiculous demand that Israel terminate its existence as a sovereign state; second, a feeling that the U.S., strongly oriented toward Israel's interest, has too long ignored Palestinian appeals for help.

These subtle signals include a little region of the property of the property

Discounting such possibilities, the next most important factor in memory deficiency is the neurotic personality. The neurotic type is likely to become panicky, and before long a minor problem is blown out of proportion. In younger people what is called memory deficiency can often be a lack of concentration or limited attention span. While this is usually found in children, a certain tendency can linger on through the teen years. The person can quickly acquire the label "scatter-brained."

Seeking Work Activity Center In Colorado City

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Mental Health-Mental Retardation, Abilene State School, has applied to the Texas Health Facilities Commission for authority to convert an adult arts and crafts program in Colorado City to a work activity center and to establish a 24-hour-per-day shelter for five individuals.

The project includes the acquisition by lease of a larger struture to house the work activity program, increasing the number of participants from six to 15.

The application for an exemption certificate or declaratory ruling was filed with the secretary of state's office, giving any group or individual until next Tuesday to file a notice of contest with the commission. All institutions wishing to expand health care facilities must under a law passed by the last Legislature receive a favorable hearing, exem-from the three-member commission before selling bonds or otherwise proceeding with the project. An uncontested ap-plication will not necessarily receive commission approval since a wide range of qualifying certieria must be reviewed by the THFC staff before the final okay is PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police have charged three Philadelphia men with murder in the stabbing death of newspaper editor John S. Knight 3rd.

None has been arrested, Joseph Golden, chief of detectives, told a news conference Thursday night. "We don't know where they are," Golden said. Robbery was the motive for the crime, he said.

Golden said the FBI is being asked to join the case because of federal arrest warrants charging the three men with interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

Charged are Salvatore Soli, 38; Steven Maleno, 25; and Isais "Felix" Melendez, Warrants signed by Municipal Court Judge Edward Quinn charged each man with murder, attempted murder, conspiracy, aggravated assault and hree counts of robbery.

New voter registration forms to five million Texans must include a notice that turning in the applications is not mandatory, a threejudge federal panel has

Opponents of the re-registration plan, which is a move toward computerizing the voting system in the state, said it would purge Texas polls of thousands of minority voters. The court injunction said the required notice, to be printed in both English and Spanish, would read:

"Enclosed is a new voter registration application form for your use. Although you are not required to complete and return this form in order to continue to be able to vote, you are encouraged to do so. If you live at a new address you must complete and return this form showing your current address. If you have any questions, please call our office."

Forms would be mailed out by the state's 254 counties.

The notice was drawn up during a brief recess by the lawyers involved, including Asst. Atty. Gen. Lonny Zwiener of Austin and David Richards of Austin, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, one of the plaintiffs.

'Lock Up' During Holiday Season Rainbow Girls

Shopper, beware this leave the opportunity for holiday season. According to someone to gain easy access law enforcement officers, it's a prime time for burglars, thieves, pick pockets and confidence artists. Sgt. Ed Kissinger of the crime prevention unit of the local police department explained that not only are people careless about locking up valuables, but are also susceptible to criminal activity during this festive season.

"We're asking people to take some basic precautions to prevent burglary and theft while they're out shopping. We're also warning them to be aware of what they're buying to guard against fraud and to avoid receiving stolen property.

"The first rule is lock up. When you leave home, don't

IN COMA FOR 20 YEARS — Marie Balay, 63, is shown recently looking after her son, Paul Balay, who, 20 years ago this Thursday, was struck down by a car at age 19. He suffered head injuries that put him into a coma from which he has never emerged. Although doctors say his central nervous system is too severely damaged for him ever to recover, his mother brought him back to their home in Lons Le Saunier 16 years ago and has been caring for him ever since.

She says she doesn't agree at all with the parents of Karen Ann Quinlan, "but of course everyone is free to think what they wish."

support equipment be disconnected. Mrs. Balay still refuses to leave her son's side, although she said, "After the operation, doctors told me that his central nervous system had been too badly damaged to ever expect him to recover." She has made several pilgrimages to Lourdes to pray for a miraculous recovery, which she admits is the only hope for a change in her son's vegetable-Balay was in a hospital for four years after the accident. His father had died two years before the accident. His widowed mother decided he was 'getting practically no care" and that the hospital charges were too high. She brought her son home.

"I had no medical training, but it's not difficult to look after Paul," she said. "He had a tracheotomy, and I have a respirator for him, and he gets food through a nasal tube. It really does not require very much work, but of course I can't ever leave him for very long, a few hours at most, but I sometimes have a nurse or someone to spell me for a while."
RELIGION HELPS

Social security pays most of the cost of keeping Balay alive, and Mrs. Balay still receives small insurance payments from the accident judgment. Her livelihood is the income from a small shop. Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Fri., Dec. 12, 1975

Currie, Jan Tom Whatley Kenneth Ellis and Fred Green were riding in the vehicle, according to the police report.

They were looking at a 9 m.m. automatic pistol. The other youths reported that when the gun was handed to Green, sitting in the left rear portion of the car, the gun went off and went through the driver's seat, striking Currie in the left side of his back and the bullet exiting out the front of his abdomen.

Vandals Break School Windows

LOOP - Vandals heavily damaged the Loop school early Thursday, breaking 30 windows and causing more than $1,000 in damages.

Loop High School principal Richard Roberts said most of the windows appeared to have been shattered by rocks and bottles.

Because the glass had to be cleaned up and removed, classes were not held at the school Thursday. Tem-peratures in the building were impossible to control. The students will make up the lost time Saturday.

NEW YORK (AP) — When you're a young whippersnapper, like the Pro Picker, you're supposed to respect the elderly. You know, help old ladies across the street, give them your seat on the cubway, treat them with kindness. If you don't, you're liable to got a regain the ships. you're liable to get a rap in the shins.

The Pro Picker has been convinced all season long that those old guys in Washington have no business running up and down National Football League fields — not at their age. So he keeps picking against them and they keep rapping him in the

The Redskins have burned the Picker frequently this season and they did a classic job the last two weeks, beating Minnesota and Atlanta on last-minute field goals.

That kept those old guys in the race and now they face Dallas Saturday with a playoff spot on the line. The soreshinned Picker, tired of getting rapped, says the Skins will win the big one. Last week was a sad 8-5, running the season's log

The Steelers own the NFL's longest current winning streak with 10 straight victories. With the playoffs just around the corner, this is no time to stop that pleasant habit.

Baltimore 20, Miami 14 If the Colts could beat the Dolphins in Miami, they certainly ought to be able to do it in Baltimore. After that fierce Colt front four finishes with him, third string quarterback Don Strock will wish Bob Griese and Earl Morrall had never been hurt.

Minnesota 34, Detroit 10 The Vikings are due to do an offensive number on some poor souls and the Lions qualify. Fran Tarkenton is ready to lift another Johnny Unitas record with two more TD passes.

Houston 17, Oakland 14 They're out of the playoff picture but the young Oilers are long on pride and see a chance to make this turn-around season even more successful by knocking off the Raiders. Call this an Upset Special.

St. Louis 31, Chicago 9 Terry Metcalf and Mel Gray are amazing and they will keep the Cardinals churning towards the playoffs. A victory clinches a post-season berth for St. Louis.

Atlanta 19. San Francisco 10 The Falcons have lost their last two games on late field goals against Oakland and Washington. They'll have San Francisco safely on ice when the clock winds down this week.

Buffalo 30, New England 20 The Bills haven't lost to the Patriots since 1971. They won't start now with New England working on a four-game losing streak.

Denver 17, Philadelphia 7 Playing last Monday night left the Broncos with one less day to prepare for this one. Against the Eagles, they'll never notice. Cleveland 13, Kansas City 10 First-year coaches Paul Wiggin of the Chiefs and Forrest Gregg of the Browns can cry on each other's shoulder. And both have plenty to cry about.

The Rams' defense has been outstanding, allowing just 24 points in the last four games, all victories. The Packers won't disturb that pattern.

New Orleans 16, N.Y. Giants 7 Two awful teams who are likely to play an awful game. The Saints are a little less awful

N.Y. Jets 17, San Diego 10 A tailor-made matchup. They've cancelled Saturday Night Live. This game could make Monday night dead.

Hawks Down Bulldogs

Marvin Johnson and Lowell Walker pumped in 47points between them Thursday night to lead the Howard College JC Hawks to an 88-83 victory over a stubborn Clarendon team.

The game see-sawed back in forth all night. Not that the lead changed hands so many times, but the Hawks were continually building up small spreads only to see them melt away again.

With seven minutes to go one of those spreads melted to nothing when the Bulldogs' Robert Evans zipped one in from the side to make the score 68-all. From then on Howard made few mistakes as they inched further and further ahead to clinch the victory.

Walker sank a free throw to put the Hawks back in the ead. Larry Kelly popped one through from 5-feet, Right after that, Paul Cathey stole the ball, dribbled down court until Walker was under the bucket and shoveled him a pass for an easy layup. This gave Howard a 5-point lead with five minutes to go and the Hawks appeared to have everything under

The Bulldogs made it close one more time at 78-76 when Charles Quisenberry and Evans passed over and under everyone the full length of the court with Evans sinking it to end a pretty play.

Now it was time for a little heroics by Walker. First, he popped in a 7-footer, then he hit turn-around jumper from 13-feet. He polished off his scene with two straight free throws which gave Howard and insumountable 6-point

High Cotton Prices Cause Low Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cotton exports this season are falling sharply below earlier expectations, partly because U.S. prices are too high for foreign buyers, says the Agriculture Department.

The department's Outlook and Situation Board said Thursday that exports for the 1975-76 marketing year, which will end next July 31, are expected to range be-tween 3 million and 3.5 million bales, down 500,000 bales from a projection made on Nov. 11. Last season's exports were 3.9 Technology million bales.

"While recovery general economic and textile activity is boosting domestic use, foreign recovery from the recession continues to the board said. "So weak demand for cotton abroad, coupled with generally noncompetitive U.S. cotton prices, is limiting our exports this season."

The department announced Wednesday that the 1975 cotton crop is expected to total 8.5 million bales, down 6 per cent from the November forecast and 27 per cent below the 1974 crop. Including a carryover reserve of 5.7 million bales on Aug. 1, this season's total cotton supply of 14.2 million bales is the smallest since "While the cut in production this year primarily stems from reduced acreage, recent deterioration in yields has further damaged prospects in many areas of the "Cotton the board said in a report.

The "spot market price" of a common grade of cotton now is over 54 cents per pound, up about five cents from a month ago and about 15 cents higher than last year at this time, the report said. Officials said that cotton domestically has remained competitively priced with synthetic fibers and that textile mill use during October averaged nearly 20 per cent above a year earlier, compared with a maximum 13 per cent in-crease for man-made fibers.

season is still expected to and 7.3 million bales, up from last season's 5.9

But with the smaller crop this year, the cotton reserve by next Aug. 1—the begin-ning of a new season — is expected to fall to 3.5 million and 4.5 million bales, the

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe has been sued by Rep. Luther Jones, D-El Paso, to stop a $250,000 recodification of property

Jones filed the suit in state district court Thursday.

The legislature did not intend that any portion of the $5 million appropriated to the governor's office in the school finance bill be spent on recodification, Jones said.

"The $5 million was appropriated primarily to determine the wealth of the 1,100 school districts in Texas," Jones said. Also named as defendants in the suit are Bob Johnson, executive director of the Legislative Council, and John Poerner, director of the Governor's Office Education Resources.

The $250,000 is provided in a contract between Poerner's and Johnson's offices. "By signing the contract, these people certified in writing that the services were necessary and essential to the activities and statutory functions of their respective agencies," Jones said. "I will show that this clearly is not the case."

"I don't want to have anything to do with Governor Briscoe's brand of phony, pseudo property tax reform efforts," he said. "Having him rewrite the tax laws is like asking the fox to guard the hen house.

"Briscoe's brand of property tax reform can only lead to increased local taxes on the homeowner and the small businessman. No one likes to pay taxes, but under

Members met in the home of Mrs. Paulette Schafer. Mrs. Rose Davis presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Little emphasized that women have played an important part in establishing certain songs as traditional patriotic music of America. She stated that Mrs.

Eleanor Joy Riley sang the "Star Spangled Banner" before a joint session of Congress when it was approved as the national anthem in 1931. Julia Ward Howe wrote "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" at dawn the day after an outing during which many war songs were sung. "America The Beautiful" was written by Katherin Lee Bates upon her return from her first trip to Pike's Peak. Musical accompaniment was not written to it for two years. Mrs. Little commented that if the United State had a second national anthem it would be "God Bless America" by Irving Berlin. He wrote the song in 1917 but proceeds from the song would be given to Girl and Boy Scouts of America.

Members sang verses from each song after the program. During the business meeting a report was given on the Christmas party

'Blind American' Slates Program Sunday In Abilene

Joseph Lomangino, widely-known Catholic lay apostle from New York, will present his famous slideecture on Padre Pio and on Marian apparitions, including Fatima, on Sunday, December 14, at 3:00 p.m. at St. Vincent Pallotti Church, 2525 Westview Dr., in Admission is free and open to everyone. The program is being presented in con-nection with the parish's celebrations of the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe, Patroness of America, who is being honored in Catholic diocese throughout the country December 12-14.

Lomangino, known throughout the world as "The Blind American" he has been totally blind for 28 years, or simply, "Joey," has dedicated his life to preaching God's love for all people and the necessity for prayer and amendment. He has lectured in 12 countries and 30 states in America and appeared on national television in the U.S. and Ireland and numerous local television and radio programs here and abroad. Millions of people have been inspired by the sincerity and intensity of his mission.

His lecture in Abilene will be on the famous Franciscan monk, Padre Pio, who bore the visible wounds of Christ for 50 years the "Stigmata" until his death in 1968, and whose cause for canonization has already been introduced in Rome. Joey will also discuss modern-day apparitions of the Virgin Mary, specifically those at Fatima, Portugal, in 1917. Padre Pio was the "spiritual father" of the Blue Army, and in-ternational organization which promotes the message

Jehovah Witnesses Tell Of Malawi Persecution

"Thousands of Christians are now under brutal per-Malawi, declared Leonardo Martinez, presiding overseer of the Local Spanish Congregation of Jehovah's es. "Starting August 19, 1975, more than 34,000 Jehovah's Witnesses from Malawi who fled as refugees to Mozambique in 1972 because of severe persecution were forced to return to Malawi and now experience brutal per-secution again. All of this is because of their refusal to join a political party.

Martinez said he had received a report from N. H. Knorr at the Brooklyn Headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses. Knorr said that when a group of Jehovah's Witnesses arrived at the Malawi border, the Minister for the Central Region, Kimbweza Banda, greeted them: "We welcome you with both hands. You left Malawi of your own accord and now you have returned of your own accord. The Malawi Congress Party is still in power in this country. Go back to your home villages and cooperate with the party officials." Then, referring to the members of the League of Malawi Youth, he said: "My boys are here to see that you do cooperate with the Party." Soon roads in the north and central regions of Malawi were filled with Jehovah's Witnesses on their way back to their home Because no one will accept them, many Witnesses have been forced to wander in the cities by day, sleeping in nearby forests at night. Upward of 4,800 fled to neighboring Zambia, but

Baptists Slate Freedom '76

Program personalities, woven into an innovative and fluid format featuring the sights and sounds of Christian freedom, will highlight Freedom 76, a nationwide event scheduled here for students and single and married young adults, Dec. 28-31.

Believed to be the first Bicentennial event in the nation to welcome in the nation's third 100 years, running past midnight, Dec. 31, the four-day event will branch out into the San Antonio community, as well as focus at the San Antonio Convention Center.

Outside the Convention Hall in the afternoons, participants will find missions work project and a game bus to reach children in areas of need, community entertainment, opportunities for personal evangelism, a mission tour and sightseeing in historic San Antonio.

Program personalities for the event, sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention, incude comedian-entertainer Grady Nutt, who will serve as master of ceremonies and lead program emphases. Other personalities include actress Jeanette Clift George of Houston, who played the lead role in "The Hiding Place"; William Pinson, professor of Christian Ethics at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth; Shirley Cothran, the 1975 Miss America; musician Andrae Crouch and the Disciples; William Hendricks, professor of theology at Southwestern Seminary.

Also, Buckner Fanning pastor of Trinity Baptist Church in the host city; Mrs Eleanor Nutt; Glendon McCullough, executive director of the Brotherhood Commission, Memphis; E. V. Hill, as Black Baptist pastor from Los Angeles and soprano Myrtle Hall from the Billy Graham the Billy evangelistic team.

He was a retired editor and a wise one. But he was a realist — as a newspaperman must be. One of his sayings became legendary in that busy pressroom:

When the front page makes you happy — it's been a great day! I'm one who has noticed that the great days seem farther apart. Nor can I blame on my ulcer the headlines that don't make anyone happy. Someone else said: men make the news; reporters only

It's time to give thought to the roots of happiness. After all, what happens every day is simply the fruit of a million vines. Down at the roots is where the fateful choices are made which inevitably

This is a mighty fine newspaper whose service to the community is to tell us what news men have made today. We also have some mighty fine churches. Their service to the community is to mold the faith and character of the men who will make the news tomorrow.

Our churches are working at the roots of happiness!

Nine-Year Sentence

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A district court jury set the prison term Thursday for a Duval County lawyer at nine years in prison following his conviction on a felony theft charge.

Marvin Foster, 47, of San Diego, was convicted Wednesday on a charge that he accepted a $3,500 check from the Benavides school district for work he did not

The jury of 10 men and two women deliberated for an hour and 10 minutes Thursday before setting Foster's punishment at nine years, two years longer than the term sought by Asst. Cameron County Dist. Atty.

District Court Judge Darrell Hester ordered Foster's bond increased from $7,500 to $20,000 and set a bond hearing for Foster at San Diego Monday af-ternoon. The person posting the surety bond will have to appear in person with a written financial statement, Judge Hester said.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Aeronautics Commission approved Wednesday two new East Texas air routes on applications filed by Metroflight Inc. and Security Air Carrier Inc.

Commissioners went along with a hearing examiner's recommendation that Metroflight be allowed to link Lufkin and Nacogdoches with Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport and Houston International, with stops at Tyler and Longview.

They also approved the application of Security Air Carrier, doing business as Mid-Continent Airlines, to provide passenger air ser-vice between Dallas-Fort Worth Regional and

Judge Denies New Trial For Corley

WACO, Tex. (AP) — District Court Judge Carl C. Anderson has denied a motion for a new trial Thursday for convicted capital murderer Edward Eldon Corley of Tyler.

However, the judge withheld pronouncement of a death sentence Thursday until prosecuting attorneys file an affidavit by a psychiatrist in regards to Corley's mental condition.

Defense attorneys Ken Crow of Waco and James Knowles of Tyler presented a sworn statement from Dr. Dan Chamness which said a 200-page document reporwritten by Corley have "material would have bearing" on the question of his competency to stand trial for the September 1974 rapeslaying of Vicki Lynn Morris of Chapel Hill.

A hearing was held last spring in district court at Tyler and a jury said Corley was competent to stand trial.

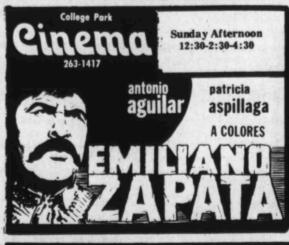

hearing Smith County Dist. Atty. Curtis Owen obtained the 200-page document which details the various slayings in which Corley is accused of ing involved.

Had the document been presented as evidence before the jury that decided Corley was competent to stand trial, defense lawyers contend, the ruling would have been
