TEACHERS INSTITUTE SOON TO MEET IN LUBBOCK

The time for the meeting of the South Plains Teachers' Institute, which includes the teachers from a number of nearby counties, is drawing near, and there will be a large number of teachers in attendance upon the meeting. This organization has been assembling here the past few years and those in attendance have always given the town credit for taking care of them in good shape, and we are sure this will be done this year, but the institute is growing, and more teachers will likely be here this year than at any previous meeting, and therefore the task of taking care of them increased. The teachers are not asking for free entertainment, they are willing to pay for rooms and meals, but the proposition is simply this. Our hotels are already crowded and are not able to take care of the extra crowd, and it falls upon the home of the city to open their homes for the entertainment of those in attendance upon the institute.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Rev. J. S. Johnson, anti-saloon lecturer, spoke at the Baptist church Sunday night to a nice audience. We understand that he unmercifully flayed the sellers of drunk producing drinks in Brownfield, and the officers for noninterference of the dry act.

MARRIAGES

COOK-HALL

Mr. William Cook and Mrs. Susie Hall, both of this city, were married Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Lubbock, District Judge W. R. Spencer, officiating.

Mr. Cook is one of our hustling real estate men, and a booster for the town and county. He stands high in business circles, and is a man of honesty and integrity.

The bride is the charming widow daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Birmingham, who live just south of town, and her friends are measured by the amount of her acquaintance, and she will prove a true helpmeet we are sure.

CANADA-COVEY

Mr. Therbert Canada of Cisco, and Miss Mayme Covey of this city were married at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Methodist parsonage, the local pastor, Rev. J. W. Baughman, officiating.

We are not acquainted with the bride-groom, but he is a handsome young man, and learned to love Miss Mayme while she lived at Cisco the past twelve months.

Miss Mayme is the charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Covey, and is a general favorite with the younger set.

Herald hastens to extend congratulations to both couples.

There seems to be a rupture between Henry Ford and all his agencies in this part of the country at least, and we understand that there are cars of Ford's setting on the track at Tahoka, Lubbock, Post, and we are sure there is one here. The Ford Co. like all other big concerns have got it into their noddles somehow that local agencies must have nothing to say how the business must be conducted, or what they may advertise, even though the local agencies are themselves paying for the advertising. A meeting with the State agency is called in Lubbock for Wednesday this week, and the Ford people may come to the conclusion that it pays to be a little liberal, at least.

STARING RUTH ROLAND

We hope the reader, especially the movie fan part thereof has read and thoroughly digested the announcement in these columns by the management of the Liberty Theatre of the coming 15 episode serial that is to be put on in five nights during the holidays, and have noticed also that some one is going to get a $500 gold piece the second night, or the 22nd. The serial starts on the night of the 22nd.

In other words, to see this high class serial, "The Adventures of Ruth" in five nights will only cost $1.75 including the war tax, whereas if it was strung out over fifteen nights it would cost $5.25, a considerable saving for your holiday amusement.

There is no use for us to stress the fact that Ruth Roland is going to star in this play, for all stagegoers admit that Miss Roland has few if any peers on the movie stage.

METHODIST PREACHER DIED ON LAMESA CIRCUIT

Rev. H. H. Clary, Methodist minister, who has been in charge of the Lamesa circuit since the last annual conference and mention of whose serious illness was made in last week's issue, died on December 3, and the body was shipped through Lubbock the 4th. His body was accompanied by his wife and daughter with Rev. G. W. Shearer, Presiding Elder of the Lubbock District. His body was interred in the Silverton cemetery on Dec. 5th. Shearer was Mr. Clary's home for the past few years and he had many friends in that community. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Shearer, assisted by the local pastor of that place. We extend our sympathy with the bereaved ones in this sad hour.—Lubbock Avalanche.

GOV. BOB TAYLOR ON ROBT. INGERSOL

I sat in a great theatre at the national capital. It was thronged with youth and beauty; old age and wisdom. I saw a man, the image of his God, stand upon the stage and I heard him speak.

His gestures were the perfection of grace, his voice was music, and his language was more beautiful than any I had ever heard from mortal lips.

He painted picture after picture of the pleasures and joys and sympathies of home; he enthroned love and preached the gospel of humanity like an angel.

Then I saw him dip his brush into the ink of moral blackness and blot out the beautiful pictures he had painted. I saw him stab love dead at his feet. I saw him blot out the stars and the sun and leave humanity and the universe in eternal darkness and eternal death.

I saw him, like the serpent of old, worm himself into the paradise of human hearts, and by his seductive eloquence and subtle devices of sophistry, inject his fatal venom, under whose blight its flowers faded, its music was hushed, its sunshine was darkened and the soul was left a desert waste, with only the new-made graves of faith and hope.

I saw him, like a lawless, erratic meteor without an orbit, sweep across the intellectual sky, brilliant only in self-consuming fire, generated by the friction with the indestructible and eternal truth of God.

That man was the archangel of modern infidelity, and I said: How true is the holy writ which declares "the fool in his heart hath said there is no God."

Tell me not, oh infidel, there is no God, no heaven, no hell! Tell me not, oh infidel, there is no risen Christ.

What intelligence less than God could fashion the human body? What motive power is it, if not God that drives the throbbing engine of the human body, sending the crimson streams of life bounding and circling through every vein and artery?

Whence and what, if not God, is this mystery we call mind?

LEGION ELECTS OFFICERS

The local Post of the American Legion met at the Courthouse last Thursday evening at 7 o'clock and perfected its organization. After the object and work of the Legion was stated by Mr. Vanderpool, permanent organization was formed and the following officer were elected:

Post Commander, Morgan Copeland.
Vice Post Com.—Hoyt Vanderpool
Post Adjutant—Homer Winston.
Treasurer—J. C. Bohannon.
Chaplain—Rev. J. E. Anderson.
Sergeant-At-Arms—Jim Miller.

There was a very large attendance of the ex-soldiers from different parts of the county. There are grave responsibilities evolved upon the Post here. For example, conducting of military funerals of all the soldiers who paid the supreme sacrifice, and whose bodies are shipped back here for final entombment. There are also drills and formations for various occasions to be had. In view of these duties, we earnestly urge all ex-service men to join, and be out at all regular meetings which will be every Thursday night at the Courthouse.

Before the meeting closed, hot coffee and sandwiches were served, and with a joyous spirit, we all went away feeling that we had fought a battle with the enemy and won the victory.

SEE C. R. Rambo for Abstracts. Your work appreciated.

BIG CORN CROP BEGINNING TO MOVE

A close estimate on the shipments of the corn from the 1919 crop ran close to 200 cars, and it is believed we have a much better crop this year but it is so cheap, compared to last season, it is doubtful if the farmers will harvest it as close as last year. No doubt much of it will be held till toward spring with hopes of better prices. Local buyers are paying from 45 to 50c per bushel f. o. b. Brownfield, and there has been several cars loaded the past week.

The corn is mostly going to South Texas points, and to the cities in that section, such as San Antonio, Waco, Houston, and one car is being loaded for Dallas.

Buyers say the corn here this year weighs out like river bottom corn, and is as sound as a dollar.

TERRY CUNTY TO FILL BIG LAND SALE

You will notice elsewhere in this paper that old Terry is to put on some land sale its black self, and when the terms and conditions are considered, we know of no company or any one else for that matter that is in it with Terry.

The best we could figure there is 3730 acres for sale, all in Gaines Co., the county just south of Terry, and all good lands we understand.

Now is the chance of your life to get you a home at your own price.

School will close today in order for the teachers to attend the District Institute at Lubbock next week. It is understood that the Lubbock people have a fine program on foot for the South Plains teachers.

A Fascinating Outdoor Fiction Serial

One of those tales which appeal to the quality in man and woman that finds stories of human contest with the wild forces of nature so enthralling. Possessing a high degree of literary merit it is being hailed as the modern classic of its type.

Zane Grey says: "The Voice of the Pack" is clean, fine, raw, bold, primitive; and has a wonderfully haunting quality in the repeated wolf-note.

The New York Times says: "The Voice of the Pack" contains an intimate and detailed knowledge of the Oregon woods that makes the novel fascinating. The story in the main is a woodland idyl, rich in poetic fancy and throbbing with a reverent love for a nature which is unspeakably wonderful both in its majesty and in its all-pervading hospitality.

The Chicago Daily News says: "Taken all around, 'The Voice of the Pack' is the best of the stories about wild life that has come out in many, many moons."

JAKE L. HAMON

You have had all the sensational "bull about this man from the falties now hear the other side from his home paper, the Ardmoreite.

"He had a heart big enough to love the entire world, and he never saw a crippled child that it did not appeal to his heart. He often said that he would rather restore a crippled child than to build a church. He would rather have, as a monument to him, a life saved than a church spire. He had sent crippled children and crippled young men to the great hospitals of the country and restored many of them to usefulness.

"He had picked up a number of ambitious young men and brought greater fortune to them than they had ever expected. He had furnished means to put young men through the A. & M. College of this state and also through the State University, and he has a student now in Washington. As the news of his death is carried today to every state in the union, there will be more sorrowful hearts than the people of Ardmore can ever know for the reason that many of his best friends have never known how many unfortunate he was giving attention to and they did not know how many young men he had in school. These things were his private property, he talked of them but little.

Jake L. Hamon was about 49 years of age and had amassed a fortune of many millions in the last seven years. He was a graduate of the University of Kansas. He proved up on a farm in Comanche county, in Oklahoma and was the first city attorney of Lawton.

Dr. T. J. Irwin, the Presbyterian minister who made the principal address at the Hamon funeral paid the following tribute to the man:

"Friends, all that science and skill and love and care could do was done for him, and we all hoped for his recovery, but God willed it otherwise and he bowed in humble submission to the divine will, and today he is with the Mercy of the Merciful, the Living God who statted death for every man—the Savior of all men, and if Jake Hamon is not safe in the hands of his Maker then I am lost. He had his faults, so have I, so have you and so has every man whose name we find recorded within the lids of the Bible. None are perfect."

"Jake Hamon's name will be mentioned with loving remembrances many years after those who are now peddling gossip about him have been entirely forgotten.

"Peace to his ashes."

About This Sale. We Are Simply Forced To Reduce Our Stock

Although we have done a good Fall business, we must admit the volume has not been as we had anticipated and has not justified the enormous stock of Fall and Winter goods purchased early in the season. The high prices which have prevailed have been partly responsible for this condition. Now, however, the readjustment of prices has come; and, although it means a sacrifice on our part, we are willing to "Pay the Fiddler" and throw our stock on the market at quotations far below those originally asked for the same goods. This, in order to clear the store, as far as possible, of our present line, and at the same time give the public—our friends and customers—the benefit of lowering prices on some very desirable lines of Seasonable Merchandise. PRICES POSITIVELY REDUCED To those of our patrons who have been waiting for a decline in prices, we want to say that the reductions we are offering during this sale make it, all in all, one of the greatest we have ever had.

TO OUR FRIENDS

Once more the rolicking flames of the Yuletide fires are reflected in the happy faces of loved ones, gathered again around the home hearth for the Christmas festivities.

Carelessly, the rose and gold lights play upon the faces of those who are old, kindling anew blurred memories of happy childhood days. Softly they touch the care lines of middle age, transforming them. Youth is handclapped, thrilled at their warmth, and in the merry laughing eyes of rosy lips of happy little folks they find their full reflection.

And out of the flames of these Yuletide fires, come for our mind's review, treasured pictures of our childhood; cherished Christmas dreams that we are today changing into realities for our own little loved ones.

Beneath the spell of the Yuletide, self is lost and the true spirit of Christmas—warm and throbbing with love and friendship—reigns supreme. For, remembering the gift the Holy Babe of Bethlehem gave to us on this, His natal day, let us, too, give of the best that is in us that Christmas may be a day of happiness through service.

Old friends and new, we are wishing for you and yours all of the Happiness; all of the Joy and Gladness that the Christmas Season can bring.

MICKIE, THE PRINTER'S DEVIL

FIRST TEXAS NEWSPAPER
Austin—Texas can boast of having had a newspaper as early as 1819. It was printed and published at the old Spanish town of Nacogdoches by Horatio Bigelow, a member of the supreme council of the provisional government. It concerned itself with the military and political operations that were going on in that part of the colony. The next paper of which there is any record is the Texas Gazette, the first number of which is dated San Felipe de Austin, Friday, Sept. 25th, 1829. Godwin Brown Co. was its editor. It was a 4 page paper, the pages 9 1/2 x 12 inches in size, containing each 3 columns 2 1/2 inches wide. Though nominally a weekly, the paper appeared very irregularly until 1832, at which time it was discontinued altogether. There and a few other papers of short duration were succeeded by the Texas Republican, which was published on every Saturday at Brazoria by A. Harris and Gray. Being the only paper in Texas from July, 1834, to Oct. 1835, it is of great value for the light it throws on the inauguration of the Texas resolutions. Proceeding of a great many mass meetings and committees of safety published in its columns are not elsewhere obtainable. The first number of the Texas Republican contains an account of the death of Mrs. Robert Burns, copied from the Kilmarnock Journal. It was so unusual that for an Indian or a "borgue" legend to occupy the first page position in the paper. Notices and ads were indicated with the word "Notice" in heavy black type above them and start out with, "The subscriber informs, etc." or "The subscriber wishes, etc."

R. H. Banowsky, formerly of this place, but now pushing the oil gait at Wichita Falls, was here this week looking after business matters. He was one of the pioneer settlers in Terry county, and was for several years engaged with E. T. Powell in the mercantile business, and has a host of friends here who are always glad to see him.

Late trains seem to be the order of the day now, and it not only is disadvantageous to travel under the condition, but puts our mail in here at such a late hour that we rarely get our mail till next day. Of course lots of cattle are going out in one of the seasons, but as the cattle shipping is now showing up, if the late rains continue, the number of Cornacore ought to look into the matter, and if the crew on the local is having too much switching to do at Lubbock the Santa Fe ought to be persuaded to put on a switching crew in that city.

Local corn buyers paid from 50c to 55c for corn on the local market, Saturday, and on the same day it is reported that the farmers of Tahoka were getting from 35c to 40c. One of the great trouble our buyers are up against and that is high freight rates; that is about 36c for each 100 pounds across the state, and shipping into other states is almost prohibitive. Take for instance, corn selling here for 45c per bushel of 75 pounds and add the freight rate of say 27c to that, and one can readily see that corn at 85c per bushel in Houston is no big profit for the man handling it here and the man handling it there. The local buyer must also guarantee weights there.

WISH TO THANK the farmers for cooperating with me in the corn business last year, and after Jan. 1st, will save my ranch business in shape and will give the corn business my entire time, and will buy corn in any quantities regardless of cars. W. E. Pool.

Miss Li Lie May Price, nurse in the Lubbock Sanitarium, was here the past week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Price.

Mrs. Joseph Wheeler was up from Runnels county last week at ending the bedside of her son, S. V. whom we reported ill. We are glad to report him on his feet again, and his mother returned home Saturday.

Claud Cotton, of Runnels county, a nephew of Uncle Mose Dumas, was up last week visiting the family of the latter.

O. E. Adams shipped 6 cars and Dr. T. F. Miles one car of cattle to the Fort Worth market from here last Saturday.

SAYS MOSQUITOES PUNCTURED TIRE.
The biggest big mosquito story of the season is credited to Fred Zavratky, employed by the New York and New Haven Railroad company at Winston, Conn. With a party of friends he motored in his car to Riverton, three or four miles distant, on a fishing trip. He left his car near the village and upon returning from the brook, he noticed that a stove tire fastened to the rear of the car was literally covered with giant "scooters." They all seemed to be in working order, too, because when Zavratky had to use the new tire to replace a flat one on the way home he declared he found it had been punctured by the huge mosquitoes.

Humming Bird Awees Woodchuck.
"The dimensions of an intruder were not considered at all by Sir Ruby," says R. L. Brasler, writing of a humming bird. "A flat lazy woodchuck, sitting upright on his hind legs, calmly chewing a sprig of leaves and surrounded by an admiring circle of Leghorns, was informed in no uncertain manner that he was outside of his domain. He returned to his proper territory with an abruptness which scattered the hens in a wild furry of cackling. Perhaps the sudden change from lethargy to action aroused the suspicion that he was a fox in groundhog's fur?"—Boy's Life.

Rabbit Drives in Washington.
Jack rabbits to the number of 35,000 have sacrificed their lives in the drives recently undertaken in eastern Washington under the supervision of the biological survey. The demand for the meat in the larger cities of the Northwest proved to be good. White-tailed rabbits brought $2.50 a dozen, and the black-tailed variety sold for about $2. Preference was shown for those which had been shot rather than harried and clubbed. The carcasses, to be salable, should be drawn as soon as possible

LOW IN SCALE OF HUMANITY
Cave Dwellers in the Canary Islands Practically Live as Do the Wild Animals.

Principal cave-dwellers' settlements in the Canaries are at Atalaya, in the island of Grand Canary. The name means the "giant's burrow," and from a distance the place closely resembles a rabbit-warren or a honey-comb swarming with bees. The caves are more or less in terraces on the sides of the hills, overlooking a plain and river bed. Atalaya supplies the entire group of the Canaries with clay pots, every cave having its own set of rude appliances for making pots, and the people display great industry and quickness in their work. Men, women and children squat about at the entrances to their caves, kneading the clay with their hands into elegant jars and using their finger nails to apply decorative lines.

These troglodytes, or cave dwellers, are almost like wild animals, having no morals, and very little clothing to boast of. During the summer the children run about almost naked, and the women wear the shortest of skirts. They are probably the last remnants of the aborigines of Grand Canary, who are known to have lived in caves 500 years ago. The cave dwellers are very different from the rest of the islanders, who look upon them as pariahs and would as soon think of intermarrying with monkeys as with them.—Wide World Magazine.

SHEEP KILLED THEIR ENEMY
Ordinarily Timid Animals Worked in Concert to Stamp Life Out of Big Rattlesnake.

One summer morning a farmer in Virginia started out to salt a small flock of sheep that he had recently put into a hilly, overgrown field some distance from his home. At the pasture he called for some time, but seeing no hearing nothing of the sheep he walked down toward the middle of the enclosure and mounted a tall stump at the edge of the briar patch. From this point of vantage he could see the flock on a piece of level ground scarcely 20 yards below him.

The sheep were crowded into a swaying excited circle some 20 feet in diameter.

Presently, while the sheep were standing still, a big wether made a spring, landed with his feet in the very center of the ring and bounced away like a rubber ball. In a flash another followed his lead, and another, until all had leaped on the same spot. Then away they swept down the hill.

Stepping down from his perch, the farmer made his way to the scene of this strange performance. By the side of the trampled briar clump lay the mangled remains of a big rattlesnake.

Barbless Hooks for Anglers.
A very commendable movement is under way among members of the Missouri club, and probably other sporting clubs, for the use of the barbless hook. The idea is that true sportsmanship consists in giving the members of the "finny tribe" a fair chance for life and escape, and that to catch a fish with a barbless hook is more creditable than to use the old-fashioned barb. When trout or salmon are caught with a barbless hook, they are apt to be seriously injured, and even if thrown back into the water do not recover in many cases; whereas, if the barbless hook is used, as now advocated, they are returned to the water, in almost all instances revived and may be caught over and over again. This is true sportsmanship, and it is to be hoped that the barbless hook movement will succeed.—Boston Post.

Army Has New "Eyes."
Army engineers are said to have developed a new type of searchlight, mounted on a rubber-tired trailer that can be pulled great distances by a motor truck which promises to be a great aid in anti-aircraft operations. It is a 60-inch light of the "dishpan" type, yet weighs but 700 pounds as against the old light of this size, which weighed 6,000 pounds.

The cost of the new light also has been reduced, being about a quarter of the cost of the first light, which had a glass mirror that was not only very heavy but also difficult to manufacture. The new light has a mirror of thin metal with a backing of reinforced concrete. This construction is said to produce excellent results.

Reduced Rates.
A little girl who was in the habit of bringing ten cents to Sunday school, heard the superintendent say that each child in her department had been apportioned six cents a Sunday for the centenary. Upon reaching home she ran to her mother and said: "Mother, Mr. S. says we needn't bring but six cents to Sunday school now. You know, that's five cents for Sunday school and the war tax."—Don's Herald.

Motor Busses to Holy Land.
"The Ramallah company of Jerusalem and New York," says Shipping, "recently shipped several motor-trucks fitted with special omnibus bodies to accommodate the passengers, the first of their kind ever sent to Palestine." So the holy city will soon begin to look like Fifth Avenue! The day of the camel is passing, remarks the Outlook.

"You mean a vacation in Italy?"
"No, my bank book."—Chicago Tribune.

FIRST TEXAS NEWSPAPER
Austin—Texas can boast of having had a newspaper as early as 1819. It was printed and published at the old Spanish town of Nacogdoches by Horatio Bigelow, a member of the supreme council of the provisional government. It concerned itself with the military and political operations that were going on in that part of the colony. The next paper of which there is any record is the Texas Gazette, the first number of which is dated San Felipe de Austin, Friday, Sept. 25th, 1829. Godwin Brown Co. was its editor. It was a 4 page paper, the pages 9 1/2 x 12 inches in size, containing each 3 columns 2 1/2 inches wide. Though nominally a weekly, the paper appeared very irregularly until 1832, at which time it was discontinued altogether. There and a few other papers of short duration were succeeded by the Texas Republican, which was published on every Saturday at Brazoria by A. Harris and Gray. Being the only paper in Texas from July, 1834, to Oct. 1835, it is of great value for the light it throws on the inauguration of the Texas resolutions. Proceeding of a great many mass meetings and committees of safety published in its columns are not elsewhere obtainable. The first number of the Texas Republican contains an account of the death of Mrs. Robert Burns, copied from the Kilmarnock Journal. It was so unusual that for an Indian or a "borgue" legend to occupy the first page position in the paper. UNION HAPPENINGS

By Ned. The trustees met Tuesdays and elected Miss Bulah Dixon as teacher. The Messrs. Floyd Smith and Geo. Couchman were elected to drive the trucks during the school term, which will start Monday, Dec. 5th. The garage is being built to keep the trucks in this winter.

The people of the Union community met Sunday and reorganized the Sunday School. The officers elected were, Mr. Ike Newberry, Supt.; Mrs. Graves, Assistant Supt.; Miss Sabelle Couchman, Sec.; Miss Bulah Dixon, pianist, and the teachers are Bible Class, Mrs. Graves; Senior, no teacher at present, Intermediate, Miss Leola Burns; Junior, no teacher yet and Primary, Mrs. H. C. Zorners.

There will be a Christmas tree on Christmas Eve night at the school house. The Messrs. Floyd Smith and George D. Couchman will go to the brakes after the tree.

Mr. J. H. Anderson and his son, Bob, drove their cattle and mules to Amarillo, Monday, and shipped to Amarillo, to a man who purchased them last week.

The men who purchased the Anderson north section, are out improving it.

Mr. Floyd Smith came home Sunday morning from the Gaines county place, where he has been stacking feed.

Mrs. Leslie Green's brother and sister have come out to spend the winter with her and attend the Union High School.

Mr. Jeff Dennison has been gathering Mr. J. M. Green's feed for him this week.

Mr. Robert Graves was down in the Union community on business one day this week.

Mr. Walter Groves is down about 34 feet on the well that he is drilling for Mr. Gus Ratcliffe.

Mr. Lee Greenhaw has been gathering corn on Dr. Copeland's place and hauling it to his own place.

Editor's Note—From the looks of the envelope containing your letter, Ned, some one carried it in their pocket a good while before finally mailing it the day after the Herald went to press last week.

EX-SERVICE MEN FAVORED

A new policy of the Atchison Topoka & Santa Fe Railway Company will be to give special consideration to ex-service men in the employment of new workers, according to an announcement by W. B. Storey, president.

Mr. Storey says further, "if it becomes necessary to reduce forces it would seem desirable, other things being equal, to give the ex-service men preference, and in this way give practical expression to our appreciation of what these men have done for us."

Another Santa Fe policy, which, although new, has been emphasized since the return of the railroads to government control, is to promote from the ranks. The Santa Fe is able to find in its own organization men for nearly any position that may be open, and for the exceptions there must be a controlling reason which will have careful scrutiny.

THE YULETIDE SPIRIT

The Yuletide spirit is heralded by the coming of the familiar form of Santa Claus on the Christmas Seal, which are now on sale in Texas and all over the country. Good health is the gift which jolly old Saint Nick is bringing to the people of the Lone Star State.

In the counties which have not been organized with county chairmen and sales teams, many of the people will be the opportunity of purchasing the little seals of good health through the mails. Into these counties, the Texas Public Health Association is sending thousands of seals, asking the people to buy them, to make their Christmas mail complete, by writing to the Texas Public Health Association, at Austin.

The money which is raised in this county will be used wholly and exclusively for health work, especially in the fight against tuberculosis. Ninety-five per cent of this money will remain in Texas for anti-tuberculosis work by the Texas Public Health Association and its many local societies, in every part of the State, among the old and young, and every race and class. The other five per cent will go to the National Tuberculosis Association for its nationwide work. Therefore part of this five per cent will revert to Texas for cooperative work.

The little Christmas Seals will fitly decorate Christmas mail, bring Christmas and New Year greetings, and each represents a penny's worth of good health for Texas.

TOKIO TALKINGS

By Grasshopper

On account of the sandstorm Sunday, we failed to have Sunday School. Mr. K. F. Campbell, was down from Crosbyton a few days this week.

Mr. Jack Benton came in from Tulsa last week for a visit with the home folks.

Arthur Scudday and A. V. Taylor took Mr. Scudday's steers to Brownfield, Sunday, and shipped them to Sweetwater Monday.

Mrs. Carl Russing visited Sunday with Miss Nettie Benton.

Marie Taylor spent Sunday night with Mrs. Scudday.

Mrs. Day and children visited with Mrs. Gray, Wednesday.

Miss Webelle Hargett entertained her Sunday School class Saturday afternoon. All reported an enjoyable time.

Mesdames Day and Gray and their children visited with Mrs. Taylor and children this week.

We hear on every side that farmers have decided not to gather their crops, but leave them in the fields to rot. This may not seem foolish to them, but it does to us. You have so often heard the old saw about one bird in the hand is better than two in the bush. Well it applies very well in this instance. The rains came—the sunshine was in evidence, and the lord of harvest smiled on their efforts. But the lord of markets has slept on the job we'll agree. But—how do you know you are going to make anything next year—the next—or the next. If it is too low to pay for gathering with a hired force then turn off the hired force and gather—gather—gather till spring. And if you do not want to sell it, that is entirely your business. You have all the territory you wish to store it in. Then you can rest all next year if you want to, but don't plow under a crop already made just to get to try to raise another just like it. We were raised to believe that waste is sin, and we may be wrong, but we still believe it. Gather and store.

We note the Terry County Herald came out in a four page eight column dress this week. This is an unusual size for a weekly paper, but the Herald being an unusual paper, there need be no surprise, and the dress is really becoming. The Herald readers will not get as many pages, but they will be big ones and we are sure they will be filled with good reading matter. Jack Stricklin is alright, and has built up a fine trade in the newspaper business in Brownfield. His is a booster for the town and "Good old Terry," and is deserving of all the good things that come his way—Lubbock Avalanche.

GOOD HEALTH HINTS

Oklahoma Farmer Gives Sound Advice on Avoiding Stickness.—Used Black-Draught 30 Years.

Cameron, Okla.—"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for about thirty years, and certainly ought to know by this time what a good medicine it is," says Mr. T. L. Postler, a well-known farmer of this place. Mr. Postler has passed his three-score-and-ten year, but declares his health still is good, "and I can say Black-Draught did his part."

"Where there is a lot of malaria, a fever medicine is a necessity, and I have never found one better than Black-Draught," continues the Oklahoman. "It is one that I know to be reliable. I sure use it for the liver, stomach, constipation, indigestion, and it has done me a world of good. We use it for the family, and it gives satisfaction."

"Most trouble, or sickness, comes from the liver, and if taken in time can be avoided. That is why I use Black-Draught as I do. I am much pleased with results obtained."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable. It acts on the bowels, gently stimulating the liver, and helps increase the normal flow of bile into the intestines. It aids in the digestion of food, and relieves constipation in a prompt and natural way.

Ask your druggist for a package to day. Insist on Theford's. NO. 123
