TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

To the bootlegger and his sympathizers, the following statement is made. That I, J. W. Baughman, upon request of the County officials, went through and examined the vault at the Courthouse, where a considerable stock of wine, gin and whiskey had been stored, and found that the entire stock had been destroyed, to all of which I testify under oath.

J. W. Baughman
Swoon to and subscribed before me the undersigned authority on this the 28th day of June, 1921.

(SEAL) A. J. Stricklin,
Notary Public

F. M. Ellington and family returned Tuesday from Garden City, Texas, where they went to witness the McDowell-McMaster wedding. They were accompanied home by the bride and groom and the bride's sister.

STRAYED: A mare mule, black 4 years old, 15 hands high, no brands on brands. Reward. Notify R. S. Nabors, Meadow, Texas.

BASEBALL

Just as we were about to give the home boys one of the biggest boosts of the season, away they go to Lubbock and loose a game by a score of nine to five, but just the same they won two from O'Donnell last week, and both were good ones. The last one going 13 endings and was won by a score of 3 to 2. The boys say O'Donnell has a splendid team and best of all pay on the square for the sake of the sport there is in the game. If the home boys improve much more they might summon courage sufficient to pay the famous league team that hangs out at Taboka and never suffers defeat.

There seems to be a little oil excitement in the Union community at present, and when we get a correct line up of the matter, will inform the readers.

Don't fail to see the "Prairie Rose" July 8th at the school auditorium.

Mrs. T. I. Brown has returned from a visit with relatives at Station.

BROWNFIELD A GOOD INITIAL SHIPPING POINT

We'll give your attention to the ad of the Brownfield State Bank for an itemized statement of the products that have been shipped out of Brownfield since the first day of last September. These figures are entirely reliable as they have been obtained from sources that are dependable.

When making comparisons with any other place, please don't forget that this is still primarily a stockman's country, and is just beginning to develop agriculturally. That the Federal Census of last year showed only 2300 people in the county, of this probably only about one-third are following agriculture for a living.

In the nine months 150 cars of products from the farm were shipped out and 14,500 passenger fares were paid.

You will note that the products are more varied than probably any section of Texas. Much of the corn was shelled and much more corn could be put in them in the stock.

Come to Terry.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES

The services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday will be of a patriotic character, being the Sunday before National Independence Day. The topic for the morning service will be "America's Refuge"—Psa. 72 Evening service, "The Hope of the World"—Eph. 1:20.

"This flag is the emblem of our unity and purpose as a nation, and though silent, it speaks to us."

BUSY BEE CLUB

We met at Onnell Restino's, Wed. afternoon, June 23rd at 3:30 o'clock and had a very enjoyable time.

Delicious refreshments consisting of lemonade and sandwiches were served.

We meet next Wed. afternoon at the same time with Blanche Brothers.

WEDDINGS

Sun. afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Methodist parsonage, of this place, Miss Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hearstall, was married to Mr. W. E. Broughton, both of Gomez. Rev. J. W. Baughman officiating.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hearstall, and has many friends who were won by her sweet and lovable disposition.

The groom is a splendid young stock farmer of Gomez, and well liked by all who know him, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Broughton.

A. Friend

On Sunday, June 27th at 8 P. M., Miss Ellen McMillan, of Garden City, Texas, and M. George McDowell, of this place, were married by Rev. Williamson, of Big Springs.

The bride was gown in white georgette over white satin.

A small circle of friends and relatives witnessed the nuptials. Punch and cake were served.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McMillan, of Garden City, and is loved by all who know her. The groom is one of our most popular builders and contractors.

They will be home to friends in this city after June 30th.

LUBBOCK A ROYAL HOST TO THE PANHANDLE BANKERS

Practically every banker in this city attended the Panhandle Bankers Association at Lubbock one day at least last week, and all report a very profitable and enjoyable time, and everything possible was provided for the many visiting bankers. We copy the following report of the meeting from the Plainsman Evening Herald:

Fred E. Chamberlain of the DeWberry County State Bank of Clarendon, was chosen president of the Panhandle Bankers Association at the closing session. C. W. Harrison, of the First National Bank, of Clovis, N.M., was elected first vice-president, Earl Fiqua, of the First National Bank of Amarillo, second vice-president; L. D. C. Kinard, of Memphis, was re-elected secretary, and Grady Oldham, of Canyon, was re-elected treasurer.

Amarillo was chosen as the site for the 1922 convention.

Aid for the cattlemen was the chief topic of discussion. The plan of extending financial aid as proposed by the bankers' pool of New York and Chicago through local banks against the proposal of the War Finance Corporation to extend Federal aid was discussed by the assembly. The discussion was led by Warren P. Andrews, president of the Texas Bankers Association, W. F. Patrick, of Clarendon, W. H. Fiqua, of Amarillo, and O. L. Slaton at Lubbock. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the bankers' plan against that of the War Finance Corporation.

Bankers went on record that they would back the conservative, legitimate cattlemen to the last ditch, especially in taking care of feeders and female cattle.

Lavish entertainment was afforded the bankers and their wives while in the city and the convention was a success from all standpoints. The big barbecue at the Hotel ranch Tuesday night was attended by 325 people. Visiting women were given a reception in the O. L. Slaton residence.

WELLS AND HAMILTON WILL PLANT A BIG WHEAT CROP

The larger part of an sections of an east of Brown, twenty miles north east of Plainsboro, will be put into cultivation by Fred Weyl and Jesse Hamilton. The land is owned by Spencer Brothers, of Clovis. About 1500 acres of this tract is now in cultivation. The contract which has been signed between Messrs. Spencer and Weyl and Hamilton provides for as much land to be put in wheat as can be prepared. Work will begin soon. Rummy tractors will be used, probably two outfits working.

Messrs. Weyl and Hamilton have consolidated their herds of registered Hereford cattle which will be moved to the place.

Mr. Hamilton has been farming De E. Lee Dye's land for the past year.—Plainsman Evening Herald.

OFFICERS SMASH ABOUT 600 BOTTLES OF BOOZE

"Where coffee grows on white-oak trees. And the rivers flow with brandy. Rocky roads all lined with gold. The girls all sweet as candy."

The above used to be a favorite old play song in the red hills of Tennessee when you and I were young Mac-joe, but we never saw anything like any of the scenes of the old song back there, or anywhere else till last Tuesday afternoon about 2 p. m. at the Brownfield Courthouse. We did not see any roads lined with gold or any coffee on the black locust trees, there are plenty of girls sweet as candy in Brownfield, some of which were present—but brandy—our equivalent flowed off like a river as the county and city officers were smashing bottle after bottle of everything from Rye Whiskey to Jamaica Rum with a big "ripper gal's" picture on it. This was intended for an exclusive trade had the consignment reached its destination at Fort Worth. Photographers got the cameras in good action while the smashing was at its height, and people who read the dailies may soon see how it is done in Brownfield. Mrs. John S. Powell of Brownfield and Mrs. Perry Spencer of Lubbock cracked a few bottles of Cognac while the camera clicked, and even the editor was permitted to pass the barbed wire entanglements and crack a bottle of old Yellowstone whiskey, and we will frankly admit that it was the first bottle of whiskey we ever "busted" on purpose.

Anyway, we have one of the most relieved sets of officers we ever saw, for they have guarded these "babies" day and night for a month. They can now sleep soundly at night.

Needless to say quite a few were present to witness the burial of Mr. J. Barlycorn.

FOOLISH QUESTIONS

are very provoking, we'll admit, especially on such occasions as this, but you'll have to admit, too, that "the laugh is on you." Mr. Motorist when you leave town with an old rotten casing.

You can't economize on time or expense by trying to make an old casing go when it is played out, but you can economize on both by letting us equip your car with a set of Goodyear casings. A new stock just arrived; all sizes.

We are well prepared to supply your needs for Tires, Tubes and other accessories.

GOOD PRINTING

Every newspaper man is ambitious to turn out a clearly printed paper, one which shall be a good example of the typographical art, with well thought out makeup, and handsome mechanical work. When a paper achieves that form of excellence, it does much to advertise its home city. A new poorly printed newspaper is a discredit to its home town. People say it must be issued in a bum community, and that a live place would develop business enough so that its newspaper would present a better appearance.

In some cases a poorly printed paper is a result of the publisher's carelessness and stinginess. But as a whole publishers are sensitive on this point. They are ashamed of a slovenly looking sheet as they would be in having their house in a tumble-down condition. When a paper is well printed, it is commonly a sign that the place is a live one and that the business men back up their home journal.—Taylor County Times.

13-MONTH CALENDAR

Friday will always fall on 13th of the month if a new bill proposing a new calendar is passed by Congress and becomes a law. The bill has been offered in the house by Representative H. J. Drane, of Florida. He would add another month, making 13 in all, and would place it between June and July, naming the month Center. Each month would have 28 days, causing Friday to always fall on the 13th. Holidays would be thus switched around. January 3rd being Christmas, Thanksgiving day would fall on December 3 and Washington's birthday on March 7th.—San Antonio Express.

The Methodist Missionary Society will have a play, "The Prairie Rose," Friday night, July 8th at the school auditorium. Admission 25c and 35c.

Cigarette

No cigarette has the same delicious flavor as Lucky Strike. Because Lucky Strike is the toasted cigarette.

TOO MUCH ATHLETICS

Athletic sports appear to be about the most important thing in college life of the average young man of today.

If he doesn't go in for the round of sports he is apt to be termed a grubworm and find himself more or less isolated from the companionship of his fellows.

If he becomes an enthusiastic sportsman he is in danger of neglecting his studies to the detriment of his education and his future.

The promotion of athletics is desirable up to a certain point, but the tendency of the day is to ignore that point and go the limit, even to the sacrifice of education proficiency in lines that are necessary in modern commercial lines.

This is not an age when young men may learn to read and write and add and subtract and then go out into the world and compete for success.

Employers are becoming more exacting each day. They require sometimes more than a football or stroke record from their employees. They insist upon stability, common sense and ability to "produce the goods."

There are many noted critics of our higher educational institutions of today, and these critics have little confidence in the ability of the average college graduate.

When shrewd employers place a value of $10 per week on the services of young men just out of college there would seem to be something wrong with the system under which these young men have been trained.

Too much athletics may become as detrimental to the individual as none at all.

HEARD HERE AND THERE

William Jennings Bryan hit the ball the other day when he declared that "no drunkard should be appointed to enforce our prohibition laws because they cannot decide between their appetites and their oaths of office."

When Lady Godiva, to alleviate the suffering of her people, rode thru the streets of Coventry garbed only in her flowing hair, required every inhabitant to remain indoors and keep the blinds closely drawn.

General Leonard Wood advises the teaching of the people of the Philippine Islands observance of law and order. But if we can't do a better job of it there than we do at home, we had better stop before we start.

The woman who is good at keeping secrets is not always popular. It displeases some people mightily to have their curiosity remain unsatisfied.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Graham Norcross, railroad man, and his secretary, Jimmie Dodds, are marooned at Sand Creek siding with a young lady, Sheila Macrae, and her small cousin, Ripley, they witness a peculiar train holdup, in which a special car is carried off.

CHAPTER II.—Norcross recognizes the car stolen from his office. He is a financial magnate, whom he was to meet at Fortal City. He and Ripley manage to locate the latter offers him a position in the management of the Pioneer Short Line, which is in the hands of eastern speculators. He is headed by Heckeveridge Dunton, president of the line. Norcross, learning that Sheila Macrae is stopping at Fortal City, accepts.

CHAPTER III.—Dodds overhears conversation between Hatch and Gustave Henckel, Fortal City manufacturer, in which they admit conspiracy in Chaddock kidnapping, their object being to keep Chaddock from attending a meeting of directors to reorganize the Pioneer Short Line, which would jeopardize their interests.

CHAPTER IV.—To curb the monopoly control of the line, Dunton forms the Tower corporation. Norcross forms the mechanics at work at the different centers, pushing up the buildings for the new plants, at this moment. You ought to have a monument, Norcross. It's the most original scheme for breaking a monopoly that was ever devised.

CHAPTER V.—Hatch, aware that Dodds is a spy, tells Henckel of his participation in the Chaddock kidnapping. Dodds refuses, leaving the office, he is however, a spy, but he is believed to have revealed and some east.

CHAPTER VI.—Dodds connects Norcross' disappearance with machinations of Hatch and Henckel, and on receiving strength sets out to solve the mystery.

CHAPTER VII.—With Kirgan, the road's master mechanic, Dodds gets a clue on Norcross' disappearance. They follow a clue given them through a missing locomotive.

CHAPTER VIII.—The rescue party finds and releases Norcross from captivity to which he had been taken. He regains control of the Pioneer Short Line, returning to his place to man who Dunton has sent to take charge.

With everybody supposing he had resigned and left the country, I guess there were all kinds of a nine-minutes' wonder in Portal City, and all along the Short Line, when the word went out that Mr. Norcross was back on the job and running it pretty much the same as if nothing had happened.

After supper, on the night of his return from the hide-out, he had sent a long code message to Mr. Chadwick, and a short one to President Dunton; and though I didn't solve the mystery either, I guess Mr. Chadwick's answer, at least, was the right kind, because our track renewing campaign went into commission again with a slam, and all the reform polities took a sure-enough fresh start and began to bump themselves with Jimmie working the newspapers to a finish.

We heard nothing further from Mr. Dismuke, the portly gentleman in the tan spats, though he still stayed on at the Bullard. We saw him occasionally at meal times, and twice was called to the dining table with Hatch and Henckel. That placed him all right for us, though I guess he didn't need much placing.

I wondered a little at first that Mr. Norcross didn't take the clue that Branderly, the Mountaineer reporter, had given us, and that he would take the line and trap him. He didn't; or didn't seem to. From the first hour of the first day he was up to his neck pushing things for the new company formed for the purpose of putting Red Tower out of business, and he wouldn't take a minute's time for anything else.

Of course, it says itself that Hatch never made any more proposals about selling the Red Tower plants to the Citizens' Storage & Warehouse people after the boss got back. That more went into the discard in a hurry, and the Consolidation outfit was busy getting into its fighting clothes, and trying to check the wheels of the C. S. & W. with all sorts of legal obstacles.

Franchise contracts with the railroad were flashed up, and injunctions were prayed for. Ripley waded in, and what little sleep he got for a week or two was in Pullman cars, snatched while he was rushing around and trying to keep his new clients, the C. S. & W. folks, out of jail for contempt of court. He did it. Little and quiet and smooth-spoken, he could put the legal leather into the biggest bullies the other side could hire. Luckily, we were an interstate corporation, and when the local courts proved crooked, Ripley would find some way to jerk the case out of them and put it up to some Federal judge.

Around home in Portal City things were just simmering. Between two days, as you might say, and right soon after Mr. Norcross got back, we acquired a new chum on the headquarters force. He was a young fellow named Tarbell, who looked and talked and acted like a cow-punch just in from riding line. He was carried on Mr. Van Britt's payroll as an "extra" or "relief" telegraph operator; though we never heard of his being sent out to

We Handle Standard Goods

There is a distinction to our line which has been a recognized standard in Brownfield for these many months. Such reputation does not come through the mere offering of ordinary stock, but it comes in the maintenance of a standard quality season after season.

For women we especially recommend the La Camille corsets for their correct Style, Perfect fit, Beauty and Quality of Materials, unequalled comfort and service. It is impossible to be stylishly groomed unless properly corseted.

mitted the boss, with a wry smile. "I haven't been talking much about the details, partly because I wanted to find out if this young fellow, Tarbell, was as good as the major's recommendation of him, and partly because I'm honestly ashamed, Ripley. Any man of my age and experience who would swallow bait, hook, and line as I did that night deserves to get all that is coming to him."

"You can tell me now, can't you?" queried the attorney.

"Oh, yes; you have it all—or practically all. I fell for the anonymous letter about the Mail hold-up, and while I don't rattle very easily, ordinarily, that was one time when I lost my head, just for the moment. The obvious thing to do—if any attention whatever was to be paid to the anonymous warning—was to telephone the police and the round-house. I did neither because I thought it might be too slow."

"So you made a straight shoot for the scene of action?"

"I did; down the back streets and across the lower end of the plaza. As it appeared—or rather as it was made to appear—I was barely in time. There were men at the engine, and when I sprang across the yard they were ready to move it out to the main line. I yelled at them and ran in. Three of them tackled me the moment I came within reach. I got one of the three on the point of the jaw, and they had to leave him behind; but there were enough more of them. Before I fairly realized what was happening, they had me trussed up like a Christmas tur-

Your correspondent failed to report last week for reasons not necessary to mention.
Quite a number of our people have left for the grain fields to the north of us. They need the money and the other fellow needs the help. Those who have gone report plenty of work and good wages. It is to be hoped that the farmers will get fair returns for their grain.
W. R. Carruth and wife, who have been at their ranch the past month, have returned to Stephenville.
Mr. Ellington, wife and daughter, have returned from Ft. Stockton, where they have been visiting the past month.
Mr. Goodman and wife, of Abernathy, were visitors to our town the past week. They expressed some surprise at our growth and predicted a bright future.
The Methodist people are to begin a protracted meeting here Sunday, July 3rd. The services will be conducted by Bro. Russell, the pastor, and Bro. Shearer, Presiding Elder of this district. The people are cordially invited to attend and assist in rebuilding the spiritual life of the community and lifting the churches out of the slough of despondence into which they were plunged by the war.

The exercises at the Baptist church on Sunday nights are interesting and instructive, and all who care to take a part are urged to do so. Those of the community who are not attending are losing much. The exercises include recitations from the Bible with elucidation of the lesson for the evening, by some member, and singing and prayer.
We are to celebrate the Glorious Fourth by grubbing the mesquite and catching from the townsite. All are invited to come and work and otherwise enjoy the day. There will be no spread, however.
A little girl came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. McGuire, Monday the 19th.

HOW PRINTERS GROW

The kind of boy who makes a good printer is the sort who begins to loaf around the print shop on press days as soon as he starts to school. He is the boy who feels honored when he is told to bring in a fresh bucket of water, and he would trade his jack knife and a tin whistle any day for the privilege of "kicking off" a hundred dodgers on the old foot job press. By and by, refusing to be chased off and stay chased, he is sweeping the floors mornings and running errands, such as going to the store after a left-handed monkey wrench or to the furniture store to ask for the return of the paper stretcher. Later he learns to recognize type line and wash the rollers, sort p's and q's out of the hell box, and so progresses to where he is on the payroll to the amount of $100 every Saturday afternoon and says "our paper" when speaking of the "Weekly Gimlet." Such a boy is the only kind that ever grows up to be a real printer.—Sidney (Neb.) Telegraph.

TUBERCULOSIS TO BE WORSE IN 1924

Austin, Texas.—The greatest loss to the nation from tuberculosis caused by the war will be felt in 1924, said Dr. F. C. Smith of the U. S. Public Health Service in an address at the annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association held recently in New York.
Within the next three years, he said, approximately 50,000 will have received treatment for the disease.
Of 133,716 ex-servicemen who have been sent as patients to the hospitals since the War Risk Act was passed, 35,150 were tuberculous, said Dr. Smith. Half of these had been under treatment since March 1919, in hospitals owned or controlled by the Public Health Service.
David R. Lyman, M. D., urged that something be done to remove the limitations under which the Public Health Service is struggling at present. He said that it was the habit of the politicians to make political expediency and not national welfare the basis of appointments to positions of importance. The overwhelming amount of paper work required in government service and the inter-departmental dickering at Washington hindered their service.
The greatest hindrance to the successful execution of the plans of the Public Health Service are first, untrained medical staff, second, an almost total lack of co-operation from the men themselves, third, the failure of the public at large to understand the real nature of the problem.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Micheal of Lubbock, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Olive, and her friend, Miss Mary Cooper, passed through here Tuesday night on their way to the White Mountains in New Mexico, and spent the night here the special guests of Misses Leola Burns and Benlah Dixon, who are teaching in the Union school.
