ANNOUNCES FOR GOVERNOR

FORMER LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR DAVIDSON FLIPS SKY-PIECE IN POLITICAL RING.

"In 1922 when I voluntarily declined to stand for re-election to the office of Lieutenant Governor, then held by me, I stated that I would be a candidate for Governor in the Democratic primaries of 1924. Carrying out that declaration of intention, I now formally and finally announce to my friends and to the voters of Texas that I shall definitely be a candidate for Governor in the 1924 primaries, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

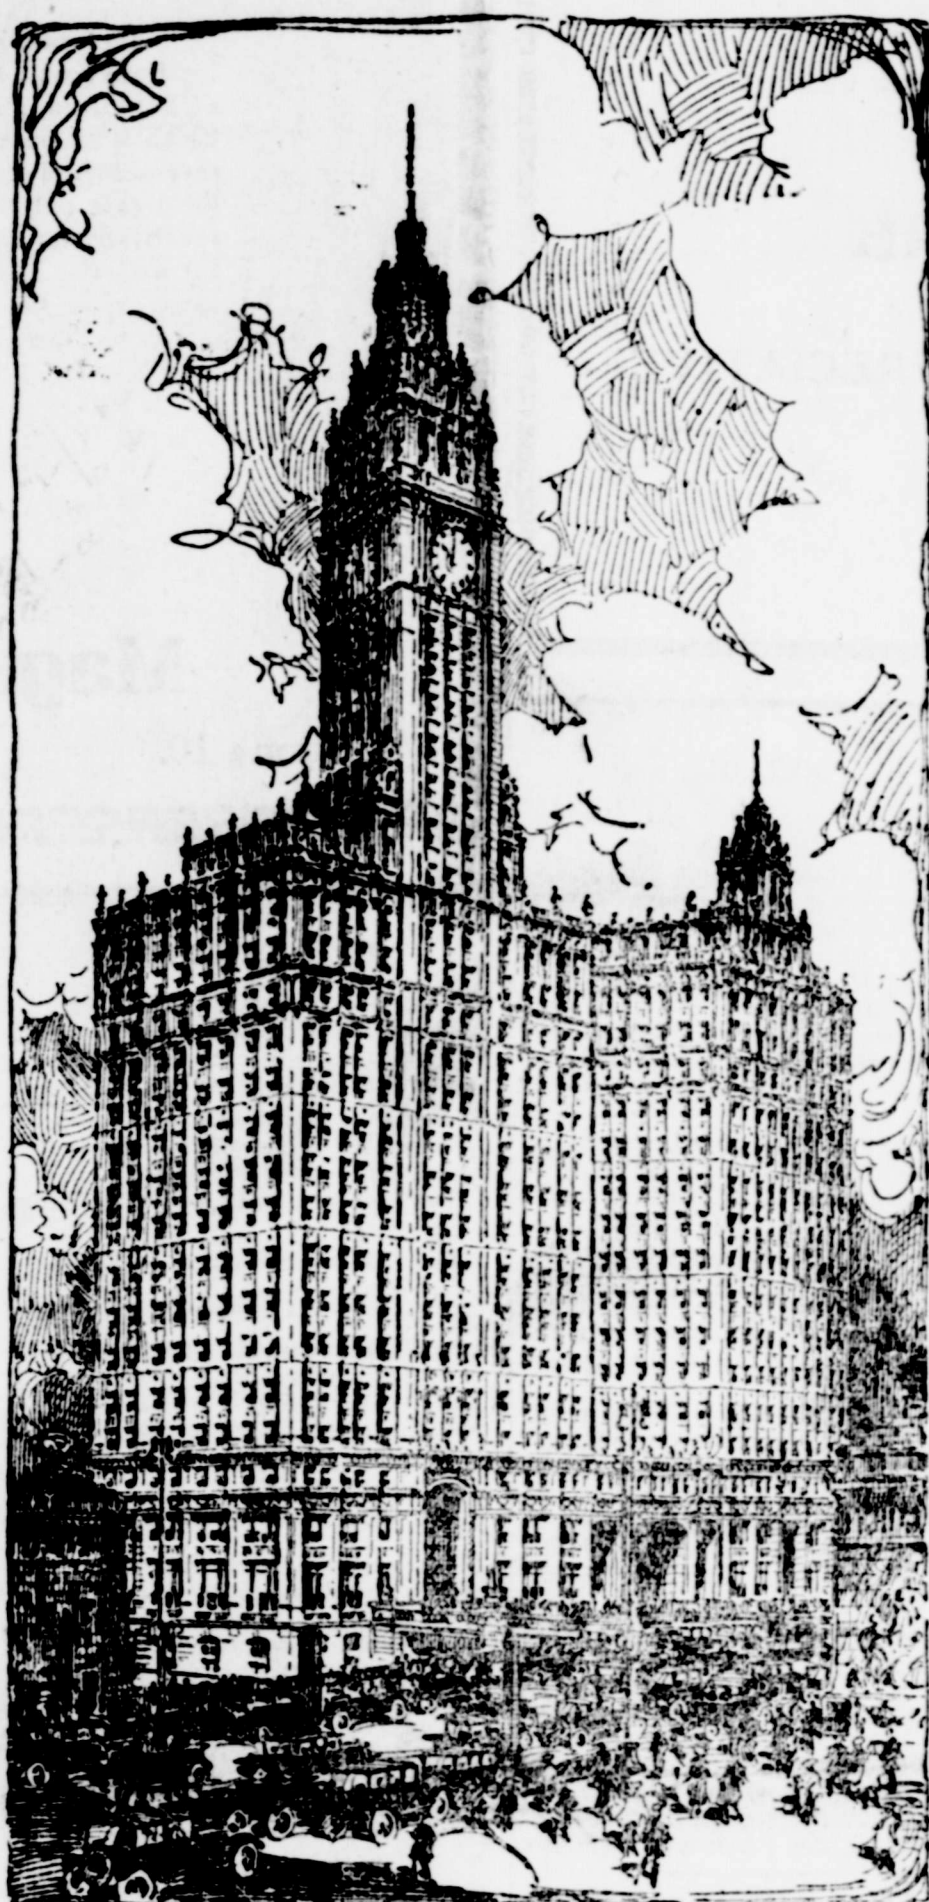

"My major principals and policies will be: a reformation of our taxing system by which it will be simplified and equalized, an economic business administration by which the tax rates will be reduced, financial deficits overcome, and the state live within its income, and state warrants become worth a hundred cents on the dollar; eliminating the useless state bureaus, commissions and offices; financing and betterment of our educational system, and so far as possible eradicating it from politics; adequate compensation for teachers, better facilities in rural schools, better buildings and equipment and a full school term everywhere; complete reorganization of the penitentiary system; the building of a complete system of hard surface highways and the use so far as practical, of the penitentiary system in carrying out a highway building program; better laws and better laws, and the absolute enforcement of all laws; such amendments to existing laws as will make equal all the rights of women with men, that they may realize the full fruits of the suffrage which has been given them; conservation of the natural resources of the country by government action; promotion of a plan whereby the farmer and producer may receive substantially the full market price for his products. I believe in the right for labor to organize for its protection by the promotion of its efficiency and craft education. I am opposed to the militant strike, and believe every American citizen has the constitutional right to work when and where he will, without interference, let or hindrance. The Ku Klux Klan was an issue in the last campaign and gives evidence of being an issue in this campaign. In October, 1921, when I was Lieutenant Governor of the state, I voiced my views on this question and at the same time my opposition to the Klan. I view the situation now as I did then. I believe in the administration of law by the constituted authorities and not by any bloc, group, association, clique or clan, however pure its purposes. Every citizen is entitled to his day in court. The creating or fostering of racial, religious or class strife among our people by any individual, group of individuals or organization, or the taking into their own hands the enforcement of the law, determination of guilt or infliction of punishment, is a menace to our liberties, destructive to our fundamental law, and inconsistent with the ideals and purposes of the American people. In this connection, I heartily endorse the resolutions passed by the American Legion at its San Francisco convention, and by the American Federation of Labor at its Toronto convention.

I am not the candidate of any special interest, bloc, group or association and no man would be worthy the great office to which I aspire unless prepared to serve all classes of our citizens without fear or favor. I elected, I will and can bring to the administration of the office a broad and versatile business experience and a liberal experience in the affairs of state and government. With that experience I propose to put Texas on a business basis, and by the same token to substantially lighten the great load of taxation with which our people are burdened. I know it is possible to have good government in Texas, and to properly support all our institutions at a far less cost than now prevails. I know it is possible to put the government of this great commonwealth on a cash basis and overcome the tremendous financial deficits of the past.

To sum it up, my candidacy for Governor of Texas is based largely on economic reforms, education and the enforcement of the law.

Respectfully,
Lynch Davidson

Here's Proof That Advertising Pays
Famous Wrigley Building in Chicago Being Doubled in Size

The part of the Wrigley Building erected two years ago has filled such a want that the north section, nearly double the floor area of the south section, is being added. This north section, nearly completed, occupies the entire block, immediately across North Water Street, fronting on Michigan Avenue and reaching to the height of the main part of the first structure, with a connecting bridge.

The space in the new section is already nearly all taken by high-class firms in advance of the completion of the building.

Here is a concrete (as well as a steel and glass) proof of the saying that "advertising pays." In these magnificent buildings Mr. Wrigley has erected an impressive testimonial to this great truth. They loom large and beautiful. They typify the achievements of the man who built them. They stand as a monitor over the activity of the Nation's second city—inspiring—dominating—massive—bearing unanswerable testimony to the POWER OF ADVERTISING.

NEW COMER REAL HONEST-TO-GOODNESS BOOSTER

Brownfield has a real "show-me" booster. No, he is not from Missouri. He hails from Waxahachie in our own grand domain. G. S. Webber is his name and he has come to stay. Not only to just stay and exist, but he aims to make both ends meet and lap over some. He proposes to match dollars with the other hustling business men of the town, and send the Herald $10 worth to people he knows back east that he believes will be interested in grand old Terry. He is now preparing his list whether or not, but he craves your co-operation.

He says he has seen this done to the up-building and advancement of other towns, and knows it can be done here. He says every man in the town knows of at least a dozen good substantial men where they came from that are already interested, and moving even a tenth of that number it will more than reimburse the man who spends the money. Not only that, but say that one family moves here on the strength of the $10 spent, that man also has friends he can interest, and the movement becomes as an endless chain advertisement.

ABOUT 30 CARS OF CATTLE SHIPPED SATURDAY

The Santa Fe send down a special train Saturday to move a lot of cattle for local shippers. Most of them if not all were billed to Wichita, Kansas, but some of the shippers said they might go on to Kansas City if the Wichita market was not what they expected.

We got the names of shippers and number of cars from one of the shippers hurriedly, and may not have the correct dope, but what we got was as follows:

George Tiernan	3 loads
Poole & Goodman	3 loads
Uyles Sawyer	1 load
G. M. Therman	1 load
Kay Brownfield	5 loads
M. V. Brownfield	1 load
Bob Holgate	10 loads
W. A. Fulton	2 loads

TO THE PUBLIC

It is being circulated that I have sold my gin to the West Texas people. I do not know how or why the rumor was started, but it is not true. I am doing business for myself. Am getting a good share of the ginning for which I am very thankful.

COTTON WEIGHING

The following is a report of cotton weighed at the three Terry County yards up to Wednesday morning, and if the pretty weather prevails, they will go way past the 4000 mark by Saturday. Some of the gins run until midnight last week while the weather was good, or as long as the electric current was on, and one of them all night. When the weather does clear up the three gins here and the two at Meadow are going to have to hump with two crews each.

The report follows:

Brownfield Yard	930
F. L. U. Yard	1740
Meadow Yard	1200
Total	3870

FORMER EDITOR OF THE HERALD PASSES AWAY

Thursday night, Neil H. Bigger, editor of the Captain Mountaineer, died at his home about two miles from Capitan. Mr. Bigger came here from Texas about ten years ago, since which time he has edited and managed the Mountaineer, with the assistance of his son, Sam Bigger, who will continue along the same lines. Funeral arrangements will be made after the arrival of his eldest son, who will be here today.

Mr. Bigger in his younger days was employed by the government printing office at Washington. The surviving relatives have the sympathy of the entire community. Carriazo Outlook. The above was sent in by Mrs. L. T. Brooks, also formerly of Terry county, but now a citizen of the state of New Mexico. The Herald was purchased by the present owner from Mr. Bigger 14 years ago the first of last June, and all the old timers remember him.

SLATON EDITOR DIED THURSDAY WITH PNEUMONIA

Slaton, Nov. 8.—W. Donald, for the past five years editor of the Slaton Slatonite, died this afternoon of pneumonia. He is survived by a widow and five children. Mr. Donald was a progressive citizen and a member of the K. of P. lodge. He was formerly a citizen of McKinney.—Amarillo Daily News. The bereaved widow and children have the sympathy of the entire newspaper fraternity of the Panhandle. The progressive news items of Slaton, and his spicy editorials will be greatly missed by the Herald.

Geo. E. Tiernan is building another rent house on his place. Geo. is one of the best cattlemen the county has, and made money out of them when anyone did, but cotton is the thing now, and George has a cotton bug in his ear.

EX-SERVICE MEN BANQUETED

ONE OF THE MOST ELABORATE AFFAIRS IN THE HISTORY OF THE TOWN STAGED SUNDAY

On Armistice Day at 5:30 P.M. in the American Legion Hall at Brownfield, the Ex-Service men and the old veterans of both the Spanish-American and the Civil War, their wives, their mothers, their sisters or their sweethearts, were invited; in fact each soldier was permitted to bring with him a guest.

The good ladies of Brownfield were moved through the spirit of gratitude to the men for their former service, and as a token of their appreciation for the same, and as evidence of their patriotism, they sought to tender the men and boys a banquet. The hospitality and generosity of every lady who was interested in this movement can be attested to by every man present. The banquet table itself was literally an expression of the American way of doing things. It presented an appearance that would have done justice to the view of old King Beshazars' Feast of old, and it was expressive of the fact that here in Brownfield and our vicinity is to be found a land of plenty, and was indicative of the generous spirit and openheartedness typical of the people of our town and county.

The guests upon their arrival were requested to register and were entertained for a brief time with music by the Brownfield Band, of which we are all proud. At length they were invited to the tables, which had been arranged in the center of the hall and extending the entire length of the building being two in number. They were beautifully decorated in appropriate colors and flowers, while overhead the hall was arranged in streamers and bunting and balloons, which blending with the electrical displays and produced with soft azure colors so enchanting that everyone was conscious of the spirit of the occasion. On the walls were neatly placed the United States colors which were artistically arranged and presented evidence of decorative skill.

The menu consisted of the following:

- Turkey—Dressing
- Gravy
- Potato Chips
- Fruit Salad
- Whipped Cream—Cake
- Pickles
- Cranberry Sauce
- Jello
- Coffee

Program

Music—Brownfield Band.
Judge Geo. W. Neill made the opening address, the same being full of that sound logical reasoning, patriotic ideals and humor, characteristic of Judge Neill.

At this time an enjoyable quartette was rendered by the following ladies: Misses Morgan Copeland, Monroe Telford, Misses Eldora Lewis and Ann Hamilton.

Invocation was pronounced by Mr. Gladys Green.

Mrs. J. L. Randal gave a very fitting toast to all soldiers and Mrs. J. D. Miller, the only overseas girl in the county.

Morgan L. Copeland replied in behalf of the ex-service men, with eulogies to women in all history and with an appropriate toast to the women of Brownfield.

The band furnished enjoyable music throughout the courses, and were accordingly thanked by the assemblage.

At the conclusion of the banquet, H. R. Winston was requested to tell what he had done five years ago on the 11th of November. He did so, stating that it was the customary "Corn Willie" and army beans.

J. N. Lewis was requested to tell what he had to eat in the Spanish-American War. Jim said it was "Hard Tack."

Granpa T. E. Lovelace told of the bill of fare which the Confederate soldiers subsisted on in the South during the Civil War, and spoke concerning their side.

Uncle J. N. Nephberry spoke in brief concerning the Northern soldiers' fare, and told of their circumstances.

Mrs. W. H. Dallas brought the meeting to a close by rendering a beautiful piano solo.

The ex-service men who were in attendance desire to express their thanks and appreciation to the good ladies of the town and community for their generosity, kindness, courtesy and the splendid manner in which they were entertained. They will treasure the memory of the occasion for many, many years, and also to Mrs. Geo. E. Tiernan they wish to express thanks, whom they understand was the originator of the occasion.

Program at School House

A community program at the school auditorium immediately followed the banquet, being in honor of the ex-service men, which was carried out according to printed program except the opening remarks by Rev. C. E. Ball, who was ill.

The first number was the "Star Spangled Banner," rendered by the Band.

Invocation.—W. H. Dallas.
Solo—"Asleep in the Deep" rendered by Supt. J. D. Rankin of the public schools.

The next was a masterful address by Judge O. W. Gillespie on Our Nation from 1620 to 1860.

Dixie.—By Band.
Morgan L. Copeland chose for his subject the Old South and the New, and handled the subject in his usual delightful and flowery way.

Yankee Doodle.—Band.
Americanism.—H. R. Winston. As usual, although possessing a splendid education, Homer butchered and buried the King's English, but while he did this, there was no mistaking his meaning. It was a typical General Dawes address.

Remarks by Rev. J. P. Watson. This was the first time that the new Methodist minister was heard by several present, and all seemed to be pleased with his personality and also his address.

America (sang by audience) and accompanied by band.

Benediction.—Dr. W. N. Lemmon.
It was reported early in the evening that standing room at the school auditorium was at a premium, and lots of people who intended to do so, never went to this part of the program.

COLLINS DRY GOODS MOVING ONE STORE TO TEXAS

The Collins Dry Goods Company closed their Leader Store Monday, and clerks and carpenters have been busy up to the time of our going to press invoicing, packing and crating the stock, preparing to move it to Brownfield, Texas, the county seat of Terry county, in the southwestern part of the Texas Panhandle.

The Collins Dry Goods Company has been in business in Boswell about 29 years, and are known all over southeastern Oklahoma as a firm who handle only first class merchandise. With the closing of one of their stores here, they will add considerable stock to their shelves in order to take care of the trade from the Leader.

Mr. W. H. Collins and his family will accompany the stock to its new location.

It is with deepest regrets that Boswell gives up the Leader and Mr. Collins and his family. Mr. Collins has always been a credit to our little city, a live member of the Chamber of Commerce and at all times working for the betterment and advancement of his town.

Brownfield will receive by Mr. Collins' move, a citizen who will be an honor to welcome to their business circle, one who they will find always willing and ready to help in any move that is for the upbuilding of their little city.

There are hundreds of friends who send their best wishes with Boswell's foremost family to their new home.—Boswell (Okla.) News.

The Collins family has a hearty welcome to Brownfield and good old Terry.

E. H. Tandy and little son paid the Herald office a short call this week.

FAVORITE HYMNS

So many of our beautiful hymns sung all over the world have been such a help and joy to thousands of persons, that the musical publication "Etude" recently decided to test, through the medium of a popular vote, how these hymns affected the folks and in what ratio they stood as the peoples favorite hymns. There were 32,000 replies, indicating their preference as follows:

Song	Votes
Abide With Me	7201
Nearer My God To Thee	5490
Lead Kindly Light	4161
Rock of Ages	3432
Jesus Lover of My Soul	2709
Holy, Holy, Holy	1444
Just As I Am	875
My Faith Looks Up to Thee	220
All Hail The Power	220

Apparently the World war has had an opposing influence on some of our hymns. Onward Christian Soldier received only 150 votes and the Son of God Goes Forth to War was not considered at all.

NOTICE

Inasmuch as rumors are going the rounds that I am unable to give good title to my lands on account of a second marriage a few years ago, will state that myself and wife, now divorced, had an agreement, which is on record at the courthouse, that our individual property, owned at time of marriage, was to remain as before, and was not community property. Examine the records. Any land agent has the right to sell this land at the price, net, listed by me.

HARRIS HAPPENINGS By Sand Bar.

The sun wasn't lost after all. How thankful we were to see it again. Our school has been dismissed for awhile to allow the children to pick cotton. So many do not realize the stupendous importance of education, but will keep their children at home for one thing or another. Every day away from school is just a day lost. Education is the thing that lifts us from the level of the beast to the enjoyment of the 20th century civilization. A democracy cannot rise high if the level of intelligence of its citizens is low. Our boys and girls are our future citizens and law makers. Mrs. S. T. Murphey and little Dorothy Helen spent Thursday at the Ellington home. Geo. Alexander and F. M. Ellington took off a bunch of cows Friday to ship from Brownfield, Saturday, but sold them at the railroad. The Turner school opened Monday after being dismissed a month for cotton picking.

DON'T BECOME CARELESS

Many cities have recently concluded a strenuous observation of Fire Prevention Week. Fire prevention week to be effective and fully preventive should be observed throughout the year. The lesson is entirely lost, if, after a week of vigorous effort to eliminate all danger of fire, our people settle back to the old habits and permit the usual carelessness to creep back again. Fire Prevention Week is designed to call attention to the menace that exists on every side because of neglect which results in needless conflagrations. If Fire Prevention Week has taught you anything, see that the lesson will not be lost in the weeks to come. Continue to be watchful every day and keep Fire Prevention Week every week in the year.

"HELLO"

By degrees, usage of the familiar salutation, "Hello" is dying out in telephone practice. When Mrs. Jones' telephone rings these days she is much more likely to answer it by saying, "Mrs. Jones speaking" than she is "Hello." More and more telephone users are appreciating the fact that an effective "telephone personality" with its influence for better service, is not only a business but a social asset. Alexander Graham Bell, according to Thomas A. Watson, who assisted him, used the word "Ahoy" in making his experiments, but "Hello" superseded it when the telephone got into practical use. The probable origin of the word "Hello" was interestingly described as follows in a recent issue of the "Telephone Engineer." "Long, long ago wolves were numerous in all parts of the world, especially England. Wolf hunting was a favorite sport of the gentry, and to kill wolves was regarded as the sacred duty of all Englishmen. French was the language of the court at that time, so the burley old English hunters used to cry of the French wolf hunters, which was "Au-loup! Au-loup!" (to the wolf). These words heard at a distance sounded like "a loo" but the English who always put an "H" on whatever they possibly can, put it on the word "a loo," and when wolf-hunting shouted "ha-loo." This form we use when we call hello.

Another interesting card was received from Dr. J. R. Lemmon this week, who is taking a post graduate course in little old New York. He says from the amount of building going on in Brownfield, and the number of new names in the Herald each issue, he feels that he will be a stranger in his own town. He says he will be mighty glad to get home again, as the Plains are the best, and that the people there regard him as a hot air merchant when he begins boasting old Terry.

THE MIRACULOUS CHRISTMAS GIFT

It's a very nice thing to make a gift that will please all the members of the family. A box of candy will do that or a crate of fruit. But usually one one in the family gets the lion's share. That is not possible when the gift is a subscription to the Youth's Companion. It is like the fabulous pitcher of milk of the Greeks; though everyone drank deep the pitcher remained full. Everyone has a lion's share in the good things of The Companion; everyone skims his own cream, yet there is the very choicest cream left for the next comer. What better Christmas present can you make than a periodical with such fabulous powers of dividing its pleasures among a dozen and yet keep it all intact.

CARD OF THANKS

The members of the Howard Post, American Legion wish to thank the ladies of Brownfield for the banquet given them; also E. G. Alexander for his liberal donation of smokes for the occasion. H. M. Pyeatt, Commander.

The good ladies of the town have started a movement to uniform the Brownfield band, and we believe they will have the co-operation of the entire citizenship. The idea, we understand is to give a box supper and the band will furnish music, and some of the Legion boys are going to put on some black faced stunts. O. B. Glaze, cotton buyer of Tatum, N. M., was over this week. His wife came over with him and took the train for Idalou where she will visit relatives.

THE FEAST OF THE SEASON

Free band concert and several real side splitting black-face stunts, and a box supper in connection, the proceeds of the supper to apply on the purchase of uniforms for the band. An evening of laughter, amusement and enjoyment. Everybody invited. If you miss it you will regret it. Tuesday, November 27th, 7:30 P.M. at school auditorium.

Kaliki uniforms were very much in evidence all day Sunday, and made one think of the boys visiting home folks during the late unpleasantness with Germany and Austria.

The Herald will issue a large edition December 14th, by far the largest and most beautiful Christmas paper ever attempted before. A solicitor will be around to see you in a few days.

Christmas goods are being put out by some of our merchants and all of them anticipate by far the largest sale of holiday goods in the history of Brownfield. Our advice is to shop early if you want choice articles or be disappointed one. By shopping early you will not run the legs off the poor clerks the last week.

There is no question but our streets need something besides grading to ever be worth anything. We believe graveling would do the work. Some are for paving; so are we, but if we can't do that now, let's do the next best thing. We know that Scurry county made good gravel roads. We see no reason why gravel won't make good streets. Let's get out of the mud folks!

Three years ago our paper published a peddler's campaign promises to be a peddler's campaign on the order of the famous Home-Clark affair, which set the precedent in Texas with which other campaigns are measured for hotness. The Klan issue will probably outshine most all other issues in Texas and the entire South, while it will also be brought up in some of the Northern states, together with prohibition. The Klan and prohibition issues, however, will so badly surpass our old standby, —tariff—that it will hardly be known in the race.

The Plains Journal, formerly the monthly Plains Agricultural Journal, came to our desk a weekly this last issue, and if future issues are anywhere in keeping with the first issue she is going to be the pattern for all other to pattern by. We have no doubt whatever, though, that Curtis A. Keen will not only keep up to the pattern set, but if possible will surpass. He is made that way. He is as keen intellectually as his name implies, and has a full storehouse of surplus energy on tap. He is also the same old guy, today, tomorrow and next day, and makes friends by the thousand. The Journal will be published at Amarillo for the time being, but will soon be housed in its own new home at Lubbock with its own modern plant. It is Mr. Keen's intention to make the Journal a South Plains-wide paper. We are tickled to exchange.

Junior Red Cross Spreads Good Will Throughout World

Nearly 1,000,000 pupils in the schools of America are following the tradition of unselfish service as members of the American Junior Red Cross, the annual report of the American Red Cross indicates. This volunteer host is represented in 225,000 school rooms of 24,000 schools throughout the United States. With a service program that is local, national and international in scope, the American Junior Red Cross is working unselfishly for health and happiness and in the promotion of activities among boys and girls wherever there is opportunity for usefulness.

Increased activity on the part of the schools enrolled and deeper recognition by school authorities of the educational values of Junior Red Cross have been significant features of the last year. Carrying on educational and relief work in France, Poland, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria and Romania, the American Juniors have influenced the training of Junior departments in the Red Cross organizations of these countries. American boys and girls wearing the "I Serve" button of the Juniors are proving to be messengers of the spirit of good will and mutual understanding through correspondence with pupils in schools scattered throughout the world. At the close of the school year in June 1,939 schools were engaged in correspondence with a like number of schools in Europe; 274 schools in our Junior peninsula and Alaska territory carried on an exchange of letters with schools in the United States and South Africa. In fact, nearly 1,700 schools with probably 100,000 pupils were busy in the line of cheerful communication, while 1,167 articles passed through National Headquarters of the Red Cross in exchanges between the interested pupils here and overseas. An incident of the year's advance was the beginning of activity which will eventually install Junior Red Cross in the Indian schools of the United States.

From every section of the country reports of the year of the work of crippled children with their classes which came from the British school in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to show gratitude to the American Juniors for their assistance (recall that working after the World War has done so much to establish the Red Cross spirit in the communities visited by the war). The work of the American Juniors in foreign fields is emphasized in the advancement of playgrounds, school shops in Burma, trade and other activities in Italy and actual garden work in Germany and other countries. In these projects $2,000,000 was spent during the last year in our European countries, in China and in the Virgin Islands.

EX-PRESIDENT WILSON HEARD BY MILLIONS

FORMER PRESIDENT Criticizes SEVERELY AFTERMATH OF WAR

HIS SPEECH WAS BY RADIO

Addresses People of Nation Directly for First Time Since He Left the White House

Washington.—Woodrow Wilson, addressing the American people directly Saturday night for the first time since he left the White House, declared America's attitude after the World War was "deeply ignoble, cowardly and dishonorable."

Mr. Wilson spoke exactly five minutes into a radio instrument at his home here and his message was broadcast to every section of the country.

"The anniversary of Armistice Day," he said, "should stir us to great exaltation of spirit because of the proud recollection that it was our day, a day above those early days of that never to be forgotten November which lifted the world to the high levels of vision and achievement upon which the great war for democracy was fought and won, although the stimulating memories of that triumph are forever marred and embittered for us by the shameful fact that when the victory was won—won, be it remembered, chiefly by the indomitable spirit and valiant sacrifices of our own inconquerable soldiers—we turned our backs upon our associates and refused to bear any responsible part of the administration of peace, or the firm and permanent establishment of the results of the war—won at so terrible a cost of life and treasure—and withdrew into a sullen and selfish isolation, which is deeply ignoble because manifestly cowardly and dishonorable."

"This must always be a source of deep mortification to us, and we shall inevitably be forced by the moral obligations of freedom and honor to retrieve that fatal error and assume once more the role of courage, self respect and helpfulness which every true American must wish and believe to be our true part in the affairs of the world."

"That we should thus have done a great wrong to civilization, and at one of the most critical turning points in the history of mankind is the more to be deplored, because every anxious year that has followed has made the exceeding need for such service, as we might have rendered more and more manifest and more pressing, as demoralizing circumstances which we might have controlled have gone from bad to worse, until now—as if to furnish a sort of sinister climax—France and Italy between them have made waste paper of the treaty of Versailles, and the whole fields of international relationships is in perilous confusion."

"Happily, the present situation of affairs in the world affords us an opportunity to retrieve the past and to render to mankind the incomparable service of proving that there is at least one great and powerful nation which can put aside programs of self-interest, and devote itself to practicing and establishing the highest ideals of disinterested service and the constant maintenance of exalted standards of conscience and of right."

"The only way in which we can show our true appreciation of the significance of Armistice Day is by resolving to put self-interest away and once formulate and act upon the highest ideals and purposes of international policies, thus, and only thus, can we return to the true traditions of America."

COTTON PLANTERS' BLOC NOW PLANNED

Representative Lowrey of Mississippi Seeks New Alignment in House

Washington.—A new bloc—the cotton planters' bloc—is forming for the coming session of Congress. Representative Lowrey of Mississippi is organizing it.

Declaring that after circulating among his constituents last summer he is a wiser and more sympathetic representative of their interests, he has asked Congressmen from cotton-producing States to get together and demand more fertilizer, more poison for the boll weevil and fewer and lighter taxes. To carry out his plan for united effort, he has called a conference for Nov. 30 at the House official building.

The accident occurred on the Lincoln Highway.

LUDENDORFF STARTS MARCH ON BERLIN

Hitler and Troops Invade Hall As Von Kahr Was Speaking

Paris.—Adolph Hitler's troops have begun an offensive movement toward Berlin, according to dispatches from Berlin.

The same dispatches say that Hitler has proclaimed Gen. Ludendorff dictator and himself Chancellor of the whole Reich.

Berlin.—Dr. von Kahr has accepted the governorship of Bavaria, saying: "In this most serious hour of Bavarian history I accept the governorship as a representative of the monarchy."

The new Government is declared to be a dictatorship without a Parliament.

General Ludendorff, in accepting Hitler's offer of the post of commander of the army, said: "We have reached the turning point in the history of Germany and the world. God bless our work."

It is reported that the rebels in Munich have placed Premier Von Knilling and some of the other Ministers under arrest.

Munich.—The Bavarian Government has been declared overthrown by Adolph Hitler, the Fascist leader, and the administration placed in the hands of Gen. Ludendorff as commander in chief.

Dr. von Kahr, the military dictator in Bavaria, had just finished addressing a patriotic manifestation in the Burgerbrau when Hitler entered at the head of 600 men. Hitler announced that the Government had been overthrown and was replaced by a new Government with Gen. Ludendorff as supreme head and Hitler as political adviser.

Former Chief of Police von Poerner has been named as administrator of the country and Gen. von Lossow Minister of War.

After Hitler's declaration his troops drew a cordon around the Burgerbrau. Troops of the Oberland and Empire flag organizations concentrated on the Burgerbrau and occupied different parts of the city, chiefly the squares.

Conferences were being held within the Burgerbrau and reports said that Dr. von Kahr was attempting to negotiate a settlement with Hitler. The attitude of the police and the Reichswehr has not yet been disclosed.

Those who gathered in the Burgerbrau, which is a famous Bavarian beer cellar, were members of nationalist patriotic organizations to whom Dr. von Kahr read a manifesto to the German Nation denouncing the principles of Marxism. The reading of the manifesto was greeted with applause and Hitler's sudden entry with strong forces was something in the nature of a dramatic surprise.

UNDERWOOD MAKES ATTACK ON I. C. C.

Senator Says the South Should Have Three Members on Body

Greenville, S. C.—Declaring that the South has only herself to blame for failure to receive proper recognition from the Government in various ways, attacking the Interstate Commerce Commission because he said discriminatory freight rates exist, and asserting that he expects the movement southward of textile manufacturing to continue in the United States, Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, delivered two luncheon addresses here. Thursday night he delivered the principal address at the annual banquet of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce.

"Not through any fault but our own has the South lost the golden opportunities that have presented themselves in years past," Senator Underwood told the Kiwanis Club. "The reason is merely our fear of a shadow that does not exist," he continued. "The war between the States today is no more a fact than the War of the Roses, because the two sides have long mingled. The whole fault lies with us, because we have surrendered to a shadow—and we have surrendered material interests of our business and consequently of our communities and our firesides."

Senator Underwood discussed the Interstate Commerce Commission, declaring that the South "virtually is without representation thereon, even though members are named from geographical districts."

Aviator to Make Flight in Arctic
Washington.—An American naval aviator will participate in an attempt next summer to traverse the Arctic regions by airplane, the Navy Department announced. Lieutenant Ralph E. Davison will pilot one of the three planes making up the convoy, which will be commanded by Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer. Plans do not contemplate a non-stop flight. The expedition will be transported on ships to Spitzbergen in May and an adequate base will be established there.

COOLIDGE IN CALL FOR THANKSGIVING

We Have Been a Most Blessed People We Ought to Be a Most Thankful People

Washington.—President Coolidge's Thanksgiving Day proclamation issued from the White House calls to mind that the year has brought to the American people two tragic experiences—the death of President Harding and the Japanese earthquake—but says that such experiences serve to test and refine men and nations.

The proclamation follows:
By the President of the United States of America:

A Proclamation:
The American people, from their earliest days, have observed the wise custom of acknowledging each year the bounty with which Divine Providence has favored them. In the beginnings, this acknowledgment was a voluntary return of thanks by the community for the fruitfulness of the harvest. Though our mode of life has greatly changed, this custom has always survived. It has made Thanksgiving Day not only one of the oldest, but one of the most characteristic observances of our country. On that day, in home and church, in family and in public gatherings, the whole Nation has for generations paid the tribute due from grateful hearts for blessings bestowed.

To center our thought in this way upon the favor which we have shown has been altogether wise. We have found warrant for a more hopeful and confident attitude toward the future.

In this current year, we now approach the time which has been accepted by custom as most fitting for the calm survey of our estate and the return of thanks. We shall more keenly realize our good fortune, if we will, in deep sincerity, give it due thought and more especially, if we will compare it with that of any other community in the world.

The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them. One was the death of our beloved President Harding, which has been mourned wherever there is a realization of the worth of high ideals, noble purpose and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the Nation to a less captious and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country. A little later came the unparalleled disaster to the friendly people of Japan. This called forth from the people of the United States a demonstration of deep and humane feeling. It was wrought into the friendship which is a guarantee of world peace. It replenished the charitable impulse of the country.

By experiences such as these, men and nations are tested and refined. We have been blessed with much of material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remember the privations others have suffered, and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief.

"We will do well then, to render thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser, and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must have in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people."

Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby fix and designate Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, as Thanksgiving Day, and recommend its general observance throughout the land. It is urged that the people gather in their homes and their usual places of worship, give expression to their gratitude for the benefits and blessings that a gracious Providence has bestowed upon them, and seek the guidance of Almighty God that they may deserve a continuance of His favor.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.

Done at the city of Washington this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-eighth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

Texas News

A $50,000 issue of city of Ennis water works and sewer bonds have been approved by the attorney general. These bonds mature serially and bear 5 per cent interest.

The Jackson County cotton crop is just about gathered. The Edna gins have turned out 3,000 bales, which is about 60 per cent of the total ginned in the county.

Live stock raised by farmers of Liberty County was assessed last year at $700,000. Six dairies care for the cream produced by the dairy herds of the farms.

Plans are under way for resuming the work of graveling the streets of Yoakum.

There are seventy-two miles of gravel roads in Jasper County, built at a cost of about $15,000 a mile. The cost was covered by a bond issue of $400,000 voted in 1922.

The state junk law, providing that purchasers of junk must demand an affidavit of ownership from the seller, was declared unconstitutional by the court of criminal appeals at Austin recently.

An election for the issuance of $80,000 in bonds for the improvement of the East San Antonio highway, known as the king's highway, in the Belott, Creath and Weches communities, near Crockett, has been ordered by the commissioners court. The election will be held November 24.

The largest bond issue for roads in Brazoria county was carried the past week when the Columbia and West Columbia district voted bonds to the amount of $350,000. This amount will be used for the improvement of 11½ miles of highway, together with the additional amount allowed as aid by the state.

While a few weeks ago it was believed the pecan crop in Bastrop County would be practically a failure, it now develops that the yield in some parts of the county will be good. The trees in some of the groves are barren of pecans, yet in other places the yield is unusually heavy, the nut large and of splendid flavor.

One hundred and twenty-five state and national banks in Texas were designated Saturday as state depositories for the next two years, beginning December 1, by the state depository board. State funds to the amount of $5,000,000 will be placed in these banks. State Treasurer C. V. Terrell, secretary of the board, has sent out blank bonds to be executed by these banks not later than November 25.

The center of the rice industry in Wharton County is on the west side of the Colorado River, 25,000 acres being under irrigation from wells, some of them flowing 2,000 gallons per minute. Each farmer has his own pumping plant, the investment ranging from $1,000 to $8,000. Water in abundance is found from 40' to 200 feet. Rice valued at $1,000,000 is marketed annually at El Campo and a rice mill is operated there. The rice is recognized generally as of the best quality of any grown in the United States.

Matarorda County is undoubtedly the sportsman's dream of what a county should be. Bear are in the impenetrable thickets of Caney Creek and more deer than in any part of Texas, while wolf hunting on the prairies may still be indulged in. Doves, quail, snipe and plover are in the county in large numbers. Squirrels are numerous in the woodlands, while coon and opossum furnish sport for those who like it. The biggest sporting proposition is in the hundreds of thousands of ducks and geese and brant wintering in the marshes along the coast and fattening in the rice fields of the county.

Principal crops of Washington county are cotton, corn and hay. Irish and sweet potatoes, peas, sorghum and peanuts are also raised in considerable quantities. The cotton crop last year was 25,000 bales and the yield for this year is expected to come to 30,000 bales from 100,000 acres. A million bushels of corn were made last year and this year's crop should be equally as good, the county agent, W. A. Yates, reports.

Five million dollars is being spent in Jefferson county for roads and drainage, divided as follows: City construction bonds, $2,000,000; county road work, $2,000,000; and county drainage, $1,000,000. At the present time one of the boasts of the county is sixty-five miles of paved roads and 125 miles of shell and gravel roads in splendid condition. Connecting with seven miles of cement highway between Beaumont and Amelia, a new stretch of seventeen miles is being paved with concrete to the Liberty County line. This work is on the main Houston-Beaumont road and a greater part of the culvert work was completed during the summer.

Farmers of Jasper County are paying more attention to stock raising and the assessed value of live stock in the county last year was $334,084. Brahmas are being crossed with the native cattle, while purebred Jerseys are being introduced in the dairy herds. The farmers receive considerable revenue from the sale of butter, poultry and eggs, estimated at a total of $100,000 last year. Boys' and girls' clubs have been organized to encourage interest in better agriculture and raising of live stock and are meeting with success.

NEW SHORT FUR COATS;

KNITTED TIES FOR WOMEN

IT BECOMES evident with the progress of the season, that no particular style in fur coats may be designated as dominant. The long coat is fashionable and will continue in favor, particularly in dressy models, but for sport use and for street wear, the fur jacket has come into its own again and is seen in many new and attractive fur combinations that mark it as of this season's vintage.

Natural muskrat coats made 30 inches long or longer are very popular. As shown in the illustration, the muskrat is generally combined with fox.

Now that the knitted tie has found its place in the feminine mode, we are exercising our new privilege to the fullest extent. With the tailored suit, with the one-piece cloth, coat dress, we are wearing a contrasted or harmonized tie as the case may be, while it is the finishing touch to the blouse, the slip-over sweater and the knitted jacket. Of course it is perfectly stunning with the now so fashionable knitted sports coat which most everyone is wearing these brisk wintry days.

If you are wondering just how ef-wolf or some fur of contrasting color in the collar, and in some instances in cuffs and bands as well. In the coat pictured the skins are sewn to give a wide stripe effect. The sleeves are of a modified kimono pattern and three catchall buttons provide the fastening.

A coat of this variety with a nutria collar and lined with an attractive silk makes a smart, practical and comparatively inexpensive mid-winter garment. In some localities, for campus wear, the short muskrat coat has become such a fad as to amount almost to a uniform.

A very new development of the season's styles is a slightly longer effective a knitted tie can look with one of the smart brushed wool coats which are quite the rage just now, study the picture to the left herewith. Of course it takes more than printer's ink to convey the color values of this handsome tie, the background of which is navy diagonally striped with silver and bronze.

Another important item in regard to the knitted ties for women is that they are left open at the lower inside to give width to the flowing end. Ties especially adapted to the needs of the blouse are considerably shorter in length than those sold to men.

These are some of the exquisite coat of caracul with monkey fur used in collar, cuffs and in a wide band about the skirt portion. For evening wear there is an increasing interest in coats and capes in black and white furs. Seal with ermine is of course the richest of all these combinations, but the idea is also being carried out in garments of white caracul and black fox and white coney combined with monkey.

Knitted ties for women! This is a gratifying piece of news flashed straight from Fashionland. Come to think of it, how self-sacrificing we of the feminine gender have been to grant, as we have in the past, to mere man a monopoly in so detectable an accessory to one's attire. At last the bond is broken. Aided and abetted by Mistress Fashion, we of the gentler sex have declared for equal rights when it comes to knitted ties. In proof of our independence we are flaunting the handsomest, most gorgeously colored ties knitted art can color combinations procurable in knitted ties for women: Subtle blendings of Egyptian red, gold, bronze and pottery blue, knitted cleverly into diagonal stripes; greens and wood browns sometimes with a touch of old rose; tangerine diagonally striped with old blue; violet with a touch of green; biscuit with old gold and orange stripes and the girl who wishes to show her loyalty to an alma mater chooses a tie which boasts her college colors.

The figure to the right in the picture relieves the tedium of a strictly tailored riding suit with a flattering knitted tie of navy crossed by gold and plum with an introduction of bright coral.

This does not fade, but the color does to do business.

YOLKS + WHITES = EGGS

For every egg yolk in a hen's body she must have enough white to complete and lay an egg. If her feed lacks material for whites she absorbs the excess yolks and gets too fat to lay. "Boarders" don't even pay for the feed they eat.

Purina Makes Hens Pay

Purina Hen Chow and Chicken Chowder, fed together, make more eggs because they contain plenty of both white and yolk elements. They will get more eggs for you or your money paid for the Chows will be refunded. Start feeding now.

WEST TEXAS NOISE

Inquisitive minded people who wonder why West Texas people make such a noise in the world may try their mental athletics in the following exercise. Out of the first 29 places in the ranking of county agricultural exhibits at the State Fair, 25 were won by West Texas counties. The answer is that West Texas has got the goods.

Hale county, on the South Plains swept off first place honors with a score of 911 out of a possible 1000 points. Floyd, another South Plains county, fell in 16 points behind the leader. Ellis county, the pride of the touted black land belt, was forced to be content with third place with 880 points. Then the procession of West Texas counties resumes again: Dallam, Lubbock, Potter, Crosby, Garza, Gillespie, Dawson and Brown counties march by in order, to be broken at thirteenth place by Hill, another Central Texas black land county. Then West Texas again. Hemphill, Childress, Wilbarger, Pecos, Collin, representing North Texas in seventeenth place. Lamb, Swisher, Jones, Bexar, Baylor, Mitchell, Colorado restore the West Texas march, which is broken again by Trinity, (South Texas) in twenty-fifth place. The list closes with more West Texas counties, San Saba, Lynn, Howard and Terry.

It is the second year in succession that the farm championship of Texas has gone to West Texas and the South Plains. Last year Lubbock captured first place. In the list of 29 are many counties scarcely emerged from the grazing land stage. The record was made in a year distinguished by an almost unprecedented drought in the growing season.

This is the secret of the big noise West Texas is making in the world.—An editorial in last Sunday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

If the conservative citizen of this city drives his automobile fast, he is likely to run into some one; and if he drives slow, some one is likely to run into him.

We are requested to announce that P. J. Taylor, of Coleman, Texas, one of the leading ministers of the church of Christ will fill the pulpit at that church in Brownfield Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour, and if arrangements can be made, at 6 o'clock at 3.30 in the afternoon. We are sure he has a good message.

Still another of those great evils from which the country is suffering, is the most and poorly browned hash which they put over on you nowadays.

P. F. Bruce and family were up from Lamesa last Saturday and Sunday visiting friends here and in the Meadow country.

FOR SALE:—A car load of new Moline wide tired, improved, iron-clad wagons at the old price. A big saving. Gaines County Mercantile Co., Seagraves, Texas. (11-23)

Mrs. J. S. Dixon, of Plains, visited her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Tudor one day last week.

FRESH VEGETABLES always on cold storage at Brothers & Brothers.

In the football game here last Friday between the locals and Post City the Brownfield team was defeated 19 to 6. As the editor is depended on to report all our defeat games, and as he never saw a game that he knows of in his life, we are unable to give any of the features of the game—if there were any features. All we can say is that our team got licked.

MARES FOR SALE:—Good chunky mare, all bred; one-third cash and balance next fall with good security.—Ross Rentfro, City.

We neglected to mention last week that Albert Curry, accompanied by young Hill, son of Editor E. I. Hill, of the Lynn County News, were over last week after a burner for the limotype, as the Herald always tries to keep an extra on hand. They reported that only one slug had been cast in about ten days, but we noticed in their last issue that was going then. Trouble is trouble, and even more so in a newspaper office.

New Roadster

Business men—with whom the runabout has always been very popular—are well pleased with the changes embodied in this model.

Always rugged, the car has been made decidedly trimmer and more comfortable.

This result is obtained by raising the radiator and enlarging the coils making a decided improvement in looks and providing more leg room.

A well designed top and slanting windshield do their share toward adding a finished, clean-cut appearance.

Make it a point to see the other new models also on display in our show room.

RED CROSS HELPS WAR'S SUFFERERS

Aids 200,000 Veterans and Their Families—27,000 Disabled Still in Hospitals.

SPENDS $5,866,255 IN YEAR

Individual Attention Assured to All Physically Ailing or in Distress.

Washington. — War service five years after the armistice, which on November 11 the American Red Cross marks with the opening of the annual membership canvass, shows that during the past year assistance was extended by the Red Cross to some 200,000 ex-service men or their families. To 150 hospitals throughout the country approximately 75,000 ex-service men were admitted for treatment, and to 63,296 of these men definite and specialized service was extended. The Red Cross annual report discloses. In all hospitals under government operation a total of nearly 27,000 disabled veterans were reported by the Surgeon General of the Army.

These facts of the aftermath of physical and mental disability five years after the World War, and the burden resting upon the relatives and dependents of the ex-service men, show conclusively the great need of the Red Cross to act as a supplementary arm of the government in service to these many thousands of men who wore the uniform of the United States. It should be emphasized that government assistance is necessarily standardized along specified lines affecting them as a whole. The Red Cross service is to the individual man and the solution of his problems. This the Red Cross designates "home service" for its aims to give the loving care and interest of the home to these men undergoing physical reconstitution far from their actual home influences.

Year's Expenditures $5,866,255

In the year ended last June 30 the Red Cross reports $3,920,000 spent by its Chapters in extending individual attention to the ex-service men and $1,946,255 spent by National Headquarters of the Red Cross, a total of $5,866,255. In behalf of the men called to duty in the World War the Red Cross since July 1, 1917, has spent nearly $164,000,000. Today there are 2,465 Chapters in as many localities carrying on this work, aiding the individual veteran, assisting his family furnishing creature comforts and funds to tide over troublesome periods. The strong connecting link between the Red Cross and the United States Veterans' Bureau takes the complications out of difficult cases of claims. The Red Cross in this work requiring personal representation of the ex-service man has acted in appeal cases, insurance matters, personal and family problems, camp and hospital activities, and in cases of death. This service handled nearly 12,000 compensation and insurance claims, and 2,225 allotment and other claims.

Solves Serious Problem

The financial problem of the ex-service man when traveling to and from hospitals is a serious one, and in meeting this constant demand the Red Cross expended $138,334.17 during the year. For extra recreational equipment in Veterans' Bureau training centers $14,306 was spent, and for the blinded veterans in the government school funds were supplied to enable some of these unfortunate men to enter business as storekeepers and poultry raisers.

In Veterans' Bureau hospitals the record of a single month illustrates the large service rendered by the Red Cross. For example, 15,504 new cases required attention, and a total of 26,097 cases were acted upon; 49,368 letters and 1,863 telegraph messages written, and more than 1,400 entertainment given in recreation houses for the benefit of the patients.

Authorities declare that the present is a critical time in the lives of many of the disabled ex-service men who during the five years since the armistice have developed misgivings of recovery.

Work Among the "Regulars"

Service to the enlisted men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps is a charter obligation of the Red Cross which in the last year recorded over 200,000 cases of assistance extended, and 324,420 visits to the sick and disabled. Inquiries by the Red Cross at the request of Government authorities into the home conditions of soldiers, sailors and marines aggregated 17,734, and there were nearly 6,000 instances where the Red Cross located men for their families.

All these activities constituting a single responsibility of the American Red Cross demonstrated during the year that its "war service" in behalf of the veteran and the man enlisted in the nation's defensive arms must go forward unflinchingly and with out stint of funds. The work of the last five years has welded a close bond of regard between the men who sacrificed and the Red Cross, whose efforts are praised and indorsed by the veterans' organizations. To do all that can be done to soften the consequences of the hard blows of war is the supreme duty of the Red Cross to which it is giving its best work and most liberal service.

WELLMAN WARBLINGS

By Sandpiper.

Weather pleasing the weatherman. Many of our people are catching up with their cotton-picking. The sunshine of the past week was highly appreciated by the cotton farmer.

John Smith and family spent the week end with Mrs. Smith's parents at Seminole. They report that place booming. Mrs. Smith's brother returned with them.

Mr. J. R. Garrison was a Brownfield visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett went to Meadow, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raily, of Gomez, were Wellman visitors Sunday.

Mr. Tom Sewell is on the sick list this week.

Singing was not too well attended Sunday, but was enjoyed immensely by everyone present.

Come over next Sunday and sing with us.

Rev. Haynes, of Seagraves failed to fill his appointment here Sunday. Too rainy looking.

Carl Stout was a Brownfield visitor Saturday.

CHALLIS BUDGET

By Cottonpicker.

Challis people got in a very good week's work, but prospects are not very encouraging this week as it is threatening weather again.

Arnel and Newell O'Neal sold their turkeys and are not feeling so jubilant over the prices, but have a very good increase on the money invested after all.

Mrs. Price is at home from a visit at Plainview.

Cecil O'Neal and Emmett Currie, went to Littlefield, Sunday.

Mr. Howell, of Knox county, was here on business last week. We understand he will be our neighbor next year.

Olen Horn has sold out and will leave for Oklahoma in a few days.

Mr. Price is building a seed house. Since our loss has been so great for want of places to take care of the people to pick our cotton, we hope the land owner will build a cotton-picker's house another year as it is a loss to the land owners as well as the renters.

Portraits as gifts during the holiday season are appropriate. May we suggest as a thoughtful Christmas remembrance the sending of your friends, your portrait. See our 1924 school folders.—Brownfield Studio.

Mr. Henry Moody is now helping at the Tudor Sales Co., his duty being to assemble new Fords. About 50 cars every two weeks is the rate of sale just now.

AN ITEMIZED BILL IS ALWAYS INTERESTING

The doctor sent a bill for ten dollars to the terrible tempered Mr. Bangs. The bill read: "Two visits—ten dollars."

"You're a robber," said Bangs. "Five dollars a visit! It isn't worth it."

"I'll re-write it," said the doctor, and Bangs smiled. They couldn't put anything like that over on him.

Then the doctor wrote: "To getting out of bed at 2 A.M.; answering the phone; disturbing wife; dressing; going to garage; cranking tin Lizzie; two mile drive in the cold; SAVING BABY'S LIFE; return to garage; waking wife; undressing; getting in to bed—ten dollars."

He said to Bangs: "I won't make any charge for the second visit and you need not pay for the first unless you think I have earned the money."

Mr. Bangs paid the bill.

Sometimes we don't pay willingly because we don't realize just what we get for our money.

LABOR OUSTS COMMUNISM

After annulling the charter of radical laborites at Seattle, the national convention of the American Federation of Labor of Portland put the brand of rejection upon Red Communism.

Its most pronounced western exponent, William F. Dunne, was kicked out when the convention delegates, by almost unanimous vote, indicated the Butte man because of his red activities.

"The American Federation of Labor was acting on a much larger case when Dunne was unseated," said Vice President Wolf of the federation.

"Dunne by himself was not important enough to justify the day of debate and the making of a national issue."

"What the convention did was to throw out the thing for which Dunne stands as one of its half-dozen most prominent exponents in America."

"The American labor movement threw out the last trace of revolutionary dogma, the last trace of hostility to constitutional methods."

"Dunne made the issue when he declared for communism by Revolutionary means, for defiance to the constitution, for the whole Russian program. He made it impossible for a democratic trade union movement to tolerate his presence."

Prof. H. C. Zorns was down from Meadow Saturday, and he reported that school had opened in the old school building and the church houses of the town. Their new $40,000 building will not be ready before the first of the year, and not then unless the weather becomes settled.
