A FUTURE COTTON SECTION

SOUTH PLAINS WILL BE MOST DENSELY POPULATED SECTION OF STATE IN NEAR FUTURE.

That Lubbock is destined to become the cotton center of the greatest cotton producing era is the prediction made by cotton men who have made a lifelong study of the trend of cotton developments and know intimately this section of Texas. What Dallas has become to North Texas—in the cotton market; wholesale and market center with all of the related activities and with the recognition of the fact that it is the cotton and market center—so will Lubbock become in the future years.

Already this year more than 9 per cent of the cotton grown on the Plains will be marketed through the cotton firms, exporters and operators on the Lubbock Cotton Exchange which has a membership of more than 60 resident cotton men and a large number of cotton buyers in surrounding towns who depend upon the Lubbock market for their purchases each day. One hundred thousand bales of cotton, totaling more than $20,000,000 will be handled through Lubbock this season, and the section is less than one-fourth developed—less than 15 per cent developed.

It is estimated that more than one thousand new farms was added to this section during the crop season just now being closed. As many more, or according to some estimates twice as many more, will be added to the section for the coming crop year. At this time more than a million and a quarter acres of ranch lands are being offered to the small home seeker on terms and at a price that places a farm home within the reach of every honest, industrious man in America—and they are flocking into this section to take up this new land and build homes.

And yet with all, we are scarcely started. There has been little attention given to better planting seed, improved methods of cultivation, breeding of a special variety of cotton for the Plains and the rest of the extensive work that will come with the further development of the section to add its hundreds of thousands of dollars to this season's crop earnings.

A farm on every quarter section for the 15 South Plains counties, growing a high grade, especially adapted cotton for the Plains, will put more than 2,000,000 bales of cotton per year through the Lubbock market, and support a city of 100,000 people. That is all possible within a period of ten years. It may take longer—it usually does, but the estimate is easily within reason and even at the present rate of increase—allowing nothing for increase momentum, the population of Lubbock will be 64,000 at the end of a ten year period.

Great growth, great progress or changes of any kind are not made without difficulties to be encountered, problems to be met, and a great deal of hard thinking and work on the part of the builders of a city or section. We of the South Plains do not have the world by the tail with a down hill pull. We have a great opportunity to accomplish great things in a big way and to build cities and sections that will stand out among the best in the nation. But it is going to take unselfish co-operation and ceaseless work.

There are many matters of concern even in the development of the cotton industry. First among these, we believe, is the matter of improved seed and a variety of cotton that is especially adapted to this section. Under normal conditions our season is from 20 to 40 days shorter than the season of the rest of the so called cotton section of the United States. With a dry summer and a late frost—such as we had this year, the effect is not so strongly felt—but with a reasonably wet summer and an early frost we would have lost more than half this year's crop, or rather have had to gather it as bolls. There is no dodging the issue. Our's is a shorter growing season—but not too short for the production of a certain cotton crop if we properly select the right variety and then especially it to this section.

After improved seed and variety comes, the matter of freight rate adjustment, more efficiently planned handling operations from the gins to the market center, to the yards, to the compress, etc. That is the technical detail that must be looked after, according to Mr. Blocker who spoke before the Chamber of Commerce at semi-annual meeting Saturday night of last week, and a matter that is already under advisement by the C. of C.

While rent farms as a general thing are not very desirable in the upbuilding of a section, still there is an acute need of rent farms on the South Plains. Due to the continued destruction of the boll weevil throuout Central, Eastern and South Texas, there are thousands of ambitious, industrious, desirable farmers throuout these sections who simply have not the capital to come into this section and build homes. They want to rent a year or two then buy them a permanent home. One thousand good rent farms could be rented this year and every one of them would pay the owner a handsome profit on his investment, his trouble, and give a new comer in this section a start toward a new home.

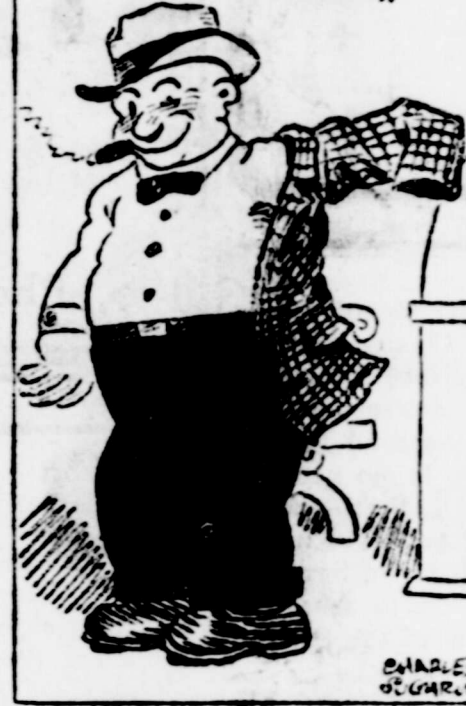

Records taken over a period of years show that the South Plains country will produce more than 200 pounds of lint cotton per acre more than nine years out of ten or more than 75 pounds of lint per acre more than the average for the State. As compared to some of the other so-called cotton counties Lubbock is far in the lead with a yield of almost half a bale per acre for a ten year period. The Federal census for the year 1919-20 gives Lubbock county an average of 49 bale per acre against 29 for Williamson, 23 for Bell, 27 for Collin, and 23 for Ellis county—that grand old cotton county.

These facts and figures are made in spite of the fact that we are just now learning how to cultivate cotton on the Plains. With improved seed and adapted varieties, this yield can be materially increased. So when we predict that the South Plains will lead the entire nation in the production of cotton within the next ten years, and that we shall see a number of cities on the Plains with more than 10,000, 20,000 and even 50,000 within that period of time.

But at that—let's not go cotton crazy.—Plains Journal.

BILL BOOSTER SAYS

"FELLOW CAN WORK ANY TIME, BUT HE CAN'T ALWAYS GO TO A BALL GAME! I TAKE 'EM ALL IN—FOOT-BALL, BASKET BALL, BASE-BALL, ETC.—BECAUSE I ENJOY 'EM AND I BELIEVE IN SUPPORTING THE HOME TEAM."

OUR CITIZENS SHOULD ASK FOR COTTON REPORT

Although Terry county has five gins within her border, and although she stood ahead of at least 21 counties that are getting individual cotton reports by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Cotton Census, taken from the ginner reports, Terry county is classed with "All Others."

This should be enough to cause our long deceased Chamber of Commerce to at least turn over in its tomb.

Two years ago the Herald took the matter up with the department and they came back with the information that as we only had two gins in the county, the information could be used by the two ginner to find out how much cotton the other had ginned. Otherwise, we suppose it would be an impossibility for one ginner in the same town or county to find out how much the other man had ginned.

But laying all "sourness" aside, as "Little Benny" would express it, the department has not such excuse now with five gins in the county.

Up to Nov. 14th, the time that the census was taken, Terry had probably ginned 4000 bales of cotton and stood ahead of such counties as:

Archer, Blanco, Callum, Ford, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Donley Kent, Llano, Sabine, Mason, Matagorda, Motley, Tyler, Uvalde, Ward, Wheeler, Wichita, etc.

If our C. of C. should return to life now, with all the natural help they would have, they could accomplish wonders.

Let our Brownfield Gabriel toast the resurrection horn.

Let's ask the Census Bureau to put old Terry in the individual column, so that the world may read as it runs.

SKY-PILOT AND MILKMAN COLLIDE AT TAHOKA

What came near being a serious accident occurred Saturday afternoon when a Ford car driven by J. A. Stroud and an Overland driven by Rev. J. M. Doshier collided at the northwest corner of the public square.

The dairyman was headed east and the preacher was going south, and it seems that neither saw the other until too late to avoid a collision. Some damage was done the Ford car, but practically no damage was done the Overland. Neither driver was hurt, but both were considerably scared.—Lynn County News.

LOCAL BANK PROTECTION

Now that the harvest returns are coming in, the syndicates that sell fake oil stock and other soothing syrup and rubberneck securities are already clearingbricks the farmers.

With the best investment and commercial banking system in the world at hand, why would it not be a fairly intelligent proceeding for the would-be investors in securities of any kind to consult responsible investment banking houses, instead of listening to fly-by-night stock promoters.—Exchange.

Mrs. J. E. Woodard, of Sengrave was up this week shopping.

WE NEED A MODERN HOTEL

ALL POSSIBLE EFFORT SHOULD BE MADE TO LAND A MODERN HOTEL EARLY IN 1924.

There are many things perhaps, we stand in dire need of, but there is no less shadow of a doubt that our greatest need is a modern HOTEL. Even those in the hotel business in Brownfield will be the first to tell you that, and are in position to give one the strongest argument for a real up-to-date hotel. They will go into statistical figures if need be, and will frankly tell you that it would be an advantage instead of harm to them, or it has gone out, to their injury, as well as the injury to the whole town that it is almost impossible to get hotel accommodations here much after mid-afternoon, and as a consequence, transient people perarrange their affairs so as to be on their way before sun-down to some town where they may be entertained over night.

This is noticeable especially by our business men and many of them are asking the Herald to do every thing in its power to land a modern hotel for this city. Heretofore we have been somewhat reluctant to tell the world of our poor hotel accommodations, but it has already gone forth. It has been rumored time and again that local capital would erect one, but so far nothing definite has been accomplished along the line.

We would much rather home people would do it, but if they will not, then the best way is to get in touch with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who are constantly in touch with eastern capital that want to locate in West Texas with various enterprises. If parties wanting to build a hotel could be brought here just for one night and see our need of a modern hotel, that would be all the argument that need be made.

Of course our present facilities are used to capacity to try and accommodate folks, but when the nightwatchman and other sympathetic persons who do not like to see people roam our streets all night, takes them in tow around the town inquiring for extra rooms in residences section, the time has come for action. Farmers who brought cotton here to get it ginned this fall have had to sleep on their cotton, in land offices or any other place available, and they had the cash in their pockets to pay for good lodging.

Do you figure this is good advertising for the town?

The Herald frankly admits that it is advertising alright, but it lacks a good deal being the right sort of advertising.

Let the Chamber of Commerce get in touch with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. There are some desirable sites here that can be purchased reasonably we understand.

WAY DOWN EAST COMING DECEMBER 18 AND 19TH

Earl Jones, manager of the Legion Theatre, informed us this week that he had booked "Way Down East" and that he would show this splendid 11 reel feature here December 18th and 19th.

This picture is said to be the biggest hit since moving pictures have been known, and those who have the opportunity, see it every occasion, as it is said one never gets tired of it.

This is the highest priced picture program the boys have ever brought to Brownfield, but the price will remain the same. We will say however, that there are people here in Brownfield who have paid $1.50 to see this picture.

IDLE WIVES ENTERTAINED

Friday afternoon, Mrs. Bob Snodgrass was hostess to the Idle Wives Club and a number of their guests. A very pleasant afternoon was spent playing 42. Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Miller were lucky in drawing high and low numbers for the Idle Wives Club, while Mrs. Randal and Mrs. Johnson drew the guest prizes. The hostess gave lovely cut glass and hand work for prizes.

At the conclusion Mrs. Snodgrass served a lovely salad course followed by pumpkin pie and chocolate.

OVERWORKED PRESIDENTS

Academic elements in politics are representing that American presidents are brutally sacrificed on the altar of over-work. They are offering to relieve unfortunate occupants of the White House of their strenuous duties by creating four or five more departments or cabinet positions. It is to be hoped that President Coolidge, who seems to be a common sense, hard-boiled, nutmeg-sate New Englander, will not fall for these kindly offers of the bureaucrats—he knows hard work never hurt anybody.

More presidents have had their careers shortened by banqueting and strong dark cigars, social high life forced upon them than by the cruelties of hard work, or even the worry of appointing people to office.

The bureaucrats are always ready to propose a new cabinet position, or a new department, and then fasten the myriad occupants on the taxpayers for life.

Elder Lili Sanders filed his regular appointment here Sunday, but both morning and evening crowds were light on account of the inclemency of the weather.

Section foreman J. M. Stokes is a new Herald reader.

MANY GIRLS ARE NOW TAKING LAW COURSES

More girls are now enrolled for law courses at the University of Texas than at any time since the war, according to records of Miss Lucy Moore, law registrar. The girls have fulfilled all admission requirements and are working for the bachelor of law degree.

In the College of Engineering, there are thirteen girls enrolled. They are all in the department of architecture and will apply for the degree of bachelor of science in architecture.

OVER FOUR THOUSAND STUDENTS AT UNIVERSITY

Final registration figures at the University of Texas show that 4340 students are now in school. There has been 92 withdrawals since the beginning of the session. The greatest number of freshmen students in the history of the institution has registered this session. There are 2080 new students from the high schools of the state. There are 700 transfers from other colleges and universities.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Many pupils attending the rural schools will soon begin to talk about the Christmas program for which they are rehearsing.

Fortunate are they if the poems they are becoming familiar with are chosen from among the great poems which have been inspired by the Christmas spirit.

Among the Christmas poems that are loved by all who have the opportunity to know them are—

O, Little Town of Bethlehem—Brooks.

Everywhere, Everywhere, Christmas To-Night.—Brooks.

While the Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night.—Tate.

The Night Before Christmas.—A Christmas Carol.—Lowell.

God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen.—Muloch.

Many of these poems or others equally beautiful may be read over and over—and at least one learned by heart—by every child attending a rural school during this December.

Nor should the Christmas stories be forgotten. To name only three: The Birds' Christmas Carol, by Whiggin; Why the Chimes Rang by Alden; and the Story of the Other Wise Man, by Van Dyke. Any of these stories told by a teacher to the parents and pupils gathered for an evening program can not fail to put new meaning into the Christmas festivities.—Ex.

LAMESA LIGHT AND ICE PLANT SOLD TO DALLAS MAN

The Lamesa Light and Ice Co. has been sold by R. B. Red of this city to W. B. Head, of Dallas, who is the chairman of the board of directors of the Texas Light & Power Co., for a reported consideration of $50,000.

Extensive improvements to both the electric and ice making facilities of the plant are announced. Electrical power will be increased from 200 to 500 horse-power, and the ice-making department from six to sixteen tons daily.—Lamesa Reporter.

BROTHERS & BROTHERS always has a nice assortment of fresh candies and fruits.

G. G. Gore was in one day recently and reported that he was about done gathering.

LEA COUNTY N. M. RANCHMEN ARE CANNING BEEF

A pressure canner has been ordered for use in Lea county and six canning demonstrations are already planned in the various communities. In the old days beef that could not be used immediately after killing was lost by spoilage. Today they are learning how to can their meat so that it will be available at any time and there will be no spoilage. This same method is being used in several other sections of the state.—Extension News Service.

FOR SALE:—27 Jersey milk cows, 2 and 3 years old, fresh and heavy springers. See W. E. Norman, Gomez, Texas. (12-7)

LUBBOCK CITIZENS VOTE HALF MILLION BONDS

Lubbock has shown her colors. The world can now know that the city is populated by a citizenship of voters who believe in going forward and not standing still or going backward. The wisdom of the selecting board of the Texas Technological College was exemplified in the result of Wednesday's special municipal election. The judgement of those who have come here to cast their lot in the business world have been justified the immensity of the majority in favor of each of the four bond issues voted yesterday.

There had not seemed to be a doubt but that the issue would carry but many were surprised at the tremendous majority rolled in for each of the propositions.

The largest majority accorded any of the propositions was that given the one providing for $360,000 for street improvements. The vote was 423 for and 14 against. The bonds will be used in paving some 225 blocks on principal streets, upon a plan that will give the city a net work of paving arranged so that it will be a benefit to all. A part of the proceeds of this issue will be used to provide storm sewers to care for the water that has been giving so much trouble during the rainy seasons and obviate such difficulties as were encountered during the October rains.—Plains Journal.

D. 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 750, wherein J. J. Nettles is the Plaintiff, and W. R. Patterson is Defendant, and said petition alleging, that on December 8th, 1920 defendant executed three vendor lien notes for $50.00 each, payable to J. E. Reed and due three, six and nine months after date, bearing 8 per cent interest, providing past due interest, providing for 10 per cent attorneys fees, that said notes were given in part payment for lot 1 in block 15 in the town of Meadow, in Terry County, Texas, which Reed conveyed to defendant by deed, now in defendant's possession, and defendant is here notified to produce said deed in Court or secondary evidence will be used to prove same. That said deed reserved and retained vendor's lien, that said notes provided for and created a vendor's lien, in favor of Reed. That on Dec. 9th, 1922, for valuable consideration Reed assigned and transferred said notes to Plaintiff, who is now owner and holder of same, that all of said notes are past due and unpaid. That Plaintiff has placed them with an attorney for suit and collection. 749, wherein Mrs. Lottie Masey is Plaintiff, and A. E. Masey is Defendant, and alleging that Plaintiff is a resident of Terry County, Texas, and has been for more than six months past before filing this suit, that her and defendant were lawfully married December 24th 1916, and separated June 1st 1923. That during their marital life she was a dutiful wife, that defendant, about two years prior to their separation began a course of cruel, harsh and tyrannical treatment toward her which lasted till she was forced to abandon him on the 1st of June, 1923.

WITHOUT INSURANCE, WHAT?

Berkley, California, with fifty residential blocks swept clean by fire, leaving only a forest of brick chimneys standing as a monument of former happy homes, emphasizes the necessity of adequate fire prevention and fire fighting equipment in every community. The only thing that stands between the average citizen and financial ruin in case of fire is insurance, which is probably more intimately related to the public welfare than is almost any other human enterprise. The ignorance of the public in regard to insurance and its vital part in maintaining economic, social and political stability has led to an ever increasing army of repressive and even confiscatory rules, regulations and laws concerning it.

It is entirely possible by political tinkering to undermine and retard the growth of the fire insurance industry to such an extent that its ability to settle promptly such losses as resulted in the San Francisco and Berkeley fires will be sadly impaired. In such a case the public would be the great sufferer. Instead of the public being directly or indirectly responsible for crippling an industry, which stands as the basis of commercial credit, let the people work to reduce fire hazards and oppressive taxation and legislative policies that limit or prevent the normal growth of the industry which is the safeguard of their savings and investments. A. J. Akers, former Hoddeyan now living at Brownfield, was in town this week looking after his property interests.—Hoddey Informer. TRY A SACK of our flour. ## PROPER HEIR TO 5 MILLION ESTATE

Inmate of Pennsylvania Poor-House to Share Riches.

WAS ONE OF CONTESTANTS

One night recently James Hendershott, aged sixty-five, went to bed in the almshouse of the Bloomsburg, Pa., poor district, a homeless pauper. In the morning he woke to find himself a comparatively rich man.

"That's fine—guess I will have to leave here now, but I'll wait until I get the money," he said when informed that as one of the cousins contesting the will of Mrs. Abigail A. Geisinger of Danville he would benefit from the settlement of the case out of court.

Hendershott did not know the amount he would receive, but said he would be glad of anything.

"I really didn't think much about it," he said. "Of course, they have treated me good here and I won't forget that, but it will be mighty good to have some place of my own to go to and know that I don't have to depend on anybody else for a while, anyway. I don't know just how much I will get, but it will be enough. I haven't got the money yet and I will build a few little aircastles while I am waiting for it. What I do with it will depend on how much there is and I will decide that when the money comes."

Cut Off Without a Cent.

Hendershott, a first cousin, had been cut off without a cent in the will which left an estate valued at $5,000,000, principally to the Geisinger hospital and the Geisinger Home for Friendless Women in Danville. With three other cousins, William Pancoast of Republic, Ohio; Clara F. Merrill, executrix of Celinda Runyon, and Ida Sharpless, administratrix of Henry C. Patterson of Marion, Ohio, he started a contest of the will.

The case had passed through various stages, in each of which the cousins had won a victory.

The amount involved in the settlement was not divulged. Henry M. Hinchley of Riverside, one of the trustees of the Home for Friendless Women, said the settlement would not effect in any way the work of either the home or the hospital.

The contest was brought on the ground that Mrs. Geisinger was not of sound mind when she made the will and that undue influence had been exerted on her to obtain the money for the charities.

Estate Consists of Coal Lands.

The estate consists largely of coal lands in Kingston, Pa., left to her by her husband, George F. Geisinger. The Scranton Trust company is executor of the estate and trustee of the hospital and was the principal defendant in the suit.

The will gave $500 each to four namesakes, Abigail Geisinger Sullivan of Lima, Ohio, Abigail Geisinger Econova of Sofia, Bulgaria; Abigail Geisinger Janson of Carozai, Porto Rico, and Nannie Geisinger O'Boyle of Kingston, Pa.; $500 to Mrs. Mary O. Shindel; the income from $10,000 to Catherine and Russell Pigzell, niece and nephew, during their lifetime; $10,000 to the ministerial institution fund of the Presbyterian church; $10,000 to the board of missions for freedmen of the Presbyterian church; $3,000 to the Carlisle Indian school and income from $40,000 to Lincoln university of Chester county.

A trust fund was created of the balance, the income to be paid to the Geisinger hospital and the Geisinger Home for Friendless Women.

None of these bequests, it is understood, will be affected by the terms of the settlement with the four cousins.

TURKS TO LOSE OLD MEDALS

Decorations Awarded by Former Governments Barred.

Considerable commotion among the decorated and beribboned crowd of officials and former officials was caused at Constantinople on receipt of an order from Angora throwing all the old medals into the discard. The order applies to all decorations conferred by former Turkish governments, whether worn by Turks or by foreigners, but does not apply to decorations given by foreign governments.

The only medal authorized by the Kemal administration and the only Turkish decoration that will be recognized hereafter is the Order of Independence, but even that must be worn alone.

The war office at Angora has decreed that the costume worn by civilian officials at all public functions shall be the frock coat and the corresponding waistcoat and trousers, preferably striped.

Stern Critic of Education.

The teacher had sent numerous notes in vain endeavor to get Johnny bathed and cleaned up. There was no reply and no visible improvement in the boy's appearance, until at last the mother, driven to desperation, sent the teacher a long letter saying, among other things: "What is it to the teachers whether the children in their schools have a bath once a day, or once a week, or once a month, or once a year? They are washing the soap all out of the children, and that is how so much tuberculosis gets started."

HOPE TO SOLVE RIDDLE OF LOST TRIBES IN CHINA

National Geographic Society Expedition to Invade Kweichow, Remote Province.

An expedition into the interior of China to solve the riddle of the lost tribes of that country, from which the American Indian and other present-day peoples may have sprung, is being arranged by the National Geographic society at Washington.

It was announced recently that the party of ethnologists will go to Kweichow, one of the most remote provinces of China, where lives a race distinct from the modern Chinese, clinging tenaciously to the queer customs of bygone ages.

Selecting the least fertile, least accessible and most backward part of the country as their home, these people have shut themselves off from the rest of the world and heretofore denied students the privilege of residence.

The scope of the contribution the National Geographic society's research will make to science cannot be determined, but scientists say that it may make Kweichow a vista of hitherto unrecorded history. One of the few visitors among the strange tribes said that there are types resembling the Gurkha, the South Sea islander, the American Indian, the East Indian and the negro.

Ethnologists at the National museum say the expedition undoubtedly will open up to science an entirely new chapter in the history of human life. The little that is known of the tribes, they say, strongly indicates that they were founders of the red race and that types of the American Indian may still be found. Stranger still, evidences of pure white tribes have been discovered by the few travelers who barely penetrated the borders of Kweichow.

Close by Turkestan, where primitive man is supposed to have first learned to domesticate animals, it has been suggested that Kweichow may be the long-sought cradle of civilization, the plain upon which human life was first evolved. Between two and three million members of the non-Chinese tribes survive there, and the opportunity for study among them has not yet been lost. Their slow absorption by the modern Chinese, however, has been going on since 2356 B. C.

SCHOOLGIRL WINNER OF SAFETY ESSAY CONTEST

Theodora Poole, thirteen-year-old schoolgirl at Lansing, Mich., wins the distinction of having triumphed over more than 400,000 pupils in the second national safety essay contest conducted by the highway education board, Washington, D. C. As a reward she received a gold watch and a visit to Washington with all expenses paid, gift of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Her essay, "My Share in Making the Highways Safe," was written while a student in Pontiac (Mich.) schools. She is a nature enthusiast and her recreation is "helping mother keep house, and having a good time with mother, father and little sister and the cat." The board announces a renewal of the contest for this year.

An Egyptian mummy with bobbed hair has been found. They are now digging for her horn-rimmed spectacles.

Three Times and Out.

Diner—Waiter, do you mean to say this is the fish I ordered?
Waiter—Yes, sir.
"Well, it looks like the same fish that the gentleman at the next table refused to eat three minutes ago."
"Yes, sir; we always try it three times before we give it up."—London Answer.

Ancient Idea of Comets.
Ancient peoples, puzzled by these awe-inspiring phenomena, proclaimed that "comets are composed of the sins of mortals, which, ascending to the sky, and so coming to the notice of God, are set on fire by his wrath." This interpretation of comets, though convenient for making people more religious, was not otherwise valuable. By 1650 A. D. a good deal was known about the laws governing them.

TAX SUITS TO BE FILED

I have been ordered to bring suits in the January term of District Court for all delinquent taxes. Those knowing themselves to be delinquent will have themselves and the county much expense and trouble to pay up this delinquent taxes by Dec. 10th, as I will file suits on that date, thus incurring additional costs.

Geo. W. Neill,
County Attorney
(12-7)

Will Pool informed us this week that they were going to push the sale of the Pool Bros. and Goodman land northwest of town, recently put on the market. He ordered 5000 dodgers to start it off with.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Roberts, of Seagraves, were called to Coahoma last Friday on account of the illness of his father. They were accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. Stricklin and little daughter, Sallie Truman. They returned Sunday, leaving Mr. Roberts showing improvement.

Rev. Chas. Burnett filled his regular appointment at Meadow Baptist church Sunday.

Conductor Bert Doddridge, of this run informed us this week that the Santa Fe was sure doing a business over this branch this fall. He sometimes pulls as high as 60 cars of merchandise and building material out of Lubbock. As a consequence, the train is from one to four hours late generally, but we suppose they are doing the very best they can under the circumstances. At least the railroad company has furnished them a much heavier engine to do the work.

The Lamesa football team came up last Friday and were walloped by the Coyotes to the tune of 37 to 0. The Lamesa boys should learn to play.

Mrs. C. S. Cardwell reports that she and the boys have all their feed put safely away, and the cotton about all out. Mrs. Cardwell is one of the most successful farm managers in the county.

The members of the Maids & Matrons Club voted unanimously to stand back of the school board and faculty to help enforce the compulsory school law, beginning the first of January. Terry county had 12 illiterates in 1920. This should not be and is unnecessary. If you see your neighbor's child play hooky report it to their parents, trustees or teachers, and we are sure it will be highly appreciated. Of the millions of scholars who enter the public schools of the United States, only 63 out of each 100 graduate from grammar school, 13 from high school and 3 from college. Give your child and help give your neighbor's child the right kind of training they need, and outside the home and church training, the school is the best place to have them grow up in to make more successful citizens.

FOR SALE—One Victrola, or will trade in on Ford touring car.—Tom Turner, Meadow, Texas. (12-14)

Our merchants sure had a good business last week, and a real triumph Saturday. Each merchant reported a big day, and Jones Dry Goods Co., which has on a sale ran over $1500 that day, and the manager, Mr. Shepherd reports that he could have run $2000 if he had had trained help in the men's department. Adams Dry Goods Co., Lewis Brothers & Co., and Collins Dry Goods Company all reported a big run. These merchants are all good advertisers and home boosters and deserve the patronage of our people.

The Herald was pleased to have as a caller this week an old friend from Tuxedo, Jones county, who once lived on an adjoining quarter to the editor down there. Mr. D. W. Blundell is his name, and he has purchased a half section north of town, and was up improving it, and also a quarter section south of town, which he is improving for his son-in-law, Mr. L. E. Hewett, who will occupy it in the near future. If Mr. Blundell can turn the rest of his property in Jones county, he aims to come here himself next year, and he will make you a good neighbor if he lives by you. The editor will guarantee that much. Strayed or stolen, one blue mare mule 15 hands and 1 inch high, branded "Z" with — under it on left thigh, smooth. One bay brown horse mule, white spot in forehead; mealy nose; about 15½ hands high, unbranded. R. E. Pain, Seagraves, Texas, will pay for any information of their whereabouts.

Hardly a day passes that an editor does not receive from one to a half dozen suggestions about what to be printed in his paper. One believes that the Ku Klux Klan should be excoriated. Another suggests that the Klan should be praised for what he believes to be praiseworthy devotion to the fundamental ideas of the Republic. A third thinks that the evils of trade unionism should be pointed out. A fourth would have the paper converted into an organ of organized labor, and a fifth cannot understand why his pastor's wonderful sermons are not printed in full. An so on, et cetera, ad infinitum, vox populi, in hoc signo vinces, e pluribus unum.

That is all very fine. There are so many things that need to be set right, so many crooked things to be straightened, so many good things that need to be praised and recommended for general acceptance that a poor editor does not know where to begin.

The task of saving the country from many ills which beset it is a stupendous one and none but the very youthful or the foolhardy would undertake it.

They seem to be willing just to let things keep on going wrong. A reformer is about as popular as a baseball umpire and when the home team is losing, and no editor has the ambition enough to keep out of the poor house or gumption enough to want to go through life with a whole skin will undertake the varied and multipilous reforming jobs that are laid out for him from time to time by admiring friends. And that's a fact—Slaton Slatonite.

If you own property, let us search the title to that, too. If there are any flaws in the title which might cause inconvenience or loss to those who might inherit it, when you are no longer here to carry the burdens, we shall find them and make it possible for you to enjoy and bequeath perfect security of ownership. Come in TO-DAY and do what you will be glad to have done.

Some Hen== Fed Differently

Ordinary "chicken feed" will make a good hen lay two eggs a week. Purina will make the same hen lay four eggs a week.

So don't ask for "chicken feed." Demand PURINA CHICKEN CHOWDER and PURINA HEN CHOW in checkerboard bags.

Please do not feed Chowder without Hen Chow or Hen Chow without Chowder--to do so upsets the scientific balance and loses you extra eggs. Feed as directed on the instructions with each bag and get more eggs.

PRESS GIVES THE FACTS

The country weekly and monthly daily gives the people the facts.

The institution of the freedom of the press is so firmly entrenched in this country that any attempt to curtail it instantly arouses public sentiment.

People demand facts; facts can only be given through a free and untrammelled press.

No better recognition of this can be found than in the fact, when a dictator arises in any part of the world, his first action is to muzzle the press.

No dictator can progress without the aid of censorship of the press and of news dispatches.

REMEMBER—Good shows at the Legion Theatre every Friday and Saturday night.

HE'D SPIT IN IT TOO

A certain Fish was about to raise a coco cola to his lips, when a slight tapping on the front window of the joint caused him to turn his head, and there he saw his sweetheart. She beckoned to him. Leaving his coke untouched he went outside and talked to her, returning he discovered that some one had already partaken of his paid for drink.

The next day the same thing was about to happen. Then characteristic of a Fish, he struck upon a happy idea. He took out his card and wrote upon it the follow: "I spit in this." Joyously and securely he left for an interview with his sweetie.

Lo! and behold, when the Fish returned his coke was untouched, and chuckling to himself he drank it all with one large gulp. Then he picked up his card, and noticed some one else had written upon it. This is what he saw directly after the words of "I spit in this" some rogue had written, "So did I" Canyon Normal Prairie.
