THE DEVELOPMENT OF OUR RAILWAY NET IN TEXAS

The following is a series of articles on the development of railways in Texas, by Walter Splawn, Railroad Commissioner of Texas.

Article IV.

Let us inquire how this vast performance was accomplished in a new country and so sparsely settled as was Texas from 1870 to 1890. The sources of aid were much the same as before the Civil War, but differing in some respects. Individual gifts continued to be negligible, as compared with the sum total, and were important in defraying preliminary expenses. Stock subscriptions were probably less important than before the Civil War, because of the difficulty of paying for the stock. There was no longer slave labor, which could be exchanged for such stock. City and County bonds were a fairly important source of revenue. The following were some of the issues for the benefit of railroad construction:

April 30, 1873, Tyler voted $50,000.00 of bonds for the benefit of the Houston & Great Northern.

February 12, 1874, Sherman voted $84,000.00 in bonds for the benefit of the Texas & Pacific.

April 24, 1874, Dallas voted $100,000 of bonds for the benefit of the Texas & Pacific.

June 6, 1876, Waxahachie voted $4,000.00 for the benefit of the Houston & Texas Central.

In 1872, Smith county voted $200,000.00 of bonds for the benefit of the Houston & Great Northern.

In 1875, Galveston county voted $500,000.00 of bonds for the benefit of the Santa Fe.

It is doubtful if as much as $1,500,000.00 was secured in this way before a Legislature passed a law forbidding use of municipal credit for the benefit of railway construction.

KILLING AT POST ONE DAY LAST WEEK

Post, March 6.—I. Nathan, a merchant of this city was instantly killed on the streets here this morning about 9:30 in an attack made upon him by Monte Bridges. Six shots from a 45-calibre army automatic took effect in the body. According to those witnessing the scene the shots were fired in rapid succession, three of which struck Nathan before he fell, the other three being fired after he was on the ground.

The first three shots fired from a distance of about fifteen feet, took effect in and around the heart of Nathan, the others striking him in the abdomen and about the shoulders. It is said that Bridges then made another attack on Nathan, beating him with the unloaded gun.

Nathan was proprietor of a dry goods store and is alleged to have ruined a young lady cousin of Bridges who worked for him. Bridges is a young fellow about 25 years of age.

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR HOME PAPER 72 YEARS IN ADVANCE

Alto, Texas.—Joe Barnes, of Magnet, when he recently visited the city paid a visit to the Alto Herald owned by F. L. Weimar. Barnes ordered his subscription extended from 1924 to 1996 at the rate of $1.50 a year. The total amount paid was $108 for 72 years. Barnes says he likes the "home paper" and asks Weimar to keep 'er comin'. Weimar says he will if he lives that long.

Barnes says: "I want to read every copy I have coming to me." The Herald has another subscription paid up to 1935. The 1996 subscription is believed to be a state or national record.

WEST TEXAS CATCHING EYES OF THE EAST

By Hamilton Wright, special correspondent of the Fort Worth Record.

In the colorful pioneer days of '49 avoracious spirits of all types in their impetuous gold seeking rush toward the setting sun, recklessly and heedlessly disregarded West Texas as then represented on maps as part of "The Great American Desert"—not knowing that in the fullness of time it would become America's principal region of agriculture, commerce and industry.

In quest of the widely heralded precious metal of California they swept ruthlessly and ignorantly over the world's greatest gold mine—West Texas.

It was for a later generation—a sturdy, energetic, hard-working generation—that West Texas had been reserved.

Era Modernized

The remaining vestiges of the early days in the West are vanishing. The once familiar caravan routes blazed across hills and prairies are disappearing. In their place are modern, servicable highways. The two-phase metamorphosis of the livestock world has taken place; the buffalo has followed the Indian to the happy hunting ground, the long-horned steer as wild as those of the pampas, has made way for the thorough bred in countless numbers.

The "desert" stillness has broken into many voices heralding—welcoming a new—a modern day. The treeless plains are becoming small forests. The wilderness is luxuriating in vegetation useful for mankind.

In all, the inevitable has happened. Swapping a pair of boots for expenses in West Texas land as far as the eye can see has ceased. Ten pair of boots now could not buy an acre in some sections.

Phenomenal Changes

Phenomenal changes in occupation, territory and population, have occurred. Those changes took on ponderous aspect ten years ago. In its phase today it is the change that challenges the admiration of the world. Eight years ago—so short a time—West Texas, America's Gold Mine—was dross in the eyes of the world. It fought against the greatest crop depression in the history of the Southwest. Sacreligious folks predicted eight years of rainfall and good seasons would have to follow that one unprecedented blenheim to put the west back on its feet.

But 20 minutes after the first general rain in the fall of 1918, West Texas had come back.

It has stayed put ever since. Into every part of its almost boundless confines determined spirits go, establishing towns and cities, building up the waste places and making for America's richest agricultural region.

Richest Farm Section

West Texas is today wealthier than any other agricultural section of the United States. Its banks are tearing down vaults to build greater. And its farmers are making the cotton that clothes the world. Its grain crops are feeding multitudes. Its livestock is sustaining an immense population. Its minerals are making wealth. Its resources—unlimited, varied—are being tapped. The smokestacks of industry is being hoisted. Its plains, its mountains, its valleys—are filling with a sturdy race—90 per cent are of the Anglo-Saxon strain.

It is the last remaining vast region unexploited. Its great Plains and Panhandle are filling with experienced growers. The most remarkable immigration today is to West Texas. That immigration is preponderantly agricultural. In its wake go the captains of finance, artisans, home-builders, workers. The hammer and saw have the largest chorus in West Texas. Industrial and commercial music in the West is the mostly lively. The tune is "Prosperity—Development."

Place of Vision

In West Texas gloom and moroseness is overcome by altitude. Men have higher vision. They are not contaminated with the hookworm or depressed by the miasma. They are the select of the race, because they have worked and fought for every inch of agricultural and commercial conquest that they have wrought. The weakling is not desired, but the man with vision, determination and vigor may earn contentment and a

ONE FARMER AND SEVERAL MERCHANTS FLEECE

S. T. Miller, a prominent farmer of the Challis community had a hired hand up to Saturday night. Now his hired hand is gone and he did not neglect to carry good transportation with him, for he carried Mr. Miller's new Ford touring car, as well as his own. He had an accomplice.

Not only that but several of our merchants' checking accounts are $30 shorter, for they cashed a number of the guy's wage checks they believed Mr. Miller wrote, and we must acknowledge that he was good at something else besides breaking land. He was an accomplished artist in forging signatures.

The officers have good descriptions of these birds, which have been broad casted over the land, and it is thought that they will be here to face trial by the time District Court shall meet again.

People have begun to talk out loud about folks that have been indicted by recent grand juries and seemingly no prosecutions have taken place. People are going to demand that there be some convictions for crime here in the future, and the juries had just as well prepare to get down to duty.

PASTIME THEATRE TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Everything is being whipped into shape for the formal opening of the Pastime Theatre on the north side of the square some time next week. Definite time has not been set yet.

The tip we aim to hand you is that Brownfield at last is to have a theatre in every sense of the word, and one that no one will hesitate carrying visitors from the larger cities to.

It is not only to be nice inside as well as outside, comfortably seated and lighted, but will have two machines and therefore an endless picture. A gold leaf screen curtain of the latest and best pattern will be installed, and people who know the managers are assured that the best productions to be had will be seen in Brownfield.

Judge O. W. Gillespie is visiting his daughters in Fort Worth.

competence where real men live and work.

To the West the Eye of the All-Seeing world turns. The great publicity given it in recent years has attracted men and prompted them to investigate the verities of loud-sounding claims. That publicity has not been exaggerated. Investigation has proved its solid foundation in fact. One disciple of the west makes hundreds of others. America has heard the story of the west through the facile pens of Clapp, Brisbane, Forbes, Hinman and others. The story has carried weight

HERALD TO HAVE AN AD AND JOB SOLICITOR

Next week the business men of Brownfield will be visited by Miss Edna Aytes to see you about your advertising and job work and assist you in any way possible to get it in shape for printing. We know that you will receive her in the same spirit we send her—service and courtesy.

To the reader wherever you may meet her, she is authorized to take your subscription and renewal for the Herald, and any courtesy and kindness shown her will be reciprocated.

A little letter on this young lady will make excursions to Meadow, Plains, Tokio, Gomez and perhaps other nearby towns in the interest of this paper and job department.

When she makes her rounds, don't shut up like a clam. It makes no difference whether you have any job work or ad for her or not, perhaps you know an item of news that would be interesting to Herald readers. Tell her about it that we may tell it to others.

This is a department that we have long neglected for the reason we believed the town not large enough to pay for a solicitor, and we have asked our merchants heretofore to bring their copy. This they have kindly done. The rush of business at the office has not permitted us to spend the time on the streets and with our advertisers that we wished. They truly deserve more attention than we have devoted to them.

If you have a local item of news, or a local ad, and do not happen to see her on the street, call No. 1 and she or some of the office force will take it over the phone.

As soon as we are in our new building we expect to be more able than ever to take care of the business entrusted to us, but in the meantime we are going to do our dead level best.

Phone 1 is at your service.

RALLS BANNER TO CHANGE HANDS APRIL FIRST

Dick Hyatt of Albany, will take over the Ralls Banner on the first of April. We are glad to welcome Dick back to the Plains. He at one time was editor of the Banner.

Mr. Morris, we understand, will go to Lorenzo, while Mr. Guy, the editor of the Lorenzo paper, we understand will leave soon after the first for Georgia, where he will enter business. You just can't keep them from coming back to the Plains, once they get a taste of it.—Croslyton Review

APPEARED IN FORD'S PAPER

Five hundred small farms were recently auctioned off in Arkansas at a Federal receivers sale, to satisfy tax assessments levied against the land for the construction of highways.

WE NEED A HOTEL WE NEED A HOTEL YES, WE NEED A HOTEL!

Let it be proclaimed from the house tops.

Let it be echoed from the valleys. Let it be re-echoed from hill to hill, from town to town.

Let it be broad casted from every radio sending station from PDQ to XYZ that—

Brownfield needs a modern, up-to-date HOTEL!

This is a job for a live commercial organization, but as ours is dead, we must bring it to.

The Herald suggests a smoker of the business men at an early date. We'll bet the Legion boys will lend us their hall—and I furnish the coal.

An effort—a concerted effort—may then be made through every avenue to get men of capital interested.

Lubbock business men are right at such as this now, insuring a $100,000 hotel for that city. Shall we let it come to the point that we are not regarded among the progressive, aggressive business interests of the South Plains as great builders?

When shall we hold the smoker to resurrect or chamber of commerce in order to go after this modern hotel? Let's go!

NOPE, SPRING HAS HARDLY ARRIVED HERE YET

Those who thought that old spring was on us in all his glory had another "thought" coming Saturday night and Sunday morning, when they found that all their water pipes as well as themselves had to be thawed out.

"It was cold as blazes" if blazes are ever cold, and the several previous warm days had fixed no ones blood for the reception of a fierce nother.

By Sunday afternoon the weather had moderated considerably, clear and cool Monday, clouded up Tuesday morning, and was misting from the east Wednesday, but considerably warmer.

While the weather was real cold, our fruit men think only that fruit which had bloomed—and that was very little—was killed.

ROSS-GOOD APPEAL SET FOR MARCH 25TH

The latest information in the Ross-Good cases, in which they were each convicted of the murder of cattle inspectors Robinson and Allison, is that their motions for a new hearing is to come up before the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin, March 25th.—Lubbock Morning Avalanche

CHURCH FOOD SALE

The Ladies of the Methodist church will sell cakes, pies, bread, dressed chickens, etc., in the back of O'Quin's Variety Store, Saturday, March 15th. Come and buy your Sunday dinner.

FARMERS GIN CO. TO START $25,000 PLANT NEXT WEEK

Instead of locating in the Santa Fe addition as they originally intended, the Farmers Gin Co., an Abilene concern will start their plant next week just west of the railroad on the first block on the south side of Main st.

They have purchased two lots from J. R. Hill and ten from A. M. Brownfield, we understand. This gin will have a 100 bale capacity per day.

Just across the street from them will be the site of the new Lubbock Cotton Oil gin, which also will be modern in every detail. Construction work on it will start just as soon as the weather gets a little warmer and rushed to completion.

Thus Brownfield will start the next season with five gin plants.

THE CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN HAS BEEN VERY GOOD

The clean up campaign in Brownfield has been very good, but to make it a real success, it must be followed up and made continuous throughout the year. A few months neglect will accumulate an unbelievable pile of rubbish, but if we get the habit of having all rubbish hauled away once every two weeks, or even once a month in winter, our town will assume a semblance of beauty and real cleanliness.

As the old saying goes, "Cleanliness is next to godliness" is very true, and therefore we can neither be very clean nor yet very godly, without being clean, and this applies to our homes and premises as well as our bodies and lives.

The nightwatchman, E. Brown, has been ordered to hire the rubbish carried away to the dumping ground, and the Herald asks that you lend him and the city council every assistance in locating these rubbish piles.

Mr. Brown remarked to the editor that some of the restaurants would have to build disposal pools to ever find a way out of waste water and food that accumulate about their places.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN FEED STORE AT LAMESA

On last Sunday evening about four o'clock, the body of R. M. Moore was found in his room. So far as was known he had not been sick, though had complained of suffering a great deal with the cold weather, saying he could not keep warm.

It is thought that he died on getting up Sunday morning as he had on one shoe and was partially dressed. He took his meals at the Innon Cafe, and not appearing for his meals attracted attention since he was usually prompt.

He is one of Lamesa's oldest citizens. The body was shipped to Amarillo Monday to be buried beside that of his wife. He leaves a son in Lamesa, another at Amarillo, one at Galveston and a son and daughter at Chicago.—Lamesa Reporter.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

Friday evening, Mar. 21, 8:15 at the High School auditorium, the faculty will present a three act comedy, entitled, "Nothing but the Truth."

The play is principally concerned with the young man who sets out to tell the truth, the absolute truth, and nothing but the truth, for twenty-four hours.

Come see how it is done. The cast is as follows:

- Bob Bennett ..... Douglass Carver.
- E. M. Ralston ..... Edgar Self
- Bishop Doran ..... Alton Webb
- C. Van Dusen ..... Hugh Pyeatt
- Dick Donally ..... Leo Holmes
- Given Ralston ..... Lois Nall
- Mrs. Ralston ..... Lucile Blackstock
- Ethel ..... Espie Castleberry
- Mable ..... Kathryn Terrell
- Sable ..... Thelma Nall
- Martha ..... Lone Wright

HOME AT LAST

The Plains Journal is now installed in the new building at the corner of Tenth street and Avenue Lockstock and barrel. We are now ready to present to our clientele of readers, 2,600 strong, a Lubbock made newspaper printed out in a plant that is inferior to none in West Texas in equipment. We are not only anxious to show you our new headquarters, but we will consider it a favor to be able to show you.—Plains Journal.

The courthouse square is looking 100 per cent better since J. T. Faucett began giving it a needed pruning.

BEYOND THE BOLL WEEVIL DEAD LINE

The trespass of the boll weevil into the cotton growing sections of the United States since 1896 has left a path of desolation, dismay and financial failures. The once promising cotton belt is now prostrate with the production of the staple annually diminishing. The great staple that has both made and unmade the South, alternately, appears to have been dulled by the sweeping menace of the insect.

The conquest of the territory and the acquisition of little checkmating area for the staple has made the South wonder what will be the outcome. Diversification has been exclaimed from the house-tops to recoup fortunes and to give hard pressed lands new occupation. It has been proclaimed in many regions, but nowhere in the South does the idea of abandoning cotton get a ready, eager ear.

The opening of new farming lands in the Plains and Panhandle section of Texas to cotton farmers has given a new hope to the industry. A few years ago, esteemed unfit for anything save grazing, that region today has manifested its startling productivity and ability to produce not only a fine grade of the staple, but more than the usual acreage yield.—Fort Worth Record.

Jno. B. King's brother from Sherman, was visiting with John and family over Sunday.

Jess Carver, proprietor of the Brownfield Produce Co., reports he loaded a half car of produce here last week. The car was finished out at Lubbock. Jess predicts that most of the scrubs and undersize poultry are now shipped out and therefore out of the way.

State Inspector Visits School
 The Inspector for High School affiliation visited our school some two weeks ago. Just this week a report such as she filed was sent Supt. Rankin and Judge Gillespie. Miss Robbins, the State Inspector, was very complimentary of the splendid work being done by the teachers, student body and the community in taking care of the great number of pupils coming in.

The following are some of the recommendations contained in the report:

"That work in the various subjects be submitted for accrediting, as some very deserving work is being done."

The school is to be commended: (a) for work being done by both students and teachers under present conditions. (b) For the excellent school spirit evident among students, teachers and patrons."

MILLIONS FOR CURLS

The original cost of bobbed hair is not the chief concern—its upkeep.

Figures compiled by a national electrical magazine bear out this contention. The book reports that over one million dollars were spent by women in the United States last year for electrical curling irons—to be exact, $1,250,000.

However, defenders of the shorn-lock coiffure, can refute the claim that all this expense was due to bobbed hair, by citing figures to show the sales of other electrical appliances reached $2,003,745,000.

Residential fixtures show the largest expenditures in the analysis of the sales, $240,000,000 having been spent for home lighting fixtures, exclusive of lamps. Wiring accessories ran into millions.

A jazz band composed of four sons of Ham, were here last week and furnished music one night for the Pastime Theatre. Those who heard their report that they were on their job.

Jim Youree attended the District Epworth League Convention at Tahoka last week, representing the local League as delegate.

DEFENDS THE NAME FATHER

Nicknames Such as "Old Man", "Pater", "Dad" and "Daddy" Do Not Express Affection.

What is in a name? Why, everything, of course. Get a bad name and you will find it out. Call a man a jail-bird and he is doomed. A great deal of time is consumed by parents in finding a name for a new baby which comes into a home. Much thought is given to the selection of a baby's name because he is so precious and sweet, and because he will carry it through life. The baby has nothing to say as to the choice. It is, therefore, all the more important that a name be given him which he will be pleased with when he becomes a man. Unfortunately, few boys and girls are entirely pleased with their names, and in many cases they seek to change them.

There is another question which arises later on, and that is the question as to what a boy will call his father. A variety of designations have been assigned to the paternal head of the household. By some he has been called "the governor." This is an official term and smacks of rulership. It can scarcely be called a term of disrespect, but the objection to it is that it lacks affection.

"Pater" is another designation for father. It sounds classical, for it is the Latin name for father. It, however, seems cold and formal. Occasionally we hear a boy speaking of "the old man." This is, of course, the smart Alec who considers he is acting cleverly. There is a swagger about an attitude of this kind which is not admirable. Here is another lad who calls his father "dad." He means to be respectful and even affectionate, but this name is not dignified, to say the least of it. A good father deserves a better designation than that of "dad." "Daddie" is the term many girls employ, and it is much more tender and affectionate. But, what better name can we find in our Anglo-Saxon vocabulary to call our father than "Father?"

Mrs. John B. King left this week for California to visit relatives and recruit her health.

MILLIONS OF BOOKS PRINTED

On an Average of 200,000 Volumes Are Published Each Year Throughout the World.

Have you ever wondered how many books there are in existence? On the average 200,000 volumes are published each year throughout the world, and as 8,500,000 appeared last century, one can obtain a fairly good idea of the size of the world's bookshop.

Adding together the number of volumes published in each country since printing was invented, the astonishing total of 60,000,000 is reached. The amount of energy, time, paper and printers' ink which have gone to produce all these books is absolutely incalculable.

The three largest libraries in the world are the British Museum Library, in London, which has 4,000,000 volumes; the Bibliotheque Nationale, in Paris, which has 3,000,000, and the Library of Congress, in Washington, with half a million less. Thus, between them alone, these three great institutions possess 8,500,000 books of all kinds.

Rainbow Trout Eat Mice.

A new fish story has come out of Alaska, where it has been discovered that large rainbow trout weighing from two to seven pounds eat mice in July, August, and the first half of September. The trout do not go prowling over the fields catlike, but lie among the outbanks of rivers and lakes until mice come running along, then jump at them, and gulp down the delicacy.

While cleaning large fish for a camp of workers along the Alaskan railroad, kitchen helpers discovered mice and rats in various stages of digestion in the stomachs of many. Old woodsmen have long known of the trout's peculiar summer appetite.

STRANGE WAYS OF SLEEPING

Every Kind of Animal Adopts Some Particular Posture in Which to Rest.

Every kind of animal, including man, seems to have adopted some particular posture in which to sleep. Long legged birds, such as storks and gulls, have been observed to sleep balanced on one leg. Most birds, however, sleep with their heads turned round over their backs. Often their beaks are hidden among the feathers between the wing and the body. Some curious exceptions to this rule is the owl which sleeps sliding on a branch, and certain Indian parrots and bats which sleep only when suspended from a tree. The duck is the most unconventional of all. This bird sleeps on the open water, and during its slumbers paddles itself with one foot in circles to avoid drifting to the shore.

Such a bulky animal as the sloth sleeps upside down, hanging by its four feet and with its head tucked between the forelegs. The posture of the domestic cat is typical of many other animals. Foxes and wolves sleep curled up with their noses and the soles of their feet all close together and often covered by their tails. Some animals sleep with their eyes open, others with them closed. A dog, especially an old one, occasionally sleeps while standing; a horse often does, while an elephant never lies down to sleep. Salmon and goldfish are said never to sleep.

BRULE PIONEER IN WILDS

Explorer Is Now Credited With Discovery of Superior and the Other Lakes.

Although his name is not enshrined in history along with those of Champlain, LaSalle, Radisson, Marquette, Joliet, and many other explorers, Etienne Brule (with an acute accent on the initial E and on the final e of the surname) is said to have been the real discoverer of the Great Lakes of America, including Superior, the largest body of fresh water in the world. Brule antedates most of these great discoverers by many years. He is said to have discovered the Great Lakes more than 300 years ago.

Brule had no gift of writing, and no personal account remains of what must have been one of the outstanding careers of adventure this adventurous continent has produced. In late life Brule was denounced by Champlain as "abandoned," as one who "lived without religion." It is believed by some persons that the judgment of subsequent historical writers has been warped by Champlain's criticism of Brule's morals. They say that if Brule succumbed to the customs of the native Indians, it was because he was sent among them at a tender age by Champlain himself.

Having It Both Ways.

The head of a girl with red hair, painted with charm and great dexterity, caught my eye. The picture was in that interesting gallery, the Rue du la Boetie, and I was tempted to enter the shop and asked the price. The price was so high that I remarked on it.

The dealer smiled in agreement. "But you see," he explained, "the painter is dead. Finished. There can be no more of his work, and therefore it costs much."

I made a tour of the walls and found another picture, this time a landscape, very simple but true and beautifully composed. It was signed "Grosjean." I asked the price of it also, and as with the other the price was so high that I remarked on it.

The dealer smiled in agreement. "But you see," he explained, "the painter is alive, and living is expensive. It is necessary therefore to charge much."—Punch.

Rival to Monte Carlo.

Helgoland, the little island in the North sea, seeks the laurels and income of Monte Carlo.

The island resort is about to build a gambling casino, which, it is hoped, will bring sufficient earnings to the local government to make all the island folks free from taxation, just as the residents of Monaco, the principality where the Monte Carlo casino is located, are free from taxes.

This is to all intents and purposes a declaration of war by Germany against France, so far as getting the tourist gambling business of Europe is concerned.

Helgoland has always been a favorite resort, largely patronized because of its beach. Now, in addition, the local government plans to erect a casino which will draw a new and wealthier class to its shores.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mrs. Dr. Treadaway went to Odessa this week to visit her daughter, Miss Stella. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Teques, of Dallas, to that place. Mrs. Teques and children have been here for some time visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Bell, and went to Odessa to visit his relative before returning to Dallas.

The Rebekah Lodge is now thoroughly reorganized and at work. Note their ad in this issue.

Miss Edna Beard, Brownfield senior school girl, was a passenger to Lubbock last Saturday to have Dr. J. T. Hutchinson test her eyes.

BY THE SLEEPING SEINE

So Still It Lies Before Dawn That Its Course to the Sea Seems to Have Stopped.

You will have to stay out late or get up very early to catch the silver Seine asleep. And even then you might find it waking, wind-ruffled and restless, for the Seine seldom goes to sleep. But when, by some good fortune, you surprise it slumbering then you truly find a sleeping beauty. So still it lies sometimes in the hour before dawn that it would seem for once to have stayed its course to join the sea. Not the tiniest ripple disturbs its polished surface.

And sleeping, it would seem to be dream-haunted. It dreams of the city through which it flows. Above it hangs the starlit sky; tall buildings seem to peep into its depths, and the bridges stretch across it almost carelessly as though protecting a child that had gone to sleep.

And the dream of the river is of these same stars that shine above, of the tall buildings that are peeping down, of the bridges that stretch their arms above its bosom. For in the mirror of its shining surface you will see all these things more beautiful perhaps than their reality, and, looking down into this dream city, you will speak quite softly lest haply you might wake the sleeping Seine.—London Mail.

MARIE GREAT HELP TO HER

Mother Could Do Washing for Eleven So Easy When Girl Played a Ukulele.

Unselfish mothers too often make or permit their daughters to be selfish, more's the pity. One such mother, according to a story that Booth Tarkington likes to tell, was bending industriously over the washtub when a neighbor said to her, "Hard at it as usual, ain't ye?"

"Yes," replied the mother cheerfully. "Yes, this is wash day. Mrs. O'Hoolahan, and washin' for eleven don't leave you much spare time on your hands."

"Is that Marie I hear singin' to the ukulele in the parlor?"

Marie, by the way, was in infancy christened Mary and in early youth was always known as Mollie.

"Yes, Mrs. O'Hoolahan, that's her. The help she is to me! Oh, dear! Oh, dear! I don't know how I'd get along without that girl! Every Monday morning she gets out the ukulele or opens up the piano, and while I'm scrubbin' the clothes she sings the nicest, cheeriest pieces, like 'Mother's Day,' or 'Dear Mother, in Dreams I See You,' or 'Lighten Mother's Tasks With Love,' and the work just rolls off like play. I tell you, Mrs. O'Hoolahan, there ain't many girls like our Marie." —Youth's Companion.

Laughter.

A low, musical voice is one of the greatest charms of woman. It sets the seal on her beauty. Without it she loses much of her power of attraction. But many a person has turned away from a pretty girl because of her laughter. There is laughter so loud that it ceases to be hearty and becomes vulgar, so shrill that it gets on the nerves, so strident that it suggests hysterics, and so inane and cackling that the listener concludes that only an empty-headed woman could laugh so.

Many girls do not realize the effect of their laughter, and continually laugh and gaffe needlessly. Thus they destroy their chances of making a favorable impression upon people they meet.

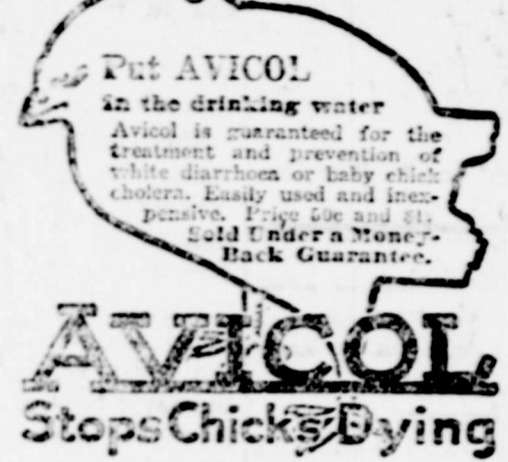

Yet a low, musical laugh is a great attraction, the greater because it is so rare. Do you possess it? If not, with patience and perseverance you can achieve it. First listen to yourself whenever you laugh. You will probably be very disagreeably surprised and realize how ugly laughter can be. You must lower the pitch of your voice. Practice laughing in your own room when you are alone. Banish the cackle on a single note; laughter is almost a scale—harmonious and attractive.

When we carried the papers over to the post office last Friday, and opened the front door of Uncle Sam's place of business in this city, we thought Postmaster Jim Miller had imported a few dozen canaries to entertain his customers while they waited their stamps, but on getting back in the rear of the establishment we found that he was merely acting dry nurse to perhaps a hundred baby White Leghorns shipped in from a point in the north. While only two or three were dead, about the only thing that seemed to bother the rest of the family was feed, water and a mammy. Jim was doing his best to act all three, but the "cheep" of a hundred young throats was nothing soothing to us, and we do not begrudge him his job.

Marjaret Marie, 2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield, of this city, passed away Monday night after suffering from a bad cold for more than two weeks. Funeral arrangements were made by Roy B. Collier of the Brownfield Hardware Company, and the body laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Roy Bailey had business in Lorenzo, this week.

"Coolidge asks the nation to keep its shirt on," says a Chicago Tribune headline. Either keep it on or keep a sharp eye on it.

A 100 per cent American is one who has made 100 per cent good on the job of making America 100 per cent better.—Prof. Giddings.

The great need at Washington, we were told in 1920, was to bring the big minds of the Republican party into the government. Now look at the thing!

Dr. Murphee has refused to go on the ballot in the preferential presidential primary in Florida. This will leave W. J. Bryan precisely in the same position with respect to the presidency that he has occupied for the past 28 years; he is his own candidate.

Col. Bryan turns out to be a practical joker. Although refusing to take any stock in evolution himself, he picked as an ideal candidate for president a man who accepts the principle. Evidently the Colonel is trying to make a monkey out of some one!—Exchange.

Watch our classified column grow. People are learning that these ads are paying them, and this is the reason the column is growing so popular with the masses. What have you that you do not need and the other fellow may be anxious for? Trade with your neighbors through the ad columns of the Herald.

Some one reminded us recently that we forgot to report the wrestling match recently pulled off here. No, we did not forget it, but did not attend and knew little about what really happened there. But to tell the truth, we had rather record the construction of one small cottage in the Brownfield country than a dozen of the best wrestling matches.

Well, we did not lose our jill of butter-milk. Bob Haynes is back in the newspaper game, being editor of the Hockley and Cochran County News. We are glad to welcome him back, aside from winning any possible bet, for he has no business being anywhere else than in the newspaper game, where he averages as one of the very best. We are glad of the opportunity to exchange.

"Emas rof yltmorp tseyap noht sselnu repapswen a daer ton tlahs noht. This commandment is easily translated by beginning at the end and reading backward."—Lamesa Reporter.

We thought that Editor Smith had run in two or three linotype "pie" lines when we read the above, but found it a nut full of rich meat.

The Herald has been flooded recently with all kinds of propaganda concerning the Centennial Celebration to be staged in Texas in 1936. This is too far off for us to begin worrying about seeing the exhibition when the time rolls around, and as the editor believes he has readers in the same boat, we aim to let the subject rest about ten years then get all wrought up over it.

England has purchased nearly 30,000 tons of Cuban sugar at $5.65 f.o.b. Cuba. The price to America is $8.50. United States Steel sold steel bars to European concerns at $1.90 per 100 pounds. The Pittsburg price to Americans is $2.40. There's something about these two business propositions that the average American does not understand or enjoy.—Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

That's just some of the "change" that our lamp wick democrats are getting for voting for Republican efficiency in 1920. England is a free trade nation.

Judge Mullican made a few observations in charging the grand jury Monday morning that many of us need to ponder. "Our laws may not be perfect but they are perhaps as good as could have been devised. They have come out of the experience of men from generation to generation. I am proud of our system of government. I am proud of our state government." After having heard so much criticism of the officers, of the legislature, criticism of the government, criticism of the courts, criticism of everybody and everything, it is refreshing again to hear a judge on the bench call attention to the fact—for it is a fact—that we are today living under the best and greatest government that has ever been devised by the wisdom and genius of man. It is wise and right that we hold to strict accounting those who are selected to administer our laws, but we can criticize our government, our courts, our officials, our laws, until people have little respect for either. Less criticism of the courts of the country, and less criticism of our government, more words of commendation and praise, are needed in Texas and all America today. Like Judge Mullican, we are proud of the government, state and national, under which we live.—Tahoka News.

A prominent school physician gives the warning to parents that if a child is left-handed do not try to make him write with his right hand, as to do so may make him a stutterer. The speech center in the brain is very closely connected with the use of the hands. It is known that it does not develop until a baby begins to reach for and handle things. This probably explains the natural tendency to "gesture" while speaking.

It is never wise to interfere too much with the ways of nature. If a child is left-handed there is probably a good reason for it.—Star-Telegram

BAPTIST MISSIONS GREATLY EXTENDED

THE WORK ON FOREIGN FIELDS SHOWS LARGE EXPANSION FROM FORWARD MOVEMENT

NEW COUNTRIES ENTERED

Southern Forces Now Have Missionary Fields on Every Side of Globe With Audiences of 900,000,000.

DR. J. F. LOVE,
Sec. Foreign Mission Board

Indicating the extent to which the foreign mission work of the Southern Baptist Convention has been set forward by the larger proceeds that have come to it from the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, Dr. J. F. Love, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, reports that since 1915, when the Campaign was projected, the following increases in the work of that board have been made: Number of foreign mission aries on the field has increased from 223 to 549, number of native workers from 627 to 2,329, number of church members from 49,659 to 102,223, number of self-supporting churches from 143 to 211, number of baptisms per year from 5,525 to 12,611, number of Sunday schools from 759 to 1,447, number of Sunday school pupils from 26,115 to 67,497, number of day schools from 512 to 796, number of pupils in day schools from 15,722 to 32,789, and contributions per year from $173,372 to $437,568.

Baptisms Gain Rapidly

Nearly as many persons have been baptized by the missionaries on the foreign fields since the Campaign began as had been baptized during all the seventy-five years of missionary operations prior to the inception of this movement, Dr. Love reports. This does not include Russia, where more than one million members have come into the Baptist churches in recent years. Nearly one-fourth as many persons were baptized on the foreign fields last year as there were members, all told, on the foreign fields when the Campaign began.

At the time the Campaign began Southern Baptists were operating only in Mexico, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, China, Japan, Africa and Italy. As a result of the larger proceeds made available from the Campaign the board has been enabled to enter the new fields of Spain, Jugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania, and Russia in Europe, and Palestine and Siberia in Asia. This gives to Southern Baptists a total missionary audience of 900,000,000, or more than one-half the total population of the globe.

Older Fields Re-Enforced

But of more significance than the entry into these new fields is the reinforcement that has come to the work in the older fields, in the estimation of the officials of the Foreign Mission Board. This reinforcement consists not only in sending out many new workers but providing larger equipment in the way of church houses, mission residences, schools, hospitals, orphanages, publishing houses and the like. Summarizing the growth that has come in the forces on the older fields since the Campaign began the following results are pointed out:

Number of churches, 76% increase; number of church members, 108% increase; number of church buildings, 45% increase; number of schools, 55% increase; number of pupils, 108% increase; number of residences for missionaries, 94% increase; number of foreign missionaries, 63% increase; number of native missionaries, 264% increase; number of hospital buildings, 21% increase; number of treatments given, 61% increase; number of hospital beds, 104% increase.

Much Remains To Be Done

With all the increases that have come in the foreign mission work only a portion of the program that was contemplated for foreign missions as a result of the Campaign has been accomplished as yet. It is in the hope of completing this program through more effectively equipping the work and workers on both the older fields and the new ones that the representatives of the Foreign Mission Board are cooperating with those of the 75 Million Campaign in an effort to complete the payments of all subscriptions to this movement at this time.

SAIL OVER THE MOUNTAINS

Few Persons Know Ocean Liners Actually Travel Over Submarine Peaks.

The main feature of some parts of the bottom of the sea are, in many instances, as familiar to scientists as are those of the land on which we live, although no complete maps of the ocean bed have as yet been made.

Of the oceans, the Atlantic has been more thoroughly surveyed than any other.

Probably not one in a thousand persons who traverse the Atlantic knows that at various stages of the trip liners actually sail over mountains. Fewer still realize that in some instances the peaks of these mountains are almost uncomfortably close to the surface.

The biggest of these submarine mountains is known to science as Mt. Laura Ethel. It lies roughly midway between Liverpool and New York, and is at least 12,000 feet in height, its summit being less than 100 feet from the surface.

Another mountain, Placentia, in the South Atlantic, is almost an island, for its peak is less than 20 feet from the surface!

The Faraday hills, in the North Atlantic, have been the subject of much exploration by means of soundings. Recent investigations show that the currents have deposited at the base of the biggest of the group the wreckage of over 5,000 vessels of all kinds.

It seems, therefore, that the distinction of being the real "Davy Jones' Locker" can with good reason be ascribed, as it has been, to this eerie under-sea locality.

VAN THE SALTIER OF LAKES

Dead Sea Ranks Next to Body of Water in Turkey in Proportion of Saline Ingredient.

The waters of the Dead sea are very salty, but not the saltiest in the world. It is not difficult to account for the saltiness of the Dead sea. There are large quantities of salt and salty matters, generally, in the volcanic rocks of the region, but even if this were not so, when a river empties into a lake with no outlet to the sea, as does the River Jordan into the Dead sea, and which therefore loses its water by evaporation only, the water will gradually become very salty, since the remaining waters of such a lake contain more or less of salt, while the water it loses by evaporation only contains none.

In every 100 pounds of Dead sea water 24 pounds consist of salty matters. The waters of Great Salt lake, in Utah, contain 18 per cent of salty matters. Lake Van, in eastern Turkey, is perhaps the saltiest lake on earth, it containing no less than 33 pounds of salty substances in every 100 pounds of water.—Detroit News.

Fur-Bearing Animals' Habitat.

There is really no one section that has most of all the various fur animals. In Alaska there are some of about all other than skunk, civet cat and opossum; in Nevada, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and other of the Rocky mountain states, there are more coyotes than elsewhere; New England and other of the eastern states have most fox; southern states most coon, mink and opossum; Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Indiana and other central states most skunk.

If the inquirer is interested to know what state, or section, has most big game, then parts of Alaska and certain of the Rocky mountain states, but like the fur animals there is no "one locality" that has most of all these animals, including bear, deer, moose, elk and mountain lion.—Sportsman's Digest.

Losing the Scent.

There is a possibility that our cultivated flowers are losing scent to a very great degree, and if the loss continues to a point where it disappears entirely the species will likewise disappear, for the perpetuation of the plant depends upon the scent to attract insects, whose visits effect the necessary fertilization of the blooms. Florists do away with the scent of a flower by increasing its color and size, and all the energy of the plants is used in making up this extra substance. The cultivated plant finds it does not need to perpetuate itself by attracting insects, as man does not waste time and labor producing perfume not required. That scent is nature's means of fertilization is proved by the fact that flowers that are wind-fertilized, or attract insects by their brilliant coloring have no scent.

Oysters Change Their Sex.

Hamburg.—Oysters change their sex three or four times a year, and frequently oftener, according to investigations made by the Danish scientist, Sparck. He believes that the phenomenon is caused by changes in the temperature of the water in which the bivalves live.

Finds He Bought Man's Ashes.

Ingleby, England.—Opening a brass box which he bought a year ago as part of a miscellaneous collection of articles, a dealer was astonished to find an urn with an inscription indicating it contained the ashes of Abraham Knowles, cremated in Philadelphia in 1898.

Broadway Gambler Dies Poor.

New York.—Charles Mahoney, once one of the wealthiest and best-known betting commissionmen, died in poverty and without funds for burial.

HARRIS HAPPENINGS

By Sand Bar.

The Harris community is rejoicing over the good prospects of getting a new gin at Tokio.

Our farmers are busy from daylight till dark getting their ground ready for planting.

Brit Clare was a county seat caller Saturday.

F. M. Ellington and family and Mrs. J. W. McDowell visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harris, also Millard Ellington and family, at Brownfield, Saturday. They found Millard wearing a smile that won't come off and all the rest rejoicing over the advent of a new daughter, which arrived Friday, Feb. 29th, and who answers to the name of Frances Lenore. We hope she will grow up to perfect young womanhood, physically, mentally and spiritually, and be a joy and a pride to her parents and to her brother Preston.

Dewey Murphey and family from Johnson, spent Saturday night with S. T. Murphey and family. They were all Brownfield shoppers Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander visited Mrs. J. W. McDowell Sunday afternoon. They report a young city over their way, too.

Arthur Cobb was of the crowd that thronged the streets of Brownfield, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tandy and son, Ben Hustos, were shopping in the county seat one day this week.

"Shall we do so much in the years to come,

But what have we done today?

We shall give our gold in a princely sum,

But what did we give today?

We shall lift the heart and dry the tear,

We shall plant a hope in the place of fear,

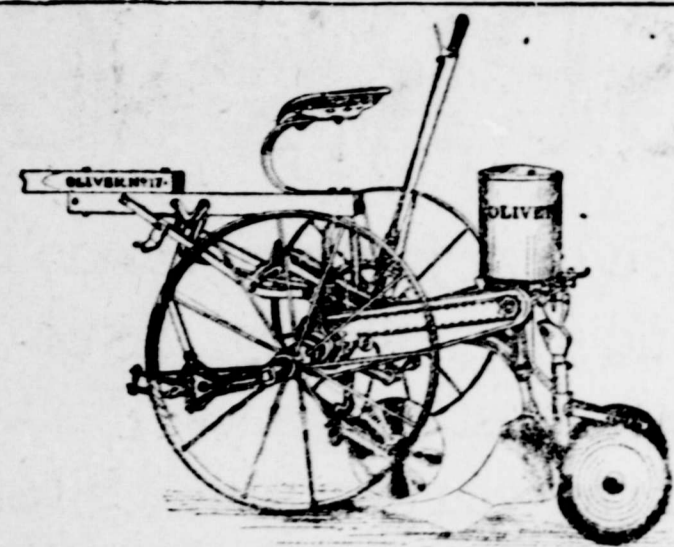

We shall speak the words of love and cheer,

But what did we speak today?

Mrs. Folk, of Seminole, came in Monday from Brownfield, where she had been to see her nephew, Mr. Longbrake, who had been seriously ill. She reported him much improved.—Seagraves Progress.

NOTICE

This is to notify the public that all pastures belonging to Green & Lumsden in Lynn and Terry counties are posted and everybody is forbidden to hunt, fish or anyway trespass on our property.—GREEN & LUMSDEN.

Dependable and Durable

The Oliver Nos. 16 and 17 listers have proved by years of field performance that they are dependable and durable and that they completely meet the requirements of the farmer who needs a one row lister.

The Oliver Nos. 16 and 17 are two wheel listers equipped to plant corn, cotton, peanuts and other row crops. True running bottoms characterize these Oliver listers insuring smooth and even furrows. The frame is sufficiently strong to withstand all stresses to which a lister is subjected.

Accuracy of planting is obtained by use of a seeding attachment that will not skip or bunch the seed. The seeding mechanism is driven by a chain operating from the main axle.

Dependable, accurate listing is assured with Oliver equipment.

TO IMPRESS SIGHTSEERS

Edward Simmons, Painter Who Lives In House Made Famous by Hawthorne, Tells of Incidents.

Mr. Edward Simmons, the painter, lived during part of his youth in the house that Nathaniel Hawthorne made famous as the "Old Manse." In his book of reminiscences entitled "From Seven to Seventy" Mr. Simmons gives a most entertainingly about the house.

The Old Manse was built in the manner of the Eighteenth century, entirely of wood; the oaken timbers were held together with oaken pegs. We boys found it quite easy to draw them from place, and we used them for tholepins in our dory. Fortunately, the grown-ups "got on to us," or I believe the house would have eventually collapsed.

There was a gabled roof with chimneys at both ends and of course all sorts of wonderful nooks and crannies to hide away in. It was up in that attic that a caller found Grandmother Ripley rocking a cradle with her feet and holding a book that she was intently reading. It was written in Sanskrit. She apologized because she needed a dictionary to read the language. That was not so of Latin and Greek; she read them fluently; but she used to say, "I cannot think in Sanskrit!"

Concord was a historical spot and in the summer was overrun with tourists who, not content with viewing the scene of the "shot heard round the world," and so forth, would invade the Old Manse. They were allowed to go all over the house, much to the discomfort and the amusement of the occupants. One day when I was still a young man there was a party of people upstairs nosing round while Uncle Gore (Judge Ripley) and I were in the sitting room. My sister had brought in not long before a long, draggly bit of Spanish moss and had put it on the chimney shelf. While the tourists were upstairs my uncle rose and, taking the moss, went to the front door and, climbing upon a chair, hung it there. It trailed down three or four feet. When the party came down and started to go out the moss was in the way. Lifting it so that the door would open without catching it, my uncle bowed and with his best manner as chief justice of the Minnesota Supreme court remarked: "The moss—of which he wrote!"

Every jaw fell; their eyes rolled upward, and in dead silence they marched to their carriage.

WAYS OF WOODLAND ROACH

Not Usually a Household Pest, but Enters Homes in Search of Paste.

The female of the form of animal life known as the woodland cockroach, because it lives in the woods, carries its eggs in an egg case, which projects from the end of the body and consists of two cells, divided by a partition. Within each of these cells is a row of pouches, each containing an egg. The egg cases are carried until the eggs are about ready to hatch. Newly-hatched young are most common from the middle of August until November, and the young, in various stages of development, are found beneath loose bark in the woods throughout the winter.

The woodland cockroach, while it is not a common household pest like its relative, the German cockroach, or "Croton bug," sometimes enters houses in or near the woods, when it damages wall paper and the bindings of books to get at the paste.—Detroit News.

Hindu Legend.

The Hindus have a legend that Hanuman, the monkey-faced god, with the aid of a monkey army, helped rescue the wife of the divine hero Rama from a demon. Another legend is that Hanuman brought men a stolen gift, the mango, a valued Indian fruit. For the theft the monkey was condemned to death by fire, but it escaped with only its hands, feet and face burned, and these have been black ever since.

The Hanuman monkey in his native land is a privileged being. In some Hindu communities these monkeys live in the top stories of the homes of the natives. If one native bears another a grudge, he places rice or corn on the enemy's roof and the monkey tears up the roof to secure the particles which have fallen into the crevices, so that the house is opened to the rain.

Part of the Orchestra.

"How is business?" asked the kind lady as she brought out an old carving knife to be tuned up. "Very poor, mum," replied the scissors grinder. "Then why don't you go into some other line?" "I don't know nothing else," stated the man humbly. "Nonsense. That bell of yours would be worth good money in any orchestra."

MRS DALLAS ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. W. H. Dallas entertained the Idle Wives on the 11th. Mesdames Collins, Griffin and Morgan Copeland were guests.

The refreshments carried out the St. Patrick colors. Mrs. W. A. Bell drew high, receiving a pearl pie server; Mrs. Copeland a pearl and silver tea ball. Besides the special guests were the following members of the club:

Mmes. Alexander, Bell, A. M. and Ray Brownfield, James Miller, Tom May, Fred Smith, Ralph Lemon, Shelton.

Prof. A. L. Burnett, of Wellman, was in Monday, and informed us that he had opened up his stock of groceries, and was now ready for business. Note his ad in this issue.

Mr. Ted Fore and Miss Bernice Padgett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

C. S. Padgett, both popular young people of this city, hid themselves to Lubbock, Saturday March the 1st, where they were married. The Herald joins in congratulations.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scud-day, of Tokio, a fine boy on the 18th inst. at Lubbock.

Harry Dorman and E. S. Tankersley have formed a partnership in an electrical shop. They not only propose to keep most anything one might want in the electrical line, but will be prepared to do repairing and installing any and all fixtures.

Joe Bailey of Lorenzo, is down this week looking after business (?) matters in Brownfield.

Mr. C. Abernathy, of Hollis, Okla., is here prospecting, and announces that he may become a citizen of this city.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapius.

Our community is still distressed with measles and its sequel. While the peak of the epidemic has been passed, there is a number of families sick at present.

There has been several cases of pneumonia with one death, the little daughter of Mr. W. B. Pascal, who lives east of town. Many have gotten up with running ears, sore throats and bad coughs, red eyes and a host of other minor ills. Still our government does not regard the disease of sufficient importance to establish quarantine against those sick with the disease. They are allowed to go where they please and when it suits them without let or hindrance. Small pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other contagious diseases are promptly put under the ban when neither of them are near so contagious nor do they cause as many deaths as measles, for the reason that not so many live for them.

The building boom continues and several new residences are under way. The drug store has changed hands. Dr. Moorhead retiring and Luther Herrington taking his place. Mr. Herrington is an old druggist and a good one. He will be a valuable addition to the business interests of the town. Dr. Moorhead will continue to afflict the community for a season at least, until the place can get a good doctor.

N. F. Emerson is home after a two weeks stay at one of the Lubbock sanitariums, where he was operated on for appendicitis, gall bladder trouble and other valuable perquisites.

Robert Welch tackled the flu the past week but is out again with sore throat that kinder disfigure him when he tries to smile out loud.

The Methodist people will put on a play at the school auditorium Friday night for the benefit of the church. Let every one go and enjoy a pleasant hour and be a help to the cause.

There is three well drills at work in the town at present. This shows the immense amount of building done recently.

Many of the business houses are having cement walks put down in front of their buildings, and some are having them laid at their homes. We hope to see very many others follow their example.

NEW GAUGE OF HORSEPOWER

Method of Showing the Relation Between It and a Kilowatt Has Been Devised.

More than 100 years ago James Watt took the strength of a "strong London draft-horse" as a unit of measurement to indicate the power of his steam engine. This unit, which was the amount of energy that would raise 33,000 pounds one foot in one minute, he called one horsepower.

Electric motors, automobile engines and all other forms of energy-producing machinery have been measured in terms of Watt's horsepower ever since, says a bulletin of the New York State Committee of Public Utility. The "strong London draft-horse" is dead as Eolippus and his bones are dust, but his mighty thighs have been so imbedded in tradition that from that time to this no one has questioned the horsepower of a horse.

Now the unit of measurement, originally taken from a horse, is to be used to measure the strength of other horses, to determine, in terms of mechanical horsepower, how strong they are. There has been designed a wagon, the wheels of which are geared to a hydraulic pump by means of which any required pull can be established and a uniform load resistance maintained. To this wagon will be harnessed various types of horses, from the lanky Percheron, weighing a full ton, to the 900-pound light-harness horse, and from the results there will be established a ratio between weight and strength similar to the tables for electric motors, showing the number of horsepower delivered for every kilowatt of energy consumed.

BAKERS DROP LOTUS LEAVES

Shanghai Government Forces Them to Use Waxed Paper for Wrapping Their Products.

Shanghai bakers used to wrap their bread and cakes in nice green lotus leaves. But the days of this romantic practice are gone forever. According to the new regulations covering bakery products, bread and other products must be suitably wrapped in greaseproof or similar papers. The clause in the regulation covering this particular requirement quoted by Assistant Trade Commissioner A. V. Smith in a report to the Department of Commerce, reads as follows:

"That bread and bakery products shall, upon sale or when carried or handled for sale, or delivered in baskets, vehicles or otherwise, be suitably wrapped in greaseproof paper or other cleanly covering, in such manner as to completely protect the bread from dirt, dust and flies, or from harmful contact in handling."

The death of Senator William P. Dillingham of Vermont removes from the senate rolls the last octogenarian. And on March 4, when congress adjourned, there were three.

Senator Page, also of Vermont, who was eighty last January, retired on that date.

Knute Nelson of Minnesota, three weeks younger than Page, died in May on his way from Washington to his home.

And Dillingham, midway in his eightieth year, died early in July.

Removal of these octogenarians from the senate leaves Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, now one month past sev-

NOTICE OF ELECTION
 Whereas, the City Council of the City of Brownfield deems it advisable to issue bonds of said city for the purpose hereinafter mentioned:
 Therefore, be it ordered by the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas, that an election be held on the 25th day of March, 1924, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:
 Shall the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas, be authorized to issue bonds of the city of Brownfield, Texas in the sum of FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS ($50,000.00), payable serially as follows: Twenty-five hundred dollars (2500.00) payable five years after date thereof, and one bond of like sum payable each year thereafter until the entire series of 25 bonds are fully paid off and discharged, with the option of redemption at any time after ten years after their date, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds, and create a sinking fund sufficient to redeem them at maturity, for THE PURPOSE of constructing WATER WORKS in the City of Brownfield, Texas, as authorized by Chapter 1, Title 18, R.S. 1911 and article 882, R.S. 1911 and amendments thereto, and the constitution and laws of the State of Texas.

 That said election shall be held at the court-house in the City of Brownfield, Texas, and the following named persons are hereby appointed managers of said election, to-wit: Simon Holgate, presiding officer and judge; Earl Jones and J. E. Shelton, Clerks.
 The said election shall be held under the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 18, R.S. 1911, and Articles 882 R.S. 1911 and amendments thereto, and the constitution and laws of the State of Texas, and only qualified voters, who are property tax payers of said city shall vote.
 All voters who favor the proposition to issue bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "For the issuance of Bonds." Those who oppose shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "Against the Issuance of Bonds."
 The manner of holding said election shall be governed by the laws of the state, regulating general elections. A copy of this order signed by the Mayor of the City of Brownfield, attest- ed by the Secretary of said city, shall serve as a proper notice of said election.

 The mayor is authorized and directed to cause said notices of the election to be posted up at the court house in said city; at the Brownfield State Bank in said city, and at the U. S. postoffice in said city of Brownfield for at least thirty full days before the date of said election.
 The mayor is further authorized and directed to have said notice of election published in some newspaper of general circulation published in said city, and which notice shall be published once in each week for four weeks, the date of first publication being not less than thirty full days prior to the date of the election.
