GROWTH OF HOSTILITY TOWARDS RAILROADS IN TEXAS

The following is a series of articles on "the Growth of Hostility Toward Railroads in Texas," are written by Walter Splawn, Railroad Commissioner of Texas.—Editor.

Article XI.

As early as 1876 Governor Coke in his message to the Texas Legislature said "that abuses exist in the operation of some, if not all, of the railroads in Texas is unquestionable; where the remedy is to be found is not quite so clear. The difficulty is one which exists in every state containing lines of railroads and its solution has been the subject of voluminous discussion in many of them. Some of the abuses are remediable by specific statutory legislation while others have been impossible to reach or provide in that way. The difficulties surrounding the subject are such as to call for more than ordinary care and a reference to other states in determining your action. I recommend an examination of the system in Massachusetts which seems to be satisfactory. In the state the whole subject of general law is placed in the hands of a board of three commissioners with extensive powers and discretion, whose supervision extends to everything connected with the organization of railroads, their operations and running and management of the railroads in which the state or any of the people have an interest. They ferret out abuses where complaints were brought to of violation of the public or private notice of the proper authorities rights, making regular reports, suggesting legislation, etc. The legislature on this subject while protecting fully the interests of the public, should carefully avoid crippling or interfering with legitimate operation of the corporations."

In 1896 James Stephen Hogg in opening his campaign for Democrat nomination for Governor of the State voiced the public discontent of the time with railway managements. Among other things, he said: "I promise to show these railway companies are levying an unjust tribute by way of unreasonable tariff rates upon the commerce of the state. They are discriminating in favor of outside producers, manufacturers, and business men against home people and they will continue to do so unless they are checked by an intelligent Commission created and supported by the strong arm of the law."

JONES DRY GOODS STORE AT LORENZO ROBBED

Sometime Saturday night a thief or thieves entered the Jones Dry Goods store by removing a panel of glass from the front door and took among other things, $102.00 in cash. Sheriff McDermott, Deputy Sheriff Pipkins and County Attorney Green Harrison, were investigating the robbery Monday, but as yet have found no clue upon which to work.—Lorenzo Enterprise

IDLE WIVES CLUB

Mrs. Tom May entertained the Idle Wives Club Tuesday, April 22nd. A delightful afternoon was spent playing 42. Those enjoying this lovely party, besides the regular club members, were Mrs. Sam Pyeatt, M. Copeland, Endersen, Graham, Downing, Gracey and Griffin. The hostess give as cut prizes a beautiful tea pot, which went to Mrs. Alexander for low, and a cut glass mayonnaise set to Mrs. Dallas for high.—Reporter.

ODD FELLOWS ENTERTAIN PAST GRAND MASTER

A nice crowd of Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families met at the American Legion Hall last Saturday night to hear an address from Past Grand Master Slatten, of Hillsboro, Texas. Brother Slatten went out of office at the recent Grand Lodge at Fort Worth, after serving the Odd Fellows of Texas for four years.

Homer Winston was chosen as the master of ceremonies, and after stating the object of the meeting and how proud Brownfield was to entertain such, he introduced Mr. Slatten following songs by the audience and a prayer by Rev. J. P. Watson.

Mr. Slatten had not gone far with his address until the audience realized that they were hearing something about their order that was real interesting. He gave a brief history of the founding of the Odd Fellows and their aim. He showed by precept and example that the Odd Fellows in the practice of fraternity, and the administering to humanity, second to no lodge under heaven, and the speaker said he belonged to a number of leading lodges. He said in the Odd Fellows Widows and Orphans Home at Corsicana, they had an institution that they were proud of and not only the Odd Fellows, but the whole State of Texas is proud of the fact that there is such an institution in their borders. He also said that there were less restrictions placed on intrancancy into this home than any fraternal home in the state.

Mr. Slatten was heartily cheered when he closed. He was followed by Rev. Johnson, Presbyterian pastor, who made a rousing fraternal talk, which was well received.

He was followed by a splendid male quartette composed of local people and opened the eyes of our people who did not possible believe that we had such local talent.

The audience was dismissed by Rev. J. P. Watson, and then come the cats, composed of ice cream and good wholesome cake.

The principal speaker of the evening promised to return again if he was ever in our part of the country again, and that is pretty certain, for he is certainly struck on our beautiful country, and indeed was on kind of a prospecting tour of the Plains section.

OBITUARY

Maggie Cotes was born on the 16th day of December, 1871, in Marshall county, Ala., and died at the home of her son, H. A. McMinn, south of Gomez, April 17th, 1924, thus sojourning in earth's realm of flowers and thorns for 52 years, four months and one day. In 1896, in Smith county, Texas, she was united in life's tender tie to R. M. McMinn. To this union was born four children, one dying in infancy and three with their families and husband live to cherish the memory of the mother and wife. The three are H. A. McMinn, of Brownfield, W. T. McMinn, of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. E. H. Nelson, of Wellington, Texas. These with five grandchildren, other loved ones and many friends mourn her going. For many years the family home has been at Kirklind in Childress county. About a month ago, Mr. and Mrs. McMinn came to Brownfield to make their home with their son, H. A., but the call of the eternal came and all that loving care and skill could do could not stay the day.

Near 25 years ago she became obedient to the Gospel and in the faith eternal she rests from her labors.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon the 19th by Evangelist Jasper Bogue from the Christian church, and interment made in the Brownfield cemetery.—Contributed.

Mr. W. H. Dallas, president of the Brownfield State Bank received a letter from Mr. E. B. Harrison, of Stamford, Texas, stating that he had purchased the gin sight of the Lubbock Cotton Oil people, and would be on the ground in the next few weeks to begin actual construction. This gin will be situated just across the railroad track from the depot.

In the letter to Mr. Dallas, Mr. Harris stated that he would erect an absolutely new, two-story plant of 80 saw five stand capacity in sheet-iron building, and actual work would start not later than May 15th.

Rolling Merrily Along

BACKWARD, TURN BACKWARD!

By Everts Haley in Canadian Record:

Backward, turn backward, oh time on your wheels
Airplanes, wagons, and automobiles,
Dress me once more in a sombrero that flaps,
Spurs, flannel shirt, slicker and chaps,
Give me a sixshooter or two in my hand
And show me a steer to rope and to brand,
Out where the sage brush is dusty and gray,
Make me a cowboy again for a day—
Give me a bronc that knows how to dance,
Buckskin of color, and wicked of glance,
New to the feeling of bridle and bits,
Give me a quirt that will sting where it hits;
Strap on poncho behind in a roll,
And pass the lariat so dear to my soul,
Then over the trail let me lope far away,
Make me a cowboy again for a day.
Thunder of hoofs over range as we ride,
Hissing of iron, and smoking of hide,
Bellow of cattle and snort of cayuse,
Longhorns from Texas as wild as the deuce;
Midnight stampedes and muling of herds,
Yells from cowmen, too angry for words;
Right in the middle of it all I would stay,
Make me a cowboy again for a day.
Under the star studded canopy vast,
Camp-fire coffee, and comfort at last,
Tales of ranchmen, and rustlers retold,
Over the pipes as the embers grow cold,
These are the tunes that old memories play,
Make me a cowboy again for a day.

HEFNERS COMEDIANS PLAYING TO FULL HOUSES

One of the most popular of the so-called tent stock companies are in Brownfield this week and are playing to full houses at every performance so far.

The Hefner people are perhaps the most noted players that make this part of the state, as they are not only a bunch of high class artists in both music and the stage, morally are classed with the best people in the land. No one of questionable character are permitted to play long with this company. This is one show where you get a square deal.

The management of the Hefner Comedians stand ever ready to help in any way to put West Texas to the fore, and to show their faith by their works are members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

This is their first trip to Brownfield, but they are so pleased with their reception here that we are sure it will not be the last trip by any means.

FINE RAINS VISIT OLD TERRY LAST WEEK

Thursday and Friday of last week fine rains, amounting to almost an inch visited this section of the South Plains, making the moisture meet everywhere and putting the land in fine shape for planting.

While the wind switched to the north and some noticed a thin sheet of ice a Sunday morning, nothing, not even the tenderest plants are thought to be hurt. No hail to amount to anything was reported. The rain seems to have covered the entire Brownfield trade territory.

You write and tell the folks down at the forks of the branch that the old goose is hanging sky high in old Terry.

NOTICE TO OUR NEIGHBORHOOD CORRESPONDENTS

As we have said several times before, we again repeat, that matter intended for these columns should reach the Herald office not later than Tuesday afternoon. When they arrive late Wednesday or Thursday, the paper for that week has done been made up or gone to press and we are obliged to leave them over, and the news matter by the next issue has become stale.

The Herald certainly appreciates the help rendered by our country or community writers, but again we ask that you mail your letter not later than Monday of the week you wish it to appear.

BROWNFIELD BAND GIVES CONCERT IN NEW UNIFORMS

The fact that the Brownfield Band would give a concert Sunday afternoon on the public square was well advertised Saturday afternoon by megaphone, and right then and there the public must have "smelled a rat," for it seemed that the whole country side was on hand Sunday afternoon for the concert, and we believe that most people, like ourselves, believed that the new uniforms had arrived, and were out to see them.

This is not saying that the people would not have come otherwise, for all people like to hear a good band and a good crowd would have come anyway, but there were perhaps 800 people on hand to hear them.

To say that the band boys look handsome and the band girls look sweet in their new uniforms is putting the matter mildly, and from the bluntest to the greatest are real proud of our band.

Also the class of music they render is up-to-the-minute, and ranges from the jazz to pure classic.

NEW MEXICO MAN TO PRINT MEADOW PAPER

Mr. White is an experienced newspaper man, is thoroughly conversant with the conditions in West Texas, and is in every way equipped to occupy the position of editor and publisher of the new paper.

STUDENTS PREPARING TO GO TO THE STATE MEET

Prof. M. M. Dupre, superintendent of Lubbock city schools, has just received a letter from P. N. Montgomery, traveling freight and passenger agent of the P. & S. F. Railway Company, stating that due to the number of interscholastics from the Canyon, Lubbock and Abilene districts that will attend the track meet at Austin May 1st, 2nd and 3rd, four special Pullmans and one day coach will be used on the special train making the round trip.

The interscholastics will leave Lubbock Thursday and will leave Austin for the return trip Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock.

The following schools in the Lubbock district will be represented, the number of contestants being given: Lubbock 8; Ralls 9; Slaton 1; Crossington 1; Spring Lake 1; Johnson School (Terry county) 2; Brownfield 1; Tahoka 3; Post 2; Snyder 2; Dickens 5; Floydada 5.

The Lubbock district will be represented by winners and if we come home with a majority of first prizes it won't be any surprise, Mr. Dupre stated Saturday.—Lubbock Avalanche.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN BED LAST WEDNESDAY

Neighbors found T. I. Foster, aged about 60, and a widower living by himself just south of town, dead in his bed last Wednesday morning.

Mr. Foster seemed to have arose from bed and was partly dressed, but seemingly lay down again across the bed, in which position he was found. Heart failure is given as the trouble.

His relatives were notified, and his sons, L. C. of Gorman, Texas, T. S. of Pittsburg, Texas, and L. F. of Salina, Texas, came, but only the former reached here in time for the funeral.

The body was taken in charge by the undertaking department of the Brownfield Hardware Co., and the body laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery, Thursday.

PREACHING AT CHURCH OF CHRIST SUNDAY

Sunday being the first Sunday in May, Elder Liff Sanders will be here from Lubbock to fill his regular appointment, and the increasing crowds show that his sermons are being appreciated here.

He will find that the little church here is out of debt again, having raised the balance on the seats last Sunday.

You will find a welcome at the church whose motto is: "Nothing to attract the worldly minded except the gospel, common and gospel singing."

GIRD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the neighbors and people of Brownfield for their kindness in the funeral of our father, T. I. Foster, who died alone at his home last week, especially because we are so far away and could not be present. We will never forget your kind attention.

L. C. L. F. and T. S. Foster, Sons.

G. C. Shaffer came through with another dollar, recently.

HARRIS HAPPENINGS

By Sand Bur.

Some time ago little J. W. Williams had the misfortune to get bitten by a large rattlesnake. Mr. Williams who was with him at the time, had a cake string in his pocket, with which he corded the little fellow's leg almost immediately. Then he took his knife and cut the flesh in three places after which he put it in a pan of kerosene for several minutes. He then put another poison, we failed to learn the name of it and started to a physician in Brownfield. His prompt action, cool headedness and his knowledge of what to do saved his little son's life. If other fathers and mothers and teachers to, could have the nerve to know just what to do, there would be fewer deaths from the deadly bite of the rattler.

S. T. Murphey and family called on Birt Clare and family Sunday afternoon.

Ben Hustos Tandy has been quite sick for a few days.

F. M. Ellington and family visited his brother, Marlin and family at Meadow, Friday. Also his father and brother, Floyd. His father has been spending the winter at Ft. Stockton with Mrs. Ellington and the girls, but when spring came he couldn't stand it to be idle any longer and came back to stir the clods for another crop. What a pity there are not more like him.

Those who attended the singing convention at Union Sunday were well paid for their trouble in going so far. The banner went to the Meadow class and the next convention will be at Gomez the 3rd Sunday in July, also the Saturday night before, which session we all want to attend, as it promises to be almost as good as the Sunday Singing.

Mrs. Maroney was on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Clark and children were also quite sick with colds this week.

The school children are much interested in preparing for the last night of school. We have two more weeks of school now.

Mr. Jones made a business trip to Brownfield this week.

Mrs. Jones visited Mrs. Maroney Sunday afternoon.

Looks now as if the rain man is going to make Terry county and vicinity quite during 1924.

A splendid season is in the ground and grass and weeds are humping themselves. Farmers are busy now shaping up matters for planting.

The Herald is gaining circulation faster now each week than it used to gain in a month. Our extras are all generally gone by noon Saturday.

We note that Luke Roberts has joined forces with Doc Jones in the publication of the Lovington Leader. They are a strong team, and we look for big improvements in that already splendid journal.

The Herald is working under very unfavorable circumstance during the construction of the new building, all light being cut off on the north making the old office very dark. As soon as we get in our new building we hope to give better service.

Many of the larger firms, including the Standard Oil Company, have quit bill-board advertising, giving two reason. First, that bill-boards mar the scenery of nature along the highways. Second, that newspaper advertising is better and cheaper.

W. F. Stewart returned this week from South Texas where he has been visiting, and to bring Mrs. Stewart home, who has been down there for some four months. He says rains are hindering planting and that the farmers are becoming uneasy fearing the ravishes of boll weevils.

A tip to the candidates: The farmers are going to be mighty busy men for the next few weeks and so wrapped up in his own affairs that he will have no time to spare to hear your tale of woe. For your own good and the good of the county, better lay off Mr. Farmer for awhile and "chin up" the business men, who will have all the leisure hours he wants.

LUBBOCK PLANS WEST TEXAS ORPHAN HOME

A West Texas Children's Orphan Home is to be located in Lubbock. The board of directors has been appointed, and plans are now being formulated for the erection of a $40,000 building to house the little ones.

The home will be located two miles from the courthouse on the Lubbock-Tahoka road. The basement and other excavations, together with the foundation for the main building are now complete.

Mrs. Percy Spencer and children, of Lubbock, spent the week end here the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal. Little Caroline is staying with her grand parents this week, also.

HUDSON MAXIM SLANDERS ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Hudson Maxim engaged in a radio debate with Mr. Daniel C. Roper through station WRC, Saturday April 12th.

Mr. Maxim's address contained not less than 20 absolute misstatements. This is the trouble with these kind of debates—the dyes are restricted to facts, and the wets are not restricted to, or by anything.

Mr. Maxim's mis-statements were were of no particular consequence, except in the case of one which constitutes a slander upon Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Maxim attributes to Lincoln the following statement:

"Prohibition will work great injury to the cause of temperance. It is a species of intemperance within itself, it goes beyond the bonds of reason, in that it attempts to control a man's appetite by legislation and makes a crime out of things that are not crimes. A prohibition law strikes a blow at the very principles on which our government was founded."

We will give Mr. Maxim $100 to prove that Mr. Lincoln ever made this statement. The thing is an atrocious fabrication, first appearing in a local option election in Atlanta, Georgia, many years ago, at which time it was used to influence the negro vote. There are no words too strong to characterize this sort of fakery. For Mr. Maxim particularly there is no excuse whatever because the apocryphal character of the quotation was long ago established beyond controversy.—EX.

JOLLY 16 CLUB

Mrs. Graham was hostess to the Jolly 16 Club Friday, April 18th. After a few enjoyable games were played, and I want you to know that we enjoyed the time spent there, a pair of cut glass flower vases were given to high score which was Mesdames Gracey and Kendrick. The cut prize given by Mrs. Ball and received by Mrs. Holgate.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Ditto, Kendrick, Holgate, Tiernan, Hancock, Winston and Gracey. The visitors were Mesdames Miller, May, Downing, M. V. and A. M. Brownfield. A lovely salad course was served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. May. A short business meeting was called and the name of the club changed to Friday Forty-two Club.—Reporter.

Dr. T. L. Treadaway leaves this week for Los Angeles, Calif. where he will attend a four weeks course of lectures at the medical department of the University of California. He will review obstetrics and proctology. He will be accompanied by his wife. Dr. H. A. Castleberry will look after Dr. Treadaway's practice while he is away.

Mrs. Ray Roberts, from Clovis, N. M., spent last week with her relatives here. Mrs. Ditto and daughters.

BLACK-BALLED BY MAN—SAVED BY CHRIST

At the Fulton street prayer meeting a man came in, and this was his story: He said he had a mother who prayed for him; he was a wild, reckless prodigal. Some time after his mother's death he began to be troubled. He thought he ought to get into new company, and leave his old companions. So he said he would go and join a secret society. He thought he would join the Odd Fellows. They went and made inquiry about him and found he was a drunken sailor, so they black-balled him. They would not have him. He then went to the Free Masons; he had no one to recommend him, so they inquired and found there was no good in his character. They didn't want him. One day some one handed him a little notice in the street about the prayer meeting, and he went in. He heard that Christ had come to save sinners. He believed Him; he took Him at His word; and in reporting the matter, he said he came to Christ without a character, and Christ did not black-ball him. That is Christ's way.—Beebe. (Ark.) Methodist.

MURDER BOLL WEEVIL

From South Carolina comes the story of a farmer who tried to find out how much heat and how much cold a boll weevil can stand. First he froze the weevil in a cake of ice and left it in ice for 24 hours. He then thawed the ice and the weevil stretched its wings and walked off. He again caught it and put it under a pan on a red hot stove and baked it for a long time and the pan got red hot and the bug got red hot, also. Then the farmer lifted the pan and the weevil flew out of the window and set the farmer's barn on fire. We are not advised what became of the bug. It probably lived to a ripe old age and did ample damage to the cotton crop and its name became legion. The story is told to illustrate how hard it is to get rid of the boll weevil when it once gets started in a cotton patch.—Higgins News.

STAFF OF LIFE IN MANY COUNTRIES

Various Methods of Making Bread Described.

Washington, D. C.—"Though bread may pose as the pancake, the cone, the tortilla, the carta di musica, and the biscuit in various countries, getting the wherewithal to buy it or the preparation of it is of necessity one of the chief interests of man and woman in every clime—even though in the South sea islands it grows on trees," says a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"The Arab woman digs a pit in the sand and builds a hot fire in it. Then she takes away the embers and places her dough on the hot sides. When the bread is done, she picks it off with a pair of tongs.

"Wrapping Paper" Bread.

"The deliciously crisp Persian bread which is bought in enormous fat pan-cake-like sheets sometimes 30 inches long, is prepared in a number of ways, but that customarily seen for sale in the capital city of Persia is baked in large ovens in which the dough is spread out on great piles of red-hot pebbles. And in olden days there was no profiteering in the staff of life in the Persian kingdom. A baker who left the straight and narrow path of his just profits was thrust into his own oven and nicely browned.

"In some parts of the Arab kingdom the husband does the household marketing and after having purchased various necessary commodities, he then buys a large sheet of native bread, which is of doughlike pliability, and rolls up his purchases in it.

"The Egyptian baker makes 'puff-balls' because he wishes to get the largest loaf out of the smallest amount of flour. One writer describes it as a hole wrapped in a crust. The dough is rolled out as thin as a pie crust and the edges of two pieces joined all around; the heat does the rest.

In Norway "Bread Hangs High."

"The Emsdalen woman follows a very interesting old custom. She bakes bread in the shape of people and animals for All Saints day.

"The Sardinian housewife has a big baking day once every week. Flour is kneaded in large earthenware bowls and rolled very thin on a table that is so low that the cook must kneel before it. Nearly every home has its own flour mill made of black lava and fashioned almost like those unearthed at Pompeii and Herculaneum. The woman performs the whole process of cleaning and grinding the wheat, sifting the flour, and baking the bread. She uses very little yeast and her baking must be done to a turn because the supply must last for a week. The large thin circular pieces are called 'carta di musica,' meaning paper to write music on.

"The well-known flat-bread of the Norwegian peasant is made by mixing coarse barley meal and water, rolling the dough thin and baking it over a round flat baking-stone under which a fire of fagots is kept burning. Enough of this bread is made at one baking to last a whole winter. Holes are punched in the cakes so that they can be strung on a pole and placed across the ceiling. It often happens in some of the peasant homes of northern Norway that a man can reach up and tear off a piece of this bread as he wants it.

Tortillas for Mexicans.

"In Syria the hearth is often two stones between which fagots are placed and the bread is cooked on an iron plate placed on top.

"Some of the Indian tribes of the Pacific slopes of the United States make a kind of flour from acorns which they soak in boiling water, mould into a flat cake and cook in the sun. The tortilla of the Mexican is almost as much a part of his costume or background as his huge peaked hat. It is a kind of flapjack which it takes a cultivated taste and a gastronomic trick or two to appreciate. It is made from Indian corn which has been parboiled and crushed into a paste and is baked on an iron or stone plate but not enough to make the tortilla brown.

"Cassava root makes one of the principal foods of the people of tropical America. From the coarse meal, somewhat resembling oatmeal, thin round cakes are made.

Scotch and Indians Have Scoons.

"In India the natives eat round, flat cakes of unleavened wheat bread called 'chapatties.' The cook shapes them with his hands and bakes them on a griddle on the coals. They resemble to some extent the thin sheets made of wheat flour and water, called scoons, which are eaten in Scotland.

"One of the most interesting of the unleavened breads is the Passover bread which has been used by orthodox Jews since the time of Moses. It is made much like the most primitive bread—a mixture of flour and water baked in round cakes—and resembles the wafers which remain of cakes made from coarsely ground grain which have been recovered from the Swiss lake-dwellings of the Stone Age. In those days, however, the grains used were barley and a one-grained wheat.

First Bread From Barley.

"Egyptologists believe that barley was the first grain used by the ancient in their bread-making. The wheat must have come into use soon after barley. Loaves of bread are represented in sculpture on ancient monuments. There were two quite familiar varieties—a small round loaf somewhat like our muffin and an elongated roll sprinkled on top with seeds like the modern Vienna roll. Incidentally, the Vienna roll was introduced into the United States during the Civil war when a 'war bakery' operated in the basement of the United States capitol turned out products to feed the populace of Washington.

"The Egyptians evidently first learned the use of leaven and taught it to the Greeks, Jews and Romans who passed it on through the nations they subjected.

"No story on bread would be complete without at least a reference to the black bread of Russia, which has for so long been the staff of life to the masses. The United States has its distinctly typical forms of bread, such as the hoe-cake, the corn-pone and the 'spoon bread' of Dixie, and the rich brown mass that is served with Boston's Saturday night beans."

Ancient Jade Axes Are Found in Philippines

Washington.—Jade axes, which have retained their cutting edge despite their age of 20 centuries, are among the relics obtained as a result of the first year's archaeological investigation carried on in the Philippines under the leadership of Dr. Carl E. Guthe, a scientist sent out for that purpose by the University of Michigan, according to advices from Manila.

These scientific explorations, it is declared, have revealed specimens of Chinese art as well as native Philippine relics dating back as far as 2,300 years. Some of the specimens being from the Tang, Sung and Ming dynasties of China. In addition there are many specimens of native Filipino handiwork which are expected to assist in clearing up beclouded points in the history of the islands.

Among the relics discovered were a number of skulls, which have been classified by Doctor Guthe as of three types. The most primitive of these was associated with the Stone Age implements, though some of these were quite highly developed and evidently used for cutting and shaping timbers for ships or boats.

The jade axes and adzes were found in the Pasig river at a depth of 20 feet or more.

1923 Was Greatest Year for Consumption of Meat

Washington.—Production and consumption of meat was the greatest in American history last year. An estimate made recently by the Department of Agriculture placed the consumption at 18,481,000,000 pounds. Detailed estimates of production, however, were not made public.

The per capita consumption was 107 pounds, or 17.3 pounds more than in 1922, when 1792 pounds per capita were consumed. Total consumption was 2,000,000,000 pounds over the average for the last five years, and the per capita consumption was 18 pounds over the average. Ninety per cent of the increase was represented by pork products. The per capita consumption was: Beef, 66.5 pounds; veal, 7.9; mutton and lamb, 5.2, and pork, excluding lard, 91.4 pounds. Lard consumption was 16.4 pounds per capita.

Operation Reduces Pain for Victims of Cancer

Philadelphia.—Dr. William G. Spiller and Dr. Charles H. Frazier of the University of Pennsylvania hospital recently announced the perfection of an operation to relieve pain in persons suffering from incurable forms of cancer.

The operation known as "rhizotomy" is a severing of the sensory nerves in the spinal column. It is performed only when the pain is too intense to be alleviated by drugs.

Doctor Spiller said the operation would not be entirely successful in every case "since some pain fibers occasionally will escape the knife." It had been performed sufficiently often, he added, to justify a belief in its efficacy.

To Put Swiss Flag on Seas

Geneva.—Measures with a view to permitting the Swiss flag to be flown on the high seas are under discussion by the federal authorities to enable Switzerland to maintain a merchant marine. Switzerland is without maritime legislation, although during the war merchant ships supplying her with food flew the Swiss flag. The question of a navy to protect a possible merchant marine has not been raised.

Missionary's Long Hair Cut as He Goes to Prison

Walla Walla, Wash.—Flowing hair and religion received a setback when "Rev." M. R. Catter, itinerant missionary, arrived here to begin serving a prison sentence for the theft of a motorcar. Catter wore his hair in long black tresses and declared before the court it was against his religion to cut it. He said he was a good mechanic, but because of his long hair he could not get a job.

But in the penitentiary here the vogue is clipped hair, so when Catter arrived the prison rules were not set aside.

HUMAN SKULL FOUND

A human skull which appears to be that of an Indian, judging from the high cheek bones, was found by Mr. Anderson on his place a few miles east of Tulsa. It was in the bank of Tule creek, just below the hackberry spring, and was partly embedded in the soft earth.

It is thought by many that this spring was a camping site in the early days of the American Indian, and probably that a village was there as there are evidences of a cemetery there. Many bones have been found of birds, mammals and other animals as well as human. The skull was almost in perfect condition except the lower jaw was missing, and the lower teeth were gone.—Tulsa Herald.

E. J. Powell made the effort feel good with a renewal recently.

We understand that there will be some five or six graduates from high school this year here, which is not a bad showing.—Saginaw Progress.

WHAT IS THE PURCHASING POWER OF THE DOLLAR?

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, speaking at Gloucester, Mass., said: "We hear much talk these days of the relative purchasing power of the dollar, which, many experts tell us, is in 1925 just 65 per cent of what it was in 1914. This discussion is unprofitable. Our 1924 dollar is worth 100 cents in 1924, and looking backward will not make it worth a penny more. We have adjusted ourselves on the 1924 dollar. We are paying more for things we need and we are constantly needing more things, but we are likewise earning more."

Gets Fishing License at 70

Jamestown, Pa.—A fishing license was issued recently to Mrs. M. J. Nicholson, seventy years old, Sugar Grove, south of Jamestown. Mrs. Nicholson has had a license every year since the licensing system began. She is an expert fishswoman and her advice on Chautauque lake fishing is eagerly sought by many Eastern vacationists.

Find Box of Gold Coins Hidden in an Old House

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Gold coins estimated at about $100,000 has been found here in a secret compartment of an old house which was being torn down, according to Adrian Leeson, who is demolishing the building to make way for the erection of an apartment house. The money, in an iron box, was found on the second floor in a panel in the wall, according to the statement of Leeson.

The house was built in 1860 by Jackson D. Knight, who was at that time president of the First National bank here. Knight and his wife have been dead for about thirty years. The house then was occupied by Knight's only daughter, Clara, who died some time ago. Upon her death it was sold to William Nelson, who is having it torn down.

Papers found with the gold are said to have indicated that the last time the secret panel was opened was in 1874. The money is being held by Leeson pending claim by heirs of Knight. As far as can be ascertained, Knight has no near relatives living.

Teaches Statesmen Art of Public Speaking

Miss Beatrice De Hollander has opened a speakers' studio at Knight's house. Many prominent members of the English law courts, members of parliament and civic officials are among her pupils who seek to become better public speakers.

606,054 Passengers Entered U. S. Ports

New York.—Figures submitted recently by W. C. Moore, landing agent at Ellis Island, show 606,054 passengers entered this port in 1925 in 1,002 liners. First-class passengers numbered 54,834; second, 214,561, and third, 336,559.

Vessels of the International Mercantile Marine made 104 trips to New York. The Canadian Line docked 120 vessels; the United States Lines, 104, and the French Line, 77.

Vessels of the United States Army transport service brought 824 passengers, including 12 trips from Cristobal and one from Ancon.

United States Lines vessels brought 45,948 passengers.

Sheriff Doesn't Fear Mob

Lafayette, Tex.—"I don't want any rangers here," declared Sheriff Warr in discussing his successful defense of the county jail against a mob. "When I can't handle my job, I'll quit and let some one else take my place."

We call your attention to the big price saving sale of Jones Dry Goods Co., to be held in this issue. When this firm puts on a sale, it is a sure enough sale and means something to the buying public. They give the same center the work too, even if they have a string of store and could, if so minded, make a big saving by having all the circulars made in one plant, as all the store have sales at the same time. Be sure and call this store during the sale.

Says Methuselah Died Too Soon

New York.—The cost of sickness in the United States year by amounts to $2,000,000,000, former Health Commissioner Dr. H. H. Henshaw recently told the Rotary club of New York in the Metropolitan hotel. He asserted it was possible to live six score years.

"Nearly every one dies prematurely," he declared. "Vital statistics show 4 per cent of our population die of old age and the 96 per cent prematurely. Investigation of the 4 per cent even shows that they might have lived longer."

"Even Methuselah died prematurely. He was drowned by the flood when 950 years old."

Mesopotamia

In the early history of the world Mesopotamia was an important, populous country. Certain small parts are naturally fertile, while the more and regions were made to produce by good systems of irrigation. As the land of the country declined these systems fell into disuse and the country became more and more of a desert.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

My intentions were when I announced for Sheriff to see every voter in the county before the primary, but sickness has prevented me from being at home. I am now under treatment of Dr. McCracken, of Mineral Wells, and will be here five or six weeks or longer. Will appeal to the voters of Terry county to give my claim due consideration. I have been in Terry county 19 years and all of the old timers know me. To the new comers who don't know me, will say that I have been farming ever since I came to the county, except three years that I worked for the Higginbotham Lumber Company. Served the county four years as Commissioner, and made the race four years ago for sheriff, being defeated by a small majority. I am a Democrat and believe in holding office 2 terms; believe in the strict enforcement of the law, and treating each and everyone alike, and if elected will try to do so.

If you don't know me ask someone who does. I have been living 19 years four miles east of Brownfield, in the Pleasant Valley Community. Ask my neighbor about me. When I get home I will try to see all of the voters I can, but if I miss you it won't be my intention. With these remarks I leave my claim with you.

REPUBLICAN STREET PARADE AND G.O.P. CIRCUS

Congressman Marvin Jones recently delivered a speech in the House which he styled the "Republican Parade and G. O. P. Circus," which bids fair to be come one of the most popular resumes of the Republican administration. Already he has received requests for hundreds of copies from members, both of the House and Senate. Several daily papers of the country have published the article in full, and requests are being received from those who have not had a chance to read the speech, saying they want a copy, and others requesting them for friends.

The speech is a satire on the Grand Old Party, containing a witty array of facts likened to the old time "hoodoo" circus, and is proving to be an interesting bit of the "literature of the day."

THREE MEN AND ONE MAN

Hon. Eugene Black, Congressman from Texas, in an argument in Congress in favor of a constitutional amendment to do away with tax-exempt bonds, said:

"There is nothing which contributes more to the spirit of tax evasion than for the taxpayers of the country, generally, to believe there is a large amount of wealth which is escaping is just part of the tax burden. With our present evil of tax-exemption which are growing in aggregation every year, in which situation we find ourselves?"

"The government in the person of its internal revenue tax-collector, calls on four of its citizens, Jones, Smith, Dubb and Dough, each of them having an income of $25,000 annually. Jones is a manufacturer; Smith is a business man; Dubb is a professional man; and Dough is a retired capitalist who gets his income by selling bonds from municipalities and state bonds. The government says: 'Come in Smith and Jones and Dubb; I have a word to say to you: I need money to support the army; the navy; I need money for national defense; I need $60,000,000 to discharge the obligation of wounded and disabled soldiers of the world war; I need money to pay the interest on the national debt and take care of the sinking fund; but Dough, you need not come in; your income is from state and city bonds. I will just throw your part of the tax on the already burdened shoulders of Smith, Jones and Dubb."

"I have always been lead to believe that Democracy means equal opportunity, and just as important, equal obligation. It is because I believe this pending amendment will compel the fulfillment of equal obligation that I will support it."

SMALL CYCLONE HITS THE SPUR COUNTRY

Recently, during the wind storm, a small cyclone swooped down on the Mrs. Kate Buchanan place in the Dry Lake community, with the result that the farm house was blown from the foundation and torn into kindling wood. The barn and other buildings on the place were also wrecked. The twister did damage only to this place. As a result of the wreck, Mrs. Buchanan is now having a new farm house and barn constructed on the place.—Texas Spur.

Mrs. Roberts, of Brownwood, is here visiting her mother, Mrs. Champion.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bowers, a girl the 24th inst. The young lady will bear the name of Bobbie Virginia.

A BRIEF BUT TRUE STORY OF TERRY COUNTY

TERRY County in West Texas, on the South Plains; forty miles southwest from Lubbock, on a branch of the Santa Fe Railroad.

It is a level prairie country which is 95 per cent tillable agricultural land, with an inexhaustible supply of good water at 100 feet.

The soil is red loamy, chocolate loam, ranging from sandy to mixed and tight land. Many quarters and halves can be had all of the same or part of either. Land can be bought in any-sized tract from $15 to $35 unimproved, and from $20 to $50 with improvements.

Terry county produces successfully with and above an average yield per acre and per year with Central Texas and Oklahoma. Corn, Cotton and all kinds of feedstuffs, garden truck, and especially fine for apples, grapes and other fruits. Splendid country for all kinds of livestock, poultry and dairying.

The average annual rainfall is about 22 inches. The normal yield of crops is one-half bale of cotton per acre; 40 bushels of corn. Altho the 1923 crop had less than 18 inches the average yield was one-third bale of cotton and 20 bushels of corn per acre, and other crops in proportion. 9,800 bales of cotton was ginned in Terry county last year.

The population now is practically 8,000, and Brownfield, the county site has some 2,000, ALL WHITE Americans. The society is the very best.

There are good schools and churches in the reach of every community and splendid roads throughout the county. Two tran-continental high-ways converge at Brownfield. Modern transportation, communication and industrial facilities.

Mild winters with lots of sunshine; pleasant summers with cool nights.

No Negroes, Mexicans, Mosquitoes, chills, malaria or boll weavils.

Terry county has exhibited at the Dallas Fair more years continuously perhaps than any other county of its size (population) and age in the state. It has taken many first prizes in many products each time, taking 21 blue ribbons in 1919, and 10 in 1921; also a number in 1922 and 1923 with keen competition.

It has also taken many prizes at other fairs, taking the first prize for two years continuously at the South Plains fair at Lubbock.

The City Council has passed a traffic ordinance with teeth in it, which is being posted this week, and will be published next week in the Herald. Now, we advise those drivers who always seem in a big hurry to get nowhere in particular, and those who cut corners and drive on the wrong side of the street to do so when Gene Brown is looking the other way.
