Mr. Roy Bailey, who bought cotton here last fall, but who has been residing at Lorenzo since the cotton season was over, married Miss Gladys Rosenberg, of Loveland, Col., last Sunday. They met at Carlsbad, N. M. last winter where the romance started that terminated in their marriage Sunday. They will make their home at Roswell N. M.

Jim Bowman, of Amarillo, was here the first part of the week on business. Jim came to Brownfield about the time the railroad got here and built the O.K. Wagon yard.

Rev J. P. Watson, pastor of the Methodist church, came in Monday from Wilson, where he closed a very successful meeting for the Methodist church at that place Sunday night.

Slim Baker, better known here as "Titanic Slim" local wrestler, came in this week from Wichita Falls, at which place he has been working for a large oil concern for some time.

Roland Brown returned this week from Temple, Texas, where he has been visiting relatives.

Mrs. Bill Smith and children, of Hereford, are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Walters. The Smiths are moving to Dallas.

G. B. (L) Swan has delivered the goods. He promised us a melon some time ago and drove up in front of the Herald office last week and invited us to pick 'em out. We did, and while it was no whale in size---just a good family sized melon---it was sure fine and dandy for eating purposes. Thanks, old friend.

Mrs. Floyd Stark, of Seminole, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bynum for the past two weeks, left Friday for home.

Mr. Payne, business man of Tahoka was prospecting in our city one day recently.

Dennis Rentfro got in from Tulia last week, where he had been visiting his parents. He reports a big wheat harvest up there.

Mrs. B. W. Nobles and children, of Hamlin, Texas, were here last week visiting Mrs. Nobles' sister, Mrs. W. H. Collins and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith, accompanied by their son, Mumford, left Monday for Keerville and other points in that vicinity.

Compound Interest

We often hear that Peter Minuet in 1624 paid the Indians only $24 for Manhattan Island. We are apt to think of this as a ridiculously small sum for what is today the most valuable piece of land of its size in the world; but we do not stop to think that if this original $24 had been invested by Peter Minuet at the rate of 7 per cent per annum and compounded every six months to date, it would have earned a sum equivalent to the assessed value of the entire city of New York, so it is said, including its streets, sewers, railways, subways, theaters, hotels, skyscrapers and palatial homes.---Thrift Magazine.

That Was Different.

I was calling on a friend one afternoon when our conversation drifted to an election. It was shortly after the time women were given the vote. I remarked that if some of the women would stay at home instead of trying to help so much, the election might have been different. My friend informed me then she had been out all day and thought she had done her duty. I made some excuse to go as soon as possible.---Chicago Tribune.

How Heat Affects Steel.

The heating of cast steel will affect the strength, either to increase or to decrease it, according to how the heating is done. Alloys ordinarily classed as "babblits" melt at a relatively low temperature---400 degrees C. (775 degrees F.) may be given as an approximate temperature at which most of such alloys are entirely molten. Heating cast steel to such a temperature ought not to change the material appreciably.

"Now, Arthur," asked the Sunday school teacher, "why did Adam bite the apple?"
"Maybe they didn't have knives in those days," answered the youthful philosopher.

The Herald ad columns is your card index to the business men of Brownfield. Look through it; your favorite merchant is advertising.

Lots of lumber is being hauled out now for cotton pickers' shack and for new graineries. The Lord of the harvest has certainly smiled on old Terry this year.

The battle has been fought out at the polls. Now let all settle down for the next two years and build up our city and county. Then, if you want to scrap it out again, go to it. But there is no use to keep it up for the next two years.

Don't let your business keep you away from the school house next Monday morning. You are expected and no one else can fill your place. Some one else, however, can fill your place in the store or shop for a few hours. Let's all who have children, especially be on hand and have the biggest opening in the history of our schools. Come one, come all.

Good roads was what built mighty Rome. Good roads lead from the seat of the Roman empire to all places. The inhabitants of the earth came, beheld, admired—and traded with them. While we do not wish to emulate Rome in all things, their good road system could well be patroned by us. Make all roads lead to Brownfield, and let them be good ones.

Brownfield has seemed like a new place for the past few weeks. The little groups you see on the streets now are not discussing politics, but the condition of crops. They are not cussing their neighbors that honestly disagreed with them, but are talking about the building boom that is coming; how we are to take care of the influx of new scholastics; how we are to improve our roads, etc. The change is a happy one. In some instances those who made each other sore over the election have shook hands and made up. Big men and women forgive and forget. That is the only kind we have.

They think an Illinois crazy man is a woman hater, but they are wrong—the woman haters are women.—Amarillo Daily News.

But no woman hates herself.

A FARMER'S EDITORIAL

There are good reasons other than civic pride why you and I should stand back of our home trading center. Our farms are worth more than the markets will pay for them. No one wants to live near a dead town. Good schools, good churches, accessible transportation facilities, good roads, progressive congenial people, reliable banks, wide-awake, up-to-date merchants, a first class local newspaper are things looked for in selecting a home, as well as fertile soil and well conditioned buildings. A careful survey was made of 650 farms about a certain town. Seventy-nine farms were within two miles of town and had an average value of $78.70 per acre. One hundred and eighty-three farms were located in the two to four-mile belt from town and had an average value of $70.20 per acre. One hundred and twenty-six farms four to six miles from town averaged $60.90, and one hundred and thirteen farms six to eight miles out, $58.20 per acre. The remaining 149 farms, located more than eight miles out, had an average value of $55.90 per acre. Of course these values are in proportion to distance, but if distance from town has had such an influence on farm values, the quality of that town must be, just as important. We are each one a part of our home center, whether we live within its corporate limits or not. I am just as much interested in having a good store from which to buy as the store is interested in me as a customer. I am just as much dependent upon a good school and church to serve my family as the church and school are dependent upon me to support them. The success of one is interwoven with the success of the other. The live town is the town to tie to, but the life of the town is dependent upon you and me.—The Dairy Farmer.

HARRIS HAPPENINGS

By Sand Bur.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Murphy and children took the former's mother and brother back to Knox county Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Murpley will visit friends and relatives there for several days.

Virgil Ely had the misfortune to have a horse fall on him Sunday. It bruised him up somewhat, but no serious injury resulted.

People are rejoicing over the good prospects of a new gin at Tokio.

M. E. Ellington and family left Saturday for Fort Stockton where they will visit the former's parents and sister a few days.

J. R. Hill spent Friday night with his daughter, Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass and family.

Our long delayed rain came this week. The crops and people are now looking and feeling better.

Charley Jones and family have been attending the meeting at Tokio.

Dewey Murphey and family spent Thursday night with the Stice family at Johnson.

Roy Fitzgerald is on the sick list this week.

Every person holds some talent in their hands, and it rests with them what use shall be made of it. Our hands are never empty and if it be good deeds and kind acts that we hold and give freely and gladly to humanity as we journey along thru life, we can be sure that the supply will never be diminished, but like the widow's oil, will be replenished. The more we give, the more we will have to give, and the more joy we will experience in the giving, for there is no limitation to the source from which goodness and love come. But if we, through indifference or carelessness put our talents to no use, they, like the buried talent are valueless—benefiting no one.

Judges O. W. Gillespie and Geo. W. Neill left Sunday for Austin where they are delegates to the Democratic State Convention. We imagine they will have a glowing report if they get to help run the steam roller—but if the worm turns—we don't expect much of a report.

A NOTED SURGEON ADVISES THE BOYS

"Keep yourselves free from all entangling habits. We have tried to give you a field free from the barricades which used to be kept up by the legalized liquor traffic.

It is through the boys of today that we hope to see a sound and everlasting exhibition worked out in this country.

"You will hear on every side men bewail the loss of their drink, of their personal rights, but the rights of the few who cannot see ahead or have the future of their nation at heart must be regulated to safeguard that great body of future citizens who are now ready to step into the ranks. You boys have something ahead of you in the problem of preventing the return of liquor.

"It is the brain that counts, but in order that the brain may be kept clear you must keep the body fit and well. That cannot be done if one drinks liquor." Dr. Charles Mayo, noted surgeon at Y. M. C. A. Convention at Rochester, N. Y.

All Work Goes Forward

Every department of the general missionary, educational and benevolent work fostered by Southern Baptists has been greatly enlarged and strengthened by the campaign, it is reported, while a suggestion of the development that has come in the activities and liberality of the local churches as a result of this forward movement is furnished in the following statement of progress along general lines, furnished by the headquarters office:

Comparing the growth of the denomination during the five years preceding the Campaign with the five years since that program was projected it is shown that during the last five years the following advances were recorded over the previous corresponding period: 1562 more new churches organized, a gain of 223 per cent; 241,966 more new members gained, an advance of 68 per cent;

a gain of 27 per cent; 1,603 more of 117 per cent; and $57,147,004 cent.

Complete Collections Now

In the hope of completing the collection of all Campaign subscriptions by the close of this year and securing cash offerings from those Baptists who did not subscribe to the five-year program an intensive effort during the remainder of the summer and fall will be waged throughout the South under the general leadership of Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director, with the co-operation of the various state mission offices and the officers and workers in the nearly 1,000 district associations. It is planned that the interests of the denomination shall be adequately set forth at all of these associations in their annual meetings in the hope that the delegates to the associations will in turn carry the message back to their local churches and secure the co-operation of these churches in fully completing the Campaign program so as to clear the way for the next forward program, beginning January 1, 1925.

Dr. C. E. Burts, former general secretary of the Baptist work in South Carolina, has assumed his duties as general director of the 1925 program and announces that he believes the program for next year can be most successfully launched by the satisfactory completion of the 75 Million Campaign during the remaining months of 1924. While making his plans for the projection of the new program, he is co-operating fully with Dr. Scarborough in the completion of the old one.

Fictitious Marvels

There recently appeared in Vancoo-ver, B. C., a man who was credited with performing marvelous cures.
Thousands attended his meetings, and tremendous stories went about as to his powers. Finally twelve honest and capable men investigated him, and discovered that not a single marvelous thing could be credited to him; that the thousands who told wonderful tales were indulging in plain falsehood. This is also the history of every other marvelous thing.—From E. W.
Howe's Monthly.

National Forest Visitor

The prominent part the 146 national forests play in the recreational activities and outdoor life is emphasized by the fact that almost 10,000,000 persons visited these forests during 1923, according to the final tabulation made by the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture.

The importance of the automobile as a means of conveyance to recreation seekers is shown by the further fact that more than eight out of ten forest visitors, or more than 8,000,000, came in privately-owned cars.

Soap for Window Sashes.

Window sashes will run smoothly and without any noise if the inner part of the frame is well rubbed with a dry cake of soap. The same treatment ensures the free movement of drawers which often do not slide in and out readily. Furniture in rooms that are covered with linoleum often makes a good deal of noise when it is moved about. All this can be avoided by gluing discs of felt or rubber, cut from an old hot water bottle, on the bottom of the legs or by attaching silencers bought ready-made.

Pelican Was Too Greedy.

On the River Murray, Australia, where the water shallows near the shore, a pelican was seen to seize a swimming snake, apparently thinking that it was a fish. It clutched the snake in its huge beak and dragged it ashore, though it was five feet long.
There it swallowed it. When the fisherman who witnessed the feat looked at the bird again it was lying dead, and the snake could not be seen, but a hole in the bird's crop showed how the reptile had made its escape.

Language of the Sea.

It might be thought that the word admiral is a typical English expression. Its origin, however, is Emir el Bagh, which is Arabic for "Lord of the sea." The term captain comes to us direct from the Latin caput, meaning head. The coxswain was originally the man who pulled the afteroar of the captain's boat, then known as the "cock's boat." Cock-boat itself is a corruption of the word coracle, a small round boat used for fishing. Commander is nothing more than the Italian Comandatore, or commander.

FORTY KIOWA INDIANS TO ATTEND TRI-STATE FAIR

Amarillo.—Forty Kiowa Indians will add realism to the Pageant of the Plains, the spectacular night entertainment of the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition, according to definite arrangements made last week.

These Indians, according to Mike Hollander, who made a special trip to Fort Sill reservation to arrange for their coming, are "tame enough for comfort, but have wild ways." They will come with their teepees, papooses and ponies and set up an old time Indian village at the fairgrounds, and in addition to participating in the pageant, will give exhibitions of their own, depicting every incident in the life of an Indian village of three score years ago, and including the dances of their ancestors.

Among the Indians will be I-See-O, oldest Indian scout, who has been in the government service for 50 years. I-See-O scouted for General Miles and General Scott, and though 78 years old, is still in the service. Special permission has been obtained at Washington for I-See-O to come.

While sparing no efforts to fill the main mission of depicting the resources of the Plains region, officials of the exposition intend to make this the greatest amusement week ever staged in the Southwest. Music, races, fireworks, pageant and carnival attractions fill every moment from the time the gates open in the morning until they close at night. A real "midway" is promised by the Cotton Belt Carnival Company, which is to make this territory for the first time.

Latin Make Much of Fair-Haired Beauties

The ability to admire a stunning woman without flying off the handle is a gift of Anglo-Saxon manhood that is greatly appreciated by American beauties after a taste of the embarrassments that await a blond in a Latin country.

Such is the power of fair-haired comeliness over Mediterranean masculinity that a lone woman of Nordic race is likely to be startled and alarmed at being forced to run a distressing gauntlet of undisguised admiration from total strangers.

When a respectable Latin catches sight of a golden-haired charmer he goes utterly mad. He can't take his eyes off her, but is impelled to prouette around her like a Japanese dancing mouse and tell the world how magnificent she is.

A New York woman who returned home recently after a visit to Italy relates that one day when she was "window shopping" she became aware that two men were following her. She was able with some concentration to muster up enough knowledge of Italian to understand snatches of their gesticulating conversation, and found that she was the subject. The short man wobbled alongside of the fat one and sighed as he remarked to his companion:

"Such beauty—she is like a white rose."

The fat one rolled his dark eyes and contradicted him.

"But no, see how her cheeks flush—she is like a pink rose."

"She is like an angel," ejaculated Fatty.

These tributes to her beauty were entirely wasted on the fair American. When she neared an officer of the law she wheeled around, pointed the two men out and demanded that they be arrested.

The officer looked at the irate, flushed complainant, who made a ravishing picture, and with a bow announced to her:

"Signorina, I cannot arrest these men. They should be complimented. They have been guilty of doing nothing but showing excellent judgment and appreciation of beauty."—New York Sun.

Llama Has Double Value

The llama is employed as a beast of burden in parts of South America chiefly in Peru, Chile, and Bolivia, and it is also valuable as the producer of a fiber commonly called wool, although it might be called a kind of camel hair. With respect to wool of hair, the most valuable of the llamas are those belonging to a species known as paca, or more generally alpaca. This kind of llama resembles a sheep but with a longer neck. It produces a fine long wool or hair, usually dark brown in color or black. From this material are made several kinds of very durable and handsome fabrics—women's dress goods as a rule.

Castoreum.

Castoreum is a substance produced by a pair of glands in the anal region. It has a peculiar odor which is neither strong nor unpleasant, and is attractive to various animals, among them the beaver itself. Hence it is used as a bait by fur trappers, a little of it being placed in such a position that the beaver or other creature sought is caught in coming to it. It is used in the manufacture of perfumes, and was formerly recommended in medicine as a stimulant and antispasmodic, and has been prescribed for more than 2,000 years; and it still has a market value.
