Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS

By the Secretary

Some 3,000 people heard the Brownfield band at Littlefield last Sunday, and it looked as if half that many more were there but could not find any place to get near enough to enjoy the numbers. The band was scheduled to appear on the program at 1:00 P.M., immediately following the big chicken barbecue, and as the hands of the clock reached that point Director John S. Powell's baton raised for the opening number. Littlefield received the band very cordially and the people seemed very much pleased with the musical numbers, and many favorable conversations were heard to be going about Brownfield and her farming lands—which led us to believe that the band is one of our best assets and advertisers.

The Lubbock people gave the band a very glad hand Sunday evening at 6:30, and were appreciative and generous with their applause and freely complimented our organization as being well rounded out and presenting a balanced musical program.

The Chamber of Commerce is indebted to the following progressive business men and citizens for their assistance in transporting the band on its Sunday trip in their cars:

Fred Smith, E. A. Graham, E. G. Alexander, Andrew Copeland, Pat Crothers, R. L. Graves, W. H. Collins, M. E. Spear, J. E. Michie, F. M. Ellington, T. H. Wilson, R. M. Goodpasture, W. A. Bynum, Frank Ballard, and B. J. Johnson.

Next Monday night at 8:45, in the American Legion Hall, a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held. Every member should be present and every business house in town should be represented there. On this night there will be no services held in conjunction with the revival, therefore we can make our arrangements to be at this Chamber of Commerce meeting.

BYPU PROGRAM

The local BYPU will make a trip to the Johnson school house Sunday afternoon and render the following program at 3:30.

LOCAL MERCHANT LOSES SON LAST SATURDAY

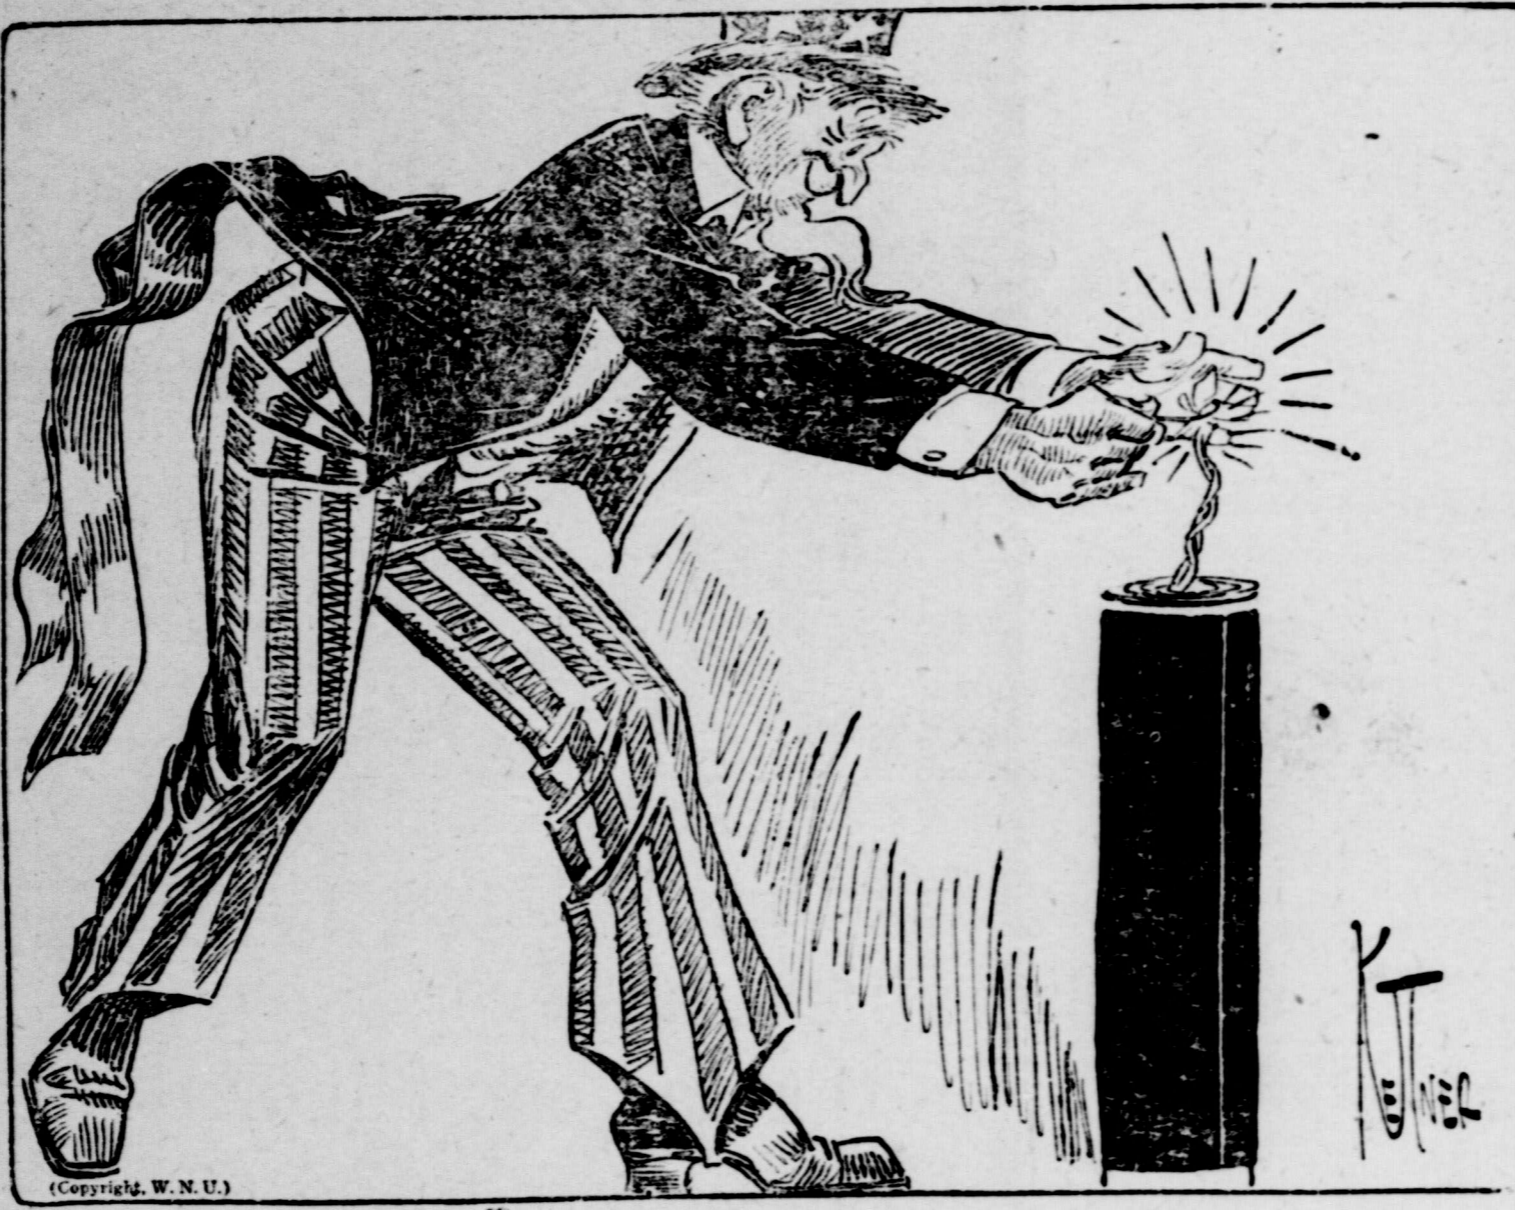

John Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bailey of this city, died about 8:00 A.M. Saturday, following an illness which finally ended in paralysis and death. John was a little more than seven years of age.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence in the east part of town by Rev. C. E. Ball, at 6 P.M. Saturday, and the body laid to rest immediately following in the Brownfield cemetery.

The Herald joins the many friends of the family in offering condolence in this their hour of grief.

B. M. Wade, prominent farmer of the Tokio community, was in to see us one day recently.

ROAD BOND ISSUE LOST LAST SATURDAY

Only 548 of the nearly 24,000 qualified voters took enough interest in the proposed $200,000 road bond issue last Saturday to express their preference one way or the other, and the issue may have been lost by default. Indifference to the matter seemed to be the position of three-fourths of the qualified voters, for perhaps at least 2,000 of the 24,000 are taxpaying citizens. The issue was hit hardest by county line boxes, with the exception of Tokio, which gave it a 10 to 2 vote for the bonds.

We are informed that according to statistics, good roads measures have to be voted on three times before the citizens are educated up to the fact that good roads are less expensive than bad ones. We hope however that this will not be the case with old Terry, but that she will express her progressiveness and put them over in good style next time.

There is, however, some talk now of creating a district through the county from east to west, and bonding it for good roads, which would give Brownfield and the other towns an immense east and west travel.

The measure lacked 163 votes according to unofficial count getting a two-thirds majority, which is required on road bond issues. Following is the semi-official count of the 15 county boxes.

FORMER BROWNFIELD MAN PLAINVIEW C. OF C. HEAD

Plainview, June 22.—Boice Cardwell, former citizen of Lubbock and Brownfield, and now manager of the Royalty Motor Co., at Plainview, was recently elected as president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, following a residence of 18 months in this city. While in Lubbock Mr. Cardwell was a member of the Kiwanis club, and was active in a great deal of civic work.

He was formerly connected with the Royalty Motor Co., at Lubbock, and prior to that time manager of a lumber yard at Brownfield, where he was practically raised.

THE PLUNG BATHING POOL IS OPEN FOR THE SEASON

The people of the South Plains are deprived of creeks and rivers of the older section of this state. In fact there are no "sich critters" here, and as a consequence, public or private bathing places have to be provided if we have them, artificially. This, in the main is better, while costing more to the "consumer," is better from the standpoint that the pure, under ground water of the Plains is used instead of the oft times stagnant variety of creeks and rivers.

However, these bathing places always bring on the discussion of the mixed bathing of the sexes, which we do not care to air here, except to say that the opinion of people are continually changing, and they who go up against popular opinion or convention are wasting good labor. The writer is here minded that he never saw a lady ride astride until he came to Terry county, that method being considered very unconventional in the eastern sections of the state, and we felt like the first woman we saw riding that way had disgraced herself. Yet medical science says that is the only proper way for ladies to ride safely. So, it is said that at the seaside resorts, people think no more of mixed sex bathing than they do of mixed sex eating. It is just a matter of what you are used to.

But what we started out to say was that Mr. and Mrs. Harris have opened up the "Big Plung" for the season, and many of our citizens are getting the spring sand out of the hides, and having a delightful time while at it.

"PEEPING TOM" ACTIVE IN CITY OF O'DONNELL

"Peeping Tom" has made his appearance in O'Donnell again. He was seen taking a squint thru windows at residence in the northeast part of town on two nights last week.

Some of the people have provided themselves with bulldogs and others with shotguns to give the intruder a cure for the peeping disease, and if he keeps it up, the Index will probably have the pleasure of recording how the prescription works. Last year he annoyed the residents of this part of town for a few nights, by peeping himself outside of windows. Evidently the man has a harmless mania for not attending to his own business.—O'Donnell Index.

FOUNDATION FOR MEADOW GIN TO BE FINISHED SOON

The foundation for the new gin, being constructed by Parks & White is nearing completion. Some delays are being caused on account of not having enough cement, but the foundation will be completed in a few days. The frame work will go up immediately and the new machinery is expected to arrive at any time.—Meadow Review.

FIRST BROWNFIELD ICE TAKEN FROM VATS SUNDAY

Brownfield food, water and bottled drinks are now being cooled with Brownfield ice, and the Brownfield and Brownfield trade territory people all join in thanking the Texas Utilities for the nice ice plant they have seen fit to put in our midst and the fact that they are now fellow citizens and town builders with us.

The first batch of ice began to be taken from the containers Sunday afternoon, and was found to be equal if not superior to that in storage received from the Lubbock plant. It was firmer and clearer, giving a more glassy appearance, and it is said will not melt so fast. A slight mistake was made in the formula, as the one for the old Brownfield water well was used instead of the new city well which requires less lime and alum.

It is thought that from this on the ice made here will even be prettier than the first run.

MUST MAKE SCHOLASTIC TRANSFERS BEFORE AUG. 1

In conversation one day this week with J. E. Shelton, who is working in the County Supt. department, he informed us that it was very important that all transfers from one common school district to another, or from common to an independent or vice versa, be made before the first day of August, as positively no transfers may be made after that date.

Lots of people fail to do this, and send their children to another school and expect them to be instructed free while all state monies appropriated for them remains in the other district. This is not fair to the larger district, which have all the burden of higher grades to carry for the entire county, and the state appropriation hardly starts the per capita expense for our larger schools.

TEXAS UTILITIES BUY CAP ROCK POWER PLANT

A deal was consummated here Tuesday in which the Texas Utilities Co. of Lubbock, became the owner of the Cap Rock Light & Power Co.

We did not ascertain the plans of the Texas Utilities Co. in regard to the plant here, but according to Mr. Guy, they will take charge July 1.

Mr. Guy retains the Dairy plant. He stated that he had not made his plans for the future.—Crosbyton Review.

MEADOW BARBER SHOP CHANGED HANDS LAST WEEK

T. T. Lindsey sold the Meadow Barber and Tailor Shop this week to Albert Hardin, formerly of this place. Mr. Hardin is known to be a first class barber.

Mr. Lindsey intends to remain at Meadow, we understand.—Meadow Review.

SMALL TWISTER VISITS LYNN COUNTY COMMUNITY

The house in which J. P. Jordan and family resided on the L. M. Nurdyke place in the Midway community was completely destroyed and the entire family of three were painfully but not seriously injured when a small twister struck the house and tore it into kindling wood on Tuesday night of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan and son, each received bruises about the body and limbs but no bones were broken. The hail that accompanied the wind was terrific, "and nearly beat us to death," Mr. Jordan stated Saturday. "My wife and I were at the window when the storm struck. She clung to a feather bed which was wrapped around her by the wind and prevented more serious injury from hail.

A chicken house was also wrecked, and nearly all the chickens killed. Crops in the immediate vicinity were ruined, but the territory is limited to a small area. As soon as the intensity of the storm abated, my son went to Mr. Nurdyke's house, and he came to our rescue with quilts. We waded thru water to his residence.—Tahoka News.

SAFE CRACKERS CAUGHT IN WEST TEXAS TOWNS

Sheriff Terry, of Fisher county has played an active part in the recent capture of three safe blowers who operated in this section. One man was caught at Abilene, one at Plainview and the other at Snyder. It is said the Abilene prisoner confessed and implicated the others.

It will be remembered several safes were broken into here and a store entered at Longworth.

Other crimes are said to be charged against them at other points and it is possible that they may not be returned here immediately.—Rotan Advance.

OLD PASTIME THEATRE BEING REMODELED

Workmen have just completed the remodeling of the 25x100 feet brick building, belonging to Fred Smith, on the north side of the square, and it now has a neat and finished appearance with its big show windows of plate glass.

We did not learn whether or not Mr. Smith has leased the building at this time or not, but with the present outlook, such a desirable location will not long be idle.

FULL FACULTY TO TECH COLLEGE NOW SECURED

With 50 teachers selected and all of whom have signed contracts, the faculty for the first year of the Texas Technological College has been completed with the exception of one member, Dr. Paul W. Horn stated yesterday. The one remaining position, that of professor of English will be filled within the next few days, and he is practically assured of the man he wants for the place, the president announced.

R. M. Chitwood, formerly of Sweetwater, and an ex-member of the state legislature and Texas Educational Commission, has made his home here and has already taken hold of the business management of the college, to which place he was appointed by the board of regents. He has the details of his office well in hand, having had little trouble in beginning the work, so close has he been in touch with conditions since the legislature first passed the bill creating the establishment of the college.—Plains Journal.

13 NEGROES GIVEN PARDONS BY TEXAS GOVERNOR

Austin, June 17.—Thirteen negro convicts will remember June 19 emancipation day, as an emancipation day in truth, because just this many pardon proclamations for "forgotten negroes" were signed by Governor Ferguson to be placed in effect on the holiday so popular among negroes.

The governor intended to issue 30 in all, but the clerical force in the secretary of state's office was unable to stand up under the unprecedented demands, and the other negroes will be forced to accept their June-tenth reward on a later date.

A new illuminating gas, which is said to be non-asphyxiating and to have double the heat value and candle power of ordinary manufactured gas, is said to have been invented by Dr. O. U. Bean, the inventor of the Bunsen furnace.

BROWNFIELD MERCHANTS TAKE PRIDE IN WINDOWS

It is hard work. It takes study and an artistic mind and a skilful touch. It takes the patience of Job these days to keep the plate glass free of fly specks, but the Brownfield merchants and their employes keep on the job, and as a consequence, we have some of the prettiest show windows in Brownfield you ever saw.

The show window almost declares the character of the firm on the inside. If the show window is clean, and neat, you will find the proprietor almost invariably the same way. He has a neat, clean and well selected stock of goods on the inside, and he thinks enough of them that he wants you to see a sample of them.

Besides, it is a good advertising scheme. Many times the sight of an article in the show window reminds the buyer that it is needed in the home, and wherever he sees it there is the place the purchase is made nine times out of ten.

This is further verified by the fact that when a manufacturer buys advertising from a local paper, they will insist that the publisher help in getting the local dealer to make up a nice display of the goods advertised. The two, newspaper advertising and window displays pull together.

"HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME" COMING TO RIALTO

Unusual interest attached to the presentation of the Universal special "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," at the Rialto Theatre July 6th and 7th. For months it has been widely heralded as the last word in cinema art, but this was taken with the proverbial grain of salt until after the world premier at the Astor Theatre in New York City. The Gotham critics shattered all precedents by using up more adjectives of praise than even the most intrepid press agent would dare employ.

Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, realized the great risk he took in making changes in the great masterpiece of Victor Hugo; changes which he defended, however, on the ground that a drama must entertain all classes, anything offensive to any religious denomination must be deleted. And, strange to say, all of the changes were heartily endorsed by the critics.

Lon Chaney, one of the greatest character actors on either stage or screen, plays the roll of "Quasimodo," the hunchback. He is supported by such well known players as Patsy Ruth Miller, Ernest Torrence, Norman Kerry, Nigal de Brulier, Tully Marshall, Brandon Hurst and Gladys Brockwell. There are 75 principals and 3500 extras in the cast.

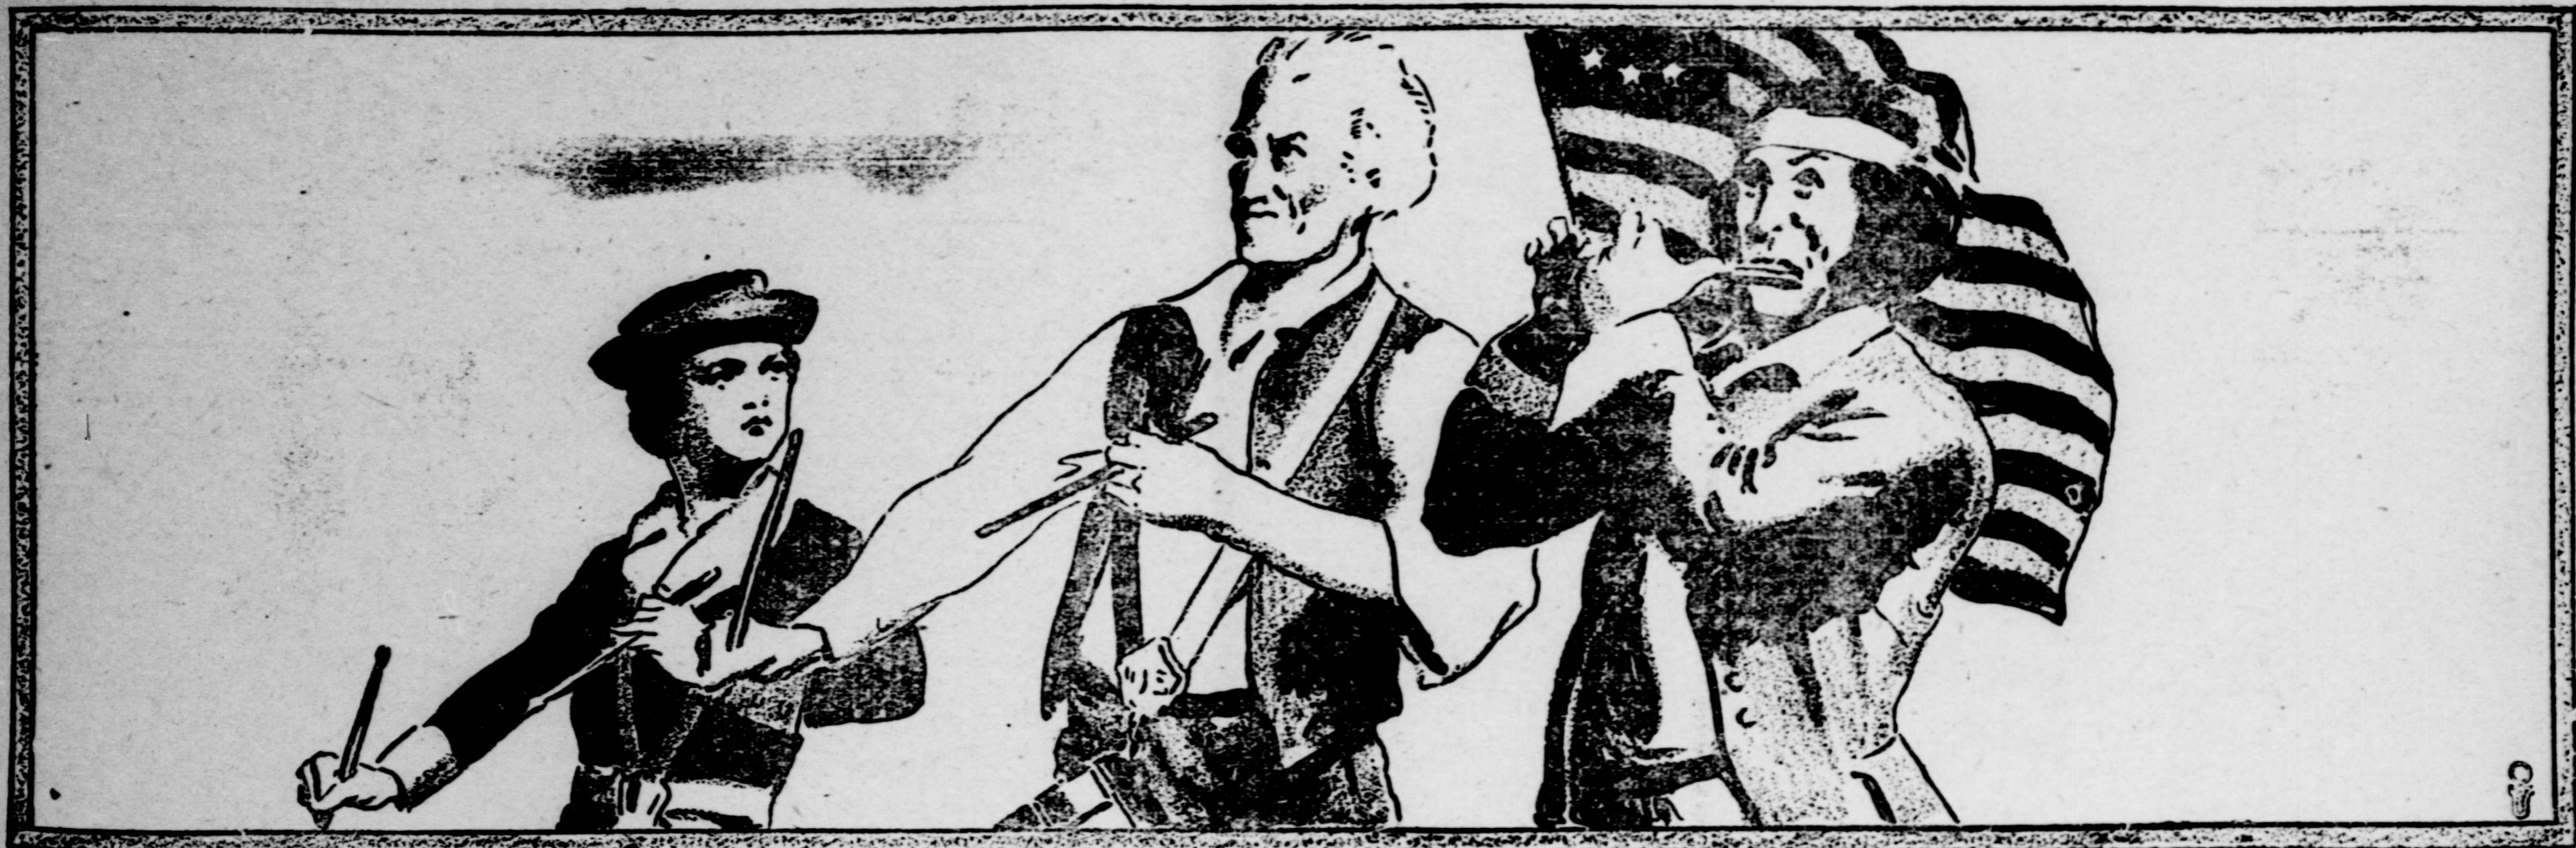

The entire Cathedral of Notre Dame was constructed at Universal City, as well as eight squares of Parisian streets and houses of the period of Louis XI.

Several curious persons have asked if it would not have been more feasible to have taken the company to Paris and "shoot" the scenes there rather than go to the expense of building the costly sets at Universal City. There is no question but that this would have cut the cost of construction work in half, but what many persons fail to realize is that obtaining permission from the authorities of the French and church governments to photograph the Cathedral itself was something that was impossible. They have constantly refused similar requests.

The task of building the settings for this production was one of the most stupendous ever undertaken. Carl Laemmle sent a staff of twenty technical experts to Paris, where they spent six months in running through library files and prowling thru dusty archives in order to get each detail true to the period of the picture. Incidentally, this is another reason why it was impossible to film the production in Paris. The French metropolis of today is not the same city it was in the days of Louis XI.

Probably no stage or screen drama has been given such uniformly high praise from critics from coast to coast as the "Hunchback." For the first five months its world premier it was shown only in the largest legitimate theatres of the larger cities of the country. This was a severe test for any picture, and the fact that it came through with glowing colors, shows what a wonderful film it must be.

The tropics produce some 240 million cocoanuts each year, which bear an annual crop of...

The Spirit of '76

Let us all join in making this the most Glorious Fourth that Brownfield has ever known. Our nation, founded on this day one hundred and forty-nine years ago, has grown to be the greatest nation in the world, and we, as an integral part of that nation, are justified in celebrating the day of its birth in a manner that will prove our independence.

We wish this Fourth to be the best ever in Brownfield.

Testing Gold

To test gold, dig the point of a into it, and if it powders it is not gold. Gold is richly yellow, but to tell it from pyrites when in very minute flecks, turn it so that the light catches it from various directions. Gold will not alter in shade, but pyrite does. A drop of nitric acid will cause a fuming on pyrites, but does not affect gold.

You must pan creek sands and gravels to find gold. It may be near surface, but generally the heaviest deposits of placer gold are on and close to bed rock, which may be a few feet or many feet deep. Gold placers are best found in a big bend in a creek, which allows it to be deposited, or on the upper side of a reef or ledge crossing the stream. Sometimes it is a dry deposit, up where the stream formerly flowed, and is called a "bench" placer.

Gold is worth a little more than $20 per troy ounce and is paid for at mints or smelters at the rate of about that price after refining.—Victor Shaw, in Adventure Magazine.

Bachelor Percentage High

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Sammie Myers by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 72nd Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 72nd Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the Honorable District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Brownfield, on the fourth Monday in July A. D. 1925, the same being the 27th day of July, A. D. 1925, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1925, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 224, wherein J. E. Myers is Plaintiff, and Sanflora Myers is defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff is and has been for a period of twelve months prior to exhibiting this petition, an actual bonified inhabitant of The State of Texas, and has resided in Terry County for at least six months next preceding the filing of this petition; that on or about February 9th, 1923 plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married in Greer County, Oklahoma; that immediately after said marriage defendant began a course of harsh tyrannical treatment toward plaintiff by reason of which action plaintiff was forced to and did permanently abandon the defendant on the 11th day of February, 1923, since which time plaintiff and defendant have not lived together as husband and wife.

That during the time plaintiff and defendant lived together as husband and wife, plaintiff was kind and considerate of her; but defendant, un mindful of her marital vows, immediately after the marriage ceremony was completed, began a course of unkind, harsh, tyrannical treatment toward plaintiff, nagging and abusing him, which conduct on defendant's part continued until plaintiff was forced to permanently abandon the defendant as aforesaid; the said marriage relations between plaintiff and defendant still exist.

That defendant's actions and conduct toward plaintiff generally are of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable, the premises considered.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited as the law directs, for judgement dissolving the marriage relations existing between plaintiff and defendant, for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, Texas, on this the 13th day of June, A. D. 1925.

Not a few farmers have called at the Herald office this week for the grasshopper receipt printed in the issue of May 1st. Don't expect results too soon, but be patient, and don't wait until the hoppers have almost ruined you to begin.

Not all the eruptions of the household are caused from "Cave Man" stuff these days. The "Cave Woman" comes in for its full share or rough-neck methods these days. This is evidenced by the fact that a negro man of Lubbock is laying up with various and sundry wounds this week, while his "Cave Mate" languishes in jail.

San Antonio got the Texas Press Association meeting for 1926. It has been a long time since that historic old city has entertained the press gag, and many of the newer ones, like ourselves, have never seen this old Texas city which shelters the famous old Alamo and other interesting old missions. We'll do our very best to get there.

We think that some of the best compliments that can be said of a man is that he done what he could! That was one of the highest compliments that the Master paid Martha. It is not a compliment to be taken lightly.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The sentiment is good and the application great, but the Avalanche is punk on scriptural quotations. The Master said the above about Martha's sister, Mary.

The News pays its assessed taxes each year without quibble, as any good business should, and is no more obligated to donate space in its columns to public institutions than is the coal dealer or grocer expected to donate anything wanted in their line. Space is all a newspaper has to sell, and when it is asked to donate that space when it should have pay for it, is just the same as asking a donation of other goods. Anything that has live news value, a newspaper is glad to print, but publicity that the law requires, should not be expected as a donation from the paper.—McLean News.

The editor may be somewhat dense but he is unable to understand why it is that courthouse and jail bonds, school bonds, electric light, paving and water bonds only have to have a majority, while road bonds require a two-thirds vote to ok them. One of our county officials is of the opinion that it is because it is possible to vote such a high percentage of road bonds that the two-thirds limit was put on them. For instance a county can vote on 2 per cent of its taxable wealth for a courthouse and jail, but can vote 25 per cent for road building. That being the case, we believe it would be a wise piece of legislation for the next legislature to cut down the road bonding limit to a reasonable figure, and give the voters a chance to build roads by majority vote. Let the majority rule. That's democratic.

We call your attention to the advertisement in this issue of The Woman's Viewpoint, published at Houston, which is entirely edited and published by women, and one of the fastest growing magazines published today. They are offering young men and women an opportunity to complete their education. Write them today before you forget it.

One of the neatest little confectioneries in town is that belonging to Messrs. M. Y. Bennett and Bill Pyeart, which they have named the Rialto Confectionery, being as it is situated in the Rialto Theatre building. They not only have a very neat and clean place, but they are giving real service with it.

Appropos our editorial regarding the mail order house advertising offered us recently, the Crosbyton Review has the following comment:

The Review had to go up against the same ordeal. And you know it was pretty hard to do, to turn down a $450.00 advertising proposition, and yet were we to do so would be inconsistent with our policy of advocating "Buy at Home." The merchants of Crosbyton as well as Brownfield should appreciate this kind of a stand whether they do or not. As the Herald has said: "This mail order firm did not offer to spend this much money to get our good will, but they know that the $450.00 a year will be well spent, and are recognizing the country newspaper as the world's best advertising medium. It is indeed strange and lamentable that some of our merchants can't catch the vision."

Their advertising agent later came back with another proposition that if we would accept their advertising that our editorial policy advocating "trade at home" need not be changed the least in order to get their advertising.

In the passing of U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette the Senate of the United States and the state of Wis. loses a tireless and patriotic worker. You might not agree with him; his policies and yours might be poles apart, but if you are fair and believe in a square deal, you had to admire him. The passing of Senator Ladd, of North Dakota just four days after La Follette's, leaves the so called insurgent group in the United States Senate greatly weakened.

In every instance where infertile egg clubs have been organized it has meant increased profits for the poultryman. It is against state laws to sell anything but good eggs and infertile eggs are invariably good eggs. A club organized here at McLean would be mutually profitable, and all it takes is an investment of about 75c for a rubber stamp guaranteeing the freshness of the eggs.—McLean News.

Our housewife broke four bad eggs one day this week before she found enough for the family use. Probably the poultryman or woman who sold them to the merchant don't know they violated the State Pure Food Act and are subject to a fine, and the law should be enforced. Farmers have no more right to sell bad eggs to merchants, than the merchant has the right to sell rotten potatoes to the farmer. If farmers would sell infertile eggs only at this season of the year, they would not only get an advance in price, but people would eat more eggs. A bad egg is a disgusting sight, and so offend the consumer's appetite that he cares very little for eggs in summer.

CUSTOMS

While the telephone itself is more or less standardized, says the Ohio Committee on Public Utility information, its uses vary greatly according to the customs and conditions where it is used.

For instance: In Abyssinia, the message is written and handed to the operator who shouts the message into the receiver, no one being allowed to use the instrument. A gold fish has far more privacy than a telephone message in that land.

In Cuba, a widow with a large family is desired as the operator and the exchange is located in her home.

In Russia, it is a penal offense to call an operator anything but "Comrade" or "Citizeness."

BILL SUNDAY DOES MORE HARM THAN GOOD, CLAIM

Portland, Ore., June 23.—Bill R. Sunday does far more damage than good," was the startling declaration Tuesday of Dr. William House, nationally known alienist, of Portland.

House spoke before the Oregon Social Workers' Association Convention. His position for a number of years in public sanity boards has given him opportunity for observation of such cases.

"After the visit of such an evangelist psychopathic patients develop in large numbers and we have a deluge of new cases," he said.

"From the scientific standpoint religious cranks, drug edicts and people suffering from alcoholism are in the same class. They are seeking to satisfy their emotional natures; they merely take different means of doing so.

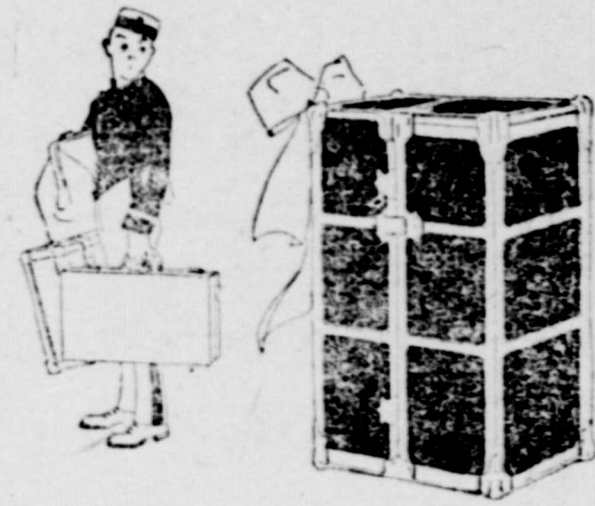

"Religion of the Bill R. Sunday type is irrational and fanatical, based on emotions. My feeling is one of fear toward the man who gets his religion overnight."

Sunday is scheduled to open a meeting here soon.

Uncle Joe Hamilton and daughters, Ann, Addie and Allie, visited their son and brother and family near Plainview the past week.

So Weak Couldn't Stand
"My wife's health broke down and for years she was just a physical wreck," says Mr. Thomas Glynn, of Gibson, La. "We did everything we knew, yet she seemed to get worse and worse. She was so weak till she couldn't stand, and had to be carried like a baby. It looked like nothing would save her that had been done."
CARDUI
For Female Troubles
"I began looking around. I knew that Cardui was for women. I decided to try it for her as all else had failed. She couldn't eat, she couldn't sleep, and I was desperate. "After taking a few doses of Cardui, we were so glad to note that she wanted something to eat, and with each bit of nourishment, and each day's doses of Cardui, she grew stronger and got up out of bed. She is now able to cook, and stronger than in a long time."
Cardui has been in successful use for nearly 50 years in the treatment of many common female troubles.

SEES ENGLISH AS WORLD LANGUAGE

Lexicographer Makes Prediction for Future.

"We are building a great language for the future years," remarked Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, managing editor of the Standard dictionary. He believes that "English is undoubtedly the greatest language of all ages for ease of expression and shades of meaning," and thinks that "the English-speaking races of today number nearly 200,000,000 people." This is about 12 per cent of the population of the earth, but Doctor Vizetelly expects the percentage to double in 75 years, according to the New York Sun.

Languages can be measured in importance by their usefulness as means of communication and by their contributions to world culture. English has quite evidently become the most important of all languages from the purely practical standpoint. No other tongue is used so extensively in trade or even in governmental and social relationships. It is estimated that 120,000,000 people speak German, 90,000,000 Russian, 60,000,000 French and 55,000,000 Spanish. Despite the great population of China and India neither of these countries has a single language spoken by as many people as speak English. India has 147 languages. Chinese dialects are innumerable. Altogether only 220,000,000 Indians speak languages of the Indo-Aryan branch, and there are three of these. Mandarin represents a means of communication almost everywhere in China, but it probably has not the actual currency that English has. The tongue that only 20,000,000 people spoke in 1800 is undoubtedly dominant among languages today so far as extent of use and variety of usefulness are concerned.

English has also steadily shaped itself into an effective medium for accuracy and beauty of expression. It has been jeered at as a heterogeneous language and it has been criticized for the "weakness" of turning to Latin and Greek for new terms. Lovers of the romance languages find it lacking in elegance. Its grammatical irregularity has been noted. Still, English has produced poetry, drama and fiction that are now world inheritances. Its poetry especially challenges comparison in fitness and body with that of any language. Meanwhile, as the power of the nations using English has grown, the serviceability and dignity of the tongue as an instrument of diplomatic, scientific and critical or philosophical use has been more generally acknowledged.

Historical Organ

An organ with which King James II entertained himself while he and his army were encamped outside of London in the year 1687 for the purpose of overawing religious rioters within the city, arrived in this country a few weeks ago. A firm in New York has bought it. The organ is square and has a false front, pierced and carved, and with dummy pipes painted on it. The keyboard has four octaves and forty-three notes and diapason, cornet, sesquialter, principal, twelfth and fifteenth stops. The lower half of the instrument, except for two small panels that are decorated with cupids and represent "Music" and "Singing," shows scenes in East India. The large panels in front evidently represent episodes in the life of a princess. In one she is seated on a camel led by a guide armed with a spear. In another she is alighting from a camel in a oasis.—Youth's Companion.

Invisible Light

A demonstration of how opaque objects can be rendered transparent by "invisible light" acting through a special instrument called the "super retina" has been given by the famous Indian scientist, Sir Jagadis Chandra Bose.

Sir Jagadis Chandra Bose declares that he has perfected his instrument after 30 years' experiment.

"Invisible light" consists of short electric waves having the same properties as a beam of light. These waves are selectively absorbed by different substances. Coal tar and pitch are transparent, while water is opaque.

Modern Life

Martinsburg is a little town away from the railroad and the small children know very little about riding on the train. One day Elmo Wyman and his mother went to New Albany in an auto, but returned via Borden on the train. It was Elmo's first ride on the train. The train went a short distance and stopped. At the same time Elmo heard the noise of steam escaping, and with a look of disgust he leaned back in his seat and said, "Oh, gee, there goes a tire, now we will have to wait another half hour."—Indianapolis News.

Wigs Cover Bobbed Hair

Once again wigs of various-colored hair are being worn by women of fashion in Paris to cover their bobbed heads when they put on evening attire. The color of the hair matches the gown and after five years of stagnated business the hairpin manufacturers are starting up with a flourish.

Attained Fame Early

William Congreve, the great English dramatist of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries, wrote nearly all the plays on which his fame rests before he was thirty years old. He wrote little of importance after he was thirty.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapius

The past week has brought some much needed showers to many portions of the county, but large areas have been missed, and crops in those localities are suffering badly.

The bond election passed off quietly with almost two to one against the measure. Like every good citizen I cheerfully accept the result. Perhaps in the future when things put on a more roseate hue the people may decide to build better roads. Not now.

Lately one of our best young men has been dreaming dreams and seeing visions. A few days since our station agent found quite a variety of snakes. He has found them among his books, in his bed and in his mind. They are all so small and sizes and lengths, with and without rattles. He only needs a few bugs and frogs to make his case complete.

Dame fortune and fashion has also laid violent hands on other of our young males. The color usually called Moss Agate is getting quite popular. However, instead of the usual ring, they are wearing them on their eyes with a few conspicuous patches on their cheeks.

Aside from any pleasantry, however, hoodlumism is getting a little oo rife, and the fellows that are getting their faces worked over will be it after awhile, and a tragedy may result. I have watched a cat catch and play with a mouse, he could never see that the mouse got any comfort or amusement from it so with these fellows that are being cornered and forced to engage in a rough and tumble fight, with the odd against him, even though foul play may not be indulged, is at great disadvantage with his opponent. Again the chasing of cars out of town and along the public highways, indulging in swearing and the use of vile language is not to be commended. The writer's car was stopped a short time ago at night by some of these same boys, whose parents were his best friends. He learned afterwards it was the intention to whip one of the occupants of the car. The young man refused to get out and the matter was not pressed further. This act is dangerously near Whit Capping as defined by law, as are the other chasings the past few nights.

Now I never believed that our young men were worse than those of other communities, but they have allowed exuberance of youth to carry them too far, and it is time to stop and take an inventory of ourselves. It is not probable that either of you will ever dispute the championship with Dempsey or any other of the heroes of the prize ring, and if you should, get you a trainer and let the average boy go by.

When somebody smiles as you pass by, don't take offense, for it is quite probable that you were not in his mind. In fact, it would be well to get rid of the excess ego in most of us.

Let us have peace.

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Frazier, on the 26th a little girl. They call her Darlene Ardelia. Pretty name for a pretty little girl.

We understand they will continue to make their residence in the Union community.

NOVICES TO MOVIES FINDS DOORS CLOSED

Hollywood, June 16.—Another studio has joined the general movement adopted by Hollywood to discourage America's "movie struck" in their rush at the gates of film fame. The general manager of the studio has, in effect, hung out a sign reading: "No newcomers need apply."
"The only way the picture industry can retain players," he pointed out, "is to give them enough work to make a living. And every pay check given to those struggling to pry their way into the studio is one taken from the already overlarge colony of experienced players."

"The hurry, bustle and incessant drive of the American temperament is responsible for the peculiar characteristic American mortality increase during the 'dangerous age' period, between 40 and 50 years," says Dr. William S. Sandler, nationally known physician.

To facilitate the movement of traffic, and as a safety measure, the city of Washington has raised the speed limit of automobiles from 18 to 22 miles an hour.

Animals That Possess
Keen Sense of Humor

Animals vary greatly in disposition. Some are kindly, some cross; some are naturally sad and solemn, others are merry and light-hearted.

You could not possibly imagine a sloth smiling or a bullock indulging in a practical joke, but some monkeys, most parrots, and such birds as the jackdaw and magpie have a distinct if crude sense of humor.

The writer has seen a parrot whistle up a dog, imitating the call made by its master. When the dog arrived the parrot went off into a peal of laughter and the hoarse animal slunk away with its tail between its legs. This used to happen almost every day.

Another parrot once succeeded in making a trainload of people believe that they had run over a child. Sudden cries followed by low moaning rang out from beneath the wheels.

A monkey aboard ship used to amuse itself in the cook's absence by turning on the water taps in order to enjoy the cook's fury when he found the water running all over the floor.

A monkey in the London zoo tried the experiment of tying together in a knot the tails of two smaller monkeys and there was a real grin on his face as he joyfully watched the entertainment they provided.

Seals are playful; walrus are very solemn. An elephant has a sly sense of humor, but a rhinoceros is stupid. It is odd, too, that while monkeys have a strong sense of humor, apes have none.

No Real Meaning to "Voices" of Insects

The "voices" of insects always have been of peculiar interest to mankind. Many naturalists and entomologists have sought to interpret these sounds, and some have claimed to be able to distinguish between the battle cry of a cricket, say, and its love song, according to the New York World.

Now comes Dr. Frank Lutz, curator of insects in the American Museum of Natural History, New York city, to assert his belief that the sounds of insects mean nothing—even to the insects themselves.

Insects squeak, buzz or hum because their body conformation is such that they cannot help making a noise when they move, he thinks. The sounds they make, he says, probably are often embarrassing to them, just as the rattling of the armor of knights of old often betrayed their presence to their enemies.

Bills Well Washed

Remarking that bank clerks are accustomed to fingering dirty treasury notes, Sir Robert Kimberley, the president of the National Savings organization and a director of the Bank of England, said occasionally a customer goes to the opposite extreme.

A case in point was that of an elderly lady who paid into her bank a number of bundles of notes that, although not new, were of immaculate appearance.

To the cashier's complimentary allusion to their cleanliness, the customer's reply was: "And so they ought to look nice, being that I was up till 1 o'clock this morning cleaning and ironing them!"—Pittsburgh Post.

A Dash

A dash is a little short line that is vertically straight, breaking one idea from another. It can be used for emphasis and other things, too—but all that is in grammatical construction.

In the financial world, how fortunate is he who can make a dash from one financial plane to another, bettering himself in so doing.

You! Can make a start for a big financial dash of your own by opening an account today.

FARM MARKETING SALEMANSHIP ADVOCATED

An address by former Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson delivered before the Houston Salesmanship Club, Houston, Texas:

"Show me the man who is a good home provider and, with few exceptions, I will show you a good citizen. It was said by Napoleon, one of the greatest military geniuses of his age, that, 'an army travels on its stomach,' meaning of course, that it must be fed and provided for or else it would not travel.

"So it is in all walks of life, and that calls for individual economic independence. It calls for men to first provide for his own security, but not selfishly. Individual economic independence creates good citizens, and upon good citizenship, government depends for its existence.

"If typical of its title, this organization's membership relies upon salesmanship as a means of maintenance. There are many kinds of salesmen: hardware, grocery, dry goods, lumber, steel, oil stock, cigars and cigarettes, pen and paper, peanut and pop-corn vendors, but how frequently do we ever see or hear of a real 'farmer salesman.' And so I have chosen 'Farm Marketing Salesmanship' as a theme kindred to this organization and occasion.

"No class of people through this broad land enjoy less economic independence than the farmer—the biggest business of all businesses—producing annually more new wealth than any other single business. It provides, generally speaking, poorer standards of living, less opportunity to enjoy the luxuries of life than any other single industry, and yet it is the very heart, soul and backbone of the nation's prosperity.

"The farmer's method of production may be unscientific and wasteful, but cost is variable—up or down, by efficient methods on one hand, or inefficient on the other—to only a small degree. One single item of Texas farm products—cotton—within a period of less than five years, has ranged up and down in price more than 300 per cent. I distinctly recall in one swift fluctuation it dropped from 36c per pound at high point down to 11c per pound at low point. Make the cost of production what you will, no business on earth can withstand such violent fluctuation and downward depletions on its income. The law of supply and demand is ever present and active. Its influence may be minimized by co-ordinated, efficient salesmanship. By the same token, speculative raids made upon the income of the farmer can be averted.

So long as the individual farmer, with sample in his hands, peddles his crop from door to door, his individual economic independence will be destructively violated and ruination wrought to his business—the greatest business of all—the business of farming.

"Salesmanship has become a science. In its most modern and advanced form it is a science of co-operation through corporations. The stockholder buys stock in a corporation—banking, manufacturing, or otherwise—and immediately becomes a co-operative unit dealing in some particular product and represented by scientific salesmanship. The agricultural producer is the fundamental basis upon which the success of all such enterprises depends and upon whom your success likewise depends. We are so concerned with establishing our own economic independence, that we are apt at some point to exchange success for selfishness and forget the very basis of our prosperity—the farmer.

But economic laws work unerringly, and will destroy the basis of all prosperity—the farmer—if we continue to forget. In his own mad fight for a footing in life, the business man neglects to shower the farmer's thirsty field with drops of his business experience. Farm marketing salesmanship is the silver lining to the cloud. Farm co-operative marketing organizations are fighting their feeble way to the front. They are a nucleus around which efficient scientific salesmanship may be established for the farmer. He is fundamental to our success and we should contribute to his.

"He can succeed by controlling 50 per cent of the flow of his production, and by the same means control the sale of his output. Financing is the first essential to such control. Create a control through co-operation. Control farm production and sales control of output will follow. Legislation can aid, but not cure the farmers' ills.

"Co-operation of the farmer and business man, whose interests are one and indivisible, will make the farmer salesman a familiar figure in the marts and markets of the world. The world's welfare lies in being your brother's keeper in this needed evolution in the marketing of the nation's agricultural products.

BE CAUTIOUS IN GIVING LIFTS TO STRANGERS

By C. B. Auel, President, National Safety Council.

The automobile camper will often enjoy giving a stranger a lift. There is a lot of satisfaction in helping out someone who will appreciate the help. Whether it be a straggling pedestrian along the road or a stalled motorist, the automobile camper should always give unselfish attention.

This attention, however, should be tempered somewhat with caution.

It is always best to assume that a person is honest and upright, but it pays to use discretion in picking up a stranger.

During the summer it is a well-known fact that robbers lurk on the highways. These men have certain methods of operating which are likely to beguile the innocent automobile camper. The highwaymen sometimes use a stalled car as a decoy and sometimes a human dummy stretched out on the road.

These decoys are usually effective in stopping the passing motorist, whereupon the highwayman steps out and holds up the party at the point of a gun.

Former mayor C. E. Parks of Lubbock died Sunday and was buried Monday. He has been in poor health for the past five years.

The Lubbock city schools have been given additional credits of affiliation making a total of 35 units. They are very near the top now.

W. C. DAVIS DEAD

On June 17, 1925, marked the close of the earthly days of W. C. Davis, who for more than 42 years followed the walks of life in such a way as to endear himself to those who from time to time have been his fellow travelers.

Born in Travis county, Texas near Leander, Jan. 22, 1883, which place he spent his youth and early manhood. He was converted at the age of 17 and joined the Christian Adventist church, which church he held to until last summer when he joined the Christian church.

He was first married to Miss Bertie Holloman. To this union 3 children were born two girls and a boy. His wife departed this life, leaving him the cares and responsibility of both father and mother, the youngest child being only 17 days old. He battled along for seven years without a companion to share with him the trials and tribulations of life and the responsibility of raising his children right. He was then married to Miss Alice Box. To them three children were born; one girl and two boys. He leaves a wife, six children, his mother, three brothers and four sisters to mourn his departure.

In 1902 he moved from Travis to Comanche county, spending 14 years there. The remaining years of his life were spent further west of which a good portion was spent in Terry county in the Union community. He was a devoted husband, a loving father and loved his home very much. He has passed from the stage of action, but the good moral life he lived before his family and neighbors should well be preserved in the mind and hearts of those who knew him.

He did a hard days work and only complained at feeling a little bad at supper and at about 10:45 p.m., the end came almost without warning. There was a move on foot to secure the ground and prepare a cemetery some three weeks prior to Mr. Davis' death, and he expressed himself to a neighbor some two weeks prior to his death that he wanted to start the cemetery. In the writer's opinion, who knows but what he had a vision of what might take place and what actually happened.

A cemetery committee was arranged the following morning to confer with Mr. Ame Flache who owns the choicest property in the Union community. He having a heart as big as a full moon, opened his gates to the committee to select their choice ground. Work started at noon Thursday. Five acres were secured, and under the careful surveying and mapping off by Dayton Couchman, assisted by others, it was cut into four blocks, to wit: A, B, C, D, with 35 foot drive way around the entire yard, a 36 feet drive way thru the middle,

AVALANCHE PRAISES BROWNFIELD BAND

The Brownfield Band gave a concert on the courthouse lawn here Sunday evening at 6:30 before a large group of local citizens.

The band had come here directly from Littlefield where the members had played before the Plateau Singing convention Sunday afternoon.

Many popular and familiar pieces were played. The band is said to be one of the best on the South Plains.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of W. C. Davis, want to extend our thanks to our friends and neighbors who helped us in the sudden illness and death of our husband and father. Their kind acts and loving deeds will always be remembered by us.

Mrs. W. C. Davis and children

east to west and north to south, each block cut into 36 burial lots 24 feet square, with seven feet alley between each lot.

Three trucks were secured and sent to the Cicero Smith Lumber Co., at Brownfield (of which Mr. Ben Hurst is manager) to secure fencing for the ground, and having no time to raise funds, this firm which has always been a warm friend of the Union community says: "Get all you need and pay for it when you please," and right here in behalf of the Union community, I want to thank Messrs. Flache and Hurst for their big hearted co-operation, and too, I want to thank Commissioner Harred and the other county officials for their financial aid amounting to $100.

Almost every man in the Union community lent a helping hand, and by noon Friday we had a well constituted fence around the yard and the grave completed.

At 1:30 o'clock P. M. funeral services were conducted at the family residence by Pastor G. W. Davis, of Brownfield, and his body laid to rest at 2 p.m., of which his conversation two weeks prior became a reality. With the natural drainage our yard has, it is our intention to put down a well, and the necessary equipment to water the entire yard, and in the near future have one of the prettiest cemeteries in West Texas.

We extend an invitation to all our neighboring communities to use our burial ground when in need.

I would say to the lonely ones who are left "to weep not as those who have no hope," but let this life be such that when the hour of departure comes, you may be prepared to meet him who has gone to be with the Savior. Amos 4:13; Psalms 37:3. —A Friend.

Dread of Darkness

Hard to Eradicate

Why is it that, no matter how long we live, we never outgrow our terror in the dark? Why is it that so many thousands of persons wake up suddenly at 2:45 a. m. and are struck with the swift and unexpectedness of a blow by some worry, some regret, some remorse, some neglected duty? Why is it that these things torment our minds in the long watches of the night and dwindle to insignificance with the rising sun? asks William Lyon Phelps in Scribner's Magazine.

Of all forms of religion except Christianity, the worship of the sun seems to me most reasonable. I have been a sun lover from my earliest recollection. The best thing said about heaven in the Bible is that there is no night there. I am a child of the morning. To use another Biblical phrase, I have often said, "Would God it were morning!" but never in my life have I said, "Would God it were evening!"

When I was a boy I saw a picture of a woman carrying her baby in a room dimly illumined by half light. I remember how ardently I hoped the dimness was caused by the dawn and not by the evening.

One Time Roosevelt

Laid Aside Big Stick

When Roosevelt was President he was walking to church one Sunday morning and saw a kitten on the sidewalk trying to escape from two terriers. In writing to his daughter, Ethel, about it, he said: "I bounced forward with my umbrella and after some active work captured the kitten." He then inquired of the people on the neighboring porches as to the ownership. Nobody knew about it. The President saw it was not accustomed to taking care of itself and he did not want to expose it to danger by putting it down. So he marched along half a block carrying it in his arms. Then he saw a woman and her little girl were looking out of the window. He walked up the steps and asked them if they did not want the kitten. They were greatly pleased to accept it. Whether they realized that the President of the United States had brought it to them, we do not know.—The Wellspring.

Elephantine Hailstone

We read now and again of record hailstones even in this country, and we hear hailstones compared in size with marbles, pigeons' eggs, and so on.

There are many fairly well authenticated cases of hailstones weighing half a pound or more, but claims much in excess of these are made. Stones of six or eight pounds were said to have fallen at Nanur in 1719, and the missionary, Father Hue, records the fall in Tartary, in 1813, of a block of ice as big as a millstone, which took three days to melt!

In May, 1802, a Hungarian village reported the fall of a block of ice 1,100 pounds in weight; while in the time of Tippoo, a Sultan of Mysore, one as big "as an elephant"—a Jumbo of a stone—is said to have fallen near Seringapatam.

Personal Responsibility

If we suddenly plant our foot and say—I will neither eat nor drink nor wear nor touch any food or fabric which I do not know to be innocent, or deal with any person whose whole manner of life is not clear and rational, we shall stand still. Whose is so? Not mine! not thine; not his. But I think we must clear ourselves each one by the interrogation, whether we have earned our bread today by the hearty contribution of our energies to the common benefits; and we must not cease to tend to the correction of flagrant wrongs, by laying one stone aright every day.—Emerson.

Day Notable in History

The Ninth Thermidor of the year 11, in the French Revolutionary calendar, corresponds to July 27, 1794. It is historically memorable as the day on which the national convention deposed Robespierre, and thus put an end to the Reign of Terror. On the following day the tyrant and 22 of his partisans were guillotined.

It is said that the following epitaph for Robespierre was written by one who understood his character: "Passer by, lament not for Robespierre; for, were he living, thou wouldst be dead."—Kansas City Times.

When Railroad Was New

A bold sportsman who lived in England a hundred years ago when the railway was new accepted an invitation to go with a house party for a run of five miles by rail. In a letter written in 1829 he gives this account of his experience: "The quickest motion is to me frightful; it is really flying, and it is impossible to divest yourself of the notion of instant death to all upon the least accident's happening. It gave me a headache that has not left me yet." The train in which he rode "flew" at the terrific speed of 23 miles an hour.—Exchange.

Religion

I've seen pretty clear ever since I was a young un, as religion's something else besides doctrines and notions. I look at it as if the doctrines was like finding names for your feelings, so as you can talk of 'em when you've never known 'em, just as a man may talk of tools when he knows their names, though he's never so much as seen 'em, still less handled 'em.—George Eliot.

GOVERNOR WANTS WELL SUPPORTED UNIVERSITY

Austin, June 20.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson had some good words to say about President W. M. W. Splawn and the University of Texas on the occasion of the annual commencement exercises of that institution. He declared that he was in agreement with Dr. Splawn that the University should receive an annual appropriation of $2,500,000 for maintenance in order that its development might be unhampered. He said that while he agreed with Dr. Splawn as to these figures, he also wanted the public schools of the state to receive an annual support of $25,000,000. He promised that he would bend his efforts to secure for Texas the highest educational system in the United States.

Governor Mariani A. Ferguson preceded her husband on the program. She spoke briefly, merely expressing her pleasure at being present on this occasion, and her pride in the University.

WEST TEXAS COMMERCIAL COLLEGE ENTERTAINS

The students of the West Texas Commercial College were entertained on Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kilgore and Miss Johnson at the home of Mrs. G. G. Gore. The crowd began gathering early and soon every body was busy having a good time. Many tricks were shown and the music furnished by Mrs. Jno. A. Mann and others was highly enjoyed. Games of many kinds were played. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, then more games were played. Everyone left at a late hour, tired but happy.

This is just the beginning of the good times that are planned by the school. There will be something lively going on all thru the summer session.

COLORED MAN SHOT BY OFFICERS DIED THURSDAY

Lubbock, June 18.—A colored man by the name of E. H. Hanson, who was living on the farm of a Mr. Shafer, near Sudan, was shot by an officer of Lamb county when the negro resisted arrest, and is said to have drawn his gun when the officer approached to serve papers on him for an alleged sale of choc beer.

Little is known of the affair here, except the negro who was shot once, and died a few days afterwards. There were no witnesses to the affair, but the negro is said to have made a statement in regard to the matter before he died.

The officer has not been arrested, and no action has been taken against him according to reports received at his office.

Demosthenes, the great orator, in his youth stutered and stammered.

LIBERTY SAFEGUARDED BY THE CONSTITUTION

During the hysteria produced by a bitter political campaign, the people of Oregon, two years ago voted in favor of a law prohibiting parents from sending their children to any but public schools. Private schools were entirely eliminated by the measure.

The United States Supreme Court has annulled that law as contrary to every principle of constitutional liberty.

There are many reasons why parents may not want to send their children to public schools. The decision does not affect the power of the state to enforce proper schooling. The state may insist that the academic standards of private schools be the same as those for public schools. It may license teachers and supervise all schools to assure the maintenance of standards. But it cannot interfere with special instruction of the normal or cultural nature.

This decision illustrates how the United States constitution and the United States Supreme Court guarantees and protects the rights of the American citizen. Hasty legislative action or hysterical decisions at general elections cannot override the ultimate protection afforded every citizen by these two great institutions of American liberty.

BANKRUPT SALES

Bankrupt sales advertising appears in the newspapers from time to time. Pessimists shake their heads and say, "Too bad." It is bad, but whose fault is it that the sale has to be made?

Bankrupt sales appear because the merchants buy goods, contracting to pay for them at a later date. The time for payment comes, and the goods have not been sold, or at least have not been sold in sufficient volume to meet expenses and accumulate a reserve. Consequently the merchant has no money with which to pay for the goods. Then come foreclosure and bankruptcy proceedings.

The goods are turned over to a trustee, who employs a sales-advertising specialist. The goods are advertised and SOLD.

Advertising is business insurance. Businesses fail, but statistics show that the percentage of failures among regular and constant advertisers is very small.—Fort Worth Record.

FROST & BAILEY O'DONNELL BUY NEW MEX CATTLE

Frost & Bailey made a visit to eastern New Mexico this week and purchased 200 cows and calves. The cattle will be shipped to Borden county as soon as they are dipped and made to comply with the quarantine regulations. They state it is very dry in the section around Knowles, very little rain having fallen in five years.—O'Donnell Index.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

Whereas, the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas, deems it advisable to issue bonds of the said City for the purpose hereinafter mentioned:

Therefore, be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas, that an election be held on the 7th day of July, 1925, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

"Shall the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas, be authorized to issue bonds of the City of Brownfield, in the sum of Fifty Thousand ($50,000) Dollars payable within forty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of Six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and create a sinking fund sufficient to redeem them at maturity, for the purpose of constructing a Sanitary Sewer System, in the City of Brownfield, Texas."

The said election shall be held at the Courthouse in the City of Brownfield, Texas, and the following named persons are hereby appointed managers of said election, to-wit:

A. M. Brownfield, Presiding Officer and Judge.
J. E. Shelton, Clerk.
H. M. Pyatt, Clerk.

The said election shall be held under the provisions of the General Election Laws of the State of Texas, and only qualified voters, who are property tax-payers of said City, shall be allowed to vote.

All voters who favor the proposition to issue the bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

"For the issuance of bonds."
And those opposed shall have written or printed upon their ballots the words:

"Against the issuance of bonds."
The manner of holding said election shall be governed by the laws of the State regulating general elections.

A copy of this order signed by the Mayor of the City of Brownfield, attested by the City Secretary of said City, shall serve as proper notice of said election.

The Mayor is authorized and directed to cause said notice of the election to be posted up of the City Hall, and at one public place in each of the voting place of the City of Brownfield, for at least thirty full days prior to the date of said election.

The Mayor is further authorized and directed to have said notice published in some newspaper of general circulation published in said city, and which notice shall be published once in each week for four weeks, the date of the first publication being not less than thirty full days prior to the date of the election.

Joe E. Gowan, Mayor,
City of Brownfield, Texas.
Attest: P. McDuffie,
City Secretary.
