Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS

By the Secretary

The Clean-up Campaign was a success in every way but the schedule was thrown out of gear a little by the 'blue whistler' that hit the county on Tuesday.

First tradesday was satisfactory to everyone and merchants report good business. The next one is going to be somewhat more interesting as a few prizes are going to be stuck up by the merchants for the best foot racer, sack racer and potato racer.

Look out folks; it is getting warm and we are going to begin making those community trips that were mentioned a few weeks ago. Each community will be notified a few days in advance of the trip in order that they may be prepared. We will undertake to have the band with us each time.

This is the week to give you the names of articles called for by the farmer after he had arranged a line of credit with the merchant. So here it is: Butter, eggs and canned milk, and this occurred in Terry county. Several guesses were received but none hit the spot—now ain't that too had.

Don't forget that the monthly luncheon is held on the third Wednesday in each month. Tickets will be sold for it this time and if you buy a ticket and don't come, you pay just the same. The place will be announced next week.

The secretary would like to have letters from different farmers in the county who are practicing diversification in crops and also those who are raising and selling a surplus of any of the following: products: Meat, lard, eggs, chickens, butter, and cream. In your letter please say whether you believe that all farmers should follow the practice in order that the county may become prosperous and self supporting.

METHODIST DISTRICT CONFERENCE TO MEET HERE

Beginning April 22, and continuing for 4 days, the largest district conference in Southern Methodism will convene in Brownfield.

The Lubbock District is composed of 28 pastoral charges and a total membership of 8,635. The net gain for the district last year was more than a thousand members, and the district raised for all purposes $192,972.00. The District Conference is composed of a representative body elected by the quarterly conferences which are held in each charge by the Presiding Elder.

This year the delegate will number about 250 members and will be in session in the Methodist Church for about four days. It is indeed a privilege to have this Christian band of workers with us for these days, and we feel sure that all the people of Brownfield will assist in the entertainment of this group of laymen and ministers.

Almost a hundred homes will be required for this entertainment while they are here.

We are expected to have with us several representatives of the many interests of the church from out of the district, and we are expecting Bishop Boaz to preach for us on Sunday, 25. This will be the closing day of the conference.

J. G. Thomas, Pastor.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS LAST WEEK WERE FINE

While the exhibit department last week during the County Meet, was mostly from the Brownfield school, it was nevertheless large, and attracted the crowds who viewed them with interest. Many compliments were passed on both the pupils and the instructors for these fine showings.

Some of the schools had exhibits but either forgot them or did not understand the school fair a part of the program. It is to be hoped that all will bring them next year, this is a very necessary adjunct to the county school meet.

OLD MAYOR AND ALDERMAN RE-ELECTED TUESDAY

The city election was a tame affair Tuesday compared with the school election last Saturday, for whereas there was somewhere near 250 votes cast in the school election, only 85 registered their preference in Tuesday city election, most people probably believing the old Mayor and Aldermen should be returned and would be put over anyway.

The big majority of people probably think the old members had the run of business matters, and knowing that they had given a good administration, and had at last consented to serve again, was the reason for the light vote. Then too, it is a well known fact that the city council is under a pending contract with companies to make some very needed and extensive improvements in the light and power plant, and knowing they had the run of matters, the voters could not see that it was the opportune time to make a change in the administration. In other words, Tuesday's election, we consider, was an endorsement by the people of the city administration, and what they are accomplishing.

The following was the vote as given us by the election judge:

For Mayor
Joe J. McGowan	82
For Aldermen
Ben Hurst	82
Earl G. Alexander	81
There were two or three scattering votes for various others.

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED IN TRUSTEE ELECTION

Brownfield people are truly interested in their schools, and in the men who are to execute the business connected with the schools for them, being evidenced by the big vote polled here Saturday, when more than 225 votes were polled in the election. While there was not many candidates, the interest was there just the same, which speaks well of the community from an educational standpoint. There were four to be elected which resulted as follows:

Fred Smith	225
Simon Holgate	216
O. L. Jones	183
A. M. Brownfield	172

There were a few scatter votes besides these. Three of the above are already on the board, being the first three. Mr. Brownfield being the only new member. All are good business men and the voters seemed to be well pleased with results.

COLLINS ALLOWED BOND IN SUM OF $10,000

B. H. Collins, accused slayer of Frank Howard, and who also seriously cut Will Fisher, who is said to have tried to separate them, was tried here Saturday before M. S. Dumas, local Justice of the Peace in an application of the defendant for bond. He was represented by attorneys from Lubbock, and the state was represented by District Attorney A. W. Gibson of Lamesa, and County Attorney Geo. W. Neill.

Collins was allowed bond in the sum of $7,500 in the Howard case and $2,500 in the Fisher case, both of which must be satisfactory to the officials here. It is believed his friends will make the bond.

Collins was immediately carried to Tahoka and placed in jail there instead of Lubbock, for several good reasons, none of which need be repeated in these columns.

FIRST TRADE DAY PRO-NOUNCED A GOOD STARTER

The many people who came to town Monday for the first tradesday, while not as large as had been expected, nevertheless came to do something besides mill around, for the merchants report a good day, and not a few stock were noticed on the streets for trading and selling purposes. Anyway, tradesday is now well established, and most of the merchants we have talked with are for its continuation, and are well pleased with the first effort.

However, some of them are for changing the plans somewhat, and instead of selling goods below cost on that day, to offer prizes for different things and most of them are in favor of giving pigs, calves, etc., or something that all farmers would be pleased to own.

It has been suggested that a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce be called in the near future for the purpose of discussing this matter, and coming to an understanding about next tradesday in order to give more time for advertising the matter. By all means, it has been suggested, we ought to begin advertising tradesday at least two weeks before each first Monday.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO ENTERTAIN AT HALL

The members of the American Legion Auxiliary will entertain at the American Legion hall with a patriotic tea, at 4:00 o'clock, April 21st. The tea is to be given for the wives, sisters, mothers and daughters of soldiers of the World War, and all ladies eligible are cordially invited to attend.

MODERN SANITARIUM IN PROSPECT HERE

Last week Mr. M. V. Brownfield for whom the town was named, gave out the information that he would donate either of two fine lots in the section or an entire block in the north east part of the city in a restricted residence section if someone would build a sanitarium in the city.

That a sanitarium is needed here is no question. Just a few hours, in some cases, and a few miles over bumpy roads, might mean life to a patient needing medical or surgical attention. This is entirely aside from the monetary saving in the matter. When a patient is carried to another city, from one to any number of the family also go, and rooms are secured and board must be provided for them. All this would be saved people who live in Brownfield, and those in the country around Brownfield would be much nearer home.

We learned that one of our physicians was looking into the matter, and we called on him for an interview, and while he said plans were not far enough along to divulge his name or exact plans, he nevertheless showed us what he had done. He had planned a one story and basement building, the basement to contain the heating furnaces and laundry. The foundation is to be built to carry a second floor. The first floor is to contain kitchen, two offices, reception room two examination rooms, operating rooms, eight private patient rooms and two ward rooms, and one or two maternity wards.

He also informed us that he was in correspondence with a well-known surgeon of central Texas, who had expressed a desire to come to this section and build up a sanitarium, and who has money sufficient to partly or entirely finance the proposition.

Mr. Brownfield expressed the hope that the proposition could be put over and that the Brownfield physicians would forget their little differences and all pull together for this institution, which save the people of this section much money, perhaps lives, and at the same time mean just as much to them in a financial way.

OLD TIMER KILLED AT ROSWELL SATURDAY NIGHT

S. A. Shepherd, one of the first settlers of Terry county, was shot and killed by another man Saturday night, according to advices received here which are meagre. Mr. Shepherd owns a fine farm in Terry county, but has been conducting a filling station at Roswell for the past year or two.

Besides a wife and several children, he leaves several other relatives mostly in east Texas. The body was laid to rest in the Lubbock cemetery, Tuesday.

Fabens—F. B. Cook erecting ginery.

YOAKUM COUNTY OIL TEST SPURRED IN TUESDAY

The Herald printed a notice last week about an oil rig being unloaded here to be used in the vicinity of Brownfield. We learned later that it was carried to the Kelly location, 18 miles nearly due west of Brownfield, where some oil was found about a year ago by Mr. Kelly while drilling for deep water. In fact the new well is said to be not more than 20 feet from the old location. The well was spudded in at noon Tuesday.

Mr. Kelly is an experienced oil driller himself, but was unable by himself to finance a deeper test, and he has obtained help from some of his old partners and friends, all of whom had had wide experience, and the new well will be put down as fast as possible.

It is needless to repeat here that every geologist that has ever examined the terrain of Terry and Yoakum county are confident that oil or gas, possibly both underlie the counties in paying quantities, and more and more of them are looking to this section for the big find. The section is literally surrounded by proven territory, and many geologists believe the real big field will be located in this section. On the north, we have the Panhandle; pay sand was found east in Mitchell county some years ago and recently in Scurry county. South we have the Regan county fields that are now noted throughout the country. West of us we have the Artesia, N. M. field, and only recently pay sand was struck even closer in Lea county about 90 miles west of Brownfield.

The Herald had a conversation with Mr. M. V. Brownfield this week relative to his offer printed some time ago in these columns, in which he offered a big acreage of his ranch and $1,000 bonus for a real test. He remarked that he has had several offers, none of which are willing to get on the dotted line for a real test. He said that most of them wanted several years turing which they could keep him tied up and keep us from having a real test made. When the right man, who means business comes along, Mr. Brownfield is ready to play up his big ranch and a good bonus for a real test of not less than 3,500 feet.

To our notion this immediate section, with Brownfield as the probable center, is in for a real era of development, not alone agriculturally, but with a bright outlook for both oil and potash. Things are likely to hum here any old day.

H. D. LEACH ASKS VOTERS FOR OFFICE OF COM

To the Voters of Precinct No. 3:

I am taking this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of Commissioner, Precinct No. 3 of Terry county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. Realizing that said office carries with it a responsibility, I promise if elected to faithfully guard the Treasury of the County, to the end that value received shall be my slogan of making bills.

I am making this race on a platform of progressiveness based on sound principles of County government. I believe in the best for our county in good roads, good schools and surroundings in which to raise our children. And if elected to this important office, I shall expend my best efforts in seeing to these ideals. Again asking that you consider me for this position when making up your ballot.

Respectfully,
H. D. Leach.

WILL SPUD IN WELL NEAR BROWNFIELD OPERATORS SAY

Brownfield will be the scene of another wild-cattling operation for oil and gas, according to information received at the Avalanche office yesterday.

R. W. Russell, of St. Mary, W. Va., and W. E. Trunick of Pittsburgh, Pa., were here yesterday in route to Brownfield to where they have already shipped equipment and materials for erecting the rig and stated that their well would be spudded in at once.

"Prospects for development of a real field could not be found that will surpass the Brownfield section," Mr. Russell told the Avalanche.

The matter of financing the test well has been arranged and no delay will be experienced in getting the drilling machinery into operation, it is understood here.—Lubbock Avalanche

TERRY COUNTY INTER-SCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET

The annual meeting of the inter-scholastic league of Terry county, was held with the Brownfield schools on April 21st. Director general, Mr. H. C. Zorn of Meadow, presided over the first meeting, and after a short devotional service conducted by Rev. Markham of Brownfield, Mr. J. W. Evans of Texas Tech made an address with his subject as: "The Building of a School." There is, perhaps, no other man in Texas who is better qualified to speak on this subject than is Mr. Evans. He has been connected with school work and its problems for some thirty five years and was for a number of years the chief supervisor of High Schools in Texas with the State Department of Education. His talk was uplifting and was appreciated by all those who were present. The results of the track meet were as follows:

Literary Events High School Division

- Junior Girls:
Catherine Holgate, 1st Brownfield
Gertrude Evans, 2nd Meadow
Annie Wooder, 3rd Wellman

Because of the fact that Prairie View had no competition in the rural division they were awarded first place in contests that they entered.

Athletic Results

Brownfield being the only Class A school in this county won the Class A division without competition. In the Class B Division, Meadow won first place in the track events with 67 1-2 points to her credit and Johnson school second with 57 1-2 points. Pendergrass of Meadow was high point man in the meet with 18 points and Wallace Lee of Johnson was second with 14 1-2 points.

In the all around championship which includes both literary and track events, Brownfield won the Class A division. In the Class B division, Meadow was first with 75 points and Wellman second with 57 points while Johnson was third with 23 points. Prairieview was awarded the allround championship in the rural division and Brownfield Ward school was awarded the Ward school championship.

M. V. BROWNFIELD BUILDS MODERN HOME

Mr. Roy Wingerd has received the contract for building a real modern home for Mr. M. V. Brownfield, on the heights overlooking the city on the Tahoka road, and material is being put on the ground, and the basement for the furnace is already dug. The outside dimensions are 35x59 feet.

The building will be of brick and concrete construction, and modern throughout with large rooms and breakfast and bath rooms, and when completed will be in the neighborhood of the best and be the best home in the city.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Bernice Miller on Monday, 5th.

Because of the fact that enjoyable times are always expected at Bernice's no work was taken; so the guests spent a pleasant time in chattering and listening to music furnished by Mrs. Oden Miller and the player.

Dainty two-course refreshments were served to the following guests: Christine Harrison, Jewel Graves, Blanche and Geneva Brothers, Othel Rentfro, Vallie Holt, Gladys Copeland, Thelma McPherson, Lillie Mae Warren, Marie Brown and Mary Walker, by the hostess.

The time for departure came all too soon, and the guests departed sorrowfully that such an enjoyable evening should come to a close so soon.

Next Monday the Swastikas will meet with Miss Gladys Copeland—Reporter.

Care Needed to Keep Plants in Good Health

Gardeners are occasionally asked to inspect unhealthy window plants and to advise concerning their treatment. Very often it is found that the ill health of the plant is due to mistaken kindness on the part of the owner. For instance, it is deluged with water day after day, with the result that the soil turns sour and the plant becomes moribund.

Another not infrequent cause of trouble may be traced to erratic watering; that is, daily attention for a time and then a period of forgetfulness, during which the unhappy plant receives no moisture, says Gardening Illustrated. A third cause is not uncommonly traceable to the fact that the plant is placed directly in a draft. It is not, as many suppose, the easiest matter in the world to keep window plants in good health, and it is only by patient attention and close observation that the cultivator learns the exact requirements—the likes and dislikes—of individual varieties. Careful watering, occasional weak doses of stimulant and, in the case of aspidistras and other fine-foliated plants, occasional spongings of the leaves, will go far toward success in the case of pot plants.

Some Observations on Man, and His Helpmate

"There is only one test of a man's character—his attitude to women."

"A man hates a woman to be remarkable, not because it renders them both conspicuous, but because it lessens his chance of being so."

"To find out whether a man is worthy of a woman's consideration from you, watch his attitude to women who are older and poorer than himself, and see him in a moment of unexpected success. Even then you can't be quite sure, for whereas women sometimes pose before other people, men pose all the time, and particularly to themselves."

"It is highly inconsiderate of any wife to be unwilling to spring at once into the posture her husband wishes her to adopt; to be kittenish when he wishes to toy, adoring when he desires to soar, subsultive when he elects to swear, and aspiring when he requires to converse as with an equal. It is just like a woman to have moods of her own at such a time."—From "Mere Man," by Honor Bright.

Find Alaskan Summer Heat Hard to Endure

During the summer heat of the temperate zone the Arctic regions look like a haven of rest and comfort from this distance, and it is hard to visualize the conditions which explorers describe.

Summer is very short in the Far North, but it is fiercer in proportion to its limited time. Under a sun shining from twenty to twenty-four hours a day, everything that grows and breeds comes to life with a rush. The land bursts in a very riot of flowers and the earth that in a few weeks now will be ice and snow-bound is carpeted with delicate color. Seventy degrees is cool for parts of the sub-arctic country.

There are inland valleys in Alaska where the mercury rises to 100 degrees in summer and men and animals wilt under the heat. There are places in the Far North of Canada in summer where the mosquitoes are so bad that neither man nor beast can face them, but must flee for their lives.

Incident That Upset Dignity of Inspector

A quantity of milk had arrived in the North and was loaded on an ordinary trolley awaiting claim by the consignees. The trolley had on it about ten of the large cans in which milk is carried by rail.

Along came a dignified inspector, bent on taking samples of the milk for testing purposes. He mounted the trolley and proceeded to insert the special implement he carried to mix the milk before taking out the samples.

But the front bogey wheels were not well placed for such an operation. The weight of the inspector upset the whole trolley. The contents of all the cans flowed freely over the stone pavement, and the dignified inspector was in the middle of it all. He must have bathed in about 100 gallons of milk and he had to be picked up and put into a cab to go home and change his clothes.

The language of the milkmen waiting for the milk could not be printed.—London Answers.

MARRIED
Through carelessness in looking notes, we failed to mention the Hyman-Bowling wedding last week. These young people, Mr. Ira Hyman, of the Challis community, and Miss Iola Blanche Bowling, of 25 miles west of Littlefield, drove in Sunday night, March 30th, and Elder A. L. Burnett said the wrds that made them one. The ceremony took place immediately after the church service, in the parsonage, and was witnessed by a number of the church audience. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hyman, of the Challis community, and we understand the parents of the bride formerly lived at Meadow. Congratulations.

Tribe Claims Descent Directly From Adam

In the Mosul area, between Turkey and Iraq, the League of Nations' investigating commission studied a strange devil-worshipping people called the Yedizi. The religion of these people is extraordinary. From God, they believe, emanated seven spirits—the first satan; the second, Jesus Christ. In their belief God created the world through satan and leased it to him for 10,000 years, 6,000 of which have elapsed. Their name for satan is Melek Taus, whom they worship in the form of a bronze peacock. They have a temple on whose walls are painted sun, moon, stars and a great black serpent. There every year they sacrifice a white bull. For the rest, their religion is conglomerate. They adore equally the Old and New Testament and the Koran, Jesus and Mohammed. The sign of the cross is holy to them, but so are Mecca, and verses from the Koran. They believe in the transmigration of souls and in the divinity of fire. They live in complete isolation. Their origin is obscure. They speak Kurdish, but look like the types of old Assyrian monuments. They claim to be different from all other peoples, and more ancient. Others, they say, are descended from Adam and Eve, whereas they are descended from Adam alone.

High-Grade Kangaroos

The most intelligent variety of kangaroos live in trees and are found only in north Australia, according to a writer in the Sydney Bulletin. "Scientists say the 'roos came from Asia, then connected with Australia," says he. "The tree-climbing 'roo boards in north Australia only and is exceedingly intellectual, having developed the art of thoroughly and prettily clothing himself. He understands the benefit of living in little communities and intelligently chattering about the weather, and is so physically developed that he can live in trees better than on the ground."

Hung On to Good Thing

A young Scotsman took his lass to a high-class motion picture theater in London. It was in the afternoon, and presently an attendant came to them with tea and cake on a tray. "How much?" the young man inquired cautiously. "There is no charge," answered the attendant. In silent wonder the youth and his lass sipped their tea and nunched their cake. Two hours later, after they had witnessed a performance, the girl whispered, "We must be going. It's past six o'clock." "Not me, lass," he replied. "You can go if you like, but I'm staying to supper."

Big Game Vanishing From Belgian Congo

It is reported that 30,000 male elephants are being killed every year in the Belgian Congo, and the native custom of elephant trapping has resulted in the death of a large number of female and young elephants without tusks and therefore useless for the ivory market. Natives were leaving agricultural work in order to look after elephant traps, which captured, of course, all classes of elephants and not merely ivory bearers. As a result the whole breed is being reduced, the average weight of tusks being eight pounds less today than before the World war. Hippopotami and rhinoceroses, gorillas and antelopes were also fast disappearing from certain districts, while certain varieties of small and gay-plumaged birds formerly plentiful in the Congo are now seldom seen except on women's hats. More severe enforcement of existing hunting regulations and the taking of new and stronger measures for the preservation of big game by marking out forest reserves where hunting would be forbidden, is being advocated.

Cause for Rejoicing

That optimists see only the cheerful side of events because it is their nature to do so, and not because they are the beneficiaries of constant good fortune, was illustrated by a mishap that befell a man noted for his buoyant spirits. A friend, calling at his office, found him laughing heartily. At his feet lay the fragments of a mirror, which he explained, he had just broken accidentally. "But why are you so merry about it?" the friend inquired. "Why don't you see," laughed the optimist; "it limits my bad luck to seven years."

Sunlit Minds

Studies by physicians and scientists in England reported at the congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health, held at Brighton, England, indicate that sunlight, "either natural or artificial, when properly administered, may have a definitely beneficial effect on mental activity." It was found that children handicapped in school work by illness, when cured with the aid of sunlight caught up with and even outdistanced their classmates.

Cast Iron and Steel

To know the proper definition of everyday substances is sometimes very useful in argument. The latest for steel and cast iron are given us by a Japanese chemist in the Imperial University of Tohoku. Steel he defines as "an iron-carbon alloy with a content of carbon lying between 0.035 and 1.7 per cent." Cast iron is similarly "an iron-carbon alloy" but with a carbon content of "between 1.7 and 6.7 per cent."

Famous American Society

The Society of Officers of the Continental army called the Society of the Cincinnati, was founded by regular officers of the Continental army at the headquarters of Baron von Steuben on the Hudson, 1783, was named for a traditional Roman dictator, Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus, born about 519 A. D. The name was adopted in allusion to the approaching change from military to civil pursuits and referred to the fact that Cincinnatus when named dictator was discovered by the deputies sent to apprise him of the honor, digging on his farm beyond the Tiber, an occupation he was loath to leave and eager to resume after much military glory.

No Mail for C...

The postal service is laughing at the story of a post-office inspector who went into the hills of Arkansas to check up a village post office. The neighbors said the P. M. had gone fishing. Finding him, the inspector asked, "Are you the postmaster?" After a minute the P. M. said, "Yep. What's your name?" "P. D. Smith." The P. M. reached into his back pocket, took out a bunch of letters and running over them for the addressee, said, "Nope. Nothing fer ye," and went on fishing.—Capper's Weekly.

Miserable Despair

Despair makes a despicable figure, and is descended from a mean original. It is the offspring of fear, laziness and impatience. It argues a defect of spirit and resolution, and oftentimes of honesty, too. After all, the exercise of this passion is so troublesome that nothing but dint of evidence and demonstration should force it upon us. I would not despair unless I knew the irrevocable decree was passed, I saw my misfortune recorded in the book of fate, and signed and sealed by necessity.—Jeremy Taylor.

Hymns Form Links

The Old and the New worlds have been linked by hymns. Doctor Reeves tells how American history opened with the singing of a Christian hymn. "On the evening of September 25, 1492, one of the companions of Columbus saw what he thought to be land lying dimly in the west. . . . From all three of the ships, as Columbus himself gives the account in his diary, there rose the sound of the old 'Gloria in Excelsis Deo.'" We learn that later in the history of Christian America "The Bay Psalm Book" was printed in the modest dwelling of the first president of Harvard, President Dwight of Yale, who was a chaplain in the Revolutionary army, edited and partly wrote what was for years the leading hymn and psalm book in the country. In 1737 at Charleston, S. C., John Wesley, an Anglican missionary, published the first hymn book of the Church of England.—W. M. Letts in Yale Review.

Ancient and Modern

Systems of Currency

In the early days of our civilization, when a man's flocks and herds were his only possessions, they also constituted his money, and when metal coins were first introduced many had cattle stamped on them.

The Latin for cattle is "pecus" and it is not a far stretch from this to our word "pecuniary," which is usually associated with money.

Again, the word "cattle" is derived from "capital," the origin of which is the Latin word "caput," meaning a head, and from the very earliest times beasts have been spoken of as so much per head.

It is curious, too, how agriculture has indirectly affected our system of currency. When man found it easier to dig with a bronze or iron spade than with wood, it was not long before iron and bronze coins came into use. Later, when gold and silver were discovered, they were quickly adopted for currency.

The word "salary" comes from "saline." When the Romans dominated Britain they took possession of a great many of the salt mines, because salt was then a valuable commodity; in addition, workmen in the salt mines were frequently paid with salt, and it was not long before this form of remuneration became known as salary.

Would Have History

Recorded on Tablets

If we of today were very much concerned that people 10,000 or 15,000 years hence shall know who we were and what we did, we suppose we should follow the advice of Albert Vanderlaan, ceramic expert, and make a pictorial record of ourselves and our achievements on clay plaques. Newsprint crumbles in a few decades, books and manuscripts are perishable, wood turns to dust and iron to rust, brick becomes earth, the marble tombstone weathers into a limestone devoid of inscriptions, and, as we have learned, our national capitol is built of rotten sandstone which only repeated coats of weatherproof paint have kept from disintegration. Nothing lasts except glazed pottery—a thing more enduring than stone or metal.

It is looking a long way ahead, but there would be point in reproducing the characteristic physiognomies, edifices, machines and products of our civilization in baked clay. Anyway, we wish prehistoric man had done more systematic work of this kind for the benefit of his successors.—Cincinnati Times-Star

SCOTTISH RITE DORMITORY AT AUSTIN TO BE OPENED

Austin, Texas, April 6.—The Scottish Rite Dormitory at the University of Texas, at Austin, will be opened for the summer term June 7th, 1926, states B. B. Cobb of El Paso in a letter to local Scottish Rite representative, Morgan Copeland.

Further facts concerning the Scottish Rite Dormitory at Austin are: "A part of all fees paid by candidates to any Scottish Rite body in Texas go to the support of this dormitory, therefore any candidate joining the Scottish Rite helps contribute to the support of this dormitory.

The Scottish Rite Dormitory was erected by the Scottish Rite Masons of Texas at an approximate cost of one million dollars. The building was constructed primarily for the daughters of Texas Masons. Recently the board of directors generously consented to open the dormitory for the first term of the Summer school of 1926. All desirable applicants, regardless of Masonic affiliation will be admitted. The Dormitory will open for the summer term June 7th and closes July 20th.

The building contains spacious and attractive sitting rooms, social room, dining room offices and club rooms. There are bed rooms to accommodate 318 students. All rooms are furnished attractively with single beds, study tables, built in chests of drawers, hanging closets, dressing tables with triple mirrors, rugs, draperies and lavatories with hot and cold water. Every room in the building has an outside exposure, and a pushbutton elevator makes them all equally accessible.

The bed room floors are generously supplied with marble tile bath and toilet rooms, shower baths, laundry-ettes, fudge kitchens and large sleeping porches.

The building supplies all sheets, pillow cases, bed spreads, blankets, towels and table napkins. Each oc-

A. C. C. TO HAVE NEW ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

At the annual meeting of the board of trustees of Abilene Christian College, plans were drawn up for the erection of a new administration building, which is to cost approximately $150,000. The building is to contain an auditorium with a seating capacity of from 2,000 to 2,500 people. The actual construction is to begin in the near future.

A campaign has been planned for an endowment fund of $500,000. The college is in the best financial condition since the founding of the institution twenty years ago. With the past record of steady growth and rapid advance to a first class college, very optimistic views are held for its future.

Will Fisher, who was seriously stabbed recently, was able to be in town Saturday for the first time. He was looking very well, but is quite stiff yet.

Mrs. Otho Welch of Big Spring, is visiting in Brownfield this week.

cupant of the dormitory is allowed 18 pieces of laundry each week. No garment can be sent to the laundry unless it is indelibly marked with owners name.

For these comfortable accommodations, laundry and wholesome meals prepared under the direction of a trained dietitian, the rates for each applicant for six weeks are $75.00 for double rooms, $82.50 for single rooms and $90.00 for double rooms with private connecting baths. Board will be collected June 14 for the entire term. No refunds. Every applicant must be accompanied by a $5.00 room deposit.

All dormitory applicants are required to comply with such fundamental rules for their government as may be prescribed by the officers of supervision.

"I AM JUST A POOR FARMER"

How many of you have heard the expression "I am just a poor farmer?" Isn't it just about time the farmers of this country quit demeaning their own occupation and took a little pride in it? Who ever heard of a merchant, a doctor a lawyer or a brick mason talk about his job as though he were ashamed of it? Successful men and many who have not yet attained success, are proud of their occupation, trade or profession—all but the farmer—and not one of them has as much to be proud of as a farmer who successfully combats insects and variable weather and helps feed and clothe the world.

When a man walks into a bank to borrow a little money he should go in with head up and talk business with the banker as one business man to another. If he is worthy of credit or has security, he will get his money, for that is what banks are for. If he goes with his hat in his hand and a hang dog appearance, the banker won't have much use for him, "the bank is not putting out money just now," or "money is tight." So it is with farming. If farmers would spunk up and quit belittling their own job, they would find dealing with business men a real pleasure. Just so long as farmers make out that they are ignorant and occupy a lowly position in life, just so long will other people deal with them on that basis.—Farm & Ranch.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias.
 "But an angel came at the break of day,
 And rolled the stone from the grave away."

This was our first Easter Morn. The story is beautifully told in Matthew 28; 1-6. While the writers of the four gospels all tell of the scenes at the sepulcher of our Risen Lord, none it seems to me, in such simple and beautiful language as St. Matthew.

The early christians greeted each other on this day with: Christ has Risen. The response was Christ has risen indeed and has appeared unto Peter. With them the tragic surroundings of his betrayal, his trial, and cruel death with his unlookedfor resurrection, was ever present.

For over three hundred years the Church was divided as to the proper time the event should be celebrated, but the question was settled by the first council of Nice, A. D. 325. "That Easter is the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon our next after the 21st of March, and if the full moon happens on a Sunday, Easter day is the Sunday after." Under this edict of the council Easter could not happen earlier than March 28th.

The observance of the day has been strictly followed by the Catholic Lutheran and the Anglican churches during their existence; by special services. The protestant churches have, in recent years, begun commemorating the day. The younger generation and many of the older have come to observe it by a display of new hats and bonnets and other wearing apparel.

Just how much Christ is honored by this new Easter fad, we will leave to those who indulge.

I will also say in passing, that in recent years it has been the custom of the Presidents, with their families, members of the supreme Court and officers of the Army and Navy, to attend in a body, High Mass, at a certain Catholic church at Washington. Why this is done I am not able to answer unless it be to curry favor with the Catholic hierarchy.

Easter services were held here at the Baptist church. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Draper, pastor of the church from John 20th. The discourse was one of much feeling, and an inspiration to those who believe in the Resurrection. This should include all.

The election of trustees of the Meadow Independent School district passed off quietly, and resulted in the selection of John Timmons, George Gafford, C. P. Pendergrass and W. A. Hinson. All of them are satisfactory, as in fact those who were defeated would have been if they had been elected.

Meadow appears to have held her own at the County Meet at Brownfield Friday and Saturday. This speaks well for teachers and pupils. We hope it will inspire them to greater efforts next time.

A Mr. Smith from near Ropes was buried at the Meadow cemetery Sunday afternoon. Rev. Draper conducted the funeral service. Cause of death said to be abscess of the brain. He leaves a family, wife and several children. May our Heavenly Father temper the wind to the shorn lambs.

Methvin and Riley, two young men who have been in our community for the past two years, working at the Handley Gin left Friday for their old homes: Methvin for Tennessee and Riley for Chilla-cothe, Tex. They had kindly endeared themselves to most of us, and I am sure we shall miss them and our best wishes follow them.

BROWNFIELD STUDENTS MAKE GOOD RECORD IN COLLEGE

Judson Burnett, son of Rev. and Mrs. Chas. Burnett of Brownfield, has been appointed manager of the book store of Wayland College where he is a student this year. The college maintains the book store for the sale of books and supplies for the student and this entails quite a volume of business which runs into hundreds of dollars per month. The place is always held by some student who has shown himself thoroughly dependable and reliable and probably the most responsible position of the college held by a student. Judson has made an unusually good record in his literary work and is very popular with the student body.

Another Brownfield student to be honored in Wayland College is Miss Audie Markham, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Markham. She has been appointed as editor of the "Jack Rabbit", the college newspaper. This is the highest literary position to be held by a student and is always awarded on the basis of scholarship and ability. The paper is a twelve page edition and is published semi-monthly.

Other students from Brownfield attending the college at Plainview are: Nina Burnett and Fay Timmons both of whom are making excellent records.

SOME SCHOOLS CLEAN—SOME NOT SO CLEAN

The committee appointed to investigate the schools and grounds over the county, made their report Tuesday night of this week, and found some of the schools almost spotless, with hardly a straw on the campus. Other teachers had neglected to take the matter up with the pupils, and they were in poor condition of inspection.

Sawyer was given the first prize as the cleanest school in the county with Scuddy as second. Of the larger schools, Meadow easily won first place.

RICHARD STOCKTON, SIGNER

Thrown into the common prison in New York by a band of loyalists and treated with the utmost severity during the Revolution, was the fate of Richard Stockton, of New Jersey, signer of the Declaration of Independence, to be commemorated by the Sesquicentennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, June 1st to December 1st.

At the direction of Congress, General Washington reconstrated with General Howe, and Stockton was exchanged shortly afterwards, but his health had been permanently impaired. The New Jersey signer was born near Princeton in 1730. He was graduated from Princeton College, after which he studied law. When he visited Great Britain a few years later, he exerted himself especially to remove the prevailing ignorance regarding the American colonies. For a while he strove to affect a reconciliation between the colonies and the mother country and was silent for a time in the opening debates on the question of Independence. In the end, he expressed concurrence in the final vote and signed the Declaration.

Richard Stockton's library, one of the best in the country, was burned by the British when they occupied Princeton at the close of 1776 and his estate, called "Morven," in the suburbs of Princeton, was devastated. The portraits of the signer and his wife were pierced with bayonets. By these strokes of ill luck and by the depreciation of Colonial currency, his fortunes were greatly deminished and he was forced to obtain help from his friends.

As an eminent lawyer, who became Judge of the Supreme Court of New Jersey, Richard Stockton became a valuable member of the Continental Congress, to which he was elected in 1776. He signed the Declaration of Independence along with his distinguished son-in-law, Benjamin Rush of Philadelphia, who had married his daughter, Julia.

Edd C. Bartlett, candidate for commissioner was doing something besides electioneering here Saturday. He was proudly telling his friends about the birth of twin mule colts to one of his big black mares that morning early. One of them was a horse and the other a mare colt, the horse colt being slightly larger than the mare, but both being large and well developed. He would make no prediction as to what twin colts meant to him politically.

G. W. Crone, of the Forrester community, is now one of our regular readers.

John Howard, of Haskell, came up Sunday. He did not learn of Collins capture until Saturday.

MORE ABOUT THE PHILADELPHIA EXPOSITION

As advised you some several weeks since, B. M. Whiteaker, Exhibit Manager has returned from Philadelphia and our space has been selected in the Agricultural and Industrial building at the Sesquicentennial grounds and we are preparing to gather our exhibit.

Every affiliated town in West Texas will have the right, not only to furnish stuff to be shown in the exhibit, but also to furnish literature to be distributed throughout the exposition.

How to Ship Your Stuff

The main exhibit will be shipped from Fort Worth on or about May 12, direct to Philadelphia. If you have any agricultural products that you desire to be shown, please immediately communicate with Mr. Whiteaker at Stamford and he will tell you where to send same. It must be secured, however in time to leave Fort Worth about May 12th. After the exposition opens at Philadelphia we plan to supplement our exhibit from time to time and as the crops come in West Texas, you will doubtless want to send stuff in to be shown. To do this, all you will have to do will be to put your stuff up, properly pack it and express it to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Exhibit, care Agricultural Building, Sesquicentennial Exposition, Philadelphia, Pa. If you have any other commodity that you would like shown in this exhibit, kindly communicate with Mr. Whiteaker.

No doubt you will want to have literature about your community distributed during the six months of the Exposition. To do this, all you will have to do is express such literature to Philadelphia as above. All of your literature will be distributed from day to day.

We will later advise you of the itinerary for the special train going from West Texas to Philadelphia. The itinerary has not yet been completed. Kindly let us hear from you promptly as we are anxious that every community have representation.

THE SONG OF THE CORN

I was made to be eaten,
 And not to be drunk;
 To be thrashed in a barn,
 Not soaked in a tank.
 I come as a blessing
 When put through a mill,
 And as a blight and a curse
 When run through a still.
 Make me up into loaves
 And your children are fed;
 But it into drink,
 I will starve them instead.
 In bread, I'm a servant,
 The eater shall rule;
 In drink, I'm a master,
 The drinker a fool.
 Then remember the warning
 My strength I'll employ—
 If eaten, to strengthen;
 If drunk to destroy.

We human beings are funny creatures. Some of us will chew up $23.47 worth of Battle Axe or Brown Mule every year, spit red all over the sidewalk whenever we please, keep our whiskers well irrigated with amber and then cuss like a sailor when asked to dig up $2.13 extra school tax. S'funny.

The Lahey people had a fine Easter program Sunday, which was enjoyed by almost the entire community. Some attended from here.

Suffered weak, nervous

"I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker."
 "I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry."
 "I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."
 Thousands of other women have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. Its action has been found to be of great benefit in many common female ailments.
 Buy it at your druggist's.

Carl Hudson and family have moved to a ranch near Tatum, having rented their farm in the Johnson community. He wrote in to have his paper changed, stating that while he liked there, Terry was still home to him.

Big Spring—Bids asked for construction of 18 Locks street paving, and waterworks improvements.

C. W. Watson, who has been secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce for the past two years, has gone to Big Spring in that capacity.

Yoakum—New Presbyterian Church being built.

Houston—Construction of six factories and 1,200 hotel, along Houston ship channel, announced.

"A LITTLE KNOWLEDGE IS DANGEROUS THING"
 To know "just a little" or "almost everything" about the title to a piece of property is just as safe as knowing nothing at all—and no safer.
 Be certain you have complete, detailed, accurate and absolute knowledge that your title is valid before you pay away your money.
 Possible you may be able to get such knowledge from people who abstract title "on the side."
 But surely you are most likely to get it from specialists, who devote their entire time, energies, and brain power to making abstracts that are absolutely error-proof.
 That means us in this town and county.
 Come in and we will explain the service in detail.

POPULAR FOR YEARS!

A popular McCormick-Deering P & O lister is the 4-wheel, No. 423 Cotton Lister shown above. Easy riding, light in draft, and remarkable for their steady running and uniform work. Thousands in use each season.

McCormick-Deering P&O 2-wheel listers have been long and favorably known. They are built in two styles; with the old and popular reverse feed cotton hoppers, and known as No. 111, or with single seed, variable drop cotton hoppers, No. 411. The continued use of these listers is proof of their satisfactory performance.

BANKERS SURVEY
STATE BANK LAWS

Find That Movement for State Guaranty of Bank Has Gone Into Eclipse.

New York.—A survey of state banking laws conducted by the State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association shows marked progress toward greater uniformity and more efficient bank supervision. It is declared by Frank W. Simmonds, in charge of the division, in a statement giving the results of the investigation. He says that the movement for state guaranty of bank deposits appears to have gone into eclipse.

The division has urged that the office of bank commissioner be freed from politics and all other functions of state government and tenure be made more secure with sufficient compensation and discretion to attract men of outstanding ability." Mr. Simmonds says. "Gratifying progress has been made during the past year in important bank legislation in many states. Idaho, Wyoming and Oregon led the list by adopting entirely new modern banking codes, while Texas and Montana have new codes in preparation.

Uniformity Among State Laws

"The survey shows that it is generally agreed there should be a high degree of uniformity among the states in laws dealing with certain fundamental principles of bank organization, regulation and supervision, and that there is a strong tendency in this direction. We find a very definite trend toward increasing the minimum capital requirements of banks to $25,000; creation of banking boards to act in an advisory capacity with the state bank commissioner, and legislation empowering bank commissioners to take complete charge of insolvent banks and to liquidate them as distinguished from liquidation through the courts.

We find also a trend toward legislation providing for closer supervision and regulation of building and loan associations; more equitable taxation of bank stock; legislation providing for merger, conversion or consolidation of banking institutions; the legalizing and regulating of what is known as 'departmental banking'; broadening the field for investment of funds of saving banks and trust companies, and increasing the power of the bank commissioner as to granting or denying charters for new banks, and authorizing his making reasonable rules and regulations governing bank management and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof.

"Additional general characteristics of state bank legislation are for increasing the compensation of the bank commissioner and lengthening his term of office of four, five or six years, with power to appoint necessary deputies and examiners; legislation providing for the reduction of mandatory bank calls to three and reducing the number of examinations required by law annually to one; making issuance of worthless checks a misdemeanor; limiting or prohibiting an officer or director of a bank borrowing from his bank unless his collateral is approved by a majority of the board of directors, and limiting or prohibiting the opening of branch banks.

Eclipse of Guaranty Movement

"The question of state guaranty of bank deposits appears this year to have passed into an eclipse, so far as the extension of the idea is concerned, notwithstanding the fact that state guaranty laws were recommended by the governors of two states, and bills were introduced in several of the states, all of which were defeated. The general tendency, so far as state guaranty of deposits laws are concerned, is distinctly the other way, the indications being that several states now having guaranty laws are trying to free themselves from this legislation. Oklahoma has abandoned the plan of state guaranty of deposits, and this year the South Dakota legislature has repealed the state guaranty law and has referred the repeal to the people at the next general election for ratification."

BANKERS RAISE FUND OF $500,000 FOR EDUCATION

A fund of $500,000 to endow scholarships and research in economics in American colleges was recently established by the American Bankers Association in celebration of its Golden Anniversary. The intention of the Foundation is to promote education in the direction of sounder general economic understanding. Half the total sum represents subscriptions by the American Bankers Association, the American Institute of Banking and individual bankers, and the other half quotas assigned to bankers in each state. The Association gave $50,000 from its reserve funds, and the American Institute of Banking, through individual subscriptions from its members, who are chiefly clerks in the banks, subscribed $25,000. Numerous subscriptions of $5,000, $2,500 and $1,000 each were made by individual bankers in all parts of the country.

MANY COMPLIMENTS FOR LAST LYCEUM NUMBER

There are not a great many people who like lectures, for most people have enough curtain lectures at home. However, those who attended the last lyceum course are all agreed that this lecture was far removed from the usual lecture course. That while much good and wholesome information was received, it came through a route of interesting phrases and sentences that really entertained.

MANY ENGLISHMEN ARE BE-COMING MOHAMMEDANS

London, April 6.—Since the war Englishmen have been turning Mohammedan at the rate of twenty a month," according to Khalid Sheldrake, Englishman, converted Mohammedan, and Incan of the New Moslem Mosque—the third in England—which is rearing its dome and minarets amidst the church steeples of a London suburb.

"At the close of the Great War the English men and women who had embraced the Moslem faith were mere handful; today they number more than three thousand definitely known to us, and the demand for authentic translations of the Koran—the Holy Qur-an, as we call it—clearly indicates wide-spread interest." Sheldrake told the United Press. "The true faith has begun to spread through the western world."

"Among well-know English people who have found their spiritual home in Mohammedanism are: Lord Headley; Sir Archibald Hamilton, Bart.; Lady Hamilton; Lady Evelyn Cobbold; the late Major General J. B. B. Dickson of the Regular Army; Marmaduke Pickthall, the novelist and Dr. H. M. Leon, the scholar, secretary of the Society of Philology.

"Some have been converted by their travels in Moslem lands; others by the more or less accidental perusal of the Holy Qur-an. Thoughtful women are especially surprised to discover, contrary to the widespread Christian notion, that the Holy Qur-an places women on a higher plane than either the Old Testament or the New," Sheldrake explained.

Khalid Sheldrake is a young man bubbling over with energy and humor. He is married and has a daughter; both mother and daughter, he said, are Mohammedans.

"There is nothing in the Qur-an making polygamy compulsory," he continued. "In eastern countries, where conditions have permitted polygamy, the Qur-an has laid own certain eminently sensible rules for the guidance of that type of family life, but today polygamy is fast disappearing as an institution. The question will soon have only an academic interest.

"Modern women should not forget that, Mohamed, as one stroke, abolished the cruel oriental custom of burying the daughters alive; he praised daughters and raised them, so to speak, to his right hand; one of his remarks is that 'Whoever does good to girls, it will be to him a curtain from Hell' and he predicts special blessings upon the good man who takes orphan girls and brings them up with his children.

"We have had a mosque at Koking in Sarvey for the past 35 years; more recently another was built at Southfields and now we are taking steps to erect a third in East Dulwich."

EDITOR HILL AND SON

Editor E. I. Hill and son Frank paid the Herald a pleasant call Saturday morning, stopping long enough to pass the time of day and talk shop some, yet not long enough to get all said we wished to say. Editor Hill is publishing a fine newsy paper for the Tahoka people and they seem to appreciate his efforts with good support.

After something like an hour spent here, they went on to Seagraves, on just what business we were unable to learn, but that did not keep us from guessing whether we were right or wrong. Come again, please.

Intimidated Bachelors

In Athens, says a legend, women kept coming for a peculiar purpose. Marriage was considered so honorable that when a bachelor passed in the street "women had a right—which they used—to run after him and beat him with a stick; so either through patriotism or fear of the bastinado, all bachelors married sooner or later."

Too Rough on Parson

A Massachusetts court docket reveals that in 1650 Henry Walton was fined for saying that he would as soon hear a dog bark as a sermon by Reverend Cobbell. John Studly was fined for stealing his master's ox and selling it back to him. Robert Edwards drew a fine for wearing excess apparel—sleeve lace and gold buttons.

Illogical

Dorothy was having her first meal on the dining car and she was wasting no time about it. At length her mother said: "Don't eat so fast, child." Dorothy looked up with an injured air. "How can I be eating too fast," she inquired, "when you said yourself this was an awfully slow train?"

Origin of Baseball

Ball playing was popular in Egypt 4,000 years ago, and a leather ball has been used ever since in almost every country, including China. Bating a ball is a modern invention. Baseball originated in Cooperstown, N. Y., in 1839. Rules were drawn up first in 1845.—Doy's Life.

MISTAKE ABOUT ALL FRUIT BEING KILLED

The Herald stated that the entire fruit crop was thought to be killed in Terry County, and so sure was he of his grounds that he was right, that he took no pains to examine the trees. Sunday afternoon the editor read of a man in a neighboring county who said all fruit was never killed in March, and taking courage from the article, we examined our small orchard, and found nothing but sound plums, both compass and other varieties, but very few peaches were dead. Of the grape and apples blooming still later, will almost sure be good if not killed later.

The writer, in the article we read, made no explanation why March weather would not kill fruit, stating he did not know, but in his long experience on the Plains, it had never happened, he said, and that was all there was to it.

CHARIVARI MR. AND MRS. SCHULZE

On last Tuesday evening a crowd of the young people of this city decided that Mr. and Mrs. George Schulze had got by too easy, so decided to put them through the proverbial 'third degree' on the success to a happy married life. About 8 o'clock they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bond, with all the drums, horns and whatnot, and proceeded to the home of Mrs. Welch where the newlyweds were peacefully spending a quiet hour, unaware of the uprising until they heard the band.

After a blindfolded ride in the one horse shay over the town and surrounding country, they again went to the home of the bride and presented them with many beautiful presents including linen, silverware, cutglass, etc. The groom invited all over the Palace drug store and 'set 'em up.' Many congratulations were again extended to their future happiness and prosperity.

ANOTHER CONVERT

The Ford Motor company, according to Snyder Atwell, advertising manager of the Dallas branch of the Company, is through with billboard advertising for the balance of this year in West Texas. "Newspaper advertising," says Mr. Atwell "better carries our message and we will increase the size of newspaper ads and may also increase the number of ads run."

Thus another convert and a pretty important one, too, joins the ever-increasing army of one hundred percent newspaper advertisers in West Texas.

And West Texas is not the only place where this curtailment of billboard advertising is taking place. It's being done all over the country and by many big industries just like the Ford Motor Company.

Ford ads, like those of practically all of the big motor companies, appear regularly in your Daily Journal and the fact that the company officials are pleased with their advertising representation in the Journal is another testimonial of the fact that Journal advertising pays.—Lubbock Journal.

WELLMAN NOTES

With the passing of the Interscholastic League Meet, the four teachers and the one-hundred pupils of the Wellman school are setting down into intensive work for the last lap of the race. Several pupils are preparing for the state examinations for college entrance to be given in May. These young folks are to be commended for their ambition they show to enter various schools as soon as their own term is out.

The community is proud of the showing the school made during the League Meet. This being Wellman's first time to participate. A report of the standing of the various schools is eagerly awaited.

The Wellman boys' debating team met the Seagraves team in a practice debate Tuesday evening, March 30, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Seagraves theatre. Through a misunderstanding both teams were prepared for the affirmative argument; but since our boys had only their affirmative notes, the Seagraves boys showed their sportsmanship by taking the negative side. The decision was two to one in favor of the affirmative. Both teams are to be congratulated upon their early start in public speaking.

Nineteen interested people met at the school building Saturday evening of April 3rd and organized a Parent-Teacher's Association. Mrs. Sam Adair was elected president; Mrs. James B. Baker, vice-pres; Mr. O. P. Smith, second vice-pres; Miss Mary Melton, third vice-president; and Mrs. W. M. Schroeder, secretary-treasurer. The three vice-presidents appointed line working people for the program, membership and social committees of which the vice presidents are chairmen. The next meeting is to be at 7:30, Friday evening of April 16, and will consist of business only. After that the meeting will follow the usual procedure of business, program and social hour. Every patron of the community, who is interested in the children of our school is urged to join the P. T. A.

Easter Sunday was spent in various ways by our people. The S. S. met at 1:30 so that there would be time for an egg hunt before church services. A large crowd came for the hunt, for church and for the B. Y. P. U. program in the evening. We have two wide awake Unions—a Senior Union with over forty member, and a Junior Union, recently organized, with about twenty members.

Several of the young people attended the all-day meeting at Lahey Sunday, while still others enjoyed an outing to Cedar lake.

ANOTHER OX GORED

For many year sthe United States Government, through the Postal Department has been manufacturing and printing envelopes for public consumption. However, all the kicking the print shops might have kept up after their first objections, amounted to naught.

It now seems the United States Government will manufacture office furniture and leather cloth office equipment, perhaps more articles needed in offices.

Having a strong organization to aid them the National Manufacturers Assn. backed by every state and Sectional manufacturing organization, is going to go after the plan with full power and we predict things might yet happen to stop the practice.

A different ox is being gored, or the shoe is on the other foot, now there probably will be a more effective howl than there has been heretofore from the printing crafts. Statistics show that the Manufacturing Institutions of the United States buy Government printed envelopes by the million. That was all right, that was money because what the government printed is done at a loss and the deficit is made up by charging additional postage, like the additional cent that you now have to pay for mailing a private post card, yours cost two cents, the government card goes for one cent, but you must buy the card from the government to enclose extra is now charged on circular or unsealed mail. As well as the three cents you now have to add

How Wylackie Indians

Capture Their Fish

Before beginning the fishing operations it was incumbent upon them to eat up five small deer which they had brought into camp. William Kent writes, in the Yale Review, concerning the Wylackie Indian tribe. This was a worthwhile performance. The deer were skinned and hung up near the fire. The Indians sat around, each with a sharpened stick. They went to the pendant carcasses and cut off strips which they then partially broiled and swallowed, and continued in this occupation without napkins or finger bowls for about fifteen hours, at which time they exhibited considerable distention. From time to time the stripped bones were handed out to the nondescript dogs that always signalize an Indian camp. After this sumptuous repast both people and dogs were able to endure several days of fasting without complaint.

However, after a due allowance of sleep, our friends went out for fish, and it was a most interesting performance. Out of respect for us they refrained from the easy use of dynamite and put in practice an ancient method of getting results.

Going to a deep pool in a rock cleft they beat upon the water with branches, threw in stones and scared the school of fish until, like so many small trout, they took refuge under the banks. Then an able-bodied Indian stripped and, taking in his hand a small scoop net without a handle, dived down into the icy depths. He swam under the rocky bank until only his legs were visible in the clear water. He succeeded in getting a big fish into the net and came in triumph to the surface to drag him out in shallow water. We who considered ourselves fishermen were forced to praise and admiration of such a feat. I commend it as real sportsmanship.

Put Implicit Faith in Power of Twins

Among certain savage tribes in southeastern Africa twins are regarded as the children of heaven and are believed to possess the power of controlling the elements.

In times of drought the people will dig a hole in the ground, put the mother of twins in it and pour some of their precious water upon her. They believe that this will cause rain to fall.

When a thunderstorm occurs the people appeal to a twin to "talk to heaven" on their behalf. In many cases the mediator is a mere child, but the natives have implicit faith in his power to persuade the thunder and lightning to go away and leave them in peace. As soon as the storm has abated the youngster is reverently thanked for his intervention.

Soundings by Echo

The new method of taking soundings, now used on shipboard, is called the echo method. It has several distinct advantages over older methods such as increased rapidity, lower operation cost and greater accuracy. The outfit employs no lead or line and consists chiefly of an electric transmitting unit which sends sound vibrations through the water. As they rebound from the ocean's floor they are registered on a receiver in the ship. The depth of the water is determined by noting the lapse of time between the sending and receiving of the signals. The apparatus is set into operation simply by pressing a button. The results are registered visually, so that the navigating officer can determine the depth as easily as he can tell time by looking at a clock.

A Very Present Help

when you wish to send a newspaper to someone. All this was O. K. but now the worm turneth. Uncle Sam is threatening to go into the manufacturing business more extensively, such as metal furniture, leather and cloth equipment and optical instruments, etc., all of which does not set well with the National Manufacturer Association, which is now preparing to face the battle line with little delay.

If it is not right to manufacture these things, in competition with private capital, when manufacturing these articles why is it right to manufacture and print envelopes? Common sense furnishes the answer of course.

However, the question in hand might be, and we judge it as, "What has it to do with 'Build Crosbyton'?" It has this to do, the printed envelopes that Uncle Sam sells in Crosbyton every year, and everyone at a loss would keep one printer busy some time, perhaps a year, in a local shop. In other words Uncle Sam is robbing Crosbyton of perhaps one printer per year, and of course, every town in the United States, for all that, but we are particularly interested in Crosbyton. This printer would reside in Crosbyton, support a family in Crosbyton, and spend his earnings in Crosbyton and BUILD CROSBYTON.—Review.

HOW TO GET THOROUGH-BRED GILTS

We have received the following letter from Miller Brothers 101 Ranch, Marland, Okla:

"Mr. C. C. French, of the Fort Worth Stock Yards Company, was here last week and inspected our large herd of Duroc Jersey hogs, and advised us that you are in need of one or more carloads of bred gilts.

We have on hand at this time 300 head of bred gilts (pure-bred but not registered), ready for shipment. These gilts will average in weight 200 to 225 pounds. They are bred from our very finest boars and sows and are of the same quality of stock for which we formerly received $250 to $300 per head at our public sales.

We have now decided to offer these gilts, in carload lots only, 50 head or more, at $50 each and allow the freight to your county. We will also pay the personal expense and rail road fare of your county agent to come here and make inspection and selection of your carload.

Should it be necessary to have time in which to place these hogs among the farmers and get their notes into the bank, where they are sold on credit, we will allow 30 days time, provided the payment of same is guaranteed by some bank.

All breeding stock is double immuned against cholera, tested for tuberculosis, dipped, and the car disinfected before leaving here and we would not allow any to be shipped that are not first class breeding stock.

Should you desire any number of the enclosed circulars for distribution among your farmers we will be pleased to send you as many as you can use. Kindly let us hear from you."

We believe these are responsible people and if any of your people are interested in thorough breds, this would be a good place to get them. Porter A. Whaley, Mgr. W. T. Co. C.

BEAUTY-COMEDY SPECIAL HEADS RIALTO PROGRAM

One of the most widely publicized and eagerly awaited screen productions will be unfoalded to local movie goers next Wednesday and Thursday, April 14th and 15th, when Paramount's magnificent beauty-comedy spectacle, "The American Venus," begins a two days run at the Rialto theatre.

This is the photoplay that has the recent Atlantic City bathing beauty pageant for its colorful background, and which includes in the personnel of its cast Fay Lampher, who was crowned "Miss America" several of the leading national beauty contestants, twenty of the loveliest mannequins in America, to say nothing of a brilliant groupe of film and stage favorites, headed by Esther Ralston, Lawrence Gray and Ford Sterling.

This wondrous array of youth, beauty and talent is further enhanced by the most lavish and luxurious costumes, sets and scenic effects ever seen on the screen. The high point of spectacular display in the picture is the sumptuous fashion show and the artistic tableaux, which were filmed in color.

The theme of the story is a beauty contest staged by a group of artists who are desirous of finding a modern American Venus. The personalities who became involved in the tangled skein of the plot are a small town girl, who enters the contest to help boost her father's complexion creams, her press agent-lover and a rival beauty cream manufacturer and his son who attempt to defeat her ambitions for selfish business reasons.

The picture sets a swift pace from the moment it begins to unreel and maintains the interest and suspense right up to the final stirring finish. There is comedy in abundance, heart appeals galore and thrills aplenty. In fact the hair raising motorcycle race and dizzy aerial stunts are guaranteed to give the most blasé film fan a few extra palpitations of the heart.

Frank Tuttle has deftly directed the production which is based on Townsend Martin's original story.

Harry O'Harren, who has been the local manager for the Brownfield Produce Company for the past two years, will leave the last of this week for San Francisco. Mr. O'Harren has resigned his position here, having sold his interest in the produce company. It has not been learned who will take his place here.

Jim Hatton, former druggist of this city, who now resides at Levelland, was in town Monday of this week.

PRINCIPLES OF OPERATION

We believe that a bank should not only be a depository of funds, but indeed a haven where the rich and poor alike can confide their financial troubles, fears and doubts into the attentive ear of their mutual friend and counsellor the BANKER. The Bank, the foundation of all saving, should be solid like the granite, standing the acid test of time, pursuing a conservative but friendly course.

THIS BANK like the great Oak from a little acorn, of persistent effort and sound business principles has grown. It stands today like the Oak, its many services and ample resources like the limbs, cast their shadow of protection over those who seek its shelter—a mecca which invites the confidence and patronage of the public.

CHEVROLET MAKES ANOTHER RECORD IN MARCH

With a total of 65,041 automobiles produced during March, the Chevrolet Motor Company smashed all previous monthly records for a single month's production of modern 3-speed transmission motor cars by any automobile manufacturer.

A new manufacturing record is practically assured for April production.

Originally the March schedule was set for 57,500 cars. It was increased when demands from dealers indicated sales would be far ahead of the proposed schedule.

The total March production, with 25 working days in the month, averaged over 2,601 cars daily, and represents a total increase in production over March 1925, of 23,658, when 41,383 cars were produced.

The two preceding months of January and February also set records. In January 1926, 46,182 units were produced, three times the cars made in January 1925. In February 1926, 51,303 cars were made, nearly twice the production of February, 1925.

An unprecedented and steady demand during the winter months for the new improved Chevrolet model is responsible for the setting of the new production figures, which have kept night and day shifts at the factory working at high pressure.

SSS CLUB

The club met Tuesday afternoon with Lois Adams and Voncile Holgate at the home of the latter. A very delightful hour was spent in games and conversation.

Very delicious refreshments were served. The first course was an April fool course consisting of ginger cake and butter milk. A small slip of paper was placed on the plate saying "April fool." A delicious luncheon was then served, the first course being sandwiches, hot tea and salad; the second course was jello and whipped cream and cake.

The following club members were present: Misses Anthony, Duke, Hudgens, Elliott, Ballard, Bailey, Brown, Scudday, Kendrick, Holgate and Adams.

The club will meet next week with Gladys Kendrick.

The SSS Club met Monday with Joe Freda Duke and Gladys Kendrick at the home of the latter. The time was spent very much as usual.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following members: Misses Scudday, Price, Anthony, Duke, Hudgens, Hill, Brown, Bailey, Ballard, Welch, Elliott, and Kendrick.

The club adjourned after agreeing to meet at the school house at 6:30 to go on a hike.

J. F. BARRON, PIONEER LAMESA LAMESA BANKER IS DEAD

Lamesa, Mar. 29.—J. F. Barron, 75, pioneer resident of Dawson county, and President of the First National bank here, died at his home at 1:00 o'clock this morning. Mr. Barron organized the bank of which he was the head, in 1905, and has been at the head of the institution ever since. He was a member of the state legislature before coming to Dawson county in 1903.

The deceased has always taken a leading part in social, civic and business activity of Lamesa and Dawson county. He led the forces in the fight to organize the county, and was chairman of the committee that secured the right-of-way for the railroad through the county.

Throughout his long connection with this county and West Texas he has always shown unlimited faith in future development of the county, and as evidence of this, has always extended a helping hand to farmers in liberal loans through his banking institution to them.

He is survived by four sons and 3 daughters. J. E. Barron, one of his sons, is now cashier of the bank.

Funeral arrangements for this beloved and pioneering citizen had not been completed this morning, but it is probable that burial will be made tomorrow here.

LITTLEFIELD MAN KILLED AT SANTA FE GRADE CROSSING

Littlefield, April 2.—M. J. Boldes, farmer, was instantly killed, and W. T. Boyd, seriously injured, when a north bound Santa Fe passenger train struck the Chevrolet truck in which the two were riding at the Olton crossing a mile east of here today at 6:00 p. m. Boldes' skull was fractured. Boyd, who was taken to a Lubbock hospital, suffered a fractured skull and a broken arm and a broken hip. He may live.

The two men according to witnesses, drove on the track in front of the train in spite of the fact that the train had whistled several times. The truck had an inclosed cab seat, with curtains up, so that the driver may not have seen the approaching train. The truck was carried 300 feet in front of the locomotive, and completely demolished.

Boldes moved here several months ago from Lubbock, having originally come from Childress. He lived on a farm ten miles southeast of here. He is survived by a widow and several small children.

at 6:30 Monday afternoon and went from there on a hike. We all had a very delightful time, cooking our supper over a campfire. After the hike the club went in a body to the theatre.

Precedents of Modern Writing Paper Told

The credit of making the first sheet of paper is due, according to the American Forestry association, to a scholarly eunuch named T'sai-lun of China, in the year 75 A. D. For this achievement he was 40 years later raised to the rank of marquis.

It appears that T'sai-lun, believing that old bamboo tablets and stylus had outlived their usefulness, set for himself the task of making new writing materials. After 30 years he produced the first hand sheet of paper, and it was made from the bark of a mulberry tree.

Prior to T'sai-lun's day leaves of trees and various barks used in crude form had served the Egyptians, Romans and other nations as paper.

T'sai-lun, however, did not use the crude inner bark of the tree as the final material on which to make his records. He did use the bark, but merely as a raw material from which he produced a finished sheet of paper by a series of processes which, crude as they may seem now, were the forerunners of paper manufacture today.

Heine, Like Others, Felt Charm of Don Quixote

Heine, a later magician in laughter and tears, has narrated his own alternating attitudes toward Don Quixote. It was the first book he read after he had really learned to read; and he took the tale, he has told us, with the unshaken faith and seriousness of childhood. . . . he wept bitter tears over the ridicule and rebuffs of the noble-hearted knight. He re-read the book every five years or so with ever-varying feelings. As a youth he was, he confesses, bored by it. Later he saw in it only the comic side, and laughed at the follies of the mad knighterrant. Older yet again and wiser he made friends for life with Quixote and Sancho. Afterward he had but to glance over his shoulder to perceive attending him the phantom forms of the thin knight and the fat squire—more particularly, he adds, when he himself hung irresolute at some parting of the ways. What Heine felt by turns, the world has felt by classes.—Times Literary Supplement.

Didn't Want to Hear Papa

Betty and Bobbie were operating the radio. Suddenly from Betty came a scream of delight. "Listen!" she cried, "I have San Francisco, and that's where mother said daddy would be today." Bobbie paled a little, but he stood his ground. "Turn that dial," he commanded firmly. "What's the matter with you? Don't you know I broke a window pane today?"

Indefinite Term

The word "few" has never been authoritatively interpreted to mean a definite number. The word is necessarily indefinite and implies a small number, not many. In general the number is above two. The word is relative in respect to the number to which it is compared. If a thousand were expected, an attendance of a hundred would be a few, while if a hundred were a maximum, ten or twenty would seem a few.

Fantastic Titles Given to Court Favorites

Among the whimsical titles which appear on the pages of national history few are more apparently frivolous than the duke of Marmalade, the count of Lemonade and the earl of Brandy. They are, or were, however, real titles bestowed by a genuine monarch on three favorites during the last century.

In 1811 a revolution occurred in Haiti, and Christophe, a negro, declared himself emperor. Through conspiracy and plot he retained power until 1820, preserving to the last the appearance of a royal court and creating numerous nobility.

Among them were the three mentioned; and far from being instances of the frivolity of the African character, they were names of places, the first two being originally plantations, but latterly towns of some importance.

Good Reason for Returning

Commodore Albert B. Armitage of the British navy, in his book, "Cadet to Commodore," gives the following glimpse of the explorer Shackleton in the role of a reporter: "Shackleton and some of his comrades joined the Isis in Port Said on their homeward journey after his wonderful dash for the pole. He was cheery and full of vim as ever. The publisher of his book, 'The Heart of the Antarctic'—a copy of which he sent me—several reporters, and Italian officials met him. I took him to see my home, and then to our agency where he composed a number of telegrams. He wanted, so he said, a 'catchword.' He walked up and down the room, muttering several phrases to himself. 'I've got it at last,' he cried, 'Death lay ahead and food behind, so I had to return.'"

Dancing to Paradise

It is the belief of the Ponapeans, a tribe of South Sea Islanders, that unless you are a good dancer you will never go to heaven!

According to their creed, every soul passing to the "Great Beyond" is obliged to cross a bridge guarded by demoniacal watchmen waiting to pounce upon him and draw him down to the lower regions.

If, however, the soul is able to dance across the bridge the watchmen will be so engrossed in studying the movements that they will forget their duty and, before they have time to realize it, the soul will slip past them into paradise!

Somewhat Different

An aged divine, whose enunciation was none of the clearest, insisted upon using big words on every possible occasion. One day, after conducting a children's service, he was waited upon by a deputation of parents. "Our children," they complained, "inform us that you told them they should always be up to mischief." The puzzled cleric, sure of having said nothing of the sort, asked the parents to wait while he consulted his notes. Then it developed that what he had really said was that they should always be "optimistic."

Michigan's Distinction

In the case of Michigan the people adopted a state constitution and elected a complete set of state officials, and later that constitution was accepted by congress without re-election, the original delegate was seated in congress without re-election and the original state officials continued to serve without re-election after the formal admission of the state by congress on January 26, 1837. From November 1, 1835, to the date of admission Michigan was de facto a state, although not technically a state in the Union.

Cost of Orphans Huge

In the United States there is spent annually $30,000,000 to care for 150,000 orphans in orphan asylums. This is nearly $400 per child. For about the same number of children the various states pay out $13,000,000 for the care of children in the home of their own mothers or nearest kin or in foster homes. There are nearly 1,400 orphan asylums in the country.

Master of the Rolls

Once Not Empty Title

In the days before printing, the old records were always written in a form which made them literally a roll, says the Dearborn Independent. One sheet of parchment was used and the next one was sewed to its bottom edge, and the process repeated until a document might consist of a hundred or more sheets, or skins, as they were then called, all sewed together in one long strip. A piece of wood was then fastened to either end in the manner of a modern map and the strip rolled up from the bottom into a great roll or bundle. The reader began at the top, slowly unrolling one end as one rolled up the other end on another stick.

From this form rolls came to stand for manuscripts, particularly official manuscripts or court records. The keeper or master of the rolls was then the high officer who kept the records of the English courts of justice. Today the president of the chancery division of the high court of justice in England, ranking next to the lord chief justice of England, is called the master of the rolls. Originally the master of the rolls had the custody of the records, but in the course of time this charge became merely nominal.

C. O. NEWLIN BURIED IN AMARILLO CEMETERY

C. O. Newlin was born at Round-rock, Williamson county, Texas, in 1872, and departed this life March 24th, at the age of 53 years and 9 months. The Newlin family moved to Terry county in 1917. Mr. Newlin married Miss Daisy Hartwell in 1892, and to this happy union was born three children, namely: Mrs. Longley, Frederick, Okla.; Mrs. Rudder and Mrs. Simmons of Hobart, Okla., all of whom were at the bedside of their father when he passed away. A sister, Mrs. Anderson, of Austin, and a brother of Amarillo, were also here.

Funeral services were conducted at Amarillo by a Presbyterian minister, and the body was laid to rest beside his brother in the Amarillo cemetery. Mr. Newlin has been bothered for a long time with ulcerated stomach and when first taken to his bed, it was thought he had appendicitis. This was closely followed by pneumonia which soon ended his life.

Mr. Newlin had won a host of friends and acquaintances during his stay in Brownfield, who deeply regret his passing, and who extend the grieving family their sympathy. Mr.

BURGULARS ATTEMPT TO ENTER SEAGRAVES TAILOR SHOP

About 9 o'clock Monday night some party or parties attempted to break into the establishment of the Home Tailoring Company, located on Main street, "nig" Moore, who is manager of the company, stated that he happened to enter the building about this time and noticed the window glass broken out and the screen unhooked. They were evidently scared away by his timely appearance. Nothing was missed from the store, as the robbers were successful in making their entrance.—Seagraves Signal.

A. C. Ragsdaill, one of the new farmers of the Wellman country, was in recently and became a reader. Mr. Ragsdaill had sod land last year, but did well considering that fact and the extremely dry weather. He has broken out some new land this year and rebroke the old land and expects a good crop this year.

Newlin was not only a very devoted religious man but was a fine neighbor and citizen.

FIRE CHIEF ISSUES WARNING TO CITIZENS

(By Paul Ivey, Fire Chief)
Will you do your part to keep your home from being the next to go up in smoke by observing the following simple rules?

Do not allow trash and rubbish to accumulate in attic, closets or cellar. Keep matches in receptacle out of reach of small children.

Keep oily rags and mops in tin receptacle in the open. Never keep them in closed rooms or in closets.

Never allow knots to form in your electric light cord and do not hang from socket, electrical appliances when not in use.

Never leave an oil stove burning when leaving the house.

Never allow trash to be burned in open. Never start fire with kerosene. Never clean clothes with gasoline in a room with an open fire. Never place hot ashes in wooden or paper boxes. Never put a penny in the switch fuse.

Be sure that all chimneys and flues are safe. Keep gasoline and kerosene in approved can.

Never hang clothes near a stove to dry.

Watch the careless smoker.

LEA COUNTY GASSEY TO OPEN LARGE AREA

Blowing 10,000,000 feet of gas through the 8 1-4 inch control-head, the Maljamar Oil & Gas Corporation No. 1 wildcat well on the Baish permit in the NE1-4 of Section 21, 17, 32, in Lea county, is attracting the greatest attention since the bringing in of the discovery well at Artesia by Flynn & Yates in 1923.

After drilling through 65 feet of gray lime, twenty feet of broken formation was picked up with the gas sand topped at 3115 feet. The initial production was believed to have been around fifteen million feet, this settling to a little better than seven million feet, according to a gauge taken by Jack Allbright of the Phillips Petroleum Company, who visited the well Sunday in company with a number of big company geologists.

Drilled ten feet into the sand, the pressure again increased and a gauge taken Monday showed the well to be doing close to 14,000,000 feet and spraying considerable oil. Many are of the opinion that this oil is coming from the pay found at 2334 feet and this will be definitely settled when the crew has completed the running of 3,000 feet of 8 1-4 in casing which was ordered to the lease Monday night by Supt. Baish.

The striking if this gas proves conclusively the existence of a large closure in Lea County, and whether or not the No. 1 well will blow in a gusher, it is certain that a new producing area of large proportions will be opened. B. F. Van Horn, former United States Geological Surveyor, Jack Egan, geologist of the Carter Oil Company and J. Morgan Davis, of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, visited the well and are all of the opinion that the well had an excellent chance to make a nice producer.

The opening of the Maljamar pool is expected to revive interest in southeastern New Mexico and considerable drilling will be under way in Lea county within the next thirty days. A large amount of acreage has changed hands but active trading is not looked for until the completion of the No. 1, which may be carried down as a deep test.—Astoria Advocate.

TO GRAFT GLANDS OF CRIMINALS TO SICKLY CHILDREN

Paris, March 26.—The grafting of the thyroid gland of the bandit Oliver to a sickly child immediately after the bandits execution a year ago has produced such excellent results that the surgeons who performed the operation are recommending similar operations in cases of other criminals executed in France.

Ten seconds after Oliver was beheaded at Lille prison, his thyroid was transferred to a little girl who was both mentally and physically weak and had no traces of intellect.

Doctors Fefort and Piquet of the faculty of Lille university, now declare that the gland has developed perfectly, that signs of intellect have appeared, that the child is nearly normal, that she asks intelligent questions and discusses complex subjects.

Physically, she is like a child of her own age, and the surgeons assert that the great value of such operations have been definitely proven.

PIONEER RANCHMAN PASSED AWAY MONDAY NIGHT

R. L. Graves, 70 years, a pioneer ranchman of West Texas and New Mexico, passed away between one and two o'clock Tuesday morning, at his residence in the eastern part of the city, of apoplexy.

Mrs. Graves reported that she was awakened by a peculiar breathing and snoring, and tried to awaken him but being unsuccessful she hurriedly summoned neighbors and a physician. The physician pronounced the patient dead when he arrived.

Mr. Graves at one time owned considerable property, something like nine sections in the Union community but has sold most of it during the past few years to settlers, and about a year ago built and moved to town. He apparently, was in fine health when he retired for the night.

Funeral services were conducted under the auspices of the Christian church Sunday School at the family residence at 7:30 Tuesday evening, led by Rev. G. J. Thomas, pastor of the Methodist church. Rev. C. E. Ball, the Baptist pastor also assisted, and after several songs, among which was his favorite, the Sunday School children marched around to view the remains and drop a white flower on the casket. Besides a wife, two sons and two daughters survive him, all but one of the girls being present at the funeral.

The body was carried to Roswell Friday where deceased resided for some 20 years, and when they were joined by the other daughter. Entombment will be made in the Roswell cemetery.

Deceased was a member of the Christian Church, but whether he belonged to any lodges, we failed to learn. Mr. Graves had many close friends throughout the west who will mourn his departure. He had resided in this county about eight years.

REPORT OF SCHOOL SUPERVISOR ON BROWNFIELD HIGH

In order that the schools may be properly certified it is essential that minimum requirements be met. To that end the supervisor who recently visited your school makes the following recommendations:

The school at Brownfield seems to be enjoying a year of unusual prosperity. Improvement is observed in the following particulars:

1. A new High School building of standard construction and convenient arrangement, has been erected at a cost of $30,000.
2. The old building has been resurfaced and repaired in other respects at a cost of $2,000.
3. A sewer system has been provided and a city water system installed.
4. One high school teacher and four grade teachers have been added to the faculty.
5. Expenditures of $400 for high school library, $500 for manual training and mechanical drawing equipment, and $150 for home economics equipment, have been made.
6. Classes in manual training and domestic art are being taught.
7. The work of the elementary and grammar grades is now operated on the semester plan.

School spirit in the community and among the student is excellent. It is recommended:

1. That all teachers cooperate in the effort to secure credible work in English throughout the entire school system.
2. That all material submitted for accrediting receive careful consideration from the examiners.
3. That all possible effort be made to provide buildings to accommodate future enrollment. Conditions at present are excellent and should be kept so.
4. That seniors be encouraged to avail themselves of the advantages offered by the college entrance examinations to be given by the Department of Education.

The supervisor is deeply appreciative of the gracious courtesy extended her by the ladies of the city, and of assurance of cooperation expressed by the members of the school board. Such interest and willingness to assist in matter pertaining to school welfare can but produce satisfactory results.

The assistance in traveling rendered by Supt. and Mrs. Fagala is sincerely appreciated.

ANOTHER PIONEER PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY

One by one, the old pioneers of this section, who stood the rigors of the pioneering times to make a country for the rest of us, are passing to their rewards and a just rest from cares and labor. It is with sorrow the Herald chronicles the passing of Uncle Tom DeShazo, 79, of Gomez, who was among the first families to settle in this country, which occurred about 8:40 Wednesday morning. His death has been momentarily expected for the past several days.

Uncle Tom with his faithful wife, Aunt Lou, were conducting a hotel at Gomez when the writer landed here more than 17 years ago, and later moved to Brownfield and built and conducted the "Rock" hotel. For the past few years they have been residing at the old home in Gomez. Uncle Tom is only survived by his wife among the immediate family, only having a son and daughter, the former having passed away some twelve years ago, and his daughter, Mrs. Bob Holgate, died two years ago in February.

Uncle Tom was born in Arkansas, and although a mere lad served the last two years in the Civil War as a Confederate. After marriage he moved to east Texas, and was engaged in the drug business. He came to Terry county about twenty years ago.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 o'clock Thursday at the Baptist church at Gomez, after which the body was brought to Brownfield and entered in the Brownfield cemetery at 4:00 p. m.

A shadow of gloom has been cast all over the county at the passing of this highly respected and valuable old citizen.

LEA COUNTY OIL WELL CONTINUES GREAT ATTRACTION

The most skeptical will now admit that Lea county is to have a real oil pool.

The Maljamar in Section 21, 17, 32, has proven this fact.

This well is located about 34 miles west and 7 miles south of Lovington. It has been the center of attraction ever since the actual work of drilling was begun. And now it is attracting more attention and creating more interest than any other well in the state.

It was started for a deep test and to find the main oil pool which operators and geologists confidently believed to be in this part of the country. A real gusher or a five thousand foot test was the intention of the operators from the beginning.

At a depth of 2,334 feet an oil sand was found which it was thought would make a paying producer, but they were after "big game" and this was cased off and drilling was resumed. Two other good sands were also passed up for something better.

It now seems that this has been found. Last Sunday afternoon, at a depth of 3,115 feet another sand was encountered and the gas pressure was so great that the tools were blown from the hole. Since that time the well has been running wild until the casing can be set and the flow stopped.

The gas flow is estimated at from 10 to 14,000,000 cubic feet and the oil was thrown over the top of the derrick.

Before this last sand with the gas and oil was encountered, the Maljamar people had purchased more than 10,000 acres in the vicinity of this well in addition to their already large holdings. They had also made locations for three more wells, thus showing their confidence in the Lea county pool.

It is probable that more leases have changed hands and at larger prices than ever before in the history of the country.—Lovington Leader.
