Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS By the Secretary

Listed below is the final result of the findings of the committee on the cleanup campaign for residence district:

- J. E. Michie, 1st prize entire city.
 - Jack Head, 2nd prize entire city.
 - Sam Pycart, 1st prize northeast district.
 - Jesse Cox, 2nd prize northeast district.
 - E. Brown, 1st prize northwest district.
 - Mrs. Nowell, 2nd prize northwest district.
 - M. V. Brownfield, 1st prize southwest district.
 - E. S. Tankersley, 2nd prize southwest district.
- In the county contest Sawyer won first prize and Scadday school 2nd.

Work on advertising the newly created Fort Worth-Roswell Airline is progressing nicely and the highway is being placed in good shape and a good dirt road all the way from our town to Fort Worth and within the next few weeks will be practically hard-surfaced from Post City east, with a bridge across Yellowhouse river completed.

A military highway from Texarkana to California via Brownfield will probably be fully designated and recognized by the State Highway Department and Federal Commission at a meeting in Austin on the 10th of this month. An effort will also be made to have the Lamesa and Littlefield highway taken over and application made to take over the road from Brownfield to Seagraves, and when this is done Brownfield will have State Highways in every direction and be on the route of two National Highways leading east and west.

Representatives from Stamford to Roswell will probably meet in this city on the 12th for the purpose of directing the attention of the Katy officials to the superior advantages offered via O'Donnell and Brownfield over any other route that could be selected.

Within the next few weeks, and as soon as the farmers have gotten over the busy planting season, a mass meeting will be called for the purpose of organizing a poultry association. This is something that Terry county needs and will be of benefit to the citizens as a whole as better markets can be secured.

Did you see the pen of poultry that was exhibited last Saturday by Mr. Wood? The six birds were value at over $100.00.

The Board of Directors met in regular monthly session at the King Hotel Thursday night and heard the report as the present and proposed activities.

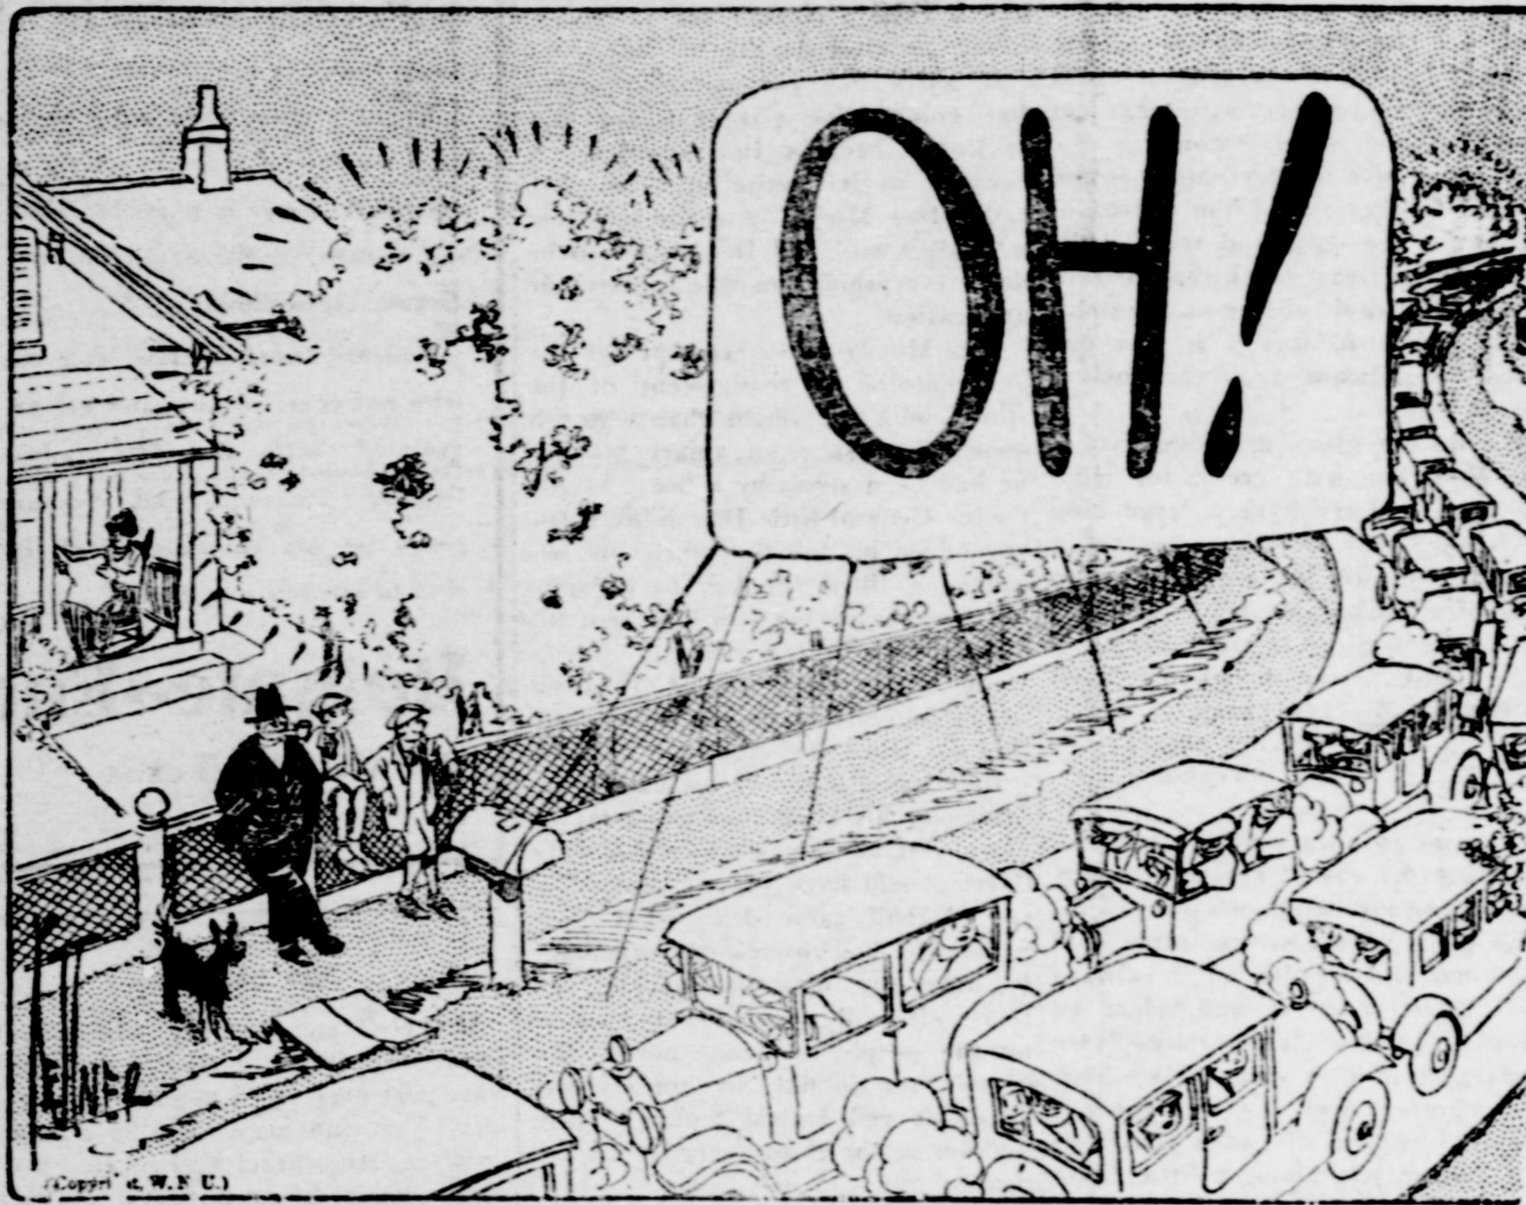

In view of the fact that there is some misunderstanding in the Highway Department as to the designation of one of our highways and considerable delay in granting requested designation of others, it was decided to send a representative to Austin for the purpose of clearing the situation, and the secretary has been informed by the Commission that they will allow a hearing on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Within the next few weeks a mass meeting will be called for the purpose of undertaking to organize a Milk Producers and Poultry Association and arrangements are now being made to secure specialists along each of these lines to appear on that day and assist in organization. The meeting will be called as soon as the farmers catch up with their planting activities.

A membership campaign for the Chamber of Commerce will also be placed in motion within a short time, and an effort is to be made to secure memberships in all parts of the county. A beautiful yard contest will also be inaugurated and an appropriate marker given to the winners. Two first prize markers will be given one for the most beautiful and attractive premises where flowers and grasses or flowers alone are grown and the other for flowers, grass and shrubbery combined. The reason for this is that it is possible to build a beautiful yard without shrubbery, and a large number of yards do not have any, and could not otherwise enter the contest.

A city secures its reputation from its appearance, and all visitors enter-

CECIL SMITH TRANSFERRED TO THE IDALOU YARD

Cecil Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith of this city, was here over the week end to get his wife and baby who have been here visiting his parents, and her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Rentfro, pending his removal from Bledsoe to Idalou.

Cecil called around at the Herald office Saturday afternoon and seemed to be well pleased with his transfer, as Idalou is a much better town than Bledsoe, thicker settled around it, and he is given a yard man at Idalou, whereas he was the whole cheese at the other place. He also gets a $25 per month raise in salary, which may be the main reason of his being so well pleased.

Cecil is a Brownfield product, having received his education here, and it was also here that he mastered the lumber business, starting in as bookkeeper at the Higginbotham yard at this place, and the Herald is truly glad to see him climb the rungs of success.

CITY TAKES INSURANCE ON ITS EMPLOYEES

The City of Brownfield through its city council engaged a local insurance man this week to write a policy covering all of its volunteer firemen that may be engaged in the service of the city, up to 25 men.

As we understand it, if any of the firemen are hurt either at, going to, or returning from a fire, they will receive the sum of $15 per week as long as they are disabled, up to one year, and if they are killed their families will receive the sum of $1,000.

Rotan.—The new $100,000 high school building was dedicated here Sunday May 2. It is said to be the most imposing school building ever erected in a town the size of Rotan.

ings its gates advertise it far and wide if it is a clean and attractive city.

The next monthly luncheon will be held on the 17th, and will be at the American Legion hall under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary. If you are a member of the Chamber of Commerce or expect to become one or a member of the Retail Merchants Association, you are earnestly requested to call on the secretary and purchase a ticket for yourself and one for your wife or sweetheart or each of them. Several of the members expressed a desire to bring their wives and this would include sweethearts. It is hoped that a large attendance will be secured as the luncheons are meant for all of us to meet on a friendly footing and to discuss ways and means for developing our town and county.

Don't forget the county fair. If you are not growing something for exhibition, please plant it. The fair will be set for the last of October.

A. L. BURNETT PRESENTS HERALD WITH "GOOD-GOD"

Now "Good-god" is not the name given this largest of all species of the pecker-wood by the birdologists, for their name for it sounds something like epidermis peckerwoods, but back in the boyhood days of the editor among the red hills of Tennessee, the bird in question was called by some "Indian Hen" by others "Wood hen," but by us chaps, we mostly referred to this dark-colored, top-knot, red-plumed bird, as "Good-god," and the man who came into our section and offered this wild old bird any other moniker, was rewarded by our deep sarcasm for his assumption.

This bird is probably twice as large as his nearest rival in the pecker-wood family of birds, the "Yellowhammer," and the boy who was successful enough to bag one of them by the time he was twelve, was considered in the class of the young man bringing in his first wild turkey. The "Good-god" frequented the deepest forests only, and seldom was seen near any residence, but would often pass over the fields, and always at a great height. When he alighted, he was alert and watchful, and to approach him, one had to "take a large tree on him, and approach cautiously, for if a twig broke, off he went. We suppose the "Indian Hen" name was given him from the peculiar call that made one think of a rooster cackling.

Elder Burnett informed us that he killed this one in the Ozark mountains of Arkansas while there visiting his father several years ago, and killed or broke his wing at a good distance for a shotgun. When he came to where the bird had dropped, the "Good-god" was ready for battle, and the preacher had to throw his coat over the gentleman and get a stranger hold on him. A taxidermist of Omaha mounted the bird.

He is now occupying a place near our mounted eagle in the Herald office, and many people are viewing this specie of peckerwood for their first time, especially those raised in the west.

THREE BILLS AGAINST LUBBOCK EX-OFFICIAL

Lubbock, May 8.—Martin Ruby, the former city manager, was Friday named in three indictments by the Lubbock county grand jury, charging misappropriation of city funds, the amount involved being less than $500 in total.

HIGHWAY FOR THE PYRAMID STONES

Heroditus tells of a road built 400 B. C. It was in Egypt, and stretched half way across the African continent. It required 10,000 men working ten years to build a single mile of it. The stone for the Pyramids was hauled over this road.

INSIDE FINISHING PROGRESS-ING ON NEW HOTEL

The windows are all in, and the carpenters are now busily engaged in placing the frame work for the plate glass front and the doors to the well furnished underneath the hotel, and this work is being rushed to completion.

Plasterers are also now on the job of plastering the rooms upstairs and plumbers and electricians are abounding with their part of the contract until they are ready to install the heating and electrical fixtures.

We understand that the rooms will be well furnished with the most modern and up-to-date hotel fixtures and furnishings. The Herald has been promised a bed and board for their first night after the opening by the manager, Mr. J. C. Bond, and we imagine that we will feel like we are on a vacation.

HERALD BUYS A NEW MODEL 14 LINOTYP

Ira Bacon, representing the Mergenthaler Linotype Co., was here this past week, and a trade was consummated to take our old Model L in on a brand new Model 14, one of the latest of Linotype productions. This big three main and one auxiliary magazine machine, controlled by one key board is to be delivered about Oct 1st if conditions are still good, and we have little doubts of that now.

With this late model machine, carrying as it does eight different font and sizes of type, ranging from the size of this you are reading, 8 point to 36 point, will almost produce the Herald itself, not to mention almost any kind of job work imaginable. On a very few lines of real large type will have to be hand set.

This new machine cost more than twice as much as the old Model 14 single magazine machine, but the Herald is determined if possible to keep abreast of developments in this section, but it keeps us humping.

CARLSBAD CAVERN UNDER GOVERNMENT MANAGEMENT

Completing the intention of the government to make the Carlsbad Cavern a National Park, they have now finished their preparations and in full charge of the caves. Commencing with their control is the reduction in price of guide fee from three to two dollars per person.

The Eighth Wonder of the World now has its power plant, supplying power for the excellent electric lighting system, which illuminates the long paths throughout the wonders of the cavern. Several guides are living there making daily trips, beginning at 10:30 A.M. daily. The road has been constantly improved to the point of being easily traversed. Everything is now in good shape for the large number of summer tourists that are expected to be on hand this summer.

HUNDREDS CROWDED THE STREETS HERE SATURDAY

One did not have to make many inquiries to find that the farmers of Terry and adjoining counties were pretty well up with their planting Saturday, for the very fact that they were here on such a lovely day and many of them were heard to remark that they were done planting cotton, and some said it would be up in the next few days. All reported plenty of moisture from all sections of the trade territory, and all were enthusiastic over the outlook for splendid crops for 1926.

The crowd brought many shoppers, and every merchant seemed to be doing a fine business. We called in at practically every store, or at least at the door and found all of them busy, and the shoppers were so thick in some of them at the height of the afternoon that it was difficult to get through the crowds. One cash-overman informed us that he had been in more than $600.00 that day. Our notion is as the crops advance and the people realize see that they can indulge themselves with some thing besides absolute necessities, the business will gradually grow better.

CONTRACT LET FOR POWER PLANT ADDITION

The city council at a regular meeting last week opened bids for the erection of the new 30X34 addition to the power and light plant, which will extend back west of the present building, giving them a building with a total dimension of 34X50 feet.

Roy Wingerd was the successful bidder, getting the building which is of steel and concrete material. The contract also calls for the building of the foundation for the new 24 horsepower engine. The bid of M. Wingerd was $2,437.95.

Another thing that will be put in during the construction of the building will be an exhaust silencer for both the 240 and 140 horse power engines. The 75 horsepower engine was traded in on the 240, and will be removed by the company as soon as the large one is installed. This silencer removes the disagreeable noise of the exhaust, and it is said one can hardly tell the engines are running except they are very near the plant.

The City Council are also looking for a new 250 gallon per minute pump every train, which when installed beside the other one down in the well will give the city a pumping capacity of 500 gallons per minute.

'WHAT IS SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE—ALSO FOR GANDERS

The Herald has been hitting up the readers quite frequently lately about ordering stuff that can be purchased in Brownfield, and has always advocated patronizing home industries and home institutions, but a poor rule it is that wont work both ways.

One of our farmer friends approached us recently and called our attention to the fact that while we were skinning the farmers for not patronizing home institutions, which he believed was the thing to do, he also noticed that our merchants were very much guilty of the same thing. He informed us that instead of using and patronizing home truckmen, the merchants were patronizing truckmen living, maintaining and having their homes and families in another town, who bought all their supplies including their gas and oils in their home town.

Now if this be true, and the farmer says he can substantiate it, a change should be made, and Brownfield men who operate trucks should be given the preference. "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

FAVORS NEWSPAPER ADS

Lucius S. Storrs, managing director of the American Electric Railway Association, is booming newspaper advertising, says the Cleveland Times. "I earnestly advocate," says Storrs, "advertising by transportation companies."

"It surely is the most important link in the public relations chain of any transportation company. Advertising, of course, must be coupled with good service and frank dealing; otherwise advertising fails. There is almost none of the recognized channels of advertising which electric railway and bus companies cannot use to advantage."

The Herald one year $1.00.

MISS RUTH HILL BADLY INJURED WHEN HIT BY CAR

One of the most disastrous auto accidents that has ever happened in our city occurred Tuesday afternoon about seven o'clock, when Miss Ruth Hill, popular young lady of this city was badly injured when a car struck her, and it is believed that she has a fracture of at least one bone in the ankle, probably three ribs broken and also bruised about the head. While of course very nervous, she was resting very well Wednesday morning, according to the attending physician.

It seems she was on her way home near the ball park, from town, when the car hit her, but she but faintly remembers just how it was done. After passing over her, the car ran on some distance, ran over the bar pit and into a fence and was wrecked.

James Morgan, young bricklayer of this city was arrested and charged both with injuring the young lady and driving while intoxicated. He was landed in jail to await further proceedings. We also understand that he will also be charged with transporting intoxicants.

MALJAMAR LEA COUNTY WILDCAT GETS OIL AT 3600

The Maljamar Oil and Gas Corporation's No. 1, which has been making 20,000,000 feet of gas for the past four weeks, encountered another pay sand at a depth of 3,603 feet. This well is located on NE 1/4 of section 21-17-32, Lea county.

With the bit only a few inches into the pay, the hole is standing 200 feet in fluid, 30 miles east of the Artesia pool. The oil is coming from a sandy line. A string of 6 5-8 inch casing is being run and the gas, which is coming from 3,115 feet will be braden-headed, after which the well will be drilled to completion. A test of the oil made by the Sullivan Refineries, showed it to be 36 gravity, similar to the Artesia crude in gasoline content.

Four more wells will be drilled by the Maljamar interests, two of these having been validated.—New Mexico Oil News.

MANY BROWNFIELD PEOPLE ATTEND DIS. C. E. CONVENTION

Brownfield was well represented at the Panhandle District Christian Endeavor Convention, held in Lubbock on the 8th and 9th. More than 300 delegates attended and the delegation from Brownfield did their share toward making the convention a success, with their report of work, together with their songs, yells and stunts. Miss Fay Brown, president of our local C. E., was honored by being made 2nd Vice-President of the district, and Brownfield should be proud of her ability.

The names of delegates attending were, Dolores Lynn, Jaunita Perkins, Mary Ann Bell, Voncie Holgate, Mamie Sue Flinch, Oleta Swan, James Harley Dalton, Will Alf Bell, Otha Flippin, Jim Jancee, Darrell Jackson, Dolphus Smith and Joseph Shelton; Mrs. E. TAKES OFFENCE AT A RECENT HERALD ITEM

Plains, Texas, May 7th.

Dear Sir: We notice in the Herald of April 30th an elaborate article on the Brownfield territory oil boom and it contains a few things that is hard for a Hill Billie to understand, so we wish to ask how it is that the Kelley farm is 2 miles west of Brownfield. Now honestly did you not purposely leave out a cipher, and should it not have read 20 miles west of Brownfield.

And in fact why not give us the benefit of what we have and say that Yoakum county oil boom is progressing nicely, for we have had some of the foremost citizens of Brownfield out here looking for lease "snaps," but 50c per acre did not look good to them. However, we can get it any time we want it now.

Why not give the devil his dues and make a brother out of him instead of hitting in the dark and making the public further east think that Brownfield is the whole cheese on the south Plains, when in fact it is just one more insignificant spot that makes up the whole.

We do not claim anything that is not ours, but wish credit for what we have, and we have a large crop of fellows that tell the news in a stretchy manner, but we have yet to hear of a Yoakum county citizen that has made it cover 18 good American miles. Give us our dues and we will be glad to give you yours.

Your friend,
"Yoakum"

It seems to always be the irony of fate that the casual reader (the guy who reads his neighbor's paper) always picks up the wrong paper, and the borrowing reader, to, is always one's severest critic, and while he signs his article "your friend," we cannot accept it as such, for we have never gotten over the western notion that anyone who says you falsified deliberately about a little thing like an "oil boom" is no friend of ours. "Oil boom" is "Yoakum's" language, not our, for we are indebted to him for the information that it has already reached the boom stage. Until we received his article, we still considered it yet undeveloped. Indeed the Kelley well may be just a dream in the next few years—most forgotten—yet we ardently hope otherwise, and that a great oil region may be created in YOAKUM county.

In the first place the article that is questioned and has peeved the writer of the above article was not written by the editor or anyone connected in any way with the Herald. It was copied from a neighboring city paper verbatim, except the linotype operator failed to give that journal credit at the bottom for the article.

Yet we don't expect him to believe a word of this, for it is already deep seated in his mind that we are a born liar, and nothing will remove it from his mind. Fair minded Yoakum Co. people will however appreciate this explanation.

"Yoakum" should see an oculist at once, for he certainly needs glasses, for there certainly was a cipher following the (2) he complained about, yet does not show plain on account of a column rule that worked-up beside it. If he will get some magnifying glass, he can see it. Others not near-sighted and prejudiced can see the nought with natural eyes.

If "Yoakum" had just happened to pick up one of last week's papers and read the article we wrote about the oil prospects in YOAKUM county, not to mention anything of several others we have written and explained that the Kelley well was over in YOAKUM, 20 miles west of Brownfield, we probably would not have had to write this. But he picked up the wrong paper.

Depending altogether as it does for outside publicity on neighboring papers, it would seem that the people of Yoakum county would appreciate this publicity, even if they do occasionally make mistakes, and most of them do we are sure. The Herald for one has the utmost respect for old Yoakum county, and has willingly given it publicity on all occasion and stands ready in the future to repeat from time to time. On the other hand Yoakum county has been a great help to the Herald, spending much money annually with the Herald for stationery and publication of legals. The help has been mutual and we know appreciated on our part.

Just the same should an oil field be developed in east Yoakum county, Brownfield being the nearest railroad town to it will be most benefited, despite what "Yoakum" may do or think about the matter, and the Herald, despite any questioning jeers from the source of "Hill Billie" will continue to boost old Terry and Yoakum counties and the rest of the Brownfield trade territory. Another thing: We'll wager "Yoakum" any reasonable amount that nine tenths of the people living within five miles of the Kelley

ONE HURRAY TOO MANY FOR DANIEL

Reports have it that a certain young man, during biblical times traded his birthright for a mess of pottage. Subsequent developments proved the folly of his exchange. History cites instances of kings abdicating their thrones at the behest of a member of the fair-sex, so-called. Invariably their choices proved to be grievous ones. Descriptions of rueful bargains are rampant over the pages of literature.

But it remained for the Lone Star State of paradoxes and anomalies to prove the spectacle of an embryonic statesman swapping his political future for a single little falsetto Hooray and if certain reports are to be believed, an alcoholic one at that.

It looks like phrase-making Jim has coined one phrase which will stick—not because Jim coined it but because of its entire apness. Jim called Dan Moody "a smart kid from a small town," and Dan seems to be doing everything possible to earn the application.

Dan Moody announcement for the gubernatorial is reminiscent of the story about the young chap who felt qualified to start an apiary because he had been stung by a bee. As Attorney General little Dan didn't rattle around on his job too much, not because he filled the job to capacity, but because he sat still and kept his mouth more or less shut.

But being Governor of Texas is something else again—as Dammie will find out when the votes are counted.

But Daniel is not to be blamed, entirely, for his altogether unwarranted move. Of all things which Amon G. Carter could have yelled "hooray" at the football game down at College Station he had to pick one calculated to have the most far-reaching effects. It will never be understood by the people of Texas nor by his friends nor possibly by himself why he didn't yell for Al Smith or prohibition or the third party or the low tariff.

But, be that as it may, here is where Dan is culpable. He has reached the age of maturity and should be even though he appears not to be able to reason. Everybody, including Dan Moody, Jim Ferguson, Lynch Davidson and Jim Saddle knows that Amon G. Carter is not in position to elect anybody to anything. The one thing which Mr. Carter and Dan Moody evidently overlooks is the fact that it takes votes to elect a candidate to office and where Amon is going to corral any votes is a puzzle beyond the power of even the most astute, or even the most simple minded to answer.

Mr. Carter owns a newspaper, true enough, but Mr. Carter also uses that newspaper for the furtherance of his own personal and private interests overlooking entirely the fact that the ownership of such a property might be utilized not only to his own advantage but for the benefit of his friends. Speaking frankly, Amon G. Carter has a penchant for associating with and being photographed in the presence of "who's who in America," and you may take your own word for it that the votes which elect candidates are not to be found in the rooster heretofore mentioned.

Dan has hitched his wagon to the wrong star, if star he be, and when it's all over young Dan is going to find that he might have done better to have listened with his ear to the ground for the echo of that little hooray which was unwittingly emitted down at the football game.

All of which might be taken by the readers of this column to mean that the editorial policy of the Standard has been formulated without consideration to Dan Moody as a possible winner in the gubernatorial campaign which is now in progress. Should the readers reach such a conclusion it is here now desired to affirm that conclusion and in order that there may be no doubt, either here or hereafter, this opportunity is taken to make public the announcement that the Standard is definitely and unequivocally in favor of Lynch Davidson for governor. The Standard believes he is the man best qualified for the office. It believes that he is honest, and he has no ax to grind that he is fair-minded in his approach upon all subjects, that he is not radical upon any, that he says what he thinks and means what he says.—The Collingsworth Standard.

W. S. Copeland, prominent farmer of the Lahey community had a close call last week with ptomaine poisoning from eating canned vegetables. He is reported to be some better at present, though his stomach is badly poisoned.

HARMONY HAS MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM SUNDAY

Judge Winston and family visited Harmony, Sunday, May 9th, where a very fitting Mother's Day program was rendered. The morning services consisted of speeches and songs by the young people, followed by an interesting talk by Prof. Biggs. Then an old fashion basket dinner was spread. Never have we seen such a lovely dinner as these mothers invited us to help eat. Fine cakes, pies, salads, all kinds of meats including turkey, chicken and country ham. After the large crowd had eaten all it could, there was enough left for supper. Harmony is to be commended for having plenty; they never run short. It reminded me of the spirit Christ brought out in feeding the five thousand with twelve baskets left over. The dinner was conducted in orderly manner, and although a large crowd was on hand, all had plenty.

At 1:30 another program was rendered by the young folks, paying tribute to our mothers of today, and the mothers that have gone on before. The day could not have been spent better, and we truly enjoyed being with these good people.—A Guest.

Frank Turner, of Snyder, Okla., came in Sunday after his family, who have been here for some time visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown. Frank reports that he likes Oklahoma rather well, but says the people are not as easy to get acquainted with as here.

Elder T. R. Chisholm, of Levelland, passed through Monday on his way to Lynn county where he will hold some mission meetings. This fine old preacher has always been along the firing line and some big churches have been started by him and are now ministered by those who unlike him, never do mission work on their own hook.

CASE AGAINST COCHRAN COUNTY COMS. DISMISSED

The suit that was originally brought by Attorney General Dan Moody in behalf of the State to oust T. W. Bennett and W. Herridge from their offices as county commissioners in Cochran county, was dismissed by Special Judge Hill Stewart last Saturday morning for want of prosecution when the plaintiffs failed to appear in court.

Lockhart & Gerrard represented the defendants, who as a result of the action of the court yesterday will be retained in their offices as county court appointees until the next general election.

According to testimony prepared by defence council but which was not used because of non-suit, Pool Ernest and H. T. Boyd, who were elected to fill the offices of commissioners occupied by Bennett and Herridge, but they failed to qualify.—Littlefield Leader.

Mr. Luther Manning, of Amherst, arrived last week, and is now one of the tonsorial artists at the Sanitary Barber Shop.

There is much said these days concerning the virtue, honor and conduct of the youth of the land, and in some instances there is doubtless room for some unfavorable comment. But not so much as some would have us believe. But where youth has strayed into forbidden paths, in most cases older heads are responsible, in that they set the wrong example. In fact there is much to rejoice over in the fine youths of the land.—Merkel Mail.

The auto accident Tuesday afternoon is only another illustration that booze and automobiles cannot be mixed. As a result of this accident an otherwise fine young man is now faced with serious prosecution, and the remorse of conscience for hurting seriously a splendid young lady, an innocent victim of his passion for intoxicants. Without the liquor he is a cool headed young man and he would have been able to avoid an accident even in the crowded streets, but filled with booze and he loses both reason and care.

Edward L. Dehony, oil magnet, of questionable connection with Ex-Senator Fall, has announced that he has switched to the Republican party ranks. The idea of Dehony solemnly deciding to join the Republicans after Ex-Senator Fall accepted $100,000 of his money and gave to the oil magnet the rights to the great Elk Hills oil field, which Dehony testified would net him a profit of one hundred million dollars, is almost more than the laughing capacity of the nation can withstand. It is suggested that Mr. Dehony might even be encouraged to join the socialists if that party should happen to gain control and offer him the capitol at Washington.—Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

About a month ago a new settler of Irish descent opened an account with the First National Bank of this city. It was the first time he ever had a bank account. Last Monday he received his first bank statement. He couldn't make head nor tail to the statement, but he was highly elated over the fact that his checks had been returned to him. He immediately went over to the bank and expressed his appreciation to Cashier Ralph Dunbar. Just as he was coming out he met a neighbor and said, "That fellow Dunbar is some smart banker. Why, I paid all my last month's accounts by check and he jabbers if he wasn't slick enough to get every one of them back for me."—Littlefield Leader.

Bad Color
 (liver trouble)

"OCCASIONALLY I am troubled with spells of constipation and inactive liver," says Mrs. John L. Pence, Broadway, Va. "I always use Thedford's Black-Draught when I feel a spell of this kind coming on, for it saves me a bad headache. My color gets sallow at times. I get real yellow, showing that the trouble comes from the liver."
 "I have found Black-Draught to be the finest kind of a remedy for this. I take Black-Draught and make a tea out of it, and take it, along in small doses for several days. I have never found anything that served me so well."
 "Since I have known about Black-Draught, I have not suffered nearly so much with headache, caused from indigestion. If I find my tongue is coated, and I wake up with a bad taste in my mouth, I know I have been eating indiscreetly, and I immediately resort to Black-Draught to straighten me out."

Webster Definitions

"Abstract of Title (law): An epitome of the evidence of ownership.
 The negative evidences are, in practice, even more important than the positive.
 They show whether there are standing against the title, taxes, assessments, judgements, mortgages, liens—whether title has properly passed by will or administration, probate or heirship, etc.
 The information about such things is widely scattered in the public records, but in our complete records every existing piece of evidence is gathered together and filed together under the individual piece of property concerned.
 That's why we can furnish abstracts as firmly constructed as a steel building on a rock foundation.

WELLMAN NOTES

Reporter.

Mr. Benbow brought his Willow Wells nine over last Friday afternoon and saw them defeated by the Wellmanites. It was an interesting game, though not many Wellman people were present to see it; most of the children had gone home thinking the visitors were not coming.

Last Friday night a health program under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association was given in connection with the regular literary program. The material was furnished by Miss Easley, the county health nurse.

Newcomers in Wellman discovered last Saturday afternoon that Wellman is composed of two parts—the north and the south—and that quite a bit of friendly rivalry exists between the two factions, which met in a baseball game Saturday. The score was 9 to 3 in favor of the "Yankees." The only home run was by Herman Ragsdill, and the south side players tried to take away his glory by insisting that it was made on a foul ball. The north, however, can get even by asking any of the opposing players about their second baseman.

While the ball game was in progress the members of the Junior B YPU met and calmly marched away on a picnic, quite unconcerned about the outcome of the game. The little folks carried quite a generous supply of picnic goodies which was supplemented by two gallons of punch furnished by the director, Miss Frances Jackson. The social committee had planned several interesting games to fill in the time before "eats" were in order, and all played them with great enjoyment. The union returned about sunset. Those present were Herbert and Mollie Singletary, Dorothy Garrison, Thomas and Wayne Doss, Jim, Grady and Robert Story, Vance, Voris and J. E. Spears, Mrs. W. M. Schroeder and children, Mrs.

Spears and Miss Jackson.

Saturday night a large crowd came to hear Prof. Dyece of Lubbock and Mr. Max Thomas of Forrester sing. The former was unable to be here but will come soon. The Wellman singing class has organized and will meet regularly every first and third Friday nights. Song lovers from surrounding communities are urged to meet and sing with us.

The Sunday School period was given over to a splendidly arranged and well given Mothers Day program, after which, Rev. Tannery filled his monthly appointment. We were glad to have with us on this day Mr. Flodger Tannery, of Johnson, Malcolm Thomas and several others from Lahey and a few from Forrester.

Late Sunday afternoon Misses Georgia Story, Grace King, Florence Smith, Hazel and Jewel Woodard, and Mary Melton; and Messrs. Rupert Coffey, Oral Trotter, Charley Ramsey, Homer Wimberly, Eugene Norton and Ernest Rush went kodaking. About the same time another party composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Schroeder and children, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Baker and small daughter, Misses Frances Jackson and Bertha Schroeder, and Mr. and Mrs. Norton, went for a little outing, taking with them their suppers.

The BYPU did not meet Sunday evening. Practically all the young people went to Forrester and enjoyed the singing of Forester, Wellman and Lahey.

The name of Livingston occupied a prominent place in the establishment of American Independence, foremost of which was Phillip Livingston, one of the New York signers of the Declaration of Independence, the 150th anniversary of which will be commemorated by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition. The Exposition will open in Philadelphia on June 1, and continue until Dec. 1.

Ethan Allen, of the New York bar, writes thus in his biography of Phillip Livingston in 1876: "Phillip Livingston was not a brilliant man, but as a guide and counsellor he was a safe man. He was not a great orator but still he moved men by a power greater than eloquence, and that was a conviction in the sincerity of his motives. He was born for a generation that needed him, particularly for that unswerving and unpurchasable fidelity which illustrated his life more than any aggressive force of character or any bold execution of his own."

Livingston was born in Albany, N. Y. in 1716. He graduated from Yale in 1746 and was referred to as one of the fifteen persons in the colony who possessed a college education. He became a prominent merchant in the city of New York, where he served as alderman a number of years. In 1759 as a member of the Provincial Assembly, he was a member of the committee of Correspondence with the Colonial agent in England, Edmund Burke. It was from Phillip Livingston that Edmund Burke gained his great knowledge of Colonial affairs, as shown by his speeches in the House of Commons.

It was in the Livingston home in Brooklyn Heights that Washington had a council of war in August 1776 and decided upon a retreat from Long Island. The mansion furnished in great elegance and beauty, commanded a magnificent view of New York Harbor. During the war, the British took possession of it and converted it into a naval hospital. It was ultimately destroyed by fire.

The New York signer was a member of the Continental Congress, and occupied a seat in that body until his death at New York, where its sessions were being held while the British had possession of Philadelphia. He was very active in the interests of his own state, being one of the founders of the New York Society Library in 1754; of the Chamber of Commerce in 1770; one of the first governors of the State Hospital that was chartered in 1771, and one of the early advocates of the founding of King's College, now Columbia.

Livingston was chosen a senator to the State Legislature and attended the first meeting of the first legisla-

HOW ENDLESS CHAIN SELLING PLANS ARE USED TO ROB SAVERS

W. R. Morehouse Continues His Exposures of Modern "Gold Brick" Schemes—American Bankers Association Official Tells How Life-Time Savings Are Wiped Out.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE,
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association, N. Y.

ARTICLE NO. II

I FIRMLY believe that promoters and high-pressure salesmen are becoming more and more crafty. Shrewder ways are being resorted to in order to trap the novice investor. It is deplorable that the investor does not profit by experience and is victimized a second time in his endeavor to recover that which he has already lost. It is the old, old story of trying to recover, but in the attempt losing. This very hour thousands of hard-earned dollars have slipped from the grasp of the calloused hands that earned them into the clutches of unscrupulous skin-game artists. Tomorrow the scenes of today will be re-enacted with a new and larger list of victims. A month from today depositors will still be pouring an ever increasing volume of their savings into the hopper of unwise investments. A year from today the same tragedy will be re-enacted unless our savings bankers come to the rescue and help to stop this nefarious business of defrauding and swindling our savers of the fruits of their labors.

W. R. Morehouse

Here is a typical case. A group of men undertook to promote a vending or self-serving machine. Their plan called for the sale of $37,000,000 worth of leases in the United States. Similar projects previously started throughout the United States had failed. As a matter of fact, the average daily sale of one of these self-service machines was only $3.10, which in itself made it impossible for a machine to produce sufficient revenue to make it profitable. Servicing the machines was another obstacle which had not been successfully overcome. In three months the promoters were successful in selling over $2,500,000 worth of rights to use these machines.

140,000 in Savings Lost by One Man

I know of one man who withdrew $40,000 from a savings bank and invested it in this promotion. He told me it represented the accumulations of a lifetime. "And now I have lost it all," he said in a trembling voice. "I haven't a cent left and I am past sixty years of age—too old to work!" he added.

Of the more than $2,500,000 invested by savers, over $1,000,000 was taken by these wiley promoters as commission. Think of making a commission of over $1,000,000 on $2,500,000 of sales in about three months' time! Think of what this more than $1,000,000 of commission represents—think of the struggles and the sacrifices of the men and women who saved it! With some it was saved penny by penny over a period of years. Think of the sorrow it caused—the heartaches, the misery and the disappointment which followed in the wake of the collapse of this promotion. Think of the old man who lost $40,000—all he had been able to save during his lifetime. Think of the widow's mite, for she lost it also. All that is left today of the original investment is less than 10 cents on every dollar.

Here is an endless chain scheme which relieved working girls of a portion of their savings. The loss ran into many thousands of dollars. The scheme is to sell silk hose to girls by getting them to act as selling agents.

A hostelry company rents offices in the shopping district. Soon an attractive offer is made through the local newspapers by cleverly worded advertisements in which it would appear that any young lady can secure five pairs of hose worth $2 a pair for only $1. In other words, $10 worth of silk stockings for only $1! Without stopping to analyze the proposition or to consider how impossible it is for any concern to stay in business and sell $10 worth of silk hose for $1, thousands of young women instantly fall for the scheme.

How Endless Chain Catches Victims

Here is how it catches its victims. Each victim pays $4 and receives three one dollar coupons which she must sell to her friends, and the friends must come in and pay down $1 each, get three coupons each which they must sell to three friends and then these friends must perpetuate the scheme by selling coupons to their friends and so on indefinitely.

Here is where the promoters make a clean-up. One of the conditions which must be met before the young woman who purchased the first coupons receives her $10 worth of hose for $1 is that all three to whom she sold her three coupons must come in, pay down $4 each for three more coupons and then go out and sell them. Before the three have done this, one or perhaps all three get "cold feet" on the proposition and, rather than go out and "soak" three of their friends $1 each, they simply give up the job and charge their loss to experience. But in doing so they also block the girl who purchased the first coupons from completing her contract, and of course she, too, loses the money she invested in the scheme.

At a glance the loss appears to be small, but the truth is the scheme is capable of such great expansion that it soon takes in hundreds and thousands of victims. This is but one of many endless chain schemes in use today in the United States.

(Article III will deal with land schemes and loan shark plans for robbing people of their savings.)

McMURRAY COLLEGE GAINS FIRST CLASS SENIOR RATING

Abilene, April 10.—McMurray College was given first class senior rating at the meeting of the Association of Texas Colleges at Fort Worth, April 24. In other words, credits from McMurray will be accepted at full value at any other college or university.

This is a rather unusual accomplishment for so young a college, as this is only the third year of McMurray's history. The first year it was given first class junior college rating, and with the addition of the other two years of work, more equipment, and new courses, first class standing has been attained. The college authorities have been assured of recognition by the State Department of Education within the next ten days

Six B. A. degrees, twelve diplomas from the Academy, and four diplomas from the Expression Department will be given in June.

STATE CAPITOL 7TH LARGEST IN THE WORLD

The State Capitol of Texas is said to be the seventh largest building in the world. It is 560 feet long, 288 feet wide, and the dome rises to a height of 311 feet.

A little more than 40 years ago Texas traded three million acres of land to contractors to build the capitol; this land is now worth about one billion dollars.

Mr. Harris and wife, of Wichita Falls were here over Sunday. He is traveling representative of the Texoma Oil Co.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON SAVING TO INVEST

"You have talked so much about saving, Aunt Emmy," said Hilda to Aunt Emmy, "that I wonder if you will be kind enough to help Jack and me work out a way to save regularly. We do so want to get ahead. As Jack is getting a little more money this year, we plan to save that and keep right on living on what we got last year. Of course, it is hard to do without a lot of things we might have, but then Jack and I both feel that we don't want to be worried about money. If we have a little reserve fund, we can be prepared for emergencies."

"Bless my heart!" exclaimed Aunt Emmy. "It surely does sound good to hear such sensible talk from a youngster these days! I'll tell you what I think is a good plan for you to follow.—open a savings account with a bank that has a thrift department and every week put away a stated sum in your savings account. You will receive interest on this money, you know. Of course you receive only a moderate rate of interest on your savings, so it is a good idea to make a definite investment plan and invest your savings in sound securities that will yield a higher rate of interest."

"Accumulate your money, small sums at a time, in your thrift or savings account. Determine what sum you will use for your initial investment, say, $100 or $500. Save until you have twice that amount. If you decide to begin your investment on $100 save $200, then take $100 and buy a baby bond, or buy a large bond on the installment plan and apply the $100 on the first payment, if you are sure you can save regularly enough to meet the other payments."

"Why not use the $200 and then begin all over again, Aunty?" queried Hilda.

"Because you ought to have some money on hand. You don't want to wipe out your whole savings, even for the best sort of investment."

"But how can we know what to invest in?" asked Hilda.

"Your bank will help you in that, my dear. Bankers are always glad to advise their customers concerning sound investments."—Anne B. Aynes

A GOOD TIP

Now is the time to buy purebred livestock. A considerable volume of purebred stock originally intended for breeding purposes has been going to the block because prices for purebreds in many instances have declined practically to the level of those paid for slaughter animals. There is need for purebred livestock on farms and it does not seem right to slaughter animals that could be used to improve the quality of farm herds and flocks.

An exceptionally high producing cow is worth many times the price of a slaughter animal. Not only does such an individual produce more actual milk and butterfat, but the superior production characteristics of such individuals may be passed on through several succeeding generations.

The fact should not be overlooked that purebred livestock is a real necessity. Without such stock, milk and butterfat records and weights of fleeces will decline and uniformity of type and quality will be sacrificed. No improvement can be made without them. Now is the time to sell scrub stock and buy purebreds while the prices are low.—Banker-Farmer.

French Literary Men Dispute Over Unicorn

Was there ever such an animal as the unicorn? Its existence has been testified to by no less authoritative writers than Aristotle and Pliny, and even in 1877 the members of the French academy, including the distinguished names of Renan and Victor Hugo, were so doubtful on the subject that in their dictionary they gave the ambiguous definition that, according to the most general opinion, the unicorn never existed. But the present members of the academy, still at work on the new edition of the famous dictionary, have tried to settle the question for once and all. The unicorn, say the immortals, is a fabulous animal of antiquity.

The French press refuses to accept the dictum as final. Why, queries Andre Billy, a well-known writer, should the members of the academy, counting not a single naturalist in their ranks, be allowed to settle the question? And, in the century of radium and the wireless, why should we deny the testimony of Pliny and Aristotle on the existence of a beast remarkable only in that it had a horn on its forehead?—Paris Letter.

Snake Fares Well in Japan

While laborers were at work in the grounds of the imperial palace in Tokyo, they came across a live snake, so large that they first believed it was a log and started to move it. The reptile came to life and the workmen scattered. However, they could have done nothing anyway, as the court officials ordered that the crawler not be needlessly disturbed and they emphatically declared there would be no snake hunt. The snake, Japanese believe, is the spirit of the ancient fortress that was once on the site where it was found, and if let alone will harm no one.

Excursions in endeavor other than the right of the individual to have say should not be abridged.

We have our greatest arguments and quarrels over matters that we know little about. A few emphatic remarks usually pass as argument, for the knowledge of the multitude can usually be discounted.

The title of the article should have been "Epistle to the Los, Sheep of the House that Jack Built," instead of the Gentiles.

Boys Week was not particularly observed here. Every day belongs to them here, and they are making good use of themselves in "play ball." They are being better prepared in an educational way than many of us who will soon allow the mantle to fall on their shoulders.

The Meadow Review is moving its shop to the Dr. Moorhead building, underneath the Masonic hall. Cement foundation has been laid to accommodate the machinery.

The paper is passing its first year and it is hoped that our merchants and others in the Meadow community will find it to their advantage to patronize the paper that it may be able to further the interests of the town.

The good of a newspaper cannot be over-estimated in the building of a town. Our people scan its pages closely. No item, advertising or otherwise escape them. The most successful merchant is the one who uses printer's ink judiciously. By all means patronize your paper, even though you disagree with it and dislike its editor.

Mumps and chicken pox are rampant throughout the community. We generally regard them as harmless—very much as a joke—still many are injured and being injured by mumps especially. Several have been laid up with them for weeks, and it should not be forgotten that permanent damage often follow a very simple attack. Why not stay off of the street and public places with children while suffering with such ailments. It would at least be in keeping with the Golden Rule.

The rural free delivery out of Meadow in the direction of New Home began operation this week.

The streets of Meadow have been worn and blown so badly that ordinary showers turn them into a lake, making travel about town on foot very disagreeable. The new city government have no funds to meet the expense of filling them. However, it could be done anyway if we would set our heads to do it.

Saturday was Baby's Day here. Two little girls put in their appearance, one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. White, and the other at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Guess. Both families live south of town.

Elder A. L. Burnett, of Brownfield, candidate for County Judge, filled the pulpit at the Church of Christ Friday and Saturday nights. Sunday night the pulpit was occupied by Judge Winston in a talk to the Bible Class. His talk was along the line of good citizenship and the making of better men and women.

The latter part of his talk was directed to the older ones. He lambasted evolution and warned against the employment of teachers holding such views. As the question has been banned in this State and eliminated from the text books, it strikes me that one holding such opinions is no more inclined to violate the law than a believer in the various creeds would be teaching his peculiar faith.

Persecution for opinion sake in any form is contrary to the spirit of an enlightened age, and betrays a littleness of spirit in those who indulge. Inmorerance will prove a boom-
