Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS

By the Secretary

Last week several cars of citizens accompanied by the band, visited the Tokio community and were greeted by a much larger crowd than we expected to see, because everyone is busy in that country getting ready to raise one of their usual bumper crops. The visit will be remembered with pleasure by our bunch, and we feel sure that the people of Tokio enjoyed the concert. We hope to repeat the trip at some time during the summer months.

This week, by special invitation, we are going to Plains for a social visit with our sister county, and next week will be in the Wellman district and the week after at Union, and on each Thursday night until all communities are covered. On each of these visits we would like to arrange with the Ladies Community Clubs to serve us with luncheon as we must either have an early supper, wait until we return home, or do without entirely, and the later is all the writer can expect as his mother-in-law is here for the summer and is always at hand at meal time and a pretty hearty eater. Others of the bunch are similarly situated, so the ladies of the community would be conferring a favor, and at the same time make some money for their church or school activities. Have some on let the secretary know if you would care to serve luncheon.

Don't forget that next Monday is the day for the free showing of moving pictures at the Rialto Theatre, beginning at 2 P.M. Also that it is First Monday and Trades Day.

Barbara La Marr
"The Girl From Montmartre"

Will be seen at the Rialto Theatre Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week.

JUDGE T. L. PRICE TO IMPROVE REX HOUSE

Few people probably in Brownfield know that Judge T. L. Price, candidate for district attorney of the 106th know that he is a property tax-paying citizen of this town and county. But he owns a good rooming house property here, known as the Rex Rooming house, within three blocks of the square.

Mr. Price informed us Monday that he was going to spend in the neighborhood of $2,000 in improving this property, which will include a new roof, the addition of a least two more rooms, modern plumbing both upstairs and down, and the whole building sheeted with wall board.

After these extensive repairs are made he will endeavor to lease the building to some one with a good reputation for conducting a good, orderly house.

AGED CITIZEN BURIED HERE TUESDAY

Mr. M. Taylor, aged 74, of the Tokio community, who has lived there for the past several years, passed away Monday afternoon and was buried in the Brownfield cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted at the grave by the Methodist pastors of Seminole and Brownfield, Revs. Haynes and Thomas.

Deceased leaves a widow and six children, besides numerous other relatives and friends to mourn his departure.

BIG RAINS VISIT OLD TERRY, —SOME HAIL IN SPOTS

Rains ranging in volume from one and one half to three inches have visited old Terry the past week, and with the warm sunshine of this week crops are humping themselves as if they were coming out of a hot bed. Mr. Farmer, therefore, has been a very scarce article in town this week, and when he does, he is in a big hurry, and our blacksmiths are hammering away from light to night. Many of the farmers who have to come to town, do so late afternoons, returning home after dark in order to lose just as little time as possible from their crops. All they have to dread now is hail and insects, and grasshoppers are never bad when there is plenty green grass to eat.

Hail has visited about three different sections of the county, probably being worse in the Meadow section, where a large scope of crops were ruined. A much lesser area were also hailed out on the draw southwest of town and in the Tokio community.

A small streak was also damaged just east of town.

However, taking the county as a whole, it never was in better shape for a bumper crop since the writer has known it, seventeen years, and if nothing unforeseen happens, farmers of Terry county will have to have lots of outside help to gather the big crop promised.

OLLIE SEARS GOES TO LEVELLAND YARD

Ollie Sears, who has been connected with the Higginbotham-Bartlett Company for about three years, as bookkeeper for the Lamesa store has been promoted by the company and is now manager of their Levelland lumber yard.

Mr. Sears took up his new duties the first of this week. His family is still in Lamesa, but will move to their new home as soon as a residence can be built for them.

Ollie Sears has been very popular in Lamesa during his residence here. He has been an ardent supporter of all the local athletic organizations, and is regarded as a good fellow by all who know him. He is a capable business man, and his promotion to a manager's job comes as a result of his efficient service with the company while employed by them in Lamesa. His successor in the office of the company here has not been named according to G. A. Thomas, local manager.—Lamesa Journal.

Ollie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sears, prominent citizens of Terry county.

E. Goeth, representing the E. C. Palmer Paper Co., was here Monday. He will work his way down to his home in San Antonio to visit his wife and take in the Texas Press Association.

CANDIDATES PLAN ITINERARY FOR SPEAKING DATES

An ad will be found in this issue with the places and speaking dates of the various candidates for county and precinct offices, who will make the several voting places before the first primary. We understand that they will likely be joined by some of the district candidates in making these places. The Herald would advise you to clip out this ad when you are thru with your paper in order that you may not forget the date they are to make your community.

This plan was evolved two years ago, and is the most sensible thing for both the candidates and people we have ever seen candidates do in this section of the country. They all make the community in a body and let their wants be known, together with their qualifications for the office they seek, then return home and let the people go about their business without being bothered with candidates every day or two throughout the campaign.

In other words, they are using a little horse sense by saving time and money themselves, and that time can be devoted to something useful.

LYNN COUNTY COMMISSIONERS BUY GRADING OUTFIT

The Commissioners Court last week virtually purchased a new tractor and grader for the county. These purchases must be made upon competitive bids and notice to bidders has been published in this paper. It is thought that the offer which was made to the court will be accepted finally at the proper time. By this contract the old tractor belonging to the county will be turned in on the new tractor at an agreed price of $550.00. The machinery to be purchased is an Austin grader and a Best tractor.

The county greatly needs another grading outfit to place on the public roads of the county. There are many roads in the county now which badly need to be graded, but they have been neglected partly because the county did not have sufficient equipment with which to grade all the roads which needed it.—Tahoka News

NEWMORE HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

The residence of Lon Light, who resides at Newmore, was totally destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. The contents of the house was also destroyed. No one was at home at the time and the fire is unknown.

It was a five room building and the owner carried no insurance. His neighbors were in Tahoka Monday soliciting donations for the benefit of the unfortunate family, and the business men and citizens donated liberally.—Tahoka News.

NEXT MONDAY IS OUR TRADES DAY AGAIN

Next Monday is Trades Day in Brownfield again, and our merchant are preparing for the reception of the crowds with their usual good bargains in almost every line represented in the city. Not only are they offering some rare bargains for this special occasion, but it is conceded far and wide that you can now buy dry goods and groceries cheaper than at any other town in this section of the country, and other lines are well in line with other places, and in most instances, cheaper.

Remember, also, that the Chamber of Commerce has procured a mighty fine movie program for our farmer friends, showing the value of diversified farming, poultry, hog and dairy production. Advance notices are to the effect that it will be worth your time to drive miles to see this picture alone. It is FREE.

Farmers are expected to bring along their trading property, no matter what it is, as they will most likely find a buyer or trader just as anxious to buy or trade as they.

Come to Brownfield Monday.

BURGLARS ENTER FIVE SEAGRAVES BUSINESS HOUSES

Thieves entered five different business houses in Seagraves, Saturday night, as follows: O. H. Hearne & Son, Cooksey Drug Co., South Plain Supply Co., Peoples Warehouse, and the Pierce Petroleum Co., oil station.

Outside of taking a small amount of change, ruining the combination of the safe of the South Plains Supply Co., and filling their car with gasoline at the Pierce oil station, no further loss is reported.

Officers have made no arrests to date.—Seagraves Signal.

JUDGE STARK RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

Reports from the bedside of County Judge T. O. Stark, who underwent an operation at Temple last week, state that he is recovering rapidly, and was out of danger, which news will be gladly received by his many friends in Gaines county and over the South Plains.

Guy Stark, a brother of the Judge, returned with his family from Temple Wednesday, where they witnessed the operation.—Seagraves Signal.

CEMETERY GIVEN ONE GRAND WORKING MONDAY

Never until Monday was anyone ever able to get a very good crowd out to a cemetery working here, and most of us had begun to believe that it was impossible feat, and that the people had no interest in keeping the local cemetery in decent order, but it seems that with the Legion boys taking the initiative, the impossible was accomplished in grand style Monday morning, and a crowd estimated all the way from fifty to seventy-five men were on hand with hoes, ready to charge the weeds and bear-grass.

By noon the cemetery was as neat and clean as a front yard, except a small vacant spot in the Odd Fellow section, and all of the Masonic section, which is still newer. It is understood that these brethren are to have these sections plowed with a wide sweep this week.

In a few more weeks when the people get up with their work again, they should go into it again, or hire a sexton for a few months if that is thought to be the best course, and if the city of the dead is kept clean all during the growing season, there will be no reason why it will not stay that way through the fall and winter months.

Barney Dwight took a picture of the men while in action, and one of them was sent to the Star-Telegram and will no doubt appear in an early issue of that journal.

After the cemetery working the graves of the soldier boys and other loved ones were decorated.

BOY SCOUTS HAVE GREAT OUTING TUESDAY NIGHT

The Scout squad of Brownfield are unanimous in the verdict that Tuesday night they got the maximum good time since their organization a few months ago, when Scout Master, Rev. G. J. Thomas took them on a hike for the Bynum farm two miles northeast of town, where they went in camp for the fore part of the night.

Forming at the Methodist parsonage, the boys drilled out, carrying their raw supplies for a good feed. After arriving at the farm, they were supplied with fuel, and a camp fire was made, over which weenies and bacon were roasted to a turn. After a hearty meal, they were refreshed with ice cream.

Among others who attended were all assistant masters, and Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. Powell.

REV. JAMESON TO FILL METHODIST PULPIT SUNDAY

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. G. J. Thomas, who has gone to McLean, Texas, to preach a memorial sermon for the I. O. O. F. Lodge Rev. A. D. Jameson, of Seagraves will fill the appointment at the Methodist church, Sunday.

Rev. Jameson is a fine speaker and it will be a treat to any one to hear him. You are invited.

LAMESA CHILD DIES FROM EATING ASPIRIN TABLETS

Little Mary Adell Layne, the little adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Layne, whom they loved as they could love their own child, died on last Tuesday at about 12 o'clock. She climbed upon the kitchen cabinet and finding some aspirin tablets, she ate as many as could be ascertained about 20 of them. She was rushed to the doctor, and a stomach pump used and twenty tablets were drawn from the stomach. She was observed for awhile, and was seemingly better and was carried home where she asked for bread and jelly, but in a few minutes she went into convulsions, and her baby spirit went out to meet Him who said, "suffer little children come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

She was five years, five months and four days old, and had stayed in this home long enough that the adoptive parents are heart broken.—Lamesa Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the people of Brownfield and Tokio for their kindness to us during the illness and death of our dear beloved wife, daughter and sister, and their many floral offerings.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE POURS IT ON TOKIO

Tokio is a hustling little village on or near the line of Terry and Yoakum counties, yet the postoffice and in fact all the stores, garages, community hall and school are in Terry county, but the community is made up of people of both counties. They are a progressive, cooperative community, and they will tell you themselves, that they are going to be a real oil town one of these days, for two oil wells are drilling in their community, and one of them at least has already struck a small amount of oil and gas, and the drillers are optimistic over finding real pay oil.

About fifteen car loads of the representative citizens of Brownfield opened their proposed community visits last Thursday night with Tokio, and of course took the band. For awhile it seemed that the Brownfield bunch would have to entertain themselves, and Pappy John got the boys lined up just as the full moon rose, and gave an open air concert. But before it was over, headlights could be seen in every lane leading to Tokio, and soon the citizens lighted up the splendid community hall, and invited all up there. This community hall alone is mute evidence of the progressiveness of the Tokio community, and shows that cooperation abounds with them.

Secretary Shelton, of the Chamber of Commerce, in a few well chosen words explained the object of our coming, and hoped the pleasure of our visit to them would be mutual. Mr. Casey, one of the merchants of Tokio gave the visitors a rousing welcome, and hoped on our next visit, we would find Tokio a live oil town. Mr. Brown, one of the drillers of the section was called on, and made a nice talk, asking the people for their moral support in trying to find oil. He was followed by Judge Geo. W. Neill, who in his usual humorous style added zest to the occasion. After another short band concert, ending with the "Old Gray Mare" the meeting adjourned.

Some in the audience had been hailed out, but the men were planting over. The greatest regrets seemed to be registered by the ladies whose garden, already yielding much good food, were hailed out.

One thing we learned, and that is, we were too early for farmers. Just about the time we arrived there, near sunset, the farmers had not quit work; had to come home and water and feed old Pete and Beck, slop and feed the hogs; milk old jersey, eat supper and then get the family all ready to come to town. Visits from now on to rural communities will be somewhat better timed.

WOOLDRIDGE BOY DROWNED WEDNESDAY MORNING

A phone message was received here Wednesday afternoon from Carlsbad, N. M., that Jesse Wooldridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wooldridge of this city was drowned Wednesday morning. We failed to get any definite details of the accident.

It seems that Mrs. Wooldridge and the children, accompanied by their grandmother had gone over there on a pleasure trip about the first of this week. No announcements of funeral arrangements could be had up to this writing.

COLD-CHECKER THROWN IN COOLER THIS WEEK

We noticed that the jail contained an occupant one day this week and Sheriff Ellington informed us that the charges were cold checking. He also informed us that the man had given a number of them.

From preparations the officers are making with printed notices and other legal forms, they are going to make it warm of all these "hot-check" artists from now on.

SUMMER SCHOOL TO START NEXT MONDAY

DAVIDSON RAPS MA-MOODY

"BET--DISGRACEFUL HE SAYS"

WEDNESDAY MORNING

Jim Ferguson, proxy Governor, offers to bet the office of Governor against the office of Attorney General. Dan Moody accepts the bet. The two highest offices within the gift of the people of Texas are thus placed upon the plane of a "negro crap game" and the honor and dignity of these two great offices is insulted and disgraced by their incumbents to a degree that brings a blush of shame to every decent and right thinking citizen in the state. The legal and moral codes of Texas condemn gambling, even when it involves property ownership.

ed by the gamblers. The offices held by the Governor and Attorney General are solemn trusts granted by the people of Texas. The holders of those offices have no more right to gamble them away than they would have to gamble away the estate of widows and orphans entrusted to them by dead friends or relatives. Ferguson's failure to respect a public trust is not a matter of astonishment. Moreover, if he wins, he wins double--keeps the office of Governor and the right to name an Attorney General who would serve six months, which is long enough to dismiss some troublesome road suits. Shades of our great lawyers now gone, who have filled this office! How their outraged spirits must revolt as they see their successor waggering his sacred trust in a game of chance in an effort to herd votes into his "political" barnyard. Mr. Moody obviously expects Texas voters to back him for governor by holding up the threat of a Ferguson named Attorney General, should he lose his bet with the Ferguson. Mr. Moody proclaims that the issue in this campaign is "Fergusonism" against the right of the people. In the next breath he enters into a betting covenant with Jim Ferguson, but which he attempts to rob the people of their right to name the Attorney General and also to name the Governor of Texas in the coming election. The only honorable course left to Mr. Moody to right the wrong he has done the people and that they may freely express their own preference at the ballot box in the coming election, is for him to withdraw from the gubernatorial race. If this is not done, the highway suits now hauled by his political activities might be dismissed by a Ferguson appointed Attorney General or die of old age before the parties are ever brought to bar."

CHANGE THE NAME OF HICKSVILLE--NEVER!

Hicksville, N. Y., May 27.—Its still Hicksville.

Proud residents of this Long Island village told the world so Thursday.

The feud over changing the time honored name because a minority wanted a change when scoffers scoffed was settled last night when votes were counted in the municipal auditorium. The loyal Hicksvites won 994 to 317.

We are still Hicksville, the crowd exulted as they surged from the fire hall after the votes were counted.

The agitation was started by the chamber of commerce when a realty firm was unable to dispose of a large development because of the name. The village was named for Elias Hicks, noted Quaker leader, long ago.

FRANCIS LIGHTFOOT LEE

"It was a good and profitable voyage though it left no phosphorescent splendors in its wake." Thus has Mark Twain described the life of Francis Lightfoot Lee, Virginia signer of the Declaration of Independence, which will be commemorated by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, in Philadelphia, from June 1 to December 1.

The background of this gentleman from Virginia was of a family with a reputation to preserve and a tradition to perpetuate, a family which was able to shed as much honor upon official station as it received from it. He was a lover of books and possessed a fine cultured mind.

The old Virginia mansion which was his home was also the home of that famous Virginia hospitality which is still held in mellow memory. Over epicurean delights Lee and his friends discussed literature now dead and forgotten, and political matters that were drowsy with the absence of corruption and investigation.

It was with reluctance that Francis Lightfoot Lee was torn from the life of a country gentleman to that of public service. He sat in the Virginia House of Burgesses in 1765, and was a member of the Continental Congress from 1775-79. Besides signing the Declaration of Independence, he had a part in framing the articles of Confederation. He earned the gratitude of New England by maintaining that peace should be made with the mother country only on a basis of her concession of American rights in the Newfoundland fisheries as well as the opening of the Mississippi. His record is not one of brilliance, but of enduring patriotism, fearlessness, pure motives and un-purchasable honor.

He was glad to return to the life of a country squire after his term in Congress was over, but it was not long before he was solicited to serve in the Virginia Legislature. He could not refuse, and once more giving up his own preferences, he returned to public life.

A picture of the life of the illustrious Southerner vividly suggests the character of the public which called such men to be its servants.

Will Alf Bell, cashier of the First National Bank feels very jubilant over the fact that he won the local golf championship, especially since he, until the country club course was laid out here less than two months ago, never hit a golf ball in his life, and the further fact that several of the members were seasoned players before coming to Brownfield.

Mr. E. Meyers, of Whiteface, but recently of Louisville, Ky., has accepted a position as prescription man in the Hunter Drug Store. He comes very highly recommended.

District Court met last week at Seminole, but as Gaines county people are fine folks, there was nothing to do but to adjourn. Only two non-jury cases were tried, and nothing for the grand jury to investigate.

Miss Ruth Hearrell, of Lubbock, is here this week visiting her sister, Mrs. Paul Ivey.

WHY THE PRINTER ANY MORE THAN THE FARMER?

The printers and publishers of the country have been patient and long-suffering in their submission to government competition in the printing business.

If the Department of Agriculture should contract with an organization of poultry raisers, hog raisers and wheat raisers to furnish it certain amounts of these products which in turn, would sell at prices impossible for small farmers to meet, the situation would be the same as that faced by the small printers of the country who cannot meet government competition in printing return addresses on envelopes.—The Manufacturer.

CROP REPORT OF SOUTHLAND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Upon the question of whether or not heavy rains visit Texas within the next three or four weeks hangs this year's prosperity for the state, according to indications of May crop reports compiled by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance Company.

Almost without exception the reports indicate a greater "boom" than was expected even last month with the single reservation that continuous or heavy rains can entirely upset the prediction.

In most sections of the state where these crops are in the ground, the wheat, oats and other small grain crops are moving to a harvest. In a few counties rust and worms have attacked but damage from these sources are much lighter than was at first expected. And unless these hazards increase, Texas will have the greatest wheat and oat crop in its history.

Corn, of course, is below normal, and the crop has improved little since last month. Even rain and disastrous hail storms in the northern part of the State, however, have failed to dim prospects for an extremely good produce crop and many of the best sections of the state in East Texas report the crops above normal.

The outlook for cotton is still somewhat hazy. Practically every correspondent reports chances bright, "providing it does not continue to rain." Cotton, although still from three to four weeks late in planting, has yet plenty of season before it, necessary to make a crop. The danger from boll weevils and army and cut worms has been minimized in most sections and seasonably dry weather will do much to eliminate much of this danger.

A typical report from one of the cotton counties says: "Cotton late but promising. Plenty of season yet ahead and 60 days of dry weather will assure prosperity."

Conditions in the Panhandle are better than they were in April's optimistic report; South and Central Texas appear to have improved very slightly, and the Rio Grande Valley is, as usual, flourishing.

Business conditions are reported more nearly normal than they have been since last year's drought, with excellent prospects and money somewhat easier. The cattle raising country again reports prospects excellent.

Terry county reports conditions as above normal.

Bob Adams, manager of the Forest Lumber Co., left this week for Corpus Christi with his family, where they will spend their vacation fishing and resting. Bob informed us that he would likely cross the border at some point down in that section and see if the water was any better for drinking purposes than it is in Texas.

Mrs. Herald and children returned from Panhandle Friday. While up there they went to Borger, the new oil town north of Panhandle. They report that it was the first town they ever saw where Sunday was not observed. Stores were all open and the carpenter, blacksmiths, etc., were all plying their trade as it was Monday.

Lee Smith, prominent local horse and mule dealer, is moving back to Melrose, N. M. for a few weeks or perhaps a month or two, he informed us Wednesday.

Voters of Kent county have again refused to move the county seat from Clairmont by a vote of 515 for and 415 against. It takes two thirds to move the county seat as Jayton is more than five miles from the center of the county.

Miss Lois Daniels is here from Seminole visiting relatives and friends. She has made application for a position as teacher in the Ropesville public school.

Aut Graham and family returned last week from Corpus Christi, at which place they have been living for the past year to see if the change in climate would benefit his health. He seems to be somewhat improved in health, but seems real glad to get back to the best country.

Editor Berry, who recently sold the Carlbad, N. M. Current, was in our city one day last week on his way to Slaton. He informed us that he was in the market for another paper, and made us a banter for the Herald.

H. H. Longbrake, one of the proprietors of the Brownfield Hardware Company, accompanied by Roy Collier, manager of the furniture and undertaking department of that store, went to Stamford last week to attend a banquet given by R. L. Penick, of the Penick-Hughes wholesale hardware firm. Most of the meetings and entertainments took place on Penick Lake near the little town of Lueders, and the boys report having one big time with the other live wires down there.

BIGGER AND BETTER FAIR PLANNED AT LUBBOCK

Lubbock, June 2.—The opening gun in the campaign to make a bigger and better Panhandle South Plains Fair this year was sounded Saturday when the board of directors met to transact routine business relative to the opening of work for the coming exposition.

The City Auditorium, frame structure, which was donated to the fair association by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce recently, was formally accepted, and work will start immediately in tearing the building down and moving it to the grounds where it will be used.

The catalog and premium list will go to the printer in the next few days and will be off the press and ready for distribution to the exhibitors about the first of July.

"We're counting on a larger number of community exhibits this year, together with more interest in the live stock and poultry departments of the fair," Geo. Benson, retiring president said Saturday. "All over the Panhandle and South Plains agricultural conditions are the best they have been in years, and farmers are raising more livestock and poultry. This is strictly an agricultural fair and we are going after this type of exhibits and expect to have the best exhibition in this respect to be found among the regional fairs of Texas."

A nominating committee was appointed by the board to fill the place of three retiring members of the board. Those leaving are: Geo. E. Benson, president, and W. O. Stevens, retiring, and Chris Harwell, deceased. Members of the board who are carried over until next year are: Walter Myrick, Jr., E. L. Robertson, Norton Baker, W. H. Stanton, R. W. Blair, and S. E. Cone.

"The Fair is strictly a Panhandle-South Plains exposition, known all over the Southwest as the "Show Window of the Plains," Benson stated Saturday, "and the board of directors are exceedingly proud of the cooperation they are receiving from every community over the entire section to make the exposition a true representative of the Plains."

ORIGINATOR OF HOME TOWN CONTEST TO SPEAK

Fort Worth, Texas, May 31.—T. H. Etheridge of San Antonio, will address the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, June 22, on "The Economic Value of an Education," according to Homer D. Wade, secretary of the organization. Etheridge is the originator of the "My Home Town" contest plan, which has lately been inaugurated under the direction of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He has had an active part in the development of schools in San Antonio.

A definite place for the discussion of educational values on the contest program was decided upon after a conference between secretary R. T. Ellis of the State Teachers Association and Mr. Wade. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has devoted itself from the beginning to definite educational support, and has been responsible for much of the splendid development of the school in its field of influence.

CLEAN HUMOR DRAWS THE CROWD

William Hodges came to Detroit in the Judge's Husband, his own play, and the theatre was packed at every performance—and would have been packed for weeks had he remained in town.

Fred Stone came to town with his family and his show, and if all the theatres in Detroit could have been turned into one, Fred would have filled them all at every performance.

Ed Wynn came to town, and no one bought a ticket the week he was here—they were sold out the week before. He left the town full of talk about the folly of bringing Ed Wynn to Detroit for only one week.

George Cohan came, and the possessors of tickets would not trade them for seats in the New York Stock Exchange—they were just that scarce.

Why? Clean shows, Al. No nasty bits, Al. None of your dirty double meanings, Al. Straight Anglo-Saxon fun—clever, fresh, refreshing. You can tell the comedian of alien grade from our own; our own are clean, clever, frolicsome, genuine.

The Christian comedian seems to be showing the New York producer how to start a run on the box office.—Dearborn Independent.

J. L. Lyon was in Saturday from the Forrester community, and reported that hail wiped out most of his crop Friday night. He thought he could save perhaps 50 acres of cotton and practically all his feed crop. He reported the strip about a mile long and several miles wide. He said hail lay almost a foot deep in the draw next morning. He has a fine season, however, and lots of time to make a good crop, and is still optimistic.

Editor Harry Stone of the Seminole Sentinel recently missed an issue while away for a surgical operation at Temple. But Harry is back on the job now, and we hope much improved in health. He has undergone several operations in the past few years.

State Fire Marshall G. N. Holton has dedicated the last issue of his publication, "Safeguarding Texas Against Fire" to the Boy Scouts of Texas, who have rendered such valuable service to Texas in studying fire prevention, controlling flames, and in warning citizens of fire hazards about their places.

The Herald is obliged to revise its estimate of the Ferguson vote in this county, somewhat, for our banker friend, who has always been a life-long and consistent Ferguson supporter, informed us recently that he had found a farmer in the Wellman vicinity who also would support Jim and Ma. Also, Asculapias seems to have discovered a few Ferguson votes in and around Meadow. If there are others, we are sorry.

Sinclair Lewis, novelist, thinks he doesn't believe in God, and that his unbelief is important. Last Monday in the role of clergyman, upside down and just to prove that "there is no God," Mr. Lewis publicly defied Divine Power to strike him dead. He said, with lack of good taste, "I defy Him to strike me down in the next ten minutes." Nothing happened, so Mr. Lewis and the sort that listen to such childishness doubtless believe that something important has been demonstrated.—Arthur Brisbane.

Dan and Jim are now busily engaged in fighting out the Klan issue which everybody else thought was settled two years ago, together with lots of other nonsense that should be cast aside as nothing but campaign thunder. In the meantime, neither have as yet answered Lynch Davidson's question as to how they stand on the dry laws, both federal and state. Will the people of Texas ever wake up to the fact that an old rattle trap car makes more noise than a limousine, but their valuations are incomparable?

If the Texas Legislature keep on its present course of exempting this and that county or district from State taxes, we are wondering just where it will all end, and what some of us that have to pay the taxes after a bit when perhaps two-thirds of the big counties are exempted are going to do and pay our taxes. It is said there are now about twenty five counties or parts of them exempted from the payment of State taxes. To our certain knowledge, Galveston county has paid no State taxes since 1900, more than a quarter century ago, and it is one of the richest counties in the State. Where will it all end?

Whatever else might be said about the Fergusons' administration, no one can deny the fact that they have kept their promise to keep the state out of debt and improve its financial condition. Ever since they have been in office, state warrants have been paid and cashable right on the drum head, something entirely out of the ordinary for the past few years. We are not saying they are entirely responsible for this. Other departments of state may have had more to do with this than they. Neither are we saying they have or have not received fees, gifts, or bribes from other sources. The penitentiary system has also been improved and put on a cash basis. This too, might or might not have been accomplished, as his enemies accuse, by keeping the population of the pen cut to the minimum.

WHO KNOWS

I have the profoundest respect for boys. Grimy, ragged, touselled boys in the street often attract me strangely. A boy is a man in the cocoon—you do not know what it is going to become—his life is big with many possibilities.

He may make and unmake kings, change boundary lines between states and write books that will mould characters, or invent machines that will revolutionize the commerce of the world.

Every man was once a boy. I trust I shall not be contradicted; it is really so.

Very distinctly and vividly, I remember a slim freckled boy, who was born in the "Patch" and used to pick up coal along the railroad tracks in Buffalo. A few months ago I had a motion to make before the Supreme Court, and the boy from the "Patch" was the judge who wrote the opinion granting my petition.

Yesterday I rode horseback past a field where a boy was plowing. He swung his horses around just as I past by, and from under the flapping brim of his hat, he cast a quick glance out of the dark, and modestly returned my salute. His back turned and I took off my hat and sent a God bless you down the furrow after him. Who knows? I may go to that boy to borrow money, or to hear him preach, or to beg him to defend me in a law suit; or he may stand with pulse un-hastened, bare of arm, in white apron, ready to do his duty while the cone is placed over my face, and night and death come creeping into my veins.

Be patient with the boys—you are dealing with soul stuff. Destiny is waiting just around the corner. Be patient with the boys.—Elbert Hubbard.

R. L. Knight, of the firm of Hudgens and Knight, returned with his family this week from Graham where they have been visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Ann Hamilton left this week for Lubbock and perhaps other points north, where she will spend her vacation.

 "Abstract of Title (law): An epitome of the evidence of ownership.
 The negative evidences are, in practice, even more important than the positive.
 They show whether there are standing against the title, taxes, assessments, judgements, mortgages, liens—whether title has properly passed by will or administration, probate or heirship, etc.
 The information about such things is widely scattered in the public records, but in our complete records every existing piece of evidence is gathered together and filed together under the individual piece of property concerned.
 That's why we can furnish abstracts as firmly constructed as a steel building on a rock foundation.

Suffered weak, nervous
 "I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker.
 "I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry.
 "I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."
 Thousands of other women have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. Its action has been found to be of great benefit in many common female ailments.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Asclepias

I regret that our people did not remember to keep Memorial Day with some kind of service. While there are no soldiers of any of the wars in which we have had part, buried here it would have been nice to pay our respects to the memory of all those who have passed to the other side. I would like to have heard some girl repeat:

These in the robings of glory,
Those in the gloom of defeat,
All with the battle-blood gory,
In the dust of eternity meet;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgement day,
Under the laurel, the Blue,
Under the willow, the Gray."

However we will do better next time?

Tuesday our community turned out and proceeded to murder rabbits. They report 459 bunnies sent to the other pastures. We saw Judge Winston and others from outside among the hunters. It was a good days work and should be repeated quite often for these pestiferous animals multiply like flies by geometrical progression.

The hail and rain together the past week has just about ruined all the cotton and feed crops in this community. It will be a difficult matted to secure the cotton seed to replant the devastated area.

Mrs. A. L. Moorhead returned from Stephenville the first part of the week, where she has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Bobbie Terry.

Dick Carruth and wife, and son, Richard are back for the season. Dick is as fat as ever, and betting on Ma for Governor again.

By the way, politics are warming up rather lively here and a fellow can get an argument on almost any corner if he tries it a little. Its all Ma and Dan. I am feeling just a little bit lonesome with just Lynch for company. If Jim and Dan are as unreliable as they are attempting to prove to the people that they are, the office would be better vacant.

Jim has lugged in about all the bad things that have happened against Dan, and appropriated all that any of the other candidates stand for. He has even taken Zimmerman's anti-evolution away from him. He is wetter than Mrs. Johnson and dryer than the Anti Soloon League—thru Ma.

He lambasts the Baptists, calling them monkey-faced, apparently because Dan went to Houston during the Convention of some of its preachers, who proclaimed themselves for Dan. Jim should not forget his simian resemblance in alluding to the lowly ancestor of the race. It is at least probable that most of them will remember Jim at the primary.

It appears to me that they have made themselves quite clear on the proposition he has criticized so harshly.

His tears at the mention of Ma's pardon record is laughable, and his allusions to Christ's command to "go and sin no more," is ridiculous. Christ certainly never said open wide the prison bars to all classes of criminals. Nor do I recall his visiting

Most crimes are premeditated. The individual takes into consideration the fact that his family will suffer if he is caught and punished, and he should not be allowed to plead such things in extenuation of his offense.

Who is to take care of the family whose husband and father have been robbed of his life? They certainly deserve some consideration.

The woman who hired a negro to "freeze her husband out" a few weeks ago, and was given 90 years in the pen, leaves a family. Should she and her negro accomplice be turned loose to support the family?

Such arguments should disgust a strong minded male.

"If It's In a Drug Store, We Have It"

YES, BUT THE PUBLIC WANTS SOME ACTION

According to A. H. McKnight, a Dallas lawyer, the Texas Bar Association, through regularly appointed committees, has annually been making recommendations looking toward court reform and the simplification of the rules of practice of law in Texas. He made this statement in the Dallas News as an answer to a communication from E. G. Senter, who has been writing on this subject in the Farm and Ranch, and who has said that court reform will never come through the efforts of lawyers. Although it is evident that Mr. McKnight intended to take issue with Mr. Senter, he inadvertently confirms the truth of Mr. Senter's statement. In his attempt to defend the lawyers and their attitude toward court reform, Mr. McKnight said that the bar association has had court reform up for discussion at every annual meeting since 1917 and offered numerous suggestions for improvement.

In the opinion of Farm and Ranch, nine years of discussion at the annual meeting of the lawyers without bringing about any improvement in methods of conducting lawsuits in Texas, is sufficient to prove Mr. Senter's contention that the lawyers will not do anything about the matter but talk. During these nine years conditions in Texas have grown worse instead of better. Unless one employs an attorney with influence, a case in court will be dragged along through months and years before it receives consideration from the judge or jury. From year to year lawyers have devised new tricks and improved old ones to defeat the end of justice. All means, most of them legitimate and criminal in themselves, are employed by some attorneys to not only win their case, but in many instances, to put into their own pockets whatever they recover in the name of their client. Every year since the bar association began talking about court reform the courts have lost more and more of the respect of the people, and the law profession has lost its dignity and influence. Justice has become uncertain. Criminals do not fear the law, while law-abiding, tax-paying citizens will suffer loss of property and even the loss of inherent rights before they will risk going to a courthouse. The members of the bar association will have to do something besides talk and pass resolutions before the public will have any confidence in their alleged good intentions.—Farm and Ranch.

McMURRAY COLLEGE PLANS EXTENSIVE DEBATE TOUR

A trip through thirteen of the Southern and Eastern States is now being planned for the debating team of McMurray College, next year, and several shorter trips in Texas will be included in the schedule, according to Forensic Manager, Earl Nowlin. One of the points of interest on the trip will be Washington, D. C.

This trip will be an added inducement for try-outs, and the winners of the preliminary debates will gain much valuable knowledge besides the experience in debate, not to mention the pleasure that such a tour will afford.

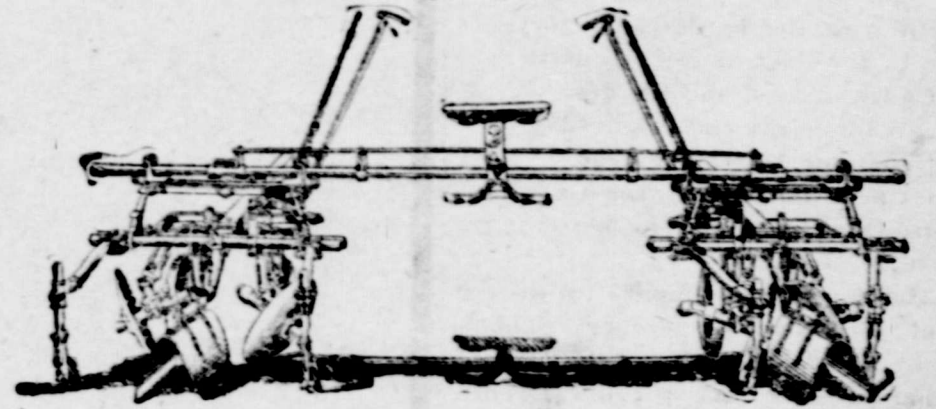

Of the nine interscholastic debates in which McMurray has participated during the three years of her history, seven have been won. Greater interest and better support of the debaters of next year is already becoming evident.

Rotan—$100,000 new high school building dedicated.

Use a McCormick-Deering Cultivator On Your Row Crops This Year!

We can supply one with beam and shovel equipment to suit your soil

Corn (cotton) and other tender, growing row crops demand careful, efficient cultivation. Neglect during the growing period will make itself known in reduced yield when the time comes to gather the crop. Surely it is poor economy to worry along without sufficient equipment or with cultivators that are badly worn when you can secure a new 1 or 2-row McCormick-Deering so easily. Remember that new tools that increase the yields or save labor are sure to be good investments. When you have gone over these McCormick-Deering Cultivators at our store you'll agree that they're winners.

EVERYTHING COMPLETE FOR BIG RABBIT CHASE

Lubbock, June 2.—Everything is complete for the big greyhound races which will be held at the Lubbock Coursing Park, Friday and Saturday, June 4th and 5th, according to Gene Wofford, owner of the park. The local Boy Scout organization is cooperating in the races, and a per cent of the gate receipts will go to the Scouts to help finance their summer encampment which will be held in August, Wofford said. About 75 of the boys assisted in a mammoth rabbit drive last week which rounded up 500 rabbits which will be used for the races. The rabbits are in good shape now and are being well taken care of and guarded day and night less some mishap befall them before the day of the races. The coursing park is one of the best in Texas, and will be in tip top shape for the races.

Registration for the races will close at ten o'clock P. M., Thursday, June 3, according to Wofford and the drawing will take place soon after. A good stake of added money is being made up at this time, and will go into the premiums for the winning hounds, in addition to the registration fees.

Cisco—Bankhead Highway westward in Eastland county from end of brick pavement, will be retopped with asphalt immediately.

TOKIO PICK-UPS

At this writing the community seems to be in very high spirits over the rain they are getting for the past few days. And with the exception of some hail in a few spots, it helped out wonderfully toward the already fine prospects of a crop. I understand there are a few south of here having to plant over.

There were quite a number at the community hall last Thursday night to listen to some music and speaking put on by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce. The music, which was enjoyed by all, was furnished by the Chamber of Commerce band. There were several short talks made by various persons, most of it being "gas," and I suppose it makes a very good subject for discussion, that is, if Brownfield will get the idea out of their head that our well belongs to them. I also heard that the little neighboring town, Plains, is trying to claim it. We can't say that it is right in the middle of our town, but we can boast of it being in our community. So Brownfield and Plains, don't try to claim anything that don't belong to you.

Several of the Tokio boys went over to Lovington, N. M. last Sunday to see a ball game between that place and Plains; but arrived too late for the battle. We heard that Lovington was victorious.

Quite a few Tokio people attended the meeting at Johnson, Sunday.

Several Tokio boys and girls were at Willow Wells last Friday night to hear the closing program of their school.

Mrs. Dr. M. C. Bell and daughter, Miss Mautreja, left Saturday for a visit with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Pegues, of Odessa.

Mrs. Arch Fowler returned Saturday from Tatum, N. M. where she visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Duke.

HUDSON-MILLS

Miss Stella Hudson and Mr. Chas. L. Mills, were united in marriage, Sunday evening, ten miles west of here, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hudson, by Rev. H. D. Heath.

The bride has lived here her entire life, and has won the friendship of many. At present she has been attending school at Tatum. The groom we do not know personally, but he being principal of the grade schools at Tatum, and winning the love of Stella, he must be a fine man.

The couple left Wednesday morning for Clovis, where they will visit his parents a few days, and from there to Las Vagus, N. M. to attend summer school, preparatory to teaching at Boney, N. M. the coming term.

Elder J. Porter Wilkie closed his meeting at Johnson Sunday night after a week's meeting hindered much by rain, and left Monday for Bismarck at Jacksonville, Texas.

A FAIR COLORIST

This young woman ascends a giddy ladder every day to put finishing touches to the "Rainbow City"—the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, opening in Philadelphia June 1 and continuing until December 1, to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence. She is one of an army of young artists who are making the Sesqui a colorful success.

Painting Deceived Birds

Zeuxis, a famous Greek painter, who flourished in the latter half of the Fifth century B. C., is said to have painted grapes so naturally that the birds pecked at them. Parrhasius was a young rival of Zeuxis and in a competition between them the young artist was allowed by Zeuxis to surpass him. It was on this occasion that Zeuxis, perhaps the greatest of all the Greek painters, painted a bunch of grapes which were so natural that the birds pecked at them. Or so says tradition.

Early English Judges

In the Thirteenth century in England, traveling judges, who were called justices in eyre, were appointed to proceed around certain assigned circuits and to try civil and criminal cases that might be brought before them.

Renovating Old Trunk

An old trunk that seems too shabby to take anywhere, may be made to look almost like new if given one or two coats of stain and varnish of the color it originally had. Even the brass latches and lock may be polished with metal polish, to good advantage.

Expert Opinion

"A railroad man tells the Fort Scott Tribune that if the railroad spent a billion dollars a year for 19 years eliminating grade crossings in America, there still would be 84,000 crossings left," says the Kansas City Times.

Show Qualities Early

Prince Eugene, son of the count of Solissons, was only thirty-three years old when he was appointed commander in chief of the imperial army of Austria in the war against the Turks in 1683.

Composition of Pulque

Pulque, popular Mexican drink, is made from the agave or maguey. The drink contains about 7 per cent alcohol and is intoxicating when drunk in large quantities. It possesses some medicinal qualities.

Breeding Softies

Is not this, from the Pahuska Journal-Capital, most unfortunately true? "Civilization is a complicated system that defeats its own ends by making it easier for weaklings to survive."—Boston Transcript.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

"What I saw in the Crystal Ball." One spring day I was walking thru a beautiful forest, and as I drew near a sturdy old oak tree, I saw a tiny dwarf sitting on a huge toad stool and he was gazing interestedly into a large crystal ball. When I asked him what he saw, he said: "I am seeing the future of the senior class of '26 in the Brownfield High School. Do you wish to know it also?" I was a member of that class myself, so I replied that it would interest me very much.

The first scene was a large office building located in New York. I expected to see the name of one of our Senior boys, but no. On a door marked private, was the name of Jewel Graves, M. D. Jewel had finally realized her ambition and was now a successful doctor.

The scene shifted and I now saw what I thought was a beautiful summer hotel. I could not see the significance of this until the picture became plainer. Instead of seeing the name of a famous hotel, I read this: "Ye Old Maids Home." Every unhappy maid who has had disappointments in love, will find a sympathizing listener, if you call on the proprietor of this home, Miss Bessie Day.

Next before me I saw a copy of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche, and as the name sounded familiar to me, I looked to see what it contained. On the front page was a list of the faculty elected for the Tech for the term 1931-32. Heading the list I saw the statement: Prof. Darrel Jackson, formerly of Brownfield, has been elected professor of manual training. This recalled me to a day in the shop when Darrel said he was going to teach manual training some day in the Tech.

The paper folded slowly and in its place was a gorgeously lighted opera house. The electric sign stated that Miss Elizabeth Downing, a lady who promised to become a famous prima donna, would make her debut that night. I was glad for Lizzie for that has ever been her ambition.

The lights grew dim and out of the shadows Grace came walking toward me. The dwarf explained that Grace had tried many professions, but had at last decided that she was best suited to house keeping. She is now one of the house keepers in the Y. W. C. A. building at Los Angeles. We said Grace was happy in her work, so let us see another.

A group of workmen headed by a strong tanned man, came into view, and I recognized their leader, James King. That was in the year 1935, and James had at last had his dream of being a civil engineer fulfilled.

I next saw a stairway, and at the top was a door with the sign, "Misses Gladys Copeland & Irene Lindley, Beauty Specialists," and below was a list of the prices for their services. What two girls in our class could have been better fitted for this work?

I glanced across the hall, and as I did, the door opened and who should stand there but one of my former class mates, Loula Head? I thought perhaps she had been in to see a dentist, but she informed me that was the office of the famous criminal lawyer, Mr. Will Alf Bell, and that she was his private secretary. How glad I was that both had become so successful.

As I gained the street again, I saw coming down the side walk, a group of girls dressed in gymnasium suits. They were hiking to a nearby lake, and their instructor was none other than Thelma McPherson.

I passed on down the street and bought a newspaper at the corner. I opened it carelessly, but became very interested as I read the following article: "Misses Edna Criswell and Louise Holgate, famous horticulturists have again achieved great success. They have transplanted the grape fruit in such a way that the bitter taste has entirely disappeared. It is thought by many that these young ladies will become as famous as Lather Burbank." I was so deeply engrossed in the paper that I very stupidly bumped into a beautiful lady. She knew me at once, but it was a few moments before I saw that she was of my dear friends in the days gone by, Lillie Maye. She invited me to her apartment, and there she told me of her work. She and Tom Herod were the leading characters in a popular play then running on Broadway. I was scarcely surprised at this because I remembered their success in our class play, "And Home Came Ted".

The next scene was a small brick house on the beach at Galveston. Over the door I read these words: "Life Saving Station," and just then two girls, who I knew at once, came through the door. They were Geneva and Othel. They informed me they had many thrilling experiences as life savers, and that they loved their work because of the excitement it afforded them.

The following scene seemed almost impossible to be true. I saw Bernice before a class of high school boys and girls, and she was explaining to them very thoroughly, the intricacies of an original in geometry, and as she was there, Blanche came in and said that she wished to make an announcement. She first asked how many of them knew that the gubernatorial election for the year 1938 would soon be held. She then told them that she was a candidate for the office of governor of Texas, and that she wanted them to tell their parents that she would make her campaign speech that night in the municipal building. All the conversation I have given was interpreted for me by the kind dwarf.

When I asked him about our sponsor, he pointed to a picture that I had not seen. It was a large pharmacy. He told me that Mr. Heath was one of the wealthiest pharmacists in San Francisco, but that he was living in bachelor blessedness, and was not married as all our class expected him to be.

Just then I caught a glimpse of myself in the crystal ball clouded instantly and it seemed that a curtain was drawn before my eyes. "No more today," said the wizened old man, and I went on my way still wondering what my future would be.—Bessie Thompson.
