Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS By the Secretary

One of the most interesting trips of the year was the Midway trip made last Thursday night. Practically the entire citizenship of the community was there to greet us, and a greater number of Brownfield people were present than any previous one with the possible exception of Meadow. The band was at its best and rendered a dandy program, and besides we had some stringed music. Talks were indulged in by several of ourselves and members of the community and were seemingly much enjoyed. At any rate we are glad to have their viewpoint on several questions, and were made aware of several of their necessities.

Those people are in the Brownfield territory, but they are short on roads to get to us, and their mail and their phone facilities are principally prominent by their absence, and they desire assistance in finding a remedy.

For their information it was stated that steps would be taken toward rural mail as soon as the route was opened and it is understood that they have a petition in circulation toward opening a few miles of road that will be needed. This organization has taken the matter up with the Postmaster at Brownfield, and has been assured by him that the Union route will be extended as soon as this is done, but it will be necessary for them to sign a petition to the Department requesting service. Inspection of the route will be made soon after petitioned.

A very much appreciated luncheon was served after conclusion of the meeting. Midway is one of the best communities in the county and we should look after it closer.

This is the month that the highway department promised designation of the Lamesa highway and the Brownfield and Seagraves highway, but up to this date have not been advised on the matter. But they are being notified that it is expected and we hope to have the good news soon. Other designations are being promoted but nothing definite has been secured.

This week is Challis, and next week is Sawyer, keep them in mind.

Monthly luncheon postponed until Monday, July 26. Get ready to purchase a ticket at 50 cents.

Don't forget First Monday Trades day. If you have anything to sell bring it in; it will be auctioned off without charge. Place of auction east side of square and the hours from 10 to 12 A. M. and from 2 to 4 P. M.

CANDIDATES TO ORATE FOR US TONIGHT

They may stamper us tonight, boys with their lofty flights of oratory, but tomorrow we will rope them in and round 'em up to the tune of one or two, as the case may be, to a hill. Tonight is their turn, but tomorrow we have our ending—and "Oh what will the harvest be?"

Up to this time the political machinery of old Terry has run as fine and smooth as a new watch, without a knock, friction or puncture. We do not recall a single hard thing said about another candidate except in jest, and we hope it will thus continue till the last box is in and the final results announced. Then we hope the defeated candidates will advance with a smile and congratulate their victorious opponents and help us put them in the horse troughs.

CHRISTIAN MEETING CLOSED HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

The meeting under the City Tabernacle that has been running for the past three weeks with Rev. Sam Jones as evangelist and his wife leading the song services, was brought to a close Sunday night with twelve additions to the local Christian church, six of which were by baptism and six by letter.

Rev. Mr. Jones took time Sunday night to thank those who had been instrumental in the success of the meeting, which included those who had cared for him and wife, the singers, a local lumberman and the other denominations of the city.

Mr. J. H. McKinney took the evangelistic party to Lubbock Sunday night in order to catch the midnight train to make their next appointment at Blooming Grove.

Tom May and family have returned from their vacation.

BROWNFIELD SCHOOL RECEIVES SIX UNITS OF CREDIT

The final report for the application for affiliation for Brownfield High School has been received by Supt. Fagala. Six units of credit has been allowed: two in English, three in Mathematics, and one in Chemistry. The first year Spanish passed but on account of the second year failing no credit could be allowed. Spanish being a subject in which two years work must pass before any credit is allowed. The credits were distributed among the classes as follows:

Freshman, English and Algebra; Sophomores, English and Algebra; Juniors, Plane Geometry and Chemistry.

This surely is a good start and now we must strengthen the work in every way possible until we have reached the standard, sixteen units, for the first class high school. Until more room is provided we will not be able to get more than eight more credits. The science and manual arts must have separate rooms in which to be taught.—Contributed.

REPUBLICANS TO HAVE BUT ONE BOX IN THE COUNTY

Elsewhere in this issue of the Herald, the reader may find a sample ballot of the Republican candidates that will be voted on in the primary tomorrow. There will only be one box in the county, located in the residence of O. E. Johnson, Republican County Chairman.

Mr. Johnson informed us that their county vote would be necessarily very light, as several Republicans in and around Brownfield would enter the Democratic primary in order to get to vote on county officers. He therefore only ordered fifty tickets for the entire county. Mr. Johnson's residence can be easily found about three blocks a little northeast of the town square.

PLEASANT VALLEY RABBIT DRIVE NETS SOME 670

The Terry county "gummen" who assisted in making the drive on the jacks through the Pleasant Valley neighborhood last Wednesday are all well pleased, but not more so than the farmers of that community whose crops were being destroyed by these pests. It is believed this bombardment will have a wholesome influence on the rabbits, and they will make themselves scarce out there for a bit, anyway. Some 670 were actually counted, not to mention many that were probably mortally wounded, and have probably died since.

The huntsmen report that the ladies of the community spread a fine lunch at the noon hour, set off by a well barbecued beef furnished by the men of the community. Then, too, the sport was worth a lot. No accidents to mar the day, although we understand one man let his gun go accidentally.

SMALL CHILD RUN DOWN BY CAR SATURDAY

While crossing a crowded street Saturday afternoon, the little five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Brothers was knocked down by a car, but as the car did not touch him after being downed he was not badly hurt. A small skinned place on the side of his head was probably caused when he hit the ground.

The little fellow was crossing the street and watching another car and did not see Horace Rambo approaching from another direction, and ran squarely in front of his car. Had Horace been moving fast, it might have seriously hurt the child.

Those who saw the accident say it was absolutely unavoidable, but in view of the fact that Horace had been in an auto accident the week before, it seemed to hurt him badly, although not held to blame for either.

HUGH BULLETIN BOARD ON COURT HOUSE LAWN

The Alexander and Hunter Drug Stores together with other political fans have consolidated on a huge bulletin board to be erected on the lawn of the court square where news from the headquarters will be received by wire, of State candidates, and the box and vote in each voting precinct of Terry county will also be given.

Through the efforts of J. L. Randal, who has long been the local correspondent of the Texas Election Bureau, several wires will be sent to the Herald from the Bureau on order to get a press rate, and at the same time the Bureau will not violate any rule in sending reports to individuals. Seats are to be provided for the accommodation of ladies who may want to remain for the returns.

BOY SCOUTS TO GO IN CAMP IN AUGUST

The South Plains Area Council, camping committee are the busiest people in West Texas this week. We are going to camp at Post. The date is August 17 to 27th inclusive. Ten days of fun, swimming, good eats and everything. We are going to have Indian Chief, "Red Eagle. Mr. Moore of the Buffalo Trail Council and Minor Huffman, one of the best short story tellers of the South, for camp and many other features, besides the big camp fire program each night. The slogan will be "Scout for more Scouting."

Some of the improvements are not yet finished. We need $800 more in cash right now.

Remember the local banks will be closed tight as a wedge tomorrow, (election day) so you had best get your change today to run you over tomorrow.

J. S. Estlack and family will leave next week for a visit with relatives at Sweetwater and Abilene.

BROWNFIELD WATER TESTS HIGH IN PURITY NOW

Some few weeks ago a sample of our city water was sent to the State Chemist, and while he did not find any serious disease bugs in it, he noted that it was rather dirty and trashy and since that time a concrete top has been put over the well about 20 feet above the water, where the two centrifugal pumps are placed, and a sample sent for analysis. He found the last sample nice and clean and almost free from germs.

The reader will understand how easily dirt might reach the water when they understand that the city well is eight feet across, with nothing but a plant top on it, and the pump men often have to go down the winding stairway to start the motors and pumps. Now, however, the water is not visible, being cased off as we stated above with a concrete topping 20 feet above the water.

The pumpmen have had a hard time recently keeping ahead of the water needs of the town with one 250 gallon per minute pump, but the new pump of same capacity has arrived, and as soon as some of the fittings not carried at Dallas are received from the factory, it will be installed, doubling the pumping capacity to 500 gallons per minute.

LOCAL ICE PLANT HAS SERIOUS BREAK DOWN

The Texas Utilities Ice Plant at this place was tied up for repairs several days last week on account of a broken governor on the fly wheel of the engine, and two or three cars of ice had to be brought in from Lubbock, as that in storage soon disappeared during the hot days of last week.

The repairs for the governor had to come from some point in Indiana, and did not arrive until Saturday, afternoon. A machinist from the plant at Lubbock came down Sunday to help manager Thompson get it adjusted, and the plant started operation Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Everything being hot from several days' idleness, it was Wednesday of this week before any ice was pulled from the local plant.

MASONIC BROTHERS ENJOY LECTURES SATURDAY

Masons from all over this and some of the adjoining counties in Texas and New Mexico gathered here Saturday to hear the lectures and see the motion pictures of the activities of Masonry in Texas.

Our friends among the brethren who were fortunate enough to be able to attend them report a fine time and splendid lectures and pictures. The Masons are doing a fine work in the alleviation of pain and suffering in the human family.

The only plant in the world that produces helium gas in quantities is in Texas.

POTASH AND OIL TO BE DEVELOPED ON BIG RANCH

Mr. M. V. Brownfield has leased a portion of his big east ranch to Mr. H. S. Gerson and associates of Amarillo, for both potash and oil developments. We understand that Mr. Gerson is a geologist of some note, and has opened offices in the State Bank building for the present.

A large standard oil rig was unloaded down there some two weeks ago, and we understand a real deep test for oil is to be put down.

As to the potash developments, we have been reliably informed that a number of shallow test have been put down with a common well drill in a shallow water section of the ranch, and which water has never been fit for use. It is said that these water: which are found about 15 feet under the surface contain a high percentage of potash, as well as lots of nitrates salts and numerous other chemicals including arsenic, all of which are valuable. It is understood that the nitrates are just as valuable to agriculture almost as potash. Indeed the two are used in making fertilizer.

Of course there has been much rumor some of it indicating a huge plant to cost $3,000,000 to work out these chemicals, but this is only talk so far, as Mr. Gerson has not given anything for publication, and it is not expected that he will until further investigations and financial arrangements are made.

Those close to this gentleman say that he is also confident of finding oil on the Brownfield ranch, as indications of it are plentiful on the surface.

As a matter of fact when it can be shown that either potash or oil is to be found in workable quantities, there will be plenty of capital provided for working it, and a combination potash and oil development here would not ruin anything except transform our town into a thriving city.

BROWNFIELD TEAM TAKES GAME WITH SHERMAN

Those who thought that a team of Brownfield boys could not be raked up that would or could play good baseball had another think coming last Saturday evening when our untrained team met the Sherman boys who had been traveling for some time over West Texas, and were in good trim for the game.

The home boys made several runs in the first ending up, seemingly being able to bat the visitor's pitcher at will, and this big lead could never be overcome by the Easterners. The final score was 7 to 4 in Brownfield's favor.

If the people here will get behind them with some real pep, late as it is, in the season, we believe our boys will give a good account of themselves before the end of the season.

WACO MAN ADDRESSES VOTERS FOR DAVIDSON

A nice crowd of interested people gathered around the band stand last Thursday afternoon to hear Hon. Claude Miller, of Waco address the voters in behalf of Lynch Davidson's candidacy for the office of governor of Texas.

Mr. Miller is a fluent speaker and if anyone went out to hear him with the expectation of hearing a lot of hot air and abuse, they were certainly disappointed. His arguments were clean, straight forward and convincing, but of course did not suit those who want to hear a lot of bitter vituperation whether it be the truth or not.

Just whether he gained a single vote for Mr. Davidson or not, we of course are unable to say, but he at least strengthened the Davidson men here to press the battle.

PALACE DRUG STORE TO POST ELECTION RETURNS

The management of the Palace Drug Store take this opportunity of inviting the public to attend their election returns party on the evening of Saturday, July 24th. Arrangements have been made with the Associated Press leased wire to secure the returns as same are released and the public will be given the advantage of them by postings as received on a large bulletin board, thus Brownfield will be given the same quick returns as the larger cities. The Palace invites the public to come and be with them.

"NEW COMMANDMENT DELICIOUS EPICURIAN TREAT

Robert T. Kane has a rare cinema treat for the patrons of the Rialto Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, July 26-27, when his initial production for First National, "The New Commandment," is presented for a run.

In producing the "New Commandment" as his first production under his own banner, Kane made sure to select a vehicle abounding in thrills and novelties and then to make success certain he signed up the most marvelous film talents that money could tempt. Fans should add this screen triumph to the list of pictures that must be seen.

The cast includes Ben Lyon, in the greatest role of his career; Blanche Sweet, Holbrook Blinn, Pedro De Cordova, Diana Kane, Dorothy Cummings, George Cooper, Effie Shannon and many others.

"The New Commandment" is a screen adaptation of Sada Cowan and Howard Higgins of Colonel Fredrick Palmer's celebrated novel, "Invisible Wounds." Howard Higgins is also responsible for the direction. In this picture he has reached a directorial milestone, for his touches and details are exquisite.

ELECTION RETURNS WILL BE FURNISHED

The circulation department is glad to announce that our hundreds of readers in Brownfield will be furnished the same election returns that the people of Lubbock will get. The Palace Drug Co. of that city will erect a large blackboard in front of their place of business and as soon as Lubbock gets a report it will be relayed to the Palace Drug Co. at Brownfield. A special operator will be put on to furnish this service.

Idolou, Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Slaton, Lamesa, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Ropesville will also be taken care of. The Avalanche has a full leased wire, and its Sunday morning paper will give the people of the South Plains and New Mexico a full report of the State primary from eight to twenty-four hours earlier than any other daily paper in Texas.

G. R. Scott,
Circulation Mgr. Avalanche.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

In finally submitting my application to the voters of Terry county to be your next District Attorney, I wish by this method to say a final word before you register your will at the ballot on Saturday the 24th.

During my entire campaign I have striven to conduct it upon a high plain, resorting to no unfair means whatever to get votes nor attempting in any way to deceive the people. I have done my best to see as many personally as possible, however this is impossible in a district RACE and I wish by this final word to assure my friends throughout the county of my appreciation of their support and influence for me.

For the purpose of keeping the record straight and that the voters may not be deceived, I wish to call attention to the appeal of my opponent is making for support on what he terms a "Second Term." In this connection your attention is called to the fact that when this district was created and the Bill going into effect last August 1st, 1925, the Governor appointed my opponent to this office until the voice of the people could be heard from, therefore in so far as the people are concerned in whom all political powers rest, it means simply that my opponent is running for a FIRST TERM just the same as myself.

I believe confidently that I will be elected by a large majority, and believing steadfastly in the power of the people to rule, and say who shall be their officers, I gladly rest my case with the people on July 24th.

WHY GOVERNMENT PRICE FIXING WON'T WORK

One of the most persistent fallacies is government price-fixing on competitive commodities. There is already government price-fixing in commodities and services where competition plays no part in price determination. These are railway transportation, electricity, gas, telephone and telegraph, and so on. Here government price-fixing is solely to protect the consumer. There are two fatal objections to government price-fixing for agricultural products, which represent the most competitive business in the world. These are, first, that it will not work; second, that it is always done for the consumer as against the producer.

Government price-fixing for agricultural products would work if at the same time the government regulated wages, profits, middlemen's margins, the production of all commodities and the rationing of all consumers. In short, if the population were enlisted in one vast army, directed and rationed, price-fixing would work, but otherwise not. If the price is fixed on the wheat the farmer sells, then he cannot keep on producing wheat if wages or the cost of harvesting machinery rise, or if the cost of other material he buys rises. So the next step would be the fixation of other prices, and yet other prices.

The United States government fixed the price of wheat but once in our history, and then it was to benefit consumers, not producers. The government might, in an emergency, fix some agricultural prices for the purpose of elevating such prices. Such action would inevitably and speedily lead to outcry from city consumers and a consequent reversal of policy. Indeed, the consumers, not the producers, are most likely to demand and secure food price regulation by government authorities. The farmer, therefore, who favors any form of governmental price-fixing is working against his own interests. He is putting his head into a noose.—James E. Boyle, Professor of Rural Economics, Cornell University, in the Banker-Farmer.

Simple Measurement

There is an easy way by which the height of a tree can be computed by measuring its shadow. Take a stick of definite length and measure the shadow of the tree. Find the length by the shadow of the stick by holding it at right angles to the ground. Multiply the length of the tree's shadow by the length of the stick and divide by the length of the stick's shadow.

Roman Gathering Places

The coliseum of Rome seated 87,000 people. We do not find any definite statement concerning the capacity of the forum at Rome. The Forum Romanum was the market place and center of political oratory of the city. It was not equipped with seats, but was the gathering place of large crowds. The length of the forum is 102 meters; its width from 45 to 46 meters.

To Dissolve Glass

Glass can be dissolved slowly in solutions of alkali and acid. A mixture of hydrofluoric and sulphuric acids will dissolve it rapidly, but the hydrofluoric acid is very poisonous, produces severe burns and should never be used without exceedingly great care and even then only after explicit instructions as to methods of handling.

Knew What It Meant

The office boy returned from the sanctum. "Gee," he said, "the boss has a rose in a vase on his desk. That means the boss is in love!" The stenographer looked up wearily. "You haven't been here long," she commented. "That means the boss is in love with his work again."

TEXAS U. STADIUM TO HAVE MEMORIAL TABLETS

Austin, Texas, July 20.—The original plan to make the great stadium at the University of Texas a real memorial to the Texas heroes of the World War—a tribute to the men who gave their lives for the cause for which they fought—is to be carried out. Bronze tablets to their memory will be placed upon the concrete structure. An effort is being made to reach the family of every man in Texas who is entitled to this distinguished recognition, in the hope that all may be given a place of honor. In a letter addressed "to the families of Texans who gave their lives in the World War," Dr. W. M. W. Splawn and H. J. Lucher Stark, president Texas Memorial Stadium Association, the following statement is made: "The Texas memorial stadium has been erected at the University of Texas by popular subscription as a memorial to the Texas men and women who served in the World War. This is the first statewide memorial erected to these Texas men and women. In keeping with this idea, suitable memorial tablets are to be erected to the memory of those Texas men and women who gave their lives in the service of their country.

"The family of each Texas man and woman who paid the supreme sacrifice during the war is now invited to place in the Texas Memorial Stadium a bronze memorial tablet to the memory of this individual."

NORTH CAROLINA AND WEST TEXAS

By A. N. Eshman, Winchester, Tenn. Other southern states are beginning to "sit up and take notice" of what North Carolina and West Texas are doing at the Sesqui-Centennial at Philadelphia.

In a recent article, I explained in detail the charming things which North Carolina had planned for her Sesqui-Centennial exhibit. Only a few days have elapsed, and what of it now? The writer has just returned from a delightful review of the exposition, and he would easily vote "the Old North State's" temple of exhibit one of the most beautiful within the Sesqui grounds. The patriots from that grand old state and their friends from other southern states, will point with pardonable pride to the North Carolina exhibit displayed in a booth temple of perfect elegance, located in the Agricultural Building.

But what of West Texas and its Chamber of Commerce? West Texas knows things. West Texas grows things; West Texas does things. That is the West Texas way at the Sesqui-Centennial.

Southerners from any state, you who love enterprise, and ginger and pep wherever you find it, be quick to locate what Texas would show you in the Building of Agriculture and Foreign Exhibits. The whole display will be like a letter from home to every southerner who loves Texas, and all of us do.

Shall I describe it in detail—my letter would grow too long if I should; but "The Lone Star" effect is perfectly taken care of and the entire scheme is in harmony with it.

Moreover, a brave, handsome young Texan is in charge, and he is a veritable Chesterfield on the job. That is the West Texas way at the Sesqui-Centennial.

ALL IS NOT FIT TO PRINT

A dirth of local news often leads to murmurs on the part of those who prize local gossip above all else, and it is not the fault of the publisher. Any live publisher will not fail to give all the local news worthy of note therefore when the local department is short, you should not rail at the editor, but remember you might have committed suicide, got married, quarreled with your neighbor, stole chickens, let your team run away or done a hundred other things to make a local item. If a newspaper should publish current gossip, or the hints and allusions of the best society in the community, it would be ostracized and the editor horsewhipped or burned at stake. Think a minute of the mean low things you say about your townsmen and your neighbors and imagine how it would look in print. A newspaper that contained one-half the nonsense current among the best citizens would be considered unfit to read. Honest!—Patchogue (N. Y.) Advance.

Merchants Should Help

The Chamber of Commerce at Bryan has a rule not to allow a farmer to take a load of produce back home for lack of a market. If he can't find a buyer the farmer goes to the Chamber of Commerce, where a price is agreed upon, and the secretary calls up the dealers in that line of products and tells them he has bought the produce and the price he has paid, and it is then equitably distributed among the dealers. At times there may be a loss on purchases made in this way, but it is so divided up that it does not fall heavily on any one. It is needless to say that Brazos county farmers have a fine feeling for Bryan merchants.

WARNS PUBLIC AGAINST FRAUDULENT DRUGS

Washington, July 20.—The alleged medicinal efficacy of slightly radioactive waters and other slightly radioactive preparations has been found to be much misrepresented, say officials of the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture, who, in the enforcement of the Federal Food and Drugs Act, have made a nation-wide survey of waters and drugs alleged to be radioactive.

The products analyzed for content of radium included hair tonics, bath compounds, suppositories, tissue creams, tonic tablets, face powders, ointments, mouth washes, demulcents, opiates, ophthalmic solutions, healing pads and other preparations in solid, semisolid and liquid form for which therapeutic value because of alleged radioactivity was claimed. Only five per cent of the products analyzed and claimed to be radioactive contained radium in sufficient quantities to render them entitled to consideration as therapeutic agents and then only in certain very limited conditions, says the officials. Highly exaggerated therapeutic claims obviously designed to mislead the purchaser are being made for many of the products which contain little or no radium. One of the samples examined consisted of a short glass rod coated on one end with a yellow substance and enclosed in a glass bulb. The bulb is designed to be hung over the bed and according to the claims of the inventor causes dispersion of "all thoughts and worry about work and troubles and brings contentment, satisfaction and body comfort that soon results in peaceful, restful sleep." Action will be taken under the Federal Food and Drugs Act against shipments of the alleged radioactive products which are falsely or fraudulently misbranded under the terms of the Federal Food and Drugs Act. A warning regarding the indiscriminate use of these few products which are highly radioactive is also sounded by the officials.

HOW TO DETECT COTTON FLEA —AND HOW TO POISON HIM

During the past few weeks there has been a totally unexpected and unprecedented spread of damage to the cotton crop caused by what is known as the "cotton hopper," or the "cotton flea."

The cotton hopper was first noted damaging cotton a number of years ago in a few Gulf Coast counties of Texas.

The hoppers, both adult and nymphs, feed principally in the buds and the growing tips of the branches. The injury is to the squares when they are very small. As a result, the tiny squares die, turn to brown or blackish color and sooner or later drop from the plant, leaving a distinct scar. These blasted squares, though small and often very minute are easily visible to the naked eye and anyone who will take the pains to inspect the cotton when the squares are being developed and watch for this kind of injury should be able to detect the presence of the hopper in time to use control methods.

The hopper is a very small insect, usually greenish in color, but sometimes rather yellowish, but easily to be seen. When present in large numbers in a cotton field, the adults will readily appear like small white gnats darting among the plants when disturbed. Before developing wings, the hoppers are small green bugs, reminding one somewhat of plant lice. They remain on the plant and may often be discovered with their beaks inserted in small squares from which they extract the sap.

In addition to the shedding of these squares, a very abnormal type of growth is displayed by the cotton experiencing a severe damage. There is a decided tendency toward increased size and a rank vegetable growth. Furthermore, the plants become abnormally branched, with many small branches leaving the same joint, thus in many ways resembling what might be called a sucker growth. This produces a very unusual looking plant, and the combined characteristics of normal branching, shortage of squares and presence of the small blasted squares afford the easiest means of detecting hopper injury.

Control has been the subject of numerous experiments in the Texas investigations. Many chemicals were tried and it was soon found that the best results were secured at lowest cost by dusting the plant with sulphur. The best material to use is superfine dusting sulphur; that is, a sulphur ground so fine that at least 95 per cent of it will pass through a 200 mesh sieve.

The sulphur should be used at the rate of 10 pounds per acre and applications should be made under much the same conditions as those favorable for calcium arsenate dusting; that is, when the air is calm and it is thus possible to get the sulphur down among the plants. The question of whether to use sulphur must of course be answered by the individual farmer. The best that can be recommended is for the farmer to examine his cotton closely and if he finds any considerable number of blasted squares present, and notices the insects hopping and flying around the plants, it will probably pay him to dust. Under such conditions, an application should follow not more than four or five days later.

The cost of sulphur has generally been slightly over 2 cents per pound in car lots at the shipping point and throughout the district under our immediate observation has been delivered to the farmers for not more than 3 cents per pound; thus making the cost per acre for the application less than 30 cents for the sulphur.

Warning: When sulphur is used for dusting cotton for control of the hopper, great care should be exercised to avoid contact of a flame of any kind with the dust cloud produced by the dusting machine, sulphur dust being highly inflammable. Should the dust cloud as it is expelled from the dusting machine become ignited, there is liability of the flame reaching the dusting machine and cause explosion of the dust within the hopper, which might result seriously to the driver of the machine, as well as the animals. Under no circumstances should sulphur dust be applied to cotton with a dusting machine operated by gasoline engine.

"Dan's the man" alright, but whose man? Who are his main supporters on both the platform and financial end. The old political crowd both wet and dry and every big corporation in Texas. Think before you cast your vote.

We were surprised to learn recently that our old friends R. C. Forrester and wife were piloting the Wilson Pointer, and they are certainly producing a newsy sheet. Ticked to exchange, as that journal under former managements did not seem to recognize the Herald.

Some admirers of cats say that they are the most intelligent of animals. They say that there isn't a wasted moment performed by a cat throughout his whole life. As evidence of this they present the statement that even when a cat eats a mouse that he swallows him head first so that he can use the mouse's tail for a toothpick.—Canyon Normal Prairie.

The usual daily headlines read like this: Dan continues attack on Jim; Jim denounces Dan. Rather disgusting if you want our opinion. Those for Lynch Davidson usually read: "Lynch gives plan for farm relief," or some other subject vital to Texas. Shall this "bull" continue one more month after tomorrow? If Lynch Davidson goes into the second primary with either of these birds they are going to have to discuss something else besides one another—if they are capable of anything else.

The killing last Saturday in Fort Worth was the result no doubt of the heat of politics and the incapacity of both in not controlling their tempers. It is a dangerous thing for one man to go to another man's office to settle matters if both are mad, and yet, no public man, paper or individual has the right to say things about other parties or individuals that might cause them to want to take their lives. Tirades and denunciations are not the religion that Christ taught his disciples.

An exchange says: When Andrew W. Mellon became Secretary of the Treasury many good people shivered in their boots for fear that some fine morning we would wake up and find the United States gone—vanished into the spacious pockets of Mr. Mellon. Instead of this, we find taxes reduced, economy in government such as we have not seen for many long years, and the public finances on a sound basis. Perhaps a few examples of this will convince America, not wealth should be made a qualification for office, but it should not be made a disqualification. Texans have a chance Saturday to put a man of the Mellon type at the head of affairs in Texas. Shall we do it, or will we continue on with our beloved politicians?

A pledge is a pledge whether given morally, religiously or politically. In giving one you bind your sacred honor to abide by it. You put your word up and must make it good or you are not as good as your word. A pledge cannot be taken with reservations in a political sense any more than in a religious sense without casting a reflection upon your sacred word of honor. If one cannot be sure that they can support all the nominees in a primary, they should stay out of it. It is better not to vote than to vote and then go back on your pledge. In the olden days when drinkers took the pledge to refrain from liquor, if they broke it, the community considered them a reprobate and said so. So if we go into the primaries, let's stay with the nominees regardless.

It is said that the Santa Fe railroad is holding up our chance for a compress by refusing to build a spur on to the proposed site of the compress

A "Correct" Likeness of Washington

This heroic statue of the commander-in-chief of the first armies of the United States was made for the city of Portland, Oregon, though not yet delivered there by the artist. The western municipality has loaned it to the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, opening in Philadelphia June 1 and continuing until December 1, to celebrate 150 years of American independence. At the foot of the sculpture is shown Pompeo Coppini, the sculptor. Dr. Henry Waldo Poe, of Portland, declares the face to be the most correct likeness of Washington ever modeled.

It is further talked that a certain other large compress company with several compresses on the Santa Fe line are favored by them, and by refusing to build spurs out to the competing companies, are holding up development of this section. No wonder the Santa Fe had such few friends at Plainview last spring when they appeared before the I. C. C. trying to prevent other roads from entering the South Plains. No wonder that a majority of the freight is now hauled on trucks and a majority of passengers go on busses, and the western railroads are asking the I. C. C. for higher freight rates. No corporation that operates in restraint of trade deserves sympathy from anybody.

"Do not vote your prejudices, but go to the polls and vote your judgment as to who would make the best governor for Texas. This makes the issue plain: I shall favor the election Lynch Davidson for governor, because, above all else, he is a man of good business qualifications; if entrusted with the affairs of the State as its governor, I believe that his election would mean the replacing of political chicanery and favoritism with real work for the benefit of all concerned, for the restoration of our governmental affairs to a plane of respectability, and the placing of the institutions of the State, both penal and eleemosynary in condition that would warrant the confidence in our governor, that meritorious services ever demands. We need a change we need it now worse than at any time in years, and to get that change we must elect Lynch Davidson Lynch is the choice of the people who really want a change, he is the choice of the people who oppose corporate influence. If you believe the State needs a strong man now, a real business man who can and will eliminate those features which have startled the world, and are willing to think this over, you can well decide

Run-Down gave out easily

"My health wasn't any account at all," says Mrs. H. L. Cayton, of Washington, N. C. "I would start to do my housework and I would give out before I had done anything at all. I did not have any strength, and if I did the least thing it seemed to tax me so I could not finish. I was run-down sure enough. "Several of my friends had taken Cardui and they said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' I knew I needed something to build up my general health and to increase my strength. "Finally one day when I was recovering from a spell of sickness, I decided to try Cardui. I got a bottle and began to take it. I could notice that I was improving as my appetite got better and I did not give out nearly so quick. I took several bottles and I felt lots better. "Two years ago I decided to take it again. It built me up and made me feel like a different person. It is the grandest medicine for women that I know anything about."

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapius

There is but one interesting topic just now among the crowds that are gathering on our streets and sidewalks, and that is who will be the nominee in the governor's race.

I think it would be a safe bet so far as our town is concerned, that Davidson will lead the other two. The canvas has been a bitter personal fight between Moody and Ferguson, and has certainly demonstrated that neither of them should be nominated. It would be a needed rebuke to all who seek public preferment through slander, invective and falsehood.

In many of the counties of the state men running for county and district places are following the example set by Ferguson and Moody. Lubock county is even worse than the state, and leaves doubt in the minds of outsiders as to the availability of any of those running for some of the offices.

We are glad that our own county has been singularly free from mud slinging.

It appears however that all of us love a scrap, even a dog fight will gather a crowd, and it would be tolerably safe prediction that the two gladiators Dan and Jim will likewise make the run off. It is a pity.

Our people were entertained two nights the past week with an electric belt wonder. As usual many of our citizens found themselves suddenly ill and invested in a belt, and of course will be cured for a season. I have never known a remedy nor an appliance of any kind that did not find buyers and produce cures. However they usually climb the limbo in a few months or a year, and they visit the old doctor for a vermifuge or a dose of pills.

We are passing through a season of fads, fakes and fancies and the word electrical is a magic word, when as a matter of fact very few cures are produced by its use. In fact there has been more harm than good done to the human organism than by patent medicine, even in the hands of the most skillful.

What loose change and chicken and butter money the belt man failed to get the show picked up. The city government should tax these so high that they could not afford to stop. Free tickets generally get them by most towns.

Most of the county candidates have been among us the past week. They all appear just a little bit nervous over the probable result to themselves.

Our city marshal, Bill Jackson, has another girl at his house, and is happy and contented as can be. He will hardly take another shot at himself soon.

Rev. Draper also has an assistant pastor at his house. The young man will undoubtedly divide time with him. The youngster has a splendid voice and will perhaps use it on occasion to the annoyance of his father.

Rudolph Moorhead and Raie Nabors are back from a two weeks stay among kin folks and friends at Stephenville and Desdemonia. Not accustomed to good eats most of the bunch came feeling bad.

Mrs. Caleb Martin of Gorman, Texas is visiting at the Dr. Moorhead home.

Mrs. J. R. Moorhead collided with a mule one day last week and came out second best. She doesn't know whether he kicked her or not but her face indicates something happened.

Luther Herrington's mother and two brothers, and his niece, Miss Little paid him a visit the past week.

Quite a number of the Masons with their wives and friends visited Brownfield, Friday evening and night to attend the lecture and see the pictures of the Masonic Home. They all report an enjoyable and profitable time. The Masons with many other fraternal organizations are doing a valuable work in looking after the orphans and aged members and wives of their organizations.

W. K. Calahan, one of the Youkum county candidates was over Monday on business.

Miss Zada Mae Scott called on the Herald one day last week while over from Wilson visiting her uncle, Dr. H. H. Hughes, and the Herald must acknowledge that it did not know this beautiful young lady, as she was merely a child when we saw her last to know who she was. Truly the young folks grown and soon pass by us unrecognized, unless we see them every few months. We have known her since babyhood.

Mr. and Mrs. McDuffie and her sister, Miss Christine Owens, of Innis, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander, Dock Powell, Misses Christine Harrison, Anna Lois Easley and James McKinney, formed a delightful party that spent the week end at the Carlsbad cave. They came back by Roswell and spent the greater part of Sunday. All report a very enjoyable time.

TECH HAS FACULTY OF 86 MEMBERS

Lubbock, Texas, July 19—Eighty-six instructors, all with high degrees and with many years of experience are included in the list of professors for the second year of the Texas Technological College which will begin September 23, according to Dr. Paul W. Horn, President.

The school opened its initial year last fall with a staff of forty-six professors but when the 1,043 students began crowding the class rooms of the new college, the faculty had to be increased in order to give the students proper attention.

The faculty and board of regents of the Tech are expecting from 1,500 to 1,750 students this year and in selecting the staff of professors to give them instructions, the best teachers available were secured.

Among the faculty, we find 12 with Ph. D. degrees; 46 with master of arts degrees and only 9 with bachelor of arts degrees.

Every student who enrolls in the Tech will have as good a staff of professors as can be found in any college in the Southwest to give him instruction. The July illustrated summer bulletin will be off the press in the next few days, according to Dean J. M. ### CHEVROLET SETS NEW BUILDING RECORD FOR JUNE

The gigantic manufacturing organization of the Chevrolet Motor Company rose to new production in heights during June when it built 7,241 passenger cars and trucks, a greater number of units than the company ever had produced in a single month.

No other manufacturer of modern three-speed transmission automobiles has approached this production which culminates a series of monthly production records established by Chevrolet.

The months of April and May of this year saw Chevrolet reach successive record production totals of 71,157 and 74,017, respectively. The new record established in June exceeds the May total by 2,624 units and draws the production during June of 1925 by a margin of 22,205 units.

The aggregate production for the first half of 1926 was 384,573 cars and trucks. During the first half of 1925, Chevrolet's greatest year, the company produced 249,834 units, a total which was passed in May of this year which is 134,739 units less than the first six months of 1926 production.

The surprising growth of the Chevrolet Motor company is indicated by the fact that the production during the first half of 1926 equals the entire production during the first seven and one-half years in the company's history.

Details of the company's recently announced $10,000,000 expansion program are going forward and completion of this project will give the company a production capacity during 1927 of one million Chevrolets.

CONSTRUCTIVE JOURNALISM

No feature of newspaper work is recognized as more important than the constructive force of journalism in promoting goodwill and co-operation among all classes and all sections of our country. Harmony and prosperity and our financial and industrial welfare depend upon the understanding of one class or section by another.

It is a well established fact of history that newspapers have enormous latent constructive or destructive powers—they can make a war or spoil a peace.

Their influence in either direction is tremendous—possibly greater than many editors are willing to admit.

Newspapers are an institution of democracy, but their power and influence can be no greater than the thought prompting and supporting their editorial policy.—Big Spring Herald.

George Bragg and family, accompanied by his mother, left last week for points in Arizona, where they will visit two of Grandma's daughters.

Herbert Neill, new proprietor of the Rialto Confectionery says all you have to do is drive up and honk the car.

Jim Webb, prominent young farmer of the Lahey community, is one of our new readers.

W. G. McDonald, of Route 1, came in recently to subscribe for the Herald.

Dee Elliott, local barber, left Sunday for Ardmore, Okla., after his wife and little son who have been up there visiting for the past two months.

Luther Moore was in from the farm Monday, and had his paper changed from Gomez to Brownfield. He reports his crop needing rain.

The County Health Committee will meet next Wednesday at 2:30 P. M., at the Methodist church.

SELLING THE BIBLE

In June a number of young men from Abilene Christian College went out to sell Bibles. The same thing happened last year. "Sell Bibles! Why you can't sell Bibles." So said one observer. But the boys returned in September to say that the Bible was the easiest book of all to sell. Some of them carried other books, but the Bible outsold them all, and soon the other books were dropped. When we think of the fast age in which we are living, and the loose morals that are in many places, it is comfort to know that the Bible is the best selling book that an agent can carry. Verily, people are hungering for the Old Book. With a splendid army of fine young men putting the word of God into homes which do not have it, conditions will improve. The teachings of the Lord can remedy the evils of this age more than any other influences.—Christian Education.

This club has been more than welcome to the space in the Herald office, and while we had never mentioned moving to them, with the addition of more machinery in the Herald office, it will not be long until we would have to ask for the space. #### Mankind's Advance in Comfort and Health

Just a hundred years ago Thomas C. Wales, a Yankee boot and shoe merchant of Boston, bought from a wandering sailor a number of crudely made shoes fashioned from "India rubber" by South American natives. The sailor had picked them up in Para, Brazil, as curiosities. All he wanted of them was to obtain a few dollars to purchase the creature comforts that sailors loved, rum being perhaps the chief of these.

Mr. Wales, however, saw in them what Doctor Johnson once called "the potentiality of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice." He conceived the idea of shaping rubber shoes over the standard lasts so that they might be worn over shoes to protect them from the weather. His plan was so successful and the rubber shoes had such a ready sale that a country-wide market, which shortly became world-wide, was developed.

It was not until 1858 that Mr. Wales patented the waterproof and cold-proof overshoe made of cloth and rubber together. He called that invention "Wales' Patent Arctic Gaiter," and from this name arose the familiar appellation of "arctics" for overshoes that is heard even to this day from the lips of the elder generation.

We little appreciate how modern many of the comfortable things of life are. For example, the fathers of men now living knew nothing of window screening, and the plague of flies in the house was something of which we today have little conception. About the same time the new invention of "rubber shoes" appeared, and for the first time in the history of the race it was possible to walk the streets and fields dry shod and to return to the house in which the age-long battle with house flies had at last been won. A new era of comfort and health had opened. And this was less than a hundred years ago.—Minneapolis Journal

Turning to Water Power

All of the countries of Europe, save England, have, because of the high price of coal, been making rapid progress in harnessing their water powers to produce electricity. For the three years ending in 1923, 3,400,000 horsepower of water-power produced electricity was added to the total capacity of the European hydro-electric generating stations.

MRS. WEBBER ENTERTAINS

Mrs. G. S. Webber charmingly entertained a group of her friends last Wednesday afternoon, July 14, with a 42 party. This gracious hostess has transposed a bit of Old Mexico to her home, making a delightful setting for a beautifully appointed party. The house was most artistically decorated with garden flowers in red, yellow and green. Miniature baskets filled with Mexican candies were given as table favors to those ladies who drew blank ace, viz: Mesdames Baldwin, Miller, Casey, Fred Smith, Bishop and Harris. Tallies and score books were hand painted, an art of the royal hostess, with a Mexican Senor and Senorita. Favors were tiny baskets, a handiwork of Mexican art.

Mrs. McDuffie assisted the hostess in serving grape julip punch during the games.

Out of town guests were Miss Christine Owens, Ennis, Texas; Miss Dorothy King, San Marcus, Texas; Mrs. Bishop, Killean, Texas, and Mrs. Walter Royalty, Lubbock. Others were Mesdames McKinney, McDuffie, Fred Smith, McGowan, Wingred, A. M. Brownfield, Cox, Harry Longbrake, Thomas, Baldwin, Brothers, John King, M. Copeland, Dallas, Bowers, Ditto, W. A. Bell, Casey, J. D. Miller, Green, Harris, and H. Alexander.

Refreshments of green ice cream moulded in basket shape, filled with fruits of yellow and red, and individual angel food cakes, topped with yellow icing and bearing the initial "W" of the hostess, were served.

Willie Brownfield came in last week for a visit with his cousin, A.M. Brownfield, and other relatives here. He informed us that they had 21 inches of rain during the months of April and May, but it seemed to quit on them after that, but they have good grass on the ranches.

Texas Public Utility power plants use more natural gas for fuel than those of any other state.

TEXAS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH NEWS LETTER

With the advent of hot weather, mothers are urged by Dr. H. O. Sappington, state health officer, to use every precaution in safeguarding the health of their children, as the long, hot days exact a heavy strain upon the child's resistant powers against disease. Especial attention should be given to the diet, as the delicate digestive organs of a child are not equal to the task of caring for the heavier foods on the menu of adults.

"Milk, fruit and vegetables," he stated, "are especially beneficial to the health of children, as they are easily digested and also contain the vitamins that are so necessary to growth. Children should be fed at regular intervals, and not allowed to eat at any and all times. It is well to give them five meals per day, and milk should be included in the mid-morning and afternoon lunches as well as at the regular meals. The practice of eating candies between meals is bad, as candy on an empty stomach irritates the delicate linings, and destroys the taste for wholesome food at mealtimes."

W. J. Dumas, wife, and their son-in-law, Allen Smith, wife and son, all of Izoro, Lampasas county, were here the past week the guests of Mr. Dumas' brother, Uncle Mose and family. Indeed we understand it turned into a kind of family reunion with the fatted lamb trimmings, and the children coming in to meet their relatives included Brit Clare and family, of Tokio, J. C. Patterson and family, of Seagraves, and Ed Dumas and family, of Plains. The visitors left Saturday morning for Amarillo to visit other relatives.

G. W. Alexander was in from the Lou section Friday. While crops are looking very well in that section, he said they had begun to need a good rain.

E. N. Evans, of Tatum, N. M., was a business visitor in Brownfield Saturday. Mr. Evans informed us that he was erecting one of the best residences in Tatum.

Mr. and Mrs. Endersen and children, accompanied by Hugh M. Pyeatt and Miss Vergie Lewis, left last week for a vacation in Colorado.

Misses Ann, Addie, and Allie Hamilton, and Miss Lela Duke made a trip to Tatum, N. M., Sunday, where Miss Addie Hamilton joined Dub Dickinson and wife for a trip to Casper, Wyoming, for the big round-up and will afterwards continue their tour to Yellowstone park.

Mrs. Edgar Holt and children, of Tatum, N. M., who have been here for some time visiting her mother, Mrs. Kinard and other relatives, left Sunday for home.

Atty. Roscoe Wilson and wife were down from Lubbock Sunday visiting with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Brownfield.

DODGE BROS. FACTORY SALVAGE HELPS PURCHASER

To be able to rescue thousands of tons of iron, steel, lumber, paper and other material, which commonly is referred to as waste or scrap, and reclaim it financially, is one of the problems of all industrial plants today. Such reclamation work is a factor in keeping down costs of the finished product.

In a large corporation such as Dodge Brothers, Inc., this rescue of waste material is no longer a problem.

Under a highly efficient system every discarded piece of metal, lumber and paper, that cannot be utilized in some manner in the corporation's plant again, is collected and segregated in bins and ultimately finds its way back to its point of origin to be used again in the manufacture of new material.

In the salvage of lumber alone the process used by Dodge Brothers, Inc., is one of the marvels of industrial life today, millions of board feet of lumber being reclaimed annually, making a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

According to reports of the corporation there was sold from the plant in 1925 waste material totaling $1,500,000. Scrap iron, steel and non-ferrous metals form the bulk of such sales.

An amount nearly equal to this was saved in reclaiming various kind of material for further use in the plant. Prices of this so called waste material ranged from $6.00 a ton for low grade iron scrap to $1,000 a ton for metal having a tin content.

So highly systematized is the salvage department of Dodge Brothers Inc., that the greater portion of its scrap iron, steel and paper may move direct from the plant to the mills for consumption without further sorting.

Ben Lee favored the Herald last week with renewal for his paper and for two of his friends and kindred who live out of the county. Ben informed us that he would leave this week for Knox county to help his brother-in-law with his crop of grain.

Old timers were surprised last week when Will Snodgrass, of Magdalena, N. M., appeared on the scene. Indeed the nine years that had elapsed since most of us had seen him, made it difficult to recognize him. He was visiting his brother, Bob Snodgrass and family.

American language is pretty queer, though. For instance, you can mean things when you tell a man he looks pretty hard. You can mean that he appears physically fit. You can mean that he looks hard-boiled. You can mean that he habitually gazes intently at whatever he sees. Or, you can mean that he is just a little unkempt and worn looking. We suggest that to stop the steadily increasing flow of immigrants to this country that we force them to study the English language immediately upon landing. Many a word-worn serf would return to his native land to take up Bolshevism.—Canyon Normal Praire.

Quotations must include putting appendix back and cancelling the order if found sound. Successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gallstones, and I want to save the extra cost of cutting."—Selected.

We learn that the County officials have given the Maids and Macons Clubs a nice place for their library in the courthouse, and they will move it from the Herald office to the courthouse when the new courthouse is completed. This club has been more than welcome to the space in the Herald office, and while we had never mentioned moving to them, with the addition of more machinery in the Herald office, it will not be long until we would have to ask for the space. We are glad they have secured a more permanent home.

Mankind's Advance in Comfort and Health

Just a hundred years ago Thomas C. Wales, a Yankee boot and shoe merchant of Boston, bought from a wandering sailor a number of crudely made shoes fashioned from "India rubber" by South American natives. The sailor had picked them up in Para, Brazil, as curiosities. All he wanted of them was to obtain a few dollars to purchase the creature comforts that sailors loved, rum being perhaps the chief of these.

Mr. Wales, however, saw in them what Doctor Johnson once called "the potentiality of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice." He conceived the idea of shaping rubber shoes over the standard lasts so that they might be worn over shoes to protect them from the weather. His plan was so successful and the rubber shoes had such a ready sale that a country-wide market, which shortly became world-wide, was developed.

It was not until 1858 that Mr. Wales patented the waterproof and cold-proof overshoe made of cloth and rubber together. He called that invention "Wales' Patent Arctic Gaiter," and from this name arose the familiar appellation of "arctics" for overshoes that is heard even to this day from the lips of the elder generation.

We little appreciate how modern many of the comfortable things of life are. For example, the fathers of men now living knew nothing of window screening, and the plague of flies in the house was something of which we today have little conception. About the same time the new invention of "rubber shoes" appeared, and for the first time in the history of the race it was possible to walk the streets and fields dry shod and to return to the house in which the age-long battle with house flies had at last been won. A new era of comfort and health had opened. And this was less than a hundred years ago.—Minneapolis Journal

Turning to Water Power

All of the countries of Europe, save England, have, because of the high price of coal, been making rapid progress in harnessing their water powers to produce electricity. For the three years ending in 1923, 3,400,000 horsepower of water-power produced electricity was added to the total capacity of the European hydro-electric generating stations.

Use a McCormick-Deering Cultivator On Your Row Crops This Year!

We can supply one with beam and shovel equipment to suit your soil

Corn (cotton) and other tender, growing row crops demand careful, efficient cultivation. Neglect during the growing period will make itself known in reduced yield when the time comes to gather the crop. Surely it is poor economy to worry along without sufficient equipment or with cultivators that are badly worn when you can secure a new 1 or 2-row McCormick-Deering so easily. Remember that new tools that increase the yields or save labor are sure to be good investments. When you have gone over these McCormick-Deering Cultivators at our store you'll agree that they're winners.
