Chamber of Commerce CURRENTS By the Secretary

HOGS: Yes we are going to undertake to secure orders for at least two cars of gilts for Terry County and our farmers are requested to place their orders with the secretary within the next few weeks. It is a well known fact that there is only one hog for each three families in Texas and that Terry county does not come up to this average. A hog to each member of the family is considered average consumption and as we have an estimated population of 12,000 it is easy to see where we would be able to absorb several thousand head and why we are sending out $100,000 each year for meat and lard and none of this money ever returns to us.

Several fellows have said that they would be more interested in finding a market for our large crop of corn and grain sorghum than any other matter, but if we had two brood sows, four cows and a hundred chickens to each farm we would have a better market at home and save the shipping charges at least one way.

Sometime during September or the early part of October an effort is going to be made to organize a Poultry & Dairy Association and specialists in this line of work are going to be present and assist in making the right start. There is not any reason why we will not be able to secure a better price for eggs and cream than is now the case, but you have to conform to rules and regulations of buyers if this is to be accomplished.

In conversation a few weeks ago with one of the representatives of a large packing house I was informed that by proper organization and conforming to rules that we should be able to sell our eggs at ten or fifteen cents more per dozen above the average price and that our cream should bring at least three cents above the average and this is worth working for. Every one should be prepared to join the organization of these associations. Ample notice will be given through the paper and by circular as to date of meeting.

The next community trip will be made to the Harmony District, and the band will be with us unless it rains. The date is September 9th, Thursday night.

Hunter District will be made on September 16th. Visits will be made to Willow Wells, Scudday. Need more and two others that have not been visited, but the dates will be announced later and may not occur before November. All will be reached before the close of the year.

Several citizens think that we ought to have a County Fair and we are going to investigate the sentiment in general during the present week and if favorable, we will pull off an exhibit on September 25th. Come in and see the secretary and don't wait for him to see you if you think that we ought to put it over. Community and individual prizes will be given in such amounts as will make it interesting.

BIG INCREASE IN HOCKLEY VOTING

LEVELLAND, Aug. 30—The second primary election went off very quietly in Hockley county, and Moody received a nice majority for governor. Bradley received a majority over Witcher for district attorney. J. A. Stroud won his fourth term of office for sheriff and Geo. P. Smith also won his fourth term for county and district clerk.

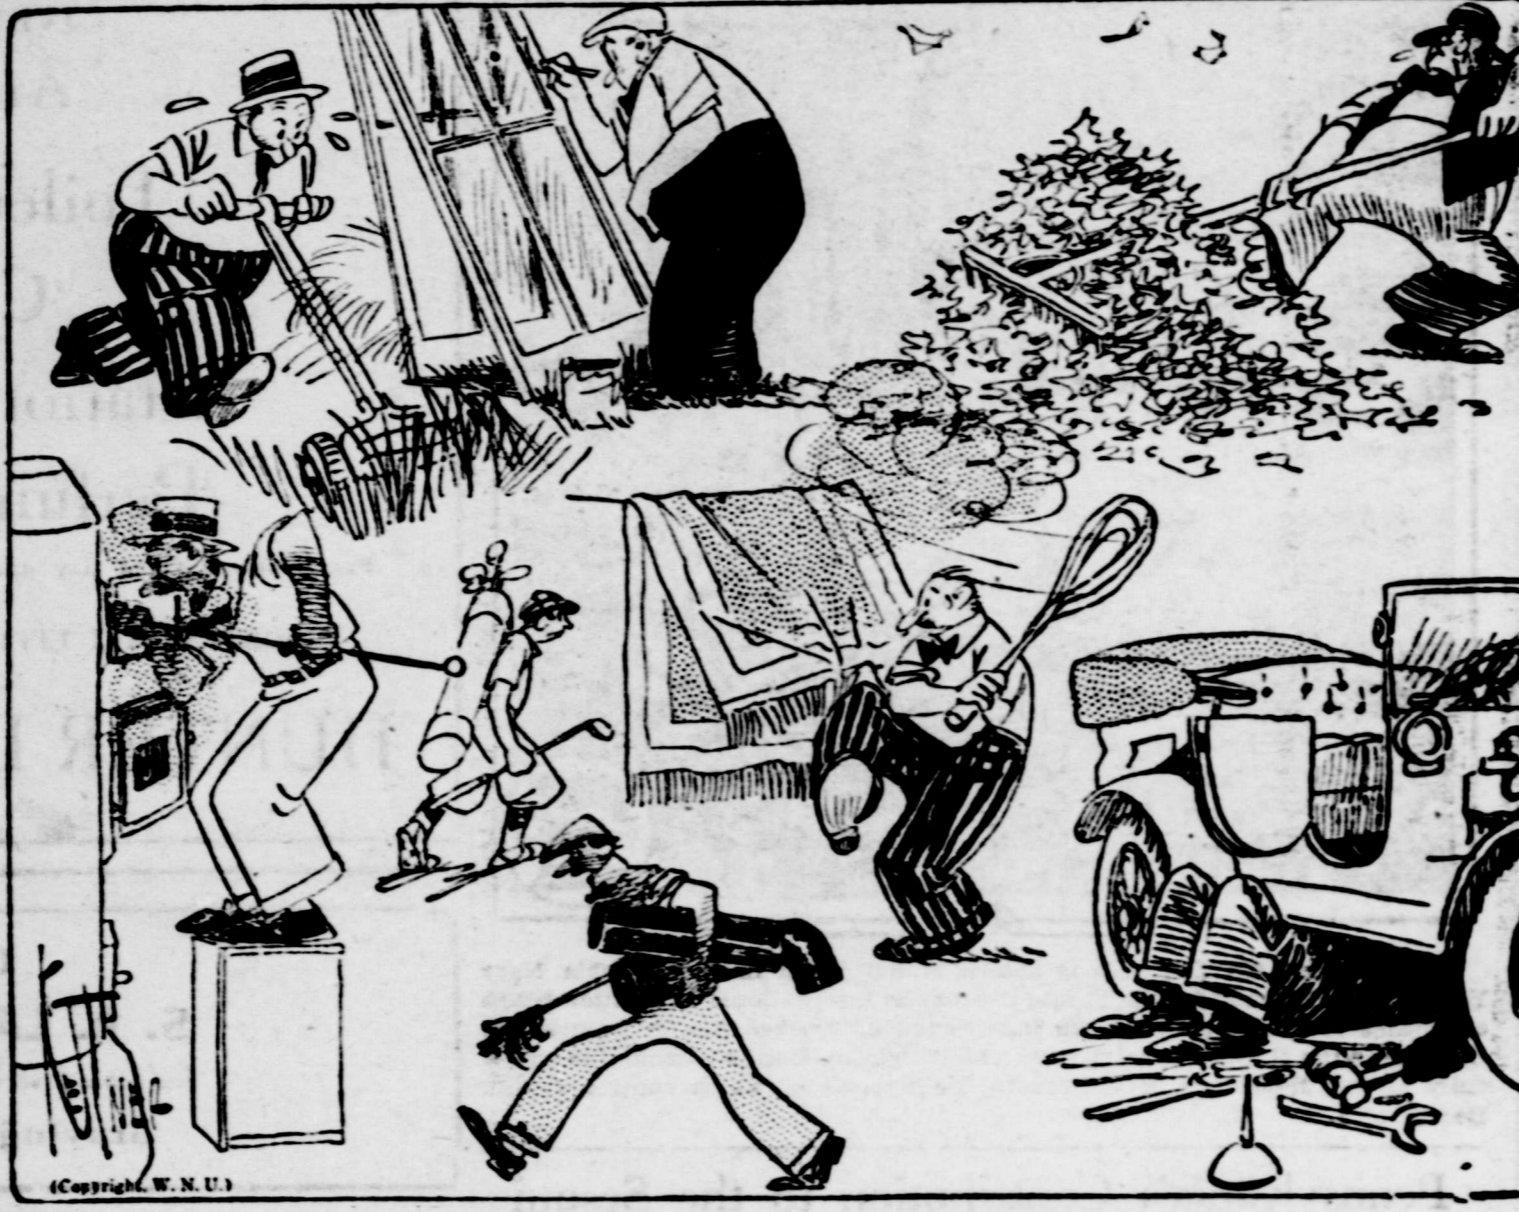

Interest manifested was shown more in the number of votes polled than in any other way, as 51 more votes were polled in the second than were polled in the first primary.

In two years there has been quite an increase in votes in Hockley county. In 1924, 318 votes were polled, while in the recent primary 1118 votes were polled.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET WITH BROWNFIELD CHURCH

The Brownfield Baptist Association meets here with the Brownfield church September 14th. The first day will be given over to the Ladies' work. Rev. H. C. Draper will preach the annual sermon at night. The officers for the ensuing year will also be elected the first night session. It is hoped by the local church that there will be the largest attendance that the association has ever had.

COL. FRENCH MET BROWNFIELD PEOPLE

Hon. C. C. French, representing the Fort Worth Stock Yards company met with a number of our business men and bankers for the purpose of discussing ways and means of stocking this county with brood sows and at the conclusion of his remarks he was assured of the hearty co-operation of the business interests present and the secretary of the chamber of commerce has been directed to secure orders from farmers for at least two cars of gilts to be shipped early in 1927.

Terry county is very short on hogs and citizens are just beginning to realize the scarcity and are determined that it must be remedied before another year.

The United States set a new world's record for 1925, with fire losses which totaled $570,225,921.

Electric motors are today doing as much work as could be done by 170,000,000 men.

MOODY WINS WITH HEAVY MAJORITY

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 30—With reports from 248 counties out of 252 in the state in, and 138 of these complete, the Texas democratic primary runoff showed the following results:

Governor: Ferguson 255,065; Moody 476,735.

Attorney General: Allred 338,304; Pollard 347,251.

Treasurer: Ball 261,431; Hatcher, 391,710.

Breckenridge—Plans discussed for erection of $400,000 new hotel.

Mineral Wells—Signal lights to be installed.

FARMERS GIVING WORMS A LIVELY RECEPTION

Worms and more worms are the talk of the day now, and lots of poison is being received by local druggists every day, and they seem to be keeping up with the demand just now. Strange as it may seem some sections of the county are not bothered with worms, and indeed some fields are clear or almost so immediately adjoining another that is badly infected with worms, but farmers report them easily poisoned and have no uneasiness about them unless poison cannot be had. Of course, it is unfortunate that the county has to put out several thousand dollars for poison just at this time when it is hard to get money, but local banks are doing the very best they can for the farmers.

After the heavy rains of last week the farmers are certainly glad to have sunshine and wind this week, as it is not only to their advantage in fighting worms, but will have a tendency to stop the abnormal growth of the plant and cause the cotton to begin opening. The plant has been fruiting so fast, that opening has been slow, and the recent heavy rains has badly hindered opening.

A heavy feed crop is also on hand and farmers are going to be mighty busy for the next few weeks caring for it, and by the time that job is finished, cotton will be white unto the harvest.

To say the least, the cloud has a mighty pretty lining just now.

DISTRICT COURT OPENED MONDAY MORNING

The first week petit jury was sworn in Monday morning by District Judge Gordon B. McGuire, and early in the afternoon it was dismissed till further in the week.

The rape case from Meadow was continued until the January term of court by agreement of attorneys and order to the court. A few other cases were disposed of one way and another.

The State of Texas against R. S. Collins is set for Monday and is expected to bring a large crowd to the city. We understand that 100 extra veniremen have been summoned in the case.

REV. BALL HAS GOOD MEETING AT PETERSBURG

Rev. C. E. Ball, pastor of the local Baptist church, returned this week from Petersburg, Texas, where he held a very successful meeting for the Baptist people of that city.

There were altogether 33 confessions, 28 baptisms and 41 additions to the church.

He will be here next Sunday and fill his pulpit at both morning and evening services.

Sierra Blanca—Texas & Pacific Railroad repairing local crossing.

TERRY COUNTY GETS PAGE AD IN CATALOGUE

A full page of display advertising in the fair catalog which is sold at a considerable rate to regular advertisers has been given to Terry county free by the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association at Lubbock. The page advertisement was prepared for the catalog by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce and tells of the county.

The advertising will be of immense benefit to Terry County in view of the fact that the catalog has a large circulation outside of this section in addition to the large distribution of the books in every community in the Panhandle South Plains section. The catalogs are sent to all exhibitors of previous years and to a large number of prospective exhibitors over the entire Southwest. All the leading stock raisers in the Southwest will receive a copy of the catalog which carries the page ad.

The advertising will be made much more profitable in view of the fact that Terry county will have an exhibit at the fair. Thousands of people visit the fair to inspect the agricultural exhibits in order to get an index of what the section will produce before looking further. Terry county should have the winning exhibit at the fair this year to supplement the advertising. This county has a good chance to sending the winning exhibit with crops the best they have been in years. J. E. Shelton, Secretary of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce is gathering the exhibit.

The fair will be held this year September 29, 30, October 1 and 2 and the officials are looking forward to the biggest fair in the thirteen year of their continued improvement.

LARGE CROWDS ATTENDING THE REVIVAL MEETING

Evangelist Dunn, of Dallas, arrived as per schedule last Friday and began his series of sermons Friday night under the big city tabernacle, and the interest as well as the crowd have been growing fast at each service.

Elder Dunn is a very interesting talker, and a rare Bible student, and never has to refer to the book for any reference as he seems to have it by heart, and delivers his message in such a way that one cannot become offended at him even if they badly disagree with what he says.

The meeting will go on over Sunday, and if the crowds keep increasing, it will tax the tabernacle to hold them by that time.

A. L. Burnett is leading the song service, and is doing a fine job of it even if he is just a home man.

PUTTING THE McREYNOLDS GIN IN TIP TOP SHAPE

We wish to call your attention to the ad elsewhere in this paper of the Reynolds Gin, which has recently been purchased by Messrs. R. W. Smith and M. S. Williams.

Mr. Williams has been a resident of Terry county several years and needs no introduction to the cotton farmers, but is recognized by them as a good gin man. The senior member of the firm has but recently moved among from Cleburne, Texas, and had about 20 years experience in the gin business in the heart of the cotton growing section of Texas.

These gentlemen have spent much money in repairing and putting this gin in prime shape for the fall run and we bespeak for them your patronage.

POWELL COMMENDS BURNETT'S CAVERN ARTICLE

To the Editor:

I want to hand Bro. A. L. Burnett a bouquet of appreciation through your splendid paper for the most comprehensive and complete write up of the Carlsbad Cavern that I have ever had the pleasure of reading, not excepting the detailed article and photography explanation of the great National Geographic magazine of a few months ago. The detail and technical finish of this article on the cavern is a masterpiece that just a few individuals have the capacity of displaying.

Yours Truly,
Jno. S. Powell

Miss Anna Lois Easley, county health nurse, returned last week from Fort Worth and Dublin, Texas, where she spent her vacation visiting relatives.

A FEW COMMUNITY CANNING PLANTS NEEDED

There is nothing that we are aware of that Terry county needs more than a few community canning plants. There is hardly any kind of food more wholesome or that is purchased more than modern canned foods, and despite that fact, it is well to know that most Plains people have a deficiency of green foods in the winter months for good health. Of course canned goods are not an exact substitute for fresh vegetables, but when carefully prepared, are the nearest approach to it. Vegetables contain a large percent of vitamins and iron, the very thing one needs to counteract any ill effect of too much meats.

It may be that we will have a farm demonstrator next year; we can't tell, who will help the people to get started along this line, but whether we do or don't, the governments both federal and state are issuing booklets on canning that anyone with ordinary intelligence can follow without trouble. In fact, most of the ladies are pretty good at canning even without steam pressure canners, and will have no trouble in learning.

This is a great country for peas and beans, not to mention roasting ears and other vegetables, such as tomatoes and beets that are fine foods for winter, as well as cucumbers, the latter of which, however, is almost nil as a food product, and we don't think a great deal of it. It is also said that spinach does well here, as bugs do not seem to bother it, and it is a very fine vegetable, although one has to generally cultivate a taste for it.

ANOTHER NEW BUILDING UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Contract was let last week for the construction of a concrete and tile building just across the street from the Rialto Theatre by A. M. Brownfield, which we understand will contain a modern filling station, and will be occupied by one of our popular auto agencies.

The building will be 50x100 feet and one story, and will be up-to-date and neat in every detail. Mr. Roy Winger received the building contract, which will be rushed to completion for fall and winter use.

The Hankins building, just east of the Rialto Theatre and adjoining it is going up fast this week, as several brick masons are working on it, and will probably be ready for the roof in the next few days if the weather stays good.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 3

I wish to thank each one for your good support in the second primary, and wish to have continuance of the same in the general election. I will say I have no ill feeling for those that saw fit to cast their vote against me and if elected in the general election will try to make a good commissioner for all alike with no special favors for none.

Your Friend,
J. W. Lasiter.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

I wish to thank my many friends for their loyal support in my recent campaign for county treasurer and although defeated, I truly appreciate your votes and the favors shown me.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Ivy Savage.

TO THE VOTERS AND SUPPORTERS OF PRE. NO. 3

May I express to you my sincere appreciation for the support accorded me in the runoff primary.

Respectfully,
H. D. Leach.

NO PINK BOLL WORM QUARANTINE

Quite a bit of commotion has been caused from the meeting that was to have been held at Seminole this week for the purpose of quarantining Terry county adjoining counties for the pink boll worm situation of New Mexico. But according to reports from Mr. Shelton, secretary of the Texas Cotton Producers Association, C. the meeting has been postponed and no action will be taken until quarantine is present.

Curbing being set and laid on several streets.

TIME TO CULL THE POULTRY

Are you allowing your good laying hens to pay the board bill of a lot of loafers? No matter how good a flock you have there are always some that do not pay for their feed, says E. E. Anderson of the New Mexico A. & M. College. Why let them rob you of the profits your good hens are making?

Now is a good time to cull out all these star boarders. The progressive poultrymen culls out the poor producer whenever one shows up, and about this time of the year he ordinarily goes thru his entire flock.

Remember, however, that to cull intelligently one must feed properly. In a flock that is poorly fed, one is apt to cull out some that would prove good layers, were they fed a good laying ration. Culling will not transform a poorly housed, vermin infested, crowded and improperly fed bunch of birds into a good laying flock. Many a good bird has been sold as a cull when the fault was in the methods of the poultryman rather than the hen herself.

Culling as we do it by the appar-

ance of the bird, is not 100 per cent efficient. It is close enough, however, if intelligently done, to save the board and lodging bill of a lot of profit reducers.

If you have never seen any culling done, get your county agent or a neighbor who understands culling, to show you how.

Pennsylvania's Contribution to the Sesqui

Here is the Keystone State's building at the great Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia, celebrating 150 years of American Independence. The building is one of the handsomest on the big exposition grounds and has proved a rendezvous for hundreds of thousands of people who have come from near and far to see the magnificent exhibits established by forty-three of the leading nations of the world. The Exposition continues until December 1.

Tribute to Franklin

For 68 years Benjamin Franklin served his country and mankind, and history affirms the judgment of his contemporaries, expressed most notably in the tribute adopted by the national assembly of France upon announcement of his death. Offering the resolution, which was seconded by Rochefoucauld and Lafayette, Mirabeau declared:

"The sage whom two worlds claim as their own, the man for whom the history of science and the history of empires contend with each other, held without doubt exalted rank in the human race. Antiquity would have raised altars to this mighty genius, who, to the advantage of mankind, compassing in his mind the heavens and the earth, was able to restrain alike thunderbolts and tyrants. Europe, enlightened and free, owes at least a token of remembrance to one of the greatest men who have ever been engaged in the service of philosophy and of liberty."

TEXAS U. TO HELP DEVELOP MINERALS

Austin, Texas, Aug. 30—Confidence in the future developments of Texas mineral resources was expressed by Dr. E. H. Sellards, associate director of the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas, on his return from three months spent in studying methods of mineral production in Europe. Dr. Sellards visited mines of copper, lead, zinc, salt, lignite, oil, and potash in Germany, France and other European countries. Dr. Sellards' study was made with the view of aiding in the exploration of potash deposits in West Texas on land belonging to the University.

With regard to the potash deposits, Dr. Sellards stated that conditions of occurrence in the extensive fields in Germany are in many respects similar to the occurrence of potash in Texas. In both regions the potash is associated with extensive salt deposits.

Development of Texas mineral resources, Dr. Sellards believes, should continue along the lines of additional studies of the minerals and geology of the deposits, distribution of information through publications, and through the economic development of these resources.

Mr. Jake Shipman and family of Duncan, Oklahoma, were the first of the week visiting the E. B. Foster and J. M. Williamson families.

Dr. H. H. Hughes and family are now taking their vacation in the mountains of New Mexico.

A Left-Handed Monkey Wrench

The American Bar Association, at its recent Denver session, condemned what it terms paternalism in the federal government, declaring that "the American citizen" of today is bartering his individual liberties and rights, for government bounties and bonuses." Commenting on this resolution, the Kansas City Times says: "Nobody benefits from this except these go-betweens, who seem to be in a terrible flutter of business, negotiating between the government and the expectant beneficiaries. But this business is all their own, and consists chiefly in creating new offices and filling them. The people who expected to get something, get nothing but the opportunity to pay the cost of all this pretense."

Are we as a people as blind to political jokes as the boy sent out to get a "left-handed monkey wrench"? We are just as apt to find a panacea for state and national problems in political promises and government paternalism, as the boy is to find the wrench.

The Goat

A schoolboy's essay: "A goat is about as big as a sheep if the sheep is big enough. A female goat is called a buttress, a little goat is called a goatie. Goats are very useful for eating up things. A goat will eat up more things than any animal that ain't a goat. My father had a goat once. My father is an awful good man. Everything he says is so, even if it ain't so. That is all I know about the goats."

Trouble-Saving Tool

A recently invented screw driver is made so that it holds any screw by its slot. It starts screws easily in difficult places. By applying pressure on the top, two steel clips are released from the tool. When the screw driver is placed in the slot of the screw and pressure released, these clips spread apart, securing themselves tightly in the slot.

OFFICIAL FOOTBALL SCHEDULE OF TECH

LUBBOCK, August 31.—With a dozen letter men from the 1925 team returning and prospects excellent for a great machine this season, the Texas Tech Matadors will gather here September 10 for training camp, when they will start a grueling series of workouts both morning and afternoon each day in preparation for the hard schedule they face this year.

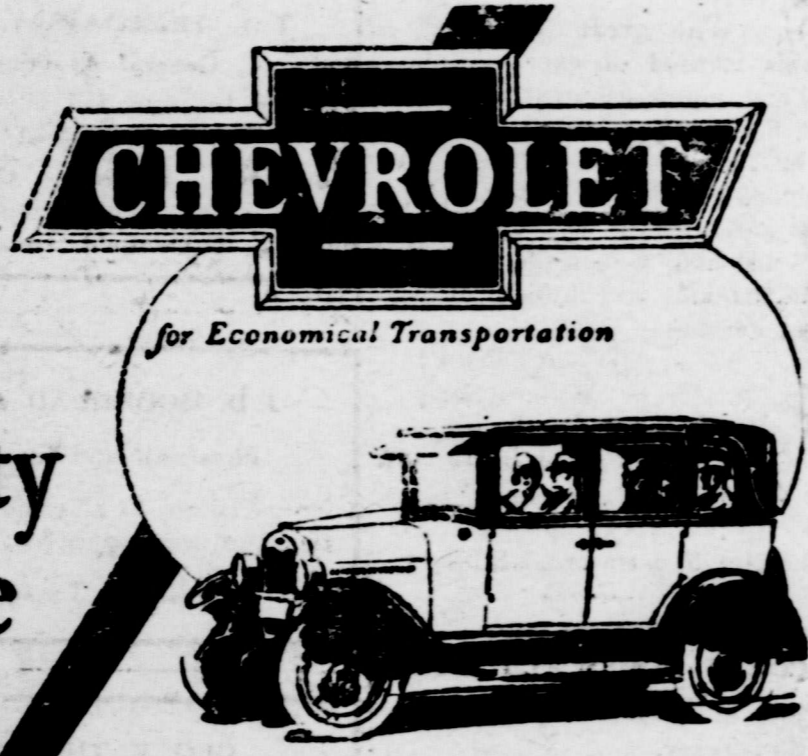

Thirty seven men of last year's squad have been sent invitations, and none will be sent others, but all high school graduates and Junior college men may enter the camp, and are asked to do so.

The Matadors will don the Scarlet and Black under the most favorable conditions that a new school could possibly be expected to face at the beginning of the second year, and with the heaviest schedule ever attempted by so young a club, in the opinion of Tech fans. There are appearing on her schedule four teams of the T. I. A. A., two of the Texas, and one of the Southwest Conference. Of these seven principal tilts only three are in the bullfighters own back lot; though five starts out of men may enter the camp, and are asked to do so.

The Sudan News came to our exchange table this week in a new dress, having changed from a five to the standard six column paper. Editor Weimhold has recently added one of the new model $5,000 linotypes, new news press, paper cutters, etc., and now has one of the best equipped offices on the South Plains. The South Plains newspapers are the best equipped and will average the best edited in any section of the State, and the News is one among the best.

The farmers of Terry county have produced a good corn crop, much more than will take to run this county, and perhaps hundreds of cars will be shipped east and south. These sections of the South Plains that shipped corn last year often lost on it for the reason that the buyers on the other end of the line, if they found a few nubbins, would turn down the consignment, and rob the shipper out of the whole car. But those who took the precaution to have their corn shelled realized on their shipments. Therefore, it behooves the corn raisers of Terry county to make arrangements to fortify against anything like the above this year, by arranging to have their corn shelled.

Once in awhile we may have some cause to criticize our city administration, but because they keep the city clear of circuses is not one of them. In fact, they are to be highly commended by the citizenship for this one thing. The circus comes to town and carries away thousands of hard earned dollars, and all they leave in its stead is nothing but a bad taste in the mouth and a foolish feeling. Generally speaking, the second and third rate circuses that make towns the size of Brownfield are made up of the scum of the earth, and what they don't make off the public in worthless side shows, they get by short changing. The Herald is with the city council on this question.

That Fergusonism was snowed under Saturday, the results of the count leave no room for doubt, and the only way Jim has of explaining away that fact is to say the ku klux elected Moody. There is no denying the fact that they did, nor for that matter "monkey faced Baptists," but who can blame them. Jim could not be fool enough to believe they would vote for him after what he said about them. But literally tens of thousands of other people who are neither klansmen or Baptists also voted for Moody. We are hoping every faction of the Democratic party will now get solidly behind the administration of Mr. Moody in an effort to make his administration one of the best and most harmonious we have had in a decade.

CHEVROLET HAS ENTIRELY NEW BODY LINE

Development of distinct types of commercial car bodies, designed and manufactured in their entirety by the Chevrolet organization now affords the public a complete line of Chevroletbuilt passenger and commercial vehicles for the first time in the company's history.

Complete trucks are available for immediate delivery to the purchaser. They are the one ton panel delivery—one ton stake and the one ton grain carrying body.

The chassis can be furnished also with cab only, suitable for mounting any special truck body desired by the owner.

Substantially the same cab is used on all bodies. The cab is entirely enclosed and weather-proof and affords the same comfort in the driver's compartment as a Chevrolet passenger car. The doors are 24 inches wide with high grade locks. Plate glass side windows are furnished with Ternstedt regulators as in the standard closed car. A full ventilating windshield, glass rear windows, caulining and cushion covering of fabricoid leather, combination stop and tail light and conveniently placed instrument panel are features. Seats are arranged for easy handling of controls and steering wheel.

The cab is Biscay green, duce striped in gold and cowl lights are standard equipment.

Each of these body types has been designed for the utmost utility, convenience and adaptability to the work for which it is designed.

With these modern advantages a an attractive price, these new truck are expected to attain a prominent place in the favor of the commercial car buying public.

Lee Thompson has the contract and began this week working over the residence of E. G. Alexander, which when completed, will make this already neat residence one of the most modern and beautiful in the city. The reconstruction will include working out a new front gable, concrete driveways and garage, and the whole thing stuccoed a snow white color.

J. E. Hendrix, of Merkel, who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. P. H. Tarbet, of Lamesa, was here this week looking over our town and county, in company with his son-in-law and daughter, and grandson. Price While here Mr. Hendrix called on the Herald for a few moments.

Mrs. C. T. Moones and son, C. T. Jr. of Ballinger, Texas, are here this week visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Morgan.

Famous Bank's Nickname

The origin of "The Old Lady of Threadneedle street," the nickname of the Bank of England, never has been definitely established, according to the Kansas City Star, but the London Economist traces the appellation back as far as May 22, 1797, when William Pitt induced parliament to suspend cash payments at the bank. This moved Gilray to draw his famous cartoon, which shows an old lady, seated on a chest labeled "Bank of England," being savagely attacked by Pitt.

But, it is argued, Gilray may have made use of an old idea. As early as 1695, a medallion appeared, and still appears, on the bank's notes. It consists of a seated, draped figure, with the head uncovered, holding a sprig in one hand and a spear in the other, and throughout more than two hundred years it has remained substantially the same.

Old Language Revised

Creditable and hopeful though it may be for a revival of Hebrew culture, the establishment of a Hebrew university in Jerusalem does not begin to compare in importance with the fact that little children are again talking, playing their games and calling each other names in that language of the prophets, which had once been classed as one of the world's dead tongues. Zangwill said that the index of life is speech. This is true. A people that speaks is not dead. And in order that world Jewry might share in this renaissance, which Sophie Irene Loeb called "the greatest experiment of the century," there must be somewhere in this world a place where the Jew will have at least cultural preference. And that place is Palestine.—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Blotting Paper

Blotting paper is now being made from wood pulp. Heretofore it was made only from rags, as it was believed that rags would not prove sufficiently absorbent. A large proportion of the pulp used in the manufacture of blotting paper is from wood that has not been considered of much value.—Family Herald.

Crow's Court Is Real

Whenever a circle of black crows are seen in a field, crowing and chattering with great excitement, it may be reasonably assumed that they are holding court and "trying" a delinquent member of the flock. If in the end the accused crow is acquitted they all fly away, but if the consensus is against him, he will be pecked to death.

Where Elephants Died

Explorers of the Sumatra islands have come upon a great heap of elephant bones, and they believe it is the spot where the animals went to die. Elephants are said to go to a lonely spot when they feel death approaching.

Pains disappeared

"SEVERAL years ago I was badly run-down," says Mrs. John Bunch, R. F. D. 3, Columbia, S. C. "I could not do any of my work. I was so weak I could not wash a dish. My back and sides hurt me at times dreadfully. I dragged around until I finally got down in bed." Then, explains Mrs. Bunch, she happened to read about Cardui, the women's tonic, and decided to give it a thorough trial, the results of which she describes below: "It seemed to reach the cause of my trouble at once. I did not take it long before my appetite began to improve. I gained in weight from 114 pounds until now I weigh 125 pounds. I soon was able to be up around the house. I took up my household duties and was delighted with my returning strength. "I now do all my own work. The pains in my sides and back have disappeared and I feel like a different person." Cardui has been helping suffering women for nearly 50 years. Sold by all druggists.

Lewis Bros. & Co., purchased the bale, paying 20c per pound for it, and a premium of $67.50 was made up among the business men, printed elsewhere, and donated to Mr. Hill.

FINDING PLACE TO PARK IS DAY'S BIGGEST JOB

One of the comedians and humorists now in popular favor has been discussing the problem of parking automobiles. Here is a part of one of his lines that always gets a laugh. It is about something within the general experience:

"Have you your car parked where there is no restrictions as to the time it can stay there? If so, don't move it, leave it there. You may never find another place. If you feel that you have to use your car, why, buy another one. Don't move this one out of its parking place. There are thousands just waiting to get in."

"Policemen are doing nothing but marking cars. A policeman used to carry a stick or billy, now he carries a piece of chalk."

"There are more people looking for parking places, than there are for jobs. You live out, say fifteen blocks, from the main part of town. You drive down in the morning. After driving around looking for a place to park for a couple of hours, you finally find one, and walk by your own house on the way to town."

"Modern ads are reading nowadays: 'Car for sale or trade, been parked three times. Will trade and give difference for 'Once parked car.' 'Have brand new car, will trade for any car already parked.'"

Mrs. A. B. Bynum, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Hays, and children, of Carlsbad, N. M., were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Stark, Tuesday and Wednesday.

NOTICE! To Cotton Farmers

We wish to announce to the public that R. W. Smith of Cleburne, and M. S. Williams of Brownfield, have purchased the Reynolds Gin, which has been thoroughly overhauled and $2000 worth of new machinery added including a Hancock Picker. In as much as M. S. Williams is already well known here, we make no mention of him but give the following recommendations from Cleburne Citizens of the senior member who has recently come among us from that city:

Cleburne, Texas
August 28, 1926

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

For twenty years R. W. Smith lived and worked among us as a fellow citizen, and we take pleasure in commending him to those with whom he chooses to cast his lot in the future. Fourteen of these years he was a ginman here, and we found him to be courteous, honest, and efficient in his work; it always was a privilege to do business with him.
R. W.'s word is his bond, and whatever he promises we believe he will do for we have found him worth. We give this letter in token of our esteem, for we know R. W. Smith is a gentleman with whom it is a privilege to be acquainted.

THE STORMING OF THE GATES

This picture is typical of many such scenes enacted daily at the main gates of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia where the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence is being celebrated. The "shot" was made from outside the gates and shows the long sweep of historic Broad street, the main artery of the exposition. To the left can be seen one of the capitol of the Palace of Liberal Arts and Manufactures which covers nearly eight acres of grounds and which houses some of the finest exhibits ever seen. The Exposition will continue until December 1.

TEXAS FAST AWAKENING EDUCATIONALLY

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 30.—Proof that Texans are awaking to the great loss to the state resulting from the fact that no effort is being made on the part of the state to preserve relics of earlier civilizations of this region is had in a letter which has been received by J. E. Pearce, professor of anthropology in the University of Texas from Dr. A. J. Caldwell of the executive committee of the American Legion at Amarillo. Concerning the proposed erection of a state museum structure for this purpose, Dr. Caldwell says:

"The writer is in favor of anything that is calculated to remove the citizenship of Texas from its position of thirty-ninth in the scale of states as to educational attainment. The citizens of Texas who think constructively and analytically regard this deplorable state of things and will welcome every movement calculated to remove this strain from the escutcheon of its citizenship. Any proposition which is calculated to assist on coming generations in their painful transition from darkness to light has the permission of the writer to pass."

BROWNFIELD PEOPLE ARE GUESTS OF LOVINGTON

On Wednesday of this week the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce with their band were the guests of Lovington from 10 a. m. till 2 p. m. They were making a "good-will" trip through this section of New Mexico, having been three days on their journey.

They left Brownfield about eighty strong Monday morning and went by way of Tatum to Roswell and then to Artesia and Carlsbad the first day. Tuesday was spent in taking in the sights at Carlsbad and in a visit to the Cavern. To say that they were most wonderfully impressed with the visit to this wonderful attraction would be putting it rather mildly.

They left Carlsbad Wednesday morning and arrived in Lovington about ten o'clock. They were met by representatives of the Lovington Chamber of Commerce and were first taken to the irrigation plant of H. T. Lancaster west of town where they were given an opportunity of seeing a pumping plant in operation. What they saw here was a revelation to many of them. They had heard of the Shallow Water Belt of the Lovington country, but few of them realized its immensity. Here they saw the pure clear water pumped from the well and flowing out upon the ground at the rate of 400 gallons a minute. They also saw the effects of the water upon the growing crops of Mr. Lancaster. Here they saw corn as fine as any that grows on Missouri river bottom lands. None of the visitors estimated the yield at less than 75 bushel to the acre. They were also astonished to learn of the extent of this Shallow Water Belt, extending as it does 25 miles to the north of us and an equal distance to the south; extending to the Texas state line, 20 miles to the east of us and from ten to fifteen miles to the west, covering an area of more than 1,500 square miles, or about one million acres, with Lovington in nearly the geographical center of this great country.

Upon their return to town they found the ladies of Lovington assembled upon the court house lawn where a lunch was being spread for the hungry visitors. After a few selections by the Brownfield band, the visitors were invited to assemble around the well laden tables where they were served with sandwiches, pie and coffee. They, as well as the local people, did full justice to the good things to eat.

After lunch a band concert was given, and it was fully appreciated by our people. The Brownfield band has some excellent musicians among its members and their playing shows that they have had training from a master musician—and indeed, any one who has ever seen their bandmaster, J. S. Powell (Pappa) in action will understand that this is true.

An address of welcome was given by Luke Roberts, president of the Lovington Chamber of Commerce, which was responded to by Mr. Thomas and by Mr. Shelton, Secretary of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce. The speakers all spoke for a more closely united action and feeling between the two towns. It was generally agreed that the greatest need that exists at the present time is a direct highway connecting Brownfield and Lovington so that tourists may pass directly through the two places to the Carlsbad Cavern. Mr. Shelton predicted that when this road is built it will be one of the most traveled highways in the United States.

The visitors departed with a much warmer feeling for the Lovington people. They said that while they had seen many wonderful things at Carlsbad, they would remember Lovington longer and think of it and its hospitable people oftener than any other place at which they stopped while on this trip.—Lovington Leader.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MISSES HEAD AND LYNN

Mr. James Harley Dallas entertained a large number of his friends with a farewell party, Friday evening, August 27, for Miss Loula Head and Miss Delores Lynn.

After enjoying an evening of outdoor sports on the spacious lawn at a late hour delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Head, who has the distinction of having won the highest rank amongst the senior class of 1926 left Sunday for Abilene where she will enter Draughon's Business College.

Miss Lynn will spend the winter in Lubbock, where she will attend High School.

Joe Bailey and wife were over Sunday from Roswell, and while here informed us that they were moving back to Brownfield next Sunday. He will be employed by the Tudor Sales Co. Joe is a fine fellow, and the Herald is pleased that he and wife are going to call this home again.

Bargain Finally Struck

The Scotsman, legend and story remind us, is rarely an impulsive fellow. Therefore, this story, though gospel, is not calculated to surprise. A certain well-known Scot, an intellectual, saw, in a bookshop, Amy Lowell's two-volume life of "John Keats." He coveted it on the spot, but went away, the battle against extravagance and indulgence strong within his breast. Day after day he returned to turn the leaves and to torment his soul. In the expansive season, late one night near Christmas, he met the bookseller, hailed him home, and poured a sample of very fine sherry for his midnight guest, saying no word of "Keats." Next morning early to the bookshop came the intellectual Scot. Three bottles of sherry for the precious volumes? It was his capitulation to the delights of the mind; he had held out for days. The bargain was eventually struck, although considerably more sherry was involved in the transaction.

Origin of Flowers' Names

The purple fox-glove, which blooms in its greatest profusion on Irish hill-sides, is so called because it is believed that the fairies use these blooms for gloves during some of their ceremonies. The rosemary, an evergreen shrub of the mint family, is a native of the Mediterranean region, and takes its name from the Latin word, rosamarinus, which means sea-dew. This is accounted for by the fact that when this shrub is seen in massed form it looks like blue-gray mist blown over the fields from the sea. The iris comes to us from the Greek word meaning rainbow. The primrose is derived from the Latin words, prima rosa, the first rose of spring.

American Writer Who Turned to Buddhism

It is common for people of other lands to come to America and become citizens of the United States, but we seldom think of Americans taking out naturalization papers and so becoming citizens of some other country. Yet one famous American writer did just that.

This writer was Lafcadio Hearn, who was really an American, although he was born on a Grecian island of an Irish father and a Grecian mother. At the age of sixteen he ran away from London, and then came to this country, where he worked on a number of newspapers. Later he was sent to Japan to write articles for a magazine. He became so fond of that country that he spent the rest of his life there, adopted the Buddhist religion, became a Japanese citizen, dressed in the costume of the country and married a Japanese wife.

Hearn thus became almost completely an oriental, and better than any other occidental he has told us about the people of the Far East. Having himself become one of them, he was able to understand them more fully than any other westerner.

Travelers Will Miss Old Dutch Windmill

The picturesque Dutch windmills are fast passing from the landscape of the land of dikes. The Dutch millers are modernizing their mills and turning to electricity. They are right, of course; but along with the great blades and stubby towers that will vanish much that is quaint and ancestral in tradition as well as in architecture, for the miller has had his mill, through many generations show and express his joys and sorrows.

Always the Dutch miller has given his mill a name and called it by that name never just the "mill." When a daughter of the household married, the mill was gayly adorned; when a member of the family died, the mill was put into mourning, and the degree of the mourning was governed by fixed rules of windmill etiquette. If the owner died, all the 20 boards in the arms of the mill were taken out, and the mill stood motionless for a given time, as if in grief over the loss of its owner. When the church bells tolled, marking the procession of the funeral from church or home to the cemetery, the boardless blades were turned in unison with the bells. When the wife of the miller died, 10 boards of the blades were removed; for a child of the family, 15 boards; for the miller's parents, 11 boards, and so on down the line of relationship to the children of cousins, for whom one board was removed.—Youth's Companion.

By a Chinese Numerist

A master was teaching one of his pupils arithmetic. He asked him: "What is 1 plus 1?" The scholar replied, "I don't understand." The teacher said, "You certainly are a blockhead. Let me ask you again. You are one person. Together with me how many people does that make? Do you understand now?" "Oh, yes," he replied. "How many is it?" asked the teacher. "Two blockheads," replied the pupil.—Peking New Mandarin.

A Guide Needed

"What do you do when winter breaks up?" asked a man for whom Toofus had been guiding. "I may go to Niagara falls," responded Toofus, "and be a guide." "But what is there to guide about at Niagara falls? Everything is in plain sight." "A guide goes around with honey moons," said Toofus, "and keeps them from walking into those falls."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THIRTY DEGREES BELOW

Now comes one Doak Rainey, assistant state highway engineer, an employee of the state and doubtless an appointee of the Ferguson administration, to malign the Panhandle country.

In an article appearing in the American Highways Magazine a journal of national circulation, and which was reprinted in the Texas Highway Bulletin, Mr. Rainey makes statements about Panhandle weather conditions which he must know are vicious falsehoods. Else, he is too misinformed to be an assistant state official.

"The climate of Texas is almost as diverse as that of Maine and California. The southern portion of the state is almost tropical. It never freezes and very high temperatures are common in the summer," says Mr. Rainey.

"The eastern portion of the state has upwards of 30 inches of rainfall, whereas in some parts of the western portion of the state it practically never rains."

Now for the Panhandle: "In the Panhandle section the summers are very long and exceedingly hot; temperatures of 114 in the shade are not uncommon."

Let's see about that. The highest temperature in Amarillo in 20 years was 106 in 1924. The mercury does not reach 100 degrees once a year. The average for July, past, was 73. On yesterday morning it was 62, at one time had risen to 82. And yet the "summers are long and exceedingly hot."

Continues Mr. Rainey, a state official: "The winters, although short, low as 30 degrees below zero occur almost every winter. It is not uncommon to have a temperature of 60 to 70 degrees one day and below zero on the next."

Nothing but a wilful intent to mis represent the Panhandle could have prompted such statements, if Rainey so much as glanced at the records.

The temperature has never been 30 degrees below zero. The coldest weather here in 20 years was 11 below zero. That was 10 years ago. Amarillo does not have zero weather once a year.

Many "smart alecks" and those too ignorant to know the facts, or who purposely do not want to admit the truth about Panhandle weather, have for years found the subject highly amusing. They've had a lot of fun about the Panhandle's climate. The majority of their statements are not worthy of an answer.

But, for a state official to write an article for a national magazine, containing the statements as made by Mr. Rainey, is carrying it too far. The News does not intend for his statements to go unchallenged. I hope every chamber of commerce in West Texas will let the gentleman know how flagrantly unfair he is.—Amarillo News-Globe.

To save him from bankruptcy advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair send him every item of news of which you can get hold. An Englishman, who was far off his course and confused about his next directions, asked an Irishman, cutting pear in the weeds of Coanemara, how to get to Letterfrack. ### Why Flag Is Flown Aftern

The origin of the custom of placing a United States flag at the stern of a ship is obscure. Several theories have been advanced, one of the most substantial being that, in the case of old sailing vessels, the flag was flown over the captain's quarters, which are aft on board ships.

COMPETITION IN WORDS

One who goes into the market to buy a motor car today is naturally confused.

He has read the words best and greatest so often that they have ceased to be convincing. Where all is best, he reflects, there can be no best.

Thousand-dollar cars have been described to him in ten-thousand dollar language. And vice versa.

He finds himself the target in a war of adjectives; the helpless victim in a gigantic competition of words.

And so he is forced to rely on chance—the advice of friends—or his own limited experience.

Dodge Brothers, Inc., have never participated in this verbal competition.

They are content with the position they have long maintained in the far more vital competition of honest value.

They have continued steadily to improve their product, not only in comfort and beauty, but basically—beneath the body and hood where fundamental values lie.

Yet they have not unduly stressed each betterment that has marked the steady progress of their motor car toward a higher perfection.

And when economic conditions or greater sales have permitted them to reduce prices without reducing quality, they have announced the fact without excessive emphasis.

Unexaggerated truth is not spectacular. But in the long run, implicit public confidence has been Dodge Brothers reward, and this they propose to preserve forever by continuing to build just a little better than they tell.

ON HOUSEHOLD BUDGETS

"Aunt Emmy," asked Helen, "won't you explain what is meant by a household budget? You said something the other day about budgets, but I don't seem clear in my mind about it."

"A budget is simply a plan," said Aunt Emmy. "You plan what you are going to do with your income. You divide your income systematically so that you can meet your needs. You lay aside a part of your income for rent, other parts for food, clothing, heat, light, telephone, recreation, savings and so on."

"How are you going to know how much you should spend for each thing—on rent for instance, Aunty?" asked Helen.

"Experts have studied the question carefully and have worked out budgets to suit every income. Of course, you can alter these typical budgets slightly to suit your particular needs. For example, the average budget that covers incomes of from $2,000 to $10,000 a year divides your income into six parts. Ten per cent for savings, twenty per cent for rent, twenty per cent for food, twenty per cent for what is called betterment and includes education, amusement, entertainment, books, music, sports; fifteen per cent for clothes and fifteen per cent for operating expenses.

"No matter how you change the other items you must not change the savings allowance—except to increase it. A great majority of men who reach sixty are dependent on relatives or charity. If they had saved only ten cents out of every dollar, they would not have been in that plight. There is nothing like money in the savings bank to help you through the emergencies that come in everybody's life. If everybody kept one year's income in the savings bank, much misery would be averted. If you always have enough money to see you through one year, you are pretty safe. Beyond that, it is wise to let your money accumulate until you have enough to buy some good securities. Your banker will advise you about the securities that suit your needs."

"But, Aunt Emmy, suppose you wanted to alter your budget?" inquired Helen. "How would you know how to do it? A young married couple might start on a certain budget and then, when they had children to feed and educate, they might want to change it."

"Well, my dear, if they were in doubt about their financial affairs, they could always consult their banker. That is why it is so good to establish friendly relations with a bank when you start out in life. Any banker will be glad to advise young people about making their money go farther."

The local theatre has joined in Paramount Week, and all next week will run some of the best Paramount productions of the year.

C. W. Tankersley handed the $20 advance on our subscription books. He remarked that he could without the Herald alright, but his better half just would not. However, he somewhat qualified this statement by saying we put out the best country paper he ever read.

Editor Robt. Forrester and wife, of the Wilson Pointer, were in our city one day last week and failed to call on the Herald. Editor Forrester is new at the game, or he would have known that he violated a very strict rule of printerdom by not paying a fraternal call.

J. W. and P. G. Stanford, prominent citizens of Plains, were in our city Monday afternoon.

John Howard and family are up from Haskell county visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Howard of the Nedmore community.

SEWER SYSTEM TO SOON BE COMPLETED

Work on the installation of Littlefield's sewer system is steadily progressing, according to Engineer A. B. Carson, in charge of the work.

Mr. Carson states that the disposal plant, located northeast of town, is now practically completed. All the mains have been laid, and practically all the laterals east of Main street are now in and ready for service. All ditching will be completed within the next three weeks and the crew will start cleaning up.

Mr. Carson states that material is now arriving as fast as is needed, and the work is progressing as rapidly as could be desired. It is hoped to finish the contract and turn the system over to the city for acceptance by October 1st.

It is stated that all ditch lines and street crossings will be leveled just as soon as the major portion of the ditching has been completed. A few good rains would be of considerable value in assisting the moving of dirt to its proper place in releveling.—Littlefield Leader.

Editor R. B. Haynes and family passed through Tuesday on their way home at Seagraves after a visit with relatives on the north Plains. They were sporting a new Oldsmobile car.

Sheriff J. C. Keller, of Yoakum county, was here Tuesday.

Frank Cox and family of Estelline, Hall county, spent several days this week with Mrs. Cox's brother, J. T. Anburg and family. Mr. Cox owns two splendid farms in that county, but talked like he would sell down there and invest in Terry county real-estate. ### MEADOW BRIEFS

Ascendancy.

The Second Primary has passed into history. It has left many jubilant and happy while others are smarting under the sting of defeat. Many of our people have felt it almost a personal matter, and a large number will for the time harbor ill feeling for his neighbor who did nothing more than his duty as a citizen in voting for the individual he deemed most fit for the office, or who has impressed him in one way or another as nearer to his way of thinking on religion, the clan and past promises unfulfilled by the present incumbent of the Governor's chair.

Jim, Ma, Dan and the Klan, would that we could have set them all aside for all the time and in their places have elected a man free from the taint of double dealing, free from the support of the sordid corporations who have helped by all kinds of miserable propaganda and camouflage to saddle us with a man that had nothing to recommend him but a Marcel Wave, opposition to Ferguson, and a few successful suits that have and will cost us in taxes many times more than the sums recovered.

He is nominated and I with most of those who opposed him bitterly, will support him in the general election. A thing that most of his backers failed to do two years ago, and would not do now if Mrs. Ferguson had been nominated.

Much has been said about Ma not keeping her word and resigning as she said she would. Jim should not have compromised his wife's pledged word by keeping her in the race. However she is quite as good as most of those who seek to malign her on this account. Judas and Annias were quite as good and truthful as many of the editors and backers of Mr. Moody. The writer is acquainted with some of them, and in contemplating them he is disposed to say without undue haste with David, "All men are liars" at least in politics. I might add and a whole lot more that are not in politics.

Lets not let the sun go down on our wrath. Tomorrow the days work will needs be done. Life is too short and time too precious to fritter away in vain regrets at the defeat of a few candidates for office who care little for anything but place and power.

The past three weeks have been notable for visiting and visitors. Almost every family have been made happy by the visit of some friend or relative, out to inhale the ozone, see the country, drink some good pure water, sleep a few nights where cover feels good, before day, free from the mellifluous song and smarting bite of mosquitos. Canaan never was and never will be so good a country.

The leafworm is giving considerable trouble to the farmers. Some of the fields have suffered severely while others are comparatively free. Poison is being used, as rapidly as it can be shipped in. Many of the farmers are of the opinion that no serious damage will be done, that destruction of the rank foliage will benefit rather than hurt. After looking over several infested farms it is my candid opinion that unless killed the cotton crop will be seriously injured.

Since our last report five youngsters have put in appearance. Boy at the home of W. E. Culwell, August 5th. Girl at residence of T. C. Lucas, August 15th. Girl at Mr. Robt. Lawler's, August 20th. Boy at T. T. Lindseys, August 21st. Girl at Mr. T. P. Thorntons, August 25th. Verily the plains is a wonderful place.

Mrs. R. E. L. Sapple is home after an operation for appendicitis, and George Hardin was operated on for the same trouble Friday. The appendix had ruptured and he is in danger of infection.

Cecil White was badly injured with a base ball bat the first of the week. One of the players allowed it to slip from his grasp and the end of the bat struck Cecil about the bridge of the nose crushing it. He was knocked down and was apparently unconscious for a few minutes. He was carried to Lubbock and damage repaired. Better stand a little further away at ball games.

There are two meetings under way in Meadow. Elder Bentley of Fort Worth is doing the preaching at the Church of Christ and Rev. Duncan at the Methodist. It is rather unfortunate that the two should be pulled off at the same time. The congregations will be small at both. We should be courteous to each other even in religious matters.

Quite a number of our citizens will attend court this week, this scribe along with them.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR VISITS O'DONNELL

The Brownfield Christian Endeavor met at one o'clock Sunday, August 25th and went to O'Donnell to organize a Christian Endeavor there.

With Miss Mamie Flache as leader a very interesting program was presented. Short talks were made by various members of the Brownfield society on the subject "Ideal Christians" and how to reach them. The C. E. orchestra added other attraction to the program by giving some special numbers.

The organizing of a O'Donnell C. E. Society was then put before those present and a full pledged society was the result of the afternoon's work.

Delicious watermelons were then enjoyed by all present.

MISS MAMIE SUE FLACHE HONOREE AT PARTY

Perhaps one of the most interesting parties of the week for the younger social set was given Monday evening August 30, when Miss Oleta Swan entertained a host of friends at her lovely country home in honor of Miss Mamie Sue Flache, the event to celebrate the latter's birthday.

The guests departed at a late hour expressing a joyous time by each and every one.

The honoree received many lovely gifts.

Tunnel and Diamond Large

The largest railroad tunnel in the world is the Simplon, between Italy and Switzerland, the length being 12 miles and 458 yards; the largest diamond is known as the Cullinan, weighing 3,025 carats; the largest specific gravity of any material known being that for platinum, which is 21.5, making this material the heaviest on record.

The Truth

Respect the truth. Be true. There is no conscience, there is no noble life, there is no capacity for sacrifice where there is not a religious, a right and a rigorous respect for truth. ### MEXICAN ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT LUBBOCK

One of the biggest musical attractions that has ever come to the South Plains will be at Lubbock, September 8th, when the Imperial Symphony Orchestra of Mexico will play there at the Texas Tech Pavilion under the auspices of the South Plains Music Teacher's Association, according to a letter just received from Miss Mary Dunn, of Lubbock who is president of the Association.

The orchestra is making its first American tour and is meeting with hearty applause everywhere it plays. One minute the listener is delighted with the freshness of the popular Mexican airs, to be soothed a moment later by the sweetness and solemnity of the classics of the Southern Republic. Standard semi-classical numbers, grand opera selections, popular ballads and old time melodies have their place on the evening's program.

The forty piece orchestra is under the direction of Robert L. Rechy, graduate of the Mexican Conservatory of Music. He played for President Diaz when he was ten years of age and was pronounced a genius by the President. In addition to the Orchestra proper, the Symphony party includes a number of prominent soloists of Mexico. Felix Marines, first Violinist, a graduate of the Conservatory of Music of Milan, Italy, is receiving the acclaim of American audiences where ever the Symphony Orchestra appears.

Among the numbers on the program is "The Overture from William Tell," "The Hungarian Rhapsody of Litz," "A selection from Carmen" and many others.

The orchestra will be at the Tech Pavilion during the South Plains Teachers Institute and in addition to the teachers who will attend, a large number of music lovers from the entire South Plains section are expected to hear the program which will be the outstanding musical attraction in this section for a long time.

The orchestra will only be here one night and prices for seats are very reasonable. Adult tickets are sold at $1.50, children, $1.00, and children under 14 years of age, 50c. Tickets may be purchased through the mail from Miss Mary Dunn, Lubbock, Texas or secured at the door.
