Chamber of Commerce C-U-R-R-E-N-T-S

By the Secretary

Don't forget the annual meeting at the Legion Hall, February 7th, 7:30 P. M.

The Chamber of Commerce has under advisement, a Farmers Short Course for Brownfield and it will be put on if sufficient interest and co-operation can be secured, but in order to be successful it will be necessary for our people to take an active interest. Speakers of National reputation will be available, being supplied by the International Harvester Company, through their local agents Holgate-Endersen Hardware Company. The entertainment consists of music, lectures, motion pictures, lantern slides and exhibition of farm products, but it is as beneficial to town people as it is to farmers and they should be as much interested.

The secretary is undertaking to secure complete information as to what is expected of us and also if a suitable place can be secured in which to hold the meetings.

Just from the looks of things, it would seem that we are going to have to import a few corn shellers as it is understood that the ones now in the county are simply snowed under and there does not seem to be much of a market for ear corn and if a fair price is secured it will have to be shelled. Corn shellers seem to be as hard to secure as cotton pickers were in the fall.

There is just a chance that we may be able to secure a 12,000 egg incubator as we have a citizen who is said to be an experienced man at the work and is willing to invest considerable capital and his time, but he needs some additional financing which may possibly be secured for him. A commercial hatchery would be worth a great deal to us as our county could be stocked with poultry without any great outlay of money and would be of much benefit in other ways.

Call at Chamber of Commerce for your copy of bulletins covering poultry, dairying and other kinds of diversification. The chamber of commerce has the following bulletins for distribution which were furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture under our request to Hon. Marvin Jones: Poultry Management, Poultry House Construction, Diseases of Poultry, Natural and Artificial Incubation, Natural and Artificial Brooding of Chicks, Mites and Lice on Poultry, A Simple Trapnest for Poultry, Turkey Raising, Farm and Dairy Houses, Feeding of Dairy Cows, Cooling Milk and Cream on the Farm, Practical Hog Houses, Stain Removal from fabrics, The Wind-break as a Farm Asset, Mouse control in field and orchard, How to get rid of rats, The House Fly and How to suppress it, The Field Pea as a forage crop, Weavels in beans and peas, Pecan culture and varieties, Blackberry growing, Dewberry growing, Everbearing strawberries, Grape propagation, framing and training, Insect and fungus enemies of the grape, Cut worms and their control in corn and other crops, How to detect outbreaks of insects and save grain crops, A simple way to increase crop yields, The making and feeding of silage, Conserving corn from weavels, Corn growing under droughty conditions, A corn belt farming system, Grain sorghums and how to grow them, Standard broom corn, Making vinegar in the home and on the farm, Making and using cottage cheese, Tree surgery, Pruning, Leaf blister mite on pear and apple, The peach borer, Flat headed apple tree borer, Round headed apple tree borer, Apple tree tent caterpillar, San Jose scale and control, Growing fruits for home use, Farm home drying of fruits and vegetables, Peach varieties, Growing peaches, The pear and how to grow it, Potato storage and storage houses, Why potatoes run out, Storage of sweet potatoes, Home storage of vegetables, Tomatoes for canning. Secure a supply while they last.

This office has a list of all booklets that are published by the United States Department of Agriculture and State Department of Agriculture and would be glad to secure copies covering upon any subjects that are not listed above.

K. SEARS RAISES REAL BABY BEEVES

The Herald has often heard tell of calves being knocked in the head with the churn dasher, and a little investigation reveals the fact that this is literally true in many instances. In fact we have seen calves (the kind cows raise) that were so shabby we seriously doubt if they would bring a penny on the market. They had been whaled too much with the churn dasher. Now, the churn dasher is a great institution, and its "slap! slap!" should be heard around the world, but like other great things, it stands a good chance of being overdone.

But what we started out to say is that K. Sears, one of our very youngest farmers, brought in a heifer from a cross between a white faced mother and a Durham father, that brought in the sum of $50 cash, and the yearling lacked a few days of being a year old. He sold the calf to a local shipper, Mr. W. R. Lovelace, and the chances were that some fat rich rascal of the big cities would have been gnashing their teeth over her remains in a few weeks, but one of our local marketmen, Mr. Earl Anthony decided that Brownfield people were just as deserving of good beef as any people, and purchased the calf. That was last Thursday, and Saturday Mr. Anthony began cutting up the calf and selling it. As a consequence, the editor is able to tell you how good it was if he had the tongue of some of the ancient Greek epicurians. But all he can say is that it was the best beef we ever eat. Mrs. Editor being ill, the "old he" had to do the cooking (under her supervising) and it was just fine. The kids thought it was our cooking, and paid their respects to us as if we were an imported chef from the heart of old Patee, but it was the baby beef folks and not our cooking. But we never let on to the kids. Yes, we are egotistic.

Mr. Anthony of the Enterprise Market and Grocery informed us that it was the best home raised beef he ever cut in his long experience in cutting meats. The calf weighed 735 gross and dressed out 445 pounds of the prettiest, fattest meat you ever saw. Did you know that is better than the average cow will do? Mr. Sears informed us that he had another just as good according to age that he was going to can up for summer use in his home, and just added to make it more interesting to us that he would bring us a couple of cans when he canned it up.

Fine calves and cows is not all they raise on the K. Sears farm, either, for Mrs. Sears boosted the family bank account this year with $150 worth of high grade turkeys, and kept plenty on the farm for breeding purposes. She also has a yard full of Rhode Island hens that are a constant source of income on the farm. They brought a gilt last spring that furrowed nine pigs, $50 worth being sold, and nearly one thousand pounds of meat and lard put up to run the family, and have another for sale yet. We understand they still have the sow.

Yes, he raised some cotton, and lots of corn, maize and other feed stuffs, like all other Terry county farmers, but he didn't go batty over cotton, and as a consequence, they have a living at home.

As stated above, he is a young farmer, having been married and living to themselves not over three or four years, but we'll venture the assertion that K. Sears and wife are in every way capable of advising many couple past the half century mark on making most of their living at home. Give us more K. Sears' and wife for farmers in Terry county and she'll bloom like a rose.

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION THIS WEEK

As stated last week District Judge Gordon B. McGuire of Lamesa and District Attorney T. L. Price of Post were last Monday and the former empaneled the grand jury and set them to work. After four days, they returned 5 bills of indictment.

As the first week petit jury was called for this week, Judge McGuire opened court proper Monday morning of this week. A few court cases were disposed of last week which did not require a jury.

The first criminal case called was State against W. E. Simmons charged by indictment with transporting intoxicants. The jury found him guilty and assessed his punishment at one year in the penitentiary.

The case of State against O. L. Benson, same offense as above was tried Tuesday with a conviction, and he was given one year in prison.

The case of State vs. Ben H. Collins, charged by indictment of the murder of Frank Howard in the spring of 1926, was called Wednesday afternoon. The State announced ready, but defense asked for continuance. This was over ruled, we understand, and the trial of the case begun Wednesday afternoon in selecting a jury from the special venire of 100 men.

BARBER SHOP HERE CHANGES HANDS

Mr. J. A. Staggs, of Lubbock, who has made Brownfield for the past several months representing the Lubbock Laundry Co., has become sold on Brownfield, and finding the Sanitary Barber Shop could be purchased he has bought same of Mr. T. H. Wilson, and will move his family down in the near future to take charge of same. In the meantime Mr. Wilson will manage the shop for him.

From all sources comes the report that Mr. Staggs and family are fine citizens, and people of whom the city will be proud, and we welcome them to our city.

F. L. U. ELECTS AND INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the Farm Labor Union of Terry county, the following new officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year:

A. L. Lusk, County President.
G. W. Crone, Secretary.
W. J. Baldinn, Vice-President.
Ed Crossen, Conductor.

In order to save expenses and clerical work, it was decided to put all the county local in one body, and the regular meeting time on Friday night before the first Sunday of each month at the Forrester school house. Each local may return to its own local government during the fall.

We understand that the local C. of C. of Brownfield has invited the State President of the F. L. U. to address the Terry county farmers and business men here in the near future at a public meeting, date to be announced later. The invitation has been accepted we understand.

SAYS THE HERALD A GOOD ADVERTISING MEDIUM

Mr. B. W. Wray, manager of the South Plains Music Co., which does business by mail and agent all over the South Plains section, was down from Lubbock recently, and in conversation with the Herald representative, said that he was highly pleased with the two month advertising done already in the Herald, and was going to continue same indefinitely. He informed us that he noticed a decided boost in the business from this section immediately following the first few insertions.

He intimated that his home papers had rather discouraged advertising in any papers except their own, stating that they fully covered the territory, but he found in his travels over Terry county that this was a mistake, and that he was glad he made some investigation.

J. C. McNair, character witness in the Collins case, is here from Kemp, Texas, attending court.

CELLAR FLOODED— BUT WITH WATER

If you have not seen ships in the distress of storm, being swamped by mountain high waves, or having been rammed by another vessel either actually or in the movies, you have read such stories, surely, where the sailors and the passengers maybe are forced to man the pumps as water fills the hold of the vessel and threatens to carry it beneath the waves.

Well, such was the experience of our esteemed townsman, E. T. (Dock) Powell when the cellar under his big store building filled up recently, not with home-brew or any other post-Volstead liquid, but just simply water—city water if you please.

No, a water pipe did not freeze and burst—just as you thought—not at all. But one became unscrewed by some hook or crook entirely unexplainable by even a plumber, and they are good at explanations. They say one will do this just the same on rare occasions and usually some place where you are not likely to see it, and flood everything below the water line.

Dock called in a bunch of huskies to take turns at the pump, including himself, mostly to give orders, and these were run all afternoon and far after midnight before they could wade barefoot over the clay floor of the cellar and feel the ooze squish up between their toes. There was plenty of evidence in the gutters next morning but our officers seemed to ignore it entirely.

PASTOR NORRIS IS NOW A FREE MAN

It only took a jury of twelve men some twenty minutes Tuesday afternoon to bring in a verdict of not guilty, in the case of State against J. Frank Norris, being tried in the district court of Travis county, having been transferred from Tarrant county.

Most people here believed he would be acquitted, though some looked for a hung jury. The verdict was of course expected by the defense. The verdict is satisfactory to some and unsatisfactory to other citizens here. Some say nothing could have been done, and still others say it is far more dangerous in Texas to be caught with a pint of whiskey than to kill a man.

And so it would seem, but the world just wags on.

AH! THOSE INHUMAN DOCTORS

Several citizens of Brownfield and surrounding communities have recently been importuned to buy beef from a certain individual living a few miles west of town, said individual representing that he has sickness in his family and cannot procure the services of a physician without paying cash for such services; which up to date is wholly untrue.

The facts in the case are that he has never failed to obtain the services of a physician every time he has asked for it, and it is a further fact that he has not paid one cent any of the three physicians who have responded to his calls.

We make this statement only in self-defense and to let the public know the facts. He has not failed to get service so far but he and some others may fail, soon, unless a different attitude toward the medical profession is taken by them.

Doctors depend upon their professional income for their daily bread and they give more freely of their time and knowledge to charity than any other profession or calling and are willing to continue to do so without reason, but when they have extended every favor possible and are then maligned and misrepresented as in this case, the "worm turns."

We are human, the same as other men and appreciate being so considered.

EYES OF TEXAS ARE ON YOU DAN!

The eyes of Texas is upon you, Dan, and they are expecting you to be "the man" now as well as when you was making your campaign. The people of Texas are tired and sick of charges and counter charges of graft and disorder, malice and executive clemency, and they want peace and harmony among the law abiding and the penitentiary gates made a little more secure against the criminally inclined.

The people are not going to expect the impossible of you. They do not think you are endowed or wise as old Solomon. They have gumption and know you have or will have a contentious legislature to deal with, and other troubles all your own. Yet they recognize in you an intelligence above the average of your age, and owing to your youth they are going to overlook any small mistakes of the head, but none of the heart.

The people of Texas are not expecting a great flood of legislation and laws to add to the already deluge from which they now suffer, but they do expect more sane ones, and a great many of the old ones killed or so amended that they will suit the present age and conditions. There are already so many laws of which the people are ignorant—we hear of them every day—that they disobey them unknowingly but unwillingly perhaps, every day.

They read the sacred pledge which you took, and your speech following in which you said you accepted the "office as a sacred trust," and they are kind enough and credulous enough to believe you meant every word you said. Your promise of reforms in many things were received in gratitude and thanks by a long suffering constituency, and if you are true to these convictions, and are successful in bringing them about, Dan, there is no office in the gift of the people of Texas to which they would not gladly elevate you.

The people are almost unanimously behind you Governor; at least all the worth while people, and they all believe that "Dan's the Man." Please don't make a mess of things.

BAPTIST REVIVAL TO BEGIN IN MARCH

The Baptist church will hold a series of revival services beginning the first Sunday in March. These services will be conducted for one week by Rev. Layton Maddox, pastor of the Baptist church at Belton, Texas.

This meeting will be in the nature of a prayer revival. Services will be held at both the morning and evening hours.

Rev. Maddox holds a peculiar type of meeting which he calls a prayer revival. The entire series of sermons will be preached on prayer. Special effort will be made in two directions. First to rededicate Christians. Second, reach the unsaved of the community.

ODD FELLOWS INSTALL THEIR NEW OFFICERS

Last Tuesday night was installation night at the Odd Fellows hall, and quite a nice crowd was reported to be on hand for the ceremonies. The following were the main officers installed:

Judge H. R. Winston, N. G., and J. C. Bohannon, Secretary. We failed to get the other officials.

While the growth is not rapid, just the same this popular lodge is constantly on the upward trend. The brotherhood is pleased to note that Mr. J. A. Staggs, who recently purchased the Sanitary Barber Shop is to move down from Lubbock in the near future. It is said that he is one of the best posted men on the secret work on the Plains, and he has been District Deputy Grand of this district for a number of years.

San Antonio—Extension of gas service by the San Antonio Public Service Company this year will involve an investment of about $375,000 for mains and meters to supply new customers.

GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE LOCAL MAN

Lubbock, Jan. 15.—Boys have been known to do everything from firing furnaces to acting secretary to the president of an institution in order to get through school. So greatly did one Tech student value the opportunity to pick up extra money that he sold a pint of his blood for $25 at the Lubbock Sanitarium.

The boy, Etheridge Eagan, works in a down town coffee shop, and has missed no time from his work as a result. In an interview he said that every cent of the money could be used to advantage, and that he had suffered no ill effects.

The transfusion was made Monday morning to save the life of R. M. Goodpasture, of Brownfield.

SEMINOLE LIGHT PLANT SOLD

A deal was made this week in which the Seminole Light Plant for the past several years owned and operated by W. M. Breckon, was sold to Messrs. G. N. Karnes, of Wheeler, Texas and C. B. Myers, who recently moved to Seagraves from Wheeler.

These gentlemen were recently granted a franchise by the town of Seagraves for the operation of an electric light plant at that place, and materials and equipment are now being assembled for its erection.

The above named gentlemen have named their business Gaines County Public Service Company, and expect to live up to what their name implies, in furnishing electric service for both Seminole and Seagraves—the kind that satisfies.

We understand that they expect to install a high line between the two towns, and will have the same connected within the next few months. We are also informed that they have purchased what remains of the Lovington electric light system and in time will also furnish that place with current from the Seagraves plant, which will when completed, be ample to care for the three towns.—Seminole Sentinel.

OIL SEARCH IS RESUMED

The News is informed upon reliable authority that a contract for another test oil well to be drilled near the line of Lynn and Terry counties was let Tuesday of this week. Green & Lumsden of Wilson who own a ranch on the line of the two counties, have blocked up a 10,000 acre block and given a lease on same to one of the big oil companies with the stipulation that drilling is to begin within 90 days. Whether the new test well will be located in Lynn or Terry county has not yet been determined, at least no information in that respect has been given out.

Drilling on the Kingsland just over the line in Terry county, ten miles east of Brownfield and 18 miles west of Tahoka, was also resumed the first of the week after having been shut down for two or three weeks. Excellent progress has been made on this well and it seems certain that barring certain accidents, the well will be completed according to contract, without further delays of any consequence.

At Edwards No. 1, five miles west of Taoka, the drillers are still waiting for the arrival of a big bull wheel before drilling can be resumed. It is said that the drilling can be resumed. It is said that the drillers expect to be back on the job on this well at an early date.—Tahoka News.

Washington's Early Adventures Now Assuming New Significance

By HENRY BOTSFORD

AFTER well nigh a century and three-quarters a new interest has recently been aroused in the earliest military adventures of George Washington. When barely twenty-one years old, in 1753, Washington was sent by Governor Dinwiddie of Virginia into the far northwestern wilderness—that is northwestern Pennsylvania—to warn the French that they must cease their efforts to occupy that region. Recent researches have given a new historical significance to that expedition, during which Washington, always reckless of his personal safety, had one of his narrow escapes from death at the hands of a treacherous Indian guide.

The French at that time occupied Canada and claimed the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys. Though the fringe of English speaking colonies along the Atlantic contained the chief European population, France maintained sovereignty over most of North America's area. They were apparently determined to occupy northwestern Pennsylvania, partly because it was known even then to be rich in petroleum.

Region's Wealth Known

Pioneers and missionaries, English, French, German and Dutch, had all reported to their governments that the petroleum was of great potential value. There is, however, no reason to believe that Washington knew of its existence or value until his adventure of 1753. Then he learned that the oil had long been used by the Indians and the pioneering whites for fuel and light, for medicine and in making war paint. Washington was so much impressed with its possibilities that he later became owner of a large area of oil-bearing lands. Although the petroleum industry in its modern form was then undreamed of, Washington was so sure that a fortune resided in his oil-bearing lands that in his will he listed them as his most valuable holdings. In the property schedule attached to the will he wrote:

"This tract was taken up by General Lewis and myself on account of the bituminous spring which it contains, of so inflammable a nature as to burn as freely as spirits and as nearly difficult to extinguish."

The Will of Washington

Some historians declare that in an earlier will Washington dedicated this "burning spring" to the public. At any rate, it had passed from his ownership before his death. He sold this tract for $200,000, but, suspecting it might revert to his estate under a mortgage, he warned his heirs that should it do so it would be worth much more than the $200,000.

Although Washington's first knowledge of petroleum was gained within a few miles of the place where the first oil well in the world was drilled, that first well was not opened until one hundred and six years later, 1859. In that year Edwin Laurentine Drake bored the first well, just south of Titusville, Pennsylvania, and really started the modern petroleum industry.

A Development Wonder

Today the American industry is the major part of the world's oil business. Americans are directing oil developments all over the world. It is all part of the huge problem: to make sure that the tomorrows shall see America's requirements met. Every decade the production of petroleum has doubled. Science and technical progress have met all demands. Foreign investment and development are in the nature of insurance for the future.

In the days of Drake and the industry's beginnings petroleum's value lay in lubricants and kerosene. The age of machinery was only beginning with its insatiable demand for lubricants, while kerosene, though the best illuminant ever known, was dangerous because poor refining left gasoline that was liable to explode. It is difficult nowadays, when the world is being combed for more petroleum to make more gasoline, to realize that gasoline was once a nuisance and a menace. The internal combustion engine created the demand for gasoline, now the primary product of petroleum. The demands of millions of motor cars increasing constantly, invention and chemistry were set at work by the captains of the industry to make the barrel of petroleum turn out a larger and larger proportion of gasoline. This was done by the cracking process, through which every year now sees a larger proportion of crude oil turned into gasoline.

High and Growing Demands

Today well-nigh 2,500,000 barrels of petroleum are required every day to satisfy the demand for motor cars, tractors, trucks, buses, artificial gas plants and the innumerable by-products. Invention is constantly finding new uses, as enterprise just as constantly finds new supplies of petroleum. The wonderful and rather mysterious fluid has revolutionized social habits and industrial methods; yet it is only two-thirds of a century since the industry had its feeble beginning in the Pennsylvania oil country. This year the country will use about 750,000,000 barrels of petroleum. The country will use 700,000,000 gallons of gasoline and will export 1,900,000 more. The production, processing and marketing of petroleum is probably second only to agriculture among American industries.

Roundly, 70 per cent of the world's petroleum industry is American. Ten billions of capital is invested in it—half the valuation of the national railroad system. It employs just about 1,000,000 people. The petroleum pipe line system, gridironing a good share of the country, aggregates about 85,000 miles. Petroleum revolutionized naval warfare by bringing in the oil burning ship; it is fast revolutionizing merchant marines in the same fashion. Multiplication of motor cars, along with the special taxation of their gasoline, has made possible the modern highway system.

A True Social Service

Perhaps the most nearly revolutionary result of Drake's modernization of the petroleum industry is to be found in the change it has brought in the life of rural America. It has carried the city to the country, the country to the city. It has, by making possible the cheap and quick transportation that everybody nowadays enjoys, enabled country and city to know and understand each other as they never did before. It has brought social and educational privileges to country dwellers that a few decades ago seemed absolutely denied to them. On the one hand it has enabled the cities to spread out into suburban areas and the zone of country estates; on the other, it has enabled the people of the open country to have neighbors, society, church and school privileges, intimate acquaintance.

It is a historic fact that the tendency toward division of interest and understanding between city and country is the most serious internal menace to the security of nations, to the integrity of society.

More than anything else, country and city need to know and understand each other and each other's problems. The easy transportation, the ready opportunity for association and acquaintance that have come with the Age of Petroleum have made possible, in this favored country at least, exactly this new intimacy and understanding.

MAY BE DIFFERENT, BUT MORE RELIGION

The notion held by a certain group of people that the churches have been losing ground of late should have suffered a severe jolt when the results of the recent national religious poll taken by the newspapers were printed.

A constant increase in church affiliations is indicated by the poll. Just after the close of the Revolutionary War, less than seven per cent of the people belonged to church. Now the poll shows that more than 43 per cent of the people now subscribe to some faith or other.

There seems to even be a rising tide of morality sweeping over the land, although some among us believe none of the heathen courts were more irreligious than we are in the United States.

Perhaps there has been a falling off in fervor among many of the church members but there are grounds for believing the decline has chiefly in the old-time fanaticism and sectarian intolerance. No cause exists for weeping over the total loss of either of these enemies of true religion.

The polls served as an answer to religion is on the decline. The results were generally the same in all the cities in which the poll was taken. Even in New York, commonly termed a "godless city," the believers outnumbered the non-believers.

This poll should help squelch the blatant skeptics who make a great deal of noise about the decay of the church. But it probably won't. They refuse to be convinced by any array of facts and figures.—Portales, N. M. Herald.

The Hotel Stenographer

"O OOOO!" yawned the Hotel Stenographer. "I didn't get home till a couple o'clock this morning."

"Dancing?" asked the House Detective.

"No." The girl put her hand over her mouth to hide another yawn. "I went automobile riding with a new sweetie. Closed car so we were not cold."

"Dangerous business riding around with some one you do not know very well," said the House Detective with a shake of his head.

"Kelly," smiled the girl, "are you worried over the danger the man was in or over the danger I ran?"

"Of course the fellow generally expects to kiss you along about midnight, but that doesn't mean he does it. You don't have to make a guy mad when you don't let him kiss you. All you got to do is make him understand you are a perfectly proper girl, and in his simple and childlike vanity he thinks you are all right because he cannot imagine there is anything personal in the refusal. The average chap can't understand any girl not wanting to kiss him, if she is willing to kiss at all."

"A kiss is anything from an insult to a proposal of marriage. Men are so stupid they cannot understand why a girl sometimes wants to knock their block off for kissing her, and does knock it off all over again for failing to kiss her at another time."

"Most men who kiss women ought to be sent away to come back Friday night, anyhow."

"Why Friday night?" asked Kelly.

"Why, it is amateur night everywhere. If I didn't know any more about kissing than the average man, I would get some woman to give me a lesson. Many a kiss has been ruined because the poor boob didn't know how to do it without tangling up the buttons on the back of his coat sleeve in a girl's hair net."

THE WHY OF SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

UPSETTING PINS

IF YOU should accidentally upset a box, a cup or other receptacle containing pins; and if all the pins spill out, be prepared for quarreling with your friends or family, perhaps losing your job. But should the pins not all spill out—should even one pin remain in the receptacle—then you may be assured of continuous paying employment—you need not fear losing your job quarreling. This common superstition is one of several relating to pins, and is as old as pins themselves. In fact it is older, for it is but a variation of the "binding" idea and must have attached itself to whatever our ancestors used for pinning purposes—thorns maybe. Its basis is that confounding of facts and ideas which was the weakness of primitive man's reasoning and which is the vice of many of his descendants to this day—notable sociologists and doctrinaires.

Pins are used to attach one "something" to another "something." You are "pinned" to your job. You spill the pins and, by sympathetic magic, you spill this binding force: your job is "unpinned" from you. But if one pin remain unspilled that holds you and your job together. "What is associated in thought is associated in fact"—theory of the ancients. The idea that if all the pins are spilled you will have quarrels has a like basis. The bonds of friendship and amity are "unpinned" and, of course, you quarrel.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

By J. W. Craig

The merchant who looks upon advertising as a business proposition rather than an expense, and puts time and thought in his advertising is the one who profits most. Advertising is a business, just as essential to the handling of good merchandise as employing competent help. It requires knowledge to manage a business and it requires knowledge to write effective advertising. Some merchants do not know how to advertise—therefore they have not seen the results from it they expected. Instead of analyzing the situation and finding the fault was their own, they have decided advertising didn't pay. All advertising has a reason for its success or failure. It may be circulation, poor copy, unseasonable merchandise, or other reasons why some advertising has not paid. It takes time to build a business, and it takes time to build confidence through advertising. All the advertising in the world won't sell inferior merchandise over a long period of time. Soon people will not believe the advertising statements of this store, no matter how alluring the advertisement. Therefore good merchandise and truthful advertising are more essential to the building of a business. To slight advertising is to slight business for there are opportunities every day in the way of advertising and a merchant can avail himself of these many opportunities if he will look about him. Advertising is the show window of your store, presented to the prospective customers through the newspaper. No merchant who is progressive would think of slighting his show window. He takes special pride in it, but only those who pass his window see it. On the other hand the newspaper carries its show window to the homes, and the word picture will attract people to the store instead of a glance at the window as they pass hurriedly by.

Advertising has been responsible for every advancement of modern times. Several millions of dollars more have been spent in 1926 for display advertising than in 1925 and as long as advertising continues to excel, prosperity will not come to an end.

FOR PRINCIPLE

Governor Ma Ferguson issued her 3005th pardon just before her term of office as governor expired. She has made a record beyond a question of a doubt. Texas delights in the spectacular even with a full knowledge that somebody has to pay the fiddler in the early morning after the show is over and the crowd has gone home. It would be worth a railroad ticket almost to make a trip down there and get one of those old long headed politicians in a quiet corner and listen to his philosophy of what he got out of the misadministration of Ma Ferguson. And with all the grief that has come to the Lone Star state from the so-called woman governor the politician would proudly acknowledge that he helped elect Ma Ferguson, because "he was voting for a principle and not for her."

Asked what benefit he derived from voting for what he believed to be a principle and knowing that the affairs of state would go to smash he would answer: "Not a dad burned thing, but by gum, I'd do it again!" That's Texas. What a man believes to be a principle with him is sacred and inviolate in Texas even to the point of committing murder in defense of that principle, regardless of whether he is right or wrong. And that ideal elected Ma Ferguson as governor.—L. P. Loomis, Editor Torrington ((Wyo.) Telegram.

We have waited patiently for these small accounts while you perhaps were caring for larger ones, but several hundred of these amount to a great deal to the Herald, and we will appreciate it very much if you will give them your very earliest attention.

Proof Beyond Argument

TOAST TO THE MEMORY OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

The following is the toast suggested by the International Advertising association for ceremonies honoring the memory of Benjamin Franklin on January 17, his birthday, which is being generally observed as Newspaper day:

Gentlemen: I ask you to rise and toast with me the memory of the first shrewd American advertiser—Poor Richard Benjamin Franklin—the father of our craft. It was about this time of his birthday in 1738, that he wrote "When you incline to drink rum, fill half the glass with water."

Moderation, tolerance, wisdom, these were the qualities that marked the versatile genius of Benjamin Franklin, one of the quiet unostentatious heroes of the War of Independence, one of the greatest names in the galaxy of American diplomacy; a noble scientist who harnessed the lightning for our behalf a man who "walked with kings, nor lost the common touch"—a genius in literature, in aeronautics, in physics, in philosophy—a humble Christian, an aggressive moralist, and an American statesman, to the memory of whose glorious achievements let us drink a toast of honor: To the birthday of Benjamin Franklin.—Contributed.

Official paper of Terry County.

A few weeks ago we criticized the State Highway Department for failure to properly maintain Highway No. 84 through Lynn county. Since that time grading on this highway has been resumed and a splendid grade is being constructed. We presume that the entire line of highway from Post to Brownfield is to be put in similar condition. We now desire to give proper credit to the State Highway Department for the splendid work being done, and we hope that hereafter the highway will be kept in tip top condition.—Tahoka News.

The Herald hasn't taken its readers to task this month as is the custom of many papers about paying their taxes, as it believes its readers are as capable as the Herald of understanding the conditions by which they may become full fledged voting citizens; that they must have in their possession a poll tax receipt before midnight of January 31st, otherwise they can have no say in the government of any local, state or national affairs. It is true that this is considered an off year so far as state and national elections are concerned, but who can fathom the future even in local affairs. One may wish he had paid many times more than $1.75 for a tax receipt in order to obtain it before the close of the year 1927. So let's remember that next Monday is the last day for us to become qualified voters for 1927, and that the dollar seventy five will go to our local schools mostly.

The horrible wreck and death toll of several splendid young men and the serious wounding of others at a grade crossing near Round Rock last Saturday not only saddens the hearts of Baylor University, but the entire state and nation. But with it before us, we the living should gather a lesson from the dead, and resolve now to make sure there are no trins near by when crossing a railroad. Also, we should bear in mind that trains always are supposed to have the right of way, and that they are much heavier and more powerful than anything we may drive along the highways. It is said, however, that railroads are eliminating grade crossings as fast as possible, but it will take many years yet to entirely eliminate them, as it would break every railroad in the nation if a law was passed to eliminate them in one year. Therefore they must proceed cautiously, eliminating first those most dangerous and used most by both trains and individuals.

Every once in a while some man tells that he will have to let his subscription to The News lapse as he wants to save the $2.00 on account of the scarcity of money, but it is usually not very long until he comes in and says that his wife has changed her mind. The good lady tell him that she can save more than a year's subscription by reading the ads every week. No one can be well informed unless he reads what is going on in the community each week. Everybody needs the home paper; it carries into the home the word of the goods which feed, clothe and shelter, and which minister to ease, health and happiness. No where else can so much be bought for so little money. It should be in every economical budget.—McLean News.

The only correction we offer to the above is that instead of "his wife changing her mind," it should have read "his wife changed his mind." At least it has so happened here around Brownfield lots of times.

It seems to be the opinion of most of the press of the country, as well as the majority of statesmen and writers that our trouble in both Nicaragua are imaginary and in the minds of our blundering statesmen at Washington. Of course those journals which are of and always of the opinion that the American oil magnates should dictate the policy of not only America, but all neighboring countries, think we have a real grievance with our neighbors to the south, and some of these journals are in Texas, but in the main, the press of the nation as a whole can see no reason for war at this time either for political or religious purposes, and are doing all in their power to keep the country from such a bullying course of procedure as would likely cause us to come to conflict with our weaker neighbors. Many believe that Mr. Kellogg is the wrong Secretary of State at the wrong time, and that our President, usually rather conservative, has taken up the gauntlet of Mr. Kellogg too soon.

Our nation has been so shown under and sown down with this and that law for the past quarter century that it is little wonder that many people are not as respectful of the laws of the land as was our forefathers. Not that the country is becoming more communistic, for they are rather more conservative than for some decades, but, we recall that old saying that familiarity breeds contempt. And, there are so many laws now that we must think of laws when we arise at our meals, upon retiring at night and even in our waking hours, for fear of

It is just 20 years since this bank was established. It seems but yesterday—so fast has the time flown in the pleasant business of making new friends and steadily growing to meet the needs of this community.

From the start our ideal has been to provide a banking service complete in all its branches that is at once safe and progressive. Adherence to this policy has made this bank the strong dependable institution it is today. We feel, however, that we but stand on the threshold of our full possibilities for growth and service in our wide territory.

The Officers and Directors cordially thank the many friends of this bank, the depositors and the community at large for their generous support that has resulted in our present financial strength. It is our firm intention to continue to merit that support in the busy years that are to come.

their violation. It is said that there are at this time some ten million laws on the statute books of the United States, some good, some bad and many merely indifferent, and a Philadelphia lawyer could not begin to half understand an iota of them. Every little two-by-four any state sends to their legislature or congress imagines that he has accomplished nothing unless he succeeds in putting a score or more extra laws on an already overburdened people. What we need is fewer but better laws.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED

By W. E. Lewis in Farm and Ranch

This is an answer to a piece of poetry recently published in these columns entitled "Eleven cent cotton and 40c meat." by Mrs. S. C. Ford.

When cotton's low and meats are high It appears to me to diversify Would be the same and easy way To bring about a better day. With butter at 50 cents a pound And cream at 40 the whole year round; With turkeys high and going higher, It's enough to kindle a great desire To raise more birds and a little less hell

In a land where opportunities dwell If we'd give more time to the dairy cow And a better feed to the old brood sow We'd not worry about the price of meat.

For we'd have plenty ourselves to eat. With 50-cent eggs and a six-bit hen Why, oh why, will the children of men Ruin their fingers and break their backs Picking 11-cent cotton and dragging sacks.

With corn in the crib and chickens in the yard; With meat in the smokehouse and a tub full of lard; With cream in the pitcher and honey in the mug; With butter on the table and lasses in the jug— Things to you won't seem so high, For you'll be selling, you won't have to buy.

Now stop that grumbling, for the fault's your own; You expect to reap where you have not sown. If you stay at home and help your mate Others—then you won't berate, And you'll live in Paradise. This to you is my advice.

THE BETTERMENT CLUB OF POOL COMMUNITY

The ladies met in a social way at the home of Mrs. A. F. Hight on Thursday, January 20th, the time being spent visiting until the hour for the hour for the delightful luncheon of chicken salad, creme potatoes, baked apples, bread and coffee; the second course consisted of peaches and whipped cream with white and dark cake.

After the splendid repast we were called to order for a business session, electing Mrs. Brockman as speaker of the house. It was then decided to take a study course this year, the course of study yet to be decided upon.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Brockman, President; Mrs. Hendersen, Secretary and Treasurer. A committee of Mrs. Darden, Mrs. Pool and Miss Howard was made to see about a course of study. Those present were Mesdames Proctor, Kyle, Foster, Darden, Pool, Brockman, Pullium, Rambo, Hight, Hendersen and Miss Howard.

The next meeting will be had the first Thursday in February in the home of Mrs. Brockman at 2:30 o'clock.—Reporter.

"Black-Draught is the very best laxative I have found. I always feel so much better after taking it."

MRS. MCGOWAN DELIGHTS HER BRIDGE GUESTS

Thursday evening, January twentieth the "Night Bridge Club" was entertained in the home of Judge and Mrs. McGowan. Careful preparations by the charming hostess were in keeping with this truly capable entertainer. Receiving rooms were in exquisite taste, and a delightful party enjoyed by her guests. The beautifully gowned matrons added a harmonious touch to the brilliant occasion.

Six tables were placed for Bridge, and the usual joy of the players prevailed throughout the party hours. Concluding the progression a comparison of scores found that high and next to high belonged to Mesdames J. H. McKinney and Robt. L. Bowers, respectively. The prizes presented were silver 'Salt and pepper' set, to Mrs. McKinney; Relish dish going to Mrs. Bowers. Gentlemen holding high score were Mr. Jim Miller, an ash tray; next to high, Dr. DuBois, 'cards'.

The hostess gracefully served a salad course of chicken sandwiches, pear and cheese salad, hot chocolate and ripe olives followed by brick cream in pink and white with cake.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Alexander, A. W. Endersen, J. D. Miller, John B. King, R. L. Bowers, Earl Alexander, J. H. McKinney, W. R. McDuffie Tom May, W. A. Bell, Dr. and Mrs. DuBois.

Judge and Mrs. McGowan were voted model entertainers.

KINDERGARTEN DOING GOOD WORK

Mrs. L. Greenfield who is entrusted with a number of kindergarten pupils reports a very satisfactory outline of work done by the little tots. The intense interest on the part of the little boys and girls are positive proofs of progress and thoughtful preparation on the part of their teacher. Mrs. Greenfield's roll includes the following names, R. C. Stoker, Jr., Lucille McSpadden, Jean Johnson, Cecile Lauderdale, D. C. Brown, Maxine Hill, Lucien Greenfield, Jr., Jim Shelton, Ina Bess Hicks, Wanda Graham, Doris Moffitt, Geraldine Jones, Hall Wilson, Harold Endersen, Francis Copeland, Dorothy Winkler, Helen Quante, Claude Hudgens, Jr.

ATTENTIVE AUDIENCE HEARS THE DE WILLO COMPANY

Friday night, January 21st, the De Willo Concert Company entertained a large crowd at the School Auditorium. A pleasing presence combined with a genuine and thorough understanding of the work given, made the Artists especially popular at once.

The wonder instrument, "Concertina Grande" made according to the instructions of Mr. De Willo and an instrument marvelously superior to the accordion was planned from very simple toy years ago given the artists, when but a child. He improved on this toy until his masterpiece of intricate workmanship was completed—and now is a finished product of the kind. Composition of this Concertina is of gold, silver and inlaid pearl. The imitations of the pipe organ, bugle call and echo, old fiddler and others were very true. Classic and semi-classic with popular music made up this feast of music for the hearers.

Mrs. De Willo Semeran, a soprano of unusual wide range, possesses a voice of sympathetic sweetness. Her joint number of "Sextette from Lucia," with Miss Coffin, violinist, and Mr. De Willo, Concertina, was beautiful indeed! Ensemble work of these artists was perfectly done.

Miss Coffin a master of the violin, wore resplendent and handsome evening creations as did Mrs. De Willo.

True musicians were those making this successful evenings pleasure. Enraptured music seemed to pervade their very souls and as a result, others were thrilled.

This was the second appearance of this company. The first one being eleven years ago, when Brownfield had no railroad, no electric lights, no sidewalks or brick buildings, and only one small poorly equipped hotel. For fifteen years these artists have been members of the White and Brown Lyceum Company of Kansas City. Their worth and appreciation is proven by their contract extending over this period of time. The enthusiastic audience and admirers were permitted to meet the artists at the close of the program, and were shown courtesy on the part of the visitors. Children especially eager to see the wonderful instrument of Mr. De Willo, were patient listeners and inspectors, which seemed to please the performers.

May Brownfield be again favored by these brilliant artists was the earnest desire expressed by many. Watch for the next number of the Lyceum. Come out, feed your gain and soul and help along the P. T. A.

MISS MARTHA GRAVES GIVES LOVELY PARTY SAT. NIGHT

Frequent occasions of fun and frolic are given by the younger set of boys and girls. Miss Marti Graves charmingly entertained her friends on Saturday night, January twenty-second. The guests were welcomed by the hostess at seven-thirty o'clock at the home of her parents Judge and Mrs. R. L. Graves.

Many variations of games employed the time of these youngsters till a reasonable hour arrived.

The young hostess served cheese and pimento sandwiches to the following friends, Alma Brown, Billy Plain, Jeannette Brown, Kathrine Holgate, Lenore Brownfield, Eileen Ellington, Bernice Lane, Helen Graves, Sawyer Graham, Murphy May Dell Smith, R. L. Lewis and Lee Brownfield.

MRS. ENDERSEN COMPLIMENTS RECENT BRIDE, WEDNESDAY

One of the most delightful parties given at this season was in compliment to Mrs. D. B. DuBois on Wednesday afternoon, January nineteenth when Mrs. Albert W. Endersen entertained at Bridge. The afternoon guests arrived at two o'clock, the appointed hour.

Bridge was enjoyed throughout the afternoon. Guests cut for table favors at the beginning of the game. The fortunate ladies were Mrs. A. M. Brownfield, Mrs. Shelton, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Easley, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Webber, favors being unique bottles of perfume. The high score made by Miss Aileen Phillips was a prize of a Bonbon dish in silver. Next to high, Mrs. Morgan Copeland was presented with guest towels. The dainty refreshment plate served the guests, held a place card bearing the inscription—

"Mrs. Albert W. Endersen honoring Mrs. Douglas D. DuBois."

The honor guest was presented with a handsome silver bread tray. Refreshments served by the wonderful hostess were, chicken sandwiches, potato chips, marshmallow creme and cake. Guests were Mesdames McGowan, Weber, Bell, Ray Brownfield, A. M. Brownfield, May Miller, King, McDuffie, McKinney, Henry Alexander, Earl Alexander, Winston, Copeland, Michie, Berry, DuBois, Griffin, Wingerd, Lewis, Collins, Misses Phillips and Easley.

Mrs. Flenn C. McSpadden will entertain with two parties on Friday, January twenty-eighth. The morning hours will be spent in Bridge, while in the afternoon the hostess will entertain the Friday Forty-Two Club at 3 o'clock.

M. S. SOCIETY WILL MEET

The regular meeting of the Federated Missionary Society will be with the ladies of the Baptist church on February seventh, instead of the fifth Monday in January.

IDLE WIVES CLUB ENJOY PARTY WITH MRS. ALEXANDER

In the many distinctive and memorable occasions of recent occurrence, Brownfield's social set are indebted to the hostesses who have so brilliantly entertained. Deserving of compliment and special mention was the "Idle wives Club" party on Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Henry Alexander was the entertaining hostess. The dainty and cozy apartments were lovely in decoration.

Bridge was, as usual, the absorbing diversion. Game progressed until the closing hour. High score was made by Mrs. Roy Wingerd, receiving a box of beautiful stationery; while to Mrs. A. M. Brownfield, the honor of next to high, a candy jar in lovely blue colorings, was presented. The favors for each table were tiny vases, these were drawn by Mesdames DuBois, Wingerd, Smith and May.

The entertaining hostess was assisted by Mrs. McDuffie in the refreshment service. Guests were served most delicious fruit salad on crisp lettuce leaves, with topping of creme and paprika, triangular sandwiches, individual pies and hot black coffee. Guests at this party were, Mesdames Endersen, Wingerd, Bell, A. M. Brownfield, Copeland, Bowers, Fred Smith, King, McGowan, DuBois, McDuffie, Holmes, McBurnett, Miller, May and Dallas.

M. M. S. DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED BY MRS. G. S. WEBBER

The Methodist Missionary Society was invited to meet with Mrs. G. S. Webber on Monday afternoon in social contact; Mrs. Webber has been serving the Society in the capacity of President the past year and has been urged to continue her splendid work this year. The gracious hostess received her guests at two-thirty and entertained them in various ways.

Mesdames Michie, Cox, Carmichael, Williams, Woodriddle, Haris, Powell, McDaniels, Hester, Downing, Longbrake and Thomas were served hot chocolate, sandwiches and cake at the close of the social meet.

BASKET BALL TEAM DEFEATED

In a play between Tatum High School Basket Ball team and the local team on Friday afternoon the score resulted in 23 to 10 in favor of the visiting team. Our boys have done very little practicing in basket ball, but doubtless since Fridays play they will endeavor to do better.

Our boys, including Mr. D. C. Lewis entertained the visitors in their homes during their stay here.

MRS. H. H. HUGHES ENTERTAINS MOTHERS CLUB

The Mothers Club met in the pretty home of Mrs. H. H. Hughes on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. The club members being represented by Mrs. Winston, Mrs.

Bynum, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. W. A. Bynum presided over the meeting and a most interesting program given. Mrs. Glenn Harris read a paper direct from Dr. A. A. Berle extending greetings to the club for the New Year and outlining the work of the Mothers Club was doing for our country. This paper was very greatly appreciated. Mrs. Winston's number was topics of a "Free Moral Citizen," taking in The Ten Wise Virgins and the 'good Samaritan.' The Club was honored by some visiting mothers as special guests, Mrs. C. George, Mrs. Dalton Lewis and Mrs. Cousineau.

At the social hour the thoughtful hostess served delicious jelly rolls and hot chocolate. Lewis Brothers favored the Club with a pretty box of assorted wafers. Club adjourned for an indefinite period.

SHE KILLED A SKUNK

A skunk betrayed a 14-year-old girl in 1923. After she was married he went to her husband and bragged about it. Her husband drove her away. She bought a gun, traveled from Chicago to New York and shot the skunk. Having been arrested, indicted and brought into court for trial, she pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

Yesterday Judge James Barrette of the Bronx county court suspended sentence and gave her another chance.

"The suffering of a woman who has been betrayed," he said, "exceeds that of any penalty the law can inflict."

There isn't a red blooded man, or a virtuous woman in the country but who would applaud the decision and the sentiment back of it.

Texas sold 67,000,000 acres of land to the United States in 1850 for ten million dollars. That left only 175,594, 160 acres in Texas.

Houston—Approximately 56,000,000 passengers were carried by the Houston street cars in 1923. This is an increase of about seven per cent over the preceding year.

NEW CHURCH FOR LOCKNEY IS PLANNED

LOCKNEY, Jan. 17.—Members of the Church of Christ in this city have just announced their intention to build a modern new $30,000 church structure, and work on the new building will begin within a very few days.

The Church of Christ congregation is one of the largest in the city, and it is thought there will be no hitch in financing the program.

GENERAL MEETING OF SOUTH PLAINS BAPTISTS

There will be a general meeting of the Baptist of the South Plains at Lubbock on the 31st of this month. The purpose of the meeting is to create interest in the Gigantic Debt Paying Campaign that the Baptist of the state have on. We are seeking to raise from January 15th to March 15th of this year $2,000,000 to relieve the debts on our institutions.

Dr. George W. Truett will be the principal speaker at the Lubbock meeting. On the program will appear such other men as Dr. L. R. Scarborough, Dr. F. S. Groner, and others of our state leaders. Mrs. J. E. Leigh will represent the women of Texas.

It is expected as many as fifty people will go from here to this meeting. Some twenty-five or more have already signified their intention to go. Dr. George W. Truett is a world preacher, and this one opportunity for a life time, for many, to hear him.

DAWSON COUNTY WOMEN CAN EVERYTHING

Since July, 1926, the office of the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Ezra E. Grimes has ordered 54 canning equipments. The council through the same office ordered 15,000 cans, not including quantities of cans purchased from local hardware establishments.

During the same period 29,229 quarts of fruit, meat and vegetables were canned in Dawson county. This is not the total, because considerable was canned for which there was no record. Miss Grimes reports.

In the clothing line 463 hats were made under the military program. Girls completed 1612 articles of clothing.

Last year there were 32 clubs in the county and three or four are now in process of formation. Miss Grimes has been trying to visit each of these clubs twice a month, but they have grown to such an extent in numbers that this is now quite impossible.

A noteworthy feature of the work is that during Miss Grimes' absence of three months last year five clubs held regular meetings.—Lamesa Journal.

DR. PAUL W. HORN WEARS TECH MADE SUIT

Lubbock, Jan. 17.—Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech is this week wearing the first suit of clothing to be tailored from the cloth woven in the Textile mills of the Texas Technological College. The process of manufacture was all done in the textile mills with the exception of the tailoring. The suit is of dark gray pattern and the cloth made up into an attractive finished product. The material is all cotton. The thread was spun from cotton on the Tech spindles, dyed in the textile department and woven in the Tech mills. Dr. Horn takes much pride in modeling the suit which is the first to be produced in the Tech mills. It will be worn by him when he appears before the legislature now in session, in the interest of the appropriations for the college.

W. O. Hart was in Monday and informed us that he was about done gathering.

Dr. T. L. Treadaway informed us this week that his son, Lester, who will graduate from the medical department of the State University at Galveston in June, would be interned in a San Antonio hospital.

A representative of the Treasury Department in Washington, is in Lubbock this week looking out a suitable location for a postoffice building.

DON'T WANT HIS BOY TO DRINK

Mr. O. O. McIntyre, a feature writer who specializes in comment upon New York night life in a starred article appearing in various papers, says: "If I had a growing son, nothing would make me happier than for him to be resolved firmly never to drink or smoke. I would know he was going to get more out of life than most folk, and I say this smoking a cigarette as I write. The most dependable, worth-while men are those who have never sowed a single oat. These moralizations come from the depths of bitter observation. In the past few years I have been observing four young friends of mine who do not drink. One is in Rome with a scholarship prize; another has been sent to South America to replace a young man who was recalled on account of drink. The third has been buying a place in California on the easy payment plan. Recently a boulevard was opened up past his place and he sold his property for five times the value. The fourth is still in the same job with little change but he will be heard from."

G. E. Burnett, business man of Plainview, was stopping at the Hot Brownfield last Thursday.

Tom Reddell representing the Russell Grader Co. of Texas, was here on business last week.

R. L. Knight, of Plains, passed through last Friday on his way to Albany.

A. Lee Noble, of Lorenzo, was a business visitor to our city Saturday.

W. F. Craddock, of Lubbock, and T. F. West, of Fort Worth, representing the West Grain Co., were here last week buying corn.

Atty. Chas. C. Crenshaw, of Lubbock, representing the defence in the Collins case, was down this week.

Wonderful Orchestra

Probably the largest orchestra in the world plays for the rajah of Java, says the Detroit News. It is his personal organization and has 1,200 members. One of the principal instruments in the band is a native device called the gamelon. It is a percussion instrument, and occidentals who have heard it say it defies description.

Pearl Fishers' Notion

For long ages it has been believed in the Orient that it is possible to "breed" pearls by keeping them in rice. There is no evidence to support this belief, but to this day the pearl fishers of Borneo place every near pearl they find in a bottle of rice.

Artificial Silk Popular

The output of artificial silk in 1925 was about 185,000,000 pounds. The product has become very popular and is putting up strong competition with real silk. It was invented by Count de Chardonnet in 1889.

LEVELLAND GRAMMAR SCHOOL DEDICATED

LEVELLAND, Jan. 19.—The Levelland Independent school board has received the new grammar school building just completed by the Leaverton Construction company of Lubbock. This is one of the finest buildings in West Texas, having an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,000.

At present, the enrollment of the school, is upwards of 500, and will fill the new building to overflowing, but the people in the district are very prompt to take care of the ever increasing influx of new people and will erect a high school building in the near future.

CECIL TIMS, 18, 15 KILLED BY TRUCK

Attempting to leap onto a motor truck driven by his older brother, Jessie, Cecil Tims, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Tims, of the New Hope community, was instantly killed on the Tims farm, 11 miles southeast of Lubbock yesterday morning.

After having driven some mules back into a pasture, the lad attempted to leap onto the truck while it was going, his hand slipped and he fell under the machine, sustaining a fractured skull. He died a few minutes after, never regaining consciousness.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church this afternoon, Rev. W. A. Bowen and Rev. W. R. Campbell, conducting the services. The boy is survived by his father and mother, and three brothers, Jesse, 22, Hubbard, 25, and N. C. 3.

The Tims family have been in Lubbock county about a year, moving to the New Hope community from Tuscola.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The Amarillo Post has the proud distinction of being the second largest Post in the State of Texas, and is giving San Antonio which is the largest Post, one of the hardest contests for the first place honors, since the organization of the American Legion, each and every ex-service man and woman of the 18th District and the Great West Plains, should throw every ounce of effort in assisting the Amarillo Post to lead the State of Texas in the largest number of membership, by making application for membership to the following: The Adjutant, Municipal Auditorium; Rasco's Auto Accessories, 5th and Tyler Sts.; The Imperial Barber Shop, 404 Polk Street.

CHEVROLET HAS LOW UPKEEP COST

Driving a Chevrolet car daily in the rough, hilly districts of Missouri for a total repair cost of $23.85 for 20,000 miles of driving over a period of six years is the record attained by Mrs. Olen Gentry, of Mill Grove, Mo.

The sturdy endurance of the Chevrolet never was attested better than through its popularity among those who live in the mountainous localities, according to Mrs. Gentry.

In August, 1920, Mrs. Gentry purchased a Chevrolet touring car and in December of 1926, the owner figured that it was about time to buy a new model. "Although my old car is still giving excellent service, I expect to turn it in soon on a new 1927 Chevrolet Coupe," Mrs. Gentry said.

The old car which she is now driving was purchased only after an earlier model Chevrolet had given her steady service from 1916 to 1920. Rough, rocky roads feature the mountain country and only cars with powerful motors, combined with staunch construction, are able to withstand the terrific grind of daily use, the owner says.

WANTED TO BE CURED!

Those who object, like the negro in this story, to the high fees of a good physician, do not always realize what they are paying for. The doctor in question was called out to attend an unknown patient. When he arrived he found that a decrepit negro wanted his attention.

The sick man first asked, "How much yo' charge, Doctah?"

"Five dollars a visit," said the other, and when the negro had gasped his surprise, he continued, "That includes, you know my time, experience advice and the medicine."

"A pore old niggah like me don't need all dem extras," remarked the patient. "Jist give me ten cents' worth of yo' cough med'cine, an' dat's enough fo' me."

'NO SPIK INGLIS' HEARD IN MEXICAN'S TRIAL

When the case of The State vs. M. Lucero, Mexican, charged with sale of intoxicating liquor, was called in criminal District court here Thursday morning, the court hit a snag when it was discovered that the interpreter, thought previously arranged for, was not found in the court room.

Nearly a dozen fellow citizens of the defendant, including several women, were in the court room as defense witnesses, and the most of them were unable to speak the English language. The court machinery was delayed for some time while arrangements were made for E. E. Silva, Mexican police officer in "Little Juarez" to act as interpreter.

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR

From the Meadow Review.

The marriage of Mr. Ernest Mitchell and Miss Anna Dobson, Monday was a surprise to the many friends of these splendid young people. They went to Brownfield and Judge H. R. Winston tied the nuptial knot. They will make Meadow their home, Ernest working in the garage of his father, G. T. Mitchell. All will join the Review in extending congratulations and offering best wishes for a happy and prosperous married life.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Allan Wingham led to Hymen's altar Miss Faye Timmons, Rev. H. C. Draper speaking the words that bound their lives together as husband and wife. The marriage came not as a surprise to their many friends, for it has been expected for some time, but all with one accord wish for them a long life of joy and happiness, in which felicitation the Review heartily joins. Wednesday Allan and his bride left for Young county to spend several days visiting an uncle of the bride, after which they will return to Meadow to make their home here.

One of the twin boys of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bragg, born some four months ago, died Sunday night and was laid to rest in the Meadow cemetery Monday. The little fellow had been sick for several days, and Dr. Moorhead saw him a few days before his death and gave medical attention. No serious symptoms were apparent, and he was thought to be doing all right, but Sunday night his spirit winged its flight to the ethereal realms. Thus another flower has been plucked from earth to be transplanted in the garden of paradise. The fond parents feel deeply the loss of this little jewel loaned to them for a time, but another star has been added to heaven's jewels to beckon them on. Hosts of friends will join the Review in extending sincere condolence in this hour of grief.

COMMUNITY SUICIDE

One of the strangest phenomena witnessed in most towns and small cities is the apparent eagerness with which many otherwise good citizens contribute to the tendency to commit community suicide.

These citizens will often show uncommon zeal in boosting any movement to obtain civic improvements, to promote the location of new industries, to secure better educational facilities, and so on. Yet many of these same proud boosters will deliberately engage in a practice which nullifies all their otherwise laudable efforts—and wonder why their town doesn't go ahead.

We refer to the suicidal habit of buying away from home.

The enormous growth of the mail order habit in recent years is largely responsible for the failure of many communities to make the progress which their natural advantage should make possible. The money that ought to be kept at home for the

A TRIBUTE TO THE UNKNOWN TEACHER

And what of teaching? Ah, there you have the worst paid, and the best rewarded of all the vocations. Dare not to enter it unless you love it. For the vast majority of men and women it has no promise of wealth or fame, but they, to whom it is dear for its own sake, are among the nobility of mankind.

I sing the praise of the unknown teacher. Great generals win campaigns, but it is the unknown soldier who wins the war.

Famous educators plan new systems of pedagogy, but it is the unknown teacher who delivers and guides the young. He lives in obscurity and contends with hardship. For him no trumpets blare, no chariots wait, no golden decorations are decreed. He keeps the watch along the borders of darkness and makes the attack on the trenches of ignorance and folly. Patient in his daily duty, he strives to conquer the evil powers which are the enemies of youth. He awakens sleeping spirits. He quickens the indolent, encourages the eager, and steadies the unstable. He communicates his own joy in learning and shares with boys and girls the best treasures of his mind. He lights many candles which, in later years, will shine back to cheer him. This is his reward.

Knowledge may be gained from books; but the love of knowledge is transmitted only by personal contact. No one has deserved better of the republic than the unknown teacher. No one is more worthy to be enrolled in a democratic aristocracy, "king of himself and servant of mankind."

expansion of local trade and industry is sent away to distant cities, never to return. This life-blood of prosperity is permitted to ebb away, through the indifference or thoughtlessness of the very persons who should set an example of local pride and loyalty.

A trifling saving here and there, usually more imaginary than real, is sufficient to cause the average citizen to forget his duty to his community and to himself, which if performed would mean more in the direction of local prosperity than all his other boosting efforts put together.

Why boost in one direction, while committing community suicide in another?

MASONIC OFFICE-HOLDERS WARRED ON BY MUSSOLINI

The extreme Fascisti organ, Il Fevere, continues bitterly attacking American intervention in Nicaragua, and, while supporting President Calles, of Mexico, criticizes the pope for putting the French organ, L'Action Francaise, on the index expurgatorius. It accuses the pope of "orientation" toward the radical Masonic government in France by this action.

BAPTISTS DETERMINE TO PAY OUT INVESTMENTS

For some years earnest consideration had been given to the best way of handling the disturbing indebtedness on various Texas Baptist institutions and on the State Executive Board. During the last year a large representative committee gave several months to the examination of numerous plans submitted. This committee composed of successful business men, dependable lawyers and responsible pastors, listened to proposals from some of the largest financial concerns of the entire country, offering to refund the combined sums over a period of years. But it was felt that we should not long continue to pay a stupendous sum of interest, however reasonable the rate, and that since these debts must be paid some time, the sooner the better. Therefore the Executive Board submitted to the Baptist General Convention meeting in San Antonio the following which was unanimously adopted:

"The auditors of our Convention Executive Board, Hutchinson and Smith, have made a careful analysis of the debts of the various institutions co-operating with this Convention, and the debts against the Convention itself, and from the latest statements furnished them by these institutions, they find the grand total of our denominational indebtedness in Texas to be $6,144,624.00. This includes $272,000.00 indebtedness of the Southwestern Seminary. Against his indebtedness, however, we have in general denominational assets, in the way of hospitals and schools, not including Buckner Orphan's Home, Simmons College, valued at above $12,000,000.00, to say nothing of endowment funds.

"It should be understood that this includes every kind of indebtedness against all our institutions and the Convention, such as bonded indebtedness, notes to banks, to individuals, bills payable and open accounts of every sort and character.

"After a careful survey of our general situation we have come to the conclusion that the time has arrived for Texas Baptists frankly to face the matter of the indebtedness that is against all our causes, and in a great, glorious and supreme effort, go afield and raise the money in cash and pledges to liquidate this indebtedness.

"It is probably not too much to say that there is no denomination anywhere that has such splendid, well ordered, God honoring and humanity serving institutions as have the Baptists of this great commonwealth. With our ten great schools, our Southwestern Seminary, our six hospitals, our orphanage, our State Baptist paper, our dozen or more summer encampments, for the most part owning splendid properties, and our Convention Executive Board with all its departments and various forms of missionary activities the Baptists of Texas have the facilities with which to make conquest of this great empire State of Jesus Christ and New Testament Christianity. For us to twaddle and hesitate, baffled and confused by our own cringing timidity, is to confess a weakness that will reproach us and that will bring certain and ultimate defeat to our Program of Christian service. The time is now here for our Zion to arise and put on her strength."

The unanimous adoption of this report, first by the Executive Board at 1 a. m. and next by the convention at 1:30 p. m., after prolonged consideration, forms undoubtedly one of the most thrilling acts of courage and consecration in the glorious history of Texas Baptists. Dr. Truett yielded to the call of his brethren to direct the special campaign in profound emotion, pledging not only the utmost of his endeavor, but in addition to the tenth of his income for current local and denominational budgets in our cooperative program one-fourth of the income for the debt-paying campaign. Wires, notably one from a Seminary student on $70 a month, pledged the same. Several preachers with moderate salaries, voluntarily enrolled on the list of those who promised to give one thousand dollars. Never while life lasts can men and women there present get away from the high vision, the heroic resolution and the spirit-spell of that decision hour. Out from the convention they went with complete renunciation of a Christianity de luxe for the re-living of a Christianity apostolic.—Texas Baptist Conquest Campaign.

This Six-Room Bungalow Adapts Self to Any Lot

THERE is much to be said in favor of the one-story dwelling, and when the floor plan is as expertly arranged as in this Colonial bungalow the usual objections of lack of privacy and long distances to walk, are avoided. This house may run either lengthwise or across the width of the lot. The exterior is of stained grey shingles with either a green shingled or tiled roof. The trimmings should be white and the shutters green to harmonize with the roof.

The three bedrooms are well shut off from the rest of the house. The large open porch or sunroom can be made to open off either the living or dining room. The kitchen has the desired built-in features, including the useful breakfast nook. The cost of this house can be materially reduced by omitting the basement and allowing space on the main floor for a small boiler room. The walls and roof also are sheathed with celotex to keep the temperature at comfort point the year round.

A FACT THAT SHOULD BE A WARNING

The world consumes each year 15,000,000 bales of American cotton.

The crop for 1926 is estimated at 18,400,000 bales. This is 2,900,000 bales more than will be consumed for the year. Add to this 3,000,000 bales carried over from last year's crop and we have 5,900,000 bales already produced for the next year's crop, (1927).

Deduct 5,900,000 from the normal of 15,500,000 for the next year and we have a crop that should be produced in 1927 of 9,600,000 bales.

If that is all that can be produced next year that will be profitable why produce any more? If the United States were to produce next year another 18,000,000 bales—? Well you know what the result would be—DISASTER!

Shall we walk into the pit with our eyes open? Shall we knowingly bring certain disaster upon ourselves? Think it over! Diversify! Plant something to eat for both family and stock!

WHEN LIGHTS GO OUT THE ANSWER IS EASY

When the electric lights go out in a home it is nearly always because a fuse has burned out in the fuse box in the home, says the Texas Public Service Information Bureau.

Electrical service in a home, factory or store is arranged in circuits in order to so distribute the load of electrical energy carried that the small wires will not be overloaded and become overheated by carrying too much current. For each of these circuits there are two fuses, generally grouped in what is known as the fuse-box. If one of these fuses is burned out, it will appear discolored, smoky, under its isinglass window, and must be replaced.

Provided you have supplied yourself with extra fuses, you can probably do all that is necessary to restore your lights. Open the main switch, unscrew the fuse, remove it from the socket in the fuse-box, and put in one of your spare fuses. If the new one blows out at once, which happens at rare intervals, call an electrician.

You can buy fuses at nearly all electrical and hardware stores. You should never be without them but if when your lights fail you find yourself with no extra fuses, call the electric light company and a service man will hasten to your relief.

ANOTHER AMERICAN TELEPHONE ACHIEVEMENT

The American telephone system has been a wonder for many years. It now announces trans-Atlantic radio telephone service between New York and London, the service for the present being limited to the metropolitan areas of these two cities.

It is not necessary to go to a special station to place trans-Atlantic calls. It will be possible for anyone at any telephone located in the New York metropolitan area, to talk to any person at any telephone in the London metropolitan area.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company transmitted its first transoceanic speech in 1915. In 1923 one-way messages were telephoned to London. Since then further improvements have made the present service possible.

New York City has three times as many telephones as London, more than all Great Britain and over twice as many as France. The telephone, like the automobile, is a register of economic well-being, and use of these articles in the United States so far surpasses their general use in other countries that there is no comparison.

Pampa—Increase in the demand for telephone service here has made it necessary to plan for considerable improvements and expansion of the system.
