By the Secretary

A meeting of the Air Line Highway Association was held at Rotan last Friday. The attendance was good and included representatives from Albany west to Brownfield. The principal business before the meeting was clearing the situation regarding the gap in Kent county, and after the matter was taken up it was found that the County Engineer of that county had his surveys completed covering the line west to Clairmont to the Garza county line and that he would proceed immediately to survey the route to the Fisher county line to a junction with the Rotan highway. It seems that the Highway Department is going to require Kent county to open the road and grade it before they will match dollars with them, but the route will be in good condition for travel before the present tourist season closes. The present and past delay in opening Kent county, was because they were fighting an injunction of the purchaser of their bonds, but the suit was withdrawn as soon as the Legislature validated the bonds. They have $200,000 with which to complete this section of the route.

Major Hemphill, who is the engineer of the district and Mr. Donaldson, superintendent, were present and assured us the Air Line was the favored one across the State, but it was up to the people who reside along the route to get busy and conform to requirements. Among other things they mentioned the fact that a highway was being promoted south of us and that the towns effected by it were going to put the grade in good condition before asking for maintenance. It was stated that it was most to near the Bankhead for it to be favored as the principal route and later receive Federal designation, but that it was possible for the route to be placed either north or south, and it was just up to us as to whether we allowed ourselves to lose it.

It is planned by the secretary subject to approval of the directors, that a questionnaire be mailed out to every farmer in the county, with the request that it be answered and returned. The information desired is very similar to that required by the Government on farm census and among other things is needed for the purpose of being able to answer inquiries of prospective investors in a more intelligent manner.

The opening of a highway between Plains, Yoakum county, and Lea county, New Mexico, has been completed, but the Commissioners of each of the counties are supposed to be in favor of it. It is hoped before another month has passed that it will be an accomplished fact.

The office has a fairly good supply of agricultural bulletins but due to a brisk demand we are short on a few subjects covering on poultry and dairy cattle. An order for a supply has been placed and will probably be here within the next two weeks.

SEMINOLE LADY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

One of the most serious automobile accidents in the history of Gaines county occurred last Saturday afternoon when Mrs. L. D. Richards and her daughter Evelyn, accompanied by Beatrice Doss, Evelyn Heard, Mildred Moon and Anna Beth Curry, were returning from Lamesa. As they were coming down the incline near Soap Wells, the car, a four passenger Buick coupe, in some manner became unmanageable and turned completely over.

The five girls escaped in a seemingly miraculous manner, without a scratch or injury, but Mrs. Richards' arm was caught under the car and mangled horribly. After being carried to a sanitarium at Lamesa, a thorough emamination was made and it was necessary in order to save her life, to amputate the left hand and arm at the elbow. She has remained in the hospital all week suffering intensely, but is doing as well as can be expected under the conditions. —Seminoles Sentinel.

STEEL REMOVED FROM EYE OF TOKIO MAN

Tom Andrews, of Tokio, while at work on a car had the misfortune of getting a piece of steel in his eye. The steel penetrated to the inside of the eye ball and remained there for about two weeks. It pained him so much that he came to see Dr. Hutchinson, who removed the steel with an especially devised magnet. —Lubbock Sanitarium News.

BIG COMPANY WANTS TECH COLLEGE ENGINEERS

Lubbock, May.—Dean W. J. Miller of the engineering department of the Texas Technological College has received an offer from the United Fruit Company for several engineers to go to South America. The initial salary is good, with all expenses paid. Other similar offers have been made by large companies for graduates of the engineering school.

What would some families read if those solicitors didn't load them up with magazines "to help pay my way through college."

Many Shifts Made In Filling Stations Here

Craig & McClish, who for years have been conducting the Quality Filling Station, moved just across the street this week into the Moore Building, where they may be found by their customers and friends in the future. They are going to carry about the same line, except will handle Texas instead of Magnolia Products, and will have quite a large storage and display capacity.

The firm of Miller & Gore, who have been located for some time in the Dodge Bros. building one block north of the square, have taken the place of Craig & McClish in the Magnolia stand, and from now on will dish out Magnolia products. This is another very fine firm, and we are sure will do a better business in the much better location.

The firm of Brown & Benton have also been doing some improving of late, having painted their gasoline pumps white, which is the color of the Continental Co. property, instead of red, the old Texhonia colors. The paint job added much to the appearance of their place.

A. L. Burnett has sold the Brownfield Service Station to Wade Headstream, who took charge Friday.

State Rep Whitaker and Wife Here Tuesday

State Representative Emmett L. Whitaker and wife, of Lamesa, passed through Brownfield Tuesday A.M. on their way to Seagraves to attend the Baptist Workers convention at that place, and while here called on the Herald office. Mrs. Whitaker explained that it almost peeved her by his persistent stopping at each printing office when passing through the towns and cities.

Not only is he our representative, but when not attending to that office which is not often, Emmett is a jamb up good printer and editor, and also a Baptist parson, and is now holding down a pastorate, but with all these irons, he is making good.

He will leave for Austin in a week or two to take up his duties, he informed us, at the called session of the legislature.

MISDIRECTED EDUCATION

C. L. Bailey, educational director of the sheet steel trade, in an address before the Vocational Education section of the National Education Association, presented some very interesting statistics which more or less condemn our present system of education. Mr. Bailey took as an illustration a Midwest industrial city of 250,000 people. In this city 2 1/2 per cent of the population are classed as professional and 17 per cent are engaged in manufacturing, with the industries paying 55 per cent of the taxes. He then called attention to the curriculum of the public schools which proved a foundation on the basis of the completion of the high school course. Of those attending high school 96 per cent go into business or become wage earners, and only 4 per cent go to college. Using these statistics as a basis Mr. Bailey argued that the public schools were operated largely for the 4 per cent of the pupils who go to college and not for the 96 per cent who become producers or wage earners.

This criticism has often been made and there is much truth in it. While it is true that early days of school are valuable because of the training given the mind, yet far too many are passed on into the active world utterly unfit to earn a living. Training of the mind, of course, is the chief aim of education, but this training could be given just as well through instruction of something useful as through the medium of courses which aim at the college degree. The public, at great expense, educates lawyers, doctors, dentists, engineers, and others for the professions, but little attention is given the other 96 per cent of the boys and girls who, after all, make up the bulk of our citizens and produce the greater part of the tax money which supports our schools and colleges.

Vocational education is attracting more and more attention and thought. The drift is in that direction, and some day, perhaps, the 96 per cent will be given an opportunity.—Farm & Ranch.

It is estimated that 87 per cent of the statutes are erected to men who were once called cranks.

Amarilloans Invade Brownfield Tuesday

For some time if you have been a reader of the Amarillo Daily News, you have noticed that their business men have been planning a trade trip to the great South Plains, and they made good Tuesday morning just after nine o'clock when some 200 of them, headed by a splendid band, appeared on the scene of action. The train made a night run from Snyder to Seagraves.

Immediately after alighting from the train here, march formation was formed, headed by the band, and marched down Hardin street to the band stand in the court house park. After a short concert, Judge Geo. W. Neill in his usual witty style welcomed the visitors and made it very plain that Brownfield was rearing to trade with Amarillo, as it was at our front door, and especially if they could manage to stretch their credit just a bit more than other towns.

One of their number in pleasing manner responded and said they were happy to be in Brownfield for the first time and from the reception accorded wanted to come again some time. He said he realized that something more than just a visit and hand shake was expected to be delivered by Amarillo if real cordial trade relations were established, but that she was prepared for that. He closed by asking us to visit them any time and receive their welcome in return.

After a hearty song, delivered with a vim from the Amarilloans to our city, they entrained again and left for Meadow, Ropes and Lubbock.

Hunters Warned Not to Kill Upland Plover

There is no open season on the Bartramian sandpiper, commonly known as the upland plover, in spite of the fact that a bag limit is printed on the back of a hunting license. This statement is made by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, which has direct charge of the enforcement of the migratory bird treaty act and its regulations. Information has reached the department to the effect that hunters in Texas have been killing these birds under the impression that there was an open season on them, gained from a provision on the back of their license. For the benefit of those who may be misinformed, the Biological Survey states that under the provision of the migratory-bird treaty act and the regulations thereunder there is a close season throughout the United States on upland plover, and persons killing these birds at any time during the year are liable to arrest and prosecution in Federal court.

A TRUST THAT FAILED

During a campaign for the immunization of children against diphtheria in a small town in eastern New York, a mother indicated her disbelief in the merits of the procedure and refused to permit her little girl to be immunized. Later the child contracted diphtheria and died. There appeared in a local paper a memorial poem, written by bereaved relatives, which ran in part as follows:

"At eve she talked with us, and all Her words most cheerful were; But in the morning she was not, For God had taken her."

Our sympathy goes out to the parents, unwise as we believe them to have been, and we hesitate to criticize. They acted "according to their lights." At the same time we feel inclined to protest against the shifting of responsibility to the shoulders of an all-wise God. To us it appears that this mother and father were entrusted with the care and protection of a life, and, through ignorance and misinformation, failed in their trust. . . . from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath." —New York Health News.

FIND DYNAMITE CAPS ALL THAT'S CLAIMED FOR 'EM

Young Dawson Jeter decided upon a tour of investigation last Sunday afternoon, upon the merits of a dynamite cap, and after sticking a match to it, discovered that he was minus the flesh on four fingers and had a small gash on the side of his abdomen.

The cap not satisfied with exploits they say, tore off the seat of another party's pants and gave him a start in life. A "sweater" party had congregated as usual that afternoon at Mr. Jeter's home near Key, and from all accounts they dissembled without ceremony. Fortunately Dawson was not badly hurt. He found this capful about it being all looked, but it was more than it appeared.—Lamesa Reporter.

191 Cans of Cream Shipped in One Week

The writer happened to be at the depot Monday morning and as it was just before train time, cream cans were stacked here and yon all over and about the platform. Upon asking station agent R. L. Harris the number informed us that there were 92 of them, and merely represented the Saturday purchases of our three produce firm, as a shipment had been made by them Friday. Ninety-one cans were shipped out last week up to Friday, so 191 cans really represented a week's business, and Mr. Harris said it was increasing every week by big bounds. He said it is just getting started.

Cream checks have become a great medium of exchange here, and many good big families are paying their expenses with them, and some are putting money in the banks from cream checks and poultry products together.

We can remember back on the black waxy land when a farmer almost considered it a disgrace to carry eggs or butter to town for sale, but that day is gone forever, and to find one now that don't carry eggs or cream to market is the exception rather than the rule.

Well, Here's Another Egg Story this Week

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wilson and little daughter, who live out on the old Farmer Chicken ranch, were in to see us Saturday and brought in two eggs for us to see, and they were the midget and giant of the egg family. The small egg is produced each day by a black Minarca pullet just passed 4 months old. She has been laying for some time, and just came from an egg shell herself about the Christmas holidays. The egg measured 4 3/4 inches in circumference the long way of the egg.

The other egg which was a thumper for size measured 7 1/2 inches the long way in circumference, and was laid by a Rhode Island hen every other day. It looked more like a goose egg than hen eggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are new comers to Terry, and we predict that they are going to make good, for they are not one crop or one thing idea people, but believe in producing many things on the farm, taking great pride in their poultry and livestock.

A JOKE WITH A COME-BACK

Several articles have come to our attention recently of a certain seed house, which broadcasts programs as well as advertising, the latter of the products handled by the broadcasting house, which is one of the best of arguments for spending your money with the home merchants.

A farmer sent to the seed house for some seed. After it arrived he divided with a neighbor and just for a joke, but unknown to the seed house, the neighbor sent some of the seed just received back for a test.

The seed house, selling the seed had recommended it as highest, almost perfect seed.

On receiving the sample of its own seed, not knowing it to be the case, the reply to the farmer stated he should not plant the seed under any circumstances, that it was of the poorest and would give no yield and might infect the field, etc., etc.

After all of this, of course, it recommended that he buy his seed from the concern doing the analyzing.

This story isn't a dream. It is founded on absolute facts. Think it over, and see if you don't think it would be to your advantage to buy from the home merchant.—Tucumcari (N.M.) News.

THERE MAY BE DANGER IN KITE FLYING

The annual warning against the danger of flying kites in the vicinity of high voltage power lines, has been issued by power companies.

The greatest menace is in the use of fine copper wires in the place of kite strings. If the wires should come in contact with the high voltage line it would act as a perfect conductor or between the fatal current and the kite pilot. The power companies urge that under no conditions should boys be permitted to use wire in place of string.

Kites should always be flown in wide unobstructed fields as far as possible from power lines. If for any reason the kite should come in contact and entangled with wires it should be left absolutely alone. Linemen will do the rescue work gladly rather than have any boy risk the danger of fatal contact with the power line.

Dr. J. R. Singleton was re-elected mayor of Tahoka by a small majority recently. The first election resulted in a tie between he and his opponent.

Still Drilling on the Inglefield Well

The drillers are still pounding away on the Inglefield well, although the progress is necessarily slow. With the hole 4,800 feet deep and the oil standing more than 4,000 feet in the well, it is no easy matter to make much speed. And when all this is added to the extremely hard lime in which they are now drilling, it is easy to understand how the completion of this well is a matter of many days of slow, painstaking work.

Last night the bottom of the hole was 4,820 feet with the oil standing within a hundred feet of the top. The hardness of the lime makes the dressing of the bit of frequent occurrence and with progress impeded by the oil in the hole something like five or six feet a day is all the progress that can be made.

The bit has now reached the depth at which the Maljamar sand is expected to be encountered at any time, and when this is done, a gusher of oil is expected. Of course it is not definitely known the exact depth at which the present hard lime will be passed through, but everything points to its being within the next few feet, but the work of drilling will be carried on until this has been done.

The well continues to indicate that it is a commercial producer as it now stands. While no effort has been made to test it out, and only what oil that has been needed for fuel has been swabbed from the well, it has never failed to respond and the production of 100 to 150 barrels of oil has had little effect upon the depth at which the oil stands in the hole.—Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

SEAGRAVES BABY DROWNS IN TANK LAST WEEK

Urban J. Hicks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Hicks, was drowned in a tank Thursday afternoon at their home about six miles southeast of town.

Mrs. Hicks and the baby were lying on the bed, and Mrs. Hicks being very tired, dropped off to sleep, and the baby unhooked the window screen by the bed and crawled through the window. On waking Mrs. Hicks missed the baby and going to the tank found him about two feet in the water floating on his face. Dr. Bradford was summoned immediately and everything was done to restore the little one's life but to no avail.

Interment will be made this (Friday) afternoon in the Seagraves cemetery. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the entire community in this sad hour.—Seagraves Signal.

C.M.T.C. PLAY AND AMUSEMENT

"All work and no play, etc." you all know the rest. But, C. M. T. Campers are far from being "dull boys" at the start of camp and, during the thirty days, care is taken that every possible means is used for their entertainment as well as for their instruction and exercise.

Everyone knows that athletics and sports are a part of the C. M. T. C. programs, but what else is offered in the way of relaxation and entertainment?

In resources for entertainment the camps do not differ greatly. All have Community Houses with hostesses, libraries, reading rooms, etc. Hostesses do much for the boys in providing the feminine elements.

What was available in one camp last summer will be a far measure for what will be given at all camps this summer.

Thirty-five afternoons, evenings, or Sundays (after religious services) were given to real entertainment and recreation. This is what the boys attended:—

Four dances, (Saturday evenings); Eleven movies (four by Red Cross); Five band concerts and musical events;

Seven vaudeville and theatrical entertainments;

Three visits to amusements parks, (1 Big League Baseball Game); Two visits to historic points of interest;

Three social teas (one including parents and friends).

RANDALL COUNTY BONDS SOLD RECENTLY

Canyon, April.—Randall County's $250,000 paving bond issue was sold this week to a New Orleans company. Randall county was granted State and Federal aid this week by the State Highway Commission to the amount of two-thirds of the cost of the paving between Canyon and Amarillo. The exact route of the highway will probably be chosen within the next ten days and work will begin at the earliest possible moment.

If the women aren't careful they'll win so much freedom that the men will cease to feel any responsibility for them.

Fire Boys Make Record Run Tuesday Night

Ben Hurst, one of the city councilmen, and also a member of the volunteer firemen, "planted" a fire of old usings and tubes between the Herald office and the Commerce Hotel Tuesday night about 8:30, and gave the fire alarm.

As the writer happened to be in his office at the time, Mr. Hurst asked us to time the boys, saying the previous best record was three minutes. Just the second the fire siren made its first blast, we looked at our watch and just two and one half minutes from that time water was being put on the fire from the hose. The run was something like three blocks from the fire station.

We should be proud of our fire boys, for they are risking life and limb to protect your property and are getting nothing for it—few if any thanks—unless some one actually has a fire. As a result of their good record with the fire hose, your insurance in the city limits have been reduced 15 per cent recently, and you are not paying more than half as much as you did two years ago and in some instances about a third as much. We believe the town should tender them a banquet and do many good turns for them.

A few of the fire fans congregated, but the crowd is rapidly diminishing as they have been fooled so much of late with practice fires.

At the time the alarm was turned in no doubt many of the boys were at home and the scene as it by magic, home and maybe at supper, but they

FLOOD DAMAGE MAY SHORTEN COTTON CROP

Uncle Sam starts tardily to survey the damage to cotton crop prospects wrought by floods in the South. The report of the survey is likely to make considerable difference in cotton future prices.

A great deal of cotton land in the South undoubtedly has been eliminated from production for this year. Even in districts not overflowed, the heavy rains have so delayed planting as to reduce the prospect of yield.

It is, perhaps fortunate to cotton producers as a whole that the floods came just at the time they did. Little opportunity is left for increasing the yield in other districts, and the effect of the floods will not be offset in this manner.—Star

HOW FAKE AUCTIONS GET YOUR MONEY

By W. R. MOREHOUSE

Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association
(This is one of a series of articles exposing the wiles of sharpers who are after your money.)

NEARLY everyone is ready "to take a fling" at getting something for nothing or at least for less than it is worth. Because of this many are duped into paying more than regular market prices for things they buy. This class of people is especially susceptible to the appeal of anything resembling an auction. Fake auctions with the cards stacked against the buyer are very common. They rank high among the fraudulent schemes of the country.

The "here today and gone tomorrow" auction faker rents a fine looking house in some high-class section of the city in which he plans to operate. He furnishes this house with the cheapest imitations of high-class furnishings, with here and there a fine piece which is to serve for bait. Certain pieces are alleged antiques with a thread of glorious history behind them. Of others it is claimed that they have been handed down for generations, originating with some person noted in history or with some famous Southern family. Of other pieces it is maintained that they are made of rare and precious woods imported from far across the sea. The overstuffed furniture, it is claimed, is all high grade of standard manufacture.

Regardless of its superiority and antiquity, the furniture must be sold at once, for the owner is compelled to take an extended trip, the family physician having ordered travel and a change of climate as a means of saving his life. Nothing is to be spared and the deep slashings of the auctioneer's axe must go on with no price too low. Individual pre-auction sales, of course, will be arranged for persons who are unable to attend the auction. The day of the sale is here. Purchasers are arriving. They are met at the door by the woman member of the outfit—a dramatic person who knows when to shed tears at the thought of having her happy home broken up and her valuable furnishings torn from her. She tells her sad story—how she must leave her home and go to distant lands with her husband whose health is broken and life in danger. But she is resigned to her "awful calamity" and will sell all her lovely furniture even at a great sacrifice.

As she directs attention to certain pieces of furniture her voice quavers. She almost sobs aloud as she names the price she is forced to accept. "Less than half the original cost, but price is no object. We must take the train tomorrow," and she wipes a tear from her eye. Fully convinced the sale is genuine, and sympathizing with the unfortunate woman, buyers clamor for the furniture.

But no sooner are the articles transferred from their setting in the slightly darkened rooms of their original owner and displayed in the sunlight of the purchaser's home, than the truth about the sale begins to dawn in the mind of each new owner. Close examination reveals that evidently this wonderful collection of furniture was but odds and ends and unsalable pieces picked up from second-hand stores by these fly-by-night fakers. Some proves to be the rankest of imitations of the cheapest grade, and the overstuffed is so poorly constructed that it squeaks and weaves under the lightest weight.

The Birds Have Flown
When those who have been cheated rush back to the house the next day, intent on making it "hot for the faker,"

(A future article will present means to foil crooked promoters' wiles and tell how to separate good from bad investments.)

World's Bee Market
Everyone knows what they will pay for a pound of sugar or a pack of cigarettes, but when it comes to buying bees, or half frogs, or fish, the expert knowledge is most needed. The biggest bee market is at Vancouver, B. C., where the price of a pound of sugar is 1.25, and a pack of cigarettes is 1.00. The price of a half frog is 1.00, and a fish is 1.00.

they find hanging in the front window a sign, "For Rent." The birds have flown, without leaving any address. Fake auctions are not exclusive to residences, but are sometimes staged in stores. We have reports of a certain furniture firm that failed, having on hand stock invoiced at $42,000. An auction sale was announced. As usual the stock must be closed out to satisfy creditors within a few days, regardless of cost. On the windows appeared glaring announcements of big bargains. Although represented as a legitimate sale, it had the earmarks of an auction by Messrs. Catch 'em and Skin 'em.

An investigation of the store made six months later disclosed that its stock was then larger than the day it announced the auction. Its sales in the interim had exceeded $500,000. The facts are that two trucks had backed up to the rear of the store nightly and unloaded new merchandise, principally odd lines and job lots picked up here and there at a bargain. Under the guise of a legitimate auction, or private sale at auction prices, fourteen times as much furniture was sold in the six months as the store contained at the time of the failure. Comparison of sale prices disclosed that victims were persuaded to buy liberally on the assurance they were getting sacrifice prices, when as a matter of fact they were actually paying from five to 25 per cent more than reliable stores were charging for better goods.

Fake auctions and private sales are used not only for furniture but also in the sale of jewelry and other merchandise. The lesson which this story teaches is that there is nothing to be gained by patronizing such sales. On the other hand, there is a better than 50-50 chance of sustaining a loss.

Not all auctions are fraudulent, for some are conducted fairly and honestly, but before you draw your savings from the bank and spend them for auction goods it will pay you to get the facts. For your own protection make it an unbreakable rule to confine your expenditures and investments to reliable firms and individuals. In dealing with them you are assured a square deal.

"Wise Ben Franklin"
"I made it a rule to forbear all direct contradiction to the sentiments of others, and all positive assertions of my own," wrote Benjamin Franklin in his autobiography. "I even forbid myself the use of every word or expression in the language that imported a fixed opinion, such as certainly, undoubtedly, etc., and I adopted, instead of them, I conceive, I apprehend, or I imagine a thing to be so or so; or it so appears to me at the present. When another asserted something that I thought an error, I denied myself the pleasure of contradicting him abruptly, and of showing immediately some absurdity in his proposition; and in answering I began by observing that in certain cases or circumstances his opinion would be right, but in the present case there appeared or seemed to me some difference, etc. I soon found the advantage of this change in my manner; the conversation I engaged in went on more pleasantly. The modest way in which I proposed my opinion procured them a reader reception and less contradiction; I had less modification when I was found to be in the wrong, and I more easily prevailed with others to give up their mistakes, and join with me when I happened to be in the right."

The Crucible
The passing over from one year to the next offers opportunity for stock-taking or inventory-making in life. What interest in service has my life yielded? Life has been considered by some one as doing business under the firm name of "Soul & Company." Soul is the senior partner. Body is the associate. January first is the time to set down the income and the outgo of the character, to consider how life's business prospers; to determine whether "Soul & Company" are rich in the coin of heaven or are facing normal insolvency.—Cheesman A. Herrick.

PRE-NUPTIAL AGREEMENTS

Two states of the Union—South Dakota and North Dakota—are said to be contemplating legislation making illegal pre-nuptial agreements insisted upon by Catholic authorities in cases where a Catholic man or woman has been about to marry a person outside that church, which agreements stipulate that all children born of the union shall be trained in the Catholic faith and observances.

The contemplated measures recite that: "Such pre-birth contracts are contrary to all rights of citizenship guaranteed by the Federal Constitution. Such compulsory sectarian training tends to warp the minds of children, to prevent their education to effective citizenship, to nullify and eventually destroy our Constitution, and bring about a union of Church and State."

Texas produces 19 per cent of all the natural gas output in the United States—about 190 million gallons a year.

The production of natural gas in Texas amounts to about 130 billion cubic feet a year and is increasing very rapidly.

Electric power plants in Texas showed a gain of 27 per cent in the amount of electricity produced in February this year as compared with February last year.

Every major division of Texas is now either producing petroleum and natural gas or is potential in such industry.

The extent of electric transmission lines in Texas is expected to amount to more than 5,000 miles by the end of 1927.

Strictly Business

A celebrated Welsh basso profundo after years of fame, returned to his native village in the wilds of Cardiganshire. A charity concert was arranged, and the world-famous virtuoso was billed to sing "The Village Blacksmith." Just before the concert a local supporter came around to the artist's dressing room.

The visitor approached the artist and said: "I understand that you are going to sing a song, 'The Village Blacksmith.' Well, I'm telling you now that I am the village blacksmith and I want to say that if by any chance you get an encore, will you shove in an extra verse to say that I also let out hicks on 'Ire at sixpence an hour?'—'Taffy Tales From Welsh Wales.'"

Good Reading

Good literature has a charm in comparable, but it has also a power immeasurable in the forming or transforming of a nation as of an individual character. The people that have the cleanest, healthiest literature will become the cleanest and healthiest people. A good thought wisely expressed and thoughtfully applied is priceless for its endurance. Throw it on the winds and it will find its source; sink it in the deepest water and it will reach its haven, for the noblest thoughts are the breath of Almightyness, and remain imperishable to the end of time and beyond.—Exchange.

Asked for It

Said the teacher: "Now, boys, quadruped and biped, you know, are two kinds of animals. Quadruped, animal with four legs, such as cow, elephant and horse. Biped, animal with two legs, such as—well, ah— Yes, there is a biped"—pointing to a picture of a goose on the wall—"and I am a biped, and you are all bipeds. Now, what am I?"

A breathless pause, then one of the bipeds answered, "A goose, sir!"

Official paper of Terry County.

Gov. Dan Moody was considered more of just somebody to beat the Fergusons a year ago than he was for what he might be worth or what he might accomplish, but things are popping up every day to establish him in the minds of the people as a real man within himself to be admired for himself. He has recently sit down hard on some of the special tax propositions that some are constantly advocating, and more recently has had a say about a huge road bond issue by the State that was not pleasing to the advocates of the bond issue. It was predicted that the old politicians and the big daines would run Dan, but nothing has proven further from the real facts in the case. Dan Moody is now, as always, a man without a boss unless it be Mrs. Moody.

The Herald is of the opinion that Secretary Shelton is earning his salary in his promotion of highways alone, if he were absolutely doing nothing else, for he is constantly after new routes that would have any probability of bringing any additional people to or through Brownfield and Terry county. These however, are only a very small portion of Mr. Shelton's duties, and he should have the backing of the entire community in the many good things he is putting over for the town. He is your secretary, so call him in and talk over matters with him if you have a new and better idea, and don't knock on what is trying to be done.

The Lynn County News tried to poke a little fun at our egg printing story in a recent issue, and ended by asking what we were drinking when we wrote that article. Well, Hill, we have another pretty lively egg story in this issue for your perusal, and we might hint while we are at it that just because we write a lot about eggs is no reason that we should be suspicious of drinking egg-nog. For while hen eggs are common in old Terry, our officers have made the hog about as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. Let the eggs roll on.

According to the Leader, they have an ordinance in that New Mexico city forbidding public dances, which we must say sounds rather strange in this day of much dancing and all sorts of dances. But the fact that they do not have them over there wouldn't have one iota of influence on us if we contemplated moving to Lovington. No sir, dancing and dances do not worry us in the least.

Miss Annie Lois Easley, former county nurse, is here this week visiting with her many friends.

CHEVROLET SALES SHOW ANOTHER BIG INCREASE

A tremendous increase in retail deliveries of new Chevrolet automobiles throughout the country during the first two months of 1927 as compared with the same period of 1926 is shown in the following report compiled by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The magnitude of this increase is indicated in reports from thirty-two of the most important trading areas in the United States and shows an average increase of 97.4% in these centers for the first two months of 1927 as compared with 1926.

The increase is striking evidence of the country-wide and constantly mounting demand for the Chevrolet car—a demand which caused the Chevrolet Motor Company to reach a new high peak of production during February of this year of 85,821 cars and still further marking the company's pre-eminence as the world's largest manufacturers of gear shift automobiles.

The fellow who carried a baby on foot-back from Mississippi to O'Donnell, thinking his sister was there, and then missed her, is getting lots of publicity, and if the case was not so sad, many of us married men who have had more or less experience on that score, wonder if he would, with his vast experience, very much mind turkey trotting an infant up and down the room at midnight with its tummy pressed against his right shoulder. But many men with large families of colicky children have waited the floor to an equal distance of the circumference of the globe—to hear them tell it.

BROWNFIELD NOW FREE SMALLPOX SAYS BELL

City Health Officer

The Seagraves Signal recently celebrated its 5th birthday. While not even aged as papers go, it is accomplishing much for Seagraves and its trade territory, so we say long live the Signal and its usefulness, and may its shadow never grow less.

We had a letter Saturday from Miss Belle Williamson, Herald employee, stating that she and the Welch family were having a delightful vacation in California, but she thought they would soon be ready to come back to old Terry.

A large crowd greeted Rev. Sam Malone, of Abilene at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night. Sam is editor of the West Texas Baptist, and was editor of the Semmoie Sentinel when we came to Brownfield in 1909.

Rev. and Mrs. Darby, of Wilson, passed through Monday on their way to Seagraves to attend the Brownfield Association Baptist Workers convention. Rev. Darby is pastor of the Wilson Baptist church.

WHO PAYS THE BILL?

The editor of the Los Angeles Times, one of the world's great newspapers, in speaking of advertising, says:

"Advertising is no longer something which benefits the man with goods to sell at the expense of the man who buys them."

"Advertising has so nurtured competition and has thereby improved commercial products that its principal beneficiary has become the man who buys."

"Advertising has, in general, so extensively adopted the policy of honesty, sincerity and conservatism as to be accepted at face value by nearly every reader of the public prints."

"The dishonest advertisement gets knocked out of the modern newspaper or magazine office just as quickly and heartily as does the dishonest news item or the plagiarized article."

"Advertising has become one of the greatest literary arts and it is enlisting as 'copy-writers' such masters of the written word as Irvin S. Cobb and such famous illustrators as the Lelendecker Bros., Chas. D. Mitchell, Arthur William Brown, and the like."

Hard to Stop Legend Once Started on Way

It is rather interesting to watch a legend in the course of growth, remarks the Manchester Guardian and cites the case of the ancient chalice which was recently found and which after a hectic newspaper career is now so far advanced that it is honored by some as the cup that served the Lord at the Last Supper. It was a similar jumping at conclusions which involved medieval legend makers in some hopeless tangles, Pierre Van Passa comments, in the Atlanta Constitution. The classical case is that of the Eleven Thousand Virgins of Cologne. Diggings in the Twelfth century brought to light a big collection of human bones. An ecstatic woman proclaimed them at once to be the remains of the Eleven Thousand martyrs. Further search showed the bones of men were among the piles. The ecstatic lady was not put out. She declared at once that certain ecclesiastics had been put to death with the virgins. Worse followed. The bones of children were found. Were the seers defected? By no means. Entire families had been put to death with the 11,000, they said. Modern research made an end to the whole farce by establishing the fact that the bones were those of the first Roman colonists in Cologne and that they had been buried in a catacomban cemetery.

MRS. SMITH ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE PARTY

On Friday afternoon, April 29th, Mrs. Fred Smith very gracefully entertained the Idle Wives Bridge Club at three-thirty. The guests began to play on time and enjoyed every minute allotted them. In the final count, Mrs. Roy Winger held the high score receiving a lovely silk jersey. Next high score prize was a pretty Italian scene painting done in predominating colors of blue. This was beautiful in a frame of blue also. Mrs. R. L. Bowers received the prize.

Assisting ladies and the hostess served a delicious salad course, consisting of chicken salad, pickles, several varieties of sandwiches, potato chips, whole tomatoes, and iced tea. Playing Bridge were Mesdames Joe J. McGowan, A. R. Brownfield, R. L. Bowers, M. L. Copeland, Tom May, Brownfield, W. A. Bell, D. B. DuBois, A. A. Sawyer, O. W. Fagala, James Miller, W. H. Dallas and Miss Margaret Bell.

SENIOR CLASS DAY

At early dawn the Senior Class in company with Miss Mary Perkins, class sponsor, departed Friday morning for an all day pleasure and outing. They camped for their three meals gypsy fashion. Arriving at Two Draw Lake, Post, Texas, about 9 o'clock, they proceeded with the joy of boating. Several boats were secured for the entire day. Musical instruments were taken along, and music on water was beautiful and enjoyed immensely by the class. Reports of a gloriously spent day, with the usual thrills, were heard.

CELEBRATE 8TH BIRTHDAY

Little Lavoice Scudday was honored by a nice party on Saturday, celebrating her 8th birthday. A jolly little bunch of children gathered at the hour for the happy party. Many games were played, adding much to their pleasure. Lovely refreshments were served by the honoree's mother, and sister, Miss Anna Belle and Miss Gladys Kendrick. Little gifts were brought and with them wishes of their little friend's happiness for the day and many days of return. The guests were Richard Kendrick, Billie Graves, Ora Lee Wasson, Clyde Dallas, T. I. Brown, Jr., Joe Bob Burnett, Texanna Woodriddle, Elvin Lauderdale, Margaret Scudday, Laddie Lynn Brownfield, Loretta Karr, Lynn Talley, Beatrice Perry, Sammie Chisholm El Ray Scudday, La Voice Scudday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barrier, with their little daughters arrived Friday from Lubbock, to visit in the home of Mrs. Barrier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Sawyer for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Quiett left by auto on Wednesday for their home in Stamford, Texas. Mrs. Quiett was house guest of her sister, Mrs. J. B. King and her father and brother, J. A. and James Miller the past two weeks.

MAY QUEEN CROWNED 'MID SCENES OF BEAUTY

Queen of May, Miss Vonelle Holgate, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Holgate, was charming in her robe of white silk tulle, and was made Queen of the May in a very elaborate setting, on Monday evening May 2nd, on the lawn east of Mr. A. W. Endersen's residence. King Lee Orville Lewis was the Queen's escort.

A most beautiful throne decorated with care and expense was admired by the vast numbers attending the ceremonies. Decidedly the most brilliant event of community interest and school was this May Fete, directed by Miss Phillips, Miss Crawford, Miss Bell, Mrs. Fagala and Mrs. Holmes, in a most pleasing manner. Two May Poles were erected for the dance. High school classes had reserved chairs decorated in their colors. Court and the splendid procession of many character parts, dances, were radiant in costumes of meaning. The announcer, R. L. Lewis, occupied a prominent place and the characters entered from his right. Adolphus Smith as bugler was stationed on the left of the scene. The dear little girls as "daisies" were sweet and dainty in the role assigned to them. The Bees and Butterflies, the Rose Bud, the Indians, the Scottish Lassies, the Scarf Dancers, the folk characterizations, Peter Pan, were all charming. The Water Nymphs, the young ladies representing "Spring," "Summer," "Autumn," and "Winter," were quite graceful and these clever dances added much to making this occasion one long to be remembered for its brilliancy and picturesqueness. In the long and stately procession of her royal highness' line were Miss Helen Jackson as Princess escorted by Mr. Luther Tannery, Miss Fay Brown, whose escort was Mr. Bill Collins, representing the Junior class, Miss Carrie Head and Mr. James Harley Dallas, escort; Miss Louise Chisholm and Mr. Joe Shelton, escort, representing the Senior class; Miss Florence Holt, escorted by Mr. Ralph Bynum, were members of the Sophomore class. The Freshman class had as representatives Miss Hazel Estlack with Mr. Jack Stricklin, as escort; Miss Doris Bandy and Mr. Dick Burson, escort. The ladies and gentlemen of the court being seated, the thrilling moment of expectation came when the Queen entered in her beautiful and queenly attire, and having Little Laverne Cook train bearer. This was followed by the crowning of Vonelle, who was made more beautiful with the crown of pearls and glittering stones. Mr. Arnet Bynum, in his able manner, had charge of the lighting, and the many colored lights were beautiful and added brilliancy to the many pretty dancers, both large and small, who entertained for the evening.

News From Lahey

By Bob.
Well, I will drop in awhile and say a few things about Lahey. Things in general here are good, and the farmers are all up with their work, and waiting on the other fellow to furnish the moisture. We had a good crowd at preaching and Sunday School last Sunday. All seemed to enjoy the singing we had Sunday evening. Bro. Story, one of the young Methodist preachers will be with us next Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Murray of north of Brownfield spent the day with Geo. Murray, Sunday.
Quite a few of the Forrester community people attended preaching here Sunday.
Well, for the first time in quite awhile since I stepped in to chat with you, I will close for this time, and try to make a better report next time.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

S. J. R. No. 24. Proposing an amendment to Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of Texas for the purpose of providing a more efficient judicial system.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1: That Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2 (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, five of who shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five judges shall be necessary to the decision of a case. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election or appointment, a citizen of the United States and of this State, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years and shall have been a licensed lawyer for seven years, and during that time, shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a court of record, or such practicing lawyer or Judge together. Said Chief Justice and Associate shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualify, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. In case of vacancy in the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The Judges of the Supreme Court who may be in the office at the time this amendment takes effect, shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present constitution and until their successors are elected and qualify. When this amendment takes effect, the governor shall immediately appoint six additional Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for terms of office so that the terms of two of such appointed Associate Justices shall expire with the term of office of each of the present members of the Supreme Court, and, upon the qualification of such new Justices, the Commission of Appeal of the State of Texas shall terminate.

Section 3. (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only, except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in cases in the Court of Civil Appeals in which the Judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may disagree or where the several courts of civil appeals may hold differently on the same question of law, or where a statute of the State is held void, and to questions of law arising in such other cases of which the Court of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the Legislature may authorize direct appeals from the County and District Courts in any case where the statute of the State has been declared void. The Supreme Court and the Judges thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus as may be prescribed by law; and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, the said Court and the Judges thereof may issue the writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari, and such other writs as may be necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The Legislature may confer original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs of quo warranto and mandamus in such cases as may be specified, except as against the Governor of the State. The Supreme Court shall also have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as by the Court may be determined, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capital for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by the Court. The present statutes defining the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court not in conflict herewith shall continue in effect until repealed or altered by the Legislature. The Supreme Court shall appoint a Clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he shall hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by said Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

Section 4 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of three judges, provided that the Legislature may increase the number to five, and a majority of the Judges shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of the majority of the Judges shall be necessary to the decision of any case. Said Judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as the Judges of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. The Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present Constitution and laws.

Section 5 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and the Legislature may confer original jurisdiction upon it to issue writs of mandamus, procedendo and certiorari in criminal cases. The Court of Criminal Appeals and the Judges thereof shall have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have the power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. Said Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capital for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by it. Said Court shall appoint a Clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and said Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be prescribed by law.

Section 6 (of Article V): The Legislature shall, from time to time, divide the State into such number of Supreme Judicial Districts as it may seem necessary, not exceeding twelve at any one time, and shall have the power to re-district the State at any time, and shall establish at Court of Civil Appeals in each of said districts which Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and not less than two Associate Justices as the Legislature may provide, who shall have the qualifications as herein prescribed for Justices of the Supreme Court, provided that the aggregate number of Judges of all of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall never at any one time exceed thirty-six. Each of the existing Courts of Civil Appeals shall continue until otherwise provided by law. The Courts of Civil Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of their respective districts, which shall extend to all civil cases of which the District Courts or County Courts have original or appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the decisions of said Courts shall be conclusive on all questions of fact brought before them on appeal or error. The Judges of the Courts of Civil Appeals who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

Section 7 (of Article V): The State shall be divided into as many Judicial Districts as may now or hereafter provided by law, which may be increased or diminished by law. For each district there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at a general election, a Judge, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of this State, who shall have been a licensed lawyer for four years next preceding his election, and during that time shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a Court of record or such practicing and Judge together, who shall have resided in the district in which he was elected for two years next preceding his election, who shall reside in his district during his term of office, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and shall receive for his services such compensation as may be prescribed by law. He shall hold the regular term of his Court at the County seat of each County in his district at least twice in each year, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall have power, by general or special laws, to authorize the holding of special terms of the court or the holding of more than two terms in any county for the dispatch of business. The Legislature shall also provide for the holding of District Court when the Judge thereof is absent or is from any cause, disabled or disqualified from presiding. The Supreme Court or the Chief Justice thereof may assign any District Judge to any District in the State other than that for which he was elected, with all the powers of a resident District Judge of the District, to which he is assigned, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Legislature, or by the Supreme Court in the absence of such regulations enacted by the Legislature. The District Judges who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

Sec. 2: Said proposed amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of this State qualified to vote on constitutional amendments at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Monday in August, A. Old Hawaiian Custom of Birth Celebration

In years gone by the Hawaiians, a primitive, nature-loving people, made gods of mountains, trees and stones. The "all" or chiefs associated the birth of a child with a specific tree. A tamarind or a koa tree was planted at the time a chief's child was born, and grew to maturity with the child. On certain occasions the first fruits of a young tree, coconut palm by preference, were plucked by a son of the "all."

When an heir was born to the "all" the ceremonial drum was beaten at the temple and a sacred hula performed. One of these ceremonial drums, taken from a temple on Diamond head, in Honolulu, is of koa wood (mahogany) and nearly four feet high. Its ends are covered with sharkskin and the sides decorated with human teeth.

As the great drum booms out its message that a son has been born to the "all," the people gather to offer sacrifices and propitiate the gods. A feast is given by the chief and the sacred hula-hula is performed. This sacred hula is more a historic pantomime than a mere dance, and is as different from the hula-hula of today as a symphony orchestra is from a jazz band.

Taken at His Word

One day while riding on a crowded street car I noticed a woman standing in the throng struggling with many bundles and a baby. Thinking of being of some assistance, I inquired, "Can't I relieve you of some of your bundles?" To my surprise, she handed me the baby.

My bachelor dignity was already at the zero point, but when I noticed a group of giggling girls who were students in my class at the city high school my mortification was complete. I assure you my embarrassment did not end with the incident.—E. N. A. B., in Chicago Tribune.

Not the Curate's Fault

A clergyman, called away suddenly and unable to officiate at the services in his church, entrusted his new curate with the duty. On his return home he asked his wife what she thought of the curate's sermon.

"The poorest I ever heard," she declared; "nothing in it at all."

Later in the day the clergyman, meeting his curate, asked him how he had got on.

"Splendidly, sir," replied the curate. "I didn't have time to prepare anything myself, so I preached one of your sermons."—London Answers.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1: That Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by inserting therein Section 1-a, as follows:

In no event shall the rate of such taxes exceed the sum of the limits of such taxes fixed by this Constitution for State, county and other local purposes. The Legislature may provide for the classification of objects of taxation. Taxation shall be equal and uniform.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927, at which all ballots shall be printed thereon the following:

"For the amendment to Article 8, inserting Section 1-A, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income, in whole or in part, from other sources than the ad valorem tax."

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.

Misses Helen Jackson and Robbie Hardin are laboring studiously over a duet entitled, "On the Race Course." We wish them luck in all their career.

Much excitement was created over the raising of a Soph flag last Monday night. We sincerely hope the Fish's hearts are not still in their shoes.

Last Friday, April 29, the Seniors left for Post in the wee small hours of the morning. They report an enjoyable day except for a few thrilling incidents, and judging from the fever blisters on their lips, they must have had something more than thrilling incidents. We wonder what?

We Wonder Why

Joe limps.
Why Carrie likes May festivities.
Why James Harley left for Austin so soon (enroute to Lubbock.)
Why Louise can take a joke now?
Why Kerney and Clovis don't begin a detective agency?
Why everybody feels bad?
Why Helen wants to be a "butter fly?"
Why Ralph is so popular.
Why Vivian blushes in the Spanish class?
Why Fay is so interested in the Seniors?

Coach E. G. Lewis, accompanied by James H. Dallas and Ulyess Graham, left Tuesday evening for Austin to attend the State Meet, Friday and Saturday. Harley and Ulyess will represent B. H. "I hate to be a kicker"—means nothing in a show;
The kicker in the chorus is the one that gets the dough.
The art of soft-soaping is a thing that galls and stales,
But the guy who wields the hammer is the one who drives the nails.

Mr. Lewis: "Give me a historical basis for the reason that autumn leaves turn red?"
Kerney (absent minded): Well, they blush because they were so green in the summer."

Bill: "Have you some of the gas that stops knocking?"
Luke: "Yes."
Bill: "Then give M. A. B. a glass full."

"Is Anna Belle really so dumb?"
"Is she?" "Why she's so dumb she thinks holdup men are swimming instructors."
"That's nothing, Mary Ann is so dumb she put syrup down her back and scratched her hot cakes."

FREEDOM OF PRESS IS MAINTAINED

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Mar. 28.—(I. P. A.)—The age old question of the freedom of the press has been temporarily settled here following the impeachment of Judge Clarence Dearth of the circuit court.

The Indiana judge had suppressed an issue of the Muncie Post Democrat, which charged Dearth and Mayor John Hampon of Muncie with failure to enforce the law. The Indiana house of representatives impeached Dearth by a vote of 93 to 1. He must now face charges of a judiciary committee before the senate, although he is automatically removed from the bench until the proceedings are over.

THE MAY FETE WAS WELL ATTENDED

Last Monday evening, May 2nd, the citizens of Brownfield were very ably and pleasantly entertained by the May Fete, given on the block south of the grammar school. The Fete was sponsored by Miss Aileen Phillips and the teachers of the grade school. In addition to the numerous dances and other features rendered by the young talent of our school, the crowning of the May Queen, Voneile, of the house of Holgate was an impressive and beautiful feature, and representing the Sophomore Class.

The Queen was accompanied by her court and princess, Helen from the House of Jackson, representing the Junior Class, escorted by Prince Luther from the House of Tannery. Dukes and Duchesses were as follows:
Duke Joe, from the House of Shelton, Senior.
Duchess Louise from the House of Chisholm, Senior.

Duchess Carrie, from the House of Head, Senior.
Duke Bill, from the House of Collins, Junior.

LARGE QUALITY OF CORN BURNED AT SEMINOLE

The warehouse owned by C. E. Rollins located in the southeast part of town near the M. & N. W. tracks in which about 2,600 bushels of shelled and ear corn was stored, caught fire about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and was completely destroyed.

The origin of the fire is unknown. As no one had been around these premises for several days it is thought that possibly a match had been dropped by some one while unloading corn there and rats had caused the fire to start.

There was no insurance on the building or contents and is a total loss to the owner.—Seminole Sentinel
