By the Secretary

The column this week will be mostly taken up with information concerning the County Fair. But it would be well to say that the railway people have a crew here for the purpose of building a spur track for the compress people.

Judge W. R. Ely, a member of the highway commission was here last week, supposedly for the purpose of inspecting the route west of Gomez. The writer met him and advised him that our county commissioners were ready and willing to comply with the desires of his commission as soon as they saw fit to divulge them, but that we would like to have some action in their meeting that is scheduled to take place this present week. Hon. Cone Johnson, was due to arrive within a day or two after Judge Ely's visit, but if he came this office was not made aware of it.

The County Fair, is set for Saturday, September 24th. And prizes will be offered for community agricultural exhibits in 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places. Prizes on individual exhibits will be offered on best 50 ears of white corn; 50 ears of yellow corn; 50 heads red maize; 50 heads white maize; 50 heads white kaffir; 50 heads black hull kaffir; 50 heads hegarri; 50 heads feterita; best bundle alfalfa; best bundle sweet clover; best bundle millet; best gallon spanish peanuts; best gallon cow peas; best gallon any other variety field; peas best gallon dry beans; best pea vine, pods left on; best peanut vine, nuts left on; best 12 stalks broom corn; best bundle seeded ribbon cane (grown for syrup); best bundle red top, for forage; best bundle mortgage lifter, for forage; best bundle amber, for forage; best bundle orange, for forage; best bundle any other variety, for forage; best bundle sudan, for forage; best peck irish potatoes; best peck sweet potatoes; best ten ears popcorn; best 6 pods sweet pepper; best 12 onions; best 12 turnips; best 6 tomatoes; best 4 egg plants; best 3 cabbage heads; best 3 Hubbard squash (or Pikes Peak); best cashaw; best pumpkin; best watermelon; best 3 Rocky Ford cantaloupes; best 3 honey ball; best quart jar apples; best quart jar peaches; best quart jar grapes; best quart jar plums; best quart jar cherries; best 5 Delicious apples; best 5 Winesap apples; best 5 Black Twig; best 5 Missouri Pippin; best 5 any other variety; best 5 peaches; best 5 pears; best 20 open holes of cotton.

Sorghum grain heads should be gathered a few days before the date of the fair and allowed to cure in shade; Peanuts and peas should be dry. In selecting the sorghum for forage, it should be cut a few days before time and allowed to cure heads down, with leaves straightened. Stalks should not be large, but of a small size that stock would readily consume them. Bundles of not less than three inches in diameter at middle tie and not more than five inches; Alfalfa and sweet-clover should be the same.

Uniformity and not large size in a vegetable, will make a better grade. The largest watermelon, cataloupe, cashaw or pumpkin, is not necessarily the best. Smoothness and uniformity carry a better rating. It is not yet certain that exhibits will be taken to other fairs, on account of finances. But the management of the fair reserves the right to select any exhibit in whole or in part, for this purpose. A reasonable price however will be paid to the grower or exhibitor of any fruit or vegetable that may have a market value of more than twenty-five cents.

The agricultural department of the exhibition will be held in the tabernacle. The poultry department of the exhibition, will be held in the carpenter house of the Cicero Smith Lumber Company. Coops will be provided. The hog and cattle department will be held in the yards of the Cicero Smith Company and pens will be provided for them. No prizes in cash will be offered for either poultry or live stock, but ribbons in both first and second will be given. Fred Smith will supervise the hog department. J. C. Bohanan the dairy cattle and A. L. Burnett, the poultry. Competent judges will be secured from points out of the county, on all classes of exhibits.

The Herald, $1.00 per year.

Fire Boys Make Good Run Mon. Afternoon

One of the longest and probably most difficult runs that has been made since the volunteer fire department has been organized, was made in almost record time Monday afternoon about six thirty, and the boys made it in about five minutes, and water was never turned on till all the hose was laid, which probably consumed a minute of this time.

There had been a question for sometime as to whether or not the city had enough hose to reach the residences of Mr. Wright, R. L. Harris who lives in the Santa Fe agent's home, A. J. Stricklin, E. Brown, Mrs. Hastings and others in that section. Therefore a practice fire was made in the alley separating the property of Stricklin and Brown, and the fire alarm was turned in with the consent of the authorities, but unknown to the fire boys. These writer worked like blazes to get the fire under way before they arrived, and they were on hand before you hardly realized they had time to start. As stated above, the boys learned one important lesson: From this on when they have to run out hose for a hook or more, they aim to turn on the water as soon as connection is made and the truck under way in order that the water will be at the nozzle by the time it is needed.

It took something like a thousand feet of hose to reach the fire, but the boys did their work willingly without a murmur. One thousand feet of fire hose is no little thing to put back into the truck. They connected with plug No. 26 at the Gathings Gin. After the hose and tools were all put back into the truck in ship-shape, the boys were carried to a drug store where the writer treated.

Crowds Increasing at C. of C. Revival

Reasonably good crowds were on hand Sunday morning at the opening service of the Church of Christ under the big city tabernacle, but they were poor Sunday night on account of threatening weather. You know West Texas people are afraid they will drown during a drizzle, but Eastern people get their umbrellas or put up the auto top and go out in hard rains to meetings of any kind. Monday night the crowd greatly increased, and it is hoped that they will continue to increase.

G. A. Dunn

As this is written, the local minister Liff Sanders is doing the preaching at night only, and the song services are lead by A. L. Burnett.

G. A. Dunn is expected here from Colorado City Wednesday and take charge of the preaching services, at which time morning services will likely be announced. The membership of the church cordially invite their friends and neighbors to come out and take whatever part they can in this meeting.

BITTEN BY RATTLE SNAKE

T. D. Pope of the Prairieview community, who was bitten by a rattle-snake Wednesday afternoon, is reported to be doing nicely and is thought to be out of danger.

Mr. Pope was out in the melon patch gathering watermelons when the snake hit him twice on the hand. He was quickly brought to Lovington where Dr. Dearuff attended to the case, administering remedies which prevented serious trouble.—Lovington Leader.

Lubbock Trippers Com- ing to Brownfield

Three auto caravans carrying Lubbock merchants and business men will go out from that city Sept. 13, 16, and 20th to visit South Plains towns, to renew old acquaintances and to cement the good will that exists over the section and to tell the people of the section about the plans for the 1927 South Plains Fair, which will be held September 27, 28, 29, 30 and October 1. A trip north, south and west will be made. The Lubbock High School band will be on the trip.

The north trip will be made first, taking in Abernathy, Hale Center, Olton, Plainview, Lockney, Floydada, Petersburg, Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo, and Idalou. This trip will be made September 13th.

The second trip will take the crusaders through Slaton, Southland, Post, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa and Wilson. This jaunt will be made September 16th.

The last trip will be made September 20th and will include towns to the west, Ropes, Meadow, Brownfield, Levelland, Morton, Amherst, Littlefield, Anton and Shallowater.

County Exhibits, big crowds and a number of individual entries from each of the counties to be visited have been assured which will add materially to the large amount of exhibits that will come here from other sections of the Southwest.

County Exhibits from the following counties will be here: Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Foyd, Hockley, Crosby, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Dawson and Gaines.

Football teams from Plainview, Slaton, Spur, Lamesa, Tahoka Littlefield, Lubbock and Floydada will be here to match their skill and brawn before the fair visitors and hundreds of fans will accompany them.

Lots of milo maize heads will be seen at the fair this year, the Axtell Company is offering a standard ball bearing windmill for the best ten heads and hundreds of South Plains farmers have already gathered their samples to show. Five Chevrolet cars will be given away as prizes and thousands of dollars in premiums will be awarded in the livestock, poultry, agricultural shows, and the departments in the Women's Building.

Fireworks, the thrill for all, will be enjoyed each night. Three free act troupes will act twice daily. A good carnival will set up on midway.

The fair is known as the "Show Window of the Plains," and indications point to the most complete show window ever on the plains.

SEMINOLE NOW ON ELECTRIC HIGH LINE

On Saturday of last week the work of construction on the high line between Seagraves and Seminole was completed sufficiently to turn on the current.

For the past month Seminole has been without electric lights on account of a break down at the local plant. Messrs. Myers and Karnes, owners of the Gaines County Public Service Company, have been exerting every means possible for some time past to give their patrons improved service, and now since the line is completed they propose to give both towns, Seagraves and Seminole, a service that will merit the support of all citizens.

Why sit around in the dark when you now have electric service that is dependable and all can afford? Your support of this institution will be appreciated by the owners. Tie on!—Seminole Sentinel.

IRVIN GETS MAN IN HASKELL AFTER 18 MONTHS CHASE

Sheriff Len Irvin returned Tuesday night from Haskell bringing back with him V. H. Wyatt, whom he arrested on a charge of swindling in the disposition of mortgaged property. He was placed in jail at Plainview.

There are two grand jury indictments against Wyatt, according to Irvin, who has been after him for the past year and a half, locating him once in Canada, and a few days ago getting a clue that he was back in Texas, he found him in Haskell county last Monday.—Littlefield Leader.

There were 69,738 marriages performed in Texas in 1925 as against 71,992 in 1924, showing a decrease of 2,254. Figures for 1926 will not be compiled until about December 1, 1927.

First Bale Received Friday—Brings 27c

The first bale of 1927 cotton was received here last Friday, September 2nd, just two days later than the first received last year. It was raised on the B. L. Thompson place near Tokio in the west end of Terry county by J. M. Dye and was ginned free of charge by the West Texas Gin Co., of this city and purchased by Dr. T. L. Treadaway for 27c per pound.

The bale went on the streets late in the afternoon, and was immediately surrounded by a large crowd. It weighed 580 pounds and the local buyers reported it had good lint something like an inch in length, and was a beautiful white color. The local cotton buyers soon run the bale up to 23c, and Dr. T. L. Treadaway run it up to 24c. About this time Mr. M. V. Brownfield drove up and offered 25c per lb. for the cotton, and then the fireworks opened up. One-half and quarter cents bids between the two went merrily on until Mr. Brownfield finally dropped out when Dr. Treadaway run the bale up to 27c. The doctor said he aimed to hold it until he got his money back, and we should not wonder if he does not succeed in this by the next government report.

A premium of $67.00 was made up for Mr. Dye among the business men of the town, which together with the cotton and seed, amounted to $238.60. He was offered $15.00 for the seed, but carried them home. Thus, Mr. Dye's first bale brought him almost a quarter of a thousand dollars, or more clear money he said than his entire cotton crop last year, and he made a good one last year.

We have heard of a few places that paid more premium than Brownfield, but we have the first place to notice that paid more for the cotton and seed. Brownfield has made a reputation of being a good cotton market, and the same old buyers are on hand this year.

Tent Meeting Closed Past Sunday Night

The tent meeting which has been conducted here for the past month on the southwest corner of the square under the auspices of Rev. Mack Wyatt and singer, Mr. Philip Kerr, came to a close Sunday night with a good crowd present, following an all day service with picnic and barbecue on the side.

If we understand the proposition aright, Mr. Wyatt did not claim to represent any church, yet he created quite a following while here, who were mostly former members of the several denominations here, and just what the following will do since Mr. Wyatt left remains to be seen, but it has been our observation that if church members are left loosely organized or not organized at all, they soon go on the rocks, as it were. We are no great Bible student or theologian, but if we know anything about the Bible at all, we are almost positive that Jesus taught the people not only that he had a church which was his body, but also taught them that organization was very essential, and with this in view we expect to see his following soon drift back into their old congregations.

Mr. Wyatt is a young man of winning personality, and has many admirers in Brownfield and surrounding country, whose opinion in the matter is to be respected. No one can speak for another religiously or politically. That is a matter left to each individual by the constitution of the United States, and if there are those who feel the need of another organization or sect in Brownfield they should be allowed to freely and conscientiously put it into execution.

The most criticism we ever heard offered was the fact that Mr. Wyatt was quite severe in his criticisms of the morals of the people of Brownfield, and his denunciation of some of the older established churches here and their pastors. Personally, and speaking for our individual selves, we firmly believe that Brownfield folks average along with other people of like communities in any state in the union. We believe our local pastors are godly men, and seeking only the good of the community morally and religiously. We believe that the old established churches of Brownfield have wielded

A Few Criminal Cases Tried This Week

As this article is written on Tuesday afternoon, District Court stands adjourned until Wednesday morning, when it will be reassembled for the trial of a cotton theft case from Tokio.

A case against a young man from Slaton who forged a pension check belonging to an old Confederate Soldier at the First National Bank, this city, was tried, and he was given a five year suspended sentence. Besides the sentence, he was given a genuine lecture by Judge McGuire, who told him he could conceive of no lower down trick than trying to swindle an old soldier who had given the best part of his life to his country.

We understand that the rape case from Meadow was continued until next term of court.

Following is a report of the grand jury for this term of court:

Brownfield, Texas
August 31st, 1927.
To The Honorable Gordon B. McGuire:

We your grand jury for Terry County, Texas, most respectfully report to your honor that we have carefully inquired into all violations of law which has been brought to our attention since we have been in session and have found three bills of indictment, one misdemeanor and two felony indictments.

We wish to state that we find the general conditions of our county to be an excellent condition with reference to our citizens to be law abiding, and that the general moral condition is good in our community.

We wish to thank the Judge of this Court for his support of our labors and also other officers connected with our work in their untiring efforts to make our labors pleasant and successful.

Having finished our labors, we most respectfully request that we be finally discharged for the term. We wish to especially thank our District Attorney for his untiring efforts and help since we have been together.

R. M. Kendrick, Foreman.

Rotary Club Has An- other Lively Session

The Rotary Club had another very lively session and program at their Friday noon lunch hour of last week, which in many ways was one of the best this year. Mr. Jess Garrison, a young man of Terry county, living near Wellman rendered a number of pleasing solos on his Hawaiian guitar and many of those present said they had rather hear him than any native that they had ever heard, and personally, we believe Jess will discount many of the native Hawaiians now on tour and in chautauqua circles. In a number of the selections, Tom May accompanied him on the "whistle." If you have never heard Tom whistle, do so at the first opportunity, for he has a mocking bird skinned more ways than a farmer can whip a mule.

The Club decided to purchase a piano if one can be had at a reasonable price, and providing that Mr. Bond, proprietor of the Hotel Brownfield does not care for it being there permanently. After the piano is installed, more of the latent talent of Brownfield can be brought out and encouraged by the club. We have some real talent of first one kind and another right here in the town and county, and personally the Herald believes the club should lend every encouragement possible to develop it.

In other words, the Herald believes in patronizing home industries from kids to kingdoms. Don't you?

a wonderful influence morally for the town since its inception, and will continue to do so, the opinion of strangers to the contrary notwithstanding.

Brownfield Schools To Open Monday

Vacation time is now a closed incident, and the pupil as well as the teacher must now bend their efforts for the next nine months toward advancing on the road toward a preparation for life's battles. The younger generation must in a few years take our places in the social and commercial life of the town and community, and if we continue to advance, they must be as well or better prepared to take up the battle ax of life where we leave off. Let us hope that they have better preparation than we of the present generation in order that they can carry on more efficiently than we with more ease.

Let us forget for the whole length of the term that there may be some teacher or teachers that we don't just exactly like all the way around, if such be the case, and by lending our moral support make the best school the coming term that we have ever had here. Let us be on hand with the children at the opening, and thus by showing some enthusiasm ourselves, we lend considerable to the enthusiasm of those to be taught. Much depends on how a term gets started off, just the same as much depends on who wins in a foot race by the way they start at the crack of the gun.

Inasmuch as heretofore the auditorium has been entirely inadequate to hold the crowds that go on the first day of school, the Herald takes the liberty of suggesting that the opening exercises be held under the city tabernacle, which is well seated, and under which all may be accommodated. Of course a revival is now going on under it, but we believe arrangements could be made for the school opening prior to the needs at a later hour for the revival, and a piano could possibly be secured if one is needed.

The above is only a suggestion to be thrashed out by the authorities in charge of arrangements, and we make it in view of the facts that for several years numbers have been turned away from the auditorium that really wanted to attend the opening.

Seagraves Boy Dragg- ed to Death Tuesday

Jack Ansley, 15, son of Mr. J. O. Ansley, of near Seagraves, was dragged to death by a family horse, Tuesday afternoon late, according to a message received here by a local undertaking company.

From what could be learned, the lines or rope with which the horse was fastened became wrapped around the boy's foot, and the horse, which was considered gentle, took fright, and ran, dragging the life out of the youth.

The body was prepared for burial and laid to rest in the Seagraves cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

Car Turned Over— Family Badly Bruised

Early last Saturday morning, at a point some three miles west of Plains, Texas, a car containing a family of five, ran into a sand bar, turned over, catching the whole family underneath. It seems that the little girl about 10 years finally got out, and assisted the rest of the family.

All of the family was immediately brought here for medical attention, and while none of them were thought to be seriously hurt, they were all more or less badly scratched, bruised and the little girl quite severely burned with the acid from the battery. The mother of the family had one car almost torn off that the physicians first thought would have to be taken off, but it seems to be healing some now.

They, it seems, had started from their home in Roswell to central west Texas to pick cotton, and being in almost destitute circumstances the town is caring for them while here.

WHY CITIES OUTGROW THE COUNTRY

By Phoebe K. Warner in the Munday Times

The Houston edition of the Texas Commercial News has just arrived. It is a beauty and makes my heart throb with pride and pity. Such human magnificence! Such grandeur! Such commercial temples! Such beautiful homes, churches and schools!

No wonder 2,000,000 more people left our farms last year and crowded into such cities where they could get a cash job and send their children to one of those wonderful schools, and head good music once in awhile, and play in their magnificent parks. And three thousand of those Texas famers plus their families who lost their farms and homes last year and had to give up and move to town and get a job in order to live. They were tired of sending their children to four or five months, one-room schools, and some little city girl for a teacher who caught the train or bus or street car on Friday night for the city. They were tired of going to church at the school house where they had to curl their babies on top of the desks while they listen to some worn out or embryo preacher tell them about the sins of the city and how happy and thankful they ought to be because they have the privilege of living in "God's Big Out-of-Doors" where the birds are singing, the sun is shining, the cotton fleas hopping, the cattle ticks ticking, the wheat fields burning up and the homes being washed away with floods. They are tired of living in the little 2x4 rent houses that the city land lords provided for them and decided that they would go to town where they could have electric lights instead of old oil lamps, city water in the house instead of a well at the barn, or elsewhere on the place, and not a sign of comfort or beauty anywhere except in the sky. They decided to go to town where they could get their price on a day's work and be protected to some extent, especially if they could get into any kind of a union or organization. Anyway, they went. Two million of them, which now leaves less than 30 million men, women and children on our American farms to raise enough food and clothing for approximately one hundred and twenty million people.

At this rate if nothing is done to check the human tide that is steadily increasing every year as it flows toward the city, it will take just fifteen more years until every farm in the United States will be deserted and the whole population will be sitting around in some town or city looking for a job. "Nonsense, it will never happen." "It can't, because"—well it is happening just as fast as it can. However, I agree with my objectors. Because when the 8 million farmers and their families still left on the farms all move to town and cease to produce that 8 billion dollar wealth each year, that builds up every business and industry in the city, the city will go down as the country is going down, and there will be nothing in the city, so then the people will be forced to go to the country and raise themselves something to eat and create their own jobs.

But is it not time for every sane farmer and every sane business man in the city to begin to find out why our cities are outgrowing the country at the rate of two million souls every year? And why is the wealth of our nation centering in the great cities, while the soil of America, the real source of all wealth, is being cheated and depleted and even robbed of its owners and occupants? There is something wrong somewhere. Where is it?

For every wrong there is a reason and before that wrong can be mad-right somebody must discover the reason. Evidently the problem between the city and country in America is a financial problem. Because the only difference between county and city is what money does for people. It takes money, millions and billions of dollars to build these great cities with their temples of commerce, their beautiful parks and lovely homes and schools and churches. Where does this money come from? It originates mostly in the soil in the form of oil, minerals, timber, food and clothing. But by far the greater part and the most essential to life is food and clothing for all the people.

If this is true, and no one doubts it, then why are the people who create most of the new wealth every year all trying to give up their job and moving to town? Why should they not be the best lived and the most independent people on earth?

There is but one answer. When the farmer takes his products to town he never sets the price on a dozen eggs, a pound of butter, pork, beef, cheese, cotton or a bushel of wheat, corn, maize oats, or anything else he has for sale. He never counts his cost of production and then sets his price at a profit to himself. He simply produces, and the city sets its price on his products, and its price on what the farmer buys. Therefore the city makes all the profits, and the farmer none. Is it any wonder that the wealth of the nation stacks up in our cities and their skylines mount so high while the spirit of the country trails in the dust?

What built Houston? Listen to this: From Aug. 1, 1919 to Aug 1, 1926, Houston received 15,000,000 bales of cotton. Who raised that? Her chamber of commerce announces that Houston's trade and industria territory has a purchasing power of four billion dollars. Where did they get it? From the manufactured products of oil, timber and farm products.

We are proud of Houston as any Texas citizen should be. It is going to be the Chicago of the south in a few more weeks. But we'd like to see the farmers of Texas stand together like an army and demand equal rights, equal profits and a just system for marketing their product the same as any other producer of wealth. But until the farmer will work and pull together to protect themselves, no use to blame the cities for taking all the profits and building skyscrapers with them.

Judge and Mrs. H. R. Winston are taking their vacation this week in Colorado state.

The state of Texas has a very small bonded indebtedness and all of it is owned and held by the permanent funds of the public schools and state institutions. At the close of the last fiscal year the total of this debt was $4,002,200.

Another practice fire alarm was turned in Wednesday morning before the fire boys had hardly got awake, but they responded nobly. A pile of weeds in the rear of Cecil Smith's residence.

J. C. DEAN IS HELD IN JAIL AT ROSWELL

ROSWELL, N. M., Aug. 28.—J. C. Dean, charged with murder in connection with the death of his wife, Effie Dean, was held to await the action of the next Lea county grand jury without bond, following a preliminary hearing before Judge R. D. Beasley of Lovington. Dean is now in the Chaves county jail for safe-keeping.

Evidence introduced at the preliminary hearing showed that following a telephone call from Dean, O. C. Stranbro went to the Dean home and there found Mrs. Dean dead and Dean unconscious and suffering from a gunshot wound in the left side. Dean was rushed to this city and given medical attention. Later he told officers that Mrs. Dean had killed herself and that he then turned the gun on himself, according to testimony introduced at the hearing.

Dr. O. R. Haymaker, who conducted a post mortem on Mrs. Dean and who dressed the wounds of Dean testified that Mrs. Dean was shot under the left arm, the ball ranging practically straight through her body. His testimony was to the effect that the wound of Mrs. Dean showed no powder burns and that Dean's wound was badly powder burned.

J. B. Coats, deputy sheriff of Chaves county, testified that Dean told him that Mrs. Dean had taken the gun from him in a scuffle and had shot herself and that he, Dean, then attempted to take his own life. The Deans lived east of Lovington on a small ranch. Two children, a boy, aged three, and a girl, aged five survive Mrs. Dean.

WEST TEXAS HAS A TOWN NAMED TULSA

A number of sponge-growth oil towns in the West Texas oil fields have tried to style themselves as the "Tulsa of Texas" but they will have to beware of using the title now, because West Texas now has a real Tulsa. The city is located in the Winkler County oil fields.

The story in a few words is as follows: Winkler, fast growing oil city of the new field, has been operating under its name, "Winkler" for the length of its existence. The citizens of the town applied for a post-office a short time ago, and the post-office department discovered that Texas already had a Winkler, this town being situated near Mexico, Texas. In order to avoid complications the new town of Winkler was asked to change its name. "Tulsa" was selected.

There seems to be every possibility that Tulsa, Texas will have a post office in the very near future. When this move is consummated, the new city will be operating on an equal basis with Wink, Kermit and Pyote, its rivals.—Ward County News.

The Texas flower is the Bluebonnet by legislative enactment of 1901. The state tree is the pecan.

MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias.

A portion of the past week was spent in the North Plains East of Amarillo, visiting among old friends and relatives.

This section has been badly hit by the drouth, and row crops are scarce and very poor. Many have not been able to plant anything in the way of feed until some two weeks since. The plants are very small and promise very poor returns.

If it had not been for the small wheat crop most of them would be in serious straits. Wheat sowing is in progress in many places and there will be a large acreage sown.

I would be glad to see more of the farmers of Terry county sow wheat this fall. A few tried it last year and did quite as well as many on the plains north of us. The tight lands here should be quite as well adapted to small grain as any other section of the Plains. I have heard a few signify their intention to sow if rain came so that they could.

Meadow has had a few light showers the past week but not enough to improve crop conditions very much. It is rather astonishing however to see the crops hold out so well. Cotton and feed both continue to grow in spite of dry weather.

I gave considerable attention to the crops along the route and can't see that Meadow is behind any of the other section.

The worms in places have done considerable damage to the cotton as well as the young corn.

The Rev. Whitaker of Oklahoma is conducting a meeting at the Church of Christ. The meeting began Friday night as advertised and will probably continue through the week or longer if conditions justify. He is an able and earnest speaker and should do much good.

With the advent of the Revival season it appears that conditions get worse for misdemeanors of every variety. Every old rattle trap of a car in the country appears to have found a place here, and the night is made hideous with shouting and the unmuffled exhaust of cars. Horns are sometimes blown entirely around the town along by the churches where services are being held. Cars are driven near the church, stopped and made to back fire many times before being driven away. Many of them run without lights any kind. I have frequently noticed two such cars following each other. To drive with out tail lights is very common, but is not so bad as driving without any.

Some of these cars have driven into or rather against the store houses doing damage to building. Saturday and Sunday nights are special occasions for such brigandage. We hear of other kinds of misdoings. Raiding peach orchards and peanut patches etc. One citizen had his watermelons destroyed. Some of these youngsters, if such they be are doubtless gone into training for a worse career.

No there isn't any sentiment here against such outrages and systematic violations of the law. Not a bit. If there was, some steps would be taken to put an end to it. Each individual is afraid his own is involved hence "mum is the word." I there is a half dozen men in the community that cares a tinker's dam would be glad to make his acquaintance.

This isn't blackmailing the community either. It is the same wherever you go. The boys here are as good and th citizens as moral and law abiding as any I know.

DRILLING RESUMED ON PENN WILDCAT

Drilling was resumed on the Penn Drilling Company wildcat eight miles southeast oftown first of the week after being shut down the past ten days changing the rig from a rotary to stander equipment. The change was made at 2449 feet.

This test has been watched from the beginning by oil men of this section with much interest, but so far has caused no undue excitement. However, it is believed that oil or gas in paying quantities will be found before they reach the contracted depth of 3500 feet.

Considerable leasing has been done throughout this section the past few months and is still being done. Oil scouts and lease bounds are to be found in O'Donnell almost daily.—O'Donnell Index.

We neglected to note last week that there was a new girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boob Adams, which appeared on the 26th inst.

Mrs. S. H. Holgate underwent an operation at a sanitarium at Lubbock Monday morning. She is reported to be doing nicely at this writing.

Mrs. J. C. White and the smaller children are visiting her sister, Mrs. Uyless Sawyer and family of Cross Roads, N. M.

The annual value of the commercial well waters of Texas is estimated at $20,000,000, which puts the "mined" waters of the state among its leading minerals.

It is reported here that the Bailey Bros. store at Longworth, Texas, was robbed some time Sunday morning of some $200 in currency, besides a number of checks. No one was in the store at the time, Mr. Bailey being just across the street in a cafe, and carelessly left the front door unlocked. A young man of that town is under observation for the theft.

Official paper of Terry County.

The Tahoka News came to our exchange table this week with a 16 page special school edition. It not only contained lots of pictures and reading matter concerning their excellent public schools, but was well patronized by the business men of Tahoka.

The champion hot checker seems to have recently been located in the Panhandle section. It is said that he was fixing to get married, and strowed a few lukewarm checks around among the business men of the town, gave the barber and beauty parlor one of about $16 capacity with quite a high temperature; got one of like degree off on the jeweler and county clerk for a ring and license, and another that could not be handled without gloves to the preacher for performing the ceremony. Upon being brought back, he made such a good spell to the J. P. that he got another scorch off on him for the whole works, cost and all, and made good his escape. Now the new bride is seeking a divorce.

Trade at Home—Herald No, Says State Press

Terry County Herald: Who gives a tinker's dam about Terry County outside of its own people, its own business men, and its own newspapers? Does the fellow away off in the big cities care whether the farmers raise a bale of cotton or a load of corn or not? Who else but Terry County folks care how many of our merchants go broke? When we consider these facts we can not but admit that it is our advantage to stay with the home farmer, the home merchant, the home preacher and teacher, and the home paper.

State Press: The Herald and Editor Stricklin were holding birthdays simultaneously last week. The Herald was 23. Editor Stricklin doesn't say how old he was, but the chances are that both he and the Herald are old enough to know better. Not that there is any fallacy in patronizing the home people as long as he home folks are giving service that deserves the patronage. There isn't. The home paper must be in the proper class, for the editor remarks that the 23-year-old institution has been making himself and family a tolerable living for eighteen years, for which he thanks it. But Sub S. P. points out to Brother Stricklin that not the Herald, but the folks that make the Herald, have made the living. They have been giving Brownfield and Terry County what the home folks want, and that is the secret of the trick for the home farmer, the home merchant and the home preacher and teacher. But Terry County can not resolve itself into the confines of splendid isolation any more than the United States has been able to do just that in spite of all the demagogery of the platform. Folks in distant cities may not know the individual Jim Jones in Terry County, but if Jim Jones does not make a bale of cotton or Bill Brown doesn't make his load of corn, the distant city is considerably concerned about it. We are vastly concerned about our own hard times, but few of us ever stop to realize that if we make hard times for ourselves, or they are made for us, the conditions extends to points far more distant than we can conceive. Why, Brother Stricklin himself sells the Herald in Terry and Yoakum Counties for $1 a year, but elsewhere in the U. S. A. for $1.50. He doesn't believe in isolation really, only in making points farther away pay higher for appreciation of Terry County. And possibly, after all, that is what trade at large tries to do.

The Herald never likes to accept an argument with another paper, especially with a daily, for they have six rejoinders if they want to use them. But we can't help offering the following questions for the perusal of Sub. State Press: Does that individual trolley down to Waxahachie after his malt extract? Or, does he motor over to cowtown after his weiners? Likewise, does he toddle over to Lancaster after his pretzels? We hardly think so. He buys what he can in Dallas and does without the rest in all probability. Also Sub sought to hand the Herald one for selling this great religious journal for less in Terry and Yoakum counties than anywhere else, seeking to show our provincialism. The great Dallas News pulls the same bone or boner only on a larger scale. They sell their paper to Texans, New Mexicans, Sooners, and Arkansawyers cheaper than they do in other states and foreign countries. We still say stay with the home folks.

A SMILE

A Smile costs nothing, but gives much. It enriches those who receive, without making poorer those who give. It takes but a moment, but the memory of it sometimes lasts forever. None is so rich or so mighty that he can get along without it, and none so poor that he cannot be made rich by it. A smile creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in business, and is the countersign of friendship. It brings rest to the weary, cheer to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and is nature's best antidote for trouble. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen for it is something that is of no value to anyone until it is given away. Some people are too tired to give you a smile. Give them one of yours, as none needs a smile so much as he who has no more to give. —Anon.

SIMMONS PREPARED FOR LARGE ENROLLMENT

ABILENE, August 30.—Room reservations and advance inquiries for information that have been pouring into the Simmons University office have already justified the preparations which the school has been putting forward to meet the demands of the largest enrollment in its history this fall. These advance indications point toward a fall registration of over 1,000 and a total for the year exceeding 1,500.

Simmons authorities foresaw this increase before the close of last Spring's session, and began their plans which would broaden the curriculum, improve the facilities and take care of the largest and most varied demands for university work.

Two new buildings are now nearing completion which will help to relieve the heretofore crowded conditions, a new auditorium which will seat 1,600 people and a new cafeteria, which will accommodate the whole university. The auditorium is a temporary structure to take care of the situation until the new $300,000 chapel and administration building is erected, in the future, in the center of the campus. The present chapel hall is a good, practical fireproof, brick structure, however which adequately meets the situation.

The cafeteria is also a fireproof structure. An experienced New Orleans cafeteria man has been secured to run the eating house.

Other construction which is going on and will be ready for the fall opening is the remodeling of the old auditorium in Abilene Hall into six class rooms and the remodeling of the dining halls and kitchens in the women's dormitories into living quarters.

The teaching staff at Simmons has been increased to take care of new and larger demands. Professional courses have especially been strengthened and expanded. The university plans to meet the growing demands for such work. Business Administration has been reorganized, the department of Home Economics has been expanded to cover every possible phase of that work. A department of Journalism has been added to cover every phase of newspaper work, both reportorial and editorial.

Students who desire work done out of residence will have the service of a new department of Correspondence and Extension at Simmons this year. This department will be regulated and all work done in it will be recognized everywhere. Simmons plans to keep up her record in extra-curricula activity.

The athletic situation is bright with a new, reorganized coaching staff in charge. Frank Bridges, famous all over the South is head coach and director. His assistants, Leslie "Fats" Cranfill and Charlie "Potts" Anderson, two of Texas most promising young mentors will have charge of football this fall while Bridges stays out a contract in California. Bridges will report in January, maintaining in the meantime a direction over the university athletics.

In all other activities, the famous Cowboy Band, the debating teams, the university publications, Simmons offers the best of opportunities to her students.

But these are not all that Simmons offers. In all her growth, the pioneer school of West Texas has not abandoned its old democratic spirit of fellowship. Simmons is still a school where the instructors and the students are close together, where personal contacts are counted as dear and valuable as the hours in the class room. Simmons seeks to build on the foundation of religious faith and endeavor upon which it was established and turn out the all-round man and woman,—mental, physical, and spiritual.

Glen Akers, of Fort Worth, came in last week to visit a few days with his mother. Glen is holding down a good bookkeeping position in that city.

WEST SIDE SQUARE BROWNFIELD

—THE IDEAL—

BROWNFIELD CITIZEN

—Buys his clothes and other dry goods from Brownfield dry goods dealers.

—Buys his groceries from home stores.

—Has his clothes cleaned by home tailors and the home laundry.

—Eats Brownfield Baked Bread.

—Purchases his car through the home dealer, fills up at the near-by filling station and has it repaired at a home garage.

—Builds his home of lumber from the local lumber yards.

—Then furnishes it with furniture bought in Brownfield.

—Buys his farm tools, carpenter tools and other supplies in that line from the home hardware merchant.

—Calls the home-town doctor when he gets sick and buys his medicine at the local drug stores, at the same place where he buys his stationery, candies, smokes, drinks, etc.

—Lays up a saving in the home bank, and is always ready to meet his obligations.

—Urges his friends to spend the night in Brownfield at the hotels or to eat at the local cafes.

—Does not go to a neighboring town to see a show when his home town theatre can give him just as good entertainment.

—Gets his hair cut at a home town barber shop and his shoes mended in a home shoe shop.

—Buys his meats, fruits and vegetables in the home town.

—Makes his trades through local real estate agents.

—Reads the Home Town Paper.

—Gins his cotton at home, and sells and buys his produce at home.

—Boosts for his home town and county, her schools, churches and other beneficial organizations.

There is not an ideal citizen here, possibly, but MY! how much better this town would be if we had only a few hundred perfect citizens—less taxes, smaller living expenses, less grumbling and more friendly neighbors, more church going people, more money in the banks, and less worry over the turn of crop conditions.

Folks, let's quit patronizing the mail order houses which pay taxes in some other county or state, and help ourselves by BUYING AT HOME!

HELP YOURSELF, YOUR FAMILY AND COMMUNITY BY BUYING AT HOME!

THE QUITTER

When you're lost in the wild, and you're scared as a child, And Death looks you bang in the eye, And you're sore as a boil, it's according to Hoyle To cock your revolver and—die. But the Code of a Man says: "Fight all you can" And self-dissolution is barred. In hunger and woe, oh, it's easy to blow It's the hell-served-for-breakfast that's hard. "You're sick of the game!" Well, now, that's a shame. You're young and you're brave and you're bright. "You've had a raw deal!" I know—but don't squeal, Buck up, do your damndest, and fight. It's the plugging away that will win the day, So don't be a piker, old pard! Just draw on your grit; it's so easy to quit: It's the keeping-your-chin-up that is hard. It's easy to cry that you're beaten—and die; It's easy to crawlfish and crawl; But to fight and to fight when hope's out of sight— Why, that's the best game of them all! And though you come out of each gruelling bout, All broken and beaten and scarred, Just have one more try—it's dead easy to die, It's the keeping-on-living that's hard.

BUICK for 1928

When Buick improves upon Buick—the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-slung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick has made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.

"THE FARMER'S BLESSING"

My Son, I give this land to you as my father gave it to me, and as his father gave it to him. Take it, and make it a better place because you live upon it.

Remember the gold is under your feet if you use your head, your heart and your hands. Take the gold and with it build a better church, a better home and a better school in your community and your nation will continue to prosper as long as this is done.

With the hope in my heart that you may make the world a fairer place because you have lived upon it, I now ask God's blessing upon you, my Son, and in His name, I give you this land which my father gave to me.—Swiced.

ASK ME ANOTHER

1. What is a typhoid carrier? (V. D., Wills Point.)
2. I understand that there was a severe typhoid epidemic at some place this year? Where was this epidemic and to what was it attributable? (V. D., Wills Point.)
3. What is the cause of Pellagra? (Inquirer, Rotan.)
4. What is the best thing for prevention of pellagra? (Inquirer, Sour Lake.)
5. Do septic tanks ever need cleaning? (J. L. J., Miles.)
6. Is the Standard Milk Ordinance suited to small towns as well as to the large cities of the state? (Householder, Del Rio.)
7. Are food handlers in all towns required to have health certificates? (J. S., Corsicana.)

ANSWERS

1. A typhoid carrier is a person whose urine and bowel excreta contains typhoid germs. Some persons are typhoid "carriers" for a considerable length of time after being entirely well of the disease, thereby, infecting others. All discharges from a typhoid patient should be disinfected for at least a month after the patient is up and well, or until analysis of the feces shows the typhoid germ to be absent.

2. One of the most extensive epidemics of typhoid fever of recent years occurred in the early spring and summer at Montreal, Canada. From March 1st to July 16th, more than 5,000 cases of typhoid were reported, with 488 reported deaths. All investigators agreed that the source of infection was a large dairy. If the Standard Milk Ordinance, which has been adopted in some 30 Texas cities, had been in operation in Montreal, such a disaster would probably not have happened, as this ordinance makes provision for strict supervision and enforcement of sanitary regulations in the production and distribution of all milk supplies. Every town in Texas should have this milk ordinance as a public health protection.

3. Pellagra was at one time thought to be caused by a germ, but investigations made by the United States Public Health Service, disclosed the fact that this disease is due to faulty diet. It is not contagious, the reason that several members of a family often have it, being that they all have the same faulty diet.

4. Research has shown that the addition of fresh milk, eggs and fresh meat to the diet will prevent pellagra. If these elements are not readily available, canned fish or canned beef will serve much the same purpose, and fresh or dried yeast is also of great value.

5. Yes. All septic tanks gradually fill up with the deposits which accumulate in them, and when full their effectiveness to settle out the sewage solids is practically nothing. Part of the solids digest, but there is a sort of residue which will not digest. This amounts to approximately two cubic feet per person per year. From this an estimate may be made of the time that will probably be required for the tank to fill with solids. Septic tanks used for only a part of the year will fill less quickly than those in use all the time.

6. Yes, the Standard Milk Ordinance is as well suited for small towns as it is for the larger cities. Some of the smaller towns having this ordinance in operation now are: Brownwood, Bryan, Cisco, Temple, Paris, Nacogdoches, Mineral Wells, and Weatherford.

7. The state law requires all food handlers to have health certificates, but some city officials are lax in the enforcement of such matters, and no health examination of food handlers is required. Such laxity is a potential health menace, as diseased food handlers, or those who are disease "carriers" may cause infection of the innocent public.

Lubbock—Texas Technological college here is planning four buildings to total $227,500.

GOV. MOODY TO ADDRESS TECH STUDENTS

LUBBOCK, Texas, Sept. 6.—An address by Gov. Dan Moody to the freshman of Texas Technological College will be one of the features of the opening of the third annual session. President Paul W. Horn has issued a special invitation to the patrons of the college and the public generally to hear the Governor's address which will be Sunday afternoon, September 18, at 3:30 o'clock in the gymnasium.

President S. P. Brooks of Baylor University will deliver the annual address to the student body Sunday evening, September 25, at 8:00 o'clock in the gymnasium. The public is also cordially invited to hear Dr. Brooks. Other speakers for the opening week will be announced later.

Much emphasis is to be given this year to the Freshman orientation period September 16th-19th, during which time all first year students are urged to be present. They will be assisted in finding boarding places, in mapping out their courses of study and in getting acquainted generally with the institution and its activities. Entrance examinations for students who do not have sufficient accredited units to enter will be held at the college September 15th-17th.

President and Mrs. Horn will tender a reception to faculty members and their wives at the President's home on the opening of September 16th. They will give a general reception to all students at the Administration building September 24th. On Friday night, September 23rd, the churches of Lubbock will hold open house for students of their respective denominations. Everything possible will be done to welcome both old and new students back to Lubbock and to the College.

Actual registration of freshmen will take place September 19th and 20th, and advanced students will register on the 20th and 21st. Regular class work for the fall terms September 22nd at 8:00 A.M.

THE LOGICAL FUEL

Why shouldn't gas be the idea fuel? It is hot instantly, it is clean. It does not require storage on the premises. It can be used in kitchen, dining room, parlor or factory without soiling the finest furnishings or products. It is instantly afloat—no wet kindling to fail of a cold morning. There is no residue to carry away. The flame is easily regulated from maximum to minimum intensity. The saving of time in preparing the fuel is of vital importance.

The tendency is toward a lower price, which is sure to come through improved methods of production and through wider distribution and larger sales per unit of installation. These reductions are already well under way.

Rose growing has reached such proportions in East Texas that the rose bush is now considered a farm crop in some sections. Smith county is the leading county in this industry.

Tri-State Fair to Have Expensive Performers

Visitors to the Tri-State Exposition at Amarillo, starting Sunday, September 11th and ending the following Saturday, will be entertained absolutely free by one of the highest-priced light opera companies now on the road—an organization that will cost the exposition management six thousand dollars for performances.

Directors of the Exposition have decided that Earnie Young's Revue, a musical comedy entourage numbering between eighty and one hundred people, mostly comely young women, who sing and dance—and how! shall be presented free to grand stand spectators each evening.

This means that 3,000 seats in the huge amphitheatre at the fair grounds will be free—first come, first served. The only admission fee will be 50c a head at the main gate to the fair grounds.

Boxes in the grand stand are to be reserved for season buyers for both matinee and evening, and the usual 75c admission fee will be charged in the grandstand for the automobile races, but for Earnie Young's Extravaganza, each evening, the grand stand will be free.

Young, being an authority on pulchritude, and knowing what the public wants in girl shows and revues like he produces and puts on the road, sends word to the fair management that his 1927 edition is the niftiest thing he has ever brought out—colorful, tuneful full of action, elaborately costumed and propped with such a bevy of girls as he has never before assembled in any one troupe.

The Exposition management also has extended invitations to Gov. Dan Moody, of Texas, Gov. Dillon of New Mexico and Gov. Johnson of Oklahoma, to come to Amarillo for the inauguration of the Fair. Congressman Marvin Jones, Earnest O. Thompson, and officers and directors of the Exposition have extended the invitations. It is anticipated that these Executives will all be present when the fair is launched Sep. 11th.

WHAT THE SALOON WAS

"The American saloon had no conscience. It never did a good act or failed to do a bad one. It is a trap for the youth; a destroyer for the old; a foul spawning place for crime; a corrupter of politics; knows no party; supports those men for office whom it thinks can be easiest influenced; has no respect for law or the courts; debauches city councils, juries, and everyone it can reach; is powerful in the unity of its vote, and creates cowards in office. It flatters, tricks, cajoles, and deceives in order to accomplish its purpose; is responsible for more ruin and death than all the wars the nation has ever engaged in; has corrupted more politics, ruined more lives, widowed more women, orphaned more children, destroyed more homes, caused more tears to flow, broken more hearts, undermined more manhood, and sent more people to an early grave than any other influence in our land."—United States Judge William S. Kenyon.
