COTTON PICKER INVENTED AT LUBBOCK

Lubbock, Texas, Nov. 12.—Thirty cotton picking machines perfected by F. R. Friend, land owner, former Mayor of Lubbock and vice-president of the First National Bank, were shipped Oct. 27 from Quincy, Ill., where they were manufactured.

The machines were perfected last winter by Friend, who estimated that 100 bales of cotton went to waste last year on his 1,400 acres because tenants were unable to secure pickers or sufficient sleds to gather the fleecy staple.

A demonstration of one sled that was finished early and shipped here as a sample, proved to friend and a number of Lubbock county farmers that the machine will gather as much as 95 per cent of the cotton, and that several bales per day can be harvested with it at a cost of $5 or $6. This is the only demonstration of a cotton harvester machine on the South Plains section that has netted the inventor sales of the machines. Practically all of the 30 machines were placed immediately after the demonstration with farmers who witnessed the work of the harvester.

Mrs. Geo. Bragg and son, George Basil and Grandmother Bragg of Levelland visited in town from Thursday until Sunday afternoon.

Miss Gladys McSpadden, of Lubbock, spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McSpadden and was a luncheon guest of the Rotary Club, Sunday.

Uncle Billie Howard was in town Friday enjoying the celebration.

NEW MEXICO HAS ONLY THREE MILLIONAIRES

Santa Fe, Oct. 31.—New Mexico has three millionaires, according to copies of internal revenue service reports just received here.

Every person whose income reported to the service as more than $50,000, net, per year, is rated as a millionaire in the United States, of whom more than 30 per cent, or 9,690 live in New York. Pennsylvania comes next with 3066; Illinois 2792, Massachusetts with 1951, and California with 794.

Of the States adjoining New Mexico, Texas has 380, Oklahoma 174, Colorado 139 and Arizona 28.

Two states have a smaller portion of millionaires than New Mexico—North Dakota with 2 and Idaho with one.

OLD CAPITOL OF WEST TEXAS BEING RAZED

The old Tom Green county court house at San Angelo, built in 1884 and which once served as the capitol of a territory now divided into 13 West Texas counties, is being razed. On the site will be erected a new $240,000 court house. Work on the new structure will be started by the middle of November.

In view of the advancing values of standing timber and prices now prevailing in the older forest regions, Thornton T. Munger of the Forest Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture thinks it reasonable to expect that by the time the next crop of Douglas fir is merchantable its stumpage value may easily be three times present values.

LIKE GETTING A PREMIUM— ON EVERY BALE

One thing is certain; all cotton must be ginned, and the cost, based upon pounds of seed cotton delivered at the gin, is the same.

But when your cotton is ginned according to principles which produce a better sample and greater turnout, your ginning cost actually is less; you get the equivalent of a crop of larger yield and higher quality. That means more money for you, as truly as if the ginner had paid you a premium on every bale ginned for you. Such, in brief, are the advantages you gain when your cotton is ginned on a—

TO THE SENIORS

Seniors and sponsor, we the Junior class, wish to take this means by which to thank you for your generous hospitality shown last Wednesday night at the "weenie roast, given on the football field.

The two classes met at an early hour and immediately the fun began. Various games were played and enjoyed, everyone taking part. Soon something told us that the "weenies" were being roasted. No, it wasn't Miss Lawlis, but the delicious smelling odor rising from the cinders, over which the weenies were held. Maybe I shouldn't mention the soda pop, but anyway they had some, and it wasn't all strawberry, either. One bottle was highly flavored with lemon extract, castor oil, salt, pepper and water. If you don't believe it was delicious, you should have been there, for everyone got a chance at the bottle. But we must forget that and say further that the light bread, pickles, toasted weenies and pop, were all fine.

Without any exception, the Juniors report they had, without doubt, the best time they ever had at a weenie roast. Officers and sponsors, we hope before this term expires we will have had the pleasure of having the Senior Class as honored guests at some such entertainment.—Jr. Reporter.

Rev. Sanders Talks Monday

Rev. Liff Sanders came to the High School Monday morning, and made a very delightful talk to the attentive crowd of young people. He included in his talk the virtues—Honesty and Uprightness. If we would all live up to the standards and themes brought out in his talk we would be more successful, better and wiser men and women. We sincerely hope that Rev. Sanders will visit our high school more often—only we hope that he'll take up more than one period.

Last week was celebrated in this city as Armistice week. On Nov. 11, a big parade was staged in which the citizens, the school classes and even some of the rural communities took part. The parade began at 11 o'clock with the officers and world war veterans, led by Arnet Bynum, on a high stepping pony, leading the parade. Next came the Union school children and the Brownfield school children, ranging in order from the first to the 11th grade. Then the high school floats, as well as the floats of different business concerns. The Rialto Theatre took off 1st prize with a unique tank. Two high school classes tied for second honor, and this was one of the longest parades ever held in Brownfield on the Rotary Club received the 3rd prize.

COWBOYS ACT FOR EDITOR SCHULER

Spur, Nov. 8.—Scandalous John Big Sweede Swenson, and a dozen of their cowboy pals "did their stuff" Tuesday in true West Texas ranching style at the cattle roundup on the Swenson Flat Top ranch near Stamford, when all the arts of bulldogging, roping, branding and dehorning of calves and yearlings were paraded before Loring A. Schuler, editor of the Country Gentleman, on his first visit to the broad expanses of the mesquite grass country.

Catching the enthusiasm of the west, the Philadelphia editor donned a 5-gallon hat, straddled a bronco, branded a calf and partook of the regulation chuck wagon dinner with the avidity of a cowhand, and after being made an honorary member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and finding himself liking Texas better every day and expressing his hearty appreciation of the hospitality accorded him on his first visit to this state.

The program was under the direction of Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Clifford B. Jones, manager of the Swenson ranch lands. The party of some 25 visitors who arrived early in the morning, were given a breakfast at the Stamford Inn, at which greetings were extended by Messrs. Wade, Jones, A. J. Swinson, manager of the Swenson cattle interests and others.

Texas Methods Praised

"I came to Texas to see for myself the wonders of your state," said Mr. Schuler, "for I have heard of its daring new methods in cotton harvesting, its ranching and its opportunities for growing many crops the world may need. You are doing things in a newer and bigger way and other states may be able to learn from you."

An inspection of the textile engineering department of the cotton mill of the Texas Tech College was made by Mr. Schuler's party, on arrival at Lubbock, followed by a banquet at the Hotel Lubbock, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. Spencer A. Wells, president of the organization, welcomed Mr. Schuler and the other distinguished guests.

YES, A POOR LITTLE RED HEADED GIRL

Down at Fredericksburg the other day they found buried in a shallow grave a little red-headed girl, apparently about 14 years old, her name, where she came from, the manner of her death is an unsolved mystery. So far it has baffled the police powers of the State to fathom the mystery. It was thought to bury her in the potter's field, but mother instinct came to the rescue, funds were raised and the little red-head was given a decent burial. Contributions came in from everybody of all walks of life, sufficient to bury her in a beautiful death shroud and a burnished casket. Four ministers of as many churches officiated at the funeral. Several hundred school children attended the funeral and piled beautiful flowers on her grave. The Boy Scouts acted as pall bearers and a large concourse of citizens attended the funeral. You know, folks, that was a noble thing for the people to do, and we say all honor to the Mayor of Fredericksburg. Yes, the American people are a great people notwithstanding they call us the dollar chasers and shysters, and doggone, we sure do chase the dollar, and bydoggies we do swipe the gold coin, pile up the wealth, so much so, that our wealth is the marvel of the whole world, cold-blooded, drive hard bargains, and at the same time the most charitable nation on earth. Yes, we have donated our billions to feed and clothe the destitute of Europe and Asia, and are still feeding them. Then down in the Mississippi delta, when the flood tide came, we poured our millions into the coffers and fed and clothed the thousands. Oh, yes, with all our wealth getting, sharpers in trade, yet there is a tender cord in the breast of every American, and all one has to do is just thump this cord, and the purse strings are unloosed and charity dollars come rolling in. That's what they did down there in the city of Fredericksburg, and a little red-headed waif was tendered a royal funeral. Just how the little red-headed girl met her death, possibly will never be known. But on the face of it, it looks like the bloody hand of an assassin, another little girl gone astray, the foul tempter deceived her, led her astray, tampered with and blighted the most delicate flower in the world, the flower of virtue. Possibly her traducer will never be caught in the meshes of the law, but the law of conscience will follow him down to the gates of hell. There is no way to escape punishment. A man may miss the hangman's noose or stay out of prison walls, but the law of conscience is one law that cannot be evaded, and its a thousand times worse than being electrocuted or shut behind prison doors.—Albany News.

Texas produces almost 200,000,000 gallons of milk a year and the value of her milk, butter, and cheese products is more than 35 million dollars a year.

FORD AIMS TO ADVERTISE NEW CAR EXTENSIVELY

Henry Ford is reported to have set aside $15,000,000 with which to advertise his forthcoming new car the first of the year. So many merchants are of the class who will be inclined to ask, "what does a man with $15,000,000 want to sell cars for?" Henry Ford didn't have fifteen million dollars until he learned to make it by advertising the merits of his car.—Sayer (Okla.) Journal.

Mrs. Clarence Lewis will have an art exhibit at Cobb & Stephens Dept. store November 25-29. The pictures shown will be those painted by Mrs. Lewis' pupils.

AMERICAN LEGION BOYS ENTERTAIN

The American Legion boys with Mrs. Jim Miller, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Jack Holt and Mrs. Leo Holmes, as hostesses, entertained with open house at the Legion Hall, Friday nite for about fifty guests. This year the Legion boys made sure that there was entertainment for all. Those who cared to dance, were invited to the Legion dance in the building recently vacated by Mr. Michie, where dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. At the Legion Hall there were several tables of forty-two and bridge while some listened to the music over the radio, which the boys have only recently installed. There were quite a few out-of-town guests.

The hall was very beautiful with patriotic decorations, and a profusion of red, white and blue chrysanthemums. After a couple of hours spent in games, a variety of delicious sandwiches and coffee were served.

FRIDAY FORTY-TWO CLUB

The home of Mrs. W. H. Dallas was the scene of a lovely party last Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Dallas entertained the Friday Forty-Two Club.

The entertainment suite was made more lovely by a profusion of chrysanthemums. Table favors, hand painted kerchiefs of georgette, were won by Mrs. Arthur Sawyer, Mrs. Claude Hudgins, Mrs. Clint Rambo, Mrs. Pat Brothers and Mrs. W. B. Downing. The tables were made pretty with hand painted score pads as were also the tally cards, done in appropriate colors suggestive of the National observance of Armistice Day.

Mrs. Downing won high prize, a lovely flapper pin cushion; Mrs. M. B. Sawyer, low, a dainty doll, pin cushion.

Miss Mary Perkins assisted the hostess in serving layer fruit cake, pineapple bavarian cream, cheese and hot tea. Plate favors were red, white and blue nut cups filled with dainty candy and nuts.

TO STARCH CLOTHES

Starch clothes wrong side out. Leave them wrong side out until they are sprinkled. For white clothes use starch as hot as you can stand it. Hot starch goes through the fabric better and more evenly, and does not leave shiny spots when ironed. Keep most of the starch hot. Use only a part of it at a time. Replace it when it gets cold and thin. The ideal way is to have two pans of starch, besides the reserve supply. Dilute one with enough water to make a good paste for the thinner materials, and keep other thick enough for the heavier clothes. Begin by starching the clothes you want stiffest. Clothes wrung very dry before starching will be stiffer than wetter ones. White starch shows plainly when used on dark colored clothes. It may be tinted with tea of coffee for browns, and with bluing for blues, or especially tinted products may be purchased.

Miss Larue Sawyer of the Tech, visited home folks over the week end.

Mrs. Albert Beauchamp of Fort Worth is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patton.

Mr. C. W. Bohannon, Plains garage man was over Friday and left an order for some stationery.

TOO COSTLY A PRICE

THE asbestos curtain was unknown or at least unused until after a disastrous fire in a Chicago theater. It cost the price of many lives before stage managers were compelled by law to protect the public. An old man with a red lantern is charged with the responsibility of signaling automobiles of the approach of a fast train. The lantern may go out or the light not be distinguished from other red lights on moving automobiles, with the result that lives are sacrificed at railroad crossings. After the price of the loss of life shall have been paid, a superstructure is erected and the train passes over on elevated tracks. An engineer falls asleep at the throttle. The train is wrecked, lives are lost. After the catastrophe a law is enacted which forbids an engineer to work more than eight successive hours without sleep.

The Shenandoah was sent to her doom at a tremendous cost of human life. The commanding officer feared the danger and, according to reports, argued against the trip. He was under orders from his superior officers who were not conversant with the details of piloting a dirigible. When the Los Angeles was sent out on her initial voyage, the instructions given to those in charge of the ship read as follows: "The choice of routes and decisions as to start, continuation and termination of the flight rests with the commanding officer." The Los Angeles came back safely. But the freedom granted to the commanding officer was made possible only through the sacrifice of fourteen lives, sent to their doom through the wreck of the Shenandoah.

There is nothing so precious in the world as a human life. The safeguarding of life should be the first consideration on the part of any corporation or institution. The sacrifice of human life is too costly a price to pay for our knowledge and experience, especially when it is needlessly sacrificed.

Why must so heavy a price in the toll of human life be paid before the public can have the protection it deserves?

DR. HORN'S LECTURE
BIG BOOK WEEK EVENT

One of the outstanding events of "Book Week" program will be the lecture of Dr. Horn on Friday night, Nov. 18th, at the Rialto Theatre.

At this time the winners of the essay contest will be announced. On Saturday night, Nov. 19, prizes will be given for the best presentation of a character of a standard book.

Mrs. W. Gaines Hardin has summed up the benefits and needs of Good Books in the following poem written in honor of Book Week:

The Value of Reading Good Books
Good books from the pens of great writers to man

Are performing their part in the Creator's plan.

By contrasting the wrong and the right.

Make us look upon life with a much broader view

Thus rejecting the bad and accepting the true;

Thanking Him who said, "Let there be light."

Every book is a stage on which characters play,

And a better conception we have in this way

Of why some are o'er taken in sin.

Some have had all the obstacles thrown in their way,

Others guided and shielded from wrong every day,

And yet each the victory should win.

Good books are a guide telling us how to live,

And the faults and the errors of others forgive,

As we each play our part in this life;

For we know not the efforts which others have made,

The zeal and courage each victim displayed,

Ere he fell in its conflict and strife.

And again they will help us by leading us 'round

The snares and pitfalls where some soul went down;

Thus enacting his part in life's play.

Others faultless in character, word and in deed

Will elicit the praise of him who shall read

With decision to follow that way.

Good books in the hands of people who read

For prevention of crime can now fill a dire need,

For the world never praises a crook.

But of this one suggestion we all are quite sure,

We may crowd evil out—make the fountain-head pure,

If we place in their hands a good book.

There are books from the pen of the poet and sage,

And characters, bold adorn history's page

As in grand panorama they passed.

And we honor the author of each noble deed

As we learn of their lives in the books that we read;

Then, we're forming ideals that will last.

And good books bring memories of long ago,

When the day's work was ended and lights all aglow,

Shone on father in some cozy nook,

And mother, God bless her, would sit by his side,

As in diligent manner her needles she plied,

As father read from a good book.

This book of good books was the Bible, dear friend;

A light to our pathway till journeys shall end;

May we prayerfully read it each day.

It was written for all by the hands of good men,

When the spirit of God was directing the pen;

And it points to Jesus, the way.

We abide in a country of honor and worth,

Her sons, rightly classed, with the noble of earth,

To her claims every nation gives heed

Let us keep up the standards to which we aspire,

And make our fair country all one could desire,

With good books in plenty, to read.

THE FRUITS —OF LABOR—

The only lasting benefit that can come from a prosperous harvest season is when the fruits of labor have been stored away against future need.

For the individual there is no protection that can equal the accumulation of a Reserve Account in a strong bank. It provides working capital; makes possible the grasping of opportunities; it is an ever-present fund with which to weather seasons of sickness, accident or other adversity. In short, it is a bulwark of protection for the certainties of today and the uncertainties of tomorrow.

Because we know the blessings that attend the building of a strong Reserve Bank Account, we urge the people of this community to put something aside in a Special Reserve from each harvest deposit.

GAS EXECUTIVES SEE NEW ERA FOR TEXAS PRODUCT

America's gas industry is on the threshold of the greatest expansion in its history, according to views expressed at the opening of the American Gas Association convention in Chicago, October 10-14.

A Texas executive, Henry C. Morris, vice-president and general manager of the Dallas Gas Company, is quoted by the Texas Public Service Information Bureau as follows:

"As a representative of the greatest natural gas section of the world, it is my opinion that we are now in the midst of the most extensive and intensive development the industry has known since gas was discovered. We believe that future expansion and general usefulness of this fuel will be limited only by our own ability to conceive and apply new uses for gas. Gas has been an immeasurable blessing to mankind for a century, but its real worth is just now becoming apparent. Hundreds of thousands of homes in the Southwest are made comfortable by this clean, easily adaptable fuel which nature has supplied and this frontier of industrialims, because of its vast reservoirs of natural gas, can outbid all competitors in seeking new factories. Even the wide open spaces, the villages, the hamlets of the west plains, and isolated farm houses, by means of pipe lines stretching for hundreds of miles, now has the advantages of this dependable fuel, hitherto the priceless possession of the large cities only.

A magnificent vista of service and usefulness is opening up for the gas industry, once thought to have been dethroned by electricity. It is now entering a distinct field of its own in which it has no equal."

James Harley Dallas and James King spent the week end with home folks.

Miss Anna Lois Easley, former county health nurse of Terry, but now of Fort Worth, is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal and her friends are enjoying her visit very much.

All cattle in Texas are not on the farms. The latest census report shows more than 200,000 head of cattle in incorporated towns and cities.

THIS DOCTOR NOW OFF THE SUCKER LIST

There is one man in this State, whose name has been taken off the sucker list by mail order houses that have a practice of sending out un-ordered merchandise. Not long ago, this gentleman, a doctor by profession, received a box of neckties with a letter telling him to keep the ties and remit a dollar or return the package. Instead of following the instructions the doctor sent the house a few pills, enclosing them a letter telling the receiver that they were recommended for "gall." He also told them that the value of the pills was two dollars and he would give them credit for same on the necktie bill and they would need only to remit one dollar.

He was requested to return the ties. The doctor then replied and told the writer that it was a half block to the nearest mail box and that he always charged $2.50 for leaving the office, so if the writer would send that amount he would mail the ties back to them. The correspondence was closed when the sender wrote and told the doctor he had taken his name off the list.—Colorado Record.

"Tommy, the Blind Tie Man," has had a profitable season in some quarters during recent months, but recently one of those fellows was exposed and found to be a fraud, telling untruths wilfully to deceive the public, and getting his messages to the people through Uncle Sam's postal system. He probably has his eyes open by now, anyway. The doctor referred to in the foregoing gave the tie vendor the right medicine, it worked and got the needed results. Others can at least return the ties with the postage enclosed for that purpose, provided they are not doctors who can prescribe a better remedy. And, by the way, folks, come to think of it, this is the time of year when fakirs are busy everywhere. Better be on your guard if you won't want to be one of the millions which are swindled in the United States each year, getting absolutely nothing for their money. Keep your eyes open.—Slaton Slatonite.

In many States where beavers were formerly abundant, some of the best meadows are old beaver ponds that have filled up with silt either while occupied by the beavers or after they deserted or were killed, the dam continuing to provide a settling basin for the soil particles washed from higher ground. In such places the United States Department of Agriculture suggests that it is often possible to find land now unproductive that might yield fair returns for investment and labor if operated as a beaver farm for the commercial production of fur.

The Government should plant its own denuded forest lands and restore them to productiveness, says Chief Forester Greeley of the United States Department of Agriculture and thus set a good example to State and private owners. An area of more than 2,000,000 acres is in need of reforestation, but only 11,565 acres in the national forests was replanted to trees during the past year. Even this showing is a deception, according to Mr. Greeley, since one year's fires, such as swept the West last summer, add denuded lands more extensive than the areas replanted in a series of years.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

KISSING THE PART

"COME to mother, dear; she'll kiss it and make it better." Isn't this the regular thing when a child sustains an injury, real or imagined? And many a grownup child, married to another grownup child, turns to him a wry face with a half-pained, half-playful indication of a squeezed thumb or a stubbed toe! And he kisses it and makes it better.

Little do they realize, those indulgent mothers and husbands, that in this mock ministrations they are but imitating the practice of old-time sorcerers who pretended to cure diseases by sucking the affected part. In their superstitious, myth-tenanted age they found the people easy prey to their impositions, but today even the baby is skeptical of the curative powers of a kiss on a bruised knee!

They burned witches in old New England; what shall we do with the "pretenders" today?

Power Stored by Dams

The value of dams to power users is illustrated by the fact that the huge Dix river dam in Kentucky stores enough water to generate 25,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electric energy even if there were no more rainfall to replenish the water supply.

One of the great troubles with the marketing of poultry in the United States, the Department of Agriculture finds, is the excessive numbers of immature, scrawny chickens sent to market. Early hatching will do a great deal to counteract this condition, because the cockerels will have longer season in which to build a proper frame and then will have some time to put on a finish.

BE A LITTLE "GREEN!"

By EVELYN GAGE BROWNE

IT DOESN'T matter where you go. You're bound to meet the chap who thinks that what he doesn't know isn't worth a rap. But there's a lot to learn, and so it's easy to be seen. That just as all things green must grow, we must be a little "green."

FOR THE GOOSE—
TO A worrisome woman, even a diamond is only one more thing to worry about.

When your girl friend starts ravin' about her new boyish bob, remember the fox that got his tail cut off in the trap, went around sayin' how much cooler it was.

The darlinest mole in the world, once it starts gettin' big, is nothin' but a wart.

FOR THE GANDER—
If you loan a woman money and don't leave her pay you back, she is insulted. But if you do, she is disappointed.

When a girl starts treatin' you bad, you gotta consider seriously whether to leave her walk on you, or tell her where she gets off.

Do You Know

...?? That: ...??...

THE expression "eavesdropper" had its origin in Saxon times when the owners of private estates were not allowed to cultivate their possessions to the extremity, but were obliged to leave a space for the eaves. This space was known as the eaves-drip. An eavesdropper is one who stands under the eaves-drip, or near a window or door of the house to overhear what is being said inside the house. And so "eavesdropper" has come to denote one who listens secretly to what is told in private.—Anna S. Turquist.

Aiding Grape Growers
Hatching lady bugs in potatoes is aided by electric heat to keep the cellar hatchery at a uniform temperature of 80 degrees Fahrenheit. The bugs are then loosed in grape vineyards where they consume mealy bugs, enemies of the grape crop.

And More Returns
"What is the difference," asks an economist, "between a savings account and a checking account?" We know the answer to that. You can have more fun with a checking account.—Woman's Home Companion.

For Proper Digestion
We have it from an eminent explorer that cannibals are very proud of their table manners. It is to be hoped that they always take politicians with a grain of salt.

Ancient Purses
From the wearing of the pouch at the side, in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth centuries, we trace the origin of the poke, or pocket, where, according to Shakespeare, it was customary to carry one's dial. Henry VIII of England carried a purse of red satin embroidered in gold, and under Catherine de Medici perfumed leather purses became the rage, and cost at the time as much as $30 apiece.

CLOSE-UPS OF HOLLYWOOD

By Jean Parre
Motion picture studios have been dark for so long due to inactivity in film production that residents of Hollywood are mistaking the powerful sun-arcs on nights set for fires; as a consequence hundreds of disappointed followers of the light discover the scene to be, not a fire at all, but just another picture. "Abies Irish Rose" the Anne Nichols stage play that has astounded the world for long runs in New York, is being produced by Paramount. Charles Rodgers will play "Abie." We haven't heard who will be the "rose," but feel sure whoever it is will be an American beauty. Colleen Moore proves her versatility—two weeks of filming on her latest vehicle in which she is playing the Lighthouse Lunch Wagon Cook, have passed, and she hasn't nicked a saucer. Delores Del Rio has moved into her new studio bungalow, right on the studio lot. Delores is working on the Helen Hunt Jackson novel, "Ramona," and you can bet she is beautiful in the roll. John Barrymore is surprising Hollywood again, and anyone who knows "Jack" personally wouldn't think he could do it, but you should have seen him stripped to the waist, ridding a horse bare-back just like a real cowboy. Barrymore's next picture will be "The Tempest," one of those Russian revolution stories. There is no doubt that Barrymore is an actor, but we will wait and see what kind of a drugstore, or any other kind of a "store" cowboy he will make. Will Rodgers is playing the "Texas Steer," or rather I should say filming, for. I don't know who is playing the part of the "steer." Anyhow, it should be a wonder. Looks as though Richard Barthelmess is never satisfied; he is just starting a picture called the "Noose" and is also getting married. Katherine Young Wilson is to be the permanent tie. Charlie Murray and George Sidney are starting another funfest "Aces Up." Fritzi Ridgeway is playing the feminine lead. Sounds like a good bet, and I'll gamble "Charlie" wins. Tim Whalen wrote the piece. With this combination it is sure to be a whale of a picture. Alice White finished this week in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" certainly an appropriate name for a blonde. According to the number of light haired specimens of feminine pulchritude in Hollywood one would judge that all of Hollywood men were gentlemen. Jack Holt's Packard is conspicuously parked in front of the Columbia Pictures office of late. He's doing the "Warning." Look out! "Ladies night in a Turkish Bath,"

IN MEMORY

Of our dear Daddy, C. L. Holden, who was called home on November 6, 1927. He was born in Murry county, Tenn., on June 13th, 1852; came to Texas in his early life, married Miss Tillie Stinson, August 14, 1876. He had been confined to his bed since July 5, 1927 but he was a brave and patient soldier, because he told us he was prepared to meet our God. Nothing leaves a pleasanter memory than to know he was prepared to go. He was a wonderful Daddy to all of his children and grandchildren. No one knew nothing but to love him. He leaves to mourn his loss, 4 children, Mrs. Lazelle Huckabee, Brownfield; Mrs. Perry Andrews, Dexter, N. M.; Mrs. R. N. Wilkins, Mary Neal, Tex.; V. L. Holden, Lamesa, Tex. and his grandchildren. He was layed to rest in the Lovington, New Mexico cemetery beside his wife, who had passed on nine years ago. Mr. and Mrs. A. Flache, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Nelle, went to Big Spring, Friday on a few days visit and to see after Mr. Flache's property interests there. Miss Nina Tapp is now employed as waitress at the American Cafe.

SOPHMORE-FRESHMAN PICNIC

The Sophmore and Freshmen were entertained with a picnic at the sandhills, Thursday, Nov. 10. Many games were played, and at 9:30 we were served, fruits, marshmallows, weenies and buns. Mrs. Arthur Sawyer chaparoned the picnic, and everyone reported a good time, except Miss Castleberry and Spivey, who ran out of gas and didn't get there.—Soph Reporter. J. L. Young, formerly of this county, but for the past six years a resident of New Mexico, was here Tuesday on their return home from Lubbock, visiting in the Dr. Treadaway home while here. Mr. Young called at the Herald office and informed us that if blindfolded and turned loose here he would not have known this city as it had made a wonderful increase since he left here. We are very sorry to report that R. M. Goodpasture is failing in his health again, and is to be carried back to the Lubbock Sanitarium. A man passed through Saturday morning from New Mexico with a big deer strapped to his car. He got out and got his right on the opening day. W. H. Hare was in one day this week with a bale of cotton. Getting 'em out slowly but surely.

QUESTION BOX

ON HEALTH subjects Edited by STATE DEPARTMENT of HEALTH

J C Anderson, MD State H O

THIS column will be given to discussion of matters pertaining to public health. Any questions regarding public health administration, prevention of diseases, child care, sanitation, etc., will be answered in succeeding issues of this paper. Questions in regard to cure of diseases will not be answered, as the scope of this Department includes only disease prevention. Address: Question Box, State Department of Health, Austin.

ASK ME ANOTHER

- 1.—What effect does poor posture have upon health?—Teacher, Hempstead.
- 2.—Give the correct posture.
- 3.—What are the causes of sterility?—J. J. L., Cooper.
- 4.—What reasons can be given as accounting for the increase in the number of deaths from heart disease during the recent years?—C. E. M., Bonham.
- 5.—What is an improved table of weights according to age and height?—J. A. B., Waelder.

ANSWERS

- 1.—Much ill health can be said to be attributed to poor posture. The present day tendency to "slouch" or "slump," which is so noticeable among young people, tends to cause rounded shoulders and relaxed abdominal walls, which may lead to serious nervous maladies. Prolapse or "falling" of the stomach, abdominal organs or pelvic organs, and constipation may accompany faulty posture. Proper circulation of blood is prevented by faulty habits of walking, standing and sitting.
- 2.—An erect posture, whether sitting or standing, deep breathing, and exercises to improve the tone of the abdominal muscles will prevent much ill health. In standing, the heels should be well apart and the toes pointed straight ahead, chin in, chest arched forward, abdomen in. The easiest position in sitting, is with the feet (not legs) crossed, and the body resting on the full length of the thigh.
- 3.—The causes of sterility are too numerous to be given, and is a condition that is attributable to either sex.
- 4.—The following reasons may account at least in part for the increase in the number of deaths from heart disease: (a) Mortality in heart disease occurs chiefly after a person has passed the age of 45 years. As the life span has been increased during the last 50 years, more people live long enough to attain the "heart disease" age.

(b) Every person succumbs to some disease, accident or old age. During recent years, the death rate from infectious diseases, especially tuberculosis, has decreased. As the death rate per given age group from certain diseases is reduced, persons reaching that age group are more likely to die in increasing numbers from some other disease.

(c) Heart disease is in large part the result of injury to that organ by an infection, which may have occurred many years previously, such as scarlet fever, acute rheumatic fever, syphilis, or other infectious diseases. The mortality rate from such diseases have decreased during recent years but the morbidity rate has not decreased. For this reason, there are more people today with a "maimed" condition that is likely to lead to heart disease.

5.—The table of average weights given by the American Public Health Association is as follows:

Height	Women		Men
	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.
5 feet	120	126
5 feet 1 inch	122	128

SOMETHING GOOD

WE ARE growing to appreciate more and more the value of vegetables of all kinds in our diet. We learn that we should serve at least one green vegetable daily to our families, and more is better.

Vegetable Tamale Loaf.

Chop and brown one-fourth of a pound of salt pork with one onion or with a clove of garlic finely minced. Add one quart of tomatoes, a can of corn or hominy, one tablespoonful of chili powder, three tablespoonfuls of oil, one tablespoonful each of butter and salt. Heat to the boiling point, then add one and one-fourth cupfuls of milk and one and one-half cupfuls of yellow corn meal, cook ten minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire, add three well-beaten eggs, one cupful each of minced ripe olives and seedless raisins. Bake one hour.

Steak and Peppers.

Spread over a round steak the following mixture: A cupful of bread crumbs, one small onion, one cupful each of fresh tomato and green peppers chopped. Season with salt, cayenne pepper and a bit of poultry dressing. Roll up and tie and pour over a little tomato juice. Cover tightly and cook slowly for three hours. Add more tomato juice, basting the meat occasionally. Use sweet white cooking or butter to give flavor if the steak lacks fat.

Apricot Jelly.

Take one pound of dried apricots, wash and cover with cold water, let them soak overnight. Cook with one cupful of sugar in the same water in which they were soaked. Strain through a fine sieve. While hot add two tablespoonfuls of gelatin which has been softened in cold water. Mold and when chilled serve with whipped cream. Sherbet is delicious made from apricots; add water and a bit of lemon juice and freeze.

Stuffed Peppers With Beef.

Parboil six green peppers for five minutes, then stuff with a mixture of cooked rice, rare roast beef or steak seasoned and chopped and moistened with brown sauce or soup stock. Cover the peppers with buttered crumbs, place in a baking pan and bake with broth while baking. Serve with brown sauce.

Apple Custard Pie.

Add a cupful of sugar to a cupful of fresh grated apple, two beaten eggs, one cupful of sweet cream and the grated rind of a lemon. Pour into a pastry-lined tin and bake. Cover with a meringue and brown.

Add a cupful of cooked green peas to a mayonnaisse dressing; it will give color, flavor and food value to the dressing to be used with a vegetable salad.

Almond Soup.

Blanch, chop and pound two-thirds of a cupful of almonds in a mortar. Add gradually four tablespoonfuls of water and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, then add three cupfuls of stock, chicken or veal, one small sliced onion, three stalks of celery, let simmer one hour, rub through a sieve. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter and the same of flour, then pour on gradually the hot liquor; add a pint of scalded milk, one cupful of cream and salt and pepper to taste. Serve with croutons.

Our buyer, Mr. Collins, is in market this week buying merchandise to fill the big hole caused by an excellent business the past month. We sincerely thank you for this business, and we are going to show our appreciation by giving you lowest value quality merchandise and a big stock from which to make your selection. MEADOW BRIEFS

By Aesculapias.

We have little to report, but continued fair weather and gathering of crops of all kinds. We have had the long looked for freeze and the government report on cotton, which put cotton down a little, but things still look good.

The gins have disposed of only 750 bales to Saturday night. However, the proximity of a Bureau gin has lessened the amount being brought here.

Saturday was a very busy day about town and toward evening parking space was at a premium and all kinds of merchandise went rapidly.

The Armistice Exercises were held at the school building at night and the building was filled to overflowing bottom to top. The exercises began with an address by Prof. Martin, and if he had really had a subject worth his skill, there would have been something doing. He is an orator, which accounts for his having fooled a good looking woman.

Songs and recitations, with tableaux brought back the days before the war. To those of us who had boys "over there," it was realistic. The boys and girls acquitted themselves nicely—all did well.

After the exercises in the auditorium, the audience were invited to visit the various booths, which occupied most of the recitation rooms, and enjoy some good eats; places of amusement of every description.

In one of these the largest baby in captivity was on exhibition. We were curious to see the prodigy and found that great big, lazy, good humored, Theodore Lucas in swaddling cloths, with a large bottle and some ten feet of rubber tubing connecting him up. My first impulse was to get a club, but wife insisted that he be let alone for his wife's sake.

There was also an angling booth, where young and old with cane poles were fishing over a sheet, and were pulling out everything from a kite and by to a pocket handkerchief.

There were other kinds of angling in the various booths and some of the youngsters looked as if they were really serious. The Carnival closed about eleven o'clock, 'peace and harmony prevailing.'

The drive netted some one hundred and fifty dollars, which will be used to help along the various athletic and other necessary paraphernalia of school exercises.

I have just received a big fat envelope with quite a lot of enclosures. Opening and peering in on the contents I discovered a large wheel, and the words, "Horoscope Chart." I hadn't ordered it, but as I have known for a long time, that like most doctors, I was on all the "Sucker Lists," therefore shouldn't be surprised at receiving any old thing, that had failed to make a go with people of average intelligence. Just what friend of mine could have put them wise on me even to my box number I shall perhaps never know.

There were besides, several pages of interesting diagrams and hints at the occult, a long letter of two pages of type written matter. The letter begins, "Dear Friend," followed by, "You will be pleased with the contents of this letter." It then divulges the secret—up to now—"From your birth date I find that a fortunate aspect of the Moon to the Planet Jupiter has a major influence upon your life," "Which gives you a hopeful and cheerful disposition." (I am reserving this statement to pull on my wife).

There is also a very solemn statement, "The year of 1924 appears to have brought some unfortunate affair;" "I would advise you to use more care in the selection of your friends;" "The planet Neptune also foretells you may experience some uncommon and Romantic Episodes ? details later"—Your full Horoscope and Forecasts will consist of twelve pages;" Fee five dollars in advance or two dollars if you can find two others just as gullible as your self, or as I think you are."

I have lived longer than this Prestidigitator imagines, but it is the first invitation I have ever had to hook up with this ancient and still prevalent Hoax. I have purchased in the open market a few White Elephants, Pulled the Badger, Gone Sniping, looked a White Owl in the face and Rode the Goat; but this is the first imitation, from a responsible source (?) that I was in any way mixed up with the Moon and Jupiter and Neptune.

If these assertions be true I have no reasons to complain of these Heavenly influences; for I have had an ideal life. Wouldn't change it if I could. Have always been contented and happy with my condition on this planet. The climate, altitude and environment are the most ideal I can imagine. I here and now doff my hat and humbly Kow Tow to my Astral friends, Jupiter and Neptune and our earthly satellite the Moon, who's illuminated face has brought me so much comfort and assistance in the many lonely drives at night during the past thirty-five years.

So here's three fingers of the best

A MAN OF HIS WORD

A tourist who had stopped at a mountaineer's cabin noticed four holes in the door.

"Friend, I do not like to be too inquisitive," said the tourist, "but what are the four holes in the door for?"

"Wal, you see, I have four cats."

"But wouldn't one hole do for all your cats?"

"Wal, when I say 'scat'—I mean scat."—W. L. R.
