L. R. Pounds is back from Mississippi, where he visited his father whom he had not seen in 18 years. He reported a big change in the country back there, with fine highways, but they do not run like they did when he was a boy. He reported the farms looked awfully small to him, saying that often a half acre would be cut off to itself in a bend of a creek.

THEFT INSURANCE CHEAP ON STUDEBAKERS

1928 rates for theft insurance on Studebaker cars have been materially reduced according to Hardin-Burnett Auto Co. local Studebaker-Erskine dealer. "The new figures released by Eastern and Western rating bureaus show decreases ranging from $1 to $4.50 per thousand dollars of insurance in Eastern territory, and from fifty cents to $3.00 per thousand in Western territory," said Mr. Burnett.

The rate advantage which Studebaker now holds over cars in the same price class is primarily due to the coincidental lock which locks the steering wheel and ignition switch coincidentally. This type of lock has been standard equipment on Studebaker cars since 1924. While some manufacturers have since added this feature, theft insurance rates for their cars are not yet affected. Theft insurance rates like those of other types of insurance are based upon cumulative experience rather than present changes. Studebaker owners are benefiting now, as they have during the past two or three years, from Studebaker's foresight in adopting the coincidental lock.

"The actual dollar and cents value of the new Studebaker rates is shown by a comparison with the rates of four other well-known competitive cars in the Studebaker rates are from $2.00 to $23.50 less per thousand dollars of coverage. In Western territory Studebaker rates are from $1.00 to $23.50 less per thousand dollars of coverage.

When the director called for Tokio he said he would give them five minutes to get on the court. Mr. Knoll told him he would be as good to him, and give him back four and one half of the minutes. ## Many American Eagles

Butchered in Alaska

Philadelphia.—The American eagle in Alaska is disappearing under the bounty system of 1917, of that territory, says Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies.

"There are many of these eagles left," said Doctor Pearson, "but from what I saw of them and learned on all hands, it is plain that the bird is far less numerous than a few years ago. Official records of the bounties paid up to August 4, 1927, as supplied me by Karl Thiele, secretary of Alaska, showed that the feet of 49,733 eagles had been turned in for the $1 bounty (formerly 50 cents)."

Doctor Pearson also stated that on all sides the eagles are regarded as destructive to fish, ptarmigans, young mountain sheep, tawns and young blue foxes. "I found it very difficult, however, to find people who had actually seen eagles performing any of these depredations, aside from eating fish."

Held Cold-Blooded

New York.—The World war made the children of its day a "bloodthirsty and cold-blooded" present generation. Fritz Kreisler, violinist, said on his return from an eight-month tour of Europe.

He asked reporters what had taken place in America during his absence. Among other things, he was told of the Hickman murder case and other recent crimes.

"It is those young people who were children in the war and who heard of the gigantic sacrifice of life and seem to have inherited all the bloodshed and cruelty of war," he said. "I know. I see it in their faces and in their actions."

"Thank God it is not the soldiers," he added. "They came back tired and weary and settled down."

The Fire Marshal shall keep in his office a record of all fires, together with all facts statistics and circumstances, including the origin of the fires and the amount of the loss, which may be determined by the investigation required by this ordinance.

Sec. 3. The Fire Marshal, when in his opinion further investigation is necessary, shall take or cause to be taken the testimony, on oath, of all persons supposed to be cognizant of any facts or to have means of knowledge in relation to the matter under investigation, and shall cause the same to be reduced to writing; and if he shall be of the opinion that there is evidence sufficient to charge any person with the crime of arson, or with the attempt to commit the crime of arson, or of conspiracy to defraud, or criminal conduct in connection with such fire, he shall cause such person to be lawfully arrested and charged with such offense or either of them, and shall furnish to the proper prosecuting attorney all such evidence, together with the names of witnesses and all of the information obtained by him, including a copy of all pertinent and material testimony taken in the case.

Sec. 4. The Fire Marshal shall have the power to summon witnesses before him to testify in relation to any matter which is by the provisions of this ordinance a subject of inquiry and investigation, and may require the production of any book, paper or document deemed pertinent thereto. The said Fire Marshal is hereby authorized and empowered to administer oaths and affirmations to any persons appearing as witnesses before him.

Sec. 5. Any witness who refuses to be sworn, or who refuses to appear or testify, or who disobeys any lawful order of said Fire Marshal, or who fails or refuses to produce any book, paper or document touching any matter under examination, or who is guilty of any contemptuous conduct during any of the proceedings of the Fire Marshal in the matter of said investigation or inquiry, after being summoned to give testimony in relation to any matter under investigation as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and it shall be the duty of the Fire Marshal to cause all such offenders to be prosecuted. Any person being convicted of any such misdemeanor shall be fined in a sum not exceeding twenty-five ($25.00). Provided, however, that any person so convicted shall have the right of appeal.

Sec. 6. All investigations held by or under the direction of the Fire Marshal may, in his discretion, be private, and persons other than those required to be present may be excluded from the place where such investigation is held, and witnesses may be kept separate and apart from each other and not allowed to communicate with each other until they have been examined.

Sec. 7. The Fire Marshal shall have the authority at all times of day or night, when necessary, in the performance of the duties imposed upon him by the provisions of this ordinance, to enter upon and examine any building or premises where any fire has occurred, and other buildings and premises adjoining or near the same, which authority shall be exercised only with reason and good discretion.

Sec. 8. The Fire Marshal, upon complaint of any person having an interest in any building or property adjacent and without any complaint, shall have a right at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examination to enter into and upon all buildings and premises within the city, and it shall be his duty, monthly or more often, to enter upon and make or cause to be entered and made, a thorough examination of all mercantile, manufacturing and public buildings, together with the premises belonging thereto. Whenever he shall find any building or other structure which, for want of repair, or by reason of age or dilapidated condition, or for any cause, is especially liable to fire, and which is so situated as to endanger other buildings or property, or so occupied that fire would endanger persons or property therein, and whenever he shall find an improper or dangerous arrangement of stoves, ranges, furnaces or other heating appliances of any kind whatsoever, including chimneys, flues, and pipes with which the same may be connected, or a dangerous arrangement of lighting devices or systems, or a dangerous or unlawful storage of explosives, compounds, petroleum, gasoline, kerosene, dangerous chemicals, vegetable products, ashes, combustible, inflammable and refuse materials, or other conditions which may be dangerous in character or liable to cause or promote fire or create conditions dangerous to the firemen or occupants, he shall order the same to be removed or remedied, and such order shall be forthwith complied with by the owner or occupant of said building or premises. Provided, however, that if said owner or occupant deems himself aggrieved by such order, he may, within five (5) days, appeal to the Mayor, who shall investigate the cause of the complaint and unless by his authority the order is revoked, such order shall remain in force and be forthwith complied with by said owner or occupant. At the end of each month the Fire Marshal shall report to the State Fire Marshal all existing hazardous conditions, together with separate report on each fire in the city during the month.

Sec. 9. Any owner or occupant of a building or other structure or premises, who shall keep or maintain the same when, for want of repair, or by reason of age or dilapidated condition to fire, and which is so situated as to or for any cause, it is especially liable endanger buildings or property of Editor W. J. Baldwin of the Leveland Herald dropped in upon us one day last week, while returning from Hot Springs where he had carried his son, his main support in publishing the Herald, to be treated for rheumatism. We were pleased to have this good editor of an excellent paper call, even if it was only for a few minutes and on our press day, and we hope his son has a speedy recovery.

The people of Pyote, Texas, seem to be another example of some of our own people who do not want a railroad to run to our west. They are doing everything they can to keep a railroad running from the T. & P. to the oil fields northwest of them. It looks selfish to us, but that may just be the way we are made up.

All previous city and school elections here and including the city election Wednesday of this week are fair samples of where the office was allowed to seek the man, and not the man for the office. They absolutely will not run for mayor or alderman, nor yet school trustee in Brownfield. Really, though, we have not the heart to blame them, for who in the blazes want these offices?

No, we didn't tell you about the sandstorm last Wednesday. Anything with which the majority of people are already familiar is no news matter and need not be repeated, as they already know as much about it as we, and a repetition of it is only waste of good ink and print paper. It is not because we are afraid or had rather not print anything about them in the Herald. Don't get that into your noodle brother.

The fat sides of the G. O. P. are fairly shaking with laughter at the fool Democrats who seem to be split and getting splinter over prohibition. Don't the Republicans have wets and dries? Yes, but they have too much sense to let that divide their forces. Some people are so narrow between the eyes that all wets are schemers and grafters to them, and all dries are spies and snoopers to others. Why can't we be sensible long enough to remember we have had thousands of wets like Woodrow Wilson and thousands of dries like William J. Bryan? What fools we mortals be.

Thomas A. Edison gave out rather a long interview, for him, on the occasion of his birthday recently, concerning the future of electricity. He says that while the next forty years may not see the vast improvements that have been almost miraculous in the past forty, there will be some more inventions, but he rather thinks that the greater amount of energy of the people will be spent in the perfection of the great inventions we now enjoy. He doesn't believe there will be any standstill in improvements as long as man or woman has to do by hand anything that can be done better and easier by electricity.

The Dallas News has contained several editorials recently supporting the position of Dr. Marlatt and advocating the establishment of non-cotton zones where the pink boll worm has been found. Last Monday, however, it explained that it is waging a fight against live worms only and not against dead ones, and that it would not favor the establishment of a non-cotton zone where only dead worms had been found. We are gratified that the News has modified its position to this extent. In this modification, it certainly is not in accord with Dr. Marlatt. That gentleman strongly insisted on the establishment immediately of a non-cotton zone for Ector, Andrews, Martin, Midland, Glasscock, Howard, and Dawson counties, the only evidence of infestation being "dead" pink boll worms, assuring the farmers and business men at the Sweetwater meeting that a compensation fund would be appropriated by Congress to partly remunerate the farmers for their losses during the present year. It was this unreasonable demand of Dr. Marlatt, sanctioned by McDonald, Farris, and others connected with the eradication movement, that aroused such bitter opposition and antagonism on the part of West Texas farmers and business men. If Dr. Marlatt, R. E. McDonald, W. D. Farris and others of the departments had had their way, these seven West Texas counties would be in a non-cotton zone today on no other evidence than that a few pink boll worms had been found in them.—Tahoka News.

Muskra's Destroy Carp

Muskra's sometimes eat fish, but they capture sluggish kinds mainly and seldom larva game fish. When carp were introduced into many parts of this country it was found that the muskrats sometimes invaded ponds and destroyed the carp. This would not now be regarded as a serious loss. Muskra's cause some loss to the fish culturist by injuring his ponds and possibly by destroying the food of fishes.

Black Blotting Paper

By using the blotter that has been applied to a signature, forgers have sometimes fashioned an accurate reproduction of the writing, but with a type of blotter now being employed in banks they will no longer be able to do this, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The blotters are black, so that the ink is completely lost in the color. Besides this advantage, they are not so easily disfigured.

Old-Time Exhortation

A bidding prayer was a form of exhortation, always followed by the Lord's prayer, enjoined by the fifty-fifth canon of the Anglican church in 1603, to be used before all sermons and homilies. It was a prayer for the church, the sovereign, various classes of people, and a thanksgiving for the faithful departed. In changed forms, it still survives in modern church services.

Armistice Car

The car in which the armistice was signed on November 11, 1918, is now housed in a building erected for this purpose at the great crossroads in the forest of Compiègne where the peace rendezvous was kept. It contains the same table, chairs, blotters and pens with which the German emissaries and Marshal Foch signed the armistice.

Cat-Tails Not Popular

Cat-tails have a disagreeable odor that is not easily removed and for that reason they are not satisfactory when used for upholstering and making mattresses. Cat-tails are not used commercially in this country. In England they were used for upholstering, prior to the time that kapok was introduced from Java.

Fairy Story

Once a man ordered a fresh fruit salad in a Broadway night club, and what the waiter brought, surrounded by two dollars' worth of ice, did not comprise two canned pears, one canned peach, two slices of canned pineapple, three slightly used grapes (fresh), and a marischino cherry.

Glorious Christmas Day

The most famous event in United States history associated with Christmas day was Washington's crossing of the Delaware river to attack the British at Trenton, N. J.

60 FARMS SOLD ON ELLWOOD RANCH THIS SEASON

Judge R. C. Hopping and son, Sidney, were in town recently taking pictures of various buildings and scenes here preparatory to getting out an illustrated booklet describing the resources of Hockley County. Judge Hopping has charge of the land sales on the Ellwood Ranch and the advertising matter will be used in furthering the sale of those lands.

In speaking about their sales during the present season, Judge Hopping stated that more than 60 farms had been sold on this ranch since November 1, the greater part of which is now going into cultivation. By increased advertising and effort a much greater amount of land will be sold during the present year with a subsequent increase of population and development in this county.—Levelland Herald.

Supt. Eunice Jones of the utility dept. of the city, got scared we were going to cut him off, and showered down with a wheel to put his time up in advance.

REASON FOR PUEBLO ROADS BEING SOUGHT

Scientists May Learn Secret of Indian Tribe.

Washington.—The Indian population of Chaco canyon, N. M., a thousand years or more ago, built wide "roads" extending many miles across the mesas and cut broad stone stairways out of the solid rock of the canyon wall. Why? That is one of several questions which prompted the National Geographic society's expedition to ancient Pueblo Bonito, under the direction of Neil M. Judd, archeologist of the Smithsonian institution.

Pueblo Bonito, one of the greatest apartment-house cities of prehistoric America, lies ruined on the floor of Chaco canyon, 70 miles north of Gallup, N. M. The aboriginal inhabitants wrung their livelihood from the silty soil of the canyon bottom and could not have farmed the wind-blown mesas above. Yet they hewed dozens of stairways in the terraced ledges of the sandstone cliffs which extend back from the canyon rim and then built roadways north and south across the mesa. Some of the "roads" are said by the Navajo to extend 40 miles up hill and down. And there innumerable step series were carved with stone hammers, for the Bonitians were people of the Stone age. They had no metal tools; no beasts of burden.

Stairways Are Wide.

The stairways are from five to ten feet wide and some of them have a 10-inch tread. The roads, if that is what they were, vary in width from fifteen to twenty feet and are usually lined with boulders which were rolled to one side in the clearing process. On sloping ground the lower side of the road was built up and where the mesa changes levels abruptly steps were cut in the rock.

On upper, retreating ledges, built against the foot of the red sandstone cliffs, the expedition found terraces ten to fifteen feet high, braced with massive masonry walls. One of these, varying in width from ten to thirty feet, is traceable for more than a mile. With the man power available to the pueblo, the building of this single terrace must have been a herculean task. But, with a definite objective in view, the Bonitians seem never to have considered the human labor involved.

Why the canyon dwellers built these things is not yet absolutely clear. In tracing the roads as far as he was able, a task quite incidental to the major explorations of the society, Mr. Judd found that they all seemed to lead back into the canyons, where pine trees formerly grew. In building their pueblo the Bonitians used thousands of pine logs, and it may be that they constructed the roadways and the stairs as a means of facilitating the transportation of such logs. Of the 200 fragmentary beams excavated from Pueblo Bonito by the National Geographic society's expedition in the last seven years, not one bears any evidence of scarring, a fact which indicates that the timbers were carried instead of being slid down the cliffs.

Seek New Light.

While this may explain the stairs and the "roadways," it is not so helpful in explaining the terraces. Further investigation throws new light on them.

In addition to the investigation of these problems, Mr. Judd unearthed further evidence that Chaco canyon was the center of a larger and more ancient prehistoric population than had been thought. He discovered several sites of half-sunken villages of the Post Basket Makers, peoples who came centuries before the builders at Pueblo Bonito. He expects that investigation of these sites will reveal other house groups as extensive as the one excavated this last summer by the Smithsonian institution and which was first discovered by the National Geographic society's expedition in 1928.

Automatic Tide Gauge Invented in England

London.—An automatic tide level indicator, considered a great improvement over any existing type, has been produced and is being exhibited in London.

The device consists of an illuminated indicator, constructed to show the height of the tide at any time during the day or night. On the model the figures when magnified for night reading are 22 inches long and can be deciphered from a ship or a land station at long distances. The recording figures and marks for night use are projected on a glass screen high above water level, or, when fixed ashore, onto the window of any existing lookout or signal station. The dimensions of the figures may be enlarged as required. The indicator works automatically and continuously and can be installed on any site where access to the rising and falling of the water is available for the necessary float.

For isolated sites a system of acetylene gas is installed with automatic control for lighting and extinguishing at definite times.

No Longer a Joke

DRINKWATER'S GREAT PLAY AT AMARILLO THE 13TH

AMARILLO, Texas.—Newspaper editors of the Panhandle, western Oklahoma and eastern New Mexico will be guests of the Tri-State Fair Association at the performance of "Abraham Lincoln," John Drinkwater's great play, at the Amarillo auditorium, Friday night, April 13.

The play will be presented by the original New York cast and is now playing in Los Angeles.

"We feel that we are exceptionally fortunate in being able to offer this great play with the original cast to the people of the Panhandle," said Bob Emmett, secretary of the fair association. "The play is one that every American citizen, particularly the school children should see."

The play will be presented at popular prices from 50 cents to $2.50, without war tax. Reservations are now being received by the Fair association.

AVERY Two-Row Listed Corn Cultivators

Give a good crop a good start

When your listed corn is young, is the time to lay a foundation for profitable growth. Careful cultivation at this time brings a generous reward.

Listed corn farmers who work their corn through the early stages with Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators, bring down to the young crop exactly the required amount of finely pulverized soil and give their crop the best possible start. They do the most for the crop, in the easiest and best way, when good care is most needed.

In designing the Avery Sled Cultivator, which runs in the furrow astride the row, every essential has been provided for doing the work easily and accurately. The Avery Two-Row Listed Corn Cultivator offers a broader development of the same principle, but due to the exclusive Avery equalizers and other features, it cultivates two rows with the same ease and accuracy as does the single-row machine.

Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators bear the unmistakable quality characteristics of all Avery tools. Because they do better work and last longer, they are the most economical in the end to buy. They are built in America's finest implement factory—to meet a need that springs direct from the soil—by men inspired by 100 years of implement-building leadership.

Ask us for the details. We will gladly give you all the facts upon request.

There is a full line of famous Avery walking, riding and tractor plows, tillage implements, and Champion harvesting and haying machines.

DISABLED VETS FIND WORK.

General Hines of U. S. Bureau Launches New Policy.

Washington.—The United States Veterans' bureau has been ordered by the director, Gen. Frank T. Hines, to inaugurate a general campaign to assist in finding employment for disabled World war veterans, according to a report made by Watson E. Miller, chairman of the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion.

American Legion posts throughout the country will assist in the movement, and General Hines, with his bureau's 54 field offices, and the bureau's thousands of employees, hopes to effect contacts with employers that will result in a general employment of disabled veterans, and especially those discharged from government hospitals.

General Hines has directed letters to his regional managers calling attention to that part of the World war veterans' act which states "That the bureau shall have the power, and it will be its duty, to provide for the replacement of rehabilitated persons in suitable or gainful occupations."

The director calls attention not only to those rehabilitated by the bureau under the vocational rehabilitation act, but to those rehabilitated in bureau hospitals.

Former contacts with civilian agencies are to be renewed, and attention is called to the fact that in filling positions within the bureau that preference be given to persons with service record.

Refused to Pay Rent

In United States politics the "Anti-Rent" party refers to a party in the state of New York which had its origin in dissatisfaction among the tenants under the patron system in the eastern part of the state. The tenants refused to pay rent in 1839, resisted force, and a few years later carried their opposition into politics. The matter was settled by a compromise in 1850.

Treetop Home and Diet of Apples Pall on Girl

San Francisco.—Her clothes tattered and hair bedraggled, Anna Michaels, seventeen-year-old telephone operator, stumbled into the Burlingame police station here prepared to prove that back to nature existence is unsatisfactory.

Anna, who ran away from home recently, told Police Chief John J. Harper that she lived at Coyote Point, near San Mateo, for two weeks, sleeping in eucalyptus trees at night and hiding in the woods in the day—her sole sustenance being a bag of apples.

All was fine, she told the guardian of the law, until the last apple was gone.

In the meantime, however, Anna's mother, Mrs. Julia Michaels, notified of her daughter's discovery, announced different plans for the young runaway. She was sent to the juvenile detention home in Redwood City and the mother declared she intends to place her in the juvenile detention home here until the "runaway streak was broken."

According to the mother, Anna has run away from home several times because she has been denied parties and dates with boys that Mrs. Michaels did not know.

Insect Gardeners

White ants of Indo-China have their own gardens, where they tend what might be called pumpkin patches. These insect gardeners raise microscopic pellets like pumpkins, made of a sort of fungus, somewhat similar to the mold on stale bread. A bed consisting of fragments of leaves and grass is prepared and weeded by the ants. These they chew into fine material into which they place the germs of fungus.

Beats Out Men

London.—An hitherto unknown girl architect sprang to fame when it was announced Elizabeth Scott, twenty-nine years old, of London, won the contest for the plans for a Shakespeare memorial theater at Stratford-on-Avon. More than 70 men architects were entered in the competition.

MILK PAIL PROOF

Purina-fed cows have broken more than sixty state, national, and world records.

Yet these records don't tell the whole story after all. They only prove that Purina makes more milk. They don't prove anything about Purina producing a cheaper quart of milk; and that's the thing that every dairyman wants.

But here's what does prove Purina produces a cheaper quart—twenty thousand more dairymen are feeding Purina this year than fed it last year! When twenty thousand dairymen—big and little—change to one feed in one year, it says a lot more than any feed salesman can say about the Purina quart being the cheapest!

Come in and let us show you what Cow Chow, Bulky-Las and Calf Chow will do for you

BISHOP WOULD ADD TO THE SHORT SKIRT

The venerable Bishop of Ely and the royal-by-marriage Viscount Lascelles, the king's son-in-law, are debating the authorship of a new form of campaign against the modish short skirt.

The campaign started with this rhyme:

"Half an inch, half an inch, half an inch shorter,

The skirts are the same of mother and daughter.

When the wind blows,

Each one of them shows

Half an inch, half an inch more than she oughter."

Viscount Lascelles announced Bishop was the author. The bishop, in an article, denied authorship but contributed another of his own:

"Mary has a little skirt,

So neat, so bright, so airy;

It never shows a speck of dirt,

But it surely does show Mary."

HOUSE BILL HITS "COMPANIONATE" MARRIAGE

It seems to be a fad these days to call ancient and dirty sins by new and euphonious names. "Companionate" marriage might better be designated by the term under which it has been known in America since Colonial days.

Mr. Hammer has just introduced into the House of Representatives a bill against the making of such contracts between the sexes. It reads:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons within the District of Columbia to enter into, contract, or be a party to a marriage commonly known as the companionate or trial marriage whereby they agree at the time of their marriage that the man shall not be responsible for the support of the wife, and the wife shall not be obliged to live in the home of her husband, but they will cohabit as husband and wife for a limited period and, if at the expiration of the said time either party may agree to consent or not resist the same; or whereby the contracting parties shall at the time of the marriage stipulate that the bonds of matrimony between them shall not be permanent, except at the option of the parties, but may be dissolved after an agreed period; and any person or persons who violate this Act shall upon conviction be fined not less than $100 or more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not less than six months or more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

"Sec. 2. And any person or persons within the District of Columbia who shall promote, encourage, bring about, or conspire to bring about any such companionate or trial marriage between any person or persons upon conviction shall be fined not less than $100 or more than $1,000 or imprisoned not less than six months or more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the Court."

The SANDMAN STORY

THE PROUD COW

"MY NAME is Mooly Cow and I have no horns. Moo, moo, moo, I have no horns," repeated Mrs. Mooly Cow.

"Moo, moo, moo," said Mrs. Black Poll Cow, "I haven't any horns, either."

"The same is true of me," said Mrs. Red Poll Cow, "and what is more, none of our little ones have horns, as they follow our example."

"We don't mind it because other cows like the horns. It's just not our way."

"Why talk of horns and whether you have them or not?" said Miss Jersey Cow. "The important subject to be talked about is that of milk."

"Milk is important," said Madame Jersey Cow. "Oh, yes, there is nothing so important except perhaps cows themselves and good food for them to eat."

"Well," said Miss Jersey, "I do give milk. There is no mistake about that."

"Now the Guernsey Cows give good rich milk, too. They are much the same as we are. They belong to the same great family."

"Ah, yes," said Miss Guernsey, "that is true."

"The Jersey and the Guernsey give the rich milk. Now the Holstein ladies say that they prefer quantity to quality."

"True," said Madame Holstein, "I would rather give a lot of milk than a small amount of very rich milk such as the members of your family do."

"It is nice, of course, to give rich milk, but I think it is nicer to give lots of milk. Now, the way we do means that many, many more people can have milk than if we did as you all do."

"You are not so generous as we are. That is simply a family way of yours. But when you do give, you give handsomely. That is the way of the Jersey and Guernsey families."

"Now I hold the world's record for the amount of milk given—for the greatest amount of milk ever given. I do not mean that I, myself, hold this great record, but the Holstein family holds it."

"A Holstein cow has been known to give one hundred pounds of milk a day!"

"There is nothing selfish about that. Nothing small or stingy."

"Ah, yes, our family holds the world's record for generosity in milk giving."

"Well," said Miss Guernsey, "we're good-sized cows and we think that some cows should not think only of quantity but should think of richness and such important things."

"We're rather rich looking ourselves, splendid looking we've been told, and we want to give the kind of milk that is like ourselves."

"Sometimes we've been fed up and given some of the Jersey milk to make us fat," said one of the Holsteins, "for we are fed well when we're out prize winning; or are hoping to be prize-winning cows."

"We're fed well all the time, of course, too."

"I do believe that we hold the butterfat record, for we've given eight pounds of butter a day—apiece."

"Ah, they have a silo on the farm, and they thresh corn for us for the winter time."

"But we do our work."

The Holstein family wore spotted black and white coats and Miss Jersey wore a lovely fawn-colored costume.

But they talked no more now for a while as it was milking time, and they all went and lined up so as to be all ready.

They felt quite satisfied with what they could do and in the talk they had had.

By T. R. PRESTON
President, American Bankers Association

NO class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a real problem and demands the best thought of everyone. This country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

T. R. PRESTON

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories

It is a fact that no community and no state has ever become great purely from agriculture. It is not to the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural sections losing their wealth and importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage. There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in these states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This mixing of industry ing examples from my own state to prove this proposition, and I mention these because I am more familiar with conditions there than elsewhere.

Twelve years ago Kingsport, Tennessee, had a population of about one thousand. Great industries like a large camera company, a big cement plant and a number of other industries were located there partly through the influence of an outstanding New York business man. In a little more and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry.

I would not suggest that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country for future industries to be placed in these small villages rather than to be further congested in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standards of living, increases public revenue, reduces taxes and vastly increases educational facilities.

Two Striking Examples

I believe I can give you two striking than twelve years these have brought the population of that city up to seventeen thousand. Just a few miles away, at Elizabethton, they are building a great rayon plant, the first unit to cost $5,000,000. The population of that town is now two thousand, but it is estimated that this will be multiplied by five in less than two years. It is stated that the total investment in manufacturing industry in that community within a period of five years will probably reach $50,000,000.

The balancing of industry and agriculture will solve most of our so-called agricultural problems and we will not need such political measures as will, in my opinion, do harm if enacted to the very class they pretend to benefit.

Hermleigh—The Hermleigh Herald is sponsoring a "Lawn and Tree" Club and has suggested that it advocate a prettier home program for the town.

H. L. Brooks, representing the South Plains Typewriter Co., of Lubbock, was here on business, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Brown, of Abilene, who came up to attend the funeral of his brother, Boyd, left Monday for home.

Trapped by Catnip

It is not the purring house cat alone that is irresistibly attracted by the smell of that strange drug, catnip. The spell runs through the entire family, according to the American Druggist, which reports that a compound of artificial catnip is being used effectively to trap the bobcats and mountain lions that infest the far-western mountain regions.

Spirit Writing

A tradesman took ill and suddenly died. His bookkeeper found on the next day a letter the tradesman had written but not sealed. The bookkeeper sealed and sent the letter, having added the following: "After writing the above, I suddenly passed away."—Stockholm Kasper.

Famous Christmas Carol

The "Christmas Carol," by Dickens, was published in 1843. It narrates the regeneration of the miser Scrooge by the kind offices of Marley's Ghost. The story was published in London by Chapman & Hall, and 15,000 copies bringing the author more than £700 ($3,500) were soon sold.

Famous English Statute

The "Black Act" refers to an English statute of 1722, so-called because designed originally to suppress associations of lawless persons who called themselves "blacks." It made felonies certain crimes against game laws, the sending of anonymous letters demanding money, etc.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the kindness and help of our friends during the illness and death of our wife and mother.

V. G. Latham and family.

FOCUSING ENERGY

In one of the laboratories of Washington there is a great sun-glass that measures three feet across.

It is like the burning glass we used to treasure when we were boys, only much larger. This great glass gathers the rays of the sun that strike its flat surface and focuses them on a single point in a space a few feet below. That single point is hotter than a blowtorch. It will melt through steel plate as easily as a red-hot needle burns through paper.

This terrible heat—it cannot be measured for it melts all instruments—is just three feet of ordinary sunshine, concentrated on a single point. Scattered, these rays are felt—perhaps just pleasantly warm; concentrated, they melt adamant.

The same principle applies to human endeavor. Scattered, a man's energies do not amount to much; once they are all focused on the task in hand, seemingly tremendous difficulties, like snow on a hot stove melt away.

Get the habit of concentrating when you start a thing—throw on all the steam you have and focus everything on the task in hand. Remember that three feet of ordinary sunshine concentrated will burn through anything.—Bagology.

NAZARENE MEETING

The Cleghorn Evangelistic band will begin a meeting at Tokio, April 20th continuing to May 6th. Everybody come.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank the good people of Terry County for all the nice things they did for us and the many words of consolation in this our sad hour. May God bless each of you, and when it comes your time I hope you'll have as many good friends as we had.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown and family.

THE WRONG APPROACH

Nellie and Belle went to the movies. Owing to the heavy attendance they were unable to get seats together. But Belle was a reliant young Miss and hoping to make a trade of seats she whispered to her male neighbor, "Are you alone?" And the brute replied: "Fly away, Birdie—I've got the whole damn family with me."—James H. Hott, Blairsville, Ind.

AUTOS ARE MORE EXPENSIVE THAN RELIGION

It costs more to own and keep up an automobile in this modern age than it does to belong to the church. It costs more to belong to clubs and lodges than its costs to have religion. Woodcock.
