BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1928

NUMBER 40

Chamber of Commerce

By the Secretary

The motor bus line from Brownfield to Odessa is now in operation, and from all indications is going to be a pretty important link in our transportation system. By the way, we must have been pretty well lined up when we appeared before the railroad commission in a request for permission to operate, as ours was the only one allowed right off the bat. In fact, as far as we are able to discover, it was the only one that was not taken down to Austin for further investigation, with the exception of the Lamesa, Brownfield-Roswell line, which had previously received a temporary permit, and it was made permanent.

Have heard several of the boys kicking about having too much rain, but we bet they would change their tune if the weather turned off dry for four or five weeks. Fact is, fellows, I have been here 12 years and we haven't had too much rain during that time, at least that is my personal opinion. County Agent Davis has delivered several hundred pounds of certified sorghum grain seed, but says he is not going to enter into the grain business and will not sell anything that is not certified, and then only in small lots. He says that his idea is only to get a start of good grain in the county and that the few that he sells to will then have a supply to furnish dealers and others. The county now has a supply of rat poison. You can get it by applying to Jay Barret at the courthouse. Our county wide rat killing campaign will be pulled off soon after the schools open in the fall.

Don't forget the County Fair; so plant for it as we want to stage the best one that has ever been held in our section.

The American Legion assisted by the Chamber of Commerce is arranging to pull off a celebration July 4th. They are going to undertake to make it a barbecue and serve it as was done a few years ago—that is Army style, and everyone who witnessed the way the boys handled it before, are quite satisfied that it will be a success.

Construction of the highway west of Brownfield to the county line, is being delayed on account of frequent rains. It seems that maintenance comes ahead of everything else, and just about the time the county highway foreman commences construction along the west highway, a rain is received either on the Lubbock or Tahoka highways and he has to move all machinery to it. Just about three weeks of good steady work on the west highway would complete it, but unless old J. Pluv lets up, it will be late summer before the section is opened for traffic.

DAL-PASO ROUTE FAILS TO FUNCTION, IT SEEMS

It now seems more than probable that the much hoped for and the much talked of Dal-Paso Highway is a thing of the past. It has been killed by the unwise actions of its own friends(?) Some of our Texas neighbors tried to dictate the location of the highway system of New Mexico and would consent to no other location. As a result of this unwise and arbitrary attitude the Texas Highway Commission is now virtually pledged to the designation of the Fort Worth-Roswell Airline as the highway leading from Fort Worth into New Mexico. As this line is at no point in Texas more than 30 miles from the proposed Dal-Paso line and in some places not more than 10 miles distant, it is unreasonable to suppose that both of them will be maintained as state highways by our neighboring state. Of course this will not damage Lovington as much as other town along the Dal-Paso route. The Carlsbad Cavern travel will turn south at Tatum and pass through Lovington over highway 18. But it will be a great misfortune to Seminole and Lamesa, which two places are mainly responsible for the unfortunate condition of affairs.—Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

Benjamin—Through efforts of President J. H. Atterbury of the local chamber of commerce, citizens of Benjamin have voted to incorporate.

Lubbock—The $275,000 chemistry building for Texas Tech is under construction, to be completed by January 1, 1929.

Brownfield-Roswell Stage Wrecked Monday

J. D. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Jones of this city, who has been working in Roswell for the past two or three months, was a passenger on the Brownfield-Roswell Bus coming in Monday afternoon from Roswell, and described to the writer the wreck, which occurred four miles this side of Tatum.

Mr. Jones said he was the only passenger on the bus, and that Mr. Ed Turnbow, the driver was making something like 40 miles an hour and was fixing to go around a Ford touring car in front of them, but all at once the Ford veered, and turned cross ways of the road, the driver claiming that he had a blow out on one of his rear wheels, and that he could not control his car. In trying to miss the Ford, the bus, a Chevrolet sedan, struck the Ford a glancing blow, went into the ditch, turned over and was a total wreck, according to Mr. Jones.

Mr. Jones was considerably bruised about the body, had a bad bump on the cheek bone and an ugly gash in the temple. Mr. Turnbow was also considerably bruised, and both were carried back to Tatum where a physician dressed their wounds.

After having their wounds dressed, they caught the Brownfield-Tatum mail car back to Brownfield, and Tuesday morning both were doing as nicely as could be expected.

Co. Agent Helps Hold Tech Judging Contest

The annual stock judging contest of the freshmen students of Tech College was held Saturday. R. M. Millhollin, county agent of Hale county, and R. B. Davis, agent of Terry and Gaines counties were official judges in the contest.

Mr. Davis reports that there was keen interest and close competition between the 25 participants of the contest. While away Mr. Davis visited several hog farms around Plainview, trying to locate pigs for the Terry county club boys.

Swimming Pool Filled Sat. to Begin Season

Well, the old swimming hole is again ready for the season's fun, for the chug, chug, of the engine pumping great sluices of water into the big swimming pool was heard all day Saturday, and by night, it was ready for any who wanted to take their first plunge of the season.

The Brownfield swimming pool is 50x120 long, and is said to be one of the largest and deepest in this section of the country. It has been successfully managed for the past five years by W. H. Harris for this city, during which time there never has been a serious accident at the pool. Mr. and Mrs. Harris are about the pool all the time when swimmers are present, and your girls are just as carefully looked after by Mrs. Harris as if their mothers were present, and Mr. Harris is the boys friend from the little shaver to the grown ups.

Sunday was most too cold for swimming, and very few took advantage of the opening day, but as the weather gets hotter, the crowds about the pool will increase. One may furnish their own suits, or bathing suits will be furnished by the management at just a fraction higher rate than if you furnish your own.

Up to Date Mary

Mary has no little lamb, Like she had long years ago. But she has a pair of calves, That she delights to show. They go with her to school each day As faithful calves should do, Where Mary draws a teacher's pay, For imparting knowledge true. Ye pedagogues of other days Would deem her calves too shocking But Mary says it always pays To buy a high priced stocking. And Mary wears expensive gowns, That are very light and airy, Not so showy for their cost, But they show a lot of Mary. —Royal Arcanum Bulletin

County Agents Column

By R. B. Davis, Agent

The County Agent spent last week in visiting the clubs over the county. All were enthusiastic, and new members were added to every club. With the closing of school the boys and girls are anxious to get started in their work and many have already begun. It was hoped that the pigs would be ready for distribution by this coming Saturday, but good pigs are hard to find, and it will be several days yet before the pigs can be had. Monday was spent with the county agent of Hale county in looking over the best pigs around Plainview. Geo. P. Lillard, of the Lillard Stock Farms of Arlington, will be in Brownfield the later part of this week and try to sell pigs to the club boys of Terry county. Lillard is perhaps the largest breeder of Poland China, Duroc and Hampshire hogs in the South.

The best pigs that can be had will be brought into the county, but the best pigs this fall are going to be the one that is cared for the best. So every club member should be fixing a pen where he can feed his pig separate from the other hogs of the place. A growing pig needs as much exercise as possible, so in fixing a pen, it is to be as large as possible or make it so the pig can run out in the horse lot, or in the cow lot, in a pasture or outside.

While you are busy planting the crop, don't forget to plant a patch of beans and peas. You can eat them and what you don't eat, may be canned for later consumption.

We don't have a fruit crop this year other than grapes, but we have bright prospects for gardens. Already gardens are beginning to show up and they mean a better and cheaper living. The easiest way to make money on cotton is to have a cellar filled with meat and home canned goods.

It is reported that there was a car load of cans used during the canning season at Meadow last year.

Just this one observation in regard to planting. A good stand is desired always, but in most cases, corn, maize and the other sorghum grain are planted too thick to make good grain. There is always a dry spell that hurts thick feed. Feed that is planted by skipping every third row will usually turn out more to the acre because there is enough in the two rows to take care of all moisture.

LUBBOCK TO HAVE A SWEET FEED MILL SOON

A new sweet feed mill with a daily capacity of 120,000 pounds will be in operation in Lubbock before July 1, according to Claude Tatum, president of the Economy Mills company here. Mr. Tatum has just returned from a two weeks tour of the northern and eastern states where he visited many mills and factories where sweet feed is manufactured.

For some time he has been contemplating such an addition to his mill here, but after his visit he decided that there was no need for further delay, so he purchased his equipment and returned home to erect a new building for it.

The Economy Mills will manufacture a number of sweet feeds under a private trade mark, but custom grinding will also be done. Once the new mill is in operation a farmer or dairyman may bring his feed to the mill, state the percent of syrup he desires and go his way. A few minutes later he will have his feed loaded on his truck, ground and syrupe. The cost according to Mr. Tatum, will be nominal.

The mill will be the largest of its kind this side of Fort Worth. Feed may be prepared to suit each customer. It may be course or fine and carry syrup content of from 5 to 50 percent. When the product is finished it will be dry—not sticky as some might suppose.

There has been a great demand for sweet feeds in this section during recent years, and while Mr. Tatum is, in a way, pioneering the manufacturing field he feels that there will be a steady stream of sales from the first Lubbock Avalanche.

American Legion Sponsoring 4th Celebration

It has been some four or five years since anything like a barbecue or celebration has been undertaken in Brownfield, and the Herald for one believes this an opportune year for such a celebration in order to let the world in general know that Brownfield is still on the map and stands ready and willing to feed and entertain strangers from afar that may come to help us celebrate. Brownfield and Terry county have never fallen down on anything of the kind, and will not do so this time.

Also the Herald is glad that the American Legion is undertaking this celebration as sponsors, for what organization could more fittingly put on a celebration and barbecue on our natal day than the boys who went across the pond in an endeavor to make the European as free as we in a political way? And what day could be more suitable for our celebration than our national holiday?

The boys inform us that most of the beeves required for the occasion have already been donated, and the sale of concessions and rodeo rights would easily pay for the others needed, and that the town need not be to any great expense for any additional entertainment. The boys also say that concessions will be sold only to those having clean entertainment, and that the rodeo will be strictly home talent.

But, even if we are called on for a few dollars donation, we should make no roar, for as stated above expense of things of this nature has not cost us a sou in the past several years, and the old town is growing somewhat stale just seeing the same old crowd all the time. We should show enough appreciation of our huge trade territory to be host to them occasionally and entertain them, as they are spending annually thousands of dollars with us with nothing in return except the goods they buy and the thanks we may give them.

Then too, we have our own musical organization in the Chamber of Commerce Band, and music for the occasion will be furnished by them gladly, and no better musicians can be found in this section than the Brownfield band. By all means, let's put our shoulders to the wheel and help the boys put on a real celebration.

A GOOD PLEDGE TO TAKE AND TO KEEP

Last week two cars in Kansas City met at a street intersection. Both cars were exceeding the speed limit, which is 12 miles an hour at street crossings in the city. One car driven by an athletic director of one of the high schools was making possibly 45 miles an hour. The other car with a young man around town at the wheel was making at least the equal speed. One of the cars was thrown from the street onto the sidewalk, killing a 16 year old girl, fatally wounding another, it is thought, and severely injuring a third girl. Both drivers claimed the right of way and said they thought the other would slow up.

The funeral of the dead girl was held Friday last. The minister who conducted the services was named Hastie and when he arose beside the casket of the young girl said: "What can I say: 'The Kansas City Star gives what he said in the following: 'His thoughts seemed broken suddenly. In a voice shaken with emotion, he asked how many there drove cars. Almost every hand was raised. 'Will you take this pledge with me?' Mr. Hastie asked, raising his hand. 'I solemnly promise to drive carefully, to watch my speedometer, to slow down at every street crossing and to do everything in my power to prevent a repetition of this terrible tragedy.'"

"Ruth," the minister said, turning to the casket, "we make this pledge to you and to God."

It was a good pledge to make, for every 22 minutes, day or night, week day or Sunday, on an average one person meets death from an auto accident in the United States. The way to handle our traffic in this country is a disgrace to our civilization. Our officials seem absolutely impotent in the matter.—Snyder Signal.

Rotary Club to Make Move For Clean City

A considerable portion of the discussion at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Hotel Brownfield last Friday was concerning the Clean-Up Campaign to be sponsored by the club, and to be begun in the near future. The town is divided into about three or four sections, and three will be prizes offered for the cleanest and most attractive premises in each section. Arnett Bynum was added to the committee in an advisory capacity, as he served on the committee last year and from this experience learned a great deal about the matter. In view of the fact that corn and cotton were both being marketed here until late spring, and blowing shucks and lint over the town, is the reason that the campaign has been put off until this date.

Miss Fogle and three of her fiddlers whom she is training up to be the future Krislers of the city, were on hand, and made some very appreciative music. They were Murphy May, Ray Brownfield and Maurice Thompson. Dick Burson brought his French Harp, but we did not notice him make a stab at it.

Several visitors were present, both local and out of town people and as they were introduced made short talks all of which were very complimentary of Brownfield and vicinity.

The Club was asked to express themselves as to whether or not they favored a celebration under the auspices of the American Legion on July 4th. A unanimous vote of approval was accorded them and they were informed that the club stood solidly behind them in an undertaking of this kind. The club here is growing so fast that they and visitors can hardly be seated at the tables prepared for them, and it is thought that more table room will have to be provided soon.

Nazarine Meeting Here Now Under Way

Look! The Cleghorn Evangelistic Party is now in town. Good services have been conducted so far. Beginning Wednesday night, the services are held in the tabernacle. W. F. Cleghorn, head of the party, is known as the West Texas Cowboy Evangelist. Lon R. Woodrum is a converted Catholic. He will lecture on "Romanism" next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. The Prices are fine singers. The public is invited to attend these services and put this campaign over for God.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

After solicitation by numerous friends, and after careful consideration, I have decided to place before the voters of Terry county, my name as candidate for the office of county judge, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

I have been a staunch democrat all my life, and stand for the highest, clean politics, highest service to my fellow men and my character is open for inspection.

Having been a school man practically all of my life I feel especially competent to discharge the duties of county superintendent.

I have had various courses in government in my educational work and feel that I can discharge the work of the judge in an efficient and effective manner.

I have resided in Texas all of my life, and in Terry county for the past five years as principal of the high school of Brownfield. During that time I have made a special survey of the needs of the schools of the county as well as taking an active part in the public affairs of the community.

If I am elected county judge, I promise to discharge the duties of the office in a capable manner, and serve the people to the very best of my ability.

Soliciting your vote and support in this campaign, I am,

Respectfully,
J. B. Jackson.

Shall We Have A Landing Field Here

Now that aviation is becoming more and more practical, and air mail routes, not to mention passenger routes are being established throughout the country, the town or city that does not provide a landing place for these routes when they are made up, will likely be left off the routing maps entirely.

It does not take a great deal of space for these landing fields, and they can be as far out as three miles if necessary. The space can be long and not so very wide, and 2,500 square feet is said to be sufficient space.

In some towns public spirited ranchmen or farmers are donating the space for the landing fields, which are named for the donors, and they receive whatever remuneration that may be received from any future business of the landing fields. All towns should have a landing field with the name of the town so marked that it will be an easy matter for the aviator to make out the name of the town easily from several hundred feet in the air.

If no lands are donated, each town should make up and purchase sufficient land for this purpose, and the sooner they do so the better, as land in this section is generally getting higher instead of cheaper all the time.

Candidate For Representative Here Thurs.

Hon. J. K. Wester, of Lubbock, candidate for representative in the State Legislature of this the 119th district, accompanied by L. B. Wright, also of that city, were visitors in our city last Thursday, and were pleasant callers at the Herald office.

Mr. Wester had been our representative for two terms, but last year Mr. Wester "did not choose" to make a canvas of the district on the advice of friends(?) and an almost unknown boy got most of the votes. Mr. Wester declares that he will not be caught napping this time, but intends to make a thorough campaign of the district, and will return here in the future for an address to the voters.

While the young man that defeated Mr. Wester two years ago is not a candidate, having moved out of the district, we understand that Mr. Wester will have an opponent from Lamesa, but we did not learn his opponents name.

WHY NOT CELEBRATE THE REBUILDING OF SEAGRAVES

Only a few more weeks until every business man in Seagraves that suffered loss in the recent fire, will be back in new buildings, with a bigger and better stock of goods. It seems to us that it would not be out of place for the town to put on a big celebration and let it be known far and near that the town had risen from the ashes from a lower position to a higher one and is now on a firm foundation. A more substantial town; a better town, and one that is ready to go forward with leaps and bounds.

A few dollars from each individual as a contribution, would put on an entertainment that would be a big advertisement for Seagraves. It would bring people from all parts of the Plains letting them see the public spirit prevailing among a class of people the town is made up with. The future of the town is now assured, and with a few dollars spent in the right direction, it can be made the metropolis of the South Plains. Let us try it. Seagraves Signal.

THE LEVELLAND HERALD HAS A MOVING DAY

The Herald is now located in the Frank L. Adams building across the street and a few paces south of its former location in the McCormack building.

We would give this as an excuse for the paper being no better this week, as the force have done a full week's work aside from attempting to get out a paper; but we will say that, "if we ever get it over," we will try to make it up at some future date.—Levelland Herald.

SPINNERS NEED FIFTEEN MILLION BALES

An American cotton crop of 15,000,000 bales is essential to world spinners, said A. A. Sharpe, of Liverpool, England, in a statement at Dallas last week.

Unless the new crop very closely approximates this figure, a world consumption of 16,000,000 bales, he said, would reduce the carry-over to such small figure that much higher prices are almost inevitable.

He said that the English mills are falling in line with the modern tendency toward amalgamation and was more hopeful that this would remove some of the financial difficulties under which they have been laboring recently. He had noted with interest, he added, the progress which was being made with the establishment of spinning mills in Texas, which, he admitted, was only logical and would, in a very few years result in shorter supplies for export and consequent higher prices.

Judging from recent advances in the price of cotton, the United States bureau evidently made mistakes in reporting the carry-over of last year, keeping the price down, and this promises to be the subject of investigation at an early date. Spinners and others have learned that there is not as much cotton in the country as they "guessed" there should be. Of course, cotton is always due for a price boost this time of year but not as much as has been the case within the last few days.—Colorado Record.

ERRORS WILL OCCUR

Every newspaper man tries to print the truth about events and the home town reporters are especially anxious to have names and initials and events exactly right, but if you will take a list of a score of your own personal friends and write down their own names spelled correctly, give their middle initials without error and write a quarter of a column of the most interesting things in their lives without error, adhering strictly to the truth and without being censored by any of them or their friends, we'll find you a place in the Hall of Fame.

Errors will occur. We find them every day in every newspaper which we pick up. There is no automatic machinery which can prevent errors in a newspaper. A newspaper is an open book wherein every error glares from the pages. The errors cannot be hidden under "tellers' unders." There's no such account in a newspaper office.

But the home town newspaper is on the job day and night, fair weather or foul, in season or out of season, boosting the home city, praising unstintingly everything and everybody within its bounds. There's nothing else in all the world that will show the good in mankind, and pass over the bad, so often and so easily as the home town newspaper.—Exchange.

SEVERAL LEA COUNTY OIL TESTS AT INTERESTING DEPTHS

Several Lea county oil tests are now at interesting depths, and startling developments are confidently looked forward to in several of them within the next few weeks, and large production is expected in one or more of them at any time.

The Marland-Eaves, southeast of Jal is now attracting the most attention from oil men. This well has been producing an enormous amount of gas for some time, and Friday of last week another gas sand was encountered. The flow of gas from the well is now estimated at from 30 to 50 million cubic feet, and the gas is said to be as wet as Al Smith or Jim Reed and almost as wet as Secretary Mellon. People living 15 miles north of the well could plainly hear the roaring of the well Friday night. It is said that a vessel of gasoline of the best quality may be readily caught from the escaping gas.

On account of the enormous gas pressure, drilling must proceed with the utmost caution and of course the work must be necessarily slow. However, it is expected that this well will be brought in as one of the largest producers in this section of the country within the next few days.

The Marland-Seidleman, northwest of Jal, is drilling in salt yet, below 3400 feet. The low structure encountered in this well and the favorable indications found in the Marland-Eaves have caused oil men to believe that the pool is located further to the east than was once thought. The territory between Jal and the Texas state line on the east is now considered favorable territory.

Both the Mid-west at Hobbs and the Bardages-Hughes near Nadine are now drilling after many tedious fishing jobs caused by gas pressure blowing tools up in the hole and lodging them. Things are not reported so favorable in the Midwest test as was thought last week. The hole is down now more than 3400 feet, and it was hoped that pay would be encountered before that depth was reached.

It was reported Wednesday that a little better showing of oil had been found in the Bardages well at Nadine. Work is progressing nicely on the Anderson-Knight test northeast of Lovington in section 29-13-37. Twenty-four inch casing has been set and the 20 inch bit is now below 800 feet.—Lovington Leader.

Hunter School Notes

The program for the end of our school term which was planned to take place Friday night, May 26 was held Tuesday night instead.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lyon motored to Lubbock Sunday to meet Mrs. Lyon's sister, Mrs. Goza Hutchings and little son, Dall Junior. They are here for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Machen spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Zahary.

Deward Williams and Lonnie Reath-erford spent Saturday night in Brownfield. On their way home Sunday morning they very near had a serious accident. They were driving at about 35 miles per hour when suddenly one of the rear wheels came off of their Ford throwing the car side-ways. Fortunately neither were injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Price visited Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Offill Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Williams and family visited Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Offill, Sunday.

Everett Woodall visited Leo Smith Sunday.

Jim Fisher of the Scudday district visited E. L. Williams, Sunday.

We had a letter this week from J. R. Hill, who is now serving a term in the Huntsville, penitentiary, stating that he is getting along fine and is treated nicely. He wants the Herald to come to him there to keep him posted on what is going on out on the Plains. He also stated that he would appreciate a letter from any of his old friends. His address is Box 32, Huntsville, Texas. He also reports that Mr. Russell who gathers up convicts in Texas was real nice to him going down; that he was never handcuffed or chained, and at every stop knocked around over the town to suit himself. This liberty was accorded him by recommendation of his jailor at Lubbock.

BENEFITS OF GOOD ROADS

In good roads, as in so many other ways, the United States leads the world. The splendid, safe highways that are common to us, would in many countries be considered miracles. We can cross entire states, and go from coast to coast, without encountering dangerous roads.

No public investment pays better. A city with good streets is an attraction to industry and home-seekers; our mountain and country highways, aside from their more practical uses, are a constant invitation to investigate new parts. We have come to depend on these good roads and they are now necessities of business and pleasure.

Plans are being made for a highway from this country to South America, to be the longest in the world. The possibilities of such a connection are enormous in building international good will, in making it easy for foreigners to see and understand the United States, and for us to do the same.

Good roads bear the same relation to a nation as the arteries do to the human body; they give us life and national health, industrially and physically.

Mrs. Bernard Thompson, of Nashville, Tenn., is here visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Thompson.

NOT WORTH A DIME

New York.—There's $5,000,000 in Russian gold bars lying in the vaults of two New York banks and it isn't worth the space it occupies. In fact, it is costing the Soviet government, to which the gold belongs, $700 a day in interest. A ban on Russian gold, placed by the United States in 1921, is the cause of the trouble.

Herald will tell more than letters

A stranger who had been in a small town in Iowa but a few days, lost a very valuable dog. He went to the newspaper office and wrote an advertisement to be run that night, offering $25 reward for the return of the dog. Evening finally came, and no paper appeared. Finally, anxious to see his ad, the gentleman went down to the office of the newspaper and found only the janitor there.

"Isn't there going to be any paper this evening," he inquired.

"No, suh," replied the floor sweeper. "No paper today, Ev'body's out huntin' fo' dat dog."—Punta Gorda, Fla., Herald.

L. P. Hancock of Post, was a visitor here this week.

The Terry county farmer has been as scarce as the proverbial hens teeth this week. He has had business of an urgent nature in the field upon a planter this week. Some farmers, however, reported that they finished planting cotton last week.

There is always some guy around in the community that thinks his way of thinking is the only way possible, and he doesn't want to grant you an iota of your own opinion. He is always willing to stop and tell you why you are absolutely wrong and that he can't be anything but right. With high sounding phrases and a sharp finger pointed in your face and few punches in the side he'll start in to convince you if it takes all summer, providing you listen.

We wish to call the attention of the dog-haters to the fact that a Kent county police dog has recently raised a pig whose mother seems to have died. Now that pig could just as easily have been a lamb so far as this foster mother was concerned, yet some folks are so constituted that they think every dog is a sheep killer. Some people are so ding low that they will slip around at nights and poison their best neighbor's dog that has never harmed them or anyone else.

Well, we had a hot time in old Beaumont Tuesday, and all probably shouted themselves hoarse for no good purpose. Probably the side that wins will lose in the long run and the stean roller of today may be the sand and gravel tomorrow. We howl and rant every two years over this or that candidate, when as a matter of fact the candidate wouldn't give us a piece of his surplus toenail. Yet we are so constituted that we just must rant, and it just as well be over candidates as any other fool thing. Rant on brother, rant on.

Upon the return of Mayor McGowan from California, he will be asked to issue a proclamation calling upon the citizens of the town to clean up their premises. This will be in conjunction with the plan of the Rotary Club to have a general cleanup of the entire town. Prizes will be offered and other matters introduced to make the clean-up campaign an interesting matter as well as a success. We understand that some of the women's clubs will be asked to help also. In cleaning up a town or city, it not only looks better to the eyes, and creates a favorable impression with tourists who may be out looking for a new site for a home as well as to travel. The sanitary part of it need not be mentioned—it is already well understood by all.

Big Bill Haywood disagreed with a majority of the citizens of the United States back in 1917 that the Central Powers needed a threshing. His opinion was so fixed that he would not help, but offered obstacles every way he could to retard the progress of war. Finally he left his native country to find the fritter tree and honey pond in Russia, as they at that time more fully agreed with his idea of government or rather no government. With their aid he tried to create his idea of a Eutopia in Siberia. This failed, and Big Bill went broke with it. He married a Russian woman who could not speak a word of English, and he left no words for the country of his birth, but it is said that Big Bill told friends in the last years of his life that he had sinned against America, and that he had a notion of returning and taking his medicine like a man.

Editor T. T. Waggoner of the Claude News, and A. J. Stricklin of the Terry County Herald, should be put in a bag and shook up to see which would come out on top. Both have been indulging in a pastime adjudged not only decidedly unethical by the profession but absolutely impossible. Waggoner suffered a nervous breakdown by reason of the long hours and close confinement of years of strict attention to business with little or no opportunity for relaxation and is slowly recovering with the assistance of a corps of nurses, doctor's and helpers. Stricklin's doctor has been boosting him along from week to week in order to keep the undertaker out of a job and holds out hope of making the cure permanent in the near future. Both have the sympathy of those of the gang who know how difficult it is to find a substitute when the head push of a print shop in a small town gets down and out. We wish for both a speedy

PRINCIPLES OF —OPERATION—

We believe that a bank should not only be a depository of funds, but indeed a haven where the rich and poor alike can confide their financial troubles, fears and doubts into the attentive ear of their mutual friend and counsellor the BANKER. The bank, the foundation of all saving, should be solid like the granite, standing the acid test of time, pursuing a conservative but friendly course.

This bank like the great Oak from a little acorn, of persistent effort and sound business principles has grown. It stands today like the Oak, it many services and ample resources like the limbs, cast their shadow of protection over those whoseek its shelter, a mecca which invites the confidence and patronage of the public

Both political parties seem to be determined to use the prohibition question as a political football to be thrown in any direction where it will capture the most votes. The Houston convention will probably nominate Al Smith who is "wet" enough to suit the "wettest" of the wets. They will in all probability give him a "dry" running mate and put them on a "dry" platform. The Republican convention will probably nominate Herbert Hoover, who is an expert at dodging this and all other issues. They will give him a "wet" running mate and put them upon a platform that means either "wet" or "dry" just as the individual voter wants it to mean. If elected, Mr. Hoover will probably turn the enforcement of prohibition over to Mr. Mellon or some other interested politician who is as "wet" at the Atlantic Ocean.—Lovington, (N. M.) Leader.

TRIBUTE TO COUNTRY PRESS

"The smaller newspapers of the country are the most important newspapers, and incidentally, in proportion to their circulation, their advertising results are the biggest, and their advertising rates are the smallest in the country. They are read from end to end. Every copy of circulation means an entire family, not a family that lives in one room with a can opener, but a family that owns its own house, and land around it, at least ninety times out of a hundred; a family that buys everything, from the roof on the house, to the cement on the cellar floor; from the hat on mother's head to the shoes on the boys' feet. The service that their publishers render to the public is, in my opinion, the most important service rendered by any class of citizens in the United States. The country editors are distributors of information; they reach the minds of the boys that leave the farms, and they are the nation's mental police force," says Arthur Brisbane.

After half a century in the publication of newspapers, daily and weekly, the writer can indorse the opinion of Arthur Brisbane that the country paper is read from end to end, and the advertisements are of special interest. Where a hundred read all that is in the home weekly, only one in that hundred peruses all that is in the big city daily paper that comes to them. Large foreign advertisers are also becoming cognizant of the fact that space in country weekly and smaller city daily papers is of real value to them; that they can gain more at less cost, at the same time securing as much combined circulation with a certainty that their advertisements will be read by all.—Woodburn, Ore., Weekly Independent April 12.

CHILDREN GROW SLOWLY COMPARED TO FARM ANIMALS

Kansas City, Mo.—Charts comparing the growth of children with that of farm animals has been worked out by Dr. Samuel Brody of the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Brody shows that a child between four and fourteen years grows at a rate of only 10 per cent a year, whereas young farm animals grow at the rate of 1000 per cent a year.

This means that in less than four days the young animal gains as much as the child gains in a year.

Odd Power Credited to Precious Stones

Superstitions still persist about the magical properties of many stones. On account of that associated with the opal, the proposal is frequently made by jewelers' associations to remove it from the list of "birth stones."

Strange places have been looked into for stones possessing unusual requirements. The gizzard of a rooster is said to have revealed a stone which rendered wives more agreeable to their husbands; the shell of a crab yielded a stone for sore eyes. Beads of paste or glass were in common use in ancient Gaul under the name of serpents' eggs. They were thought to be generated from the breath of the serpents, being shot into the air from their hissing jaws. Soldiers wore serpents' eggs to make them invincible.

It was long believed that a sapphire would heal diseases of the eye; and such a stone was once given to the treasury of St. Paul's by a well-meaning London grocer, to be used for that purpose. There were stones to heal wounds, to aid the complexion and to prevent drunkenness.

St. Isidore, bishop of Seville, is said to have known of a stone which, when powdered and drunk with vinegar, made men insensible to torture. There is no record, however, that he ever tried it.

Life Never Always Sunshine or Sorrow

Life itself is short; time is fleeting; and we should learn to accept our lot with reasonable complacency. That does not mean that one should sit quietly and dumbly when beset by crushing adversity. Make the best possible fight against the enemy; but in the end, after you have done your very best, try to rest content, whatever the outcome may be. Sometimes our experiences are bitter; other times they are sweet. But if we do our part, play the game of life intelligently and honestly, we can usually be assured of fitting rewards. And when affliction that we may think is undeserved is meted out to us; we may chafe at its hardship, though at times it cannot be avoided, try as we will. But whatever adversity or misfortune may come to you there should be many exquisitely delightful remembrances, and you should at all times try to live within their ecstatic imagery.—True Story Magazine.

The Rain Gauge

The earliest rain measure, or gauge, was first used in Korea, in the Fifteenth century. Galileo, Sir Christopher Wren and others experimented with measures, but the first gauge of which there is any authentic description was made in England by a Mr. Hooke in 1695.

The rain was collected by means of a funnel into a flask, weighed, and the weight converted into inches—a different method. It was not until 1891 that the late G. J. Symons designed a satisfactory pattern of gauge.

In his "storm" gauge an inch of rain is represented by 24-inch in the tube. Floats make reading easy. If one tube fills it overflows and registers accurately in the second.

Going Into Detail

A certain gentleman who bought a house as close to the station as he could possibly get it soon repented of his choice.

The following is a letter he wrote to the railway company, complaining about the noise made by shunting operations throughout the night:

"Gentlemen, why must your engines ding and dong and fizz and spit and pant and grate and grind and puff and bump and chug and hoot and toot and whistle and wheeze and jar and jerk and snarl and slam and throb and roar and rattle and yell and smoke and smell and shriek all the night long?" —Exchange.

"TRAINED WORKER" IS CRY OF INDUSTRIES

Chicago.—Demand for more trained men than the nation's colleges and universities can turn out has advanced the home-study school to first place in importance in America's adult educational scheme.

There is scarcely a branch of learning or a trade that the home-study student may not make his own. It is shown in a recent survey by Dr. John S. Noffsinger, secretary of the National Home-Study Council, 829 Seventh street, N. W., Washington, D. C. The council is an association of the leading correspondence schools operating under a code of ethics designed to insure high standards of home-study education.

"Every year our association directs thousands of young men and women in educational courses to train them for positions for which they are best fitted, with the object of increasing their earning ability," said Doctor Noffsinger. "More than 200 separate courses of study are listed in the curricula of our member schools so that the problem resolves itself into what field is best for the student. He may apply himself to book illustrating or boiler making, carpentry or cartooning, church history or darning, dress making or combustion engines, poultry breeding or psychology, law or etching, geometry or banjo, magazine writing or navigation.

"It is the council's purpose to help him choose out of an almost limitless field the work which will suit his particular talents best. The demand for trained men is even greater than the field for study and the colleges and universities cannot supply the demand. Making the nation's homes into classrooms is the only way out of the difficulty and one which has been proved by thirty-five years of successful training of men and women to correspondence."

Fallen Monarchists

Hard Up in Germany

Berlin.—Court officials, high and low, who found themselves out of a job when the revolution of 1918 swept German courts and thrones into limbo, have had an uphill fight in securing other employment. For humane reasons, the republican government undertook to find them situations wherever possible in the various grades of the civil service, corresponding to their former salaries.

The ex-courtiers, of course, made as high estimates as they dared in assessing their income under the old regime. But in accordance with the general policy of cutting down expenditures, these figures have come recently under a closer scrutiny, with the result that it was found that they included all sorts of odd perquisites, such as the value of cast-off royal and princely clothing, footwear and bedding, the free use of court carriages and flunkies, free theater seats, free medical treatment, table and wine money, Christmas and New Year's gifts and tips for showing visitors around.

The ex-incumbents have now been notified that these items cannot be allowed as part of "salaries" and they must accordingly be content with lower-grade classification in the service of the republican state. So in their case there are more laments than ever that "times aren't what they were."

Egypt's Mummy Fluid

Used in Films Now

Kingsport, Tenn. — Pyroligneous acid, the mysterious fluid with which the ancient Egyptians mummified their dead, serves quite a different purpose in this Twentieth century.

The Tennessee Eastman corporation, a subsidiary of the Eastman Kodak company, makes tons of the acid daily out of waste wood and uses certain of the derivatives in the manufacture of film.

The fluid was efficacious as a preservative chiefly because of two ingredients, wood alcohol and creosote oils. It was produced by the old Egyptians in somewhat the same way as it is produced here—by heating wood to a high temperature in an enclosed chamber and condensing the vapors.

African Rodent

The ground rat or ground pig is a burrowing, ratlike rodent of South and West Africa. It is two feet long and has a very harsh, bristly hair, flattened, grooved, and brown in color. It is a near relative of the spiny rodents of tropical America, such as the coypu, hutia, and others of the family Octodontidae.

The sable antelope is called the "Harris buck" because it was discovered by Sir W. C. Harris, author of "Portraits of the Game and Wild Animals of Southern Africa," issued in London in 1840 as a magnificent folio book, with colored plates.

From Via Saxon Word

"Brand new" is equivalent to "fire new," meaning fresh from the fire, bright and new. "Brand" was an old Saxon word meaning "burn." Hence an article fresh from the forge was said to be brand new.

Friends Pay His Tax and Liberate Vicar

London.—Rev. Gilbert Watling, vicar of St. John's church, Edmonton, who declares that he is too poor to pay municipal taxes, again has been saved from prison by "an anonymous friend."

Twice yearly the vicar is brought before a magistrate, charged with nonpayment of local taxes and sentenced to jail. After the minister has spent one or two, not often more, days in prison, money comes through the mail from "friends." He pays and gains release.

The Herald had a letter this week from Editor O. P. Gaymon, of Canal Winchester, Ohio, stating that it was dry there as well as here. But it isn't dry here any more, and we hope our Ohio friends have had rain. They usually have more than they need. He also stated that since the Herald adopted manila wrappers for the Herald that he had been getting his paper better. Hope others have experienced the same thing. The Herald of late has been too heavy for ordinary newsprint wrappers to hold them long distances is the reason we adopted the manila wrapper. Mr. Gaymon owns some valuable land in Terry county.

ORIENTAL TRADE—TRACTORS TO BREAKFAST FOOD

The Department of Commerce shows a constantly growing trade between the Orient and Our Country; better-fed nations, higher standards of living, greater general prosperity, a growing demand for raw and manufactured American products.

China, Japan, Persia and Arabia, the Hindu and Mohammedan empires, are awakening to new visions of life, and want better things.

The world is no longer divided by a sharp line into rich and poor, but more light, better wearing materials, greater comforts, are demanded by all.

Teaching the nations higher civilization, more moderation and toleration and the religion of love toward all mankind, is our mission.

The cannibal tribes in Africa and savages on the uplands of Asia are learning to use American oil products and cereals from Battle Creek, Michigan.

The Australian bush is being broken up with gangplows drawn by crawler-type American tractors.

WHAT GOES UP IN SMOKE

Every year in the United States fire consumes property valued at over half a billion dollars. It is an impossibility for imagination to appreciate adequately the magnitude of such a waste. A recent news item adopts the excellent method of driving home the lesson by practical example.

With five hundred million dollars, a four hundred mile paved road could be built at a cost of $25,000 per mile and a $5,000 house, containing $2,000 worth of furniture, erected every 100 feet on both sides. Each house could have an operating fund of $2,000.

Further, it would build a $500 garage for each house and place a $2,000 automobile in each garage. And after all this was done, there would still be several millions left over that could be distributed among the occupants for spending money.

The inestimable value of practical fire prevention is well brought out by this example. It is a public and personal duty, not to be avoided. Anything we may do to help abolish fire waste will pay us large dividends, in both comfort and cash.

WHALE BATTLES EXCITING SPORT

Thrasher and Swordfish Its Enemies and Combat Is to Death.

New York.—Although the chief whaling grounds are now found in the Southern Pacific whales are numerous enough in warmer seas to furnish a thrill now and then for shipmasters and fishermen.

Passengers aboard the liner Vestra off the island of Barbados, recently witnessed a sight seldom seen by ocean travelers. A whale, a thrasher, or swordfish, and a blackfish were engaged in combat, with the whale on the defensive. The blackfish leaped into the air and threw itself on the whale's back with terrific force. The swordfish engaged the whale from below, lunging continually with its sword. It was quite evident that the swordfish and blackfish were allies, for each time the blackfish forced the whale below the surface the swordfish jabbed at him and forced him up again. The whale leaped out of the sea so that its whole body could be seen and tried to shake off its enemies. The ship left the scene before the fight had reached a decision, but it is likely that the whale was done to death.

Some weeks ago a school of 120 whales was stranded on the shores of Scotland near the village of Bonar Bridge. Shoals of herring had apparently lured the whales into the shallow water and there they were trapped.

Problem for Scots.

The problem of disposal was a difficult one for the villagers. Some time before the burial of a single stranded whale cost them £20. The thought of burying 120 whales almost threw the village into a panic until a Britisher happened along and, having examined the carcasses, found them to be a variety of the killer whale. The British museum ordered the skeletons to be sent to London and the blubber was sold by the villagers.

Whales, except the "killer" variety, are usually of a peaceful nature. The killer whale is of little use commercially, but is feared by other species and by fishermen. Frank T. Bullen, in his "Cruise of the Cachalot," describes the depredations of three killers when attacking a bowhead.

The killer, or Orca gladiator, is a true whale," he says. "But, like the cachalot, has teeth. The first inking I got of what was really going on was the leaping of a killer high into the air by the side of the whale and descending upon the victim's broad, smooth back with a resounding crash. I saw that the killer was provided with a pair of huge fins—one on his back, the other on his belly—which at first sight looked as if they were also weapons of offense. A little observation convinced me that they were fins only. Again and again the aggressor leaped into the air, falling each time on the whale's back, as if to beat him into submission.

"The sea around foamed and boiled like a cauldron, so that it was only occasional glimpses I was able to catch of the combat, until presently the worried whale lifted his head clear out of the surrounding water, revealing two of the furies hanging, one on either side, to his lips, as if endeavoring to drag his mouth open, which I afterward saw, was their principal object, as whenever during the tumult I caught sight of them they were still in the same position. At last the tremendous and incessant blows, dealt by the most active member of the trio, actually succeeded in having exhausted the immense vitality of the great bowhead, for he lay supine upon the surface. Then, the three joined their forces and succeeded in dragging open his cavernous mouth, into which they freely entered, devouring his tongue. This then had been their sole object, for as each they had finished their barbarous feast they departed, leaving him helpless and dying."

Encounters With Vessels.

One of the enemies of the whale is the giant octopus. Actual battles between them have been recorded by eyewitnesses. The octopus, a deep water creature, throws its long tentacles around the whale, at the same time laying down a "smoke screen" of black fluid, but the whale often manages to break loose and kill its adversary.

Whales are sometimes killed by vessels. The Berengaria sighted a school of whales on a Sunday afternoon. One of them left his comrades unmade for her. The big liner struck him fairly and destroyed him. The destroyer Lamson was bumped by a whale but without material damage either to ship or fish.

Tokio School Notes

How are you all this morning? We are all busy taking final examination. This is our last week for Tokio school and we are sorry it is coming to a close.

Elder Liff Sanders preached the baccalaureate sermon for the 7th and 10th grades, May 20th. The hall was filled to overflowing and everyone reported the sermon a pleasure as well as a profit. Even the young understood and enjoyed the sermon very much. Very good music was rendered by Wayne Buchanan who played the march. Elder Sanders gave the invocation; the audience led by Mr. Sappenfield, sang "Blessed Assurance," also "Give Me The Roses Now." Following these numbers Messrs Robert Young and Bennie Knoll sang "Satisfied." After the benediction which was expressed by Elder Sanders, Mrs. Meeks and Mrs. Patterson had their delayed Mother's Day program. Everyone expressed themselves as being highly pleased with this program. Each one rendering their part well.

The following programs are to give this week:

Tuesday evening the seventh grade will give their play "Catching Clara."

On Thursday evening the tenth grade will render their play, "Aaron Boggss Freshman."

On Friday evening the class address and awarding of diplomas will be given by Judge H. R. Winston.

We regret very much the illness of Mr. Wilburn Pippin, who is in the Sanitarium at Lubbock.

The Tokio school notes will be missed very much in the Terry County Herald next week.

School is out and vacation time has started. This month brings to a close the public schools all over the country. Boys and girls accustomed to the routine of attendance and study will now have the untrammelled joys of the long play period.

Practically all of the out-of-town teachers have returned to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wingerd have returned from Pecos. Mrs. Chester Quiet returned with them and is visiting relatives and friends. Mrs. Quiet is remembered as Miss Emily Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Flem McSpadden and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gore and children left Saturday afternoon for Hot Springs, New Mexico and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wines left Saturday morning for Mineral Wells for the benefit of Mrs. Wines' health.

THREE PRETTY RECITALS

Miss Birdie Fogle and Mrs. W. H. Dallas presented their music pupils and Miss Mary Lawlis her expression pupils in pleasingly arranged recitals Monday, Wednesday and Tuesday evenings respectively at the Grammar School Auditorium.

All of the participants reflected credit on their teachers and each number was most heartily applauded.

Supt. Fagala and family and Mrs. Leo Holmes left Sunday morning for Paris, Texas and Hugo, Oklahoma. Mrs. Holmes' parents living in Paris and Mrs. Fagala's in Hugo.

FRIDAY FORTY-TWO ENJOYS MEETING

The Friday Forty-Two Club enjoyed its meeting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Clint Rambo. The table cuts which were jars of hard candy went to Mrs. W. C. Smith, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Claude Hudgins and Mrs. Kendrick. Mrs. Townsend cut high and received a bowl with some fish and Mrs. H. W. McSpadden cut low receiving a jar of bath salts.

The hostess served tuna fish sandwiches, congealed salad on lettuce, olives, stuffed cherries, cake and iced tea.

Those present were Mesdames W. C. Smith, Townsend, Kendrick, Cruce, Claude Hudgins, Brothers, H. W. McSpadden, Hunter, Holgate, Griffin, Downing, Longbrake, Knight, Baldwin.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Wedding plans form the principal topic of society's conversation these days with many pretty prenuptial affairs being given. Much interest has been manifested in the approaching wedding of Miss Sue Crawford and Mr. Boone Hunter.

Miss Crawford was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower given Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church by the ladies of the Missionary Society. An interesting program was first given in which Miss Birdie Fogle played a beautiful piano solo. Lataine Eicke read "Boone's Letter to Sue" and Miss Mozelle Treadaway sang "Give Me Your Smiles." The bride-to-be was then asked to take a special chair and Mrs. John Chisholm gave her the beautiful toast:

It is a great pleasure to speak in honor of one who by her sweet cheerfulness, loyalty and faithfulness has endeared herself to us all—

In behalf of the church, Sunday School, Epworth League, Missionary Society and many friends I would express our deep appreciation.

So here's a toast to the Fair Bride—To her health and prosperity, May she have a joyous happy trip, May her journey through life be ever a pleasant road without any impediment that energy and affection cannot easily overcome.

May she early master the art of "Roasting" a husband so that he will turn out "just right."

Neither scorched by her fury nor left undone by a faint heart. May we all live to attend her Golden Wedding.

Little girls of her Sunday School class dressed in dainty shades of pastel brought in the many pretty gifts after which the bride made a sweet response. Ice cream and cake were served by the girls of the Epworth League.

BRIDAL PARTY ENTERTAINED WITH A DINNER.

Miss Sue Crawford, bride-elect, entertained the bridal party and out-of-town guests with a dinner Monday evening at the Hotel Brownfield. The color notes of pink and white were used in the decorations of the prettily appointed table. Beautiful sweet peas sent by the mother of honoree were also used in the decorations. Mrs. Randal was toastmistress with Miss Mary Lawlis toasting the bride and Mr. Tannery, the groom. Miss Bessie Thompson read "The Decorator's Complaint," after which informal talks were made by all.

"MISS CHERRY BLOSSOM"

On last Thursday evening, May 17, Mrs. Roy Herod of Brownfield presented her high school chorus and music class of Ropes in an operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom" or "A Maid of Tokyo." The stage was very beautifully and artistically decorated to represent a Tea Garden in Japan. The cast was well chosen and each character played his part well. Mrs. Herod was accompanied on the piano by Miss Fay Brown. A large crowd was present and the program was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SOCIETY

The Missionary Society of the First Christian church met with Mrs. Holgate Monday afternoon at 3 P. M.

Subject of lesson was "Forward Through the Ages." Devotion: Christ's own prayer. John 12:1-2.

CRAWFORD-HUNTER WEDDING

A marriage of particular interest and social prominence took place Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, at the First Methodist church when Miss Sue Crawford and Mr. Boone Hunter were united in holy wedlock. The beautiful ring ceremony was said by Rev. J. W. Chisholm.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Mary Lawlis sang "I Love You Truly."

A color scheme of pink and white was used in the decorations and the bride's attendants were Miss Ruth Lawlis, Maid of Honor and little Misses Katherine Bynum and Jackie Holt, Junior brides maids and little Bobbie Virginia Bowers, flower girl. Cy Tankersly was the groom's only attendant. Bill Collins and Fladger Tannery were the ushers.

The bride was beautiful in a blue and beige ensemble suit with a picture hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and white rose buds tied with pink maline ribbon. Miss Lawlis wore a beautiful printed georgette gown with blue hat and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The junior bridesmaids and flower girl each wore dainty blue frocks, the bridesmaids carrying baskets of sweet peas.

Miss Espie Castleberry played the wedding march.

Mrs. Hunter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Crawford of Paris, Texas. She was reared in Chicota and attended the Paris high school, Commerce Normal and University of Colorado. She has taught school here the past three years and has taken a prominent part in church and social affairs of the city.

Mr. Hunter is well known having lived here a number of years with his mother, Mrs. S. L. Hunter. He is a graduate of law of the Valparaiso University of Indiana and is now in business in the Hunter Drug Store.

After the ceremony the bridal party and a few friends went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal where the bridal cake, sent by the bride's mother, was cut and served with delicious punch.

Telegrams were sent the newlyweds in a short time following the ceremony, from friends and relatives of the bride.

Mid a shower of rice and good wishes the happy couple left for Corpus Christi and San Antonio, returning by Paris to visit her parents.

Their many friends join in wishing them much happiness and prosperity.

The out-of-town guests present were Mrs. Ross Kinsey and son and Mr. Lee Hunter all of Lawton, Okla. Mrs. Kinsey is a sister of the groom and Mr. Lee Hunter a nephew; and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hudgins of Hale Center friends of the groom.

Misses Ruth and Mary Lawlis have returned to their home at Snyder and Miss Espie Castleberry to Lubbock.

WELLMAN COUPLES MARRY

Two well-known couples of the Wellman community were married Saturday evening about eight thirty o'clock by Judge Winston at his home. The couples were Homer O. Wimberly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wimberly and Miss Thelma Trigg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Trigg, and Rupert E. Coffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Coffey and Miss Neoma Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baker.

Mr. Wimberly is good on the violin and guitar and his wife, Miss Thelma was the valedictorian Friday night, May 18th, at the close of the Wellman school when four girls graduated.

Mr. Coffey was one of the star basketball players for Wellman for the year 1926 and 1927, when his team won the championship for Terry county, and only lacked one game of winning the district championship at Lubbock. His wife, Miss Neoma, is the pianist for the Wellman community.

Mrs. Percy Spencer and Miss Caroline spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal.

AN OLD TIMER TELLS ABOUT COLORADO, TEXAS

A reporter called on Judge C. H. Earnest and asked him to assist in keeping the Record straight in the matter of the early history of Colorado. He replied to the request by uttering a bit of philosophy in the following words:

Fantastical Stories, often told, are in after years accepted as history. Legend grows into fact, just as the often told story of George Washington and the cherry tree has passed into history as having foundation in fact.

Then after letting his mind drift backward for a time in remembrance mood, he took up the discussion of statements which had recently been made and passed on as history, and proceeded to refute them in the following terms:

A recent contributor to your paper on the early history of Colorado makes some statements as to persons, things and events which, if uncontradicted, would in after years be accepted as history. No doubt the writer secured this information from others and accepted it as true in good faith.

Some of these statements are unimportant. For instance, it is said that Reverend Rogers preached the first sermon in Colorado in a saloon, in the year 1885. There was no occasion for him to have preached a sermon in a saloon in the year 1885. At the beginning of the year 1885, there was at least one established church building in Colorado, the Methodist church, and before the end of that year there were at least three church buildings, Methodist, Baptist and Episcopal.

Reverend Rogers preached a sermon in the old railway section house that was under construction on the West bank of Wolf creek, in April, 1881. In company with Jim Rogers, son of Reverend Rogers, I heard this sermon. This might not have been Reverend Rogers first sermon preached in Colorado, but if he ever preached in a saloon I never heard of it, and I believe I would have heard of it if it had been a fact.

Again the statement is made that there were 27 saloons in Colorado, meaning, I suppose, at one given time, and about 1881 to 1885. Assisted by one other who was here in 1885, I have endeavored to recall the saloons or drinking places in Colorado in that year and only seven can be remembered. It is certain that the very utmost number of saloons or drinking places here at any one time, from 1881 to 1885, could not have exceeded ten or twelve.

Yes, there were shootings and drunken men in those days, and men were killed as in this day. On the other hand, there were no bank robberies, no road banditry, or hi-jacking, no cold-checking, as seems to be fashionable at this time, and above all, no one thought for a moment of locking his door before lying down at night. There was little, if any, petty thievery. People as a rule were considerate of the rights of others, and did not try to hog both sides of the road.

There was about that time a slump in the cattle and sheep market, but we do not recall so remarkable a slump or fluctuation at any time as $50 per head one day and $6 the next. And so on and so on.

Let Judge Looney, F. M. Burns, Sol Robinson, Bud Coc and Mose Carter speak out and lend their able assistance in keeping the record straight.—Colorado Record.

Mrs. W. G. Meyers of Yoakum county was here this week doing some spring shopping.

A thousand miles in less than a thousand consecutive minutes—a record for stock cars priced below $1000.

ERSKINE Six, Dictator, Commander or President Eight—they're champions all! Read their separate, sweeping records—officially certified by the American Automobile Association. Champions in performance! Champions in stamina! Champions in durability! Studebaker has taken these three vital tests of value and proved them in the only way they can be proved—by heroic tests of strictly stock cars under official sanction.

Think what this means to you in terms of everyday service—in terms of getting the most for every dollar you invest in a motor car!

Studebaker Stands Supreme

These marvelous records made by Studebaker and Erskine cars are positive proof that they stand supreme and alone in their ability to travel thousands of miles at high speeds without mechanical trouble. These sensational proofs of inbuilt speed and endurance are direct results of Studebaker engineering genius, quality materials, precision manufacture and rigid inspections. For these reasons Studebaker and Erskine cars may safely be driven forty miles an hour the minute they leave the assembly line. Engine oil need be changed only at 2500-mile intervals.

When championship performance and championship stamina can be bought in Studebaker-built cars at One-Price prices (that in themselves set records of value), why be content with less than a champion?

Today Studebaker alone can offer you a champion in every price class. Come in today—drive a Studebaker champion! Let the car speak for itself.

HOUSTON IS PREPARED— WAITING FOR DEMOCRATS

HOUSTON, Texas, May 22. (Special)—Houston, prepared today for Democracy's quadrennial gathering, now only is awaiting an influx of Democratic party delegates, but is poised to entertain thousands of Texans, Oklahomans and Louisianians, who, it is pointed out by Jesse H. Jones, Houston capitalist and chairman of the committee on arrangements, will pour into the city through-out June.

Democrats in the eastern section of the United States had their chance to see a national convention in operation when Democracy met in Madison Square garden. Those on the West Coast had their chance when the gathering took place in California. Now with the meeting at Houston it is considered the Southwest's very own neighborly event. Literally thousands of persons from the three states are expected to troop into Houston. And these thousands will find the city prepared to take care of them. More than 300 Houstonians have paved the way. They are parts of a smooth running machine that has completed arrangements to care for all visitors attracted to the city by the Democratic convention in June.

While the housing committee assures quarters for all, it is urgently requested that every prospective visitor at the earliest possible date register his name, stating his housing requirements.

Houston, committee workers have learned, will not only be a convention city but will be city headquarters for vacation jaunts. Attracted here by the convention, thousands are expected to include in their plans programs for visits to the San Jacinto battle field, to Corpus Christi, Galveston, the Alamo, and other points of interest.

MORE PIGS PER LITTER MEAN MORE PROFIT

The recent boom in hog prices has made producers feel better than they have for several months, in anticipation of profits for 1928 and 1929. With indications of a small pig crop this year and better prices farmers have reason to believe any extra care and attention devoted to swine production will be well repaid.

A survey of two typical counties in Iowa and Illinois showed that 35.4 per cent of all pigs farrowed died before weaning time. Laying on the pigs by the mother was the most important cause of this loss. Other important causes were pigs farrowed dead, pigs weak at birth, starvation, chilling, Necrobacillosis, eating of pigs by sows and scours. Litters of two to four pigs cost over $2.00 per hundred pounds more at maturity than litters of six and eight.

The loss of a great many small pigs can be prevented by the use of guard rails in the farrowing pens, advises the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. Clean, sunny pen and clean, sanitary troughs and feeders of sheet steel help promote health and to prevent disease a little pigs.

WIND IS CHEAPEST SOURCE OF FARM POWER

Windmills still hold the fort against all comers as the cheapest farm power, for wind is one power source which is free to all those who desire to use it. Wind was one of the first forms of energy to replace human muscles as a source of power. Today, windmills are one of the most used power units for providing life-sustaining water on the farm, says a report from the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers.

HOW IS A NEWSPAPER LIKE A WOMAN

The Fort Meade Leader propounded the query, "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" and offered a year's subscription for the best answer, which brought forth these replies:

Because you can believe everything they say; they are thinner than they used to be; they have forms; they have bold faced types; they are easy to read; well worth looking over; back numbers are not much in demand; they are not afraid to speak their minds; they have a great deal of influence and if they know anything they usually tell it; because they always have the last word, and because they carry the news wherever they go.

The correct answer is: "Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbor's.—Florida Newspaper News.

EDUCATION OF ITALIANS MATTER OF CONFLICT

Rome, Italy.—Evidently the apparent desire of the Roman Catholic Church to educate the Italian youth in the belief that the church is supreme in civic as well as spiritual affairs, and Mussolini's plans that they shall place Fascism above all and become familiar with the use of the firearms so that, if necessary, they may be used as promulgators of this form of government, are destined to engage in a death struggle, according to dispatches to the Chicago Tribune.

Not content with inspiring the young men of this country with a love of and belief in war the Duce encourages the young women to engage in marksmanship contests, these being one of the features of a recent athletic meet held in the new Fascist stadium and participated in by 3,000 Italian girls.

Pope Pius wrote to Cardinal Basilio Pompili, vicar of Rome, protesting against the nature of this meet and especially the fact that the girls were trained to shoot and engage in marksmanship contests. The Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, continued the fight by favorable comments on the Pope's view.

The order of Mussolini, that all Fascist papers keep silent in the controversy over the Fascist assumption of all educational prerogatives, being lifted they made ironic replies. For instance, Impero states:

"A warlike nation, such as Italy, must accustom its women to the sight and use of guns. We do not want our young women, who will bear future Italians, to faint every time they pass the window of a hardware store which sells rifles and revolvers. They should be used to the sight of guns and know how to use them."

HEFLIN HAS COMPANY

Newspapers in the East are having a bit of fun with Senator Heflin of Alabama over his latest anti-Catholic outburst. The Alabama Senator rose in the chamber the other day to exhibit to his colleagues a photograph showing a flag bearing a cross flying about the national ensign on a battleship mast. Thus, stormed Heflin, was our national dignity being insulted through the insidious wiles of the pope and his cohorts, and so on for an hour of balderdash.

Some better-informed Senator managed to get the flow of Heflines stopped long enough to whisper in the massive ear of the Alabamian that the flag in the photograph was not a "Catholic flag," but the one flown under regulations at such time when divine services were being held on board our warships, whether those services are conducted by a Catholic or by a minister of any other faith. But the information was ignored, and Heflin continued speaking to his text.

Our contemporaries in the East should not indulge in ribald criticism of ignorance and misinformation in the Senate. Mr. Heflin may furnish a shining example, but he is not the only one. Very frequently, as shown by some legislation, a majority is thus mustered.—Star Telegram.
