Old Fashion Preaching Done By Methodist

The revival meeting of the Methodist church entered its second and final week Monday attended by increased interest in both preaching services and prayer meetings. The services, which are to continue only through Sunday, have settled down to keen solemnity and an air of sincere earnestness is prevalent.

The pastor, Rev. John W. Chisholm, reported Wednesday noon thirty four accessions to the church as a result of the meeting and says that the outlook is fine for others before Sunday.

A special feature Monday night in the form of a children's service was reported by the pastor, Rev. Ed Phillips, and the boys below the age of fourteen, who stood below the chancel rail. After the singing a demonstration of the octopus powers of sin was made by the Reverend Phillips who bound one of the boys with ropes representing sins; like, the cursing habit, lying, thieving, smoking, etc. Then an expression of the kindness that had been accorded him by newly made friends in Brownfield was made and to close the service a strong evangelistic appeal was made.

The music of the meeting has been led in a masterful way by Bro. Phillips. His solo singing has been of special interest. The singing of "Diamonds in the Rough" was worth attending the entire meeting.

Rich Gospel sermons have been delivered by Rev. Joe F. Michael, of Abernathy, who as he expresses it, received in youth a touch of the old school and the appeal of the compromiser has not affected him. He delivers sermons in a heart appealing way that grip with the assurance of divine union.

Attention is called to the sermon-lecture, "The Devil's Round-Up," to be given to men only at the Rialto Theatre, Sunday afternoon at 3:00. by the Reverend Phillips.

Has Found End of the Rainbow—Thinks

We had a letter and remittance this week from our old friend E. W. Harlan, who has but recently removed from Arkansas to Oklahoma, but who still wants to keep up with the doings in old Terry, but he gives a list of his movements up to date, which proves that he has been on wheels quite a lot.

He immigrated from Alabama to Texas in 1908, settling in Knox county where he remained for six years, thence to Haskell where he remained for two years; thence to Terry county for two years; thence to Eureka Springs, Arkansas, where he spent the past seven years, takes up his abode at Moorewood, Oklahoma, where he thinks he has found the end of the rainbow. But let him tell it:

"This is the best all round country I have ever seen and the surest farming country. It has been settled for thirty years, and 1913 was the only recorded crop failure. They raise wheat, cotton, broom corn, and all kinds of feed without end, and cream and poultry are big industries. I have 80 acres in the bend of the south Canadian, and I know you, Jack, will not agree when I say it is way ahead of Terry county. Small streams are scattered through the county."

Well, we will just keep E. W. posted on the doings in grand old Terry a few more years; he is gradually moving back this way, and the severe winters will likely find him back here in the next few years.

"THE DEVIL'S ROUND-UP"

At the Rialto Theatre, next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m., Rev. Ed Phillips will deliver his famous sermon-lecture to men only. Be sure to attend if you are looking for something good.

Of additional interest Bro. Phillips will sing an old cowboy roundup song, "Hitting The Trail."

Send the Herald to your folks.

Gore Farm Producing Good Crops This Year

Mrs. G. G. Gore and two little girls were in one day last week after supplies and to bring in supplies from the farm which she sells in exchange for what they need and do not produce on the farm. Mrs. Gore regularly brings in butter for sale, which is handled by a local store, and she has a line up of customers who regularly demand her butter for it is always uniform in taste and texture, always fresh and those who know the family can rely on its cleanliness.

They also brought the Herald family a nice mess of fresh shelled black-eyed peas and half a gallon of good thick buttermilk, and just such good friends as the Gore family explain why the editor keeps on putting on just a bit more flesh as he grows older, not to mention the rapid growth of the two off-springs. We will lay off, however, of inferring that the other section of the family is getting "stout."

Mrs. Gore informs us that they had the prospects of one of the best crops they had ever produced in their lives. She said their cotton was now lapping in the middles and fruiting well; no insects to mention, at least no worse than ordinary years. The corn crop is coming nicely, and the feed crop promises one of the most bountiful yields in years.

Speaking particularly of peas and beans, Mrs. Gore informed us they had several rows across the field, and that one could get a tow sack full of them before picking ten steps. They are literally loaded she said, and the quality is good we can attest. She had just been attending the canning demonstration at Gomez, and is perhaps now putting away a number of these products in tin cans for use in the cold winter months, when the family will be enjoying the same diet as if it were mid-summer.

Bunch of Boys Caught Charged With Burglary

One night last week the night man at the city light plant noticed a light in the Bowers Brother's wholesale house, and upon investigation found that it was being burglarized. He got in touch with Marion Craig who jumped into his car and went after Sheriff Ellington.

Mr. Ellington informs us that he went to the back of the store where entrance was made by the boys, and had Marion rattle the front door as if trying to gain entrance, when the boys scuttled to the back and he nabbed them as they came out. One of these boys is now under suspended sentence, and we understand will be sent to the reformatory at once. One is too old for juvenile court, and will await the action of the grand jury which assembles next week.

One of the smaller boys, which perhaps has been lead into these burglaries, said these raids have been frequent of late, and that they mostly took candy, chewing gum and such like. Most of all the boys come from good homes and the best and most respected families of the town, who hate the trouble their boys have gotten into worse than anyone else. We know that some of these families have tried to bring up their boys as they should be, and the Herald sympathizes with these families in their sorrow that their boys have wrought upon them, but our laws guarantee each and everyone protection in their property rights, and these boys must now suffer, as well as their parents, for taking other people's property.

BETTER THAN EXPECTED

The story is told of a recent graduate, highly impressed with his own importance, who asked his prospective employer, "Will you pay me what I am worth?"

The boss man generously replied, "I'll do better than that, I'll give you a small salary to start with."

Miss Jimmie Tabler, of Ashdown, Arkansas, has accepted a position here as night operator in the telephone exchange.

Parker County Man May Locate in Terry

A nice looking farmer, a stranger introduced himself to the writer on the streets one day this week as Mr. L. Baker of Weatherford, Texas, and remarked that he was visiting an old friend, L. Durrett, of the Wellman community. Asked how he liked our country, he said he had seen some of the best corn in this country that he had seen in a long time, some he believed would make 40 bushels to the acre. As to the cotton, it of course looked late to him, and he said it would produce nothing in his country as the weevils would get it. In fact he said that all late cotton in that country could be shaken and all the bolls, blooms and form would fall off, showing that it has already done its do, but the real old cotton will make from one-fourth to one-third bale to the acre.

He wound up by saying that he was going to give this country a writeup when he returned home. We then informed him that we happened to be the newspaper man here and had decided to write him up before he returned home. As quick as a flash he said: "All right, you can say everything that I have already repeated here, and add that I not only like your lands, climate, crops and good water, but I think you have most excellent people, the real old time Texans. You may also tell your readers that I am going home, and if I can sell out, I will become one of you. Cotton is not all that I raise, however, as I like plenty of dairy cows and hogs about the place and wife raises chickens and turkeys. We try to make most of the living at home.

Well, this is the kind of families we are looking for to help old Terry bloom like the rose.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

All the registration papers on the pigs have come in except one Polan China and six Duroc pigs. These should be here in a short time. The Polan China pigs bought from the Lillard Stock farms are from litters of 9-15 with an average of 12. The Duroc's average litter was 11, while the two Hampshire pigs were out of a litter of 14. Surely no club boys ever received a better bred bunch of pigs. Such boars as Forever an Ace, Monarch Best, Stilts Climax, and Texas Colonel are the sires of these pigs and all these wonderful boars have been grand champions in the largest shows in the past years and they are now on the show circuit and are weighing a thousand pounds or more and doubtless will add additional purple ribbons to the Lillard winnings. Mr. Lillard is expecting to meet some of these club pigs in the open classes at Lubbock at the Fair and lets make it hot for his junior pigs. We have the breeding and the care so far, with extra care from now on we can beat the famous Lillard herd.

Give those pigs plenty of exercise and green feed. Be careful not to get them over fat. March pigs should weigh from 150 to 200 lbs by October first. It is alright for them to weigh more if they get plenty of exercise and green stuff and grow rather than fatten. Showing the pigs at the Terry County Fair September 28-29 will be required. The two best boars of each breed, and the best five gilts of each breed will be shown at the Lubbock fair.

The grand prize of a free trip to the Dallas Fair offered to a Terry County pig club boy by the County Fair will be given away on the following basis:

Highest average gain	30
Most economical gain	30
County Show Winning	20
Best kept record book	20

All club members who want to compete for this prize should see the county agent as soon as possible.

Premium lists of the entire fair to be held at Brownfield September 28-29 can be had at the office of the county agent or the office of the Chamber of Commerce after September 1st.

NOTICE OF CLUB MEETINGS

I will be in the following communities on the dates specified and will visit every club member and check your record book. I will expect each club president to arrange for one meeting either in the evening or night at which time a short program will be rendered and refreshments served by the club to the community and visitors. Each club president will see that a suitable meeting place is available and will advertise the meeting of his club.

GIVE THE BOY A CHANCE

"No, Willie," said his mother, "one piece of pie is enough for you."
"It's funny, responded Willie, with an injured air, "you say you are anxious that I learn to eat properly, and yet you won't give me a chance to practice."

Terry County to Have Real Fair in Sept.

Terry County is making the biggest preparation in its history for its County Fair. It has more people working on it than ever before. More money will be put into premiums than ever before. More general interest and help is being given by the farm population than ever before. The exhibits will cover twice the amount of ground ever undertaken before. There will be two days of the fair, which has always been a one-day exhibition in the past.

Not only is our county agent and commerce secretary back of the movement this time, but the business men and farmers of the section, backed up by the club boys and girls, are solidly behind the exhibit with their energy, time and products. With the experience of the county agent and commerce secretary in former fairs and exhibits, we hope to have by far the best fair in our history, and we have had some good ones in the years gone by.

Heretofore, about all the ground covered by premiums were agricultural products, but this year it will be made to cover livestock and poultry, and it is our understanding that a number of communities will contend for prizes to be offered in several branches of agriculture, and that a number of the pig clubs will display their pigs for prizes. Two full big days will the fair go on, giving everyone in reach of Brownfield an opportunity to see just what can be produced on the farms and ranches of old Terry.

To give the fair a real big exhibition background, and in order to have something to while away the time of the younger generation, ferris wheels and merry-go-rounds will be given concessions on the grounds. While these will be permitted, none of the cheap-john gambling devices of the usual carnival will be permitted. An effort is also being made to have fire works on at least one night of the fair, if not both.

The local merchants will also have exhibits at the fair.

Now is the time to begin saving the best of your products for the fair in order to win some prizes. Then from the best of these can be selected the stuff to be carried both to the South Plains Fair at Lubbock and the Dallas State Fair.

Let's cut a real big swath while we are cutting.

County Agent's Sister Killed in Auto Accident

The Herald is grieved to report that our county agent, Roy Davis, was called to Lamesa on Wednesday night of last week on a sad message coming from there to the effect that his sister had been in a serious auto collision.

It seems that his sister, Miss Johnnie Lee Watkins, and another young lady, Miss Ina Lee Watkins, and two young men were driving home from Lamesa when they made a collision with a car being driven by Rev. Joe L. Isbell, who was holding a protracted meeting out in the country. All parties were badly shaken up, but the young ladies were so badly hurt that they died next morning within an hour of each other in a Lamesa sanitarium.

The many friends of our splendid county agent will join the Herald in offering sympathy to Mr. Davis in this great shock and loss of his beloved sister.

THEATRE IS THE COOLEST PLACE IN TOWN

On warm sultry nights, when there isn't a breath of fresh air to be had, and the roads are crowded with tired, weary motorists, and the children are fretful and everything seems wrong, take the family by the hand and go to a movie. There you will find comfort and refreshment and cooling breezes and if, perchance if there is a scene of a glacier or an iceberg, you'll probably be pulling your coat around your neck so definite is that psychological effect of motion pictures.

Brownfield Now Has A Cotton Exchange

We have been hearing for several days that Brownfield was provided with a regular cotton and grain exchange, and one day last week, in company with Clyde Lewis, who has charge for the present, we went up over the State Bank building to see the critter, while it was not at work at that time, he showed all the working parts and how. But we understand little of what we saw.

There is an outfit which has the center of the stage not unlike an ordinary typewriter, only much larger, that writes down the quotation from the wires at Lubbock, and by switch and writing a message, the same thing is typewritten at the other end of the wire. All you have to do is turn on the current. We understand that a couple of prominent cotton men at Lubbock are responsible for its location here.

There is a large board standing beside the walls on which quotations of both the spot and future markets are put down after being received here every half hour, we believe, on cotton, corn, oats, wheat, and perhaps other grains. One can give orders over the machine for either buying or selling either futures or spots in any of these.

In explaining its workings, Clyde informed us that quite a laughing thing occurred the first morning. Some not being used to it left the exchange to go to a nearby radio to see if they were getting the dope right. They found it exact, and since then they have more confidence in it.

School to Open With Nineteen Teachers

While the grade school will assemble on September 6th for organization and assignments, and the high school on the 7th for the same purpose, school will not formally open until September 10. On the 3rd of September, all teachers will go to Lubbock for a three day session of teachers' institute, returning on Thursday the 6th for the grade school opening.

Owing to the fact that several new teachers have been added, and the further fact that Prof. W. B. Toone is here for his first term as Superintendent, the school has not been organized or teachers assigned to different departments, and we cannot give them as to the place they occupy in high or grade schools, but the following have been employed with one yet to be employed:

Prof. W. B. Toone, Superintendent; Miss Annie M. Long; Mrs. W. A. Bynum; W. E. Williams; Mrs. Leo Homes; E. G. Nance; Miss Mozelle Treadaway; Miss Grace Hulise; Mrs. Iva Savage; Mrs. W. R. Dyess; Mrs. L. A. Greenfield; Miss Lizzie Dumas; Miss Birdie Fogle; Miss Lucille Flache Marian Hayhurst; Miss Mildren B. Woodhead; Miss Faye Martin, Miss Eunice Banks.

With our school fully affiliated now it is expected that it will make greater progress in the next few years than ever before. But this doesn't mean that it will no longer require your support and encouragement, for school nor man never gets to the point where they do not require the hearty support and encouragement of those who benefit from it, any more than a business ever gets to the point where it needs no advertising.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PARSONAGES, AND CERTAIN PROPERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT

H. J. R. No. 20.)
HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION.
Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:

All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men and young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry"; and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election.

SENNETT INTERVIEWED ON IDEAS OF MODERN COMEDY

Theodore Dreiser, one of America's outstanding novelists, went to see Mack Sennett a short time ago. An interview with Sennett appeared in Photoplay as a result.

Dreiser thinks well of Sennett. He links him with men like Swift, Shaw, Sterne, Shakespeare, (look at the cses), Rabelais, Voltaire, as a man as a man who knows how to use burlesque effectively.

"The greatest creator of joyful burlesque the world has ever known," says Dreiser of Sennett.

Mack Sennett's philosophy of comedy is probed. Here are a few of his ideas which you might enjoy comparing with your own:

"You have to spill soup on dignity to get a real burlesque laugh."

"Everybody wants to laugh at something. Mostly at the other fellow's troubles."

"If there is any change in the kind of comedy that makes people laugh it's in the way it's presented. Ten or twenty years ago a man might sit on a hot stove longer than he would today and without the audience stopping laughing. Maybe more trains could hit him in the same picture."

MOTOR COURTESY

A writer on motor car subjects asks, "What has become of the kindly courteous automobile driver who used to stop his car and inquire if he could be of service to his unfortunate brothers at the roadside changing a punctured tire or tinkering with a reluctant engine?"

That's easy. The kindly brother topped one night to help a motorist and got knocked on the head for his pains, and not to mention the theft of his money and his car. He now has become one of the wise throng which knows the "stalled car" brethren for what they often prove to be; and with whom the law of self-preservation argues against roadside courtesy.

The truth is that motorists need but seldom in these days of motor efficiency and village service stations. Tires are no longer repaired on the road; they are merely changed. Engines seldom balk, and when they do, expert aid is nearly always in reach. And since all crookedness has taken to wheels, the kindly virtues of the pioneer days of motoring must be repressed in the interest of personal safety.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Life is something like continuous vaudeville—half the people are looking around for "This Way Out" and the other half for "This Way In."

If a business man expects to hold his job he must please his customers just as a congressman must satisfy his constituency if he hopes to be returned to office.

Nobody likes compulsion but we must all submit to it if we get along in this world.

STATE WILL SPEND $1 PER CHILD ON PUBLIC EDUCATION

Austin, Aug. 16.—The State Board of Education set aside a per-capita apportionment of $15 for each public school child to run the schools during the coming term at a meeting today.

Figures submitted by State Comptroller S. H. Terrell showed that some $23,500,000 or enough to make a $16 apportionment, is available for the schools, but the 40th Legislature limited the sum to $15.

The supplemental appropriation of $1,500,000 made in anticipation of the reduction of the gasoline tax from three to two cents a gallon September 1 would, if used, make the apportionment $17. This fund was not needed, however, to fulfill the $15 apportionment.

The apportionment made was based on an estimated total enrollment of 1,401,374 school children, which is about 31,000 more than the figure on which the 1927 apportionment was based on, and the latter was 21,000 than the year before.

A good thought, well expressed, is often a source of inspiration to thousands whom the author never sees.

FREE GATE FOR TRI-STATE FAIR A POPULAR MOVE

Amarillo, Aug. 25.—Free admission at the entrance gates to the Tri-State fair grounds here September 22 to 29 is expected to attract the largest crowds in the history of the fair. The usual tax of 50 cents at the general admittance gate has been eliminated by the fair organization, making it possible for Panhandle people to visit the exhibits and also have access to the mid-way attractions free.

Two special entertainment features, the Leonard Stroud rodeo performance in the afternoon, and the Schoolly and Collins Winter Garden revue at night. This is the same company that plays at the Dallas Fair. Of course the rides and shows of the big Lockman and Carson carnival company will make the usual charges, but the public will have access to the mid-way without cost. Livestock, poultry and agricultural exhibits are expected to be the best in history, and Panhandle people are urged to visit them free of charge. Fair officials are preparing to care for 250,000 persons during the fair week. They have arranged for 29 acres of free parking space adjacent to the fair grounds for the accommodation of visitor's automobiles.

WOMAN AND GIRL LABOR UNDERPAID

State Commissioner of Labor, Chas. McKemy, in a report given out from Austin, August 9 states half the women and girls employed in Texas are receiving wages less than is adequate for their minimum expenses if dependent upon their own resources alone. In his statement he says that it requires $15 a week for any woman to live upon, independent of other support. He recommended a minimum wage law for women and children.

After a careful survey, he finds only 44 per cent of the women employed earn $15 a week, and 65 per cent of the employed men earn more than $15 per week. Printing and publishing establishments are reported as having best wages and shorter hours, and laundries the lowest wages and hotels and restaurants the longest working hours.

BOY IS BITTEN BY RATTLESNAKE MONDAY

Billy, the twelve year old son of H. W. Lamb, who resides in the Cope land community, was bitten on the left arm above the elbow by a rattlesnake Monday evening about dark. It seems that the boy was engaged in feeding the stock and sat down by a pile of corn to shuck a few ears for the team, when he was struck on the arm by a prairie rattler about eighteen inches in length which was concealed in the corn.

The skin was perforated in two places, and the fangs of the reptile became hung in the shirt sleeve. First aid treatment was given by the father who made an attempt to draw the blood and poison from the wound, after which the arm was placed in a basin of kerosene.

The boy was brought into town where medical aid was given by Dr. Chambers. The boy's arm had been tightly bandaged before leaving home and was only slightly swollen when reaching town. He is reported to be getting along nicely.

While the snake serum was available, it was thought that the emergency treatment had made it unnecessary.—Hockley county Herald.

HARD TO ELECT NEWSPAPER MEN

And speaking of newspapers, we are reminded that it is about as hard for a newspaper man to be elected to public office as it is for a rich man to go to heaven. A newspaper man hasn't any more sense than to work for his home community, boost his ideal home town, and try to advance every idea which will make his home town a better place in which to live. In giving his time and space to home town building, he steps on the toes of every town knocker, and every fellow who would like to see the court house lawn turned back into a cow pasture. Therefore, he will have opposed to him every person who does not want to see the town progress.—C. W. Warwick in Randal County News.

The young aren't foolish. They are just willing to satisfy their curiosity at the cost of a blister.

U. S. SHOWS WAY IN NEW FIELD OF EDUCATION

Home Study Method of Training Adult Workers Gains Universal Acceptance.

Washington, D. C.—America leads the world in adult education with more than 200 international home-study schools within its borders and tens of thousands of students scattered in every civilized country of the globe.

The idea of education by correspondence, which originated in the United States thirty-five years ago, has gained such universal acceptance that today the enrollment in this country alone in home-study schools is equal to three times the combined rosters of the nation's colleges and universities.

Men and women students taking home-study courses in business, the arts, sciences, trades and professions now number more than 2,000,000. It is shown in a survey made public by Dr. John S. Noffsinger, secretary of the National Home Study Council, 839 Seventeenth St., Washington, D. C., while the number of college and university students total only 664,000.

The home-study movement, with its more than 200 correspondence schools, is one of the nation's major industries today, not only from the standpoint of numbers but from the tuition fees received. Home-study courses are one of the big factors in the spread of knowledge of the English tongue. One correspondence school alone has on its books students from 65 countries, including 3,841 students in the Philippines, 500 in Alaska, 130 on the Isle of Cypress, 1,200 in Mexico and Central America, 300 in China and Japan, and 900 in Australia and New Zealand.

The home-study movement is slowly changing the handicap of lack of adult education in the past. The National Home-Study Council, composed of the leading correspondence schools, has instilled a new ideal into home-study education by the adoption of a rigid code of business ethics. By bringing education into the home, it is making it possible for the man with but a few years of schooling to advance in his work by study after working hours, with the expectation that he will get his marks on his pay envelope. It is a new era of education.

VOICE AND PICTURES NOW SYNCHRONIZE

New Apparatus Made Available for Schools, Churches and Motion Picture Theatres.

Engineers are now at work on a simplified photophone device suitable for use in the home, which will make it possible, it is stated, to reproduce "talking movies" in the home very much as the ordinary radio broadcast program are now being received in more than eight million homes. This announcement was made by General James G. Harbord, President of the Radio Corporation of America, at the formation of a new company to be known as "R. C. A. Photophone, Incorporated."

In discussing the formation of the new company, General Harbord pointed out that although the Radio Corporation, General Electric and Westinghouse had been preparing for several years to market apparatus synchronizing voice and music with motion pictures, public introduction of the apparatus had been delayed until the engineers had achieved "complete practicability" so that it would be as simple to operate as a radio set, and, at the same time, highly perfected.

"The Photophone," said General Harbord "is both simple and practical. The essential principle is the recording of pictures and sound on one film. While various methods have been devised for 'talking movies,' experience has shown that the most practical is that of recording pictures and sound on the same film. This is the method employed by the Photophone. It is now possible to photograph the President of the United States—voice as well as action—and to distribute films reproducing the event throughout the country.

Uses and Operation
"Easily operated reproducing apparatus for use in theatres, schools and churches will be nationally available. An entire opera, musical comedy or drama can be electrically recorded on the film, just as it is seen and heard, and then reproduced from the same film. Whatever can be seen or heard, whether it is a nightingale singing or an army in battle, can now be recorded and reproduced for both the eye and the ear. Moving picture dramas with complete orchestral accompaniment, or with music and speech, will be available for nation-wide use.

"Standard films without the sound can be used without any change in the machine. The only thing the operator has to do is to close one switch when he is projecting pictures with sound, and open it when he does not want the sound. Any type of 'talking film' can be used in the machine. The type of sound reproducer to be used will vary with the size of the room in which the pictures are to be shown. The reproducer embodies some remarkable new developments in acoustics.

"Sight and hearing have been the two avenues of approach to the human mind for education, religion and entertainment. Now one medium combines the appeal to sight and hearing simultaneously, with universal accessibility and availability. The complete practicability of the new art has already been demonstrated, and there remained only the need for an intelligent and serviceable system of manufacture and distribution.

"One can only guess at the many varied uses of this invention as an instrument for the spread of knowledge, for bringing the people of the world closer together, and for the advancement of civilization."

AMERICA LEADING IN RADIO COMMUNICATION

The opening of a new, direct radio channel between New York and Lisbon, Portugal, for the transmission and reception of Radiograms was recently announced by the Radio Corporation of America. The inauguration of this radio circuit adds another spoke to the world-wide communication system which has New York as its hub and radiates directly to England, France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Sweden, Norway, Poland, Turkey, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela, Porto Rico, the Dutch West Indies, and Dutch Guiana. From San Francisco other direct radio circuits join the United States to Hawaii, Japan, the Philippines, Hong Kong and Shanghai, China, the Dutch East Indies and French Indo China. ### MANY NEW COACHES ON SOUTH PLAINS

Lubbock, Aug. 20.—The destinies of athletic teams of five high schools of the south plains will be ruled by a new crop of coaches during the coming season. The coaches are former athletes of Texas Technological College. Their appearance this year will be the first of a fast increasing group, next year's graduation to lose a number of other athletes of the college who are planning to coach.

Marlin R. Hurst, quarterback for the Matadors for the past three years, is to coach at Brownfield. Winfield Nicholas, fullback and captain of the first Tech squad, will direct the Tahoka high school team. J. R. Dennison Matador linesman, will be at O'Donnell. Kenneth Hemphill, stellar basketball man, will coach the Spur high school while Clyde Brown, track star for the past three seasons, will coach at Jayton.

Four of the men received their degrees from the college this year.

AN AWFUL MISTAKE

"That was an awful mistake Dr. Slicer made. The man he operated on didn't have what he thought he did."

"Didn't have appendicitis at all, eh?"
"Oh, he had appendicitis all right, but he didn't have any money."

It isn't really the tightwad that you hate, but the superior bulge in his pants pocket.

Moscow has a shoe shortage. They haven't any leather. They can't get leather off the Moscovs.

Historical note, the year 2865: Mussolini was a politician of some note who lived about the time of D'Annunzio.

Ballinger: The "Heart of Texas" Commercial Secretaries Association meeting was represented by members from 15 C's of C and 19 counties.

Brownwood: The WTCC motorcade ended here late Thursday, August 16.

Are the people with solemn faces always thinking solemn thoughts?

New Triumph of the Egg

Here's another "triumph of the egg," a culinary triumph.

It's called Goldenrod eggs and is guaranteed to melt the hardest masculine heart, when served with its proper accompaniment, a delicious white sauce.

The white sauce is easily prepared by the home manager and hens do most of the groundwork on the Goldenrod dish proper. In making the white sauce, you melt two tablespoons of butter or margarine in a saucepan, add two tablespoons of flour and cook until the mass bubbles. Combine with this, one cupful of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and a little pepper, and cook for a minute or two or until the starchy taste has disappeared. Care is required to prevent the sauce from being lumpy.

One and a half cupfuls of this sauce is sufficient for Goldenrod eggs for five persons. The eggs are prepared in this fashion: Chop the whites of five hard-boiled eggs coarsely and mix with white sauce. When very hot, pour over five pieces of hot toast. Press the egg yolks through a sieve and sprinkle thickly over the creamed eggs.

Juliette herself could do no better!

Expression Is Grecian

"Eureka" is of Greek origin. It is a past perfect tense meaning "I have found." In English it is used as an exclamation of triumph upon making a discovery. According to legend, when Archimedes discovered a method of determining the purity of the gold in King Hiero's crown he cried: "Eureka." I have found (it). It is the motto of California.

Sounded the Same

"I've broken by favorite jazz record right in two," said the flapper mournfully. "Guess I can fix it, though." Then she carefully glued the two parts together, putting the glue on the back side, the side that she didn't care for. Then she played it—and found she had glued a back side and a front side together. "What shall I do?" she exclaimed.

"Never mind," said the cynical parent, "it sounds just about the same as if you had glued it right."—Springfield Union.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The following political announcements are subject to the action of the Democratic primaries the 25th of August, next:

For Sheriff and Tax Collector:

J. M. (Mun) Telford.
J. S. Smith.

For Commissioner Pre. No. 4:

G. M. (Mack) Thomason.
W. M. Goldston.

Fourteen pages this week. Did you get 'em all?

The editor helped R. W. Glover in leveling up the former's yard at his new place Saturday afternoon. R. W. drove the team and the writer did the work with the Fresno. R. W. knows his okra when it comes to getting the light job, and the writer knows how it feels the morning after.

The Herald is now 24 years of age and still growing, thanks to the many reader and advertising friends. And the advertisers are not using our advertising space from any sense of charity or patriotism, but because they find it pays them.

The merchant who never advertises does not assist the other merchants and business men of the town, but shares in some of the new trade brought by other merchants. He rides without paying his share of the gasoline bill, and should be ashamed of being a drone always. There are very few of this kind in Brownfield we are glad to say.

Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller hits the nail on the head when he says the Republican platform is a blow at white supremacy in the south, as well as the Federal bill that would put lynchings into Federal courts and assess $10,000 against any county where lynchings occur. Lynchings are bad; the offspring of the cave man, perhaps, but we believe southern states and their courts are fully able to punish those guilty of these wrongs. Prohibition and the religious issue raised by Republicans are raised as smoke screens to hide these proposed laws, as well as the corruption of the Republican party for the past six years.

During the war we had with us the hyphenated American, but now we have the hyphenated Democrat. Next!

The Farm and Ranch which is usually right in its editorial policy has recently slipped a cog and come out for the big bond issue for roads. On the face of it, this proposed bond issue is all right, but with the condition that counties with heavy bond issues on their roads will first be reimbursed is very unfair to counties with none. Of course these big counties will be reimbursed right off the bat, and the smaller counties like Terry will hold their bags, pay their taxes and get nothing for years. State roads should be uniform all over the state, we will agree, but it would be years and two-thirds, perhaps, of the money expended before this could be anything like accomplished.

The city dads at O'Donnell, who have just completed a new system of waterworks costing some $40,000, have decided to spend $10,000 fore on extensions at this time. This is some thing that should be done in Brownfield.

Ancient Cuban Tiles for American Homes

Carlo dealers of Havana are acquiring old Spanish art tiles to supply the demand in the United States. As each old house is torn down, the bidding for its art tiling is active, although there is nearly a 90 per cent loss in breakage—the tiles having been so long cemented to the walls that they have become as brittle as porcelain.

The Spaniards and Cubans have always been fond of tiling, and their residences are often faced with geometric designs in vivid colors, strongly reminiscent of the Moorish influence on Spanish art. The tiles may represent hunting and marine scenes, mountain vistas, battles, sieges and religious subjects. One set depicts important passages from the Bible and gives the text from which they are taken. These tiles were taken from Holland by the Spaniards during their occupation of the Netherlands, and after several centuries' use in a house in Madrid crossed the Atlantic to Havana.

American visitors to Havana purchase, besides the tiles, much Spanish bronze, copper and beaten brassware. Cuba was at one time rich in such curios, but the supply has been practically exhausted, so that the dealers now spend their summers in Europe to renew their stock. Spanish glassware is another fad of the visitors. The older pieces offered for sale are extremely beautiful. When Carlos III ruled Spain he imported hundreds of glass workers from the Capa di Monti factory at Naples, and the delicate products of these craftsmen is today highly valued.—New York Times.

How Policeman Came by Nickname "Copper"

After a century or so of suppression in London the story has leaked out—how a policeman came to be called a "copper" or "cop."

'Twas evening, ah, bitter chill it was, and the policeman was courting a cook. He was devouring a feast of pie and ogling his buxom darling when her mistress was heard approaching. "Ide! ide!" was her smothered cry of dismay. He hid in the only refuge he could see—the huge copper laundry vat. Alas! It seemed the mistress had come to order the fire lighted beneath that very vat, that she might have some hot water. Forced to comply, the cook soon saw her brave lover leap out and with one tense backward look of reproach, vanish into the night.

Ages ago that lover fled into the storm, but still the ghost of his seared romance follows him and he must answer to the name of "copper."

Big Handicap

The woman was playing golf one fair day, and, although her score was assuming alarming proportions, her enjoyment of the sunny weather and the invigorating exercise kept her from becoming quite too downcast.

"Well," she confided to her companion, as she trudged off into the rough after a particularly poor drive. "I understand there's a woman at the club who has a handicap of 80. I shall have to look her up."

This remark seemed to make a profound impression on the caddy, who, against all regulations, contributed his ideas on the subject.

"Holy smoke!" he cried, "she must play in de thousands!"—New York Sun.

PHOTORADIO GREETING IN SHORTHAND FLASHED TO LIVERPOOL BANQUET

Reproduction of shorthand Photoradiogram greeting. Translation:
National Gregg Association Exchange Hotel Liverpool
The Commercial Education Association of New York City and vicinity extends sincere congratulations and best wishes to you on the occasion of your conference commemorating the 40th anniversary of Gregg shorthand.
ALEXANDER S. MASSELL,
President.

A radio photograph of a greeting written in shorthand was transmitted recently to a conference of educators and shorthand experts attending a banquet in Liverpool. This was the first time that a message in shorthand had ever been transmitted by Photoradio, and according to engineers opens up new possibilities for condensing lengthy messages and statements into smaller spaces with a consequent reduction in cost of the picture transmitted.

The text of the message, not including the date, numbered forty one words of which only the address and signature were written in longhand, with the remaining 32 words in shorthand. The sender was Alexander S. Massell, president of the Commercial

Education of New York, who addressed a message of greeting in this form to the banquet held by the National Gregg Association at the Exchange Hotel, Liverpool, England. John Robert Gregg, the only living author of the shorthand method bearing his name, was a guest of honor at the banquet, which commemorated the fortieth anniversary of the use of Gregg shorthand.

The message, was photographed, and the negative placed on a glass cylinder of the Photoradio transmitter located at the New York offices of the Radio Corporation of America. It was then flashed across the 3,000 intervening miles of ocean to London and from there delivered to the banquet hall of the Exchange Hotel.

Mr. Story, county agent from Magnolia, Arkansas, while here on his annual vacation with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wines, called on our county agent, Roy Davis. Mr. Story reports good crop conditions in his county, but was lamenting the fact that his county was in the tick infected part of Arkansas, which prevents dairy cattle improvements.

Miss Myrtle Murray, district Home Demonstration agent from the A. & M. college, concluded the canning demonstration Wednesday of last week at Gomez where there were 150 present from five communities, and at Forrester where there were seventy one present. Miss Murray declared that the two days she spent in Terry county were the best from the stand point of attendance and interest she had ever spent.

Hermleigh: Hermleigh has a new newspaper, The Herald, being published by R. S. Norman, former editor of the Booker News.

Often it would be better if the speaker were rebuked for dullness instead of reprimanding the audience for inattention.

Wichita Falls: Its first shipment of paper direct from the steamship, Wichita Falls, has been received by the Times Publishing company.

Nolan Barton, candidate for Tax Assessor of Gaines County was a business visitor here Monday.

The brick masons are busy this week running up the walls for the big Holgate Endersen building.

Large crowds from several south plains counties gathered at the old Hank Smith place in Crosby county last week and held an old settlers' reunion. This is said to be the first settled place on the south plains.

Dock Powell and Bill Fitzgerald have returned from their trip to south Texas and old Mexico.

BE SURE OF THE TIRES YOU BUY

SOME car owners fondly believe that by looking at a tire they can tell how it will stand up.

And so they shop around—buy tires according to price.

The trouble is that even the cheapest tire can be made to "look all right." The only way to be sure is to buy from an authorized dealer—the established agent of a reputable concern.

We sell United States Tires. They are a quality product, fairly priced.

Call on us and be sure of the tires you buy.

LASKY LIKES TO THINK OF MOVIE WORK 15 YEARS BACK

Americans who go to Paris as frequently as most of us go to the soda fountain in summer, undoubtedly remember Maurice Chevalier, France's favorite music hall star.

Well, M. Chevalier is coming—of does some one say, going?—to Hollywood where he will make a series of pictures for Paramount.

Which reminds us that Jesse Lasky has a tremendously interesting story in McCall's Magazine for August under the title "The Movies are Growing up."

In it Mr. Lasky tells of his experience in pictures since Hollywood began to be the metropolis of filmdom. In those fifteen years, he says, "I have seen a country town grow into a great city. I have seen a barn grow into a great studio."

"Sometimes I drop into the old Hotel Alexandria, once the most important hotel in town and look at the rug in the lobby, the famous "million dollar" on which all big business deals used to be made and movie contracts put through. Sometimes I go out on the lot and look at the humble little frame building—the Lasky barn which I had moved from our first studio sight. Sometimes I look over the tops of immense sets and towering skyscrapers to the foothills which have not changed since I first saw them.

"If it were not for these reminders of the Hollywood of fifteen years ago," Mr. Lasky continues, "I might not believe these miracles of which I have written myself."

At the close of the meeting, which will be of ten days' duration, some improvements will be made on the structure and it will be used for temporary class rooms until the completion of the administration building.

Dr. John R. Freeman is president of the institution.

GUESSING LIVESTOCK WEIGHTS IS EXPENSIVE

Guessing livestock weights may be a popular sport but it's mighty poor business, especially for the fellow who doesn't keep in practice. Not long ago a skilled hog buyer stopped at the home of a farmer and bought his herd of hogs, 100 head in all. They agreed on the price with little trouble and since there was no scale on the farm, they estimated the weight. The farmer had sold his hogs at a good price and he was happy. He never knew that he had "guessed" his hogs ten pounds too light and that the better judgment of the buyer had cost him something like $100.

Selling livestock and grain by guess cost many farmers hundreds of dollars every year, according to research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. Pigs and calves grow faster than their owners realize and the buyer who sees livestock weighed every day takes advantage of that fact. Selling grain by wagon box measure often costs the producer money, especially if it is of high quality and weighs well.

A new pitless farm scale with a capacity of 5,000 pounds has recently been developed which is especially adapted for use on small farms where the amount of weighing does not seem to justify the expense of a higher priced scale. The new scale, as its name indicates, requires no foundation pit and can easily be moved from place to place. It will weigh a wagon load of grain or several head of livestock.

THE MODERN FARM MARATHON

Non-stop dancing records are not the only records being broken these days, says a research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers, as reports of non-stop tractor pour in from all parts of the United States.

It all started with two brothers, Joe and William Battaglia of San Jose, California taking turns at the wheel and operating their tractor ten days and nights last spring, cultivating their extensive prune and apricot orchards. This non-stop run was officially timed and observed by engineers from the University of California.

No sooner was this record reported than came H. Shelburne of Ogallala, Nebraska, with an unofficial record of his tractor pulling a plow for 14 days and nights, stopping only a few minutes each day for oiling and greasing, and plowing 800 acres in that time. Stopping only long enough to change oil and adjust the valves, this same tractor was then operated five days and nights, putting in 1000 acres of wheat.

Then came a report from Oregon of a tractor being operated six weeks, day and night, plowing on the farm of John R. Witcombe of Arlington. All of these tractors were operated in twelve or eight hour shifts.

In Minnesota, Harold Anderson of Tamarac stayed at the throttle of his tractor for 110 hours without sleep, making a record for continuous operation with one driver.

While showing the dependability and stamina of the modern tractor, a different and more significant light which shows the tendency on the farm is shed on the subject by Mr. Shelburne. When asked why he made the non-stop run, he replied: "I didn't do it to boast about, I did it to save time!"

Col. C. C. French, representing the Fort Worth stock yards, was in Brownfield last week taking note of the stock conditions in this region. ### Had No Change

The other day a man stuck his head out of a trolley window at Market street and whistled to a newsboy for a paper. The boy passed in the news paper and waited for his money.

The man searched through his pockets one after another. A look of dismay suddenly clouded his countenance. All he could find was a $5 bill. As the trolley began to move, the newsboy trotted along at the window still waiting hopefully for his money.

He ran with the car at least half a block before his customer realized that he had no change. The paper was sorrowfully handed back to the newsboy, who "cussed" so loudly that several of the young women near by had to muffle their ears.—Philadelphia Record.

Bald Heads Rapped

One Sunday morning Joseph Bucklin Bishop heard Henry Ward Beecher preach a stirring sermon to a great congregation. After a specially eloquent passage the preacher paused a moment and then continued:

"The churches of the land are sprinkled all over with bald-headed old sinners, whose hair has been worn off by the friction of countless sermons that have been aimed at them and have glanced off and hit the man in the pew behind."

That was a trying moment for the bald-headed men present, comments Mr. Bishop in "Notes and Anecdotes of Many Years."

Their Three Selections

Auntie had written the children to write to her and tell her the three things they most desired for Christmas. Then, she said, she would select one of the three for their gift from her. Marjorie, being the older, wrote the following:

"Dear Auntie—We were tickled to get your nice letter and I will now tell you the three things we want most for Christmas. Buddy wants three bicycles and I want three wrist watches. These are the only three things we can think of. With love Marjorie."—Kansas City Star.

Get Rid of Troubles

People in Korea seek to rid themselves of all their distresses by painting images on paper, writing against them their troubles of body or mind and afterward giving the papers to a boy to burn. Another method of achieving the same object is to make rude dolls of straw, stuff them with a few copper coins, and throw them into the street. Whoever picks up such an effigy gets all the troubles and thereby relieves the original sufferer.

Magisterial Wisdom

When called upon recently to settle a quarrel between two Jewish women, a London magistrate handed a copy of the Bible to the official interpreter, saying: "Take these women out of court and read them the One Hundred Thirty-third Psalm. One of the women has only a limited knowledge of English. Translate it for her into Yiddish." Later, the interpreter returned to court and reported that the magistrate's scheme had been entirely successful. The first sentence of the psalm reads: "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

The Cynical Flounder

Wisdom may not be in the depths but enough things are there to keep wise men thinking deeply, and millions of men at work preparing potash and ammonia; drying sea weeds to use among other things for decoration, on the Japanese New Year, as an American uses holly on his. We think of paper made from kelp and of mattresses stuffed with eel grass. Or glue and of Irish moss, "used as an ingredient in kato-quinies, shoe stains shaving soaps and cosmetics," according to Dr. Donald K. Tressler, authority on such things.

By far the most abundant birds in the United States are the robin and the English sparrow, but several others are common enough to make their total numbers run well into the millions. The counts so far show that the most abundant bird on farms in the northeastern states is the robin. Next to this is the English sparrow and following these are the song sparrow, chipping sparrow, meadow lark and catbird, in the order named.

Youthful Diagnostician

Helen Jeanne, the two-year-old daughter of a physician, deemed herself an efficient authority on medicine. One afternoon she sat in her rocking chair, crooning to her curly, blond-headed baby doll. Finally a disgusted look clouded her face. She exclaimed, "My baby doesn't give me any patience 'a tall," and rocked more furiously than ever.

After a minute or two, Helen Jeanne placed her soft, baby hand on her doll's forehead and, after a moment of reflection, shouted: "Muvver! Baby has osital temperature."

HAS NEVER SENT A PERSON TO STATE PENITENTIARY

Borden county in West Texas claims a record that probably cannot be equalled by any other county in the state. Organized in 1891, thirty seven years ago, the county has never sent a person to the penitentiary. Borden county counted only 334 poll tax receipts this year, the county being given over to large ranch interests. The county also has an oil test drilling sixteen miles northeast of Gail county seat, by E. L. Doheny interests. Extensive leasing is being recorded in all sections of the county, and with the new highway being agitated as an auxiliary route to Roswell off the Dal Paso Cavern highway. RICH PROFITS IN BEETS ON FARMS

Crop Made Into Sugar Nets Growers of United States $55,000,000 Last Year.

Chicago. — One hundred thousand farmers in the United States are engaged regularly in growing sugar beets to satisfy the nation's sweet tooth, according to a bulletin issued here by the U. S. Beet Sugar association.

"More than $55,000,000 was paid to farmers for their sugar beets in 1927," says the bulletin. "Approximately 800,000 acres of land were devoted to sugar-beet culture in 19 states, while there are 102 beet sugar factories in the United States in which $280,000,000 in capital is invested. Production of beet sugar amounted to 1,070,000 tons for the year.

"Sugar beets are one of the most profitable of American crops and the farmers growing them are, in effect, partners in the beet sugar industry. The beet sugar industry must establish its plants in farming communities, since it is essentially an agricultural industry depending on the farm for its product and because sugar beets cannot be shipped great distances without deterioration. The factory not only furnishes a cash market close to the door of the farm, but gives employment to farmers, farm laborers and mechanics living near by. It increases the business of the railroads, and the small town banks and merchants.

"Raising sugar beets improves the soil and increases the yield of succeeding crops. The extensive root system of the plant opens and aerates the ground, enabling it to retain and utilize a greater supply of air and water. The roots frequently descend into the soil to a depth of seven or eight feet. The small roots remain in the ground after the beet is pulled and contribute valuable fertility in the process of decay.

"Beets are an important factor in crop rotation. Results in scientific crop rotation with beets as the pivot have demonstrated that the productivity of the soil in yielding crops can be increased from 50 to 80 per cent.

"By-products, including beet tops, beet pulp and molasses, have developed an extensive sheep and cattle-fattening industry in the neighborhood of the beet sugar factories. In localities where beet pulp was used as a feed for steers in 1927, an investigation showed that while pulp made up 82 per cent of a combination ration, its actual price amounted to only 37 per cent of the total cost.

"Not every farming area in the United States may grow sugar beets. But the present sugar beet producing areas might be greatly expanded if farmers were assured adequate tariff protection, insuring them against the invasion of foreign sugar produced under cheap labor conditions and living standards with which they cannot compete."

Checkerboard Sandwich

Checkerboard sandwiches for the bridge luncheon is the dernier cri of fashionable society. Dainty morsels of white and whole wheat bread, made to look like mosaic work, appeal not only to the palate but the eye.

Spread them with any filling you like, or simply serve them in their pristine innocence with clear tea and a portion of lemon. Either method is quite correct. And then there's cheese and parsley, rolls and layer loaf sandwiches, both companion favorites of the hostess with a taste for the individual.

Here are some suggestions on the easiest and most artistic method of making all three:

Cheese-Parsley Roll.

Make three-layer sandwiches of alternating one-half inch slices of whole wheat and white bread; spread generously with margarine or butter. Slice the three-decker down in one-half-inch slices. Combine three of these slices to make cubes, using first a slice with the whole wheat bread in the center, then the white, then the whole wheat. Spread each layer with margarine or butter, press, and slice thin. These sandwiches are picturesque as well as delicious.

Layer Loaf Sandwiches.

Remove crust from a sandwich loaf as before and cut in five lengthwise slices. Spread with margarine or butter. Put bread together like a layer cake, then cover the entire loaf with softened cheese after the manner of frosting a cake. Decorate the top. Make twelve hours before using and press before covering with cheese. The first layer may be filled with chopped sweet pickles and parsley, moistened with dressing; the second with hard-cooked egg yolk mixed with margarine or butter; the third with hard-cooked egg whites chopped, mixed with cream cheese and dressing; and the fourth with finely chopped bottled ham or tongue with dressing.

DIFFERENT TYPES OF PEOPLE

The bullfrog never croaks except when the shadows begin to fall.

The thrush never warbles except when sitting in the top of the tree in the full light of the bright sun.

Each has to have its peculiar environment in order to express itself.

One needs a gloomy atmosphere in the swamp around where he can make that dismal noise expressive of its surroundings.

The other needs the invigorating sunshine to produce the sweet music that fills its being.

Do you belong to the frog or to the thrush class?

If you associate with grumblers and kickers you can never hear the bright and optimistic side of public questions and you will never be anything but a complainer.

If you select as associates, people who never see anything but the silver lining, you will be influenced by their optimism and become like them.

Always be sure to stay away from the frog-minded people, and get in the crowd where some good is seen in everything.

You can't radiate good cheer and be a booster for all things that will improve the community unless you have that kind of thoughts.

Therefore, imitate the thrush and warble, but never croak.

D. 1928, and providing the necessary proclamation and appropriation to defray expenses of proclamation, publication and election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient, and to their widows in indigent circumstances under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service during the war between the States, and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($7) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances, and authorizing tax levy therefor," and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $50,000.00 or so much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

THE DYING OF THE LITTLE TOWN OF COLUMBUS, N. M.

The little town of Columbus, N. M., along the Mexican border, is about to die and be sold for taxes. This little village that once gained international fame through the aid in 1916 by Pancho Villa, Mexican bandit, has been eaten up by taxes; its inhabitants have moved away and it is now likely that the buildings will be sold under the hammer for delinquent taxes. Columbus at one time had a population of about 2,500. That was when it served as a base for Perishing's punitive expedition into Mexico after the elusive Villa. Now the population numbers thirty seven.

Beecher Made Victim of Children's Prank

Henry Ward Beecher was a great lover of children. He was happiest when, seated in his favorite armchair in the evening, his grandchildren climbed and patted over him or nestled in his lap. It was on such an occasion when one evening he remembered with a start that it was time for the evening service, relates Thrift Magazine. Without stopping to arrange his toilet he hurried to the Plymouth church in Brooklyn, and appeared before the large audience. There was a tittering that grew to a positive roar of laughter. For, as the great divine stood before his audience with all his majestic dignity, the audience discerned that his flowing locks had been done up in curl papers. Momentarily, he was non-plussed, then placing his hand to his head, his fingers found the offending pig-tails. Some one nearby heard him say, much to himself, "That rascal Daisy," and then he joined in the general uproar.

Of Course This Didn't Happen in Real Life

Once upon a time, a man, got wrecked upon a ship. The other passengers had all left. When the alarm was sounded. He probably had taken a bit too much. Well, Anyway he found himself. Left with plenty of food and water. But no companions. Of any sort. But a number of current magazines. Being intelligent. He realized these. Would in time give out. So he restricted himself. To only so much a day. However he was not rescued. As soon as he had expected. And he began to go over them again. Still no ship in sight. Time passed. He forced himself to review the tattered periodicals. Though he knew them from cover to cover. They palled. Lost even the effect of distraction. At last in despair. He seized all of them. Crying, "Heaven have mercy on me. There is nothing left. But to read the stories!"—Engene Case, in Los Angeles Times.

Curious Storage

There is practiced in Kashmir, in India, a novel method of putting fodder up for winter use. The country lies in a valley among the Himalayas. The chief industry of the people consists of raising fine wool and in making this into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world.

A curious custom in some places is that of hanging quantities of hay up among the branches of trees. Why this is done is more than the stranger can guess, and he is much puzzled until some native informs him that in winter the snow lies five and six yards in depth, and that the supplies of hay, which as he now looks at them, seem only as if intended for giraffes, are then easily reached by the flocks of sheep which abound there.

Beautiful Flame

It may not be generally known away from the seaside that a vessel's old sheathing, which has once been covered with yellow metal or copper, at the expiration of a long voyage makes a most beautiful flame of different colors when burned in an open fireplace or grate.

This is caused by the sheathing coming in contact with copper nails and other composition with which the sheathing is covered.

Years ago this wood was considered worthless and was usually given away to poor people for fuel.

But of late years it has been used quite extensively in New Bedford, Mass., and vicinity.

It is placed upon other wood or coal, when the flames from the burning of the old sheathing present a beautiful sight, producing different colors, which shoot forth from the copper nail holes.

Large Island Unexplored

The fifth, and possibly the third, largest island in the world, is almost unknown. It is Baffin island in the Arctic circle, and its area is estimated at from 200,000 to 300,000 square miles. It is owned by Canada. The Norsemen probably knew it in the year 1000. In 1576, when Martin Frobisher was seeking the Northwest passage, 100 English colonists actually tried to make their homes on its bleak southeastern coast. Some day, perhaps, when the world becomes overcrowded and modern conveniences make a cold climate livable, Baffin island may be the home of a nation.—Copper's Weekly.

Hamburg's Lucky Streak

Hamburg, one of Germany's largest cities, might be still only a small port if the American colonies had not rebelled against English rule and won the Revolutionary war. A large part of the trade of the continent of Europe that formerly went through London was diverted to Hamburg as the result of that conflict, and the city grew by leaps and bounds, relates Pathfinder Magazine. Now it and its suburbs have about 2,250,000 population. Bremen and Stettin also had a remarkable growth during the German expansion period, but Hamburg had the advantage over those ports by having deep water.

BANKER-FARMER MOVEMENT GROWS

Funds Supplied by Banking Organizations in Many States to Finance Studies and Contests.

The nationwide movement being conducted by county and state bankers' associations and the American Bankers Association in co-operation with the state agricultural colleges and county agents for the purpose of bringing about both local and national solutions for farm economic problems has shown notable results during the past year. A review of these activities in the Bulletin of the Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association, summarizes some of the chief points as follows:

In Missouri a meeting was held at the College of Agriculture at which the bankers again appropriated $1,600 for boys' and girls' club work. Saline county bankers have raised $500 to stimulate beef calf clubs and report definite results obtained in getting farmers to lime their soil and grow alfalfa. County "key bankers" to promote banker support of farm betterment projects are being appointed and another Short Course in Agriculture for bankers is being planned.

In Kansas no less than fifteen counties are reported by the Extension Service as engaged in definite banker-farmer work. County key bankers attended four district conferences during the year.

The Louisiana bankers' agricultural committee met at the College of Agriculture in connection with a bankers' farm course. The bankers are thoroughly aroused to the wisdom of tick eradication and are co-operating to that end. County key bankers are being selected and county meetings with bankers throughout the state will be arranged.

Results Shown

In Kentucky key bankers have been appointed in each county with the result that the bankers of the state are co-operating with the College of Agriculture more specifically than any other group of business men. Some of the fruits of this co-operation is demonstrated by the fact that the number of dairy cattle in the state has increased seven per cent and the production per cow twelve per cent. Three counties in the state have eliminated all scrub bulls.

In North Carolina the outstanding accomplishments have been the honoring of "Class A Farmers," that is, those attaining a degree of proficiency in a well balanced and sound system of farming as indicated by a score card prepared by the College of Agriculture and the Bankers Short Course given there. Future plans provide for the continuation of the county key banker system and the arrangement of county banker-farmer tours.

In Virginia $15,000 has been raised by subscription for boys' and girls' club work, largely from bankers. A group meeting was held at the College of Agriculture with two hundred bankers in attendance. The Committee on Agriculture of the State Bankers Association voted to continue and check up on the county key banker work.

The reports from New York on the activities for the past year included the distribution of 20,000 short form farm credit statements prepared co-operatively by the agricultural college and bankers. The bankers' agricultural committee also arranged to send suggestions to the banks of the state to aid in financing purchase of dairy cattle to replace those lost by the tuberculin test.

Bankers' Farm Schools

Bankers' Farm Schools or "Short Courses" continued popular during the year. Several colleges held such courses under the auspices of the state bankers' agricultural committees and are repeating them this year.

"Minimum of Talk—Maximum of Demonstration" was the character of program put on by the Kansas Agricultural College for the second Bankers' Farm School in April. Four representatives were invited from each of twenty counties, consisting of the county key banker, the county agent, the secretary of the county bankers association, and the president of the farm bureau. Proper farm methods were brought out by demonstrations, then tours were made to farms whose owners had followed the practices and methods outlined by the college to illustrate the lessons. Emphasis was placed on the important part bankers can play in developing agriculture.

In South Dakota specific plans for the ensuing year are the appointment of county key bankers, co-operation in boys' and girls' club projects and group meetings of county agents and key bankers. In Minnesota the county key bankers system is to be continued with special emphasis on bringing the county agent and key banker into closer co-operation.

At a banker meeting at the North Dakota Agricultural College it was decided that the key banker organization would be completed and in order to acquaint the bankers with agricultural needs county bankers' meetings were planned during the year.

At a conference held at Montana State College it was reported that county key bankers had co-operated in arranging for a livestock special train which ran for seventeen days, made twenty-nine stops and came in contact with 22,000 people; that bankers had assisted in six district conferences that led to the formation of a state agricultural program, and that twenty-eight counties reported definite work under the leadership of the county key bankers such as assisting in the purchase of purebred livestock and loans to club members.

Other States in Line

Idaho College of Agriculture was the scene of a special meeting attended by thirty-five bankers and college representatives. The conference voted to join the key banker ranks.

In Oregon the first banker-farmer short course was held in January with a good attendance and marked enthusiasm. A meeting of the state bankers Agricultural Committee held in conjunction with the course voted approval of the banker-farmer contest sponsored by Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association, and appointed a committee to confer with college authorities on methods to prevent spread of contagion in dairy cattle.

California held twenty-two successful county tours during the year and as a result it is planned to extend the tours to every county in the state and also to arrange a state-wide tour. The county key bankers played a big part in pushing this work. At an Arizona College of Agriculture meeting of bankers county key bankers were appointed and plans made for community conferences of bankers, farmers and others where local agricultural needs will be discussed.

In New Mexico bankers and county agents met at Clovis as a step in the plan to acquaint bankers in different sections of the state with agricultural conditions and to bring about greater co-operation between them and the county agents. At the Colorado College of Agriculture plans were formulated to select county key bankers, to follow up work with key bankers and county agents and for chairman of the state bankers' committee to attend and address group meetings.

In Nebraska four "farm outlook" meetings were held, largely attended by bankers. Sixty-nine county key bankers were appointed during the year and follow-up work between them and county agents is to be pushed.

For Iowa effective co-operation is reported between bankers and the Extension Service of the state college in their farm bureau programs. Every third farmer in the state is a member of the bureau. The key banker system is to be continued and special emphasis is to be placed on team work between county agents and key bankers.

Director D. E. Otis of the Agricultural Commission American Bankers Association attended many of the meetings.

VARIOUS PLANS TO STEAL TIME AND MONEY FROM THE UNWARY

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success. Fake courses in the art of acting before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash.

The pilgrimage to the motion picture centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is thousands to one.

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends remember that such assurances always spell financial danger ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to come to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Slick, Smooth and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

The Estate Gag

Twenty-four "estates" representing 5 1/2 billions of dollars have been used as bait to interest a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estates. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shyster lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased, in fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.

Like fake raffles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir." Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

Not surmising that he is being trapped and seeing only the big inheritance which he is led to believe he will soon receive, he draws the amount necessary from his savings account and sends it on, not knowing he is actually throwing it away. But he is for like thousands and thousands of other rainbow chasers, he parts with it for the last time.

So-called estate schemes which have produced thousands of "heirs" and at a heavy loss to them have been worked under the following names:

The Pilgrimage to the Movies

Baker	$ 250,000,000
Chadwick	37,000,000
Edwards	90,000,000
Ingraham	500,000,000
Hyde	360,000,000
Jennings	400,000,000
Hedges	250,000,000
Kern	200,000,000
Leak	100,000,000
Shepherd	175,000,000
Trotter	200,000,000
Chase	1,800,000,000
Townley	500,000,000
Webber	50,000,000
Wells	20,000,000

Again, before parting with your money in any scheme you do not know all about consult your banker or a Better Business Bureau.

THE NEW FARMING ACCOUNT SCHOOL

The good business farmer today watches his farm accounts carefully. In respect to his labor, his farm stock and his soil, he knows what they can do and how they can be most profitably handled. He knows the mathematics of growing feed from the soil, pigs and poultry from the feed and cash profits from pigs and poultry. He knows whether he is milking the cow for paying returns or the cow is milking him out of his invested capital. Wherever his accounts show a deficit or insufficient profit on one or more items, he immediately studies to overcome the handicap and correct any mistakes that have been made.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association is conducting a nationwide educational campaign for better methods of farm accounting. The commission has been stressing the wisdom of country bankers through cooperation of agents, calling farmers together and holding account schools where instruction is given on the use of account books.

Each person is led through concrete steps in keeping accounts. Each enters his own inventory. Each has previously been instructed to take and bring to school. Each gets a good start and when prepared lowed up by letters and an occasional visit by the specialist in charge, greatly aids the man who is really in earnest to come through his first year of keeping accounts successfully. Many times country banks offer the rooms for holding the account schools. In some instances, an employe of the bank is designated to assist farmer patrons during the year in keeping their accounts.

HOW TO GO BROKE FARMING

1. Grow only one crop.
2. Keep no livestock.
3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances.
4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing.
5. Don't stop gullies or grow cover crops—let the top soil wash away, then you will have "bottom" land.
6. Don't plan your farm operations. It's hard work thinking—trust to luck.
7. Regard your woodland as you would a coal mine, cut every tree, sell the timber and wear the cleared land out cultivating it in corn.
8. Hold fast to the idea that the methods of farming employed by your grandfather are good enough for you.
9. Be independent—don't join with your neighbors in any form of co-operation.
10. Mortgage your farm for a dollar it will stand to buy things you would have the cash to buy if you followed a good system of farming.—Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.
