CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A very few people have called at the office and listed their requirements in the way of cotton pickers and unless this is done within the present month, we are very likely to have difficulty in procuring the needed number as other West Texas counties are going to need them the same as we and it is a question of first come, first served. Have a letter from a man in Mason county, who desires to come out with his family for the purpose of picking cotton and other farm labor and says that he thinks that he can secure a number of others to come with him as they have a drouth in that section. He desires some one to come after him, as he is not able to make it otherwise, but is willing to have the cost taken out of his wages after they are earned. Would be glad to give his name and address to any interested farmer. The catalogues or premium lists for the county Fair, have been printed and are ready for distribution and can be secured either at the chamber of commerce office or from the county agent. Plans are on foot, which if successfully worked out, will result in the early designation of the highway between Brownfield and Odessa. This has been hanging fire for a long time and should be placed on the maintenance list by the close of the year. A diagram of the warehouse of the West Texas Compress Company has been made and the location of booths of every description has been made and a committee will be on the streets either this week or next in an undertaking to sell space to merchants for showing of their various wares. There is not any charge to either farmers or communities for showing their stuff but merchants and manufacturers are expected to engage a booth in order to assist in paying the expenses of the "Fair" and from all indications, they are going to respond in a liberal manner. In view of the fact that the larger portion of Yoakum county is considered to be in the Brownfield trade territory, exhibits either individual or community, will be allowed the same privileges and be in line for premiums on an equality with Terry county.

Fair Catalogue Ready For Distribution

The first catalogue ever printed by the Terry County Fair is now off the press and ready for distribution. While the catalogue was not turned in until last week, effort was made by the Herald job department to handle it with dispatch. It is not a large catalogue as the real big fairs go, but compares favorably with any other county fair in this section of the state. There are eight pages of it, closely printed without advertising, and the premium lists are quite full and will pay any farmer in this section to obtain one as he may have something that will guarantee him plenty for his time spent in the effort.

Men and Women of the town and county are at the head of various departments who will spare no time or effort to put the fair over with credit to themselves and the county, and as you know who they are after receiving your catalogue, it will become the patriotic duty of every citizen who loves old Terry county to work and co-operate with these leaders to make the fair a success in every way. We have already had some calls for the catalogue by mail, which have been turned over to the proper authorities to be sent them. Requests for them should, however, go to J. E. Shelton of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Some of the preliminary committees are jumping sideways now trying to get everything in shape for the jump go, and all can rest assured that supreme effort will be put forth to stage a fair that no one will be ashamed of. Indeed, we believe it will really be the first one we have ever staged worthy the name of a "county Fair."

But don't forget that it will require the close co-operation of every individual in the county. It's your fair, remember.

Our Gins Undergoing Much Improvement

Mr. W. E. Henson, who some time ago purchased the English Gin, invited us over to his plant last Saturday to see what he was doing in the way of remodeling and improving the system. We found that he was not only cleaning up the entire ground leveling off high bumps, and filling in low places, but was giving all the buildings a coat of paint that will add at least 100 per cent to the appearance of the place.

On the inside, almost the entire plant is being remodeled and thousands of dollars worth of new machinery added, including one of the latest model bollie machines. In the engine and boiler rooms, the good work of leveling up and replacing worn bearings goes on the same as elsewhere, so that when the ginning season opens up, Mr. Henson will have a splendid plant capable of turning out the best to be done in the way of ginning.

We were also invited up to see the Harrison-McSpadden's plant on Tuesday afternoon of this week, and found the workmen busy installing the very latest air blast system of conveying the cotton to the saws. Heretofore this, as most people known has been done by brushes, but this late model does away with brushes, and with a specially manufactured lip, the air not only conveys the cotton to the saw, but when the seed has been removed, in some unexplained way the cotton is then in turn blown into the large flue which finds its way to the presses. It is said to be the most satisfactory method yet found for this purpose. This big plant is also undergoing other repairs in order to put it in shape for the fall run.

The feed and milling department of this plant, which is under the management of W. B. English is also an interesting place. Here pure white corn is cleaned of all particles of dirt and foreign matter, and then ground and bolted into the prettiest, white meal one ever saw, and it retains that fine flavor for which our corn meal is famous. They also have feed crushing machinery, and one can drive up with his wagon and present to go around to a chute and have it dumped back into your wagon bed, or if you want it sacked, they have a chute that attends to that part.

When you want some good corn meal, call for the home product, for it is always fresh, and home men stand behind it.

New Jeweler Located At Alexander Drug

We are glad to note the location in our midst of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Bruton of El Paso, who come here to make Brownfield their future home and grow up with the fastest developing farm section in Texas. Mrs. Bruton is the daughter of one of Terry's most progressive farmers and stockmen, J. J. Gaston and wife.

Mr. Bruton is a jeweler and watchmaker by trade, and will be found at the Alexander Drug Store. He has had 25 years experience at the trade, the last eight of which has been spent in the employ of Fleischer & Alberts, one of the largest jewelry firms of El Paso. You will find his card in our professional column, as he has decided that he had rather be his own boss than work for the other man all his life.

OVERLOOKED LAST WEEK

Mr. Dallas Patton and wife were here from Gilliland visiting his parents who live in the Johnson community. We were all glad to see them back on the Plains again. Dallas reports crops not so good around Gilliland as here, but he is doing a good business there with his filling station and cafe—but they like to come back, we see. He's like a cat, he always comes back. They were also shopping in Brownfield as they returned. We like to see them doing that as it shows they haven't forgotten their old friends. All kinds of good d luck to them, and we wish there were more Patton boys.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Experts Visit Gaines County Deep Plowing

D. L. Jones, Superintendent of Lubbock Experimental Station and Prof. Bowers of the Agronomy Department of the Tech College made a trip to Gaines county, Friday and inspected the deep plowing tests on the O. L. Berry farm at Seagraves and F. E. Woodard farm at Seminole. Both men expressed themselves as being favorably impressed with the crops that are being grown on these plots, and believe that these experiments will have the merits of deep plowing on loose sandy soil.

These ten acre plot were broken at an extreme dept of from 18 to 20 inches turning the clay subsoil on top. The sole purpose of breaking the land at this dept was to see if a soil could be made that would not blow. These plots which were broken about the first of March did not blow either before or after plowing. Corn, Kaffir, peas, and cotton were planted on the ground and without any plowing or stirring withstood the winds of June without injury to the crops. The corn on these plots is much more uniform and will likely double in yield the corn that was not deeply plowed.

There are two main soil problems in this locality. One is that the sand whips out the crops in the spring making an early stand doubtful. The other is that the farms after the first two or three years blows off in spots and makes the field very uneven with some spots hardly producing more than nubbins. Building a soil or a farm that can be held in the spring and that will not wear out by blowing off is a problem that must be solved before the millions of acres of deep sandy land on the Southwest part of the plains can be a dependable all around crop producing country.

There have been various theories and methods advanced and tried to hold this sand, most of which ended in disappointment.

Windbreaks have been tried and there are few locust trees and a blowed off farm mark it as a failure. Flat breaking, listing, early and late plowing and planting, not plowing before planting, and furrowing have all been tried with no regular success. It usually comes back to this, where the land is tight enough to shed from the plow and harden or where it clods up at plowing there will be a stand of crop left; where the soil is merely sand whether wet or dry it will soon ruin a crop if the wind blows and the wind blows.

Underlying this deep sand there is a clay like subsoil that does not blow. It seems reasonable that if enough of this subsoil could be brought to the surface that a surface soil could be made that would stay put. To make such a soil was the purpose of the above experiments. The results thus far are that the land did not blow and that the increase in yield will almost pay for the breaking. However, this is only 1 year and does not mean that such deep plowing will be a regular success. We have had an unusual amount of rain this summer and with ordinary summer rainfall the crops might not have done so well. While the main purpose, holding the sand, was satisfactory yet time may prove that it will blow like the other. Further and more extensive tests should be made and a few years will tell the value and the extent to which deep plowing may be done profitably.

Worms In Cotton.

The past week has revealed the fact that that the cotton is being seriously damaged by the cotton boll worm, and what looked like a large crop has now been reduced considerably.

The regular cotton boll worm is also called the corn ear worm and can be found in either cotton or corn. It varies in color but is usually dull greenish or brownish with indistinct stripes or marks, and gets to be an inch and a half or a little more. The eggs are laid by a moth that is about one and a half inches wide and is extremely variable in color so that several varieties have been

Terry County to Have Its Largest Feed Crop

While the cotton is yet an unknown quality in view of the fact that the worms of all descriptions have shown up the past week in quantities that look gloomy, the outlook for a huge feed crop is almost assured. Of course with continued wet weather, after cleaning out the cotton crop these pests could turn on the maize, kaffir and Indian corn and render untold injury, but this is hardly anticipated at this time, although farmers report worms in both the corn and feed crops. But we have these every year for that matter, including come kind of cotton pest, but we usually make more than we can hardly gather with all.

It is reported from all without exception who have traveled from here to the Atlantic seaboard that this section has the best crops they have seen, and there are according to these travelers whole sections were no crop or feed of any kind will be made, partly due to dry weather and in other sections on account of floods. In view of these facts, feed crops of all kinds including cotton ought to bring a good price with a brisk demand, especially toward spring. As Terry county does not formally begin gathering the cotton crop until January and February, by that time there ought to be a good price offered for cotton here f. o. b. the cars.

As to the cotton crop, while it may be good in a given era, with plenty of fruit, in another section not five miles away people inform us that while the stalk looks healthy and fine, it will contain no fruit to amount to anything. Farmers as well as the county agent report a great increase in worms the past week. In fact we saw one stalk of cotton Saturday being displayed by Mun Telford that had enough worms on it to clean up two or three stalks. While all farmers report more or less worms, some seem to think they will soon disappear as suddenly as they came and we will make some cotton, especially if we can have hot dry weather.

Tuesday of this week opened up with a strong south wind that raised the dust in the streets like springtime and the business men and farmers begin to smile again. They are hoping that the good work of dry winds will undo the work of several weeks of wet weather. It has rain here or hereabouts for the past six Fridays and Saturdays, we believe.

Misses Bebe Auburg and Lois Daniel visited in Big Spring over the week end.

The number of eggs laid vary from less than 500 to 3000 and are laid upon various parts of the food plants. The larvae, little worms, hatch in 3 to 7 days depending upon temperature and feed for a short time on the surface of the plant then bore in. Calcium arsenate or any form of poison that will kill leaf worm will kill the boll worm but the great difficulty is getting the poison where the worm eats. Thorough dusting seems more effective than spraying. While most of the experiments in poisoning this pest in the past few years has not controlled the worm yet it might pay.

Another worm that is present is the cotton square borer. It is a flat oval worm, clear green in color, its head drawn in beneath the front part of its body. The eggs that make this worm are laid on the leaves and the worm eats on the leaves for a few days before boring into the squares. This worm can be controlled by poisoning if it is done before it starts on the squares.

Large numbers of worms have been brought into the office the past few days. Some were beneficial and others were harmful but most were some form of the cotton boll worm. Some were pinkish in color but did not resemble the specimens of pink boll worms that I have which were sent to me last winter.

The weather is the best general of insects but it has been decidedly against us on this cotton crop. With more sunshine and a late frost we have a fair chance to make some cotton.

Getting Ready For Our School Opening

As stated in these columns a week or so ago, the formal school opening will not take place here until Monday the 10th. However, the grade school will meet Thursday of this week to be classified, and the high school Friday for the same purpose. Monday next will see the school well under way.

Most of the teachers are away the first part of this week at Lubbock attending a three day institute, but will be on hand for the various programs of the week as they come. Some of the new teachers came in the later part of last week and secured places to room or board, and will be ready Monday without further hindrance to go into their nine months work with the schools here.

In view of the fact that auditorium room for formal opening is entirely too small to accomodate anything like all the school, not to mention visitors for the past few years nothing like a community gathering has been encouraged. Of course parents and other interested parties will always be welcome if they can be cared for. It may not be "long now" until the Brownfield schools can have an auditorium into which can be gathered the whole school at one time, plus the parents and others who may care to come.

There are many ways to support your schools besides a full rendition and payment of your taxes. Some of these is to not pay very close attention to all you hear adversely about either the school as a whole or any of the individual teachers. It is not a good idea to pay too much attention, or give a great deal of credence to what your own or your neighbors children have to say about any of the officials or the faculty. If they get peeved for any cause, any little grievance may be wonderfully overdrawn. Sometimes even parents imagine that the teachers are favoring Jones' or Brown's children and are pushing them, when as a matter of fact, if closely investigated, Jones' and Brown's children are doing part of the pushing themselves and are really entitled to some of the promotions an dcredits the teachers give them. Occasionally, but rarely, even teachers, through jealousy, will talk disparagingly and none too discreetly of their faculty members, and injure the school in more than one way, breaking good disciplinary measures and discouraging those who had confidence otherwise and were making reasonable progress.

With these things in view, lets put our shoulders to the wheel and push with all our might to make this the best school term in our entire history. Lets treat rumors about the school or the teachers with a grain of salt and a touch of charity, remembering that it is the place of the board and superintendent's place to straighten out any faults which may or may not exist. We have elected them and set them up to attend this matter, and lets have enough confidence in them to believe that we may depend on them to do the right thing at the right time.

McSpadden Battery Shop Installs Lathe

The writer called at the McSpadden Battery and Electric Shop one day this week and found that the proprietor, Flem McSpadden had installed one of the latest model turning lathes that adds greatly to the utility of the shop, and to the convenience of the people of this section who are liable to need the services of a machine of this kind to turn any kind of a broken shaft.

The machine is not only capable of turning any ordinary shaft, but will cut either right or left hand threads of from just a few to the inch up to about 40 on almost any size bolt.

This fine piece of machinery cost in the neighborhood of $500 and Mr. McSpadden is very proud of it.

S. W. Jones of this city had his left forearm removed at the Lubbock Sanitarium last Thursday afternoon as an old sore on his hand seemed to be developing into cancer. He is doing nicely at this time.

Rotary Club Entertained by Physicians

The local Rotary Club was entertained last Friday at noon while the repast was in progress by the high school orchestra with a number of fine selections, which were well received by the club. The high school orchestra is an institution that any town much larger than Brownfield could be found to claim. This shows the advantage of having as residents of our little city a number of talented musicians who have instructed and drilled music into our boys and girls.

After lunch, as usual was of high quality and good quantity, the club program was turned over to three of our physicians, including Rotarian George Washington Graves, as well as the Drs. Treadaway, and our dental Rotarian, Dr. Albert Scofield. The Helard will have to admit that he only caught a very brief part of the talks, some of which were extemporaneous and one paper, but we are sure that they would have been quite beneficial if they could have been heard above the roar and rattle and palaver of those who came in to get their meals. Even those who sat near the speakers and can hear better than the writer report that they but got a drift of the speeches. Their subjects had to do with criminology and the effort of sterilization in handling same, together with laws supporting same.

Tonight the club will have for guests at 8 o'clock the Kiwanas club of Tahoka, who will render a program in return for the Rotary visit to that city some time ago. It is hoped that the dining room may be cleared of the rabble tonight in order that the program can be appreciated.

More Hunters Here Than Prairie Chicken

For the past several days, or since the season opened on prairie chickens September 1, the old berg has been as full of hunters as the proverbial swine of its will, and they were not all out of town folks, but many of the local nimrods were after these timid birds with all the cunning known to the science of nimroding. Every hotel was crowded for the past week with out of town people with bootees and leggings and shot gun belts. One of the cafe's fed about 50 people Sunday morning, according to the proprietor, and we are sure the other places were also busy.

None of the hunters that we saw reported extra luck. One crowd of six men including two from Dallas got about one apiece. Others reported that they killed all they saw, which ran from four to six. All report the grass so high that the birds can easily hide and the hunter without a dog man ran over them almost before they will get up. There are a great many in the country according to those who live far out from town, but they are hard to find when you want them owing to high grass and weeds.

Now as to the eating quality of a prairie chicken we had much rather have either quail, plover, dove or even a duck, especially this time of the year, and we imagine that others have about the same taste in the matter, but it is kindly like having some chicken hens on Thanksgiving instead of a gobbler. It's the rarity of the thing. Most all people like a good baked hen better than turkey, but they prefer the turkey at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

CHEVORLET REACHES NEW HIGH PRODUCTION RECORD

Further entrenching itself in its position as the world's foremost automobile producer, the Chevrolet Motor Company last week reached a new milestone in its manufacturing history. With production and sales continuing at a record September clip, the millionth car of 1928 came off the assembly line at Flint last Tuesday afternoon.

Due to the high September production schedule necessary to meet an unusually heavy fall demand, no formal ceremonies marked the occasion although W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, R. H. Grant, Vice-president in charge of sales, C. F. Barth, vice-president in charge of manufacturing and other Chevrolet officials were present.

The record making car was a coach one of the most popular models in the line. It was a standard model in every respect. Like hundreds of thousands of Chevrolet coaches it was finished in avenue green Duco, with Tartan-tan wheels, black beading and striping in gold.

After a brief informal ceremony the millionth car passed through the usual channels of distribution and was shipped a few hours after it came off the line to a dealer in the middle west.

CONTROL OF BOLL WORM NOT PRACTICAL

COLLEGE STATION—It is not practical for farmers to attempt to control the cotton boll worm which is causing unusual damage this season in North and East Texas, according to R. R. Reppert, Entomologist of the A. and M. College Extension Service. “Earlier experimental work indicated that a considerable degree of control could be effected by keeping the foliage covered with arsenical poisons applied at frequent intervals, but experience and observations of the last few years show that not even a small degree of control can reasonably be expected from such measures,” he says. “Certainly the results would not repay the expense involved and the farmer might as well rely on such natural control factors as the weather and other insect parasites which sometimes destroy heavy infestations of the boll worm in a short time. “The finding of an occasional pinkish boll worm has led some to think they had discovered the pink boll worm,” Mr. Reppert reports. “The latter insect does not grow to a length of more than one half inch, while the cotton boll worm when mature measures about one and one fourth inches long. It is of a varied coloration from very dark green through lighter shades to almost white. Unlike pink boll worms, the larger boll worm which is the same species that attack corn (often called the corn worm) has noticeable hairs. “The damage done by the cotton boll worm is to the bolls, the worm boring into the bolls and often hollowing them out completely. During its later stages of growth the insect is unaffected by any small amounts of poison is may eat in boring its way inside. Experience has shown that poisoning for this worm in its younger stages is not uniformly successful and hence the admonition to save time and money by leaving its control to natural factors. It is impossible to foretell just how these factors may operate in any given locality. No extensive damage from leaf worm has been so far reported to Mr. Reppert and no authentic reports of its presence in North and West Texas have been received. He believes now that no extensive fight will have to be waged against them this year, but should they appear he states that prompt spraying with calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or Paris Green will effectively control them.

A great many farmers and ranchmen was here this week from various parts of the country attending district court.

There are in the state enormous supplies of several kinds of fuel, natural gas, petroleum, coal and lignite.

Most of us forget from Saturday night to Monday morning just how the bell rings on the cash register sounds, and why we would if we went over another day. Why didn't they set Labor Day on Tuesday or Wednesday, and we wouldn't have decided that the sharecropper was confined to our section...

The Tipton Orphan Home is in need of bed sheets at this time. Owing to the large number of beds, a good supply of sheets are necessary to keep enough clean to change regularly, to meet the required standard of cleanliness.

There is a shortage at the present time, and the need for more sheets is urgent and all who are in a position to contribute sheeting are requested to do so at their earliest convenience.

All sheeting used at the Home is of the regular standard size.

Sanitation in every department is the watchword at the Home. This is vital to maintaining the health of the children at a high perfect sanitary conditions keep sickness down to a minimum.

SOLDIER MAY NAME ANYONE AS BENEFICIARY

Commenting upon legislation enacted by the last Congress, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, Director of the Veterans Bureau stated this morning that there appears to be some misunderstanding among the veterans as to their present privileges in naming the beneficiaries of their insurance. "The amendment to the World War Veteran Act, 1924, approved May 1928, removes all restrictions as to who may be named beneficiary under Government Life (converted) insurance policies, said Gen. Hines, therefore the holder of such policy may designate any person, firm, corporation or legal entity as beneficiary to receive the proceeds of his U. S. Government Life (converted) insurance." This will, of course, allow a veteran to designate a bank or trust company to receive payment of the proceeds as trustee in accordance with an agreement between the corporation and the insured.

Formerly, the permitted class of beneficiaries was restricted to relatives by blood or marriage, and the change in the law is in response to the desire of many policyholders to include their Government insurance in Life insurance Trusts along with other insurance granted by commercial companies.

"This amendatory legislation is applicable to 672,781 policies now in force, with a total value of $3,182,347,311," Gen. Hines stated and it is anticipated that many of the veterans will take advantage of the fact

THE BENEFITS OF HIGHWAYS

Highways are an investment that pays real dividends and shows profits, according to Frank Page, Chairman of the North Carolina Highway Commission. In a recent speech, he showed what benefits have come to that state from its fine roads.

As the first item, Mr. Page listed relief to towns and counties and savings to road users, through reducing wear and tear and losses.

Second, educational opportunities. Third, the rapid, cheap and safe transportation of agricultural products.

Fourth, factories avoid congested centers and labor needs no tenements in town.

Fifth, increased accessibility of reports and places of scenic interest.

Sixth, the appeal good highways made to potential residents.

Seventh, social advantages, by doing away with isolation.

These are highway "dividends" that are paid in every state and every locality.

A community that neglects building good and adequate roads is condemning itself to me—diocrity and retrogression.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hurst came in last week from their vacation on the coast, returning via Snyder where they visited Mrs. Hurst's sister, Mrs. Bob Snodgrass and family. They were accompanied home by their nephew, Arthur Snodgrass, who has been attending State University, who will visit his grandparents here, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Glover and other relatives.

Lee Walker of the Needmore community, was in Tuesday shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williamson were in from the farm Tuesday.

There were Parthians and Meades, Greeks and Elamites and Jews from Libbie and about Syrene here Sunday—not to attend church—but to begin the chicken hunting season.

URGES PLANTING OF SMALL GRAIN PASTURES

COLLEGE STATION—The planting this fall of oats, rye and barley for winter pasture and for cover crops to keep the soil from washing is urged by E. A. Miller, Agronomist in the A. and M. College Extension Service. "Even in case no livestock is on land to utilize these small grain pastures the time has come when Texas farmers can no longer afford to neglect the planting of such fall grain crops, for they hold the soil through the winter months and keep such available plant food as nitrogen from leaching away," he says.

In answering numerous letters on the subject Mr. Miller is advising that the grain be sown during August or the first part of September as experience has proven that the early sown crops furnish more grazing than the late sown. "For early planting oats, barley or other small grain may be drilled in with a small grain drill between the cotton or corn rows where they are clean, or the seed may be broadcast and then covered by dragging with fine tooth one row cultivator, a harrow or other form of scratcher." Mr. Miller states. "At least 2 or 3 bushels of oats, 1 1-2 to 2 bushels of barley, and from 1 to 1 1-2 bushels of wheat should be sown to the acre. For grazing purposes it is well to sow thicker than for grain crops.

"For a grain or hay crop, oats and barley seed should be sprayed with a solution one pint of formaldehyde to 10 gallons of water to prevent smut. This is enough to treat 40 to 50 bushels. Seed should be sprinkled with the solution and shovelled over two or three times, then placed in a pile and covered with a wagon sheet for several hours, after which they should be spread out to dry.

"In the case of wheat the copper carbonate method of treating for smut control has been found most effective. The wheat should be placed in a tight container arranged so that it can be revolved on an axis. Three ounces of copper carbonate per bushel should be sprinkled on the wheat and then the container revolved so that every seed will be covered with the powder."

NOTICE

There will be a Field Day held at the Agricultural Experiment Station Monday, September 10 at Lubbock. The program will begin at 10:00 a. m. with an inspection of the Station, including orchard, vineyard gardens, and the numerous tests that are being made on cotton, milo, and various other crops adapted to this section of the state. Lunch will be served by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce after lunch various topics will be discussed by experts from A. and M. College and the Tech College.

This promises to be a very profitable day to any farmer or any club boy that wishes to make the trip. Men who think they would like to go should get together and leave Monday in time to go over the station.

The Lubbock Station is one of the best in Texas and there are several things that can be learned by attending this Field Day.

INTERESTING OIL NEWS FROM THE LEA COUNTY FIELD

The Midwest well at Hobbs continues to show up most favorably. The two five-thousand barrel storage tanks were installed last week and Sunday morning work was resumed on the well. The flow of oil is becoming stronger as the drill penetrates the pay. More than 300 barrels of oil was run from the well the first sixteen hours without any effort being made to obtain production.

The drill will be sent still deeper and seems to be a general belief with oil men that the well is good for a 500 barrel producer if not better.

It is thought that when the well is completed and a thorough test is made that it will show up sufficiently strong to induce the extending of the pipe line from Winkler county, Texas into the Lea county field. This pipe line now reaches nearly to the New Mexico-Texas line and the indications are good for a number of producers between the state line and the Midwest. The Texas-Rhodes, near the state line is thought to be good for a paying well with arrangements being made for extending the pipe line to it. The Marland-Eaves, just a short distance from the Texas is showing up good with a flow of 92,000,000 ft. of gas. The Marland-Shoass, just west of Jal is also a big gasser with good prospects for making a real oil well. The Gypsy, just west of Eunice, has struck oil, but is closed down for the clearing of titles. The Empire is a producer, with the amount of oil yet to be determined.

The Marland Company is making a new location in section 22-20-36, and the Bordages at Nadine is drilling.

With all these prospects it is more than probable that a pipe line will extend though the Lea county fields within a very short time.—Leader.

"SUPPOSE IT WERE YOURS"

Suppose you had a piece of property upon which you were dependent for your living, and it was necessary to have other people around to whom you paid salaries and wages to help you run the place. What would you say if some of those people perished in doing things which kept you on the jump all the time to keep the place from burning up? Suppose you heard one of them say, when asked why he was not more careful about where he tossed his cigarette butt, "Why should I care, it isn't my mill." Frankly now, what would you say?

After all, isn't that practically what we reply when we are persistently careless not only with fire but with other things, too?

There are hundreds of ways in which we can prevent fires. We can be careful with matches and with cigarette butts. The largest single cause of fires in this country is cigarettes. In 1926 fire losses of $30-160,000 were caused by this one thing alone.

Before you throw away that match or cigarette be sure it is out. Before you throw away your lunch papers look for the rubbish can.

Do unto others as you would have others do unto you. This is one of the best rules if life ever presented to man. In your habits is it too much to ask you to SUPPOSE IT WERE YOURS?—From Safeguarding America Against Fire.

LUBBOCK MAN LEADER OF BAYLOR ACTIVITIES

WACO, Texas—Occupying possibly the 18 most important positions of the entire Greater Baylor University campaign, district chairman, chosen from the leading Baptists and Baylor alumni of the state, are laying definite programs of effort to promote the drive for $2,000,000 in the state at large.

Another district chairman has begun organization, following the acceptance of E. W. Provence of Lubbock to serve as leader of district 16. He is prominent in denominational work and stands high in Baptist activities, particularly in that section of Texas.

Baylor's cause is now a desperate appeal, according to state headquarters here. The oldest educational institution in Texas, Baylor was founded and nurtured by Texas Baptists and its support depends on them, now.

Actual figures audited here recently, showed that more than 89 per cent of Baylor's income is derived from students' tuitions and fees, a dangerous financial situation. Campaign money will be used for erasure of that indebtedness and to create additional endowment. Dallas and Waco will build new structures.

ITS BETTER WORK MAKES IT FAMOUS

Famous for its better work under difficult field and crop conditions; a harvesting machine that is a real profit-maker, because it enables you to make a big reduction in your labor costs and save valuable time—that's the

JOHN DEERE CORN BINDER

You harvest seven or more acres of corn a day when you use the John Deere Corn Binder. You do the work better and easier, eliminating entirely the muscle-tiring labor of hand-cutting.

Your corn is in prime condition for the silo; no need of cutting the crop days in advance—the corn can be cut fresh with no loss of feeding value.

And when you are through with your own fields you can increase your income by putting your binder to work in the fields of your neighbors.

You will appreciate the easy operation of the John Deere.

No hard-working, old-style carrier to operate—simply press the handy foot release, and the power carrier dumps the bundles out of the way of the horses—no bundles scattered—less waste.

The quick-turn tongue truck relieves the horses of neck weight and keeps the binder running straight. Hot-riveted steel frame insures rigidity and perfect alignment. Roller and ball bearings at all main points reduce friction, lessen wear, and insure lighter draft.

Binders can be equipped with the new John Deere Bundle Elevator.

A BUSINESS MAN CAN BE ELECTED TO CONGRESS

Col. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, proved that a business man could be elected to Congress in Texas without engaging in a campaign of mud slinging. When his friends announced him for the post of congressman from the Seventeenth District he agreed to make the race but declared he would refuse to engage in a campaign of vilification regardless of the outcome of the race. Colonel Lee was high man in the July Primary, and in the runoff was pitted against Oscar Callaway of Comanche, former Congressman of the Fort Worth District and a master campaigner. Lee was made the target of a bitter personal campaign. However, he steadfastly held to his resolution to engage in no personal thrusts at his opponent. When the returns were counted Lee carried sixteen of the nineteen counties of the district and received a substantial majority of the votes.

The career of R. Q. Lee in Texas is striking proof that the Lone Star State offers opportunity for a youth to rise from a humble beginning to a place high in the councils of state and nation. Lee came to Texas from Mississippi forty years ago, first settling in the eastern part of the state and later removing to Caddo in Stephens county. He was by degrees a farm hand, a clerk in a general store, a cross roads country merchant, a farmer, ranchman, and country banker; and later a railroad president. He has been an outstanding churchman and has made numerous gifts to churches and schools. His outstanding work in Texas development was the building of the C. & N. E. railroad extending from Cisco to Breckenridge, and later extended to Throckmorton. As president of the road, Lee successfully guided it through the trying days following the great War when practically every short line road in the country, except the C. N. E., went into the hands of a receiver. After successfully operating the road for eight years, he sold it to the Texas-Pacific and secured for all stock holders who held their stock one hundred cents on the dollar for all stock held. While the road was under construction, Lee walked every foot of the road bed and personally inspected every rail, cross tie and spike. The road was declared to be a model of construction, and successfully stood up under tremendous traffic of the great Breckenridge oil field during boom time days.

In going to Congress Colonel Lee declares he plans to make agricultural development his principal work. In 1925 Lee was chosen president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and devoted a full year of his time without pay to putting over a diversified farming program in West Texas. During his administration the East Texas Chamber of Commerce was organized and the movement started which resulted in the organization of the South Texas Chamber. Lee suggested the appointment of a co-ordinating committee of the regional Chambers of Commerce to serve in lieu of a state Chamber of Commerce, and this was later done. Mr. Lee's work for agricultural development has been striking. Last year he constructed his model diversified farm near this city and operates the farm as a demonstration farm for this section. He made a trip to California and studied the poultry industry there, returning home and founding a number of large poultry ranches in this county. He declares that he will undertake to be of some service to the entire state when he goes to Washington, and those who know him, declare that he is certain to prove one of the most valuable men to the farmers of the country who has ever gone to the national capital from Texas.

DIED

The body was prepared for burial by Roy Collier of the Brownfield Undertaking Co. Funeral services were conducted Monday at 10:00 A. M. at the Methodist church by deceased's pastor, Rev. The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel punching work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. In fleet, powerful performance too, the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. And the motor-public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!
