COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Wednesday, October 3rd, will be Terry County Club Day at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock. I would like for as many Terry county boys and girls who are club members to attend who can get away for the day. I want the club members to make a special study of the county booths and to see all the judging that you can on Tuesday and Wednesday. I would like especially for all the boys who intend to try out for the judging teams to visit and watch the judging. I will be with the dairy cattle division all week, and no matter what day you come to the fair, I want you to look me up and I will be glad to show you through the fair and introduce you to the many exhibitors.

The primary purpose of fairs are to educate and there can be no better training than to see the judging in the show ring, and to talk with the breeders and exhibitors of the many classes that will be shown.

We will have a strong bunch of pigs in the club division at Lubbock, and I hope that every club boy who can conveniently spend a day at Lubbock will do so, and I will be glad to help you learn something of the agricultural and live stock exhibits that you see.

R. B. Davis, Co. Agt.

The following is a typical club letter I frequently receive.—Davis.

Meadow, Texas, Sep. 20, 1928.

Dear Club Leader:—

I am writing to see if you would please send me a record book. I have been keeping the record of my pig with a pencil, but though I had better get another and copy it off with ink, and make it as neat as I can. My pig has done fine. He weighed 38 lbs. when I got him, and weighed 190 on Sept. 5th. I am going to enter him for the prize, and will have him down there Friday and rearing to go.

Yours truly,
Herbert Chesshir

Local Football Cubs Tie Big Spring Friday

The Cubs, local football team together with their coach and a few fans, went to Big Spring last Friday and despite the fact that they had made a long overland journey, they were able to hold the Big Spring Steers to a scoreless game. This is the second game of the locals and while they have not scored this season, have not permitted the opposing teams to do so.

The Cubs are devoting many hours to practice each week, and are gradually shaping themselves into a fast team that will we believe, give a good account of themselves before the season closes. Those of our citizens who love the game as well as others should do all they can to help the local team put over a good season of victories.

Showers Fall Here All Day Saturday

Slow showers begin falling here early Saturday morning and continued well into the night. While only about a quarter of an inch fell, it was sufficient to make moisture meet on plowed ground, as it had not been long since the general rains which amounted to about 6 inches during August.

While the showers were not needed and cast some gloom over the section for fear of more worm infestation, it cleared off Sunday and it Monday were beautiful early fall days. But as this is being written Tuesday morning it is again cloudy with more rain prospects, and it is not wanted—a thing here seldom said or even thought of.

Will Ward is opening a cotton company in Lubbock which will go under the name of Harrison Cotton Company. The Harrison-McSpadden gins here and at Wellman are interested in the company.

Paving Bond Election To Be Held October 16

As per the election notice now running in the Herald, the reader will observe that an election is to be held in the city of Brownfield on Tuesday the 16th day of October to see whether or not the citizens are willing to bond themselves in the sum of $60,000 for the purpose of paving the principal streets of the city, and it is time for the citizens to begin thinking whether or not they aim to support or reject the bonds.

However, we should not go into the matter blind, but the Herald will try to give the readers some actual figures on the cost to the property owners of their paving before the day for the vote arrives. These figures are made by competent engineers who have had much experience in engineering for paving as well as actual construction.

With the muddy condition of our streets during the recent rainy weather throughout August, and the bumpy condition all this time, the writer has about reached the conclusion that paved streets, though costing a great deal originally, are cheaper on the tax payer in the long run, but we are not very long on bond issues as a general thing. But if we can see where we have been saved money in maintenance taxes that are always required on bad dirt streets, we are willing to make some sacrifice in order to get the permanent streets and save the maintenance tax.

But this is a question for each to decide individually, and we hope the citizenship will give the question serious consideration and decide on it for not only their best interests, but for the best interests of the town in general. Our columns are open for discussion either for or against the issue.

Underwood Compress Nearing Completion

Mr. J. A. Eidson, local manager of the Underwood Compress Co., and who is superintending the erection of their compress at this place, was in the first part of the week and informed us that everything was moving satisfactorily toward the erection of their plant at this place with the exception that some shipments of machinery had been delayed.

This included the press and boiler, which have been shipped for some time, and he has the bill of lading, but he believed the shipment had been tied up at some junction point. However, as soon as these arrive, they will be immediately placed and the big plant will be ready for operation.

We welcome this new enterprise to Brownfield, and commend them to those in need of their service. It means the creation of another good payroll, and that is what makes towns into cities.

WATCH THE SENIOR CLASS

The Senior Class organized and elected the class officers some time ago, but did not choose the class motto, colors, flowers, etc. The class motto is "Climbe for there are no elevators in the house of success." The class colors are pink and silver which have been used by this class for three years and the class flower which harmonize with the colors are pink and white roses.

The Senior Class has decided to publish a high school annual this year with the help and support of the other classes. The officers elected are: Christova Sawyer, editor; Kathleen Alexander, business manager; and Jim Cousinean, art editor.

At a late meeting the class ordered their rings which they expect to receive in about four weeks. At this same meeting we also selected our invitations.

NOTICE—This is to inform the general public that the platform scales will be in charge of W. B. English at the Harrison-McSpadden Gin on and after October 1st.—Jess Smith, public weigher.

John Burnett came in last week and had us send the Herald to his son, Virgil, who has entered John Tarleton College at Stephenville, Texas.

What You May See at The Terry County Fair

By the County Agent.

Looks like the Terry County Fair will be superfine if the weather holds out as it now is. There will be 12 Club or Community Booths, which promise to give the judges, Mr. Tinsley and Mr. D. F. Eaton a little concern when they go to place the awards.

These pig club boys are shining up their entries, and to watch how they are washing, grooming and oiling their hair, manuring their toenails, exercising those that are too fleshy and fattening those that are a little too lean, makes you see the value of club work. These club pigs are so badly spoiled that they are lazy and triffling. J. B. Gilentine has a pig that cooks and eats when it gets ready, for it goes out and sucks the cows unless he puts it in a pen. Four months has made a great difference in those pigs and you will have to see them to realize how they have grown and to see how well manured they are.

The awards in hogs will be made Saturday morning beginning about nine o'clock with Prof. R. C. Lowery of the Tech College as judge.

The dairy cattle section will be another new and interesting feature of the fair with several entries from the pure bred herd of W. S. White of Meadow. Mr. White owns one of the outstanding sons of Masterman of Oaklands, the famous bull for which Mr. Guy of Crosbyton paid $25,000. Mr. T. L. Verner, also of Meadow, will have two of his best Holstein cows on exhibit. Mr. J. A. Parks and others will have registered and grade cattle in the dairy division.

The horse and mule department will be under the supervision of Hugh Snodgrass of Tokio, and will be well filled with animals ranging from the smallest Shetland to the large draft breeds. Another interesting feature will be the class in teams. There is nothing that thrills you more than to see a splendid team in harness that are well matched, of perfect type, and step out like they can turn the world over.

The general agricultural display under the direction of John B. King will be crowded with stalks of cotton, big watermelons, pumpkins and everything that grows in the garden, orchard or field.

The women's department will be attractive and unique with their high quality of canned goods, pretty flowers, cooking and textile goods.

If you fail to see and appreciate the exhibits of the County Fair you will have missed a real treat.

Prominent Ohio Editor Visits Brownfield

Editor and Mrs. O. P. Gayson, of Winchester, Ohio, were visitors to our city the past week, but like all tourists were so hurried to get on somewhere and finally back home, that we did not get half done talking with this interesting citizen and better half. In fact the better half, though just about the main stay in the business end of the Time and News, the two publications put out by the Gaysons, did not reach the Herald office while here. But Editor Gayson made a brief call and faithfully promised to return with the wife. We did not even get to ask him how Al is running in Ohio, although Mr. Gayson is running a Democratic paper—or was. We have not seen a copy in years.

Mr. Gayson owns two fine sections of land in Terry county which have been in the family for years, and as he had not been here in 19 years, he decided to make a trip down here. He is still well pleased with his holdings in old Terry. It was the intention of Mr. Gayson and wife to visit the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico before returning to their home in Ohio. We hope the next time they get down to Texas they will have more time to spend with us.

O. E. Johnson, erstwhile second hand man here and crop reporter for Uncle Sam has opened what he terms a 50-50 store one block north of the square and will handle bankrupt dry goods stocks.

South Plains Fair Boosters Here Monday

Something like 80 people of Lubbock were here Tuesday boosting the annual Panhandle South Plains Fair which is to be held this year from the 1st to the 6th of October, inclusive. The bunch passed through early here that morning going to Plains, Seminole and Seagraves, arriving back here about four o'clock in the afternoon.

After a short concert by the Lubbock high school band, J. E. Shelton, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce delivered the welcome address and was followed by Mr. Spencer A. Wells, of Lubbock, who after a short talk introduced the speakers for Lubbock. The first speaker was E. W. Province, business manager of Tech College, who spoke mostly about that great institution. He was followed by A. C. Murray, one of the directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Following another piece by the band, the Lubbock boosters were invited to a watermelon feast for which Terry county has no superior in quality or quantity of her melons.

Among the features of the South Plains Fair this year, will, besides the many agricultural and live stock exhibits, include many circus acts by the best actors and acrobats going, big band concerts, a big lot of midway attractions, dog and rabbit racing and the big cotton belt carnival.

A Chevrolet car will be given away each day of the fair to those holding the lucky ticket. More than $15,000 has been posted in premiums for the exhibits.

Practically every club boy and girl in the county will attend the fair next Wednesday. Those who have no way will be carried by citizens of Brownfield.

Rialto To Show Home Talent Movie

The management of the Rialto Theatre have advised us that a camera man representing a movie production concern will be here Friday to take some pictures of local talent, and that the staff for same would probably be selected Friday at the Fair.

These pictures will likely be shown at the theatre here week after next. Watch for announcement of exact date.

BOYS DORMITORY OF LITTLEFIELD COLLEGE BURNS

Littlefield citizens were greatly shocked Saturday night when the fire siren blew and it was discovered that the boys dormitory of the Littlefield College was on fire.

A run with the fire engine was quickly made to the scene of the conflagration, but it was discovered that no water other than a small line had been piped out to the campus ground, and that the fire had gained too much headway to be put out with chemicals. Nothing could be done but to stand by helplessly and watch the structure burn.

The value of the building is estimated at about $25,000, which was about half covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated from oily rags inside the building, which had been carelessly left by the workmen in a condition to produce spontaneous combustion.

It was stated by President Freeman that the fire loss would not interfere with the opening of the fall term as per schedule, and that school would be called Sept. 25th, as originally planned. Meanwhile temporary arrangements will be made for taking care of the boys in some other manner.—Littlefield Leader.

W. E. Henson, one of our progressive gin men came in recently and sent out three yearly subscriptions to the Herald to friends. He believes in old Terry himself, and wants other folks to know about the land of "Promise and delivery."

Several local citizens went to Lubbock Monday night to hear Frank Norris on Hoover.

Mrs. Money Price of the Challis Community, called in Saturday to renew for their Herald.

Pioneer Merchant of Gomez Building Here

Mr. A. P. Moore is having a nice five room, bath and sleeping porch cottage constructed on east Broadway, which when completed will not only make him and wife a nice home, but will add greatly to the looks of that section of town. His son, Charley has charge of the building of this residence.

Mr. Moore was one of the pioneer merchants of Gomez and Terry county and the writer met him first in the spring of 1909. At that time Gomez was a hustling village with more business houses than Brownfield. He and a man by the name of Allen had a grocery on the west side of the square at Gomez and were doing a thriving business.

Not long thereafter, Mr. Moore bought Allen's interest in the store and since that time it has been under the name of A. P. Moore. Mr. Moore has always done a nice business, but his children begin to marry off and leave home, and with age creeping upon him, he has for the past several years been trying to trade his interests, but it has only lately that he decided to close out the business and build and move to Brownfield where most of the children now live. Only one son, we believe is at home now.

We welcome this hearty pioneer and good wife to our midst, and we hope their declining years may be happy surrounded by a host of children and grand-children as well as other old friends among the pioneers who have helped him make Terry what it is today.

FIELD MEN TO SCOUT FOR PINK BOLL WORMS

Field scouting to determine if any pink boll worm infestation have appeared in the 1928 cotton crop along the Rio Grande is now under way according to George G. Becker, Entomologist in charge, Pink Bollworm Field Service of the Plant Quarantine and Control Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

R. W. White and two assistants are in charge of the scouting work, assisted by a corps of 27 trained men who are thoroughly familiar with the life history and habits of the pink bollworm. These men are now scouting in the lower Rio Grande Valley and as soon as the season advances will cover other sections in Texas and Arizona where, in the opinion of the Department, there is danger of infestation.

The conditions under which cotton is produced on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, together with the fact that pink bollworm infestations have in the past been known to occur across from Eagle Pass and Del Rio, Texas, provide a source of possible infestation which makes it necessary to keep a close watch along the Mexican border to be certain that any stray invasions of this insect are located as soon as they happened to become established.

It has been found that trash removed from cotton by the cleaners at the gin contain a large number of insects of various species and that the pink bollworm will be very likely to show up in this trash when cotton is ginned. Supplementing the field scouting, inspectors examine the gin trash at all gins in territory being scouted as an added precaution in checking up on the distribution of this insect.

Mr. Becker said that every possible precaution is being taken to prevent an extension of the pink bollworm into the main cotton producing areas of the cotton producing states, by scouting to determine the present extent of infestation and by the enforcement of regulations in the quarantined area which will prevent the insect from being carried into new territory.

D. M. Roe of South Route called in recently and subscribed for himself and father who lives in East Texas.

Jim—"One of these show girls is going to ride down the street this noon on horseback, dressed in one of the original seven veils."

Tim—"Fine! I'll be there. I also not seen a horse in a year."

Brownfield Laundry Giving Fine Service

The Brownfield Steam Laundry is really rendering good service now, for it is under the management of J. H. McLeod, who has had years of experience in the laundry business, and knows it from taking family wash to the plant to the minutest detail in the finishing and delivering. The finished products are now in class with the best city plants, and since Mr. McLeod came here from Lubbock and personally took charge, we have not heard of a complaint. However, he informed us that there was a vast difference in the amount of starch people wanted, and he had to learn that part all over in coming down here.

Mr. McLeod carried us through the entire plant recently, and we found up-to-date new machinery and more being added from time to time. About the next piece of machinery will be another steam pressing machine and a collar press. They have one pressing machine besides the big mangle for sheets, pillow cases, towels, etc., but collars are at present sent to the parent plant at Lubbock for finishing. These will be added as business justifies.

There are at present seven people employed by the plant, not counting Mr. McLeod, and that means a considerable payroll in a week's time, and these people in turn spend their money with the people right here in Brownfield.

Everything else being equal, don't you think it is your patriotic duty to patronize a plant that is helping to boost the payroll of the city you call home? We do.

Gas Company May Not Meet Contract Here

Secretary J. E. Shelton of the Chamber of Commerce wired the West Texas Gas Company Monday that the people here as well as merchants who wished to handle gas stoves were very desirous of knowing just what they aimed to do toward complying with their franchise here. About 3 in the afternoon he received a reply, and it in substance was about as follows:

"At this time it appears that we will not be able to comply with our contract with the city of Brownfield." From the above we do not figure that it is not their intention to come here, but that they probably aim to take their good time, as they have up no forfeit, if we understand aright, and of course there being no other gas companies in this section, they have no competition.

This has inconvenienced many house holders who have built new homes and providing no flues, expecting gas by the time much heat was absolutely necessary. We also understand that one firm here now has a car of gas stoves on the track that will be about as much use to them as a rag crutch would be to a one-legged man, for the time being anyway, and besides too much money to tie up for any length of time.

DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY ANNOUNCED FOR LUBBOCK

Announcement is made that another newspaper for Lubbock, a Democratic weekly, the first issue of which will be on the 26th of this month. It is headed by Messrs. Stern, Blank & Blank, of east Texas, and will be printed from the office of the West Texas Printing Co., formerly the Dow Printing Co., under the management of R. E. and W. Wester, who are also interested in the new paper.

The new publication will be published by an experienced set of newspaper and printing men, men who have been connected as owners, editors and publishers in some large city plants, and it enters a field where it should find good support, both as a newspaper and a Democratic paper.—Lamesa Journal.

the wider use of automatic heating devices, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, improved plumbing and other household mechanical improvements should double the potentialities of the American people within the present generation.

In the nation's pioneer days hours of the housewife's time were necessarily devoted to keeping the home fires burning. Men cut and piled the wood but there their work ended. It was the women of the family who built the fires and kept them supplied with fuel. The utilization of coal lightened this task, but in many homes the woman is still the furnace tender, running up and down stairs a dozen times a day to shovel on coal, agitate the grate and regulate drafts.

From the standpoint of the American housewife, the perfection of the automatic oil burner and gas heating systems are as important as the invention of the sewing machine.

KEEP THE CROOKS ON THE RUN

"Philadelphia is developing the same crime situation that cost hundreds of lives in Chicago's gang, gunmen and beer wars," says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. "The cowardly shoot-and-run type of murderer is increasing here. So-called 'gang shootings' are increasing. The frequency of these outbreaks, the growing use of machine-guns, sawed-off shotguns and pistols and the comparative rarity of the arrest and punishment of the human rats who do the shooting demand imperative and drastic action on the part of the police."

"Closer control over the sale of firearms will not wholly meet the emergency. Firearms can be 'bootlegged' as easily as liquor. The underworld can't be easily or wholly disarmed. Ending these 'gang wars' is a police job. It can be done by keeping the known 'gangster' continually 'on the run.'"

As the Public Ledger says, the underworld cannot be disarmed, and it is a fact that laws restricting the Organizations on political party lines called "get-out-the-vote" clubs are being pushed for the November election.

OLD STUDEBAKER MOTORS STILL IN DAILY USE

The old adage that a stout heart knows no age is convincingly demonstrated in the hundreds of different uses to which ancient Studebaker motors have been put. Records on file at the Studebaker offices in South Bend show that scores of old motors are still chugging away with perfect dependability in service other than that for which they were built.

A typical example of ruggedness built into a Studebaker motor was discovered not long ago in Queensland, Australia. A Studebaker traveling representative, held up by flooded railroad tracks, finally crossed the inundated section on a gasoline motored inspection car. The motor proved to be a Studebaker motor of ancient vintage which in 1910 had powered a touring car.

THE JOHNSON NEWS

Some of the school children have stopped to pick cotton.

Miss Velma Williams gave a party last Friday night. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves very much. Miss Kattie Mae Winn and Mr. Ross Young won high score prize.

Miss Berta Ammons who has been very low with typhoid fever died Monday night at 9:00 o'clock. She is survived by her father, mother, two brothers and four sisters.

Mrs. Day is ill with the Flu, but the last we heard from her she was improving.

Miss Ruth Gore was ill Sunday night, but we were glad to see her at school Monday.

An old acquaintance of Mr. Alva Flanagan from Lubbock has been visiting here this last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Alexander of Brownfield spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Young of this community.

There will be League next Sunday night at Johnson school, and every one is cordially invited to attend.

PENALTIES LIGHT WEIGHT BALES

To all Texas Ginners for the Information to Their Patrons:

The rules of the Texas Cotton Association prescribe penalties for light weight bales of cotton as follows:

For each bale weighing less than 150 pounds but not under 400 pounds $1.00.

For each bale weighing less than 100 pounds, $2.00

Bales weighing less than 350 pounds may be rejected, but if accepted must be penalized $3.00 per bale.

This rule is necessary for the reason that the average amount of tare (bagging and bands) applied on all Texas cotton is assumed to weigh approximately 21 pounds per bale.

For example this:

4 per cent of a 525 pound bale, excess tare none. 4.2 per cent of a 500 pound bale, excess tare 1 pound. 4.42 per cent of a 475 pound bale, excess tare 2 pounds. 4.67 per cent of a 450 pound bale, excess tare 3 pounds. 4.94 per cent of a 425 pound bale, excess tare 4 pounds. 5.25 per cent of a 400 pound bale, excess tare 5 pounds

Construction is under way on a even room and bath residence of B. L. Thompson in the extreme east end of the city. This will be a tile and brick building and put up according to Hoyle in every detail as Mr. Thompson is a contractor. It will also have a big CELLAR. Mr. Thompson has a whole block out there to himself, and will almost feel that he lives on the farm. An orchard has already been strated.

It is reported here that the eldest single daughter, Mrs. Mary Thelma, of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Copeland, who were former citizens of this city, but now of Loraine, married a Mr. G. W. Adams of that city on the 23rd of this month.

Rev. Emmett Whitake, of the Herald force who is also a Baptist minister filled the pulpit at the First Baptist church at Crowell last Sunday. Emmett reports that crops are mighty short in that section as they have had little rain there this year—and we thought here that it was raining all over the world.

Mr. Vernon Davis and Miss Dollie Miller, of Tahoka, visited in the Stricklin home Sunday.

Miss Lucy Drury, telephone operator of San Angelo spent Saturday night here with friends.

THE WAR TIME FARM AID RECORD OF HOOVER

Your attention is requested to the following extract from the Associated Press report of the speech made by Senator Joe Robinson, Democratic nominee for Vice-President, at Charlotte, N. C., on Sept. 12.

He asserted that no more outstanding instance could be found of "inefficiency and failure" of the Republican party in its conduct of national affairs than that relating to the farm problem. Mr. Hoover, while food administrator under Woodrow Wilson, he said, "never did anything to increase the price of American wheat, but on the contrary sought to stabilize the price level at times far below the market price."

Contending adverse conditions in agriculture had prevailed since the war, Mr. Robinson said in the "opinion of many" these conditions had originated in the war food control policies of Mr. Hoover. The Senator quoted a telegram which he said Mr. Hoover on April 3, 1919, had sent George N. Peck, a farm group leader, in part, as follows:

"There is sufficient food for all until next harvest. If ships are available to take two or three times as long a journey to the cheaper and more remote markets than the United States. Further, the tendencies of prices in the United States would be downward as a result of the competition of those remote markets. Again I wish to repeat that unless some super force intervene, we do not propose to allow the American consumer to suffer from such rates in the price of bread and we intend to hold the price of wheat to the figure it has stood during the entire war under congressional guarantee."

After reading this, the Senator said, "There declarations over his own signature disprove the claim that that it was Hoover's purpose to obtain the highest possible price for the farmer, and it shows that he wanted to keep the price down."

Charley Hamilton is wrecking the old Coble place just northeast of the square and building a nice duplex, using as much of the old material as possible.

Jack Bailey was up last week from Wink. Jack is in the house renting business in that oil field town, and informed us that he was doing well in the business.

Mrs. W. R. Lovelace who has been very ill was reported to be some better Wednesday morning.

Misses Robbie M. Hardin and Vivian Winston left last week for Abilene where they entered Abilene Christian College.

Neill H. Wright, district agent of the Southland Life Insurance Co., was a business visitor to our city last Friday.

Miss Madalene Elliott of this city has entered Tech College. Also Adolphus Smith and Glenn Webber.

PRIZES OFFERED SPORT DOGS AT SOUTH PLAINS FAIR

LUBBOCK, Texas, Sept. 20.—Four hundred and twenty-five dollars, in addition to a crowd of something over 100,000 have been hung up as inducements to owners of dogs, who will enter the racing dogs in the coursing events here October 1st. to 6th, inclusive, during the fifteenth annual Panhandle South Plains Fair.

"The big thing we want is dogs," A. B. Davis, manager of the fair states in a letter to several hundred dog owners in Texas, Okla., Kansas and other states. "We will if necessary to add these classes for a good event, arrange consolidation races, just common rabbit dog races, and make arrangements to race all dogs."

Prizes offered in addition to the entry fees are:

Registered all age, $150.00 added money.

Registered Futurity, $125.00 added money.

Registered Saplings, $100.00 added money.

Cold Bloods, $50.00 added money.

Loving cup for cold bloods, with no entry fee.

Entry blanks have been mailed out by the fair association and the officials are anxious to have the entries in as soon as possible, however, the entries do not close until September 30.

The Panhandle South Plains Fair has been the outstanding regional fair in the Southwest for the past 4 years making a profit while other fairs all over the country have been losing money. Attendance last year ran over 100,000 and with the addition of a sixth day this year, the number to pass through the turn stiles are expected to be well over that figure. Racing is a new sport in this section and is expected to draw the biggest interest of anything at the fair.

Gene Wofford, of Lubbock, owner of several dogs, will attend the racing at Graham, Texas, September 19 and 20, where he will sign up entries.

Competent judges, slipping, good stables, and a veterinarian will be available for the success of the meet. The track is being put in excellent shape.

Bend—The cornerstone for the new school building here was laid September 4th.

THE NEW SOUTH—TEXAS

Airplans, telephones, telegraph, radio, smooth highways and railroads have made Texas more compact for purposes of government and business than was the smallest of states a century ago, thus practically disposing of the fear that the area of the Lone Star State would prove too great for practical government purposes.

Its integrity, as an entity, safe, Texas—powerful, rich in land and resources, and daily gaining in wealth and in influence by reason of the "Texas for Texans" spirit of its people—may look forward to a self-supporting population of ten, even fifteen millions, an annual income by these and a place of the very first magnitude among the states of the union.

Someday the surplus drainage of other regions will be brought under control and diverted to West Texas, there to irrigate lands now too dry for the best agricultural results.

Someday industry will rank with agriculture and raw material production in that state.

In half a generation Texas has created an artificial port at Houston and developed a water borne movement of some 12 million tons.

In a short span of time it has created at Dallas one of the best conditioned cities in America.

San Antonio has become an excellent place in which to live and to develop business.

And so the record goes. Everywhere progress. Everywhere promise.

For Texas, or for the good of any part of the state, all Texas works in harmony.

The drift of cotton production is westward, to the new, virgin flat lands where mechanical cultivators and pickers will solve the problem of farm labor and materially reduce the cost of production.

Only one, or at most two generations removed from the pioneer stage, Texas enjoys the vigor and enthusiasm of youth, plus a character of effective patriotism and local pride rarely, if at all, matched in other states.

Woe be to the man who essays to sell Texas short.

Snyder shipped 400 cases of eggs, or 12,000 dozen to Havana, Cuba recently. This is considered the earliest shipment of eggs ever shipped from the county, shipment usually starting in January.

ONE MAN'S SECRET

A fourteen-year-old boy, George Black, built himself a wagon out of four wheels, an egg crate and some other material, then went to peddling merchandise for eggs among farm folks around the town of Pigeon, Mich. He became known to every farmer for miles around. A few years later he opened a store. The business outgrew it and he bought a big factory building. Recently he built a three-story addition to that. Black now does a business of $350,000 a year in this town of 800 population. People for miles around trade with him. Salesmen in his store work on commission; his hardware clerk averages $250 a month and the woman at the notion counter makes $30 a week. His business runs about $1,000 a day. Not long ago a merchant in a large town took a day off and went to Pigeon solely to ask George Black if he cared to divulge the secret of his success.

Black smilingly said he was glad to tell the world his secret; and he told it in words every merchant might commit to memory:

He said: "I offer nothing but real bargains—and I advertise in the weekly papers in the county."—Blissfield (Mich.) Advance.

CHICAGO LOOKS TO THE SKY

A new 75-story skyscraper, to be taller than any existing building in the world, has been announced for Chicago, and will be started early in 1929. The structure is to be built for the Apparel Manufacturers' Mart Building corporation on Wacker drive and to cost $45,000,000.

In addition to mart space the building will house a 1000-room hotel, a skyscraper garage and two convention halls. It is to be 75 feet higher than the Woolworth building in New York City.

Official paper of Terry County.

Mrs. Edith Wilms, of Dallas, erstwhile candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, and one of the "also rans," has filed suit restraining the Democratic Executive Committee from declaring Dan Moody the party nominee, alleging unlawful voting and counting in some counties. At the same time, not being able to put up bond, she declared herself a pauper in order to file suit without bond for costs. Now if that isn't playing politics to a fare-you-well, then we'll take a pauper's oath ourselves.

Few people in the United States know that Herb. Hoover was knighted Sir Herbert by the British King, and for 22 years of his life cast no vote as an American citizen. But, we can't say he is any worse or better for that.

Well, the whispering campaign has reached Brownfield. It is now going the rounds on the school grounds that if Al Smith is elected president of the United States, little girls eleven years old and all boys that old or older will be drafted into the army and made to fight. Such rot. And it is bound to be coming from these children's elders.

Wet Democrats and Dry Democrats are all Democrats. Wet Republicans and Dry Republicans are still Republicans. The wet and dry issue is strictly a moral issue and should not be introduced into politics any more than the religious issue. None should receive any special favors or be disfavored in any way on account of his personal belief on these issues. Our nation will be in a bad way when we reach the point that a man's religious belief is a test of his qualifications for public office.

Howdy folks! We are mighty glad to have you with us at the Terry County Fair. Isn't it all right? Arrn't you glad you came, and are you not prouder of your county since you see its possibilities? We are, and we know you are. Just make yourselves at home and have a jolly time. It shows what co-operation will do.

What if a Catholic priest did marry Herbert and Mrs. Hoover? That fact didn't make him a Catholic, or any worse or any better. A Methodist minister married the writer, but that did not change his religion. It just made us a little more humble—that's all.

Our county agent thinks the cotton situation is improving some but does not think the 1928 crop will come up to the 1927 crop unless we have unusual and unexpected good fortune from this on.

The biggest corn crop in the county's history is going to be a big factor in putting us over this year.

The Brownfield Herald recently attained its twenty-fourth birthday and is still going strong. In fact, it seems to be going somewhat stronger than ever before, judging by the frequency with which Editor Stricklin finds it necessary to add extra pages. It is always easy to tell the Herald from any of the other exchanges by reason of the grade of paper on which it is printed. It is evident that Editor Stricklin takes a lot of pride in its appearance and dresses it up for company every week. It is also evident that his efforts are appreciated by his home town folks and as consequence the Herald reflects creditably on Brownfield and its progressive business men, as well as on its enterprising publisher.—Southwest Plainsman.

We think it a very peculiar nature people have about trading in other cities and towns, but this is the way the thing runs. Monroe people think they can get what they want better at Abernathy, and Abernathy knows they can get better stuff at Lubbock and Lubbock folks run off to Dallas or San Antonio to do their buying, and the people of these cities trot off to New York and buy their stuff, and while in New York to see what those folks do, we bet they go to London or Paris to do their trading, and we suppose those people over there just have to buy from home merchants. Anyway, we believe it a wrong principle, and if we would spend more money with the home merchants they would be able to build up a bigger stock, a greater variety of merchandise, and a volume of business that would enable them to make even better prices than they do.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Del Rio—This year's building receipts almost treble last year, being $803,935, for eight months, which is $191,332 more than twice the total for 1927.

Stratford—This town is to have a modern steam laundry which has been needed for some time.

BUTTER FROM KEROSENE IS BABSON PROPHECY

The coal furnace and stove twenty five years from now, will be things of the past, Roger W. Babson, head of the Babson Statistical Organization, declares.

"All householders will be compelled by law to use either gas or electricity for heating, cooking, refrigeration, power and other industrial and household purposes."

A quarter century hence, says Mr. Babson, gold will be made from lead; butter, milk and cheese from kerosene; tides will be harnessed and the heat of the sun will be utilized in industry.

"Office buildings, factories and apartment houses will be built without windows in order to obtain better ventilation," Mr. Babson declares. "Street intersections, where traffic policemen are now necessary, will have overhead bridges. All main streets will have two stories of sidewalks with special provision for the parking of cars anywhere on the payment of a fee. When the helicopter is perfected, every house will have a hangar on the roof."

JOY-RIDING PUBLIC MENACE IN OUR STREETS

There are several drivers of machines in and around Sudan, some of them mere children, who on Saturday's principally specialize in a circuit riding of certain streets. It is kept up an hour or more at times, jumping off and on the running board, besides pulling off stunts, many of them at night, without the red light behind—and some have no red light to turn—should be rectified by a town ordinance.

If such people can't keep up to requirement of law to have tail front lights on at night, whether it be negligence or the inability financially to keep within the statutory limitations of such a law, they should be ruled off the streets.

There are frequent cases of the red light not being on and others without any front lights on—and other cases where machines had no lights to turn on and the "ONE-EYED" monster, with a one-eyed "petting" driver racing and then turning around corners at dangerous speed sometimes the drivers being quite young—sixteen years and less, oftentimes two girls or two boys hanging on each side, the driver's attention is diverted thereby, is a nuisance and menace to the citizens of Sudan and their children.

Common thing to see automobiles going through Sudan at 40 miles an hour.

The marshal of the town can only be at one place at a time. A town ordinance granting the power of arrest by the business men of the town of these flagrant violations of law and turning them over to the marshal would greatly facilitate matters.

If there is such an ordinance we do not know of it. If you see a violator in one part of the town, the marshal having business in another part of the town and you have the power to make the arrest and place him in the hands of the marshal would function just right.—Sudan News.

Work on the Muleshoe gin is being rushed in order that all this section season's crop will be handled. New machinery is being installed and the plant will be modern in every respect.

IT'S GOT A KICK

There's nothing that will go to the head quicker if swallowed than flattery.

When ice doth drop And coal doth soar, Fall, sure as pop Is at the door.

Many of the world's ills can be traced to those who sleep too much in the daytime and not enough at night.

Anyway Adam and

Eve didn't argue every night over which radio program they ought to tune in on.

J. E. Shelton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is getting mighty busy this week, getting everything ready for the Fair Friday and Saturday. Do not miss it. From the outlook we are sure to have a good display of all products, and it will be worth your time to come!

Our supply of coal is arriving now and winter is sure to come. Better take a load home when you are in town.

REPRODUCTION OF CONFEDERATE SEAL FOUND

AUSTIN, Texas.—Secured after a long search, an enlarged lithographed reproduction of the official seal of the Confederacy, said to be the only copy in existence, has been procured for the University of Texas Library by E. W. Winkler, librarian. The seal was created by act of the Confederate Congress in 1862, according to the copy of the Congressional record which accompanies the seal. The engraved seal was made in England, and only one impression was taken before the seal was brought to this country, according to Mr. Winkler. That impression was lost, and from that time the seal was used only on official documents. In 1911, an enlarged reproduction of the seal was painted by Annie Payne Pillow of Washington, D. C., and the lithographed copy at the University seems to be the only surviving copy, Mr. Winkler said.

OVER 700 FRESHMEN ENTER TECH COLLEGE

Lubbock—With over 700 freshmen present for the first day of the three day orientation period of the Texas Technological College it is expected that the number of first year students will reach 1,000 by the time enrollment is completed.

The feature of the first day was the address by President Paul W. Horn on "The Freshman of Today." Much time was taken up with faculty consultations for the purpose of enabling the freshmen to decide just what course they wanted to take. The new students were given every opportunity to familiarize themselves with the work of the college and student activities.

Among the subjects discussed by members of the faculty were "How to Study," "How to Use the Library," "Budgets for Life," "Things Which Eliminate one from College," "Personal Hygiene," and "The Significance of the Church in the Life of a College Student."

JUNIOR CLASS ORGANIZES

The Juniors met last week and organized their class for '28 and '29. First of all Miss Patterson was unanimously elected sponsor. Francis Carpenter has the honored position of president, and Roy Ballard vice-president. We had enough confidence in Vivian Eubanks to elect her for our secretary and treasurer.

I wish to say, too that the Junior class pledged themselves one hundred per cent in favor and to the support of the foot ball team. We are for the Cubs lose or win.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Texas, Greetings:

GROWING FEDERAL LEGISLATION MENACES LIBERTY

"The right of the states to control local affairs, their people, their life, liberty and happiness all is being subjected to federal legislation and federal control," declared Justice John William Kephart of the Pennsylvania supreme Court.

"If this nation permits, through legislative, judicial or regulatory, authority, the spirit of the constitution to be violated, then it so far transgresses the inalienable rights of the people as to call for a re-dedication of its principles and re-establishment in the government of those fundamental rights.

"We have no fear for the nation as such from external causes; our fear is from our internal affairs, and that coming from a change in the spirit of the constitution."

CREEDS ARE 'NIL' IN APPOINTMENT OF PUBLIC MEN TO HIGH OFFICE

If creeds cut no figure then in appointments of public men to high office in the U. S. why shouldn't they function the same when candidates RUN for office?

Ex-President Taft, now in the Supreme Court, is a Unitarian. Alfred Smith, governor of New York is a Catholic.

A Catholic accepts divinity. A Unitarian is 2 per cent and don't believe very much in anything.

The late Chief Justice J. D. White of Louisiana, was a Roman Catholic and upheld the vote of the people on the 18th Amendment, being appointed to that high office by a president of an entirely different faith.

Creed has always been a negligible quantity in the appointment of competent men to public office in the United States.

But when a man runs for public office that's a different thing. All creeds then take a whack at him.

Hedbert Hoover comes of Quaker stock. If you know anything about Quakers you know as far as creed is concerned there is no difference between Quakers and the Mennonites. Yet they drove the Mennonites out of the United States because they "were opposed to war." These people first migrated to Canada, but left here shortly afterward and migrated to Chihuahua, Old Mexico, where they were received in open arms—and at that time a Catholic country—and is yet in belief—only the abolition of the Catholic church by President Calles, deprived them of the right of public worship. W. J. Bryan was also opposed to war, but instead of driving him out of the country, Wilson, out of gratitude to the man who gave him his nomination, appointed him secretary of state.

And they down Hoover because he is an Englishman. "Do you know what the oath of allegiance to the throne means?" quite a few will ask others. Well, it simply means that Hoover has taken out his papers here and thus automatically becomes a citizen of the United States, and if there ever existed as claimed, the oath referred to, it is nil for the simple reason that he is now a citizen of the United States.—Sudan News.

A REQUEST TO SELL STATE FARMS

The State of Texas owns several penitentiary farms in different parts of the state. The farm it owns near Richmond, Texas, like other farms where the population of the surrounding country is growing, has become a menace to the people of the communities that surround these farms. It is a situation that the Legislature sees and it is a situation that needs attention and needs it right away. With prisoners escaping and stealing and plundering in order to effect a get-away, the people living for several miles around these penitentiaries never feel safe.

At a recent meeting in Richmond to memorialize the Legislature to dispose of convict farms in that section of the country, one of the speakers gives in the following language reasons why the farms should be moved. He says:

"The last thing I did before coming over to this meeting was to get out my shot gun and put it behind the door so my family might have some kind of protection while I was gone."

This sentence expresses the situation that exists in and around these State farms and as stated, as the population grows, the necessity for discontinuing these farms in many localities is urgent.

DUCKS ARRIVING EARLY PRODUCING GOOD FALL SPORT

Present indications are that there will be fine duck hunting around Littlefield this fall and winter as many of the surrounding lakes, already well filled with water, are being more or less populated with ducks of various kinds. Some of these lakes now contain a thousand or more birds.

Duck hunting in this section is generally good every year, and the early migration of ducks this season is taken by many to mean an early frost this fall.

The hunting season for ducks, geese, brant and coot, in the north zone of Texas is from October 16 to January 31st.—Littlefield Leader.

Gas was turned into the mains in Lamesa from the Amarillo oil fields last week. Demonstration of new stoves for the new fuel has been the order of the day since, with the result that a number of people are buying stoves before cold weather.

Every wife thinks her husband is particularly difficult whereas all other husbands look easy.

ROTARY CLUB HONORS OUR SCHOOL FACULTY

One of the most brilliant social affairs in the history of our little city was staged last Friday evening at 8:30, when the local Rotary Club had for their guests at dinner the entire faculty and trustees of the Brownfield public schools. The feed was one for which the Hotel Brownfield is famous, being served in three courses, well prepared and served.

After the repast the welcome address was delivered by our County Judge and Ex-Officio county superintendent, who in his own good humored way assured the teachers that the club and whole citizenship was behind them.

The response by Supt. W. B. Toone was splendid, but rather hard for those to hear at the other end of the table. He was glad to be a part of our public school system, and pleased with the reception given the faculty.

Mrs. W. H. Dallas at the piano and Miss Baldwin violinist gave the audience two very pleasing selections, "Gipsy Dance" and "Ramona." Notice was served on these ladies by Master of Ceremonies, Arnett Bynum, that their services would be in demand by the club on future occasions.

The address by Elder Liff Sanders was well fitting to the occasion for it was full of wholesome advice and encouragement for both.

At this time the Donkey Quartette of the Tahoka Kiwanis club were called upon and rendered two fine selections, and were heartily encored for a third.

Miss Long, Spanish teacher made a nice talk in which she was profuse in her compliments of the Rotary club in behalf of the teachers, saying that in all her experience as a teacher, this was the first time she ever had been entertained by any service club.

Before closing Secretary R. W. McDuffie read resolutions of condolence offered by the club to Rotarian Bynum in the recent loss of his mother. With difficulty and a full heart, Arnett responded to thank the club for its floral offerings and other de-

CO-OPERATION

Two fool jackasses—say, get this dope!—were tied together with a piece of rope.

Said one to the other, "You come my way while I take a nibble from this new-mown hay!"

"I won't," said the other. "You come with me, for I, too, have some hay, you see!"

So they got nowhere—just pawed up dirt, and oh, by golly, that rope did hurt.

Then they faced about, those stubborn mules, and said, "We're acting like human fools. Let's pull together I'll go your way, then come with me and we'll both eat hay."

Well, they ate their hay, and they liked it, too, and swore to be comrades good and true.

As the sun went down they were heard to bray, "Ah! This is the end of a perfect day!"—Harry M. McGill.

demonstrations of sympathy expressed or implied during the illness and death of his beloved mother.

WHEN "JUST A COW" IS NOT ALWAYS TRUE

Old Rose and Edna, with a little help from two graded cows, are feeding themselves, the family, and the car on the R. L. Russell farm in Cotile county. It happened this way: Mr. Russell bought two registered cows, old Rose and Edna, last fall at the advice of the county agent. A few days later on his own initiative, he bought four grade cows, paying only $25 more for these than he did for the two registered cows. "A cow is a cow," Mr. Russell argued, but he soon found that the two registered cows gave as much milk and butter as the four grades. Two of the grades were later sold, and now with poor crop prospects, feed exhausted and money scarce, Mr. Russell says, "I don't know what we would do if it were not for old Rose and Edna."

TO STUDY LIGHTNING EFFECTS ON MOUNTAIN

In a battle to tame lightning electrical engineers are "digging in" on top a lonely Tennessee mountain for a campaign that may last six months or six years.

Lightning to date, experts say, has remained an unknown quantity and has hampered operation of long distance high power electrical lines.

The "battle of Chilhowee Mountain," where an average of 20 thunderstorms occur each month, the engineers say will reveal characteristic lightning which scientists have sought for centuries. The camp will be located at Chota, Tenn. Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company engineers will make up the army.

All devices to be used are automatic. Oncoming thunderstorms will give warning by ringing a bell, calling the engineers into action, and cameras will record any lightning within their range.

WYOMING WILL HONOR MEMORY OF BRIDGER

Fort Named for Frontiersman to Be Shrine.

Vernal, Utah.—One more of the old frontier posts of the American West is to be preserved as a shrine to keep alive the memory of the man who founded it and whose name is written in the annals of the West as one of its true trail blazers—James Bridger, the first white man to gaze on the waters of Great Salt Lake, in northern Utah.

Fort Bridger, in Uinta county, Wyoming, 115 miles northeast of Salt Lake City, Utah, is to be preserved for the people of Wyoming as a shrine through the efforts of residents of Uinta, Lincoln and Sweetwater counties in the southwestern part of the state. It is planned to obtain funds by popular subscription to defray the cost of purchasing the site and the few structures remaining on it, then to present the property to the state of Wyoming for maintenance as the Fort Bridger Historical park. A museum for the preservation of historical relics of southwestern Wyoming and data pertaining to its annals is to be erected and the state is to appoint and maintain a custodian.

Established as Trading Post.

Fort Bridger was established as a trading post by James Bridger, who in the winter of 1824-25 discovered Great Salt Lake as the outcome of a wager concerning the course of the Bear River.

The ghosts of the old trading post, if such there are, could tell of the traders of more than a century ago; of Indians and trappers; of pony express riders; and of Ben Holliday's stage drivers; of Brigham Young and his party of Mormons in 1847; of gold seekers hastening to California discoveries in 1849; of the coming of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston's army in the winter of 1847-48, en route to Salt Lake City; of the troops stationed at the old fort in later years, and they could tell of the neglect of the old fort since the days when the government abandoned it as a military post. Ghosts seldom talk, but the annals of the West have preserved the history of Fort Bridger.

The trading post was the home for many years of hunters and trappers, their sole refuge in a desolate region. Until Utah was ceded to the United States after the war with Mexico, Fort Bridger was in Mexican territory. Until the present borders of Utah were established in 1861 Fort Bridger was in the territory of Utah.

Many vicissitudes were the lot of the inhabitants of the trading post; hot summers and severely cold winters beset them, and at times, starvation threatened when deep snows and severe temperatures in the winter months prevented journeys to replenish the larder. Bancroft's history of Utah records that the winter of 1848-49 was one of the coldest ever experienced in that region and that the supply of corn was so low that the following order was issued: "That no corn shall be made into whisky and that if any man is caught preparing to distill corn into whisky or alcohol the corn shall be taken and given to the poor."

In 1853 Fort Bridger, together with its Mexican grant of thirty square miles, was purchased by the Mormons for $8,000, and in the following year an equal sum was expended for improvements.

Destroyed by Young.

In the late autumn of 1847 Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston and his army, en route to Utah to what is sometimes referred to as the "Utah war," arrived at Fort Bridger, or, rather, what was left of it. Brigham Young had threatened to destroy the place if General Johnston persisted in marching on it—and the threat was carried out. The grain and other stores were either carried off or destroyed and of the buildings only two enclosures, walled in by cobble rocks, remained. In later years other structures were erected.

While still in Utah Fort Bridger at one time rose to the distinction of being designated seat of Green River county's government. During the occupancy of Fort Bridger by cavalry of the regular army it was the headquarters of the military forces of the government for southwestern Wyoming, northeastern Utah and northwestern Colorado.

Fort Bridger will now be saved from completely losing its identity as one of the historic spots of the West. There is no doubt that the state of Wyoming will maintain it as a state park and that the museum in time will become the mecca for scientists engaged in research of historical data of the region.

Starvation Is Found to Be Best Rat Poison

Paris.—Starvation was adopted as the best rat exterminator at an anti rat congress which has just met here. Paul Bonju, prefect of the Seine, has ordered that garbage cans must have ratproof covers and that new apartment houses must have a special room, with double metal doors, for the cans. The congress will continue its research in Le Havre, one of the worst sufferers from rats in France.

SEEKS ANNULMENT OF OLD DIVORCE

Woman Acts 44 Years After Decree Was Granted.

Lincoln, Neb.—The annulment of a divorce 18 years after her husband's death and 44 years after the decree was granted is sought by Mrs. Nancy E. Derrit of South Sioux City, Neb.

Mrs. Derrit, who is seventy-two years old, was not aware until after the death of her husband, a Civil war veteran, that she had been divorced from him. In 1884, the couple had trouble and separated and Mrs. Derrit began suit for divorce. Before the decree was granted, however, there was a reconciliation, and they began living together again, two more children being born.

Mrs. Derrit did not notify her attorney to cease efforts to obtain the divorce, she says, and he went ahead and got it. It is now held that the divorce was illegal without her appearance or testimony, but attorneys cannot find any way to prove that she and her witnesses were not present.

The judge who granted the divorce and the clerk of the court are now dead. Mrs. Derrit cannot go into court to have the divorce annulled, as her husband would have to be named defendant in that case. A suit cannot be brought directly against the district court.

When Derrit died in 1910, Mrs. Derrit applied to the pension department and it was then that the divorce was revealed. The couple lived in Iowa for years and that state recognizes a common law marriage, which their union was after the divorce. The pension department does not recognize common law marriages.

Several bills have been introduced in congress to permit her name to be placed on the roll of widows entitled to a pension, but none of them has passed.

An appeal from the pension board's decision to the United States Supreme court is being considered.

If Mrs. Derrit succeeds, she will be entitled to $4,500 back pension and $20 a month.

Montana Tree Disease Destroys Scotch Firs

A deadly tree disease, known as rhododendron, introduced into Britain a few years ago with a consignment of Douglas firs from Montana, is sweeping across Scotland and the south of England. Experts are baffled, and consider that, wafted by the wind, this disease will eventually wipe out the majority of this type of fir throughout the British Isles.

The disease first attacks the leaves. Fungus spore gather, usually on the under surface of the leaf. The leaves die and within three or four years the tree is entirely denuded of leaves and dies also.

There are three members of the Douglas fir family, the Oregon, the blue, which is popular in the south of England for its beauty, and the larch, which is a curious feature of this epidemic is that so far it has hardly touched the Oregon, while its virulence among the other two species grows fiercer.

European Air Courses to Be Marked at Night

Le Bourget, France.—Night flyers soon will have good signal lights by which to steer their course on four air highways.

The way from Paris to London, Brussels, Marseilles and Perpignan will be marked with orange-colored neon electric lights which will flash continually the Morse code, for the letters that will identify them.

There is but little flying in the dark as yet, but in every way French aviation is trying to prepare for the imminent development of night travel. One branch of this work is the training of pilots to steer by instruments alone. The men are taught by handling planes, in which they are enclosed in a dark cabinet, while another pilot who can see the ground prevents accidents by correcting errors through double control.

Ash Carts Blazon Glories of Potsdam

Potsdam, Germany.—Citizens of the former Kaiser's old residence rubbed their eyes in astonishment the other day when a number of brand new municipal vehicles appeared on the streets with "Residential City of Potsdam" painted on them.

Everybody is asking whether it is by accident or design that old memories of imperial splendor should be revived, and why the new municipal ash carts should be selected to blazon them forth.
