TWO BAPTIST CHURCHES
 CALL PASTORS SUNDAY

The appointments of Rev. E. V. May, for months supply pastor of the Gomez Baptist Church, were filled Saturday night and Sunday evening by Rev. E. L. Whitaker. After the preaching hour Sunday evening the church, in called conference, voted unanimously to extend a call to Rev. R. C. Hallman of the Pleasant Valley community to be permanent pastor. Rev. Hallman is also pastor at Harmony.

Rev. E. V. May preached at Pleasant Valley Saturday night. The Sunday services were conducted at the morning hour by Rev. Fred Hinson of Meadow and at night by Rev. Joe Patterson of the Pleasant Valley community. Since preaching his first sermon in his home church some six weeks ago Joe has made appointments for numerous communities contingent to Brownfield and apparently is going to be kept busy. After the services at the evening hour the Pleasant Valley church extended a call to the Rev. J. A. Gibson of the Needmore community who is also pastor of the church at that place.

Neither Hallman or Gibson have made known their decisions.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this method of expressing our heartfelt thanks to all of our friends who assisted us in any way in the sickness and death of our dear little Lois, and for the many expressions of sympathy which have helped to lighten our heavy hearts.

We also wish to express our thanks for the many beautiful floral offerings. May God's richest blessings go with all of you is our prayer.

CHEAPLY FED PIG IS VERY EXPENSIVE

Three litter mate pigs and how they grew to weigh 271, 240, and 78 pounds each at six months is related by Lewis Chapman of the Starville (Smith county) 4-H Club in his record book submitted to the county agent, E. Gentry. The three pigs were farrowed March 27th and put on full feed May 20th. Two of them received protein supplement, corn on cob, and ran on Bermuda pasture, but the third was raised "Dad's way". While the others were putting on more than 200 pounds of gain apiece this little pig ran here and there to get kitchen slop and to pick up a bit of corn in the horse lot for a total weight of 78 pounds. "The cost of the well fed pigs," Mr. Gentry says, "amounted to about 8 cents per pound but the scrubby pig will cost at least 23 cents per pound by the time he is fattened for meat."

Frank Turner and family came in Sunday from Snyder, Oklahoma to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown and families. Frank reports that rain fell on them from the Red River to Matador, but it did not reach this section until Monday.

More rain, amounting to probably an additional half inch visited us Wednesday morning.

NOTICE TO THE VOTERS OF BROWNFIELD

The Parent-Teacher Association urges every one to vote for the two amendments to be voted on next Tuesday, Nov. 6th in regard to the lengthening of the term of school trustees from two years to six. This would give us more experienced trustees, and more permanent board as there would be only two new members every year.

The second amendment is to give us a State Board of Education composed of men selected for that purpose and acting in an ex-officio.

These amendments will cost the state no money and no additional tax. Every one who has thought of these amendments is in favor of them. The only danger is that men will say I do not understand these amendments, hence I shall vote against them. We urge everyone to think on these propositions and to vote for them.

Every purchaser of a new Ford is entitled to Free Inspection Service for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in.

Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free

Inspection Service at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

- Check battery
- Check generator charging rate
- Check distributor adjustment
- Check carburetor adjustment
- Check lights
- Check brakes
- Check shock absorber adjustment
- Check tire inflation
- Check steering gear
- Change engine oil
- Lubricate chassis

No charge is made for labor or materials incidental to this service, except, of course, where repairs are necessary through accident, misuse or neglect. The only charge is for new oil.

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over at regular periods thereafter.

A checking-up by experienced mechanics, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.

TOO PRECIOUS TO BE LOST THROUGH NEGLIGENCE

General Perishing, in his address before the American Legion convention, delivered at San Antonio, made statements that are worthy of careful consideration by all citizens of Ward County and every other county and especially the ex-service men. Pointing out that less than half of our voters participated in the last general election and that in many instances officials have been elected to high positions with only 8 to 10 per cent of the voters voting, the General continued:

"As partners of the Government under which you are privileged to live, you have a very positive obligation to participate in its management. It is an organization of government by the people and for the people of which each one of you are individuals.

"Of all the people, there are none who should more clearly understand or more sacredly perform their duties than veterans who had the honor to bear arms in the country's cause. I wish that all citizens led by the example of our veterans, would realize that as such we are accountable to our neighbors, our friends, and our children for the kind and the effectiveness of the Government under which they shall live.

"It hardly need be stated that as a people we are quite as responsible for the loss of our liberties through default, neglect or ignorance as we would be to lose them through failure to defend them by force of arms.

"Such neglect leaves open the door for the charlatan or the demagogue to enter and assume control of affairs both local and otherwise. The standards of official life are lowered and the administrations of public force frequently becomes the source of personal gain.

"A Government determined by less than 50 per cent of the total possible vote cannot be justly called a government by the people. It is a government by minority. The lethargy thus indicated on the part of our people has become a serious menace to our institutions.

Under no flag in the world have people ever enjoyed greater freedom or found more happiness. These things are too precious to be lost through neglect."—Copied from Ward County News.

Official paper of Terry County.

A Klan paper we receive each week from Washington had much to say recently about a current issue of the Red Cross Magazine being suppressed recently because it had a complimentary article about Mr. Hoover. We saw a copy of the article, and it was the same kind of propoganda offered this paper early in the campaign from Republican headquarters. Now, the Red Cross is a national institution and gets its funds from Democrats and Republicans alike and in view of the fact that it carried a partisan article it should have been suppressed and the editor fired be the article for Hoover or Smith.

The Colorado Record, the proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on next Tuesday should have careful consideration. Now the Record should act with some care and discretion when talking about a change in the constitution as many people, including some editors, are of the opinion that our constitution, state or national, is a sacred document, and any talk of a change is liable to nail the talker as a nullificationist.

Did You ever notice that the fellow who never has an ad in the home paper is always the bird that puts a big sign on the elephant when the circus comes to town. Well, that's just the clown in him popping out. He gets to advertise about once every five years according to the way circuses come to Brownfield, and he is usually out of business before the circus comes round again.

The Republicans got Lindbergh on their side, but us Democrats evened things up by getting Babe Ruth on our side. Give us a home run next Tuesday, Babe.

The Wilson Pointer is now printed in the shop of the O'Donnell Index, according to the latter paper. Well, the offspring resembles the parent of late, and we mean this as a compliment.

ONE-SIXTH OF OUR TIME USED TO PAY TAXES

While, in the majority of businesses the tax bill is one of the greatest single items of overhead, business men give far less thought and consideration to this expense than to other, and often smaller, expenditures which they control directly.

According to an article in the Tax our national income Digest, approximately one-sixth of our national income now goes to pay the cost of government. Three years ago, in 1925, one-eighth of our national income was used for this purpose. And before the war taxes took but one-sixteenth.—Colorado Record.

AN ABLE EDITORIAL BY AN ABLE EDITOR

(The Georgetown Sun, one of the oldest and best edited papers in Texas, says editorially):

The Sun is a product of the Old South. Fifty-one years ago, twelve years after the close of the Civil War, and five years after the last vestige of carpetbag rule in Texas and the South has been brought to a summary close by the patriotic spirit of an undaunted race of men and women who had been beaten but not vanquished in '65, after four and one-half years of strife which had reduced their homes to ashes and their loved ones to want. Born in such surroundings and having assisted in the rehabilitation of prosperity out of the destruction spread over the Southland like a withering pall by the armies of the Union whose commander-in-chief was the representative of the Republican party, the Sun could never, never find itself aligned with the candidate of that party again seeking power. But one will say, "the war is over; that was sixty-three years ago; let us forget we are a re-united country." Indeed, we are a re-united country; the Flag is our Flag, we have suffered much for it and we are willing to suffer more. Sixty-three years tho it be since the close of the war, the five years of strife were not as bitter as the ten which succeeded them when the beloved South was crushed beneath the booted heel of a carpetbag oppression fostered by the Republican party, and which released its grip only when the iron blood of the unyielding South forced the black hand of negro supremacy which that Republican misrule had placed about the throat of my people and yours. Yes, sixty-three years have passed and we are a re-united people, but the waves which beat against the rock bound coast of Maine are not as musical to us as that sweet requiem which is sung by the Mexican Sea over those loved and lost, killed in battle or dead and broken hearts because of the desolation and the shame of Republican armies, and Republican misrule. Yes, sixty-three years have passed and we are a re-united country but that does not restore the plantations destroyed during the strife brought on, not because our ancestors refused to have their State's Rights trampled upon by a Republican administration drunk with power and out on a manhandling expedition designed to humiliate the greatest race of people and the most prosperous section of country the sun's rays ever fell upon; those sixty-three years do not efface the memory of the story that bland grandmother as she recited the tragedy of her husband who stood in the halls of a State and plead against cession and, when voted down, organized a company of soldiers and went to the front to meet his death at Chancellorsville, it does not efface the memory of the story she told of the death of every male member of her family and the taking of her prosperous home by Sherman as he marched to the sea, its destruction by fire on leaving as he took all her worldly goods for the use of the invading army. Ah, yes, sixty-three years passed and we are a re-united country; we love our flag and our blood has soiled its field of blue and its field of white; oved ones sleep at Shiloh, at Chancellorsville and at Menassas, they sleep also from the ravages of disease in Cuba where they helped to plant the Stars and Stripes above Morro Castle; they sleep in Flanders Fields and the Great Lakes Training camp, but forget the sufferings of the Civil War and Reconstruction—never! as long as the red blood of the Old South courses through the veins of her sons and daughters, as long as the patriotism of the Southern soldiers and the chivalry of her aristocratic legions reared in luxury and reduced to want by the invading armies who, in their strength threw off the oppression of Republican misrule is revered the South will cast no potential vote for the Republican party, and no appeal to the passions and prejudices of the masses seeking to cause them to turn their backs on the traditions of their fathers and mothers will avail.

Dickens County is lucky in having for one of its citizens a forward-looking man like W. B. Lee, president of the Spur National Bank. For years without number the banks of Texas have virtually forced the farmers of the cotton producing part of the State to put all of their land into cotton by refusing to loan money for making any other crop. It mattered not to them that the one-crop system was impoverishing both the soil and the farmers. Cotton was a staple crop that lent itself admirably to mortgage transactions since it is not perishable and can not conveniently be disposed of without the knowledge of the money lender. But the Spur banker is of a different sort. He takes an altogether different view and a few years ago "staked" a number of the bank's customers to money with which to buy dairy cows. As evidence that prosperity follows the cow, he records that many of those men who were in the habit of borrowing each year for the financing of their crop, did not ask for a cent this year and their cows and chickens are paying their operating expenses, leaving their cotton clear. As a result, Mr. Lee is suggesting that Dickens county take for its slogan this year: More Feed on More Acres, More Cotton on Fewer Acres, More and Better Cows on Every Farm." That he is in earnest about it is vouched for by the fact that he offers the facilities of his institution to assist in putting over such a program and if the farmers of Dickens county shall need his advise, there isn't the slightest doubt in the world that the Spur National Bank will be called upon to finance fewer and fewer cotton farmers as the years pass. NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Will H. Hayes, in a statement made that is going the rounds of the newspapers, has this to say relative to newspaper advertising:

"There may be somewhere such a thing as a town that does better business than is indicated by the patronage of its local paper, but I have never seen one in Texas. The surest way to judge the activities of a place is to get a few copies of the local paper, read the advertisements and take them at the best indication of when their town is dead or alive. They tell the tale unerringly."

MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF MEADOW, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS

The city council of the city of Meadow, Terry County, Texas met in regular session on the 8th day of October, A. D. 1928 at the Meadow Drug Store, at 8 o'clock a. m.

Present: Robert E. Welch, Mayor, and C. W. Avary, W. E. Patton, H. S. Lusk, Sam Branch and Luther Herrington, Councilmen, the duly elected and qualified and acting City Council, of the said City of Meadow, and John W. Cadenhead the duly qualified and acting City Secretary of the said City Council of the City of Meadow.

Mayor Robert E. Welch presided at the meeting, and John W. Cadenhead acted as secretary of the meeting.

Thereupon came on for consideration the matter of revising ordinance Number Seven (7), said ordinance regulating traffic on certain Streets in the City of Meadow, Terry County, Texas and declaring an emergency, was introduced by C. W. Avary of the City Council of the City of Meadow, and read in full for the first time by John W. Cadenhead, who was acting as clerk of said meeting. Motion was made by Luther Herrington, a member of the City Council of the City of Meadow, seconded by Sam Branch, a member of the City Council of the City of Meadow, that the rules be suspended, and that said ordinance be read the second and third time and put upon its passage. Upon roll call motion was adopted by the following vote:

YES—C. W. Avary, Sam Branch,

W. E. Patton, Luther Herrington, H. S. Lusk.

Said Ordinance was then read the second and third time and motion was made by Luther Herrington, a member of the City Council of the City of Meadow, that said Ordinance be adopted as read. Upon roll call the motion was adopted by the following vote.

YES—C. W. Avary, Sam Branch, W. E. Patton, Luther Herrington, H. S. Lusk.

Thereupon the said Ordinance was declared passed and was approved in open meeting by Robert E. Welch, Mayor, attested by John W. Cadenhead, who was acting as clerk of said meeting.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and unanimously adopted said Ordinance was given number 8 and ordered, recorded in the Ordinance Record of Meadow, Texas, which said Ordinance is in words and figures as follows: Ordinance Number 8, An Ordinance regulating traffic on certain streets in the City of Meadow, Terry County, Texas; Providing the manner for parking cars thereon, and fixing punishment for violation of Said Ordinance.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Meadow, Terry County, Texas, that all vehicles when parking on any main street in said city shall park at the curb of said street as above designated at an angle of 45 degrees from the direction in which said vehicle is traveling, and such vehicle shall be parked in such manner as to permit free travel on said street, without interfering with the passage of vehicles traveling thereon. Said Ordinance Number 7 providing the manner for parking cars, on said street as above designated shall be null and void, from and after passage of this ordinance.

Any person, or persons, violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine upon conviction of not less than $1.00 dollar, and not more than $25.00 dollars;

The authorities of said city shall publish this ordinance in the manner and form required by law, and same shall be spread on minutes of said city.

Passed and approved in regular meeting this the 8th day of October, A. D. 1928.

Robert E. Welch, Mayor.

(Attest):
John W. Cadenhead, Secretary.

FORD RADIATORS MADE TO PASS SEVERE TESTS

In the Hiland Park plant of the Ford Motor company at Detroit, there is a machine which tries with all the efficient fiendishness of an engine of destruction, to shake the life out of a Ford automobile radiator in the shortest possible time.

Ten hours is the time allotted to this machine, known as an "agitator", to do all within its power to ruin a water filled Ford radiator. At the end of that period the much abused radiator is taken off the machine and examined by experts for any signs of damage and a brand new Ford radiator, also filled with water, is put on for another ten hours of torment.

This agitator device is part of the testing equipment for radiators that are being built for the new Model A Ford car. When you watch it jiggling and jolting and shaking the gurgling radiator, you have a feeling that no automobile driver could drive a car over roads and at a speed which would give it such severe shaking up and still hold on to his wheel and his seat. Then the factory foreman tells you that within the period of ten hours this agitator gives the new radiator more and severer jars and jolts than the average Ford car will get in its whole lifetime of service.

And he tells you also that the great majority of radiators tested on this agitator come through the ordeal without sign of injury. Those that spring even the smallest leaks are rare indeed.

MEADOW BRIEFS

(By Aesculapias)

MEADOW CORRESPONDENT
ROMPS ON BOLTERS

After a few days wandering around in the eastern and southeastern part of the state I find myself back at home more contented to remain on the plains than ever before.

Crops immediately east of us are in a very poor way to make any adequate return to those who have worked hard to make them. Very little cotton and less feed. In fact did not see a farm that looked as if it had made adequate feed to run them thru the winter.

Through Williamson, Travis and Caldwell counties the crops were very much better. Cotton appeared to be making an average crop and I was surprised to see so much still in the fields, while there appeared to be sufficient feed to meet the wants of the farms.

I heard little of politics from anyone except in those instances where I made inquiry. In some places I was informed that Hoover was strongest and in others that Smith was the best man.

I had pasted a large picture of Al Smith to the car window which generally provoked some discussion at places I stopped. One woman who kept a gasoline station informed me that if I traveled through that county with that picture on my wind shield it would get me into trouble. A man nearby, however, reassured me that there were others besides myself that would support the ticket.

Another thing that kept me from feeling blue was that inquiry generally elicited the fact that Hooverites were either Republicans or Ku Klux or else women who had been coached on the religious issue.

While in Austin I visited the headquarters of both sides and found a lone woman in each. Not much apparent enthusiasm on either side. These places seemed to be simply for distribution of literature. Both ladies told me that they regarded the outcome with considerable doubt. I am of opinion that the Democrats of Texas are taking too much for-granted at least until recently. Hoover literature is issued and distributed in great abundance. It is distributed by preachers to their members and the religious side is always stressed and many women believe that Al Smith's election will be the death of the particular church to which she belongs. Men know better and are not so impressionable as their mates.

Another thing that is helping Hoover is the distribution of circular letters by many large concerns in the state and I presume it is being done everywhere. I have recently received three of these letters. The last from a large farm loan company of this state. They begin their harangue by the statement "We are going to vote the straight Democratic ticket as we pledged in the Primary and we are going to vote for Herbert Hoover and against Al Smith, for whom by no word or act have we ever been under obligations to vote." Then they go on to urge their "Fellow Citizens" to follow the same traitorous example. They then dip into prohibition and immigration and the foreign vote of New York City.

This same bunch have their fingers on the throats of many farmers thru-out the state and doubtless expect to influence many of their borrowers into accepting Hoover. Good men doubtless, in many ways, but they know what they want and are going after it—but I don't owe them a d—cent, am a Democrat, a Southern man, keep my pledges to my party as scrupulously as any other vow and wouldn't be caught in the motly crew of Republicans, negroes, ku klux, has beens and what nots any more than in a drunken brawl.

Personally, I would prefer to see Al Smith defeated than to see the Southern manhood and womanhood mixed up with Republicans and negroes in an effort to return to power the dirtiest bunch of corruptionists who ever ruled this United States. Every man and woman that has read the papers for the past three years knows this assertion to be true.

There is no denial of these charges of thievery by cabinet officers of Harding and Coolidge and Mr. Hoover was part and parcel of the gang that did it. While he was not accused of the stealing he consorted with and was a boon companion of those who did. The only Republican who has ever opened his head publicly was poor old Borah and he is now down here in Texas and other Southern states trying to get Democrats to help elect the man whom he regards as unfit for the place.

Let every man and woman who call themselves Democrats think once, twice and many times before leaving their party because of a foolish notion about prohibition, religion or any other ism hatchd out by corrupt Republicans, and Ku Klux, who are a darned sight worse than Republicans or religious fanatics or any scourge that has blighted the Southland.

Hoover-hybrids need not get their backs up at having the negro, Republican contingent as their political consorts, for be it known that it would be absolutely impossible to elect a Republican president of these United States without the negro vote. There is only one white man's party and it is Democratic north and south, east and west. There were no negro delegates at Houston but more than a hundred at Kansas City.

We may talk of ignorant foreigners supporting Al Smith in New York; what of the foul smelling superstitious negroes that will be your associates in the Republican ranks thru-out the large cities of the North and South. Negroes have made it possible for the Republicans to stay in power. Hoover loves them.

Tragedier of the Highway

On my return from Austin, we left at an early hour and the morning was very foggy. After I had driven some twelve or fifteen miles we found a man lying on the highway. Near by was a Ford with a flat tire. There were four men standing over the body which had been hit by a car. It was the body of a dead negro who had perhaps been struck while trying to fix his tire.

That evening when we were entering the town of Snyder we came on quite a number of persons at the railway crossing. We stopped and saw a large auto lying by the road side badly wrecked. An old man and his wife were killed in this accident. Three lives snuffed out in one day, on one highway. Rapid and careless driving, account for most of them. The silent face and crushed body and limbs of the negro boy excited little pity in the group about him and the two broken bodies of the old people at the crossing were not remembered by many for a block. I find that if I am to stay up with the crowd on the highways nothing short of 35 to 50 miles an hour will suffice.

A boy with a girl across his lap or sitting with her arms entwined about his neck couldn't see a car thirty feet away and had just as soon have a collision as not.

Governor Moody has at last laid aside his sulkiness and gone on the stump in defense of the party that has twice honored him. He said that he didn't regard the ticket in danger or he would have responded sooner—yeah.—Aesculapias.

FARM THIEVES HAVE STARTED OPERATIONS

Chicken thieves have started operations in Oklahoma and Texas, declares the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman of November 1st. These thieves may get away with close to $1,000,000 worth of chickens and other property in this territory during the coming winter unless farmers take steps to prevent it.

Only community organization can handle the problem of farm thievery. A good many communities are reviving their anti-thief organizations, replenishing their reward funds and making plans to catch the first thief who molests property belonging to members.

County officers and deputies are being advised of these awards. A careful check is being kept on chickens, livestock and other property so that a complete report can be made to officers in case of a theft. Officers often complain that farmers are usually two or three days late in reporting a loss but some communities are taking steps to report thefts immediately. Other communities will wait until a half dozen farmers have lost several hundred dollars worth of chickens before they take any interest in preventing such thievery.

A paper from Amherst states that Boy Scouts of the Central Plains will get the benefit of $500.00 that was the result of a recent Old Fiddlers' contest. A. R. Copeland of Amherst won first prize of $100.00.

Texas consumes in its mills only about 2.5 per cent of the cotton grown in the state.

ZANDER GUMP WEDDING

Oh, the widow went 'er fishing,
'er fishing she did go,
She caught a sucker made of gold.
Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah.

Oh, it ain't gonna rain no mo, no mo.
Uncle Benjamin, he said so
For the Widow Zanders won her gold.
Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah.

Yes, folks, it's true, the widow Zander has at last captured or captivated Uncle Bim and you are invited to the Rialto Theatre tonight to witness the wedding ceremony, which will be performed by Major Hoople, no other than our jovial friend Tom May. The entire wedding party and guests are made up of some of our most prominent citizens. Maggie and Jiggs will be there. Of course, she carries her good friend, the rolling pin, and believe me, Jiggs steps lively. Mutt and Jeff will be there with calls on. Walt and Skeezix with their praise of Corky who stayed at home with Phyllis. Phyllis won't be there as she says the Zander wiles remind her too much of Madame Octave.

Barney Google, Sunshine, Picky Dink Club, Ambrose Potts, Mr. Appleby and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nebo, Mandy and Plato, Freckles, Jog and Tagalong, and oh! we were about to forget Rachael who is to bring the wonderful Gumps baby, Goliath. At any rate they will be there and all of your favorite funny paper characters. Min as Matron of Honor and Andy as Best Man will be there of course proud as peacocks and Chester says it is to be a "hot weddin'."

Hallowe'en with all its weirdness and spooky goblins and black cats is here again. As Hallowe'en proper came on a school night most of the parties of the school children were given Saturday night. And Saturday night was an ideal night, with a beautiful big moon for young people in fanciful costume to fare forth in search of frolic and adventure.

The grown-ups have had their share of Hallowe'en too for many hostesses have used the decorations and color motif.

Slegh, Leora Proctor, Syble Jones, Iris Lewis, Weldon Moore, Charles Barrett, Eunice Michie, Bonnie Dale Gross, Oreatha Myers, Marjorie Sue and Kathryn Bynum, Bill and Bettie Joe Savage, Wilma Frank Dunn, Ima George Warren, Bert Elliott, Lucile, Shirley and Margaret Burnett, Nina Ruth Dunaway, Orbra Wayne Brothers, Richard Kendrick, Opal Karr, Charles and Beth Hamilton and the children of the hostesses.

Lenore and Lee Brownfield Give Party

Garbed in appropriate costumes the guests were met by a witch and ghost at the door Saturday evening when Miss Lenore and Mr. Lee Brownfield entertained. Fortunes were told during the evening and usual Hallowe'en games played.

Winners in the contests were Ray Brownfield Jr. and Eileen Ellington who received Hallowe'en dolls, and Alma Brown, Adolphus Goodpasture, Katherine Holgate and Murphy May who received boxes of candy.

Face sandwiches, orange salad, cheese balls in shape of pumpkins, olives and punch were served to about fifty guests.

Hallowe'en Party at Home of Velma McClish

Miss Velma McClish was hostess to the Juniors Saturday evening at seven thirty. The rooms were decorated with witches and black cats and pumpkins.

Coming in Hallowe'en costumes the guests, enjoyed many diversions during the evening and were later served hot chocolate.

The guests were May Holgate, Dora Dean Neill, Phylis Holgate, Frank Barrett, Jack Stricklin, Rebecca May, Lela Mae McPherson, Cecil and Wynona Burnett, Vero Miller, Grady Goodpasture, Gilam Graham, Cordia Mae Shepherd, Dick Burson, Roy Ballard, Catherine Gracey, Barney Holgate, Sylvan Tankersly and Misses Fay Patterson and Mildred Woodhead.

Tramp Party for Sunday School Class

Mrs. Leo Holmes entertained her Sunday School class with a tramp party Friday evening. Dressed as tramps the entire party went from house to house and begged for their suppers which they took to an empty box car and ate. Games were played and Hallowe'en favors were given for prizes.

McGowan Entertain With Bridge Party

Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. McGowan entertained the Night Bridge Club Monday evening in their home.

The rooms were gay with Hallowe'en symbols and with golden chrysanthemums. The tallies, lunch cloths and napkins also were in keeping with Hallowe'en.

Bread and butter sandwiches, fruit salad, potato chips, olives and hot tea were served. The plate favors were black and orange nut cups with witches and cats.

High score prizes were won by Mrs. Bailey and Mr. Miller. Mrs. Bailey receiving a beautiful had made linen buffet set of Italian cut work and Mr. Miller a novelty ash tray of a golfer.

The guests were Messrs and Messdames King, Miller, Endersen, Du Bois, Michie, Bowers, Holmes, Alexander and Bailey.

Miss Clema Lou Rowe Weds Mr. Blish

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Clema Lou Rowe and Mr. Matthew B. Blish of Chicago. The wedding was solemnized at the home of a sister, Mrs. O. B. Barcus, October 14th.

The bride is well known here having attended high school and was a graduate in the class of 1923. While here she lived with her sister, Mrs. Fred Smith. She has many friends who wish her much happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Blish are at home at 5202 Cornell Avenue, Chicago.

Delegates To Be Sent To Mothers' Conference

Electing delegates to the Mother's Conference at Amarillo for November 20 was one of the chief items of business transacted at the Parent-Teacher meeting Tuesday evening at seven thirty at the grade school auditorium.

The delegates elected were Mrs. Dunn, president of the P. T. A., Mrs. Helen McSpadden, Mrs. Ivey Savage, and Miss Mozelle Treadaway with Mrs. W. G. Harris, Mrs. Gracey, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Toone as alternates.

SMITH STAND HIT BY BORAH IN HIS PROHIBITION SPEECH

The following is a part of the address Senator William E. Borah of Idaho has been making in his tour of the United States in the interests of the candidacy of Herbert Hoover. Senator Borah spoke in Texas on the tour and was accorded a spirited reception in Dallas. The extract printed below is published upon the request of a local Hoover-ite.

The Threat of Nullification
 Now, if it is not too late, I am going to say a word or two about prohibition. I have only one idea to bring home to you tonight on the question of prohibition. I want to keep that in mind as the central idea which I am trying to convey to you, that all these plans and schemes talked of in this campaign can accomplish but one thing, and that is the nullification not the repeal, of the 18th Amendment. Please bear that in mind as I go along on this subject. As you know, the fight to control the liquor traffic is pretty near as old as the human race. For more than seventy five years in this country men and women have reflected and thought up some scheme to control the liquor traffic. Every one realizes that there must be some control. The evil, the devastating effect of the liquor traffic is so enormous that we must all realize that in some way it must be dealt with. Men and women in this country for more than a century have devised one plan after another. We know as we look back that there was a time when we looked upon these people who were advocating prohibition as faddists or cranks, but the brave men and women who believed that this evil was undermining the home, destroying civilization, fought against all kinds of odds and indescribable adversity until finally, after trying one thing and another, the outlawry of the liquor traffic was incorporated in the great charter of government under which we live.

Law-Obedience is Fundamental
 As soon as it became incorporated into the constitution this became not only a wet and dry question, but also a governmental question because there is no principle more fundamental than that of obedience to the law or to the constitution. If we as a people are unwilling to obey the constitution as we have written it, until we see fit to re-write it, if that time ever comes in this country, then constitutional government is at an end. And what I plead for, and what Mr. Hoover stands for, is the upholding, the maintaining and the enforcement of the constitution of the United States as the people have written it. But the Governor says that the 18th Amendment is being violated, that it spreads the spirit of disobedience and disrespect of law, and therefore, as it is being violated the only way to do is to repeal the law which somebody has violated. Did you ever hear of a liquor law that was not violated? Sunday closing, mid-night closing, prohibition against selling to drunkards, to minors and every conceivable form of constraint or restraint have been violated and disregarded and trampled under foot by the liquor traffic. I live in a state which was bone dry for ten years before the adoption of the 18th Amendment, according to the laws of that state.

Where Were States' Rights
 Where were those people then that think now so much of state rights? My state had a right to be dry, but they poured their illicit liquor over the borders of the state and trampled upon the will of the people of my state; and these people who are now talking about state rights cared nothing about the rights of the state of Idaho. I venture to say that the ingenuity of the human mind will never devise a scheme for the control of the liquor traffic that will be satisfactory to the liquor traffic.

When the Republican convention met in Kansas City it adopted a plank pledging the party to uphold, maintain and enforce the constitution of United States including the 18th Amendment. When the Democratic party met at Houston it likewise passed a resolution pledging the Democratic party to upholding, maintaining and enforcing the constitution of the United States. There this matter ought to have ended. The delegates coming up from the people representing two great parties, speaking the voice of the people pledged their respective parties to the maintenance of the constitution, and there the matter should have closed, but it is in this campaign. How did it get in? Who put it in the campaign? The Democrats at Houston didn't do so. The Republicans did not do so. Let's find out if we can tonight where it came from. Let us find out who saw fit to defy the expressed will of the great body of Democrats and Republicans met in their respective conventions. If you will go with me for a few minutes we will follow the tracks of the tiger.

The Origin Of Whispers
 Governor Smith says that this is a "whispering" campaign. Not on my part. It is not a "whispering" campaign and I am not going to join a whispering campaign either. Where did it come from? When the 18th Amendment was before Congress for adoption every member of Tammany Hall opposed it, fought it, and voted against it. When it went to the New York Legislature for ratification every member of Tammany Hall fought it, opposed it, and voted against it. Follow the tracks of the beast! But the people of the United States ratified it; 46 states out of 48. Then Tammany begins again, first securing passage of a law for 2.75 per cent of alcoholic content. That was the first effort of Tammany to undermine, strike down, demoralize and nullify. The Supreme Court of the United States held that unconstitutional. The next fight that Tammany made was to repeal every law in the state of New York by which the 18th Amendment could be enforced. And the leading sagem of Tammany signed the bill, and New York stepped out of the Union so far as the 18th Amendment is concerned. Under the leadership of a man who had taken an oath as governor to support the constitution of the United States. Then afterwards they proposed a referendum to leave each state to determine the alcoholic content, in direct violation of the constitution itself. This is the track, this is the source. And when the two parties met in convention and declared for the constitution, this organization there through its spokesman, later at Albany, bid defiance to the people of the United States and made their attack upon the 18th Amendment and the constitution under which we live.

Tammany Brought It Out
 It was Tammany Hall through its spokesman that put the liquor question into this campaign. I maintain that upon this issue it is not a fight between parties, but a fight between those who believe in the constitution and a corrupt organization in New York that does not believe in law at all. Now, the first body of men the governor reported to after he was nominated was Tammany Hall. The first speech he made was to Tammany Hall. Ever since the days of Tweed Tammany has been desirous of having a president. That is 60 years ago.
