CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The secretary was out of town Tuesday for the purpose of attending a meeting of commercial executives of the South Plains and at which several of the outstanding problems of this section were discussed. It was a meeting that would have been profitable to any member of the chamber of commerce and especially to the board of directors, but they were all too busy to spare the time away from home, with the exception of Judge H. R. Winston, who accompanied the writer and furnished means of transportation. Judge Winston came home more enthusiastic regarding chamber of commerce work and he has always been a wheelhorse when it came to assisting anything that might be a benefit to his county and town.

Mr. F. A. McCarty, of the West Texas Gas Company, was in town last week for the purpose of securing an estimate of our population and also for city maps showing the corporation lines and map of the county. This office was able to furnish him with all data and maps desired. They expect to comply with their contract with the city and will probably begin serving us by August.

Our efforts toward the location of an experiment station are meeting with some success in that we have secured the cooperation of the college authorities and a bill is being prepared for the purpose of submitting to the Legislature. Of course it can be located at some other point than Brownfield and it is just up to us to see that we get the location, but it is going to take a united effort after the bill is passed and sitting around talking about it will not get us anywhere.

Remember that the annual meeting and banquet will be held at the Hotel Brownfield, Thursday night, February 14th at 7:30.

The rat killing campaign will be pulled off in February. A representative of the United States Department of Agriculture will arrive here on February 4th and will begin organization work, with the end in view that the actual poisoning operations will commence about the 14th and continue for several weeks. Prizes will be offered by the chamber of commerce for the largest number of rats killed in each school district and also for individual kills. A committee has been appointed and will work out the premium list and publish it in the Herald in order that all may know the rewards to be had. Outside of getting rid of a vermin that is taking considerable toll from the production of this county.

A few days ago, the question was asked of one of our citizens as to whether the chamber of commerce was working for the town or the county. And the writer desires to say that the program covers work that we think will be for the general good of both town and county. We are not trying to develop Brownfield, by undertaking to locate additional lines of business as we have a sufficient number of merchants of different classes, but the county does need more farmers and when we get them the town will become larger. Our slogan is—Develop The County, The Town Will Develop Itself. In other words the town is absolutely dependent upon the county and when we have lots of farmers and they are prosperous, the people in town will benefit thereby.

NOTICE TO CLUB MEMBERS

All club members who handed in a record book this past year may get a club diploma by calling at the office. Reorganization of clubs will not begin until February 11th.

R. B. Davis, County Agent.

TERRY SHOULD BID FOR NEXT SWINE BREEDERS MEET

The Panhandle Swine Breeders Association will hold their annual meeting and sale at Lamesa, January 22 and 23. There will be some of the best hogs in the country offered for sale at this time together with a very interesting program on hog raising. Terry county should bid for the 1930 meeting.

Interesting Dairy Meet At the Court House

What proved to be a very interesting and beneficial meeting of farmers was held in the district court room last Saturday afternoon. Dairying was the principal subject of discussion and it was handled by both local and outside men.

Figures showing that the cream checks of Terry county exceeded the value of the cotton crop were given by J. E. Shelton, Secretary C. of C. Further evidence of the value and changes that have been made in farming throughout this section was brought out in a talk by Morgan Copeland. Mr. Copeland pointed out that despite the low prices of 1928 and the short crops of 1927 and 1928 that the county is in much better condition than it was prior to this time. The reason he gave for our smaller indebtedness and our larger per capita deposits are due to the more diversified system of farming that is being followed now.

Mr. B. B. Holland, a dairy farmer and representative of the Mistletoe Creamery, said that there was more than seventy-five times as much cream produced in this territory than there was ten years ago. He attributed this increase to several causes, one of the biggest of which was the increased production per cow brought about by improving the herd by the use of pure bred sires. The need of this county of one or more Jersey Bull Circles is apparent when he told that the services of a good sire may be had for ten years by combining five bulls in a circle and changing bulls every two years.

Prof. W. L. Stangel, of the Tech College, gave a very interesting and helpful discussion on feeding dairy cows. He gave several factors to be considered in feeding for milk, the principal one being the cost of feed. The ration that has given the most satisfactory results thus far at the College is the one composed of six pounds of ground heads or ear corn, two pounds of wheat bran and two pounds of cotton seed meal. This was supplemented with all the cane that cows could eat together with silage and four pounds of alfalfa per head per day. The above grain ration or a ration composed of seven pounds of ground ear corn or heads and three pounds of cotton seed meal will make a good, cheap, and fairly well balanced ration. The amount of these rations to feed will depend largely on the individual cow. Usually it will pay to feed all a cow will clean up as long as she will increase or hold up in her milk and not get fat. Bundles with the grain on them should not be fed without grinding, but it is a question whether it will pay to have the stalks themselves ground.

Chisholm Brothers Installing Big Hatchery

A representative of the firm of Chisholm Bros., this city, informed us this week that they had ordered wire from the factory at Cleveland, Ohio, the very latest model of electric hatchery of 15,000 egg capacity and that as soon as it arrived, it would be located in the rear end of their west store building and put to work.

It is said to be the very latest model of hatcheries and thoroughly electric, here being no oil burners, and therefore it will of course be always even and under control. They are purchasing this more for the benefit of their many store customers than for any idea of making money out of it.

Chisholm Brothers are progressive in every sense, and are going forward to make their store a department store in every way. They have recently added a full line of Rock Island implements and repairs.

NOTICE

Tuesday at noon a man called me and asked that I come to see his son. I understood him to say his name was Beck. I went to Mr. Beck's and found it was a mistake. I then did not know where to go.

Should that man see this notice please call at my office and allow me to explain.

That Famous "Rich and Poor" Map Up Again

Well, old Dallas is still sore at the Herald for what it had to say concerning their "rich and poor map" published more than a month ago. We were led to believe that the thing had been settled and forgotten, but on January 10th, Mr. John Boswell, manager of the Southwest Development Service took his typewriter in hand to reopen a new engagement with us. His opening sentence is, "Please don't shoot." Now, my dear John, this is no longer the "wild west" even if you Dallas fellows still think so, and for your special information, we wish to state that there is not half the necessity of carrying 40-ounce odds in Terry county as there is in Dallas. There is not a hi-jacking or bank robbing case on record in this county. No danger of your being shot out here, John, unless you use "corn juice" and you'll have to bring your own from Dallas.

John says he hopes some day to do something that will please us. Well, all he has to do is to acknowledge that the map in question and its publication was a blunder and did us an injustice, and we'll be hugely well pleased. But like all the others who have written in to protest, John is inclined to argue the question with us, and wants us to understand that it was based on population instead of mere per capita wealth, and says that the same fellow that got this ancient document up was the same fellow that got up the Texas Commercial News Map recently that did please us. Well now that's fine; Dallas is making some progress.

Also, John wants us to come down some time and he'll personally show us around. John, dear, you need not look for us right soon, and not then if the weather happens to be hot. We used that during the fair and liked to have coo-cooed. Again, if we are not shown any more courtesy by you than the wholesale people from whom we have been purchasing for years, showed us in October, we don't care whether we ever see your burg again. That's what we think of Dallas, to be real plain.

But John says he's going to come out here before long to personally see us and his friend Shelton, presumably our commercial secretary. He aims to beard the lion in his den, perhaps. Good! We promise to show John every courtesy possible while he is here including a good feed. We aim, if he comes, to carry him around to a couple of banks that will show per capita deposits that would shame some of the counties in east Texas which the map says are rich. We'll show him more corn being put on the market and shipped to his and other "rich counties" than he ever thought grew in one Texas county. We hope and pray that John does visit us; we want to open his eyes for one time to the possibilities of this section and what its future trade will mean to Dallas if that city wants to play fair and deserve our trade.

John closes by promising us protection from the Jews if we will come to Dallas. Listen, John: It is our understanding that you have a certain secret organization in your county that controls things down there, and one of its tenants is down with the Catholics and Jews. Up here that organization is practically down and out, the men composing it finding we had no use here for such an organization. With these explanations, it would seem that YOU are the ones who are afraid of the Jews—not US, John.

He also sent us another explanation of the map, which in fairness to John and Dallas people in general, we are reproducing elsewhere in these columns.

Come to Terry!

First Monday Crowd Exceeds Expectations

First Monday Trades Day have been started here at least twice before this, but played out in a few months for lack of patronage or interest and many advanced the theory that people did not trade horse any longer as most of them come to town in cars, but it seemed that a lot of them were here last first Monday, and it was our initial day this time. More are expected next first Monday, and probably a greater effort will be made to bring them here.

Horse trading besides, is just one of the many features that can be made of trades days. There are numerous things that can be brought to bear not only to make the day interesting to those who attend, but also profitable to many. There are numerous things each family possess, perhaps, that they do not need in the least, while some other farmer has something he does not need but is willing to exchange it for what you have. In this way both are greatly benefited and satisfied. Then, with a good auctioneer on the ground, many articles you have no use for can be easily transferred into a reasonable amount of cash.

This time we have a man to really push Trades Day in the person of W. E. Legg, local auctioneer, and this was something we lacked each time before. Everybody's business is no one's business, and the day played out by default. But, with Legg hustling the matter, we believe that it can be made a great day.

The writer had just got up from the flu, and was therefore unable to be out on the grounds much, but from what we could see from a car, and what we gathered from conversation, we are led to believe that it was both an interesting and profitable day to many.

Legion Pulls Another Big Sporting Event

We did not get to attend the second monthly sporting event at the American Legion Hall last week on account of the fact that we believed, being still mighty weak, the bed was the place for us.

However, we understand that they had several interesting bouts, including some real knockouts, one fellow from Seagraves taking the full ten from a local mauler. There were also several other minor boxing events leading up to the real feature, that were declared interesting and all who attended agree that it was far ahead of last month, and that is saying a great deal. An interesting wrestling match was also featured.

The boys are already looking out for material for the one next month and promise you your full half dollar's worth of fun and interest. It is said the hall was pretty well crowded last Thursday night.

Many Fine Porkers Being Marketed Here

Several weeks ago we told you of a big seven hundred lb. porker being marketed by Lee Hulse. A few days after that another weighing practically the same amount was marketed by a gentleman of the Union community, whose name we failed to get.

This week John Burnett marketed two fine ones, one weighing 695 lbs., and the other 430. The net receipt being $80.03. We understand that Howell & Lovelace bought John's pigs.

It is also reported that one weighing between 600 and 700 was purchased this week from Bill Settles by Crede Gore, but we did not get the exact weight, or what the hog brought Bill.

Anyway, Terry is coming into its own in the hog business, and we believe that we are mighty near shipping out as much pork as we ship in, and that is something most southern counties do not do.

J. H. Griffin is a new reader of Brownfields and now Terry County's best weekly.

Gaines County Regrets Losing Agent Davis

Both papers of Gaines county, the Seminole Sentinel and the Seagraves Signal, express regret at losing Roy Davis as their part time county agent, and we know that the people of that progressive county share these regrets with their papers, for although doing part time work, Roy has almost equalled the full time of many agents. We can at least say this for Terry county. But with his services for the full time, we know that many good things are going to be accomplished this year.

In this connection, we understand that Gaines county has secured the full time services of Mr. McFetridge who comes to them from Waco, and we are confident that he is a man that will endeavor to put over a good program for Gaines county, and will immediately take up the good work where Roy left off. We at least congratulate our neighbor on securing another and a full time agent.

We also take off our hats to old Terry for having secured the full time services of Roy Davis for the coming year. We know what stuff he is made of, and that he tries to make his services worth 100 per cent. It was a hard task to get the people to consent to a county agent, for most of them who did not happen to hail from a county who had an agent, thought the expenditure of money for an agent, a needless expense. But in 1873, January 1. At the lately are emphatic in their opinion that a county agent does not cost one penny, for, they say, a good county agent like ours pays his own way and more.

Roy is a worth while lad in other ways too. He has the school system of the county at heart; he is a faithful attendant upon his church services; and is a prime club member and a booster for the civic as well as the commercial advancement of our city. Would that we had more of his tribe.

Would Take Old Terry For His Farming

The Herald had a letter this week from the Martin family of Prescott, Ariz., who formerly made boots in Brownfield, enclosing the check that will keep the Herald in their home another year, which they say without it, they would be lost. They also tell us that they have all been down with the flu but are back on the job again, but that the flu was bad there and noools, churches, theatres, etc were closed for three weeks. The rest of the letter was personal, except—

They went down to the State Capitol during the summer to see the fair, and found they had nothing on Terry county in the way of exhibits, despite the fact that they irrigate, and old Terry does not depend on irrigation. Young Frank wends up the letter by stating that if he were a farmer he would come back to Terry county to do it.

But Frank really never saw Terry county put on a real fair like it had at fall. We wish he could have been here to see not only the matchless agricultural exhibits, but the immense lot of livestock, especially the hog section. Then too, the merchants and implement dealers had exhibits at the ground that would have done credit to cities of 20,000 population. Make us a visit next fall if you can Frank and see the progress that has been made since you left.

Ohio Man Gives Advice On Deep Plowing

Akron, Ohio, Jan 11, 1929
To the Terry County Herald:—

I am no writer for the papers, but noticing an article on deep plowing in your issue of December 14th, and as I have had ten years experience, I was deeply interested, and think Terry county stands greatly in need of deep breaking. For several years I was located on the Blaylock colonization land in old Mexico, where I own 820 acres, but was forced to leave there on account of war. Our experience was to break from 2 to 6 inches at first according to condition of the soil, and increase the depth from year to year, permitting the newly turned soil to have the benefit of the sun and gather plan life with the change of weather conditions. Breaking should be done as early in the fall as possible, and thoroughly rework the soil before planting time.

I have 320 acres of land in Terry county, and visited that section 8 years ago, and believe your sandy lands could be greatly benefited by deep breaking.

Referring back to his experience in old Mexico, the writer, Mr. P. P. Shriber, says that he could grow three crops on the same land and get heavier yields by deep breaking than he could one crop with shallow breaking. He experimented with many crops down there, most of which we grow here, including broom corn, corn and cotton. He could grow oats but no wheat. But he found that a gradual increase in deep breaking to be the best, and found that it always yielded an increase in the crop planted. He thinks old Mexico the coming country if peace ever settles on that land for good, but says he's too old to start farming again at 72 years. He is now nightwatching for an oil company in his city, but says he and the Mrs. are coming down to Terry in the spring and see what we are doing here.

We are glad to hear from Mr. Shriber, and believe his experience is worth something to our farmers here. He says that he does not believe that farmers experiment enough. They ought to do more of it on their own hook. Anyway, we are giving his experience for what it is worth to our farmers.

Old Timers Pay Herald Office a Short Call

Mrs. Georgia Epperson, of the Pride community, and Grandpa J. S. Pelton, who has made his home with Mrs. Epperson since she lost her husband some five years ago, called at the Herald office last Friday and chatted for a few minutes.

Mrs. Epperson says she did not make much cotton, but had a splendid feed crop, and stored away plenty of it to run the farm, as well as many other farm products. She always raises a lot of peanuts of the large eating variety, and always sends in a bag of them in exchange for the Herald another year.

These good people don't come to town often, but when they do we are always pleased to see them, for they always have a bright outlook on life and leave one feeling more optimistic after talking with them.

Harrel Hansen, or was it Anton, we can never tell them apart, was in last week and informed us that he had his cotton out, and got 18 bales. His average was about one-fifth bale per acre, but he made one-third bale per acre on 18 acres he planted in real good seed, which if this six bales on eighteen acres were subtracted from the 18 bales on about 85 acres, leaves an awful poor showing for the rest. Mr. Hansen is therefore a great believer in good planting seed.

If you are inclined to be a howler, read the bank statements this week and then "holler."

The stork got busy down at Rochester the other day and delivered two fine girl babies in homes of two brothers within an hour of each other. Family congratulations are in order.

Well, we expected to get back to normal this week and begin getting out a better paper, as we thought we had finished with flu, but Mrs. Herald flew up with flu Sunday—dagnab it!

The very fact that Dallas and her bunch keeps fighting back with an alibi concerning the map is almost an admitted fact that they have blundered and see it, but reluctant to admit their mistake. Come clean.

We note that the News, Lubbock's newest paper is edited and published by our old friend, J. E. Griffith. Joe was the first type compositor employed by the writer when he purchased the Herald some twenty years ago, and of course we are somewhat highbatted that Joe, our former "devil" is now the main ramrod of such a fine paper as the Lubbock News.

They ought to start up a "Who's Who" column down there at Austin and try to find out exactly "who's who" in the 14th congressional district. One day we are led to believe that Texas still has one Republican member of congress and the next day it appears we have a solid Democratic body. When will the suspense end?

So they now have an heir apparent at the State White House at Austin in the person of Dan Jr. The young fellow was immediately made mascot of the senate by unanimous vote, but of course he was too young to protest and will just have to put up with what is doled out to him. It is said he is red-headed too, which of course satisfies the paternal side of the house at least.

So far as the majority of the people of the United States are concerned, the witches are all dead or burned, but there are still quite a lot of folks in Pennsylvania and Virginia, it would seem that hang on that these "mysterious old wimmen still 'zist." But, when it comes down to that a great many folks, otherwise well balanced, are juberous of certain little frivolous things, like a black cat crossing the road or street in front of them. Say what you may, but that is an admission that a certain amount of witchcraft still flows in the blood of most of us. Personally, the Herald is not even afraid of black cats.

Sheriff Mun Telford has been laid up with flu for the past week but is able to be out again.

—An Aim of A Friendly Bank—

A purpose of The First National Bank is to combine old-fashioned courtesy and modern banking methods—to make courtesy quite as prominent a feature of its service as the stability of its resources and the skill of its management. By courtesy we mean something more than mere civility—something that will impress the customer with the dignified, friendly confidential relations that subsist between the depositor and the bank.

GRANDMA DAUGHERTY

Terry county has lost at least four of its old pioneer grandmothers lately, which is indeed a heavy blow; being Grandmas Adams, Hunter, Wainscoat and Daugherty. However, Grandma Hunter did not die here, but had made this her home for some 20 years.

Grandma Daugherty, who passed away last Monday, was born in Lauderdale county Mississippi on November 29, 1852, but came to Texas at the age of five and settled with her parents in Milam county. She married F. M. Daugherty in Rockdale, that county in 1873, January 1. At the age of 18 she became a member of the Universalist church, but changed her faith to the church of Christ in the summer of 1910. She was a faithful member of both organizations.

Three girls and a boy were born to this union, the three daughters surviving her. They are Mesdames, W. G. Hardin, A. M. Brownfield and Redford Smith. Her husband passed away 20 years ago. The Daugherty family moved to Terry county more than 24 years ago, and were here when the county was organized.

The memory of these old grandmothers will long be cherished by all the early settlers here.

MRS. B. F. MOORE PASSED AWAY LAST THURSDAY

Mrs. B. F. Moore, 59, died at the family residence last Thursday at 1 o'clock A. M., and the body laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery at 4 P. M. the same day, immediately following funeral services at the Methodist church by her pastor, Rev. B. W. Dodson.

Deceased was a consecrated member of the Methodist church, and also held membership in the Woodman Circle. She had lived in Terry county about eight years.

She is survived by six children, four sons and two daughters. Her husband preceded her in death about 3 years. The sons are Ed, Luther, Roy and Elmer, all living in Terry county except Elmer, who resides in Houston, Texas. The daughters are Mesdames Lee Fulton and Bernie Stice, both of whom reside here.

INDUSTRIAL DALLAS, INC. AGAIN DEFENDS MAP

This map is not a business conditions map, such as are published at intervals by Nation's Business and the business journals. It does not reflect individual buying power. It is a market analysis map, showing the relation of population and income to area—purchasing power per square mile at the time the figures on which it is based were compiled by the Government.

The color order and designations used are those recommended by the National Distribution Conference held in Washington in 1925, which has resulted in a standardized method of preparing and presenting market data, now used by the United States Department of Commerce, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Crowell Publishing Co., the Curtis Publishing Co., the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau and many other institutions.

In using maps of this character, it is important to keep in mind that they are necessarily based on information that for specific localities may be out of date. Governmental figures compiled by counties are only available at 5 or 10 year intervals, hence maps based on such data do not show abnormal growth in specialized areas that may have taken place since the figures were compiled.

Many counties in the Southwest, particularly in certain portions of Western Texas, are entitled to considerably higher rating than given on this map, because of remarkable development in the last three or four years. Official figures, reflecting that development, are, however, not available, and to attempt to estimate those figures would destroy the authenticity of the map.

When new figures become available, another map of this character will be published. It will present an interesting comparison with the present map, as it will show remarkable development in certain sections of the Southwest, particularly in Western Texas, and general growth in population and purchasing power throughout the Southwest.

Signed: Industrial Dallas, Inc.

BRIDGES FOUND TO WEAK FOR OIL MACHINERY

There is a great deal of oil machinery being hauled through this section at present, and oil field trucks are finding many bridges not stout enough to support their loads.

A truck loaded with a large boiler came through Rotan Tuesday afternoon from Trent, bound for Brownfield. On the way here the truck had detoured around most of the bridges on the road trying to find a way through the country where it could ford streams. It attempted to cross the bridge on the Double Mountain river north of town, but when the front trucks went on the bridge it is said the sleepers of the bridge gave way and the truck backed off. Wednesday morning the truck headed south seeking a route where there were no small bridges.

This truck carried a 7-ton load, and there are not many bridges in this section that are supposed to accommodate a load heavier than five tons.—Rotan Advance.

Mrs. W. W. Ditto of this place lost her mother, Mrs. Houston of Lamesa, last Friday. Elder Cliff Sanders was called to Lamesa Saturday to conduct the funeral services.

Mrs. Irene Duke, of Morton, was here Sunday visiting her mother, Mrs. W. W. Ditto, and sister, Miss Vonie Lee.

R. C. Newsom was in Saturday and informed us that he had 100 acres of good sod land broken which he would cultivate this year for all it makes. This beats renting he says. He reports that ground is breaking good and is in fine shape as it pulverizes easily.

Mrs. Orb Stice is now a regular reader of the Herald.

HARRELL HANSEN PASSED AWAY TUESDAY

Terry county lost one of its very best citizens Tuesday afternoon when Harrel Hansen, 36, passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Enderesen with meningitis following flu.

Mr. Hansen leaves a wife and five children, all under 8 years of age; also both parents, 5 brothers and 2 sisters. Four of the brothers and one sister are married and one, Anton, lives in Terry county. Three married brothers live in Jones county, and the parents, who were here, live in Swisher county.

The body was taken to Stamford for burial. Deceased was a member of the American Legion, whose flag was half masted Wednesday.

Harrel was born in Williamson county, but moved to Jones county in 1908. He removed to Terry county with his family and brother in 1923. He was a member of the Lutheran church.

Such is life. The editor and Harrel dined together at the American Cafe only last Thursday night, at which time he was planning the future, although then complaining of not feeling very well.

FIVE STORIES TO BE ADDED TO HOTEL

Lubbock, Texas, Jan. 13.—Quickly upon the heels of announcement of the Hilton Hotel company contracting to purchase the Merrill hotel property here, at Texas Avenue, where they will erect a 12-story hotel to cost approximately $700,000, the Lubbock Hotel company announced Tuesday that their expansion program will include the advertising bids in a short time for building five more stories on their hotel at Broadway and Avenue K.

Recently, through W. A. Myrick Sr., president of the Lubbock Hotel Operating company, plans for building an annex of 11 stories on their property just west of the present hotel, and of further plans to build additional stories on the present structure were announced, the total cost to be in the neighborhood of $400,000 or more.

M. E. Ellington, after being a resident in Brownfield of about one year has moved back to the farm near Meadow.

In the passing of Grandma Daugherty, goes another of this county's pioneers. Not only that, but there goes another of those good old Grandmas, who by her usefulness, became known and loved by more than her kin. Back in the sparse old days, appreciated only by those who endured them, when our families were young, and our parents were in the old homestead back yonder, when a family needed a friend, Grandma Daugherty was easily found, and quick to respond, and there may be many of us, who in sickness and in health, have enjoyed the benefits of her motherly advice and her company, and she had an ever welcome in our midst, and that beautiful character we'll never forget. While she lived it was "Grandma," now she's gone, it's a Star in our memory. Those who knew her best may well ask "what sweeter soul could a mortal be?"

Her passing was sad to all, but to us old timers it brings another reminder of a coming event, more certain than gentle. While we grieved o'er her passing, yet as human knowledge

SOUTH'S INDUSTRIAL FUTURE DEPENDS ON HORSE POWER

"It is the power that lies in generated electricity, power that moves the machinery of the New South's great industries. It is the power that lies in her mountain torrents, in her rivers, in her coal deposits, in her voluminous natural gas. It is the power that constitutes one of the fundamental reasons for the New South's startling industrial growth today. In itself, it is one of the South's greatest resources, already developed to an amazing point of efficiency and economy, and still possibly the least developed of all these resources. For no living man can estimate with any degree of accuracy the extent of power yet undeveloped in the borders of the Southern states," writes Arthur Coleman in the current issue of Holland's, The Magazine of the South.

Mr. Coleman goes on to say, "Industry is moving Southward. It is moving in ever-increasing numbers, and with greater and greater swiftness. And to meet the demands of industry, power must be developed; for power is the sinew of industry. And this explains, possibly, why in the past 20 years the South has shown an increase in developed horsepower of 178 per cent, while the remainder of the United States has shown only 105 per cent increase. It is the reason for the increase, since January 1, 1927, of approximately a quarter million horsepower in the installed capacity of Southern hydroelectric plants, representing as it does more than 41 per cent of the entire country's aggregate gain for that period.

"It is the reason which ultimately will justify, in all probability, the existence in the South of approximately 100,500 square miles of coal land, its five-billion-barrel oil reserves, its untold natural gas supply, and its vast water-power resources. For the South, with its mountains and its valleys, and resulting swift and husky streams and rivers, is going in rather extensively for water-power development. The South is fond of power. It needs power; and as time goes on, can use more and more. For staggering as has been the progress of the South during the past six decades, it is but a beginning—a forewarning of the greatness to follow."

CLASS SLEEPERS ARE NO LONGER PUNISHED

FORTH WORTH, Jan. 14.—Sleeping in class is as old as classes themselves; being required to sleep in class is new. But that is exactly what occurred at Texas Christian University here yesterday. And not only that, but the excessive credit for their slumbering!

Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy, director of physical education for women at T. C. U., does not bother to talk her classes to sleep as do some professors. She has a room outfitted for a rest class and sends certain students there for an hour each day to sleep.

The unusual thing about this rest class, however, is that the girls who are required to sleep are not, as some might suppose, the girls who have had late dates the night before and would welcome a little nap between classes. They are the girls who are underweight and nervous, and are placed in the rest class because they are unable to take regular gymnasium work. Those who are underweight are not only required to sleep, but to drink milk as well. Girls are frequently placed in the rest class after operations or long periods of illness until they can recover sufficiently to take regulation physical education work. Other reasons for placing them in this class are nervousness, heart trouble, hay fever, asthma, round shoulders, weak muscles and fallen arches.

Showers amounting to half an inch fell here last week. Rains here in January are rather unusual, but our weather conditions have been quite unusual for the past year.

Roy Collier was called to the Leveland country Sunday night to carry a body in the hearse to Knox City. He had another call almost immediately to carry a body from Yoakum county to Jayton for burial, but had to turn it over to a Lubbock firm.

Leisure is sweet when it follows work well done.

Some fellows can get good jobs but they can't keep them.

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History

- a Six in the price range of the four!

represents 4 years of Development and over a Million miles of Testing

Years ago, the Chevrolet Motor Company designed and built its first experimental six-cylinder motor. This far-sighted step was taken because Chevrolet engineers knew that the six-cylinder motor is inherently the most perfectly balanced motor—the ideal power plant to meet the growing public demand for greater reserve power, faster get-away and, above all—smooth, quiet performance.

During the last four years, over a hundred six-cylinder motors were built by Chevrolet engineers and tested on the General Motors Proving Ground.

Day and night, through winter's cold and summer's heat, the incessant testing went on—until the present motor was developed and finally pronounced correct.

At the same time other Chevrolet engineers were perfecting other parts of the chassis. And another great automotive organization—the Fisher Body Corporation—was devoting its gigantic resources to the creation of the finest, sturdiest and most beautiful bodies ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

As a result, the Outstanding Chevrolet offers an order of well-balanced excellence—a combination of performance, comfort, beauty and handling ease that is truly remarkable—with a fuel-economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

Stronger Bearings Give Longer Life

Exceptionally strong, wear-resisting disk bearings, that will last long and give satisfactory service in all kinds of soil—they're the kind of bearings you get in the

John Deere No. 63-A Disk Plow

The bearings are of heavy-duty, two-piece type—selected for their simplicity and greater strength. They run smoothly and easily, without adjustments.

You will like the 63-A for its quick convertibility. Change from three to two disks or from 8-inch to 9-inch cut per disk can be made in a few minutes.

You will appreciate the sturdy, non-sagging beam—set above instead of at the side of the disks, which gives greater clearance for trash.

You will be sure to like the way the keen-edged disks bite down and revolve freely even in hard ground or difficult gumbo. The weight of the frame being above, forces the disks to penetrate readily. An additional aid to penetration is the setting back of the seat and rear wheel.

Quickly-adjustable scrapers—either universal type or rotary type—are furnished.

Remember, the 63-A is designed to meet the severest soil conditions of this region and is an exceptionally strong and rugged, lighter draft John Deere disk plow.

MR. AND MRS. LUMSDEN RETURN FROM AUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Lumsden returned last week from Austin where they have been since the death of their son, Lawrence, investigating his death.

They have employed J. Frank Norfleet of Hale Center, noted criminal tracker, to help them make the investigation.

Up to the time of their departure from that City no clues of value had been found by them. However they will continue the investigation in the hopes of finding the slayer of Lawrence and bringing him to trial.

Mrs. Lumsden states that they have accounted for Lawrence's movements up to three o'clock of the morning he was found dead just outside the City of Austin, but there they lose track of him, they can find no one who saw him after that time. The doctors state that he died about six o'clock. There is a period of approximately three hours that so far as they can learn, no one saw him. Their efforts now will be concentrated on those three hours, in the hopes of finding some one who saw him during that time.—Wilson Pointer.

PRESIDENT-ELECT IS A PRACTICAL FARMER

Herbert Hoover, president-elect of the United States, will not be without practical farming experience when he comes to work out farm relief measures during his term of office. Although little was said about it during the recent campaign, he has owned a 1313 acre farm in California since 1920 and he has operated it, not only as a business enterprise, but also as a base for practical agricultural experiments.

Diversified farming is a fundamental part of the Hoover program. Here is how the Hoover farm operations are divided:

Vineyards, 435 acres producing 10 varieties of table grapes with a yearly output of about 600,000 pounds; between 60 and 320 acres in cotton; 200 acres in alfalfa, yielding seven tons to the acre, and cut seven times a year; 150 acres in potatoes; 130 acres in peaches producing 16,000 pounds to the acre; 80 to 120 acres in corn; 90 or more acres in watermelons and muskmelons; 90 acres in Spanish onions; 40 to 80 acres in spinach producing about 960,000 pounds a season; 40 to 60 acres of sweet potatoes; 70 acres in apricots.

In addition there are about 2500 laying hens, 200 sows and 150 cows.

As many as 200 employees are at work during peak harvesting seasons, and the annual pay roll is about $75,000.

Considerable experimental work is done on the farm, and a good part of this has been in connection with poultry work. In accordance with the most modern farm poultry methods and in the interests of economy and profits, the Hoover stock is replenished each year with baby chicks secured from hatcheries. Eggs are marketed regularly, the income from this source proving considerable, since only the best of high egg-laying stock is used to make up the laying flock.

LAMESA THEATRE CHANGES HANDS IN $40,000 DEAL

One of the largest property deals consummated in Lamesa in some time was made here recently when Roscoe Holton, owner and manager of the Palace Theatre, sold all his theatre interest to Audrey Cox, owner and manager of the Majestic.

The consideration was reported to be $40,000.—Lamesa Journal.

Next to making a profit in business these days, the next hardest job is distributing your income in such a way that your family is happy.

Ame Flache came in this week and renewed for his Herald and had us send it to a friend out on south route.

An up-to-date hatchery for O'Donnell is practically assured according to H. H. Williams who intends to install a 18,000 egg capacity Peterman Electric incubator by the 20th of the month. Custom hatching will be done and a complete line of chicken feed will be handled.

If it could speak, how the unborn generation would encourage us to save our money!

J. S. Kizer, of Meadow was down this week on business, and called to subscribe for his home country weekly.

Tom May, Albert Endersen, Judge Geo. W. Neill and Bob Bowers were offered $130.00 per acre for their lease in a quarter mile of the new Fisher county oil well, Wednesday, but are holding for higher offer.

W. F. Young, of the Harmony community, harmonized his subscription account Saturday with the Herald for another year.

We call your attention to the statements of the three Terry county banks this week, including the two here and one at Meadow. Put your peepers to them then ask yourself if old Terry isn't alright and in pretty good financial condition, population considered. There is almost a million dollars on deposit in the three banks.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SEE WAYLAND COLLEGE

Plainview, Texas, Jan. 10, 1929—"Where a man's treasure is, there is his heart also." It can also be wisely stated that where a man's money is there is his interest. Baptists from all over the great Panhandle-Plains country have money invested in their beloved institution—Wayland Baptist College. However the influence Wayland yields is far greater than her financial investment.

President McDonald feels that every Baptist on the Plains should know every detail regarding the achievements of their school and therefore has set aside a time each year for the assembling of the pastors and laymen of the churches in the territory contiguous to the college that they may better know the institution which they are helping to support. Every Baptist church should be glad of the opportunity to assist in the advancement of such a school as Wayland.

A program has been thoughtfully arranged for January 24-25, and the capable speakers for the two days program will bring a spirit of progress and throw a new light on the potential possibilities of the Panhandle-Plains Baptists. Marcellus Watkins, college evangelist, is making an urgent plea for the united support of all Baptists in attendance at this conference. May every Baptist church be represented.

GIRLS TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD AT SNYDER

The Brownfield Girls High School basketball team has been officially invited to attend the West Texas Girls High School Basketball Tournament that will be held at Snyder February 14, 15 and 16 under the sponsorship of the Snyder Lions Club. Plans are being laid to entertain more than fifty girl teams during the three days.

R. H. Schulze, Dallas, southern commissioner for the A. A. U., was in Snyder recently to complete preliminary plans and expressed satisfaction for the fine basketball floor and gymnasium that will be provided during the visit in Snyder of West Texas girl teams.

Six huge loving cups of solid gold and silver, one of which is the actual size of a basketball made of gold is first prize; a silver ball of the same dimensions is second prize; and the four other major prizes are huge loving cups standing waist high. In addition there are three sets of small gold and silver basketballs.

Visitors to Snyder will be privileged to visit the new $10,000 athletic stadium only recently dedicated by Snyder High School which is said to be the finest outside of college fields in the state of Texas.

Snyder is located in Scurry County on the main line of the Santa Fe railroad and on State Highways Nos. 83, 7, and 101. Teams coming over the Broadway of America should turn off at either Colorado, Roscoe or Sweetwater. Snyder is easily accessible from all points in West Texas.

Arrangements for the entertainment of teams and visitors will be in charge of a committee of the Federated Clubs and Parent-Teachers Association, backed by the entire citizenship of Snyder.

Housing for anywhere between five and eight hundred girls with their coaches and escorts will be completed by a special committee whose headquarters will be with the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce.

Officials for the games which will start in early Thursday morning, continuing game after game into the night, will be entirely picked and selected by state officials of the A. A. U.

The coming Snyder tournament will be the largest attended athletic event of more than one day's duration ever handled in West Texas, and it is Snyder's aim to have every detail worked out to clocklike precision that visitors may enjoy every moment of their stay.

Joining in the welcome to all West Texas is included City Supt. C. Wedgeworth, president Lions Club; County Supt. A. A. Bullock, general chairman of the tournament and president of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, together with every civic, fraternal and social organization of the city and county, who are lending their influence and invitation to the teams and visitors of West Texas to come to Snyder, February 14, 15 and 16.

Mrs. W. E. Fielder, formerly of this place, but more recently of Trent, Texas, was up the past week visiting old friends. She informed us that they had recently moved to Big Spring.

CUPID STILL BUSY

Mr. Austin Moore and Miss Johnnie Staggs of Ropesville, Texas, drove down last Saturday afternoon about three o'clock, secured the necessary papers and applied to Elder A. L. Burnett who said the words that united them for life.

By the way, it can almost be said that Elder Burnett has become the marrying man here, if we have one.

We thank Alton Webb, hustling young farmer for a renewal.

Mrs. Helen Vinson, of Plainview, visitor in the Stricklin home for the past week, left Sunday for home.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

God in his divine wisdom saw fit to take from this earthly lodge, our sister, Sovereign Moore, who was a faithful and beloved member of our Grove. And in our sorrow we must be submissive to His will. We as officers and members of the Brownfield Grove, Number 462 extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Signed: Laura Smith
