Hogan to Open New Store This Week

G. E. Hogan is preparing to open a store at Brownfield. It will probably be open for business some time next week. E. E. King of this place will be in charge of the Brownfield business and he will be assisted by Jack Jackson.

Mr. Hogan formerly had a business at Brownfield but sold it a few months ago at a nice profit. Recently he decided to re-enter the business field there. Mr. Hogan is a very successful business man, owning stores in several different places.—Tahoka News.

Well the goods began to arrive this week, and the draymen were kept busy the first part of the week bringing them down from the depot, and clerks were set to work getting them in the shelves and show cases and will be ready to serve you as soon as it is humanly possible to do so, which will more than likely be before this paper reaches our readers.

They are going to have a wonderful store and quality merchandise with a price on it that will certainly please you. As soon as you receive this paper, call upon them and get acquainted, for they want to meet you whether you have business with them just yet or not. The ladies of this section will be pleased to learn that Miss Ann Hamilton will have charge of the ladies section, as she is well known to all local people.

We certainly welcome the Hogan store to our city again.

Brownfield Gets 1930 Swine Breeders Ass'n.

Just before going to press the Herald received a wire from J. E. Shelton, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, stating that Brownfield and Terry County would be hosts to the Panhandle Swine Breeders Association in 1930, having won over Tulsa and Slaton six to one. The association held its 1929 meeting with Lamesa this week.

Hurrah! Come to Terry!

FIFTY YEARS OF CRIME

Some time ago Clarence Darrow, on being asked about our crime problem, said that "during my half-century of practice, society has made no material advance in treatment of crime and the criminal."

His opinion is in striking contrast with the activities of reformers who spend much of their time devising cures for the disease of crime.

In that half-century of which Mr. Darrow speaks, thousands of criminal laws have gone on the statute books. Panaceas have been offered, and many of them accepted. And crime continues and flourishes. Every new law passed means more law-breaking.

The number of people, for example, who have been made law-breakers by such ordinances as those designed to prevent ownership of revolvers and pistols, cannot be estimated. Yet such laws are proposed to prevent crime. But who ever heard of a criminal paying any attention to an anti-gun law? An anti-automobile law would be as sensible, on the theory that if automobiles were taken away from all law-abiding citizens, the criminal would thereby be deprived of their use in his depredations.

More multiplicity of laws do not deter the criminal. He will have his gun and his automobile though the statute books sag with enactments forbidding him those commodities. 'Freak' laws make all laws less respected.

We need fewer laws but with sharper teeth to punish criminals, if we wish to check crime; not more laws to destroy rights and privileges of law-abiding citizens.

Mary Handley: "I don't know. What did he say?"

Mary Jane: "Step on it, kid!"

Local Farmer Gets $1,800 Hog Check

For some time the Herald has been trying to tell the readers that old Terry was coming into its own as a hog producing section, and why not, an abundance of all the feeds known to mankind that produces pork at the lowest possible cost are grown here in abundance. With these things in view, and the fact that the swine is almost free from all diseases in this section on account of the fact that we have less humidity than further east, we have an ideal combination for the cheap production of pork. Our accessibility to the large markets also gets better all the time as more railroads are built into the South Plains section.

But to our main story, one of our local feeders, Mr. W. R. Combs sold to Howell & Lovelace last week a bunch of 100 head of shipping porkers that averaged nearly 220 pounds each, or a total of 22,000 pounds, and he wrote him a check for exactly $1,844.65 for the bunch, and Mr. Combs has some 40 head left to sell later.

Mr. Combs came here some three months ago, and located, seeing the possibilities of producing cheap pork in this section. He at once began the purchasing of surplus pigs, and combined with the main feed produced here, he fed a ration recommended by county agents and colleges where tests have been made, such as bone meal, etc. It is our understanding that Mr. Combs will farm some himself this year in order to have his own feed at least partially for future feeding operations, and that he will likely do some hog breeding on his own hook this season.

We are glad to welcome a man like Mr. Combs to old Terry, and we hope his good example will be an incentive to others to go and do likewise. Our immense corn and small grain crops are worth much more on the hoof than shipped out in cars, although corn is now bringing 75¢ per bushel on the local market, a third more than last year and as much again as year before last. The old diversified farming sections of the country are today the most prosperous, with the best barns and homes, schools and churches. We wish all of our farm readers could have read an article from the pen of one of our Ranch writers who went through that belt of the United States recently, and wrote back as if it was a personal letter to friend named "Tom." It was an eye opener to those who hang on to the one crop idea.

District Court in Session This Week

Judge McGuire, of Lamesa, came over Monday morning and empaneled a grand jury and set it to work in charge of our District Attorney, T. L. Price, and up to this writing that body is still engaged in ferreting out crime in Terry County. We have no idea just when they may adjourn, that depending to a large extent on the amount of work that might come before them.

There will be three weeks of petit jury services, beginning next Monday, the first week called for January 28, the second week, Feb. 4th, and the 3rd week for February 11th.

We understand the docket will be rather heavy, but the majority of cases are of civil nature, and likely many of them will be tried without juries. Despite the fact that there is lots of sickness a grand jury was found among those summoned without much trouble.

FORMER TEACHER IN CITY SCHOOL PASSES AWAY

The town and community in general were shocked last Thursday morning when it was learned here that Miss Nancy Dumas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Dumas of this city had passed to the great beyond after a brief illness, the latter part of which was spent in the Lubbock Sanitarium under the treatment of physicians there. The end came about 8 A. M.

The body was prepared for burial and brought to Brownfield where it was kept till 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when it was carried to the First Baptist church where the funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. V. May. In view of the fact that Miss Nancy had for a number of years held a position here in our public schools, the entire school was turned out and attended in a body. Much sorrow was expressed by her many former pupils as well as teachers who had known her for years. A large concourse of other friends also attended. Burial followed in the Brownfield cemetery.

Deceased was born in Lampasas County in 1887. She moved with the family to Floyd County in 1890, and to Terry County in 1906, and located on the old Dumas ranch in southwest Terry until they sold out a few years ago and moved to Brownfield. She was a graduate of Canyon State Teachers College.

If experience is a good teacher some of us ought to be a lot brighter by this time than we appear to be.

Dad Crawford Expects A Fine Crop Year

Well, our good old friend, M. C. Crawford, left us this week for his annual stay with his brother at Slocum, down in old Anderson County, where the tall pines grow and the red gullies are deepest, but if nothing happens when the weather gets real sultry, we may look for our local prognosticator to top the cap rock and head for Terry to enjoy the delightful Plains breezes and her cool, sleepful nights.

We just had to quizz dad a little bit about how he would spend his time, for we could imagine seeing him sit by a big old open fireplace with plenty of crackling hickory logs on the andirons, and a nice place to spit your battle ax. We mentioned these, and he added, "yes, and I'll sit there and eat old black walnuts." A few years ago he would mention squirrel hunting and an occasional 'possum hunt when he would return to Anderson county, but he is rather feeble for that now. He has rented out his farm here for the year.

But says Dad Crawford, I look for an excellent crop year here this year with plenty moisture to mature it well, but not so much during the summer as to cause insect trouble like we had the past year. But he rather fears a rainy fall this year with perhaps lots of snow in November and December to retard the harvesting of the bumper crop he expects here this year.

PROMINENT FARMER DIES

J. E. Lamberth, 40, a farmer living a few miles south of this city died last Friday morning at 2 o'clock with pneumonia following a case of flu in which Mr. Lamberth got up too quickly and put in a hard days work. Mr. Lamberth was a highly respected citizen, a member of the Methodist church, and we understand left his family in good financial shape with accumulations and insurance.

The body was prepared by the Brownfield Undertaking Co. for burial, and the body laid to rest in the Brownfield Cemetery following funeral services by Rev. B. W. Dodson, his pastor, at the family residence. He leaves a wife and five children, two boys and three girls, the oldest boy being 14 years of age. His parents and a brother from Dallas and another brother from Houston were here when the end came.

Most wives hope their daughters will marry more wisely than their mothers did.

Local Hatchery Starts Off Hatching Season

Bob Holgate, proprietor of the Brownfield Hatchery was out last week gathering up eggs for the first hatching of the season, and came by to give us an ad for the Herald. Bob remarked that one reason he came by was that as soon as the eggs went into the hatchery his days of fooling around and talking with other people would be over, as he would have to be with the hatchery night and day the rest of the time.

This is very important, for if the eggs become the least chilled, or on the other hand too warm, the result is the same, a poor hatch or none at all, and the person who operates a commercial hatchery must watch it day and night while it is under way. Bob Holgate is just the kind of man that will do this, and eggs entrusted to his care are as good as hatched 100 per cent if fertile and O. K. otherwise.

Now here is another important tip to those who propose to raise hatchery chicks this year. You know the old saying about the "early bird getting the worm," well, the same can be applied to chickens, for the early market is always the best. We can remember when a small boy when old "speckle" was depended on for the early hatch, that our family always tried to have some broilers and if possible fryers for the races which came off in Memphis in April. Broilers would then bring a bit to 15¢ each, whereas a few weeks later saw them dwindle to 8-13 to 10¢ each. What would a poultryman think of a price like that now? But eggs sold for 5¢ per dozen. But the early chicks bring the most "dough" till this day.

Those were called the "good old days" and some people imagine they want to hark back to them, but not us. The average farm lady now has more conveniences and a better time and less work than the average city lady had during those "good old days." As for us, we had rather live in these days and dodge automobiles, take our chances with flu, pay high taxes—if possible—etc.

Come to Terry.

WAS CHRIST AN INFIDEL LIKE LUTHER BURBANK?

At the Methodist church next Sunday night at 7:30 the sermon subject will be "Was Christ an Infidel Like Luther Burbank?"

What sort of an infidel was Burbank anyway? What sort of an infidel was Christ? You will be interested and instructed too if you hear this sermon, why not hear it?

At 10:50 A. M. the sermon subject will be "What is the essential thing in Christianity?" You really ought to hear this sermon. How important is a creed? How important is the form of church government? How important is faith? How important is a mode of baptism? How important is baptism anyway? How important is correct orthodoxy? What is the most important thing in the Christian religion? You ought to hear this sermon.

Two good messages and a cordial welcome at the Methodist church.

Are you all that you ought to be? Come to God's house and get help. Rev. B. W. Dodson, D. D., Pastor.

MARRIED

Mr. R. F. Winters and Miss Jewel Thompson, popular young people of the Pride community drove in Monday afternoon about three o'clock, secured the necessary papers from the County Clerk and applied at the Studebaker sales office where Elder A. L. Burnett said the words that joined them for life.

HERE'S SOME WINE AGED 1600 YEARS

In ancient Roman ruins near Spyer, Germany, bottled wine has been dug up, put there by the Romans 1,600 years ago. Because the Romans put honey in their wines the fluid in these bottles was partially solidified. It ought to be sufficiently aged by this time.

Next to making a sale the most pleasant experience is collecting the money.

Local Ginner to Spend $6,000 on Plant

W. E. Henson, local gin man, returned last week from Bryan, Texas, where he went to see his partner, Mr. Howell, who is interested with him in the W. E. Henson Gin plant in this city. After thoroughly going over the matter with his business partner, they decided that despite a short crop the past year with only a few hundred bales to their credit, they still had utmost confidence in the country, and would spend in the neighborhood of $6,000.00 on the plant here and have it in spanking new condition to what may be a bumper crop the coming fall.

The improvements, Mr. Henson informed us will include new stands throughout, new press and the best bollie machine procurable. When these are added there will not be a better plant in this section, for in fact everything necessary to the immediate ginning of cotton will be for that matter the equal to a brand new plant throughout.

By the way, despite being hit hard the past year, we do not have a better booster, or a more optimistic man in our city than Mr. Henson, and he remarked that every time he went away, especially down east, he came back more satisfied with old Terry. He informed us that after telling his partner about this section, the latter remarked that the city of Brownfield ought to pay (Henson) for boosting this section. His partner, Mr. Howell, we believe, has never been out here, but promises to make a trip out here in the near future and see what this section really looks like.

We would be glad to make his acquaintance, for we naturally like a man who has confidence enough in a country to put real dollars into it, although he has never seen it.

Not Enough Farmers To Put Out Fire

Mr. Knight of Hudgens & Knight said in a recent interview that if all the discriminating farmers suddenly had to leave Terry County, there "wouldn't be enough farmers left to put out a fire in the woodshed." He went on to say that the farmers living in this town and county wanted quality in their implements, knew what to look for in order to get it, and insisted on getting nothing else.

"One of the most interesting changes I have noticed lately in the implement business," said Mr. Knight, "is the trend toward better equipment. The time used to be when a farmer would come into our place, look at a plow on a rake and say, 'How much?' before we'd had so much as a chance to tell him a thing about the machine. The first consideration then was price. But instead of hemming and hawing around about price, and talking about some other cheaper outfit, what the farmer today seems most interested in is how well does the implement do the job?—is it going to do the job right along, dependably—or will it require a lot of servicing? If we can satisfy him on that score we usually have no trouble selling him."

FRANKLIN ADVOCATED NO SALARY FOR PRESIDENTS

New York.—Benjamin Franklin, reputed to have been one of the world's wisest men, was opposed to paying any salary whatsoever to the President of the United States.

In the Constitutional Convention of 1787 Doctor Franklin urged that a President should meet his personal expenses from his own resources, in order that the highest office in the land might not be sought after excessively and sordidly ambitious men.

His motion, however, was not even voted upon, but died without a roll call. This obscure historical incident is revealed by William Hard in an article describing just how the highest office of the greatest business in the world—the United States government—is kept up.

"Wings" Most Difficult Picture Yet Prouced

Director and author faced a handicap when they started plans for the production of "Wings," the Rialto Theatre Monday and Tuesday, January 28th and 29th feature, Paramount's famous story dedicated to the American war "Aces."

"There's only one reason why airplane stuff usually fails to furnish the interest it is intended to give," William A. Wellman, director of the picture, said, "and that is that it has no background."

"With the cameras on the earth, the airplanes are usually so distant that the speed is lost on the screen. With the cameras in a balloon, or on a high tower, the range of activity is necessarily limited, with the cameras in another airplane, both must travel at the same speed to photograph close 'shots' and thus almost all sense of movement and speed is lost.

"We fixed electrically controlled cameras on the rims of the cockpits, pointing backward, right into the flyers' faces. We rehearsed the scenes on the ground and then we sent the boys up alone and, when the right altitude had been reached, the actors pressed a switch, the camera started grinding and the actor played the scene himself, without direction."

AL SMITH FACES A DEBT

Al Smith's speech Wednesday night will be taken as Raskob's valedictory. He retires as financial wizard and field marshal of funds; and climbs on to the stool as mere custodian and accountant. His personal loyalty to Smith is altogether admirable. But the party remains unconvinced that he is or is likely to become a Democrat.

Mr. Smith's courage and good will in undertaking the task of restoring the party to solvency is in character. It is worthy of the man. He is handicapped in some degree because his following is so largely a Smith following that it will be moved to give or to withhold according as it estimates his own chances of profiting by their generosity in 1932. They are more interested in Smith—many of them—than they are in the abstraction known as the Democratic party. The traditional strongholds of Democratic votes, on the other hand, are very tired of New York leadership. There can be no question about that.

If Mr. Smith is nominated in 1932 he will be beaten in Texas again. He will probably be beaten in the South. And the chances are that he will be beaten in the election as a whole by a larger margin than was the case this year. Only one circumstance could reverse the trend now reasonably plain in that direction, and that would be the complete and acknowledged breakdown of prohibition throughout the country. That is possible, but not likely.

Facing these facts—and Mr. Smith is too good a politician to ignore them—he shows courage and straightforwardness in shouldering the labor of raising the debt incurred during the campaign. No man who is fair in appraisal of Al Smith would have expected less of him. But no man can fairly withhold admiration of his ringing true in defeat as in conflict. —Dallas News.

ITALIAN PREDICTS THE FALL OF FASCISM

New York, N. Y.—Because of its unsound financial basis and the lack of loyalty on the part of Italians the Mussolini Government will fall within five years, was the prediction of Dr. Vincenzo Nitti, son of a former Premier of Italy, who has arrived in this country recently.

"Mussolini's Government will fall of its own weight within five years," he said, "even without any assault upon it by anti-Fascists."

"The Fascist Government is built upon an unsound financial foundation which Mussolini has thus far hidden from the world."

Even now one out of every ten Italians is loyal in his heart to the despot who has enslaved his native land. The nine others are opposed to his rule, but terrorism keeps them from declaring their convictions.

"By manipulation, the lira has been given a fictitious value. The loans of $300,000,000 floated in this country were paid to Italy in dollars, which were used by the Government to speculate on foreign exchanges in the currency of America, industry receiving its assistance in lire."

"Within a very few years, however," he continued, "the deception will come to light. And when that time comes, Mussolini will no longer be able to pay his army, the civil servants and the 100,000 militiamen. Then—crash. The Government will come tumbling down."

Dr. Nitti said that 500,000 Italians had left their country because of the Mussolini rule.

Mrs. J. C. Grimes of the Tokio community dropped in last week to renew for the Herald and Farm News, and informed us that they had moved to Tokio recently from the old home at Lahey. She says the Herald and its policies suit her fine and that their family would not do without it. Thanks, good friend.

Tom Cobb of the fine firm of Cobb & Stephens had us send the Herald to his mother at Dallas for a year.

Miss Dumas: "Martha, why were you late this morning?"

Martha: (who had just bought a new car) "Well the chiffonier was sick and I couldn't get the Cadillac out of the garbage."

Miss Banks: "Samuel, what is a noun?"

Sam Perkins: "A noun is the name of a person, place or thing."

Annie Letha: "If a burglar should break into the cellar would the coal chute?"

Eva Mae: "No, but the kindling wood."

Postman: "You will have to put another stamp on your letter, it is too heavy."

Marie Rowden: "You must be joking, another stamp would make it that much heavier."

Louise White: "Did you know that they are not going to make matches any longer?"

Frankie Rickels: "No, why?"

Louise: "Because they are long enough."

Mr. Williams: "What is the name of the rock just off of the coast of Spain?"

A fifth grade student: "Playmouth Rock!"

Kataine: "Kathleen, we are going to have a condition added to our evidence, a revenue built down to the road, and we are going to contain our friends with much hostility."

Charles: "James, aren't you going to build a fire?"

James Neal: "No! That's what I moved to Brownfield for, so I can call out the fire department!"

Mr. Williams was walking down the street the other day. He walked up to a man and said, "I am going to shoot you."

The man: "Why?"

Mr. Williams: "Well I always said that if I ever found anyone uglier than I am, I would shoot him."

The man: "Am I uglier than you?"

Mr. Williams: "Yes."

The man: Go ahead and shoot then."

Mr. W. R. Patterson and family were visitors in Lubbock and Plainview this last week end.

Mrs. Patterson reported that their daughter, Johnnie Mae, who is a student at the Tech, is still doing fine and likes school much better this term.

We are very glad to have Catherine and Beulah Young back with us again. They moved to the Johnson community about two weeks ago but removed to this community when they rented the Turner place.

Texas then included the present eastern half of New Mexico, the portion of Oklahoma today lying north of the Texas Panhandle, southwestern Kansas, a large portion of Central Colorado, and a section of Wyoming.

We are glad to see Charley Baldwin of the Baldwin Store up and at business again. He got his foot badly mashed a few weeks ago which laid him up for some time.

NEEDMORE NEWS

(Delayed)

School was delayed a week after the holidays due to some unfinished work on the new room which has been added to the old structure. Judging from the improvements being made the board of trustees have quitted their lethargic attitude, and have adopted a progress program. Atta Boy! We are with you!

Our teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Greer, report a slack attendance, but with a few more days of clear weather our enslaved progeny will be back under the tree of knowledge.

The Reverend Patterson of Pleasant Valley filled the pulpit for pastor J. A. Gibson at both the morning and evening services Sunday. We are happy to report a full house at both hours.

Mr. Headstream of Brownfield visited his sister, Mrs. Parker of this community, Sunday.

A cow belonging to Mr. M. R. Watkins is now convalescing following the accident of falling through a trailer.

It seems that Willie McDonald can not keep the girls out of that new Ford. That is right Willie. He helps these who help themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Halton Fleming, our newlyweds, have at last chosen Needmore as their home. We are very glad to retain Mr. Fleming. He is a type of young man that may be depended upon. Best wishes to him and his bride.

LIVE STOCK CONDITIONS GENERALLY FAVORABLE

AUSTIN, Texas.—Livestock conditions in Texas are generally favorable and the outlook is bright for the first part of the year, at least, according to Bervard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"Shipments of the Fort Worth markets in December were the smallest for a long time, all classes of animals except hogs showing large declines," Mr. Nichols said. "Shipments to that market were but 125,916 head, compared to 175,253 head in November and 173,790 head in December, 1927.

"The winter in Texas so far has been very mild and ample moisture has been available in most sections of the state to maintain ranges and pastures in good condition. As a result, animals have been holding up exceptionally well, and feeding has been rather limited except to thin animals and calves."

EX-KAISER SEEKS TO ENJOIN SALE OF BOOK

BERLIN.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm Saturday brought action against the publishers of a German translation of Sir Frederick Ponsonby's book "The Empress Frederick's Letters."

He asked an injunction against the sale of the book on the ground "that these letters reached England in a not unsuspecting manner and were not destined for publication."

On February 16, 1846 Texas was annexed to the United States and President Anson Jones retired in favor of Gov. J. Pinckney Henderson.

Official paper of Terry County.

The flu epidemic seems to be gradually passing and the health conditions of the community seems to be reaching normal again, and of course this fact will improve the business and social aspect of the community, as well as the optimism of everyone.

Our school is reported to be growing fast in scholastic population since the holidays despite the fact that we have the flu with us which is keeping some out of school. The school authorities expect us to pass 600 in enrollment in the next few weeks. We only lack a baker's dozen or so now.

About next week if everything goes right, we are going to put on a feed crusher week with a demonstration man in charge, if possible. If not next week, then soon. Every farm should have a crusher, for it makes the feed 50 per cent better in every way. Better for the stock themselves, with a corresponding increase in milk and egg production. Get a crusher.

An insurance inspector was around this week and while he found our fire fighting apparatus and force in good condition, he made some complaint of other conditions all of which should be removed at once. Some of them were weeds, grass and other trash, all highly inflammable around the business buildings, or some of them, and some of the buildings contained oily rags in receptacles which are far from fireproof. The Herald pleads guilty along with others, but promises an early removal of these objections.

While we are having some trouble down at Austin, so far there has been little talk of ousting anyone. Some of the Senators seemed to think our old friend, J. T. Robinson, of the General Land Office had exceeded his authority and needed something done to him, on the other hand, he seemed to have more friends than enemies and the matter was shut up, at least for the time being. But not so in our neighbor State to the north. Oklahoma seems to have not only suspended their governor through their legislature, but there seems to be two or three other officers who stand a good show of being ousted. It all reminds us of Texas some years ago when the legislature got Jim Ferguson's goat.

Well, folks they say there is nothing in dreams, and maybe so, but we dreamed one night this week that the Brownfield well turned out to be a gas and oil spouting gusher, and we felt rich from the crown of our silver streaked pate to the end of the nail on our huge toe. But we found upon waking we were wearing our same old duds and had not paid our taxes. Some set back. But, a friend of ours from Central Texas informed us that the people or some of them down there were dreaming the same dream about our oil well, and had told him as much. Where there is such a combination of powerful dreams they may have the strength to remove the lime and let 'er flow. Who knows?

HERE IS WHAT HAPPENS WHEN ADVERTISING CEASES

A generation ago "St. Jacob's Oil" was one of the most widely advertised products in America. It was a patent medicine enjoying enormous sales. When Charles Vogeler, the head of this business, died, an "expert" went over the balance sheets and saw the enormous advertising appropriation.

This "expert" trimmed the advertising expenditure to little or nothing reasoning that St. Jacob's Oil was so well known that it was unnecessary to spend money any longer to advertise it. Orders dwindled as advertising contracts run out; business departed, never to return and it is safe to speculate that hardly one in fifty who reads this article remembers or ever heard of St. Jacob's Oil, one of the best-known products on the continent 35 years ago.

A similar thing happened to James Pyle's "Pearline"—a company which used a $500,000 advertising fund as far back as 1904 and was one of the best-known products in the entire world. The ad fund was "lopped off;" the business went dead. It tried unsuccessfully to make a comeback in 1914, and its plant sold for junk to a large soap manufacturer.

Killing off the ad appropriation wrecked both these prosperous businesses and it would do the same thing to almost any great advertising concern today.—St. Louis (Mo.) Times.

OVER 20 YEARS REVIEW

Recently we compiled a list of a score or more of Terry County's pioneer citizens who were here 20 years or more and who today, constitute some of its most beloved and respected citizenry. We took this list to our old bank ledgers of 20 years ago and found they were on our books then and are our valued customers today.

Such a review drives home the fact that there is far more to business than just the ordinary routine. It signifies to us that the growth and progress of this institution is not only predicated on financial relations but rather in ideals of service maintained and LASTING FRIENDSHIPS ESTABLISHED.

It is with these ideals in mind that we predicate our solicitation of your business upon.

Safety, silence and simplicity are features of the new Ford six-brake system

ONE of the first things you will notice when you drive the new Ford is the quick, effective, silent action of its six-brake system.

This system gives you the highest degree of safety and reliability because the four-wheel service brakes and the separate emergency or parking brakes are all of the mechanical, internal expanding type, with braking surfaces fully enclosed for protection against mud, water, sand, etc.

The many advantages of this type of braking system have long been recognized. They are brought to you in the new Ford through a series of mechanical improvements embodying much that is new in design and manufacture. A particularly unique feature is the simple way by which a special drum has been constructed to permit the use of two sets of internal brakes on the rear wheels.

A further improvement in braking performance is effected by the self-centering feature of the four-wheel brakes—an exclusive Ford development. Through this construction, the entire surface of the shoe is brought in steady, uniform contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the brake pedal. This prevents screeching and howling and makes the Ford brakes unusually silent in operation.

Another feature of the Ford brakes is the ease of adjustment.

The four-wheel brakes are adjusted by turning a screw conveniently located on the outside of each brake plate. This screw is so notched that all four brakes can be set alike simply by listening to the "clicks."

The emergency or parking brakes on the new Ford require little attention. However, should they need adjustment at any time, consult your Ford dealer for prompt, courteous, and economical service. He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

$1,000,000 BOND ISSUE IS DEFEATED

LUBBOCK, Texas, Jan. 13.—Despite the fact that citizens of Lubbock voted 1,495 to 366, or four and one-half to one, for the $1,000,000 bond issue to pave all the State and Federal designated highways in the county, the issue is certain of defeat with a total of only 1,701 for the 1,558 against with twenty-two of the larger boxes in and ten small boxes not heard from.

The city of Slaton presented an almost solid front against the issue to send it down to defeat, voting 14 for and 736 against or fifty two to one against the issue. The city of Idalou polled about two to one against it with 59 to 111 against.

Talk of another election is going around in Lubbock already, another issue being defeated here December 1, 1928, just prior to the time this issue was called.

PRAISING THE WIFE

Weed—"I'll tell you what's the matter Lee. You don't praise your wife enough. Even if things don't go right, there's no use growling. Praise her efforts to please, whether they are successful or not. Women like praise and lots of it."

Lee—"All right, I'll remember it." Lee (at dinner one day)—"My (hear this pie is lovely!) It's delicious. Ever so much better than those my mother used to make. She couldn't equal this pie if she tried a month."

Wife—"Huh! You've made fun of every pie I ever made, and now—" Lee—"But this is lovely." Wife—"Yes, and it came from the bakery. You never praised my cooking like that."

An old-fashioned mother-in-law is a husband's best friend in these days of modern wives and all that that means.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE MET DEFEAT SATURDAY

The School Bond election at which it was proposed to vote the sum of $125,000 for the purpose of erecting a High School building for this district went down in defeat in Saturday's election, the vote standing 109 for the issue and 238 against.

Various causes have been assigned for the proposal losing; too great a sum, gloomy prospects on account of a short cotton crop, dissatisfaction over proposed location, and a lot of other reasons, and perhaps they all contributed in some measure to the result.

We believe that the Levelland District is proud of its schools, and that in time adequate provisions will be made to finance the necessary equipment, whatever that may be.

The Board at its regular meeting Monday evening canvassed the vote and entered the result on the minutes. No discussion was had of future plans. —Levelland Herald.

FAMOUS SAYINGS OF EVERYDAY WOMEN

"I've had plenty of chances to go on the stage, but my folks won't let me."

"You'll eat your spinach, or you won't get a bite of dessert."

"I'll have to have a little extra money this week."

"Anyhow, I notice her hair is dark at the roots."

"You must promise not to tell another soul."

"I'd do anything to lose a few pounds."

"You don't know the half of it."

"When did you shave last?"

"My feet are killing me."

"Mind your own business."

"Don't forget to write."

"Wipe off your feet."

"Now you stop."

"Darn it."

"Huh!"

—C. A. Leedy, in Youngstown Telegram.

"TREAT 'EM ROUGH"

The following clipping was handed The Herald by a prominent Brownfield business man who asks that his name not be mentioned:

"Don't let women henpeck you. Don't knuckle down to them. Oppose them. Don't let them have their own way and they'll think twice as much of you as if you do all you can to please them. Now in love, if the lover would act indifferent at times, and wouldn't make a ninny of himself he'd make the girl respect him and come to him. Women are queer. They like to have a man be dominating and win over them."—Swiped.

NOT COMPLIMENTARY

A clergyman had occasion to preach to the inmates of an insane hospital. During his sermon he noticed that one of the patients paid the closest attention, his eyes riveted upon the preacher's face, his body bent eagerly forward. After the service, the speaker noticed that patient spoke to the superintendent, so he inquired: "Did that man speak to you about my sermon?"

"Yes."

"Would you mind telling me what he said?"

"Well," replied the superintendent, with some hesitation, "what the man said was, 'Just think, he's out and I'm in.'"—Christian Register.

SAYS FAMILY LIFE NOT AS HAPPY IN U. S. A.

FORT WORTH.—With a professorship in his native land awaiting him upon his return, Tadshi Tomioka, whose home is in Tokio, Japan, is studying in Texas Christian University here. Tomioka will receive the A. B. degree from T. C. U. next June, after which he plans to study in Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

"The American students are happy, active and seem to enjoy life," Tomioka comments. "But the American girls seem to have more talent and intelligence than American boys."

"It seems, too, that there are a great many unhappy families in the United States. That is, there are more divorces and remarriages here than in Japan."

WORLD'S FINEST METHODS GO IN NEW FORD

The new Model A Ford automobile contains some of the finest examples in the world of new metal treatments for resistance to wear and to the torsional strain imposed upon some of the parts of the modern internal combustion engine.

One of these is the crankshaft. In this latest Ford product the crankshaft is made of a special Ford carbon manganese steel, developed under processes of metal blending and heat treatment that are new to the industry.

These processes produce a crankshaft that is heavier than any previous Ford crankshaft, that is tougher to resist wear and stronger to resist the torsional strain of high speed performance. The weight of the shaft in itself makes for smoother operation and the static and dynamic balancing process to which it is subjected before it is installed in the motor still further reduces the chances of vibration.

This special carbon manganese steel is only one of more than forty different kinds of steel, each representing a special treatment, which are used in the manufacture of the new Model A Ford car.

The John Deere Tractor Grub plow is being used on the O. L. Berry farm at Seagraves. R. B. Davis, county agent reports that it is turning over a furrow slice of 20 inches at a depth of twelve inches. Eleven mules are being used to pull the plow at present but Davis thinks that eight good horses or mules would handle the plow without much trouble.

For the second time in one year the post office at Albany has had to be enlarged. Each time one hundred and fifty boxes were added. Albany citizens consider this a good sign of progress. The total number of boxes is now 1366.

Hubby (waking from sleep)—"It's dark this morning, isn't it?"

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S HOME NOW ELECTRIFIED

Electric lights have replaced candles at “Mount Vernon,” once the home of George Washington, reports the Pennsylvania Public Service Information Committee.

With the exception of the mansion, all of the numerous buildings on the grounds are supplied with current. An ironclad rule forbids the installation of modern equipment within the mansion, but the other buildings are served with electricity from a 220-volt line which is reduced to 110 volts.

The quaint old out-kitchen, one of the features of “Mount Vernon,” is completely electrified. It is equipped with an electric range, refrigerating plant and other modern appliances. In the remarkable study of contrasts afforded by the modernized equipment and the cooking arrangements of the Revolutionary period which are still in evidence, visitors to the historic spot may clearly visualize the important part played by the electric industry in the economic development of the country.

WHAT AN AGE!

Floyd W. Parsons starts off an article in the Gas Age-Record as follows:

“What an age! Photographs by radio. Machines that think. Lights that pierce fog. Gas made from water. Vending machines to replace salesmen. Horns that can be heard 10 miles. Beacons that are visible 250 miles. Crewless trains, and five-million volt guns built to smash atoms.

“Locomotives that pull trains two miles in length. Street lights controlled by clocks. Cameras that record the path of lightning bolts. Electric shovels that lift 24 tons. Electric lamps of 50,000 watts, and invisible motion-picture apparatus to catch burglars.

“Machines to measure the smoothness of roads, record nature of accidents, strip telephone cables, put news in type direct from wire, administer an anaesthetic, transcribe phone calls, shoot cement, bury power wires, and repair stockings.

“Devices that will measure the billionth of an inch, register earth tremors, freeze fire, identify delicate color tints, grade cotton, control entire systems of traffic lights, provide secrecy in radio speech, exert pressures so enormous as to render possible the manufacture of diamonds, and that will hear light and see sound.”

THE PRINTER'S TOWEL

When I think of the towel,
The old-fashioned towel,
That used to hang up by the printing-house door,
I think that nobody,
In these days of shoddy,
Can hammer out iron to wear as it wore.

The tramp who abused it,
The devil who used it,
The comp. who got at it when these two were gone,
The make-up and foreman,
The editor, poor man,
Each rubbed some grime off for the heap they put on.

In, over, and under,
'Twas blacker than thunder;
'Twas harder than poverty, rougher than sin.
From the roller suspended,
It never was bended,
And it flapped on the wall like a banner of tin.

It grew thicker and rougher,
And harder and tougher,
And daily put on a more inker hue;
'Till one windy morning,
Without any warning,
It fell on the floor and was broken in two.

Twenty car loads of Kimble County Pecans have been shipped by the Schriener-Hodges Company from Junction lately. The last two cars had 33,000 pounds each. The firm has shipped about six hundred fifty thousand pounds and large quantities are being received daily.

Archer City is experiencing an improvement boom. A new Baptist church costing $25,000 is being built, and $80,000 worth of water and sewer extensions being installed. Work is under way on the new City Hall and Masonic Temple, to cost some $20,000.

A building of buff brick, concrete and steel, 75x140 feet is the home of the Ford Motor Company in Plainview. The building has 10,500 feet of floor space which has been utilized for the best possible service to patrons. The office is easily accessible, conveniently arranged, and entirely modern.

W. T. C. OF C. HELPS TO GET PECANS STARTED

Stamford, Jan. 21, 1929.—Because of the growing number of people who are becoming interested in the pecan industry in West Texas, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has made arrangements with one of the better known pecan tree nurseries of this section to supply farmers in its territory.

These trees are two year olds, between three and four years, and between four and five years. The young two year old trees usually bring $1.50 but can be gotten for $1.00 by ordering through the regional organization. The three to four year old trees can be purchased for $1.35 each if ordered through the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, but if ordered directly from the nursery would cost $3.00.

The orders will be received at the Stamford headquarters office of the WTCC and will be forwarded to the nursery. The nurseryman will send the customer information as to setting out the trees and the proper care thereafter, inform him when his order will be filled, at which time the remittance will be made directly to the nursery and the young trees shipped.

All of the trees are of West Texas hardy root stock and budded with good hardy West Texas Paper Shell varieties such as the Burkett, Halbert and the Nuggett. Only one thousand trees have been arranged for at this rate by the regional organization and it is hoped that they will be distributed to at least one hundred farmers.

TWO RAILROADS FOR LOVINGTON

Lovington, N. M.—Two railroads have filed applications with the interstate commerce commission for permits to build into Lovington, one the Santa Fe, and the other the Texas and Pacific. As the two lines are not to be parallel except for a short distance south of Lovington, it is believed likely that the commission will permit the construction of both lines. One would run from Seagraves, Texas, and the other from Monahans, Texas.—Lovington Leader.

A recent report of the Bureau of Economics, Department of Agriculture, shows that 13.21 per cent of the cotton ginned in the United States up to November 15 was less than 7-8-inch staple and untenderable on contract. Of course this nearly 14 per cent was not entirely lost to the producers, for it is good for something, but if sold on a quality basis it would not bring the cost of production.

The constantly decreasing quality of American cotton is the greatest incentive to European countries to encourage the production of cotton elsewhere. If they cannot get what they want in the United States they will go where they can supply their needs even if they have to grow it, and that is what they are doing in a greater degree every year.

Not only are growers suffering this loss of prestige in the cotton production industry, but merchants and buyers are permitting their business to slip away from them by their neglect and refusal to pay producers the worth of their cotton as per grade and staple. Just so long as a farmer must sell his good staple at the same price as his poor stuff he is not going to be interested in quality, and just so long as quality does not appeal to him, will the average price paid for staple be under the cost of production. The shoe pinches on either foot.

A recently discovered area of pure sand and gravel near Hamlin will be the incentive for the building of ten mile lines to it from the Abilene & Southern, The Orient and the M. K. and T. Railroads. The sand and gravel area is about three miles square and 100 cars of sand a day for several years can be shipped from it.

A bond issue of $150,000 for street improvement was carried at Graham recently. Work is expected to start on the streets as soon as the bonds are sold and will include paving and the hardsurfacing of highways leading into the town.

SURE

A recruit was at target practice for the first time. He was not hitting the target at all, and the Colonel happening along, watched him for a few minutes, took the rifle from him, fired and made a bullseye.

“There,” said the Colonel, “that’s the way I shoot.”

Rather pleased at his success, he fired again but missed by several feet. He handed the weapon back to the Private and calmly remarked, “And that’s the way YOU shoot.”

John Deere No. 63-A Disk Plow

The bearings are of heavy-duty, two-piece type—selected for their simplicity and greater strength. They run smoothly and easily, without adjustments.

You will like the 63-A for its quick convertibility. Change from three to two disks or from 8-inch to 9-inch cut per disk can be made in a few minutes.

You will appreciate the sturdy, non-sagging beam—set above instead of at the side of the disks, which gives greater clearance for trash.

You will be sure to like the way the keen-edged disks bite down and revolve freely even in hard ground or difficult gumbo. The weight of the frame being above, forces the disks to penetrate readily. An additional aid to penetration is the setting back of the seat and rear wheel.

Quickly-adjustable scrapers—either universal, hoe or rotary type—are furnished.

Remember, the 63-A is designed to meet the severest soil conditions of this region and is an exceptionally strong and rugged, lighter draft John Deere disk plow.

SHERMAN SPORTSMEN.

E. J. Parker in Sherman Democrat: Our idea of a real possum hunt would be to get State Press of the Dallas News out on Calf Creek with the bunch some night and let him hold the sack while our dogs run the possums in—and we wouldn't mind knowing that Sam Champie was down at the other end of the ravine performing a like office. It would be delightful.

State Press: Before State Press would accept the invitation you have in mind he would have to identify by name and looks the individuals of the "bunch" you so confidently refer to. If they grade up to your level, Mr. Parker, there would be no doubt—at least only a little doubt—of their social merit. It is not the habit of S. P. to go away in the night with people whose character has not been firmly established in his own mind. That Mr. Champie, if it is not improper to name by name—that Mr. Champie who has been nominated to hold the sack at the other end of the ditch, thereby playing opposite State Press and standing on the same moral level—would you be kind enough to state just what his status is in the community in which both of you live? Having gone this far, S. P. will go a bit farther and say his recollection of possum hunts, sports to which he was by no means a stranger in the early years of the nineteenth century, is that the marsupials were not driven into sacks like the obtuse and non-resistant snipes. The only method to assure the success of a possum hunt is to take a dog with a loud voice and a nose for news and let him loose in the big woods, preferably after the frost has kissed the persimmons. Then sit on a log and talk horse until the dog wakes the echoes with a triumphant clamor. Seizing the ax, which should always be carried by the youngest member of the party, go forward to where the canine proclaimer proclaims the quarry. The latter will be in the top of a tree, lying low and saying nothing. Hew the tree from its vertical pose to the horizontal, then let the dog dive into the leafy pile and seize the victim by the neck. It is the hunter's cue to take the game from the dog at this juncture, and prepare a split stick to accommodate Sir Possum's tail as in a vise. Then give stick and captive to the next youngest boy to be toted. If the rules for possum hunting have been changed State Press was not put on notice. But Sherman sportsmen may go possuming in a more educated

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas on the 8th of January 1929, God in His infinite wisdom saw prudent to call to the realms of Eternity, Grandma Daughtery, pioneer of this territory, benefactor of this community and who so faithfully administered to the wants and needs of those with whom she came in contact and whereas, she was the mother of Mrs. A. M. Brownfield, who is one

1. That we deeply feel her passing, but realize the long and useful tenure of her life and know of God's pleasure in ever finding her faithful to her trust.
2. That we humbly look to her emulation of Christ's principles as a guide to our lives and point others to her work and influence.
3. That we offer our sincerest sympathies and condolences to her

AMERICAN LEGION HAS LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

"So far during this session we have had introduced several Americanism bills of the American Legion. One of special interest to the public makes its imperative that the American Legion flag be flown from all public school buildings of Texas. Another provides for the incorporation of a course of study in the history and meaning of the State and Federal Constitutions in all tax supported schools of the State. Still another will require that all school teachers in the public schools of Texas be American citizens, either native born or naturalized. The reason for the above bills is to teach a deeper love of and respect for the principles of American government.

The public schools is the place to begin according to the views of our organization," says Ernest Cox, Assistant Dept. Adjutant of the American Legion, Department of Texas, who is also a member of the State Legislature. "We have also had introduced a Bill requiring physical education to be taught in the elementary and secondary schools of the State to give necessary instruction in this subject while the youth of the land is in the plastic age. Our organization became deeply interested in this very important subject as a result of statistics compiled during the registration of military service during the World War. Thirty-five per cent of all registrants for the draft were found to be physically unfit for active service, and we understand in correcting such a condition among the young men of military age in this country.

"In our National Legislative Program the American Legion is very interested in the passage of the Cruiser Construction Bill. It is necessary to build these ships in order to maintain our National ratio in the present treaties. It is hoped that the American Legion Posts over the State will emphasize this to the U. S. Senator from Texas," said Assistant Adjutant Cox.

COUNTY SEAT REMOVAL GETS FAVORABLE REPORT

AUSTIN, Texas.—A West Texas county seat controversy was embodied in a bill given favorable report Monday by the House Committee on Counties. It was by Representative Warwick and permits the removal of a county seat by majority vote from one place to another where neither is in five mile center radius of the county. The bill is made to apply to counties of between 1,100 and 1,400 population according to the 1920 census and makes it applicable to Lamb County in particular, where an effort is being made to take the county seat from Olton. Littlefield, Sudan and Amherst are possible contenders. The bill may affect some other counties.

Freeland is a former student of the College but had not enrolled during this session. He is enrolled as a sophomore in the school of engineering and is a candidate for the basketball and track squads.

George Alexander, of Tokio was among the crowd here Saturday and took the opportunity to extend his Herald.

Mrs. E. A. Morgan and daughter, Evelyn, of Amarillo, came in Monday night, and she and sister, Mrs. Stricklin left Tuesday morning for Coahoma to see their father, J. F. Holden who has been very ill, but is now reported better. A brother and sister of Los Angeles, a brother of Colorado State, a brother of Arizona and another brother from Sudan, Texas, are gathered at their father's bedside.

Bayne Price came in recently and handed us the dollar for the Herald, but we sent it to his brother, Money. But as Money already got a copy, Bayne made him hand one of 'em over. We're straightened out now.

We are mighty glad to announce that E. R. Woodridge and family are moving back to Terry and will occupy a farm north of town. But it seems that Cleve Hogue and other neighbors of that section are kindly aching about E. R. getting so close to their hen roosts.

R. Stice handed us one of the old fashioned dollar bills Saturday—not the new "swiveled up" kind and asked us if that would be sufficient for another year. You bet!

And now comes Judge Geo. W. Neil threatening libel suit against this honorable institution on the ground that we told the folks last week that he was among a group of locals who had refused $150 per acre for some leases in Fisher County. He complains that every bill collector in town has been dogging him ever since.

Also we might mention the fact that Dr. M. C. Bell appears to have about the best explanation of why there are so few suits for divorces in Terry County. He says the women folks of Terry work in the printing offices, the store, shops, offices and schools, and out on the farms they milk the cows, gather up the eggs, raise the crops, hogs and poultry. In other words, he says, they are all making good livings for their men and the men have sense enough to stay with them.

The county agent is busy this week running terrace lines for farmers. Holding the water on the place it falls and turning the sand under are two soil problems that he hopes to get a number of demonstrations on this year.

Kent L. MacGregor, of Detroit, Mich., traveling representative of Campbell Ewald Co., advertising agents who handle all Buick and Chevrolet advertising, was here Tuesday to see our section, and paid the local Chevrolet agent, Mr. Ralph Carter and the Herald a pleasant call. Mr. MacGregor seemed to think this the coming section of the union.

West Texas Today, official magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be in the mails this week. The January issue carries more pecan stories, but is not a pecan special as last month. Development in different West Texas towns, and reports from secretaries of chambers of commerce served by the regional organization are given space.

Plans are to start the preliminary survey for the new city lake for Hamlin within the next few days. The new lake will be north of Hamlin on the T-Diamond ranch and will supply water for a town of from 15,000 to 22,550 people.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ruyts of Buhl, Idaho, were down this week looking after their fine section of land near Seagraves. Mr. Ruyts says Terry county has made a wonderful growth and development since he was here seven years ago.

Snyder is soon to have a modern commercial airport. The 200 acre plot was recently purchased for $50,000.00. It joins the northern city limits, and will have a camp, water, gas, electricity, and sewer disposal, filling station and other conveniences.

Construction work is progressing on the new tile and brick home of the Texas Furniture Company at Olney. The foundation and walls have been completed of the hundred foot front and one hundred foot extension to the back.

Bleachers intended to seat approximately 350 people have been set up in the Sul Ross College gymnasium. They run the entire length of the West side of the building and are five tiers in height. They are portable and can be used at the gymnasium, at the tennis courts, etc.

A volunteer fire department is being organized in Junction, and as a result the fire insurance rate will be reduced fifteen percent within the year. Thirty-five men compose the department, and drill twice a month. The city is planning to buy one thousand additional feet of hose.

Texas remained an independent Republic from 1836 to 1846 under the successive administrations of Presidents David G. Burnett, Sam Houston, Mirabeau B. Lamar, Sam Houston (second term) and Anson Jones.

Gen. Sam Houston defeated Santa Anna in command of a Mexican army at the battle of San Jacinto April 21, 1836 and Texas thereupon became an independent Republic.

TEXAS' CROP SUPREMACY

Texas in 1928 maintained its right to be claimed as the foremost agricultural State of the Union not only by rolling up a larger total production than any other State but also by increasing its production in a year when the total for the country declined. The value of the field crops of the State for the year was placed at $83,000,000, as against $738,000,000 for 1927, in the report of H. H. Schultz, United States statistician in Texas. The year's total agricultural production for the country was $8,456,000,000, as compared with $8,522,000,000 in 1927.

With the addition of other farm production not covered in the crop figures but accurately creditable to agricultural revenue, Texas maintains its title as "the billion-dollar farm State."—Star-Telegram.

HEROES THAT SLEEP NOW IN NEGLECTED SOIL

L. W. Kemp, chairman of the committee on unmarked graves of the Texas Historical and Landmarks Association, asks the Legislature to devote the sum of $10,000 to the marking of the graves of five great Texans and to the removing to Texas soil of twelve others who now lie buried hither and yon, some of them far away from the State they served and loved. The man that the town of Henderson was named for, first Governor of Texas, is buried in the old Congressional Cemetery at Washington. The man for whom Bell County was named is buried in North Carolina. Others whose names are woven into the fabric of Texas history lie now forgotten in unkept graveyards. Their deeds earned them the honor of the Lone Star for all time. Mr. Kemp asks only that their remains be given a place in the State Cemetery at Aus-tis, and that their graves be suitably marked and preserved.

Ten thousand dollars is not a large sum for the purpose. It is as small as it is because in some cases the gravestones originally erected are suitable for use again. For example, in the case of Richard Ellis, president of the convention that framed the Texas Declaration of Independence, a handsome tombstone bearing his name and the date of his death leans a pine tree in the midst of a forest near New Boston, Bowie County.

These worthy men of days gone by need nothing of us now. Rather we need them. Our children and children's children need the reminders of their courage and sacrifices for the good of the Texas that is and is to be. The sum Mr. Kemp's committee asks keeps faith with posterity by keeping faith with the past.—Dallas News.

No idea is worth much unless a first-class man is back of it.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks to our many friends who visited us and by their kind words and loving deeds helped us to bear our sorrow in the loss of our loving daughter, sister, and Aunt. The flowers and many deeds expressing love for her and sympathy for us was a great help to us in this trial. As we grieve for her, it helps a great deal to recall her much used expression: "Everything is for the best—and we must realize 'tis the Lord's will."

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Dumas, children and grandchildren.

No man can go completely to the dogs without a good deal of determination.

No expression of the human spirit is quite so fine as the commendation of good work while success is still in the distance.

WELLMAN HIGH SCHOOL
INSTALLS NEW CURTAINS

—By Dorothy Norton—

On January 10, 1929, Mr. Hubert Bural of Clarington, Texas, came to Wellman and installed the new curtains for the High School Auditorium. They consist of two curtains, exterior and interior. As the stage is small no wings were included.

The exterior curtain is a scene of mountain peaks and a waterfall in Canada. There is a large pile of rocks on each side of the fall and various kinds of shrubbery along the river. The water rushes over the rocks in a white foam. This scene is draped in rich purple drapery. Across the top of the curtain is the drape on which the advertisements are printed. Several of the advertisements are from Wellman; the rest are from Brownfield. We as high school students sincerely thank the business men of Brownfield, especially for their help in paying for the curtains.

The exterior curtain is a scene of a group of gigantic trees. In the background a lake can be seen. Trees on the opposite shore can be seen in a distance. The grass is green at the foot of the trees, and here and there a daisy is seen peeping through the grass. This is a scene in Texas.

There was a large crowd at the P. T. A. here Friday night. The high school girls presented a short play and used the new curtains for the first time. After the play Bro. May made a talk and we had some violin and guitar music which was enjoyed by everyone.

The Seniors are going to present their play Friday night, January 25, at the Wellman High School Auditorium, titled "The Fortunate Calamity." Everyone is invited, especially the men who helped furnish funds for the new curtains.

Editor's Note: The above was selected as the best of five letters submitted to us by the Wellman high school students on the subject matter under discussion. All five letters were excellent and it took a second reading to decide which rated best. We only wish we had space for all five letters.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our thanks for the many deeds of kindness and expressions of sympathy rendered during the illness and death of our dear husband, father, son and brother, Harrel Hansen, and for the beautiful floral offerings. We wish to especially thank the American Legion boys and Mr. Walter Gracey for their many favors. May the Lord bless and protect each of you is our prayer.

Mrs. Harrel Hansen and children,
Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hansen,
Mr. and Mrs. Niels Jensen,
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hansen.

BEACON LIGHT TO GO ON JEFF DAVIS MONUMENT

Jefferson Davis monument at Fairview, Ky., said by residents there to be the tallest in the United States, with the exception of the Washington monument, soon will be a combination of sentiment and utility. The tall marker above the birthplace of the Confederate president will be surmounted with a beacon light for aviators.

W. H. Hight of the Wellman section was here this week on grand jury service.

S. M. U. STUDENTS RECOVER
$5,000 FROM RADIUM WASTE

Hardly larger than the head of a pin, but valued at $5,000, radium that had been discarded with hospital waste later reduced to ashes in the Fort Worth incinerator, represented a $5,000 loss to a group of doctors of that city until two Southern Methodist University students of physics went to the rescue.

Directing three electroscopes into the heap of residue, J. G. Kearby and Paul Jeffers, chemistry major students, recovered the precious metal within an hour. It was encased in a minute brass capsule and unharmed by the heat. The students were assigned to the task by Dr. J. D. Boon, professor in physics, when an appeal for assistance from a radium expert was sent to the Dallas school.

Most of us fear our friends more than our enemies.

BOY, 10, SIX FEET
TEN INCHES TALL.
WEARS NO. 25 SHOE

Racine, Wis., Jan. 19 (AP).—A pair of size 25 shoes has just been made for a 10-year-old schoolboy at a Racine shoe manufacturing shop. The boy is Robert Waidlow, an elementary school student of Alton, Miss. The boy is 6 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 250 lbs. Five square feet of leather was used to manufacture the pair of shoes. Physicians say it the boy continues to grow he will be 9 feet tall when he reaches maturity.

As long as we're ready to sign for $10,000 houses on $2500 incomes there's no need to worry about the decay of American optimism.
