Our First Oil Well Has Been Abandoned

The company drilling the deep test on the M. V. Brownfield ranch some twelve miles southwest of here have abandoned the hole after going down better than 5000 feet. Some say it was abandoned on account of the fact that they had a bucket hung and failed to get it loose, while others seemed to think the test a failure.

Anyway, they are pulling the pipe out of the hole, and we get it from authorities we deem reliable that the company behind the drilling, which is understood to be the Standard of Kentucky, has ordered the drillers to move the derrick over and start another well. On the face of the fact that the big companies are still leasing land and willing to pay a good price for it, it does not look like the big fellows have become pessimistic over the outlook, despite the fact that it is thought this was a dry hole. It is generally known that some oil and gas were encountered at shallow depths, and the finding at a greater depth may have been entirely satisfactory to the company. At least they know what they are doing and we do not in this business.

Strange as it may seem, people at a great distance from Brownfield seem to have greater faith in oil possibilities in this section than we folks on the ground. An oil man was here only recently from Oklahoma, who travels extensively in the north and east, and he said this would prove to be the biggest oil field in the world. But one cannot hurry these oil folks along. They know when a new field is needed and will bring it in when they get ready.

C. of C. Directors Meet; Elect Officers

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday afternoon at six, in the Commissioners Court room at the Court House and after a few preliminaries went into election of officers to serve the coming year.

Morgan L. Copeland was unanimously elected to fill the place of head of the organization, and no better choice could have been made according to our way of thinking for two or three reasons. He is always to be easily found when wanted in emergencies. He has a wealth of information about this section at his finger tips. He can make a splendid address when called upon.

Claude Hudgens was also unanimously chosen vice-president and will we believe prove a worthy substitute in the absence of the president.

J. E. Shelton was re-elected with the understanding that he was to get better co-operation and financial support if possible. No use to repeat here what Shelton has accomplished in the past two years handicapped as he has been with lack of co-operation and short finances.

To accomplish what we are hoping to do in 1929, it cannot be done by just the officers and directors, but must have the whole united membership behind it.

Officers and Directors Of Farm Bureau Meet

The officers and four of the directors of the Terry County Farm Bureau met in the district court room last Saturday afternoon and formulated plans and worked out a program for the general meeting of the Bureau which will be held here on the third Saturday in March. At that time it is hoped to have one of the best meetings ever held in Terry county.

Among those who attended the meeting last Saturday was, J. W. Renfro, President; J. A. Johnson, Vice-President, and A. A. Lawrence, Secretary. As stated above four of the directors also attended, but we failed to get their names.

We are also authorized to state that the Bureau will hold a meeting at Meadow this coming Saturday night.

Income tax returns fell off $45,000,000 last year from the previous year. Are people getting poorer or just bigger liars?

County Court Was In Session Last Week

The County Court of Terry County was in session a few days the past week on its regular quarterly session. We were informed that only three cases came up for trial, one of these the jury failed to agree and the case will come up in a new trial at the next session of court.

County Court is a very tame affair in Terry County as yet. Even our District Court is a small potato in comparison with county or even Justice Court in some of the populous counties, in which all three grind all the time and Federal Court not far behind them. But this is not altogether in accord with comparison in population. In fact they have a whole raft of mean devils to contend with, and many of them spend two or three times the money per capita in courting that we spend.

No wonder that counties like Dallas and Tarrant get sore with crooks ever once in awhile and lam on a few sentences that compare favorably with Mr. Mathusala's last birthday. Let Huntsville have 'em, though, for although we admit we are far from pleased with our present population, we'd rather depend on exclusive home growth than the addition of the gents and their kind that Dallas and Fort Worth have been "courting."

Deputy U. S. Tax Collector Coming

A deputy collector of the U. S. Internal Revenue will be in Brownfield, Texas on March 8th, 1929 for the purpose of assisting income taxpayers in filing their returns for the year 1928. Taxpayers are urged to avail themselves of this service.

Civilization is improving. People are now only half-shot at dawn.

The New Man

Many Interested in Deep Plowing Test

Roy Davis, our county agent, along with J. L. Cruce, called by Tuesday morning for the writer, and carried us out a mile west of the city where a deep plowing test is under way. After the test was made in Gaines county last year, and it was found that it not only stopped the sand blowing and having to replant two or three times, but increased the yield two fold, the idea at once became very popular with our progressive farmers, for they could see an increase of 50 per cent in the value of their property for sale purposes. The Herald has been persistently advocating breaking of land also and turning up the clay since we have been a resident of the county and were informed that our subsoil was mere of a real soil than just mere clay.

The plot of land undergoing the deep plowing test is in the Arthur Sawyer field on the main highway, and will be 10 acres in extent. The small city tractor they were using Tuesday morning was entirely too small for the big Avery brush plow which was cutting some 15 inches and going to a depth, rule measure, of 14 inches. So Wednesday morning, one of the big county tractors was put on and the plow sucked two inches deeper.

The local chamber of commerce, the County Commissioners and others invited the Commissioners of both Dawson and Gaines counties as well as some interested parties from Lubbock to be their guests Wednesday for the demonstration. A luncheon was served the guests at the noon hour.

Roy Davis, county agent, said, "I try not to be too enthusiastic over the proposition, but I can't help believe that it is or will be the salvation of the future farming interests of this section." He admits that he was rather doubtful of the plan until the test in Gaines county last year was brought to a successful conclusion. He is even of the opinion that if the method still runs true to form for the next few years, the large land holders here will not sell their holdings until the farms have been broken to a good depth, unless the buyer would agree to do it himself. For in the first place the land owner would figure that with deep breaking the land would not only not blow away, but would prove so satisfactory with the buyer that he would stay with it and pay it out.

Mr. Davis uses good logic, for there is hardly any logic that heads off dollars and cents when it comes right down to that, and the new test in this county will be watched with much interest this year. It means $25.00 land will be $50.00 land through this method.

The Tokio B. Y. P. U. will give their program next Sunday night at Harmony. Come on folks! Let's go and show Harmony what Tokio can do.

A. P. Stewart is Building Up His Soil

A. P. Stewart, prominent farmer of west Terry was in the latter part of last week and informed us that he was hauling bollie hulls and other garbage from Tokio and putting them on his yard in order to build up the soil to where flowers, shrubbery and rees would grow. People who have experimented with this gin refuse for the past several years say it is one of the best of fertilizers, and county agents, A. & M. officials fully agree. It certainly was found to be an ideal tonic for the trees and shrubs at the Court House park last year.

Mr. Stewart lives upon one of the highest knolls in the county. From it he can see all over the county, but in making this an ideal place in point of view, nature did not finish the job but left it a hard white rocky soil. Mr. Stewart is undertaking to finish where nature quit, and is putting good soil where none existed before. With the combination, he is going to have one of the most lovely places in the county in a few years.

Many people would perhaps have abandoned the beautiful natural building site and build down in the valley where the soil was good, but a little elbow grease and horse sense will work wonders sometimes. We love to talk with farmers who have perseverance tied up with some pride and vision. We almost feel that their problem is our problem.

Peddlers Hit City in A Straight "8" Studie

Two very polished and fluent gents hit the little city of Brownfield last week in quest of buyers of rugs. We don't know what luck they had elsewhere, but if they did not get any further with their deals than at the Herald office, they left town with a rather dark brown taste toward us. We informed them right off the bat that we were not in the market for any rugs, that we had several reliable dealers here at home we always from. They left with a derisive whistle.

One of them was dressed like an ordinary citizen, while the other sported regalia that looked like a cross between a Paris taxicab driver and a Salvation Army captain. Both hatless, we believe, which reminds us that Will Rodgers says a hatless man is just as near completely dressed as when he and another comedian that come out on the stage each night in New York in full dress, minus shoes.

These hustlers were rather wise in stopping their car near the east edge of the city and not let the general run of us poor but honest working men know what kind of model they sported. Those who saw them just before they left said it was a President Straight Eight Studebaker, the like of which is out of range of even our bankers, so far.

Little boy to grocery clerk in midst of the Saturday night shopping rush: "Please, sir, have you seen a lady without a little boy who looks like me?"

Pig Clubs Alive— Bull Circles Formed

By County Agent
The pig club members are reporting litters of good pigs every day. Stephen Brock has nine left out of a litter of eleven; Ernest Whatley has saved five from eight pigs, and W. D. Christy has five nice pigs from a litter of seven.

The cold spells have caused the death of some of the pigs but with warmer weather the club boys will have more of their families. No better blood or individuals can be found than these gilts owned by these club boys and anyone wanting the best in either Poland Chinas, Durocs, or Hampshire will do well to see some of these boys and get some foundation stock that can not be beat.

Hugh Hulse, Lee Hulse, J. L. Thomson and Malcom Thomason, of the Lahey community, have purchased a Jersey bull through the county agent. These men are getting a bull from the Santa Gertrudas Jersey Farm at Kingsville whose dam died before she could be tested but his grand-dam on his dam's side has a register of merit record of 614 lbs. of fat or 720 of butter and his grand-dam on his sire's side was a full sister to the Cid, an imported bull that sold for $30,000.

This bull should be of untold value in building up the good grade herds of these men. Getting these pure bred bulls is perhaps the greatest thing that can be done towards making a sure living.

Baptist Meeting Growing Fast In Interest

Those who have been attending the Baptist meeting being conducted here under the auspices of the local Baptist church say they have been hearing some interesting sermons by the visiting Evangelist, Rev. L. L. Cooper, and this seems to be well born out by the gradual increase in attendance despite the unfavorable weather conditions at times.

The wife of the Evangelist is also doing her part toward the meeting in teaching the Bible by chalk sketches on the board. She is a real chalk artist, and her drawings are of interest to all, but especially the children.

The personal worker, Mr. Joe Miller, is also coming up well with his share, and while his part would indicate that personality alone was used, such is not the case, for Mr. Miller is a great believer in advertising as his frequent trips to the Herald office for more advertising will substantiate these facts.

We have not learned just when the meeting will close but understand it will continue as long as interest and results justify.

Baldwins Pleased With First Anniversary

The Baldwin Store has recently celebrated their first anniversary as one of the leading dry goods stores in the city, and they have been expressing the fact that they are highly pleased with results through the columns of the Herald in the shape of a large space in the form of paid advertising.

It has been but a brief time as time goes in a business way, but Baldwin's are now well established as one of our splendid business institutions. Of course Charlie was already well known here having been connected with another popular firm here as manager, which gave him a good start. He was soon joined by his brother, Jap, from the parent house at Lamesa, who has proven to be in a short time a general favorite also.

THE GROCER'S FRIEND

"Dear, don't you think it would help cut down our grocery bill if you would not eat butter with that delicious jam?"
"No, love; I'm being economical. The same piece of bread does for both."—Exchange.

Brownfield to Have A New Postmaster

It has been known by some for several weeks that a change in the line up in the local post office was contemplated, but in view of the fact that the new Postmaster had not received his commission, the Herald made no mention of it, although the fact of his appointment appeared in the daily papers some weeks ago.

Mr. Claude Jones, who for the past two years has carried the mail on route one, is the new appointee of President Coolidge. Mr. Jones has been in the civil service of the mail department for a number of years in his home state in Alabama before coming to Terry county. He worked some time as clerk here in the post office before the establishment of route one. Mr. Jones has made good as carrier, for we have never heard a complaint registered on his route, but we have heard many voluntary compliments on his efficiency, and all are expecting this to be carried into the post office when he takes the position. His assumption of his duties as postmaster, we understand is being held up pending the appointment of his successors as carrier on route one.

Mr. J. C. Bohannon has made a satisfactory postmaster with few if any serious complaints, surely no more than is generally registered, for we all have more or less of them, and will still have as long as we are just humans trying to serve other humans. But J. C. is primarily an out-of-door man, and there is where his heart has been for the past several months. He has, with a portion of his salary as postmaster gradually built up a herd of pure bred Jersey cows and heifers on his farm until they will now make him a good living.

New Drug Store to Open Soon After 1st

J. E. Michie, who has been in business here for the past several years in the grocery line, has announced the opening of a first class, modern drug store and soft drink fountain here on or about the first of March. It will be located in the Hotel Brownfield building, in the section now occupied by Head-Hargrave Dry Goods Co., who are moving to the present Cobb & Stephens location, when the latter firm moves to the new Bell building on the corner.

Mr. Michie sold out the 'M' System store some two months ago and has been like a fish out of water since. He has always been very popular in the business circles here as well as with the people of the trade territory.

Babb Dry Goods Purchase Anson Stock

The Babb bankrupt sale of dry goods that has been running here for the past month, has increased its speed again with the purchase recently of a large stock of dry goods at Anson, Texas, and brought here for sale in view of the fact that this section is so much more prosperous than that.

You will note their big ad in the Herald this week, and in addition they are distributing several thousand circulars. If you are looking for real bargains here is the chance of a thousand. Come and get 'em.

Siddons Loses Barn in Fire Sunday P. M.

J. S. Siddons, prominent farmer of the Challis community, was in Tuesday afternoon and informed the writer that he lost his barn and all the feed in it Sunday afternoon about three o'clock. No live stock were reported injured.

Mr. Siddons informed us that he carried some insurance, but did not state how much, but he is too much of a business man to be caught in such a calamity without insurance, and have to call on the neighbors for help.

W. E. Ray, of route one, is now numbered among our new readers.

PANTHER AT ROBY IS KILLING SMALL ANIMALS

The wild animal reported to be prowling in the vicinity of Roby two weeks ago has been classified as a panther. Parties west of Roby have heard its call and recognized the species, though at the time it was first seen it was thought to have been a Mexican Lion.

This week it is reported that it recently killed a goat, a young calf and a number of chickens and charged to its depredations.

Its track can be found along the ravines and at watering places in the vicinity where it ranges.

No one is able to account for the presence of the beast. There has not been any such wild animals in this section for years and there is no place within miles where such animals have been known to stay in the last twenty years.—Rotan Advance.

"GETTING MARRIED" AND "MAKING MARRIAGE"

FORT WORTH, Feb. 25.—"There is a vast difference between "getting married" and "making a marriage," points out Prof. Paul G. Morrison of the psychology department of Texas Christian University.

"The latter involves effort, consideration, sympathy and tolerance," he points out. "The wedding ceremony is not a magical act. Life goes on much the same thereafter, except that actions are super-added to habits already in force.

"The psychological aspects are what distinguish marriage from animal mating. They are intricate, complex and delicately balanced. The source of the majority of material problems is psychic—disparity of intelligence, disparity of culture. The purpose of marriage is to furnish a favorable environment for the development of emotional maturity."

The March issue of West Texas Today will be devoted almost entirely to Aviation and towns that have taken forward steps in this new means of transportation in West Texas. This issue follows the appointment of a Aviation Committee, and its meeting in Fort Worth.

NOTICE

Have unloaded car of Purina feeds for poultry, hogs and cows. If you have never tried this line of feeds you will be surprised at the wonderful results produced after a trial. Startena will take care of your baby chicks. We have one customer that has 500 chicks that began feeding Startena January 15th and has not lost but five chicks to date, numbers of others who have not lost any at all. Day by day we are told of flocks of chickens that egg production has been raised 50% to 75% on our new laying mash. Cow Chow will double your milk production when fed with home ground feeds half and half, and if you haven't the ground feeds we can supply same at a reasonable cost.

Purina Feeds have been sold here for the past eight years. Only change in feeds are that they are much better feeds now than when first brought here. This has been accomplished through experiments on ten or twelve large demonstration farms.

A COMPLETE LINE OF FEEDS WILL BE FOUND AT OUR WAREHOUSE.

BETTER FOODS IMPROVED HEALTH

Matador—A better foods program conducted in Motley county last year by Miss Norma Morrow, home demonstration agent, has resulted in 75 percent of home demonstration club women using more raw fruits and vegetables and cooking vegetables and meats better. Nearly every member has followed the practice of preserving foods for winter use and half of them have used the canning budget advocated by the Extension Service to insure a year-around supply of health giving foods for the family. Reports to Miss Morrow show that the general health conditions of the families adopting these practices have been much improved, and the study of food in relation to health is becoming very popular in Motley county.

SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Terry.

By virtue of an order of sale issued by order of a judgment decree of the 106th District Court of Terry County, Texas, by the Clerk of said Court on the 27th day of December A. D. 1928, in a certain suit No. 1014, wherein The Brownfield Independent School District is Plaintiff and C. L. Brown is defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff, for the sum of one hundred nine and 71-100 dollars for School Taxes, interest, penalty and costs, with interest on said sum at the rate of six per cent per annum from late fixed by said judgment, together with all costs of suit, that being the amount of said judgment rendered in favor of said plaintiff by the said 106th District Court of Terry County, on the 6th day of February A. D. 1928, and to me directed and delivered as Sheriff of said Terry County, I have seized, levied upon, and will, on the first Tuesday in March A. D. 1929 the same being the 5th day of said month, at the Court House door of said Terry County, in the City of Brownfield between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. on said day, proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder all the right, title and interest of said defendant in and to the following described real estate, levied upon as the property of said defendant, the same lying and being situated in the County of Terry and State of Texas, to-wit:

Lots Nos. 1, 2 and 3 in Block 55 Original Town of Brownfield in Terry County, Texas or upon the written request of said defendant or his attorney, a sufficient portion thereof to satisfy said judgment, interest, penalties and costs; subject, however, to the rights of the plaintiff for any other or further taxes on or against said property that may not be included herein, and the right of redemption, the defendant or any person having an interest therein, to redeem the said property, or their interest therein, at any time within two years from the date of sale by paying double the amount paid for said property, and subject to any other and further rights the defendant or anyone interested therein, may be entitled to, under the provisions of law. Said sale to be made by me to satisfy the above described judgment, together with interest, penalties and costs of suit, and the proceeds of said sale to be applied to the satisfaction thereof, and the remainder, if any, to be applied as the law directs.

J. M. Telford, Sheriff
Terry County, Texas.

Hats for Hoover's Inauguration Day

Miss Ellen McIntyre, Harold Phillips and Miss Hazel Cook wearing samples of the picturesque western headgear that 1,000 New York members of the Hoover-Curtis club will wear to the inauguration on March 4. The hats were made popular during the campaign as an allusion to Senator Curtis' western origin.

We had a letter the past week from Miss Belle Butcher, of Wild Cherry, Ark., renewing for their Herald. They were formerly three valued citizens of this county, and we imagine still have a hankering for old Terry.

THAT CHOCOLATY LANGUAGE

Rumor has it that one of the faculty has been trying very hard to correct the many errors in speech made by his five-year-old daughter. The other day he took her to call on her aunt, and at tea the little one was given a large piece of cake.

"Oh, I just love chocolate cake," she exclaimed. "It's awfully nice."
"Muriel, dear," corrected Daddy, "it is wrong to say that you 'love' cake, and I've frequently pointed out that 'just' is wrongly used in such a sentence. Again, 'awfully' is quite wrong; 'very' would be much more correct, dear. Now repeat your remark, please."

Muriel obediently repeated: "I like chocolate cake; it is very good."
There was a pause.

"But, Daddy, it sounds just like I was talking about bread."—Boston Beanpot.

DISTINGUISHED RELATION

A Beverly Hills man we know yearns to fill his house with comforts, while his wife yearns to fill it with antiques. Her pet theory is that in pawnshops one may find many treas-

"No," replied the brutal husband. "It was second-handed down to us by an 'uncle'."—Los Angeles Times.

* * * * * "SCRAMBLED EGGS" By the Seventh Grade Kathleen Hardin, Reporter. * * * * *

The seventh grade had an out-door lesson last Friday. We don't know whether some one needs to wash their feet or whether they were fumigating the building after the high school students went back to the high school building.

Willburn, Bruce and Otis were walking down the street on Christmas day. They decided to see who could waste the most money. Bruce took a five dollar bill out of his pocket and burned it. Otis: "Is that all you can waste? I can waste more than that." So he took a ten spot and burned it. Willburn: "Is that all you can waste? Just watch me." He took a check book wrote out a check for five thousand dollars and burned it up.

James Neal was visiting in the country, he heard a cow, moo. He said: "Git out of the way, L. E. can't you hear her honkin' her horn."

Frankie: "Oh! I am so frightened. I saw the largest snake awhile ago."

Kathleen: "How large was it?"
Frankie: "It was about 12 feet long."
Kathleen: "Aw now, Frankie, quit your graduating."

James Parker was looking into a mirror that magnified things to several times their size. He said: "My freckles look like ginger snaps."

Martha: "Yes, I can give you a job. You can gather eggs for us if you won't steal any."

Hobo Ray: "You're can trust me wid anything. Why I run a bath house fer a feller six months and didn't take a bath."

Mr. Williams: "Remember, a man learns most who begins at the bottom."

Arnold: "How about a guy learning to swim?"

Sheriff Mon. Telford went to Pecos, Texas last week after a man wanted in the kidnaping case that will likely come up at some future term of court.

SODA NOT THE PERFECT FLU PREVENTATIVE

The following letter to the "Flu" editor of the Colorado Record from a man in Lufkin, Texas, who carried a package of Arm & Hammer soda around with him and took from two to three doses a day as a "flu preventative," establishes the fact that you have about as much chance when the flu germs get after you, as Oscar did when the two hijackers took his Studebaker and made him walk back to Roscoe.

The letter follows and is very illuminating due to the fact that it is from a confirmed soda fiend:

"There ain't nothing to it when it comes to remedies to keep off the flu, and all that line I shot at you about the preventative is bunk. I was feeling like a two-year-old gobbler on a bright sunny March morning, when, without a moment's warning, or the slightest inkling as to what was going to happen, I was stricken with a malady that thrust me within hearing distance of the screechings of old Saint Peter's pearly gates, and the chimes from the Heavenly bells echoed and re-echoed in thunder tones through the auditory nerves and bursting drums of my head.

"I was transformed into a three-story building, with my legs used for huge pillars upon which that structure stood. A band of wild Comanches were using my legs for trees into which they shot their keen-pointed arrows for battle practice. My stomach was used as winter quarters for Floto-Sells and Ringling Brothers' great aggregation of wild beasts and serpents. My mouth was used for the purpose of manufacturing limburger cheese, the upper part of my head used as a silencer for the entire army's big cannons. I hurt all over worse than any other place. I exclaimed in the words of the immortal Ben Hur, "Oh death, where is thy sting, oh grave, where is thy victim." No, brother, ten thousand times no, I positively did not have the jimmies—I had not got the Holy Ghost—it was the flu!

"And, positively, there is not a word of truth in that line I shot at you about soda being a preventative. Nay, Adeline, nay!

"With highest regards, and perfect admiration, I am, your friend,
"W. S. POSTON."

MEASURES TO DEPORT CRIMINAL ALIENS URGED

Washington, D. C.—It is expected that some action will be taken within the few remaining weeks of the short session of Congress on measures pertaining to immigration. The Johnson Bill, which has been reported to the House and has been on the House union calendar since last session, is being considered by the Committee on Immigration. This measure provides for the deportation of criminal aliens.

Representative Johnson, of Washington, chairman of the House Committee on Immigration, stated that this bill contained some drastic provisions which were designed to help break up gangster activities in the large cities. He said that similar legislation has been put through the House in two previous Congresses but has never come out of the Committee in the Senate. He thought that it might be possible to put through the more drastic provisions of the measure, to meet the gangster problem with which cities are dealing today, and leave other provisions for subsequent legislation, although the entire deportation measure would be desirable legislation. The principal reason for deporting undesirable aliens, he said, is to promote the maintenance of law and order in this country and to afford protection and opportunities to all aliens and citizens alike.

WAYLAND COLLEGE STRESSES LITERARY EDUCATION

Plainview, Texas.—Erasmus Tack of the Amarillo News-Globe attempted to break into the literary world by sending a manuscript to the Saturday Evening Post. Students of Wayland College will reveal their literary ability soon as they are going to compete in an essay writing contest in response to an offer made by Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the Baptist Church of Floydada.

Rev. O'Brien is offering a prize of $15 each for the two best essays written on the following subjects: "The Advantages of A Junior College," and "The Advantages of Wayland College." The essays will be under the direction of the English department of the college of which Miss Wilma Friedsam is supervisor. The one-hundred-sixty-five students in this department will all compete for the prizes. The above questions are also being debated in the Argumentation and Debating classes and much valuable material is expected to be presented on the subjects.

Mr. O'Brien has also stated that the two prize winning essays will be printed in pamphlet form and mailed to all high school seniors in the Plains-Panhandle country. The stories will also be offered to the leading Texas dailies for publication.

Make Your Feed Crop Last All the Winter

YOU can make your feed crops go one-third further—last all through the winter—by grinding them with a W-W Grinder.

The W-W grinds and mixes everything from the ground up with lightning speed—separately or together. Turns alfalfa, ear or snapped corn, maize heads, oats, barley, and all other grains and roughage into nutritious mixed feed that has a third more feeding value.

Powerful hammers do the work on your W-W. They do a quicker, better job of grinding—and you have no burrs, gears or knives to break or work loose. Fourteen years of successful service on thousands of farms everywhere have proved the W-W to be the world's greatest feed grinder.

There is a W-W to fit every purpose and every purse. Six sizes—blower, elevator, or self-feeder.

All have Timken Tapered Bearings—Alomite-Zerk lubrication—Rockwood pulleys.

Come in and let us show you this money-making grinder. Or let us demonstrate on your farm with your own feed and your own power.

HOW SOME GREAT MEN MET THEIR DEATHS

When Napoleon felt that his last hour was approaching, he did not put on the imperial robe and crown, but asked to be dressed in his Field Marshal's uniform, even to the boots.

Augustus Caesar arose from his couch, carefully adjusted his toga and met death standing. Julius Caesar, when slain, drew the folds of his toga over his face that his enemies might not see his death agony. Seward, Earl of Northumberland, left his bed and put on his armor, saying, "A man should not die like a beast." Lord Nelson, while being carried below with the fatal bullet in his back, took out a silk handkerchief and covered his face to conceal it from the crew.—Ex.

The rise to fame of Charley Curtis proves that this country will do something for an Indian when an Indian does something for the country.

After all is said and done, the farmers that need the most relief are those who have moved to town.

JONES BEFORE THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

About 90,000,000 pounds of jute is being used in the United States annually, and it is gradually increasing.

It is imported principally from India.

About 150,000,000 pounds of jute is used for cotton bagging, but as about one-half of this covering is re-woven, about 80,000,000 pounds of new jute is used each year for cotton bagging. In other words, about ten times as much jute is shipped into this country every year as is necessary to cover the entire cotton crop of the United States. The other 90% is used for other purposes, for sacks, bags, wrapping material, for the body of carpets and linoleum and various other purposes.

If cotton were substituted for all of the jute that is now being used for all purposes in the United States, it would occasion the use of more than a million additional bales of cotton, which, according to the estimates of the Department of Agriculture, would very greatly increase the average price of cotton, and thus increase the returns to the cotton growers many millions of dollars.

Just now a decided effort is being made to find new outlets for our surplus cotton. In a great many of these attempted new uses cotton runs into competition with jute, which is manufactured largely by the cheap labor of India. But for this competition cotton would be channelling into a great many of such additional outlets. The tariff would be of great advantage to the grower in the disposal of surplus cotton.

The question of tariff may be a debatable one, but for the time being, at least, it is the adopted policy of this country. Any tariff that is levied should be upon every article coming through the custom house from which a revenue may be derived—on the raw products as well as the finished articles. Any tariff bill should be a fair and uniform one covering all such commodities.

The cotton grower must pay tariff upon the very ties with which he binds his cotton; he must pay a tariff upon his supplies and the utensils with which he produces his cotton. So long as this is the settled policy of the country, it is unfair to force him into competition with the cheap labor of India.

40,000 ACRES MAY BE SOLD TO OKLAHOMA

A recent decision of the supreme court awarded to Texas a strip of land containing 10,000 acres on the north Texas line and western Oklahoma line, which upheld the survey determining the true 100th meridian accepted as the boundary of Texas. The exact location of the line had been doubt until the exact survey was made and found the early survey lines to be bearing east rather than down the actual geographic line.

Texas is much richer by the acquisition but the land has since the formation of the state been considered Oklahoma territory and the friendship of the two states makes Texas reluctant to tack it onto the map of this state without some kind of adjustment. A committee has been appointed from the Oklahoma legislature to confer with a committee from Texas concerning the purchase of Oklahoma of the rights to the 40,000 acres in order to keep the land in Oklahoma. Both legislatures are now in session and the committee appointed by the two Texas branches have expressed their personal opinion that the desire of Oklahoma should be allowed with proper compensation for the land in its real value.

Some of the best north Texas farm lands are included in the strip which at one point cuts through the middle of the little town of Higgins, leaving one part in Texas and one in Oklahoma. Oil prospects have been going on in a part of this section but no producers have been found on any of the area affected. Texas lawmakers and officials expect the sale to go through, but no amount has been suggested as the worth of this awarder property.

GAMBLING AND INTOXICATION GREATEST EVILS IN TERRY

In the District Court of Terry County, Texas, January Term, A. D. 1929. To the Honorable Gordon B. McGuire, Judge of said Court:

We your Grand Jury for the January Term of the District Court of said Terry County, in open Court, a quorum being present and through our foreman respectfully make the following report of our work as Grand Jurors on this the 13th day of February as follows:

We have very carefully inquired into all purported law violations brought to our attention and where the facts warranted have returned bills of indictment. We have returned into this Court some seven felony indictments and seven misdemeanor indictments.

There seems to be a great respect in our County among our citizens for law enforcement and against crime, however there are certain matters we wish to call to the attention of our citizenship and among them are the tendency of some of our young boys and in many instances among the older men to violate our gambling laws.

This especially noticeable in portions of our County which we condemn and call on our local officers to do their best to stop such practice.

Again there is still a graver matter, in our opinion, that is being practiced and that is the purchase of and drinking among our young boys and girls of different wines sold by our local merchants. We are sorry to report that we have had frequent reports where not only our young boys have become intoxicated on these wines, but our young girls also. We have had before our body our local druggists who have willingly expressed a willingness to cease the sale of same if all merchants over our county would refrain therefrom. We as a grand jury commend such a stand of the druggists who have expressed themselves in this way, and say that we believe this will go a long way in protecting our young boys and girls by removing the temptation as far from them as possible.

We have very carefully inspected the various departments of our court house and find same in an excellent sanitary condition.

We thank the Judge of this Court for his kindness, our District and County Attorneys, for their work with us, and all other local officers who have assisted us in our work.

Having finally finished our work as grand jurors we most respectfully ask that we be finally discharged for the term.

W. M. Adams,
Foreman of Grand Jury.

Official paper of Terry County.

Terry county has the most law-abiding citizenship taken as a whole in the United States. She has had few murders, no robberies, but a few petty burglaries, and not a high-jacking stunt on record. Why will good people live in a section where their lives are in continual jeopardy when we have so much space here among the cream of God's footstool.

Information came to us this week from reliable source that Dick Wyatt has sold the Ralls Banner to James L. Dow of Lubbock. We knew that Jim Dow had stayed out of the game just about as long as he could. He is a good man, a versatile writer, and a tireless booster for his section, but we hate like smoke to see Dick quit the game again.

As like the sound of crashing thunder, two lions of the United States Senate made the senate hall ring last week pro and con the 18th Amendment. Sen. Borah for and Jim Reed against. Both arguments read good, both were interesting, but like all debates, we imagine the senate, is lined up pretty well as it was before hand, as well as the people who either heard or read the speeches.

And again we repeat we'll continue to take our doses of sand storms at regular intervals if we can still be immune from such stunts of nature that tore up some towns in north Texas, Mississippi and Alabama the first of this week. You can go in doors during a sandy, close the doors and windows, prop your feet up and read your paper while they rage, but when one of the north Texas variety hit you, you may not have any house to go into.

We read it and re-read it; we wiped our glasses and read it again. Try as we would to disbelieve it, there it was still popping up to confront us. It was in Sunday's Dallas News, and set off with a two-column head. It merely stated that the first full page ad ever run in Dallas appeared in the News just 32 years ago. Now that's not far removed, and Dallas was a city of around 50,000 at that time. It also stated that several consultations were held by the store managers before they fully decided to run it. The sale went over with a bang and large copy became the fad. Now days the small town merchant thinks nothing of running a page ad; frequently takes two pages, and occasionally four pages in the local paper. Times do change—and for the better.

DEBUNKING THE DEVIL

The banquet of the Toronto Convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America reached the point at 11:30 that all banquets, no matter how good, seem fated to reach at 11:30. People had had enough speeches, and a good orchestra was waiting to play dance music. Then a tall, lanky man was introduced—the Reverend William Murdoch MacLeod, of Pinehurst, N. C., a Presbyterian. The groan was almost audible, but in three minutes the dawdling, twinkling-eyed man from the piney hills had done for that audience, and to them, just about what Al Jolson or Fanny Brice or their rivals could have done. "Some of my brother ministers," he said, among other things, "preach that motion pictures are the work of the devil. I am tired of seeing the devil get credit for so much. When I think of one great inventor working on a projector and another on celluloid film, each unknowing the other's effort, and of how those two inventions complemented each other, I could not be a devout Christian without believing that Divine Providence had more to do with the operation than had Satan.

"When I go to motion pictures and find there the relaxation which every man needs who does a real day's work, when I see the eternal drama of right triumphing over wrong, wrought before me with artistic skill, I go back to my work a better and, I hope, a bigger man. "Except for two counties in North Carolina, this is my first travel. But it is not my first view of the world. I know the mountains of Switzerland, the harbor of Buenos Aires, the paradise of the Mediterranean coast, and the rugged peaks of the Himalayas. I have even been to Canada before! Motion pictures have broadened my knowledge of the world and have better fitted me for my work as a minister of the Gospel."

One of the two counties in which Mr. MacLeod has traveled in North Carolina must have contained a first-class university. He adds an easily discernible educational finish to a natura! gift for oratory that seems to have been vouchsafed especially to mountain preachers.

But Mr. MacLeod has a quality greater than schools or platform experience can engender. He radiates the spirit of Christianity. When he speaks of the brotherhood of man, it is not words but a golden ideal that fills the hall and hearts if his hearers. When he called the motion picture theatre owners "my brethren" he meant it and they liked it. We wish he were at least twins.

ARE YOU A "COLD WATER CLERK?"

A cold-water clerk will never help build up your business. We met one such at Christmas time. The store was small, and slippers, that never-forgotten gift for the whole family, were strung on wires, half a dozen lines of them, about the store. They made a fine display—soft, dainty colors for mother, bunny-ears for the kiddies, old solid comforts for dad—and suggested to everyone at least one appropriate gift.

In the store were two women, one a saleslady, the other a cold-water clerk. Said the first, when people mentioned as scores did, the attractive arrangement: "Yes, we thought it was a fine idea. People can see at a glance just the sort of slippers they want. You see, we have everything, from the old-fashioned carpet slippers for grandpa to cuddly down-trimmed slippers for baby. Did you notice those little slippers with the dolly's head on them—right above your head? How a little girl like yours would love them!" Of course, she made sales—and lots of them.

But the cold water clerk was different. "Hmph!" she'd say, "we had to do something with them. They're always a nuisance at Christmas. Guess you don't know the work there was in clipping all those slippers up there." Somehow, then and there people lost interest. When they first noticed the

Haskell Subscriber Answers Our Question

Haskell, Texas, Rt. 1.
February 22, 1929

Terry County Herald,
Brownfield, Texas.

Dear Sir:—
Under a recent issue of the Terry County Herald of February 15, noted the following article:

"We are no bugologist, but why is it we keep talking about deep freezes to eradicate bugs and worms, when they make cotton in South Texas every year, where it never freezes. Also please explain why they have destructive insects in the north where it gets 40 below zero and freezes 4 feet deep? Answer us that as Jeff says."

I will try to answer these questions put, in my opinion and my knowledge, and might differ with others or might hurt the feelings of others, which is although not my intention, just only aiming to give the truth and facts as records give. I, previous before 1900 have lived and farmed in South Texas, Washington county, I remember that as late as March 18th where a tub on the north side of the house was froze over where I could stand on. In the other winter months the freeze was more severe, so it did freeze in that part of south Texas.

Now to speak of the extreme south part of South Texas. The Texas Almanac reports about 3 light freezes annually, so facts show that it does even freeze in the extreme south part of Texas. In my opinion deep freezes undoubtedly kill many insects and worms, and so free us from the greater part of that pest. In my opinion the insects can find better hibernation places in Northwest Texas than in North, East, Central and South Texas.

For in Northwest Texas, the winter months are dry with scarcely any rainfall, therefore is lots of cracks and opening in the ground to afford excellent winter quarters for insects. In the other parts of the State there is more winter moisture, so fill up these cracks and holes and have less winter hibernating quarters.

Then it is questioned whether they make cotton every year in South Texas. Yes, they make cotton in South Texas every year. In the worst year of infestation of insects they have made cotton in South Texas, but according to the damage of the insects as they have down there, boll weavils, leaf worms, boll worms and sharp-shooter. So it varies there in the production of cotton as a man can see in the reports of the counties to the Government.

Insects work more or less under weather conditions, as for instance on the South Plains the past year was the case. When the report was current that it rained in the month of August near 10 inches of rain on the South Plains of Texas in different counties, was that any wonder that it produced insects to injure the cotton crop. It did not injure the corn and feed crop as the paper reports an enormous crop of that kind. In any county where it does rain like it did in Terry county the last year, 10 inches in 1 month, when cotton has to fruit and make, will have insects, and probably 10 inches only for the other 11 months of the year—with such an uneven distribution of rainfall, the county did very well what cotton they did make, as some report that they did make nearly 1/2 bale cotton per acre.

In the North now where it gets as cold as 40 degrees below zero, I guess they have some destructive insects and some will hibernate in frozen grounds probably deep holes to a depth of 4 feet, but at the same time in spite of a few insects will make no failures but will make splendid crops.

There is where an all-wise God in His wisdom uses His elements as His instruments for the better of His people, to send in certain times a deluge of moisture, what some people think is a calamity, but is a blessing generally. So it happens that some portion of the country some years will make less from insect depredation, and by careful observation a person can see that it does change, and not always one certain country have near failures or small crops.

If the South Plains counties would have made cotton in proportion to the black land belt counties as Ellis, Williams, McLennon, Hill, Hildalgo who have made a 100,000 bales and above and some more in the black land belt close to 100,000 bales; if the South Plains with the abundance of rain the last year, would have made as the year 1926 as the counties of Lubbock in the year 1926 73,000, Crosby 75,000, Hale 46,000, Lynn and Dawson near 40,000, Floyd, Lamb, Terry and Hockley from 20,000 to 25,000 and these counties below the Caprock where in part the insects injured the crop but more from dry weather—what would have become of the cotton price? It surely would have gone down again as in the year 1926 as average from 8 to 12c per lb.

It must be the aim of the farmer to keep cotton overproduction down, that is the only remedy for the farmer. If the farmers plant for the present year an increased acreage in cotton as they have already figured, what kind of a price can we expect?

I like the plan of C. Sears of Terry county very well, where he gives his idea of planting 1-3 to corn, 1-3 to maize and feedstuff and 1-3 to cotton, also raising lots of chickens, hogs and dairying. I read Mr. Sears correspondence in the Herald and Haskell Free Press with much interest and appreciation. I doubt whether Mr. Sears plan could be exercised to that extent in the other parts of the State, but farmers that heretofore have planted cotton in excess should reduce his cotton acreage at least 1-4 of last year's planting. If all the cotton raisers would do that, we would get for our 1929 crops 25 to 35c per lb., as the case was in the year 1923, when cotton sold all during the autumn of that year for such a price.

On the other hand if we farmers increase our cotton acreage only over the cotton belt we can look for a price from 8 to 12c pound as in the year 1926, what we have had, will never again under the same conditions. Who would want to raise cotton at a price it was in the year of 1923, with the best crop in history, the people experienced financial ruin and a good many had to quit farming in that blessed year of the plenty.

People should not look for a calamity to happen in other parts of the country, which some people love to hear from other parts of the country from floods, insects, pests or excessive drouths, because our acreage is figured from planting time on. So we farmers have to be careful of what we are doing and act wise.

It is Washington's birthday, a cold cloudy day here, such as we have had during February up to the present date. I have made my letter too lengthy and do not know whether it's fit for publication or not. I always love to read the Herald as it brings a lot of interesting news.

With best wishes to the Herald and all its readers,
C. SCHROEDER.

A SURE-ENOUGH COMPLIMENT TO UNCLE SAM

Informed by a lawyer that her share in a million dollar estate in Sweden would be paid her only on her return to that country to live, Mrs. Jennie Hendrickson straightened up from her wash tub at Waterville, Pa., long enough to say, "I would rather be a washerwoman in the United States than an heiress in Sweden—I'd die of homesickness over there."

Next summer thousands of orators will make Fourth of July speeches at thousands of picnics, but none of them will say as much as this Pennsylvania washerwoman said. She paid Uncle Sam the best compliment he will ever get and meant every word of it.

DOING THE DULL THING

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

"How much easier it is," I heard a man say the other day, "to do a dull thing from choice than from necessity."
There is a misconception in the minds of youth that some day if one accomplishes the tasks set by teachers and parents and people in charge of things, there will come a time when one can do as he pleases, when everything that comes into the day's work will be interesting and pleasant and easy, or if there are tasks which do not have these characteristics, they may be sidetracked and shunted off for some one else to do.

The theory is quite false, and one might much better learn early in life to do the dull uninteresting thing and to learn to do it cheerfully from choice.
When I was teaching English composition one of the rules of the game was that no papers were to be in late without a penalty of reduction of grade. There were very few members of the class who did not at one time or another drop a late theme on my desk with apologies at times, of course, and explanations, but the task of writing something daily had grown dull, and so had been delayed and accomplished only at the last moment from necessity.

Stanley never had a late theme, so far as I recalled and I one day remarked to him something of his regularity and promptness.

"I don't like writing," he confessed, "and I don't find it easy. My brain seems to atrophy when I face the task of putting thoughts down upon paper. For that reason I get at the work when I am freshest. I choose to do the dull thing first. If I did not, possibly I would never get it done, or at least I should do it with less enthusiasm and success if I pushed it into the last minute and did it hurriedly."

He had the right philosophy. Doing the dull thing from choice, it finally lost its dullness, for he became interested in writing, he took it up as a profession, and today he is making a living from scribbling his ideas upon paper.

Things are dull, people are dull, often because we are ourselves uninterested or uninteresting. Choosing to do the apparently dull thing often robs it of its dullness.

"Now I want you to be pleasant to Mrs. Crane tonight," Nancy says to me when we are going out for the evening. "I know she's dull, but she can't be neglected entirely."

I give my attention to Mrs. Crane. I make an effort to bring her out, and I do it with some enthusiasm and interest as I might take up a new game. She is, in fact, not so dull as I had supposed. Occasionally she almost scintillates, and before the evening is over I find her actually entertaining.

"Mrs. Crane is really a very bright woman at times," I confess to Nancy as we are coming home. I had done the dull thing from choice and had found it interesting.

Wood E. Johnson handed us a check Saturday that puts him well in advance again. Wood says he has a number of turkey hens for sale. However, we did not understand that he was going out of the turkey business himself, but just had more turkeys than he needs on the farm.

A. L. Walker, of the Meadow section, came in this week and had us change his paper from that address to Spur, Texas, as he was moving on his newly purchased ranch down there. Lee says he has some good hunting down there in the breaks, and invited the editor down there for that purpose some time. Lee has not entirely cut loose from old Terry, as he still owns his home place in the Meadow country.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS BETTER THAN DIRECT MAIL

From the Claude News:
Week before last the Claude News man sent out sixty-seven personal letters, as a try-out on direct by mail advertising, and at the same time placed an ad in the paper to find out whether direct by mail advertising is worth the price—about six times the usual amount of cost of newspaper advertising. We received several ads from the newspaper advertising, and only one letter from the DIRECT BY MAIL ADVERTISING, and that letter was from a firm that we buy heavily from and he wrote us because he wanted to keep our trade and show his friendship and goodwill, but he sent no ad.

This goes to show that an advertisement placed in the local newspaper will and does bring results, while the direct by mail advertising, which costs from four to six times as much money, DOES NOT bring results. If you should visit the local postoffice an hour after the mail has been put up and see dozens and dozens of pieces of direct by mail advertising thrown on the floor and in the waste basket, and then look over the room an hour after your local paper has been put up for delivery, and you will not see a single copy of the the Home Town Paper thrown in the waste basket, while the floor is usually littered with all kinds of direct by mail advertising. Direct by mail advertising costs anywhere from 4 to 6 times as much money, as an ad, the same size placed in your local paper and does not produce one-tenth the good results. TRY IT.

Izzy: "Vy, two doors, of course. De front door and de back door."

Customer: "Ah, that is where you are wrong, Izzy. You have four doors. You have a front door, a back door, a cuspidor and Isadore."

Izzy: "Ha, ha, dot's good. Just you wait and I get that on Rachel."

Later, after the arrival of Rachel:

Izzy: "Rachel, how many doors have ve got in dis store?"

Rachel: "Aw, now, don't be so foolish. Ve got two doors, of course."

Izzy: "Aw, no, Rachel ve got four doors—the front door, the back door, the spittoon und meself."

CONOCO-ETHYL
is weatherproof

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs at its best twelve months out of every year. It knows no seasons.

It gives the same quick start in February as it does in May—and it follows through by delivering steady, sustained, "knockless" power against the piston heads.

That's important! It's not hard to find a motor fuel that will start easily. Your chief concern should be in what it does after starting.

Being a combination of Conoco, the Triple-Test Gasoline, and Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound developed by General Motors, Conoco Ethyl is the ideal motor fuel. You'll feel the difference in the operation of your car the very second you switch to Conoco Ethyl.

So why not join the thousands of contented Conoco Ethyl users? Why not get out of your car all of the power which its designers put into it?

Start the habit today by drawing up to a Conoco Ethyl Pump—at service stations and garages.

FEWER BUSINESS FAILURES THAN IN JANUARY 1928

Austin, Texas, Feb. 11.—Commercial failures in Texas during January numbered 61, or the fewest for a January since 1920, when 20 bankruptcies were reported, according to Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

“These figures compare with 54 failures in December and 66 in January 1928,” Mr. Nichols said. “Normally, January is the high month of the year, so that a large gain from December to January is expected. The increase this year was but seventeen, whereas there was a gain of 24 last year and of 20 two years ago between the two months. From the standpoint of numbers, therefore, the showing is very encouraging. On the other hand, the liability showing is not so favorable. Liabilities of the 61 failures amounted to $1,181,000 against $1,571,000 for the 66 defaulting companies in January last year. Liabilities of the average failure are running about $20,000. This is about in line with the trend over the past few months.”

N. F. Lovelace of Tokio, was in Saturday, and while here called to renew his subscription. Thanks.

MORE NEW CORPORATIONS THIS YEAR THAN LAST

Austin, Texas, Feb. 18.—During the month of January, 336 companies were granted charters by the Secretary of State in Texas, according to Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

“This situation provides an optimistic outlook for business and industry over the next few months,” Mr. Nichols said. “Normally, January is the peak month for the chartering of companies and the trend is downward until December. If a similar course is followed this year, 1929 is likely to establish a new high record.”

“Capitalization of the 336 companies totaled $101,063,000, compared to a capitalization of $23,147,000 by the 259 companies chartered in January a year ago. Many of the companies granted charters last month were small, but the total capitalization was large because of the organization of five building and loan societies, ranging in size from $1,000,000 to $50,000,000. Fortysix outside corporations were given authority to operate within the State.

“An important feature is the organization of 50 manufacturing concerns. Oil companies increased from twelve in January, 1928, to 21 in January, 1929, while public service corporations remained unchanged at nine. Financial institutions went up from fifteen to 22 in the twelve-month period, and real estate and building firms gained from 27 to 39. The general list also shows an increase.”

A. K. Short, Federal Land Bank representative of Houston and M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer extension service, of A. & M. College will hold a one day terracing school in Haskell the first of March in cooperation with County Agent Trice. Other county agents will assist in the work.

Stamford is experiencing a remarkable growth in building with an addition of 1700 square feet to the city hall to house new fire fighting equipment, a $85,000 West Texas Utilities ice house, one pretentious six story hotel, and a six story modern office building.

Sit Right in the Center all the Time

THE CASE 2-Row Lister Cultivator is equipped with a seat centering device so that the operator is always right in the center—even when turning at ends of field or when working on side hills. In this position, the weight is always equally distributed and the levers do not interfere with the operator's comfort.

Machine is so balanced that operator's weight is applied to shovels and disks in proportion to pressure required.

This cultivator can be used with disks and shovels or knives and shovels as shown in illustration. Small hand lever adjusts disks to any angle and convenient levers control depth of both disks and shovels.

Frame is all steel. Disk bearings are hard maple. Come in soon—you've got to see this cultivator to realize its outstanding advantages.

FEWER BUSINESS FAILURES THAN IN JANUARY 1928

Austin, Texas, Feb. 11.—Commercial failures in Texas during January numbered 61, or the fewest for a January since 1920, when 20 bankruptcies were reported, according to Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"These figures compare with 54 failures in December and 66 in January 1928," Mr. Nichols said. "Normally, January is the high month of the year, so that a large gain from December to January is expected. The increase this year was but seventeen, whereas there was a gain of 24 last year and of 20 two years ago between the two months. From the standpoint of numbers, therefore, the showing is very encouraging. On the other hand, the liability showing is not so favorable. Liabilities of the 61 failures amounted to $1,181,000 against $1,571,000 for the 66 defaulting companies in January last year. Liabilities of the average failure are running about $20,000. This is about in line with the trend over the past few months."

N. F. Lovelace of Tokio, was in Saturday, and while here called to renew his subscription. Thanks.

MORE NEW CORPORATIONS THIS YEAR THAN LAST

Austin, Texas, Feb. 18.—During the month of January, 336 companies were granted charters by the Secretary of State in Texas, according to Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"This situation provides an optimistic outlook for business and industry over the next few months," Mr. Nichols said. "Normally, January is the peak month for the chartering of companies and the trend is downward until December. If a similar course is followed this year, 1929 is likely to establish a new high record."

"Capitalization of the 336 companies totaled $101,063,000, compared to a capitalization of $23,147,000 by the 259 companies chartered in January a year ago. Many of the companies granted charters last month were small, but the total capitalization was large because of the organization of five building and loan societies, ranging in size from $1,000,000 to $50,000,000. Forty-six outside corporations were given authority to operate within the State."

"An important feature is the organization of 50 manufacturing concerns. Oil companies increased from twelve in January, 1928, to 21 in January, 1929, while public service corporations remained unchanged at nine. Financial institutions went up from fifteen to 22 in the twelve-month period, and real estate and building firms gained from 27 to 39. The general list also shows an increase."

A. K. Short, Federal Land Bank representative of Houston and M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer extension service, of A. & M. College will hold a one day terracing school in Haskell the first of March in cooperation with County Agent Trice. Other county agents will assist in the work.

Stamford is experiencing a remarkable growth in building with an addition of 1700 square feet to the city hall to house new fire fighting equipment, a $85,000 West Texas Utilities ice house, one pretentious six story hotel, and a six story modern office building.

SOME NOTES ON

POULTRY CULTURE

Observance of five fundamental practices in the care of poultry is necessary if farmers are to obtain full advantage from the favorable market conditions predicted for 1929, according to poultry authorities who have made observation of conditions during the past year.

Here are the essentials to profitable poultry raising in 1929, as the experts see them: Extreme sanitation in care of the laying hens; production of quality products for better prices; an adequate feeding program; keeping of adequate records to show cost of producing product; and, betterment of stock on the average farm.

On these essential requirements, sanitation, adequate feeding and keeping of records depend entirely upon the amount of care taken by the farmer. The other two requirements, production of a better quality product, and the betterment of stock depend largely upon the kind of chicks produced by the hatcheries, from which better stock must inevitably come, since hens on the average farm are not of the high egg laying type from which it is profitable to breed.

The average farm hen of today, according to U. S. Government observation, lays too few eggs to enable the farmer to secure the profit he should have from his poultry flock, and at the same time lays too small an egg to secure top prices for the product.

Betterment of farm flocks has been noticeable during the past few years, particularly, farm statistics show, and this betterment coincides with the report of the International Baby Chick Association, estimating an increase in the sale of baby chicks during the past few years to the number of 500,000,000 in 1928.

Still greater improvement in the average farm flock is predicted for this and following years, due to organization of leading hatcheries of the country into a business association pledged to produce only the best of quality chicks from stock of known profit-producing ability. Members of this organization, identified by the slogan, "Hatchery Chicks for Greater Profits," are also pledged to observance of the best of business practices in their dealings with customers, as part of their program designed to gradually increase the quality of hens on American farms.

R. S. Heartsill was in this week and informed us that he had recently returned from a prospecting trip to South Texas and had decided that he would not give one acre of his land for two acres of their hundred dollar land, as he could make more profit off his one acre after all expenses were paid. He said there were 12 broke men down there to one here.

Bowers Bros. have recently stocked a car of that matchless chicken and cow feed, Purina, and Bob says to come and get it.

J. J. Turner informed us the past week that he was preparing to go to Oklahoma to visit his two sons who live at Snyder, that state.

MEN WILL FIGHT

He has failed!
He is hollow inside.
Yet for years
I thought him a strong man.

He resisted every force
He built a fine business.

A bout with typhoid fever
When he was thirty;
Internal injuries
In an automobile accident

At forty;
Grief over a lost son
At fifty—
A scandal-monger's attack,
A disastrous fire—
He resisted them all,
He met the troubles life brings,
Kept on smiling
Kept his square chin up.

Then conditions changed,
Profits grew less,
Competition keener.
For the first time in his life
He faced a real battle
The battle of men.

He sat in his store
Bewailing the good old days.

He failed!
All his life
He had resisted everything—
Everything but temptation!

When the time came to fight
He was tempted and fled!
He failed to realize:
You can't run away from tomorrow.

Real men fight!
To the very end!
They resist the temptation to quit.
New competition spurs them on.

They do not know fear.
A sickly balance sheet
Is a challenge to battle.
A slump in trade
Is a bugle call to action.

We are all inherently lazy!
Tempted to follow the course of least resistance.
Temptation tests character!
Strong men resist.
Strong men fight temptation!

A PRAYER FOR OUR COUNTRY
By George Washington

Almighty God, who hast given us this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord and confusion; from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be peace and justice at home, and that through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble suffer not our trust in Thee to fail. All of which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord.
