County Agent's Column

Lowell Stephens reports that his pig is gaining 1 1/2 lbs. a day and that he is going to make some one work in the fat pig class.

R. F. McFarridge, county agent from Gaines county, bought three more F. C. sow pigs and one Poland male from the Terry county club boys. He also selected a Duroc male from Mr. J. C. Bohanan.

County Club Rally July 12th

The boys and girls of the fourteen 4-H Clubs of Terry County will meet in Brownfield on July 12th, for their Annual Club Rally. This gathering should bring more than three-hundred club members here for a big day.

The committee for a lunch decided that a chicken barbecue would be the biggest and best thing that could be had in the way of eats. The Brownfield C. of C. and the Terry County Farm Bureau will cooperate with the club members in the preparation and serving of this meal.

The program committee have worked out an excellent program that will contain singing, yelling, speaking and some contests. It will be a big day for Terry county 4-H club boys and girls so start planning on bringing every club member in the county.

Judging Contestants Meet Saturday

All club members who wish to try out for grain and poultry teams meet in the county agent's office not later than 2 P. M. Saturday.

R. B. Davis County Agent.

Work Being Rushed On New Phillip Station

The new Phillips retail station is being rushed to completion, and Contractor Wingerd has the job far enough along now that one can begin to see what a beauty it will be when completed, and how much it will add to the looks of that section of the city.

The style is strictly English, with its sharp roof line and gables, giving it an air of oddity like nothing else in the city. When complete with neat walks and green grass growing about the terracing, shade trees about the curb, etc., one can well imagine an English pastoral landscape with sheep grazing in the back grounds.

When completed, it is not only going to be a nice place for the fellow who runs the station, but will be an attractive place for those in need of service to stop and fill up, for people love the beautiful. It attracts and commands attention. All service stations in residence sections should be made to look as neat as possible, and should be kept as clean as possible whether in the residence or business section of the town, for customers are as surely attracted to clean and beautiful places as the bee is to the sweet and lovely flower.

Non-Stop Ford Men Here Monday Morn.

The three citizens of Levelland who are endeavoring to make a non-stop run of the entire state, were here for awhile Monday morning, making their pause in front of the Tudor Sales Co., local Ford dealers, but kept the engine going. They were just getting started and we understand this was the first stop. Breakfast was taken here before leaving.

The trio will endeavor to make every county seat in the state, before turning off the engine, which is estimated to take something like 50,000 miles of travel to complete, but the men were very confident of succeeding when here. It will consume in time much more than the 172 hours, however, that the airplane, Fort Worth stayed in the air. The trio consists of H. C. Gore, W. C. Breedlove and Walter Wright, all of the Hockley county capital.

Drayton has opened his fourth business college in Texas at Lubbock. The others are situated at Abilene, Dallas and Wichita Falls. This will be much nearer for their students here.

Sears Supplies Herald Table With Tubers

The Herald has done quit arguing that Irish potatoes cannot be successfully produced here just because it failed to produce anything but a few high stalks one or two years that contained two or three little old tubers about the size of a quail's egg clinging tightly to the bottom of them. But two or three years ago, it made this bold assertion thinking it knew 'taters, and since then several farmers have been rubbing it in on us, as it were by bringing in some real good ones for our table. While they don't say so, we can gather from their expressions, and by reading between the lines of their conversation, these farmers are in a way expressing their contempt of our knowledge of agriculture, and giving us a stage whisper to keep to our typewriter and leave their business be. Yet, at the same time, they are setting our dining table with a real eatable food, so who cares for their opinion. Why is or are new potatoes just out of mother earth so much better than old ones anyway? You'll have to admit they are even if you do make fun of our farming ability again.

But as we started out to say when interrupted to give the above discourse or our knowledge, or rather lack of knowledge on the production of the Irish brand of potatoes, our good friend, C. Sears brought us in a nice mess of big white cobbles one day last week. In fact, being a small family, our wife divided them and got two good messes out of them. And right here is where we want some more information about the king's English. We call it a "mess" of anything, and yet when a boy, any conglomeration of anything, or anything that was apparently nasty was called a mess, and we have heard soldiers talk about their "mess" equad and "mess" sergeants. What is a "mess" anyway? Enlighten us. But back to the potatoes again, these were not only good to look at while laying in rows and circles in the pan while steaming hot with melting yellow butter running down their fat sides, but they tasted like a million dollars. Ah, land of plenty, you are the gem of our eye, and we thought as we ate them, why the heck is it that C. Sears does not get fat. Then we thought of what one of his neighbors said some time ago about "C" coming to town every day in the week, all except one when his wife told him that "C" was working that day, but he had slipped off and come to town afoot when he got out of sight of Mrs. Sears. He keeps poor walking back and forth to town and to his meals three times a day. But his 'taters were certainly good.

Then there's John Burnett who lives out the other way from town and Local Showers Over Terry Sun. and Tues.

Showers visited the northeast and east section of the county Sunday night, and reports were that the Lou section of this county and Dawson received good showers that left water standing in the road over Monday. Travelers reported light showers all the way from Brownfield to Lubbock, after one got out of this city about five or six miles. What we got here in town was plenty of dust for about two hours, and some farmers report small portions of their crops blown out, which will be planted to feed later.

The weatherman tried again Tuesday morning with better results here at least, as we had near a half inch-gassing, but this time it covered only a small portion of the county again. It did not reach but a mile or two north, about six miles west, but the south part of the county seemed to have got agood drenching several miles out from town anyway.

At this time, Tuesday afternoon, conditions seem ideal for more, as there are two sets of clouds hanging low, bright blue sky and the wind steadily hanging to the east. Let 'er come. We are rearing to welcome a good general rain, although not suffering much. The very hot weather of the past two weeks has faded things much worse than any imaginary lack of moisture.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Owing to some situations facing us at this time we will discontinue our regular Sunday School and other services until September first and our meeting which is scheduled to be held the last of July and first of August is hereby postponed until just after September 1st.

pretends to work also, was in this week and handed us a sample of his fine peaches, promising us a whole bucket of them when more of them get ripe. They were large, well formed and of excellent flavor. We are still wiping the water out of the corner of our mouth anticipating that bucket of good ripe ones he's going to bring us. He also promised us a "mess" of his Irish potatoes in a week or so, and this is just to call in our readers' as witnesses of his promise. As much as we like John, as close as our friendship has been for the past twenty years, we hereby give due notice that if these peaches, and these or those potatoes are not forthcoming as per schedule, we are going to cripple John's other hind leg. So mote it be.

Good Schools and Good Towns Go Together

The date for the bond election for the high school building for the Brownfield Independent school district has been set for the 15th of July, when the voters of the district will be given the privilege of saying whether or not $75,000 in bonds will be voted for the erection of a real modern high school building. Of course each voter will have the privilege of voting on the measure as they see fit without the least dictation from anyone, yet at the same time, it is the privilege of all to give or seek information that none go to be polls that day and cast a vote for or against the measure on the basis of prejudice instead of real information about the needs of the school at this place. We are all building for the future rather than for the present, and we should therefore keep this in mind at all times.

As Prof. Toone explained in these columns last week, Brownfield district needs this building in order to add some departments that we must have in order to put our school on par with cities of like size and importance in this section. Yea, we must have it if we intend to stay in the same class educationally with some of the villages in this section. There is some argument to be made from the view point that Brownfield keep up with other towns in this section, but this is mostly from a standpoint of pride, and other towns may with too much pride press on beyond their real needs and burden their tax payers in order to equal or surpass some other rival town. But the children of this rich district should have educational equipment and advantages fully equal of other towns of the section as long as they stay in reason. The Herald is the last institution in the world to advocate the unnecessary burdening of the people here with taxes without a reason, but when necessity arrives, it believes that the expenditure of money becomes the most economical in the long run.

There is no argument to be advanced that our school is already overcrowded beyond the point where any expansions may be made in any department, much less the addition of really necessary new one. No one can visit the school when it is in session without seeing without it being pointed out to them that a crisis has been reached in school development here and that our pupils are unnecessarily crowded and hindered from doing the maximum work supplied for them, and that any expansion of departments now needed to carry on a first class high school is beyond possibility, and that we are really behind in equipment in many smaller towns and villages in this section. In other words, we have reached the limit

Gas Lines Move This Way at Rapid Rate

Reports coming in from those who have been out on the Tahoka road are to the effect that the ditching machine of the West Texas Gas Co., are only out about ten miles and are coming this way at a very rapid rate owing to the fact that they are using two shifts of men in the work, in order to keep ahead of the welders when they start to putting the piping together.

Officials of the company informed us this week that the welding crew was to have started Tuesday of this week, as everything was in readiness for them, and that it was believed the ditching crew had enough to go on them to keep well ahead, even after this city is reached, and the pipes are laid in the streets and alleys. Anyway, they are now racing with time, and so far are well up with their schedule.

In the meantime the gas company and the hardware men of the city are working with gas stoves in the way of both heaters and ranges, and are ready to take orders, but the most sales, it seems, so far, are for automatic water heaters for bath rooms, but many are figuring on gas ranges as soon as gas is piped in.

Now this is going to be one of the troubles, for most of us are going to sit till the very last minute and then expect our plumber to quit his job short off with some one else and come and do our job for us. Why not give him a job now to do all he can before the real rush comes off?

The Herald $1.00—Tell Your Friends

it of educational advantages here and no more credits can be obtained for lack of facilities and equipment, or a place to put them.

While it is true that our pupils can now enter any college or university in the state without the formality of taking an examination, their credits are limited, and they must take these sooner or later even if they enter college work, if these happen to be in line with the courses they aim to pursue. This new building will cost lots of money, and of necessity the taxes of the district will have to be increased, but even this will be cheaper than to send our children off some where else to get this work, pay their board, lodging and tuition. In fact, we can send several of our children to school at home on the increased tax for what it will take to send one of them somewhere else. Both the grade and the present high school buildings are badly crowded, and with a good crop year, the growth of the city and surrounding territory, the pupils cannot be seated, much less be in position to do real good work. But, with the erection of the new high school building on the campus, we understand it is proposed to move the sixth and seventh grades over to the old high school building, leaving the grade school with only the high and low first, second, third and fourth grades, or eight grades in all. This, we believe will then permit the full auditorium there to be opened again, giving the grade school full access for assembly. In a short time the fifth and sixth grades will comfortably fill the present high, which will be renamed the Junior High, leaving the new building entirely to the real or senior high school pupils with a number of new departments which are absolutely necessary to be added thereto.

Another advantage to be gained will be the fact that we will get pupils from surrounding schools that will move here to finish high school. A number of farmers have suggested this to us in the past few weeks, saying that they had so few pupils in the last two years of school, it would be cheaper for them to transfer them to Brownfield if we would erect and equip a real high school, than to provide it themselves for just a few. Let us think seriously about this matter before casting our votes on the 15th, for as we said in these headlines, a good town and a good school system go together, and it is impossible to build a good town without good schools. It is much easier to build up a good school without the good town than it is the other way around.

Local Men Attend Tyler Milk Plant Opening

The Tyler Milk Products Company plant at Tyler was inspected by a South Plains delegation including four men from Brownfield, last week, and these are the things that were observed by one delegate.

The plant, which has been in operation about ten days, cost about $200,000.00. It was built and is operated by a stock company. The firm furnishing the machinery furnishing half the money and the other $100,000.00 being taken by the business men in Tyler.

The plant was receiving about twelve thousand pounds of milk a day. The price being paid at this time was fifty-three cents per pound butter fat delivered to the plant.

The milk is gathered by milk trucks going out into the country much the same as mail routes. The farmer strains his milk into clean sterile cans and cools it by placing can in tub of well water. The cans are then placed in a box along the road where they are picked up once a day by the truck driver.

The milk upon arrival at the plant, is weighed, tested and dumped into a holding tank. The can is washed, sterilized and returned to the farmer ready for refilling.

Various milk products are made from the milk but most of it is separated. The cream is made into sweet cream butter and the skim milk into skim milk powder. There is an increasing demand for sweet cream butter at a fancy price. There is also a ready sale for the skim milk powder to ice cream plants, bakeries, etc. Milk powder is not used extensively in making drinking milk but it is being used in large quantities by manufacturers where milk is needed in making their products.

The Marshal plant was not visited but we understand that it has a value of around forty-five thousand pounds of milk a day and started with less than one-tenth of this amount. The local people of Marshal have purchased machinery of company's half interest in their plant. It is apparently making money for the investor and for the farmer and is growing very rapidly.

A number of business men at Jacksonville were interviewed as the cooling plant that was soon to be established in their town.

This cooling plant will cost $10,000.00. The money furnished or rather stock was sold in Jacksonville. If the plant receives as much as twelve thousand pounds of milk a day for thirty days within the first twelve months the milk plant at Tyler will take over the cooling plant and pay them $10,000.00. If the plant does not reach this amount within eighteen months the Tyler plant will buy it for $9,000.00. If for any reason the plant is discontinued the Tyler plant will pay the investors in the cooling plant $9,500.00.

The milk around Jacksonville will be gathered by milk trucks brought to the cooling plants where it is chilled to a low temperature and hauled to Tyler. The costs of hauling to the cooling plant and to Tyler will amount to thirty-five cents per hundred pounds of milk.

The bankers with the other business men of East Texas are solidly behind the milk plants and are confident that it is going to be of great value to their country. East Texas apparently is not as well adapted to the raising of chickens and hogs as is West Texas, but with their abundance of good grass it is possible that a milk plant will pay better than it would in this country, where skim milk is highly valuable as a supplement to grain.

The Lamesa plant will be built owned much the same as the plants at Tyler and Marshal. Whether Terry county can furnish them milk will be largely dependent upon the price they can afford to pay for butter fat. This price would need to be more than can be realized from the sale of cream and the feeding of skim milk.

Those from here in the delegation were W. A. Bell, J. E. Shelton, Bob Bowers and R. B. Davis.

Ed S. Smith, wife and son were in Brownfield last week on his way to visit their Yockum county ranch and while here renewed for the Terry County Herald.

A CRYING NEED

"The Texas Legislature," says the Houston Post-Dispatch, "can put a stop to 90 per cent of the prison escapes by agreeing on a prison centralization plan and authorizing the erection of modern prison buildings."

The frequent escapes from prison farms isn't a laughing matter to the people who live near those farms. The Post-Dispatch continues:

"A modern penitentiary plan is a crying need in Texas. It is little short of a state-wide disgrace that law-abiding citizens are placed in jeopardy of life and limb by escaping convicts; and that fear of escaping prisoners disturbs the tranquility of so many homes in South and East Texas."

The prison farm system, aside from the opportunity it affords desperate criminals to escape, has been tried a good many years in Texas and proved to be unsound economically. A centralized system would provide an outlet for the energy of prisoners without causing them to compete with the farmer in the growing of cotton and other farm products. It would be possible to install factories in the prison that would not compete with any existing factories in the State. Such plants would not only keep the prisoners busy and bring in profits to the system but it would enable the State to set aside a certain percentage of the prisoners' earnings for the benefit of their families.

The prison centralization and allied problems is one of the big issues before the legislature. Something definite should be done to remedy the existing conditions which, as the Post-Dispatch remarks, is a crying need.—Abilene Morning News.

The Round Rock cheese plant, established in 1928, did a $100,000 business its first year and is paying farmers of that section $10,000 a month for milk. Its output won second prize in the National Dairy Show and with a grade of 93.75 outscored many fine entries from Wisconsin.

HAS GOURED USED AT BATTLE OF BUNKER HILL

The following little article appeared in the Dallas News of May 31st, which is evidence that common gourds may last for many, many, many years.

"I saw in the Sunday News that Mr. J. E. Bullion of Seymour has what is believed to be the oldest gourd in the State; but I have one that was used at the battle of Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775, to hold the powder for the fire pan of the flint lock gun. It was given to me about sixty years ago by my father." —Mrs. Annie Moran.

Norway Maid Gorgeous in Her Bridal Finery

A wedding feast in Norway used to be an affair that stirred the imagination of the whole countryside and there are some beautiful pictures with the bridal couple mounted on their strong mountain ponies heading the long procession of guests in painted carts and wagonettes making their way to the village church, writes Karin Lilja Whyte in the London Daily Chronicle.

On the flowing golden hair of the bride rested a crown, which was usually the property of the parish and a piece of handiwork showing the high standard of efficiency reached by the Norwegian goldsmiths.

She would wear a national costume richly embroidered in the bright colors prescribed by custom, and her snow-white skirt would be of the finest home fabric with exquisite, stitched drawn-thread work. Adorning her neck and breast were heirlooms of chains with clasps and buckles, fine specimens of nitrege with semi-precious stones.

For that one day she was the queen of queens, and her stately bridegroom, more modestly attired in a dark costume, would be entirely outshone.

All Countries Readily Follow America's Lead

Through the aid of American labor-saving devices and American movie and American educational institutions, the whole world is becoming Americanized. The sanitary toilet processes of this country are being adopted abroad through the instrumentality of the movie reels. Left hand right-of-way is being displaced all over the world in favor of the right-hand driving, which has been the rule in this country. The type writer was adopted in offices in various parts of the world years ago and it has paved the way for accounting machines and other pieces of office mechanism. It is no source of pride that we taught the world the delight of the chewing-gum habit, but it is another case where the foreigners have followed the American lead. American griddle cakes and sirup have been successfully introduced into Japan, demanded, it is said, by students who have been in this country for their education.

Great Soldier's Birthmonth

The merry month of May gave many great men to the world. To Ireland it gave the duke of Wellington. When the lads and lasses of the land were dancing round the May poles and the cottages were all be decked, Milady of Mornington house in Dublin was delivered of her fourth son. She did not think, when the nurse brought in the red-faced pucker little atom, that he was to be the conqueror of England's greatest foe, that he was to be honored by his country and by his sovereign as man is seldom honored. . . . I never occurred to her, for example that one day, the queen of her country would name a child after this red faced, pucker little thing the nurse brought in. . . .

Yet all these things came to be which proves that May has many secrets up her flowery sleeve and you never know when she is going to drop one. —Exchange.

Wanted to Seize Cuba

The Ostend manifesto was a dispatch sent in 1854 to the United States government by the American ministers, at the courts of Great Britain, France and Spain, who had met in the city of Ostend for conference on the Cuban question. The dispatch stated that if Spain would not sell Cuba, the United States "would be justified under the laws of self-preservation to take the island by force and prevent it being Africanized like Haiti." It advised offering Spain $120,000,000 for the island. This recommendation was not accepted by the congress.

"She-Deevil" Reversed Precept of Good Book

From being a gentle, lovable mild-mannered before marriage, Sandy McGroder's spouse had developed into one of the most shrewish women, not only in the village but in the county. Her "tantrums" were a continual source of despair to her poor husband, upon whom, not content with using her vitriolic tongue, she frequently vented physical punishment. To his credit, he it said, Sandy never lifted his hand in return.

Meeting the minister one day after a peculiarly trying time with his spouse, Sandy complained that life was not worth living "wif you randy o' a wife o' mine, curse her!"

The good man was shocked to hear one of his parishioners speaking thus of his wife and, knowing a bit about Sandy's plight, he counseled him to "thole his troubles like a Christian." "And remember what the Good Book says," he added, "Resist the devil and he will fly from you!"

"That's a'verra true, meenister," said Sandy with a sigh. "But if I resist ma ain she-deevil she flies at me!"—Sir Harry Lauder in the London Sunday Chronicle.

High Praise Accorded Norwegians and Norway

Norwegians, writes an English traveler in that country, have grace without stiffness. Even the gyrations of jazz are executed with stateliness in Oslo. The people love beauty. They take a just pride in possessing one of the most charming capitals in the world. Whether draped in snow and ice or smiling under the midnight sun of summer, it is a peer among cities with its stately public buildings set amid winding waterways and innumerable little wooded islands on the outskirts. It might be described as a Pleasure city, but for the air of solid industry which characterizes its well-dressed people. They work, but they appear to extract the maximum amount of enjoyment from the simple amusements of life. Even the telephone operators are models of good behavior, goes on the English traveler. And no people are more hospitable and kindly in their treatment of foreigners, he adds. This latter is the true mark of culture.—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Unchangeable Law

Persia and Media were united under the same ruler after the conquest of the latter country by Cyrus of Persia in the Sixth century B. C., says an article in the Pathfinder Magazine. The laws of the Medes and Persians often are referred to as a type of the unalterable and irrevocable. This usage was suggested by several passages in the Bible. Daniel 6:8 says: "Now, O King, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not." Again in the same chapter: "Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O King, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed."

Cats Provided Music

One of the strangest musical instruments ever heard of is described in a book written by Willen skil. He states that when Emperor Charles V introduced Philip II to the subjugated Netherlanders in 1547 there was a procession through Brussels, in which figured a musician with an organ. A cut with its tail tied to a key was imprinted on each pipe, and as the musician struck the notes the tails were pinched and the cats screeched and howled. It seems hardly credible to this age of sensibility. There was no S. P. C. A. in those days.

"As Ever, Yours"

Ruskin—who got into trouble with Whistler over a critique—was wont to attack all and sundry with a savagery which even his best friends at times resented. Once he wrote to a friend hoping that a fierce criticism written by him of his friend's picture would make no difference to their friendship. To which the friend had the wit to reply:

"Dear Ruskin: Next time I meet you I shall knock you down, but I hope it will make no difference to our friendship."—Kansas City Star.

Remarkable Woman

Old Silerius says in his memoirs that long after he became a widower and somewhat cynical, he associated with a woman he finally concluded he would like to marry. But she refused him; she said they got much out of their association as they were, but that marriage would probably spoil it. There was probably something in the woman's statement; just how much I do not know, but no other woman in history ever took that position.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Some Are

Probably it is because courts try so hard to be dignified that even lit slips sound so terribly funny. In Judge Sheldon's court, not so very long ago, the jury came in to report a verdict after two hours of argument.

"Have you come to a decision?" asked the Mrs.

"Of course," answered her husband—"if I HAD to do it over again."

Use This Cultivator For Better Work

Here's the cultivator with outstanding features that put it far in advance of other machines of its type. It has two-row capacity, which enables you to make a real reduction in your labor costs, and you do a better and easier job of cultivating. It's the

John Deere ND Two-Row Cultivator

Get into your fields with the ND this year. You will be sure to like the simplicity and convenience of the one master lever, by means of which you raise and lower rigs without stopping at ends of rows.

You will appreciate the advantage of the spacing levers and the tilting lever, which are operated from the seat as you drive. The spacing levers enable you quickly to space rigs the desired distance from rows—the tilting lever enables you instantly to adjust set and suck of shovels—a special advantage on hillsides.

Quick, easy dodge makes it easy to follow crooked rows. Works all the soil—shovels always cut out their full width and kill all the weeds. Knife attachment can be furnished.

Remember, this cultivator is unusually long-life, John Deere quality throughout.

TOLERANCE

With much that the philosophers have to say in the newspaper columns about contentment, one may be at variance; one may deny that the man who has attained greatness in business, politics or profession is any more competent than another to define the steps by which what success was attained, but each of us can see the beautiful truth and he gratifying consolation of the practice of such tolerance as is to simply put by the late Judge W. H. Gill in the following words:

"I have lived long and been keen observant. In my youth and young manhood I found it in my heart to hate, and despise, and to hold some of my fellowmen in contempt. But I have long since learned that I have no means of justly judging any man. I cannot know all the facts. I cannot read his heart and perceive his motives. I cannot divine his limitations nor rightly make allowances for his weaknesses. But this I do know—that if those who know a man best like him, or love him, or respect him, or even tolerate him, then I know that in that man is more good than evil. And that is quite as much as can be said for me. For these reasons, I have come to speak no evil of men nor women, nor to repeat any harmful or scandalous rumor. If the rumor is true, still I am not able to pass judgment upon it in all its phases and aspects; and so it is uncharitable to join in its spread. If it is false, or not even wholly true, then both legally and morally it is a crime to repeat it. Remember, Jesus, who spoke all wisdom concerning the minds and hearts of men said, 'Judge not, lest ye be judged.'—Merkel Mail.

Don't worry too much over being hard-hearted. Easy fruit was made to be skinned.

It's just too bad, but Hell isn't nearly as pleasant as the road leading to it is.

WHY THE FLAGS WERE OUT MONDAY

It was generally noted Monday that flags were flying in front of a few business houses and the banks were closed—but why. How many of the present generation who observed the flags flying knew that June 3rd marked the one hundred twenty-first birthday of an American gentleman who suffered every pang of political oblivion for an ideal. He, upon graduation from West Point Military Academy entered the service of his country. Resigning from the army, he began a life, prepared by fate, that eventually molded him into a rebel chieftain fighting for a lost cause, but giving his best with other valiant sons of the Southland.

Jefferson Davis has not lived in the people's eye as did the more dramatic Lee, but history cannot forget, nor can his memory wane among the thinned ranks of those strong hearted wearers of the grey. His was the executive ability that led the South so well. It was the guiding hand of this son of Dixie that kept the blue forces so long at bay. It was a lost cause, as we have learned through the years that are now history, but we, in whom the warm blood of the South still flows, can not but feel that tremor of pride as we remember our own Jefferson Davis and hear the rebels yell at the strains of our Southland's anthem—Dixie.—Dublin Progress.

FORRESTER CLUB NEWS

Hello folks, it seems that everything is just a little lazy these days, doesn't it?

Our club has been doing some fine work since school has been out. The club has also been having some fun. We have been giving club parties and ice cream suppers, and have also been going on club picnics. Even Mr. Davis has been coming out our way and joining in the fun.

We are giving an ice cream supper at Opal Travis' house Saturday night. Everyone is invited. I also want everyone who reads this report to tell everybody they see to come also. The party is eleven miles south and one mile west. If you don't know the way after this dictation just ask Mr. Davis our county agent and he will tell you.

Lubbock Takes Third Drubbing Here Sunday

For the third Sunday afternoon in succession, the third ball team from Lubbock came down Sunday afternoon and met defeat at the hands of the locals by a score of 10 to 7. The game for the most part was well played by both teams, and was very interesting. A nice crowd greeted the players at the local diamond, and felt that they were well paid for their time and money in an entertaining sport.

Some of the boys are going out to the grounds almost every afternoon for practice, and are ready to take on anything that may come down the pike. We understand they have two games scheduled for the week besides the coming Sunday's game.

Cleve Holden and family of Sudan spent Monday night at the home of his sister, Mrs. Stricklin, on their way home to Sudan. They were accompanied by his father, J. F. Holden, of Coahoma, where they had been visiting, and a cousin of Mrs. Holden's, Mr. Dock McMinn, of Dallas, who will spend some time this summer on the Plains.

E. W. Harlan came in recently and had us print some circulars putting his farm on the market. Mr. Harlan says he is getting too old to farm and wishes to retire. He has a good farm for sale.

Messrs. A. M. McBurnett and Dennis Rentfro have been put in charge of the Anthony grocery here recently purchased by Mr. Pollard of Lubbock, and will be pleased to meet their friends there.

Miss Bessie Thompson is helping the force at the American Cafe feed the crowds these days.

Messrs. Stice & Brown sold the Texas Cafe on west Main this week to C. B. Markham & Son, and the place opened Wednesday morning under the new management. Mr. Markham has had considerable experience here and other places in the cafe business, and has always made a success. We did not learn Messrs. Stice and Brown's intentions for the future.

Bob Lovelace and Roy Moreman returned last week from a trip to the Clear Fork, where it is reported that they caught a number of good fish, and returned with one weighing about 40 pounds. But Bob's friends here ruined it all, in fact spoilt his entire vacation by putting out the report that he paid two Mexican 50c per pound for the large one brought home. While as a matter of fact both men are noted for their reputation for truth and veracity.

Jimmie Clark is now employed as waiter at the American Cafe. Jimmie is a late arrival from Oklahoma, and seems to like here fine. He is a nephew of Dr. G. W. Graves.

AGED LADY PASSED AWAY HERE LAST FRIDAY

Grandma Newberry, 77, the wife of I. N. (Uncle Ike) Newberry, passed to her reward last Friday morning, at 2 o'clock following a lingering illness. Her husband and seven stalwart sons, T. A. of Catarina, Texas; H. C. of Greenville, Tenn.; M. B., I. E., H. M., J. W., and J. E., all of Terry county, and a nephew of Mrs. Newberry's, C. S. Burgner, of Rawleigh, Kans., whom this old couple raised from childhood after his parents died, were all here at her death and attended the funeral.

Grandma Newberry was born in Green county, Tenn., and it was there she grew into young womanhood as Miss Eliza Caroline Broyles, and married Uncle Ike August 30, 1874. The couple celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on the farm in the Union community on that date five years ago, at which people attended from all over the county. Grandma joined the Methodist church in childhood, and was a faithful member.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church here Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, but as the pastor, Dr. Dodson was out of town, it was conducted by the Baptist pastor, Rev. E. V. May. The body was then carried to the Union cemetery and laid to rest. This excellent family have the sympathy of the people of this entire section, as they are well known here.

B.Y.P.U. Had Interesting School Last Week

In conversation with Pastor E. V. May this week, he informed us that the B. Y. P. U. auxiliary of the local Baptist church put on one of the best schools of instruction here last week that the church has ever had, and that all the membership was more than pleased with results obtained.

He reports that an average of 90 were in attendance each day and that about 75 took examinations at the close of the school. He feels that his church has been well paid in every way by having the school here.

Mr. J. M. Yates, of Grapevine, Texas, came in this week and took charge of the Jones Dry Goods store as local manager, vice R. A. Hoover, resigned to enter the ministry. We welcome Mr. Yates to our city. Mr. Hoover informed us that he would continue to make Brownfield his home for the present. He has had several calls for work from churches he informed us, but has not decided on a place as yet. Ah, by the way girls, Mr. Yates is not married either.

Miss Vonie Lee Ditto and Mrs. Stricklin motored to Roswell, Sunday.

L. T. Anderson, of the Tokio community, was here Saturday, milling around with the crowds.

Lawrence Davis, manager of the M System here, returned this week with his family from a visit with relatives and old friends in Red River county.

Misses Ruth and Mary Lawlis of Snyder, and Miss Espie Castleberry of Lubbock, are here the guests of Mesdames J. L. Randal and Boone Hunter. All are former teachers here.

Mrs. Jack Stricklin, accompanied by Miss Dollie Miller of Plainview, left this week for Fort Worth and Grandview, to bring home Sallie Truman Stricklin, who has been visiting her uncles and families, J. T. and Z. M. Stricklin, for the past month.

Arthur Snodgrass and a young lady friend from Snyder, were here over the week end visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Glover and other relatives.

Dr. Dodson, pastor of the local Methodist church, has returned from Sidney, Texas, where he conducted a revival.

A. C. Copeland was among those who thronged the streets here Saturday, representing old Yoakum county. He reported that farming operations were coming on nicely.

Miss Evelyn Judd, of Amarillo, was here the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Stricklin over the week end. She is visiting her uncle, Cleve Holden at Sudan this week.

Brantley: "So the doctor fired you—huh. What did you say to him?"

Calhoun: "I congratulated him for turning out such fine young men."

Official paper of Terry County.

It is against the law for stores to stay open and sell goods on Sunday in the state of Texas; it is against the law to play baseball on Sunday; it is against the law for shows to run on Sunday, but Mr. Moody is sending rangers to stop any of these. Do you wonder why? He would be running up against too much public sentiment, and that is just what he does not want to do any of.

The Herald notes with pleasure that most of the residents of the city have voluntarily made a stab toward cutting the weeds, cleaning up and beautifying their places. We are glad to see the start made, and we hope it is kept up for some of our citizens are already complaining of hay fever. It takes some time to do the job, especially if the householders are doing the work themselves, and are engaged most of the day in their places of business.

With some good showers over this section right away and with the start toward a crop we now have, a good crop would be assured, for a shy rainfall for cotton in the growing month is better for it than an abundance of rain. While the stalk never gets as large of dry years, it fruits equally as well with fewer insect bother. Of course the feed and corn crops require more rain on them, but we usually have enough moisture for both after the arrival of the cool nights during the late summer.

Gov. Dan Moody answered the telegrams of Mr. Creagor and other leading Republicans and Hoover-Democrats just like we wanted to see him answer them concerning the resolution passed by the Texas senate censuring Mrs. Hoover over the DePriest affair. Of course they wanted Dan to turn the resolution down, as they claimed that all our presidents had set such a precedent. But Dan did not pussyfoot a minute, but wired them that if it was a precedent it was high time to eliminate it. Bully for Dan.

Local merchants now have their steam pressure cookers on the market and are telling you about them each week in the columns of this paper. If you have not obtained one, better do so to take care of that fruit and vegetable crop. It is much nicer to be able to go to the pantry for the food you want than to put up under your direction then to have to buy it at a local store. Besides you know just how your own stuff was handled and put up, and it is generally better and of better flavor, for you do not put it up as green as do the commercial canneries. Can all you can.

It is with quite a lot of glee not unmixed with pleasure that the Herald notes that some of the hottest tirades mixed with sarcasm concerning, the Mesdames Hoover-DePriest affair at Washington comes from our exchanges that either openly or passively supported the Hoover ticket last fall. Some of them take from a half to a column of hot stuff to have their say in the matter, and a few of them go so far as to give the supposed conversation of the two in the dialect of the lady and a typical negro wash woman. Last fall they were visiting their abuse on Al Smith and his good wife because of their religious views or their idea about the Volstead Act, much of which was perhaps pure bunk if the truth was really known. Yes, the Herald is getting a great kick out of this if you happen to ask.

The Democrats of Texas and the South are peeved and the Hoovercrats of the same section are plumb mad! And its all about a tea party! There have been other historic tea parties in our country and if the Washington episode stirs up as much of a mess as the Boston event did, we're liable to have a lively summer. The first lady of the land has surely started something and the nigger congressman and his wife have added fuel to the flames. Politics makes queer bedfellows and it is an illuminating example of the "gratitude" of political parties that the first Republican president who as ever split the democracy of the "Solid South" by polling a considerable Southern vote, amounting to a majority in some of the states, should be the first executive to publicly slap the face of the South by an affront which Southern congressmen will find it difficult to overlook. Never before has a nigger woman been entertained at the White House and it seemed scarcely necessary to start such an innovation, knowing full well how the South would take it. Evidently, the nigger vote in Illinois is worth more to the Republican party than the goodwill of the Southern states. Southern legislatures which happen to be in session, including Texas, have gone on record as condemning the action of Mrs. Hoover and much sectional feeling which all loyal Americans must keenly regret, has been engendered by the incident. The South was not prepared for such a blow and the Hoovercrats are chagrined to find that their "idol" has "feet of clay." —Southwest Plainsman.

THE CAN'T CROPS OF THE SOUTHWEST

It is beginning to look as though the "can't" crops will prove to be the salvation of the agricultural industry in Texas and other Southwest ern States. More "can't" crops are being grown than ever before and they are found to be profitable.

It was not many years ago when the suggestion that more corn be grown in the blacklands was met with the positive statement that you can't grow corn in Texas. If one suggested grain sorghums in Central and East Texas the answer was, "It can't be done." Soy beans, sweet clover bur clover, alfalfa, barley, lespedeza and a number of vegetables and small fruits were all "can't" crops a few years ago, and the dairy cow was a "can't" animal. In those days cotton was about the only crop that could be successfully grown in most sections of the Southwest, according to most farmers, and this was grown, in some sections, on land which was given a value of from $175 to $250 per acre and made less than 1 per cent profit on that valuation.

It is different today. "Can't" crops are being successfully grown everywhere, and in years to come other crops in the same classification will be introduced.

"Can't" crops are now being grown in many States. In Wisconsin and Southern Minnesota wheat was the

NOTICE OF ROAD BOND ELECTION

The State of Texas, County of Terry:

To the resident property taxpaying voters of Terry County, Texas: Take notice that an election will be held on the 16th day of July A. D. 1929 within Terry County, Texas, to determine if said County shall issue bonds and if a tax shall be levied in payment thereof, in obedience to an election order entered by the commissioners court on the 10th day of June 1929, which is as follows:

On this the 10th day of June 1929, the Commissioners Court of Terry County, Texas, convened in regular session, at the regular meeting thereof, in the Courthouse at Brownfield, Texas, all members of the Court to-wit:

H. R. Winston, County Judge; L. Brock, Commissioner of Precinct No. 1; Mrs. Tennie Stewart, Commissioner of Precinct No. 2; J. W. Lashier, Commissioner of Precinct No. 3; and G. M. Thomason, Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, being present, came on to be considered the petition of G. M. Green and 62 other persons, praying that bonds be issued by said County in the sum of $15,000.00 bearing 5% percent rate of interest, maturing at such time as may be fixed by the Commissioners Court, serially or otherwise, not to exceed thirty years from date thereof, for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, and whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of said County, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds, and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity; and it appearing to the Court that said petition is signed by more than fifty of the resident property tax-paying voters of said Terry County; and

It is therefore considered and ordered by the Court that an election be held in said County, on the 16th day of July 1929, which is not less than thirty days from the date of this order, to determine whether or not the bonds of said County, shall be issued in the amount of $15,000.00 bearing 5 per cent rate of interest and maturing at such times as may be fixed by the Commissioners Court serially or otherwise, not to exceed thirty years from date thereof; and whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of said County, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity.

The said election shall be held under the provisions of Articles 726 to 752, inclusive, of Chapter 3, Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 and amendments thereto.

All persons who are legally qualified voters of this State and of this County, and who are resident property tax-payers in this County, shall be entitled to vote at said election, and all voters desiring to support the proposition to issue the bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

"For the issuance of the bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof."

And those opposed shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the issuance of bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof." The polling places and presiding officers of said election shall be respectively as follows:

At South Brownfield No. 1 with A. M. Brownfield as Presiding Officer. At North Brownfield No. 2 with J. E. Shelton as Presiding Officer. At South Gomez No. 4 with B. O. Black as Presiding Officer. When the Cows Come Home in the U. S. A.

The past four years have witnessed an increase of $475,000,000 in the annual cash income from the sale of dairy products in the United States. Dairy products lead all other sources of cash income on our farms.

Nearly three billion dollars is the annual farm value of milk and dairy products. Dairy cows account for $1.00 of every $5.65 paid to farmers. Of every $5.00 spent by the American family for food, $1.00 is for dairy products.

The dairy cow is the starting point of diversification. She is the manufacturing plant that turns the raw product of the fields into cash, stabilizing and insuring the income of her owner whether crops succeed or fail or prices crash due to surpluses.

Wherever she has taken her rightful place, farm prosperity has replaced the poverty that characterizes one-crop farming. The hog and hen keep her company, forming the trio that brings home-grown food for family, feed for the livestock, and fertility of soil.

The Dairy Queen should come South where she belongs. She will bring milk for people who have long done without this best and cheapest of foods. Unbroken doses of good milk and butter is the best medicine in the world for the ills to which an under-nourished rural population falls ready prey. She will cure the one-crop farming disease that has kept the South in rags and our fields white with cotton.

R. E. Hall, of Tift County, Georgia, lets cows run his farm. He milks twenty-eight of them, sells the cream and feeds the skim milk to his hogs. His cream checks pay the labor costs of his six-mule farm. The cotton that he raises is clean surplus that he can convert into cash when he sees fit.

Oktribbeha Co., Mississippi, farmers sold $1,182,213.73 worth of milk and cream last year. And they raised as much cotton as they did before they started milking cows. A lot of the milk is produced by tenant farmers on a share basis. The landowner furnishes the house, pasture, barns and cows. The tenant grows all the feed he can, furnishes the labor, milks and cares for the cows. Profits are divided on a 50-50 basis.

Many tenants, both black and white, have become landowners since starting into dairy work, because almost invariably an industrious person, after milking cows for a few years, finds himself in shape to own his land. A negro tenant, milking 15 cows on the 50-50 basis, raised 24 bales of cotton. His profit for that year on his cows and cotton was enough to buy and pay for 80 acres of land.

There are 25,000 or more dairy cows in Rutherford county, Tennessee. Year before last, the Cooperative Creamery, which was organized in 1914 by eighty-five farmers owning a total of 500 cows, made 1,882,231 pounds of butter and distributed $727,857.77 among its patrons, who now number 1,850.

In 1927, when the Carnation Milk Company decided to locate in Tennessee, Murfreesboro, the county seat of Rutherford county, was selected as the logical place for the plant. This was a wise decision because the cows were there and the people had faith in the dairy business. Last year, the condensery paid out about a million dollars for milk.

Dairy development is making the greatest progress in those sections where town and country have realized the need for concerted effort. The South needs more dairy-minded business men who will take an active part in promoting milk production.

DIXON'S BODY TO BE MOVED BY OLD TIMERS

Features of the anniversary ceremony at Adobe Walls on June 27, which will make the occasion this year the most impressive of the number held in commemoration of the decisive battle between the pioneer plainsmen and the Indians, will be the burial of Capt. Billy Dixon on the scene of his most widely known exploits and flag-raising by the Boy Scouts of Adobe Walls council on the historic spot.

It is the wish of Mrs. Olive K. Dixon, of Miami, widow of Captain Dixon, and many others who are interested in preserving in their completeness the historic sites of the Panhandle, that the famous Indian fighter's body is to be brought from Texline and laid at final rest on the battle ground, with ceremonies in which almost this entire section of the state will be represented.

The burial rites will be in charge of Judge H. F. Hoover of Canadian, himself a pioneer west Texan and a close friend of the Dixon family. He will be assisted by T. D. Hobart of Pampa, president of the Panhandle Historical society; Joe F. Coffee of Miami; Douglas Carver of White Deer, J. F. Weatherly and J. C. Alexander of Phillips. Details of the ceremony are being planned by J. D. Miller, scoutmaster of Borger, in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Dixon.—Miami Chief.

MRS. CARTER ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE.

Mrs. Ralph Carter entertained Friday afternoon with seven tables of bridge. High score was made by Mrs. DuBois and next to high by Mrs. Michie, a novelty condiment set.

Delicious refreshments of cheese and pineapple salad, cheese crackers, lime sherbet, angel food cake with yellow icing and lime punch with the green ice cubes were served. Tiny fans in different colors were given as plate favors.

The guest list included Mesdames McGowan, A. M. Brownfield, King, Miller, Chester Quitt of Pecos, Dallas, Wingerd, Tone, DuBois, Holmes, Bowers, Michie, M. C. Bell, R. L. Harris, Clyde Bond, Webber, Arthur Sawyer, Fred Smith, Shelton, Claude Hudgens, Cameron of McMinville, Tennessee, Allen, C. R. Baldwin, McDuffie, Homer Winston, and Misses Bell, Addie Hamilton and Mamie Sue Flache.

Professor and Mrs. W. B. Toone left Saturday for a short visit in Wichita Falls and Dallas.

Messrs. Tom and Joe Bowers of Lorenzo were visitors in the Bowers home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. May and Mrs. W. W. Royalty and children of Lubbock were guests in the Downing home Monday.

Mrs. F. M. Ellington is in Lorenzo this week attending the school for Eastern Star work.

YOUNG FOLKS ENJOY CHICKEN BARBECUE.

Quite a few of the young folks enjoyed a chicken barbecue Thursday evening at the sand hills—the boys preparing the chickens and the girls the desserts.

Those enjoying this outing were Misses Mary Ann Bell, Fay Brown, Elizabeth Hargrave, Webb, Mamie Sue Flache, Marie Bell, Dell Dumas of Plains, Lucille Flache, Addie Hamilton and Robbie Marion Hardin and Messrs. Paul Crawford, Tom Cobb, Joe Cobb, Healy, Quinlin, Parish and James Harley Dallas.

JAMES HARLEY DALLAS HOST TO FRIENDS.

Mr. James Harley Dallas was host to a number of friends Tuesday evening when he entertained with bridge. Misses Christova and Larue Sawyer scored high and next to high for the girls and Dr. Parrish and Mr. Ulysses Graham for the young men. The girls' prizes were pretty large silk handkerchiefs and the men's prizes were ties.

To the guests were served pineapple sundae, angel food and caramel cake and fruitade.

The guests were Misses Mary Ann Bell, Elizabeth Hargrave, Larue and Christine Sawyer, Lucille Webb, Fay Brown, Mamie Sue Flache, Kathleen Alexander, Margaret Dell Prim of Snyder and Madeline Elliott and Messrs. Quinlin, Healy, Cy Tankersly, Bill Collins, Tom and Joe Cobb, Paul Crawford, Parrish, James King and Ulysses Graham.

MRS. POUNDS ENTERTAINS PRISCILLA CLUB.

The members of the Priscilla Club enjoyed their meeting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Pounds. During the needle work hour fresh apricots and peaches were passed and later home made ice cream and cake were served. The guests were Mesdames Mc-

Sh, Scudday, Kendrick, Gracey, McBurnett and Misses Martha and Velma McClish, Dora Dean Neil, Mattie Joe and Mary Lee Gracey.

Mrs. O. E. Cameron who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Claude Hudson left Monday for Fort Worth and Stephenville where she will visit before returning to her home at McMinville, Tennessee.

FRIDAY FORTY-TWO CLUB ENTERTAIN HUSBANDS.

The ladies of the Friday Forty-Two Club entertained their husbands Friday evening with a picnic in the cottonwood grove at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffin. A good picnic spread had been prepared by the ladies and to this bacon and eggs were cooked on the camp fire.

After the picnic supper the guests went to the house and played forty-two and later went back and drank lemonade and ate.

Only club members and their husbands were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fiem McSpadden and Mrs. Glokeler returned Saturday from Hot Springs, New Mexico. On Sunday Mrs. McSpadden and Mrs. Glokeler left for the latter's home at Jacksboro.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield left Tuesday for Dallas where Mrs. Brownfield will take medical treatment.

YOUNG WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Young Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the church in regular meeting. Mrs. Webber led the lesson on "Women of the Kingdom."

Following the lesson, a picnic supper was enjoyed on the lawn. The members present were Mesdames Boone Hunter, Coleman, Finney, Jones, Dodson, Hamilton, Webber, Allen, Virgil Bynum, J. C. Hunter, Baldwin and Miss Hunter with Mrs. Crawford of Paris as a visitor.

SOCIAL FOR METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The members of the Methodist Missionary Society were guests of Mrs.

J. E. Michie Monday afternoon at a business meeting and social.

Sandwiches, salad and iced tea were served to the members who were Mesdames John Powell, B. L. Thompson, Wheeler, Dodson, Webber, Longbrake and Downing.

Next Monday the Society will meet at the church for study.

BIBLE CLASS MEETING

The Bible Class of the church of Christ met Monday afternoon at the church. The lesson was led by Mrs. Bowers. Those present were Mesdames Williamson, Hamilton, Sanders, Moore, L. F. Hudgens and Bowers.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Jay Barrett. The lesson was a study of the life of Christ from his baptism to his transfiguration. Mrs. Dallas led the study.

Those present were Mesdames Dallas, King, H. W. McSpadden, Griffin, Earl Hill, Shelton and Perkins.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Barrett will lead the lesson—a continuation of the study of Christ from his transfiguration to his crucifixion.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ORGANIZES.

The class of young ladies and young men of the Methodist Sunday School organized last Sunday morning with a membership of fifteen. The class was named "Fidelis" and elected the following teacher and officers: Mrs. Will Alf Bell, teacher; Miss Fay Brown, president; Mr. Wade Headstream, secretary; Mr. Emory Longbrake, treasurer and Miss Addie Hamilton, reporter.

BAPTIST W. M. U.

The Baptist Women's Missionary Union met Monday afternoon for Bible study in Circles. Circle One meeting with Mrs. Allen. The members were Mesdames Coe, Brothers, Alwine, Auburg, Alexander and Collins. Ice cream and cake were served. Next Monday the Circle will meet with Mrs. Auburg at five o'clock.

Circle Two met at the church, but no report was sent in.

Circle Three met with Mrs. S. A. Shepherd. The lesson was led by Mrs. May and an interesting Missionary story was told by Miss Elizabeth Hargrave.

Sandwiches, potato chips and punch were served to Mesdames Pauline Wirtz, McBurnett, Scudday, Pounds, Lulu Smith, Sears, E. V. May and Grandma Wirtz. Next Monday the Circle will meet at four o'clock with Mrs. Scudday.

A business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Ballard by the Louise Willis Circle. Ice cream and cake were then served to Mesdames Luelle Huckaby, Sexton, Swan, Du Bois and E. V. May. The Circle will next meet with Mrs. Brown at five o'clock.

TOO MUCH ADVERTISING IN RADIO, SAYS PREXY

Chicago, June 13.—Major Herbert H. Frost, president of the Radio Manufacturers' association, told the fifth annual convention of that body Wednesday that many radio programs contain too much advertising and that the coming season would see a revision of broadcast practice in this respect.

"Sales talks over the air do not build good will and they do lose listeners," Major Frost stated. "Station owners realize the folly of 'too much talk,' but many of them are unable to convince program sponsors. It is here the educational work is needed." Support The Herald Advertiser.

"SHOULD AN INFIDEL WEAR SPECTACLES?"

At the Methodist church next Sunday at 8:30 P. M. the sermon subject will be "Should An Infidel Wear Spectacles?" This sermon will be interesting and will bring a real message.

At 10:50 A. M. the sermon subject will be "The Great Word of the Christian Life." Every christian in Brownfield ought to hear this sermon.

Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. We are trying to do more efficient work in our Sunday School. Let everybody pitch in and help to put over our Sunday School work.

G. G. G. CLUB

The G. G. G. Club met Thursday evening, June 20, in a called session. The house was called to order by our president. Our county agent, Mr. R. B. Davis, told us in a very interesting and entertaining way of the plans of the future Rally Day, the one day that all live-wire 4-H's are looking forward too with bright anticipations.

There will be a pie supper at the Gomez School House on the evening of July 6, the proceeds from which will be used for the purpose of sending delegates to A. & M. this summer. Everyone has a cordial invitation to come and bring a pie or to come and buy one. Boys bring your best looking girl and get to help eat the best edibles surprise ever made by our superior cooks.

We sang many of the peppy club songs with an encore on the peppy as only the triple "G's" can add. Then adjourned to meet in the near future. —Reporter.

The colored population of this city was conspicuous by their absence here last Wednesday, that being Emancipation Day, or as they say, (June Teenth) June the 19th. According to Bill Smith, who was later interviewed, they spent the day with others of their race in the south part of the county, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and everything passed off in a nice orderly way.

Chases "Gals" Out of His Peach Orchard

One of the funniest incidents that has occurred lately to vivify the usual quiet and even tenor of our summer time existence, happened the past week, when one of our popular business men chased a bunch of local girls out of his peach orchard.

This party informed us that the whole bunch scattered like a bevy of quail, but he took in after one almost as tall as himself, and considered that he was gaining on her for the first 100 yards, but about that time she looked back and saw him, and went away from him like a freight train from a tramp.

Asked what he aimed to do with the girl if he had caught her, he informed us that he aimed to carry her to the officers and file complaint, as he had a right to protect his property.

RHEUMALAX ELIEVES RHEUMATISM

Science of today finds and perfects a treatment which rids you of lumbago and rheumatism by a process of elimination through the liver and kidneys.

Left-Handed Children Born With That Trait

From families in which one or both of the parents are left-handed we get a percentage of 17.34 per cent of the children left-handed, while in families in which neither of the parents are left-handed only 2.1 per cent of the children are left-handed.

It is very evident that there is some sex influence manifested in the inheritance of left-handedness as shown by the larger number of left-handed boys in this population.

Siemens presents 21 cases of apparent identical twins in which one was left-handed and the other right handed, and cites this as evidence that left-handedness is not an hereditary factor.

Science Explains Why Man Has Superiority

In an address before the London Royal College of Surgeons, Sir Arthur Keith presented some interesting facts about the brain of our man. The east of the brain in fossilized skulls is usually quite distinct so that its size can be measured.

Blood Elements

Blood specialists now believe that the three chemical elements in the body which keep us alive are hemo-globin, chlorophyll and a third, a compound of phosphorus, which is still virtually unknown.

Confidence

Garden enthusiasts are weird people. They believe that anything will grow and also believe in most nursery men.

A certain lady wanted some oak trees in her garden, and the local dealers promised to plant them.

Later in the day they sent up a man who planted a number of acorns in the ground and then tendered a large bill.

"Are you sure they'll grow into big handsome trees?" asked the woman.

"Quite," answered the gardener. "Then please send me up one of those covered hammocks that you advertise," concluded the woman.

Non-Shatterable Glass

The bureau of standards says in general, non-shatterable glass is of three distinct types. One of these is usually thick, another consists of two or more layers of glass cemented together with an organic binder, such as celluloid, and the third is prepared by special heat treatment.

(Delayed) Everyone in this part are needing rain. Quite a few have quit planting because of not enough moisture in the ground.

Our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Rogers from Knox county, toured out in Hunter community last Wednesday and visited quite a few of their friends and relatives here.

Mr. George Byrd who has the appendicitis is not feeling so well. Mr. and Mrs. Riley Bryan visited in and Mrs. Will Cook Sunday afternoon.

Lawrence Edwards who got his leg broke three weeks ago, is improving nicely.

Mrs. L. L. Simms spent Saturday evening with Mrs. R. B. Offill.

My, the wind certainly has been blowing. Not much sand has accompanied it though.

Oliver and T. O. Miller enjoyed Sunday afternoon riding horseback.

Bro. Allen the pastor of our church preached some good sermons this week end and were enjoyed by all.

The B. Y. P. U. is progressing nicely. Look out folks, or Hunter will beat you in every thing she undertakes.

J. B. Walser visited Wallace Lyles, Sunday.

Mrs. Montgomery and daughter, Vurtal, spent Sunday with Mrs. Lee Lyon.

Tokio B. Y. P. U. came over Sunday night, and put their program on for us. We think it was a very nice and entertaining program and cordially invite them to come back again.

Politics Had No Part in Tammany's Founding

The Tammany society in New York was founded on May 12, 1789, by William Mooney as a "fraternity of patriots solemnly consecrated to the independence, the popular liberty and the federal union of the country." In its early history the society was a patriotic organization, with men from all political parties as members. The society held its first meeting in the old Francaes tavern. The first Tammany hall was built at Nassau and Frankfort streets in 1811, one room being reserved for the meetings of the society and the remainder being rented out as a hotel. This hall was used by the society until 1869 when their home on Fourteenth street, between Third avenue and Irving place, was occupied. This home was used by the Tammany society until 1928, when they moved to a new building on Union square. The society, which was at first entirely a social and benevolent organization still retains these features to some extent, though it has become better known as the headquarters of the Democratic political organization of New York city.

Natural for All Dogs to "Point" Their Prey

Even before the dawn of history dog helped man kill his game, according to scientists. The first pointer were owned by Neolithic man, who went a-hunting in skins and with spear or a bow and arrows as his weapons, the theory goes.

Originally the "pointing" of birds dogs was only an exaggerated pause as they prepared to leap on their prey. Even today nearly every type of dog will point game after a fashion. The pause gave the Neolithic hunter an opportunity to locate his meat before it ran or flew away. It brought him a distinct advantage.

Consequently, by selection and breeding of the best "pointers," the hunting dog was evolved after countless centuries. This theory is advanced by Iroquois Dahl in Field and Stream.

Exemplary Bird Parents

Among the most tenacious of bird parents are the killdeers, probably the most widely distributed of American shore birds. Both the male and the female incubate the eggs. When one is scared from the nest the other steals behind the intruder and takes its place. These birds are experts at the "broken wing" act with men, dogs and predatory animals to draw them away from the nests, but with hooped animals, which might step on the eggs they adopt an attitude of defiance. They will spread their wings and run into the animal's face, trying to startle it.

ABILENE TO STAGE
AUTO RACES JULY 4TH

ABILENE, Texas, June 24.—Some of the best known and most talented thrill-provoking automobile race drivers in the United States will participate in the speed classic to be held in this city on July 4 under sanction of the American Automobile Association.

Earl Hoveden, Duncan, Oklahoma, recognized as the ace dare-devil among race drivers in the southwest has sent in his formal entry for the Independence Day program, which will be one of the seven biggest races offered in the United States this year by AAA.

Other prominent racers already registered with the race committee of the West Texas Fair association, sponsors of the big sport presentation, are Sam Jewell, also of Duncan, Oklahoma; "Slim" Harper of Longmont, Colorado; and Rex Edmonds of San Antonio.

D. H. Jefferies, Texas representative of the AAA contest board and director of the local race, says he has a score of other first-rate drivers lined up for the contest and he expects to have official entries from at least 30 drivers by July 1.

The car which Hoveden will put in the race here, a Fronty Ford, has made 115 miles per hour on dirt tracks during the past year. Some of the other contestants have machines which they say will do as well or better and indications are that all time records for the local track will be smashed during the four-hour offering on July 4 on the five-eighths mile dirt speedway here.

During the past year Hoveden, who has been racing for several years but who has been running into spills and other misfortunes, has had a turn in his favor and he has been setting the pace in race contests in the mid-west and has attained much prominence in racing circles.

When he comes to Abilene, he will be given plenty of competition and officials of the local race promoting organizations declare they actually think the program will be the most outstanding offered here in several years.

THE HOME PAPER FIRST!

By Austin McLane

There are not less than three good and sufficient reasons why the discerning reader will give his first and best allegiance to his own home paper over all other current periodicals namely:

First—"It is the only one, in the whole wide world, that gives a darn for your own home neighborhood."

Second—"It is clean, efficient and much needed."

Third—"It ably serves as a local combination Literary Digest, Review of Review's and Who's Who."

In this day and age, "Selective Reading" is not only a near approach of the fine arts; it is, also, a stern necessity. Hence the need of the slogan, "The Home Paper First!" Think it over.

OFFICIAL SONG FOR TEXAS
CHOSEN BY MOODY'S O. K.

Texas for the first time in history now boasts of an official state song. "Texas, My Texas," by Gladys Yoakum Wright and William J. Marsh of Fort Worth, which survived six years of competitive tests, became the official state song when Governor Moody, during the past week, approved the action of the legislature in adopting it. The song was given recognition on the recommendation of Sen. Margie E. Neal of Carthage.

In Gov. Pat M. Neff's administration the governor offered a $1,000 prize for a song, and named committees to select the best one offered. "Texas, My Texas" was chosen out of hundreds tried out. The legislature failed to adopt it and named a new committee to hold further competitive hearings. The matter dragged on through Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's administration. A new committee, headed by Miss Neal, began work of sorting through all the songs available to choose the one thought most fitting for official adoption. Miss Neal recently reported the selection of this song, and the legislature adopted it by concurrent resolution.

Words of the song follow:
Texas, our Texas. All hail the mighty state.
Texas, our Texas. So wonderful, so great.

Largest and grandest, withstanding every test,
O empire wide and glorious, you stand supreme and blest.

Texas, dear Texas, from tyrant grip now free,
Shines forth in splendor, your star of destiny.

Mother of heroes, we come, your children true,
Proclaiming our allegiance, our faith and love for you.

God bless you, Texas, and keep you brave and strong,
That you may grow in power and worth throughout ages long.

Autoist (who had just driven over a pedestrian): "Pardon me, but haven't I run across your face before?"

Irish Pedestrian: "No, begorra, it was my left leg ye hit last time."

HE PAYS THE FREIGHT

If the biggest bank in the United States were operated upon the plan of a Texas court house it would soon land in bankruptcy.

If the scheme of procedure employed in a Texas law-suit were applied to a railroad all of its trains would soon be in the ditch.

If a sanitarium were conducted on the plan of Texas court procedure most of its patients would soon be in an insane asylum.

And the tax-payer, he pays the freight.—Center's Rifle.

FORTUNE-TELLING CRAFT THRIVES AS NEVER BEFORE

"Gypsy Princess" Reveals Secrets of How She Reads Clothes, Faces and Minds.

New York.—Educators, pastors, writers and sociologists will tell you that this is the most enlightened generation in history. And yet the ancient craft of the fortune-teller is flourishing as never before, and there are more of us anxious to believe what the "gypsy" finds in the tea cup, or the "mystic" finds in the crystal globe.

This is true in New York and throughout the country, according to "Princess Karina," who admits she was born in an Ohio village of native English parents, but who, none the less, is one of the most prosperous of the "gypsy" fortune-telling clan, with a nation-wide reputation.

The "Princess" reveals her story in the North American Review, admitting blandly that the tea leaves, which she "reads" for as many as 100 customers a day in a fashionable tea shop, mean nothing to her, or to any one else.

"The leaves? They are really not much more than the stage properties for a private demonstration of practical psychology," she says. "They would badly cramp my style if I took them seriously. I now really read nothing but faces and hands, manners and mannerisms, and the many small details of dress and personality."

"My story is always one of encouragement, of hope, of a future worth living for. They want to believe it, even though they affect to be amused by it. Moreover, I give them good advice, or I think I do."

Women's clothes, she asserts, give the fortune-teller her best lead. "I know what is quietly expensive and what is dressy but cheap. I can see at a glance the signs of careful economy. The stenographer's costume identifies her as distinctly as though she wore a uniform and so does that of the home-body out on a shopping spree. The careful observer can immediately identify the school teacher, the office girl, the housewife, the woman of leisure without asking questions. All are subtly stamped with signs of their calling."

In the same way faces are easily read for evidence of contentment, unhappiness, suspicion, ambition and other points of character, her North American Review article shows. Putting these deductions together with the facts revealed by her client's dress, by her conversation and that of her frequent companions, it is relatively easy for the fortune-teller to place her, determine her state of mind and tell her the optimistic things which every one wishes to believe—and which, "Princess Karina" argues, always do more good than harm.

Airplane Drops Motor and Glides to Safety

Oakland, Calif.—An airplane that drops its motor to become a glider is the invention of Joaquin S. Abreau, an inventor of this city and former World war flyer with the American forces.

The monoplane is constructed so that by pulling an emergency lever in case of motor failure or fire the motor and gasoline tanks, which are carried in an undersection, drop away. The fuselage carries the pilot and passengers to earth as a motorless glider according to the claims of the inventor.

Spring skids attached to the fuselage force the lower part of the plane away when the emergency lever is manipulated and also act as shock absorbers in making a landing.

It has been estimated that the winged fuselage will have a gliding radius of 80 miles after the weight of the motor and gasoline tanks has been discarded.

Ingenious New Device
Warns of Escaping Gas

Linköping, Sweden.—A new and ingenious gas alarm apparatus has just been invented here by two engineers, A. Olson and P. Peterson. The device consists of a supersensitive scale, fitted in an oval metal box, which is placed in the ceiling. When illuminating gas escapes, it rises upward, being lighter than air, and the scale immediately responds to the difference in weight between the atmosphere and the gas.

Connected with the apparatus is an electric bell which rings as soon as the scale gets out of balance, thus warning the occupants of the room. The appliance has been successfully tested and is now protected by world patents.

Find Pictures Carved
• Into Rocks by Indians

Ottawa, Ont.—Pictures that were carved into the rocks long ago by Indians have been discovered in British Columbia, Harlan I. Smith, Canadian government archeologist, has reported. Mr. Smith came upon the rock pictures 20 miles west of Victoria at a point overlooking the Pacific ocean. It is considered remarkable that these carvings have escaped the notice of archeologists who worked in the region for many years.

Mr. Smith has spent the field season collecting Indian specimens in western Canada, making motion-picture records in the Indian areas and photographing the crude art paintings and carvings placed on the rocks by

PARDNER, LEAVE IT

Said a man on the street one day,
"This country is a mess."
Well it is not a "perfect" place
I will have to confess.
And it seems to me that he was not much of a man.
For if I didn't like a place, I would begin to lay a plan.
But what I want him to tell me and tell it loud
Where can he find a better place this side the clouds.
To be sure this country has its drawbacks,
But what it has the other places may lack.
We are content to live here,
Our family of seven;
For to find a country without fault
Would surely be heaven.
Now if you don't like this country,
Just keep it to yourself,
And get up and beat it, your absence will never be felt.

Perhaps you don't like the winds
We have from the west;
Well go on back east and wade in black mud up to your breast.
You say you can sit in the shade of the trees—
If you do you will smother from the want of a breeze.

Pardner, I am not kicking on your country, no not a bit;
you gave me the whole eastern country I wouldn't live on it.
For I came here long before there was any trains,
And I have got the spirit of the west in my veins.

I am not much of a poet as you can see.
But I had rather be in jail on the Plains,
Than to live in the east and be free.

WHERE TEXAS GROWS FASTEST

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram)

Confirmation of what was rather generally surmised previously—that the center of Texas population growth is now in the Panhandle-Plains region—is supplied by the statistics on public high school enrollment contained in the report of the state superintendent of education. This report for the biennium period of 1926-28, shows that in 70 northwestern counties enrollment increased 26 per cent in the two years, while for the remainder of the state the increase was but 6 per cent.

The figures are: For the 70 northwestern counties: 24,26, 46,468; 1926-28, 58,824. For the remainder of the state: 1924-26, 140,395; 1927-28, 147,949.

High schools of the 70 Panhandle-Plains counties now care for 12,356 more students than two years ago, while the increase for the entire remainder of the state was but 8,554. Since there is a direct and constant relationship between high school enrollment and the number of families in a given area, the showing of figures is that during the past two years these Panhandle and Plains counties have added three families to their population for every two added elsewhere in the state.

Claret Nelson was here last week shaking hands with old friends. We understand that he has developed into a palm reader.

Joe Bailey and family, of Lubbock, were down over the week end visiting Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM OUR CHINA MISSIONARY FRIEND

C. F. O. No 1234
Shanghai, China,
May 20th, 1929.

Dear Editor:

Wars in China suggest sending you "Wu-ti" the Chinese god-of-war. He is seated. Behind is his armor-bearing. The general idea about Wu-ti is that he delights in war. That is not the Chinese idea of him. Once, a man nine feet high, he did great exploits in war, yet he is best known for his loyalty to his friends and for protecting the weak. Officials and scholars worship him as the ideal of loyalty, soldiers do it to make them puzzle; but keep it in mind it's just a big scramble for money and power—then there's no puzzle about it except the puzzle as to how men can be so cruel as to bring such havoc and pain for money. But they know not Christ. We must stay and preach—not run.

Recently I have received letters from America suggesting that since "China has altogether gone to the bad and the Chinese are absolutely impossible" and since our "work among them has gone for nothing" then I should "quit and come home." I hope you don't think thus. The masses of Chinese the reminding one of "dumb driven cattle" are still friendly as ever. The war-lords, the Nationalists, the Reds, the bandits, wars and vil propaganda are disturbing elements; but they are NOT China nor the Chinese. Terrible they are; but they do not represent the Chinese and their attitude toward us. Most of our Christians have kept loyal and have stood by us in time of real danger. This is true not only of Christians, but of many heathen too who have helped and protected us at much risk to themselves. The troubles in China have come from a fiercely aggressive and "noisy minority," who make the great mass suffer untold hardships. The Chinese are not "impossible" and what Christianity has done for China during all these years has not "gone for nothing" but is planted deep in myriads of hearts of men, women and children. Shall we desert the Chinese because a comparatively few are wicked? A thousand times NO.

Not only for Christianity's sake but for humanity's sake the Chinese common people's need calls us today! The wars and bandits have made sad havoc in many places and the famine, caused in some places by too little rain and others by too much rain, have brought millions to starvation. The Chinese "Government" has made a wonderfully great show of helping on paper but has done comparatively nothing to save the starving. The Chinese Red Cross and Famine Relief people are working hard but their efforts and their funds are hopelessly inadequate for the task. And for some reason very little help has come from organizations abroad, so that the famine-stricken people are indeed in an exceedingly bad way. I have never known a time when the lot of the common people was as hopeless as it is today. Oh that I were a multimillionaire and were a thousand young men so that I could throw myself into the breach and help save at least the mothers and children who are lying like flies in many places in China. I am not in a place ravaged by famine but should any readers of your excellent paper desire to help save life they can send gifts to me by Draft, personal check, P. O. Money Order, or by U. S. Notes in Registered letter and I shall do my best to see that they go to the most needy places in the famine districts, and so their gifts will all go to feed the hungry and relieve suffering. With best wishes and kindest regards,
Yours in Christ's glad service,
(Rev.) H. G. C. Hallock.

IT'S CHEAPER TO LIVE

A live man pays 25 cents for a shave while it costs a dead one $5.
A wool coat costs $25; a wooden one $100.
Taxi for the theatre is $1.50, to the cemetery $5.50.

For 50 cents you can fill your hide with home brew; but the embalmer gets $15.00.

Dust Now Recognized as Powerful Explosive

It is more or less generally well known that all dust accumulations represent a menace of no mean proportions. Dust is explosive and many mills were wrecked by this mysterious power before the real cause was understood. In a mine, for instance, the explosion taking place in one chamber was carried to the next and so on until the explosive force swept through the entire mine and the workings were wrecked completely. It is only within a comparatively few years that it was ascertained that this march of destruction was conducted through the subterranean passages by the accumulation of dust on the walls and in the crevices. Now this is avoided by a coating which is sprayed on and which prevents the dust thus treated from exploding. In the case of grainmills the damage done by these mysterious bursts was particularly severe and the government agencies have been giving considerable attention to the study of these mysterious bursts. In the course of some experiments it was found possible to drive an automobile engine by the use of finely powdered corn dust. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Dire Punishment for Man "Mute of Malice"

"Mute of malice" is a legal term of considerable antiquity, and applies to prisoners who on being arraigned in court refuse to plead. In a recent Dublin case, counsel said that to seek a verdict of this kind nowadays was only an "absurd formality." But once it was not so. Then penalty was terribly severe. Here is an instance as late as 1740. A highwayman, who pretended to be dumb and refused to plead at Kilkenny assizes, was tried as to whether he was "mute and lunatic by the hand of God or willfully so." An being found "mute of malice," he was sentenced to be pressed to death, a decree which was carried out in the market place. "As the weights were being on the wretched man" (says an account) "he earnestly supplicated to be hanged, but it being beyond the power of the sheriff to deviate from the mode of punishment prescribed in the sentence, even this was an indulgence which could be no longer granted to him." —London Mail.

Noted for Severe Winters

The weather bureau says that, generally speaking, the state of North Dakota and the eastern portion of Montana and the western portion of Minnesota have the most severe winter climate, although portions of northern New England and the mountain sections of northern New York have weather conditions nearly approaching those in the sections first named. Likewise some of the mountain districts have severe weather over somewhat longer periods than in the sections previously mentioned, and heavier snows may occur, but usually the temperatures are not so low during periods of intense cold as occur in the lower levels of the states first mentioned.

Afterthought

The polite guest in southern Arabia, says a writer of the National Geographic society, always secretes a few coffee berries in his turban, and thus supplies his own beverage at the house where he is calling.

I call to mind guests in this country who were not so thoughtful. They brought no coffee berries concealed in their hats. They brought no cream and sugar in their hats or elsewhere. They brought no roast chicken, bread and butter, salad, ice cream, or pie. Put, when reminded, they were quick to repair the oversight, and took plenty of each away with them.—Exchange.

Safer

The famous man was furious when he found a pile of paving stones outside his front door.
"Here, you!" he said to a navy standing near. "Take these things away at once."
"All right, guv'ner, all right," said

Religious Reminder

The emblem placed on the door post of an orthodox Jewish home, which the guests (upon whom they enter is called "mezuzah," which literally means "door post." It is placed there in fulfillment of the command in the 10th book of Moses, "And thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thy house and upon thy gates." The emblem contains a small piece of parchment or paper on which is written by hand the above quoted passage and others to remind Jews of duties toward their religion.

South American Woods

The principal woods imported from South America are mahogany and ebony, which are used for making furniture; Spanish cedar, which is used for cigar boxes, and greenheart, which is used for special dock construction. These come from the northern and eastern coasts of South America.

SIMMONS-LINE

Last Monday evening Miss Golda Simmons and Mr. Martin Line were quietly married at the Baptist Parsonage at Tahoka, with Rev. Shepherd of that place officiating at the simple ceremony. The brides' sister, Miss Zada Simmons, was the only witness from O'Donnell.

This marriage, which united two of our most popular young people, came as a complete surprise to their many friends. Mrs. Line is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Simmons, who live north of town. She has been a student of the local High School, where she has been one of the most popular girls.

Mr. Line is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Line, of this place, and is well and favorably known to everyone in our town. He has been employed at Brownfield for the past several months, and the happy pair plan to make that their home. We regret that we lose them.

The Index joins with a multitude of friends in extending good wishes to the newly-wedded couple.
