Sheriff Telford Issues Warning on New Law

Law will be Diligently Enforced.
House Bill No. 157.
An act requiring drivers of trucks, automobiles and other vehicles to have and exhibit to peace officers upon demand written permit covering movement of livestock and domestic fowls contained therein or to make written statement in the absence of said permit, and providing penalties for failing to exhibit the same or to make said statement or for making false statement or having false or forged permit, and declaring an emergency.

SECTION 1. Any person who is the driver of any truck, automobile or other vehicle containing any livestock or domestic fowl which is upon or being driven upon any land of which said driver is not owner, lessee, renter or tenant, or which is upon or being driven upon any highway, public street or thoroughfare, who fails to have in his possession and exhibit to any person or peace officer upon demand a written permit authorizing said movement, signed by the owner or caretaker of said livestock or domestic fowl or from the owner or any person in control of the land from which said driver began said movement shall be fined not less than $25.00 nor more than $200.00 for each head of livestock and each domestic fowl in said movement, unless said driver upon demand of any person or peace officers makes signs and delivers to said person or peace officer a written statement containing the information herein required to be included in permits. Said driver shall be fined not less than $25.00 nor more than $200.00 for each head of livestock and each domestic fowl in said movement which is not covered by all the following information: Name of place of origin, including name of ranch or other place; point of destination including name of ranch, market center, packing house or other place; number of livestock or fowls with description thereof, including kind, breed, color and also marks and brands if there would be any. Failure or refusal of such driver to exhibit to a person or peace officer said permit or to make said statement, shall constitute probable cause for any peace officer to search said truck or vehicle to ascertain if it contains any stolen livestock or stolen domestic fowls and to detain said movement a reasonable length of time to ascertain whether any livestock or stolen fowls are contained therein.

Any driver who has in his possession any false or forged permit or who makes false written statement shall be fined not less than $200.00 nor more than $500.00 or he shall be imprisoned in the county jail not less than sixty (60) days nor more than six (6) months, or he shall be punished by both such fine and imprisonment. It is further provided that all provisions of this act shall apply to slaughtered livestock and domestic fowls and butchered portions thereof.

SECTION 2. The fact that there are numerous thefts of livestock and domestic fowls and that the said stolen livestock and fowls are being hauled in trucks, automobiles and other vehicles from ranches, pastures and premises along public roads, thoroughfares and highways and that there is no adequate law regulating movements of livestock by trucks, automobiles and other vehicles whereby such thefts may be prevented and detected creates an emergency, and so imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bill to be read on three several days be suspended, and the same is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force as set out in its provisions from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

We Wonder Who's Looking After Davis

College Station, Texas Sunday Night.
Mr. Jack Stricklin,
Editor Terry County Herald,
Brownfield, Texas.

Dear Jack:—
We have just finished our second annual Terry County picnic supper on the A. & M. campus.

There were 16 Terry county girls and 20 boys, Mr. W. E. Williams, Mr. Nance and a few visitors to eat what was left and we had a mighty good family meal.

Everyone stood the trip and are feeling fine, although Lowell Stephens declares that our hall is rocking like the train did.
I thought I would have to hobble on hog-tie J. T. Leach and Walter Black when the train stopped at Post for these boys experienced their first train ride.

Willie Arnett and Harlan Howell could not sleep until they went in the colored peoples coach. There they dropped off like they were at home.

Malcolm Timmons and Orvalene Price feel that their trip has been worth while as both have become proficient in spinning the Yo Yo.

Everyone, except Dollie McLeroy, has purchased a Yo Yo and are past masters in handling them.

The boys were fortunate in getting south rooms on the top floor of Milner Hall, while the girls have comfortable rooms in Foster Hall. Every thing is in nice shape for a good week of instructions.

There will likely be about 6,000 people here this week. To me, naturally, the Terry county boys and girls are easily the out-standing county group. Their behavior and spirit have been complimented and I am sure that it is deserved.

We are looking forward to a pleasant and profitable week.

We will all return via Galveston, leaving here Friday night, spending Saturday in Galveston and will arrive in Post about 2:00 P. M. Sunday.

Best regards,
Roy B. Davis, County Agent.

THE TOWN THAT GROWS

Once in a while—say a hundred years or so—a town can sit still and without effort grow into a city, just by the location of some industry which drops in unasked. But the other 99 years the town which grows into a city is the town whose people have vision, energy, courage and a go-getting spirit. There is too much competition now among cities for the towns which only sits and waits to have much of a chance.—Iola Register.

110 North Carolina Collegiates Here Tues.

A party of 110 students with instructors, traveling in 13 large buses and sedans, of the Catawba College of Salisbury, North Carolina, spent Tuesday night at a local camp ground here. They were on their return from a trip including nearly all the northwestern states and Pacific coast. Prof. M. H. Blank in charge informed us the trip constituted the summer course of the College, they study enroute and have classes almost every day. They held class at our school Wednesday morning. They were a happy crowd, seemed to enjoy the trip and were loud in their praise of Texas hospitality. The caravan was nicely equipped, and the personnel of the crew and students were well organized and systemized.

They were making special study of ecology and plant life, and while in the camp ground they discovered two new plants, the grass burr and heel plug. We didn't learn just how some them to make the discovery—out they did. One of the most interesting things for some of the students was the horned toad, a number of which they carried away with them.

But the party also had some attraction for us, they carried a one man band, in person of Mr. James G. Johnson, of York South Carolina, which town paid his expenses of the trip, and Mr. Johnson let it be known plenty what town he was from. He played two drums, guitar and a large harmonica at the same time, and then two harmonicas, one with nose and one in the mouth at same time. All the latest model music, one piece being the "Carolina Moon" which was a treat to us to hear this popular air played fresh from where it rose.

They left Wednesday to make next stop at Mineral Wells that night, and were to be home in N. C. by Sunday. Mr. Blank was quite pleased an enthusiastic over the natural air line transcontinental highway that runs through Brownfield.

HIT THE RIGHT SPOT

A church in an English village was in a very dilapidated condition, and a meeting was called to discuss the subject of repairs. A rich deacon was present, and great things were expected from his speech. He stood up and declared that the place was not so bad, after all, and only needed little done to it, and promised to make a donation of $20 and sat down.

Scarcely had he resumed his seat when a lump of plaster fell from the ceiling on his bald head. Jumping up wildly he exclaimed: "The place is worse than I thought. I will give $200."

An old man in the rear stood up, bowed his head and solemnly said: "Hit 'em again Lord! Hit 'em again!"

Sheriff Telford Not Struck on California

After being gone only seven days after a man wanted here, who was held for him at Bakersfield, Calif., Sheriff Mon. Telford arrived home safe and sound Sunday night, accompanied by A. M. McBurnett, who made the trip with him, and the prisoner. We have not seen A. M. nor the prisoner, but we have had a long talk with Mon, and we are sure the Golden State would not care to publish any testimonial of what he has to say about that state. Asked why he returned so quickly after telling us before he left that he might fool around a few days on the coast, he remarked, "I might have returned sooner if I could have hired an airplane."

Mon says that crossing that desert is just like facing a gasoline torch, and that one will dodge when a hot puff of wind hits them just like they would dodge a torch. One has to put up all the windows or their eyes will cook until they can't see the road, and if closed you almost smother, and perspire like you were in an oven. While he was out there he said the thermometers registered about 110 in the shade and he had no idea what he reached in the sun. The only night after he reached Arizona and California that he got any sleep was one night he spent in a Frigidaire cooled hotel. It was fine in there he said, but Oh Man, when you hit the streets.

He made a hurried call on Los Angeles, Hollywood and other suburbs, but said it was miserably hot anywhere out there to him, and he cut his sightseeing short. In Phoenix on his return home he said he just had to have some sleep, and went to sleep lying on his back. When he woke up, his eye sockets were full of salty perspiration, and finding he could not see, as they were burning so, he thought some one had thrown pepper in his eyes.

To sum it all up, Mon says if that is a summer resort out there this is the north pole section here, and that he had rather be a lowly cotton picker in Terry county than be the governor of that state if he had to live there. California papers may copy this if they wish.

ORDERS ARE ORDERS

A young woman in a small suburb, the proud but distracted mother of two mischievous little boys, was overheard by a neighbor to call the older one:

"Joe, oh, Joe! Go find Bobby and tell him to stop whatever he is doing."—Indianapolis News.

Lee Lyon and family left this week for Calera, Okla., where they will visit relatives for a few weeks.

John Burnett Visits Scenes of Cowboyhood

John Burnett came in one day the last week with that long promised "mess" of Irish cobbles, just before we thought he had forgotten the matter, and that we would have to fulfill our promise to break his other leg. But he played safe and came in with "cups." And there was more than a "mess" of them, too—several, for that matter—even though we have had considerable company of late. John just came in with them in the nick of time to keep us from being badly embarrassed about how in heck we were going to feed these visitors.

He brought two varieties—reds and whites—and both were large, well shaped and of prime flavor. He informed us that he dug 12 short rows and got 12 bushels off the patch after having eaten out of them for several weeks. We certainly appreciate the treat, and hope he has good luck again next year.

By the way, John informed us that he had just returned from the scene of where he found his life companion 18 years ago, but had never visited that section since. He didn't say whether or not he had to steal her and had to run away from there, and as been afraid to go back all these years, or whether he just had not wanted to go. It isn't far; just a matter of some 150 miles down here in Coke county. Be as it may, this was his first visit since he married and left there. He reports that he met old cowboy companions of his youth who rode the range with him, as well as men for whom he broke horses. He reports that he thoroughly enjoyed the trip, although some of the old timers almost refused to recognize him, saying that the John Burnett they knew only had one chin.

As to the potatoes, as stated above, we don't know who raised them. He gave us a mess last year, and after giving John a big boost as a splendid truck farmer, we found out that his renter really raised them. We are satisfied these come off John's farm, alright.

"Abie's Irish Rose" at Rialto For 2 Days

"Abie's Irish Rose." It might be a flower of some kind, but to the devotees of the theater, and this means nearly every citizen in this world, that title means much. "Abie's Irish Rose" has been hailed as the world's most successful play. Five and a half years of continuous performance on Broadway, New York and record engagements in every city, town, hamlet, state and nation in the world have made "Abie" the outstanding theatrical event in centuries.

It has now gone into the movies, and the film version, made by Paramount, will be exhibited on the screen at the Rialto theatre, Monday and Tuesday, August 5-6.

"Abie" has been given an unusual production, according to reports. While it is a comedy, no hint of slapstick is allowed to appear. Anne Nichols, creator of "Abie's Irish Rose," personally supervised the production, and saw to it that her story became a poignant comedy-drama of love and tolerance, showing the wrong done by racial misunderstanding and bigotry.

And while dramatic moments fill the story, the lighter incidents have not been forgotten, by any means. Most of the comedy rests on the shoulders of three players, those essaying the roles of Sarah, the deaf housekeeper, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cohen.

Victor Fleming, who directed Emil Jannings in "The Way of All Flesh," handled the megaphone on "Abie," directing from the script by Jules Furthman, who, too, was largely responsible for the success of the picture. The featured players include Jean Hersholt, Charles Rogers, Nancy Carroll, J. Farrell MacDonald, Bernard Gorcey, Ida Kramer, Camillus Pretal, Rosa Rosanova, Nick Cogley and others.

C. Sears informed us that he attended a great singing convention while in Haskell county recently. The "cups" can always be depended upon to be where some singing is going on, and when some spring chicken is to be served.

Merchants Well Pleas-ed With Ad Campaign

No one is denying the fact that the first advertising campaign went over with a bang, for the largest Saturday crowd in the history of the city was on the streets the past Saturday, and to mill among them only a few minutes revealed the fact that many of them were strangers here, or at least were not seen here often. On top of this, there has been the best week day business here the first part of the week we have had here for some time, and among them are people who have not been coming to Brownfield to do their trading.

In fact, we are of the opinion that last week end, nor this week end, or for that matter several week ends will end the good that has been derived from this advertising campaign, but will really increase from week to week. As a matter of fact, those who come the past week end, or those who show up any time this week and get the benefits that are to be derived here by trading with our business men, will make them regular customers from time to come, and they in turn will preach Brownfield to their neighbors as a trading point. The best advertising in the world is a satisfied customer who tells his neighbors of his satisfaction, and induces them to trade in the town where he trades.

Just the same, some of the merchants here are so well pleased with the campaign of last week that they are already talking another in the future, possibly sometime before we have our Fair, and at least two are talking of such a cooperative campaign every six weeks through the fall. This decision was announced Saturday, after the end of the first day when the effect of the campaign of last week was felt. The Herald has not had time to make a full canvass of the merchants who took part in the campaign last week to get their opinion as to what they thought of the last one, but we have had voluntary comments from some, and not one of them but felt perfectly satisfied and felt that they had received more in return than they had been out.

The merchants in Brownfield, although lots of times, are competitors, cooperate as if they were in business together, and you never hear a word about this or that fellow trying to take undue advantage. There is nothing of the small town or village stuff about our merchants, but each feels that his competitor has as much right here as he, and he does business without knocking on his neighbor. One reason we assign for this is that Brownfield is too new a town for the people to become badly intermarried. New blood is constantly being introduced, and they do not know "all about" their neighbor's business like they do further east where every body is kin folk.

In closing this article, the Herald wants to especially thank Tom Cobb, proprietor of Cobb's Dept. Store; H. C. Davis, manager of the Head-Hargrave Store, and Jap Baldwin of the Baldwin Store, and Ed Shelton, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, for the help rendered in getting out this advertising and getting it in the mails, as well as all the advertisers who hurried their copy to us as soon as possible. We have some good advertisers in the city who were not, for one cause or another represented in this advertising campaign, and we hope they did not misconstrue our editorial of last week to have been meant for them in the drone part, for they usually carry their load in everything. Let's all pull for old Brown and make it the biggest trading point on the South Plains. We can do it by COOPERATION.

ARISE AND CACKLE

An Irish priest, in an impoverished district, was the beneficiary of a gift day, in which all the parishioners brought gifts up to the altar, the reverend father, as the phrase is, rose to thank them, voice husky with emotion. MUCH TALK AND LITTLE ACTION WITH LAWYERS

The Texas State Bar Association, in its recent Amarillo meeting, gave considerable time to the discussion of law and court reform. The meeting commended the press of the State for its interest in the matter. Speakers admitted that the jury system, particularly in civil cases, was a problem and oftentimes more expensive than the total amount at issue. Advocates for a new Constitution were numerous among those attending, but little was said about the administration of our criminal laws further than to indorse the movement to respect our fundamental laws. Nothing was said about the methods practiced by lawyers in criminal cases; the advantages taken of technicalities; the tricks played; the staging of vaudeville stunts to influence the jury; the delays secured by false affidavits regarding absent witnesses, and the fact that the jails of the State are full of convicted criminals awaiting rulings of the Court of Appeals. The convention also had nothing to say about reform measures killed in the committee rooms by lawyer legislators, members of the Association.

The subject of reform has received attention at the Bar Association meetings for a number of years, but it seems to end with the adjournment. Members advocate reform in their speeches, and then apparently oppose any correction of the evils complained of at the first opportunity.

The State Legislature is largely composed of lawyers. Lawyers have always controlled this lawmaking body, and the mess we are now in is a direct result of legislation by lawyers. Undoubtedly the most of them are active Association members. That being the case, can we expect them to do any more than talk about reform?

The laymen may be somewhat encouraged by the fact that the profession, as a whole, is feeling the sting of the caustic remarks going the rounds regarding lawyers in general. The honest, conscientious lawyer suffers along with the rest of them. He is beginning to feel the effects of the disrepute this time-honored profession is in. He is not as proud of being a lawyer as he was in earlier days. The shysters, the tricksters, witness coaches, makers of false affidavits, legal advisors for gangsters and others with more or less shady methods of practice, are hurting. Many lawyers with well-defined ideas of clean practice, anxious to follow a high standard of ethics, are often forced to use the same weapons their opponents so skillfully employ in order to protect the rights of their clients. Such lawyers should be given protection. There are enough of them to bring about the needed reforms in procedure and in the rules of practice if they would only join forces and openly face the issue.—Farm and Ranch.

GYPSIES CONVICTED OF CANNIBALISM IN EUROPE

Prague, July.—Fourteen out of 19 Gypsies who have been on trial at Kaschau in connection with charges of cannibalism were convicted Wednesday. Cannibalism itself was not made one of the charges, because the penal code of Czechoslovakia does not deal with that subject. Sentences will be passed Saturday.

When the case came up in April, the attorney general at first rejected confessions by the Gypsies as being beyond belief. Later he said that investigation at the scene of the crimes had revealed unmistakable evidence that left no room for doubt.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS ARE 15,669 CARS THIS SEASON
 Amarillo, July.—Figures compiled by the Santa Fe and Fort Worth & Denver railroads today showed 16,669 cars or 22,503,150 bushels of wheat had been shipped from from the Panhandle territory during this year's harvest. Grain men estimated that slightly more than 50 percent of the crop had been marketed and placed the 1929 crop in the Panhandle at 42,000,000 bushels. Harvesting is practically over on the South Plains and at its peak on the North Plains.

Several Meetings In Progress in County

The church of God denomination have been in the midst of a revival in the city for the past week, and at this writing is still under way. The meeting is being conducted by an evangelist from Oklahoma. We have not learned just when it will close. The crowds have not been large, but are growing some.

Liff Sanders, local minister of the church of Chrst, closed a meeting at Johnson school house Sunday night with eight baptisms all toll. We did not learn whether a congregation was set in order there or whether they will put their membership at Gomez or Brownfield.

Rev. Currie started a meeting at Forrester Sunday for the Methodist congregation that will go over next Sunday at least, or probably longer if interest justifies.

A letter was received this week from the Charley Boone family who have been living in Arizona for several years, stating that they were still homesick for old Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ault Martin and daughter of Brownwood, Texas, are here this week visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. O'Connor.

P. G. Says Mystery About Their Oil Well

P. G. Stanford, of Plains was over Saturday and informed us that their oil well over in Yoakum had temporarily suspended operations at least after going better than 4000 feet on it. He reports that some of the citizens who lived close to the well and had kept pretty well up with operation say they saw oil slushed from the well, as much as two or three gallons. It is a well known fact that oil companies have all the producing wells they want now, and new fields will come in by accident until some of the producing fields begin to fail, unless it be an independent concern. All the oil companies are however looking out new fields to open when they are needed. The company drilling the Yoakum county well, we understand report nothing to inquiries, leaving one to guess as they please.

F. G. also reported on his new breed of rose comb Plymouth Rock chickens. It seems that he and a neighbor got possession of a strain in which a few rose comb chickens would show up occasionally and by line breeding, they are producing a great many in time they hope to have a pure strain of them. They are more valuable, he says: in this country because they would not have so many with frozen combs in the winter time.

Arthur Key and son, of Springtown, came in last week after their mother and grandmother, who has been here for some time visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jim Parks and family of the Tokio community.

These boys are paid by the U. S. Government enough to more than meet all necessary expenses while there, and we understand that their transportation to and from the south Texas point, as well as their food while there is paid by the Federal Government.

Official paper of Terry County.

We'll bet a ginger cake that if any crowd is having a good time at College Station this week, the Terry county boys and girls are getting their share. It will not be any rough stuff either, but good pure amusement.

Now comes the statement from a prominent automobile company management which says for the first time in automobile history there will be more six cylinder cars made this year than fours. And it has not been so long since the two's exceeded the fours. We can distinctly remember that time, and we'll have you know that we ain't so very ancient at that.

"Not printed at government expense" is now to be found on much of the long winded speeches coming from Senators and Congressmen at Washington, as they are aware that people back home are probably wondering who pays for this stuff they send out, a lot of which is entirely worthless. Yet it leads us to wonder in some cases whether these individual officials are putting them out at their expense, or some special interest is doing it for them.

One of our business men who has just returned from a trip to east Texas, in a county where all the main roads are either paved or graveled, states that good roads are worth all they cost. Travel has taught him that good roads, contrary to the popular idea, are not luxuries, but necessities in this day and time. A few years back when the oil fields of Eastland county had to be crossed, and they were cut to pieces with big trucks, a trip from here to Fort Worth or Dallas consumed two days. Now the distance is easily negotiated in eight or nine hours since paved roads have been built most of the way.

It is estimated that while only about three percent of the incomes of the United States are spent for life insurance, the same represents 87 percent of the estates that are left to dependents. This alone is sufficient evidence of the value of insurance, and it is in such a form that the family cannot spend it before it is accumulated, but they must save in order to accumulate. Many a mother and children has been saved the wash tub with money a thoughtful husband and father took out in their favor. No man has the right to assume more indebtedness than he has insurance to fully cover, with a good surplus over and above.

Great disappointment prevails in Austin, and in legal circles of the large cities throughout the state over the failure of the two amendments which seem to have lost by about a three to two vote. When the big city vote was counted, and showed an overwhelming lead for them, they figured that the rural district had stayed at home as usual, and preparations were in order for the new court, and Gov. Moody was swamped with applications for the places which they considered were especially created for them. Some of our exchanges had written long editorials commending the people of the state for their big step forward, but this week they'll have to back up.

We know one merchant in Brownfield who has always given strict orders to his help that they must not knock under any circumstances, that their business is to sell goods. No matter how dry it gets, or how the insects ravish the country, he, as well as the clerks do not discuss the matter before their customers. If the farmers want to talk about the matter in his store, they are at liberty to do so all they want to, but they are not to join in. His idea is that it does not help business any to paint a gloomy picture to his customers, and he himself has farmed long enough to find that in nine chances to one the country is not hurt as bad as they figured when the talk is going on. He has the correct idea of the matter.

Some fellow is always trying to take all the pleasure out of the lives of the fair sex by making light of their peculiarities, as they are termed. A cartoonist lately tried his hand on this in the way of dress or undress, as he terms it. As he sees the matter, and he claims to be a close observer, she will set around the parlor with a dress on short enough to show at least three or four inches of naked hide between where the stocking—if any—and where other feminine wearing apparel starts, but she is dressed up. She will lay out on the beaches with two-thirds of her anatomy exposed, but that's regular, too. She appears at the opera or dance with her spinal column exposed from end to end, as well as a lot of her womanly chest—still in prime form. But says this critic, she won't let her most intimate male companions see her in her pajamas, which includes a fur collar reaching from her pink little ears to her in-steps—cause she ain't dressed. They're funny that way, says her critical cartoonist.

I can't see why it is that a guy or guess wants to take the high head just because the have purchased a new car. I know that I am not in the least envious or jealous. I admit that I am neither. But why is it that some folks can't see anybody closer than 300 yards to them when driving up or down a street? Some people are so agreeable. I can show you people in Perryton and Ochiltree county that will look the other way, rather than speak and "grin" at you. If they only did me that way I would not mind it at all. I run with all kinds of cattle and know the cause of such conduct. When I live in a country and am too high powered to be agreeable with those with whom I come in contact, I'll just move on and get out of my misery.—Dave Shanks Vanguard.

When we shoot at a mark on a tree we take careful aim in order that no error of judgment may be made. We want to make a dead center hit—we don't want the humiliation of a wild shot or miss. But when we shoot a volley of criticism at a public official we are not always as careful as when shooting at a mark. We do not always judge the distance, our aim is not always correct, and sometimes we just blaze away at random, on the theory that people who fill public offices are fair targets for anything we choose to shoot at them. That is one reason why so many men of high executive ability persistently refuse to accept public office. They never shoot at random themselves, and they do not care to serve as targets for people

Tourist Says Highway Most Valuable Asset

In conversation with the manager of the North Carolina Caravan of Universities, who stopped in Brownfield Monday night, he said our most valuable asset was our east-west highway, and that it was the most convenient, shortest, and most scenic southern route from coast to coast. He remarked that he had rather have our highway than a half dozen railroads; for it brought people through who stopped, got acquainted with the people and even spent money with them. Tourists who travel by train never spend any money except with the railroad company, or the large hotels at the terminals of the roads.

But he recommended that we put up some permanent iron markers every mile or so both east and west. They got in late that night and never had been here before, and all were wishing they could see just how far they were from the place they aimed to stop. They could see the highway markers alright, and they knew they were on the right road, but he said, one just craves to know whether they are ten, twenty or thirty miles out. Why, says he, we thought before we reached here that Brownfield was a very small village with no modern conveniences, as there were no markers.

Old rusted out iron piping with heavy sheet iron some 4x24 inches is good enough for this and the material and painting will be a small expense, and we believe the matter should be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce or some of our civic bodies. If they don't act, possible some of our progressive filling stations could arrange the matter.

L. A. Greenfield and family visited relatives over in New Mexico over the week end.

Plans For East-West Road About Complete

According to information given the Index by G. S. Dowell, secretary-manager of the O'Donnell Community Chamber of Commerce, Commissioners at Brownfield have agreed to put up a 40 foot grade running from Brownfield east towards New Moore as far as the Lynn County line. We also understand that Commissioner T. J. Yandell of this precinct has agreed to begin where the Terry county commissioners reach the Lynn county line and finish a 40 foot grade leading to New Moore which will when completed give the people of New Moore and surrounding territory another outlet. The proposed new road will shorten the distance from O'Donnell to Brownfield considerably.

We failed to learn just when work will start on the newly proposed road but it is expected to begin within the next week or ten days.

Secretary G. S. Dowell also informed the Index that a party composed of Commissioners Yandell and Florence, C. H. Doak and himself, will make a trip to Gail on Thursday of this week at which place they will confer with Borden county authorities regarding the building of a road leaving Highway No. 83 eight miles west of Gail taking a westerly direction direct through O'Donnell. It is possible that the entire Commissioners Court of Lynn county will make the trip as an invitation has been extended them to accompany the party to Gail, according to a statement by Mr. Dowell. We understand that this new road east from O'Donnell to intersect Highway No. 83 is already an assured fact, as a right-of-way has already been secured for the widening of the road the entire length of the route and we also understand the Borden county authorities are already to begin their share of the grade work.

With the opening of both the east and west roads O'Donnell will have two new outlets which will save many miles in distance for motorists who wish to take the short cut east and west.

Alton Stricklin, of Grandview, nephew of the editor, who has been in the wheat harvest at Stratford, Texas, came by this week for a visit here before returning home. He was accompanied by Forrest Blaze, of San Saba county, who was also on his way home. These boys were seniors in the Texas Christian College at Terrell, this year. Alton will likely enter Baylor University in September.

Elder Alpine filled the pulpit at the church of Christ Sunday night in place of Elder Liff Sanders, who was holding a revival at Johnson school house. A. L. Burnett filled the pulpit at the morning hour.

Rev. D. D. Johnson, missionary of the Brownfield Baptist Association, could stand the editor and Dr. DuBois no longer, and has moved to Tahoka. We understand he traded his farm in this county for a fine home in Tahoka. We'll watch the good garden he left.

Brownfield Drops One To Segraves Sunday

The Pure Oil Co. team of Segraves came up Sunday afternoon and defeated the local ball team by a score of 8 to 5. This was a reasonably good game, fans reported. This game was to have been played the previous Sunday, but it was put off on account of a funeral here.

Quite a hard time was experienced in getting the game played though. The sand got to blowing so hard one time they quit and twice showers ran them to town.

Mrs. Tom May was taken seriously ill the first of the week and rushed to a sanitarium at Lubbock for treatment.

INSECT CONTROL ON COTTON DEMONSTRATION PLOTS

By R. R. Reppert, Entomologist, Extension Service, A. & M. College

Flea Hopper

The control of the flea hopper by the use of superfine sulphur under experimental conditions has proven practical, when undertaken before the insects have reached their maturity; that is, before they have attained wings.

In controlling this insect, superfine sulphur should be applied in the same way and by the same machine as in the case of applying calcium arsenate for weevil control. In this case, from ten to fifteen pounds of the sulphur should be applied per acre, and applications should be repeated in four to six days, or as long as the infestation persists. The sulphur for flea hopper control may be applied in connection with the calcium arsenate for weevil or leafworm control, and for this purpose two pounds of sulphur should be thoroughly mixed with every pound of calcium arsenate, about twelve pounds of this mixture then being applied per acre.

Leafworm

Conditions in South Texas indicate that the leafworm may appear generally over Texas somewhat earlier than usual. They are almost certain to be extensive over the northern and eastern part of the state by the latter part of August. For the control of these insects calcium arsenate should be applied in dust form in the same manner and quantity as for the weevil, making applications as soon as the small worms are present and damage appears imminent. One application should control all worms at that time present, but later applications may be necessary as subsequent broods appear.

Bollworm

These worms cannot be practically controlled by the application of poison, and nothing is to be suggested to reduce damage that may result from them in the present crop. For the encouragement of the farmers, it may be said that, although they may appear as doing extensive damage in some localities, natural factors often

Our Deep Breaking Plots Looking Good

There are probably no better crops on the Plains than those that are growing on the deep breaking experimental plots in Terry and Gaines counties. These plots of both this year and last year's breaking did not blow and have good stands of feed and cotton on them whereas listed land was blown out, and had to be replanted.

Mr. D. L. Jones, Supt. of the Lubbock Exp. Station, looked at the plot on Arthur Sawyer's place and said that he was convinced that it was a good farming practice provided it would not blow for some years.

The question as to how long it will hold without blowing is one of that can not be answered, for two years as long as we have actual knowledge of. However, it is reasonable to believe that if four to six inches of clay is turned up the land should hold for ten years or longer.

Lee Lyons and other farmers have fields that have not blown out stuff for them for three or more years after breaking twelve inches deep. The plots in Gaines and Terry counties have been broken at depths varying from 14 to 24 inches. Most of it about 16 inches.

AMENDMENTS DEFEATED IN DALLAS NEWS CANVASS

Returns compiled by The News from practically two-thirds of the counties of the State may be accepted as indicating the decisive defeat of the proposed constitution amendments to enlarge the Supreme Court to nine members and raise the Governor's salary to $10,000 annually.

When doubt was raised as to the fate of the amendments, The News started a complete canvass of every county and the returns Monday night from 152 counties (one county not voting) showed the following result: Enlarged court: For 43,812, against 63,718.

Governor's salary: For 43,505, against 62,840.

These returns were furnished by the County Clerks, after the Commissioner's Court had canvassed the votes.

The lead established can not be overcome, it is believed, by the returns from the counties still to be heard from and on the face of the returns presented the fate of the amendments is sealed.—Dallas News.

Mr. J. D. Webb and Mrs. Grace M. Youree, both of this city, were married Tuesday morning at about eight o'clock by Elder L. E. Sanders at the church of Christ.

After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Brownfield.

Boy Scouts to Put On A Membership Drive

The annual membership campaign of the South Plains Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held in Brownfield during the month of August. The South Plains Council includes twelve South Plains counties: Terry, Lynn, Dawson, Gaines, Garza, Yoakum, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Lamb and Dickens, with headquarters in Lubbock. Scout work has not been extended to all of the towns. The principal towns that have Scout troops are Brownfield, Lamesa, Tahoka, Seminole, Seagraves, Post, Lubbock, Levelland, Littlefield, Stanton, Shallowater, Wilson, Ralls, Slaton, O'Donnell and Spur. There is a total of twenty-nine troops of Scouts in the Area enrolling six hundred Scouts. The Scout work has slumped during the past year due to the financial condition of the Council but it is now on the up grade and prospect for extending the work to include a few of the towns are good.

The Scout Council owns a 420 acre campsite at Post which has had several thousand dollars worth of improvements on it.

Brownfield has a live troop of Scouts under Scoutmaster E. V. M. and C. L. Lincoln, Assistant. The troop was well represented at the annual summer camp at Post both this year and last. This year Spencer Kendrick, a Brownfield Scout, won the Best Swimmer's medal and last year the Brownfield troop won the K. P. cup. Gets Back at Critics

Brownfield, Texas
July 29, 1929.

I will drop in a few lines from Brownfield Highland Addition.

Everything is O. K. on this side and everybody is in a good humor. Our crops look fine but will need some rain soon.

I was at Anton the 28th. Everything looks good there, but they have too many blue weeds for me.

There was 17 men hoed about 75 acres for Mr. Bill Howell last Tuesday. His wife has been sick about five weeks. We carried our lunches and he served us ice tea.

We spent the 4th in Haskell county. Had a barbecue and lots of excitement, saw our old friends and had a nice time.

We had car trouble on our way but when we started back home it run just fine. It was born in California and wants to go that way all the time.

While I was gone my friend, J. O. Wheatley had me indicted and tried me in the Commissioners Court of Terry County. He was the only state witness against me. They got a jury and took our editor and our lady commissioner on the case. They put Wheatley on the stand and he swore that I was away making Socialist speeches without license. They let him rest awhile and put him back and he swore I was selling corn salve without license. Then it was turned over to the jury. Our editor wanted to give me 3 years in the pen or 2 in Stonewall county and give me my preference. So of course I took the pen for it is too hot and dry in Stonewall county and to many red bugs. It seems that the lady juror didn't understand the case because the witness swore two different things—So there you are "a hung jury."

I want to stop and thank the good women of Texas, for they sure will stand for what they think is right.

So that gives me a new trial and the state witness is disqualified to testify in this case for he has been loosed 3 times and shinneryed twice and is unconscious most of the time. I have appealed my case to the Justice of Peace in Brownfield. Have employed four lawyers to fight the case: Bob Gage, Judge Neil, Joe McGowan and Dock Powell. Bob Gage will make the opening speech on the case, Judge Neil will follow, then Joe McGowan and Dock will have the closing speech. So by that time Uncle Mose will be asleep and I believe I will beat the case.

I didn't get in the cooler at Haskell.

I have too many friends there now. The reason the editor's wife questioned him so about politics before she took him in as a partner. She said she never cared for a socialist because they were always howling for something no one had and if you had anything they wanted it all so if she hadn't of took our editor he would have been some where batching and no place to call home. But she took him in and he is a happy man; got two fine children and a nice home.

While at Anton I found the Herald lying on the table at the home of our old friend Snitker. He said he couldn't get along without it and I don't either. I think every man in the county should take his county paper. I would like to see a letter from every community in the county.

We sure had a good Singing Convention the 21st. About a 1000 or 1200 people, a good dinner and lots of singing.

I will close, good luck to every one.
C. SEARS.

FASCISM NEAR END
FORMER PREMIER STATES

New York, N. Y.—The end of Fascism in Italy cannot be far off and already the situation is acute, according to a letter received by Dr. Charles Fama of New York, president of the National Fides Society and of the Defenders of the Constitution, from Francesco S. Nitti, former Premier of Italy, now living in exile in Paris. Dr. Fama said that the information on which the letter was based came by secret means from individuals close to Premier Mussolini but at heart opposed to Fascism.

"News has just reached me from Italy," the letter reads, "that the deportation of the opponents of Fascism has never been as numerous as in the recent weeks. Anyone who has ever been connected at any time with the Masonic Fraternity is arrested and deported to one of the prison islands."

"Senator Benedetto Croce, who is the foremost Italian philosopher," the letter continues, "had the courage to criticize in the Italian Senate the Fascist-atican Concordat. It was said that his speech was a masterpiece, but not one word of it was permitted to be published in any newspaper. On coming out of the Senate chambers he was attacked and beaten mercilessly by a band of blackshirt thugs.

After citing further cases of alleged oppressive treatment, the letter concludes that the "situation has become so acute that the end of Fascism cannot be very far off."

TECH RANKS THIRD IN TEXAS COLLEGES

Only two colleges outranked the Texas Technological College in enrollment during the 1928-29 session, figures recently announced by the State Department of Education show. The college has been breaking records ever since it first opened its doors in the fall of 1925 and the people of Lubbock, the South Plains and West Texas have just about become accustomed to it. For this reason, this statement may not carry the interest it merits.

The fact that a new college, just four years old, takes its place in the state of Texas ranking third in enrollment is truly remarkable.

The Texas University with over 5,000 students ranked first. Texas A. & M. College with over 2,600 students, ranked second and the Texas Technological College with 2,088 students ranked third, far above the College of Industrial Arts which had approximately 1,800. Rice, Baylor University, Southern Methodist University, T. C. U., Simmons University, all the teachers colleges and other colleges and universities ranked on below in attendance.

Marriage is like golf; it looks easy.

40 Happy Boys and Girls Off to the A. & M.

Just about the jolliest bunch of the future men and women of Terry county pulled out of here last Saturday afternoon just after five o'clock for Post, Texas, where they caught the 4-H Club Special over the Santa Fe, which took them to College Station without change. They will be gone all this week, where they will be instructed and participate in judging contests. The trip will end with a trip to Galveston, Texas, Saturday, where probably many of our boys and girls will get a sight of the sea for the first time. They will return home from Galveston, expecting to be in Sunday afternoon.

As the several truck loads of these young men and women from Terry county pulled out Saturday afternoon, well after yell went up from them, and the big crowds on the sidewalks waved them a glad farewell, and wished them all the success possible. County Agent Roy Davis went along to look after the welfare of the boys, and Mrs. Jim Moore will chaperone the girls. The following is a list of the boys and girls and the communities they represent. Some belong to the judging team which has been coached by the county agent for some time, but that list was published last week:

Eunice Norris, Thelma Cunningham, Scudday; Minnie Hazel Gore, Bennie Arnett, D. L. Thomson, Opal Malcolm, Alva Wheatley, Johnson; Walter Black, Dollie McLeroy, J. T. Beach, Gomez; Orvalene Price, Challis; Opal Young, Mildred Young, J. O. Hobbs, Boyd Hogue, Harmony; Besie Donohue, Homer Causseaux, Meadow; Virginia Toole, Lowell Stephens, Forrester; Valree Brisco, Lahey; Doris Snodgrass, Joe Trout, Tokio; Geo. Gillentine, Needmore; Ray Brownfield; Harlan Howell, Brownfield; Woodrow Jones, Union; Pat Shelton, Martha Graves, Jim Cousineau, Mrs. Moore, B. Jim Cousineau, Brownfield; Ernest Wauson, Meadow.

We appreciate your community news.

THE LIVE NEWSPAPER

The value of a live, energetic newspaper to any town or city is absolutely impossible of estimation. There are so many ways that the good newspaper promotes the interests of the town and the individual citizens where it is published that it would be like trying to number the sands of the sea to enumerate them.—U. THE QUESTION

Pat—"I say, doctor, did you ever doctor another doctor?"

Doc—"Oh, yes, very often."

Pat—"Well, tell me this: Does a doctor doctor a doctor the way the doctor doctor wants to be doctor, or does the doctor doing the doctoring doctor the other doctor in his own way?"—Rock Island Magazine.

COW CENSUS OF DAWSON COUNTY TO BE MADE

On Wednesday afternoon a meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce office by a committee consisting of O. B. Norman, chairman, J. E. Barron, S. L. Forrest, S. R. Simpson and J. E. Garland to meet F. H. Douthitt of the Douthitt Engineering Company and discuss the Milk Plant proposition. It was decided that the Douthitt Engineering Company would make a survey of the cow population as a check on that made by the Chamber of Commerce a few months ago. Should this be satisfactory (and there is no reason to suppose it will be otherwise) a company charter will be drawn up, the share allotted, and the work of building the plant will be commenced immediately following organization.—Lamesa Journal.

CARELESS CARPENTERS

The repidity with which houses are being built nowadays—springing up almost overnight, like mushrooms—reminds us of a story that is going the rounds of the building trade. A certain contractor was putting up a flock of small frame houses on a new subdivision. The work was being rushed—every man willing to work who could handle a saw and hammer was put on the job—in order that the houses might be ready to occupy before winter. Early one morning the foreman telephoned the contractor at his downtown office.

"Say, boss," he began excitedly. "One of them new houses fell down last night."

"Fell down?" replied the astonished contractor. "How did that happen?"

"Well, as near as I can figure it out," explained the foreman, "some of them bum carpenters took down the scaffolding before the paperhangers got the paper up."—Patton Monthly.

Something should be done to stop so much spooning in public. It isn't right for us older people to have this constant reminder of what we are missing by not being young.—Claude News.

MEADOW BRIEFS

(By Aesculapias)

There is another religious meeting in progress at Meadow and also one at Prairie View. The Christian Brethren have just concluded one and the Methodist are trying their hand on the ungodly this week.

It is apparently the time of year for renewing ones fealty to the better thing: of life and getting a better grip on our faith in a future life and doing the work necessary to obtain a hold on the promises.

Well there are preachers and then there are other preachers. One of those other kind of preachers said in a sermon Friday night that the two murderers, Hickman of California and Hassell of Farwell, who both murdered children and others for the love of the sport and were justly executed, stood a better chance at the Judgment than the moral man.

If this preacher was to be the judge the statement is perhaps true. Fortunately however there is little prospect of his getting further into the Realm of the Blest than the pasture where these two murderers are grazing. If there is any geese over there or good sized grasshoppers he will be gobbled up.

Of one thing we feel certain that the so called moral man wouldn't stand for Hickman and Hassell and put an everlasting quietus on them and their activities.

As a matter of fact no sure enough man much less a preacher would make such a public statement. It is a libel on Deity and isn't supported by any scripture in my knowledge.

His statement means that the nearer we can approach the ideal in life, the more sacrificing and relieving of the distressed and destitute, unless one is prepared to accept his particular brand of saving grace, the more surely we will go to Hell. That it is better for the individual to steal, murder and commit every manner of crime until cornered, then make a confession and presto enter into eternal life along with this preacher.

No thank you. If his Heaven is filled with miscreants and the slaughterers of innocent children this preacher is welcome to his consorts and I will seek other Elysian Fields—the one filled by moral men and women.

Thou shalt not kill Ex. 20-13, one of the first commandments. "He that smiteth a man so that he die, shall surely be put to death" Ex. 20-13. The new Testament makes it still stronger: Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him, 1 John 3-17. There is a whole hat full more about murderers in the Book of Books. There won't be any murderers in God's Heaven.

There are more things in Heaven and earth than is dreamed of by this silly Horatio preaching. Nothing but a bag of fetid wind.

The Yo Yo craze is gradually taking hold on all ages of our population, from the babe in swaddling clothes, the child, the youth, young man and maiden and he that is stooped with age. It is a great game and has turned the loitering boy and girl to be industrious.

It is a better pastime than the cross word puzzle or the ouija board of some ten years ago and quite as interesting as Croconol (I don't know whether I spelled the thing or not), playing marbles, pitching horse shoes and I would prefer sweating the game than poker or bridge. A certain amount of time will be killed by the adolescent boy and girl, then let them go to it.

My but isn't there a bunch of would be governors, having their friends announce them. This announcing business reminds me of seeing the studs brought out at the fairs I have attended, by well groomed attendants with whip in hand, they would have their chargers paw the air and squeal to attract the notice of the crowd. Some one must have placed a cockle burr some where about Tom Love's anatomy. He has been twisting and turning, squealing and neighing since the election. He moves like he had spavin and blows like he had the heaves. It will perhaps take the primaries next year to remove that burr from his anatomy. Al Smith and Tammany are the Banquo's Ghost of Tom's dreams.

The Superintendent of Meadow School received notice from the Dept. of Education allowing us the proper credits for affiliation. This places the school here on the basis of other high schools of the state. When our new buildings are up we will be prepared to do the necessary high school work and have sufficient room for all comers.

The weather continues dry and many are clamoring for rain while a number say we will be better off without it.

Gin supplies are arriving reminding us that harvest is near.

Thieves are making nightly raids on the fruit about town. Those kind of people do not spin and regard the products of the labor of others as legitimate prey. An old widow lady near me has had the few trees and vines stripped of their fruit by these vandals. It is usual to lay such things to boys but when these creatures reach eighteen or twenty years they are no longer boys before the law nor morally. The boy that will steal a penny in his youth will take a pound in his manhood.

Chicken stealing was at one time just fun for boys of this stripe but they found themselves unable to quit at a later date and many of them are in the pen for this crime. The fruit thief should be put along with him.

To set out vines and trees, nurture them and water them as must be done in this country and then have a lazy good for nothing come in at night and rob you of your labor, is a crime and should receive proper punishment. A thief is a thief be the article a berry or a bank.
