

PAST WEEK FINE FOR HARVESTING THE CROP

More Sunshine Last Week and Part of This Than We Have Enjoyed in Past Six Weeks. Those With Crops Still in Fields Busy With Harvesting Them.

The past week has been the finest in several for gathering crops, and we must say that the people sure have been putting in the time to good advantage. The writer was out with County Agent Roy Dais the past Saturday morning, and we found that many people were in the fields at work, and did not seem to be making any preparations to come to town for the afternoon. And in fact, one had only to judge the crowd Saturday to the one before to see at a glance that many were missing.

Be as it may, the crop is more nearly gathered this fall at the same time last year. There was lots of rain last fall, but late gathering was mostly on account of the cotton not opening up so that it could be gathered. The crop was planted earlier this year, and of course matured earlier. Corn is now being gathered in some localities where they are up with the cotton picking, and we see many loads of the new corn coming to town of late. A little later, corn gathering will get well under way. The head crops are already in, and this includes the bundle stuff.

In our news Saturday morning, we found a number of fields of cotton that were almost finished, and it appeared that some had been finished. On the other hand, there were fields after field that it seemed a sack had never been dragged through them, and this was especially true of that section between Lahey and Gomez. And in this section some of the best crops of the county are being gathered. In fact we have been informed that some of the cotton in this section is producing three quarter bales per acre.

We found one field that had never been picked, and it was as white as a snow bank. Mr. Davis took a photo of this field, and if it developed up to our expectations, we may run this in future issue of the Herald. In this section we were shown a cotton field that was pronounced by visiting A. & M. College men here last summer as the best field of cotton they had seen this year at that time. The picking has almost been finished in this field now, but one could see from the stalks that it had been a humdinger. The owner got more than a half bale per acre going over the first time.

The corn in this section is also good. Great big ears are hanging off the stalks, and give evidence that it will produce many gallons—we mean bushels—per acre.

DEEP SOD BREAKING
ATTRACTING INTEREST

For the First Time in the County's History the Sod is Being Broken to Great Depth on A. A. Sawyer Farm. To Be Watched by Terry County Farmers.

Deep breaking of old land has been attended with much interest for the past two years in Terry and Gaines counties, and those who have watched the matter closely, are among the most enthusiastic for deep breaking of the sandy lands of these two counties, for they have not only seen the blowing and rolling of sand allayed to where it was safe to plant on them and get a good stand the first rattle out of the box, but they have seen with their own eyes the deep broken land for two successive years, one a wet and the other a dry year, right beside listed land of the same nature, with the same date of planting and identically the same cultivation, produce one third more than the listed land. It is distinguished to the row at a glance.

But until recently no one had thought about breaking sod or raw land to a greater depth of four or six inches, or like it had always been broken here. But Arthur Sawyer decided that if deep breaking was good for old land, it could be equally applied to new land, and if it kept old land from blowing, what is the use of even letting good new land deteriorate by starting to blow, when it can be stopped at the very beginning, and always have a level, pretty land. Monday, the writer in company with County Agent Roy Davis drove out to the 100 acre plot situated about one and one half miles south of Lahey. The huge brush plow, manufactured by the J. I. Case Co., is being pulled by a 60 horse power Best cat-apillar tractor, and the measurements conducted by Mr. Davis in the furrow behind the plow showed that the average depth the land is being broken is about 16 inches deep. In fact, the furrow behind the big breaking plow reminds one of an irrigation ditch.

Besides the regular mould board, an additional one was put on the plow in order to shift the top soil to the bottom, and turn the red clay subsoil on top, and this is what keeps our sand lands from blowing so badly. This plow with its huge strength of steel, and the almost unlimited power in front asks nothing no odds. Indeed the land is not being grubbed, although a heavy growth of mesquite bushes abound over the plot. It simply goes down under them and hoists them out of the earth as if it were blown out with dynamite. Mr. Davis and the writer saw one old nester that measured some six inches in diameter that had been torn out roots and all. Green roots as large as a man's arm were snapped off like a twig in the hands of a giant, and all were being turned under at a rapid rate as the plow cuts from 20 to 24 inches at a round. It took some 55 minutes to make the round at the beginning, but as the work goes on, the less the time taken to make it around the 100 acre plot.

While out Monday, we drove on down to Wellman to see the deep breaking plot on the Griffin place, and while the cotton is dead now and most of the leaves gone, one can tell to the row where the deep breaking part starts in, for the cotton is almost a third taller and is said to have yielded at least a third more per acre. In fact, we understand that a half bale per acre was gathered the first going over on this land. Up to this year, Mr. Griffin has had to raise corn or other feeds on this land, as cotton would always blow out, but he had a perfect stand this year, and got that from the first and only planting. Mr. Griffin is figuring on having a lot more of his deep sod broken this winter. He has the plow himself and will hire or lease a tractor if possible. We found that the people of that section had made not only good cotton, but real good corn this year, and will have a lot of it to sell later on.

Appointments For the Year Announced

PAMPA, Nov. 18.—The twentieth annual session of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference came to a close here last night with the reading of the appointment of preachers for the ensuing year by Bishop John M. Moore.

Ministers and laymen were returning to their homes today. The appointment of ministers was announced by Bishop Moore as follows in this district:

Old Resident Crosby
Co. Takes Own Life

CROSBYTON, Nov. 15.—Funeral services for S. F. Grissom, 60, a resident of Crosby county for 12 years, will be held here tomorrow afternoon at the Hatchell undertaking parlors. Mr. Grissom ended his own life here late Thursday when a self inflicted discharge from a shotgun took effect in his chest.

No reason for his act was ascertained. An inquest conducted by Justice of the Peace Carter Chase resulted in a verdict of self inflicted death.

Shortly after 5:30 Mrs. Grissom went to the back yard of their residence and was busy hanging out clothes. Her husband went to the back steps of the home and leaned upon the barrel of the gun, pushing the trigger with a stick. Death was instantaneous.

J. G. Brunson, who was digging post holes 50 yards away, turned in the direction of the gun's report and saw Grissom fall to the ground.

Survivors are the widow, a son and two daughters.

Famous Broadway
Musical Hits in Talkies

Praising "The Cocoanuts" is like giving an endorsement to June sunshine. Beyond question, it represents one of the greatest accomplishments of the talking screen.

"The Cocoanuts," which will open a 3 day run at the Rialto Theatre, Sunday, Nov. 24, is the first film musical comedy as such. Here is the method of musical comedy brought to the screen, all-talking, all-singing, all-dancing, all-laughing. If the lovers have a song in mind when they are in conversation, they sing it. If the chorus feels like interrupting the action with one of their dances, they skip right out. And through it all the Marx Brothers, the world's four funniest men, the most high-powered and popular comedy team on the Broadway stage, twist a gay thread of laughter.

"The Cocoanuts" is the Marx Brothers' great stage hit which played New York at $6.60 for one year. The music was composed for the original stage show by the king of composers, Irving Berlin. Berlin added a new theme song, "When My Dreams Come True," for the screen presentation and Oscar Shaw and Mary Eaton, in the romantic leads, sing this tuneful melody.

The setting is the picturesque seacoast playground of Florida, reproduced with lavish beauty and boundless imagination. Groups of beautiful girls make up the dazzling chorus and the photography introduces many unique and surprising effects.

Champion Cotton Stalk
Contains 7 lbs. Cotton

America's champion stalk of cotton—grown by J. V. Cochran, Marietta, Ga.—carries exactly 390 bolls, containing more than seven pounds of seed cotton.

This stalk, which won first honors at the Southeastern fair at Atlanta over several hundred entries, also out-scored the winning stalks selected at the Mid-South Fair at Memphis and at the State Fair of Texas at Dallas.

Cochran was awarded a total of $1,000 of the $5,000 prize money offered at the three fairs for the 60 best stalks by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, cooperating with The National Fertilizer Association.

Winners of the sectional honor at Memphis were Kearney Brothers of was Lum McClain of Apple Springs, Money, Miss. At Dallas the winner Tex. The growers of each of these stalks were awarded $500 in cash—Fertilizer Review.

Henson is to Work
Next Year, He Says

Ed Henson left the gin Monday to get his whiskers punctured and we imagine to get out of work for awhile, and we found him just in the right frame of mind to give out a little gab for the press. Ed is always willing and able to accommodate one that way, as he is generally wound up.

In the first place, instead of keeping the road hot from here to Arkansas next spring and summer, he announces that he is going to settle down in old Terry and cultivate a 150 acre crop. Then when that is all finished up to his entire satisfaction, he is going to start in by adding another stand to the gin, as well as a new press, and be ready to gin his own and other folks' cotton next fall.

But reverting back to Arkansas Ed kinder grinned and loud as how he bet ten simoleons that there was not a tree less than 100 feet high on 500 miles of Arkansas highways that did not have a chill tonic ad on them. Now that is just exactly what Ed said, and we are sending a marked copy of this issue to the old home paper at Ashdown, Ark., and we want to see the said editor of that said sheet eat old Ed out as he has seldom been out before. We are also going to see that his mother who is visiting him now gets a copy, and then there's going to be real trouble in that home.

No, we've not got it in for Ed? We rather like the boy, but he thinks he can bear down on old Arkansas way out here and get by with it. We want to get a copy of the Ashdown paper and reproduce what it had to hand Ed in the way of compliments.

Editor Baldwin Here
Sunday Afternoon

The editor was a little surprised Sunday afternoon while at the office going over the week end mails to have Editor Baldwin, wife and son, of Levelland, drop in on us. But we were no more surprised than pleased, for we are always ready to talk shop with a fellow editor.

Mr. Baldwin is putting in a new Model 14 Linotype, of the same make and model as the Herald, and just wanted to know how we liked ours. Of course he got a favorable report as we could not and would not do without ours. He is also installing a larger press in the near future, as he like us, has been handicapped with too small press. Takes too long to print and fold the edition. Takes time that ought to be devoted to other departments.

Mr. Baldwin thinks Brownfield a good town with a live bunch of merchants, and he is exactly right there, and we did not fail to tell him that we agreed. Levelland also has no smut on it, and is one of the best towns to its age we ever saw made by agriculture alone.

Chisholm Bros. Erecting
Another Building

Another 50x50 building of brick and tile is being erected for Chisholm Bros. just east across the street on Broadway and Fifth streets. This building is being erected on the property of A. M. Brownfield, who will lease the building when completed to them. Roy Wingerd, local builder, is the contractor. Our understanding is that it will be used as a filling station and warehouse for auto accessories, but will not be built like a drive-in station, but more on the order of the Phillips Station on east Main.

When this building is completed with its 2500 feet of additional floor space, this firm with 10,000 feet floor space already will have a total of 12,500 feet of floor space to care for their continually growing business. This station will be well finished and apporportioned to the needs of motorists, and will permit Chisholm Bros. to give better service to their customers. It will also keep out any cheap affair from occupying that corner and ruining that portion of the city in appearance.

After their filling and service station department is moved to the new location, and the corner part of their original building will be remodeled into another business, the nature of which was not announced at this time.

Mrs. R. W. Rambo
Building New Cottage

Mrs. R. W. Rambo has let the contractor for a small but well built and arranged cottage just to the rear of her apartment house. It will be situated on First Street between Main and Broadway. B. L. Thompson is the contractor.

It will be a four room and bath cottage, each a large, well arranged room that will care well for a small family that does not care for a large home. It will be of frame construction, finished on the inside with sheet rock, and the outside will be stuccoed. It will be piped for gas, city water and wired for electricity. We failed to learn whether or not she will occupy the house or will rent it.

Thompson Gets Tokio
School Building Job

The contract for the erection of the fine new Tokio school building went to B. L. Thompson of this city for $10,800.00, and work will start on the building as soon as material can be assembled on the ground. The building will be of brick and tile, and contain six class rooms, as well as large cloak rooms and book storage.

There will not be an auditorium built at this time, otherwise it will be considerably like the Gomez building. But the people of Tokio are not greatly in need of an auditorium as they have a large community hall that can be used whenever there is a large community gathering on hand.

Geo. D. Couchman of the south route, dropped in Saturday and renewed for his own and his father-in-law, W. J. Chesney, of Colorado City, lady a trip to the Herald office.

Voltage Control Installed at City Plant

Over the past week end, the new voltage control was installed at the city power and light plant, and is now in fine working order and it is believed that it will add greatly to the efficiency of the plant. The writer called Tuesday and was given a demonstration of its efficiency. It cost the city around $1,000.00, but will care for several engines running at one time.

When a large motor somewhere in the city comes on suddenly now and lowers the voltage, it is only for an instant, as this control immediately rights the voltage, and you only notice a slight dimming of your lights, whereas, formerly your lights would almost go out, then when the engineer got to the control board, he usually brought them back too bright and they blinked and winked almost a minute before he finally got it set right again and by that time the motor would probably be cut off. We were given a demonstration of its efficiency by having all the street lights of the city switched on at one time.

Past Week Saturday
Crowd Off a Good Bit

The crowd on the streets of Brownfield the past Saturday was nothing like as large as that of the Saturday before, as people had been kept out of the field for almost a week by muddy, cold weather, and as Saturday was a real pretty day, they were putting in time that had been lost from the fields. Those who drove out in the country during Saturday any time could find numbers of people picking the fleecy staple.

But the crowd that was on the streets was doing some purchasing, and all merchants that we talked with told us that they did a rushing business all day, and especially in the afternoon. They were not confining themselves to the purchase of dry goods and groceries, but to farming implements and tractors. One firm informed us that they had a car of tractors coming that was already sold. These will be used not only to break land but to cultivate the crop next year.

The best crowd that has attended church in a good while greeted the pastors here Sunday, as it was a beautiful clear day, although rather chilly. The membership from the remotest part of the territory, were in Sunday, as the sunshine was bright and the air bracing for the drive to town.

LOCAL BANKS TO OBSERVE
THANKSGIVING BY CLOSING

The locals banks, the Brownfield State Bank and First National Bank will not be open for business on Thanksgiving Day. The editor has it on good authority that the entire forces of each bank have made their arrangements with local doctors in case too much turkey is imbibed on that date.

Postmaster Carpenter sent us the dollar bill last week for a Herald weekly to go to Mrs. Claude Jackson. As it was muddy he handled the subscription in order to save the good lady a trip to the Herald office.

Terry Co. Farmer
Has Two Girls Gone

(Lubbock Journal, Wed., Nov. 20) Expressing belief that his two young daughters are victims of white slavery, H. F. Foster, who lives 5 miles north of Brownfield, is in Lubbock today seeking aid of local officers and newspapers in a widespread search for Lois and Jewell Foster, 13 and 15 years old respectively.

Meanwhile, a grieved mother is almost bed-ridden with worry. She has been under care of physicians for the last few days.

"The girls left home on the night of November 10," Foster explained, "The had never made a trip without notifying us. We have every reason to believe that they left with two boys and were last seen in Lubbock."

"I have been in touch with friends at Hollis, Okla., where we lived until one month ago, but the girls have not appeared in that city."

Fears Their Safety
"I believe that they are victims of foul play."

With this statement he displayed a picture of the two, both charming blondes. Each has light complexion, golden hair and blue eyes.

"They were nicely dressed when they left home," the father said. "One was wearing a light colored coat and the other a brown coat."

Dr. Dodson Moving to
Baird As Pastor

Dr. E. W. Dodson, who has had charge as pastor of the local Methodist church here for the past year, has been transferred out of the Lubbock to the Abilene district by the bishop, and is taking charge as pastor of the Methodist church at Baird, Texas. He and family are leaving Thursday of this week for that place.

He informed the Herald that while he liked Brownfield and its people, he had been called to a strong church with some 500 members, out of debt, and with a $20,000 building, and he felt that he would have a great work there.

Dr. Dodson and his splendid family have made a lot of fast friends while here that will greatly miss him. But they heartily welcome Rev. Turrentine and family, who come here from Littlefield very highly recommended.

City Taxable Values
Increase By $136,000

There has been a tremendous increase in the city taxable valuations in the past year, probably as much or more than any city in this section of the state the size of Brownfield where there was no oil boom or similar thing to boost building and to make property valuations climb.

According to the tax rolls recently completed by City Assessors and Collectors department, the rolls show an increase of $136,000 over 1928, and it is claimed that this is just a natural gain in that no effort was made by the board of equalization to boost equalization in order to meet any bond issue or anything of the kind. We have heard of several whose valuations were raised, but it is said this was done because those individuals or firms actually had more property than at this time last year.

This then, on its face, shows a healthy growth of the city, not in any booming way, for there has been no boom here, but just a growth, you might say of confidence in the future of the city by people who live here, and new comers who are making investments here.

In connection with the paving which is to start in the near future, we learn that we are getting one of the cheapest rates on it of any city in this section, considering the class of paving, which is to be brick on a four inch concrete base. Each lot is costing only $181.00 to pave and curb, and this amount can be discounted some by paying cash. Otherwise, one sixth can be paid down at completion, and the balance paid in five annual payments at only 6 percent interest.

MARRIED

Mr. Dennis Renfro, popular employee of the Cobb Dept. Store, and Mrs. Jewel Goza Hutchins, popular teacher in the Brownfield schools, stole a march on their friends last Sunday by hieing away to the neighboring State of New Mexico.—Lovington, to be exact, where they were married some time during the forenoon. They were accompanied by Jack Markham, the only witness from this city, we understand. They will continue to make this city their home. Congratulations.

Dee Elliott was a visitor in the city of Lubbock, Monday.

EFFICIENCY IN SCHOOL WORK
 How do you feel when you go to your different daily classes? Are you eager to spend the forty-five minute period in earnest concentrated effort to broaden your knowledge on that particular subject? Students of this class become valedictorians of their class and the occupants of the higher positions in life. Or are you a sluggard, wearing the gloomy far-away expression, inattentive and cross in the class room? Do you respond with "I don't know," when asked a question, and always dread the task of preparing a lesson? One disposes of more energy in dread of performing a task than he would in actually performing it. Few of us like to think that our lives will just drift along, and that is exactly what happens to most students, who "sponge" for their work, and like the grasshopper of story book fame go to the busy ants for help on examination. Be attentive in class, making the most of every moment. Many things can be regained, but a moment spent uselessly, and usually an opportunity once passed, is forever gone.

COURTESY
 The assembly is the place where the school as a whole most closely touches the world outside. Through the actions and habits formed in the school assembly will the student develop the habits that will be of use to him in all public gatherings. There are certain observances that are essential to an ideal school assembly, such as, attentiveness to speaker, and courtesy shown by being quiet and respectful. If a student comes in late he should come noiselessly through the halls and cause as little disturbance as possible. One may also show courtesy in the rooms and corridors. When one passes through the corridors he should always keep to his right, to avoid collisions. When a collision does occur he should be courteous and apologize. He can be quiet and not stand and have friendly chats in the center of the hall. He may also be kind and courteous to the janitor by always placing his waste paper in the baskets provided for such purposes. He should never borrow pencils, paper or books from his fellow students without first asking permission. Also it is not polite to interrupt any one during recitation or raise the hand when some one else is reciting. Close attention and readiness to recite show signs of proper training and thought. The private property of the teacher or such things as he may have in or around his desk does not pertain to the student and one should have manners enough to keep out of them. When a student makes a mistake in class it is very ill mannered to laugh about it because this causes the student to become self-conscious and perhaps avoid reciting. Showing courtesy to those one comes in contact with daily, causes a student to gain more friends and self respect and he can better fit himself for the world around him.

BROWNFIELD BREAKS EVEN WITH OTHER TEAMS
 The Brownfield Cubs played the Lubbock Pioneers Nov. 11 on the local field. The score was 12 to 0 in favor of the Cubs, and the largest crowd of the season was out to witness the game. The victory over the Lubbock team gives the Cubs 3 games won, 3 games lost, and 2 games tied. The game with Littlefield was called off on account of bad weather and the game with Levelland was also called off. The Cubs will play the remaining two games away from home, playing Artesia the 22nd, and Tahoka on Thanksgiving Day.

I'M THE GINK
 I'm the Gink who follows the line of least resistance. I go to school mainly because if I didn't, Dad would probably be hard-hearted enough to think I ought to get a job; and anything like work is entirely out of my line.

The only thing unpleasant about school is the idea that some teachers have that I ought to prepare a lesson once in a while. If they would just forget it and let me dream away and sit comfortable in class or try to catch up the sleep I loose out the fore part of the night, school would be an ideal place for me. Why can't they be reasonable and let a fellow rest?

They are all the time talking about the time I waste. Little I care about wasting time. The world owes me a living, anyway and why should I make any effort to prepare myself for anything.

I succeed in making my parents think I'm doing fairly well in school. When report cards come out and they hear about it I make up some sort of a tale to tell them about why the teacher never did give me my card. They fuss a little about the inefficiency of the school; I sign my own card and hand it back; and all's well. As long as they don't see all those F's and D's they won't bother me. They are too chicken-hearted to stop me from school although it is hard sometimes for them to meet expenses and lots of other kids are having to pick cotton to buy their own clothes. But I don't care. I'm lazy as the day is long and I want to be that way. It doesn't even hurt my pride to be known as lazy.

SCIENCE CLUB MEETS
 The Science Club met Friday, November 15, and discussed questions of importance to everybody.

David Perry started the program by talking on, "The Duties of a Science Club." Next came Richard with a talk on "The Spread of the Starling." Dick Burson had other points to add to these on the same subject. Florence Holt spoke on the "Two Kinds of Hydrogen." Avis Minnix spoke on the "Four North Poles." These were all interesting subjects and the talks were well made.

The club will meet again after Thanksgiving with program.

REVEREND JAMES SPEAKS TO HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY
 Tuesday, November 12, the high school was called together to hear the interesting experience of Reverend James as a missionary to Columbia, South America. He told of his landing there; the great variety of fruit and many animals to found. He told us also of his experience with the monkeys and promised us other such tales if we were present at the Baptist church that night.

REV. BOB SHULER INTIMIDATED WOMEN JURORS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—Three women members of the jury which convicted Alexander Pantages on a statutory charge today swore to affidavits charging that they were influenced and coerced into returning a verdict of guilty against the vaudeville magnate.

The women swore they were influenced in switching their votes to guilty by the inclusion of the words "with clemency" in the verdict, believing such a direction would make it mandatory that Superior Judge Charles Fricke pronounce a light sentence.

The affidavits also charged that fear of caustic radio utterances against them by the Rev. R. P. Shuler also influenced their voting. Mrs. Ulrich and Mrs. Ingles said one of the men on the jury used the alleged threat of Shuler's radio talks to coerce them.

Rev. C. M. Curry reports that he will not have to move this year, as he will have practically the same work as last year.

Announcing

a revolutionizing Motor Oil, a new principle and a Challenge

the Challenge

Several years ago, the exclusive North American patent rights on the Germ Process were acquired by this Company. It was evolved and patented by two British scientists after exhaustive chemical and physical laboratory tests.

Germ Process oils were revolutionary in that they met every requirement, through special characteristics, for each type of internal combustion motor. These scientists, by the Germ Process, eradicated the prevalent weaknesses existent in motor oils regardless of their base.

This Company has made innumerable laboratory and road tests, under every conceivable condition, over the past seven years, and we are now prepared to state definitely that your motor oil problem is solved by the Germ-Processed Motor Oil.

By comparison, our tests prove that the "Germ Essence" creates the only safe motor oil under all conditions and at all times operates at the highest obtainable efficiency.

We are now prepared to meet any challenge of competitors. I confidently believe that Conoco Germ-Processed Paraffin Base Motor Oils are superior to any other motor oils made from any crude by any process.

More than twenty thousand outlets are now prepared to offer to the public such a motor oil for the discriminating buyer, and for a technical problem which has always been recognized but not solved until now.

J. M. Telford President,
CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY

Here are our Claims for Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil—Check against the oil you are now using

1 Under the Germ patents . . . exclusive to CONOCO for North America . . . there is imparted to CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil an "oiliness" which is responsible for its greater lubricating value, greater film strength, greater penetrativeness, greater adhesiveness, greater tenacity, greater permanence, greater stability, greater stamina and a more nearly perfect compression seal than any other oil on the American market. Because of this affinity for metal—this actually combining with the metal itself, CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil never leaves the bearings. Where other oils drain out and leave the surface dry, Germ-Processed oil penetrates the metal surfaces, forming a film that adheres for months. This "carry-over" film—this always present film gives ample lubrication to all parts needing it when a cold motor is started, until such time as oil from the crank case can reach them.

2 This remarkable and exclusive feature of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil is reinforced by the fact that these oils are refined from only carefully selected paraffin base crudes by the most modern and scientific methods known to the petroleum technologist. Patented processes are used to remove all objectionable elements, leaving a perfectly balanced, stable product that is 100% lubricating oil. Thousands of tests demonstrate its remarkable resistance to corrosion.

The majority of motor oils never receive this degree of refining. None ever exceed it.

3 Increased gasoline mileage and improved motor performance are realized through the use of this new oil. The exclusive CONOCO Germ Process so adds to the "oiliness" of this lubricant that metal-against-metal friction is eliminated, even in motor starting after all oil ordinarily would have drained from the motor into the crankcase. The perfect sealing qualities of the CONOCO fracture-proof film insures a high compression efficiency that results in greatly increased motor performance. Marked improvements in power, speed, acceleration and flexibility are noticeable.

4 Due to the Germ Process and the select, premium, paraffin base crude stocks used, CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil positively does not break down under the most intense cylinder wall heat. A climb, high speed, heavy load, temperature extremes—none of these strains cause this oil to heat sufficiently to actually burn, break down or evaporate to any appreciable degree. By comparison with many oils on the market, you may confidently expect a saving in oil consumption up to 50%.

5 Automotive engineers agree that 40% to 60% of all motor wear occurs during the starting period. This destructive wear is definitely reduced by the use of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil. Ordinary oil, thinned by heat and dilution, drains down past the piston rings when the motor is stopped, leaving little or no protective film. On starting the motor, a considerable time is required for the oil to reach all bearings and working surfaces. Under adverse conditions, such as winter temperatures, this time may be from 15 to 20 minutes or even longer.

Since CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil never leaves the bearings and working surfaces, it is always there under any and all conditions to provide needed lubrication until the normal supply of oil arrives.

6 Unlike other oils, dilution does not impair the "oiliness" value of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil.

7 CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil retains its fluidity at sub-zero temperatures. No practical operating conditions in winter will affect its immediate lubricating value at the first touch of the electric starter.

We invite you to enjoy the many additional miles of pleasure your motor car owes you by using this amazing new motor oil regularly. You will find it today at all stations displaying the CONOCO Red Triangle.

Grind Mix Your Own FEED

You can make your feed crops go one-third further by grinding them with a W-W Hammer-Type Feed Grinder.

The W-W grinds and mixes everything from the ground up with lightning speed—separately or together, fine or coarse. Turns fodder, alfalfa, ear or snapped corn, bundle feeds, maize heads, oats, barley, and all other grains and roughage into nutritious mixed feed that has a third more feeding value.

W-W HAMMER-TYPE FEED GRINDER

Powerful RIGID hammers do the work on the W-W. They do a quicker, better job of grinding—no burrs, gears or knives to work loose or cause expensive trouble. Fifteen years of successful service on thousands of farms everywhere has proved the W-W to be the world's greatest feed grinder. Has Timken Tapered Bearings, Alemite Lubrication and Rockwood Pulleys.

There is a W-W to fit every purpose. Nine different sizes. Self-feeder can be furnished. Blower or Elevator equipment.

Come in and let us show you how the W-W will make you money on your farm. Or better still, let us demonstrate a W-W on your farm with your own feed and your own power.

TEXAS SEVENTH IN ELECTRIC PRODUCTION

In 1927 Texas stood thirteenth among the states in electrical production. In 1928 it stood tenth. For the first six months of 1929 it moved into eighth place. September totals show Texas has moved into seventh place, with a gain of 23 per cent over the same month last year. Gain in the United States was 10 per cent.

During September public utility plants in Texas produced 250,976,000 kilowatt hours of current. The next Southern state is North Carolina with 205,100,000 k. w. h.

The only states now above Texas in the list are New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, California and Michigan.

"Lady Victorine," a barred Plymouth Rock pullet owned by the University of Saskatchewan, Canada, entered her pullet year on September 3, and in laying 358 eggs in the 365 days that have followed has smashed all egg production records in history, surpassing the former title holder, "Mamie," a White Leghorn owned by the University of British Columbia, in order to more clearly understand the record made by "Lady Victorine" compare it with the annual average record of 70 eggs per hen.—Southern Ruralist.

Mr. Turner who owns considerable land in this county, and some town property, is making extensive improvements on the residence occupied by Dr. DuBois, by adding modern plumbing fixtures.

DRINKING "JAKE" IN OIL FIELDS A FINE ART

The drinking of "Jake," a combination of Jamaica ginger and alcohol in the oil fields is one of the delicate arts in which competence is arrived at only after long experience. "Jake" has a powerful punch, and those who drink it must hold their breath after the consuming fluid has chased down their gullet.

It is usual to take a swallow of lemon soda or soda water from a bottle, and then put the contents of a two-ounce bottle of "jake" into the soda water bottle, drinking this and following it with other soda.

Old timers drink it straight, following it with a chaser. A novice finds difficulty in drinking it. Some strain it through stale bread to cut the ginger. Others pour it through a blotter. Old heads can drink six to eight bottles a day and go to work the next morning without any apparent ill effects. The standard oil field price when the boom is on is 75 cents a bottle. When the boom subsides it goes down to 50 cents a bottle. It is nothing unusual for an oil field hotel to clean out six to eight "jake" bottles from the dresser drawers of a room in the morning.

A man enters a hotel room with a package under his arm and soon he goes out to return with another package. "Jake" is a solitary drink. It is for men who drink alone and not socially. It is nothing new to see a "jake" head stop on the street corner and converse with himself.

Selling "jake" for beverage purposes is against the law, but so is crap shooting.—San Angelo Standard.

Pat Green and family were here Sunday from Lubbock visiting with his brother-in-law, Oscar Jones, John Dumas and families.

Whereas, by virtue of an execution and order of sale issued out of the District Court of Terry County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said Court on the 18th day of September A. D. 1929, in favor of Gomez Independent School District, and against Harley Stapp No. 1143 on the docket of said Court, to to me, as sheriff, directed and delivered, I did, on the 18th day of October A. D. 1929, at 10 o'clock A. M., levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in Terry County, Texas, and belonging to Harley Stapp to-wit: 68 acres out of Section 101 Block D-11 and designated as tract No. 5 in a partition deed of record in the County Clerk's office of Terry County, Texas, on the 3rd day of December A. D. 1929, being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M., and 4 o'clock P. M., on said day, at the courthouse door of Terry County, Texas, in the town of Brownfield, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right title, and interest of the said Harley Stapp in and to said property.

Witness my hand, this 18th day of October, A. D. 1929.

Comparatively New Letter

The letter J is a comparatively late variant of the Latin I. The form J was developed from I during the Middle Ages, but it was long used in certain positions in the world without regard to the sound as consonant or vowel. J gradually became differentiated from I in function as well as form, but the separation of J as a consonant and I as a vowel was not fully established until the Seventeenth century.

Italy's Marble Caves

Marble is Italy's chief export and the richest mineral product of Italian soil. The best marble caves are those in Tuscany, in the Apennine mountains near Versilia, which were known to the Romans, who went there to extract the pure white marble for monuments. Michelangelo himself journeyed to Versilia to select the marble blocks for his masterpieces.

Climatic Changes

Geologists are of the opinion that the ice periods of the earth have consisted of at least four epochs, separated by interglacial epochs, during which the climate became mild. It is possible that during these interglacial epochs the climate of Alaska and the North Polar regions was decidedly warm.

From our acquaintance with the people of this city, we are persuaded that they, like our early pilgrim fathers appreciate all their past blessings and are desirous of having part in "Thanks and Praise" services.

We know that some may be lacking in the necessities of life and for their benefit, the Church of Christ desires to maintain a special store house from which goods may be distributed to any case of charity, irrespective of church affiliation. For this to be possible, we, that have a reasonable amount of the necessities of this life must share with those less fortunate.

We do not want things that are worn out; people in need have no more use for such than you. But you may have a pair of shoes good for much service if they were half soled and polished up. Then what about extra quilts, sheets, dresses for little girls, suits for little boys, etc.

Some will need groceries, medicine, and fuel. We will take a cash offering to meet this need.

Everyone whose heart may stir him up to an expression of gratitude is invited to be present.

The subject for this occasion will be "In Everything Give Thanks." Services at 10:30 A. M. at Church of Christ, Thursday, Nov. 28th.

SIMMONS U. HOME COMING TURKEY DAY, NOV. 28

ABILENE, Nov. 18.—The Homecoming of alumni and ex-students of Simmons University will be held here November 28, Thanksgiving, the date of the football game between the Simmons Cowboys and the Texas Tech Matadors. Plans are going forward, according to Mrs. Len Fawcett, alumni president, to make this eclipse any such occasion of the past.

A big, old time barbecue, the football game, class reunions, Cowgirl reunion, and Cowboy Band reunion, are to be the features of the day. Plans are being made to care for 10,000 spectators at the game. The barbecue is to be given at noon for all alumni and exes.

One thousand rooters are expected to come from Lubbock by special train and in cars to support the Matadors. The game will be called at 2:30.

Personal invitations are being sent out to 10,000 exes of Simmons and a response from at least 2,000 is expected, according to Mrs. Fawcett.

During the last three years in which they have played the Cowboys and the Matadors have each won a game and one has been tied. In 1926 the game ended in a 0-0 draw. In 1927 the Tech warriors won 10-6, and last year the Cowboys took the big end of the 19-0 score.

ONE SHEEP—ONE SUIT

Back in 1840 the average weight of fleece sheared from American sheep was less than two pounds. By 1900 it had been increased to nearly 5 1/2 pounds. Today it is approaching 8 pounds.

In other words, an average sheep is now shearing enough wool each year to make approximately one suit of clothes. In 1840 it took the wool of four sheep to make a suit of equal weight and quality.—Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, November 15.

THE ANGRY SENATOR MOSES

When a distinguished senator of the United States loses his temper and pours forth his wrath on his colleagues it is always interesting, but usually unimportant.

But not so in the case of Senator Moses, who declared the other day that the senate was now in control of the "sons of jackasses." Senator Moses is one of the big boys who are serving the high tariff interests.

He frankly concedes he and his crowd have lost control of the senate and he is expressing the views of the whole crowd of old guard senators. He represents the smug, industrial East, which furnishes campaign contributions for the party, and expects to be repaid in tariff bonuses.

The coalition between farm bloc republicans and democrats has made it impossible for Moses, Reed, Bingham and the other big boys to repay the campaign contributions. It is the first time such an embarrassing situation has confronted the old guard during a republican administration in a generation.

Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad, and Senator Moses doesn't try to conceal the fact he is mad. His tirade leads the suave Senator Borah to suggest to the farm bloc, of which he is one, that they ought to be thankful that Senator Moses didn't call them worse than "sons of jackasses."

It doesn't take an astute observer to note that a serious breach is growing between the republicans of the great West and Northwest and the republicans of the East, who awhile back had such control of the party. Western republicans and democrats are much closer together on economic issues than are republicans from the two sections. Revelations of that senatorial lobby committee and such ill-tempered statements of Moses are doing a lot to widen the breach.

Let all we democrats stand up and cheer on the scrap.—Houston Mirror.

ICE CREAM

The colored preacher was describing the "bad place" to a congregation of awed listeners.

"Friends," he said, "you've seen this here melted iron running out of a furnace, ain't you—all white hot, sizzling, and hissing? Well—"

The preacher pointed a long, lean finger at the frightened crowd.

"Well," he continued, "they use that stuff for ice cream in the place I been talking about."

T. W. Barrett of the Tokio community, was among the callers in the county capital, Saturday.

Lee Lyon, prominent farmer and citizen of the south side, was in after supplies Saturday.

Official paper of Terry County.

Up to Nov. 1st, Terry county had ginned 11,220 bales of cotton compared to only 2,249 on the same date last year. This is five times as much as last year.

Some dry northers have been hitting this section of late and our forecasters have been predicting that this condition means wet weather is about over. Sounds good, but we'll wait and see.

The past week has been nice for gathering, but it is cloudy as this is being written. Just what that will turn out to mean, we are not prepared to say. Ask those who deal in such dope.

Yes, Jim is going to run. We suppose he got enough "yes men" to respond to his recent feeler to encourage him to come out. At least he indicates such in the last issue of the Forum. Well, this is a free country, and we'll bet Jim comes pretty near being in the runoff if he is not in it.

Week before last we recorded where one man killed another over a dog fight; last week it was about one negro killing another over 65c in a crap game dispute; this week it is concerning one woman stabbing another because she kicked her "dawg" around. Life is held awfully cheap in Texas. Juries should see that there is a radical raise in valuations placed on life as well as property.

And another high court judge has taken the life of a girl who perhaps has never done him any harm, while, according to the press, under the influence of intoxicants. But of course he will never have to suffer for it, as his profession will come to his aid by the score. And it seems that some juries have no better conception of justice than the criminal legal profession. Now days when a rich guy wants to get rid of a poor son-in-law down here in Texas, he just shoots him, and the courts clear him. Talk about a bootlegger all you want to, but he is a better citizen than a murderer of innocent young people to our nation.

The laws' delay makes the outlaw possible. This was the final termination of the Marshall Ratcliff affair at Eastland. The infamous Santa Claus bank robber, who shot down good officers and law abiding citizens in Cisco two years ago in quest of the savings of other people in a bank, then carried a small child in front of his rotten hide for protection against the bullets of indignant people, has been petted and pampered by the laws delay after a jury of honest men said he should go to the electric chair, with the plea of insanity and this and that. After we read a day or two ago that he had suddenly turned on a deputy sheriff and probably mortally wounded him, we made notes to write a hot editorial on the law's delay, as our blood fairly boiled to think that a skunk like this bandit had been kept off the "hot juice" by a lot of scheming lawyers who were getting pay from some source to see that the mandates of the law was not carried out. We had figured that the only thing we could see wherein the people could be fittingly avenged was to line all those craven Shylocks who have had a hand in keeping this murderer and robber from the electric chair, up beside a brick wall and make Ratcliff shoot them down one at a time. But this morning (Wednesday) the dailies brought word that the people of Eastland county, otherwise lawabiding people had become weary and tired of the loopholes and dodges in the laws of the State of Texas, and at once became outlaws by resorting to mob violence and taking the life of a human that the state should have finished 18 months ago. This ought to be a supreme lesson to the people of Texas. They should see that only those who come out firmly and unflinchingly for court reform are allowed seats in the Texas Senate and House next year. The state and our courts have been run by a bunch of criminal lawyers long enough. The people have the ballot and if they do not use it to rid the State and the courts of these parasites on society, they should not grumble at the consequences. There are good honest lawyers who are honestly making a stab toward court reform. They see that their own profession is almost becoming contemptible in the sight of honest people, and they would redeem the profession and put it back on the basis it enjoyed in the early history of our country, but the other element is too strong for them without the aid of the people at the ballot box. KEEP THE PROFESSIONAL CRIMINAL LAWYER OUT OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The returns from Canada, indicating support of the intoxicating liquor trade in Ontario and Nova Scotia, may be attributed, first, to the consolidation of its position by the now formidable government-protected drink industry; second, to the prejudice of many Canadians against any theory or policy which they identify with Americanism, a prejudice which is not directed so much at the people of the United States as it is toward asserting and vindicating the British character of the Dominion, and, third, paradoxically, the influence of the anti-prohibition propaganda so strong in the eastern portion of the United States. Indirectly, American liquor money has throttled prohibition in Canada, where it has been assisted by the French interests.—Methodist Clip Sheet.

Bouncing Wireless Waves A wireless instrument which will tell an airman just how high he is flying has been invented. The machine sends a wireless wave from the airplane to the ground, which rebounds and is caught up again on the dashboard. The return wave lights up one of a series of colored lamps according to the time taken for its return journey, and from the color of the lamp the pilot knows his height.

Old Weapon of Warfare A fire ship was a vessel set on fire and sent among the enemy ships to destroy as many as possible by fire and to cause confusion. The use of such ships was first recorded at the siege of Tyre, B. C. 332. Soon after the beginning of the Nineteenth century their usefulness declined owing to the development of steam and change from wood to iron in shipbuilding.

Birds as Shepherds The yakamk, a species of crane, is used by the natives of Venezuela, South America, in the place of shepherd dogs, for guarding and herding flocks of sheep. However far the yakamk may wander with the flocks, it never fails to find its way home at night, driving before it all the creatures entrusted to its care.

First Sawmill in 1844 The first commercial sawmills were built in Oregon in 1844, and on Puget sound in 1845. By 1855 there were over 228 mills in Oregon alone, says the American Tree association. They cost more than a million and a half dollars and were producing annually a product worth more than two millions.

Pineapple Canning The canning of pineapple began in this country about the early '80s, the supply of fruit being brought chiefly from the West Indies and delivered in Baltimore, where, for the most part, the canning was done. The canning of pineapple in the Hawaiian Islands began about ten years later.

Located Seat of Speech In 1861, Paul Broca, an eminent French anthropologist, made and announced the discovery of the fact that the seat of articulate speech is in the third convolution of the left frontal lobe of the brain. It still bears the name "Convolution of Broca."

The Firm Foundation Let the foundation of thy affection be virtue, then make the building as rich and as glorious as thou canst; if the foundation be beauty or wealth, and the building virtue, the foundation is too weak for the building, and it will fall; happy is he, the palace of whose affection is founded upon virtue, walled with riches, glazed with beauty, and roofed with honor.—Quarles.

Engraving in Wood It was not until the end of the Eighteenth century that an English engraver, Thomas Bewick, developed the modern method of cutting in wood with a burin, a pencil-length instrument with a fine point which could be easily guided and which was so shaped so as to cut away the wood surface just as a plowshare turns up the earth.—Golden Book.

Farmer Secrets Agriculture is more than a trade or a business. It is primarily an art, a personal profession, a mode of life, a calling. Farming is one of the basic occupations that spring from the very roots of man's nature—from the human impulse to create something that will be real, significant and lasting.—Farma and Fireside.

Valentines in Museum Valentines have gone out of style among young lovers in England, and the tender missives of long ago are acquiring a museum of value. An exhibition of 400 varieties was recently held in a London museum. With them was shown an old post office sign urging the public to mail their valentines early.

NEWSPAPER THOUGHTS

Ray D. Everson, managing editor of the Indianapolis News, says: That a visitor to the news room of a newspaper gets about as much of an idea of what is going on as a blind man attending a lecture for the deaf and dumb.

If you think people do not read what you write, try printing something libelous about some obscure person.

Never let an item be so long you have to write on both sides of the paper.

SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Terry.
Whereas, By virtue of an execution and order of sale issued out of the District Court of Terry County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said court, on the 18th day of September, A. D. 1929, in favor of Gomez Independent School District and against R. L. Stapp No. 1162 on the docket of said Court, and to me, as sheriff, directed and delivered, I did, on the 18th day of October A. D. 1929, at 10 o'clock A. M., levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in Terry County, Texas, and belonging to R. L. Stapp, to-wit: 68 acres of the west side designated as tract No. 6 in a partition deed of record in the office of the County Clerk of Terry County, Texas, on the 3rd day of December A. D. 1929, being the third Tuesday of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on said day, at the courthouse door of Terry County, Texas, in the town of Brownfield, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right title, and interest of the said R. L. Stapp in and to said property.

CHAS. BROADWAY ROUSS INC. RETIRE FROM WHOLESALE FIELD.

The decision of Charles Broadway Rouss, Inc., to retire from the wholesale field after a half century of leadership, and to devote its efforts hereafter, in conjunction with the Acorn Stores, Inc., to the chain store field, will be regarded with interest throughout the country. As an important sequence to this action the general public will, in the future, be recipients of a comprehensive service such as can be rendered only by an old and well-established organization of this type.
The managing structure of the company has been further strengthened by the election of new directors, and the complete board now contains such outstanding business men as Peter W. Rouss, Chairman; George J. Patterson, President of the Scranton and Lehigh Coal Co., of Brooklyn; Leonard J. Buck, President of Leonard J. Buck, Inc.; F. C. Nicodemus, Jr., of Pierce & Greer, and E. J. Quintal, of the Equitable Trust Co. Associated; with these men in the active management of both companies, as heretofore, will be L. J. Botting, Vice President and General Manager.
It would be rather trite at this time to review the career of Charles Broadway Rouss, Inc.; but suffice it to say there never has been a better known nor more respected wholesale house in the country. The decision of this company henceforth to devote its entire efforts to retail merchandising, removes from the wholesale field, one of its leading representatives; but the general public will gain from the fine merchandising principles practiced by Charles Broadway Rouss, Inc., and the Acorn Stores, Inc.—National Business Review.

J. Reilly, who was until recently employed as market research specialist in the University Bureau of Business Research. The bulletin is intended to acquaint the advertiser of the State with the functions of an agency so that he may know how to use the service offered by such an organization, to give him some standards upon which he might select a capable agency, and to explain the percentage system under which agencies operate in Texas as well as in other parts of the United States.

Last week the Spur Creamery shipped a carload of butter to the Chicago market. The shipment consisted of 51 tubs, each weighing 63 pounds.
The record of the Spur Creamery is becoming widely known and the demand for Espuela Brand butter is growing. Spur Creamery is manufacturing a fine quality of butter and the public in general is beginning to find it out.
In a recent national test of samples of butter sent in by creameries all over the United States, four from Texas scored in the high honor mark. Espuela Brand, made by the Spur creamery was one of the four. The scoring standing at 92 points. This is a fine record for a creamery the size of the one in Spur.—Spur Times.

TRAVELOGUIST GETS QUESTIONNAIRE BY T. C. U. GIRLS

FORT WORTH, Nov. 18.—When Burton Holmes, famous travelogist, lectured recently at Texas Christian University here, a group of students framed a questionnaire and submitted it to him. Some of the questions and answers may be illuminating to the general public. Anyway, here they are:
Q. Do you think a woman's place is in the home, in the business world, or both?
A. Depends on the girl.
Q. If a woman is planning to be a home builder do you think she should go ahead with her education as though she were planning a business career?
A. Running a home is a business.
Q. Do you think a college trained journalist has advantages over one who has not been trained for this profession in college?
A. Yes.
Q. When is a person educated?
A. Completely, never!
Q. For the average college student with little finances what tour would you outline for a summer vacation?
A. London, Paris and Rome.
Q. What is your opinion about modern college youth—are they growing more moral or immoral?
A. They are less hypocritical today.
Q. Which school is more valuable to a young person, that of experience or college?
A. Experience.

LEARNING TO CUSS

An old-like gentleman was sitting on a bench last week undertaking to tell something to another man, but for lack of English, just messed the conversation and himself all up with cuss words. A boy half way down the street remarked: "The old codger must be trying to learn how to cuss."
We haven't much patience with one too good to say "dermit" when they stump their toe in the dark; but it is pitiful to hear a man try to gain attention by loud cussing. If one amounts to much, people listen to him and respect his opinion. If he doesn't amount to much all the cussing he can muster won't help him.

It is generally believed that most persistent cussers are cowards, and try to make up for their lack of courage with cusswords.
Hal Hood, sheriff of Dallas County, one of the nerviest men in Texas; Captain Hickman and Captain Hamer of the Texas Rangers, who are considered brave men, all are men of decent language. An old gentleman who knew Frank James, famous outlaw for many ears, says he was a quiet man and used clean words.

If cuss words were bullets, the village braggart would certainly be dangerous, but they are only shots from an air gun, and do nothing but contaminate the atmosphere. Barking dogs never bite—they are mean enough, but haven't the nerve. The quiet dog is the one to be dreaded, for he never opens his mouth until he takes hold of your leg.
There is no fame to be gained by cussing, for the vocabulary of cuss words were all used before we were born. There is no honor in cussing, for a negro boy can do the same thing just as well.—Center Point Journal.

BARBERS ARE CALLED TO STAND TEST

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—After December 2, haircutting in Texas will be done by registered barbers. The shave, unless with a safety at home will also be official. First examinations for licensed barbers under the new law have been called by the State Barber Board. Barbers will not have to come to Austin for the examination. Questionnaires are being sent out. The board will meet in Austin on December 2 and pass on the answers and issue or refuse licenses.

RED CROSS HONOR FLAG GOES TO NEW HAMPSHIRE

The honor flag, given annually to the State which enrolls the greatest percentage of its population as member of the American Red Cross, went this year to New Hampshire. The designation was so close between New Hampshire and Vermont that it hung in the balance for a time. California ranked third in the honor list and Connecticut fourth.

A final tabulation of figures of the 1929 Roll Call showed a nation-wide membership of 4,127,946. The banner rests with New Hampshire, where it is hung in the State House, until the 1929 Roll Call—held between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day—is completed and new figures available for the 1929 winner.

COFFEE CROP AIDED BY RED CROSS IN ISLANDS

Disaster relief given following the West Indies hurricane which struck Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Florida, as well as other islands in the Caribbean Sea, presented one of the largest tasks yet undertaken by the American Red Cross. In Florida, where 1,510 lives were lost, the Red Cross aided 41,236 persons. In Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, where the loss of life was not so great, but where the devastation was almost complete, the Red Cross aided 731,712 persons.

Destruction of the coffee plants was the greatest loss, and the Red Cross aided in rehabilitating this industry by employing 67,000 natives to clear the coffee-land, so that replanting would go forward immediately, thus providing work and wages for thousands.

"Jacob's Ladders"

The name "Jacob's ladder" was given to the ladder reaching from earth to heaven seen in a vision by Jacob. This is also a name given to a short rope ladder on shipboard and to an apparatus for raising light weights to a considerable height. An endless revolving chain of buckets, filling themselves at the bottom of the chain and emptying themselves at the top, formerly much used in breweries and distilleries, is known as a "Jacob's ladder."

Fad for Small Books

A collecting passion which increases its devotees daily in England is the seeking out of miniature books. It has been discovered that all sorts of books have been reproduced in miniature through the year, and not merely the classics, the Bible and dictionaries. From the earliest days printers have been turning out these miniatures, and the oldest are now bringing the fanciest prices.

Just the Same Then

Human nature doesn't change much. If at all, as the years roll on and we'll bet when old Ananias died, as we understand he did rather suddenly, the home paper, if there had been one at the time, would have said, among other things, that his word was as good as his bond.—Ohio State Journal.

Artistic Creation

The theme of Watts' "Hope" is symbolized by the figure of a woman seated with bowed head. She still clings to her lyre, all the strings of which with the exception of one are broken. This is to suggest the dominant quality of hope, which prevails in even the most adverse circumstances.

Go South in the Winter

Stocks are supposed to bring good luck and are regarded as fortunate omens in many parts of the world, but in Europe they are only summer boarders after all. In winter, says Nature Magazine, they go South, like millionaires, to Africa, to Egypt, where they are equally welcome.

Church as Piggery

The ancient church of St. Mary Magdalen, Ripon, England, has been scheduled by the office of works as an ancient monument. For many years the edifice has been a ruin, and some years ago pizzeries were erected at the west end, the front being used as a pig trough.

Kiss by Mail

The use of crosses for kisses owes its origin to the time when few could write, and made their signatures by a cross. The later was solemnly kissed in token of faith, and when education rendered an X signature unnecessary, the X was used as a kiss symbol only.

Looking Ahead in South

Optimism in the South that the practice of forestry can be made to pay substantial profits now amounts to almost a positive assurance, says the American Tree association. A lively interest has arisen in the renewing of timber crops on logged-off lands.

Will Learn From Expert

Jed Tunkins says he has made money enough to give him a banker for social position. So he's going far away from home for a while and get a job as a butler, so's to learn what good manners are really like.—Washington Star.

Ignorance Is Bliss

Probably the most trusting nature is that of the person who goes from home to home with a sample case, trying to get orders for something and thinks no one is at home because the bell isn't answered.—Ohio State Journal.

Bad Spots in Oceans

Probably the roughest bodies of water in the world are the bay of Discy and the waters immediately surrounding Cape Horn. Some of the roughest and highest breakers are found off the coast of Guinea.

Weak Illumination

Before the coming of the oil lamp lighthouses were lit by candles or coal fires. The last of the latter was the Lighthouse at St. Bees, where a coal light burned until 1822.

THE LAMBS WERE SHORN

The expected happened—expected to everybody except those who had been fooled into believing that stock which paid a dividend of 6 per cent on a $100 valuation was worth from $300 to $400 per share. Unfortunately, their number reaches into many thousands. They are scattered all over this land. In their attempt to get rich quick, they have lost their savings. Millions of dollars distributed among thousands of citizens a few weeks ago are now resting securely in the pockets of the big boys of Wall Street.

We read in the papers that paper profits melted away like snow on a red-hot griddle. Twelve billions of dollars wiped out in a single day, more than $2,000,000,000 in excess of the total value of all the property, real and personal, in the State of Texas. On preceding and succeeding days many more millions of paper profits were lost, making the total for the few days of market flurry almost equal to the cost of America of the World War.

But of course paper profits are not real money. But one cannot buy stock without putting up real money for margins, and this money went into the hands of the big manipulators. It came from men and women in every class of society; from merchants, bankers, clerks and laborers, and the total loss in actual money to these people makes a staggering figure. No other country in the world could have avoided a panic under such conditions.

The small speculators, which of course are dubbed "the public," under high pressure propaganda, fed the market for weeks. A few were fortunate enough to sell at high levels, and made quick and easy money. That was all according to rules. This induced others to go into the market, and the most of those who made money put it back in speculative stocks and, when the crash came, they were sheared almost to the skin. Then the papers boldly announced that the big banks had stayed the decline and prices were at rock bottom. Suckers took the bait and put in all they had to recover what they had previously lost. There was also a new crop who thought they were wise boys, and thus margins multiplied. When everything was set and ready another drop of $8,000,000,000 in paper profits was engineered, and thus a large class was given a second skinning.

The New York Stock Exchange, with its hundreds of wire house connections throughout the country, is the largest and best organized gambling institution the world has ever seen. Although the Government has frowned upon lotteries and other forms of gambling which took the pennies and nickels of the people, it recognizes the Stock exchange and other exchanges where gambling is indulged in on a large scale as legitimate institutions. Under the guise of making a market for securities the Stock Exchange is permitted to conduct a gambling institution such as the world has never seen before. It robs the public of its savings and keeps the money of the country out of the channels of legitimate industry. As such, it is a direct injury to every citizen, whether or not they indulge in the game. The cotton exchanges and grain exchanges are operated on the same basis. The gambling features almost submerge the legitimate functions of the organizations. They are used mainly for gambling, and the markets are generally manipulated in such a manner as to take from the producers of food and fiber their legitimate profits.

It is very apparent that the men in control and who operate on these exchanges believe that they are firmly entrenched and fully protected, but it may be that they are over-confident. The Government, which they now depend upon for protection, may some day be in control of an entirely different set of officials who will be put there by the people, common people, if you wish. Then there will be some revolutionary reorganizations of these alleged markets which will eliminate gambling and put to work in some productive capacity a lot of men who are now making easy money.—Farm and Ranch.

This Week

by Arthur Brisbane
Something Was Done
Life Futile, She Jumped
Women's Colleges Starved
3,000 Automobile Deaths

Brokers' loans, borrowed for stock investment and speculation, dropped seven hundred million dollars in a week, a very dull "bull" point. General Motors declared an extra dividend of 30 cents that will give stockholders in a few days $12,900,000 more than they would have had ordinarily. That was cheerful news.

The powers of government and finance have done something about the shrinkage in stock values and public confidence. A lower income tax has been announced. And later came a lowering of the rediscount rate to 4 1/2 per cent. All that will help.

The important thing is for the public to come out of its hysteria and realize that the foolishness of a few gamblers does not justify throwing away securities for less than their value.

Don't gamble, and don't be panic-stricken.

A girl of eighteen, well educated, handsome, hired an airplane and jumped to her death when 2,000 feet up. Her farewell note says: "Life is futile; to go on living is wrong" and asks: "What shall I find in death?"

Whatever she finds, the young lady, on arrival, should not go up in a plane and jump out. She found an interesting world with great possibilities here and should have stayed.

Had she married at seventeen and had a baby at eighteen she would still be here, fussing about the baby.

Too much introspection, an unnatural life filled with vague theories, producing temporary insanity, are responsible for the sad tragedy.

We are here to work, help others around us, and make the world better for those that follow, as our predecessors made it better for us, do our duty, and not ask Fate questions. Fate never answers; earnest work always answers, satisfactorily.

Charles E. Hughes made a good speech recently, demanding more generous endowment of women's education.

Seven leading women's colleges have not one-tenth the endowment of the seven leading men's colleges. That is extremely foolish, for the mothers of the human race are at least ten times as important as the fathers.

What women learn they remember and tell to their children. What men learn they forget in business and don't tell anybody.

In September, according to the Travelers Insurance company, 3,000 were killed in automobile accidents, a new record.

Bad whisky accounts for some killings, and "jay-walking," carelessness of pedestrians, accounts for many more.

Adults should know, children should be taught, that every highway is more dangerous than a railroad, automobiles being more numerous than trains, and just as dangerous.

In old-fashioned war, Switzerland relied on her mountains, her men, all trained soldiers able to use a rifle, and on the fact that it would cost more than it would be worth to conquer her.

But now, with mountains, rivers or water no longer a protecting barrier, Switzerland orders one hundred and five airplanes. Men used to joke about "the Swiss navy." But Switzerland is now on the shore, the air being the real ocean, and she means to have an air fleet.

Uncle Sam, take notice.

For the first time in twenty years, savings bank depositors have dropped. During the past year savings have diminished by $155,505,000, and the number of depositors by 524,221.

Those that drew their money to buy automobiles, radio sets, vacuum cleaners, electric washing machines, are wise. They get something better than their dollars.

Those that drew out money, safely placed, to speculate in stocks, know now that it is unwise to gamble.

John D. Rockefeller in 1923 spent more than twenty-one million dollars fighting disease all over the world. Diseases start in different parts of the earth and spread everywhere. Yellow fever must be fought in Brazil, Africa, Central America.

Africa is the home of the most deadly trypanosomes, for which wild game provides an inexhaustible reservoir. Sportsmen that kill wild beasts help the human race without knowing or intending it.

Mr. Humbert Fuzay had "the fighting rights" of several heavyweight prize fighters, including the powerful German, Schmeling. He sold his rights to Madison Square Garden company for $75,000. Madison Square will sell the rights to a housing public for several hundred thousand dollars. That's one view of our civilization.

Scenting Tea
Tea is scented artificially by exposing the dried leaves to the blossoms of such flowers as the sweet-scented olive, the gardenia, rose and jasmine.

Fast Day of the Zoo
All carnivorous animals kept in captivity, such as lions and tigers, must fast one day out of seven if they are to remain in good health.

TAKES RAP AT SENATOR MORRIS SHEPHERD OF TEXAS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The effort to brand liquor purchasers criminals was denounced to a national radio audience Thursday night by Senator Harry Hawes as "a frank confession that prohibition under the present law has miserably failed."

The Missouri Democrat's vitriolic address was in answer to one in defense of the proposed amendment last week by Senator Morris Sheppard (Dem.), Texas, its sponsor, who wrote the prohibition amendment.

A wet, Mr. Hawes attacked the Volstead Act and said because of its partial failure "we now are asked to include many millions of our people in a new criminal class, and to add to the power and immunity of the bootlegger by closing the mouths of his customers under the threat of five years' servitude in the penitentiary and a $10,000 fine for the purchase of a beverage which contains more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol."

"This amendment would impede law enforcement and promote lawlessness," averred the Missourian. "It would give additional security to the bootlegger, provide a new field for the blackmailer, and create an enlarged gangland."

He maintained that advocates of the Sheppard amendment should ask that it be made a constitutional amendment through a referendum and predicted "strange results" if such a step were taken. He said bootleggers would favor the amendment, "as they did in the recent Nova Scotia election."

"Nova Scotia is the last of the big Canadian provinces to change from dry to wet," the Senator continued. "For the temperance act there were 61,672 votes, and against it 56,024. For government control, however, there was the significant vote of 89,757 against 41,180."

RECKLESS DRIVERS

Almost daily one can see small boys whose feet cannot reach the pedals while their eyes are even with the windshield, managing to get thru the heavy traffic. In not a few instances noted accidents were narrowly avoided. In another a car was being driven by a drunken driver. It was a 9-year-old boy. Wrecks and collisions are best avoided by prevention of risk-taking practices. There should be an age limit. The only immediate hope of relief is by city ordinance.—Pampa News.

KEEPING HIS WORD

"Charles always said if he got a wife he would treat her rough."
"Well, now that he's married, does he?"
"Well, he drives her around in an old second-hand flivver."

I-DEAL CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Albert Endersen was the I-Deal Club hostess Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. McSpadden scored high and Mrs. Carter, next to high, in the bridge games. Both prizes were pretty lingerie sets. Mrs. Ransome King of Big Spring was named as honor guest and received a dainty handkerchief.

A salad course with ambrosia as dessert was served.

The guests were Mesdames McGowan, John King, Miller, Morgan Copeland, Ray Brownfield, Flem McSpadden, Ralph Carter, Arthur Sawyer, Ransome King of Big Spring, Michie, Collins, R. L. Harris and Toone.

Dr. Radford and son, Wright, of Quannah, were guests of their daughter and sister, Mrs. J. J. McGowan and family, Thursday and Friday of last week. Wright who was seriously ill in the early fall is now much improved.

BIG BENEFIT PARTY FOR FOOTBALL BOYS

A benefit party was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Holgate for the local football boys. The hostesses for this party assisting Mrs. Holgate were Mrs. C. F. Hamilton, Mrs. Homer Winston and Mrs. C. R. Baldwin. $32.70 was made at the party.

Forty-two was played at fifteen tables. Clever dolls dressed as football boys with their footballs were given as table prizes. Some of the guests getting these favors were Mrs. Walter Gracy, Mrs. W. A. Bell, Mrs. M. C. Bell, Mrs. Clyde Lewis, Mrs. Sam Pyeatt, Mr. Hayhurst, Mr. Gracy, and Mr. John Scudday.

The tallies further carried out the theme by having the Cub insignia on them and a players name on every tally.

Much merriment was caused by having a draw-box of fruit, candy, chewing gum and cigars for the fortunate ones who bid 126 and made it.

Sandwiches, pickles and hot chocolate were served.

The ones enjoying this jolly party were Messrs and Mesdames Kendrick, Goodpasture, Scudday, E. D. Ballard, M. C. Bell, Flem McSpadden, H. W. McSpadden, D. P. Lewis, Dallas, Jay Barrett, L. J. Fatal Thrust Coup de grace means a finishing stroke. Generally the term is applied to the thrust of the dagger which kills.

Begun by Madison

The first inaugural ball was held when James Madison entered upon his first term as President in 1800.

Denotes Acadian Origin

"Cajun" is a Louisiana word applied to a reputed descendant of the Acadian French.

TOBACCO

It is not enough to brush aside with a mild pooh! pooh! the recently heralded campaign for the abolition of tobacco. To dismiss its promoters as amiable busy-bodies, powerless to do harm and perhaps useful in adding momentary gaiety to a jazz-tired age, would be a grave mistake. It is the experience of history that the American people are so easy-going—either so morally lazy or so good-natured, according to your choice of definition—that a persistent minority can write almost anything it wants into the laws of the land.

On this very subject of tobacco we have the humiliating example of several states in which it is a penal offense to roll or light a cigarette. Of course, the law is not enforced in any of them; but there it lies on the statute books, a mockery, serving only to tickle the vanity of a handful of kindly old souls who nagged the legislature into passing it.

But that is not the sum of its evil. For every law that is defied or ignored is an object lesson in lawlessness, educating the public in contempt of all law, spawning criminals and making it difficult or impossible to enforce those laws on which the order, stability and welfare of the community depend.

That tobacco, used in moderation, has added much to the sum of human happiness cannot be gainsaid. Whatever ills may have been the outgrowth of the habit are due to over indulgence. But no one proposes to pass laws to regulate eating, because it is an unquestioned fact that men and women, some of them blatantly righteous, overeat to the extent of keeping themselves constantly in the hands of physicians.

It is not our purpose here, however, to defend tobacco. It is quite able to take care of itself. But we do want to utter a warning against the American habit of supineness in the face of crank agitation.

What the nation needs more than anything else is a legislative house-cleaning. If three-fourths of the laws could be formally and legally repealed and measures taken to insist on strict accountability to those permitted to remain, the nation would have made a long step in the science of self-government and have contributed to the moral growth of its citizenship. —Lubbock Avalanche.

SLIGHT DETOUR

The little girl was crying. Her mother, to distract her thoughts, called: "Oh, come here, darling—come here and look at the airplane." The little girl ran up to the window and stared up at the airplane till it disappeared. Then she got out her little wet handkerchief again. "Mama, what was I crying about?" she asked.—Wall Street Journal.

Mr. Hogan, owner of the Hogan stores here and Tahoka and Littlefield, was over from Tahoka Monday, and reported that their big sale now going on went over with a bang Saturday. He reports that their business was much greater than they had expected, and that they are more than pleased. Lots of bargains there yet.

THE BOOSTERS

During an extremely cold spell in the Puget Sound country, something gummed the works of a thermometer hung outside the Chamber of Commerce building, and the worst it could do was 72 above.

Along came a man, bundled up to his ears, but still shivering. For a moment he gazed at the thermometer, then turned away in disgust, saying: "Ain't that just like the Chamber of Commerce, anyway?"

THOSE HEATHEN!

CANADA WILL PROBABLY LEGISLATE AGAINST BOOTLEG EXPORTATIONS TO U. S.

The decision recently arrived at by the Dominion Cabinet to refuse clearances to vessels loaded with cargoes of liquor bound for the United States or other dry countries meets with unqualified approval from the Temperance Advocate. Legislative action on this matter, in view of the opinion of the department of justice that the governor in council lacked authority to enact such a measure, was bound to come. The report from Ottawa that in all probability there will be announced in the speech from the Throne next January a government bill to deal with the subject is good news for prohibition workers in Canada and the United States.—Temperance Advocate.
