WHEN CONSISTENCY IS NOT A GREAT JEWEL

The Herald is For Home Business Men, But It Is Not a Pretty Prospect to Think That They Do Not Know There Is A Print Shop in the City of Brownfield.

"Home Pride First. The citizen without pride in his own community has no pride in his state and mighty little patriotism. One's first duty is to home enterprises. An editor of one of Texas' best weekly newspapers—a man who has all his life given more time to work for his town and country than to his own financial interests—recently told me that some of the business concerns of his town that have much to say about "mail order business" and who would boycott a citizen who orders goods in their line out of town, are getting their stationery and job printing from glib-talking traveling salesmen, instead of buying it at home. Putting it down plainly, in terms that can't be misunderstood: The business that doesn't support in every possible way home enterprises, including the home printing plant, doesn't deserve support."

Consistency, thou art a jewel—Will H. Mayes in Texas and Texans.

The above from the syndicated articles put out by former Lieutenant Governor of Texas, Hon. Will H. Mayes, now of Austin, well illustrates the condition that exists in many towns. The local newspaper is supposed to tear its shirts for loyalty to the town and the institutions of the town, and we are glad to say that most of the papers, come what will, are generally speaking, more loyal than most other business institutions of the town. Although, some business men send out their printing to the "big town" through the solicitation of high powered salesman, the local paper and printers turn a cold shoulder to all sox, shirt or suit peddlers. We are glad that most business men of Brownfield practice what they preach.

However, occasionally, one or two forget, or don't give a cuss, and are led astray. We have in mind an institution here that only a matter of a few months ago was sorely pressed with solicitors from neighboring towns in his line of business. Both the Herald and the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce through these columns took up the cudgel in the defense of the local firm, and in a few weeks, the outside solicitors quit making the rounds of the residence section of this city, because the home man was giving just as good service as the outside people, and was spending his money at home—we thought. It now develops that he is having his printing done some place other than Brownfield. Well, the Herald is going to continue to boost for all business interests of Brownfield, including the one above, and give them our business. They can do whatever their conscience dictates. Just the same, this is some more consistency with the edge on.

Hound-Wolf Races at Levelland April 4-5

Roy Moreman came in Tuesday afternoon this week from Levelland and informed us that all arrangements had been completed for the Rabbit-Coyote-Hound Rodeo at Levelland on Friday and Saturday, April 4 and 5. On account of the fact that Editor Baldwin of the Levelland Herald was in a hospital at Lubbock following an operation for appendicitis, the Levelland paper was unable to get out his advertising matter, as they were short handed, and he came back to Brownfield to get it printed.

Roy says they will have more than 100 hounds on hand when the races start up there, but he will have all the wolves they are looking for at that time. He has inquiries from every section of West Texas about the matter, and was in a hurry to get the advertising matter to them. He reports that the Herald has been of great value to him, and that people with hounds all over West Texas seem to be watching this paper for announcements of the event. We have had many inquiries for sample copies of late, but had not up to then decided for what purpose this paper was in such demand, as none of them stated.

Besides the coyote races he will have numerous races of both grey hounds and "floppies" after jack rabbits, as well as other stunts to give the people their money's worth up there for two whole days. Our advice is if you have never seen a rodeo of this kind, don't miss the event. Watch these columns for the announcement of the hound-coyote rodeo at Hobbs, N. M. a little later on in April.

McGOWAN ASKS VOTERS FOR RE-ELECTION AS MAYOR

The friends of Joe J. McGowan desire to announce his candidacy for Mayor at the City election to be held next Tuesday, April 1st. It has been generally circulated that Joe did not want the office, and would not accept it if elected. We do not know how this report became current, but we do know that Joe has agreed to accept the office as he has heretofore done, if elected.

We respectfully call the voter's attention to the fact that since he has held the office of Mayor of the City of Brownfield has never spent a dime for legal advice, neither has our City ever spent any money whatever for office rent for a Mayor's office. We also desire to remind you that our City has never had a law suit of any kind. Under his administration, with the hearty assistance of our councilmen, Brownfield has grown from a small village without any conveniences to a small city with all modern conveniences.

We therefore respectfully ask the voters to give Joe due consideration before casting their ballot on next Tuesday.

A. Clements called around recently to get his Herald on the right side of the ledger.

Music Draws Fan Interest in "Rio Rita"

The voice that has been the talk of Hollywood this season will be heard from the screen of the Rio Rita Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

It belongs to Bebe Daniels and will be heard singing the songs of "Rio Rita," the Radio Picture operetta sensation.

In all the revolutions and surprises talking pictures have brought into the film industry, nothing has created more of a sensation than the "discovery" of the remarkable singing voice possessed by this favorite of the silent screen.

Opposite Bebe in the film version of Flo Ziegfeld's most famous musical show will be seen John Boles, erstwhile favorite of the musical comedy stage, and the tenor most in demand in talking pictures.

The cast which has transferred the Broadway hit to the sound screen is a large one and includes many favorites of both stage and screen. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey will be seen in the comedy roles they created in the stage version of "Rio Rita." Dorothy Lee, the baby-talk comedienne of "Syncopeation"; Helen Kaiser, one of Ziegfeld's "glorified" girls; Georges Renavent, French stage star; Don Alvarado and Nick de Ruiz, former tenor of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, are others in the large featured cast.

Much of the film was photographed in technicolor. The sets and costumes which dress this romantic operetta of the Rio Grande country are the sumptuous yet seen on the sound screen.

Federal Census to Begin Here Next Wed.

Mrs. J. F. Cook, who will assist in taking the Federal Census here in Brownfield, beginning next week, called on the Herald this week in order to prepare the public for the census by giving them a little timely instruction before the enumerators get to your place. The public can be of great assistance to the enumerators, or can give them a great deal of extra trouble.

Next Wednesday, when there is a rap on your door, or a push of the bell if you have one, don't decide that it is an agent of some kind and not answer. Remember that it may be the census enumerator who must see you some time or other. Also, remember that the enumerators are under oath to the government to never reveal anything you may disclose to them. Another thing, remember that the census department at Washington is pledged to never reveal anything financial you may give out to any of the other departments in order to tax your property. For instance, the income tax department will never get a peep in on the financial matters you turn over to the census department.

Therefore, you may answer all questions propounded to you with the assurance that it will be kept a strict secret.

Good Class Reports For Dairy Judging

Thirteen 4-H club boys, Ray and Lee Brownfield, Horton Howell, B. F. Moore, Don King, Herbert Cheshir, Clayton White, J. B. Gillentine, Edward and Clayton Walker, Loyd and Floyd Lee, and Kenneth Purtell reported to County Agent, R. B. Davis, last Wednesday for practice judging of dairy cattle. A good workout was held on the Oscar Sawyer dairy herd.

These boys will practice here Wednesday on local cattle and will spend all of Saturday at the Tech College working with the fine dairy animals that are owned by that institution. This will be the final workout in preparations for the dairy judging contest which will be held at the Dairy Show at Plainview on April 29th.

The morning subject will be, "How, When and Where Shall We Teach God's Word?" The evening subject, "The Thief On The Cross," has always been one of interest. I believe the thief is safe and will be saved even if he were not baptized. A cordial welcome to attend these services is extended.

New Farmer Preparing For Diversified Farm

The writer and wife drove out to the farm of Ed Thompson Sunday afternoon. Ed left Tennessee with his parents when the writer was about 11 years old, and Ed about five, but we became acquainted again in 1900 in Johnson county, Texas, but have seen little of each other since then until he moved to Terry some three weeks ago. Now he has a wife, two boys and two girls, and the writer is also a family man.

Ed has already made signs of farming out there, and has a lot of his land already listed, in fact all his cotton land. He is going rather light on cotton this year, however, and will devote most of the field to corn and other feeds. He has two large, well bred sows, and the best place to raise hogs in the county, we believe. These sows will farrow in the near future, and by the time his feed comes in, he will have quite a lot of porkers to feed out. He also has some good Jersey cows and a nice flock of Anglo hens to help carry him over this year. Ed, like a lot of other Texas folks has moved too much and has lost money at it, but we believe he is now settled and will come to the front. You know that old saying that three moves equals a fire. So Ed has been burned out about two or three times, according to that.

He comes from good stock on both sides of good, substantial middle class Tennessee farmers, and we know he has the stuff in him to stick and come to the front.

City Officials Asked to Divide City in Wards

A petition was circulated the past week and was freely signed by property owners all over the city asking the city council to cut the city up into wards, so that all the people of the city might have some say in the city government. We do not see how anyone could oppose such a step, as Brownfield people believe in giving each a fair go. However, as to the constitutionality of the request, we are not prepared to say.

Heretofore, the east and southeast portion of the city has had all the representation in the council, and while we have never heard it said that they were partial to any part of the city, just the same it gives room for such accusations, providing a test like that might be brought up.

REV. C. A. BICKLEY

Evangelist and Presiding Elder who is doing the preaching in the revival at the Methodist church.

Home Man That Deserves Your Business

The Herald likes to be of service to every institution in this city whether or not he gets anything in return from them, for a newspaper, after all is a semi-public institution, and it must in that case press forward and defend the weak, encourage the strong, and teach the lesson that we are all our brother's keeper. In fact, we are here to serve each other without price if need be, for we cannot hope to rear a city here without the cooperation and the help of every other institution in the city. But the firm we are going to tell you about has always been loyal to the Herald, and has helped us in every way, by word of mouth, or giving us any work in their line that they needed.

We refer to the Linville Blacksmith Shop. Here is an institution that is for Brownfield and Terry county all the time, and for each and everyone that is trying to make this a better place to live. Mr. Linville says little, but he helps a lot in other ways. From the time he put in a shop here he has made money put every dollar back into the business he could spare above expenses in order to improve his place and be able to give better service to his fellowmen.

Some of the latest things you will find in his shop is the latest model Oxy welding plant so that he may be able to weld pieces of machinery for his customers that he cannot weld on the regular blacksmith forge. Also, in order to hasten work, he has installed a trip hammer, which in a few minutes does the work of hand forging that takes hours on thick heavy plows and other heavy steel. He is also equipped with power drills as well as all other late blacksmith paraphernalia that has work as well as to secure the best service to his customers. Try Mr. Linville.

Byrl Hahn Purchases Harris Motor Company

The Harris Motor Co., so far as tools and machinery for auto repairing is no more, for a trade was consummated the past week in which this machinery, said to be about the best and most complete in the city, became the possession of Byrl Hahn, and was moved from the Chisholm building to the rear of the Hahn Service Station, and will be taken charge of by a former mechanic of the Harris Motor Co., who is regarded as a good one.

This is one of the oldest repair companies in the city, and from time to time new tools and machinery have been added until it is one of the most complete on the south plains, according to Mr. Hahn. Aside from this department, Mr. Hahn has one of the best stock of tires and accessories in Brownfield, which is in charge of Mrs. Hahn. Byrl will appreciate a call from you when you need anything in his line.

J. D. McDonald dropped another dollar in the missionary box lately that will help along.

The concrete crew of the Panhandle Construction Co. are running the concrete for the walks around the court yard this week.

MANY PEOPLE SEE OIL WELL CREW AT WORK

Crowds From Brownfield, Meadow and Other Nearby Points at The Rich Lake Well Sunday. Good Natured Crew. Let Us Rubber Necks See All We Wanted.

The writer and wife accompanied by Ed Thompson and family drove out to the Terry county oil well Sunday afternoon. Not knowing the way there very well, and finding a lot of high muddles in the old Brownfield-Meadow road, we had a time getting there, and was completely turned around when we did get there, and never got really straightened out again until we reached the Brownfield-Lubbock highway.

Say, folks, if we are any judge of machinery, they have it out at that well. It is nearly brand new, and looks rigid enough to go to the other side of the earth, and when one takes a look at the top of that steel tower, it appears that the top is punching a hole in the clouds. If this outfit don't find some oil, it will be just because "they ain't none there." They are down now some over 2,000 feet, and going good to appears to us, and we hope they will get a gusher.

We have forgotten the name of the oil company that holds the lease, but we are informed that the Penn Oil Co. are doing the drilling, so presume they are in cahoots on the deal. Suffice to say, that we do not want a job out there. Too dinged much heavy looking iron and steel machinery suspended over your head which if it was to fall would push a fellow a few feet down in the earth. Jay Barret was out there and said his land lay off some two miles to the south. He appeared as if he did not care whether he was the next county judge or not if a gusher came in out there. Otherwise, he wanted the office badly. Now mind, he didn't say that, he just looked it to us.

Club Boys Have Third Litters From Club Sows

Kenneth Purtell, 4-H club boy of Luby, reports that he has his third litter of pigs from his club sow. His sow, a registered Poland China, which he received through the shipment from the Lillard Stock Farm is hardly two years of age but he has 26 pigs from her.

Herbert Cheshir of Meadow is another club boy that reports his third litter. It will be remembered that his Duroc sow was first prize Junior pig at the Lubbock Fair year before last and is the one that won a free trip to Chicago for him that year. She is not only a show animal but is proving to be a great brood sow.

It is interesting to see how these boys are growing in their work. They are not merely taking care of one sow, although that is a nice sized job, but they are becoming interested in other phases of farm work. Kenneth has secured a small flock of white Holland turkeys and is venturing into this field. He also has a small cotton crop planted where he will sow Mississippi delta cotton that is recommended for this country. He has his few acres layed off on a water level and will try this variety of cotton against the common seed of the county. We find that Herbert bought a registered Jersey heifer from the Taft Ranch last spring which he paid for from the proceeds of his club pig. The heifer will soon come into production and she is good enough to be selected as one of the entries in the County herd which will represent Terry County at Plainview the second week of April.

There are many other boys and girls in Terry County who are working and growing as these boys are and these future men and women will be a little better equipped to making farming more profitable and pleasant.

Dawson County Invites Terry County Dairymen

LAMESA, March 24.—An invitation to Terry county farmers is being extended by dairy farmers of Dawson county to attend a three day dairy short course in Lamesa April 1, 2, and 3, during which noted dairy authorities and animal husbandry men will speak. The program will touch such subjects as feeding, breeding and marketing and will be discussed by dairy educators who are schooled in certain phases of the farm industry.

Six Jersey heifers will be given away during the course, 2 each day. A $350 register of merit Jersey bull, the gift of Ed C. Lamater, late noted Jersey cattle breeder of Palfurrias, will be given away during the last day of the course to farmers attending the educational meet.

Among those who have accepted places on the program are D. T. Simonds, president of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club; K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department of the Texas Technological college at Lubbock, and S. C. Evans, extension service representative of the Texas A. & M. college, as well as a number of West Texas county agents.

An exhibit of dairy cattle and circle bulls will be held in connection with the short course, according to W. W. Evans, county agent who has charge of arrangements for the course.

Orb Stice called around recently and renewed his wife's paper. They hardly could do it.

Many Farmers Sell Off Culls at Good Prices

Taking advantage of the good prices being paid for hens, poultry growers are cutting down their flocks at this time of year when egg prices are low. It is a well established fact that poor producers or even mediocre hens do not pay.

One poultryman expressed the belief that it was more profitable to raise pullets so they would come into production during just before egg prices advanced in the winter and then sell them off when eggs dropped in the spring. Whether this statement is true or not we do not know that it pays to keep the flocks culled. Of course there is not much to be gained by culling if the hens are not given a fair chance to lay. If they do not receive skim milk or a laying mash, if they are overcrowded, if they are covered with lice and this is true of most flocks, or if they have intestinal worms, why most all of the hens will be culls.

Hens may not pay a big dividend every month of the year, but at the end of twelve months a good flock of layers that were well cared for the entire twelve months will show a nice profit.

The County Agent reports that in his calls for assistance in culling that a small minority of the flocks are mixed breeds and that most every one who has mixed flocks are getting purebred baby chicks of their preferred breed. He reports having helped B. B. Brown, C. A. Bundrant, H. D. Boone, N. W. Jeter, C. B. Howard, N. R. Butcher, and S. C. White cull their flocks last week.

Instructions to Our Community Writers

Again we wish to call the attention of our community correspondents to the fact that Wednesday morning is positively the dead line on getting your articles in these columns, and for them to lay over a week, they lose their value as news items. At noon Wednesday, we have our paper all planned out for the week, and the whole Herald force has to work like blazes in order that the rural routes have the paper for distribution on Friday. You want your paper on time, and so do the local advertisers.

It is far better to send them in on Monday or Tuesday, for then you will be assured that your communication will appear in these columns. Otherwise, by sending them in even Wednesday morning you are likely to miss that issue, as it takes time to handle a lot of last minute stuff even with a good linotype machine. Will you assist the Herald by being prompt?

Local Minister to Lecture at Big Spring

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin A. Mitchell will spend part of next week with her home folks at Snyder and the rest of the week at Big Spring, where Brother Mitchell will appear on a lecture program at the Church of Christ there.

He is also to do the preaching in a meeting held in Brownfield beginning April 13th. Services will be held at 12:15 and 8:00 daily.

Report comes to us that Editor Baldwin, of the Levelland Herald is not doing as nicely as his friends could wish, following his operation at a Lubbock Sanitarium for appendicitis.

Civic Club Takes Up Traffic Observances

Among the things the local Rotary Club has brought forward for the immediate future will be a program of traffic observances in order to keep down just as many accidents as possible. Mayor Joe McGowan, who is also president of the Rotary Club made a nice talk on traffic observances, and intimated that we ought to practice what we preach. He remarked that he came very near getting in bad by carelessness himself a time or two, and was religiously trying to observe the law himself now. He believed that town people should be careful to obey the stop signs, for in doing so they set an example to visitors, and visitors are not inclined to obey what citizens of the town disregard.

The club had several out-of-town visitors at the last meeting as well as some local men, including Prof. Toone and Alvin A. Mitchell. The other gentlemen were here from the Tech College, helping out in the county interscholastic met. They gave the club short talks which were highly appreciated.

The Bullard boys were in recently to renew their paper.

County Agent Acts as Dairy Judge at Tech

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Davis spent Monday in Lubbock where Mr. Davis acted as a judge of dairy cattle in the Vocational Agricultural Students judging contests. This is an annual contest held at the Tech College at Lubbock which is open to high schools of West Texas that teach Vocational Agriculture.

There were ninety-three teams competing in the five different divisions. Winning teams were, Post first in livestock; Ralls first in dairy cattle; Silvertown first in poultry; Post first in plant production; and Roby first in farm shopwork.

Davis reports that Harlan Howell, freshman agricultural student at Tech, acted as his time keeper in taking reasons on dairy cattle. It will be remembered that Harlan was a member of the Terry County 4-H Club dairy judging team last year and was high individual in the State contest at A. & M. last summer.

EXPLAINED

WHY PRINT A NEWSPAPER?

The merchant who says that every one knows his place of business and that he doesn't have to advertise, can be found in Rouses Point, and in every other community in the county. This merchant also says that customers come to him when in need of goods, so why should he waste his money advertising? An answer to that question has been made by a newspaper whose advertising man no doubt stumbled into places of business where the owner possessed that frame of mind.

This newspaper answered the question, "Why Should I advertise?" as follows: "Of course, the newspaper man might say in rebuttal, 'Everyone in this community knows all that happens here, so what's the use of printing a newspaper?' If the community can get along without a newspaper it can get along without a number of things which are of value. The adults are educated and can teach the children, thus doing away with the need of schools. The parents being religious, can train the younger ones in the creeds, thus doing away with ministers and the churches. People can loan their money to one another and thereby eliminate banks. They can swap their old clothes or learn how to make home-spuns, thereby greatly reducing expenses and actually putting the clothing merchant out of business.

All trade is based upon a desire for goods. Necessity is, mostly, an augmented desire. Advertising has the function of reminding people of their requirements, but its greatest function—a prime factor in all progress and prosperity—is the creating of new desires; thereby stimulating trade and production and making for the greatest possible degree of employment."—North Countryman.

Jim Young Launches Campaign For Gov.

Dallas, Tex., Mar. 21.—Declaring that he was a life-long Democrat, Jim Young, Kaufman attorney and former Congressman, launched his campaign in a radio speech here at a statewide rally of his friends. Mr. Young based his campaign on a program of tax reduction.

Mr. Young contended that the farms of Texas have decreased in value and productivity, through an antiquated system the small land owners were bearing more than their share of the state expense. He proposes to equalize the tax burdens by reducing the farm taxes and levying toll on the natural resources of the state, such as, oil, gas, sulphur, and other minerals.

"The farmer and the ranchman have been a stabilizing influence in our community life and the support and mainstay of our system of government," he declared, "I advocate that the burden of taxes should be made lighter on the farmer and the small land owner. It should be placed on those who have become rich in our natural resources of oil, gas and other minerals."

Mr. Young argued that expenses of government must be curtailed and the places of waste found and abolished. Mr. Young said that he did not mean, however, that the large corporations should be unjustly taxed.

"In this great enterprise we must make haste slowly," he said of road building.

The direct responsibility for law enforcement, Mr. Young placed on the various counties of the state.

St. Louis Citizen Found New Medicine To Be Only One That Made Good.

MR. THOMAS J. BIRGE

After all is said and done, every medicine must meet this test: Does it Make Good? Konjola has made good in so many cases when all else tried has failed that it is the most talked of medicine in America today. Take the case of Mr. Thomas J. Birge, 2632 Chateau street, St. Louis, for instance. Read what he says about this master medicine:

"I am sixty years old, and most of my life . . . at least as long as I can remember . . . I had stomach trouble, and nothing helped me until I found Konjola. Imagine my astonishment when the very first bottle of this wonderful remedy started me on the road to complete recovery. Today I can eat whatever I like, no matter how rich and heavy the food, without the least discomfort. Fact is, I feel like a new man, and many of my friends to whom I recommended Konjola are as enthusiastic about it as I am."

Konjola is sold in Brownfield at Alexander Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

LOSES BET—AND HIS CIGAR

A certain gentleman bet his friends he could drop a lighted cigarette into the gasoline tank of his car and that the cigarette would simply be put out. His friends took him up and the test was made.

When he dropped the cigarette there was on hesitation or delay—he lost his bet and his car, too. All he gained were some painful burns, a lot of excitement and an entirely new knowledge of the properties of gasoline!

Perhaps the gentleman had read somewhere that liquid gasoline will not ignite—an exceedingly dangerous half truth. You can't have gasoline in an open vessel without also having the deadly dangerous gasoline vapor. And the glowing butt must first pass through the vapor, which is ignited by the smallest of sparks!

This incident should be a warning to all that gasoline ignites easily.

Great property damage results every year from accidents with petroleum and its products and from their misuse. Reports to the National Board of Fire Underwriters for the year 1928 indicated a total fire loss from this cause of over $15,250,000.

You wouldn't play with dynamite. Give gasoline the same degree of respect.

Joe Eudey dropped in for a short chat and to extend his paper another year recently.

It is said that only 43 percent of chicks are now hatched the old way under old biddy, the other 57 percent being artificially hatched.

Remember that the census taker will be around next week. So don't take him or her for an agent and not answer the knock, or if you do, slam the door in their face.

Reports are that the Lubbock high school will graduate 266 pupils this year. Many of us can remember when Lubbock didn't have that many pupils in the entire school system. Great has been the growth of the great south plains in the past quarter century.

It is indeed wonderful to what length some candidates for state offices will go to get certain kind of votes. Of late we have noticed that one fellow has had the word (Labor) just like we used it added to his name. Now this guy thinks that every man that sweats a collar down in Texas will vote for him.

Speaking of long sleeps, it seems now that old Rip the Eastland horned frog just took a fair sized cat nap in comparison to the snooze of the Arkansas toad that was recently cut out of a log, which by counting the rings on the tree, was said to have been in there some less than 100 years. But the Arkansas toad will sure have to have some press agent to get the publicity old Rip enjoyed.

What about an organized baseball team for Brownfield this year with a manager 'n' everything? We note that all the towns about us are getting in the game, and some matched games have already been played. To have something like this to divert our minds from the heavy political speeches we are going to have this summer will be worth something to us.

Statisticians have gathered the information from Government sources that the 1923 cotton crop of ten million bales brought the southern farmers the sum of one billion six hundred million dollars, while the eighteen million bale crop of 1926 brought them only nine hundred million dollars. Farmers can now get their pencils and papers and figure whether it will be better for them to plant a 46,000,000 acre crop of cotton or 36,000,000 acres.

The makeup man has to be on his "p's" and "q's" on the little country weekly as well as the metropolitan papers, especially if they run a section devoted to the ladies. Only last week, when all the society items had been put in on this great weekly, it was found that it lacked some six inches of being filled, and an article was found that would exactly fill the bill. Later it was discovered that the article gave some information about a heifer that had made a wonderful butterfat record, and it was decided to substitute something else. The ladies are dears, alright, but some of them are a bit sensitive.

And now comes forward a smart modern who says that Nero did not fiddle while Rome burned, and goes on to show us that Mr. Nero was a tolerably good old sport when taken from all points. In fact, would pass they say there was no cherry tree incident in the life of Washington. off for a fair citizen at this time. Are we to learn history all over? Also they say that Benedict Arnold was a myth; that the Boston Tea Party was just a bunch of "jelly beans" and "flappers" throwing a home brew party, and that Lincoln's Gettysburg address was written by an admirer years after Lincoln died? Why they'll be trying to make us poor but honest folks believe that Rip Van Winkle didn't sleep over twelve or fifteen years the first thing we know.

Another reason that many people are losing confidence in our old jury system of enforcing the law has come to light in the past week, when a jury sitting at Washington said that Edward L. Doheny was not guilty of giving a bribe to Albert B. Fall, who at the time was a Federal officer. Several months ago a jury sitting in the same city said that Mr. Fall was guilty of receiving a bribe from Mr. Doheny. To use the title to a recent popular song, "Somebody Lied." Both juries could not have possibly been right, and if one of the men was guilty of giving a bribe the other was guilty of receiving one. If Doheny is innocent, just so is Fall. A better way it seems to us would be to let the same jury pass on both cases or better still let a good honest judge who knows something about law and evidence pass on both. The jury system has always been weak, and it seems now is almost rotten.

Now is a good time for everybody to begin advising the farmers to plant a big cotton crop. If we can manage to get about 50 million acres planted in cotton this year and can raise a 20 million bale crop, we will be sitting on top of the world. We will get at least five or six cents a pound for it and will have lots of spending money Christmas. Let's all plant cotton.—Lynn County News.

—and it cost those who trusted him many thousand dollars

Not long ago, in a nearby town, a group of executives and attorneys of two corporations sat at a conference table. A document had been drawn, signed and approved by the lawyers, whereby one company decided to the other a suburban sub-division of a good many acres.

"Well gentlemen," said the President of the Corporation which had sold the land, "so far as I can see this business is completed—except for the detail of filing the deed at the Court House. With your approval, I shall be glad to attend to that matter."

Approval came forthwith. The president filed the deed. But first he added to that document a paragraph stating that his company would keep title to certain building lots. When the deed was recorded our friend mortgaged these lots.

Result: The purchasers were put to great trouble and expense before the property could be sold. Title insurance would have protected them against this.

Whenever you buy or lend on real estate a New York Title policy is always your best policy.

SAVINGS PASSBOOKS SOUGHT BY CROOKS

Use Them to Steal Money by Forged Slips — Should Be Guarded as Carefully as Cash.

Continued vigilance in safeguarding savings pass books, as well as blank and cancelled checks, against theft by crooks, who use this material in forger operations, is urged on bank customers by James E. Baum, Deputy Manager of the American Bankers Association, in charge of its Protective Department. This department is continually vigilant in promoting means, both among bankers and the general public, to thwart the operation of bank crooks. It annually investigates hundreds of crimes against banks and is responsible for the majority of arrests among this class of criminals.

"In a large majority of cases of forgeries on checks or savings withdrawal orders investigated by the American Bankers Association, stolen blank checks or savings pass books were the forgers' chief stock in trade," Mr. Baum says. "In many instances the temptation presented through the careless handling by depositors of cancelled or blank checks or pass books so that they fell into the hands of others was the immediate stimulus for hitherto honest people to commit their first criminal offense."

Banks should educate their depositors to exert the same degree of care in handling these instruments and to avoid leaving them about unguarded as they exercise in respect to actual money because they represent money, he declares.

For dealing with the bank robbery situation, Mr. Baum recommends the use of electrical alarms actuated by any tampering with the wires or mechanism and also wider adoption of the plan of state police forces now employed in a few states, declaring that last year in seven eastern states where state police forces were maintained there were only 20 bank holdups as against 164 similar attacks perpetrated against banks in five states in the central and far west, where banks are denied the advantages of the speedy and coordinated action given by state-wide police forces.

"The records of the American Bankers Association Protective Department reveal that for many years the odds in favor of state police protection have been at least 8 to 1 when measured by the experience of banks in states where efficient police protection is missing in the rural districts," he says.

THE THINKER LEADS MODERN PROGRESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

THE greatest need of the world today is interpreters of our times—modern Daniels in agriculture, finance, politics, industry—who can see through the fog and haze that enshroud our difficult problems and advise, instruct, and influence those who are either indifferent or limited in their perceptions.

Through the thinker and the John G. Lonsdale interpreter, unknown situations are disclosed or puzzling conditions explained in logical light. The American people are so constituted that they can meet and combat any situation once it is known and understood. It is the unknown that comes like the thief in the night and brings disaster.

Some one has defined prosperity as something the business men create for the politician to take credit for. But America's present-day prosperity can be defined as a product resulting from the business man's ability to study and to interpret. Huge corporations maintain research staffs and special bureaus to interpret the times for them. Disaster looms in the offing for any industry that goes blithely on its way day after day without due regard to significant trends in trade and business.

Keeping Up With Change
Leaders of finance have discovered that they cannot remain passive in an age when all the rest of the world is in a transitional stage. The modern banker not only must know about the changing styles in other lines of business, but above all must be alert to the transformations which are taking place in his own. He must be a man of keener, broader vision, because the order of the day is for larger units of service. Mergers and consolidations have taken place in great numbers. We now talk of billions where a few years ago we talked of millions.

We have only begun our changes. What disposition is to be made of the many problems that they bring will depend in large measure upon our leaders, upon the students and the interpreters who can read accurately the signs of the times, so that we may base future actions and hopes upon their wisdom. The quickest way to go to the top is to go to the bottom of things, and let in other lines of business. There will be found many who will not only aspire to leadership but will be successful in reaching their goal.

One Good Cow Better Profit Than Six Scrubs

Is it better to milk six cows than one? Mr. H. S. Hawkins, of Meadow found that one of his grade cows, Maude, made him more profit in February than six cows like Peeler, would.

During the month Maude produced 785 lbs. of milk and 51.8 lbs. of fat that brought $18.29. Peeler produced 442 lbs. of milk and 20.3 lbs of fat that brought $7.85. Both cows were fed alike and feed costs on each amounted to $5.77. This would leave a profit of $12.52 on Maude and $2.08 on Peeler.

After weighing each cow's milk for a month and testing each cow, Mr. Hawkins is convinced that it pays to know what each cow is doing.

Other dairy farmers who are co-operating with the Terry County banks and the County Agent in obtaining records are J. A. Parks, C. L. E. Meils, R. H. Timmons, T. L. Causseaux and S. A. Banks.

Garza Farmer Writes on Acreage Reduction

The time has come that all who are patriotic citizens of "Dixie Land," with reduce their cotton acreage.

Land owners will reduce his own acreage and permit or compel his tenants to cut theirs.

Our government is vested in the people and he who is adverse to the best interests of the masses is adverse to the government under which the people live.

The cotton acreage reduction campaign at this time is of tremendous significance, which is a means being employed to head off intense suffering and deprivation in the homes of Southern farmers.

That which is best for all the cotton growers is also best for the home bankers and merchants that we do business with. Hence the general prosperity of the South is vested in this campaign and should be subscribed to by every individual farmer. Shame on the farmer who is not willing and wise to the extent to reduce his cotton acreage this year. Forty six million acres would probably pay its picking. Forty million or less acres will pay a profit over production and picking.

He who takes advantage of the reduction campaign and plants his usual acreage to cotton this year is a traitor of the worst kind and should eliminate himself from the cotton growing industry. For he is a Jonah on the farmers, being detrimental to that to which he should do his bit to help.

Farmers, the financial interest of every other cotton farmer is tied up in what you do in way of reduction, here is your chance to co-operate in a real effective way.

Reduce your acreage.—S. D. Lofton in Post Dispatch.

We have it reported to us that they are having a very interesting revival at the Methodist church. Have you been?

The Case of Wurzbach

The opinion of the Supreme Court in the case in which Congressman-Elect Harry Wurzbach is charged with violation of the corrupt practices act should interest holders of elective Federal positions in a far wider range than the Texas district Mr. Wurzbach represents. He accepted certain donations from office holders toward the expenses of his primary campaign. There was nothing hidden about it. There was certainly not in his mind anything wrong about it. He filed the list of the donations in his campaign expense record, and promptly found himself under indictment for a Federal offense. In defense he pleaded that the statute did not apply to a primary, and that, if it did, the law was unconstitutional. The court has held against him on both issues. On due consideration, it must appear even to partisan opinion that the court has held right.

But the point is that Mr. Wurzbach must have erred in goodly company. The Galveston News raised the issue the other day that the program, put in effect by the regular Republican organization, of obtaining notes from office holders to support the party campaign may well come within the legal proscription as applied to Federal officers. The President might be found under these circumstances to have benefited by a violation of the statute, though the fact that it was without his knowledge and consent would have to be kept in mind.

Technically, rigid construction of the law would apparently absolve all office holders of the necessity of contributing at all to the party, and should be correspondingly welcomed by them. In actuality, the Federal officer is mulcted frequently and materially for the party war chest.—Dallas News.

Farm Implements Not Matter of Guess Work

Louisville, Ky. (Special) An interesting fact was brought to light by a disclosure made recently in this city. It seems that data furnished, even by U. S. Bureau of Agriculture, is classically scrutinized by the implement factories and supplemented by facts obtained from independent sources.

Valuable as are the Government Bulletins to the agriculturist, leading implement makers nevertheless spend millions every year in field work and research to the end that their products may be exactly adapted to the soil conditions where used.

In the South, conditions prevail which make necessary an entirely different type of planting, tillage and harvesting machinery than that used elsewhere. Only by a painstaking study of these conditions is it possible to perfect machinery which will prove satisfactory. Naturally enough, the implement makers serving the southern farmer fall back on their own departments of research for the necessary information.

As an example of progressiveness along these lines, take the well-known southern implement manufacturer, B. F. Avery & Sons of Louisville. This concern has been making a line of plows, tillage implements, planters and harvesting machinery for over 100 years.

William Black, president of the Avery Company, tells us that keeping posted on the regional requirements as related to farm implements comprises one of the most important activities of his firm.

Terry County Man Injured in a Crash

Paul Whitaker, 45, of Brownfield, was painfully injured last night about 7 o'clock when the car which he was driving collided with a gravel truck two miles northeast of Ropes.

A Rix-Sanders ambulance was called and brought Whitaker to the Lubbock sanitarium for medical attention. Examination by physicians revealed that the man might possibly be suffering of a fractured skull. A more thorough examination is to be made this morning.

Driver of the gravel truck was unknown and the accident was said to have been unavoidable. Whitaker's car was badly damaged, the front end being caved in by impact of the collision.—Lubbock Avalanche of Sunday March 23.

HE LEARNED IT AT SCHOOL

The other morning in Fort Worth little Robert Lee Vass, who is only six years old, got up out of bed and went into warm by the fire before putting his clothes on. He got too close and his nightie caught fire. His eight-year-old brother, Billy, was the only other person in the room.

Billy seized the terrified child, slammed him to the floor and rolled him in the rug until the flames were out. Robert Lee was burned pretty badly, but his life was saved and in a few days he will be all right again.

Billy learned how to extinguish fire in such cases from a lecture he heard at the public school. If your youngster hasn't heard fire instruction at his school, you might give them to him yourself. Young men of Billy's age have far more resourcefulness and intelligence than we give them credit for.—Dallas News.

CHAIN LETTERS

In what is known as the Dark Ages, superstition ran riot. Ghosts, fairies, witches and bad spirits, were a reality in the mind of man. Every sign was interpreted as either a good or an evil omen. One of the easiest means of revenge on one's enemy was to pronounce a curse against him and his family. And, it is remembered with shame and seems hardly credible even in the early history of this country innocent persons were killed because it was believed that they practiced witchcraft.

Gradually education has brought man to a realization of the folly of superstition. Charms and witchcraft have been banished by science and enlightenment. Ghosts, goblins, and witches are revived mostly on Halloween and bring shouts of merriment rather than cries of fear.

But, there has been recently revived a practice based on superstition that has become a nuisance, as well as adding to the burdens of the Post Office Department—THE CHAIN LETTER. It is surprising the number of supposedly well educated people that, either through fear of breaking "the chain" or the lack of something else to do, disregard the fact that others may not care to be bothered with such nuisances, and send the letters on.

One of the number recently received at this office reads in part:

"It was said by many Masons in ancient times that all who did not pass along this prayer, would be in danger of misfortune. Be good enough, therefore, to copy and send on to nine brothers of this Fraternity, and on the tenth day, you will come to great happiness. Do not break this chain. This chain was started by an American officer and should go three times around the world. Do not break it, for whoever does, will have reverses."

Millions of such letters are being circulated over the country, wasting time and money, as well as adding to the already overloaded mails. It is particularly unfortunate that someone, unheeding of the teaching of the Masonic Fraternity, should have connected it with such letters. Masonry has no connection with superstition, the product of ignorance. The Craft urges all to seek light, and certainly light is not to be found by fostering that which has been revived from a period of darkness. It behooves Masons, as well as others who receive chain letters, to consign them quickly to their proper depository—the waste basket—and discourage those who persist in this ridiculous and annoying practice.—Exchange.

WHY PLUMBERS GET RICH

The plumber worked and the helper stood helplessly looking on. He was learning the business. This was his first day.

"Say," he inquired, "do you charge for my time?"

"Certainly, you idiot," came the reply.

"But I haven't done anything."

The plumber, to fill in the hour had been looking at the finished job with a lighted candle. Handing the two inches of it that were still unburned to the helper, he said wittingly:

"Here, if you gotta be so darned conscientious, blow that out!"—Ex.

Prophecy of Davidson About Dan and Jim

HOUSTON, Mar. 24—Calling Dan Moody a "petulant boy" and James E. Ferguson a "political pug," former Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson issued a statement today urging Texas voters to "put an end to the personal and factional strife which is swallowing up all hope of state progress."

Recalling past warnings, Mr. Davidson said that "unless Texas this year use their thick stub pencils to sweep from the political picture every man who tunes his campaign music to the Assassin's Song, we cannot justly hope for sound state government."

"The Marathon Legislature has ended with a requiem for prison concentration, judicial reform, tax equalization, farm relief and a score of other achievements so often pledged," said Mr. Davidson's statement.

"On the one hand we see a petulant boy, blaming the legislature for damage to his playthings, which he himself has broken up; on the other, that crafty old political pug, James E. Ferguson, fondly hoping that this statehouse bout will be but the 'preliminary' to a knockout political victory for himself.

"This is at once absurd and distressing. But it is not surprising. It is the inevitable result of a weakness in our primary system which allows a handful of voters, blinded by the flares of spectacular combat, to dictate our choice of officers without a single fleeting glimpse of the real issues, hidden in the smoke.

"Thoughtful men and women all over our State foresaw this in 1924 and again in 1926. They pleaded for a new day. I joined my voice with them. From one end of the state to another, in my 1926 campaign for governor, I warned of the danger of putting passions ahead of judgment. For just one example, take this excerpt from an Associated Press dispatch, from Denton, July 10, 1926:

"Lynch Davidson declared in an address here Friday night that the election of either Governor Miriam A. Ferguson or Attorney General Dan Moody as governor will mean two years of factionalism at the State Capitol. Bitterness bred during the present campaign, he insisted, will continue, forbidding a business administration, which, he said, was becoming vitally necessary for the economic salvation of the State."

"I lay no claim to prophecy. The above was merely what all those who looked past the smoke and fire could see. I repeat it now in the very earnest hope that Texans everywhere, in the coming campaign, will see the same significant warning. And I repeat it with the urgent hope that they will put an end to the personal and factional strife that is swallowing up all hope of state progress."

CANADA WHIPS THEM

Canada is getting a number of American criminals who leave this country because they are liable for life imprisonment under the habitual criminal statutes of New York and other States, according to a Vancouver dispatch to the New York Times. And Canada catches these men and whips them.

A whipping in Canada is no slight thing. The prisoner's eyes are bound so he can not see who does the whipping. A leather pad is put over his kidneys and over the base of his skull and neck so no permanent injury is done him. Then he is stretched on an iron triangle with his legs spread and his hands together and pulled above his head. A guard chosen by lot then lays on the lash under the direction of the prison doctor and of the warden. When the prisoner gets through with the ordeal he is just short of collapse. And he never, never wants another whipping.

It is brutal. Canada does not deny it. It is terrible; and Canada admits that, too. But her officials are pretty well agreed that it protects society. They say criminals fear it more than any other penalty inflicted by law. And that is the Canadian justification.—Dallas News.

READ YOUR POLICY

This policy does not cover death, disability or other losses . . . received . . . while under the influence of any liquor or narcotic.

The fine print in the policy said the lines above, among other things. After taking out such a policy the holder, a Kansas business man, undertook to ride in an automobile in which considerable liquor was consumed. He stood on the running board, the vehicle carrying nine persons in all. Before the evening's entertainment was over the car collided with a street car and the policy holder was so injured that he subsequently died.

When the case got up to the Supreme Court of Kansas it was largely a matter of whether the trial court erred in requiring the insurance company to show that the deceased was so intoxicated at the time of his injury as to be irresponsible for his acts. The appellate bench held that this was a greater burden of proof than the law required. So the case was sent back. It was sufficient, the opinion declared, that the deceased at the time of his injuries was impaired in his ability to take care of himself.

In short, partaking of intoxicants may be the basis for setting up contributory negligence in injury cases. Under the circumstances, therefore, the insured made a chain of errors: (1) He didn't read his policy. (2) He rode on the outside in an exposed place. (4) He looked upon the mule when it was white. (5) He depended upon the street car to leave its established track and run around him and his party. The sum of his error was fatal, as frequently happens in such cases.—Dallas News.

RUSSIA BUYS LARGEST GENERATORS IN WORLD

The largest electric generators in the world will be in Russia when four big hydro machines, each rating 77,500 kv. or more than 100,000 horsepower, recently ordered from the General Electric Co., are put into use on the Dnieper River, in the Russian Ukraine. Total weight of each generator will be 1,500,000 pounds with the rotor and shaft weighing 980,000 pounds. The machinery will be shipped knocked down and will be put together in Russia.

Gangsters, Cruel, Silent
Cheap Money—Bad Sign
Los Angeles.—Two pieces of news here. Bribing jurors spreads from East to the West. Men accused of public robbery through a swindling oil company simply bought their way out of trouble by bribing jurymen.

It would be interesting to know how big a part that system plays in our "justice," and to what extent it accounts for the fact that the rich man is usually not convicted. A gasoline war cuts prices as low as 13 1/2 cents. Big companies say they know nothing about it. The real gasoline war is one of service. Standard Oil amazed you by training gasoline station men not to accept a tip, after giving you air and water free, scrubbing your windshield and inquiring for your health even though you bought no gasoline.

Detering of the Shell company improves even on that. When you drive up to one of his stations, two men spring out, one on each side of you, and if you only want to know where McCadden avenue is, they beam with delight as they give the information, and if you choose will go with you. That's modern gas service.

One item of news will be remembered a million, and ten million, years hence. Nothing else in our age will be of the slightest consequence, even 100,000 years from now. The news that will outlast recollection of this age of industrial and financial barbarism is the discovery of another planet in our solar family, sailing around outside the orbit of Neptune.

Earth dwellers in the year one million nineteen hundred and thirty, as they converse in the ozone area, thirty miles above the earth, will wonder how such primitive beings as ourselves could have discovered that planet. Similarly, we wonder how primitive cave dwellers could have made those interesting pictures of rhinoceroses and horses.

Gangsters are not kind to each other. John ("Billiken") Rito, described by police as "a bootleg racketeer," member of the "Bugs" Moran gang, lies in the morgue. Wires with which his arms, hands and ankles were bound when he was taken out of the Chicago river have been removed. The police wonder who burned the tips of his fingers in the process of torturing him before he was murdered, and why they did it. They will never know. Racketeers kill, and don't talk. Money is getting cheaper all over the world. The Bank of England has just dropped its rate from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent, reduced last March from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent.

Cheap money is pleasant for borrowers, but not a good sign. It means little borrowing, therefore little building, industrial and otherwise. What people think decides what they are. Prosperity is to a considerable extent a matter of psychology. Once a man was fastened in a chair, his feet put in warm water, and as a practical joke he was shown a razor of which the blunt end was drawn across the soles of his bare feet. He was told, "You will bleed to death painlessly in this warm water." He didn't lose a drop of blood, but he died.

Don't let prosperity die in that fashion, killed by imagination. In these days of birth control ladies will be interested in Mrs. Chris Back, who lives at Whitesburg, Ky. She has had six children in eleven months—two sets of triplets, all alive. All honor to Mrs. Back and congratulations to mothers that are more moderate. If every woman had six children in eleven months the earth would eventually be overpopulated, although not soon.

Mr. Edison is hopeful about a rubber supply from goldenrod. Chemists who think it ought to be done by some synthetic process and victims of hay fever are less optimistic. The great inventor, eighty-three years old, says he wants only five years more to finish this job, and doesn't ask to live one hundred years.

The death of Primo de Rivera, former Spanish dictator, killed by heart disease, reminds you that being dictator is a wearing job. It takes such a man as Mussolini to stand it for a long time. The Italian ruler establishes a "minor" class of citizen, not obliged to enter the Italian army. This is planned to keep Italians in foreign countries interested in Italy. Wise Mussolini.

President Hoover, like a good family doctor for the nation, says nothing or says things that are encouraging. There is a great deal of value in that. Buy what you want, beginning with a good automobile; buy it now and then enjoy it now. Life does not last forever. Keep it busy, and full. (© 1930, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Terry county had ginned 22,995 bales of cotton to March 20, as against 9,792 same time last year, and we guess this is all for this year, but looks like we ought to have surely got 5 more bales and made it even 25,000.

Should We Issue Bonds Now or Wait?

By the Secretary of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce

At this time and for the past few years, there has been considerable discussion concerning the advisability of a statewide bond issue for the purpose of constructing a connected system of highways in Texas. The idea seems to be growing and has reached such proportions that it is very probable that such pressure will be brought to bear upon the members of the Legislature at the next regular session as will cause them to submit an amendment to the constitution allowing for the voting of bonds. Many people believe that if the amendment is submitted that it will carry by a good majority as all of the larger cities will be for it as well as the counties who have voted road bonds, as the plans seem to be, to reimburse all counties that have road bond issues outstanding and the natural supposition would be that all of them would be for it upon that account.

Not all of the leading advocates of a connected system are in agreement that a bond issue is the best way to handle the proposition, but many of them believe that the present four cent gasoline tax will not only maintain the present system but will create such a surplus as will enable the highway commission to complete contemplated construction within twelve or fourteen years, but all of them are of the opinion that existing county bonds should be assumed by the state and that this should be done before any new construction is attempted. So it is pretty certain that our lawmakers will either amend the highway law in such a way as to allow for the assumption of county bonds by the state or will submit an amendment as heretofore stated.

Under either program something like fourteen years will elapse before the final completion of present highways. The following, in the opinion of the writer, is about the way that the money would be expended: First, county bonds would either be assumed or paid off; Next connecting highways between all of the principal cities of the state would be constructed; Following this the densely populated portions of East Texas would receive attention; Next would come the territory between the larger cities and towns of Central and West Texas and probably the last section that would receive attention, would be the portion of the state in which WE live. As a consequence it would be something like fourteen years before this county and those immediately adjoining would have anything more than the dirt roads we are now putting up with at present and any one who travels them, knows that they are rough in dry weather and almost impassable in wet seasons.

So the question then arises. What is best for us to do? Should we sit still and wait our turn in highway construction or should we arrange to issue bonds for hardsurfacing and thus place ourselves in a position, not only to have our roads but to have our bonds assumed by the state when the new method is adopted?

Fisher County has just passed a county wide road bond issue. Petitions are in circulation in Scurry County. Dawson County votes on the issue in the next month and it is almost a foregone conclusion that they will carry. Seagraves and Semple have reached an agreement on a county wide program and the vote of the two towns will carry it. Lubbock County has voted a county issue. Cochran County voted them several years ago and has the proceeds of the bond sale on hand when needed. Hockley County is said to be in a favorable mood.

The point is, what will happen to us if we sit still and do nothing until after the above counties have completed their program? We would lose a lot of travel to say the least of it and our designations could be canceled as the highway department has the power to do so if they see fit and they probably would take such action if we sat still and let a highway west of Lubbock be developed into Roswell and a highway west of Lamesa be developed into Carlisbad, each of them completing a hardsurfaced program. There would not be any need of three highways crossing this section leading to practically the same destinations.

Next week our article will deal with the value of tourist travel, the average cost to each property owner on the size issue that would be needed and the probable miles that would state funds.

By Aesculapias

Friday night, by accident, I turned the Dial of my Radio on KRLD at Dallas, Texas and was attracted by hand clapping. So I waited to learn the cause. When the noise had subsided, a gentleman whose name I do not now recall launched forth in eulogy of Mr. James Young for Governor of Texas. He was some laudator, panegyrist and puffer—his talk was almost adulation. When he had finished a lady arose and handed him a great bunch of posies. If he had picked the crowd by hand it could not have been more sycophantic. They cheered at every pause and when he didn't pause.

For myself I wondered why I had never heard of such an extraordinary man. He had even been in congress. Don't know whether he resigned or just simply got beat. Guess it was the latter as men seldom resign. It is generally necessary to prize the public teat out of their mouths or keep them until they die.

This is not intended to belittle the aspirations of the supposed splendid qualities of the candidate. If he is anywhere near the estimate put on him by that bunch he is the man we need.

Much as we deplore the outlook, the present race will be between Jim Ferguson and Judas I. Love. However come to think of it Parson Atticus Webb, of happy Anti Saloon League fame had his bunch together last week and they talked and talked and like the old saying in Mass, "The Lodges talked with Cabots and the Cabots talked with God," so Attie served as intermediary for his melancholy crowd. They were worried that the wets were spending so much money to defeat the Amendment. The Anti Saloon League deals altogether in Prayer? They were also irritated at the twenty million poll of the Literary Digest as the first two installments look too wet. They also want more legislation. They are not satisfied that under the present law the Government has inaugurated and is carrying forward the greatest campaign of poisoning, private or public in the history of the world. It is an orgy of crime against the individual liberty of the citizen not attempted since the Inquisition of the Middle Ages. Red Russia is indeed mild in her religious crusade compared with the enforcement of the Amendment. I believe the Soviets are better people than the Enforcement Gang or the fanatical backing of the League.

Every leader of the gang from Morris Sheppard down is either running for office or seeking a place at the public crib.

We now have ten good men and true, if we are to believe what their friends say about them and the generous hints of themselves. All of them are ready and willing to sacrifice themselves on the altar of public service as governor of this Tax Ridden State, for the paltry sum of four thousand dollars; which has been declared as totally inadequate to secure the best brains.

What has become of our Pink. The champion heavy weight of the South Plains. For awhile the bees hummed about his ears and the call appeared urgent. It appears however that he has taken a dose of pills and gotten it out of his system. I wanted to vote for him instead of Ferguson. We need a heavy to hold down the Governor's chair the next four years and he seemed rather against high salaries. Why not Pink. He lives in our Parrish.

Over in North East Texas one Senator Darwin has announced for Lieutenant Governor. He should hasten to let it be known that he is not the original Charles Darwin, or Norris and his cohorts of Fundamentalists will be shouting out loud that he means to mess up Genesis, introduce Evolution into the schools and otherwise turn the state into a Godless preserve. They think that Darwin is still alive. No, he is dead but like John Brown "His spirit goes marching on."

After a long illness, extending over the greater part of one and a half years the Texas Legislature expired last week. Dr. Moody exerted every effort to put it on the road to recovery. They however rejected every remedy offered by this skilled physician and like so many others listened to quacks. The legislature is dead, long live the legislature. It has done much, to stand between Dan and the ruin of the state. Hope Dan runs again. When the Primaries come around scratching in flea time wont be in it. Amen.

Our new Public School Building is completed and will be turned over to the Board next Tuesday. It is a handsome structure and will add much to the appearance of the town but will not be occupied during the present term.

Winter still lingers as if to finish the work of the January freezes. The fruit trees about my place appear to be badly hurt. Some of the limbs are blooming while others are not budding. A large honey suckle on the south side of the house was almost destroyed and will have few blooms this season. I have heard no complaint from others. On the other hand Phlox that came up in the late fall went through and are now beginning to bloom. Some of the rose bushes are also dead to near the ground. It was not on account of having too little water as I watered them throughout the winter as usual.

Our numerous elections will start early in April with school boards and municipalities. Later the Primaries of various kinds will be held and still later the general election. This, a wonderful country, two years is as long as the average man can be trusted except for Senators and Judges and it is too long for some of them.

E. L. Redford, one of the most prominent farmers of the county, was in Monday on business. We have not heard of anyone so far that will cut their cotton acreage more than Mr. Redford, even down in central Texas where such a big campaign is on about the matter. He is cutting his acreage 100 percent; will not plant a stalk, but is permitting his renters to do what they think best in the matter. This applies only to his individual crop. Mr. Redford, like lots of other southern farmers, has about decided if the north can exist without cotton for centuries, the south ought to seek out an existence without it a little while.

Two-Row Listed AVERY Corn Cultivators

Give a good crop a good start

When your listed corn is young, is the time to lay a foundation for profitable growth. Careful cultivation at this time brings a generous reward.

Listed corn farmers who work their corn through the early stages with Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators, bring down to the young crop exactly the required amount of finely pulverized soil and give their crop the best possible start. They do the most for the crop, in the easiest and best way, when good care is most needed.

In designing the Avery Sled Cultivator, which runs in the furrow astride the row, every essential has been provided for doing the work easily and accurately. The Avery Two-Row Listed Corn Cultivator offers a broader development of the same principles, but due to the exclusive Avery equalizers and other features, it cultivates two rows with the same ease and accuracy as does the single-row machine.

Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators bear the unmistakable quality characteristics of all Avery tools. Because they do better work and last longer, they are the most economical in the end to buy. They are built in America's finest implement factory—to meet a need that springs direct from the soil—by men inspired by 100 years of implement-building leadership.

Easter Motif Furnishes Attractive Theme for Pretty Party.

The Easter motif furnished an attractive theme for a very pretty party on last Friday afternoon when Mrs. A. A. Sawyer and Mrs. R. W. Carter entertained in the home of the latter, complimenting Betty McGuire of Lamesa.

The entertaining suite was lovely with drawn shades, the rosy glow of colored lights and a profusion of pot plants in lovely shades of white and green. Tallies were in novelty forms also suggestive of Easter. Miss McGuire was presented with a lovely pleated georgette handkerchief. Mrs. J. E. Michie making high was favored with an imported fruit stand in bronze and green and Mrs. W. C. Smith, for second high received a paper weight in the form of an Easter lily. At the close of the games the tables were covered in white crepe papers with Easter designs. Lovely refreshments of cheese nibbels, pear salad in the form of rabbits in nests of green, a lime drink, white brick ice cream molded in the shape of lilies, and angel food squares iced in yellow with a chicken design on each.

THE NATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON ILLITERACY

Each member of the Committee on Illiteracy for the State of Texas appointed by Superintendent of Education, Dr. Marrs, with the advice of Governor Moody, has received a letter from Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the Interior and Chairman of the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, asking that he act with and be a part of the National Committee in the intensive drive that is being put on for the reduction of illiteracy before the taking of the census which begins in April.

The members of the State Committee who are thus welded into the national organization are as follows: Hon. S. M. N. Marrs, Hon. Nat. Washburn, T. H. Shelby, Esq., Dr. E. E. Oberholzer, Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, Miss M. Louise Jones, Ernest C. Cox, Esq., Dr. T. O. Walton, Hon. Margie Neal, Miss Eva G. Pinkston, A. H. Hughey, Esq., Dr. Max S. Handman, W. R. Banks, Esq., W. V. Hamilton, Esq., Hayne Nelms, Esq., Mrs. William E. Darden, R. M. Woods, Esq., Mrs. Lee Joseph, Hon. Harbert Daventon, Hon. Ernest Thompson, H. D. Fillers, Esq., Mrs. Cone Johnson.

This action on the part of Secretary Wilbur marks an additional step in the campaign against illiteracy. Secretary Wilbur asks further that the State Superintendent, Dr. Marrs, give his permission to communicate with all county superintendents in the state, to offer to them the facilities of the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy and the information and methods of procedure it has developed. The National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy has made a careful study of the campaigns against illiteracy waged in many states and makes the lessons learned in those campaigns available to whoever would like to use them.

THERE'S A MORAL HERE

Did you ever stop to think that hard times means nothing to a hen? She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs regardless of what is said about conditions. If the ground is hard she scratches harder. If it's dry she digs deeper. If she strikes a rock, she works around it. But always she digs up worms and turns them into hardshelled profits as well as tender broilers. Did you ever see a pessimistic hen? Did you ever know of one starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface? Did you ever hear one cackle because times were hard? Not on your life. She saves her breath for digging and her cackles for eggs. We're not mentioning any names—but we are wondering how many of our readers can find any moral in this.—Littlefield Leader.

BLOOD RELATION

Queen Victoria once gave a dinner to Liliuokalani, queen of the Hawaiian Islands.

"Your Majesty," said the dusky personage, "do you know that I am a blood relative of yours?"

"I didn't," said the astonished English monarch. "How so?"

"Why," said Liliuokalani, "my grandfather ate your Captain Cook."

WILBUR FAVORS CHANGE IN EDUCATION METHODS

Washington, D. C.—"Here in America," said Secretary Wilbur recently in addressing the Committee on the School Child of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection, "we do a rather shabby job for our best students. We devote much of our energy to those who have to be whipped into line. We develop too little technique to take care of the more promising students that may be pushed out in front and may be helped to go forward. We should make progress, and I think we are making progress, towards so directing education that it will confine our best opportunities to our best students. Though some people may hold to the opposite theory, I am convinced that doing just that is democracy. I am inclined to believe that democracy cannot approach perfection until it gives the greatest scope to the best.

"In our thought for children we have long adhered to the herd's spirit of following the leader. We have been sheep. As I grow older the animal that I have come to admire most, I believe, is the goat. Nobody ever saw a goat with his tail between his legs. He turns his front end to the world and fights. It is up to us in studying this vital problem of the child to change our tactics and imitate the goats. We must establish a new and aggressive policy for the future which above all else looks to the care of the body, mind, character and morals of the best individuals among our youngsters for it is they who are destined to lead the rest."

MRS. OWEN WINS

Mrs. Ruth Byron Owen was elected as a Representative to Congress in the Fourth Congressional District of Florida and her right to membership in the House was challenged by her defeated opponent on the grounds that she was not a full citizen of the United States. Mrs. Owen was elected by a majority of about two to one. The fact that her technical position with reference to her citizenship was clouded by her marriage to a foreigner, who died several years ago, did not weigh very heavily with the Congressmen who investigated the contest. Evidently they felt that the daughter of William Jennings Bryan was apt to be a pretty good American citizen even though some of the peculiarities of our old immigration laws might have involved her title to full citizenship. However, Representative Owen took legal steps prior to her election to straighten out her citizenship status. On being notified of the decision of the Committee she said: "I am very happy that the Committee has decided in my favor, and I am exceptionally pleased that the decision was unanimous." So is everybody else!

Our old friend W. C. Jones, who has been out on south route since he came to the county, has moved north-east of town, and now gets his mail on route one.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IN THIS CASE?

FORT WORTH, Mar. 18.—If you had only 24 hours to live, what would you do?

Several students in Texas Christian University, in response to an inquiring reporter for the school paper, recently attempted to answer this philosophical question.

"I'd write all my friends a letter of farewell," one said.

"You would be surprised" was the retort of another.

One who took the question more seriously, replied: "I would reconcile myself with my fellow man."

"I'd do my best to keep my mind on something else," was another reply.

"I would NOT run a 100-yard dash," was Cy Leland's answer to the hypothetical query.

"I would not change my daily routine of living," several replied.

"I don't know what I'd do," was another usual answer.

"I'd see one more movie and read a good detective mystery story," one boy declared.

FIRST NO PARKING SIGN WAS BY CAESAR

Julius Caesar is accredited by the City Builder with originating the "no parking" rule. He issued an edict forbidding vehicles to enter Rome during business hours because he saw that parking of chariots and other vehicles of that era tended to injure business in Rome. Similar regulations were put into effect in other large Roman cities.

Fiction Never Surpassed
Although there were no fiction mag- azines in the days when they were written, the two most famous short story collections in the world are both more than 600 years old, "Arabian Nights" and the "Decameron." Dozens of these stories can still compete with modern ones for sheer speed of action, for plot, and for knowledge of human nature.—Golden Book Mag- zine.

Spare-Ribs
Little Betty Jane, six years old, came home from school one day recently, and told about hearing the "bird man" talk to them about feeding the birds during the cold, freezing weather. HOW AMERICA USES ITS POWER AND MACHINERY

Striking illustration of how American industry has advantaged from the use of power machinery is given by Dr. Julius Klein in an article in "National Sphere."

In an American city is a huge plant which is filled with what is really a single machine. This plant, requiring about 200 men to supervise it, turns out from 7,000 to 9,000 automobile frames a day.

In a European city an automobile factory employs 200 men in its frame-making department and they turn out thirty-five frames a day.

"Nothing," replied the grocer. "I am guilty. I lost my head. All morning I held my temper while government agents inspected my scales, tasted my butter, smelled my meat, graded my kerosene. In addition, your honor, I had just answered three federal questionnaires. Then this bird came along and wanted to take moving pictures of my cheese and I poked him in the eye."—Ex.

THE WILD WILD ROSE

Somebody in this country can always manage to spoil things for his 119,999,999 brethren. Here, after the nation has spent months working itself into a fever over the selection of a national flower—and after a great majority have happily settled on the wild rose—some impertinent person rises to inquire, "Which wild rose?"

Rushing to consult horticultural authorities, the ordinary citizen is confronted by a regular army of wild roses. Did he vote for the sweet- brier, the scented eglantine, the dog rose, the cherokee, the pasture rose, the marsh rose, the prairie rose or the damask? It is safe to say that he doesn't know and that it probably would have made little difference if he had. Maybe it shouldn't make any difference now, but it undoubtedly will.
