Tom May Wins Theatre Ticket For Family

Some time past Dick McDuffie, president of the Rotary Club offered a prize of tickets for the entire family in the Rialto Theatre to any show, for the one who wrote the best article on why they considered Terry the best farming section. Tom May won for the reason we were in Fort Worth that week. Here's the article:

Terry county, located on the South Plaine has many farming advantages on other county in Texas has. The sandy loam soil with clay foundation beneath of from 3 to 4 feet deep, insures a crop through the growing season regardless of the rainfall. A failure was never known in Terry county. What other Texas county can substantiate such an assertion? It has been known to make corn, cotton and feed sorghums with 4 1/2 inches of rain during the growing season. The guarantee against crop failure in Terry county is the clay subsoil which stores up and holds all the moisture that falls in winter and spring, and growing crops take this moisture up as needed. Neither is our soil poisoned up with vegetation, such as crabgrass and other pests that sap out the moisture from the growing crops. This makes it possible for one man to plant and cultivate from 300 to 500 acres.

The harvesting advantages of Terry county is better than any other section in the world, for the reason that corn and feed will wait in the field until the cotton is out without being damaged. All of which make harvesting less expensive. Poultry raising and dairying in Terry county is very profitable in connection with farming than any other place on earth. Farmers, if you are overworked and have an OD at your bank, take the nearest highway leading to Terry county. A good place to live; good people to neighbor with; the easiest, surest and most profitable country on Earth.

NOT JUST A BEVERAGE

A by-product of milk helps to make fountain pens, buttons, combs, glue, billiard balls, and the glazed surfaces of paper and cardboard. This commodity, casein, represents only three per cent of milk content, but its uses as related by the Bureau of Dairy Industry, are manifold. To the coated paper and the glue manufacturer, it is indispensable, since approximately 75 per cent of all casein is consumed in these two industries. During the war the government used 13,000,000 pounds of casein as glue in the construction of airplanes.

This offspring of the dairy industry is sometimes used in making paint, as insecticide spray base, as a filler for certain cloths, in processing of leather, linoleum articles and other commodities where adhesive and waterproof qualities are needed. Edible casein is produced on a small scale and used as a base for medicines in powdered form. About 60,000,000 pounds of casein are consumed annually in the United States. They are produced from 22,000,000 pounds of skimmed milk of which otherwise would be wasted.

PRIZE HAM BRINGS $2.50 PER POUND

A Texas country cured ham from the South Plains of Texas, cured and exhibited by H. C. Pickrel of Lamb county, brought $2.50 per pound, topping four sales held here in connection with the first annual "Quality Meats" show Saturday, March 28.

Frank P. Holland of Dallas, president of the Texas Breeder Feeder-Association, first bought the ham, at $1.10 per pound, and then announced that the ham would be donated to the United Charities of Lubbock. The ham was then resold to G. P. Kuykendall of Lubbock for $2.50 per pound, the money going to the charities.

A Hereford bull, Timberline 23rd, consigned to the Texas Hereford Association sale by T. C. Ivey of Lubbock and sold to Mrs. James Belcher of Stiles bought $800. The bull weighed 1,290 pounds, making the sale figure over 60 cents per pound.

The grand champion fat calf exhibited by Charles B. Martin, Jr., Tulia, brought 50 cents per pound. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Lubbock Kiwanis and Rotary clubs were purchasers. The grand champion fat pig, exhibited by Claude Wilkes of Plainview, brought 17 cents per pound and was sold to the Plainview Board of City Development.—Plain Progress.

Frank Swenson was in from the Hunter community Monday grousing about the advance in the Herald price being one-fifty, but we noted when old Frank handed us the price he already had it counted out by presenting us a dollar bill and a fifty cent piece. Think he just wanted to hear us argue about the matter.

"No Foreclosures in The Drouth Section"

Houston, April — The Federal Land Bank of Houston has its first foreclosure yet to order in the drouth-stricken section of Northwest Texas. M. H. Gossett, president, said in a statement Saturday.

The statement, the essence of a letter Gossett sent the secretary-treasurer of all federal land banks in this district, and to the Texas delegation in Congress, was intended as an answer to "public prophecies that 50 per cent of borrowers could not pay," and to public officials who "through the press had called upon the Federal Land Bank to cease making foreclosures in this drouth area."

The bank has outstanding loans amounting to $56,343,500 in the area in question.

Tremendous Power from the Wind

THE Aermotor Co. is now making a self-oiling windmill 20 feet in diameter, if you have a well 1000 feet deep, or if you want to raise a large quantity of water from a shallower well, this is the windmill you need. This new Auto-Oiled Aermotor weighs nearly 2 1/2 tons without the tower. It is a giant for power.

Whatever your water requirements may be there is an Auto-Oiled Aermotor of the right size for the work. They are made from 6 feet to 20 feet in diameter. Use the smaller sizes for the shallow wells and the larger ones for the deep wells or large quantities of water. Our tables, sent upon request, tell you just what each size will do.

The Improved Auto-Oiled Aermotor, the genuine self-oiling windmill, is the most economical and the most reliable device for pumping water. It works every day and will last a lifetime.

Stamford, April—"Shoulder to Shoulder" will be the general theme of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Lubbock during the middle of May. The various items on the program will point to that idea—all West Texas "shoulder to shoulder" for the best interest of the region. This slogan has been official of the WTCC and also by the convention work committee headed by Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls.

THRIFT IN DISGUISE

Editor Paul Lockwood of the Stamford (Conn.) Advocate could not buy a new home neither could he build one. His means permitted of the purchase of an old building well known for its historic past.

His first act was to clean the building from basement to attic, the latter place being last. In the attic he found old letters written by notables over a hundred years ago. The letters have brought him offers of fifty thousand dollars, as first bid, and more will likely follow.—Clarendon Leader.

Like Coffee . . . the best Gasoline is Blended

THE sun beams cheerfully through an eastern window. The subtle fragrance of the morning coffee adds zest to the morning air, advance notice of the joy to come as you give the "cup test" to the coffee blend of your choice. Coffee roasting is important, of course, but the most skillful roaster cannot make a popular coffee from just one type of coffee bean.

The coffee connoisseur would not deign to drink coffee made from a single type of bean. Neither should the thoughtful motorist allow an unblended gasoline to go into his fuel tank. Gasoline must be blended if it is to possess all the vital properties contained in the three types of gasoline.

CONOCO Gasoline is blended, just as carefully as the finest coffee. In CONOCO blended gasoline you'll find: Natural Gasoline, for quick starting; Straight-run Gasoline, for power and long mileage; Cracked Gasoline, for its anti-knock qualities. Motorists are fast learning that this is so. The result is a fast increasing group of gasoline connoisseurs who have added to their knowledge of the good things of life the fact that good gasoline must be blended. The CONOCO Red Triangle marks the spots where CONOCO Blended Gasoline may be found. Try it today.

FATHER KNOWS

My Dad and I, long years ago, were walking down the street, and suddenly a little dog came yelping around our feet. He snapped and snarled viciously, that measly little pup, it looked to me as tho he thought he could eat us up. I turned and threw some stones at him, which always missed the intended mark, and when I tried to drive him off, the louder he would bark.

"Now son," my father said to me, "just go along your way, and pay no heed to yelping dogs; remember what I say. You'll notice if you let his be, and only hold your peace, the little feist will soon grow tired and all his bluffing will cease; but every time that you stamp your foot and shout to him, you show that he is annoying you, and he will bark right on. It takes a dog to fight a dog—just post that over your door. When canines come and snarl at you, don't be a dog yourself. And later, when you have grown to manhood, and petty men attack, don't stop to pick up stones to throw, don't try to even answer back. Just walk right on and pay no heed to anything they say, and very soon they'll give it up and go another way."

It's an old and very simple trick these petty minds employ—they say the gods will frist enrage the man that they would destroy. And little dogs and little men, who snarl behind your back, will only snarl the louder if you answer to their attack. And they'll have done the very thing that they started out to do, if, being yellow dogs themselves, they make one of you.—Selection from Edgar A. Guest.

Anton Hansen was in Monday from Hunter and told us something about the Hamlin Herald. When we wanted to see a copy, we found it contained a nice write up of him produced elsewhere. If we had not seen him for the copy likely as not we'd never seen this boost for old Terry.

NO, WE NO "SPECKA" DA "ENGLISH," NO! NO!

Fort Worth, April—"Now, if me and you had of went-out and did what he done—"

"How can one account for such English as this?" is the question a student at Texas Christian University asked after he had overheard the above expression.

"The poor spoken English all around us cannot be accounted for by any one factor," commented Dr. Herbert L. Hughes, head of the English department at T. C. U.

"It is due partly, however, to the fact that demands of a growing America have caused the language to expand and take on new forms—slang, for instance. This rapid and sometimes careless change in the language gives rise to ungrammatical forms.

"In this democratic country of ours hardly anyone wants to appear 'high-brow'. Consequently one is inclined to make his language that of the masses. In other words, many persons who know correct forms use the other so as to appear like everyone else. They don't want to differentiate themselves."

Dr. Hughes tells of once having heard a man in Virginia exclaim, "Now you done been and gone and went and done it!"

That should be far enough removed from highbrow to satisfy anyone.

ALABAMA DOESN'T WORRY AS COTTON PRICE GOES DOWN

A lot of the folks over in Alabama aren't worrying about the price of cotton, according to A. E. Harvey, Snyder sign painter, who, with his wife, is visiting in the southern state.

"Folks here raise their living at home," Harvey writes. "They raise sugar cane, hogs, chickens, vegetables, etc., and believe me, you sure can eat when you sit down to one of these old southern tables. I think I have gained about 10 pounds so far."—Snyder Times.

CORPUS CHRISTI ASKS TO BE COTTON POINT

Corpus Christi, April—The Corpus Christi Cotton Exchange has asked the New Orleans and Chicago exchanges to designate this city as a delivery point in futures contracts. The proposal is supported by the local banks, the Chamber of Commerce and the navigation commission. Corpus Christi now has facilities for storing 300,000 bales of cotton.

Lieu-Gov. Witt Sees No Need of Special Session

Some criticism has been made of the failure of the 42nd Legislature to pass many laws. And prophecy is made that the Legislature will find itself in a "jam" during its last days—that it will fail to enact needed legislation—and that a special session will be required. It is a fact that not many laws of general interests have yet been considered by this Legislature on the floor of the House or Senate; the recently adopted amendment to the constitution contemplates that the first 60 days of the regular session shall be primarily consumed in the introduction of bills and their consideration by committees; that only emergency matters shall be considered by these bodies in open session. In my judgment the conduct so far of the Legislature has been in keeping with the spirit of the recently adopted amendments—bills aplenty have been introduced (but not in excess of what has happened in the past considering the same length of time)—they have been given full and orderly hearings before committees (a thing that has rarely been possible in the past,) and now that we are into the last 60 days of the session, both Houses are working mornings and afternoons and Saturdays in open session considering the measures that have been passed out of committees. I have noticed a feeling of individual responsibility on the part of members of the Legislature to give their sincere efforts to the expediting of the consideration of the legislation pending and I have no doubt but that the remaining days will be sufficient to consider all important pending legislation and that there will be no occasion for the expenditure of any of the people's money for a special session. I believe this Legislature recognizes its responsibility to the people of Texas for the passage of the constitutional amendments under which we are now operating and that its members are going to see to it that the people will have no cause to complain at individual members on the ground that there has been a failure of the amendments to meet the representations made as to what would be the results of their adoption. I still say, as I did in my inaugural remarks about the 42nd Legislature that the people of Texas placed a confidence and responsibility on it never accorded a previous Legislature, and that in my judgment when its work is finished they will say "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

Boys Will Be Boys Says Writer in Rotarian

Boys haven't changed. They are still about as bad, just about as good as when we inked the flaxen "pig-tails" of the girl at the desk in front, or sheepishly carried to mother a tiger lily bouquet from the woods. And boys still like to chum around with other boys. They are incurable little gangsters—as they always have been.

No, boys haven't changed, but, fortunately, we adults have. We no longer say "Thou shalt not" to that gang impulse. We accept it. We encourage it. We try intelligently to supply an outlet for its normal expression through such organizations as Boy Scouts, 4-H, Boys Clubs, Highlanders, and Sea Scouts. And, if we are sincere, we shall take an active part in making Boys' Week, April 25 to May 2, a community vote of encouragement and confidence for those to whom we commit the care of our sons.

LEMON AIDS

Every one knows that hot lemonade is good for a cold and cold lemonade is an excellent beverage for a hot day.
Do not think for a moment, however, that the little lemon's uses are so easily exhausted.
When towels become dingy, put them in a pan of cold water with soap and lemon juice. Heat gradually to boiling point. Rinse in lukewarm water and blue as usual.
To clean the white keys of the piano, rub with paste made of whitening and lemon juice.
When aluminum kettles become dull or black, clean them with a cloth dipped in lemon juice, then rinse in warm water.
When whipping cream add three or four drops of lemon juice to a cup of cream to make it stiff and firm.
A teaspoon lemon juice added to the water in which lamb or veal for stew is cooking will add to the flavor and tenderness of the meat.

No Reduction in Cotton Acreage Late Report

Reliable estimates of the cotton acreage to be planted in the South this year indicate that no substantial reduction is going to be made. It follows that cotton next Fall will bring somewhere between 9 and 12 cents per pound.

The average price paid farmers for Texas cotton the past year is estimated at about 8 1/2-cents. Some of it brought more. A good deal of it brought less. None of it sold at a price which equaled the cost of production.
The acreage to be planted in cotton this year is estimated at about 40,000,000 acres, capable of producing anywhere from 18,000,000 to 18,000,000 bales according to weather, insects and other factors affecting yields.
Judging the future by the past, cotton crops have brought the farmers of the South prices as follows:

Crop in Bales	Highest Price	Lowest Price
10,000,000	22.50	12.00
11,000,000	20.00	10.00
12,000,000	18.00	8.50
13,000,000	14.00	8.00
14,000,000	11.00	6.75
15,000,000	9.12	4.75

World conditions indicate that the lower price range will prevail for the 1931 cotton crop. There are many reasons for this assumption. First, competition in growing cotton is more severe than ever before; second, economic conditions are worse than in many years; third, rayon and other materials are being more widely used than ever before, and fourth, the world is using less cloth of any kind than in many other civilized eras.

Despite all statement to the contrary, it may be taken as a fact that all the "new uses" for cotton discovered in recent years have by no means made up for the loss of half a dozen petticoats from the usual costuming of other days. Nor is there any likelihood that women will ever again bedeck themselves in such useless trappings.

There are some vital deductions to be drawn from the facts above given: First, no farmer should plant more cotton than his immediate family can cultivate and harvest.

Second, no cotton should be planted on land which has not averaged in recent years as much as 200 pounds of lint to the acre.

Third, only standard cotton seed adopted by the entire community should be planted anywhere.

Fourth, no bank should lend money for the production of cotton by a farmer who is hiring his labor, who is putting short staple seed into the ground, or who is not producing his own food and feed for his livestock and to sell.

National Move to Increase Cotton Uses

Austin, Tex., April—Citizens of Texas were urged to join in the nation-wide movement to increase the uses of cotton, by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, today in a statement announcing chambers of commerce would be asked to form the nucleus of the movement.

The Association for Increased Uses for Cotton was organized at a recent meeting in Atlanta, Ga., with Harry D. Wilson, commissioner of agriculture of Louisiana named president and McDonald vice-president. The plan is to organize local groups in each community, these to be welded into a state group, and the state groups to make up the national organization.

The aim is to encourage the use of cotton in every practical way, in an attempt to relieve the south of at least a part of an enormous surplus, estimated to be 8,300,000 bales—enough to virtually supply the domestic demand if not a stalk were grown in 1931.

Entirely disregarding any new uses of cotton which may be developed to meet the pressing need for greater consumption, consumption may be increased by every individual demanding cotton goods, McDonald said.

He pointed out that materials made of cotton serve a large number of purposes admirably and at a lesser cost than comparable material made of other products grown in foreign countries. Co-eds at several southern colleges have taken up a movement initiated at the University of Texas, he declared, and demonstrated the practicalness, the inexpensiveness and the smartness of cotton frocks. In the home, cotton materials may be made into draperies, furniture coverings, sheetings, towings, and in practically every case the cotton is cheapest.
"This is a chance for every man, woman and child to demonstrate patriotism and at the same time save money," McDonald said. "This movement has no mercenary motive, un-

The Story of a Young Farmer, Anton Hansen

Once upon a time there lived in Hamlin-town, a young mechanic by the name of Anton Hansen. That was back in the days and years from about 1916 to 1922.

Money in his pocket mad a funny feeling for him but he did not lose his head. Over a short ways from Anton's rented home, he saw a good farm of about 320 acres broken out and it could be bought at $15 per acre with $1,000 cash down.

Anton has been back down in the Hamlin country many times since he launched out to get a farm all his own, but this week, the writer changed to run upon Anton on the streets of Hamlin and the usual broad smile was broader on his face and like all of his friends, we were glad to greet him.

Well that was a long time ago, when everything on the farm was done either by hand or by mule or horse power. Now, as we were saying, Anton was found on our streets this week, and in company with others, something was said about the absence of horses and mules from our streets, and the remark was that ere long the field would have no horses.

MAN KILLS BLACK BEAR WITH CLUB

Van Buren, Mo.—Armed with only a cedar club, Levite Beaulieu battled a black bear in the woods near here and lived to tell the story. The man came upon the bear while tracking it through the snow. Instead of trying to escape, Beaulieu attacked the animal and killed it with a single blow of his stick.

Rotary Club Elected New Officers Friday

The local Rotarians were graciously entertained by Lee Tankersley, local pianist during the lunch hour last Friday, which was highly appreciated. Lee knows his notes. After the conclusion of lunch, election of officers for the ensuing year was had, with the following results: Homer Nelson, president; Tom Cobb, vice-president; Arnet Bynum, Secretary. The president will appoint a program chairman to work with him. Dick McDuffie will be the delegate to the 41st Rotary Convention at Plainview, April 20-21. No international delegate was elected this year, as the convention will be in Vienna, and no one felt like they were able to stand the gaff of such a trip.

The club is to be entertained tonight by a visit from the Levellard club, who will put on a program. So let's all be on hand and give the boys from Hockley county a fine hearing. They are known to be very resourceful in putting on programs, and will likely give one that will knock the blues into a cocked hat for the time being anyway.

Four City Councilmen Elected Here Tuesday

The city election went off rather quietly Tuesday as is usual with our unruffled city elections. There was little lectioneering in the morning, but some were working quietly in the afternoon. The main burden of the work of electing the new councilmen seemed to be to get some tax reduction. We understand that all those elected are for some tax relief if it is possible to do so.

The regular or two year men elected were as follows:

Bruce Knight ..... 107
Marion Craig ..... 81
Tom May ..... 58

There were several other scattering votes. Henry Chisholm was defeated by two votes.

To fill out the unexpired term of Ben Hurst, which runs for one year, Dr. G. S. Webber was the high man, having received 81 votes. A. M. Brownfield was the only holdover. About 170 votes were cast.

Chevrolet Speeds Up Factory Production

March production of the Chevrolet Motor Company was 79,603 cars and trucks and brings the number of new 1931 models built up to April 1 to in excess of 326,000 units. W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager announced today.

March output was larger than in any month since May, 1930, and final figures for March exceed preliminary reports by more than 1,000 units.

The March performance represents a gain of better than 13 per cent over February production of 67,000 units, and represents an increase of 1,000 units over the number originally scheduled for March production.

While production of the company is being conservatively increased in line with the upturn of the sales chart, registration figures continue to show that Chevrolet is maintaining leadership as the fastest-selling automobile. In December Chevrolet led all other makes of passenger cars in domestic registrations by 2,000 units, in January by 4,000 units, and the 43 states already reported for February show maintenance of that leadership by a comfortable margin.

1930 WAS NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL

From a circular letter issued by "Nation's Business" we take the following which might throw some further light on the actual records and doings of 1930. Read it: Regardless of all its highly advertised faults, 1930 was not without its bright spots.

That much-maligned year loaded and unloaded 45,800,000 freight cars. One out of every ten families bought a new automobile. Three hundred and fifteen million pairs of shoes were manufactured. (The usual two and a half pairs to the person.)

The year 1930 furnished a market place where goods services and labor were exchanged to the extent of one hundred billion dollars.

After all, the stores are still open. Trains are running. You can get the number on a telephone. There are thousands of business men who expect to keep their doors open in 1931. And those who pay the price of intelligent planning and tireless execution will continue to keep their doors open for years to come.—Clar-endan News.

Garza county farmers had received loans of from 20 to 25 thousand dollars for drought relief last week. It seems strange that a county with in 30 miles of our east side would be downed with a three years drought, and Terry making a good crop each year.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The social life of the high school classes probably reached its highest point Saturday evening when the Junior class favored the Senior class and Faculty with a banquet in the pretty hallways of the High School building.

The lighted hallway was very pretty decorated in Easter colors with crepe paper in yellow, green and white. Tables were made attractive with the tiny Easter baskets as nut cups and yellow and green caps which the guests wore during the evening.

Menu: Fruit cocktail, baked chicken, dressing, gravy, hot rolls, potatoes, cranberry sauce, butter, peas, ice-cream and cake.

During the banquet the Seniors showed their appreciation by singing which had been cleverly arranged for the occasion. After the banquet a few games of bunco were played. Souvenirs of Easter baskets went to the Senior class Sponsor, Miss Perkins, the Senior class president, Katherin Holgate, and to Mr. Toone. Stephen Brock, toastmaster, after giving words of welcome to the Seniors gave this as a toast to the faculty.

Here's to the great bank of quakers, Who have labored long and hard, To assist a bunch of slackers, But obtained a poor reward.

For our manners were not mended, By your loud vociferations An our grades were insufficient, To obtain affiliation.

Yet you earn a meager salary, To bear the blame you see, So here's to health and happiness, Ye Brownfield Faculty.

Each faculty member responded with complimentary and encouraging words to both classes.

Pat Shelton, president of the Junior class, gave these words to the Seniors.

We'll let the cup pass to the old Junior class, And 'tis toasting the Seniors we are. We think it quite nice To donate advice, To which every Senior can star. To College you'll go, And be taunted we know, And at playing, you'll get quite a fling, But take this from us, Don't kick up a fuss, And don't bit at just any old thing. You'll be called on to show, What you really don't know, An 'tis here that you doom may be sealed.

So be ready, stand pat, At the books and the bat, Just to show how its done in Brownfield.

Kathrin Holgate, President of Senior Class responded with: So here's to the Juniors, A jolly fine band, In everything they rank With the best in the land.

As students they are famous, As hosts they excell, Of their courage and exploits The histories will tell.

So lets drink a toast to the Juniors, From the Seniors and me, May good luck and gladness Their lot ever be.

Miss Rasco and Joe Shelton played entertaining piano and trumbone solos.

Let us all strive to have right here in Brownfield the best Sunday school and church to be found on these big Plains. We can do it. Some body has got to be the best. Why Not Brownfield?

FARMERS TOLD TO SHELTER COTTON

Austin.—Shelter your cotton from the rain and build a durable shed with the savings, cotton farmers are urged by J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture.

Deduction of five dollars or more per bale made by buyers against wet cotton might easily be avoided by putting the bales under shelter instead of leaving them in the fields to rot, the commissioner said.

HIGGINBOTHAM DIES IN DALLAS LAST WEEK

FAT I AM

Fat I am and fat I'll be; No more of dieting for me. I like chow that offers fun. That makes the gastric juices run.

I can't keep my raptured gaze From cream gravies and souffles. Carrots stick right in my throat; Spinach, too—I'm not a goat.

I crave large and juicy steaks, Sausage and buckwheat cakes, Biscuits hot and luscious hams, Champagne sauce and candied yams.

I like all unhealthy things; Let the thoughts of health take wings. Clash the cymbal, beat the drum; Diabetes, here I come. —Los Angeles School Journal.

The Daily Milk

When the milkman brings your milk, do you step to the sink immediately and pour out a portion of it? Certainly not!

Then why do such a thing with Natural Gas?

Burners clogged with lint and dust; appliance unsuited for Natural Gas; and small leaks in connection, often waste as much gas as is actually needed in the home.

Remember, water can't get hotter after it begins boiling. And don't permit gas to burn wastefully between the cooking of dishes.

Do not burn gas in heating appliances with doors and windows wide open.

Satisfied customers constitute our best asset. They are worth more to us than any revenue derived from gas which is wasted.

THE "SCALAWAGS" OF THE SIXTIES

Following the Civil War the South was impoverished, the soldiers disfranchised and carpet baggers sent South and given rule by the Republicans then in undisputed National authority.

These carpetbaggers found an ally down South in those who had hidden out, moved out, or otherwise avoided taking up arms and exposing themselves in the great conflict. These were not disfranchised. And, along with the newly enfranchised negroes, could vote and were in authority, and were known among those who fought for the Southern cause as "scalawags" or "bushwhackers."

With carpetbaggers from the North, scalawags and newly enfranchised negroes in charge, that section of the old South that had most negroes, suffered something awful during the days of reconstruction.

This was the setting that gave rise to the Ku Klux Klan, that also gave "rise" to a few scalawags, carpetbaggers and an occasional very bold and impudent negro, so we have been told.

When the Southern States were re-mitted to the union, the soldiers again given right to vote and the government of the Southern States again in the hands of honorable men, who were of the South and in sympathy with the Southern people's cause, the Ku Klux Klan was disbanded and law and order prevailed.

Under this program the South proceeded to "blossom like a rose" in spite of the fact that she paid a heavy tax to pension federal soldiers while caring for her own helpless and paying, all the while, a tariff on the supplies shipped in from the east and north. The South had no factories then.

In those trying days and through the years, the Democratic party has been the friend of the South. It is a national party and each State is merely a branch of this great party, with each county or municipality, a twig on the State limb.

These latter years we had a new Ku Klux Klan organization to arise, with an announced purpose to do away with political parties and to rule the land by white Protestants only. The public is fully familiar with happenings and the heavy abuse down south, given the Klan by the Republicans, up until the Republican party took this organization over and the Wizzard moved out of the South.

Protestant preachers were admitted to the Klan without money and without price. And this latter day Klan paraded church aisles, wearing their disguise, giving cash until this distasteful parade, in houses of worship, was so resented that the habit discontinued.

Now, when we have the greatest possible need of a United South, to fight back the unholy rule of the powers that recognize property rights above human rights, we have many in the ministry, who boldly claim a right to enter the Democratic primary locally and then turn to stab the party in the back nationally.

This too, while stoutly condemning all we prohibitionist who support locally a prohibition law much stronger than the 18th amendment, because we will not run riot with them and their wizard nationally.

This philosophy is of a type neither desirable nor wholesome of this writer. We positively refuse to subscribe to same, even through every Protestant preacher in the land joins Wizzard and Dr. Norris in threatening us with all kinds of Kalamities.

Just to be perfectly frank let us here state: Most of the gang condemning everybody who refuses to lay aside all else, including party loyalty, and run wild in shouting for prohibition and the 18th amendment, in a section that has a better law and no local need of the 18th amendment, look much like the offspring of the scalawags and bushwhackers of the old days to us.

Before the 18th amendment was adopted Texas had a better and a stronger prohibition law, that was

Tech to Stage Big High School Relays

Lubbock, Texas, April—The biggest track event ever held in West Texas is the prediction for the first annual Texas Tech High School relays to be held at the college April 11, beginning promptly at 10 A. M.

"We are going to run these relays" Dutchy Smith, Assistant Coach at the Tech who is in charge of the event said in stressing the fact that the relays would be run off just like clock work with something doing all the time.

A large number of loving cups and other special prizes are being awarded by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Events in the contest include 50 yard dash, 100 yard dash, 220 low hurdles, javelin throw, high jump and 5 relays.

The relays include 440 yards (each man running 110 yards); 880 yards (each man running 220 yards); 1 mile (each man running 440 yards); Medley (first man, 440 yards, 2nd 220, 3rd 220, and the 4th 880); Special first 120 low hurdles, 2nd 220 yards, 3rd 110 yards, 4th 440 yards.

just as well, if not better, enforced then, than now.

We have laid aside the names of those who are playing up the "Society for the local Support of 18th amendment" and noting the playing up of the office seeking section of this "line up," and Buddy, we propose to meet them at Philippi, a little further down the line, as they spread their eagle wings and begin to orate upon their righteous claim to official authority, through the "Grace" of the Democratic party.

The 18th amendment is good and is there to stay. But, States like Texas, that have a State law that is much stronger, have no occasion to appeal to the 18th amendment—except in those cities and section where local officers refuse to enforce the State law. We find that in cities where the Klan politicians control, as a rule.

There are some fool agitators, who follow political demagogues—innocently maybe—who are as clearly doing hurt to the cause of prohibition and temperance as does the man who preaches prohibition and honestly believes it, when sober, but not strong enough to keep sober, when the opportunity presents to swig the juice of the corn.—Greenville Messenger.

THE DIFFERENCE

Judge Brady is now in the Huntsville penitentiary. He is there for three years unless some tender hearted governor turns him loose. All he did was to stab a foolish stenographer who accepted a man who was a husband and father. She went riding with another man and when she came back this husband and father—Judge Brady—thrust a knife into her heart. He had leading attorneys from all over the state to defend him. The jury was lenient and gave him three years in the pen.

The other day he went down to Huntsville, unattended by any officer—oh it wouldn't have done to have an officer along. He was kind enough to deliver himself to the warden he said: "I do not ask for any favors." Why should he?

The same day he entered, a man—an ignorant man, one who had never had the advantages of an education. He was brought there handcuffed and under a four-year sentence. His crime was he had stolen 100 pounds of cotton seed. There can be no question about the cotton seed thief receiving no favors—he expected none and will receive none.

There certainly ought to be a word somewhere that will set this one right. Cold blooded murder, three years; four dollars worth of cotton seed, four years. But the purloiner of the cotton seed forgot to plead he was drunk when he crawled into that cotton bin. And he didn't have a half a dozen lawyers to help him defeat the law.—Marshall News.

W. J. Murray was in Saturday and reported that he liked to read the Herald articles, especially where we poured it on those who talk about our sand, even though he was sorry for them in their present condition. So are we.

Chock Hamilton was in Monday to get'er up another 12 months. Chock said he could just as easily have handed us a dollar in December and spent the diff, but neglected it.

Every truth has its contradiction.

Choose Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks for low first-cost and unsurpassed economy

The economy of using Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks is an actual dollars-and-cents economy that shows up, month after month, on the balance sheet. It starts with a purchase price that is one of the lowest in the market for a complete unit. It continues throughout Chevrolet's long life with an operating cost that is unsurpassed!

Consider, for example, the cost-records of leading national organizations who use large fleets of Chevrolets. They prove

(1) That no other trucks of equal capacity give any better gasoline, oil or tire mileage than Chevrolet. (2) That the cost of keeping a Chevrolet in satisfactory running order is unusually low. (3) That Chevrolet trucks are exceptionally reliable and long-lived.

Today, Chevrolet's proved economy is available to buyers in every truck-using field. For Chevrolet offers a new line of quality bodies that includes a type for every hauling requirement.

tion of the above sections of our organic law, radicals have, from time to time, attempted to create class hatred and stir up strife among the people of this country. They have even gone further than this. Some, while accepting and even demanding the protection of the Government, openly advocate its destruction. Strange as it may seem, the form of Government held up to their followers as a model is harsh, cruel and dictatorial, and grants neither the right to assemble and petition the authorities in power for redress of grievances, nor does it permit freedom of speech or of religion. Death would be the penalty for acts similar to theirs in this country which so generously overlooks, in times of peace, seditious and treasonable utterances. As stated in a previous editorial, it is evidence of confidence in the stability of our Government,

LIKE a fiery torch from Cupid's bow—that's how Orpha shot into my hungry, adolescent heart—the very first night we met!

We were married—insanely happy—at first. My first job—bank messenger—fifteen dollars. Orpha flared up—I looked for more money—in a factory—struggling to meet her debts.

Then I hurt my hand—infection—laid off. Orpha had to work—she sulked—grew nasty—stayed out nights. Jealousy surged in my heart. What a ghastly mistake—all this. That fateful night—Orpha gone—but where? Separation—divorce—murder—FREEDOM—toyed in my soul. At dawn—home she came—with another man. I snarled—leaped at his throat—Orpha threw herself at me—I swung around—and...

Into what terrible tangle did the mad infatuation of youth knot the lives of this headstrong boy and sickle girl? Did it end in divorce—only to release Orpha from the sacred duty she shirked—betrayed?

Or did that heart-crushed lad end it all in bloody murder—a road that dips into the valley of hell and ends at the hangman's noose? and in the patience of its citizens.

Publicity, of course, is the chief aim of these soapbox orators and agitators, and newspapers have very generously given them an unlimited amount. Without this publicity their cause would languish. Nothing hurts worse than indifference. Nothing gives them more satisfaction than being paraded before the public as martyrs.

Whether or not these alleged Communists are violating the letter or spirit of the Constitution in preaching sedition, there is much danger not only for themselves, but for the people in the South, in some of their teachings and public utterances. The race line in the South is definitely defined. It is acknowledged as necessary and proper by the better classes of both races. Inter-marriage is frowned upon by both the intelligent negroes and whites. Mixing socially is not considered desirable. Yet in both races are found men and women susceptible to arguments favoring a mixture of races. Therefore, to permit agitators publicly to advocate the removal of these restrictions is to invite riots and incite the committing of other crimes.

Farm and Ranch believes that it is within the police powers of the State or any of the subdivisions of Government to protect citizens from threatened dangers of such a character. Any person who takes it upon himself to disturb the peaceful relations between races or other classes of citizens is a public menace.—Farm and Ranch.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF FORD VALUE

Bright, enduring RUSTLESS STEEL is used for many exposed bright metal parts of the Ford

WHEN YOU BUY a Ford you buy enduring beauty. The body finish is made to last for the life of the car and practically all exposed bright metal parts except the bumpers are made of enduring Rustless Steel.

This Rustless Steel has great tensile strength. It is the same bright metal all the way through. A salt test equivalent to forty years' service under the severest weather conditions failed to have any effect on its brilliance. It never requires polishing. All you do is wipe it with a damp cloth, as you do your windshield.

This is just one of many features that show the substantial worth of the Ford. In speed, comfort, safety, economy and long life—in the richness of its finish and upholstery—it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

Call or phone for demonstration.
