

LET'S DO OUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY AND HELP FRIENDS

TEACHERS—YOU ARE WEL- COME TO BROWNFIELD

The Gates are Ajar—The Keys Fell in a Dog Hole—Just Help Yourself or Ask For It. Brownfield People Should Be at the Teachers' Beck and Call. Be Friendly.

We are having with us this week the Terry county teachers in their annual association, and we hope they feel as welcome and have as nice time as the people of Brownfield wish for them. We also hope that their stay in our little city will be profitable to both the teachers and those to whom they impart knowledge in order that the meeting may be mutually beneficial to all the county. To the citizenship of the city, let the Herald hand you a little tip. Go out of your way to welcome the teachers. Be as accommodating as possible. Tell them your car is at their service while they are here, if they have no car. If you have a spare bedroom at your home, tell them about it. Teachers salaries are not great at best. Any little help will be appreciated by them, we are sure.

Next to the ministry of the gospel, we consider teaching as one of the most essential professions of our country. As a training plant for children, the school room stands next to the home and in many instances, perhaps, children get more moral training in the school room than at home. Many of the lessons of honesty and morality imparted to the child in the school room, goes with them through life, and make them better men and women. Teaching is a great profession for two reasons: First, there are comparatively few people so constituted that they can readily impart knowledge to others which they have already gained themselves. Thousands of people fail in the profession for this reason alone. Many people are well educated themselves, but cannot teach others. Therefore the droids in the profession do not last long. Second. Only those with smooth tempers and strong nerves can stand up to the ordeal to which they are subjected daily and weekly for months without a breakdown. It is therefore very advantageous for your child that it has been placed under the care of such a person, especially if you are giving to "temper" and have "nerves."

Let's everyone who possible can attend the sessions. There will be plenty room, and we are sure most of us can profit from what we learn. Let's also attend the exhibits on display by the school children and encourage them in their work.

Ginnings Off to Slow Start But Moving Up

Owing to the fact that Terry county cotton was ranker growth than in most counties in this section, and the further fact that sandy lands keep the plant greener and growing later after rains than the harder land counties, the last report printed in these columns of South Plains county ginnings showed Terry county near the bottom of the list, but it moved up some from Nov. 1 to Nov. 14, and overtook some of the counties that were ahead during the other report.

Terry county is rather shy in this one according to the amount that will be ginned this year, and the coming report for Dec. 16, will not be much larger, as the weather has been very unfavorable for ginnings. However, Terry county in this report was more than 2000 bales ahead of the same time last year. The following is the report of the ginnings:

County	1931	1930
Bailey	9,447	2,816
Cochran	2,056	(1)
Crosby	23,732	5,361
Dawson	35,562	23,798
Dickens	19,867	7,841
Floyd	9,205	4,248
Gaines	1,722	2,287
Garza	12,316	4,383
Hale	28,459	10,403
Hockley	36,559	19,894
Lamb	42,674	23,166
Lubbock	52,350	25,556
Lynn	36,842	21,334
Martin	9,507	5,126
Midland	4,973	(1)
Terry	18,595	16,142

Gaines county is the only county in the group shy of last year's ginning up to this report. The figure (1) in the 1930 column opposite Cochran and Midland counties are used to keep from disclosing individual ginnings last year where there was but one gin in the county running. The totals for the 17 south plains counties are:

For 1931	335,866
For 1930	172,355
Difference	163,511

Many Charity Calls Are Being Registered

From what the Herald can gather from the Chamber of Commerce as well as some of the churches which are dispensing charity, as the cold weather comes on, there are more and more calls for charity, most of which is coming from new people who have drifted in seeking work. These people cannot receive help from the county. They must be here six months to do so. Most people who were here through the spring and summer have provided for themselves.

A petition was carried around this week to provide for a girl who is recovering from a case of pneumonia at a local hotel. Money sufficient to carry her to her mother in Kansas was being raised if possible. The Herald was told that a man brought her from Amarillo, making promises of employment and then threw her down.

As the winter advances, we will perhaps be called on to care for some deserving people who really need help. Therefore we should not pull our purse strings too tight. Perhaps some of our relatives or friends are being fed somewhere else. Who knows?

To Let Road Contract Saturday, Dec. 12th

Elsewhere in this issue of the Sentinel will be found a notice to contractors for bids on Gaines County's first hard surfaced highway in which the State is to participate.

The State Highway Department, under whose supervision this road is to be constructed, is asking for grading, drainage and caliche base with a triple top coating of asphalt on 20,004 miles of this highway which has been designated as No. 137, this portion is from Seminole north through Seagraves, to the south line of Terry County.

Work has already been started on a portion of this same highway in Andrews county from the north line of Ector county to the town of Andrews. Ector county's portion of this highway having recently been completed. The gap between Andrews and Seminole will be let in another contract at a later date.

This work coming on at this time will no doubt be very much appreciated, as it will afford employment for many in this section who are now unemployed.—Seminole Sentinel.

C. L. Williams, local hardware dealer, has renewed for the Herald and Star-Telegram.

Mr. Theo Mackey of Lubbock is temporarily located in Brownfield as a sign painter, and seems to be doing a good business.

Do your Christmas shopping early.

Weatherman On Ram- page Again This Week

What are we going to do with our weather anyway—the brand of which is being handed out to us? Way back in the spring, the Herald decided to lay off the Weatherman, and did, and people rather kidded us for letting him get the best of us. But that individual has been so hateful of late that we are getting riled good and plenty, and have a notion of telling him where to get off. Boy! he has all the goats we ever had.

Here it all is in a couple of nut shells. It is ranging around Santa Claus time again, and a great many of our readers have not renewed, having put us off awhile till they get out some more cotton. But who can pick cotton with such weather as we are having handed out to them? We want old Santa to visit us too, but how is he going to come if we haven't the fare for him? Ding bust the weather anyway. Why can't he act like this in West Texas like he used to do with us. There isn't any Louisiana swamps around here that we know of.

And furthermore and therefore, he the Weatherman is goading the merchants not to advertise. Why, they will say, what is the use of advertising with this kind of weather on. No one will come to town, and if they do, they won't buy. It has now been several weeks since they gathered any cotton to amount to anything.

Ding bust the weather!

Use Home Feed and Save All the Freight

Have you read Bob Bower's ad now running in the Herald? Well, it will be well for you to read it and ponder well. In the first place, Bob is a home man. He owns property in Brownfield and Terry county. He pays school, city, county and state taxes. He is a booster for every institution in Terry county. He owns a mill here which is operated by home people and wages paid out by him to them are spent right here and kept here.

Not only that, but he is using everything he possibly can in these feeds he makes and mixes off the farms of Terry county, thus making a better market for them. He is also making a product for chickens, cows, hogs and horses that will compare favorably with any that is shipped in. Last, but not least, you save the freight as he states in his ad by patronizing home made feeds.

NOTICE

There will be a Christmas party at the Legion Hall for all the eligible Auxiliary Women at 3 P. M., Wednesday, December 16th.

There will be a Grab Bag not to exceed 15¢ for grown ups, and also bring candy for their children. There will be a program.

Mrs. Myrl Brown of Robstown, Texas, was here a day or two last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown and family. She has lived at Robstown now about three years.

HOBBS HAS BOUGHT NO BACON IN TERRY COUNTY

Had to Buy Some Lard One Year. Says Many Terry County Farms With Not a Single Porker. Could Do Without A Daily Paper, But He Isn't. So There!

Most times we imagine that perhaps we have little in common in belief with other people until we talk with them. This week was the first time that we ever remember having sat down for a few minutes confab with J. O. Hobbs, who has been living on the Cleve Hogue place just north of town. After the conversation, we found that there were many points of agreement between us. In fact not a subject was broached that we were not in hearty accord.

J. O. says that he will have to give up the Hogue place as the owner wants to move there himself the coming year. He will leave the family here in town for school, and move on a farm west of Meadow, where he will kinder batch. In talking of what farmers had to buy, Mr. Hobbs told

An Old Buffalo Gun Interesting O'Donnell

Known to only a select few is the fact that Mr. Jim Cathey, well-known citizen who lives west of town, is the custodian of an old buffalo gun, the property of his brother, Mr. John Cathey of Arizona.

Though much of the history of the old rifle is a mystery, enough of it is known to prove that the gun is fully sixty or seventy years old. It is a weatherbeaten old piece, of the breech loading type and used to shoot catridges approximately six inches in length. Its weight is estimated to be thirty pounds.

According to the known history, the gun was originally the property of K. K. Epperson, a pioneer and frontiersman known in this part of the country as Dad Epperson. Uncle Jim Cathey first saw the gun in 1881, when he met Mr. Epperson at Abilene, which was then the frontier town. Mr. Epperson stated that he had obtained the gun from a man who was one of those who took part in the Battle of Adobe Walls, and that this man claimed that it was a shot from this gun which won the battle. According to his story, the defenders of the Walls were arguing during a pause in hostilities, as to how far a shot would carry. The besieging Indians had withdrawn to a spot some two miles away. With no attempt to take special aim at them, the men elevated the barrel of the old gun almost straight up, and fired. Mr. Epperson, still quoting the veteran of the battle, said that it seemed almost two minutes later when the Indians were seen to scatter in consternation, and left that part of the country with haste and dispatch. One of them who was captured later, said that they could not fight against guns which 'shot today and killed tomorrow.'

Mr. Epperson and the Cathey family grew to be fast friends, and at his death in 1908, the gun was given to Mr. John Cathey. It is a grim relic of dangerous days on the frontier, one which is seldom heard of now. Mr. Cathey has been asked to bring it in to the bank, where the public especially school boys and girls, may view and examine it. He was much pleased at the thought that anyone would be interested in it, and promised to bring it in at the first opportunity.

Uncle Jim is a veritable mine of treasures in the form of tales and legends of Indian and buffalo days, and can tell enough actual personal experiences to keep Daniel Boone looking for his laurels. It seems altogether fitting and proper to see him handling the old buffalo gun and telling of days when whole trainloads of hides and bones went from the frontier country to Kansas City.—O'Donnell Index.

Dad Epperson was an honored and respected citizen of Terry county for a number of years, or until his death, which was nearer 1918 than 1908 or reported above. He was a member of Stonewall Jackson Camp U. C. U. as long as the camp was in existence. His body was buried in the Brownfield cemetery.

As this is written Tuesday afternoon, the skies are clearing nicely, and we hope for some nice weather for awhile.

Wilson Addresses Club On Russian Conditions

Jim Wilson, of Floydada, Texas, who is perhaps the most traveled man in this section of the State, was a visitor here last Friday noon, and delivered his address on Russia to the local Rotary Club, which was appreciated by all present, including the visitor, W. H. Hight, local farmer. Mr. Wilson is a well educated man, a fluent speaker, and is always ready to visit fellow Rotarians and deliver his address. Of course he could not nearly cover the ground in one address, and may come back at some future time. If we understood him aright, this last summer makes the third time he has visited Russia in the past several years, and has been in some 25 foreign countries in the past three years.

After hearing his address, one cannot but help agreeing with Jim that Russia is not as bad as pictured to us by biased writers who go over to write up Russia with minds already fixed, and perhaps their notes are used to write their story on their return home. Most of them too, perhaps see only what they want to see. Jim says he went with an open mind and no preconceived ideas, and that he would not change things up in Russia if he had the power to do so, as conditions suit them just as conditions here suit us.

They are he said far better housed and fed than when under the yoke of a Czar, and they have the assurance that they will be looked after if disaster comes. Products are not taken from them and sold as we hear, but are rather pooled and sold to the best advantage, not unlike what our Farm Board is now trying to do for the farmers of America.

As to religion, he says it is true that they are not religiously inclined at the present, but nevertheless rather moral, and no more drinking if as much as other Europeans. Their vodka is dispensed by the government with allowances that are not excessive. They were ground down and taxed by both church and state for centuries, and getting out from under a religious and political czarism, they have taken the liberty of submitting to nothing but their own making. Mr. Wilson believes however, that the protestant denominations have a fine chance in Russia in the next few years, but does not believe they will ever submit to either Greek or Roman Catholicism any more.

Speaking of the loose marriage relations we hear of Russia, he did not agree with such. In fact, he related that man and wife—one wife at that—were encouraged to live harmoniously together just the same as here. Indeed, divorces, he said were not encouraged in the least, but when man and wife found that incompatibility of temperament made the marriage relation abortive, they were allowed a divorce—provided provision was made for the care of the children, if any, as they must not become a burden to the state. If either the husband or wife was physically deficient or ill, the other must make provision for them. This is some improvement on our system, we think.

There is no sex distinction, he says. You may find your traveling companion in your railway compartment to be a woman or maybe more than one, and if you protest, you insult them. He said the Russian woman was the healthiest he ever saw, and was capable of using the pick and shovel equally well with her male companions.

Brownfield Admitted To Big School Group

One South Plains high school was placed on the list of accredited secondary schools of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the South and four were dropped, according to a wire dispatch to the Daily Journal from Montgomery, Alabama, where the executive committee of the association met Thursday. Brownfield high was the school added while Levelland, Ralls, Slaton and Snyder were dropped from the list, the dispatch said.

Other Texas schools placed on the accredited list were: Carrollton, Eldorado, Austin and Bowie of El Paso, Junction, Kaufman, Paris, Rankin, San Saba, Sequin and Winters, Cameron, Runge and Roby were dropped.—Lubbock Journal.

DON'T PUT THIS MATTER OFF TILL LAST MINUTE

Remember and Have Some Pity on the Poor, Tired Merchants and Their Clerks. Also the Short Handed Postoffice Force. Assure Prompt Delivery by Mailing Early.

There are two or three reasons why we should all do our Christmas shopping early this year as well as any other year, but the greatest of these reasons is that we might help working humanity, the people behind the counters who will always have a last minute rush of careless and indifferent buyers, and we are most all guilty of this. At the very last minute, we catch the Christmas spirit and rush in where angels fear to tread, and demand service right off the reel from wearied and tired shopkeepers and their clerks. Besides, you will get a better selection right now than you will later when the stocks are run down, and the best of everything taken.

The town people especially should get what they want now during leisure time first of weeks, and while the weather is bad. The people who live on farms may have some good weather for the next week or ten days and will be very busy in the fields. But they will come in around the 20th to do their shopping, and if we town people have finished, the clerks can then wait on them promptly. Personally, we never like to shop when there is a rush on. If there is only a few in the store, the clerk has much more time to make suggestions and even help us make appropriate selection. But if there is some one else continually tugging at them asking the price of this and that, we cannot get good service ourselves.

There is still another angle to the matter. The sooner we make our purchases to be mailed to relatives and friends in other sections of the country, the better the guarantee that they will in the rush get the parcels promptly and in better shape. It is always embarrassing to have a package delivered after the holiday is over. No matter how good the friend or near the relative is to you, it appears that they thought of you the last minute, and decided to send a package. It makes your gift therefore the less appreciated, perhaps.

The postoffice force is generally overworked at this time, too, and as the government gives them little extra help, they must hire help of their own accord and pay them. It is their intention to serve their public well, but when they are overworked and rushed to death, they cannot give the service like they wish.

Be considerate. Mail your packages early.

It Makes Us Love Everybody—Sure Do

We were up against it last week. Broke our paper cutter and the nearest supply office was in Chicago. We sent them an airmail letter ordering the broken part, only to be advised later that it could not be supplied. What were we to do? Did it mean that we were to have to buy a new cutter? It began to look that way. Finally we thought of Ray Gurley. Could it be possible that Ray could repair our broken paper cutter? We submitted the matter to him. Ray looked the broken part over, rubbed his nose a time or so, and replied, "No, I can't fix it but I can make you a new one." We turned the job over to him. In less than a day Ray delivered the new part and it works like a top. Say, fellows, if you ever break your machinery and cannot get a new part this side of Kalamazoo, just take the matter up with Ray. He'll fix it; fix it right and do it in less time than it would take to tell the story. We are indeed fortunate in having a mechanic with the proper equipment with us.—State Line Tribune.

Most of us in the smaller towns have had about the same experience some time or another. And when we do, it always makes us appreciate the home mechanics more than ever. Not only that, but we break out in praise of the local mechanic to our friends, and if we happen to own a newspaper, we give them four or five dollars worth of front page publicity, because at that time, like the heading of this article, which is part of an old time revival hymn, "it makes us love everybody."

Several years ago, when we owned an old Model L Linotype, which was newspaper men all know had no sustaining coil wire on the vice-automatic, and when that was accidentally dropped, it was just too bad on the first elevator apparatus. Well, this happened to us one day—day before we were to go to press. The first elevator lever was broken smack into way back behind where it fits on the shaft, and this was the way we thought about the matter as we contemplated a wire to New Orleans, two or three days wait and a bill of some $50—"!(-&*)"—we believe that is the way they make cussing on a typesetting machine.

But we thought of Roy Harris. Now Roy had not been using a modern oxy-welding outfit long at that time, but we called him in to our assistance anyway. The break occurred when we started to drop the vice-automatic while we were at lunch. Well sir, at 2:30 P. M., we were casting slugs right along again, and most of this wait was on the large piece of casting to cool.

That is the reason we gave Clyde Gross such a huge sendoff last week. We never know when we are going to have to have Gross & Hamm come to our assistance. Flowers to the living.

South Plains Chiros Hold Meeting Here

The South Plains Chiropractic Association met with Dr. Bernice Welton Sunday in a business session. The main discussion of a local Chiropractic Health Club.

Dr. Annie L. Farmer, wife of the noted Tubercular Specialist, Farmer, of San Antonio is the originator of these Health Clubs. They are for the education of the people for more natural living, that better health may be enjoyed by all.

Dr. Cutler of Lamesa, spoke on the general out look for chiropractors. Dr. Cobb of Littlefield brought news of the state meeting held in Amarillo about two weeks ago.

Dr. McCollum of Lockney, told of the success she was having with her Health Club.

Chiropractors of several other towns were present and all were inspired to move forward for the better health of our local communities.

The High Cost of Bad Roads to Farmers

An article in the November issue of the Bureau Farmer vividly shows the predicament of the average farmer in the matter of roads. The article says: "Of 6,300,000 farmers in the United States, there are 2,747,732 farmers on unimproved dirt roads, or almost one-half of the farmers in this country are served by roads no better than those of the ox cart days."

"An additional 1,998,704 farms are located on dirt roads that are ranked as improved, and that means roads that have some grading, some drainage, but nevertheless, during the rainy season are for the most part impassable. Not more than 500,000 farms are located on paved highways and less than 1,000,000 on gravel roads." The article is illustrated by pictures and by statistics demonstrating the high cost of unimproved roads to the farmer.

There is little excuse for such a condition as this. Good secondary roads do not necessarily mean expensive roads—as has now been proved in many western states that are using asphaltic processes to provide mudless and dustless, farm-to-market roads, as well as large mileages of through highways. Every state owes its farmers roads that can be depended upon to afford safe, safe and inexpensive transport at all seasons of the year.

Mrs. Harrel Hansen and family have moved from Avoca, Jones county, to their place in the Hunter community. Welcome back to old Terry.

B. B. Brown of route four was in this week. Says he sure is wishing for some open weather.

Society Prefers Music Soft, Sweet, Not Snappy

DUILIO SHERBO

"I'm All Dressed Up With A Broken Heart," the fox trot ballad that is asked for nightly is like the tear pullers of pre-war times. True, the fox trot rhythm is different from the rhythms of the two-step and one-step of earlier days but the instrumentation is practically the same and the sentiment is certainly the same old one."

Strings Wanted By Even Youngest Generation
New York City.—Judy O'Grady and her Mister and the Colonel and his Lady may be brother and sister under the skin, but they aren't even first cousins as far as their musical preference is concerned, according to Duilio Sherbo, who, for eighteen years, has been orchestra director at Pierre's, the haughty hang-out of Manhattan's 400.
"The society would doesn't change its taste in dance music as the great public does," says Sherbo. "My orchestra is still playing the same type of music that it did back in 1913. I've introduced a little brass, but the patrons of Pierre's prefer strings. They seem to know what they want—soft, sweet music—and they keep on wanting just that, even the youngest of the young generation."
Sherbo has heard popular dance music become blatant, has heard blaring jazz blamed for everything from the failure of a wheat crop because the boys wouldn't stay down on the farms, to the empty churches, but within Pierre's the young and old of the elite have never evidenced a desire for any but quiet, lovely swinging music.
While Sherbo plays a waltz in the American tempo rather than in the Viennese, the tempo must still be languid. The fox trot which succeeded the one-step may be peppy, but New York's elite won't listen to much brass.

James Dunn Heads The "Sob Sister" Cast

"Bad Girl" Star Plays With Linda Watkins in New Fox Drama

its local engagement Sunday at the Rio Theatre, is hailed as being one of the year's most important pictures, and for several reasons.

First, it marks the second screen appearance of James Dunn, who bounded into the film spotlight overnight in his history making screen debut in "Bad Girl."

Second, it introduces to moviegoers a new leading lady, twenty-one years old, gorgeously blonde, a favorite of the Broadway stage, Linda Watkins.

Third, the picture is the first directorial effort of Alfred Santell since his record breaking success, "Daddy Long Legs," with Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter. After that picture Santell was given his choice of all the stories owned by Fox and from them he chose "Sob Sister."

WASHINGTON'S LOST THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Few Americans, we are told by the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, know that the first National Thanksgiving Proclamation was issued by our First President, George Washington, in 1789; and still fewer people know of the interesting history of that priceless document. On October 3, 1789, George Washington issued his Presidential Proclamation calling for a National day of Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 26.

This proclamation went into effect and was soon forgotten. No one apparently attached much importance to the document itself. It was completely lost sight of. Most likely it was misplaced or attached to some private papers in the process of moving official records from New York to Philadelphia, or from Philadelphia to Washington. All we know is that the original document was not in the official archives of the Government until it was "found" in 1921 by Dr. J. C. Fitzpatrick, then Assistant, Chief of the Manuscripts Division of the Library of Congress, and now Editor of the forthcoming George Washington Bicentennial Commission series of Washington's Writings.

It was at an auction sale being held in the hall in the American Art Galleries of New York City. Dr. Fitzpatrick, an expert on Washington, examined the document and found it to be authentic. It was written in long hand by Wm. Jackson, Secretary to President Washington at the time, and was signed in George Washington's bold hand. Dr. Fitzpatrick purchased the document for $300.00 for the Library of Congress, where it is now kept as a treasure. And no amount of money could remove it.

MARRIED

Mr. Wendell Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stephens of the Forester community and Miss Velma Sutton, lovely daughter of Mrs. Pearl Cross, of the Pool community, drove to Lovington, New Mexico, November 22, where the words were said that united them for life.

Mrs. Stephens is a graduate of the 1930-'31 class of Brownfield. She is now, and has been for some time, the operator in the Rainbow Beauty Shoppe.

Mr. Stephens is a popular young man of his community and other places where he is known.

The happy young couple have made Brownfield their home and we, a host of friends, welcome them here. —Contributed.

POOR OLD MAN!

Old man Gloom is in a state of depression. He had the queer notion that he had secured a permanent domicile in the United States and now, much to his dismay, he is about to be evicted and expelled from the country as an undesirable citizen. The trouble is that he is a pessimist and so short-sighted that he can not see the slowly mounting wave of prosperity. He is a sort of anarchist, hoarded money, frozen credits and over production. The sea captain in charge of his exile has orders to sink him in the middle of the Atlantic, without benefit of clergy.

President Hoover has a smile twelve inches wide on his rounded and formerly worried face. He hits at the Navy League, chirps cheerfully about the national credit corporation, and notes the absence of bank failures and the opening up of Aunt Jemima's stockings loaded with hoarded money. "God is in His heaven; all is right with the world," has become his slogan. Banks and price quotations for stocks and products echo his exultation and say that at last old man Gloom is going and Miss Smiling Prosperity is coming back, with the return of good old cool weather and a strong demand for merchandise.

Dallas and Texas gave the old man a kick in the right place some weeks ago. Merchants are losing their winks, banks think heaven is a little nearer than it was a few months ago, and the city, having sold its bonds, is going to join in with the procession and give employment before long on public works.

What the country now needs is courage, faith and a strong determination to present candy and flowers to Miss Prosperity, while telling old man Gloom that the Southwest and the rest of the United States are through with him for ever and a day.—Dallas News.

Loyd Greathouse of the Valley community, was in to see us this week for a few minutes. Loyd is a good farmer and has a good farm.

Hundreds of local people called at the Carter Chevrolet Co., show rooms last Saturday to view the 1932 models. Everybody we talked with expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the '32. They are sure good lookers to say the least, and while not in a position to buy, we have a ride laid away in one of them soon.

A Former Terryite May Run For Gov.

Wichita Falls, Dec. 7.—Representatives from Tom L. Hunter Clubs in the Wichita Falls section and many of the Wichita Falls men's friends and supporters will gather Tuesday night at the county courthouse in his behalf to make a formal demand that he announce for Governor of Texas. Two prominent men from widely separated parts of the State will address the gathering. They are Judge W. D. Colvin of Ellis county and W. L. Hillard of Taft, secretary of the State County Judges' Association.

Hunter has been an attorney and oil operator in Wichita Falls for 18 years and has won national recognition by his efforts to protect the independent operator. Already 100 Hunter for Governor Clubs have been organized throughout the State.—Star Telegram.

Just prior to moving to Wichita Falls, Mr. Hunter taught as principal one year in the Brownfield High School, and while here married Miss Vera Scott who lived here at the time, a sister of Homer Scott, for many years a resident here. Tom, as his many friends here know him was one of the most aggressive students we have known. While teaching a successful school he studied law here, obtaining his license to practice, on leaving here. Tom was a visitor here a few weeks ago and related to us his experiences and observations while head of the Independent Oil Producers Association at Austin and Washington, and gave us some startling information about the Big Oil Companies, known as the major companies, and of his investigations of Public Utilities, and knowing him as we do, if he gets in the race, people who will keep their ears open will also get their eyes opened to some very important matters affecting the public welfare, not heretofore revealed. He is aggressive and a hard fighter and should be elected we can vouch for one thing, won't anybody put anything over him.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the many friends who were so kind during the illness and death of my beloved wife; I also offer my thanks and appreciation for the many beautiful flowers.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas the Brownfield school and community, has sustained a loss in the passing away of Mrs. Paul F. Lawlis, and the Brownfield Parent-Teachers Association has lost a faithful and efficient co-worker.

Therefore, be it resolved that we, as an organization, sharing with her loved ones in their loss do hereby tender them our sympathy and may God who knows our hearts comfort in this trying hour, and;

May we as our organization in memory of her loving patient service while in our midst strive to emulate same, and to rejoice in service.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Herald for publication, and one be spread upon the minutes of the association.

In Thursday's Amarillo News the head on the article about the Japanese-Chinese controversy read as follows: "League Fears Hope Of Peace Is In Jeopardy." Skeet Morrow, being an old soldier, who has been everywhere, got down his Geography but said he couldn't find the location of "Jeopardy" anywhere on the globe.—Groom News.

Gov. Sterling of Texas seems to have a smoother temper than most of the politicians down Austin way. Some seemed to be greatly riled and want the Texas Cotton Cut law repealed because the other cotton states seem a little slow getting lined up. Some seem to be more like a bunch of petulant school boys than statesmen in this crisis, but Mr. Sterling seems hard to excite when he sets his head.

The habit of some of parking their cars on the highway without lights on, should be made a criminal offense punishable with a good stiff prison term. More people are being killed this way now than ever before, it seems, as the highways are more crowded. The habit of leaving loaded trucks or empty ones that refuse to run on the highways is another source of killing and wounding people. This should be stopped.

Texans are all proud that a man from our state is now speaker of the national house of Representatives. The people of this section will also be glad to learn that their own congressman, the Hon. Marvin Jones, was made Chairman of the Texas delegation in their organization, Tuesday, Hatton W. Summers of Dallas was put at the head of the Congressional Committee, and Martin Dies, of Beaumont, Delegation Secretary.

Right now with conditions as they are, President Hoover is having hard sailing, and with an alien congress, his row to hoe is going to be even harder. The Herald did not help to put Mr. Hoover in office, but we would be the last man on earth to martyr a political opponent. And in making a martyr of Pres. Hoover, the Democratic party is liable to kill their own good chance of capturing the senate and executive departments of our government next year. The new Democratic congress should work like statesmen, not like politicians.

For years and years California has been inviting all to come. Come, they said for the climate, come for the fruit, come for the wine, come for the women, come for health, come for sunshine, come for wealth. Well, they certainly succeeded in attracting attention with their much and vast advertising. Not content with this they invented a son called "California, Here We Come," which brought in thousands of others. They came, they saw, they stayed, or at least many did. Too many. It was alright and everything merry until old Man Depression decided to move over on the Pacific too. California had made the most rapid gain in population of any state in the union. They boasted of at least one city of more than a million people. Still the hordes of people came on. It was a warm climate and the winters mild. Was not that the place for a man or woman of shy wearing apparel? But even California had to hollow enough. An average of 1000 a day are flocking to that state, most of which have nothing but their brown hands, according to a clipping before us a friend found in a California paper. Now the people of that state with probably a half million out of employment and to be fed this winter, are asking their governor to stop these hordes of invaders at the border and turn them back. What a reception compared to that of a few years back! The worm has turned in California. But you can still get by the guard if you have a bank account sufficient to buy somebody's orange grove.

Jack Stricklin, editor of the Terry County Herald, last week published a front page story showing how that county might now be able to pave 110 miles of highway at an expenditure of not exceeding $300,000.00 by the county, and he was in favor of putting the proposition over. He says that the State and Federal Governments are now coming to realize that "calche roads, well built, with a couple of hot tops and gravel are just about the equal of concrete in endurance and can be built at about a third of the cost." Mr. Stricklin says he recently inspected some roads in Gaines county built of this material and that they looked good to him. The county commissioners of Terry county had likewise examined this work and were well pleased with it. They were built at a cost of only $3,500 per mile, Jack says. Then Jack proceeds to put up a jam-up good argument for the building of similar roads through Terry county. In addition to the cheapness of construction and the value of the roads thus built, Jack argues that it would be wise for roads band wagon at once before the state bond issue is voted, which he says is coming sure as death and taxes. As to calche roads, the state is now building a section of highway about thirteen miles in length down in Scurry county, between Hermleigh and the Nolan county line, using calche as a base. It has already built some roads of this character in Nolan county. We have not learned the cost. It was pro-baby much more than that Gaines county but much less than concrete roads. If the highways of Lynn county are ever paved—which they will be—it will probably be of the cheaper material.—Tahoka News.

Education Makes a Community Progress

High school education of citizens makes a community progressive because it gives these citizens a broader concept of the lives and affairs of people of other communities. It enables them to profit by the errors which other people have made, it may help a merchant avoid failure because he has studied the causes of some one else's failure. Education enables people to earn more money, and through this medium, the community prospers and is thus progressive. People who have money with which to pay for things will not stand still but push forward and introduce into the community the ideas which are advanced by people of other communities. These ideas are those which lighten the work of the farmer, housewife, and others.

Commercial courses, manual training courses, and home economics in our high school have a more visible effect on the standards of our community than any other courses, although the other courses help in a cultural way. We could name many examples of boys and girls who, without ambitions or goals in life other than becoming men and women, have been pulled out of the rut by some high school course and have made success along certain lines. Many girls have taken home economics and if they have not improved the standards of the community, surely they have improved the standard of biscuit making over the county. Many of the girls have learned to dress themselves more attractively and with less cost. Many boys in our school will make good carpenters from their training in wood work; other enter fields of science on account of the interest aroused in studying science in high school.

Conception of Science

Einstein's theory of gravitation may be compared with thermodynamics. Both start with a few fundamental principles or axioms based on experience and proceed by logical deductions without further appeal to facts. Neither attempts any explanation of the nature of the phenomena considered.

The kinetic theory of gases is an example of a different type of theory. A definite mechanism is assumed for a gas and the properties of the mechanism of the mechanism are worked out and compared with known properties of gas.

If the axioms of the first type of theory are true, the theory itself must be true, unless the reasoning is at fault; both types of theory are to be tested by comparison of the results with observation.

In a like manner we deal with the integral in mathematics. The definite integral can be considered from several points of view. It is of some interest to consider the broader nation, to analyze it and reduce it as far as possible to a logical form amenable to the methods of mathematics.

Our government has taken advantage of the deductive reasoning in science—a fact which has brought about the establishment of numerous weather bureaus. These weather bureaus forecast the weather conditions forty-eight hours ahead, thereby giving both merchants and farmers time to make preparation to save that which is perishable.

In like manner numerous agricultural experiment stations have been erected to improve our methods of planting and breeding. Alone in the U. S. these two factors have brought untold wealth into the hands of our producing public.

Today chemistry has made cotton silk to rival or exceed the great silk industry of Japan. Cotton silk producers today use two-thirds as much of our supply of raw cotton as do the manufacturers of cotton goods.

Spanish Writer Is Studied

The Spanish club met on Tuesday, November 29, and was entertained by an excellent short program.

The roll call was answered by conjugating the present indicative of some verb. An interesting account of Cervante's life was read to the members by Margaret Murray. The club is studying the lives of Spanish writers; and since Cervantes was a very famous Spanish author the reading was enjoyed by all the club members.

Next the club members lined up on opposite sides, with Margaret Murray and Wanna Smith as captains for a spelling match. Out of three trials the two sides stood even, each with the intention of winning next time. Then the program for the next meeting was held by Lois Goza.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a nice athletic limp like Ray Brownfield's.
James P. Davis.

L. J.—When is the 29th of December?
Lee—Four days after Christmas.

Chapel Program Given By Commercial Club

Thursday morning, December 3, the student body of Brownfield High School was entertained by the members of the Commercial classes.

The first thing was a piano solo by Bobbie Hardin.

Following this was a short play entitled "an answer to an advertisement for a stenographer." The characters were: Boss, R. U. Well—Gilliam; an applicant for position, a Lot-a-Speed—Jessie Chisholm, and her girl friend, Ole Swift—Robbie Hardin.

Next was another play entitled "Wanted: A confidential Clerk." The characters were: Jonathan Dobbs—Joe Shelton; Horace Lushington—Howard Davis; Charles Valentine—Bill Gore; Dick Sharp—Gilliam Graham; Harry Dalton—Kyle Adams; John McCormick—James Michie.

The last thing on the program was a song composed by Mrs. W. G. Hardin, by Merrill Coleman, Jessie Chisholm, Robbie Hardin, Bess Thompson, Marjorie Moore, Merle Moore, Marie Moore.

Mary D.—I've got a wisdom tooth coming in.

Eunice—How old are you?

Mary D.—15, Why?

Eunice—Because they say when you cut you last wisdom tooth you have lived half your life.

Mary D.—Aw, that's not so, because my grand father was born with false teeth.

P. T. Girls Play Basket Ball

The P. T. girls met last Tuesday, November 24. The girls first took the exercise and then they played basket ball.

Friday was the usual day for the girls to hike, but on account of the cold weather, after waiting fifteen or twenty minutes for the doors to be opened they started on their exercises by running around the gym. At the close of the period the teams played basketball.

Mary Dee—O. D. hasn't taken his eyes off me for half an hour.

Eunice—How do you know?

Girls Health Program

After the roll was called, the program was begun by a talk "Infections and Antiseptics" by Louise Goza; second there was a talk by Lois Goza, "Headaches and Constipation," third a talk by Dell B. Martin "Recreation to Recreate;" and fourth a talk "Recreation for Health Building" by Margaret Murray.

Mr. Dennis (trying to explain a problem to Mary Jo Neill, which can't be done)—"We'll take it this way, if your uncle's sister isn't your aunt, who is she?"

Mary Jo (pondering over the problem for some time)—"I don't know."

Mr. Dennis—"Your mother of course."

Basket Ball Championship, Our Aim

The athletic club met into a huddle Tuesday for the purpose of learning some basket ball. As the foot ball season is over the boys seem very much interested in basket ball. You know the county championship barely slipped through our fingers last year but we are going to try to win this year.

First there was a talk by coach Marlin Hayhurst on "How to be a successful basket ball player." First, you must love the game. Second, you should practice how to handle the ball and develop a shot. Third, you must hustle, fight and play hard. Coach Hayhurst stressed his admiration of a man who trains, comes to practice, and hustles. There are expected to be at least two full teams ready to play this year. The club wound up with a full discussion of football, by the ones who saw the Lubbock and Pampa game which was held in Lubbock, November 30th.

Charley McDonald of Anton, came in this week and accepted a permanent position with the Ward Shoe Shop. It is said that Mr. McDonald is a fine boot maker, and will keep your boots and bottees in fine shape. Welcome to our city.

The first and only low-priced car with

Synco-Mesh Shift and Free Wheeling

ONE of the biggest driving trends in modern motoring is now available as one of the lowest priced in the automobile market. Synco-Mesh is combined with Free Wheeling in the new Chevrolet Six!

This is the first time that these two outstanding inventions have been brought together in a low-priced automobile. Synco-Mesh is the most advanced type of transmission ever developed. Free Wheeling is that new sensation which adds so much to the rest of driving. The two make a matchless combination! They bring about an entirely new kind of driving ease and car control, far beyond anything you have ever enjoyed. They give you quick, quiet shifting and complete mastery of the car under all driving conditions. They enable you to do things in driving that are impossible without both these features.

If you prefer to drive in "standard" gear, Synco-Mesh enables you to shift back and forth with uncanny speed, silence and precision. This is particularly desirable when descending steep hills or traveling slippery streets. For it enables you to use the engine as a brake, instantly, without slowing down the car.

Then, suppose you want Free Wheeling. Simply press a button on the dash. Thereafter, and until you pull the button out again, you Free Wheel. You coast along with a delightful gliding sensation. And you shift with never-to-be-forgotten ease.

The Free Wheeling mechanism of the new Chevrolet Six is a highly simplified type. Instead of a complicated mechanism with many moving parts, it is a simple, sturdy unit, with only three moving parts.

Then, along with Synco-Mesh and Free Wheeling, Chevrolet offers you 60-horsepower six-cylinder performance, higher speed, faster acceleration, greater smoothness, smarter Fisher bodies, matchless economy, and a first cost that is among the lowest in the market. Certainly it's the great American value for 1932.

The new Chevrolet Six combines the advantages of two inventions . . . Synco-Mesh and Free Wheeling . . . to assure quick, quiet, easy gear-shifting and positive control of the car under every driving condition

CHRISTMAS JOY PROGRAM

A program out of the ordinary has been arranged as a variation and will be offered on Sunday afternoon, December 20th, at the Methodist church auditorium. Mrs. W. H. Dallas announces this "Christmas Joy" is planned for a community pleasure and lovers of music. Miss Eileen Ellington, pianist, will play numbers from classic music masters in several groups. Participants in the Atwater-Kent Raido Audition recently held in Brownfield, will sing in ensemble numbers, as also the girls glee club of High school. Christmas carols will predominate throughout the program. Christmas fireside numbers will be piano solos by three junior high students as a brief prelude to the program. Public cordially invited.

Mrs. W. B. Downing, Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Herod and Mrs. Hilyard were Lubbock visitors Monday.

ACE-HI CLUB

Mrs. W. H. Dallas was hostess to the Ace-Hi club Friday afternoon. Members and other guests present were Mesdames Bailey, Bowers, A. M. Brownfield, Carter, Cobb, McDuffie, Endersen, McGowan, Shelton, Pyeatt, Wingerd, May, F. Smith, Hudgens, Collins and Toone. A meat and vegetable salad, congealed fruit salad, doughnuts, candy and coffee were served. The prize for high score, a pretty bottle of perfume went to Mrs. McDuffie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hill are visiting Rev. and Mrs. E. V. May at Mercedes.

Mrs. S. T. Murphy and Mrs. F. M. Ellington drove to Lubbock Saturday. They were accompanied home by Misses Eileen Ellington and Lenore Brownfield, who spent the week-end here.

ATTRACTIVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Christmas decorations were effectively used at the home of Mrs. Earl Jones Friday afternoon when she entertained members of the Kolonial Kard Klub. Tables, chairs and floor were covered with artificial snow. After four games of auction bridge had been played the scores showed Mrs. Self to be high for club members and Mrs. McSpadden, high for guests. Their prizes were bread board knives. A salad course was served to the following members and guests: Mesdames Akers, Heath, F. Ballard, Hilyard, Cave, D. P. Lewis, McGuire, H. W. McSpadden, Self, C. J. Smith, W. C. Smith, Stricklin, Swan, Telford, Warnick and Miss Webb.

Dr. Lester Teradaway and family of Lamesa, the leaving this week to spend the holidays in San Antonio, with Mrs. Treadaway's folks. It is rumored that Dr. Treadaway may relocate here after the holiday. We hope so, at least.

Chas. M. Davis, who headed the Co-op district offices at Lubbock, for the past two years has resigned, we understand, and his successor is being checked in. Mr. Davis' many friends regret to learn this.

Wyonna Burnett, from Texas Tech, spent Thanksgiving here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burnett. Also Misses Louise and Phillis Holgate, from Canyon were her guests, and visited other old friends while here.

MISS ANTHONY ENTERTAINS

Members of the Laf-A-Lot club present at their meeting Thursday were Mesdames Anthony, R. Ballard, Glover, Swan; Misses Brown, Graves, Lindley and Webb. Other guests were Mrs. Akers, Miss Kathleen Alexander, Miss Ballard and Mrs. Thaxton. High prize for guests went to Miss Alexander and that for club members to Miss Webb. Delicious refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches and hot chocolate were served. At a business meeting afterward the resignations of Mrs. I. M. Bailey, Miss Irene Lindley and Mrs. Pete Tiernan were accepted and Miss Kathleen Alexander, Miss Lena Mae Ballard and Mrs. Earl Thaxton were unanimously elected to membership.

Dick Brownfield had a time landing his plane late Tuesday when he and Tom May returned from their hunt near Dimmitt. They finally succeeded in landing in a field. Dick will have to light up his private landing field.

A. M. Brownfield and Tom May returned Tuesday night from a hunting trip up on the north plains.

Mrs. E. D. Ballard left one day this week to spend about a week in Albany with her brother and sister.

The Lubbock-Amarillo football game Thursday at Lubbock attracted a number of Brownfield people. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield, Lee Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Gillum Graham, Mrs. Roy Wingerd, Miss Lillie Mae Bailey and Mr. Glen Webber were among the crowd of Lubbock boosters.

FIVE YEARS OLD

Christine McDuffie celebrated her fifth birthday Wednesday evening, November 25th, with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McDuffie. About twenty of her little friends (the social editor lost the list) enjoyed an afternoon of games. Following which the birthday cake was brought in and Christine was allowed to blow out the five lighted candles. Favors for each little guest were baked in the cake. Other refreshments were served and candy prizes distributed to all those present.

Many people from Brownfield wanted to attend the Lawlis funeral, at Snyder last Thursday to show their sympathy and love for Mr. and Mrs. Lawlis but the roads were so bad that only one car was taken. Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Penn, Mrs. Pyeatt and Mr. and Mrs. Briley were the people who went. Rev. Turrentine of Lockney, but until recently of this place, delivered the funeral sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sullivan and Miss Pelly Taylor visited friends and relatives in Rails and Lorenzo over the week-end.

Mr. P. F. Lawlis accompanied by his mother returned to his home here Tuesday.

BAPTIST W. M. U.

Bible study, the last two Chapters of Romans was enjoyed by Circle four of the Baptist W. M. U. meeting at the home of Mrs. Jack Holt, Monday. Miss Long conducted the lesson. The next lesson will be the first two chapters of First Corinthians. The Circle will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. J. M. Hill.

Mrs. Roy Davis and Mrs. Alfred Mangrum and their two sons, Dan and Alfred Jr., were Brownfield visitors Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Davis visited her sister, Mrs. Tom Cobb, while Mrs. Mangrum visited relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McDonald of Nocona, Texas have been the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. George Warren this week. A friend, Miss Miller also accompanied them.

METHODIST CIRCLES

Both Methodist Missionary Societies met together Thursday and Monday for further study of the book on Korea. Mrs. Judson Cook led the lesson Thursday while Mrs. B. Hunter led Monday's lesson. Nine or ten members were present at each meeting. These societies met again Thursday for a joint program from the Missionary Voice.

Joe Hardin, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hardin got his arm broken Sunday afternoon while playing on top of a feed stack, when he became unbalanced and fell.

The late government cotton estimate was said to be just 15,000 bales higher than the last.

Do your Christmas shopping early.

FLOWERS AND BIRDS

Make a desirable Christmas gift. I have a large assortment of Bulbs. Will appreciate your order for Pot Plants and Cut Flowers. Also have a few Birds.

METHODIST CHURCH

Worship with the Methodist Sunday at both morning and evening services.

We extend a cordial invitation to all to worship with us at each service, morning and evening. We were delighted with each service last Sunday, two splendid congregations. Our reception in Brownfield has been very delightful. We thank you for every deed of kindness, and word of appreciation that has been spoken about, and for our ministry since we have been in Brownfield. It was nice of you to speak these words. We appreciate the spirit and cooperation that has been shown us by every one, with such cooperation, I can not see why we will not have a great year? We feel, sure each and ever member of the church is going to do their best to put on a full program of the church. I shall expect each and every member to be present at all services of the church making them to be just what God would have them to be. We extend a special invitation to strangers in Brownfield to worship with us, we will be glad to have you, and you will find a glad welcome.

cial report was read we were glad to learn we were out of the red. Let's keep it that way.

The old year is fast flitting away. Let us make the last three Sundays the best yet, by attendance, prayer and offerings.

Services as usual next Lord's day, 10 A. M. to 12 M. Evening 6:30 to 8:30. Come.

R. P. Drennon.

Homer Scott, former citizen of this county, was down from Lubbock last week and informed us that Dr. H. H. Hughes had again opened his dental office here. Homer became a reader.

C. J. Bonham of the Seagraves section was in to see us last week, and put 'er up two dollar's worth.

S. T. Miller, that premier farmer of the Challis section renewed for his Herald and Abilene Morning News last week.

John Cadenhead, of Meadow, called this week, being in this city on business. John always has a bright smile and a cheerful word.

Our good old friend J. W. Spear called to renew Saturday. Mr. Spear says that Mrs. Spear has been rather poorly of late, but did well most of the summer and fall.

A Matter Of Mileage

You buy Natural Gas for a purpose, for heat.

How much gas does it take in your home to run the things that only gas will run?

Do you get out of the gas you buy the full value of the heat there is in it? If you don't, you're wasting gas and money, that's wrong.

There is only one way to get full mileage out of any fuel: That is to burn it in a clean properly regulated appliance. Fuel is fuel, whether you use it to run an engine or a home.

BON TON BAKERY

Two Our Many Customers:

We wish to thank you for the nice business you have given us for the last four years and as flour has taken a sharp advance, it is necessary for us to go back to 7 cents per loaf for bread. We are not taking this step to inconvenience any one, however. We feel we cannot operate at the present low price of bread.

All neighboring towns around us has gone back to seven cents and we ask your cooperation in helping maintain fair prices. We are giving you the best loaf of bread that is possible to make and the best material that can go in a loaf of bread. So do not forget that all good grocery stores handle Golden Kream Bread that is delivered fresh twice daily. It is not two or three days old—it is right out of the oven.

Thanking you for past favors and hoping to be your servant for the future.

Chevrolets Now Displayed Aid Employment Throughout U. S.

Right: Head-on View

Chevrolet's new car for 1932, embodying silent Synchro-Mesh transmission in combination with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost, and practically every proven automotive advance of recent years, is now displayed at dealer show-rooms throughout the country.

While remaining in the price class in which it won world leadership this year, the new 1932 models offer features heretofore considered exclusive to the high price field, as well as a new front end mounting never before shown on any car.

Called "The Great American Value for 1932," the line offers in support of this slogan a twenty per cent increase in power, faster acceleration, top speeds of 65 to 70 miles an hour, new Fisher bodies with a modern streamlined styling, down-draft carburetion, counter-balanced crankshaft, finger-tight front seat adjustment and many other refinements over the 1931 models, which, from the standpoint of public acceptance, were the most successful in the history of the company.

Twenty standard and de luxe models are in the new line, of which the Special Sedan, pictured above, is the aristocrat. The lower view shows the new front end and the massive, powerful appearing hood enclosing the improved engine.

In addition to interest centering on the cars themselves, the announcement at this time has national significance in that activity brought on by production of the new cars is expected, at conservative estimates, to add materially to the earnings of 200,000 people throughout the country just before the holiday season and before the severe winter season sets in.

The company's 21 domestic plants all are busy producing cars as fast as precision manufacturing limits will permit so that deliveries may be made with the least possible delay. More than 30,000 of the new cars already have been built for dealers' showroom displays, and more than that quantity are expected to roll off the assembly lines during the present month.

The new car is the first in the low-price field to offer the combination of silent Synchro-Mesh transmission with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost. A control button on the instrument panel enables the driver to use the free wheeling device only when he desires, and he is thus able to utilize the full braking power of the engine when desired.

The front end offers a radically changed appearance with a new type radiator, a radiator grille built integral on all models, a double tie-bar arching gracefully between the fenders, on which are mounted bullet-shaped headlamps and a trumpet-type horn just beneath the left headlamp. All models have adjustable hood ports chrome plated on all the sport and de luxe models, and all have cow ventilators controlled from the driver's seat.

With the new streamlined bodies, the external sun visor has been eliminated, and its purpose is now served by an internal visor adjustable to any position in front of the driver. The left front window also has an equalizer built in so that the driver may adjust the window with little effort. On the top rail of the instrument panel is a removable ash tray for the convenience of front seat passengers.

Robe rails, silk assist cords, window shades, arm rests and ash trays on both sides of the rear seat, dome light, foot rests, large door pockets and many other big car refinements are standard with various models in the new line.

Chevrolet's Big Adver- tising of New Model

Featuring the most comprehensive announcement program ever used by the Chevrolet Motor Company 5,355 leading daily and weekly newspapers in the United States introduced the new 1932 Chevrolet Six last week.

In addition to newspapers, the pro- gram proficed for the use of radio, poster panels, phonograph records, canvas banners, dealer window dis- plays, and several other media.

First news of the new Chevrolet was flashed in teaser manner by 25- 000 posters in towns of 15,000 popu- lation and over. The posters, with a total length of 118 miles, comprised a showing 50 per cent larger than any manufacturer in any business has ever staged. The posters were panel- ed on Nov. 23, and for one week their messages was "Keep Your Eye on Chevrolet."

The next news of the new Chevro- let came over the air. On the night of Nov. 29, the company began a week of spot broadcasting over 168 sta- tions. "Keep Your Eye on Chevrolet" was the theme of the radio program.

On Nov. 29, also, Chevrolet deal- ers decorated their windows with teaser displays. The material for these displays was a part of 76 tons of promotional matter mailed by the Chevrolet Motor Company. Included in this tonnage were eight square miles of silhouette cardboard, 30 linear miles of canvas banners, and 1,100,000 lapel buttons.

On the morning of Dec. 2, teaser phonograph records, bearing nothing more than an address and a warning to play at once, were delivered by Uncle Sam to 1,280,000 Owners in all parts of the country. The mes- sage on the record informed them that a new Chevrolet was on the way.

Further radio announcements, of one minute duration, were made over 151 stations on the nights of Dec. 2, 3, and 4.

Then, on Dec. 5, the 5,355 news- papers printed the announcement of the new 1932 Chevrolet Six, the 25- 000 posters were chanked accord- ingly, and the public was thronging its way to dealers' showrooms.

Dr. Robert Harp and family are moving to Olton, Texas. While we are sorry to see these good people leave here, the doctor informs us that he will practically have an open field there, as there is but one phy- sician, and he is quitting on account of age.

Cecil Akers, who helps Sam Tank- ersley on his truck line from Lub- bock to Brownfield, was in this week on business. Cecil told us that his mother, or rather his step-mother, whom he always loved like a real mother, was living in Slaton, and that her brother, who is well fixed, had built a nice little cottage and deeded it to his mother and another widow- ed sister, who live together in the home built by their brother.

R. R. Jacobs and small son, were here Tuesday from Plainview, where they moved from here last January. Rome says he don't sow any wheat this fall as it was too cheap to hire it harvested.

W. J. Hicks of route one called in to renew this week and informed us that he had two rather rare pieces of money. One of them is a half dime and the other a silver three cent piece. We rather suspect the later is sure enough valuable. He aim to bring them in some time for us to see.

Dick McDuffie, cashier of the First National Bank has been a very sick man for the past two weeks, but we are glad to report him on the mend.

Mr. Garland Miller of Dodsonville, Texas, who married Josie Hudson, was in the see us the past week and informed us that he and wife were taking the little child left through death of his parents, and last week his grandmother, Mrs. I. H. Hud- son. He said they would do the best they could be to the little fellow. He also informed us that Miss Stella Hudson married a Mr. Chas. Mills, and that they lived at Carlsbad, N. M.

J. R. Martin was in from the Mead- ow section recently to renew for his Herald.

SPEAKER "JACK" OF TEXAS

"Speaker Jack Garner of Texas."

A little premature, perhaps, but what's the difference?

A fine man from a wonderful state, whether you like his politics or not.

"Jack" is a good, wholesome Amer- ican name, and with all of this fore- ighn propaganda circulating around in the United States we can't inject too much Americanism into the offi- cial life at Washington.

And even his friendly enemies, the republicans, respect and admire Jack.—Editorial League.

SECOND WOMAN SENATOR

Little Rock, Ark.—Appointed by Gov. Harvey Parnell as the tempo- rary successor of her husband, the late Thaddeus R. Caraway, Mrs. Hat- tie Caraway becomes the second wo- man in the history of this country to sit as a member of the Senate. The first was Mrs. Rebecca Latimer el- ton, of Georgia, whose appointment was solely complimentary.

AUTHOR OF "DIXIE"

Whenever the stirring tune of "Dixie" is played, particularly in the South, it is met with hearty applause. Thus, do Southerners pay tribute, unconsciously as a rule, to an Ohio Yankee.

For "Dixie" was composed by Daniel Decatur Emmet, born in Mount Vernon, Ohio, in 1818. Em- met, like that other writers of South- ern songs, Stephen Foster, never lived in the South.

Emmet was one of the organizers of the first negro minstrel com- pany to tour the country, formed in 1842, when it opened in Chatham Square Theatre, New York. He was afterward associated with Dan Bry- ant, and in 1856 he formed his own company. He retired in 1878 and died in 1904 at the age of 89.

The song "Dixie" was written in 1859 and instantly became popular. The South adopted it and now after 50 years stirs its hearers with un- diminished enthusiasm.

In 1927 a tablet to Emmet's mem- ory was unveiled in the churchyard of the Calvary Episcopal Church at Fletcher, N. C. the first memorial erected to him in the South, marking another link in the chain which binds the reunited country.

STUDENTS' "BONERS"

Two volumes of amusing "boners" compiled by Alexander Abingdon from student's examination papers have been published recently by the Viking Press. A few samples fol- low:

Acrimony, sometimes called holy, is another name for marriage.

The government of England is a limited mockery.

In Christianity a man can have only one wife. This is called Mono- tomy.

Jacob, son of Isaac, stole his broth- er's birth mark.

Climate lasts all the time, but weather only a few days.

The letters M. D. signify "mentally deficient."

A census taker is a man who goes from house to house increasing the population.

Ingfellow was born in Maine while his parents were traveling on the continent. He made many fast friends; among the fastest were Alice and Phoebe Cary.

L. D. Chambliss, one of our best farmers, was in this week and re- newed for the Herald and will try the Abilene daily next year. He has a Wichita Falls daily till Jan. 1

H. A. Lattimore, of Lubbock, south plains circulation man for the Star- Telegram, spent Friday and Satur- day in our city looking after renew- als.

Tom T. (Fig) Thompson showed his citizenship the next day after getting all his household goods here from the San Antonio section by becoming a reader of the Herald and Star-Telegram. If you don't savvy the (Fig) business, that was the pet name his dad gave him way back in old Tennessee, and the only one he was known by his playmates and school mates. It stuck until he came to Texas, when it was apparnet- ly forgotten.

ACRE YIELDS OF COTTON IN 1931

The average production of lint cotton this season is estimated at 159 pounds per acre for Texas, 221 pounds for Louisiana, 175 pounds for Oklahoma, and 246 pounds for Ark- ansas.

California, in its irrigated section, made an average of 443 pounds per acre and New Mexico followed with 390 pounds. The highest yield in what may be termed the South was made in Virginia, where the acre yield was 300 pounds. Virginia, how- ever, produces but little cotton, its crop this year being estimated at 42,000 bales.

The highest acre yield made in any State producing 500,000 bales or over is credited to North Carolina where the average is estimated at 285 pounds. While Texas has produced nearly one-third of the total Ameri- can crop, it had the lowest acre yield of all States, but a better yield by 45 pounds per acre than it had in 1930.

The total crop for Texas is estimat- ed at 5,250,000 bales and for the country 16,903,000 bales, the second largest crop in history. This yield was made on a 10 per cent decrease in acreage as compared with 1930 evi- dence of what favorable weather con- ditions and decreased insect damage will do for production.—Farm and Ranch.

Two volumes of amusing "boners" compiled by Alexander Abingdon from student's examination papers have been published recently by the Viking Press. A few samples fol- low:

Acrimony, sometimes called holy, is another name for marriage.

The government of England is a limited mockery.

In Christianity a man can have only one wife. This is called Mono- tomy.

Jacob, son of Isaac, stole his broth- er's birth mark.

Climate lasts all the time, but weather only a few days.

The letters M. D. signify "mentally deficient."

A census taker is a man who goes from house to house increasing the population.

Ingfellow was born in Maine while his parents were traveling on the continent. He made many fast friends; among the fastest were Alice and Phoebe Cary.

L. D. Chambliss, one of our best farmers, was in this week and re- newed for the Herald and will try the Abilene daily next year. He has a Wichita Falls daily till Jan. 1

H. A. Lattimore, of Lubbock, south plains circulation man for the Star- Telegram, spent Friday and Satur- day in our city looking after renew- als.

Tom T. (Fig) Thompson showed his citizenship the next day after getting all his household goods here from the San Antonio section by becoming a reader of the Herald and Star-Telegram. If you don't savvy the (Fig) business, that was the pet name his dad gave him way back in old Tennessee, and the only one he was known by his playmates and school mates. It stuck until he came to Texas, when it was apparnet- ly forgotten.
