RALLS BANNER TELLS THE TRUTH ONE WEEK

Editor Dick Hyatt Takes Text From Herald Editorial. Heads It "Misery Loves Company" and Pours it On. But It Is Not as Bad Here as It is Painted There.

Several weeks ago, the Herald had a short article in the Herald concerning the cheapness of circulars as done by out of town firms, mentioning the fact that some of the merchants were patronizing some of these firms. We mentioned the fact that we did not intend to do any work and furnish the material at below cost of production, even if it meant that we had to close shop and get our old grubboe and hie to the high shinnery, live on red beans, sow belly and black coffee as of yore. We still know the lick, and we know that we can get some good muscle with that diet and that kind of labor. The incident passed from our mind. But it did not pass from the mind of Dick Hyatt of the Ralls Banner. He took the short editorial as a text like as a preacher takes his text in or from the Bible, and when his three column sermon was over, he had exposed the hypocrisy of just about all the old timers in his city. We note that some papers reproduced his as well as our part of the article, but as it is rather long and concerns only Ralls and Ralls people, the Herald has no intention to air the matter further than these comments. But if Ralls business men are treating their home paper as badly as Dick points the matter, they certainly need a going over, and Dick has done the job well. If such is the case over there, they really don't deserve a paper such as Dick is giving them. And we believe that Dick is too loyal to his town to make such exposes if they do not really exist.

make anyone sore, but there was much in it to cause every one to think. We should all buy just as little away from home as possible. No dry goods man should send or go to another town for his other needs. No furniture man should go to another town for his dry goods or grocery needs. Indeed, we hold that one dry goods man, if he does not have what his family needed should first try to buy it from his competitors in the home town. This applies to all other businesses. Every time we go to a city to trade, we lessen just that much the finances and possible growth of our own little city and at the same time build up the larger places. We are cutting our own throats to save a few pennies. After reading the following issue, we know that Dick's masterful editorial did some good. Some of the business men said so, and acknowledged that it put them to thinking. Along with such acknowledgements came a few brickbats, but they are to be expected. But he mostly got flowers, we hope. To say the least, he was not mobbed or his plant burned, for he has issued another paper after telling the truth about his people. You know it is often the truth that hurts most. Dick closed his long article with the following that we wish to reproduce.

The old idea, Jack, about "Home Town Loyalty" seems to be passed. We have preached it and lived it, thinking that we were doing the right thing and proper thing, but we have arrived at the conclusion that such was a beautiful theory but as impractical as an udder on a male hog—folks just do not live that way now-a-days—and the sad part of it, as we see it, is that it means FINIS to the smaller towns and stimulus to the larger towns. It's sad because a small city, such as we have had many of in the past, is the most ideal place on earth to rear a family of sons and daughters in an atmosphere conducive to strong character, right living and desire to accomplish the higher and nobler things of life. Now, Jack, if the citizenship mobs us for writing this article and publishing same we ask that you come over to our funeral, shed a few tears, place a pretty rose on our casket, and ask the undertaker to place the following words on the little piece of white card board that fits in on the little stick at the head of the grave. "Here lies the body of a poor printer who loved his town and its people, but who strayed from the path of custom and published the truth, only once, but that was one time too many."

Old Time Terryite Here Past Thursday

Among those here Thursday, was J. M. Story, one of the old timers of Terry county, who now has a good place in the Sligo community in Yoakum county. J. M. came sneaking in with a grin, and announced that he thought we had forgotten him. That he had not had a dun from us in over a year, and that it well might tickle him to death when he got one last week which showed that he had not forgotten him just cause he moved over in old Yoakum. Well, he had the dollar-fifty from the Herald and Dallas News another year. Boy! it is hard for us to forget old friends, and when they come smiling in our front door and cross our old sunburned palm with a Jewflag and a piece of silver big enough to rattle, we are entirely disarmed and are ready to hug and make up. And you know these old timers all seem to pay with good grace. Well, they have been here long enough to know that old Jack sure needs the dough. J. M. says the Sligo community is now a consolidated district, and that the school building has been moved north of where it used to be and that they have a fine community and a fine school. He also said that he made a fine cotton crop this year and more feed and corn than he ever made before in his life.

Joe George, of Lubbock, was here this week on business. Joe was just a lad attending the Gomez school when we landed in Terry 23 years ago.

Local Negro Kills Father-in-law at Lubbock

Somewhere around nine o'clock Sunday night, Joe Stapleton, colored, of this city, is said to have shot his father-in-law, Will Morrison, through the lung and that Morrison died just before being carried into a hospital at Lubbock. The shooting occurred at the home of Morrison in Lubbock, we understand. The best we could gather was that trouble came up over the alleged attentions of Stapleton's sister-in-law to a Lubbock man. The lie was passed and Morrison is alleged to have started toward Stapleton with a knife, when he (Stapleton) pulled his gun from his shirt and fired five times.

Joe and wife together with his brother-in-law here had gone to Lubbock that day to visit and he is alleged to have taken the car and left without the rest of the party for Brownfield. He was picked up soon after arriving here by Sheriff Telford. He wanted to get back where he had some white friends he said. He did not know his father-in-law had died. Lubbock officers came after him in a few hours. Morrison was a step-father to Stapleton's wife. White people here with whom Joe has worked say he is a real faithful employee and of a moral disposition, and that they hope he will prove before the court that he was not the aggressor.

Lee Roy McCravy of Plains sends in another dollar this week. Says he has been in Yoakum county 35 years but never took the Herald before. Some one sent it to him for a year. Guess he liked it or he would not have renewed.

Tudor Says Cars to Be Demonstrated in Mar.

Henry Ford has confirmed rumors that he is planning to bring out an improved four and a new V-type eight cylinder car in the near future, according to Red Tudor, local Ford dealer, who also states that the chassis of the new models will be so constructed as to permit either four or eight cylinder engines.

Mr. Ford in an open interview has recently confirmed rumors that the new car will be of longer wheel base, lower hung chassis and heavier. He added that production would begin sometime in Feb., the first public showing to be early in March. Although Mr. Ford did not indicate what price changes if any will be involved, Mr. Tudor said, this confirmation of the numerous rumors that have been in circulation here for the past few months definitely relieved the air of uncertainty that has existed in trade circles.

The new line of Ford cars, it is understood, will consist of 10 models, all of which will continue in the low price field. Ford said plans to place the eight cylinder car on market were delayed a year by the depression.

The new Ford takes the Ford-named product away from the four cylinder field for the first time since it abandoned the two cylinder car.

CARD OF THANKS
I take this means to thank my neighbors and friends for their help and encouraging words during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. May God bless each of you in our wish and prayer.

T. P. NORTHERN WILL BUILD ALL OR PART OF NEW LINE

Those Who Have Been Arguing that the T. & P. Would Not Build Any if Not Permitted to Build All the T.P.N. Are Left Without a Leg to Stand On.

There has been a lot of discussion pro and con the possibility that the Texas & Pacific railroad would build to Brownfield if they were not permitted to build on the Vega. A lot of people here seem to be of the opinion that should the Interstate Commerce Commission refuse to let them build on northward, the whole thing would be dropped. People who hold to this belief offer no argument as to why they believe that way. On the other hand, those who hold to the belief that the T. & P. will build from Big Spring to Brownfield and Lubbock whether or not the road is allowed on north or not, offer the following arguments in their contention. The railroad will do so first, because it will give them a good short line into a fast growing section now inadequately supplied by railroad facilities, especially to the east and west. Second, they will build it because it will then put them into or near the middle of the territory they wish to penetrate, and when times return to normal and the Plains section starts a rapid development, they believe the I. C. C. will then readily grant the rest of the road asked for in the original petition. In other words, they argue that the T. P. will take a half hog rather than miss the whole hog. To confirm this belief, we were shown a dispatch from Austin this week that appeared in the Star-Telegram to the effect that Mr. G. O. Bateman Vice-President and General Manager of the Texas Pacific Northern and appeared before the Texas Railroad Commission looking after other matter connected with this proposed road as well as the extension of the T. P. from Ballinger to San Angelo. In an interview he substantially confirmed the fact that the Texas Pacific would build part of the road whether or not a certificate was granted for all of it or not. But he went on to say that if all was not granted, they might file a motion to be heard before the full I. C. Commission. Examiner Weed, before whom the case was tried at Lubbock last spring, recommended that the road be built to Brownfield and Lubbock, but not further at this time, indicating that the time might come when all the road would be needed. But what the most of us cannot understand is why, with all the need of public work; why with all the begging and pleading that work be opened up by many of the departments at Washington, why is this work being held up when a railroad company with money to spend want to spend it for work and material, and the I. C. C. is holding it up, taking their own good time to decide the matter. Nearly two years has passed since the Texas & Pacific announced that they wished to build a road through this section, and it seems but little nearer a solution now than it did then. Yet, President Hoover and all the high ups at Washington are continually whooping it up for men with means to open up work. Verily the red tape spool has lots of windings.

Series of Robberies Here Saturday Night

Three places were broken into here Saturday night, and while not a great deal was taken at either place, the aggregate amounted to quite a bit. The Murphy Bros. grocery was probably the biggest loser, most of which was tobacco and cigarettes. In the postoffice all the small change in the rural mail carrier's boxes was taken. One box escaped being high up on a shelf. We understand that some pistols were taken in the postoffice, also. The Rialto Theatre had been entered, but so far the management has not found anything missing.

A local blacksmith shop had been broken into, but all that was taken from it was a large sledge hammer. This was used in breaking the bolt off the postoffice safe. A postal inspector is helping in the case. Sheriff Telford had a fingerprint man come down from Lubbock, but evidently the man who welded the sledge had on gloves as no fingerprints were found. Nightwatchman Frosty Ellington left the streets about three in the night to carry his wife where an old friend had died, and it is thought that at least some of the burglary was done while he was away.

In conversation with Sheriff Mon Telford, he informed us that he had a pretty good idea who did the work, and that they were working to that end, and that officers all over Texas and New Mexico were looking for the men, a good description of which was obtained from a local cafe man. The cafe man reported that one of the men had come in his place about 4 in the morning and made a purchase for which he paid all in pennies. He also tried to get several hundred pennies changed into silver or bills. He recognized one of the men as a fellow he had known ever since he was a boy, and over whom a sentence is now hung, but is thought to be out on bond. Another is thought to be an escaped convict. The cafe man says they had a winchester up in the seat with them. A filling station at Ropes was burglarized evidently before the trio reached here, and the Homer Johnson filling station just over in Yoakum county was entered probably by the same men after they left here. Officers believe that it is only a matter of a few days until they will be located and held.

Brownfield Boy on Tech Judging Team

Lubbock, Texas, Feb.—The livestock and dairy cattle judging teams have been chosen to represent Texas Technological college at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth March 5, according to Professor R. C. Mowery, coach of both teams. This will be the sixth year Texas Tech has completed in the college livestock judging contest at Fort Worth.

Members of the junior livestock judging team are: Buford Browning-Fluvanna; Harlan Howell, Brownfield; Ben Jenkins, Gail; James Potts, Lubbock; Curtis Williams, Lubbock. Students selected for the junior dairy cattle judging team are: L. M. Hazel, Spur; Chester Hufstader, County Line; Robert Huser, Grand; N. K. Snodgrass, Lubbock; P. C. Wylie, Valley View. This will be the first year a team from Texas Technological College has entered the college students' dairy cattle judging team contest.

District Convention I.O.O.F. Here in April

We have been informed that the convention of the South Plains Odd Fellows Association will assemble with the local lodge on April 7th, and that the local fraternity is making big preparations to entertain the visiting members in great style. Not only will there be business sessions and a general get-together meeting, but much floor work will be had. The Odd Fellows of Brownfield and vicinity who belongs to the local lodge will furnish the meat, pickles, bread and coffee, and the wives of the members are asked to bake a cake. All the old friends are glad to see Geo. Tiernan on the streets again. His horse stumbled and fell on him some three weeks ago.

GREAT CROWDS FROM BIG TERRITORY EXPECTED

All Things are Now Ready to Launch the Greatest Trades Day Ever Attempted by a Town the Size of Brownfield. Civic Club and Merchants United on This One.

Brownfield is expecting you and you, Monday. The little pot has been thrown away, and all the big ones put on to boil. The fatted calf has been killed, the barn floor has been cleaned off for the dance. So on with the dance. We are not only expecting the old stay-at-home boys to be on hand, but the prodigals are all expected to be in the old home town Monday. If fact, we expect to make it a real home coming. We expect to see them here for miles around.

Bring in Your Trading Stuff
And don't forget to bring in your trading stuff, and be sure that you have on your trading clothes, for there is going to be a lot of people here in the same humor. They are going to come to trade or bust and you know when a good trader, a determined trader meets a determined trader what happens. And don't forget the ladies and the boys and girls too old for school. Load on the whole family and let's all make merry together.

All Things Are Ready—Come to the Feast
The Lions Club with the full cooperation of practically every business house in the city, have lined up to put a real First Monday Trades Day over in great style. They have been working almost day and night for the past few months to that end. There is a lot of work connected with getting it started and making the first day a real success. Of course there will be work connected with all of them, but getting started right is the first battle won or lost. This one will be WON.

First One Which Has Had Full Cooperation
Heretofore, all First Monday Trades Days have had just a few men behind them. Good men, it is true, but just a few, and in most cases they failed to get the full cooperation of the business men here. They would flourish for a few months and then die down for want of leadership or attention to details. No prizes were offered and little advertising was given the matter. This one has not only a real live working Civic Club behind it, but they have gotten the full cooperation of every merchant in the city. Not only that, but some attractive prizes have been offered. Before this just a few merchants would offer special prices. This time just about all of them will do so.

Don't Forget To Bring Your Tickets
The Lions Club secured about 100,000 tickets the first rap out of the box. Since then many of them have been given out by the merchants to all who purchase $1.00 worth of goods. This will continue from month to month. The drawing will take place on the east side of the square Monday afternoon. The time of the drawing will be in the Lions Club ad this week. Watch for it. Our understanding is that the first numbered stub drawn out will be the $20 bill; the next the $10, and so on, but that will all be explained. The main thing is for you to bring all your tickets and be on hand when the drawing comes off. Brownfield is expecting you in a big way Monday. So don't disappoint us.

Santa Fe-A. & M. Train To Be Here March 30

The Santa Fe Railway is operating a farm and home demonstration train this spring over all its lines in Texas, including the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway. This train is scheduled to reach Presidio March 14, and will be routed over the old Orient Line to principal towns in west and northwest Texas, closing at Snyder April 6, making in all, seventy-six stops. This train is operated in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College which will present entire program.

Four cars of exhibits are carried by the train, an up-to-date agricultural and livestock show of interest to every farmer and livestock grower in this territory, carrying a message of greater profit and better living. The exhibits include dairy and beef cattle, hogs, poultry, angora goats, and sheep.

The program includes talks by experts from the College on the problems that face the farming and livestock industries in west and northwest Texas today. The College has in the course of many years developed a practical and broad program for better and safer farming, lower production costs, and a balanced farming system for the entire year. The train is conveniently located at the Santa Fe Railway station. After the speaking program the people have the opportunity to pass through the train and inspect the varied exhibits provided by the College. Representatives from the college will also be at every exhibit booth to answer questions.

The program will have something for everyone, including the women and the boys and girls. All are welcome. The Santa Fe is glad to be able to bring this school on wheels to the communities along its lines in west and northwest Texas. This train is due in Brownfield at 1 p. m. Wednesday, March 30. Watch for further announcement.

NEW ANDREWS NEWSPAPER
Andrews, county seat of Andrews county, has a new newspaper, known as the Andrews Herald, with W. T. Poodfin, formerly of Monahans, as editor. First issue was February 10. Poodfin was formerly with the Monahans News. The town had been without a newspaper for many months. We note that there are some plum trees in bloom.

Internal Revenue Man To Be Here Today

For the convenience of those who are required by law to file Federal Income Tax returns the undersigned, a deputy collector of Internal Revenue, will be at Brownfield State Bank, Brownfield, Texas on March 4, 1932 to assist taxpayers in preparing their returns. No charge will be made for this service. The matter of filing income tax returns should be given immediate attention, in order to avoid penalty and interest. Income tax returns for the calendar year 1931 shall be filled not later than March 15, 1932 with the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the taxpayer resides or has his principal place of business.—Sidney C. Mason, Deputy Collector.

Two Stacks of Feed Burned at Amherst

Two large stacks of feed, valued at several hundred dollars, were burned at the C. E. Strawn and Henry Adkins farm homes, Wednesday night of last week, 10 miles east of here, by unknown parties. Large placards tied to the fence nearby, and which lettered expertly and signed KKK, said some hateful things. Officers are working on several clues.—Amherst Argus.

BROWNFIELD TO HAVE OWN SANITARIUM

Among the many other enterprises which reveal civic energy and pride on the part of our neighbor on the west, Brownfield, is the recently opened sanitarium under the supervision of two physicians of that place. The Terry County Herald devoted almost a column to the story of their newest institution. The Index joins with the rest of the South Plains in congratulating the city of Brownfield.—O'Donnell Index.

CARD OF THANKS
We take this means of thanking our many friends in Brownfield and Terry county for their help, words of cheer and floral offerings, during the last illness and death of our beloved father. May the Lord bless each of you in our heartfelt prayer.
V. G. Latham's children.
The Hockley county voting strength is placed at 2250.

Deputy Kills 2 After Being Fatally Wounded

Deputy Sheriff J. M. Clifton, 27, died Wednesday night while en route to Lubbock in an airplane, about 9 o'clock, as a result of wounds received in a gun battle with Walter Carlock of Healdton, Okla., and John O'Dell of Hobbs, which occurred Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock on the Portales and Lovington road about two miles south of Cross Roads.

It is said that upon information from the sheriff's force Wednesday morning, that the Dean Hardware store of this city had been burglarized the night before, Deputy Sheriff Clifton noticed the above mentioned men pass through Tatum, and gave chase to find out who they were. Carlock and O'Dell noticed Clifton following them, and stopped their car, and when Clifton stopped his car and approached the men they pulled their guns, and it is said Clifton wrenched the gun from O'Dell, at which time Carlock shot Clifton three times—in the stomach, side and left arm, and Clifton fell to the ground and shot Carlock, who died instantly. Carlock, as he was falling pitched his gun to O'Dell across the road, and Clifton shot him twice just as he was preparing to shoot him, and O'Dell died a few minutes later. Both Carlock and O'Dell were shot through the heart.

After being shot three times Deputy Clifton pulled himself into his car and drove to Cross Roads two miles distance and reported the affair. He was rushed to Tatum, where a plane came for him about eight that night. A small plane came earlier in the day but was too small to carry the wounded man with comfort, hence the long delay. A larger plane was ordered out of Roswell, Dr. Frank C. Scott of Lovington accompanied the officer in plane, and according to the physician Clifton died about forty minutes after the plane left for Lubbock.

Carlock and O'Dell Ex-convicts
According to information received here by the sheriff's force, both Carlock and O'Dell were ex-convicts, and were bad men, and it reported that there was a reward of $250 out for Carlock from Waurika, Oklahoma, where he was wanted for a recent bank robbery at that place. Both of the men were about 22 years of age.

O'Dell was buried here yesterday, and word came from Ardmore, Oklahoma to the local undertaker that a casket was being shipped from that place for Carlock.

Nothing is known of the folks of Carlock, but it is said the parents of O'Dell live at Hobbs.

The Chas. A. Lindbergh baby was kidnapped from their home in New Jersey Tuesday night. A good description was obtained of the kidnapers.

B. M. Tuttle and wife have just returned from a visit to their old home in Oklahoma.

"Hunger March" Started Revolution in France

In France the great revolution began with the arrival in Paris during July, 1789, of thousands of "hunger pilgrims" from the provincial towns. James Waldo Fawcett writes, in the Washington Post. They had marched to the capital to demand bread of the king. It was these riotous elements which joined with the city mob to take the Bastille on July 14. By October the swollen population of the metropolitan area was starving. The municipality endeavored to supply bread to the more necessitous people, but the demand was too great to be met in this way. On October 5 a delegation of women set out for Versailles to petition Louis XVI. As they marched they were joined by multitudes of other women. Arriving at their goal they increased their originally mild demands.

The "insurrection of women" was promptly followed by a similar march to Versailles of the men of Paris led by the National Guard. The arrival of La Fayette saved the royal family for the moment, but the king was forced to return to Paris, accompanied by the mob. On January 21, 1793, he was executed. The French revolution was "a marching revolution" from first to last, and in the end Napoleon Bonaparte was directing the marches.

Sugar and Insanity in Bond of Relationship

There is a relation between sugar and melancholy. Investigations reported by Dr. P. K. McCowan in the British Medical Journal, Lancet, show that in certain types of insanity the amount of blood sugar above the normal is closely associated with the depth of the depression.

Doctor McCowan has devised a technique for measuring the "hyperglycemic index" as a measure of abnormal blood content and believes that it has some diagnostic value. Thus a patient who apparently had recovered from a depression would not be released while the blood sugar remained too high. In insane states characterized by extreme excitement, he found, there is little abnormality in this respect.

Sometimes a depressed patient will be found, he reported, who has a low blood sugar index. This is a bad sign and greatly diminishes the likelihood of recovery.

The sugar increase in depression, he says, is a secondary phenomenon incidental to body changes that accompany emotion.

Day of "Full Dress"

"How many undergarments should be worn in cold weather?" was one of the great problems of the belle of the nineties. Doctor Everett of New York city, author of "Health Fragments," thus expressed his opinion: "From the first of November until the first of May, three suits should be worn. First: a full suit of wool flannel from neck to heels and wrists. Second: a full suit of heavy unbleached English cotton flannel, entirely covering the suit of wool flannel, or first suit. Third: a light suit of pretty muslin, extending to knee and wrist. If, over all these, a lady desires to adorn herself by an exquisite chemise, which buttons in front from top to bottom, there is no objection to her doing so. She will be neither warmer nor colder by the addition."—Detroit News.

English Folk Lore

Here are a few interesting superstitions of rural England: "Hit no animal with a willow stick—for the curse upon it." The Blessed Virgin, so it is said, whipped her son with a birch of willow that caused him to say: Cursed be the "Sally Tree" which maketh me to smart. The "Sally Tree" shall be the first to decay at heart. "The Sally" is the local name for willow, in which tree the hen decays very early without killing the tree. Little bird-nest furze among wheat stubble is said to foretell by its spores the number of shillings per bushel the wheat will sell for.

To Prevent Gray Hair

Modern Mechanics and Inventions Magazine points out three rules whereby gray hair may be eliminated. First, keep the head uncovered as much as possible and avoid tight hats. Second, massage the scalp night and morning with the fingers and use a good hair tonic every day and some bland oil once a week. Third, the diet should contain whole wheat bread instead of white bread. Fruit salads are advocated and ample vegetables, especially spinach.

Famous Tea Set

The pink Spode tea set in the museum of the D. A. R. Memorial Continental hall was owned by Colonel Marsteller, aide-de-camp to General Washington. The officer was a distinguished resident of Alexandria. The tea set, used in entertaining Washington, was inherited by the late Mrs. H. A. Mulliken, member of the Army and Navy Chapter, D. A. R.; a descendant of Colonel Marsteller. Mrs. Mulliken bequeathed the pink Spode tea set to the D. A. R. museum.

Highway Grading to Reach Seminole Soon

The grading crews at work on Highway No. 137, north and south through Gaines county, are making good progress and within a few days will have reached Seminole.

This work was started at the north line of the county, through Seagraves, and will intersect Highway No. 83 at Seminole, being the north half of the project through Gaines county, and so far is the only portion contracted by the State.

Those in charge of the work in this section expect the south half of the road through Gaines county and the north half of Andrews county to be let soon. All data and engineering work having been completed and is now at the head office in Austin.

Materials for culverts and other drainage structures is being placed upon the ground and this work was started on the north end this week.—Seminole Sentinel.

THERE IS A REAL GARNER BOOM

When the name of John Garner first began to be spoken in the list of favorite sons for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, very little attention was paid to it. Party leadership continued to blunder in the North and East, and the rank and file of the party began to look about for a really capable leader—one not bound hand and foot to the dragon of liquor or greed.

Today there is a real Garner boom. Texas senators have already presented his name to the nation and there is a rallying to his banners from all walks of life and from all sections.

Yes, there's a genuine Garner boom, and indications are that it will continue to grow and gather momentum until the improbable will happen—a Texan named standard-bearer for the Democratic party.

If this much is accomplished, there is a real hope of a Democratic president being named in 1932. Anyway, Garner and Texas must be reckoned with.—Clarendon News.

An old colored minstrel once said that the Bible taught that it was a sin to play marbles. "Don't it say in lots of places to 'marvel not?'" he asked. If so, a lot of our juveniles are certainly violating the injunctions of the Good Book, for they are almost covering the vacant lot on the east of the square of Saturdays with this game. We would roughly guess that there were not less than forty playing the game there the past Saturday.

Change in Banking Law Sought By Slaton

Slaton, Feb. 27. (Special)—A change in the banking laws regulating holding of bank stock is asked by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce in a resolution voted recently. The petition is signed by A. J. Payne, C. C. Secretary, and J. W. Hood, president.

"The failure of two banks in Slaton has brought to our attention the fact that it is possible for stockholders of banks to own and control stock for which they have not paid, or on which they have borrowed money, and who are unable to pay an assessment when called upon, thereby depriving the depositors of proper protection," the resolution sets out.

It is asked that the state banking department pass rules or laws "that will require all bank stockholders to own their stock without incumbrance, and furnish a bond of an equal amount, or furnish a monthly financial statement to show ability to pay a full assessment if called upon."

J. M. Hill, wife and baby were week end visitors in the home of Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ame Flache over the week end. Mr. Hill reports that he and other government biologists were studying the habits of ducks while on their feeding grounds here in the south during the late winter months. They estimate that there are at least three million on the Plains this season. Their hatching and raising conditions will also be studied in the Canadian lake regions this summer, and on their recommendation will rest the length of the duck season this coming winter.

UP JUMPS THE DEVIL

Nobody could be accused of libeling Jim Ferguson by quoting the phrase "up jumps the devil," when his announcement of entering "Ma" Ferguson in the coming race for governor of Texas is made public.

Jim Ferguson is without doubt the "political devil" of Texas, and once again the responsible, intelligent voters of the state will avail themselves of the privilege of handing him and his low appeal to prejudice the defeat it justly deserves.

There are near two hundred thousand votes short in Texas this year, by reason of unpaid poll taxes, which means that Jim has something like one hundred ninety thousand votes less than he ever had before. The News has said it before and it repeats it again, "The Ferguson are through in Texas."—Clarendon News.

HUNTER NEWS

Rev. Little of Wellman delivered an interesting sermon Sunday morning and Rev. Butler delivered a good sermon Sunday night.

Mr. Oris Breeeland went to Dallas Sunday for a physical examination.

Rev. Butler made a business trip to Odessa, Texas last Wednesday and returned home Saturday morning about daylight on the account of the roads being muddy.

Several cars went to Scuddy to the ordination services Sunday, but on the account of the weather, they put it off until next second Sunday. Maybe they won't disappoint us the next time.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott and Miss Greer had a picnic at Cedar Lake Sunday and took some pictures and had one flat I think is about all that happened.

We are proud that Mr. Hansen is at home now, doing fine and is able to be up a little.

The teachers made a business trip to town Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins and family visited over at Wellman Sunday morning and stayed till services were over Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Owens gave a party Saturday night that was enjoyed by a crowd of thirty-eight.

Miss Thelma Williams is back from Big Spring to stay with us this time for good.

Miss Mildred Therman has pneumonia and has to miss school, but we hope she can come back soon and be with us, for we sure have some time playing and working.

RAILROADS WILL GET THEIR

Looks like the railroads are going to get their's out of that $2,000,000-000 reconstruction fund of Uncle Sam's while the getting is good. The Wabash Railway was loaned $7,173,000 to pay for equipment and meet other debts and the Missouri Pacific was loaned $1,500,000 to pay on loans outstanding.

Black Velvet Suit Is Newest Note for Spring

The black velvet suit, in the dull finish, lusterless variety, is one of the newest notes for spring. The simpler the better—with belted waistline and stream-line effect. Worn with a simple, boyish white satin blouse, white gloves and perhaps a white ascot scarf, nothing could be smarter.

The evening cloak of white velvet long and fitted in the medieval fashion, will stand out in any theater lobby. Especially when it is worn over a gown of garnet red.

White and chambray-colored cotton velvet is being shown in sports coats and jackets.

A striking evening frock seen recently combines a tunic of white transparent velvet with a flowing skirt of black tulle. The tunic employs the new suspender shoulder strap, coming to a "V" in front.

FLASHES FROM PARIS

Flowers cluster at the back of turned-up brims.

Capes of velvet in waistline depth are shown.

Ruffles from the knees down, grace many frocks.

Very shallow crowns vie with the new peaked crowns.

Pale beige, grege and putty shades are being exploited for spring.

Higher necklines, higher waistlines, broader shoulders, shorter skirts is the tendency for sports and informal daytime costumes.

Three Bags

If you follow fashion closely you must know that at least three bags are necessary to a properly planned wardrobe. One of the alligator, very smart, very plain, for sport clothes, one of black suede with a metal band across the top, for street clothes, and a third also of suede but with a jeweled clasp and ornament for afternoon costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shaw were in shopping Friday. Cecil says the weeds are coming nicely on the ranch soon to be followed by the sage buds. He says the later will fatten cattle faster than weeds.

WELLMAN

Wellman Parent-Teacher Association met on the regular program meeting night, Wednesday, February 24th. A program was given in observance of Founder's Day. It was as follows:

House called to order, president, Mrs. Adair.

Prayer—Mr. P. R. Cates. Business, Student Loans and Scholarships—Gracie Moon.

Circulating Library—Mrs. Winn. Founder's Day—Miss Hazel Woodard.

Song—High school boys.

Cake ceremony—Mrs. Adair, assisted by other members.

After the lighting of the candles the cake was sold in a prettiest girl contest. Miss Bonnie Wilkins was voted the prettiest girl.

Parents visiting day was observed Friday. In the morning the parents visited in the class rooms. At noon a delicious lunch was served to the parents and children. In the afternoon a short Arbor day and George Washington program was given.

After the program, a pecan tree was planted. The tree was named George Washington. Then a ball game was played. Junior boys and girls. The following parents visited: Mrs. L. P. Adair, Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Paul, Mrs. Riney, Mrs. W. M. Schroeder, Mrs. Woodard, Mrs. Pace, Mrs. H. T. Wilkins.

Wellman Church News

The Bible Study class of the church of Christ did not have the lesson Friday evening, because Rev. Drennon was away on account of sickness in their family.

Rev. Mitchell filled his regular appointment with the church of Christ Sunday.

Sunday school services were held at the Methodist church.

Rev. D. D. Johnson preached at the Baptist church Sunday at the morning and evening services; also the Saturday evening services.

The B. Y. P. U. is to have three study courses this coming week, Feb. 29, March 4th. They will be as follows:

Senior—Rev. D. D. Johnson, teacher; Intermediate—Mr. Claude Little, teacher; Junior—Mrs. W. M. Schroeder, teacher.

Those from Wellman who attended the B. Y. P. U. Zone meeting at Tokio, were Mrs. S. Z. Paul and son, Taylor; Mrs. Richard Crews and Gracie Moon. Besides enjoying the meeting, they brought back to attendance banner and the next meeting.

Local News

The school was entertained in chapel Monday by group singing and songs by the high school boys, after which Mr. Wilhite told some facts about George Washington's life.

The young men of the community met Thursday evening and formed a "Rough and Ready Club."

There is going to be a play soon. The girls were disappointed Wednesday afternoon when Forrester girls failed to meet them here for a ball game. Their suiting out was not all in vain though. The outside women and teachers formed a team and played them a game. It ended in the outside teams favor, after which a weinie roast was mentioned.

Junior boys and girls played a game of playground, Friday afternoon. It was won by the boys.

The girls attended the basketball tournament Friday evening and lost to Forrester. The team was weakened in several ways. There will be another chance next year. Let's start working now girls.

Mrs. H. T. Wilkins attended the meeting of the County Council board at Brownfield Saturday.

Mrs. Schroeder, who was called to Lubbock Friday, because of the illness of her niece, was accompanied by Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. Brown, her mother, returned home with her.

Mrs. H. T. Wilkins and children and Mr. P. R. Cates visited their parents at Ackerly this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Glibreath moved to Clyde this week.

Most everyone has recovered from the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss entertained the young people of the community with a play party Saturday evening.

Tither!

Biddle did not hit up at Rocky Grove, Texas. Whether or not members of the Rock Point Presbyterian church are doing their part of "naying the preacher," a nearby neighbor's hen is. Last Sunday when the building was opened for worship, seven eggs were found laid on the front pew of the church.

PARIS CATERS TO LOVE OF UNIFORM

Women like uniforms, proverbially, and now they may have military touches in their own clothes, as evidenced by Worth's spring styles.

Chevrons, braids and frogs have been added to the already popular epaulet mode. Metal buttons and chain trims carry the effect still further.

Lines of the spring clothes match the new trimmings, for broader shoulders are correctly military, and the slimmer skirts give the proper fitted-in appearance to the lower part of the figure.

Evening skirts are narrow, as with the daytime frocks, and some are designed with slashed sides. Worth uses some trains, and continues to show the ruffled skirts.

Short evening coats have very wide sleeves, embroidered in angora wool. For day wear, there are many bolero short jacket suits, some with contrasting jackets.

Light-Weight Wool Is Favored for Blouses

Light-weight wool, such as wool shantung, is much in favor with the Paris house of Worth for blouses. White is usually the color with buttons that harmonize or contrast with the suit color.

For example, one of Worth's white wool blouses has green buttons to go with a green suit; another has black or dark blue buttons to accompany dark suits; a third has red buttons designed to be worn with a black or brown suit.

Russian Pajamas

Russian lounging pajamas are very chic. If you have a Russian blouse, why not make trousers to match? Of course you can make the whole costume yourself if you aren't fussy about having it embroidered.

The Bermuda islands are the high points of submerged mountain on the ocean floor.

THE SEA-GOING DOLLAR AGAIN

The merits of the Chinese-Japanese conflict are debatable. On one side we hear of Japan arrogantly extending her power while the rest of the world is upset by economic conditions. On the other side we hear that Japan steps in only to protect her local interests.

Japan may say that she has more right in China than we have in Nicaragua. Japan may have her Monroe Doctrine in the east. Japan may consider it necessary to police China to save it from bandits.

But even if all this is subterfuge, are we justified in imperiling a nation still bleeding from the world war? The super-patriot may call the question cowardly. Let him. Undoubtedly he will be somebody above the draft age. We speak for the people who must pay for war in dollars and their life's blood. Are the young, who must fight, taken into the councils which would pass the sentence of death? No! Old men make the decision. For the young we speak. And for the old, who would suffer, too, we dare to give voice to what is going on in people's minds.

The best argument advanced is that we must face facts today, that posterity may not have to face a militarized east some years from now.

Great God! Must we always live for posterity? If every generation must sacrifice itself to posterity, what generation can find life worth living? This generation has suffered and bled enough, for a while, at least. If any nation on earth would pick a fight with us, let us flock to the colors, fired by righteous wrath, and grind the foe to the sodden ground. But if, to send the flag after the American dollar we must feed another generation of youth to the maw of Mrs. Had best let the sea-going dollar disappear.

The open-door policy in China is not so important as the doors of American homes upon which crepe may hang.

By all means let us remind Japan of her obligations to other nations. Above all, let us be ready and eager to die in a holy cause. Let us lay upon the altar of the republic the gift of life if the republic is imperiled. But let us do it with our eyes wide open and let the cause be truly holy.—Boston Traveler.

Some of our good readers try hard to play on our sympathy here of late. For instance L. E. Bryant of the Union community stopped us Saturday and asked if we would take the last dollar he had to feed the wife and kids on, intimating near starvation. We asked to see the wife and kids that we might personally judge the matter. He refused to show any of them and we told him to hand over the dollar, promising to return it later providing the kids run out of corn bread and beans.

The Herald has added a lot of new readers lately as well as many who have renewed. If you do not get your mail regularly or if you do not get proper credit in a reasonable length of time, please report to this office.

R. L. Cornelius was in the city Saturday and reported that he was still raising some good corn. Farmers think a lot of their corn even if it does sell by the ton.

Senior Play Success

Thursday, Feb. 25th, the seniors put on a play entitled Aaron Boggs Freshman. There was a large crowd present and the seniors were justly rewarded for their efforts. Every one present seemed to enjoy the play and passed many compliments on it. The seniors intend to use the profits of the play to plant shrubbery around the high school and to beautify the campus. It has become a habit of the seniors to leave something to be remembered by. The class of 1930 left the beautiful velour curtain for the stage of the new auditorium. The class of 31 bought us a silk flag for the auditorium and planted our front lawn in grass. Following in the footsteps of the classes before them the class of 32 intends to leave something to beautify our school, as well as stand for a monument achievements.

Thursday, February 24 in Chapel, the seniors gave us two short selections from the seniors play by way of advertising. It seemed that everybody who saw the sample, wanted to know what it was all about for there was an unusually good crowd at the play Thursday night.

Lizzie Taylor: (watching love scene in a movie) why don't you make love to me that way.

High School Quartet Practicing

The High School quartet is practicing on a song every day as Mrs. Dallas has entered them in a musical festival at Lubbock, which is to be held on the 17, 18, and 19 of March. The title of the song is Lullaby. The parts are sung first soprano by Dora Dean Neill, second soprano by Martha McClish, first Alto by Evelyn Pippin and second Alto by Mary Dee Price. As they are very enthusiastic over this trip, they are trying to practice as much as possible.

Stephen Brock—"When I see some of the women that use rouge and lipstick, I don't blame the stuff from running."

Meadow Wins County Tournament

Friday and Saturday night, February 26-27, the girls county tournament was held in the Brownfield gym. Meadow, Tokio, Lahey, Wellman, Forrester and Brownfield are the schools entered.

Forrester and Wellman played the first game, starting at 7:30 Friday night. Forrester was the winner of the game. Brownfield and Meadow played the second game. Meadow winning 14-12. Lahey and Tokio played the third game with Tokio the winner by 28-26.

The final games were played Saturday night. Meadow won over Forrester 23-17 and were victorious over Tokio 43-23, which made Meadow the winner of the county tournament.

Science Club Meets

The Science club met again Feb. 23. We heard several interesting talks given by the members of the club. James P. Davis took a peep into the future and told us about how we would use Zeppelins for buses. He also told us that we would not have to grow a whole chicken to get the piece we wanted. This did not seem imaginable but nothing is impossible, it seems.

L. T. Blitson gave an interesting talk on the common house fly. Mr. Blitson told us about the troubles of a fly and that they had similar troubles to those of men. He informed us that the fly had many troubles and disappointments.

Boyd Moore gave an interesting talk on new inventions that would keep down noise in an airplane. Another talk was given on "George Washington, the Lover of Trees." This talk was given by Manard Smith. He told some things about Washington that not every one knew. Did you know that forty-six trees still live at Mt. Vernon that were planted by Washington. I think Kenneth Moore is going to tell us something interesting next time but be patient. You will hear about it.

Prosperity Just Around the Corner

Absolute proof, I have none. But my aunts washwoman's son heard a policeman on the beat say to a laborer on the street that he received a letter just last week written in the finest Greek from a Chinese coolie in Tembutoo who said that the negroes in Cuba knew

Of an old, old man in a Texas town who got it straight for a circus clown that a man in the Klondike heard the news

From a bunch of South African Jews that someone in Bamboo knew of a man who knew he knew of a swell society rake

Whose uncle's cousin would undertake to prove that his second wife's cousin's niece

Had stated in a written piece that she had a friend who had a friend who knew just when the depression would end.

(Author Unknown.)

Mary Dee: Are you a big man in school?
 Jim Neill: Well, I dunno about that, but I'm the big noise in the study hall.

Glee Club Boys and Girls to Enter Lubbock Music Festival

Mrs. Jackson's boys glee club and girls choral club are entering the music festival in Lubbock the 18 and 19 of March. They have been practicing on their songs for the last few weeks. The boys entering are: John L. Cruce, Murphy May, Sawyer Graham, Ray Brownfield, L. J. Dunn, Morris Hale, Weldon Moore, Wayne Tipton, A. T. Fowler, Lee Brownfield, James Michie, Theo Adams, Charles Barrett, Otis Spears, Logan Redford, Otis Moore, Manard Smith, James P. Davis, Billie Brown, O. D. Thomas, Vernon Bell, O. D. WET PUBLICITY

The newspapers of the country are accused by dry interests of accentuating the publicity of the wet side, of doing this business the drys have failed to take out advertising in newspapers, and of organizing a sort of "racket" against prohibition and its supporters. Incidentally, the newspapers carry these charges in the news columns; if the charge were true, it would be convenient merely to refuse the printing of them in the columns thus accused.

It is probably true that the wet side gets the better of it in the news columns of American newspapers, taking the country as a whole. The personal bias of habits as intimate as eating and drinking is pretty strong and some newspaper men still drink. Drunkenness is quite common in newspaper offices nowadays, whereas it was formerly taken as a matter of course from editorial offices down to the boiler room. But thirst has not been eliminated from the ranks and that fact might have some influence.

The largest newspapers in the country are printed in the centers most hostile to prohibition and most open in violation of it. Some newspapers undeniably use every opportunity to fight the Eighteenth Amendment, regardless of journalistic canons concerning the fairness of news columns. But the suggestion that failure to take out advertising has something to do with it is rather absurd. The ethics of advertising has made great advances within recent decades. The "racket" complained of could not be practiced today by even halfway decent newspapers.

The real bar to much dry publicity is the naive unfitness of it for publication. Probably a more inept corps of propagandists never undertook to assault the wastebaskets of American journalists than the group of retired ministers and volunteer ladies who actually make up the majority—as it seems to the weary desk man on the average newspaper—of protagonists for the dry cause. The wets have hired talent; the drys hire good intentions.—Dallas News.

P. T. A. WILL MEET

The Brownfield Parent-Teacher Association will meet in its regular monthly meeting March 10 in the auditorium of the High School building. All parents interested in the welfare of their children are urged to be present at this meeting. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock to attend to several matters of important business.

After the business meeting the following program will be rendered:
 Song—Audience.
 Readings: "How Mr. Rabbit lost his fine Tail"—Orel Greenfield; "Turn About" and "Country Voices"—Gene Green.
 Virginia Reel—Mrs. Savage's pupils.
 Discussion, "Law Enforcement"—Judge Winston.
 Piano Solo—Queenelle Sawyer.
 Song, by Junior High School Choral Club.
 The School as a Factor in Training for Law Enforcement—A. B. Sanders.
 Chorus—By the Entertainers Club Sponsored by Mrs. Dallas.

Boy Scout Court of Honor Here Mar. 18.

A Court has been called by the local Court of Honor for March 18th. Both troops of Boy Scouts will participate in this court. This is the first Court of Honor held in Brownfield for some time and consequently there are several awards to be given out at that time.

The Local Court of Honor is composed of the various members of the local Board of control. Some of those known to the writer are Troop committeemen, Rex Headstream, W. W. Price, Chester Gore, Munn Telford and H. F. Heath of Troop 19 and Dick McDuffie, R. B. Parish, and Homer Nelson of Troop 45. C. L. Lincoln, Rev. Drennon, James Harley Dallas, Jack Stricklin as members of the Executive Committee, together with the above mentioned men are asked to sit as a Court on this occasion.

The Court will be held in the auditorium of the High school building at 8:00 March 18th. The public in general is invited to attend this meeting. The parents of the scouts are urged to be present. Some of the principles of scouting will be portrayed in the numbers on the program.

Boys interested in becoming scouts should take this opportunity to be taken into the scouting game. They have plenty of time to pass their tender foot test and be received at that time.

Scouts who expect to get awards at that time will have to have record of tests passed in the hands of the scoutmaster by March 12th. These records have to be sent to Lubbock and returned therefore no merit badge or advancement will be received for award at this court after March 12.

ANOTHER PIONEER PASSES ON

One by one the old time settlers of this section are passing over the divide, and their places are hard to fill. The last to go from our midst was V. G. Latham, aged 77, who passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Glen Harris, Sunday morning about four o'clock. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Monday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. Ed. Tharp, followed by burial in the Brownfield cemetery. Mr. Latham had been a member of this church about 42 years.

Mr. Latham was born in Rowell, Mo., but came to the Quanaah section of Texas about 50 years ago. About 25 years ago, he settled on a ranch just over the line in New Mexico, which he later sold and purchased land in the Tokio section of this county. Mrs. Latham preceded him in death some three or four years ago. Deceased leaves seven children, one boy and seven daughters, as follows: Mrs. Lola Simpson, Cheyenne, Okla.; Mrs. Oma Harvey, New York City; Mrs. Mabel Hunt, Dumas Texas; Mrs. Eula Riley, Shirley, Mont.; R. W. Latham, Tokio; Mrs. Glen Harris and Mrs. R. D. Glimp, of Brownfield, all of which attended the funeral, except the ones from New York and Montana.

STILL WORSE THAN WAR!

About a year ago the fact that more persons were killed in automobile accidents during an 18-month period than were killed in the A. E. F. in the World War, was extensively commented upon. Now, according to a booklet issued by the Travelers Insurance Company, automobiles accidents are still worse than war. During 18 months of the World War, 50,510 American soldiers were killed in action or died of wounds, and 182,074 were wounded, not mortally. In the 18 months ending December 31, 1931, 53,650 people were killed in automobile accidents and 1,576,840 were injured.

The Travelers' booklet emphasizes some information that every motorist and pedestrian should know. During 1931 deaths increased 3.3 per cent over 1930, in spite of a reduction in the total number of accidents. Severe injuries likewise increased, despite a reduction in the total number of persons injured. This apparent contradiction is laid to the increasing speed with which we drive. Cutting in, violation of the right-of-way laws, driving on the wrong side of the road, skidding and driving off the roadway were likewise responsible for many deaths.

More than 42 per cent of deaths were caused when a car struck a pedestrian. Collisions with fixed objects accounted for 12.1 per cent and collisions with other cars, 24.9 per cent. In case of injuries, 53.1 per cent occurred when cars struck each other and 29.8 per cent when they struck pedestrians.

These facts are of immense value to the thoughtful motorist. They show the primary causes of accidents and, consequently, suggest means of eliminating them. Drastic steps must be taken if we are to lower the horrible and steadily increasing toll of traffic deaths and injuries.

Vote Without Having A Poll Tax Receipt

Any man or woman who reached their 21st birthday anniversary any time after January 1, 1931, is entitled to vote in all elections in Texas without a poll tax receipt. Article 2955 of the statutes of Texas defines that a qualified elector is a person who has attained the age of 21 years, been a citizen of the state one year and of the county in which he or she resides for a period of six months next preceding the election.

In regard to a poll tax assessment Article 7046 of the statutes states that property rendition for tax assessment and poll tax assessments are made on the basis of January 1st of each year. That being the case, a person who was 21 years of age on January 1, 1931 would be subject to pay a poll tax. However, if he or she should not be 21 years of age until January 2, 1931 (which would be the next day) that person would not be eligible to be assessed for a poll tax, and there could be no poll tax receipt issued before February 1, of this year because none had been assessed.

Therefore, any person reaching the age of 21 years any time after January 1, 1931, and having lived in the state one year and in the county six months before any election is qualified to vote in that election in this county.

AMERICA IS SAFE

A million teachers and thirty million youth march steadily forward—a living monument to a nation and a century that has the vision and the courage to put children first. Let the good work go on. Let every child be taught by his parents and led by his teachers to appreciate the glory of the pioneering spirit; to understand the sacrifice and hardship that go with great achievement; to realize that vast new frontiers of social, economic, educational and spiritual possibility are yet to be explored and conquered; that for the youth of today willing to labor and sacrifice as did his parents of old there are opportunities such as man has never known before.

Be unconquerable spirit of the teachers; the boundless energy of youth; the tradition of democratic opportunity, and our heritage of high ideals are panic proof. Upon that foundation let us continue to build for the better day.—Joy Elmer Morgan in the February Journal of the National Education Association.

LITTLE AFTERNOON FROCK MAKES HIT

Strong Demand for Simplicity in Spring Attire.

It is no wonder that the little afternoon frock is going over so big. There is a strong demand for simple little dresses that have their own cachet of smart individuality and yet veer entirely away from any form of ostentation in design, cut or trimming. We are going to bank heavily on this sort of frock to see us through a season that will be marked by an absence of unnecessary expenditure. So we will look for frocks that can be worn throughout the day and look well wherever they may find themselves. This can only be achieved by the very simple frock that is quite definitely not of the sports category, nor yet of the orthodox afternoon mode.

Between these two extremes we come to the "little" frock, the frock whose charms and virtues we have been extolling and of which you are to see so much this year. Buyers are selecting several such models for copying and exploitation and so one will see them worn by smart women everywhere.

Waist-Length Jackets in Fashion

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A JACKET, and a jacket and a jacket with a few extra jackets just to have a variety is fashion's decree for spring and summer. One really must have a whole wardrobe of cunning little jackets if one lives up to the code of smart dress prescribed for the coming months.

And what a decorative role these versatile jackets are playing. They are everything that is fascinating both as to color and the materials of which they are made. Brief affairs are they, the newest models favoring waist-length.

Fitted eton jackets for daytime wear appear in quantities. They stop above the waistline and smartly contrast the skirt. Other of these little jackets have quite a military bearing, as they are broad at the shoulders and frequently have a double-breast fastening with brass or nickel buttons. Stunning costumes for sports and town wear developed in intriguing novelty lightweight woolsens in gay colors (red, white and blue being in high favor, the world of fashion having gone colonial this season) flaunt these youthful waist-length jackets.

Whether for daytime, afternoon or evening a jacket of some sort is now considered an indispensable part of the costume. At afternoon bridge, for dinner, for the theater and other formal occasions jackets take on a versatile and decorative mood which imparts an enlivening touch to the style picture.

There is nothing stereotyped about the clever jackets which are topping the new spring afternoon and evening frocks. Some of them are of simplest construction, with flowing or bell sleeves and open front similar to the style portrayed in the little center panel above. Whatever this simpler type jacket may lack in intricate detail is offset by its fetching color.

Made of sheerest ice-green transparent velvet as it is, and posed over a formal dance pajama costume of pale yellow chiffon, the color scheme is perfect. As a little summer wrap to slip over lingerie frocks, a jacket of this type will prove a delight the season through.

The black velvet Jaquette to the left declares a greater formality. Its fitted-at-the-waistline silhouette is very new and chic. At the front it lies in a soft knot and two ends. It is worn over a white crepe dress which has a bow tied at the neck, left hanging outside the wrap, which lends to the back a graceful note. White fox fur on the loose sleeves completes this symphony in black and white.

All sorts of intriguing details enter into the designing of the myriads of petite velvet jackets which are so outstanding in the mode, such as for instance, voluminous puff sleeves, ornamental buttons, an abundance of shirring with a plentiful use of decorative bows.

Notwithstanding the allurements of the little waist-length velvet jackets, there is a rival in the field—the bolero or eton made of all-over lace. These little lace fantasies are in loveliest tones and tints, which adds greatly to their charm. The model pictured in the pale blue venise lace. It is significant that the crepe yoke of the black crepe gown is in the same shade of blue. This color alliance of bodice-top or yoke and the little jacket which tops it is a new move which is accentuated throughout the costume design.

It is expected that the lace Jaquette will be a leading item for summer as well as during the spring months, not only in contrasting colors which will lend a gay note to frocks of monotone crepes, but to all types of sheer and dainty dresses.

FEDERATED MISSIONARY SOCY.

Members of all the Missionary Societies, viz. the Baptist, the First Christian, the Methodist and the Presbyterian together form the organization known as the Federated Missionary Society which meets each fifth Monday at the different churches in rotation. The programs are also furnished in rotation by the different societies.

Last Monday's meeting was at the Baptist church with the program conducted by the Methodist societies.

The meeting was called to order by its president. The new officers for the year 1932 were introduced by the retiring officers. Outgoing officers were Mrs. Roy Wingerd, President; Mrs. W. W. Price, Vice-President; Mrs. Harry Longbrake, Treasurer. New officers are Mrs. B. L. Thompson, President; Mrs. H. S. Crews, Vice-President; Mrs. L. J. Dunn, Secretary and Mrs. David Perry, Treasurer. These officers then assumed their stations and proceeded with the regular business of the society, after which a most enjoyable program was rendered. The program was carried out as printed in this column last week with the exception that Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Carpenter substituted very capably for Mrs. W. A. Bynum and Mrs. Toome.

About seventy ladies and thirty children were present. At the close of the program, refreshments of meat sandwiches, fruit pie, and iced tea were served by the Baptist circles.

RECEPTION TO BE GIVEN FOR REV AND MRS THARP

The Jubilee Auxiliary met last Thursday for a social hour in the home of Mrs. Jacobson. A Bible contest was held after which plans were made for a Reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Tharp, to be given Wednesday evening, March 9th.

BEGINNER PRIMARY PARTY

Miss Mozelle Treadaway, lieutenant of the Beginner Primary Department of the Methodist Sunday school and Miss Ruth Henson, Mrs. W. A. Bynum, Mrs. J. H. Carpenter and Mrs. Eubanks, teachers in the department chaperoned about thirty children in a party at the church Wednesday afternoon. Many games were played. Then cookies and cocoa were served.

Misses Lena Mae Ballard and Lucille Webb are visiting in Roby.

Miss Bessie Thompson is visiting her friend, Miss Julia Barnes in Rotan.

ONE LEAP YEAR BABY REPORTED AT MEADOW

The only leap year baby thus far reported on the South Plains this year was a 7 1-2 pound daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Sisk of Meadow. The youngster had not been named when her birth was reported. Her father is a farmer.—Lubbock Journal.

NOVEL WRAPS By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A pleasing venture in fashion's activities is the creating of novel little capes and scarfs of colorful sheer velvet. These cunning fantasies are all that fancy dare picture both as to color and unique design. The winsome cape sketched at the top is made of transparent velvet with self-fabric tiny roses completely bordering it. Another new and voguish type of wrap done in high-key colors of turquoise, coral and green or in any of the delectable pastels is the circular scarf with long pointed ends which are thrown gracefully around the shoulder. They are very lovely worn with prints, or triple sheer or satin gowns.

Mr. and Mrs. Regis Quinlan of Plainview have been spending a few days with Mrs. Quinlan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell. Her sister, Miss Margaret Bell, teacher in one of the Lubbock schools spent the week-end here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey and little daughter, Joe Anne, of Lubbock, spent the week-end with relatives in Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carter of Lubbock visited his nephew, Ralph Carter and wife Sunday.

Mr. Harrison, one of the owners of the Harrison-McSpadden guns here and at Wellman was here on business this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis left Wednesday for Temple on account of Mrs. Lewis' health. Mr. and Mrs. Cye Tankersley accompanied them, returning Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will remain there for some time.

Mr. W. M. Adams was in Hobbs Tuesday on business.

Mr. Crawford Burroughs drove to Lorena, Tuesday, returning Wednesday.

THE VOGUE

Mrs. H. M. Pyeatt entertained the Vogue club in an afternoon of bridge at her home Thursday. Mrs. Lee Allen, who was out of town was the only member not present. Mrs. Bailey was a guest. High score prize, a very pretty mayonnaise bowl was won by Mrs. Claude Hudgens. Delicious refreshments were served.

We are going to need a new city directory to find where people live if the epidemic of moving doesn't subside. Some of the moves made during the week were: The B. L. Thompsons moved to their farm home near Tokio. Bruce Knight and family moved to the Thompson house. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Akers are now living in Mr. Lawlis' house and Mr. Lawlis is staying in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Penn. Mr. and Mrs. McBurnett moved back to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allen returned Saturday night from a stay in south Texas. Mrs. Allen's mother accompanied them home.

Miss Neva Dean, Tech student visited during the week-end with her friend, Miss Mozelle Treadaway. Miss Dean's home is in Melvin, Texas.

Miss Christova Sawyer spent the week-end with home-folks here.

MAIDS AND MATRONS CLUB

Mrs. J. E. Moore, and Mrs. W. H. Dallas entertained the Maids and Matrons club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dallas. Fifteen members were present.

During the business session a report of the civic committee was heard. They reported that two bids on the work of plowing and leveling the city park had been received and one of them was accepted by the club.

The Finance and Social committees gave their plans for a Dollar Social to be held about the 12th. Each member to earn her dollar and tell about it in rhyme, the proceeds to go for the benefits of the library and the cleanup campaign which will be sponsored by the club in the near future. These plans were accepted by the club.

The program was taken from the Book, Safari and was led by Mrs. H. S. Crews. Mrs. Weir, Mrs. Brownfield, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Crews and Mrs. Wingerd gave interesting talks on various phases of African geography, colonization and expeditions.

Jello, cake and coffee were served as refreshments.

MRS. HEATH HOSTESS

A St. Patrick's party was given by Mrs. Heath Wednesday afternoon. Six tables were set for bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. Treadaway and Mrs. McGuire. Green was used in the color scheme of decorations, refreshments and table appointments.

Guests were Mesdames Bowers, A. M. Brownfield, Carter, Crews, Cave, Collins, Herod, Holmes, Jacobson, H. W. McSpadden, Lewellen, A. Sawyer, Smith, C. J. Smith, W. C. Smith, McGuire, Treadaway, Self, Warnick, Earl Jones, Hilyard, Penn, Sanders and Miss McSpadden.

Lime jello, tea and Boston brown bread were served.

CLUB PARTY

The Kolonial Kard Klub was entertained Friday in the home of Mrs. Jake Warnick. Club members present were Mesdames Cave, Herod, Hilyard, Earl Jones, Lewellen, McGuire, Sawyer, Self and J. C. Smith. Other guests were Mesdames Roy Ballard, Carter, Collins, Endersen, Heath, Hudgens, Jack Jackson, McDuffie, W. C. Smith, Sullivan, Treadaway and Woods and Misses Lois Adams, Lucille Oliver, Bessie Thompson, Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Weir were tea guests. The prizes were won by Mrs. Cave in the club and Mrs. Carter, guest. Refreshments of salad, coffee, ice-cream and cake were served.

Mr. Sylvan Tankersley spent the week-end in Rotan.

Doctors report that the flu epidemic is gradually breaking up and the sick folks are recovering.

Iowa's popcorn acreage this year, 33,000, is about 20 per cent lower than last year's.

TUNIC SUIT By CHERIE NICHOLAS

This little suit for the four-year-old with its bit of real lace is reminiscent of Fauntleroy days. The original model is made of velvet which tunes it to formal dress-up occasions—perhaps a fashionable wedding where this tiny tot is to be the proud and happy ring bearer. However, it is such a clever style one might well repeat it in linen or pique or any suitable material for practical wear. The little tunic almost conceals the tiny trousers, while two large pearl buttons gleam quite importantly.

W. G. Carter dropped in this week to pay up and reported that he got a finger badly mashed while working with a windmill that morning.

MURPHY BROS.

A Comparison of Now And Fifty Years Ago

Fifty years ago women wore hoop skirts, bustles, petticoats, corsets, cotton stockings, high-buttoned shoes; they did the cleaning, washing, ironing, raised big families, went to church on Sunday, and were too busy to be sick.

Men wore whiskers, square hats, ascot ties, red flannel underwear, big watches and chains, chopped wood for the stove, bathed once a week, drank 10 cent whiskey and 5 cent beer, rode bicycles, buggies and rigs, went in for politics, worked 12 hours a day and lived to a ripe old age.

Stores burned coal oil lamps, carried everything from a needle to a plow, trusted everybody, never took an inventory, placed orders for goods a year in advance, and always made money.

Women wear silk (or no) stockings, short skirts, no corsets, an ounce of underwear, have bobbed hair, smoke, paint and powder, drink cocktails, play bridge, drive cars, have pet dogs, and go in for politics.

Men have high blood pressure, shave their whiskers, play golf, bathe twice a day, drink poison, play the stock market, ride in airplanes, never go to bed the same day they get up, are misunderstood at home, work five hours a day, play ten and die young.

Stores have electric lights, cash registers, and elevators, but never have what the customer wants; trusts nobody, take inventory daily, never buy in advance, have overhead, mark up, mark down, budget, advertising, stock control, annual and semi-annual, end of the month reports, and audits, dollar day, Founder's day, rummage day, and economy day sales, and never make any money.—W. M. Carey, in Wink, Texas, Herald.

ANOTHER BLACK MARK AGAINST LEGISLATORS

One of the heaviest black marks that Texas people will hold against candidates for reelection to the legislature will be the failure of congressional redistricting, which can only result in three people receiving a minority of the total Texas vote being chosen as congressmen at large.

The constitution makes it the duty of the legislature to redistrict the state after each census, and members of the legislature can give only one excuse for failure to do so. And that is politics.

Redistricting would have interfered with the re-election of some congressmen, would have darkened the hopes of some new men who wanted a seat in congress.

And so it comes to pass that about twenty men and a few women have already announced as candidates for congressmen-at-large and if all enter who have announced their intention of doing so the list will reach fifty.

The three candidates receiving the highest votes will be the congressmen at large, despite the fact that the majority of the people of Texas voted against them.

It will enable smaller men than ought to hold the place to be winners.—Hillsboro Mirror.

A great many of us West Texas people are inclined to think we are the only people who think an injustice was done the people of Texas when the last legislature failed to redistrict the state. But the above shows how it is regarded by an influential paper in the heaviest voting section of Texas.

O'DONNELL MAN HURT

O'Donnell, Feb. 27. (Special)—Curtis Loftin suffered serious injuries when a horse he was riding was killed by a car driven by Cecil Lehman Monday. The driver saw Loftin's companion riding on a horse, but did not see Loftin and crashed into the later. The animal was instantly killed.

MA AND JIM WILL RUN AGIN'

The Chronicle is in receipt of a printed letter from Ma Ferguson informing us that she will again be a candidate for Governor of Texas. Ma says in part: "I have no money on which to make this race, so must leave the financing of the campaign up to my friends." In other words, if you want Ma to run for Governor of Texas again send her a dollar or five dollars or as many more as you desire to invest in her campaign.

Well Ma running for Governor again reminds us of a party we once knew that had an old broken down race horse. One that had won one race in its history, but the owner entered him in every horse race he could hear of or get to. One day a friend asked him, "Why do you enter that old plug in so many races? You know he can't win."

"Well," his owner answered, "I enter him just because I like to hear his old bones rattle when he leaves the starting pole."

Perhaps that's why Jim persists in entering Ma in the Governors race. He just likes to hear the dollars rattle that the poor saps over the country kick in on each and all of her campaigns.—Jayton Chronicle.

PREACHER HITS AT ANTI-BIBLE DRIVE

"There is today, as never before, an insidious propaganda sweeping over the civilized nations against the Bible and government," said Rev. J. N. Hoover of Santa Cruz, Calif., internationally known minister, in his sermon last night at the Assembly of God Church, 900 North Pierce Street.

Rev. Hoover spoke Monday night at the Municipal Auditorium. "Mus-solonia, and Is the World Preparing for Anti-Christ?" was his topic at the auditorium.—Amarillo News.

A DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPH

One of the first definite fruits of the policy of co-operation pursued by the Democratic leadership in Congress is the enactment of the "lame duck" amendment resolution. The House, which was the rock upon which the amendment, sponsored by Senator Norris, came to grief in previous years, Tuesday gave approval by a vote of 335 to 56. The vote came after the House had defeated by a substantial majority, the changes in the plan which, when made in that body in the last Congress, brought about its defeat as surely as would have been done by an adverse vote against the whole resolution.

Much of the credit for this complete reversal of the House's vote upon this important reform must go, of course to Speaker Garner, who was able to muster the entire Democratic strength and keep it intact. But the resolution, which required a two-thirds vote, never could have passed without the support of many Republicans, and the vote proves that a majority of the Republicans membership did support it. This result attests the effect of the policy of reasonableness and co-operation which the Democratic leaders have pursued in their conduct, as the majority, of the affairs of the House. By thus placing all the transactions of Congress upon a plane removed from rigid partisanship, the opportunity for organizing opposition on the basis of partisanship was denied.

The "lame duck" amendment doubtless will be speedily ratified by the necessary 36 States. It brings about a reform highly desirable for good government and effectiveness of the principles of representation. The part which Congress Democrats have played in forwarding this reform is a credit to the party.—Star-Telegram.

THE GOLFER'S PARADISE

An enthusiastic golfer recently died and duly arrived at the pearly gates. Being of a friendly disposition he engaged St. Peter in conversation and at last inquired of the Patriarch, "Do you have any golf links in Heaven?"

St. Peter shook his head, making it plain by his puzzled look that he had never heard of them. "No links!" replied the golfer. "You surely must have a golf course. Why you're not up to date at all."

Coming to the domain ruled by Satan, he was welcomed by an imp. "Do you have any golf courses here?" he inquired. "Certainly," the imp replied. "We have all the modern improvements." The golfer face lit up. Here was evidently the abode for him.

"Lead me to it," he urged.

"Yes, sir, right this way, sir," and the imp led him to a distant part of hell. Before the golfer stretched a course more wonderful than any of which he had ever dreamed.

"Fine!" he exclaimed the golfer. "Now, son, get me some sticks and balls and I'll have the game of my life."

"We haven't any," the imp replied. "What?" exclaimed the golfer. "Not any club and balls with a course like this."

"No, sir," replied the imp, grinning fiendishly. "That's the hell of it!"

Production Loans For West Texas Explained

Secretary J. E. Shelton of the local Chamber of Commerce has received the following letter from President Houston Harte of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce concerning the explanation of Production Loans, which are explanatory:

Dear Sir: Owen W. Sherrill, in charge of the administration of the production loan for Texas, has requested this organization to organize three meetings in West Texas, at which meeting Mr. Sherrill will explain the method and procedure of securing these loans. At Mr. Sherrill's request, we are calling these meetings as follows:

March 9th, Lubbock, 10:00 a. m. at Courthouse, nearest to Terry county people.

To these meetings are invited the production loan committees, chamber of commerce officials, county agents, any farm co-op. officers, county judges and any other that might be interested.

For the securing of the production loan, we understand that the county is the unit of administration. We are, therefore, anxious that every county in West Texas be represented at one of these three meetings, so that West Texas will get as much good as possible out of the $50,000,000 production loan.

Yours very truly,
Houston Harte, President.

Cotton buyers here believe that cotton has a good chance of being around nine cents this fall if the farmers don't plant too heavy. They figure there will be a heavy emergency of weevils following a warm winter and that floods will hinder a heavy planting.

Cheery Colors Feature Frocks for Spring Wear

Especially cheery colors are going into the gowns being designed for spring wear.

Greens and blues are vying with many warm shades of red for popularity, but there seems to be a wide demand for white satin which, however, is being trimmed with such contrasting colors as red and blue. Then there also is a flattering rose beige, the shade of milady's skin, that is advocated for dressier clothes.

Colors aren't all-important this spring. Button trimmings have been introduced in a startling array of glitter and glamor. They come in gold and silver and are shaped in large round disks or in huge squares that clamp on whoever there is a lapel or cuff to hold them.

One's initials carved in button trimmings is considered very smart.

Importance of Sleeves

Stressed by Designers Designers have just awakened to the importance of sleeves. Little cape sleeves appear on some of the smartest debutante dance frocks. Caps that simulate sleeves also are seen on formal gowns.

The devastating idea once sponsored by Civil War belles of wearing tiny puff sleeves which are slipped completely off the shoulder is another that is catching on in our modern mode.

A peach-and-cream evening costume which completely wrecked a stag-line at a recent debutante ball was of pink net with a brief waistline jacket tying at the waist. The long sleeves of the jacket billowed into puffs below the elbows, trimmed with rows and rows of frothy Valenciennes lace.

STYLE NOTES

Fashion has gone military for spring.

Fabric trend is to crepe weaves.

The high-waisted idea wins approval.

Tiny bellhop jackets register for spring.

Printed silks are used in novel trimming ways.

Three cheers for the red, white and blue, says the mode.

Shoulders are all capped with scarfs, fichus, capelets, puffs, or epaulets.

MORE HEAT and LESS GAS

There is only one suggestion for the better use of a radiant type Gas Heater, beyond having a good flame, proper connections, keeping burners and heating elements clean and general care in not burning gas needlessly.

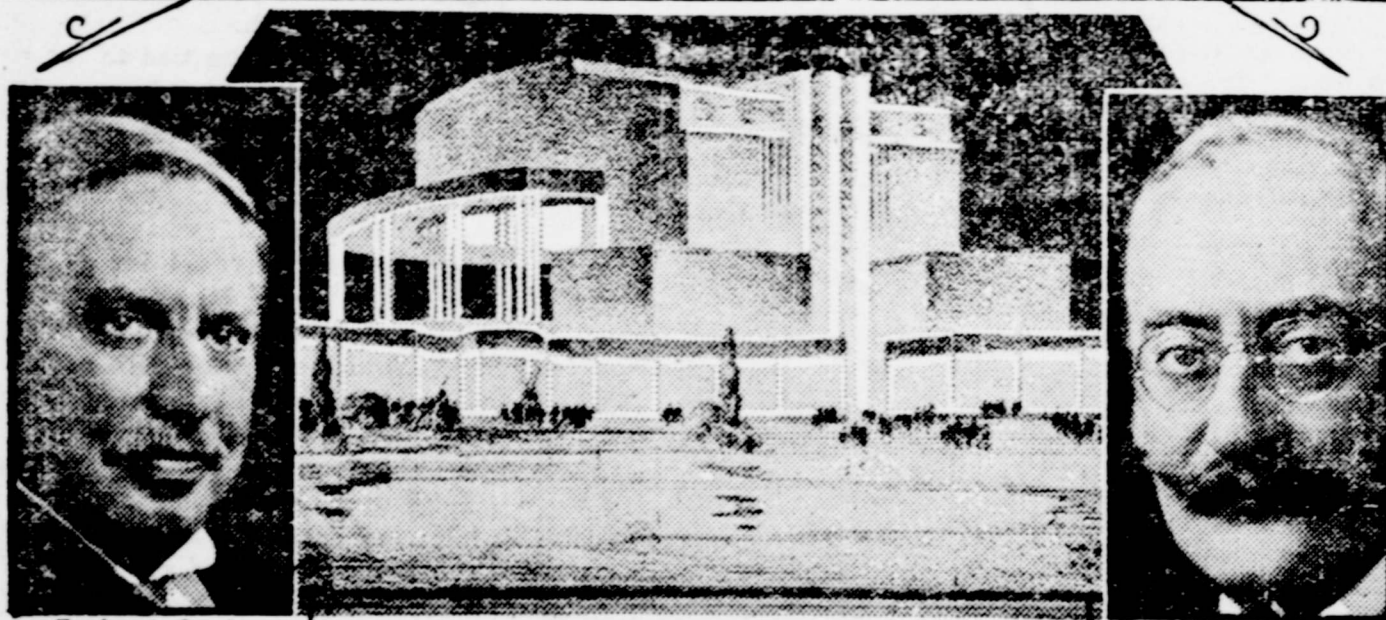

This suggestion is to watch the flame so that it does not go OVER THE TOP of the radiant grid which throws out the heat. This wastes heat and gas, besides not giving you all the heat there is in the gas that is burned. The flames should be just high enough to heat the grid or other radiating material and no higher.

The principle of this radiant type heater is incandescence, the use of a small amount of gas to produce a great deal of heat, practically all of which is utilized.

Simply turn on enough gas to make the entire grid glow—and no more.

Temple of Music for Chicago's 1933 Exposition

Frederick Stock

Herbert Witherspoon

In the building pictured above, visitors to A Century of Progress—Chicago's 1933 World's Fair—will witness a national festival of music on a scale never before attempted in this country, according to Herbert Witherspoon, vice-president of the Chicago Civic Opera and chairman of the exposition's music committee.

Massed singing by thousands of voices, demonstrations by high school orchestras and bands, symphony concerts, chamber music, national and international clubs, including the famous Eisteddfod of Wales, ballets, pageants, etc., will be included in the five months' program of music. Acting as general musical director will be Dr. Frederick A. Stock, conductor of the celebrated Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The music auditorium, shown in the center of the above architect's rendering with smaller exhibit buildings on either side, will seat 4000 persons and have a stage capable of accommodating an orchestra of 100 and a chorus of 800.

Chancellor Must Guard Great Seal of England

Great in meaning and great in power, the Great Seal of England is yet, comparatively, a small thing. Made of silver—a metal easy to clean—it is about seven inches in diameter and weighs 12 pounds. The lord chancellor is its custodian and responsible for its safety, and it lies within his discretion to keep it where he thinks fit. In days gone by those in whose custody it lay have spent anxious moments. Lord Chancellor Eldon, in the reign of George III, used to sleep with it under his pillow! One night his house caught fire and he buried it in his garden for safety. Next day he had forgotten where he had hidden it and could not recall for some time. Whenever a new Great Seal is introduced a special ceremony takes place. The new seal is sent from the mint to the king. The lord chancellor, notified of this by writ, takes the old Great Seal to the palace and hands it, in two halves, to the king. The latter taps it three times with a small, egg-shaped hammer, thus defacing the seal, which is of very soft metal. The old seal then becomes the perquisite of the chancellor. In modern times it has become customary for him to send one-half to his predecessor in office, as an act of courtesy.—New York Times Magazine.

Spaniards Misled as to New World's Gold Store

The gold which so inflamed the imagination of Spain when Columbus returned from his first voyage to the New world probably was mined by the Indians in Haiti, says Dr. Herbert W. Krieger, curator of ethnology of the United States National museum, who headed an expedition conducting an exploration of Indian sites on that island.

Actually, he says, gold was scarce. The natives gave the Spaniards a false impression by hammering it into thin plates which then were shaped into objects of personal adornment. They had discovered, he says, an alloy of gold and copper—known as "pale gold"—which was used for lance heads. Ornaments of gold plate were worn in the ears and nose and suspended about the neck.

Gold mining, Krieger says, was very primitive. A hole was dug in the sand, the nuggets extracted and then beaten into thin plates with stone hammers.

Queer Old-Time Fiddles

Lord Chesterfield considered it beneath a gentleman to be seen piping or fiddling, and advised his son if he loved music to hear it, to pay fiddlers to play for him, but never to fiddle himself. Quite contrary to this advice, it was the fancy of a certain fiddler to exercise his musical talent while Rome burned. But not many musicians are so barbarously inclined. The fiddles used in the Tenth century at the fairs and merrymakings of the Anglo-Saxons are probably representations of those queer-looking stringed instruments cut upon the stone of the Egyptian and Grecian monuments, or of the long pattern monochords which have existed in India from prehistoric times, according to some commentators, though it is usually conceded that the fiddle dates back to Egyptian times.

Pronunciation Varies

The pronunciation of "slough" varies with the meaning. When the word means a hole full of mud or a deep, miry place it is correctly pronounced "slou," rhyming with "now." This is the pronunciation of the word as employed in John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," where the Slough of Despond is a deep bog into which Christian falls at the beginning of his journey and from which Help extricates him. When "slough" refers to a marshy place or a piece of low, wet land it is pronounced "sloo," to rhyme with "too." In this sense the word is frequently spelled "slew," "sloo," or "sloe." When "slough" means the cast-off skin of an animal of reptile which sheds it is pronounced "sluff."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Feeding Young Alligators

Alligators are first given a diet of earthworms and minnows. Upon this they are kept for two months, when dead mice are occasionally given them. As soon as they show an increase in size the quality of food is correspondingly increased. Earthworms are then excluded from the menu, while small rodents are given frequently, in alternation with frogs, fish and scraps of beef. Young rats and sparrows are soon added to the list. They are usually fed twice a week, and at most three times a week.

How Negritos Wed

When two Negritos, a people of the Philippine islands, are united the whole tribe is assembled, and the affianced pair climb two trees growing near to each other. The elders then bend the branches until the heads of the couple meet. When the heads have thus come into contact the marriage is legally accomplished.

Real Fairy?

An Indianapolis woman had a guest with beautiful, long, blond hair which proved a source of wonder to the hostess' little daughter. One day she sat transfixed while the guest let down her hair and began brushing it. Never had the child seen anything like it, and finally said: "Are you really a fairy?"—Indianapolis News.

THIS MAN GOES ON CASH BASIS KEEP POSTED ON BARGAINS BY READING THE HERALD

The following anonymous letter clipped from the Glasgow, (Ky.) Times, appeared in the Slaton Slatonite last week.

"Dear Mr. Editor: There is so much talk about Republican prosperity, I believe it my duty to write my views and help analyze the situation so's we can make up our minds that we ought to change our ways of living. Take my mistake and many others have acted likewise. I bought a Ford instead of a farm and it is worn out, but the farm is O. K. I bought a radio instead of a cow, and the radio gives static instead of milk. I am feeding five hounds instead of five pigs. I had my piano tuned instead of my well cleaned. I spent all my cash in 1928, used my credit in 1929, traded my future wages in 1930, so hard time caught me in a bad shape. If I had spent my last $10 for flour and meat instead of gas and oil, I would have been O. K. I built a nice garage instead of covering my barn, and I loafed in the mountains two weeks instead of fixing my pasture so's my cows wouldn't get out, but she is dry now and mortgaged to boot for two blankets my wife bought from an agent instead of paying the preacher. I am on a cash basis now, but ain't got much cash. I am tied to the end of my rope and the man I am working for is busted on account of nobody won't buy cotton clothes; all the gals wear slick silky stockings and silk underclothes, right here in our cotton patches. I had save $4 for a rainy day, but it turned dry and I spent the $4 for two inner tubes. I tried to make both ends meet with a turnip patch, but when I got ready to sell, everybody was giving them away and the market was glutted. I am worried plumb to the bone, and my wife's kin-folks are coming next Tuesday for two weeks. Write or phone if you hear of any relief from the government coming this way. I am willing to be a Democrat or a Republican, for a few weeks if that will do any good at all."

Lions to Hold District Convention in Lubbock

Lubbock, Texas, Feb.—Under the direction of District Governor Sam Braswell, Clarendon newspaper man, Lubbock Lions have arranged the program for the District Convention to be held in this city Monday and Tuesday, April 11 and 12.

Sessions will be held at the First Methodist Church and the Lubbock and Hilton hotels, the Hilton having been designated as convention headquarters. The District, known as "2-1", running from Dalhart to El Paso in West Texas, contains some sixty Lions Clubs in as many towns and cities with a membership of more than two thousand individual Lions.

"Lubbock Lions take pride in the fact that they have secured their International President, Julian C. Hyer, for the feature number of the program," E. L. Pitts, president, said today.

Senator Hyer will be in Lubbock the first day of the convention and will speak at the general session at the Methodist Church in the evening. Governor Braswell will be in charge of the business sessions and the club will be asked to participate in the program and report progress made during the past year. Prominent Lion leaders from Amarillo, El Paso, Fort Stockton, Pampa, and elsewhere are being invited to contribute special numbers of the programs.

Other civic groups of Lubbock, the City Administration, and Texas Technological College are cooperating in an effort to secure a full attendance and will aid in entertaining the visitors. Wives of visiting Lions will be the invited guests of the Lubbock hotels. Golf, theatre tickets, and special favors of other kinds will be free to all visitors. Officials of all clubs in the district are being urged to bring large delegations to the convention.

SONGS AND POEMS

A Wonderful Town

There is a town called Don't You Worry.

On the banks of the River Smile Where the Cheer-Ups and Be Happy Blossom sweetly all the while; Where the Never Grumble flower Blooms beside the fragrant Try, And the ne'er Give up and Patience Point their faces to the sky.

In the village of Contentment, In the province of I Will, You will find this lovely city, At the foot of No-Fret Hill.

There are thoroughfares delightful In this very charming town, And on every hand are shade trees Named the Very Seldom Frown.

Rustic benches, quite enticing, You'll find scattered here and there And to each a vine is clinging, Called the Frequent Earnest Prayer.

Everybody there is happy, And is singing all the while, In the town of Don't You Worry, On the banks of the River Smile. —Sent in by Delores I. McKinney, Rt. 4, Shreveport, La.

FEWER CHAWERS CHEWIN'

Manufacturers of chewing tobacco report the sale of that commodity on the decline. If the boys putting out plug cut would go after the public like the cigarette people, they would see a wonderful improvement in their line.

For instance, how about an ad reading "as a waxy, chewy, keep-kissable, toasted, dried, unbacked sure shot for blues' chew only White Mule."

Again, we are of the opinion that all the burley plug, licorice-laden hillside navy needs to boost it into society is a doctor's statement that it will cure indigestion, dyspepsia, crush halitosis and there is not a strangle in a ton. Put it up in cellophane packages, advertise in all the newspapers and poached cheeks, both male and female, "s and spotted floors will become in vogue immediately. The folks buy the advertised article—nothing else.—Clarendon Leader.

We note that there are a number of peach trees almost in full bloom before February is gone. If they get by, it will almost be a miracle.
