

GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT OVER THE I. C. C. DECISION

Present Administration Has Been Advising With Captains of Industry to Put Out Some Money in Building. But Response by T. P. is in West Instead of East.

While the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission came as a great disappointment to the people of this section, the people of this section are democratic and will bid their time until another commission may decide different, or until there shall be no such animal as a I. C. C. Indeed that body was first formed as a war measure under the Wilson administration to keep railroads from needlessly spending money that could be used in pushing a great war, and by all rights should have been disbanded after the war and turned back to the State Railroad Commissions.

But did you ever hear of any commission finishing its work at Washington and disbanding? If you have, it is more than we have ever heard of. They all hang on as long as there is any pay coming. The next congress, which we hope and pray will be Democratic in both houses and the executive department, should kick the I. C. C. so high that they would float off in space. What do those birds, none of which we understand live west of Nebraska or south of the Mason Dixon line know about the needs of new railroads out here in the fastest growing farm section of the United States?

Some seem to think the Fort Worth and Denver and the Santa Fe had a lot to do with influencing the commission against the building of this road, but they should not have had no more influence with the I. C. C. than some individual, for their opinion of course could not have been other than prejudiced. The thing now to do is to work for a change in administration at Washington from president to page, and elect men who promise to kick the I. C. C. out of the capitol, or at least replace them with new men who represent the south and west as well as the north and east.

Many think that the T. & P.'s next move will be to try the constitutionality of the I. C. C., and many believe that body is not now needed, and should have been done away with as soon as the stress of war was over. We are giving a little comment from fellow editors in this section to show what they think of the decision of the I. C. C., and we might add that Mr. Hoover has been cutting a big rusty up there at Washington, calling in captains of industry to get them to start public works to help unemployment, and the first rattle out of the box his commission turned down some twelve million dollars worth of construction that the Texas & Pacific wanted to do. And perhaps some of our Hoovercrats will still maintain that Hoover is a great and consistent business man. The Big Spring News says:

"Anyone familiar with what is transpiring in Washington was not surprised when the announcement came Wednesday that the Interstate Commerce Commission disapproved of the Texas Pacific Northern Railway in its entirety and would not grant permission for the construction of this 333 mile railroad from Big Spring to Vega, Lubbock and Amarillo.

The Big Bankers and big business are now in the saddle and practically control governmental departments and it looks as though they are about to control Congress.

The construction of the Texas Pacific Northern would have benefited West Texas as nothing else could. The $13,000,000 spent for supplies and labor would have put an empire on its feet—but since there was no graft for the big bankers they did not want it—and hence it was killed.

The way the wind is blowing was indicated recently when the bankers forced the I. C. C. to loan the Missouri Pacific more than twelve million dollars so that railway system could pay a huge amount they owed the Morgan and Kuhn Loeb—banking interest.

The testimony came out that the I. C. C. made this loan against their will. So it is easy to estimate the influence the big bankers are now wielding at Washington.

Whether or not the big bankers hold the "big stick" over Congress is going to be proven in the next few days over the payment of the soldier bonus.

Millions of dollars are being spent by the money trust on propaganda to defeat the payment of the bonus. Money talks these days and we are going to be given an opportunity to see if the members of Congress are eating out of the hands of the big bankers. The masses of America are now a sleeping giant—but they may finally be awakened and aroused by the insatiable greed of the Money Trust—and there will be a cleaning out of the money changers in the high places. Gold is king in these United States just now but he will not be if Americans aroused by injustice demand a square deal from the men they elect to represent them."

Editorially the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal comments: "Ordinarily, when there arises a discussion of state's rights we are prone to think of prohibition, simply because prohibition and senate's rights have become linked together in argument over a period of the last five years. But as a matter of fact, prohibition is not a drop in the state's rights bucket. West Texans discovered that a day or two ago when the Interstate Commerce Commission turned thumbs down upon the proposed construction of 330 miles of railroad all of which was to be in West Texas and none of which was interstate.

Approved by the Texas Railroad Commission, which took an aggressive stand for construction of the Texas & Pacific-Northern line from Big Spring to Vega with branches into Lubbock and Amarillo, the line was much sought by citizens all along the route. That fact, however, did not deter the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington from ruling against the subject. Bureaucracy triumphed again.

The ICC, incidentally ruled against construction of the south part of the line, which included a branch into Lubbock, later an examiner had approved the construction after a lengthy hearing was held in Lubbock. Basis for the final decision is not quite clear to us down here. We only know that West Texans wanted something for West Texas but that the gentlemen of the ICC, 2,000 miles away, said we couldn't have it.

We cannot approve the authority vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission as pertains to construction or proposed construction of rail lines entirely within the confines of any one state.

We feel that Iowans should be permitted to build railroads within Iowa's borders without interference from Texas; we believe Texas should be given the same right without interference from the District of Columbia.

A highly centralized government is like a lot of other things: great in theory but unbalanced in practice. Too much authority in Washington detracts from progress in the 48 states from coast to coast and from border to border."

The Hockley County Herald, at Levelland, comments as follows:

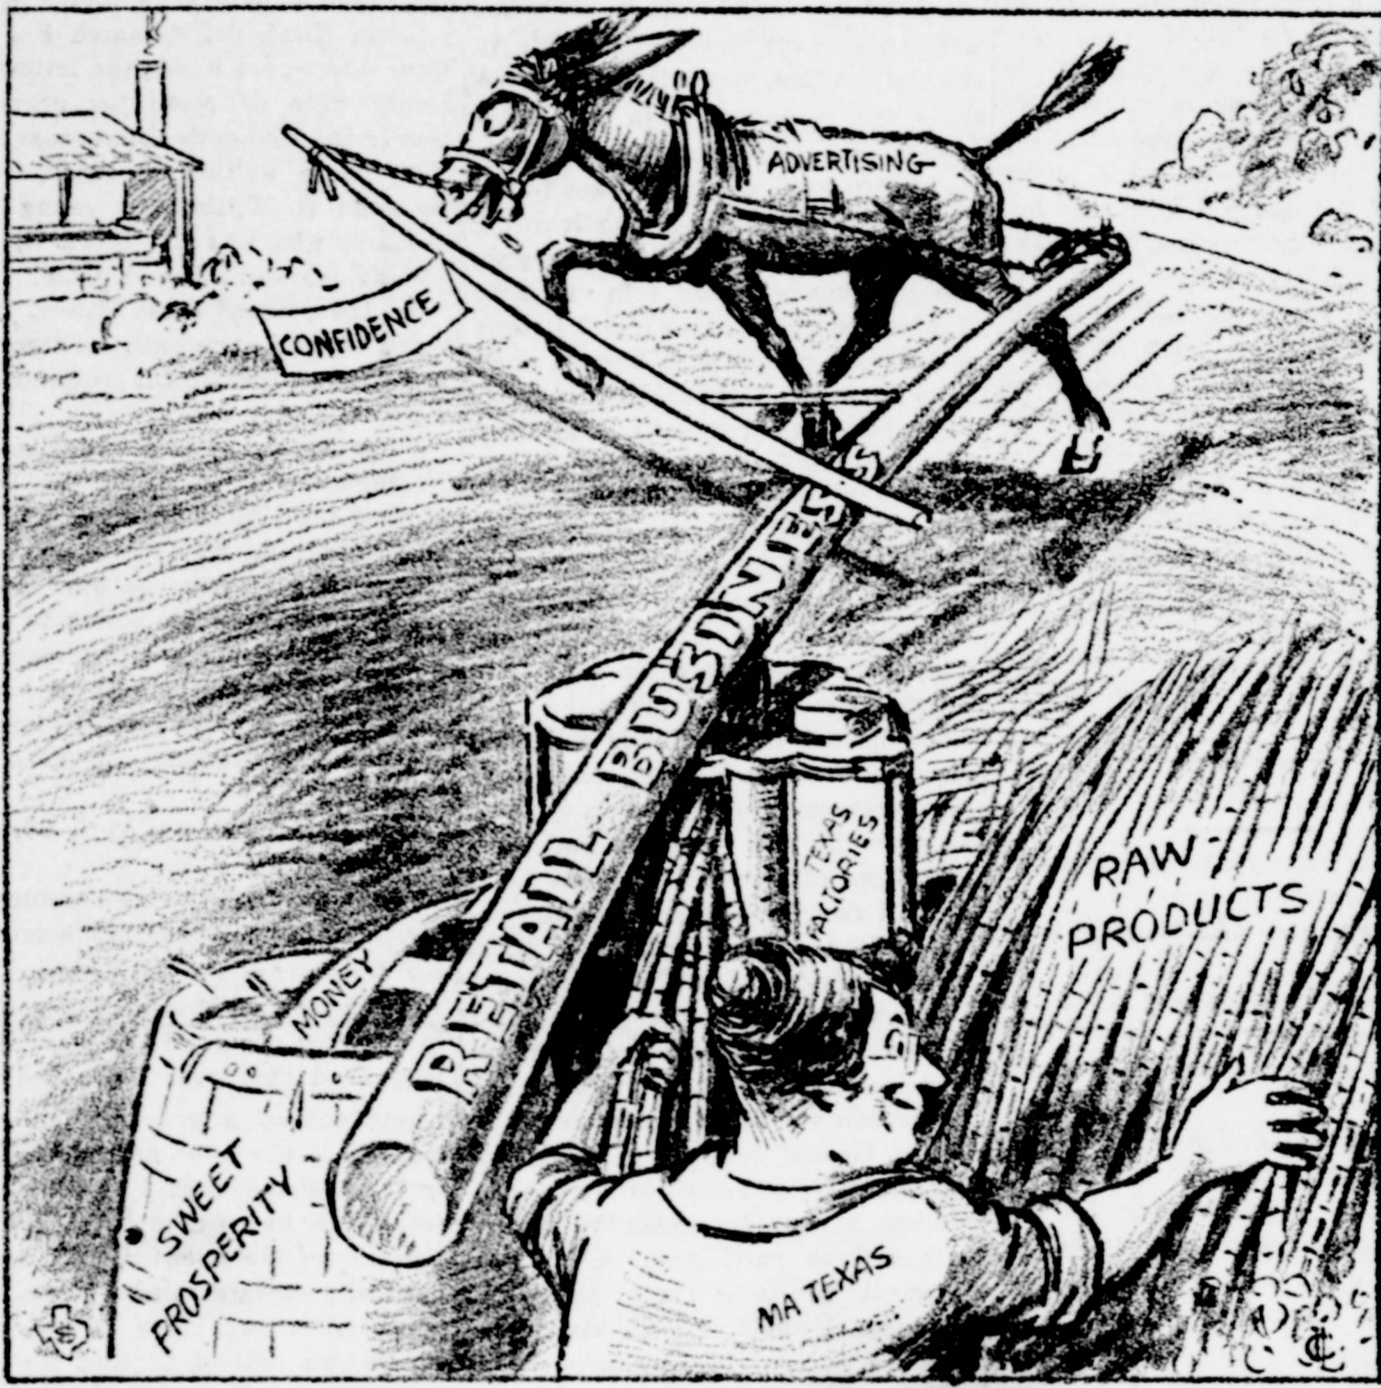

"As the proposed road almost evenly divided the 'Caprock' country, all of which is now being dry farmed and the development of which is now greater in the Western part, it was thought that it would be granted. To the people living in this section there is little question of the need for better transportation facilities, and hopes are expressed that it will in time become apparent to the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is thought that present depressed conditions and the financial conditions of the railroads are responsible for the denial. The trucking system was given as an excuse, but no recognition was taken of the fact that the people would yet have to build the roads over which the trucks would run."

Burleson For Sheriff And Tax-Collector

R. C. Burleson, who is well known to most of the voters of Terry county dropped in this week to ask us to announce him as a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax-Collector of Terry county, subject to the Democratic primary, July 23. Mr. Burleson has been a citizen of Terry county for the past six years, and was raised in West Texas, and knows its needs.

Mr. Burleson says that all he wishes to get over with the voters of Terry county is the fact that if he is elected to this office that he will make them a hand and stay on the job, and with as little expense as possible to the county. He will try to see all voters before the primary.

Sweet Music

New Ford to Be Here Next Wed. and Thurs.

Red Tudor, of the Tudor Sales and Service of this city, and Ford agency, was in Wednesday morning and informed us that the New V-8 would be on display at his place next Wednesday and Thursday, 27th and 28th, and he wanted all his friends to call and see the latest automobile sensation.

Chicken Thieves Get Busy in Terry County

Z. J. Clements was in Friday and informed us thieves raided his hen house last week and took about thirty hens, or about all there was in that particular hen house. It is believed that the chickens were carried to Lubbock for sale, as one of Clements neighbors found one of the hens on the roadside just north of Brownfield on the Lubbock road.

J. Z. says that his chickens were not branded and as thousands of chickens are received in Lubbock each day, he did not go up to make any inquiry. He believed that every farmer in Terry county or any other county for that matter should get the tattoo brands and brand all chickens through the wings. In that way it would be an easy matter to catch thieves.

Of course the cheapness of chickens might forbid this just now, in some cases, but according to Mr. Clements most farmers have more money than money anyway, and why not use that time in fixing the chickens so they could be recognized if stolen. Mr. Clements says that he is ready for the next thief that bothers his chickens, and intimates that the thief would need the services of an undertaker more than anything else when he opened his hen house door.

Beauty Shoppe Operators to Attend School

We understand that Mrs. W. M. Lee representing the Marinella Beauty Shoppe and Miss Ella Mae Butler representing the Ramona, will attend the beauty culture school at Lubbock next week. We failed to learn whether the other shop would be represented or not.

It is said that this will be one of the largest schools of its kind ever held in this section of the country, and will be attended by beauty operators from at least three and possibly more states. Experts from New York, Chicago and other great cities will be instructors.

Mrs. Horty: "Yes, we can trace our ancestors back to—well, I don't know exactly who, but anyway, we've been descending for centuries."

Free Educational Program at Rialto Theatre

Cicero Smith Lumber Co. co-operating with extension Department of the Keystone Steel & Wire Co., of Peoria, Ill., are putting on an Educational Program at the Rialto Theatre Wednesday, April 27, at 2:30 P. M.

A real Farm Picture entitled Health, Happiness and Hogs, the best hog picture ever taken, shows the McLean County System of Hog sanitation in actual operation and other farm management problems.

Another picture takes you thru the Keystone Steel & Wire Company's mill at Peoria, Ill. See the glare of the open furnace, the molten steel poured into big ingot moulds, as you might pour cream, and finally rolled into rods at the rate of 35 miles per hour; see how a nail is made, fence is woven, how the barb is put on barb wire.

None of you get an opportunity like this every day, so you don't want to miss this wonderful program. The Educational instructive features told in an interesting way, suggest ways for you to help supervise your own farm relief, and how you can give the old farm a good shaking up, making it turn out better crops, with more money, more leisure, and a more independent life for you and the family. In addition to the Educational program mentioned above there will be a real comedy that will make you laugh and be happy.

This is a good program and everyone is invited to attend as it is all made free by Cicero Smith Lumber Company.

Some Local Fishermen Have Had Fine Luck

Sheriff Mon Telford and Lee O. Allen returned last week from old Mexico where they spent several days fishing. We are not sure where they crossed the border, but believe it was at either Del Rio or Lerado. Anyway, they report the rivers full of fish in the neighboring Republic, and that they are biting well. Mon says they threw at least 100 good fish back in the water when they had finished.

They hired a cook at the border at 25c per day, and Mon says he appeared eager to get the job. He was a good cook too. They also had a general roustabout to gather wood and help about the camp. They were not molested anyway while they were over, but all Mexicans seemed to be glad to help them have a nice time.

Homer Winston, Jack Hart and Felix Proctor also got in Friday with a nice lot of fish. They went to the big bend country and fished mostly for channel cat. They returned with 14 fine ones, two weighing about 15 pounds, and the rest slightly smaller. They reported that they fished with soft soap.

We understand that several other local fishermen are preparing to make trips.

Barstow — Foxworth-Gailbraith Lumber Co. and Ed and Jim Miller purchased entire stock of Dyer Hardware Store.

Baseball in the Cellar —Golf Talk of Day

So far we have seen little evidence that there is going to be much of a baseball team of white boys and men here. True, we have seen some few catching balls in the streets, but the most evidence has come from the small boys in the vacant lots with one of these jumbo sized baseballs. We have never learned the name of this game, but it is played somewhat like real baseball.

The colored population, however seems to be putting in much more time toward the game. Not only are they practicing, but have taken up a collection among themselves and their white friends to purchase balls, mitts and bats, and we understand when they have had some practice, aim to challenge some of the colored teams of adjoining towns. Why, we saw quite an exciting game at a distance last Sunday afternoon on a vacant lot between a bunch of colored women, and they seem to be having a great time and lots of home runs.

But all quizzing of baseball leaders here among the white people seems to be that there will be no team. The answer is that no one seems to have energy enough to get out and practice.

Senior Class Complete Beautification Prog'm

The Senior class of Brownfield High School have been working very earnestly for the past week on the beautification of the grounds in front of the high school building. They have put out much labor and about $30.00 in money on plants for this purpose. Earlier in the spring they planted a cluster cypress on each extreme corner of the front ground and a smaller cluster of junipers on each side of the front of the walk. These evergreens will add materially to the appearance when they grow up.

On each side of the walk and at each corner of the building they have placed a group of shrubs such as lilac, althea, and spirea. These are designed to give a neat trimming to the building.

Out in front of the building on each side of the walk there has been placed a large flower bed. This bed is lined with brick and has been planted in flowers that are calculated to bloom forth in much beauty.

BROWNFIELD TIES LOCK- NEY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Considering the Number of Men We Had, We Did Extra Well. Graham and Neill Set District Records. Brownfield Big Winners in Literary Events—On to Austin.

Brownfield was well represented at the District Interscholastic League meet held in Lubbock during last week end. Brownfield and Lockney tied for 1st place with 50 points each. The points won by Brownfield for the championship consisted of both athletic and literary events.

The events and points gained by each are as follows: An essay, written by Otis Spears was given first place and counted 15 points. Otis had a very good production and is to be congratulated on having won over such a large field of competition. Miss Mary Perkins coached Otis for this production.

The Music memory team from the Junior High got 1st place for 15 points toward the championship. Sharleen Graves and Lucille Harris were the representatives. They must be quite good. Mrs. O. Dennis and Miss Gertrude Rasco coached these girls. The junior high school is to be congratulated on having furnished a part of the points that brought the honor to the Brownfield schools.

Marien Hill took off 1st place in senior girls declamation for another 10 points toward the championship. This event was run off in divisions. Marien won in one division before permitted to compete in the finals. We heard several people say that Brownfield representative was really outstanding and should have a chance to win the state with plenty of hard work. Mrs. Penn plans to continue in earnest with the training and hopes to make a creditable showing at Austin.

Second place in the senior track team was won by two men. Neill and Graham. These two men succeeded in breaking a few district records. Jim Neill ran the high hurdles in 15.5 seconds. This is 2 seconds better than anything previously chalked up at the district. Gilliam Graham threw the javelin the unbelievable distance of 194 feet to break a district record. This throw is even more than the present state record but will not go down as such because it was not made at a state meet. Coach Hayhurst feels that both Neill and Graham have a good chance at the State meet if they continue to train in these events until May the 5, 6 and 7th.

Jim Neill was second high point man of the district. He gained 10 points by getting 1st in the high hurdles, 2nd in low hurdles and 3rd in the discus. Gilliam Graham placed relatively high with a total of 8 points by winning the javelin and 2nd place in the discus throw.

Winning the 10 points for second place in senior boys track was a material aid in stacking up the points that brought to Brownfield the honor.

Simmons Choral Club Coming Mon. April 25

The Junior class of Brownfield high schools is sponsoring the program described below. The program will be given Monday, April 25th at 8:00 in the high school auditorium. The public is urged to take advantage of this good program. Out of the proceeds of this program the juniors expect to sponsor a banquet for the outgoing seniors.

The Simmons University Choral Club is composed of a group of trained singers from the Voice Department of Simmons. The young men and young women making the tour are selected from a larger group, and are those possessing the best voices, and those who are the best musicians. The party will consist of twenty-eight young college students and Mr.

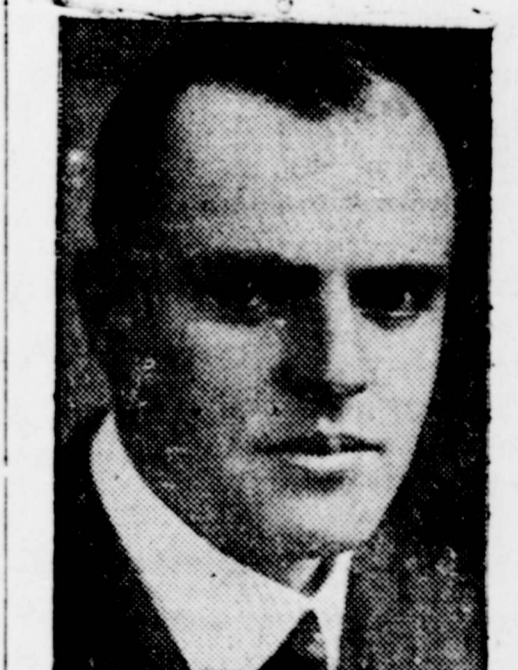

Straw Vote in Terry Put Hunter Far Ahead

Terry county, in the heart of the farming and ranching area of the South Central Plains of West Texas is enthusiastically interested in the Governor's race. Recently a Hunter-for-Governor Club was organized for the purpose of furthering the candidacy of the man who is championing the much-needed tax reform in Texas. The organization being perfected, workers here canvassed the county, calling upon every voter, with the results that 2200 have committed themselves for Tom F. Hunter, while 12 stand committed to the Fergusons; 6 will go to Sterling; and 150 are non-committal.

Hunter's plan to re-allocate taxes is taking form. It must be remembered that Mr. Hunter, when a young man, for two years taught school in this county. He was only 21 years of age when he was elected to head the county seat high school. Many of the old-timers yet live here and are counted among his strongest supporters. Judge Geo. W. Neill, who was County Judge while Hunter lived at Brownfield is chairman of his Club.

Hunter procured his law license while living at Brownfield, served as county attorney under appointment during the last year that he was in the county, teaching school at the same time.

Tom Hunter married a Terry County girl, Vera Scott-Hunter, who has many friends in the county.

Wm. JAMES WORK
Simmons University Voice Dept.
and Mrs. Work, who will have charge of the group.

The program which is being presented by the club is one of varied interests, and will consist of ensemble singing from the full chorus, quartets, both men and women, male chorus, ladies chorus, solos, etc.

As specials on the program they are featuring a reader and a violinist—these young people are also members of the club.

It is the custom of the club to make one or more trips during the school year. The trip west is the second one in the past few months. The cities in which the club will give their programs are Merkel, Roscoe, Colorado, Big Spring, Midland, Wink, Odessa, Carlbad, Artesia, Roswell, Brownfield, Tahoka, Lamesa, Snyder.

John Burnett Loses Most of Feed in Fire

A report of a fire was received here Monday morning out at the John Burnett farm about four miles east of town and a number responded to the call to go help fight the fire. One report stated that the maize pile, the corn and the bundle ricks were all fired at one time, which leads some to suspect incendiary intention, but no one knows of any enemy of John, nor does he.

All the bundle stuff in ricks was burned and he lost fully half of his corn and maize. This fall rather hard on John even if feed is cheap.

HOOVER HATES THE POOR

President Hoover certainly has no sympathy for the needy or the deserving. The rich is the only class for which he has compassion. Seemingly.

His animus against the World War veterans is so great he dares Congress to pass the bill ordering payment of the adjusted compensation. Gives warning that he will veto the bill if Congress does pass it. Have you ever noticed him going thus far out of his way to stop any other bill? His thought and action is typical of all other rich or well-to-do. Maybe his hatred for the poor will awaken the nation to the need of uniting before we become bootlickers for the money kings.—Big Spring News.

Several men and boys, some said by officers to be fighting booze rather heavy, had trouble on the streets late Saturday afternoon. One fellow had a slight cut from a pocket knife and one man had a shot gun taken off him by officers. Several of them were locked up to cool off.

Mr. R. Stice of the Johnson community, was in the city over the week-end with his daughter, Mrs. Dewey Murphy.

About All Teachers Re-Elected—Salary Cuts

We learned Tuesday noon that at a board meeting Monday night practically every faculty member of the Brownfield public schools were tendered their places for another year should they desire to accept. We understand however, that this was conditional on quite a deep cut in salaries, but how much, we failed to learn. It is to be hoped that the teachers can see their way clear to accept their places again, as we have had a fine school and made excellent showings in contests with other schools of the district. If there has been any serious friction, we have not heard of it.

We note, however, that most all school boards have been trimming salaries, some mighty deep. At a meeting of the board over at Tahoka last week, the superintendent was cut from $2400 to $1800, and one down the line to grade school teachers as low as $65 per month and the colored teacher to $60. The Tahoka trustees claim that is all that can be paid with present tax cuts and the improbability of collection from many people.

IF

If you can keep your head when all about you

Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,

If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,

But make allowance for their doubting too;

If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,

Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,

Or being hated, don't give to hating,

And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;

If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim,

If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster

And treat those two imposters just the same;

If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken

Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,

Or watch things you gave your life to, broken,

And stoop and build 'em up with wornout tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings

And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,

And lose, and start again at your beginnings

And never breathe a word about your loss;

If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew

To serve your turn long after they are gone,

An old hold on when there is nothing in you

Except the Will which says to them "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and your virtue,

Or walk with Kings—not lose the common touch,

If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,

If all men count with you, but none too much;

If you can fill the unforgiving minute

With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,

Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,

And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!

—Rudyard Kipling.

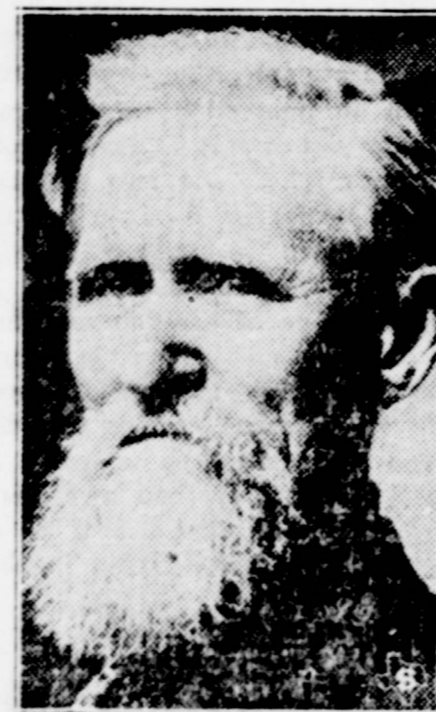

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore, Jr., are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine girl last Saturday.

Geo. D. Couchman dropped in last week to renew for the Herald going to his father-in-law, W. J. Chesney, of Colorado.

Extra Curricular Work Carries Over

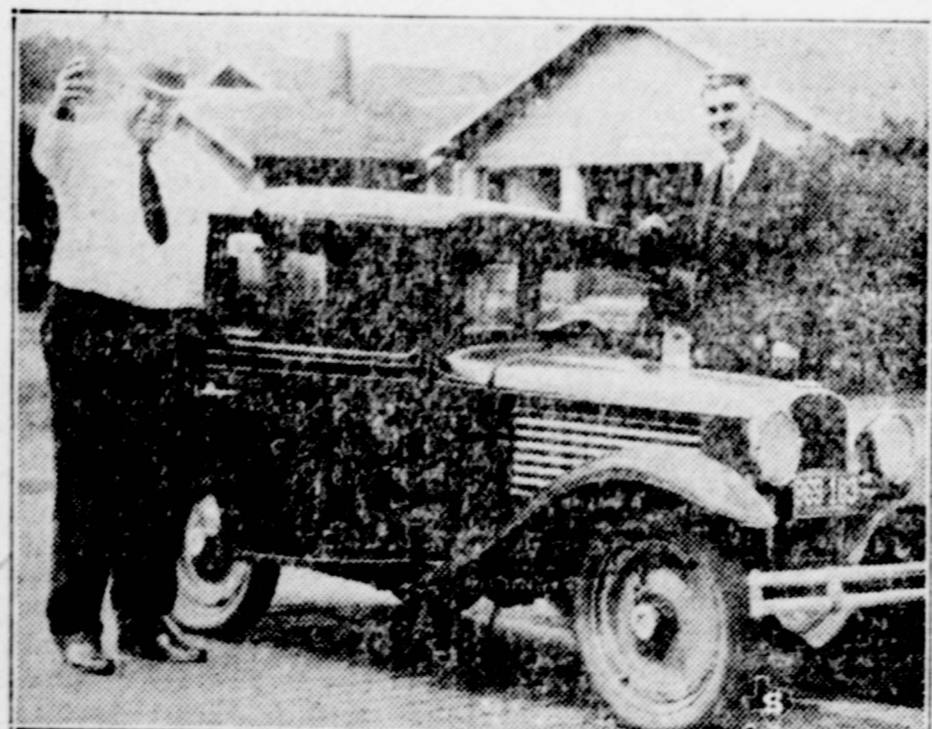

The Brownfield schools feel that the regular school work is very important. The curriculum and its various parts is the meat of the loaf as far as education is concerned but the trimmings of the loaf are also vastly important in the life of the child. By trimmings we mean the extra curricula activities that are placed in the reach of the child. These activities are made as attractive as possible to the end that the pupils may like to do them. The child learns to do by doing. He also learns to do more readily by doing the things he likes to do. Then if we can arrange our learning activities so that the child will gain the training we want him to have and at the same time make these activities a pleasure to him we shall have done him a favor. Not by lightening his task but by expediting them in an agreeable manner. Then someone say "well what are some of these extra-curricula activities that you talk about?" That is a good question. There are several in the schools to that could be mentioned. In the high school there are the home economics club, science club, debating club, Spanish club, athletic club, and physical training. These clubs and organizations carry on a regular program by the members and have their own officers that execute business in their own way under the observation of a teacher that is ready to guide and advise when necessary. When we think of the things that distinguish a well trained man or woman from a poorly trained man or woman we think of his ability to adjust himself in a public or private manner. These activities give the student a chance to exercise leadership and to participate in his own program. In doing these things he acquaints himself with the manner in which a person should conduct himself in a like situation. How does he do it? By living out just that life situation. We no longer hope to do much teaching in an abstract manner but by bringing the child in direct contact with actual things as far as possible. When we teach a child a new game we are now asking ourselves the question "will it be of use to him in after life?" Is it more useful for a boy to know how to play a good game of tennis or a good game of football? Is it more useful for him to know how to swim than to play basketball? Is it more useful for the boy to know how to preside at a meeting or know how to extract the square root of a number? Is it more important for a girl to be socially adjusted or know the rules of the infinitive? One might ask similar questions for some time and then turn around and use the same measuring stick on them and arrive at a true answer to all of them. What would that measuring stick be? It is "which will carry-over more successfully in later life."

Aged Candidate

J. H. "Cyclone" Davis, of Sulphur Springs, Texas, believes a man is never too old to make himself useful. He's 79, and is running for congress. Davis will be remembered by old timers as a fiery orator. He was a member of the 64th congress back in 1914, and was strong for William Jennings Bryan.

It Looks Like a Tight Fit Here

Can he make it? Guy Blount of Nacogdoches, former president of the Etx chamber of commerce, is wondering whether he should accept the invitation at Rev. G. H. Wilson to ride to the East Texas Chamber convention at Lufkin in Rev. Wilson's car. Blount, who is one of the biggest men in Texas, any way you take it, says it's a question of capacity. The Rev. Wilson is a Methodist pastor at Nacogdoches. They will attend the Lufkin convention, which will last three days, beginning April 17.

CONFEDERATE LETTERS SHOW SOUTH'S SORROW AT LINCOLN'S ASSASSINATION

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 14.—Two newly found letters written by a Confederate prisoner of war were offered today, the 67th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's assassination, as fresh evidence of the genuine sorrow which swept the southern states when news of Lincoln's death became known.

The letters were made public by Dr. Louis A. Warren, director of the Lincoln Historical Research Foundation, into whose hands the letters recently were delivered for preservation in the foundation's museum here. They were written in April, 1865, by John D. Williams, a young law student, who was in "Block G, Co. 18" at Johnson's Island, Ohio.

In the first of these letters, dated April 14, and apparently written only a few hours before the assassination, Williams wrote:

"Our cause has met with disaster. Through the clemency of the President of the United States, I think we all will soon be set free to go to our homes or elsewhere at our option. Lincoln has it in his power to make himself one of the greatest men now living, and I am inclined to believe he will not let the golden moments pass without making the most of it."

Six days later, on April 20, Williams wrote:

"Strange features have occurred in the awful drama that has been now for four years on the stage. The assassination of President Lincoln is in my opinion one of the most diabolical deed that ever blackened the escutcheon of a great nation. The assassin is the most horrible and despicable shape that humanity can assume. A brave man takes up arms and enters the open field, but a dastardly coward masks himself behind smiles and stabs in the dark. My honest opinion is that we had more to hope from Lincoln than any man north, and if we are compelled to submit, let it be to a brave and magnanimous foe, for is it possible for a sane man to rejoice when his best 'friend in power' is struck low by the fell knife of the assassin?"

These letters present fresh evidence, Dr. Warren said, of the fact that many men and women of the South were as deeply grieved and shocked by the assassination of Abraham Lincoln as the people of the North.

THE 1932 YEAR BOOK OUR HISTORY OF 1931

In many lines of industry the largest companies reduced their output in 1931. Those who furnished them with raw materials had, at best, restricted markets.

Swift & Company's 1932 Year Book, now ready, tells how this nation-wide, diversified marketing organization met conditions in a better way.

1. It kept its doors open and handled more pounds of products than in 1930.
2. It continued to pay cash for all it bought.
3. In more than a hundred produce stations it held to the policy of purchasing all the poultry, eggs and dairy products offered by farmers.
4. Still more important, Swift & Company cut its own costs.

Thirty years of experience have proved that the most economical way to market produce is through the same channels that handle meats. The same salesmen sell, the same refrigerator cars transport, the same branch houses sell and deliver the whole Swift & Company line of fine foods, such as Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon, Swift's Premium Milk-Fed Chicken, Golden West Fowl, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs, Cheese and many other products.

Read the 1932 Year Book. It explains how a rounded line makes Swift & Company operations stable and how diversification lessens the costs of handling both meat and produce. It takes the mystery out of the factors that go to make price levels. And it tells in detail the steps this Company has taken to make itself still more efficient in covering the gap between hundreds of thousands of producers and millions of consumers.

A GOOD MEETING

Editor of the Herald: Although it is a belated report, may I ask for space in the Herald to say that a very successful meeting of one week closed at the Harmony Baptist church on Sunday 10th, inst., at eleven A. M. Bro. Weaver Lovelace, the pastor, did the preaching. There were five additions to the church, one by statement, one by experience and baptism, and three by letter. The church was much revived. We appreciate Bro. Lovelace as a growing young man who preaches the old-time gospel with earnestness and zeal.—J. A. Davis.

Wood E. Johnson is again able to be about on the streets.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Burnett called on the Herald this week.

Secures a Judgement Against J. T. Herd

The jury in the case of Mrs. H. G. Wade, vs. J. T. Herd, tried in the district court here last week, rendered a verdict Thursday night in favor of the plaintiff.

The case was submitted on special issues and each issue was decided in the plaintiff's favor, the effect of which was to give her judgment against Herd for the full amount sued for. Her suit was for $586.00, the amount she had on deposit in The Southland Bank, belonging to Herd, at the time it closed.

There was much interest in the outcome of the trial, since there were many patrons of the bank who had money on deposit there when it was closed.—Tahoka News.

AVERAGE DOCTOR LIVES TO BE 64

(By Doctor Morris Fichbein) Each year about 3,000 doctors die in the United States. The doctor's life brings him unusual hazards from which other people do not suffer.

The average age at death of the doctors was about 64 years, although many doctors live longer. For instance, two doctors lived to be 99 years old and 30 lived to be over 90.

On the other hand, 23 doctors died under the age of 30, and 51 died between the age of 30, and 51 died between 30 and 35. As with others, many doctors died from automobile accidents. Seventy-one thus terminated their existence in 1931, as compared with 66 in 1930.

Doctors also died from falls, from drowning, from airplane accidents, from gunshot wounds, from illuminating gas, and from overdoses of medicine.

Sixty-four doctors committed suicide in 1931, which was two less than in 1930. The economic depression might have been expected to cause more deaths, since doctors suffer especially at such periods because people delay paying doctor bills more than any other type of bills they owe.

As is also the case with majority of the public, heart disease produced more deaths than any other cause. One reason heart disease is an increasing cause of death is that people are living longer than they used to.

The physician is constantly in contact with infection and he is in a way even a menace to the children in his own family through the infection that he may bring in. Physicians employed in institutions for the insane and in prisons are frequently subject to attack by their patients.

The demands on the eyesight of the physician lead frequently to visual disturbance. The X-ray worker is sometimes a martyr to his occupation.

Above all, physicians are exposed to severe weather and in many instances pneumonia, rheumatic infection, and similar disease result from combination of infection and exposure. The path of the doctors does not always lead in pleasant places.

O'Donnell and Hobbs Banks Are Robbed

It is not usual that the peace and quiet of the usual peace and quiet atmosphere of the South Plains is disturbed by such things as bank robbers, but those dirty thieving curs were at last invaded our sweet precincts, and if they are caught, we hope that our little tender hearted juries will dry their weeping eyes and for one time in their lives give a real criminal as long term anyway as they usually give a fellow who sells a pint of booze.

While all were away at lunch last Thursday noon, and only a substitute cashier was present, two men entered the O'Donnell bank and took what money there was in sight, which was about $700 leaving about $4,500 which was slightly hid. A third man sat in the car keeping it running, and nails and tacks scattered in the road made it difficult for to follow them. A man was arrested just over in New Mexico Friday that has been identified as one of the robbers, and is in jail at Tahoka. The fellow says he spent Thursday night in Brownfield. So far as we know, none of the rest of the gang has been caught.

About three o'clock Monday afternoon word was received here that an exchange was held up at Hobbs, N. M., by four men. One of them was reported to have been killed and an officer slightly wounded. The rest escaped, and have not to our knowledge been captured. The Hobbs bank consolidated with the Lovington last fall, and so far as we know no other has been opened in Hobbs, but it is thought that it was merely an exchange where people could get checks cashed by paying a small fee.

Later: This all seems to have turned out to be a raid on bootleggers instead of a robbery.

TEXAS FORTS TO REMAIN

Some time since it was announced from Washington that Forts Brown, McIntosh, Clark and Russell, on the Texas-Mexican border, would be abandoned and abolished, but since the order for the abandonment of the border forts was given, there have been some developments that are calculated to deter the department from disarming the border. Activities in the far East have reminded the world that the millennium has not dawned. The people of Texas took the matter up with the lawmakers at Washington, urging that the forts be retained, and their efforts have borne fruit. The War Department has suspended the order abandoning the forts until January, 1933. This action by the Department has encouraged the hope that the order will be canceled entirely before the present year. Senator Tom Connally has announced that he will keep up the fight to keep the forts from being abandoned.

The four Texas forts, Brown at Brownsville, Russell at Marfa, McIntosh at Laredo, and Clark at Brackettville, are strategic points on the border for guarding the international line.

When we read of the many bank robberies, high-jackers, marathons, dances, and stunts pulled by the coeds at some of the universities and colleges, and other frivolities of modern days, we wonder what the world is coming to. But we do no more wondering along this line than did those who lived before us. I remember quite well that my father and mother, aunts and uncles put in much of their time wondering what the world was coming to. And according to my recollection, my grandmother didn't do anything except smoke her pipe, slap the children and wonder what the world was coming to.—Jim Lowery.

Editor W. D. Starcher, of the Spur Times, announced the death of his brother, Joe, at Wellington, last Thursday. The sympathy of the press goes out to W. D. and family.

It would seem that Jack Garner of Texas is the man visitors in Washington and at the capitol want pointed out most by the guides, and when they reach the senate chamber, they ask that Hon. Huey Long, of Louisiana be pointed out.

Some of the New Mexico counties to the west of us seem to have the Texas system of the double primary, while other nominate by the old convention route. Just how they harmonize the two in district offices where counties of both systems are part and parcel, isn't quite clear to us.

We noticed that a firm from a near by town had some boys scattering circulars on the streets Saturday. We don't know whether the officers caught and stopped them or not, but this should be watched closely. If home merchants are not allowed to distribute circulars on our streets, others certainly should not be allowed to do so.

The State was shocked Tuesday when it became known that S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction had passed away. He had been the state superintendent for a number of years, and the educational progress had been rapid under his guiding hand, especially rural and small town and small city schools. He fought hard for equal advantages for all, rich or poor, rural or city, in Texas.

The Brownfield State Bank is announcing in their ad this week that they will mail no more statements to customers. This has become quite a costly custom, and will be more costly if the proposed postal rate is raised, which is an almost assured fact. Mr. Leo Holmes, cashier, informed us that they had few customers but who called at the bank every few days anyway, and when they were in, they could call for their statement at the window, and it would be handed them gladly.

As long as big money is back of the bootlegging game Uncle Sam can play but a minor part in curbing same. He may arrest a few of the small fry occasionally, but he never was able to convict Al Capone the biggest bootlegger. And he never would have bothered him if Capone had divided up his ill-gotten gains with our dear Uncle Sam. If you have plenty of money with which to pay off you can get away with anything in the United States. Big Money is the real government in our land.—Big Spring News.

When Federal Liquor Agents' Guns Spat Death

"I find that a decent and law abiding citizen has been ruthlessly murdered." That is the statement of William McCraw, district attorney in Dallas, following investigation of the shooting to death of Marion McGlothlin, Dallas county country grocer, and the wounding of his wife by Federal Prohibition Agents L. C. Smith and N. D. Heaton. McGlothlin's country store was a rendezvous where the officers, posing as customers, were to meet a bootlegger and buy liquor. Mrs. McGlothlin says that their actions led her to suspect they were robbers. When she withdrew her pistol from under the counter, it was shot from her hand. McGlothlin then got his shot gun and was shot to death by the agents. McGlothlin is shown upper left; his wife, head bandaged where one of the officers struck her with his pistol is upper right. Below is the scene of the shooting.

News dispatches inform us that one-fourth of all property in the State of Mississippi has already or will soon be sold for taxes, yet these dispatches say nothing of any supreme effort being made to reduce taxes in that state. After the state gets all the property, what is to be done with it? Mississippi is much too democratic, much too southern, much too individualistic to ever attempt to mimic Russia. But this is the pretty party that all state are coming to if retrenchments are not made and taxes cut in conformity with present financial conditions.

When a shipment of 907 live quail was left on a railway platform in violation of a law, a judge at Holly Springs, Miss., fined the express company $100 for each quail, or $90,700 all told. The attorney for the express company appealed the case, demanding a separate jury trial on each of the 907 quail, and also that the birds, which have been liberated as part of a game propagation endeavor, be brought back for identification. The law, as has been observed before, is a wonderful thing.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Sometimes a child can ask a question that makes the old man and woman too, wish they were under the bed. Sometimes a farmer can also ask one of these long-winded candidates for congress some very pertinent questions. One of these candidates recently, while speaking and telling the farmers how to do things said: "I know all about farming; just ask me any question about it." He yelled. A lanky farmer toward the rear of the crowd piped up, "Can you pay your taxes." This is a question that lots of farmers are going to embarrass candidates with this year.

Since speaker John Garner happened to let the fact slip out at Washington that the ham he received from the Lubbock John Garner for President Club would be fine with turnip greens, has caused quite a ripple of comment in Texas newspapers. Several of them quite suddenly pushed back their typewriters and turned food critics, and say a ham has no virtue as a seasoner for turnip greens. But the Texas press is not entirely agreed. Some say to use sow bosom with the buttons on, while others say that the only true way it to use hog jowl as a seasoner. That the jowl was invented for no other purpose than to have even gone back to Genesis and science both to prove their contention. Wasn't vegetable matter created first, including turnips? Wasn't animals (hog jowls) created later, to season with? But gentlemen, don't you suppose that John Garner consulted with Hooey Long before making that statement? And while Hooey doesn't seem to eat greens, he's a perfect pup after the licker. And don't you suppose that Hooey told John that the shank and knuckle joint of the ham is a doggone good seasoner?

The passing of President Paul W. Horn last week was a shock to the entire state, but it was a distinct shock to West Texas educationally. Prof. Horn was one of the very few well educated men who seemed destined to fit in every niche to which he was called. He could understand the language and aspirations of the learned, and could comprehend and sympathize with the unlearned. He was as much the friend of the student on the campus who was working his way through as he was the son or daughter of the rich man who came to this great educational institution to be carried through the intricacies of a higher education. Indeed, we never saw or heard of one of his former pupils that did not love him as a father, and who will cease not to cherish his memory. But Texas Tech will not lag because he has passed on—he would not have it so. Prof. Horn has laid a sturdy foundation upon which it will be much easier for his successors to follow than it has been for him. Few of us realize the worries that Dr. Horn has been through, nurturing this infant institution. Perhaps he wrecked his health upon its altar. But in a brief seven years he has made it the most noted young educational institutions in the United States. West Texas will always owe this great educator and churchman its sincere gratitude, and a debt it can never pay.

WELLMAN

Wellman Parent-Teacher Association met again Monday afternoon, April 18, 1932, from 4:30 until 6:00 o'clock to study the Home Economics Course. We met with Mrs. Wilhite. A very interesting talk on "Contagious Diseases and Their Control," was given by Mrs. Wilhite.

SPANISH TEACHER PASSED AWAY HERE TUESDAY

Miss Annie M. Long, who has for the past several terms, taught Spanish in our high school, died at the local sanitarium Tuesday about noon following a brief illness of meningitis, which was thought to have been caused from ear trouble. The body was prepared for burial by the Brownfield Undertaking Co., and carried overland to Snyder, Texas, where it was laid to rest by the side of her parents.

Brownfield was fortunate in having such a Spanish teacher as Miss Long. She had not only studied that language in some of the best schools of Texas, but spent about three years in Mexico city, where she not only studied to speak Spanish as it is spoken by real Spaniards or Mexicans, but she taught in their schools. Miss Long was a good mixer, a good conversationalist, and her admirers ranged from those in their childhood to the aged. We never heard of one of her students or ex-students that did not love her.

She took a leading part in church work, and had charge of one of the classes of young ladies in the Baptist Sunday School. Her faith in God was childlike, never having been the least disrupted by any teaching of modern higher education. Miss Long will be greatly missed by the school, church and social life of the town and her place hard to fill.

She leaves to mourn her passing a sister, Mrs. A. J. Akers, and Mrs. Akers' two sons, Glen and Jot, all of this city, and a niece, also a daughter of Mrs. Akers, who lives at Memphis, Texas.

A. C. Harvey was in last Saturday and reported that he blustered himself riding to vote for Ma Ferguson two years ago, and intended doing the same thing this year. Yeah! A. C. but ain't you got no mercy on the mule?

Mrs. Stricklin, accompanied by Mrs. Endersen and daughter, Mary Handley, were visitors in Lubbock Monday.

Doctors Reap Large Range in Appreciation

It may be that all the doctor's bills resulting from the past writer's attacks of "flu" have been paid—such a thing could be. But if the knowledge that ones services are appreciated is any help—and it surely is—the local doctors might be gratified to read a set of themes that came in from one assignment last week. The subject was "The Most Useful Citizen I Know Of;" and it had to be a real person who was described. About fifty percent of the papers described one or another of our local physicians.

May Fete To Be Held May 2

The second day of May has been set aside by the president as May Day throughout the United States. The Grammar school is now working on a program in keeping with that day. The festival is to be given at the gymnasium, May 2, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. The May queen will be crowned after which children of the different nations will present dances representative of their countries for her entertainment. The children are finding much enjoyment and receiving much benefit from working up this program and we urge all the parents and friends of Brownfield Grammar school to come and see them present it.

We also wish to thank the parents for their cooperation in preparing costumes. We appreciate it very much.—Mrs. Savage.

Buster Brown—Billy can you jump six feet high?

Billy Hudgens—Yeah! one at a time.

Spanish Club

In the Spanish Club Tuesday, April 12, Miss Long was very present and the club missed her very much. But an interesting program was given. The roll call was answered by conjugating any irregular verb in the present subjunctive. Ester Ruth Smith gave three proverbs in Spanish and in English. Lynn Nelson read a very interesting theme on the Spanish country, Uruguay. After this the club enjoyed a contest on conjugating verbs and sang Spanish songs.

Local People Go To Amarillo

Several representatives of our local talent left here Friday to enter the Tri-State Music Festival at Amarillo. Those entering the voice department were James Michie, bass; Lee Brownfield, barytone; Mary Dee Price, alto and Kathleen Hardin, soprano. Mrs. Dallas' quartet composed of Dora Dean Neill, Mary Dee Price, Martha McClish and Evelyn Pippin entered the voice ensembles.

The places won and the ratings were: bass, third place, rating average; barytone, second, rating good; alto, third place, rating average; soprano, second place, rating average.

The quartet won second place with a rating of superior. The first place winner beat them only one point.

Miss Rasco took five of her piano pupils to Amarillo and Mrs. Jackson sent one. Miss Rasco's pupils were Oliver Barrier, Mary Barrier, Elizabeth Ann Smith, Jo Pete May and Mildred Adams. The ratings were: Barrier, superior; Elizabeth Ann Barrier, superior; Elizabeth Ann Smith, superior; Jo Pete May, superior and Mildred Adams, good.

Mrs. Jackson's pupil, Queenelle Sawyer made a rating of good.

It was with great regret and sorrow that the faculty and student body learned this morning (Tuesday) as The Cub Reporter is being compiled of the critical condition of Miss Long who has been taken to the Brownfield Sanitarium. It is our hope that she will speedily recover and be back among us again soon.

Science Club Meets

On April 12 the Science club of Brownfield High School met and gave an interesting program.

Some of the members that had parts on the program were absent but the others gave interesting numbers.

The club decided upon a plan to punish members who do not bring up their part; but as everyone seems interested in the work we hope we will not have to use it.

We have an interesting program for next time and hope to continue our good work.

Library Receives 36 New Volumes

The high school library has this week acquired thirty-six new volumes, all of which are usable for outside reading in English classes. Sixteen of these were purchased with library fine money, and twenty were the gift of Mary Handley Endersen. Many of these were poetry and drama, two types of reading which our library is most in need of. Pupils find it very difficult to secure enough books to do the required amount of reading in those two types. Any decorations of such numbers are always most thankfully received.

Scene from "THE BIG PARADE"

Big Parade in Sound In Triumphant Return

Celebrated King Vidor Drama of War Heroes Reissued With Sound Effect in Fulfillment of Popular Demand—Will Open Sunday at Rialto Theatre

Picture Made John Gilbert Famous

"The Big Parade," most heroic and stirring picture ever filmed, will make a triumphant return to the Rialto Theatre starting Sunday, April 24th, the revised version of the celebrated King Vidor production having been made doubly thrilling by the addition of sound effects.

During late years, according to officials at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, there has been a definite public demand for the revival of "The Big Parade," which prompted the producers to present it with the sound embellishments which were unknown when the picture was originally released.

Hear Soldiers Sing

Such effects as the sounds of the cannon, machine guns, airplanes, trucks and tanks add tremendous realism to the stirring war scenes and further realism is achieved by sound in the sequences in which war is first declared and made apparent to the people by the ringing of bells and the sounding of factory whistles. Also in the current version of "The Big Parade" you will hear the soldiers as they sing such robust marching songs as "You're in the Army Now," all of which gives the picture an entirely fresh aspect.

Together with the new version retains the original musical score as presented at the opening of the picture at the Astor Theatre in New York. This was personally directed by Dr. William Axt, its creator, with a hundred-piece orchestra for the audible version.

"The Big Parade" is the picture which launched John Gilbert as a star and no player was more fortunate in the choice of a first starring vehicle for the picture is a tremendous and authentic portrayal of the war, a masterpiece of emotion and a great human comedy as well. Renee Adoree as Melisande, the French girl; Karl Dane, Hobart Bosworth, Claire McDowell and Tom O'Brien play outstanding roles.

Story Of Three Buddies

The story, written by Laurence Stallings, is a simple tale, simply but vividly told. Jim Apperson, an easy-going, likable young American, enlists at the outbreak of the war, leaving his family and sweetheart. He becomes deeply attached to his two buddies, Slim and Bull, and the three go through a number of engrossing and stirring experiences. While stationed behind the lines, Jim falls in love with Melisande. The conclusion of the war, the outcome of his entanglement with the girl at home and his final return to France in search of Melisande provide the plot elements of a story which wavers between comedy and pathos.

The reality of war has been magnificently brought home in this picture. Its horror, its tragedy and its romance have in this instance been woven into a true epic.

Chamber of Commerce

By J. E. Shelton, Sec.

Speaking of panics and very few speak of them now, reminds the writer of an article that appeared in one of the recent issues of a Texas Weekly. It gives the report of the United States Commissioner of Labor concerning the effect of the panic of 1886 and an opinion of what people should expect from then to the end of the Chapter. Read the report, it follows:

The rapid development and adaptation of machinery have brought what is commonly called over-production—railroads and canals that are really needed have been built, harbors and rivers are sufficiently developed, water and gas works, tramways and so forth, are largely provided for. The Alps are tunneled and the Suez Canal has been built. Terrestrial and transoceanic lines of telegraph have been laid and merchant marine has been transformed from wood to iron. On all sides one sees the accomplished results of the labor of half a century. New processes will act as an ameliorating influence, but it will not leave room for marked extension. The day of large profit is probably past.

Now isn't that just about what we are hearing in the good year of 1932.

Something like ninety applications for loans from the Farmers Seed Loan have been completed through this office to date and a large majority of applications have been approved by the Dallas office and farmers are in possession of the cash. Up to this date we have not had a single rejection, although a few papers have been returned for execution of waivers and when all of these are off hand, we will have worked on about 100 hundred loans. The number is not running as high as the local committee expected, but there may be a rush during the last few days. It might be well to state that the 28th of this month is the last day that can be safely passed as all applications must be in Dallas by midnight of the 30th Applications reaching the regional office later than the 30 will be returned without action unless Washington authorizes extensions of the time.

Hon. W. R. Ely, Chairman of the Highway Commission was in Brownfield on Monday of this week and called at this office for a few minutes, but was not asked, and did not state the nature of his business. Judge Ely, has a friendly feeling for us, however, as we are not undertaking to "butt" in on affairs in which we are not directly effected and have not heretofore requested very much from his department. In fact, Judge Ely informed the writer that if every county had been as conservative in its demands as we, that the commission would at this time or by this time, have been able to have constructed paved roads over our designation without cost to us. He did drop the hint that if we would show more interest in highway improvement that the commission would be favorably disposed toward paying a larger proportion of construction expense in our county than had yet been offered.

C. Sears dropped in Friday to send the Herald to his old friend, R. C. Whitmire at Haskell, and informed us that they had a mighty fine rabbit drive out in the section last week. He reported that they had a fine dinner, but that some of the soft town candidates who were out there were in rather early that afternoon begging the ladies for more cake.

Our old friends, A. L. Turner, is down with a stroke of paralysis this week. We understand that it was only in one side.

Many Brownites Are Beautifying Premises

A drive over our little city now reveals the fact that there are many who are taking the opportunity of the dull times and cheapened materials to make some needed improvement about the place, and while none are going to a great deal of expense on the improvement, the results are good and showy just the same, and the people are to be complimented for this forward movement.

The most frequent as well as the most noticeable of these improvements are to the front yards. Here and there, they are moving sand, filling in and leveling with richer and harder earth, and replacing the grass in the vacant places. Then the flower beds put up along the borders and the beds prepared for flowers. So if this happens to be a seasonable year, with the help of city water, you are going to see many pretty yards here this summer.

Many vegetable gardens are also noticeable in the rear of the homes. While some of them may scarcely pay for the expense, it gives some diversion for owners. Perhaps the owner does not like golf or any other outdoor game, but just loves to work with flowers and vegetables. That suits him or her and takes the place of golf or baseball and cost no more. In this connection, the Herald wishes to add its word of praise to the high school students for the pride they have shown in beautifying the school grounds.

Victim and Route of Bandit

John McCommas, left, Dallas bank messenger who was robbed of $38,000 by a "powdered faced" bandit Friday, told police that the bandit, who wore dark spectacles, jumped on the running board of his car and made him follow the route shown in the diagram at the right. On Royal street he forced McCommas to leave the car, then abandoned it at the point shown.

Heavy Damage and Three Injured in Panhandle Fire

Damage approximating $125,000 and injury to three employees resulted last week when fire destroyed the plant of the Texas Eth Carbon company near Pampa, Texas. The three men injured were overcome by heat and fumes and taken to a Pampa hospital. Fire destroyed 600,000 pounds of carbon black and endangered 25,000,000 pounds stored nearby.

ADD A LUXURIOUS TOUCH TO YOUR FOOD ECONOMIES

Count our pennies, to keep food budgets down, and yet to provide tempting fare—that is real kitchen art.

That is why chocolate's popularity never wanes. For chocolate gives the simplest, most economical dessert a touch of luxury.

Let chocolate work its magic with such old standbys as rice or bread pudding, and your family will give three cheers for your most economical dishes.

Chocolate Bread Pudding 1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate, 3 eggs, slightly beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 cups 1/2 inch cubes stale bread.

Add chocolate to milk in double boiler and heat. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine sugar, salt, eggs. Add chocolate mixture gradually, stirring vigorously.

Berkshire Pudding 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, 4 cups milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 cup dates, 2 cups milk, 1 1/2 tablespoons finely cut granulated gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Short Paper Last Week Startle Readers

Last week was the first time in some eight or ten years that the Herald has come out with less than eight pages, which caused quite a bit of comments among the readers. Several of the men folks told us that their wives came near making them go back to town after the rest of the paper, thinking there was the usual size and that they had only received half of it. There was two reasons why the paper was shy last week—short business and flu, mostly the former.

It just so happened that everyone that wanted an ad decided to have it week before last, and we had a fine paper that week—a well balanced paper between advertising matter and reading matter. But last week, there just seemed to be no special announcements coming from any of the merchants here, and very little of what we newspapermen term "foreign" advertising, or advertising sent in by national advertising firms. At the same time, the editor had a good case of flu over which we have not gained control to this good day, but we are up and going.

If Mr. Hoover's prosperity does not turn the corner pretty soon, we may have a lot of "half pint" papers this summer, for we are not going to publish at a loss if we can possibly help it. We are going to take the business we can get and make the best of it till times get better. That is all anyone can do.

Increased Interest In Boys' Week Reported

Chicago, April.—The National Boys' Week Committee for the United States has announced that the demand for literature and information concerning the 1932 observance of Boys' Week has surpassed that of all previous years. "We take this as an indication," says S. Kendrick Guernsey, Secretary of the Committee, "that many communities are observing April 30 to May 7 as Boys' Week that had not previously recognized the event. The only explanation we are able to offer is that prevailing economic conditions have had a tendency to make people community conscious. Adults are realizing that it is necessary to devote more time to the training of youth if the world is to be saved from constant repetition of conditions such as it has recently experienced."

The observance of Boys' Week is not new; originated in 1920 by the Rotary Club of New York City, the movement has experienced a steady growth in popularity until at the present time Boys' Week is celebrated as an annual event in practically every country of the world. The annual programs are developed by a national committee of which Walter W. Head, President of the Boy Scouts of America and past president of the American Bankers Association, is chairman, and of which almost a hundred men, prominent in religious, educational, or industrial life, are members. Headquarters for the committee have been established at 211 West Wacker Drive, Chicago, and from this point literature and suggestions are distributed gratis to all parts of the world.

April 30 to May 7 has been designated for the 1932 observance of Boys' Week and the program announced by the committee is as follows:

- Boys' Loyalty Day, Saturday, April 30.
- Boys' Day in Churches, Sunday, May 1.
- Boys' Day in Industry, Monday, May 2.
- Boys' Day in Schools, Tuesday, May 3.
- Boys' Day in Entertainment and Athletics, Wednesday, May 4.
- Boys' Health Day and Evening at Home, Thursday, May 5.
- Boys' Day in Citizenship, Friday, May 6.
- Boys' Day Out-of-Doors, Saturday, May 7.

Plainview Butter Grades High at Chicago

More than 75,000 pounds of butter were produced by the Plains Co-operative Inc., creamery during the month of March, R. B. Davis, manager states. The creamery sold a carload of butter on the Chicago market about a week ago that graded as extras. This was from cream that was brought in during the extremely cold weather and reached the creamery in good condition. Mr. Davis says that this is an indication of the recognition that is given quality products which result from good cream and that this territory can hope to get top prices for its cream when it is able to deliver good, sweet cream in quantities.—Plainview News.

Only One More Week To Get Crop Loans

Only two weeks remain in which the farmers of Terry County may make application for a Federal Crop Production Loan, according to Owen W. Sherrill, Regional Director of the Farmers' Seed Loan Office in Dallas.

"April 30th is the dead-line as provided in the Act appropriating the Funds," states Mr. Sherrill, "and anyone who expects to secure a loan must make application on or before that date."

"While local committees have served faithfully in the limited time at their disposal, it is believed that there are many farmers in the State who are worthy and eligible for a loan who have not been fully informed on how their need for credit may be taken care of. There are perhaps many others sorely in need of a loan with which to make a crop this year who have not made application because of a misunderstanding of the requirements."

In order that true facts of the Loan Plan may be carried to all such persons and that every farmer desiring a loan may have the opportunity of making an application, plans are being set in motion in a meeting at the Dallas Headquarters Office on Saturday whereby an intensive educational campaign will be put underway for next week to bring the information to the doors of every community.

The loan committees in many countries are arranging a schedule of visits to every community in the county beginning Monday 18th. The central office force and corp of stenographers is being moved to the various towns for a day in each place. While on the ground, the committee will answer questions, clear up misunderstandings or erroneous impressions and help prepare applications for every eligible farmer in the community who wishes to apply. Advance notice of the schedule of visits throughout the County will be made.

"It is not the intention of the Farmers' Seed Loan Office to solicit applications," states Mr. Sherrill, "nor do we wish to encourage anyone not eligible to apply but we do want to feel we have made a conscientious effort to see that every worthy person has the correct information and has the opportunity of securing a loan, that there may be no regrets after the application period passes."

Plenty Fishing Soon at The Two Draw Lake

Post, April 9.—There will be plenty of fishing for lovers of that outdoor sport, after May 1, in Two Draw Lake, near here, according to Ben I. Sogree, chairman of the Post Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of that activity. "We have lots of fish in the lake," Mr. Sogree said. "While the law prevents fishing now, there will be plenty when the season begins. We want the people to come down here and enjoy it."

Two Draw lake comprises about 30 acres. It is formed by a dam across a stream that dams up two draws.

Post residents have built a pavilion, a bathing beach, docks for boating and have a plentiful supply of water and a sanitary system. Numerous organizations over the area use it for summer encampments.

Dr. Ranger, who is one of the nations foremost figures in educational circles, has written a letter to Hon. S. M. N. Marrs, Texas Superintendent of Public Instruction, in which he congratulates Mr. Marrs on being a fellow citizen of Speaker Garner.

"On reading the remarkable address of Speaker Garner to the House of Representatives in Washington, I am prompted to congratulate you on being a Texan and a neighbor of a great patriot, who uses his political faith and party allegiance to serve our common country."

Baccalaureate Sermon By Local Minister

The Baccalaureate service for the seniors of the Brownfield High School will be held in the auditorium of the high school at 11:00 o'clock Sunday, May 15th. Rev. R. P. Drennon has consented to preach the sermon for the class. Rev. Drennon has been very active in the interest of the school through the year by virtue of his position as president of the P. T. A. For this reason and others he has become somewhat a favorite with the high school folks. The seniors look forward to this event with much pride. There has been an idea that we should run out of town and get a preacher to talk to the folks at that time but when we have as good here as anywhere, why should we go elsewhere?

The school invites all the churches to dismiss their regular Sunday morning service and come to this community service in connection with the closing of the schools for this year.

Rev. Drennon will discuss the subject "Essentials of Leadership." The entire program has not as yet been worked out but will appear in a later issue of the Herald. Plans are being arranged whereby we will have a community wide choir to sing on this occasion. Other special music numbers will be had.

The seniors invite the entire public to witness their program for this occasion.—Contributed.

SEAGRAVES YOUTH IS MODEL STUDENT

Seagraves, April 9.—Norman Berry, son of O. L. Berry, one of the well known farmers of Gaines county, is considered by school authorities of Seagraves as the "best all-around student," according to C. W. Roberts, superintendent of schools.

Norman last year won a trip to Chicago to attend the International Livestock show, given by the Santa Fe to one outstanding boy in each county in the state in which it operates. His record was made on cattle, his 4-H and vocational agriculture projects.

At the present time Norman is milking 11 cows, ten of them belonging to his father. He owns one animal. He lives two miles from town and does his own chores before and after school hours.

GETTING STARTED

Arthur Brisbane says that the great Chicago exhibition will be opened about June 1st next year. There is nothing strange about that, but Arthur also says that the machinery of that big show will be set in motion by means of photo-electric cells carrying light from the star Arcturus.

The light rays starting this machinery left that star forty years ago according to astronomers, and since light travels at the rate of 86,000 miles per second, and it takes forty years for it to reach the earth, that star is quite a distance away to be attracted to the Chicago exhibition leading one to believe that the windy city on the lake is leaving nothing undone to attract attention. Starting machinery by means of light from a star is new, though we have known several individuals to get started from the light of the moon on numerous occasions.—Clarendon Leader.

ENFORCEMENT OFFICER SAYS "FEWER OPEN BARS"

A press report from Albuquerque says that Prohibition Director Charles Stearns has just returned from a trip to McKinley and San Juan counties where he found fewer open bars than formerly.

The thing which strikes the average citizen is why should the prohibition enforcement officer report any open bars. His duty is to enforce the prohibition laws. If he knows of any open bars, why has he not forced them to close? His statement indicates that not only are open bars running in his district, but that they have been running openly all the time and that he has all this time known, and at the present time knows, that they are so running.

It has all along been believed that prohibition enforcement officers do not attempt to close up all the liquor selling joints. Like Teddy Roosevelt's trusts, which he classified as "good trusts and bad trusts," there seem to be "good liquor joints and bad liquor joints" with our enforcement officers. To the average layman it would seem that if a bootlegger has "seen" the enforcement officer, that officer does not see him, but that those who have not made proper arrangements are arrested and their joints closed. —Lovington, (N. M.) Leader.

YOUNG GRANDMOTHERS

The appearance of an item in the daily papers recently regarding a Boston woman who became a grandmother at the age of 34, caused a Fort Worth paper to make a search for young grandmothers in the State of Texas. The search resulted in finding younger grandmothers in this State than the Boston woman.

Among the young grandmothers in Texas reported to the Fort Worth paper were: Mrs. H. B. Keith, of Highland, who is 33 years old, and is a grandmother. Roy Truman Ross, is the grandchild. Mrs. Keith's husband is 34.

Mrs. Carrie Wheeler, wife of Ben Wheeler, of Carlsbad, is a grandmother at 32. Her daughter is Mrs. Sadie Hicks.

Mrs. Edith Dunn of Plaska, was a grandmother when she was 32 years and eleven months old. Before she was 35 she had a granddaughter and a grandson. Her husband is one year older than she is.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Martin, of Desdemona, have eleven children and nine grandchildren. Mrs. Martin is 39 years old and Mrs. Martin 43.

"PALM BEACH" CLOTH? 'TIS WEST TEXAS MOHAIR

While the fact is not generally known, one of the country's most widely advertised products, produced in great quantities and sold in approximately 3,000 of the country's finest clothing stores, is made solely from West Texas materials.

Few trade marks are better known than "Palm Beach." Palm Beach cloth, manufactured by the Goodall Worsted Company of Sanford, Maine, is a unique brand of mohair and cotton, according to a letter written by an officer of the Goodall Company to the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. The warp is cotton, the filling mohair. The cotton is a fine long staple variety from West Texas and one hundred per cent Texas mohair is used, from West Texas, of course.

For years the Goodall Worsted Company has woven this cloth and sold it to manufacturers of summer clothing, who in turn made up Palm Beach suits and sold them to the retail trade. For 1932, however, the company has established its own clothing factory at Knoxville, Tenn., and hereafter all Palm Beach suits will be made by the Goodall Company, which is a subsidiary of the Goodall Worsted Company. The Knoxville plant started operation last year and is now turning out more than 5,000 suits per week. Plans for the enlargement of the company's output are being made.

William N. Campbell, president of the Goodall Worsted Company and the man whose foresight is responsible for the new move, is a native Texan. He was born in Galveston and is the son of Judge John W. Campbell of Galveston.

TO SINK SHAFT FOR POTASH MINE

Sinking of a shaft on the extensive holdings of the Texas Potash Company in Ector and Midland counties is expected to start not later than May 1.

A shaft of 2,100 feet in depth will be sunk at a cost of approximately $200,000, and engineers of several Eastern concerns have been on the ground making estimates. Leases of the company are said to contain some of the richest potash deposits in the world, and about two thousand tons daily will be produced when operations have started.

BIG YEAR EXPECTED BY COTTON CO-OPS

Plans for extending the service of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association throughout the Texas Cotton Belt and for conducting an extensive educational campaign in cooperative marketing were made at a meeting of Directors and Executive Committee members of the Association in the headquarters this week. Officials hope the Association will handle 1,000,000 bales during the 1932-33 season.

R. J. Murray, general manager, proposes visiting every cotton growing county in the State this year and carrying the message of co-operative marketing personally to hundreds of thousands of farmers.

Deep Plowing Best to Prevent Sand Blowing

Seagraves, April 9.—Deep plowing is the best thing for the prevention of sand blowing and it not only saves the land but also increases production.

This is the opinion of J. I. McCullough, a well known farmer of Gaines county and also O. L. Berry, another farmer, both of whom have tried out deep plowing to their own satisfaction.

Mr. Berry reported his corn on deep plowing land the first year averaged two to three bushels per acre over land plowed the ordinary way. He also reported the deep plowed land conserved moisture and prevented the land from blowing out after the crops had been planted.

Just to test the possibilities of deep plowing Mr. Berry had two plots 40 steps apart, one plowed 18 to 20 inches deep and the other less than half that. Passers by reported they could see a marked difference in the appearance of the crop.

When R. F. McFadrigue, now county agent at Muleshoe, was here, he had the two men and several others act as cooperators in deep plowing. The cost averaged around $5 to the acre. Since the slump in agricultural prices there has been little talk of deep plowing because of the belief that the increased cost is not met by the price for the increased yields.

MUST PROTECT INVESTMENT IN FEDERAL ROADS

"Although the need for jobs is a prime factor in the continuation of Federal Aid to states in road building at least on its present scale, it must not be forgotten that a large, economically needed, road building job still remains to be done."

This declaration was made here today by Federic E. Everett, President of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

"Of the 197,000 miles on the Federal Aid System only 76,300 miles have high type surfaces," Mr. Everett pointed out. "Some 14,500 miles on the system have received no attention what soever and 28,850 miles are still in the graded and drained stage. An additional 57,800 miles have only low type surfaces and 19,400 miles have intermediate type surfaces."

"On the one hand the task ahead assumes astounding proportions. On the other, it is evident that excellent progress has been made, doubly so when it is considered that thousands of miles of roads not classified as high type pavements are roads technically known as stage construction. This stage construction, or preparatory work, will enable the Federal government and the states to proceed at a gain much more rapid than was possible during the first few years of Federal Aid."

"The states and the Federal government have a tremendous investment in the system and that investment must be protected," continued Mr. Everett. "The only way to do that is to continue Federal Aid in such amount that a reasonable and logical mileage of roads can each year be elevated to the class of construction warranted by traffic. There are thousands of miles of low type and unimproved roads on the system that need to be surfaced or a better grade of surfacing. If they are permitted to remain in their present condition the traveling public will be penalized in high car operating costs and the states through high road upkeep costs."

"In 1931 approximately 11,000 miles of Federal Aid highways were improved. That is good progress and in view of the importance of highway transportation to every citizen, it is necessary that this rate be maintained."

STORY OF SNAKES FOUND AT INFIDEL'S GRAVE

That as high as twenty snakes crawl out of and over the grave of Chester Bedell, atheist, near Alliance, Ohio, is declared to be true by the Free Tract Society, which has investigated the various stories spread throughout the country about "snakes in an atheist's grave."

While living, Mr. Bedell, declared that there was no God and never did believe in one. One man from Alliance, Ohio, said, "He did not hesitate to speak of these things. Occasionally Bedell attended the Presbyterian church in his home town North Benton, and the members said his presence threw such a coldness over the people as soon as he entered that it almost broke up the meeting."

He built a bronze monument years before his death. His statue is of bronze and in his uplifted hand is a scroll with the inscription, 'Universal Mental Liberty.' Under his left foot is a scroll representing the Holy Bible with the inscription, 'Superstition.' Before his death he made this remark, 'If there be a God or any truth in the Bible, let my body be inhabited by snakes.'

"Since his burial the family lot has been full of snakes around the curbing. The neighbors say that the more snakes they kill the thicker they seem to be."

The Rev. L. B. Lehman, of Franklin, Pa., not far from North Benton, Ohio, motored to the cemetery and declared the story was "weird, but evidently true." Another man who investigated the case said that at the funeral it was necessary to remove a snake from the grave before the casket could be lowered, and that the sexton said he never saw a snake at any other grave.

Bedell died at the age of 82 years in 1908. He was in 21 lawsuits in his lifetime and owned approximately 2,500 acres of land in his community when he died.—The News-Sentinel, Fort Wayne, Ind.
