

BROWNFIELD BOY SETS NEW STATE JAVELIN THROW RECORD

A GREAT SCHOOL YEAR COMING TO CLOSING TIME

Everything and Everybody Seem to Have Cooperated Together This Year for the City's Greatest School Term. Even the Depression Failed to Hinder Much.

Handicapped as it has been in many ways, one of the greatest if not the very greatest school terms in the history of the city is drawing to a close. The same can be said of the many independent and common districts over the county, including the Meadow school. There has been less said this year in a critical way, that we have heard of than ever before of any school year. If there has been any serious trouble in any school in the county, we are not aware of the fact. Yet people tell us the world is growing worse. There was a day—and any mature man or woman knows it—when hardly a school year went by when there was not serious trouble between some pupil and teachers. Indeed in the old days there was always a "tough" who thought the school could not end right without him having a fight with the teachers.

We believe that day has about past away. Now the boy who thinks he is tough is given something to do to vent his feelings. He is brought into some games, is made a confident and pal by the coach, and the only thing he wants to whip is a neighboring school team in a fair, rough and tumble game. Therefore, he gives none of his teachers a bit of trouble. He has a lot of fight taken out of him by opposing teams, and he is glad of the friendship of his teachers and school mates. Then there always used to be some girl of the "catfish" nature who wanted to tear the hair and eyes out of some of their classmates or female teachers. For this kind of a girl has been provided an outlet for her "nerves" too. She is given a chance in the many games to let off steam too, and she is made a better girl, a stronger, healthier girl, a more sportlike girl, and a more even tempered girl. She is better fitted in life for any vocation or for motherhood.

In the local schools this year, Supt. Sanders seems to have had the full co-operation not only of the teachers, but the pupils, parents and trustees. If there has been a jar or friction of any kind, it certainly has been kept quiet. At least two of the faculty have been with us the entire term as roomers, we have been very intimate with some of the trustees, we have been at least on friendly terms with practically all teachers, we have talked with quite a lot of pupils and parents without one hint of any friction anywhere. Each teacher seems to think that their fellow teachers were just exactly the man or woman for the job, and all of them think Sanders was just the kind of man they needed as a leader. The trustees think the same way and have no criticism to offer for any teacher now employed. Only one teacher was not offered her place next term, but it was not because she had not made good. On account of finances and an economy schedule, she was dropped, being the last teacher employed last year. All others had seniority over her. But she did make good. All readily grant that much, and she will be recommended to any place by school officials and patrons alike here, to any school she may apply.

The handicap we spoke of in the beginning of this article, was of course financial. Some could not pay their taxes and some would not. That made hard sailing for all. Teachers have therefore had to draw half salary for months, which was just about enough to meet actual expenses, with nothing practically for clothing and other needs. All who possibly could have taken jobs Saturdays with merchants and others to help out matters. But despite this, they have gone into the school rooms each Monday morning and given their very best to the instruction of all alike. If you have heard them ache about not getting all their pay, you have heard more than we have. What other set of men and women would not have had a great deal to say about not getting their wages? This was not their fault either; it was not the fault of the trustees; it was the fault of some not being able to pay their taxes and some few who possibly could but would not. Yes, we've had a great school.

Old Time Editor In To See Us Tuesday

During the rain Tuesday morning, our old friend, G. R. Scott stopped for a few minutes to chat. He and wife, accompanied by their son-in-law, R. J. Watson, also of Lubbock, had started to the Cavens, but had just about decided to turn back home and wait for some favorable weather. He said the rain hit them about Ropes and that there had been a good shower from Ropes to Brownfield.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Scott first in 1920. He was at that time editor of the Hale Center Record, and was representing Hale county at the State Democratic convention at Dallas. We happened to be there in the interest of Terry county. Of course being newspaper men and from the same section, we threw together. Both of us were Neff men, and Mr. Scott was later appointed weight and measure man for this section under Neff's administration. G. R. says he is still a Democrat through and through.

This old time—but not very old—newspaper man of this section can tell you many thrilling things about Ranger in its oil boom days. He went there to help the swamped force on the little Ranger paper which happened a day or two after the boom hit. He says that he could sit in his window sticking type by hand and see one or two fights and plenty drunks out on the streets.

A syndicate later bought out the little country town weekly and turned it into a modern daily, with all the latest printing equipment.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to our friends and acquaintances for their kindness during the illness and death of our mother. Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Lemmons.

Baccalaureate Program Next Sunday 11 A. M.

On Sunday, May 15, 1932 the Baccalaureate service for the Senior Class of the Brownfield High School will be had in the High School Auditorium at 11:00 A. M. Rev. R. P. Drennon has consented to deliver the sermon to the graduates at this time.

Mrs. W. H. Dallas is training a choir from all the churches in town to sing on this occasion. With this special music the program bids fair to be an inspiring one.

The ministers of all the churches in town have agreed that they will dismiss regular church service for that hour and come to the baccalaureate service in the High School.

The Seniors of the class of 1932 invites the public in general and their friends in particular to be present on this occasion and to hear the following program:

Processional—Mrs. W. H. Dallas.
"Holy Holy, Holy"—Choir.
Invocation—Rev. J. M. Hale.
"Come Thou Almighty King"—Choir.
Announcements—A. E. Sanders.
Bible Reading—Rev. R. P. Drennon.
Awaking Chorus—Choir.
Sermon, "Essentials of Success"—Rev. R. P. Drennon.
"Praise Ye Jehovah"—Girls Quartet.
Benediction—Rev. J. M. Hale.
Recessional—March of the Priest, Mozart, by Mrs. W. H. Dallas.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank our many friends for all the kindness shown during the illness of my husband, for the visits and the flowers which he enjoyed so much. You helped to make his life so happy.

Mrs. Randal.

Commissioners Court was in regular quarterly session this week.

Fair and Warmer!

Graduation Address by Prof. W. P. Clements

The graduation exercises of the Brownfield High School will be had at 8:15 P. M. May 26 in the high school auditorium. There will be thirty or more graduates if all complete their work during the last week of school. The public is invited to attend this last function of the school system during this year. This occasion is one that will be long remembered by those receiving the diploma indicating that they have completed the course as offered by the Brownfield High School.

Arrangements have just been completed for Prof. W. P. Clements, Professor of Education, Texas Technological College to deliver the graduation address. Mr. Clements is an outstanding teacher in our college at Lubbock. He is a young man of pleasing personality and a high order of scholarship and training. His unusual social acumen will make him very acceptable to the community. Mr. Clements had his college training in one of the church schools of Texas. He later went to the Leland Stanford University at Palo Alto, California for graduate work and has received his M. A. degree. It won't be long now until they will be referring to him as Dr. Clements. The school is indeed fortunate to secure the services of this man.

The class this year is of fair size and made up of some very responsible people. They will go out from Brownfield to reflect credit on their school and community. The community is to be congratulated on the graduating class this year.

The names of the pupils who are expecting to graduate are given below. It is understood that these pupils will finish all their work successfully before they will be entitled to graduate. There are seventeen boys and seventeen girls in this class. This is indeed quite unusual. In most classes there are about four times as many girls as there are boys. This shows some credit to the boys of Brownfield. They have carried on as well as the girls in the school have.

The names of the probable graduates are as follows:

- Theo Carl Adams
- Vernon Francis Bell
- Stephen Lafayette Brock
- Annie Lee Brown
- Janett Brown
- Lee Almer Brownfield
- Wilburn A. Bryan
- Cecil Glenn Burnett
- Edna Bernice Carpenter
- William Alvin Conner
- Dolly Lee Cook
- John L. Cruce, Jr.
- Calvin Howard Davis
- Lawrence Jules Dunn, Jr.
- Mary Handley Endersen
- William Elbert Gore
- James Morris Hale
- Marion Eileen Hill
- Pearl Lucille Landess
- Dell B. Martin
- Marjorie Estelle Moore
- Margaret Murray
- Dora Dean Neill
- Mabel Perry
- Lucille Burnett
- Ada Leora Proctor
- Orvalene Price
- Patricia Anne Shelton
- Herbert Fayne Smith
- Wanna Christine Smith

State Highway Dept. May Pave Highway 137

A rumor was current here Wednesday to the effect that the State Highway Department had made an offer to Terry county to pave 137 from the Hockley county line through Brownfield and to the Gaines county line 2 miles this side of Seagraves, providing only that Terry county provide a 100 feet right-of-way. The material specified was a thick layer of caliche covered by three hot tops of asphalt.

What made the rumor look good was a contract from the State Engineer for 5000 stakes, 2 inches wide and 18 inches long, which was given to the Shamburger Lumber Co., of this city, the stakes to be ready to be picked up within 20 days. We also understand that the proposition is to be taken up with the commissioners court here at an early date. This rumor was also confirmed by some of the highway men, but did not want their names used at this time.

Lubbock county is paving to the Hockley county line just beyond Ropes, and Andrews and Gaines counties are paving the other end, and if this connection is built, it will give a continuous pavement from Amarillo and north to the Bankhead highway at Odessa, as well as to the Cavens and El Paso. And all it will cost Terry county will be just a little more right-of-way between here and Seagraves.

Again The Glorious Rains Visits Terry Co.

Something like a half inch rain came again Monday night and Tuesday of this week, and as this is written Tuesday morning at near eleven o'clock, the rain has slackened up, but conditions are very favorable for more rain. The wind is in the southeast and the clouds still look low and murky. There may be more before the spell is over, yet farmers are wishing for fair, planting weather, not to say a little more heat instead of more rain, right at this time. But we have long since learned that there is nothing that can be done about the weatherman.

Anyway, much corn and cotton is just coming through the ground, and farmers are hopeful that it will not rain enough to cover up the little stuff that is peeping through, and least of all do they want a big hail, the dreaded ban of planting time in west Texas.

The grass also seems to be getting a double-shuffle on itself, and is fast getting up where the cows can get a hold on it, and before long the cows, horses, sheep and goats will be rolling fat. Come to old Terry, the land of plenty.

GILLIAM GRAHAM TOSSES SPEAR 190 FEET AT AUSTIN

Another Brownfield Lad and Lass Stayed in and Pitched and Made a Good Showing at Austin. The Whole Community is Proud of the Records They Made.

The Brownfield track team and Declamer who won first place at the district meet returned from Austin, Sunday where they achieved greater honors for themselves. Gilliam Graham breaking the state record in the javelin throw, and Jim Neill placing third in the high hurdles. Marien Hill got into the semifinals in declamation.

The students with their coaches left by automobile Wednesday afternoon and drove to Merkel where they spent the night. They continued to Austin, Thursday. After registration, the track boys went to Memorial Stadium for a light work out before the meet. Mrs. Penn and Marien Hill spent the remainder of the afternoon resting.

After a very restless night the boys reported to Memorial Stadium at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning for the preliminaries. Jim Neill's race was the first one. There being 64 of the best hurdlers in the state, it was necessary to run eight heats. Jim won his heat by a wide margin in the best time of the whole meet, 15.6 seconds. After that was over, the javelin contest was started. Out of 57 contestants Gilliam Graham was the next to the last to throw. On his first throw he broke the state record by three feet with a throw of 184 feet and 9 inches. Graham again broke the record on his next throw but did not better his other mark.

We had lunch with Mrs. Smith (whom we know as Miss Patterson). She treated us royally, and from then on we had our meals in her apartment so as to get the proper food-prepared the right way.

Mrs. Penn and Marien reported at the law building Thursday morning, and Marien won in the first round. She had to return to the law building at two o'clock for the second round, but after some real close competition, was eliminated.

The boy's spent the late afternoon watching a triangular track meet between Texas U., Rice and Texas A. & M. which was really a treat. The athletes and coaches were guests at the meet.

Gilliam and Jim spent a very restful night, Friday night, but were up early for a long walk about the capitol grounds, Saturday morning, we brought several newspapers as Gilliam was being written up a great deal by the Austin papers. We bought a paper from every news boy.

The boys were very restless at ten o'clock and they rode a bit to wear it off. We prepared lunch at eleven o'clock and their meal was limited to a small piece of steak, an egg and some fresh tomatoes. Here Graham remarked "coach, gimme one more "mater" and I'll set them a record," and he got the tomato. The time was nearing and we were all a little nervous.

At two o'clock we dressed and rode down to Memorial Stadium. Graham was well advertised and we all felt honored to walk along with him to the field. At 2:30 o'clock Jim was to run in the semi-finals. He did, and was in the finals with five other boys. At three o'clock the javelin throw was started. Some of the contestants were coming up close to Graham, and he was not doing so well. All the officials were behind him though, for some reason or another and on his fifth throw he broke his own throw with a mark of 190 feet 1-2 inches—bettering the state record by 12 feet. As it was announced over the loud speaker from the middle of the field, Graham was given a great ovation by a large crowd. He was referred to as "The Little man in red," by the speaker.

By this time five very nervous men stood at the south end of the track, and one very nervous man was in the stands, waiting for that "Go to your marks, get set—go." It was truly an exciting moment when that gun fired and you could see Neill coming over those hurdles, but it was very much in evidence that he was off, and he finished a very close race in third place. There were other fine races but this all that interests us.

We left Miss Patterson at five o'clock and as most of the party wanted to get home we drove all night getting back to Brownfield at 11:00 o'clock Sunday.—Hayhurst.

Around Town

So far as we know all the regular clerks were back on the job this morning sweeping up loose coins, buttons, safty pins, broken spectacles and such stuff that usually get lost on the Big Saturday Shuffle.

We note the Saturday special clerks were missing. Some of them were able to be wheeled home, while others just curled up and died. The merchants gave themselves a swing with their left foot and went out on a ten minute banquet on a ham sandwich and a cup of coffee—and let it go at that.

We caught a farmer buying a new pair of gallouses this morning, one for each shoulder. He also wore a leather belt around his loins. This man's pants are safely anchored. Can you tell me the way to the Postoffice, said a long, lean, lanky man that was trying to smoke a lesky cigar. He was spending his matches freely, his speckled tie dangled in the air—this was not the only trouble this man was having—he jiggled the starter, he worked the flim-flams and said a lot of hard things about the world in general—but a car won't run without gas—they sure won't.

Well there is some evidence of real prosperity when you see town people take to the garden early Monday and plant seed, chase worms, kill "Tater" bugs, irrigate and plan for a hard days work Tuesday and get rained out.

The large back yard we used to build to give our dog room to gnaw a bone is now full of chickens. The flower yards get bigger and more beautiful. We are talking about Brownfield.—Contributed.

Officers raided a negro residence in the east part of the city Saturday afternoon and reported that they got about 100 bottles of beer on ice, as well as some kegs of makings. A negro man was arrested.

Texas Utility Manager Was Here Monday

Mr. Hubert L. Allen, district manager of the Texas Utilities Co., with headquarters in Lubbock, was a visitor in our city for a few minutes Monday afternoon, inspecting the ice plant here which is the only property they have in this city. He had also inspected the properties of the company at Seagraves and Seminole, which includes the power plant at Seagraves, and the power line to Seminole.

Mr. Allen stated that this section of their territory had been hit less hard than any other part of it, which includes most of the South Plains and a good portion of the north Plains as far north as Canyon and as far west as Clovis, N. M. In view of the fact, said he, that you of this section have not had a crop failure in the past few years, you were not in position to feel the effects of the depression like the less favored section that had two crop failures topped off by the depression.

He remarked that in almost every field from Lubbock to Seminole, there was from one to three planters, and with the favorable outlook just now, conditions might be much better this fall than it looks like they would just now.

Yoakum Co. Singing Convention Sunday

We are authorized to announce that the Yoakum county Singing Convention will meet at the Liberty school house, that county, next Sunday, May 22.

Terry county singers are cordially invited to attend.

To The Voters Of Terry County

Due to the very heavy duties of my office at this time, and that I will be constantly in the trial of cases for some 6 weeks yet, I take this method of saying to my friends that it will be impossible for me to be at the various community speaking dates, and on this account, I have also been prevented from attending the community rallies, already held.

It is my intention however, to let my friends know before the primary, by seeing as many as possible and by speaking dates, my appreciation of their staunch support of me in the past and of my appreciation of their help in the future, and again as in the past I am proud of an opportunity to again submit to the voters my record as your District Attorney, regardless of the uninformed who may make any attack thereon.

Sincerely yours,
T. L. Price.

Programs Of Commencement Week

Beginning with Sunday, May 15th, a full week of programs incidental to the closing of the school year will be had in the auditorium of the High School. All of these programs with the exception of one are free to the public. The charge program is a play sponsored by Mrs. Dallas for the benefit of the P. T. A. and is a play setting forth the virtues of Bible characters. This play has been given in other places and is acclaimed a marked success for those who want a good evening of entertainment dotted with gems of information and inspiration.

The Terry County Council of the P. T. A. will offer a program Monday night of next week. A review of the work done this year and plans for another year will be the order of business together with election and installation of the new officers. Mrs. Winger has made an eminent success this year with this work as president. The welfare of the children has been well cared for through the activities of this organization.

The Bible play will be had at 8:15 P. M. Tuesday night. The players will come over at an earlier hour and will be ready to begin on time.

Wednesday night of next week, Miss Gertrude Rasco will offer for your approval a recital of her pupils in piano. This will be free to the public.

Thursday evening will be taken with the graduation exercises of the Junior High School. These boys and girls are looking forward to this time with great anticipations. They have been waiting for some time to get a chance at high school. On this occasion they will receive the official document that will entitle them to that opportunity.

Friday evening 8:00, High School graduation.

Lubbock Landmark Passes

In the passing of W. K. Dickinson of Lubbock this week, not alone Lubbock, but the entire south plains loses one of its greatest boosters. There has not been a forward step made on the entire south plains in the past quarter century that Mr. Dickinson has not been behind with his money and influence, and it has been such men as he that has put this section on the map and made it one of the fastest growing regions of the United States.

W. K. Dickinson, while a man of wealth and influence, numbered his friends among the rich and the poor alike. He was a great family man; a staunch supporter of his church, the schools and every other worth while institution in the community. But he has helped to train others to take his place, and they will. Such as he would not have it otherwise.

TOM HUNTER IS THE MAN

We need a man for Governor,
An need him mighty bad;
The situation in this state
Is really very sad;
We need a man to seize the helm
An guide this erring land,
And when you sum it up in fact,
Tom Hunter is the man.

He stands for Texas people,
The masses of this state;
A leader now is needed
To save her from her fate;
Reduce our state expenses
Put taxes under ban;
To war upon the combines,
Tom Hunter is the man.

He stands for strict economy
In spending of the dough,
Take taxes off of real estate
And give the folks a show;
Opposed to road bond issue,
He has a better plan,
Against the chain store combine,
Tom Hunter is the man.

A foe to graft, big interests,
Plain people's closest friend,
The man who'll sit at Austin
When the campaign's at an end.
A sportsman, every inch of him,
A friend of every clan,
Next Governor of Texas,
Tom Hunter is the man.

TECH SUMMER SCHOOL TO START JUNE 7TH

Lubbock, Texas, May 13.—Summer school will open at Texas Technological College June 7, immediately following the closing of the regular term. Two terms will be held as usual, the second term opening July 18 and closing August 25.

The annual summer session jaunt to the Carlsbad Caverns will be made July 9th under the direction of Cecil Horne. The government has agreed to waive the fee for Tech students and faculty on that day and make the admission free.

Stars Teamed With Famous Stunt Fliers

Unusual Picture To Open Here Soon

Dipping and side-slipping through the air in daring wing-to-wing formations and crashing their planes head on into the earth for the mere sake of thrills, Hollywood's intrepid stunt fliers may be seen in action at the Rialto Theatre next Sunday when RKO Radio Pictures' "The Lost Squadron" open with Richard Dix starred.

The film is a distinct novelty in that it is a spectacularly dramatic and intimate inside story of the perils and difficulties met with in screening epics of the air.

Most Unique Story
Besides the thrilling air sequences, in which a group of aviators deliberately set about wrecking their ships the picture tells a fascinating story of Hollywood.

The camera takes its audience into the mysterious confines of the sound stages, behind batteries of giant sun lights and into the stars' dressing rooms.

The story of "The Lost Squadron," which incidentally presents Dix with one of the most powerful roles of his active career, concerns the actions of a director who sends his stunt pilots into danger in faulty planes so that his camera may record the thrills of their falls.

TWO AMENDMENTS

Two proposed amendments to the Constitution, soon to be acted upon by the people, deserve more study than is accorded them. One would exempt from state ad valorem taxation homesteads assessed at less than $3,000; the other would disqualify people not rendering property for taxation from voting of bond and other elections having effect upon the financial obligations of the government.

The first amendment is likely to win adoption, not so much because it is good as because it is expedient. It has appeal for people who have felt the pinch of hard times. It is expected to do a thing that no law can do: remove the burden of taxation from the shoulders of the average citizen.

Quite aside from that phase of the matter, however, is this eventuality: Should both amendments pass, a large percentage of solid and substantial Texas citizens would be disfranchised insofar as elections are concerned which have to do with the credit or the treasury of the government.

In the combination of these two amendments, the joker is discernible. The wise course would be to approve the second and reject the first; less wise would be approval of the first and rejection of the second. To approve both, is to prevent people who own no property save their homes from voting in bond and other "financial" elections. Not yet is it possible to "eat our cake and have it too."—Texas Opinion.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

From Western Enterprise:
Texas has the only State Land Office in the Union?
Texas has the largest capitol building in the world and that it is seven feet taller than the national capitol.
Texas has the only building ever erected on American soil by a foreign government, the French embassy located in Austin.
Texas is the home of the world's greatest sculptress, Elizabeth Ney?
Texas is the home of Sidney Porter (O. Henry) the world's greatest short story writer.

Texas is the home of the largest state university in the South, enrollment for 1931, 10,171?
Texas has more natural resources, greater territory and more variety of crops than any other similar territory in the Union, possibly the world?

Texas has less real distress and suffering within its boundary today than can be found in any other state of our Union?

With these facts before us, is it not a fact that our citizenship has much for which to be thankful? YES—let's show our thankfulness by our actions, be less complaining, more charitable and look to the future with Hope unimpaired.

HOMEMADE fudge, when properly made, is more than a welcome dainty. It is a wholesome food that meets a real dietary need and its popularity during the cool days of fall and winter is amply justified. It satisfies our natural craving for sweets, meets the demands of nature for heat and energy producing elements, and has the added advantage of purity and economy.

Every woman takes great pride in her own particular brand of homemade fudge, but is always eager to try out the favorite fudge recipes of others.

One such variation, called Chocolate Fudge Squares, has recently become most popular. This confection is even greater in food value than most types of fudge and may be utilized in many ways. It contains one-fourth cup of butter, three ounces, or three squares of chocolate; one and one-eighth cups sugar; two eggs; one-half cup self-rising flour; one teaspoon vanilla and two-thirds of a cup of nut meats.

Fudge of this type is a highly concentrated food as well as a sweet. It is easily made, but instead of cooking in a double boiler, is baked in the oven at a temperature of 325 degrees Fahrenheit. Salt is not used in this recipe as there is sufficient amount in the self-rising flour. Self-rising flour is really the secret of success in making this and other delightful confections. It makes them lighter because the leavening is so well blended, and more nutritious because of valuable minerals—calcium and phosphorus—it contains. Addition of these elements in self-rising flour makes these confections more suitable for children.

To make Chocolate Fudge Squares, melt the butter and chocolate together over hot water. Now add the sugar and unbeaten eggs, beat until these ingredients are well blended; add the remaining ingredients and pour into a greased and floured cake pan to a depth of one-half inch. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, until firm, but not brown. Cut into squares while still warm and serve.

Homemakers occasionally like to try recipes for other types of easily made homemade candies and no doubt will be interested in the following recipes for two popular sweets, Pralines and Penuchi.

Pralines
1 cup brown sugar 3 tablespoons maple syrup
2 cups white sugar 1/4 cup milk
3 tablespoons corn syrup 1 1/2 cups nutmeats

Combine all ingredients, except nutmeats, and boil to the soft ball stage, 236 degrees Fahrenheit. Cool to 110 degrees before adding nutmeats. Beat until stiff and creamy. When mixture is stiff, drop from a spoon on a buttered sheet. This is sufficient to make one and three-fourths pounds.

Penuchi
2 1/4 cups brown sugar 1 tablespoon corn syrup
1 1/2 cups milk 1 tablespoon butter
Few grains salt 1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine all ingredients except nutmeats and boil to soft ball stage. Cool to 110 degrees Fahrenheit. Beat until stiff and creamy. Add the nuts just before it is pressed into the pan. This will yield one and one-eighth pounds.

A WORD TO A WISE PREACHER SHOULD BE SUFFICIENT

A local attorney, telling of a recent experience in which he had to listen to a speaker for over an hour, said the best illustration of a brief speech reckoned in dollars and cents was given by Mark Twain. His story was that when he had listened for five minutes to the preacher telling of the heathen, he wept, and was going to contribute $50. After 10 minutes more of the sermon, he reduced the amount of his prospective contribution to $25. After half an hour more of eloquence he cut the sum to $5. At the end of an hour of oratory, when the plate was passed, he stole $2 out of it.—Ex.

A POWERFUL TRUST

The present situation when citizens are being told to trust in this, that and the other to bring back prosperity reminds me of the story of the ferry loaded with human freight that lost a propeller in mid-stream.

It was a dangerous situation and the Captain was plainly worried as the craft floated down stream. An old lady came to the Captain and asked about the danger and the Captain replied, "We must trust in God," whereupon the old lady wailed, oh, has it come to that? We can trust the Hoovers, Mellens, Smiths, Roosevelt and such like, but we can't trust God.—Clarendon Leader.

Meadow Briefs

So this is Mother Day. I have been reminded of its approach for the past three days by the arrival of candy and cards with the jingle of loving verse. The recipient reading it aloud with a smile of importance which I was not expected to share.

I am not sure where or whether we are drifting. In all so-called civilized countries, women continue to magnify their importance over the male of the species as the years go by.

In the early ages of the world, we are told, when our forebearers were just emerging from the salt seas and swarmed upon the warm shores to begin their terrestrial existence and the honey moon was ended his loving spouse promptly devoured him, as the Mantis, many species of spiders do today. Even the honey bee disposes of the male bees after they have served the purpose of creation. Like many humans at the present they would not work hence had no further use in the hive.

However when Adam and Eve came on the stage, Eve promptly took hold of things and managed them her own way, but losing favour, she was condemned. A decree of "Forcible Entry and Detainer" was sustained against her and a further Decree that hence forth "Her desires should be for her husband and he should rule her".

Spite of this her descendants have continued to bob up here and there down the centuries until the present. She has passed the Flaming Sword of the entrance to the Garden, set aside decrees and is claiming every thing in sight with a strong probability of capturing the male to superiority.

When the Apostle John wrote Revelation—even that early date—he discovered one in Heaven. She had the Moon under her feet and a crown of stars on her head. Since that time she has continued her usurpation of authority until now nothing can succeed without a queen. She may not return to her early acts of cannibalism, but she is rapidly acquiring the use of guns and pistols and on occasion an axe is used to convince those who disagree with her.

It may indicate a reversion to the primitive type. May the Lord have mercy on our souls.

I neglected to mention the fact, if it is a truth, that the Catholic church a few centuries after the Christian Era elevated a woman to a place along side our Saviour and apparently she is worshiped as a part of the God-Head, The Virgin Mary.

Why multiply instances of the degeneracy of the male of the Genius Homo on Homo-Sapience. Aesculapias.

TOM MOONEY STILL PAYS

Tom Mooney convicted of placing a bomb in San Francisco during a Preparedness Day parade in 1916, and which was responsible for the killing of ten persons and injuring 40 others, has been, for the third time, refused a pardon. Mooney, an avowed Red and Bolshevick worker among the laboring people of the country, got hot under the collar when the news was conveyed to him that the Governor had refused to pardon him, and declared: "The cards are stacked and the dice are loaded against me. The decision proves the utter impossibility of any militant worker ever securing justice at the hands of capitalist controlled courts, governor and other politicians." It's too bad, positively exasperating to Mooney, whose record before he was convicted showed that he was a dynamiter, a revolutionist, arrayed against all the things that Law and Order represented, and felt it was his duty to take the Order of Government apart and see what made the wheels go around. Before he sat his bomb down on the crowded street he should have thought of the havoc it would cause—of the deaths that would result, but, his soul being a soul of a Red, he cared not—he wanted to wreck something and now he wants to get out so he can wreck some more. The stretch he has done in prison has not taught him a lesson; he does not see the error of his way, and he never will—to turn him loose would be like placing a lobo wolf in a bunch of sheep.—Tatum, (N. M.) Courier.

WARM WINTER OF 1867

An old-time Texan who pays particular attention to the antics of the weather says 1867 was the warmest winter ever known in Texas, but the winter finally showed up in the early spring.

That winter the weather remained warm until the first of March. The grass was hand-high and the cattle shed their hair. But on the first of March it began snowing, sleeting and raining and continued the severest weather for twenty-one days. The cattle's backs were frost-bitten. The ground was covered with sleet so long that many cattle and horses died for want of something to eat. A man could barely ride over the sleet-covered ground. However, the sun came out nearly every day, but the weather remained very cold.

What has become of the old fashioned Republican that used to love to run his thumbs under his gulluses,

"ATMOSPHERE"

You know the pleasant, invigorating effect of a cooling atmosphere on a hot summer day. You also know the welcomeness of the atmosphere around the family fireside as a refuge from the winter's chilling winds.

There are atmospheric conditions in business as well as the weather and we want you to know that the atmospheric part of our bank is: that we cordially appreciate the presence of your account, welcome your visits, always glad to see you and are grateful for your friendship and good will. Introduce your friends to this bank, one that does business in a friendly, helpful way.

and say: "A Democrat is a man that is ashamed to look a sheep in the face, wool is so low."

The Herald has a notion that off brand Democrats are going to have a harder time misleading Texans this time than they did four years ago. Texas Democrats have been well fed up on the mess they were led into in 1928, and most of the boys and girls will vote 'er straight this fall. The Democratic party can't possibly be any damper than the G. O. P. even if we dig a 500 mile wide canal across the continent and connect the Pacific and the Atlantic.

Some disgruntled brother wrote a "piece" for some daily paper lately taking the democratic party in Texas to task for demanding a pledge, and intimated that some people would vote for Al Capone if nominated. Poor old sore head! Why our understanding is that Al will not be a candidate for any party nomination for at least the next ten years as he has taken up his abode at Atlanta, and they say a southern man has no chance. Anyway, we have it on pretty good authority that Al has always been a Good Old Partyite. Let them nominate him if they want to.

We have always admired California as a state and have believed their people averaged up with other Americans outside of Texas, but now we are convinced that California people are just like Texas people and can see a good thing when it is stuck under their noses. In fact, in their vote for Jack Garner as their favorite Democratic candidate for President, they have shown us that they are people after our own heart. And California, if we have ever made any disparaging remarks about your climate, or your proclivities for bragging about your great country, we take it all back, and ad ten percent as attorneys fees to the principal and interest.

Inasmuch as the other side of the question has been shouted from the housetop, the Herald just decided this week to tell its side of why THE SMALL PAPER. We want to say that the Herald is not trying to force anyone to advertise in these columns that does not want to do so, for this is a free country, and we want everyone to feel free to do so as they please about the matter, just as we would if we were in their places. But we have decided that it is time to talk and tell the truth, and we are going to do so, let the chips fall where they may. And we are going to call a spade a spade. The business men of Brownfield know whether they have been a friend and customer of us any at all or not, and those who have are not going to take offense. The others can do as they like about the matter. The Herald has been here a long time and may still be here as long as any of the firms that have made their boast that they were going to break the Herald. Let 'em break it. Crack your whip, and we'll be at the cracking.

We were reading an article a few weeks ago about some shoppers and how they tried to make life miserable both for the clerk as well as the merchants they trade with. It described the "catfish" shopper who expected "service with a smile," yet gave in return only a frown and harsh commands. And then, nine chances to one they would purchase absolutely nothing, after having the clerks pull down everything in sight. "Just out looking," would be all the explanation from these people. Merchants are not the only business men who have to deal with such people. Newspapers find that the hardest people they have to please are those who in many instances never take the paper, and don't know what it is to patronize the job department. Yet they are always late with their copy, and expect the best of position. Many times this "copy" is nothing but straight out advertising, but if they don't get good service they swell up and kick like a base steer. Nine chances to one, the most agreeable people and the ones that patronize your business most are the ones that demand the least of you as a straight accommodation.

Bonus Fight To Continue To A Finish

Any of Uncle Sam's funds except that intended for the big bankers and the Wall Street crowd is "dishonest money" according to the Hoover bunch.

They realize the $2,000,000,000 adjusted service compensation can be paid without tax free bonds but the money sharks don't want anything like that since there would be no graft for them.

It is not proposed by anybody to pay the soldiers' bonus by borrowing or by raising taxes. It is proposed in a bill by Sen. Thomas to issue government bonds, but instead of selling them, to turn them over to the federal reserve banks, which shall issue currency to that amount, the currency then being paid to those ex-service men entitled thereto. The bonds will be paid off in 1945 when the reserve already set aside amounts to the face value of the certificates.

In other words, it amounts to an inflation of the currency to the extent of some two billion dollars.

Such issue of new currency need not be fiat money, for there is ample "free gold" lying useless in the treasury which could be used as a reserve. All arguments to the effect that the budget cannot be balanced of taxes raised to pay the bonus are beside the point, for by the issuance of new currency, it will not be necessary to do either.

Why didn't the $2,000,000,000 fund going under the alias of the Reconstruction fund ruin the government? It was intended to benefit the entire nation but under the Dawes-Meyar-Hoover operation it is aiding only the big banks and trust companies to safeguard their bad investments and ease up their frozen assets. Talk to any banker in your community and you will find that the little banks have not been benefited.

The Lord knows we need more money in circulation. The selfish money power is opposed to cheaper money, and that is why they are employing paid propagandists to fight the soldier bonus.

They seem to have Congress eating out of their hand just now but they are going to learn that the fight has just started.—Big Spring News.

BIG SLUMP SHOWN IN ROAD BUILDING

Washington, April.—"After a determined effort for many months to keep up road building throughout the States to relieve unemployment the State Highway Department are faced with a tremendously decreased program for the coming year," announced W. C. Markham, Executive Secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

This statement is based upon very definite returns from virtually all of the States, covering the programs outlined for the first three months of 1932 compared with actual figures for the same period in 1931.

"Due to a pleading, local demand to give employment to the pick and 'hovel brigade,' many State Highway Departments have found it necessary to deplete their State funds during the past winter by doing heavy maintenance work, or grading, to permit of this character of employment," Mr. Markham said.

"A study of the contracts let and men employed during this period shows a tremendous falling off in contracts—which means seasonal work on permanent improvement," he went on. "But at the same time the great effort made to employ men during the winter shows that for the first quarter of 1932 there were 50,000 more men employed on the roads than for the same period in 1931."

NEGROES GET VOTING RIGHT IN THIS STATE

Washington, May 2.—The Supreme Court today held that the law giving the State democratic executive committee to bar negroes from party primary elections is invalid.

The ruling was handed down in an appeal brought by L. A. Nixon of El Paso testing the validity of the law.

Nixon contended the law was passed to defeat a 1927 Supreme Court ruling which held unconstitutional an act barring negroes from the primaries.

Nixon, El Paso negro physician, describing himself as a democrat, brought suit in 1928 for $5.00 from the party as the result of his exclusion for the primaries of that year.

"Negroes are not going to attempt to enter the primaries, whatever the law," Jed C. Adams, democratic national committee man stated. "The situation will be taken care of some way, if necessary, I'm sure."

Things Sure Look Good Again the Question—Why the Small Paper?

One has only to drive out in the rural communities now to see the wonderful changes that have come over the landscapes of the county in the past two weeks. When the first good rain came on the night of April 27th, things had become a little gloomy agriculturally, we will have to admit. True there was a good bottom season, but what good was that unless the ground on top was wet. One might get something to come up, but just as soon as the soil dried out to the seed bed, the high winds would begin rolling in dirt and soon have it covered up or burned out. The plan might have worked on the hardest lands, but the sandier soils would not have stood up.

How different it is now. Big rains have visited every section of the county save one or two, we understand, and these exceptions have received sufficient moisture to plant, and will likely get more. Perhaps they are as this is being typed, as it is raining in Brownfield, one of those slow steady rains that count so much in any country. But good rains have fallen over 90 percent of the county and there is sufficient moisture to plant when the land fleeks up sufficiently to stand quite a few sand storms. We have noticed heretofore that when just barely enough rain would fall to plant, in a few days after the planting operation, the soil would so pulverize, that in a few days it would start blowing again. So on the other hand if the farmers get enough rain that the land will fleek up as it is turned, it sure takes some good sandies to start it rolling. The only thing to be particular about is not cultivate too soon.

This has been the great trouble too. When the cotton shanks up, or the corn or maize gets hand high, a good farmer can hardly resist getting in the fields to stir the soil, and when he does, it will start blowing—rolling, rolling, with just a bit more encroachment each day. But many farmers in this sandy section have learned their lesson by having a mighty pretty field blown out by beginning to flatten it. It is true that some fellows, and some of these are confined to the town, will come along and want to know why in tarnation that danged farmer don't get busy in the field. Just look at the tumbling weeds? But he probably does not know that these same tumbling weeds have saved many crops in the sandier soils in the past by holding the sand. There will be plenty time. Don't you suppose that a farmer that has farming here several years knows his okra about how to hold the sand, or at least as much as anyone knows. Anyway, these weeds don't seem to greatly sap the soil until real dry hot weather comes, and then they are easily destroyed after they have helped to save the crop.

The writer and wife and Kyle Graves and wife looked over quite a lot of the southwestern part of Terry last Sunday afternoon and found that a lot of land had been planted, and we understand that there was from one to three planters going in almost every field Monday of this week until stopped by rain Tuesday.

In the territory visited we found that they had quite a shower last Thursday night, especially in the Union and Forrester communities. Our course led south on the Lamesa road until the corner near the Leslie Green farm was reached, when we kept on south several miles. Thence west by the Forrester school house and on due west until the Seagraves highway was reached near Wellman. Turning northeast up the highway until we struck the road running north to Gomez, thence home.

This country has all been well listed or flat broken this year and is being put in mighty fine shape by the planters. There was considerable territory from Forrester to Wellman that we had not been over before since it was a ranch country, and while very sandy in places, it is being well held, and promises to become a good farming section, especially for corn and other feeds.

Man Lost 26 Pounds—Looks 100% Better

Feels Stronger Than Ever

Just to prove to any doubtful man or woman that Kruschen Salts is the SAFE way to reduce—let us take the letter of Mr. F. J. Fritz of Cincinnati, Ohio, recently received.

He writes: "I've tried extreme dieting, setting up exercises with very little results—but the results from Kruschen are almost incredible. In 3 months I reduced from 205 to 179 pounds and feel stronger than ever—no more wheezing or gasping for breath—friends say I look 100% better."

Bear in mind, you fat man, that there is danger in too much fat—try the safe way to reduce—one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on fatty meats and sweets—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—get it at Alexander Drug Store Inc., or any druggist in the world.

Turkey—J. E. Roden opened meat market at M Store.

We have been asked many, many questions of late why the small paper? Some perhaps have attributed the size of two issues lately to spring fever or to more explicit, pure de laziness. But such is not altogether the case. While we don't mind pleading laziness, knowing it to be a fact, and knowing that others know this to be a fact, it would be foolhardiness to deny it. So why do so? We hate to put out a small paper just as much so as do people hate to get one. But newspaper folks must make the size of his paper fit the amount of business given it, and that has been very light a few issues of late.

But, we have informed others and we wish to inform all at this time that they can have a great deal of influence on the size of their home papers by telling the advertisers that they saw his ad, read it and was ready to patronize him. You tell us that you read the ads and appreciate the fact that they are in your home paper. Then why not tell those who run them? They will appreciate it too. One good farmer from the Hunter community remarked a few weeks ago that he was not spending one penny with any of the firms here who do not use the home paper.

But suppose some fellow's plate glass window was all the publicity your county, your town and your community received. Wouldn't that be a bad condition? It tells you nothing except about their own affairs and how badly they need your coin. They say nothing about the good crop that Jones raised, the good milk cow of Brown's or the huge pile of corn out at Smith's. They are as silent as the grave about the sad affair of Mr. Thompson's wife passing and leaving a lot of motherless children. They don't even stick a card of thanks for Mr. Thompson in their windows free of charge. There is not a word said about the good schools here and there over the county, or that Rev. So-and-so will preach at Podunk Center next Sunday, or that the farmers are having a mass meeting Saturday afternoon.

What have they to say about the birth of a bouncing boy at the home of Sam or the marriage of the daughter of Why-in-heck to the son of What-you-may-call-him. Your home paper is the only institution that gives this information, and it depends on the support of merchants in order to be able to give all this FREE information. A newspaper gives itself very little advertising. It does and must have the interests of the whole community at heart to be a newspaper indeed as well as in name. It boosts for crowds to come to the city and trade with the very firms that are not patronizing it. There are some firms here that are controlled from other places who have temporarily cut their advertising, but we are sure it will come back when times are better. There are other firms here that we are sure would be running an ad all the time, but they honestly believe and tell us they are afraid they could not pay for the ad. The Herald has not a word to say against either of these, for they are telling us the plain truth in both cases. Neither is it a case of hate or dislike, it is a case of simple economy somewhere.

The Herald is not condemning window prices or window displays. On the other hand, we are for them strong. The greatest firms on earth use them. We would hate to see the Brownfield firms get careless with their windows. We love to walk by and admire them and wonder which fellow inside was the master of that handwork. But great firms use newspaper advertising religiously and presently in conjunction with their window displays. The newspapers, they say, create a willingness to buy in the people's minds in the privacy of their homes, and the window is a reminder that this is the place when they get to town. But, sometimes a crowded street is not a very desirable place to try to stop and read a lot of advertising, and especially is this so with ladies. They had much rather read it in the paper.

The Herald has always found the farmers of Terry county as well as the people here in town to be fair and open minded, and we want to close this article by just asking them if they think the county and town would be as good as it is today—as good trading point—as good community to live in—without a paper of some kind. It matters not whether it is the Herald or the present owners that is running it, you know that it is better off with a good, well supported newspaper. With this in mind, would it be asking too much to ask that you as much as possible patronize those who are making your paper and your county, providing everything else is equal? We believe this is a fair proposition.

We do not mean by this that a merchant must have an ad in the Herald every week to qualify as a supporter of this institution, for lots of times, dry goods men especially, do not have anything they wish to run—nothing special—but sometime during the month they do, having something special to offer Herald readers. The merchants of Brownfield, taken as a whole, have been mighty nice to their home paper, and they tell us that it is paying them well for each dollar spent with it. The Herald also has sense enough to know that many have had to cut down every expense possible on account of less income, and advertising has had to take its cut. We know that many papers in this section had to cut down the size long before we did, therefore we can truthfully say that, taken as a whole, Brownfield has some of the most progressive merchants in this section, and we bar no size of town or city in saying this.

Mrs. Lemmons Passes

Mrs. Fannie Lemons, 54, mother of P. W. Lemmons of the Pleasant Valley community, died Saturday at about 5 p. m., and was buried in the Brownfield cemetery Sunday morning following services at the grave by Rev. J. H. Gibson, Baptist minister. Mrs. Lemmons was born in Tennessee in 1877.

She lost her husband a few years ago and since that time has been making her home with her son who lives out on the Arch Fowler farm.

Caller: "And now, I suppose you are out of danger?" Patient: "Well, not yet. The doctor says he will be here one or two more times."

An Appreciation

THE CUB REPORTER wishes to take this means of expressing our appreciation to the Terry County Herald for their courtesy in printing the school paper for Brownfield High School our year. They have been very patient with all of our short comings. This is the last issue of our 1931-32 paper. When school starts again in September, the press club will have lost many of its reporters and officers. It will have a new staff. We take this opportunity of thanking every member of the High School who has contributed to our cause with reports and material for our paper. We beg of our reading public to excuse our papers that may have been deficient or not interesting. We feel that though some of our articles were dry, yet others were of interest, and the dry ones can not be helped now.

Again let us thank Mr. Stricklin for the cooperation of the Herald. He has published for us this paper free and through them our school has received countless advertising; through them we have created much school spirit. The Cub Reporter appreciates your support.

Last Club Meeting Held

Interesting talks were given at the last meeting of the home Economics club. The club has been taking up the study of books, and of notable people. Ruth Henson gave a talk on "Thirty year of dictation," concerning the life of Mrs. John M. Garner. Louise White gave an interesting talk on "Books for pick-up reading." This subject was very appropriate for this time of the year, because most people spend their time during the summer in reading different types of books.

This meeting was the last one of the year. The club has been very successful and members have all been willing to take part on programs. The club regrets losing the Seniors in this club and would appreciate their coming back next year and visiting the club. The club has closed the school year completely out of debt.

Last Meeting Held

The Spanish club had its last meeting Thursday, May 10. The roll call was answered with a current event in Spanish. Dorothy McGlothlin had an account of Ecuador. Wanna Smith gave from memory a Spanish poem. Alice Fae Mangum, Marion Chisholm, Margaret Murray and Mabel Perry sang a song in Spanish. The numbers of the club have greatly enjoyed their work during the school year, and they regret its ending.

Chapel Program

Thursday, May 5th the high school was entertained by the quartet boys duet, girls quartet and girls duet that ever exercises their vocal organs from the heights of our auditorium stage. The boys duet, consisting of Woodrow Chambliss growing bass and O. D. Thomas screaming tenor. They sang a very sentimental song entitled "The Run-A-Way Train". This song moved the audience to tears (of laughter). The girls quartet consisting of Mary Dee Price, Kathleen Hardin, Marion Chisholm and Eunice Michie. They sang "Drifting and Dreaming" and "Some Body Loves You." These songs were very beautiful. Beautiful girls with beautiful voices singing with beautiful harmony, beautiful songs all went together to make a beautiful program. The girls duet, Mary Dee Price, our excellent alto and Kathleen Hardin our wonderful soprano sang "Down the River of Golden Dreams." The feature of the sophomore program was an address by Mr. Ronald Smallwood a candidate of County Attorney. Mr. Smallwood gave us a very good talk. Mrs. Jackson gave us two selections on the piano. She also accompanied the song birds.

Seniors Entertain By Baptist Women

A banquet was given Thursday night, May 5, 1932, by the Woman's Missionary Society of Brownfield Baptist church in honor of the 1932 graduates of Brownfield High School. The following program was rendered: Music—Miss Rasco. Invocation—Rev. Hale. Song—Girl's Quartet. Song—Boy's Quartet. Prayer—Mr. Rena. During the banquet, Mrs. W. H. Dallas, Mrs. Roy Herod, Mrs. Jack Jackson and Miss Rasco were heard in piano and accordion selections. Welcome Address—Mrs. W. W. Price. Response—Steve Brock. Introduction of Speaker—A. B. Sanders. Address—Prof. Key. The talk was decorated with rainbow colors, and dolls with caps and gowns and carrying a diploma under their arm. Plate favors of sweetpeas and fern with compliments of Mrs. Downing. The occasion will long be remembered by each one who was present as an evening of delight inspiration.

Talks Given By Science Club

The Science club met Monday 10, with each member answering roll call with a current event. Then we had several scientific talks and talks of the future. James P. Davis gave us a talk on "The underground railroads." Bill Savage gave a talk on "The un-explored city." Following this Nelson Hamilton, gave a talk on "A college on wheels for Fireman." Lee: Were Romeo and Juliet, Scotch? Miss Perkins: No. They were Italian. Why, did you think they were Scotch? Lee: They went to the cemetery to commit suicide. Adult: (Making talk with small boy) How many teachers do you have in high school? James Parker: Let's see: There's one, two, three, four upstairs, one over at the shop, and three in the office. Eight I guess. Friday morning at the usual time the P. T. girls met. As it was a very beautiful morning the girls preferred the outside to the usual of gymnastics. Part of the girls hiked and the rest of them played baseball.

It was very interesting to see Mary D running around the gym. She insists that she must reduce her waist line. The next gym lesson will be on Wednesday, May 10, 1932.

Dora Dean: "I've swallowed my liquid rouge by mistake, what shall I do?"

Mary Jo: "Better eat a powder puff."

Fortune Teller: "You are going to marry a tall, dark man." Patricia Shelton: "Can't you be specific? All four of them are tall and dark."

Brownfield On The Map At Last

About 5:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, May 4, 1932, five citizens of Brownfield started for Austin, Texas. Three of these people were to represent Brownfield in the annual State Interscholastic League meet, and the other two just went along to see that the others behaved themselves. The three that took part in the meet were Jim Neill, our high hurdler, Gilliam Graham, our pavelin thrower and Marien Hill, our expert declaimer. The other two persons that went along were Mr. Hayhurst who coached the boys, and Mrs. M. L. Penn who coached the declamation. Jim tied for first place in the preliminaries but disqualified in the finals by knocking over three hurdles. The first time Gilliam threw the javelin in the preliminaries he broke the state record. Then in the finals he broke his own record by throwing it 190 feet and 7.8 in. It seems that before Gilliam threw the javelin no one knew where Brownfield was or had ever heard of it before, but Gilliam put the town in the limelight by breaking the state record about 12 feet. Marien Hill lost out in the semi-finals in declamation. It seems that everyone had a very enjoyable trip although they did not bring back all the honors they went for.

Hosey Key was among the shoppers here Saturday, and handed in another dollar to keep 'er coming. Hosey says he thinks he could do without the Herald o. k., but that he has another "think" coming, and that is his wife, Mrs. W. H. Key. We are glad Hosey has a boss.

Clyde Lewis says he believes that the prospects for a good crop year is as good as has been in many years. The price of course is still questionable, he says.

Program Complete For WTCC Convention

Sweetwater, April 30.—The program for the 14th Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Sweetwater, May 12-14, was tentatively completed at a conference of President Houston Harte, Manager D. A. Bandeen, and other officials of the organization in Sweetwater Wednesday.

The regional chamber's programs for the reduction of public expenditures and taxation; the beautification of West Texas; and the further development of livestock and agriculture; will be given special attention at the convention in group conferences devoted to each. Definite recommendations and policies will be obtained from the deliberations of the conferences.

Speakers of international fame and reputation have accepted places upon the general convention program. Among them are: James S. Carson, Vice-President of the American and Foreign Power Company, New York City; Herman Gerlach James, President of the University of South Dakota, Vermillion, S. D.; and H. G. Smith, President of the National Council of American Shipbuilders, New York City.

Governor Ross S. Sterling of Texas will address the opening session of the convention, Thursday morning, May 12.

Among the speakers who will address the group conferences are: Frank P. Holland, Dallas; Mrs. Henry B. Trigg, Fort Worth; O. C. Coles, El Paso; Chas. A. Jay, Dallas; Moore Lynn, Austin; Leon Goodman, Midland; A. H. Leidigh, Lubbock; R. C. Morrison, Fort Worth; Lee M. Jenny, Dallas; E. O. Siocke, College Station; J. H. Burkett, Clyde; S. E. Tracy, Dallas; Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth; Senator Carl C. Hardin, Stephenville; Walter Beck, Fort Worth and C. N. Bassett, El Paso.

We neglected to tell you last week that Lee Smith had the misfortune of getting his car burned up. It seems that his son had loaded on some cobs which were to be used for fuel, and started the car, when the exhaust set fire to the cobs in the trailer. Before the trailer could be cut loose, the car was burning. He carried no insurance.

Mr. W. M. Green was up from the Wellman country Saturday looking as prime as a two year old. In fact, Mr. Green says that while he has passed the three score and ten mark, and while he had to somewhat "gum" his food, he could eat and digest anything that a hound dog could. Mr. Green is just one of the old timers and that means that he is a bully man, getting old gracefully, and his neighbors and friends all love him.

J. W. Bingham was down Saturday from the Needmore country to get a shave and hair cut, and fumbled around in his pocket and fished out another dollar check to put his Herald up to 1933.

Hunter Getting Support From Small Papers

Wichita Falls, Texas, April.—Tom F. Hunter, candidate for Governor, has just returned to Wichita Falls to spend three days at home before starting out on his second speaking trip. The results of his first speaking trip that covered a wedge through East Texas, down through Central South Texas and Southwest Texas, were very satisfactory. He reports large crowds at all engagements, having made from one to three each day, with overflow crowds at a number of engagements, some 4,000 in attendance at Mineola and Corpus Christi and 2,000 at McKinney.

He states that the people of the state are very much aroused this year; that they realize that their state government is more than just politics; that it is essentially a part of their business; that the enormous increase of state expenses involves the safety of their property rights and their homes. His plan for the adoption of a new tax system that will require all to pay in proportion to their ability to pay is receiving much applause.

Recalling the enthusiasm expressed at the different engagements Mr. Hunter stated that at Tenaha a farmer 60 years old by the name of R. C. Brown, walked in six miles from the country to hear him speak; that at Seguin a reception committee had prepared a barbecue-banquet on the banks of the Guadalupe River where he was entertained by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the mayor and other city officials and prominent citizens; that after his speaking in the district courtroom at Seguin, Senator F. C. Weinert and the Honorable F. C. Ketch both spoke enthusiastically in support of the principles which he had advocated; that at Sinton, Texas, he was met by a delegation of 10 cars from Corpus Christi, each one flying a Hunter banner, and escorted to Corpus where he spoke that night to a huge audience.

Speaking of the support received in the line of publicity Mr. Hunter said: "I am very grateful for the splendid manner in which more than 400 of the smaller papers of the state are supporting my candidacy by tendering me space in liberal amounts in their publications. It is just such support that will return this government into the hands of the people."

T. & P. Asks For New Hearing In Rail Case

Austin, Texas.—The Texas attorney general's department will join the Texas and Pacific Northern Railway in a motion for rehearing before the interstate commerce commission in its application for the construction of a new railroad in the Panhandle plains. The commission recently denied the application.

The announcement was made by T. S. Christopher, assistant attorney general.

Wellman News

The Wellman Parent Teachers Association will meet for its regular business meeting next Friday, May 13. The new officers that have been selected will take their respective offices for next year. This is the last business meeting for this year.

The play "Wild Ginger" was given with great success last Friday night. Peanuts and popcorn were sold and the money was added to the P. T. A. fund. The P. T. A. quilt was also auctioned off and it brought $5.25.

The P. T. A. met Monday afternoon for its last lesson in the Home Economics Course, with Mrs. Adair.

Bro. Mitchell filled his regular appointment at the church of Christ both morning and night. The Bible class which meets on Thursday nights will meet Friday night this week instead of Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Schroeder gave a party last Saturday night in honor of the boys of the community, as last week was boy's week. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilhite took the 7th grade to Two Dray Lake at Post last Saturday on a picnic, with the 7th grade from other schools in the county. They report a very enjoyable day.

There will be a B. Y. P. U. social at the Baptist church Friday night.

Joe Holt was in with some samples of his new Bermuda onions Saturday, and presented the Herald with two nice bunches which have been used very nicely with out turnip greens and canned green peas this week. Joe is also a new reader of the Herald.

Prof H. C. Zorn of the Prairieview school, as well as one of Terry's proficient farmers, was down Monday after supplies, and reported everything doing nicely up his way.

We are glad to report that on the ninth day of her illness of pneumonia, Mrs. Chas. Hubby had a change for the better and has been gradually improving since.

Balanced Farming Would Help Farmers, Says Chicago Banker

Melvin A. Traylor Would Make Modern Farm More Self-Contained

Speaks From Own Experience

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Like all of us, in every line of activity, the farmer was deceived by high values in the time of his prosperity. In a well-intentioned, but what now seems at least an unfortunate venture, the Government provided abundant credit facilities for the farmer's use. These facilities were supplemented by other large and liberal lending agencies which, likewise, were misled by land values. The result was that millions of farmers assumed obligations out of all proportion to any possible normal farm income.

All of us interested in farm activity and farm finance must assume our share of responsibility for this situation. We are learning our lesson and will have to take our medicine with the farmer himself. For this mistake, time and hard work seem to be the only remedy. Certainly, more credit will not solve the problem.

Agricultural Industry Relief

I wish I possessed some prophetic vision that I might suggest an easy way by which the agricultural industry could be relieved of its distress and started on a course of well-being and profit. God has not given me that power, but I think there is at least a partial remedy which the farmer himself can apply. That remedy will start him on the only course which, experience and observation convince me, any of us can hopefully anticipate: the making of a comfortable livelihood.

When we find that on approximately 30 per cent of the farms in the United States there is not a milch cow nor a chicken, and that on more than 30 per cent there is not a hog, and on approximately 90 per cent not a sheep; when we know, further, that on many farms in our large agricultural states, no gardens are kept and almost every article of food is purchased at the store, we are forced to the conclusion that the farmer, by and large, is not farming as he should. I know that there are certain sections where some, or all, of these means of increasing farm income cannot be applied, but so far as possible, every farmer should produce his own milk and dairy products, his own meat, and his own poultry, raise his own garden truck, and can the fruit and vegetables he requires for winter use.

Until he obtains from his farm every item for personal consumption which it is humanly possible for him to produce, he has not done his job properly. Pigs and chickens and cows are worth more to the individual farmer than all the government relief programs that may possibly be conceived.

Once the farmer lives at home, then I believe that whatever kind of money crop he may produce, whether it be large or small, the price high or low, his major difficulty will be solved and his margin of income for the necessities and luxuries he so much deserves will be greatly increased.

There is no romance about farming. If it is successfully done, I know it means hard work day in and day out. But so does any other business successfully performed. I know the privations of farm life. They are much less now than they were thirty years ago. I should like to see every farm home equipped with the modern conveniences of urban life. I would like to see every farmer with an automobile, a radio, and all other modern inventions which have contributed so much to social welfare.

No one is more entitled to these advantages than the farmer; but the farmer, like everyone else, should have them only when he can pay for them. The income for such purposes will be largely determined by the extent to which the farmer exhausts every possible means of supplying his necessities from the farm itself.

The way out for the farmer is not an easy one. Neither is the course smooth for industry, finance or government, and the problem in one sphere is little less difficult than in any other.

A square bottle was exhibited on the streets Saturday in which was a miniature cane bottom chair that just fit inside the bottle, and was a real work of art, as all were wondering how Pappy John Powell ever got that chair down that bottle neck and together again. But he was exhibiting his real work of art this week, but we'll tell you all about that next week.

K. B. McWilliams of Hillsboro, was up over the week end looking after business matters and shaking hands with old friends. He was not sure whether he would come back to Brownfield or not.

Jim Parks of the Tokio community was in the city Tuesday afternoon.

Members of the Centaurs Club, a social organization of Texas Technological college at Lubbock entertained in honor of their mothers, Sunday, Mother's Day. An eight o'clock breakfast at the Hilton Hotel was the first item on the program for the day. This was for the club boys and their mothers only.

Following this they were joined by other members of their families and proceeded to church services at the First Methodist church where special pews were reserved for them.

Sorrow over the death the previous night of W. K. Dickinson, father of the Centaur President, marred the day for the boys and caused them to change certain of their plans. A tea and reception honoring both the fathers and mothers scheduled for three o'clock in the afternoon, was called off.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collins and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith spent the day as guests of their sons, Bill and Adolphus. Following the club festivities the two families enjoyed a picnic dinner in the park.

Mrs. T. L. Treadaway and Miss Mozelle Treadaway are leaving Saturday for Dallas and other points in East Texas. They will be gone the forepart of the summer.

Misses Addie and Anne Hamilton arrived here Saturday to visit their mother. Miss Anne returned to her position in San Angelo Monday, while Miss Addie will remain here until Saturday before returning to her present home in Jacksboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Youngblood, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Youngblood and Miss Virginia Youngblood visited here this week with Mrs. M. V. Brownfield and Mrs. Charley Hubby. All but Mrs. Leonard Youngblood returned to their homes in Bronte. She will stay here until Mrs. Hubby recuperates from her serious illness.

Mrs. Gasta Spencer is in the Lubbock Sanitarium where she underwent an operation Friday.

Among the Tech students who spent the week-end at home were Dell Smith, Don King, Lenore Brownfield, Alma Brown and Katharine Holgate.

Mrs. W. M. Robertson of Lorenzo is the guest of her daughter Mrs. Lee Allen.

Miss Julia Burns of Rotan is visiting her friend, Miss Bessie Thompson.

Mrs. W. M. Nichols and children of Lubbock were the week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McLeod. Her brother, O. W. McLeod also of Lubbock spent Sunday here.

MAIDS AND MATRONS

The last meeting before the summer recess was held by members of the Maids and Matrons club at the home of Mrs. Crews with Mrs. Winger associate hostess. A resume of unfinished business was given. The Pageant of Texas History formerly planned by this club will be given Monday night, May 16th at the High School Auditorium.

A most interesting report of the District Federation meeting at Canadian was given by Mrs. Jacobson. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames A. M. Brownfield, Jacobson, Bell, Toone, Lewellen, Heath, Telford, Miss Fitzgerald and the hostesses.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

We had the largest attendance last Lord's Day at both services, that we have had in some time. The time for the services next Sunday morning have been moved up, so we may be on time at the Baccalaureate service. Bible study, 9:45 A. M. Communion, 10:45 A. M.

The time of the evening service has been changed to 8:15 P. M. Subject for the evening sermon, "God's Way versus Man's Way." Come with us and we will do thee good."

Hoping to see you at the High School next Sunday at 11:00 A. M. R. P. Drennon.

Miss Caroline Spencer of Austin, is here this week visiting her grandmother, Mrs. J. L. Randal.

Notice

I will teach Dunning System of Piano Study, Harmony and History of Music one month after school closes. The pupils are interested and wish to continue their work.

This will be a good time for all new pupils who plan to begin study in the fall, to get a good "start" and really accomplish much in their music.

As a special Summer rate I will give three lessons a week for the four weeks instead of two lessons a week.

The price will be the same—$5.00 for the month. All interested see me or call 119.

The Grade School Presents May Festival

On last Monday evening in the school gymnasium the Brownfield Grade School presented to one of the largest audiences of the year a May Fete, in which Queen Geraldine of the House of Helms was crowned by the King, Charles Boise of the House of Rambo.

At 8:15 the first notes of the opening march were sounded, and attending princes and princesses preceded her Royal Highness to the throne. In their wake followed the flower girls, making the queen's path a flowery one. Amid flashing lights and soft music the queen's approach was heralded. Queen Geraldine carried the honors best owed upon her with a stately grace and charm.

Her majesty wore a white gown with lace and pearls. Her train was of white duchess satin embroidered in rhinestones as were the queenly collar and crown. Attending princesses were gowned in costumes of pastel shades. The tiny flower girls were dressed in petal flowers, while the train bearer and crown-bearer wore bewitchingly ruffled dresses of white.

Queen Geraldine has been recognized by the following nations, who sent representative dancers to perform for her amusement and entertainment:

- Denmark—Lance of Greeting. America—Virginia Reel. Holland—Dutch Couples. Spain—La Paloma Dance. Sweden—Reap The Flax. Japan—Fan Dance. Scotland—Highland Fling. America—Indian War Dance. England—May Pole Dance.

Miss McHale has beaten him at tennis, but she cannot play contract bridge.

MAKE PLAIN CAKE RICH WITH CHOCOLATE FLAVOR

VERY housewife has a plain cake recipe for special occasions. But baked every Saturday for daily needs must be economical as well as tempting. How fortunate therefore that chocolate works wonders either with a simple family cake or one for special occasions. A chocolate frosting makes the plainest cake tempting, while a chocolate batter makes your simplest cake rich.

- One-Egg Chocolate Layer Cake: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Sift flour once measure, add baking powder and salt, sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually. Cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg, beat thoroughly. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 minutes, or in greased loaf pan 3 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 minutes. Double recipe for three 9-inch layers. Spread with Soft Chocolate Frosting. Soft Chocolate Frosting: 1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.
- Chocolate Cup Cakes (2 eggs): 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, other shortening melted and cooled. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt. Sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually. Cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla. Beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk. Beat after each addition until smooth. Fold in chocolate. Pour into greased muffin pans, filling two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 15 minutes. Cover with Soft Chocolate Frosting. Decorate with chopped nuts, coconut, or designs of melted chocolate. Makes 20 cakes. You will find that these cakes serve with fresh fruit in season or stewed fruit will make a delicious dessert.

Melvin Traylor Asks Curb on Mounting Cost of Government

Chicago Banker Shows Need of Caution in Spending Tax-payers' Money

Would Reform Tax Methods

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Another field in which those responsible for leadership must do some hard, sound thinking if we are to avoid disaster is that of public expenditures.

In this country, government is supposed to abide with the people, and yet we know that in no other field does leadership exert so great an influence upon the thought and action of the people as in the political sphere.

It is perfectly true, of course, that insofar as the Federal Government is concerned, the major part of the increase in that direction is accounted for by our participation in the World War; but it is interesting to observe that for the fiscal year ending in 1928, Federal expenditures were only 31 1/2 per cent of the combined outlay for all political administration in the United States.

Local Expenditures Big Item Figures are not available for the years following 1928, except for the Federal Government, whose expenditures increased 10 1/2 per cent for the fiscal year ending in 1929, and 6 per cent in 1930. It may be assumed that like increases have occurred in other political subdivisions of the country.

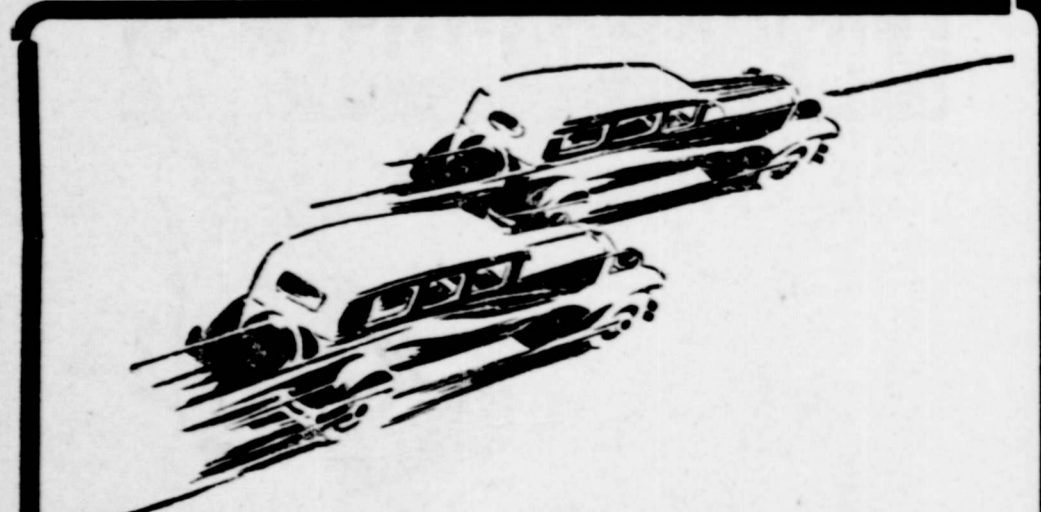

Effects of "Federal Aid" In connection with the creation of indebtedness, it is high time that those responsible for State administration consider the pernicious and seductive influence of so-called Federal aid for public improvements.

Let us face the facts. Unless there is a return to sanity in the matter of public expenditures, default and repudiation of public obligations cannot be much longer avoided.

City Marshal To Enforce Traffic Rules

In conversation this week with the Herald man, Cliff Fitzgerald, the new City Marshal, informed us that he had now been in office almost a month and had noted quite a lot of traffic violation, and that after a fair warning he intended to enforce them as impartially as possible.

As loans were being made to banks, insurance companies and railways, it was only fair that individual loans should be made to farmers, especially as farm conditions were brought about by mistaken economic policies that had bled the farming sections white and destroyed the purchasing power of agriculture.

Using east Main, especially the paved section for a race course, and not stopping when entering this street from another. Too much speed past the school grounds.

Bad parking, and especially parking at fire plugs and at other non-parking signs.

In making turns around the center posts at street intersections I note that some swing out at it if they aimed to make a right turn up another street, they suddenly swing around the center post. This is dangerous as the car behind you cannot guess what you aim to do and may run into you when you decide you have made as wide swing as possible.

Center parking will not be allowed Saturdays as there are too many people in town, and center parking so excludes the view that it is likely to cause a serious accident.

Yours for safety first, Cliff Fitzgerald, City Marshal of Brownfield.

Lack of Courageous Leadership One Cause of World Depression

Melvin A. Traylor, of Chicago Cites Human Failure in World War Crisis

"New Era" Theory a Myth Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Reams have been written, countless addresses have been made and more will follow in the search for the genesis of the present world depression; and likely recovery will come and the crisis be only a memory without there having been found a universally accepted cause or unanimous agreement on methods for the prevention of future defaults.

But I cannot escape the conclusion that the dawn of the present situation broke over the world in July 1914, and it came not from ignorance of the ultimate results of the course chosen, but because of a complete breakdown of world political sanity.

There was no lack of knowledge of the consequences, but rather of courage to face the facts, to throttle national pride, and to demand common counsel in an honest search for a basis of peace. Such a search might have failed, but unfortunately, history does not indicate that it was honestly made.

Leadership Was Lacking I am not a pacifist. Until enlightened understanding points us to the council table of peace rather than to the battlefield, there will be a need for armies and navies. But let us not say that we choose the latter course in ignorance of the tremendous costs of the game. Rather let us admit generally the lack of courageous leadership which dares to align itself with the right at the risk of being unpopular.

The point I would make is that, without prejudice as to whether the

SIDELIGHTS BY MARVIN JONES

Member of Congress from Texas The policy of making direct Government loans is a temporary one. It is justified in view of the great emergency and distressed conditions now prevailing. It is not intended as a long-ranged program.

What we need is better debts, not more debts. We need better commodity prices so that debts may be paid. Of course in the meantime it is necessary to have a temporary loosening of credit and a correction of the control of the circulating medium so that a sufficient amount of money will be available.

We need to build on a solid foundation. We need to remove the discriminations that have existed against agriculture in our tariff and freight rate structures, but we must seek new markets, which will help us in solving our own problems.

I have introduced a measure to use a portion of the unexpended balance of the crop production loan funds for the purpose of establishing a research laboratory located in the South, to be devoted primarily to the search for new uses for cotton and the utilization of linters, hulls, seed, cottonseed meal and waste and semi-waste products of the farm.

Some work is already being done in the Central West in connection with corn, corn stalks, wheat straw and waste and semi-waste products, and in the Northwest in connection with forest products.

If we can use a small portion of the unexpended balance of these funds in the search for new channels, new outlets and new uses for the products and waste products of the farm, we will be taking a step toward stability and progress.

This will not in any way interfere with the making of loans for this year but will provide only for thus utilizing a portion of the unused balance of the provision. It will thus not require any new appropriation.

What we need is a better price for farm products. This will do much to improve general economic conditions. These cannot be resorted until agriculture is restored. This is basic.

In this connection, I want to acknowledge the fine cooperation of progressive Texans, Inc., and leading citizens of Texas and other states in endeavoring to get this program started.

I also want to express appreciation of the cooperation of Southern men and women in using cotton products wherever it is possible to do so.

A few years ago there was in one of the parks of New York City a female chimpanzee. Whether the chimpanzee is still there I do not know. One day the strength of the chimpanzee lady was tested with a pulling machine and it was found that she had strength exceeding that of the two strongest men in the country.

The chimpanzee lady at that time had a husband that was much stronger than herself, but all efforts to make him register his strength failed; he had no time for such foolishness. Seeing how a chimpanzee excels mankind in the matter of physical strength, perhaps it is not best for man to give too much time to the development of physical strength.

After man has done his best he is far inferior to the chimpanzee, and in a fist-fight would stand no show with his lower brother. But by the use of his brain man can destroy all the chimpanzees on earth in a week. And yet, I regret to say, the world is now paying far more attention to physical contests than to the contents and triumphs of the brain.—Jim Lowery.

Human Angle of Problem In speaking more particularly of the character of responsible leadership in America, I am assuming that human conduct has differed little in most countries of the world. It is my purpose to talk about the human side of the problem.

It is the responsibility of business and political leadership to promote the economic and social welfare of the community. It may be worth while to take stock of our conduct and see how we have measured up to our duty in recent years. This much, however, seems certain. The "new era" theory current in the days of our inflated prosperity was a myth, and is equally valueless in our search of relief.

The forces that have been and are at work are as old as the history of economics. Why should there be in this land of plenty, with unlimited facilities for production, abundant harvests, and a surfeit of credit, millions of hungry and unemployed? It is not the fault of those who would work, but the fault of those who would not work. They have little or no choice in shaping their course and while it is true that society owes no one a living, society as far as humanly possible does owe every one an opportunity to earn a living.

UP WITH EGGS AND DOWN WITH TAXES!

"Farmers can't pay taxes with eggs at a nickel a dozen. At that price they just aren't worth the wear and tear on the eggs."

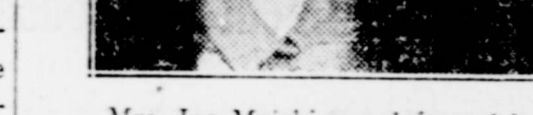

The opinion just given is that of a central Oklahoma farmer who has been doing some figuring concerning his taxes and eggs. In the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman he tells of selling eggs at 5 cents a dozen and of paying $156 in taxes on his 160-acre farm.

"At the present market price for eggs it would require 3,120 dozen eggs to pay my taxes," he writes. "That's 37,440 eggs! If I were to deliver that many eggs in a year, I would have to deliver two full cases, 60 dozen, every week. In order to get 60 dozen eggs a week I would have to keep a flock of 190 hens, all averaging 200 eggs a year. I would have to raise the feed for nothing, do all the work and hatch and raise 500 chicks a year to maintain the flock."

"On the average I figure that an egg is a little more than 1 1/2 inches in length or around 1 3/4 inches. If 37,440 eggs were placed end to end, the string would be a mile long—and there still be eggs left to shy at windy politicians! Up with eggs, down with taxes."

"The girl who used to marry a man to reform him now has a daughter who figures that two can go to the devil as cheaply as one."

Mrs. Joe Meichinger, left, and her 17-year-old daughter, who admitted killing last week near Brownwood, Texas, Joe Meichinger, who was the woman's husband, and the girl's father. According to their account, the husband came home drunk, struck and abused them and Eva Nelle, the daughter, fired five shots from a pistol into his body, after which she shot him three times with a 410 gauge shotgun which her mother obtained for her while the girl was using the pistol. Both have been released on $10,000 bonds each. The Meichingers are well-to-do Brown county pioneers.

Rambo Praises New Model 8V Ford Auto

Mr. E. W. Rambo of the Tudor Sales Co., returned home Saturday after one week's intensive study in the factory-training school at the Dallas Branch of the Ford Motor Company, where a special school is being conducted for the instruction of all authorized Ford dealers' service men in correct service methods for the new Ford V-8 automobile.

"In all my years of mechanical experience," said Mr. Rambo, "I have never seen such remarkable simplicity of design and construction as it embodied in the new Ford V-8 engine."

"It has less wearing parts than a good many six-cylinder automobiles, and in this respect compares very favorably even with previous type four-cylinder engines."

"There are new and ingenious engineering features incorporated in this new V-8 Ford motor by the dozens," Mr. Rambo stated, "and both its performance on the road and economy of operation are amazing in comparison with all previous standards."

"Mr. Ford's genius for simplified engine design has made this new V-8 engine usually easy to service, which means low repair costs and then only after long service, and the Tudor Sales Company has provided every piece of precision and speed equipment needed to insure the finest kind of quick one-stop service for Brownfield owners of V-8 Ford automobiles."

Old Timer Passes Away Tuesday

It seems that many of our old timers are passing now, but when Terry was a new country, we had very few old people in the county, but as time went on, they became more aged, and now they are leaving us one by one. But if they were to speak a last message to us, it would be to "carry on" for a greater and better Terry county.

Our old friend, J. C. Casey, aged 67 passed to the great beyond about 8:15 Tuesday morning, and the body was laid to rest here Wednesday. For several months Mr. Casey has not been feeling well, and it was reported that he had a leaky heart. But Monday afternoon he was able to be up and hailed several passing neighbors from his porch. It is said that he slept well and had a reasonably hearty breakfast Tuesday, but passed away rather suddenly a few hours later.

Mr. Casey has for many years been in business at Tokio, as well as the post master. For a long time he ran the only store there at the old site before the town was moved a mile south to the new State and Federal highway. He was truly one of the old time Texans, and he had many friends here as well as Wise county from which he came to this country.

He had plenty of the old Irish blood that made him a fighter for what he considered right principles, but he also had enough of it to make him an excellent neighbor and a close friend, and his passing will be regretted by many people in both counties.

A pastor in neighboring town makes the statement that most of the criticism of churches and church members come from people outside any church who are not informed, or are misinformed. It has always been the practice of many people to criticize those things of which they know nothing, and it is seldom thought necessary to answer their criticism in any way.—McLean News.

Dropped into a place of business the other day and the proprietor handed us a piece of printed matter that he had heretofore ordered from an out-of-town concern. "How much will you make me 5000 of these for?" he inquired. We figured a little and gave him a price. Apparently astounded, he replied, "That's cheaper than I have been paying for them and when I need some more you can have my order." This man's experience is the same that other men have; they get the impression that they can save money by buying out of town and never give the local man a chance at their business.—State Line Tribune.

Well, Hooley Long is proving to be just about as rebellious child up there at Washington as he was in "Lousyana." But he lacks something of the punch he carried behind his blows when he had charge in the home state. It seems that he has been asked and has taken a back seat, and having had to do so, has acted the spoiled child and sulked in his tent. We received one of Hooley's speeches last week in which he seemed to advocate a cut in everyone's salaries except senators and representatives. He was afraid if they were given a cut that they would not make enough money to get elected next time. Don't let 'em count you out, Hooley.

A SALE OF 1849

Mrs. Etta Macraze Below is an account of a sale which took place near Versailles, Kentucky, in 1849. It was taken by my grandfather (then a young man) from the Live Stock Reporter, a primitive paper of that day.

He gave the paper to a daughter who gave it to me when a very young girl. Many people were leaving for Oregon Territory about that time, and all the sales, I have heard that grandfather said, were large and of plentiful amount. This sale reads as follows:

"Having sold my farm and am leaving by ox team for Oregon Territory on March 1, 1849, I will sell all my personal property except two ox teams, Buck and Ben, Lon and Jerry. The property consists of the following. Two milk cows, 1 grey mare and colt, 1 pair of oxen, 1 yoke, 1 baby yoke, 2 ox carts, 1 iron plow with wood mole board, 800 feet of popular weather boards, 1,000 feet three-foot clapboards, 1,500 ten-foot fence rails, 1 60 gallon soap kettle, 85 sugar troughs made of whiteash timber, 10 gallons maple syrup, 2 spinning wheels, 30 pounds mutton tallow, 1 large loom made by Jerry Wilson, 100 split hoops, 100 empty barrels, 1 32 gallon barrel of Johnson-Miller whiskey seven years old, 20 gallons apple brandy, 1 40 gallon copper still, 4 sides of oak-tanned leather, 1 dozen wooden pitchforks, a one-half interest in the tan yard, 1 32 caliber rifle, bullet molds and powder horn, a rifle made by Ben Miller, 50 gallons of soft soap, hams, bacon and lard, 40 gallons of sorghum molasses, 6 head of fox hounds, all soft-mouthed but one.

"At the same time I will sell my negro slaves—two men, 35 and 50 years old, two boys, 12 and 18 years old, two mulatto wenches, 40 and 30 years old. Will sell altogether to same party as I will not separate them.

"Terms of Sale—Cash in hand or note to draw 4 per cent interest, with Bob McConnell security. My home is two miles south of Versailles Kentucky, on McConnell Ferry pike. Sale will begin at eight o'clock sharp a. m. Plenty to eat and drink."

The Biblical love story "Ruth" will be presented by the Wesley Players of the First Methodist Church, Lubbock at the High School Auditorium under the auspices of the Brownfield Parent Teacher's Association, Tuesday, May 17th, at 8:15 p. m. Musical features will be arranged by Mrs. W. H. Dallas which will include young singers of city, and her Girl's Glee Club.

The play includes four acts and five scenes including Ruth, Naomi and Orpah on the road from Moab to Judea, the harvest fields of Boaz, the threshing floor of Boaz, Boaz in front of the Bethlehem gate where he bargains with his kinsman for the hand of Ruth, and the wedding scene.

The cast under the direction of Fiske Miles, Educational Director, includes Eileen Graves as Ruth and Dorothy Rushing as Naomi, both senior speech majors. Tom Watson, a senior, takes the role of Boaz. Other leads include Charles Maedgen as Jephthah, head man for Boaz, Layton Lawson, Tubal his assistant, Mel-bird Pirtle, Hadassah the jealous handmaid; Gwendolyn Thompson, Keturah; Lawrence Kahn, the Kinsman; and Moody Hale, Priest.

Included in the cast of thirty is the reaper's chorus with Nancy Faver, Sammie Marie Hitt, Greddis Adkins, Florence Anderson, Dollie Clements, Roma Gause, David Powell, Vance Vannoy, Tension Davis, Coy McCollough and H. P. Hargis.

The Wesley Players have already given performances of "Ruth" in the First Methodist Church, Lubbock and at Lamesa.
