We Are Moving Up To Better Times Ahead

The Herald is of the opinion that the famous "Hoover Corner" has at last been brought into sight, and that we are now nearing it when we will pass on to at least normal time again, with normal employment, normal prices for both products and the things we have to buy. Many things are pointing in this direction, and we believe that by the time fall has reached us and with the incoming money for the 1932 crop coming in, we shall have passed into a better condition. However, we are of the opinion that we will not see the high prices, and the "high finances" that we witnessed at the close of the last decade.

Already, people have or are adjusting themselves to present prices. There is not half the howling and belyaching that was heard even two or three months ago. About the time the hall storms of May and early June began to subside, it seemed that all business had been suddenly withdrawn from the earth, and that lots of people by both talk and action had turned bolsheviks. But with the possibility of a crop of corn, feed and cotton in sight with normal yield and a possibility of better prices, this talk has stopped and in its place, smiles have lit the faces of our farmers and merchants. Not only that, but the abundant crop of peas and beans and corn to can, and later on will be augmented by turnips, pumpkins and other things they wish to can, and by the time we start to picking cotton, the pantry shelves and cellars of Terry county will be loaded with enough rations to last the people twelve months or more. This will be added to by corn, fresh and cured meats later in the year, and every family almost has their meat and lard in the making.

We have had a panic of lost confidence more than we have had a money panic. Money is coming out of hiding, even the old long bills of a few years ago. While the banks here have loaned some money when it was absolutely needed, they have been collecting almost as much as they have been putting out all the year, and they have probably had less calls for money than for years, as people were determined to go through on their own resources if possible. There were a few federal loans made, but in the main both renter and landlord avoided them if other arrangements could be made at all.

In the last two months cotton has ascended nearly $15 a bale, and that means, if it holds, that people in this section will make a profit on cotton instead of a loss, for they have made the crop at the least expense than any that has ever been made here. Stocks, bonds, and all kinds of livestock have an upward trend, and of course wheat and corn will follow, but slowly, as we have an over-supply of each, but even they will advance with other commodities. There has been the most active demand for dry goods and clothing on the wholesale market than for two years, with the mills devoid of stock. This of course will mean that they will have to start up full capacity production, and that means re-employment of thousands, perhaps millions of hands. And when they begin to pay, others will naturally be drawn in other lines who are walking the streets today, and they in turn will become consumers and buyers instead of objects of charity.

Its bound to start from somewhere, and with depleted supplies in the mills of the country and a better demand from foreign countries for our cotton and other products, together with a low yield, we are confident of the future. As we stated above, there will not be a radical change, but a gradual one perhaps, but a big improvement we believe will be noted this fall and winter. Confidence will be restored; people will buy what they need; improve their homes; build new ones, and we will all be happy again.

Littlefield Man Is Shot; Another Held

Littlefield, Aug. 13.—W. T. Baker, 35, shot and wounded in a local rooming house this afternoon, was operated on shortly before 6 o'clock tonight and a bullet removed from his back. Just half an hour before D. G. Phares, owner of a small store and filling station, had made bond of $1,000 on a charge of assault with intent to murder, set by J. B. Sykes, justice of the peace.

Phares is to appear Monday morning before the Lamb county grand jury at Olton and that body will investigate circumstances surrounding the shooting. Deputy Sheriff Bob Miller said tonight.

School To Open Thursday, Sept. 8th

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Brownfield Independent School District it was decided that school would start Thursday, September 8th. This arrangement is a bit unusual but due to the fact that the teachers will attend the South Plains Teachers' Institute at Lubbock during Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of that week it was decided to start school on Thursday. This arrangement will really be very good due to the fact that it will give the teachers and pupils two days to get enrolled and organized for the work. It is hoped that each and every pupil will be with us on the first day. If this is the case it will make it easier to enroll them and issue books to all at one time and thereby increase the efficiency of the school. Even though the pupil may not expect to attend school all the time for the first few months, he could get his books and be working on the materials of that grade.

It is not at all probable that the school will be able to take unders this year. No unders will be accepted for the first two weeks. If after that time it is decided advisable the board will direct the administration to receive them. In case the Board cannot see fit to take unders on a tuition basis there will be a kindergarten teacher available to those who wish to send their children.

It was decided that the school would be operated on the same set of rules as of last year but in order to economize it was decided not to print any more copies. Each home in the District should have one left over from last year.

Tuition will remain the same as last year which is as follows: High school, $5.00 per month; Intermediate grades (5, 6 and 7), $4.00 per month; and Primary grades (1, 2, 3, and 4), $3.00 per month. The tuition is due in advance when the pupil is due tuition and in no case will the student be allowed to get more than one month delinquent.

Due to the lack of funds it has been necessary to reduce the school program a bit this year. We are having school this time with three teachers less than last year. Most of this reduction has been in the High school. Consequently there will be no wood work or mechanical drawing offered this year. The home economics course will be cut in half. That is the teacher will give only half time to the teaching of that subject. There will be a course in bookkeeping and typing offered but no vocational commercial work or short hand. The school board regrets to be forced to offer a reduced program but it is proud to be able to offer the folks the essential subjects this year. The subjects that are left in the curriculum will be taught even better this year than before if possible. It is hoped that the folks will understand the situation when they are restricted to a pretty narrow margin on subject matter. It will be a matter of taking what you can get rather than having a large range to choose from.

In next weeks issue of the Herald there will be a list of the subjects available for each and every grade in High School.—Contributed.

"The Climax"

More Crops Seen Last Sunday Afternoon

Claude Hudgens invited Kyle Graves and the writer to take a spin with him in his new Chevy last Sunday afternoon to see how the crops were looking south and southwest of town. The route lay south-west to Lahey; south to even with Forrester school house, east to the road that comes north to town via the old Sawyer ranch headquarters. It was our desire to see some of the destruction of hail in the Hunter community, but as it was growing late we thought it best to come in. However, we saw some signs of the hail just east of Forrester, near the Washam place.

Crops as a whole are looking good, especially corn and feed, and we believe that section will make more of both than last year on account of the increased acreage. In this section where hail fell in June, the cotton is late, being less than knee high. One can hardly understand why it is not full of blooms it looks so healthy. One field between here and Lahey was examined. After one gets out of a car he can soon see that the cotton is too young to be blooming much, although we saw a few red blooms and several white ones. But this cotton is simply loaded with squares, many almost ready to bloom, and in another week will have plenty blooms. From five to a dozen squares on every stalk, and the stalks thick as usual in this county.

This cotton if not attacked by insects or does not have too much cloudy, rainy weather, we believe will yield a quarter bale, and if an unusually late fall, may go a third bale. It all depends on weather, insects and late frost. Further on down toward Forrester where they did not have to plant over for any cause, the cotton is better than knee high, fruiting nicely, and gives promise of a half bale and some better per acre. This cotton has grown bolts on it.

Indeed the crop all over Terry as reported to us by friends who have seen it in the past week or ten days, is making rapid progress, and we believe that at the final windup, many of us are going to be agreeably surprised. You know the old saying: Terry can promise little and do much, or promise much and do little. That has been proven of years when we had a big, green stalk hit by an early freeze. The Lord is always watching and evening up matters.

Brownfield Still Has 3 Points On Stanton

The fight for the championship in the Kat Klaw Golf League, composed of Brownfield, Tahoka, Lamesa, Seminole, Stanton and Snyder, now lays between Brownfield and Stanton, the other four teams having been eliminated from the contest on points, and the battle royal for the next two games will between these two teams. The contest will end early next month. In the meantime, Brownfield still has the high point man in the person of Shorty Woods, and a three point margin over Stanton in score.

The next two games are to be played, one this month and one early in September, presumably before school starts. In the meantime, Brownfield has added a mighty golf player in the person of John Jarrot, of Lubbock, who has moved his golf membership to Brownfield in order that he may be nearer their farms. John is said to be one of the best players in Lubbock, and the boys have high hopes of winning the championship with the help of this new recruit.

Seagraves Bandits Free Under Fire

Seagraves, Aug. 12.—Two men who attempted to rob the First State Bank at Seagraves today were routed by Cashier A. L. Curtis, who drove them from the building with gunfire. The robbers entered the bank at the noon hour when Miss Mattie Sue Elder, bookkeeper, and Curtis were the only employees present. They ordered Curtis to "Stick 'em up," but instead he grabbed a pistol.

Taking to their heels, the robbers fled, firing at Curtis as they ran toward the door. After reaching the street they shot through a window. Curtis pursued the robbers into the street, firing ineffectively at them.

Other Seagraves business men who witnessed the getaway obtained a description of the robbers' car and its license number.

Seagraves is in Gaines County, 60 miles southwest of Lubbock. The bank was robbed May 27 of this year by four men, $3,300 being taken. Four men have been charged with that robbery and most of the money recovered.

Good Rains Visit Most Sections Of Terry

Some pretty good rains have visited most sections of Terry county since the last issue, being the result of the tropical storms on the coast, presumably. However some sections of the county report light rains, but on account of cloudy and cooler weather, the crops are making rapid progress. On account of the appearance of leaf worms in some fields, farmers fear too much cloudy weather.

The biggest rain fell here last Thursday night, which lasts amounted to between a half and three quarters of an inch. There has been other light showers since then, and with continued cloudy weather, it has given the moisture time to sink into the ground. In most places the farmers now have their fields in a fair state of cultivation.

Sterling Speaking To Be Here Saturday

The Hon. A. E. Simpson of Amarillo and Dr. J. G. Hall, of Lubbock, will be here Saturday for the purpose of speaking in the interest of the election of Governor Sterling for reelection for Governor, according to announcement of the Good Government League at Lubbock.

No place for the speaking was announced, but we suppose it will be at the usual speaking place for political speaking at the band stand at the courthouse park. Everybody invited.

Rotary To Invite Farmers Friday Night

Each Rotarian will have a farmer friend of Terry county as their guest tonight, when they assembled in their banquet rooms at the Wines Hotel. A good program has been arranged, and it is thought that the meeting will be a success in cementing the relations of the town and farm man. Prof. Lideick, Dean of Agriculture of Tech College, will deliver an address on rural-urban relationship. Dr. Ellsworth, professor in the school of agriculture at Tech, will also address the assembly on marketing.

Can Brownfield Pay For Its Schools?

On every hand one can hear that school costs in this city have grown to such outlandish proportions that it is beyond a reason to expect the public to pay the price. The criticism has led to quite a bit of discussion both pro and con, and from the indications most of it seems to be con. We believe that in all fairness to all parties concerned, the only fair way to get at school costs here, or anywhere else, is to compare them with other expenditures. For that reason the author of this article has made a few investigations that might be of interest to the tax payers of our community.

In the first place, we will say that these figures are conservative estimates given by the various business men in town. We do not declare them to be accurate to the fullest extent, but we believe they are nearly enough so to help us to see just where we stand.

It is interesting to note, in the table which has been compiled, that an amount was made to include what we consider both necessities and luxuries. Some of the commodities listed are essential. Others could possibly be used less frequently. However, this is not an attempt to correct the morals nor appetites of the people in this town.

Now for some figures: Gasoline and kerosene sales from local wholesale houses for 1931 amounted to something like $175,000; lubricating oil reached $15,500; public utilities (gas, water and lights) $42,375; tobacco, $45,000; cosmetics and drugs, $10,000; soft drinks $20,000; barber shop $12,000. For teachers' salaries (1932-33) we plan to spend $18,610; for other school expenditures $31,984.

More specifically let us see what we are spending per scholastic for this district. According to census report there are 760 scholastics in the Brownfield district. That means that last year we spent on public utilities for tobacco products we spent a sum of $59.20 per scholastic. For cosmetics, drugs and soft drinks we spent in the neighborhood of $78.93 for each school boy and girl in our city. While for this coming year we plan to spend $2,448 per scholastic for teachers' salaries, and $12.08 for other school expenditures, including bonds, outstanding indebtedness, janitors salaries, school supplies, utilities, insurance, etc. Our total expenditures per scholastic for other commodities was $64.01. For school purposes our total expenditures will be $66.56 per capita.

Does it seem from these figures that we are spending too much for education? Is it not fair to assume that we are willing to spend as much for education as we spend for tobacco products? Will not the education of our boys and girls be worth nearly as much as our drug and soft drink bill? We do not attempt to answer these questions, but will leave their solution to the sound judgment of the people of this school district.—Contributed.

DRENNON CLOSES GOOD MEETING AT JOHNSON

The meeting of the church of Christ at Johnson, at which Elder Robt. Drennon did the preaching, resulted in ten additions to the congregation, five baptisms and five restorations. It closed Monday night.

Elder Drennon goes to Tahoka Friday night of this week to conduct a revival for the church there, for ten days.

The Baptist meeting closed here Sunday night with big crowds and much interest. There were a number of additions to the church.

Much Canning Going On Out At Howell's

J. H. Howell was in this week and paid the Herald a short call. He reported that he and the madam were very busy canning corn this week, having near 100 cans already. He will also can a lot of peas and beans before the season is over. J. H. says he has a good crop, while young it is growing fast and putting on nicely. He has had plenty rain and is now ready for a lot of sunshine.

He said that he had five long rows of peas that came on before he finished his crop, and as he could not get them himself at that time, he told people here in town to come out and pick all they wanted free of all charge. He reports that one man and woman came out. But the trouble is, he thinks, is that they have no way to get out six miles from town without walking, and then have no money to buy cans. So all they could use was just for a day or two.

Talking about poor people, Mr. Howell remarked that some travelers passed his house not long since, and while the old man kept the wagon going, he sent the boy by the house to beg for some matches. These were given the boy and then he was hit up for some tobacco, as "dad is about out." The boy was told that he (Howell) would soon be to town, whereupon the boy announced that he would take a little snuff as he used it same as dad did.

And perhaps, there was two or three dogs following that wagon.

Absentee Voters Given Chance To Vote Now

Due to the fact that the Democratic State Executive Committee did not meet till late Tuesday to count the votes cast in the July primary, R. M. Kendrick, county chairman was unable to give a list of certified state candidates to the printer until last Wednesday. But we had some out at the Herald office within two hours after they were handed in, and the fellows who aimed to be away during the second primary are now privileged to vote.

These tickets can be found at the county clerks office in this city, and if you aim to be away August 27th, better vote before you leave. This can be done at the clerks office. Also, those who have already left can have a ticket sent them. In both cases, of course, you must be a qualified voter in both the county and state.

Levelland Boys Buy Plant In Brownfield

Rayburn Knott, who has been connected with the City Cleaners and the Tipps Tailoring Company here for the past several months, and Fletcher Crockett, bookkeeper of the First National Bank, Tuesday purchased the plant and business of the American Tailoring Company at Brownfield.

Mr. Knott will move to Brownfield and assume active charge of the business. He has worked at the trade for a number of years and is expert in the cleaning and dyeing of fine fabrics and is a high-class workman in that line.

Mr. Crockett will remain with his position at the bank.—Levelland Herald.

FARM BOARD WILL SELL 1,150,000 COTTON BALES

Durham, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Carl Williams, vice-chairman of the Federal Farm Board, today told the American Institute of Co-operation the board planned to dispose of 1,150,000 bales of cotton in the coming fiscal year.

Williams expressed belief the turnover could be accomplished without any price disturbance.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking our many neighbors and friends for their expressions of sympathy kind deeds, and for the beautiful flowers during the long and serious illness of Mrs. C. R. Hubby and Clovis. May God bless each of you.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hubby and Clovis
Mrs. M. V. Brownfield
Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam Graham.

Rev. H. H. Heath, of the big Heath farms in Yoakum county, was in to see us this week. He reports that crops are not nearly so good as last year as he had to plant over two or three times on account of hail and washing rains.

Old Time Sunbonnets Go Up The Street

The Herald has seen many things of late to remind us that people are kinder reverting to old time ideas and styles, getting more like the days of yore when folks were folks and friends indeed. Of course there are some people yet who are so doggedly contrary that they can hardly live in the house by themselves, but they are scattering. The depression seems to have reminded us forcibly that we are just people, after all.

Listen in over the radio some night, and you will hear almost as many old time love songs as you do the modern tin pan alleys; you'll hear almost as much music of the fiddle, mandolin, banjo and guitar as you do jazz bands. You'll hear almost as much classical music as you do the "blues." And the human dialogues over the radio or phonograph are made up more of human interest stories. We as a people are changing our ideas. Even some of our "swimmers" in the cities who can afford any kind of wearing apparel, are wearing cotton "things" they tell us, and the manufacturers are making 'em so soft and pretty that they are becoming quite a fad—they tell us via ads.

But what we started out to say was that we saw two pretty little maids from out in the country some where passed our place last Saturday afternoon, both wearing the old time sunbonnet. Otherwise, they were dressed very much like other girls. Whether this was to save money or their complexions, we know not, as it would have appeared quite impertinent for us to interview them about the matter. Anyway, we could not resist the temptation to go to the door after these sweet girls passed on up the street and watch their sunbonnets just a moment longer until they melted into the crowd further up the street. But we did see others turn and look at these girls who were not ashamed to wear their bonnets to town.

Now the modern beach type lounge lizard girl thinks she has not impressed the others in the office that she has had a vacation unless she is brown with tan and scally with sunburns, but we believe these two maids were taking care of their pretty school girl complexions. The reason we think so is that we watched another ride in horse back not long ago, moved in through an alley back of some stores where she aimed to hitch her "nag" and changed her sunbonnet for a jaunty little cap, tying the bonnet on the saddle horn until she started home again.

J. P. PERKINS DIES IN LUBBOCK SUNDAY

J. P. Perkins, 70, who lived in Terry county 16 years before becoming a Lubbock resident three months ago, died at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning at his home at 1810 Avenue V. He had been ill several weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church at Meadow by Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of the First church here. Burial will be in Meadow cemetery under the Sanders Funeral home's direction.

Mr. Perkins is survived by two sons, R. L. Perkins of Beaumont and J. C. Perkins of Lubbock, and six daughters, Abbie, Lena, Dena, Juanetta, Mary, and Annie Bell Perkins, all of Lubbock.—Lubbock Avalanche.

DIED FRIDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Curtis Huckabee, of the Challis community, died Friday night following an operation for appendicitis and other troubles. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Hale; burial followed in the Brownfield cemetery.

Mrs. Huckabee was 32 years of age, a member of the Baptist church, and leaves a husband and a little daughter, 7 years of age, to mourn her passing.

Other close relatives who attended the funeral, were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allmon of Floyd county; two brothers, Buster and Bill Allmon and families of Floyd county; two sisters, Mrs. Walter Gracey and family of this city and Mrs. Aaron Goff and little daughter of Enid, Okla., two uncles, Mr. John Kropp and wife and Bob Kropp all of Floyd county.

Mrs. Huckabee was practically reared and educated in this county, her parents having been early settlers in Brownfield. She was one of those lovable characters that makes friends and holds them. She was a true wife and a devoted mother, and will be missed greatly in this community.

The socialists of Hockley county and the G. O. P. in Farmer are putting out a full county, state and national ticket for this fall. First time we ever knew that there were enough of either in any south plains county to fill all the offices and leave any voters to vote.

It is reported that one big flour mill at Minneapolis has 48,000 sacks of flour ready to be distributed by the Red Cross, but they are finding it hard to get people in the larger cities to take this flour as the women folks seem to have lost the art of baking. In the hollyhawk days of the past year many learned to depend on the baker for their bread.

About thirty people are dead, several hundred wounded and their homes wrecked, millions of dollars worth of property and crops are destroyed by the coastal storm in the vicinity of Houston and Galveston this week. We have seen hundreds of bad sandstorms in the past 25 years, but have never known one to kill anyone. We'll still take the sandstorms in "our."

H. N. Smith, professor of animal husbandry of John Tarellon college, says that it has been proven that 85 percent of tuberculosis in the human family is of the bovine type, and only 15 percent the other kind. He advocates a thorough cleaning of the udder at each milking, and handling the milk in clean vessels after the milking is done, and an inspection of your herd at frequent intervals.

You can never judge a man by what he says or what he writes. It is hard to believe that a man who could write such songs as "Boula Land," "I Shall Wear a Crown Some Day" and "Over in the Glory Land," could get so low as to poison his wife in order to marry a younger woman. But an Oklahoma preacher who formerly pastored a church at Ralls is in the toils of the law on such a charge.

We noted a two column article this week of comments from the foreign press on the expulsion of President Hoover. All of them were a bit nasty sounding, and maybe partly justified. But if all the facts were known, probably his action would not have sounded so ugly. Anyway, Europe and South America delight in giving the U. S. A. an ugly dig at every opportunity.

Just a few months ago, that imitable writer, Henry Ansley was being quoted from one end of the nation to the other on his most popular article, "I Like The Depression," is now dead from an auto accident. But such is life, and to quote the old song, "we are here but today, for tomorrow we may die." Henry Ansley died in harness however. He always worked for his friend, and he was out speaking for Governor Ross Sterling when he had the accident that caused his death.

The Ralls Banner wants all the editors of the South Plains to declare some "off days" in which the shops will all be closed and the printers and editors go fishing or visit kin-folks in east Texas and eat Elbertas. We want to first ask Dick how he aims to get the gas for the east Texas trip, or the snake medicine for the fishing trip. Can't be done Dick. The Herald is taking the opportunity of the "rest" we are getting just now to clean about a quarter inch of sand out of the ad and job cases, and get all the wrong-foots in the right-foots. This in anticipation of turning the corner this fall.

The Herald is 28 years old, and the oldest institution in Terry county; older than the county itself, as it was born at Gomez full four months before organization of the county. Of course it was known as Terry County Voice at that time, and was known as that until the name was changed some time after the paper was moved to Brownfield. But it was the same old type, and some old presses, but another man was its master when the name was changed. The reason its birthday now comes in August is because so many numbers were missed back earlier in its existence for one reason or another, sickness and Christmas being some of them. It has been under the present management more than 23 years.

Mrs. A. Casner of San Angelo, has returned to her home in San Angelo after a visit here with her father, Mr. G. W. Hicks.

Mrs. Theo Smith and children are here from Wichita Falls visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Holt.

Jim Graves, who is filling prescriptions for the Alexander Drug store at Leveland, came home ill last Friday, but was able to return to his work Sunday afternoon.

Grandma Bragg of Plainview, was here over the week end visiting old friends.

Wayland Whisenant of California, is here visiting his sister, Mrs. Homer Winston, and aunts, Mrs. Jim Burnett and Word Price. He runs a fruit and vegetable truck from the fields to Los Angeles for distribution.

Austin—State Highway Commission authorized expenditure of $610,886 for improvement of Highway No. 1 in El Paso, Midland, Ector, Crane, Martin and Ward counties.

Spur—Pete Perry opened new cafe and sandwich shop in Hale building.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of a certain order of sale issued by the Clerk of the 98th District Court of Travis County, Texas, on the 28th day of June, A. D. 1932, in a certain Cause No. 51,003 upon the docket of the 98th District Court of Travis County, Texas, wherein Mrs. Maggie B. Terry is plaintiff, and L. L. Myers and wife, R. C. Myers, W. W. Pollard and The Thomas D. BROWNFIELD STATE BANK

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Taken from the Herald of August 20, 1909

On the front page of our issue of August 20, 1909, we had a splendid article from the pen of Mr. W. A. Shepherd, who was our tax-assessor at that time, and had a good chance to know the conditions of the county. After giving a good description of the two towns, Brownfield and Gomez, also Meadow and Harris, Mr. Shepherd launches into our corn growing qualities, and tells us that some of the corn was sold as far away as Big Spring. He was not so sure about the cotton growing qualities of the county, but said he made from 5 to 6 bales each year on his little patch. He believed that it would grow cotton. Mr. Shepherd now lives in Abilene and has seen his prophecies fulfilled. He said we had 8 schools in the county the year before and would have 12 that year. Brownfield and Gomez each had 4 teachers; the rest one each. Mr. Shepherd had come here in 1902, when there were only about 25 people in the county, all told. When organized in 1904, it had 43 voters. In speaking of the people at that time, (1909) Mr. Shepherd described them as the cream of the earth, who would go to any length to accommodate you. He tells us that Will Alf Bell was the cashier of the Brownfield State Bank, always met you with a smile, and never turned you away empty handed. That was literally true. Anyone could borrow money at that time, and we have heard Mr. Bell say that he worked in a good cashier ten years, never took a mortgage and never lost but a few dollars all told. That cannot be said now, although we have an above average citizenship as a whole.

In description of the Old Soldiers Reunion, the issue of that date told us that there was a good crowd, lots to eat and much amusement. A visiting dentist from Killeen by the name of W. A. Wilson had delivered the principal address, giving a good account of his idea of Terry county and its future possibilities. W. A. Bell won in trap shooting, Claude Criswell won the tournament the first day and Walter Beal the second day. Lubbock beat Gomez in baseball both days, although they had to get-up-and-get, to do so. Gomez was to entertain the reunion in 1910.

Boundaries on rabbit scalps were still being paid, but we were inviting all adjoining counties to join in to make the destruction better. Judges W. N. Copeland and Geo. W. Neill, representing the Brownfield Commercial Club, had made a trip to Lubbock to join with the Lubbock people in asking the locating committee of the West Texas Normal College to locate the school at Lubbock. The locating committee consists of Lieutenant-Governor, R. V. Davidson, R. E. Cousins and John Marshall, speaker of the House of Representatives. Cousins became the first president of the college. Canyon got the college, but some 15 years later, Lubbock landed the great Texas Tech with the help of Brownfield and other towns in this section. The Altus, Roswell & El Paso railway had received a charter. We note that our friend, Ed Kennedy of Houston was promoting it, and is still promoting up to this very hour. Editor Richardson of the Gomez Review had lost their infant, and the remains were carried to Dallas to be buried. J. V. Newson and wife had also lost a 12 month old son. Ed Cowling, Canyon capitalist was here looking at town property, he had heard the Rock Island had bought the Colorado, Hereford & Gulf, and might build through here.

In the local section, we found much news, as the reunion was over, and we had many visitors: Mrs. Key was over from Gomez having dental work done. Mr. Lester of Canyon was here. Grandma Schroek was a bit ill. Miss Kathrine Powell was visiting in Soash. G. E. Lockhart of Gomez, had business in the capitol, (meaning Brownfield.) Miss Jeffie Ray Harris (Trixie) left for Louisiana to enter school. O. Carver, Whit Townsend and Oscar Campbell were visiting in Gomez. J. E. Alexander passed through on his way to Waco to enter Baylor U. J. W. Crone, of Yoakum county, ex-Congressman, was attending the reunion. Mrs. Bucklew, of Marshall, was visiting her sister, Mrs. and Jno. S. Poveil. The male members of the Methodist church were meeting to devise means to repair the church. We believe it was anchored with heavy wire for several years. Rev. Edgar Owens was to start a meeting at the Baptist church, which had just been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brownfield had returned from an outing on the Concho. A. B. Bynum had been summoned to the bedside of his father at Hereford. Miss Mamie Powell had left for Shreveport to enter school. The Brownfield-Lubbock auto road was to be completed by the time the train reached Lubbock. A party of prospectors were here from Miles, Texas. Mr. Looney and family of Plains, attended the reunion. He was described as the founder of Plains. G. J. Rose of the Clifford Chapel section, was in and described crops as pretty slim as he had no rain. J. P. Allen, an old veteran of west Terry, attended the reunion.

Mr. V. E. Hargett was here from Plainview promoting a light and ice plant and a corn mill. M. V. Brownfield had notified the public that there would be no hunting or herds brought through his pasture. Miss Irene Powell left for Chickasha, Okla., where she had a position as teacher in their schools. Dee Brownfield came in from Georgetown where he had been attending the summer session of the University. J. L. Randal announced that he had a full line of the adopted text books. Misses Nova and Ella Gowen and brother, Charley, of Sherman, had returned home after visiting their cousin, Arthur Alexander and family. In the pride news, the reporter reported crops burning up. C. H. Martin was buying yearlings. Mr. Tidwell had lumber on the ground for a new home. A small boy had accidentally discharged a target rifle which killed his sister in an adjoining room. Mr. and Mrs. Epperson had attended the reunion in Brownfield.

Rev. R. E. Swartz, of Buchtel, Ohio, who had a section of land near E. N. Groves, had written in inclosing $2 to keep 'er comin'. On the back page we had a long article from The Commoner, published by the late lamented William Jennings Bryan, in which he accused President Taft of passing the buck on the tariff. Mr. Taft had used the words "tariff revision" and the Commoner asked whether this meant that the tariff would be "revised" up or down. The Groves Chapel correspondent reported good crops in that section. Mrs. E. N. Groves had returned from the coast country. W. L. Groves had carried a six-horse load of corn to Lubbock. The Muleshoe outfit had moved a bunch of fat steers from the J. E. Bryant place. E. N. Groves had delivered a bunch of steer yearlings. Dick Groves had returned from a tour of the northwestern states. Saw nothing any better than in Terry, and we might add that the same holds good up to the good year 1932.

CHALLIS CHATS

Canning beans, peas and corn seems to be the order of the day with most of the farmers and their families. Mrs. M. E. Kinard spent the week end in Brownfield visiting friends and attending the meeting. Mr. Duff Howze and family visited his mother last Friday night. He formerly lived in Lubbock, but was moving to Amarillo to make their home. Mrs. Jimmie Langford has been on the sick list the past week. Mrs. Richard Castleberry visited with Mrs. Money Price Sunday evening. Little Cora Helen Lowder of Dallas is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Ada Howze. Virgel Kinard made a trip to Lubbock Sunday. Mr. Quillard Hall who has been in a San Angelo Hospital with a broken leg for three months is visiting his home folks, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hall and family.

Mrs. N. Johnson and children of Lubbock. Mrs. T. W. Stinson and little son, of Plainview, spent last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Banks.

FAULTLESS WAY the Easiest Way

THE EASIEST way because Faultless Starch comes to you ready for instant use—no bother; no mixing. The best way because it does twice as much as ordinary starch and does it nicer. FAULTLESS STARCH CO. KANSAS CITY, MO.

THE BEST STORES IN TOWN

By Bruce B. Brewer, Vice Pres., Ferry-Hanly Advertising Co.

I believe the chances are ten to one I could take a file of newspapers from any town or city and, after a little study, pick out the best stores in town. I believe any experienced advertising man could do it. Just look at the advertisements in this paper, week after week, and you can do the same thing. Perhaps it won't be the largest advertiser who is really growing the fastest, but more probably it will be. The main thing to look for is the advertiser's own expression of his sales story. If he goes about his advertising with a sincere desire to serve you, he goes about his entire business that way.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Ann Hope Prater was born April 22, 1840, was converted an united with the Methodist church at ten years of age.

She was married to Joseph Prater June 22, 1856. Three children were born to her, twin sons who died in infancy and Mrs. Kate Castleberry with whom she had made her home for the past thirty years.

We all knew her as grandmother Prater. For to be in her presence was to be with a true mother of Israel.

The writer has known grandmother since a small girl, and to every one she had the same sweet smile and words of comfort. Always ready to go her bit for her community and church. We never visited this fine old character in late years but what she was anxious to help in her church and that her pastor was provided. She had been a member of the Methodist church 82 years, such an unusual record, and yet a life filled with pure thoughts and service for her Lord. Not only was grandmother patient through life, but also in death, this kind of a life is what won for her many friends; for every one loved her.

Grandmother Prater was one of the early settlers of Terry county. Coming here with her daughter some fifteen years ago. She knew the ups and downs of pioneer life. She was a true loyal saint and lived her faith.

Grandmother died August 4, 1932, and was laid to rest August 5, in Meadow cemetery. Funeral services were conducted in Meadow Methodist church by her pastor, Rev. J. T. Howell. The beautiful floral offering exemplified the love the community had for the entire family.

This poem so fittingly tells the feelings of those who knew and loved grandmother Prater.

Oh, God, thou did'st select her, The fairest from the rest, In tenderness thou did'st take her, To repose upon thy breast.

We loved her, how we loved her, And how we feel so sad alone, But thou knowest best kind Father, It is well, thy will be done.

We sorrow but not as those who have no hope, for we shall see her again some glad day on the other shore, where parting comes no more. Written in loving memory by Mrs. J. P. Evans, Meadow, Texas.
