Merchants Report A Great Business Sat.

The Brownfield stores were all crowded and jammed with buyers all day Saturday, and especially in the afternoon. This included both dry goods and food stores, as well as drug stores. Other places did not seem to have any more rush than common on Saturday. One dry goods man informed us that he sold more than 200 blankets alone over the week end, and was still counting money Monday morning.

All the stores were crowded, and practically all of them said they had the best business day this year by far, and one said that it was one of the best for all time at his store. You know this is one good point in favor of better times. The fear that this will be the last dollar the family will ever have, is leaving, and in its place, confidence in the country and the American government is taking place. They are quitting their hoarding and buying. That in turn will start the factories and mills to producing, and the mill and factory hands will be more able to purchase and consume our farm products.

To our notion, our government has started at the wrong end to bring back prosperity. Start people to work, to drawing pay in the mills, mines and on the farms, and the difficulty has been solved. Give it to the big insurance companies and railroads, and it goes into New York banks and stays there.

Will Rogers In New Comedy At His Best

"Down To Earth" Said To Be Humorist's Funniest Film To Date

Back to his native Oklahoma again after filming his recent pictures against various foreign locales, "Will Rogers has the star role in "Down To Earth," his new Fox offering which opens Sunday at the Rialto Theatre.

With the recital of a business man's efforts to balance his dwindling income against his family's social ambitions and extravagance as its theme, the picture is being hailed everywhere as the most timely as well as the funniest production of the noted humorist's career.

Rogers fans will recall the hectic adventures of Pike Peters and his family abroad in "They Had To See Paris," his first talking picture. In "Down To Earth" the whimsical "Pike" reappears after his trip, once more guiding the destinies of his oil company. The recent Wall Street crash, however, has seriously affected his holdings and he becomes worried over his family's expenditures. The failure of a bank in which he is interested brings matters to a crisis, hastened when his wife's social aspirations wreck his attempts to negotiate a loan from the local bank.

Irene Rich Is Wife Again

This combination of bad luck proves the final straw—and Pike goes berserk. His original and surprising methods of getting his family back on its feet again form the climax of the story and round out the unfolding of the picture.

Irene Rich again enacts the role of Mrs. Peters, with Dorothy Jordan, Matty Kemp, Mary Carlisle, Theodore Lodi, Brandon Hurst and many other noted players, in the supporting cast. Homer Croy, the author of "They Had To See Paris" wrote the story for the new offering, with Edwin Burke making the screen play and David Butler directing.

Spur—Odell Mason of Jayton, acquired Magnolia agency.

O. M. Minnix and family, Rt. 3 are entitled to a pass to the—

Hooray! Another Armistice!

We Lacked About 30 Miles Seeing Game

The editor and son, accompanied by one of the faculty members, Floyd Ledbetter, and two of Brownfield's football players, Warren and Smith, left here last Friday afternoon just about an hour before the game between the Spur Bulldogs and the Post Antelopes was to be called at the later city, purposely to see the game and to see who the Cubs would have to play for the bi-district championship. But a couple of bad castings willed it otherwise. One fell flat out a few miles, and our spare flunked out just in the edge of Tahoka. So, the time while the tires were being fixed was spent in that fine city.

Unlike the Herald which was closed all day, the Lynn County News was as wide open as one of Al Capone's emporiums, but of course not for the same purpose. However, like the Herald again, we found them at leisure as if no fall rush was overpowering them. Indeed, they were devouring their dailies. The next fifteen or twenty minutes was spent in talking shop and looking over the new things that had been added to their equipment since our last visit. The time passed all too soon, and we decided that the best thing for us to do was to get back where we could get a tire on credit if we had to do so.

While we did not get to see that freak of all freaks, Jake Leedy, who at one time claimed Brownfield as the place where he hung his hat, we did see some of the effects of his handiwork. On the window of a vacant building in the heart of the city, we found a sign which read, "4 percent beer will be sold in this building after March 4th.—Jake Leedy. We imagine Jake will have lots of callers from Brownfield.

We found that cotton along the highway, was opening fearfully slow, especially young cotton. Like this section which got a lot of hail that made our cotton late, Editor Hill informed us that they were not going to get near as much cotton as they expected a few weeks ago. However, some of the old cotton in that section is sure getting white.

Sonora—Sonora Wool & Mohair Co. announced plans to double its storage capacity through building of annex.

Throughout the United States there are upward of 60,000 beauty shops.

There are now 512 women in the United States licensed to operate airplanes.

C. Sears Raises The Best Corn In His Life

C. Sears, one of our prominent farmers, was in this week with two sample ears of his famous strawberry corn, the seed of which we believe he said he obtained from Jim Parks. These ears, he said were not especially picked for size but for beauty of formation, together with straight grain rows. They were two as pretty ears of corn as one could wish to see, filled clear to the end. Mr. Sears believes that this corn has been here long enough now to be acclimated, and it is very much softer than our mixed native and June corns, although it is known that strawberry corn makes a fine, white meal.

Mr. Sears says that he has made the best corn crop in the 40 or more years that he has been farming. In his childhood he helped farm the creek bottoms of McLennan and McCullough counties, where no land is more fertile. But he says that they never made as good corn any year as this crop here in Terry county. He began gathering recently and says you do not get nowhere until your wagon bed is full. The ears weigh out unusually well. We had the pleasure eating some of the roasting ears from this corn in the summer.

Mr. Sears says his cotton crop will be light, and he doesn't believe that the rent from the place will pay the taxes on the land and as there is no sale for corn or maize, he thinks maybe the best plan would be to start a distillery out there after March 4. But coming back to realities, he says he sure has a lot of good things to eat in that old cellar of his.

Yoakum Co. Singing Convention 4th Sun.

J. W. Raley of Plains, president of the Yoakum County Singing Convention writes in to say that their quarterly session this time will be held at the Stanford Valley school house in the Heath community. About the best way for Terry county people to get there is to take the Plains highway until they get within 5 miles of Plains, then turn north to the Heath farms, then west about two miles.

Mr. Raley says that everybody is cordially invited to be with them that day for a great singing, and we imagine a good dinner, while that part was not mentioned in the letter.

Pecos—Slover's Cash Garage moved to Camp Broadway.

Prominent Jacksonville Produce Man Here

Mr. J. C. Beard, who has some very valuable property adjoining the townsite of Brownfield, was here the past week end with W. C. Smith, dairyman, who is looking after the property. He was on several deals, but informed us that none of the offers suited him. If his ad which is running again this week does not bring results, he may decide to keep the property.

Indeed, Mr. Beard informed us that this made about the third or fourth trip he and wife had made up here and both liked better each time. He has a large produce business which he runs himself, and also a grain business which is managed by his son-in-law. Mr. Beard says that if they can be turned, they very likely would move here.

He says the large, unrestricted use of trucks in this section is ruining both railroads and smaller towns. They are hauling all the cotton from their gins, knocking local compresses out of the fee and workmen out of jobs, and in turn are loading with produce and come back to peddle them out in the country districts.

Mr. Beard also said the large New York owned chain stores are hurting their section. Each Monday morning a draft is drawn on the Jacksonville banks for all the funds in them and sent to New York by New York draft. If the manager did not happen to get all the money they expected and drew for, that is just too bad, and he has to make it up out of his own funds.

Mr. Beard said that sometimes he got amused not to say just a little angry at people. For instance, he recited that when the soldiers passed through there on their way to Washington, the theme of their complaint was against Wall Street, but when they needed anything, they would visit an A. & P. grocery for it.

Better See Our Line Of Christmas Cards

The Herald has received quite a nice line of Christmas cards already, and will be receiving some more in the next few days. These are all inexpensive, yet pretty cards, carrying an envelope for each. We have some that are packed 25 to the box, all alike, and another variety packed 12 to the box, all different. The price on these cards is low even when you have your name printed on them.

Will have in a few days a lot of comic Christmas cards, known as

Contracts For Roads Are Up At Austin

The state highway department here has sent plans for several grading and drainage projects on the South Plains to Austin for checking and approval by Texas highway department, Guy R. Johnson, resident district engineer, said. Some of the contracts may be let in November, and all are expected to be awarded by the first of the year.

Among the plans sent to Austin are:

"A contract from Brownfield to the Lubbock county line on No. 137 may be let in November if state funds are available to take care of the work," Mr. Johnston said. "A vast amount of state funds are being used to take care of federal work. This federal money does not usually come to the state until six weeks or so after the work is stated. The state therefore has to put up the funds for contractors and expenses until the state receives the federal money. When this is done the state then puts its own funds back for use in other channels."

Distance on this highway sector is over 23 miles, there being 15.28 miles in the Terry county project and 8.3 miles in Hockley county.

On Highway 137, the Ector county project has been finished from Odessa to Andrews county line. In Andrews county grading between the county seat and the Gaines county line is 80 percent finished, with six miles of base. In Gaines county, surfacing from Seagraves to Seminole should be finished this month. A contract for surfacing from Andrews county line to Seminole is expected to be let this month.

Plans are finished for Terry county between Brownfield and the Gaines county line.

Official Returns Show Co. Democrats 15 to 1

Four years ago, Terry county went into the Republican column by quite a little majority and it sure gave a lot of us old brass collared Democrats a shock. But this year, Terry county climbed back on the Donkey cart by a vote of 15 to 1 in the national race and the rest of the state, county and district offices with the exception of that for governor. The county gave Mrs. Ferguson a more than 2 to 1 lead over her Republican opponent. This seems to be a Democratic year everywhere, and any candidate with the word Republican over his name was in for a beating, no matter the issue. Here is the vote of Terry county:

Roosevelt	1448
Hoover	87
Ferguson	1014
Bullington	501

The Socialists and other candidates got 29 votes out of approximately 1543 cast. All amendments except the Centennial carried in Terry county. The vote was:

For University bonds	507
Against	305
For Tax Redemption	692
Against	221
For 10 Year Limitation	545
Against	309
For Army-Navy vote	478
Against	340
For Coast Protection	451
Against	336
For Election Qualification	624
Against	222
For Homestead Exemption	785
Against	170
For combining Offices	693
Against	179
For Centennial	312
Against	507

Another County In Arkansas Heard From

Like all Methodist preachers, the time comes to move every now and then, and this includes our unfaithful friend, J. M. Fryar, who was pastor here for four years or thereabout back in the middle 'teens. And for fear that he might miss a copy of the Herald, he "sot" down election day, before he heard for sure that the nation would go as Maine went, and had us change his address. He is moving from Biggers to Black Rock or Pedras Negras as us Spanish speaking Texikans would say. This is the same Methodist preacher that tried to stop us from writing poetry last spring.

Anyway, he has moved from the banks of one river to the banks of another, and cruelly tells us that hunting and fishing is fine. But one of these days, he will fall in one of these rivers, and come up ready for a "Spute"—and join that church some people call the Cambellite church. But he adds that the river is at a very low ebb due to drouth and other "blessings" of Hoover prosperity.

In closing his letter, he sends regard to all his friends here, and in closing this article we want to say that we told this good man that as long as we published the Herald, that it would never cost him a cent, and we have lived up to this promise so far. Let us say that at one time, in fact all his early boyhood and young manhood was spent in printing offices in Tennessee and Texas, and while here for more than three years helped to pull us out of many a tight place. He also saved the Herald considerable money in the erection of the first cylinder press we put in, and did as good job as any they would have sent out from Dallas.

Armistice Day Spent Quietly In Brownfield

Few places of business were closed Armistice day, except the banks, barber shops and the Herald office, and a very nice crowd was in town all day, some with cotton, others to see the football game between Tahoka and Brownfield. And there was a good crowd out there despite a fierce north wind to watch the fighting Cubs win another game. But that will be told you elsewhere.

In the afternoon, a great many attended the Spur-Post game, while a still larger number watched Tech swamp Baylor University in the set-to. All the flags in the city were in their accustomed holiday sockets in front of the business houses, and gave an appearance of a holiday whether it was taken or not. The American Legion ushered in the day at 5 A. M. with a few rockets and had a surprise breakfast of bacon, eggs and coffee at the hall.

At night, there was a dance at the hall for those who indulge, while others went to the show.

HARD WORK TO LOSE ONE POUND OF FLESH

Those who might want to reduce by exercise will find it a hard task and would no doubt become discouraged if Dr. Arthur Steinhau, an authority on such subjects, has correctly estimated the work necessary. In a recent article in Modern Medicine he says:

"In order to wear off a single pound of fat by exercise," Dr. Steinhau explains, "the average sized individual must either fence eight hours or wrestle five and one-half hours; walk 144 miles at the rate of two miles per hour or play football hard for four and four-fifths hours; or climb to the top of Washington monument forty-eight times; shovel fifty-seven tons of sand into a wheelbarrow or play ping-pong seventeen and a quarter hours."

Democratic Senate And House Swept In
On Tide To Roosevelt

The revolution at the polls which elevated Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency and cut down Republican officeholders was emphasized by late election tabulations.

The figures told the story of an electorate so determined upon a change that it braved almost every variety of weather to register the greatest popular vote ever known, millions higher than the outpouring drawn by the intensity of the 1928 campaign.

President Hoover saw every State west of the Alleghenies turn against him. Only Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Delaware, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine kept the Republican faith. Roosevelt's electoral vote reached a new high figure of 472. Mr. Hoover had fifty-nine. For election 266 were necessary. Hoover received 444 four years ago.

Michigan went Democratic. So did Iowa, birthplace of Herbert Hoover; California, where he lives; Kansas, home of Vice President Curtis, and among others, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

Senate Greatly Changed

That was only part of a country-wide political upheaval. The result was substantially the same whether one looked at the Senate, the House, gubernatorial races or even returns affecting prohibition.

Political old-timers blinked as they tried to envision a Senate without such captains of the Republican old guard as Jim Watson of Indiana, Reed Smoot of Utah, George Moses of New Hampshire and Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, all beaten by Democrats. Add to them another veteran, Senator Wesley Jones of Washington. The eloquence of Senator Borah in Idaho apparently failed to save his Republican colleague, Senator John Thomas.

The opposition of antiprohibition organizations and of devoted followers of Al Smith combined with the ordinary Republican opposition, did not prevent William Gibbs McAdoo from winning easily in California.

There were thirty-four Senate seats at issue. The Democrats captured twenty-seven of these to give them fifty-eight seats in the Seventy-Third Congress. The Republicans took five. The others were still doubtful. The number necessary for a majority is forty-nine.

On the House side, already Democratic, the tale of Republican disaster was repeated. The winners have 218 seats there now. They are certain of 270 after next March 4—and seventy-eight House races are still in doubt. The number necessary for a majority is 218.

The aggressive and independent LaGuardia of New York sided often with House Democrats, but the label, Republican, seemed too much for him to overcome. A Democrat will take his place.

Ruth Baker Pratt of New York lost to a Democrat. Republican floor leader, Snell, was re-elected, however, from up-State New York.

The tabulations tell another sad Republican story in the gubernatorial races. There were elections in thirty-four States. The Democrats won eighteen of these and on the basis of votes compiled late Wednesday were leading in eleven others. They displaced eight Republicans. Floyd B. Olson, Farmer-Labor, was elected in Minnesota.

The Kansas Democratic trend was reversed in choosing a State chief executive, however, and a Republican was leading Governor Woodring, surprising many who felt the choice would be the goat gland specialist.

John H. Brinkley, independent. In Wisconsin, the combinations of Progressives and Democrats not only carried the State for Roosevelt, but elected a Democratic Senator and Governor, beating Walter J. Kohler for the State office.

Characteristic of the paradoxes of American politics, most of the anger and bitterness of the pre-election campaign seemed already dissipated.

Following a sportsman's traditions, President Hoover waited only until he was certain he was beaten to send his congratulations to Governor Roosevelt.

The latter, elated but sobered, too, by the responsibility so vigorously thrust upon him, Wednesday expressed his appreciation for the President's message.

President Hoover, described by his aids as the "tired man in America," got a much needed rest at his Palo Alto home. He was considering a trip through the Panama Canal before returning to Washington, but he also thought of getting on his special train to return to Washington and his job.

The Socialist candidate for the presidency, Norman Thomas, substantially increased his total over the 1928 record. He received 267,800 votes four years ago and Wednesday had exceeded that by more than 30,000 with less than a third of the returns in.

The Democratic platform and the Democratic candidate urged outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead Act but not all party candidates agreed with that stand, just as there were differences among Republicans on the issue.

EFFORTS BEING MADE BY LOCAL COMMITTEE TO BETTER DRIVING CONDITIONS

David Perry, local committeeman for safe driving, says, "more than two years ago it was found that automobile accidents were causing more deaths than wars ever had." The people began to try to find some method by which the toll of deaths in automotive accidents could be diminished.

This great need was finally met (according to David Perry, local League chairman) by the Silvertown Safety League, sponsored by B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. and today the League has over 500,000 members who signed the pledge for safe driving and have had the Safety Emblem attached to their car.

Also (according to David Perry) after about two years of experimentation with fifty-two different designs of tires, the Goodrich Co. has built a tire that is safe on any type of road. This tire is now on the market. The company says, "it is the Safest Tire Ever Built." So David is making sacrificial effort this week to get a lot of the old worn smooth tires off, as the first step toward making Terry county driving more safe. Read his advertisement.

This is the reason why your sheat is so unpopuler here. If you don't want edytorials from this place and ain't going to put up no news, wo don't want sed sheat."

The cotton estimate was raised about a half million bales this month. The ginnings in the United States are nearly three million bales under what they were this time last year.

Monthly School Report

The report for the school month of October shows a total enrollment of six hundred nineteen folks for the year. This is nine more pupils than had enrolled at the same time last year. To the present time there has been a total drop of twenty one pupils making a net enrollment of five hundred ninety-eight. Of this number there were 89% of them present every day or an average attendance of five hundred twenty-nine. The tardies for this month increased. This is probably due to the bad weather and shorter days. It is the hope of the teachers that the parents and students will extend every effort to the end that we may get out of the habit of being late.

The scholastic standing of many pupils were raised this month. There were something like twice as many making a sufficient average to be admitted to the honor roll this time. This is very good. The pupils who do make the honor roll can consider it a real honor as only those who make an average of 90% on studies and department are eligible.

The school spirit is growing each month and at the present time is stimulating considerable cooperation toward successful school activities. These extra curricula activities are calculated to develop the pupils in the habit of pulling together.

As a result of this good feeling, there are few failures this time. In the grades there are only 2.3%. In other words if a youngster is failing in all his subjects he is among a group of less than three pupils in each hundred. If in high school and failing all subjects he is in a group of five pupils per each hundred.

Interested parents make successful pupils of their children.—A. B. Sanders.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Missionary Society of the First Christian church met at the home of Mrs. S. H. Holgate for their usual study. They finished the last six Chapters of 1st Cor. Those enjoying the lesson were: Mesdames Gracey, Walters, Snodgrass, and Kendrick. A large box was packed for the orphans home. Also the society will enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner in the home of Mrs. Holgate, and cookies will be baked for little orphans that day.

Haskell—Misses Wells and Byrne opened shop in Mays Dry Goods Store on north side of square.

Schools And Social Unrest

During this, as well as all other periods of reconstruction after a great crisis, society and all the social institutions are looking for bedrock necessities. In other words if a social institution is failing to fill the bill we are ready to throw it over board and substitute at better one. If that same institution only partially fills the bill we are ready to scrap the surplus and enrich the part that renders needed service.

With this worthy attitude we have looked at the school and are trying to determine just what its status is. It would not be hard for most of us to agree that the basic idea back of public support if schools is that an educated public is the surest safeguard of the people freedom. That being the case let us try to determine whether the results shown by the schools and their attitude toward the problems seems to head toward the proper goal.

First may we call to your attention that the schools of today are not similar to the schools of forty years ago. At that time the teachers were the center of gravity and the subject matter run her a close second. If a person was trained in how to work higher mathematics and read dead languages he was an educated man. On the other hand now we see the schools attempting a much more effective line of work by holding as their goal, the seven cardinal principles of education, as set out by the Commission of the Reorganization of Secondary Education. These seven main objects you will recall, are: First, health; second, command of the fundamental process (three R's); third, worthy home membership; fourth, vocational efficiency (ability to make a living); fifth, civic education; sixth, worthy use of leisure and last but not least, ethical character. You will notice that none of these, with the possible exception of the second, refer to especially to the mastery of any given subject. The fact that a boy is making "A" in English literature does not mean that it is effecting his life a great deal. The fact that a girl is making "A" in the subject of civics does not mean that she will be the highest type of participating, community loving citizen.

On the other hand if the schools of today can give to the younger Americans a goodly measure of the attitude, ideals, interests and skills necessary to the realization of these seven cardinal principles, their place in the social order of things will be made secure. This challenge of efficiency constantly faces the folks who are supporting the school as well as those who are attempting to administer them in the most effective means possible.

Probably the most encouraging thing is the fact that the major objectives are heading in the right direction at present.—Contributed.

H. A. Lattimore, who travels for the Star-Telegram subscription department in this section, was here recently and saw the Cubs play Slaton. He informed us that he had in his travels seen lots of football teams, but he believes the Brownfield Cubs of this year were the fightingest bunch he ever saw to their weight.

No depression in East Texas. Here is the new 20-story skyscraper which now houses the People's National bank at Tyler, Texas. The building was opened officially last Friday with a big celebration, and takes its place as one of the largest buildings in Texas.

Whiteface Ranch Becomes Quality Project

Levelland, Texas, Nov. 8.—A notable development of pioneer ranch property in West Texas is that of the old Whiteface ranch headquarters of the Col C. C. Slaughter estate, where a large long staple cotton project is under way. Sixty-five tenants are on the 14,000 acres in cultivation, which now belongs to Mrs. Ira D. DeLoache of Dallas, a daughter of Colonel Slaughter.

Long staple cotton production was initiated by Ira Wills, the manager, despite the belief that long staple would not grow well on the South Plains. Seed blocks of 5 per cent of the cotton acreage were planted to an Acala type cotton in 1930 and from these 40 per cent of the acreage in long staple the next year. In 1932, 80 per cent of the cotton area was devoted to the cotton.

"Our yields this season will average better than half a bale to the acre, some of it turning out a bale," Mr. Wills said. "We have bred up our seed and acclimated it and I believe we have the best type of cotton for this plateau land." Tenants usually sell their own cotton at the gin, while the rent cotton is held until later and sold in 100-bale lots. Cotton and feed are chief crops on the place, tenants paying rent in thirds and fourths.

Each tenant has about 177 acres, including a home place of nearly 10 per cent for pastures, corrals and karden, leaving about 160 acres, of a quarter section in cultivation. Of this about 65 per cent is in cotton and 35 per cent in feed, consisting of kaffir, milo and other grains. There is a four-room bungalow of frame construction, weatherboarded outside and sheetrocked within, on each place. Each has a windmill, a shed barn and wood corrals.

Around every four places or "labors" there is a graded road, all leading to the ranch house. First tenants were placed five years ago and few changes are made, as only best type of tenants are secured. Acreages are standardized, but each tenant decides whether to sell or feed out grain crops.

TWO DEPRESSION BEATERS

The two outstanding "depression beaters" last year were the two greatest users of newspaper advertising space, the American Tobacco Company and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

The American Tobacco Company not only did a greater business last year than ever before in its history, but its net profits exceeded those of any year, even those of the boom year 1928.

Atlantic and Pacific sold more than a billion dollars' worth of merchandise, moving into first place in the volume of business done by any one company in this country.—St. Louis Star.

An Oil that reaches vital parts of your Motor as quickly as possible

OR An Oil that is already on all the parts before your motor starts!

DID YOU KNOW THIS... that half of all your motor wear occurs while you're starting your car and letting it warm up! Here's why: Your motor makes 3,000 to 5,000 revolutions before oil circulates from the crankcase to all parts of the motor. Your motor runs with vital parts receiving no oil from your crankcase reservoir!... What protection do other oils offer you against this half of your motor-wear? The best of these oils "reach all parts in the shortest time," say their makers.

What protection does Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil offer? It is already in and on every part and lubricates safely from the second you step on your starter! A "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil stays up in your motor and never drains away! Other oils drain away during idle periods, leaving parts "dry." Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces and never leaves any part unlubricated. It cuts starting-wear to the minimum and gives your car longer life!

Like other good oils, Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is thoroughly de-waxed and circulates freely at subzero temperatures.

Avoid the terrific wear of winter's long warming-up periods. Change today to Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

The cupboard is their home

POULTRY, butter and eggs must never be without cupboards to go to. Behind the daily activity of Swift & Company's organization lie the simple ambitions of 55,000 employes and 48,000 stockholders—to live modestly, but well, and to deal fairly with each other and the rest of the world.

They understand the company's task. A most important part of that task is to buy produce from farmers at more than 100 produce plants, put it into attractive form for consumption and pass it along, without delay and with a minimum of cost, to retailers.

Employes and stockholders understand also the limitations of the job. They realize: (1) that Swift & Company must buy produce in competition with all other dealers and pay what any one else will offer; (2) that Swift & Company must sell whatever it buys at a price which consumers, through their retailers, are able and willing to pay; (3) that the little profit aimed at can be obtained only by keeping down every expense.

Our workers are spread over most of the United States; they are local residents wherever Swift & Company has a produce plant, a packing plant or a branch selling house. They are people just like the farm men and women who have produce to sell, with the same desire to give honest value and to get on in the world by performing real service.

Of our stockholders, more than 40 per cent are women. Their funds are invested in the company because they hope to receive at least moderate dividends. Over a period of years, profits have averaged less than half a cent a pound on all products sold.

Through good times and bad Swift & Company continues to maintain its national market for produce, working near capacity, paying cash to producers and, with the hearty cooperation of employes and stockholders, cutting every operating and selling expense over which it has control.

The Swift & Company national market was made by digging up demand wherever it exists in the United States, by advertising brands of high quality, Swift's Meats, Swift's Premium Milk-Fed Chicken, Golden West Fowl, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs, Cheese and many other products.

It used to be said in the pre-Volsted days that Texans liked their liquor straight. They seem to vote that way too.

Our motto should be a high school education for every boy and girl in Texas—a college education if possible. Give them the first and if they want the second, they'll get it.

A tip to the town people: Do your shopping Saturday mornings in order that the country people may have the undivided attention of the clerks in the afternoon. Why not? You get the pick by doing so.

If any of our friends lost anything on the election, we have not heard of it. Indeed, we have seen no more new hats than usual, so we suppose they all wanted to bet the same way here and found no takers.

Harlan Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Howell of this city, who is specializing in agriculture at Tech College, was second high man in cattle judging recently, with 241 points out of a possible 250 points. A Fluvanna boy beat him 5 points.

A good way to make a whole newspaper force see red is to get your copy for news matter in at the very last minute, and then they find you have written on both sides of the paper. Remember this, and don't do it any more.

Roger Babson the great statistician say that there will be no rupture in finance or commerce following the election of Mr. Roosevelt. He makes it plain that the business world is not afraid of the New York governor, despite all the scary stuff put out before the election.

Thanksgiving is here again almost, and we have many things to be thankful for here in old Terry. While we have not made a big cotton crop, we did not entirely fail, and just look at the food and the well fed men, women and children. And they lack a lot of being naked too.

If anyone missed our hot editorial column last week, they didn't mention the fact. Fact of the business is, we wanted to clean up a lot canned and borrowed stuff that was gradually growing stale—very stale—following the election. But Boy! watch our dust this week.

Some say they believe Old Jim will sell pardons again, but most people have a more charitable view of the Fergusons this time, and believe they will try to close this administration to the good of themselves and the state. Most papers we get, who opposed them hardest, are among the class who are wishing them well.

President Hoover called John Garner's postoffice building plan a pork barrel scheme. We would like to know what Mr. Hoover calls the building of a hanger for the worse than useless dirigibles out in California costing the tax payers, $1,750,000. Most of us lowly critters can see some use in a postoffice, but we never have heard a satisfactory defense of these costly old airships.

One of our neighboring editors told us recently that his back got to itching, and that he aimed to scratch—the Democratic party—good and proper. And with a sly grin, he informed us that he aimed and believed he would be scratched on the back by the incoming party in turn. We would like to have a talk with him now and see what he thinks. That state went Democratic from President to Constable by the biggest majority in the history of that state.

The world cannot destroy millions of its youths and billions in accumulated wealth in cruel war without reaping what they sow. In the World War, the nations engaged put nearly 65,000,000 young men in the field, many of which were killed, wounded or demented by gas. As the years go by, more and more will we see the effects of that war as the men who were engaged in it become older and more feeble. Every good citizen should use every influence at all times to help banish war from the earth. This money panic was caused as an after effect of the war, and Mr. Hoover had little to do with it.

Our good friends, Editor and Mrs. O. P. Gaymon, of Canal Winchester, Ohio, who visited us in the summer, sent us a copy of their fine journal, The Times, this week, which had a very unique heading. Over the pictures of Roosevelt and Garner, was the wording: "Democratic Winners in the National Contest" Under the pictures appeared these words, "Bright as a Field of Roses, and the Nation's Welfare Safely Garnered." Will explain that Roosevelt means a "field of roses" or "rose field or velt" in Dutch, and Roosevelt is a purely old Holland Dutch name. Under the picture of their own Hon. George White, who won for Governor of Ohio, were these words: "All on the Great White Way by George."

We note that the mayors of Chicago and New Orleans have given orders for their police to not interfere with, or help in the enforcement of the 18th Amendment. This week, they have been joined in this by the governor of California, who goes further and says he will release every prisoner in jail or pen sent there by the Wright Act, similar to our Dean law, which was repealed last Tuesday by California voters 2 to 1. More and more the enforcement of the 18th Amendment becomes apparent, and the people are worked up to the point where they want a crack at it. Like they were this year, they may change back to it within four years after they have a change for awhile. Four years ago, people said it would be 50 years before we had another Democratic president—well you know how it happened.

O. F. Krueger was in with another bale of cotton, Wednesday.

UNDERSTANDING

We like to know and understand the problems of our customers, and always try to look at things from their point of view. This attitude on the part of our personnel is one of the outstanding characteristics of this bank and has won for us the confidence and friendship of our depositors. They found we read the best of banking services—give something more—a complete understanding which is most helpful and reassuring.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Taken from the Herald of November 19, 1909.

On the first page we note that a reader signing as Old Settler was pouring it on some of the knockers, and we had a few of them even in that early day, that issue being Nov. 20, 1909. This writer told something about our land, climate, grass, as well as our "near" proximity to a railroad, 45 miles to Lubbock, and soon 28 to Tahoka, and the next place—BROWNFIELD. His prediction proved to be right.

From the Harris Items, we find that H. L. Ware had bought Mr. Cotton's calves. Rain had fallen, and the writer said sod plows would be started. Mr. McMillian made a flying trip to the railroad—Lubbock. Miss Mary Simmons left for Lalinda, N. M. to attend school. Mr. and Mrs. Williams made a trip to New Mexico. Mr. Hutton had returned from a trip east. Mr. Dixon had finished a well for Marlin Ellington. Rev. Estes had preached the Sunday before. Mr. Simmons made a flying trip to Plainview. Robt. Shaw was hanging around among the sandhills, but the intentions were unknown. Surely he was not making corn licker in those early days. Clifton Fitzgerald was over from the Mallet Ranch. Then followed some items from Jones county written by an old friend of the editor, which is not worth while to reproduce.

Much was being said about intensive farming in those days, and an article by Prof. E. D. Cone, then State Agricultural Commissioner was produced on the first page. We were not bothered so much by over-production in those days. However, we believe that less acres better farmed is better to this day. The Baptist State Convention was raising $85,000 for Baylor University, according to an article taken from the Star-Telegram.

On the editorial page, we were still advocating more hogs and hominy and tree planting. An editorial from Lubbock Advocate announced that they were then receiving their first train express. We replied that this would make it possible for us local option editors to get our Christmas jugs earlier by at least two days. The Maids and Matrons Club had met with Mrs. A. M. Brownfield. Mrs. Randall and Miss Rather had read papers. The Seminole Commercial Club was preparing to enlarge the Gaines county fair in 1910, and build roads to Brownfield and Lamesa.

Meadow School Notes: School was making up Saturdays for the time lost by the superintendent while attending court. Claude Peeler had won out in a counting contest. It seems that Allen Keeter was still taking the young ladies places in his dashing double buggy rig. Mr. Machine had returned from Plainview with a load of supplies for the store. The writer was profuse with his compliments to the Herald for its position regarding tree planting.

On the local page we find that Earl Houston was in from the Braidfoot ranch. Lynn Adams had business at the Telephone office. (Let's see now, wasn't Miss Ann Hamilton to be found in the telephone office at that time.) W. G. Hardin had finished harvesting his crop, and Arthur Moore was papering his house. Mesdames J. F. and Walter Holden were shopping in Gomez. Mrs. Jack Bryan was visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. McDaniel. Geo. W. Neill was in the south part of the county on business. Uncle Bill Howard and Jim Lewis were in Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ote Copeland of Meadow, were here visiting his parents. J. J. Lane of Gomez had purchased the store building and lots belonging to J. F. Holden. "Griff" the Radford drummer was in town. Geo. E. Tiernan and Dock Powell had business in the east end of the county. W. R. Spencer was attending Federal court in Abilene. Thos. DeShazo had wagons in Lubbock after cement. The Brownfield Hardware Co., had ordered a carload of Star windmills. Moore Bros. were advertising several hundred bushels of June corn at 75c per bushel. Miss Dean Lowe was sporting a very fine coat suit. Chas. Boone was having his residence papered. Little Miss Lois Brownfield visited the Herald office and was shown "type lice." The Herald wished its readers a jolly time Thanksgiving and plenty chuck.

Atty. Percy Spencer of Brownfield and G. E. Lockhart of Gomez, attended county court at Plains. Dick Brownfield was bank cashier while W. A. Bell was visiting in Marshall. A man was up from Snyder and thinking of putting in a business here. A great many prospectors were visiting Terry and liked the country. John Waltrip had sent the Herald to a friend at San Angelo. Dr. T. F. Miles had returned from Big Spring where he went on business. The ranch wagons of Jack Bryan and J. O. Jones had gone to Matador after cottonseed for their cattle. Otis Copeland had returned from Kansas City, where he carried a nice bunch of cattle. Jim Lewis took the third degree in Odd Fellowship. Mesdames Daugherty, Dial and A. M. Brownfield attended the big sale at the Gainer store at Gomez. J. R. Hill killed a black eagle that measured 7 feet and 2 inches from tip to tip. Neill H. Bigger left to make settlement on his Yoakum county bonus. Dolphus Robinson and family were moving to Lubbock. The Commercial Club had notice from the Post Office Dept. that they would establish daily mail from Lubbock to Brownfield, but would discontinue mail from here to Big Spring. Rev. P. E. Riley, Methodist minister had been sent to Lockney, and Rev. Victor Trammell was sent here, and Rev. Jameson to Gomez.

J. R. Hill and Ed Ellis killed two deer in the sandhills. W. F. Wallace had become a reader. Rev. A. B. Johnson was to fill his pulpit Sunday.

On the back page was an article from a banker which said that the only thing an auto was good for was to separate man from his money. At that time the car was not considered a necessity by any means. And also at that date the nation was paying its respect to the hen, as in evidenced by a column article from the Kansas Farmer. There were, it was said 200,000,000 laying hens in the United States, and her eggs alone were worth $280,000,000 annually. All for this week.

NEEDMORE NEWS

Miss Anna Delle Cotton and Mr. Red Anderson of the Sligo community were united in marriage Thursday morning.

The Bible Study met at Mr. and Mrs. Walter McClellan Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rushing and son spent Tuesday night with his parents at Tokio.

Rev. McCullouch filled his regular appointment here Sunday and Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Cox and children spent Sunday in the McLaren home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris and Mabel spent Saturday night and Sunday near Seminole.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris, Mrs. Carl Casey and Tommie Farris were visitors in the Morr's home Sunday.

TOKIO

We understand that both, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Taylor are ill at this time and have been for some time. We feel sure that visits of friends in the community will be appreciated by these good people.

Mr. Milton Greer, Principal of the Tokio School made a short visit in the community during the middle of the week. Mr. Greer is staying with his father near Meadow helping him with his cotton crop.

Recent frosts and freezes have hastened the opening of the cotton in this section, thus bringing the harvesting season into full swing.

Miss Edneth Green, teacher in the Tokio school, is visiting relatives in Arkansas at this time.

Something over two hundred bales of cotton were turned out at the local gin during the past week. This brings the total to six hundred and thirty. Since a good percentage of the cotton is being taken to town to the Cooperative Society gin, it is estimated that approximately eight hundred bales have been harvested during the present season, in this section.

The highway department has greatly improved a short stretch of the road east of Tokio by applying lime rock to the surface. This particular portion of the highway has proved very troublesome during rainy weather.

Special (item of interest to students of Tokio High School.) The Principal, Mr. Greer has obtained a quantity of candy to be sold by students to pay in part the cost of school athletic equipment. The following students are requested to obtain a part of this candy and sell it in the community. V. G. Latham, Clyde Trout, Lizzie D. Elmore, Ruth Roper, Alvis Upton, John Pfrimmer Jr., Lowell Trout, Elouise Lee, Redge Martin, Orval Snodgrass, Raymond Buchanan, J. P. Romans, D. A. Thompson and any other student who wish to help the school in this way. Each student will be responsible to Mr. Greer for the candy he obtained to sell and the money or candy will be due December 15. It can be obtained from Joe L. Shelton, either at the teacherage or at the residence of Mr. Pippin.

Virgil Eily and family are staying on the Bryson place in Tokio at this time.

Quite a number of Tokio people were shopping in Brownfield Saturday.

An encouraging number was present at the monthly meeting of the B. M. A. church Sunday evening. The pastor, Mr. J. E. Carbin had charge of the services. Charley Bruten put forward a motion following the services which resulted in the organization of a Bible class to be held in the Community Hall each Sunday morning at ten o'clock.

Jack Bailey and Sam Price of Brownfield were in Tokio on business during the first part of the week.

Irving Stanford is driving Ed Winkles cotton truck at this time.

Little James Calvin Sappenfield is seriously ill at this time. We understand that the little fellow was taken to Brownfield on Monday of this week for medical attention.

PLANS FOR NEW BUILDING BEING CONSIDERED

Austin, Texas, Nov.—Plans for the $350,000 geology building at The University of Texas, now under construction, were worked out only after Dr. F. M. Bullard, professor of geology, had visited state universities in Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, New York Illinois and Ohio, and Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth, Cornell and Columbia universities. Dr. Bullard paid particular attention to the arrangement of laboratory spaces and to equipment in geology buildings at these institutions in an endeavor to ascertain the most efficient plan to use here. The building is being constructed as part of the University's mammoth building program financed by bonds purchased out of its own permanent fund. An auditorium, seating 356, and having a forced system of ventilation, is one of the features of the building. Another room will house the geology library, comprised of 10,000 volumes.

Little Delma Jean, fifteen months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Green is reported greatly improved after a moderate case of whooping cough.

The local Baptist Young People's Association held its usual well attended meeting Sunday evening.

SOCIETY NEWS

METHODIST SOCIETY

The Methodist Society met Thursday afternoon at 2:30 and had a continuation of week of prayer program. Mrs. Wheeler was leader. Other having part on program were Mesdames Longbrake, Holmes, Coleman, Carpenter and Downing. A free will offering was taken to go to our Mission schools.

Thursday afternoon after the program at the church, the Society went in a body and surprised Mother Barret, with a miscellaneous shower. She is our oldest member. It was her 83rd birthday. We wish her many more happy birthdays.

Last Thursday morning from 9 to 11, the Friday 42 club met at Mrs. Downing's home. The house was decorated with autumn flowers and flags. Miniature flags were also used as plate favors. Refrigerator cake with cream and coffee were served to Mesdames Kendrick, Brothers, Hamilton, Gore, Holgate, M. B. Sawyer, Collins, McPherson, Erwin and Clint Rambo, H. W. McSpadden and Miss Olga Fitzgerald. At the close of the games, Mrs. Collins held the lucky card and was presented with a vase.

Tom May made a business trip to Amarillo last Monday.

MRS. LEO HOLMES HOSTESS

The Ideal Bridge Club enjoyed a very unique party with Mrs. Leo Holmes, November 9th. Each of the four tables played different, one very pious played in gloves, another did blind bidding, another exchanged cards and another the looser progressed. A novelty salad, crackers, cakes and tea were served to Mesdames Allen, McGowan, Lees, Cave, Parish, J. H. Dallas, R. Ballard, C. J. Smith, Bowers, Flem McSpadden, Arthur Sawyer, Hilyard, Collins, McDuffie, Endersen and Quinlan. Prizes were waste paper baskets and went to Mesdames Parish and McSpadden. Mrs. Parish was also presented with a fruit bowl.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Miss Martha McClish celebrated her birthday on November 11th with a three course, six o'clock dinner. Girls enjoying this affair were Mary Dee Price, Eunice Michie, Sallie Stricklin, Kathy Hunter, Bonnie Dale Gross and the hostess. The girls enjoyed Buster Keaton in "Speak Easily," at the Rialto Theatre after dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thaxton were Lubbock visitors the latter part of last week.

The 84th Annual Baptist Convention met in Abilene last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. There were two days for preachers and laymen conference, and one day women conference. This meeting will draw workers from all parts of the state. A large number went from the Brownfield Baptist church.

Mrs. Jim Jackson was leader of the monthly lesson from the "World Out Look," at the church last Monday at 3 P. M. Others having part were Mesdames Wheeler, Longbrake, Carpenter and Webber.

Rev. and Mrs. Tharp returned from Amarillo Monday, where they attended the North West Conference. Bro. Tharp has been sent back to Brownfield for another year. Lets all pull together and make this coming year one to be proud of, and that it may be said of "he" or "she" "hath done what they could."

Billy and Red

"You're a great guy, Carrot Top," said Billy Sunday, famous evangelist, to Red Oliver, T. C. U. grid flash, after he watched the Frog speed merchant in action. Sunday, an admirer or any form of athletic prowess, particularly liked the way Red carries that ball.

LILLIE MAE BAILEY HOSTESS

The Laf-A-Lot Bridge club met with Lillie Mae Bailey Thursday, November 10th. Cherry pie with whip cream and hot tea were served to Mesdames Earl Thaxton, Earl Anthony, Vnce Glover, Frank Ballard, Howard Swan, Pete Tiernan; Misses Adams, Lenore Brownfield, Ella Mae Butler, Marie Bell and Mary Handley Endersen. Mary H. Endersen scored high and was presented with a strand of pearls.

BROADWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

We will have the usual Sunday morning services next Sunday. These services are as follows:

Sunday school 10:00 A. M. Preaching 11:00 A. M.

Our mid-week Bible Study will begin at 7:45 Tuesday evening instead of 8:00 as usual. We are finishing our study on Revelations and will take up some other interesting books of the Bible.

We will have singing practice Friday night at 7:45 as usual.

On account of the Young People's class going to Lamesa Sunday night to put on a program, there will be no services here at 7:45 as we usually have.

Everybody come and be with us in these services.

Mesdames G. S. Webber, Ben Hilyard and Roy Herod were Lubbock visitors Thursday. Mrs. Herod was heard in a program of piano numbers over K. F. Y. O at 4:30 p.m.

MAIDS AND MATRONS CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mesdames Wingerd and Rentfro were joint hostesses, when they entertained the Maids and Matrons Club, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 15th, in the Wingerd home. Responses were made to Roll Call on the Elizabethan Writers. Club colors were used in the white and gold, daises as plate favors and decorations. The Club motto: "The horizon widens as we climb." An original design in painting expressive and beautiful, was the creative work of Mrs. Dennis Rentfro. The motto will be an inspiration to all at regular meeting of the club. The program was prefaced with a 10 minute play, entitled "The Triangle", played by Mrs. Tom Cobb, Mrs. Mun Telford and Miss Lenore Brownfield. The program as given was viz:

The Theatre—Mrs. Jacobson, Leader.

Elizabethan Audiences, Early London Theatres—Mrs. J. L. Lyon.

The Song in Shakespeare Drama, Classical Drama—Mrs. Parish.

Marlowe, Dramatist of the Renaissance, The Boy Actor of the Elizabethan Age—Miss Lenore Brownfield.

The Pastoral in 16 Century Literature, Lope de Vega, and Spanish Drama—Miss Olga Fitzgerald.

The Romantic Comedy of Beaumont and Fletcher—Mrs. Stricklin.

Mrs. Wingerd substituted for Mrs. Stricklin and Mrs. Jacobson for Miss Fitzgerald in absence of these ladies.

The hostess served a salad plate to the following ladies: Mesdames I. M. Bailey, Will Adams, Tom Cobb, W. H. Dallas, James H. Dallas, O. Dennis, Ben Hilyard, M. E. Jacobson, J. L. Lyon, J. J. McGowan, A. B. Sanders, J. M. Telford, Frank Weir, H. Heath, Miss Lenore Brownfield, Mrs. Parish and the hostesses.

RED GOOSE The Ojibwa

(Synopsis)

The Sioux Indians, on the warpath, are about to attack Fort Ridgley, which is being held by three men—Sergeant Henry, Tom Boling, and Bear Cat. The Red Men have lighted their camp fires, and inside the Fort prayers are being said for the safe return of brave little Red Goose, fourteen-year old son of the good Ojibwa Chief, Red Eagle. Red Goose and his father had warned the Sergeant about the coming of the Sioux; and then, jumping on his pony, Red Goose had ridden off like the wind to bring back Captain Sutter and his soldiers.

Inside of Fort Ridgley, the minutes seemed to drag like hours. The women had retired to their quarters and were on their knees praying that brave little Red Goose had escaped the arrows of the Sioux.

The Sergeant held his watch in his hand, counting the minutes and trying to figure out when the attack would begin.

Tom and Bear Cat tried not to appear nervous, and were straining their ears for the sound of a bugle call that would tell them the soldiers were coming.

"If that Indian kid got through the lines of these pesky Red Men out there, Captain Sutter should be here by now," whispered Sergeant Henry, with his eyes still glued on the watch in his hand.

"The Sioux are getting ready to attack," Bear Cat whispered back. "One of us will have to join the women."

And then came a long bugle call, clear and loud, through the night air.

"The Sergeant, Tom and Bear Cat Wait for the Attack"

Captain Sutter was coming. The faint clatter of many hoofs could be heard in the distance. Again the bugle blew loud and clear, and over the top of the hill came a hundred American soldiers, galloping like the wind, with Red Goose out in front leading them on his white pony.

"God bless Red Goose!" shouted the three white men, throwing their hats in the air with joy and happy excitement.

Bang-Bang-Bang-went the guns of the soldiers as Big Crow and his warriors fled in the darkness.

Red Goose—brave little Red Goose had performed his first mission well. (To Be Continued)

MRS. PARISH HONORED AT DOWNING RESIDENCE

Mesdames Ben Hilyard and Roy Herod and Miss Marie Bell surprised Mrs. R. B. Parish with a miscellaneous shower last Tuesday afternoon, from 2 to 4 o'clock. Lenore Brownfield gave a reading, Mary D. Price, Martha McClish, and Evelyn Pippin, Dora Dean Neill, sang two numbers and were accompanied on ukulele by Ruth Adams. Mrs. Griffin presented the bride with the gifts in the form of a grab bag. Cakes and spiced tea were served to about 30 ladies.

BROWNFIELD ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

The South Plains Music Teachers Association composed of active teachers in various departments of music from Lubbock, Slaton, Levelland, Littlefield, Tahoka, Lockney, Plainview, Abertamy, Ralls, Floydada, and Brownfield, met in the Fall Meeting, November 5th in Brownfield, where they enjoyed a luncheon in the home of Mrs. L. M. Wingerd. Afterwards in a business meeting in the High School Auditorium, the following officers were re-elected for another year. Mrs. M. E. Ware of Lubbock, President; Mrs. W. H. Dallas, Brownfield, 1st Vice President; Mrs. E. E. Thomas, Floydada, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. R. D. Suddarth, Tahoka, 3rd Vice President; Miss Margaret Huff, Lubbock, Secretary; Mrs. Mamie Neal, Lubbock, Treasurer.

Mrs. Lillian Butler of Slaton had a paper on "Music in the Home." Mrs. R. D. Suddarth, Tahoka, "Music in Schools"; Mrs. Mamie Neal read a paper prepared by Miss Myrtle Dunn of Lubbock on "Music in Church." Miss Huff gave a brief outline of the work of the S. P. M. T. A. since its origin ten years ago. All ladies participating on the program gave pleasure to their listeners, as they recalled the benefits and the lasting enjoyment "Music bring to the Church, Home and School." The association had only ten members the first year, today there are forty. Little Clyde Watts Green, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Green, was a charming entertainer, when he opened the program with two clever child songs, "My Automobile" and "Grand Pa's Farm." Miss Mary Dee Price, Miss Martha McClish and Miss Evelyn Pippin, assisted the club ladies in serving the luncheon. The association sponsors The Annual Spring Festival at Lubbock, which will be held in March.

An attempted holdup of the Reinhart State bank, Reinhart, Texas, failed when the cashier, C. N. Riggs (above), refused to hold up his hands. Instead of obeying the orders of the two bandits who came upon him while he was alone in the bank, Riggs yelled loudly, grabbed a gun and routed them.

SERVICES AT THE CHURCH OF CHRIST SUNDAY

M. O. Daley, new minister for the church of Christ, was in this week, and asked us to announce for him that he would preach on "the Power of the Kingdom" Sunday morning, but had not decided just what his subject would be Sunday evening. From this on, he will make his own announcements in the Herald.

He also remarked that it looked to him like the people here should have a union Thanksgiving service at some of the churches or school building with appropriate music and an address, and the stores close for the service anyway.

However, he said, "I am a new man here and do not want to take any lead in the matter, but have been accustomed to such a service at other places I have been, and it looks to me like if any people should be thankful it is Brownfield and Terry county people."

The Herald agrees with him, and believes that by Sunday such a service can be arranged by leaders here.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Bonnie Dale Gross.

Carnival

Among the festivities of last week was a carnival which was sponsored by the P. T. A. The school rooms, sponsored by their sponsors, each entered a booth or some money making scheme.

Among the contests had, was the Queen Contest. The Queen of the Freshman class was Lucille Harris; Sophomore class, Kathy Hunter; Junior Class, Mary D. Price; Senior class, Elwene Sligh. Elwene Sligh received the majority of the votes, so she was name Queen of High school.

The classes sold candy, popcorn and peanuts. Between the intervals, we were entertained by tap dances and singing by Girls quartet.

The High school made about twenty-five dollars, which will go to help pay for our piano.

Cubs Down Tahoka Bulldogs 38 to 2

First quarter: Tahoka has first kick-off. As they are kicking from the wind the ball goes with great force. It touches one of the Brownfield men and goes on over the goal line. One of the Brownfield men goes back and tries to bring the ball back across the goal line but he is downed, making two points for Tahoka. Brownfield then came in possession of the ball on the twenty yard line. They try three runs in succession but fail to gain any ground and punt on fourth down. Tahoka comes in possession of the ball. They passed on first down and it was intercepted by one of the Cubs. The ball is on the thirty yard line. On first down for Cubs the ball is snapped back to Neill and he plays the line through right tackle for a touch-down. They kick a field goal. Brownfield kicks off to Tahoka. Tahoka tries three runs which are unsuccessful; they punt on the fourth down. It is then Brownfields ball and they make four first downs in succession, but they are penalized 15 yards. They punt on 2nd down. Tahoka tries to pass and completes it, gaining about seven yards. They made two runs but could not gain anything. They punt on fourth down. Brownfield makes first down on the first run, but they are penalized five yards. They punt on second down.

Second Quarter: Tahoka returns the punt. On first down the Cubs pass but it is incomplete. They run on second down and make about fifteen yards. Huckabee runs around right end for a touchdown. They do not make the field goal. Brownfield kicks the ball that touches one of the Tahoka men and rolls over the touch-down line. They try to bring it back but they are downed behind the goal line, making two points for Brownfield. It is Tahoka's ball on the twenty yard line. They make 10 yards on the first down but fumble the ball and Brownfield covers it. Brownfield makes three runs. They are penalized 5 yards on the third down. On fourth down Neill passes to Huckabee and they complete the pass but are penalized five yards. Tahoka comes in possession of the ball. They try two unsuccessful runs. They pass on third down and the Cubs intercept. The ball is on the twenty-five yard line. On first down the ball is snapped back to Huckabee and he runs around the left end for another touch down. They kick the goal making a total of seven points. Tahoka kicks to Brownfield. Brownfield fumbles and Tahoka covers the ball.

Third Quarter: Tahoka kicks to Brownfield. Brownfield tries two runs which are unsuccessful and they punt on third down. Tahoka makes two runs but are unsuccessful, as they do not gain anything. They fumble on third down. The ball is on the twenty yard line. The ball is snapped back to Tankersley, of the Cubs, and he plunges the line for a touchdown. They do not make the field goal. Tahoka kicks to Brownfield. They punt on first down. Tahoka makes two runs which are unsuccessful and they pass on third down, but it is intercepted by Neill. Brownfield makes 10 yards on first down. The ball is on the twenty yard line now. The ball is snapped back to Neill and he plunges for a touchdown. They do not kick the field goal. Tahoka kicks to Brownfield, and they fumble. Tahoka covers the ball.

Fourth Quarter. Brownfield makes three runs and make first down. They try two passes but they are incomplete. They try two runs but do not make anything. Tahoka comes in possession of ball. They pass but it is intercepted. They make one run which is unsuccessful and they pass on fourth down and it is intercepted. Brownfield makes two first downs in succession which brings the ball at the fifteen yard line. The ball is snapped back to Bandy of Brownfield and he plunges the line for a touchdown. They do not kick the field goal.

The game end with the Cubs 38 and Tahoka 2.

Dramatic Club to Stage "Whittlin'."

On Thursday night of this week, and Tuesday night, Nov. 22nd, the high school Dramatic club will present the three-act comedy drama "Whittlin'," a play of mother love and home influence, but with plenty of comedy throughout.

The proceeds of the enterprise will be used to buy books for the painfully deficient library, so it is hoped that everyone interested in the welfare of the school will lend his influence in helping to secure a good house both nights.

The double cast system is being used in this play, thereby giving a greater number of students the opportunity of taking part. An entirely different cast will appear each night, and an effort has been made to divide the players so that the two casts are of equal ability.

The prices are as follows: Adults, one ticket 25c, two tickets 40c.

Children, one ticket 15c, two tickets 25c.

Cast for Thursday night.

Dr Adam Good "Doc Yak"—O. D. Thomas.

Ruth Wilson—Iomgene Lucky.

Mrs. Wilson, her mother—Annie Letha Hamilton.

Dave Petterman, The Village Crab—Lee Brownfield.

Anna Belle Kee, a giggling girl—Martha McClish.

Jimmie Edwards, "dope"—Wayne Tipton.

"Jip" a Knight of the road—Carmen Anderson.

Johnny Dee—Jas. Parker Davis.

Cast for Tuesday night.

"Doc Yak"—Jim Neill.

Ruth Wilson—Bonnie Dale Gross.

Mrs. Wilson—Frankie Rickels.

Dave Petterman—John L. Cruce.

Jimmy Edwards—Sawyer Graham.

Gip—Woodrow Chambliss.

Anna Belle Dee—Martha McClish.

Johnny Dee—Kyle Adams.

Change in date made from Friday to next Tuesday night on account of Post-Brownfield football game.

The student body takes this way of sending regrets to James Parker and family, because of the death of his father, Mr. Davis.

Says John L. To Lee

"Ever get a manicue in a barber shop?" inquired Lee.

"Once," replied John L. "Up at the county seat, and was it terrible."

"What could you expect with hands like yours?"

"I don't mean the job the girl did," explained John L. "I mean it was terrible sitting there while she held my hand. I couldn't think of a thing to say or do."

"Are you supposed to entertain 'em while they fix your nails?"

"No, but you feel silly if you don't talk and act like it's an everyday thing with you."

"What did you do during this painful operation?" Lee asked.

"Well, first off, I looked around the shop sort of calm like, but several hair cuts were looking at me, and I couldn't hold the calm. I got fussed and looked back at my hand. That was the worse place to look, because I could see that blonde girl holding my fingers then. I felt I had to say something, so I tried the weather. The girl was unanimous on that, and the topic slunk off and died, leaving no heirs. Then I looked up at the ceiling, but found out right away that my beard got in front of what the girl was doing. So looking for some place to look, I looked out the window. And there was Evelyn. She was pretending to wait for a street car, but ever now and then she would look at me."

"Was she mad?" asked Lee.

"No, she was worse. She was laughing at me. When I went out all red and sweaty, after the girl let me go, Evelyn had her handkerchief up to her mouth to keep from laughing out loud. She said: "You looked like King Solomon being proposed to by the Queen of Sheba."

"Just the same," said Lee, "I'd like to get a manicure sometime."

"If you do," said John L., "take a book with you so you'll have some place to look."

Louise White—"I dreamed last night that the animal that the fur on my coat belonged too, was eating me up."

Christene—"Well, I didn't know you was afraid of a rabbit."

Carmon—"Can a man have two wives, Daddy?"

Daddy—"No, son, why?"

Carmon—"Oh, dear, that's a nuisance. I have promised to marry both Irene and Victoria."

The teacher was giving a written examination in European History. One question was:

"Why does the sun never set on the British Flag?"

Woodrow write for the answer: "Because they take it in at night."

When a woman takes in washing for four dollars a day, that's labor. When she does it for nothing, that's LOVE!

Mrs. Greenfield—"What is your daughter working for at college, an M. A.?"

Mrs. Murphy—"No, an M. R. S."

Manard—"Dad, five o'clock is awful early to get up."

Dad—"How long do you need to sleep?"

Manard—"Ten hours each night."

Dad—"It takes seven hours for a man, eight hours for a woman and ten hours for a fool."

Manard—"I guess I am a fool."

The Girls Pep Squad did not put on their stunt last Friday as it was too cold, and several of the girls were not present. It being Armistice Day, they had planned on forming a large U. S. A.

Much practice and skill have been given to the performing of these stunts and also a drum has been secured and put into use. The boys also have joined up with the girls and have uniforms consisting of red and white shirts and ties.

A new stunt has been perfected, and will be used Friday. Also several new songs and yells have been put into use.

No matter what happens to the boys, who they play or where they go, the pep squad is right behind them backing them for all their worth.

A WAGON YARD IS OPENED UP IN BIG SPRING

Big Spring Herald: W. R. Cole who established the first wagon yard in Big Spring in 1887 on the site now occupied by the four story Douglas Hotel, believes that there is a big need for another wagon yard and is establishing one at the former Nall and Lamar, coal and wood yard, just east of the J. M. Radford wholesale grocery establishment.

W. G. Cole, son of W. R., will be associated with him in the management of the wagon yard and traders headquarters.

They purpose to make this the community marketing place for the farmers and stock raisers of the Big Spring country.

Horses, cattle, sheep, chickens, turkeys, eggs, feed, etc., will be bought and sold. They will trade horses and milk cows for feed or any old thing.

If you have livestock to sell they will rent you pens at 10 cents per head per day. If you want to buy, sell or trade livestock or poultry, it will be to your interest to call at the wagon yard of W. R. Cole and Son, near Corner of First and Johnson Streets.

Cr. Cole says the country and prosperity are coming back, but ready cash is going to be mighty scarce. We can trade our way back to prosperity and he is making it possible for the people to have a central place to meet and do their swapping.

Don't forget to come around and see our Christmas cards.

J. L. Hyman was in recently and informed us that he made 105 bales of cotton last year on 135 acres, but that he believed it would take over 200 acres to make that much this year on his place.

Abernathy Boy Dies Sat.; Guthrie Is Held

As an aftermath of the fatal shooting here Friday night of 17-year-old Colver Moreman of Abernathy, W. N. (Nelson) Guthrie, 39, a special officer, was charged with murder in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court about noon Saturday. Moreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moreman, of Abernathy was shot in the head about 9:30 o'clock Friday night on Ninth street between Avenue F and G. The youth died at about 3:15 o'clock Saturday morning at a hospital here.

Two Boys Got Out

"The car was stopped on Ninth street, and two of the boys got out of the machine," the district attorney said after he had concluded his probe. "The boys returned to the car, and as they were driving away they saw a man with a flashlight coming toward the car.

"The car was backed out and as Moreman, who was driving, started to turn it around, a shot was fired, glass was broken out of the left side of the windshield, and the driver slumped over. None of the occupants heard any command to stop. Mr. Guthrie said he called to them to halt."

Drove Car To Hospital

The district attorney said Guthrie drove the car to the hospital.

The special officer telephoned the police station, telling them he had shot a man, it was said at the station. Two officers went to the hospital and Guthrie surrendered a .38 calibre automatic pistol at about 9:40 o'clock.

Besides Moreman, occupants of the automobile were: Philip Craig, Floyd Shaw, C. Heath, Vida Williams, Geraldine Graham, and Mildred Eikins, all of Abernathy.—Lubbock-Avalanche.

T. B. Woods was milling around with the crowd here Monday. T. B. says his cotton crop is very shy of what it was last year.

M-M BOY! FOR THOSE CRISP DAYS WHAT'S BETTER THAN POT-ROAST?

When the days are cool, a pot-roast seems just right!

This may be explained by the fact that a pot-roast with a generous amount of gravy is one of the most savory dishes that we have. It appeals to the appetite in such a way as to produce a stimulating effect and when served steaming hot seems to counteract the chilliness of the outdoor air.

Here is a recipe for a flavorful pot-roast. It is suggested by Inez S. Willson, home economist.

- Savory Pot-Roast
 4 pounds beef chuck
 2 onions, sliced
 1 clove garlic, sliced
 ½ cup raisins
 2 bay-leaves
 1 cup boiling water
 Salt
 Pepper

Brown the onions and garlic in a little suet. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper and brown on all sides. Add raisins, bay-leaves, and boiling water. Cover tightly and simmer two hours or until meat is tender. Add more liquid, if necessary. Remove meat from kettle, strain, and measure liquid. To each cup of liquid add 2 tablespoon flour smoothed in cold water. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Serve gravy with meat.

The Herald is glad to announce that Rev. Ed Tharp has been sent back to this city by the Northwest Texas Conference for another year. There was very little moving of preachers this year on account of conditions and the cost of moving. This is just practical, good old common horse sense used by the heads of a great church.

Geo. Black brought the Herald a bushel of peanuts last week to trade for the Herald another year. George always raises a good many peanuts. This year there is a good many faulty ones in them, caused no doubt by excessive rains.

To The Cockeyed World

I am greatly elated over the election: But why should I be more than you; why am I to write to you? So let each man who voted right, shake his own hand and pat his own head, and those who voted wrong, pat himself, wherever his conscience dictates. Lets make a real day out of the last Thursday in this month, though the official proclamations may be written in tears instead of ink the day and occasion will come naturally anyway.

Personally, political pride is secondary. I am proud first because I believe this marks the ending of the bad and beginning of good, in government and business. We have decided to quit spinning our wheel deeper in the mire, back up and get on solid ground, though we had to change chauffeurs to do it. Am proud second because the State, and Nation has gone Democratic, back to the grand old party of our fathers. It was the protector of the south, when it was in need, been the bulwark of the common people, nearest the activities of mankind, and is now the bright hope of America. Sad has been the years since we quit it. Third, because I was on the winning side (if it was the first time in many years.) We have, or should have, learned some great lessons, mainly that a vote of intolerance, hate and spite, like intemperance, always boomerang back an injury to the country. That it takes but little more thought to prophesy the future, than to analyze the past; that if the people retain control and rule their government they must do governmental thinking and voting; that money does not always control elections; nor the bolters have all the ballots. That the body politic of our country is slow to move, but when it does turn over something squishes; that the silver lining is pretty to look at, but has no protein; that taxation is real, but its benefits have been largely imaginary; that science, skill and learning are fine attainments, but common sense is darn sight better when the pinch comes. That leaders can be honest and patriotic and still be in error, that voters can be morally good and governmentally wrong; that a government can get top-heavy, that we can economize, do without, and substitute, though we foolishly waited till necessity forced us; that a rainy day will come, that "whoopie" is temporary and a headache follows, when indulged, in past ten years, too much government dependence and not enough individual independence. The school of experience is a great school, but the tuition is sometimes mighty high. We have paid a terrible price.

ago. There has not been a very good attendance so far, but will be better soon. My! when the Herald came last week it didn't "favor" itself. Everyone enjoyed the comic page, and wished there had been two or three more. President Hoover must have not been so very "sore" over the election. He has sent some good weather this week. Of course he has plenty of time yet to make us groan. Just wait for those sandstorms!

SCUDDAY NEWS

(Delayed)

These cold days are making us realize that winter is almost here, and we are rather dreading it.

The play, "A Bunch of Keys" presented at the school house Saturday by the Dramatic Club, was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowerman and Mrs. and Mrs. Alva Brown visited in the Tankersley home Sunday.

Several of the community have been on the sick list this last week, but are better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sparkman of Lubbock visited Roy Sparkman and family Wednesday night and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Aycock and little daughter, Mrs. Bess Tankersley and daughter, Wanda, and Ernest and Melvin Robertson visited in the Allmon home Sunday.

Most all of Scudday folks were in town Monday, as the wind was blowing and the sand rolling.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walters, and Mrs. Walter's brother and sister are working over northeast of town this week.

Members of the B. Y. P. U. of Scudday will put on a program at O. K. next Sunday night.

Miss Evelyn Lowe who is working at Shacktown visited home folks Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Gladys Tankersley and Sam Tankersley visited near Tahoka from Saturday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robertson and Miss Eunice Norris attended workers meetings at Wellman Tuesday.

MEADOW BRIEFS

The sun still shines on Grand Old Texas in spite of Publicans and Sinners Tuesday was fair, the sun shined with unusual brilliance. There were no frogs to croak nor mocking birds to sing and all nature seemed attuned to the business in hand, that of mopping the Republicans and their contingent of Lovites, Sterlingites and other malcontents off the map of the U. S. and the State as well.

Get you a U. S. map and away up in the northeast corner where Maine projects up toward Canada, make a black mark about an inch wide and an inch and a half in length downward and you have the Republican map of the U. S. Sit back in your chair and view the broad expanse south and west and laugh and then laugh some more. If this isn't licking the platter clean. Then view the Bullington vote in Texas and smile, smile, smile, at the Poor Fish who led the forlorn hopes of the odds and ends whom Christ could not appease if he should by any accident come to Texas.

Doubtless this bunch of disgruntled preachers and others who could see postoffices and Highway jobs feel about like I have felt after an all night jamboree—Played Hallejah.

Hope the whole posse comatatus remain with their new found friends. College Presidents, Bah! Clean politics, Bah-ah! Conscience? Bet a drink of boot-leg whiskey they can't find the darned thing with search warrant. They didn't possess it. A needle in the proverbial haystack would be a prominent land mark compared to it.

Yes, the most of them voted for Roosevelt and Garner, and if they hadn't Ma's vote would have put the state over any way.

Of course they will wish to kiss and make up and brag how they saved the Electoral Vote of Texas. I might kiss the women if they insisted but there the matter will end. I blame those old plugs they call their husbands. Here after they should be required to give bond to carry out their contracts with their fellows.

Its all over for two to four years. Lets all go to work and forget there was ever an election until next time. We will have the high taxes to think of next, and the interest and principle of what we owe to dig up, and a wollen skirt for the old women with nuns veiling or mosquito bar for the younger ones. A hickory shirt and a pair of Brogans is plenty for the men. "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow."

Meadow has had her share of acci-

The examinations are over. Lets don't forget soon, what we have "lartn" in the last four years. Turn our faces to the future, individually and collectively and rehabilitate the country. But remember no executive can jerk a lever and elevate us out with a chug, nor will they pour out prosperity like peas out of a sack, but by lessening the hand and lightening the yoke, tail us up, and get our breath, we can pull out of depressions bog and soon again browse on the green fields of democracy's hills.

As to the Fergusons, have no fear. Word has done been passed out that its the supreme desire and ambition of their lives, to make this the best administration of their hectic career, as well as the state, and if their enemies will sheathe their spears and tongues, and give them a hand instead of a kick; with the womans heart and a giants mind, this will be done. On behalf of them, as well as ourselves, we wish to thank the good people of Terry county, for their 2-to-1 vote in the general election, and we especially thank, and compliment those Sterling supporters, who stayed with the ticket. Your democracy is equal to your sportsmanship, and next time when its the other way around, you will find us ditto. We should all be proud that a Texan will be our next Vice-President. What an encouragement to the ambitious young of the south.

Yours truly,

Geo. W. Neill.

Joe Eudy was in last week and said his terracing had held the water the past year and played whack with his cotton production. Asked why he did not take a middle buster and cut a drainage furrow down the slope, he replied: "Well, I had rather lose some one year than to have a great gully and attendant erosion of soil for one year." Well, that certainly was the sensible thing to do. He may need all the water he can hold for the next several years.
