Teachers Institute— Basketball Tournament

The old town ought to be full of people today and tomorrow, for we have with us in institute all the teachers of Terry county, who will use the two days of Thursday and Friday this week in the county institute. Also, we will have with us some ten, possible more out of county boys basketball teams, who come here in a tournament. Many more were asked, but it seems that Ralls got in ahead of us, and listed a great many teams before our invitations reached them.

Elsewhere in this issue, we are printing a program of the County Teachers Institute, which would be well for you to read. While it will do you no good for the first day, it will for the second, and if it is at all possible for you to attend any of the sessions, be sure to do so, as it will help you and encourage the teachers right at this time when they need all the encouragement they can get. Also, bid them welcome to Brownfield as opportunity permits, and show them that you are for them.

Also, your presence at as many of the basketball contest as possible will be appreciated, as all out of county teams must be cared for Friday night. And be sure that you buy one or more of the season tickets. It will be the cheapest way to see the whole thing, and at the same time will help with the entertainment of visiting teams and pay for the expenses.

Henry Chisholm in Back To The Farm Movement

With the whirl and swirl of human movement for the past three years, while the majority have taken a trek back to the farm from whence they came, some have moved to town to try their luck. Among those who are going back to the farm from Brownfield, is Henry Chisholm and family of this city. They are moving to the fine farm belonging to his father eight miles north of town. We imagine that Henry wants to hear the roosters crow again, the turkey gobble and the dog howl call to its mate, and with a stretch and a sigh, get up, feed old Pete and Beck and juice old Pide.

While we have no invitation to do so, just for pure meanness, we are going to slip up there some time this summer after beans begin to snap and peas shell, and just as they are picking a nice fat fryer for dinner. Yes, just as dinner is started and Henry has several good ripe melons cooling in the water barrel, we are going to step in on him good and heavy with the whole family at our heels. Don't you know that would tickle him almost pink?

Anyway Henry is a good farmer and a hard worker. As a merchant he classes high. He works hard and seeks to please his customers, and he will be missed greatly by customers at the Chisholm Bros. Store. He, perhaps, has had more experience on the farm than behind the counter. His good help mate was also raised on the farm and will not put out in the least for one moment on how to care for what her husband produces.

B. C. Daulton has moved his barber shop to the Bob Locker building on the west side of the square. Mr. Daulton says that in order to advertise his new location, he aims to start with a price of 15c all round for shaves, haircuts and tonics.

Dr. G. W. Graves, wife and daughter, Miss Jewel, have returned from a short holiday visit to relatives in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

A Trip Down To Old Howard County

This "old he" is a hardun to get started anywhere, but when we make up our minds to go we're off like an arrow, and it would be hard for all hades to stop us. We never was much of an Arab, always on the go, but when we do get ready, we're on the way. All the week we had planned to visit the wife's kin folks down in old Howard where the deep gulches tear through the level plains, and where cedar and other flora unknown to the high plains grow high on the jutting knowles. Where the rank smell of liquid gold is born on the breeze, for that whole section is jobbed full of holes, and oil by the million gallons rolls out of them.

Those people sure have laid it on us this year so far as a cotton crop is concerned, but as to feed, we have raised more this year than they raise in two years, although they have plenty and to spare. Indeed one can begin to tell the difference in cotton by the time they reach a point a few miles south of Lamesa. They did not seem to have hail except in small streaks. But we saw a few fields that like ours, had a big stalk with little on them. Many of the fields however, looked like a bale to the acre or better. Some of them are as white as a snow bank now, although the picked burrs left show that much cotton has already been harvested from the fields.

Down near the breaks one encounters tens of thousands of crows or ravens, and they are becoming a very serious menace. They literally covered shocks of feed, and were sure making way with it. Little of anything seemed to be doing about them, and if those raven raise even a small crop of young this year, that whole section will be flooded with gillions of ravens next year, and they will gradually spread all over the whole country and destroy millions of dollars worth of grain. When the writer first came to West Texas 27 years ago, there were very few of this pest even in Jones, Fisher and Haskell counties, but they tell us that they are having to resort to poisoning there. They won't eat a quick poison but once, biologists tell us, until the rest of the gang get suspicious. A slow poison has to be used that kills several days after the poison grain has been eaten, and the raven cannot figure out what killed him or his mates.

Business has been very rushing in that section through the fall, but was a little quiet when we were down there, as a great deal of the cotton is out and sold. However, as we stated, many fields are still white. We heard of many instances in which two men produced from 75 to 125 bales this year, and that obtains until one gets back this way toward Lamesa where they had no hail. Hail and wet weather last fall is what played whack with the cotton crop in Terry county, and wet weather had a lot to do with reductions elsewhere in this section.

In conclusion, let us state that we had a mighty good time while down there with the kindred. Everything in their power was done to make our stay as pleasant as possible, and there were eats galore at all times. In fact, we came home almost gorged. The only thing that marred our trip was the slick roads in going down. It took us from 9:30 A. M. till 4:30 P. M. to drive that 135 miles, which is usually made in a little more than 3 hours. Another thing, there is a case of very serious sickness in one family of the immediate kin, which while not hindering business or pleasure operations of others, is nevertheless sad and a source of worry to all.

We are glad that there is within that distance of us some breaks to break the monotony of a level, treeless prairie. In a few hours one is able to see an altogether different terra and flora.

Mr. Spivey, aged citizen is reported to be very low, although his grand daughter, Miss Lucile Webb, who is here from Roby at his bedside, reported him better Wednesday.

F. R. Kyle (Pete) dropped in one day last week to get his Herald ready for the 1933 mails.

Big Tradesday Crowd Was In Evidence

What many pronounced as the biggest Tradesday crowd in the history of the city, was here Monday. Indeed, they were here from the uttermost parts of the trade territory, and the merchants all report a thriving business, as well as the eating places. Some brought in fine animals in the way of stallions, chickens, etc. to show or to sell, and all seemed to be pleased with the day.

In view of the fact that several of the surrounding towns have discontinued their Tradesday for the time being, has added to the prestige of the Tradesday here, and it would indeed be an unwise step to let the one here drop at this time, and many of the merchants are bitterly opposed to doing so. We believe there are none who actually oppose a Tradesday, but some may have other plans they deem more feasible.

Anyway, so far as the Lion's Club is concerned, we understand that they are about ready to drop the matter under their auspices, and if something is not done this month, there may not be any more Tradesdays in Brownfield, and when surrounding towns start again, Brownfield will lose badly in the deal. Some action should be taken in the matter in the next week or two in order that we may have time to advertise it some before Tradesday rolls around again.

Another Train Load Of Cattle Arrive Sunday

Another train of 40 cars, bringing 2011 steers from the Babicora ranch in Old Mexico, arrived over the Santa Fe Sunday, and were unloaded at once and put on feed here. These cattle were to have arrived last week sometime, but we understand that some agent of the Santa Fe told Mr. Goodman that they could not furnish cars, and negotiations with another line was under way. This was noised abroad at Santa Fe headquarters at Topeka, when the high officials burned the wires for awhile with their agent, we understand he found some cars very readily. We understand the agent was somewhere near the border of Texas and Old Mexico, who thought they could not furnish a train.

This, we understand almost completes the 5000 head here in feed now, and that sometime this week another 1000 head will arrive to complete the first 6000 head to be fed out. When the first shipment of the fattest of these goes out within the next 180 days, they will be replaced with others if the feeding has proven to be successful. Indeed, if the feeding operation is all that is expected of it, the feeding operation may last till early summer, and thousands of tons of our feed that would otherwise rot will be used.

It was reported that one thing that has held up this last shipment was the fact that they were not getting sufficient water. It seems that after going through the Santa Fe tank, there was not enough pressure, but this has been eliminated, and they now have a good, unobstructed flow of water that will easily take care of 6000 head of steers.

Everybody invoicing this week, the ad man came in almost empty handed.

Sensational Film Features Gable-Harlow

"Red Dust", opening Sunday at the Rialto Theatre for 3 days, presents the interesting combination of Clark Gable and Jean Harlow in a turbulent story of Cochise, China. The picture is based on the Wilson Collier stage hit of the same title, in which is depicted the dramatic triangle which results when the aristocratic wife of a French engineer visits a tropical rubber plantation and falls in love with its overseer, thus engendering the hatred of a defiant hard-boiled girl of the dance hall variety, who has prior claims on

JEAN HARLOW and CLARK GABLE in "RED DUST"

Gable, of course, has the role of the overseer, a part totally different from his recent successful portrayal opposite Norma Shearer in "Strange Interlude." Miss Harlow, fresh from her triumph in "Red Headed Woman," plays the hardened plantation girl who, though scorned at first, subsequently proves that sufficient sex appeal and strength to live the brutal life of the tropics gives her an indisputable advantage over her more civilized rival. Mary Astor is seen as the engineer's wife, and Gene Raymond as her husband who returns from a distant engineering job to find his wife and the overseer in a compromising situation.

Tatum Family Badly Burned—Also Home

Wednesday night, the coke fire in the stove of Bud Burns, of Tatum, N. M., was not suiting him, and he dashed a quantity of coal oil on it out of a five gallon can. This caused an explosion, which according to Dr. G. W. Graves, who was called from Brownfield, burned Mr. Burns seriously, and maybe fatally; wife dangerously burned, but will likely recover; sister-in-law, burned bad, but will recover; a five year old girl also will recover. The baby was burned up in the home when it was reduced to ashes.

Those burned were brought through here through the night and carried to Lubbock where skin grafting will start as soon as possible on those that are likely to recover. Playing the game of chance with a smouldering fire in a hot stove with gasoline and kerosene are age old methods of burning those present as well as the home, but people just keep practicing it.

Brownfield High School Still Listed With S. A.

Supt. A. B. Sanders received a letter this week from Mr. A. M. Blackman, who is Chairman of the Texas Committee of affiliated high schools of the southern states, stating that at a meeting of the Southern Association at New Orleans recently, the Brownfield High was passed for another year without unfavorable comment.

Not only is our schools affiliated with all southern states, but many in the middle west and northeast as well, which means that a pupil going from here to practically school in some 38 states, will be admitted without examination. In other words, the work of the Brownfield high school is recognized as 100 percent in any high school in other states, as well as Texas.

It has taken much time to do this, as well as some money. Shall we drop this high rating by cutting our school short? It is a cinch that we are going to have to sacrifice for our school and pay our taxes if we keep it going the full nine months. Indeed there is some talk of having to stop the school in another month or two if people do not pay their taxes. This will never do.

Chamber of Commerce

—By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

That portion of my article in the Herald of last week, concerning the construction of the highway between Brownfield and the Hockley county line, has convinced me that it was pretty widely read, for the reason that not less than 150 people have been in the office this week inquiring about work upon it, but while the contractor was supposed to be here Monday, for the purpose of arranging to commence, according to our information, he did not arrive. And it was absolutely impossible to secure any information that could be considered official.

No member of the highway department that we were able to get in touch with, has any idea as to when the actual construction will commence, but the latest report is, that it will be the 15th of the month.

We also heard it rumored that the section between Brownfield and Seagraves would be advertised and let this month. It is to be hoped that this is true as the mileage contained in both sections would probably provide work for every citizen in the county who needed it.

So far as the writer knows, nothing has been heard of the outcome of our application for emergency work funds, although it has been approved and sent on to Washington for action.

A number of farmers have been in this office recently asking for information concerning the Feed & Seed Loan, that was available for 1931-32. But we are not able to say whether it will be authorized for this year or not, although bills have been introduced in both houses of Congress, calling for it. The House Bill, has not gotten any further than introduction, but the Senate has had favorable committee action on the one introduced in that body. Notice will be given in this paper, if, and when, action is had upon it.

The writer, is a natural born optimist, but the last two years and especially the last one, has jarred his system until his bones rattle, but he still has faith in his country and believes that all signs point to an improvement in general conditions and that before the year 1933, closes its eyes that we will all be working on an almost even keel and that the depression will be on its way into past history, we hope never to return.

Several New Faces Seen At Courthouse

The Herald did not have a representative over at the Courthouse Monday to watch the new officers take the oath of office, or for that matter the old ones take oath for the new term, but we santered over Tuesday afternoon after all the fire-works were over to see just how they looked in their offices. Of course, the same force was apparent in the County Judge's and the Clerks of office. Mrs. Barret is helping her husband, Judge Barret with the clerical work, while Mrs. Jim Moore is still looking after the school end of the office.

Across the hall in the County Clerk's office, we found that Clerk Rex Headstream and his sister, Mrs. L. A. Greenfield, was holding that office as usual. We next visited the Sheriff and Tax-Collector's office and found the new sheriff, Jess Smith, out for the time, but saw him later. We found Arch Fowler in winding up for his chief, Mon. Telford, now-ex-sheriff and tax-collector. Mr. Smith's chief deputy is Lester McPherson, while the office deputies are Claude White and Vergil Burnett.

Down the hallway, we found that the new county attorney, Joe J. McGowan was about the busiest office in the courthouse at the time, there being some three other inquirers besides himself. He finally got time to tell us that he had been sworn in, and that he guessed the Mrs. and Bill were his deputies. Mrs. Eldora White was also sworn in as District Clerk, but we did not see her as her office is upstairs.

There was only one new commissioner to be sworn in, R. I. Cook of No. 3, who takes the place of J. W. Lasiter, the veteran commissioner until his retirement. Mr. Smith takes the place of Mon Telford as Sheriff; Joe McGowan succeeds W. W. Price as County Attorney, and Mrs. White succeeds Homer Winston as District Clerk. Mrs. Randal, County Treasurer, was re-elected, and sworn in.

W. A. Bell was also sworn in Monday as Mayor of the City of Brownfield to fill out the unexpired term of Joe J. McGowan, which will expire in April, 1934. So if you are not personally acquainted with the new officers, you'd better get that way.

Official paper of Terry County.

We see by reading the papers that Ripley has found a man in Maine who can sing a full octave above high C. We hope radio will not find this man.

A brand new 1933 model word has found its way into the American vocabulary, entitled, "Technocracy." As usual, it is being overdone by all writers, and while it sounds like an aristocratic word, it will very likely be discarded in time, like such alley expressions as "Okay New York!"

The latest bunch of space grafters to appear upon the scene and put their propaganda on our desk is the national sand and gravel association. We publishers have had the cement men with us for several years, and are expecting the mixers association to appear on our free publicity desk almost any day now.

J. B. Miller & Sons, have purchased the Southwest Plainsman, Amarillo, from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chenny. This fine journal has been in the hands of the Chenny family for a long time, and we hope the Millers hold up its good reputation. We note with pleasure that Mrs. Chenny will be with the paper still in an associate way.

Both houses at Congress as well as both branches of the legislature at Austin, we understand, are working on methods to get more taxes to pay more expenses, instead of finding as many bureaus and departments as possible to cut out. We have reached the point in our nation where we actually believe we can tax ourselves rich.

We presume that it is a good idea that the laity don't understand all the hooks and crooks of law, or what a jury will do. But it is certainly surprising that a jury will disagree on the guilt of a man who helped in a bank robbery, especially a self confessed one, as did that Gaines county jury week before last. But boy! wouldn't he have caught hades if he had confessed he sold a pint of liquor?

Some queer doctors have appeared on the scene down in old east Texas, and their mode of operation seems to be quite different from any of those in this section, such as the medicos, masseurs, chiropractors, allopathic, homeopathic and whatnot. The modus operandi seems to be for one of the "surgeons" to choke while his assistant prays. If the patient stands the pressure, o. k., otherwise the operation is simply a failure, and the undertaker steps in. While we may be horrified at what takes place in east Texas, let us state that the Herald has been told that children have died right here in Terry county the past year of contagious diseases for want of medical attention. Religion or no religion, the Herald believes, if this is true, there is some work for our next grand jury.

Every few weeks we see a statement from this or that automobile company that they have made the most cars the past year, or the past two years. Also, that while one states that six is just the right amount of cylinders for perfect operation, another different named car put out by the same organization states just as emphatically that eight straight cylinders is the perfect number, no more, no less. Mr. Hoover should appoint a committee to investigate this.

We gather from the Hubbock Evening Journal that another 2000 Hearst steers have arrived in that city, and that they are looking for 1000 more, which will likely arrive there this week. Of course most of their readers in this immediate section know where these steers are going to be put on feed, but those who take that paper off any distance would be given the impression that they were to be fed in Hubbock. The present publishers of the Avalanche-Journal sure hate like rips to give Brownfield publicity. It looks small for a little country weekly to get too provincial, but its outright gimletty for dailies that are supposed to represent a great section like this to get that way. The people here have stood this patiently, although some have talked of quitting these papers. The Herald has always advised against any boycott, thinking it would improve. For one instance, last fall, when the Lubbock Fair boosters passed through here and stopped long enough to give us some information about the fair, and for their band to give us some good music, not to mention a watermelon feast for our guests, next day, nothing was said of the matter in the Lubbock dailies, but from reading the account of the trip one would conclude that there were no stops made between Seagraves and Ropes. Brownfield and Meadow were left entirely out. Mistakes can creep into a newspaper very easily, but when they just continue to ignore, they become noticeable, and people begin to talk. The good will of the circulators of the two Lubbock papers here have an uphill fight against this very thing. No one here blames this matter on Lubbock as a whole, but all the credit for ignoring Brownfield as well as other small towns in this section, either accidentally or purposely, is laid at the feet of the Lubbock dailies.

MARRIAGES

Mr. Luther Harrel and Miss Louise Chisholm were married last Saturday afternoon, December 31st, by Elder O. M. Daley. They will continue to make Brownfield their home. Mr. Harrel is proprietor of the north side barber shop, and is one of our best citizens. Mrs. Harrel, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chisholm, has been an efficient employee of the West Texas Gas Company, and is one of the most lovable young ladies in our city.

Elder A. L. Burnett reports the marriage of New Year day of Mr. Herman Wheatley and Miss Bulah Smith, both of the Johnson community. Herman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wheatley, and Mrs. Wheatley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Smith. This prominent young couple will, we presume, continue to reside in the Johnson community.

Last Sunday, January 1st, Miss Loreta Mangum and Mr. Holmes from the Union community drove to Lovington and were married. Leota is the 2nd daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mangum. They will live on a farm out at Union.

Earl Curry, of the Seagraves section, will read the Herald this year.

Mrs. Lawrence Davis and family visited in Lamesa Sunday.

W. J. Moss of route 5 is a new reader of the Herald for the good year 1933. We hope it will be a good one, anyway.

Everet Winston and family of Littlefield, will read the Herald during 1933 complimentary of his father, J. F. Winston, of this city.

Also, Mrs. Chas. Randal of Seymour, will read the Herald this year complimentary of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Randal, our efficient County Treasurer.

The Herald thanks grandma J. O. Brown for her renewal this week.

Uncle Sam Davidson of Meadow dropped in Monday. He was down to pay taxes and renew for the Herald. Said he made 6 bales on ten acres this year. Pretty good for a man of his age.

Bargain rates on the Star-Telegram have been extended until next Monday the 9th, and on the Abilene News until the first of February.

Our good old supporter and booster, A. P. Stewart, of west Terry, is now in good graces and on speaking terms with the Herald till January next year.

Elder and Mrs. M. O. Daley returned Saturday from San Antonio where they visited their children during the holidays. He filled the pulpit at the church of Christ Sunday.

Another good friend from the Tokio section, Mr. B. M. Wade, also planked down for another year. Those old Tokio boys are good pay. Indeed, all our readers are the best in the world. We actually know that some of them really sacrifice to pay us. And do we appreciate it? The Lord knows we do.

Welton Willingham has bought the little red house from H. H. Bonham, and has moved same just south of the ball ground on his father's place. They will make their home there for the coming year.

Bryan Cutrell has instructed this writer to state that all girls who failed to take his hand in marriage this leap year will be remembered in the next four years, by him. His motto is, "Do unto others as they have done unto you."

Mrs. Mary Belle Hayes called on Mrs. Jack Rouse Wednesday.

School starts Monday, January 2. Let's hope the weather will be warmer so the little fellows may go.

Gwendolyn Bigham spent Thursday night with Thelma Bonham.

Bro. Joel Alldridge failed to fill his appointment here Sunday on account of the cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Welton Willingham are the proud parents of a seven and a half pound baby girl, born December 30th. This fine young lady has been christened Joe Ann. This is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bonham. Mother, baby and grand parents are doing nicely. The father had a slight temperature Saturday, but is thought to be improving at the last report.

This community turned out for the dance at the City Cafe in Seagraves Saturday night. Everyone reported a fine time.

Florence Lonis spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Dick Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Willingham and children spent Saturday night with their new grand-daughter, Miss Joe Ann Willingham.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hart and Don Darrell, are spending a few days with C. D.'s brother in Childress, Texas.

Mrs. Don Hart is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Taylor of Seagraves.

Mrs. Olive Denton and Miss Florence Lonis visited Mrs. Welton Willingham and daughter at Seagraves, Monday.

NEEDOMRE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nolen and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nolen and little daughter, Reba, have returned home from Wichita Falls, where they spent Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Mockey and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Mockey's sister of Meadow.

Mr. Carrol is very low. He was taken to the Treadway Sanitarium where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. We are in hopes that he will be able to come back home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Crownover were called to Barstow, Texas where Mrs. Crownover's brother-in-law and three babies were burned to death.

J. W. Anderson, who lives out on route four, has his Herald for 1933 all done up in a yarn ball.

We were tickled when we returned home to find a check from Ben Hilyard for his 1933 reading matter.

Mrs. Clyde Smith dropped in Monday to trade chickens for their 1933 Herald.

J. A. Rushing of the Tokio section came in last week with two fine hens the good wife sent in to keep their Herald coming.

W. P. Forbes called in Monday to renew for the Herald and Farm News. Mr. Forbes has never let his paper expire since he landed in Terry about 15 years ago.

Our good friend, C. P. (Buck) Buchanan of the Tokio country, was in on business this week and handed us a bathide on renewal, which sets him up till 12Jan34.

Sheriff Jess Smith said the Yoakum county sheriff was over Tuesday after his prisoners, who were in jail here. Two of them will be tried for hi-jacking, and we did not learn the offense of the other. They will be tried in District Court there this week.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish,—no danger.

Calotabs are sold in 10c and 35c packages at drug stores. (Adv)

WELLMAN NEWS

Mrs. Henry died at the home of her father's, Mr. Green, who lives one and one half miles north of Wellman, on Christmas day, at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Henry had suffered very much the last four years from tuberculosis, but now she is at rest. She leaves a husband and three children, besides other relatives and a host of friends to mourn her passing. The funeral services were held on Tuesday morning, December 27th, at the Baptist church at Wellman, by Rev. Lovelless, after which she was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery.

A group of people met at the home of Miss Willie Mae Smith's last Monday night, Dec. 26, and gave her a surprise party. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

Miss Nellie Roberts gave a New Years party Saturday night. There was a large crowd and everyone enjoyed it very much.

Bro. Drennon of Tahoka will preach at the church of Christ next Sunday morning and night.

There were two weddings just before Christmas and just after. R. E. Christopher and Miss Mildred Barton of the Sherman community, were married at Lovington, N. M., Dec. 21. Then, Herbert Singletary and Miss Pansy Barton, also of the Sherman community were married December 26th. The brides are sisters. We wish these young people a long prosperous life.

Mrs. Ruth Baker and daughter, Gwendolyn, visited friends here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Paul went to Hall county last Wednesday and returned Thursday and were accompanied home by Mr. Paul's brother, Henry Paul, and a friend, Mr. Anderson.

Miss Josie Oliver returned to Loop, Monday morning, where she teaches school, after spending a week at home.
