What's The Matter With Texas?

By S. W. Adams—Room 65, Driskill Hotel, Austin

S. W. Adams, Austin, Texas
Legislation is a tragedy. As you sit and watch the cross-currents of conflicting influences buffet the rights of the people about, with only the weakest voices weakly defending the people's rights, you wonder if legislating is what's the matter with Texas?

I have found no outstanding legislative mind down here. The mental legislation is hopelessly confused. Baffled and uncertain evenhanded justice is beating its wings against hidden rocks that lit just beneath the surface in this sea of legislative uncertainty.

I would find it hard to put my hand on a dishonest legislator; I would find it easy to put my hand on an incompetent legislator—a man unable to build and sustain his breastworks against the inroads greed is making on the very heart of a nation.

One of the painful facts in legislation is the mistaken notion in the minds of many that IF you oppose legislation or if you support legislation you are sinister. Of the two evils, I believe that the disposition of legislation to viciously attack citizens who appear before their committees for the purpose of opposing the provisions of their bills, is the worst.

In a recent committee meeting, I saw a citizen calmly, clearly and respectfully give his reasons why he thought the bill should not pass, and the sponsor of the bill viciously interrogated him, making of the citizen a selfish, questionable character; while a newspaper man protested in the same meeting that too much government is being put into business, and the same legislator joined in by the Comptroller, angrily and viciously berated him.

One of Texas' greatest curses is official presumption that a citizen's protest is an insult. Texas is sorely beset by corrupt officialdom.

The advisor of the Governor says that the sales tax must be passed because "there are no incomes," yet he fails to explain how any one can buy without an income.

Here is an idea that fits the injustice of the sales tax: If men spend all they receive, their taxes are equal under the sales tax; but if one receives a third more income, and saves that, he pays only two-thirds as much sales tax, and if he receives double the salary or income, he pays only half as much of his income for taxes on the sales tax basis. Should you follow it up, you would find that the more income a man receives the less the percentage of his income he pays for taxes, resulting in the man with the biggest income paying an infinitesimal small part of his income to the support of the State.

In other words, the sales tax works directly opposite to the income tax—under the sales tax, the less you receive the more taxes you pay while under the more equitable and just income tax, the more you receive, the more taxes you pay.

Hon. Coke Stevenson, speaker of the 43rd House says: "This is the best working Legislature I have ever known. The engrossing and enrolling clerks say that 100 percent more work has passed thru their hands than has at any like period before. I think the secret of this fact lies in the very fortunate committee assignments I was able to make."

Grand Jury Makes Report Of Dist. Judge

In the District Court, January Term, A. D. 1933, Terry County, Texas, 9th, day of February 1933.

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE OF SAID COURT:

We your grand jury for Terry county most respectfully make the following report of our work as grand jurors:

We have carefully inquired into all matters of alleged violations of the law brought to our attention, and have where warranted returned bills of indictment, having returned six felony bills of indictment for the term.

We have found that many reports brought to our attention concerning violations of the law, after a careful investigation by us, have proved insufficient as far as evidence is concerned to warrant us in returning a bill. We have tried to investigate each case with the view of really having a bill of indictment rather than to return one on mere suspicion. In our opinion this is the best procedure taking into consideration the finances of our county.

We report to you that Terry County so far as we have been able to ascertain is above the average in being free from law violation. Our investigation reveals that this condition is due to a great extent by reason of the fact that this county has heretofore and is now having the proper work done by the Sheriff's department and the other officers of the county and city. We wish to express our appreciation to the former officers and present officers for the work they have done in keeping Terry county a fit place for us to live and rear our families.

We have carefully examined our county jail and other departments of the county and find them in excellent condition.

We wish to thank the Sheriff's department, County and District Attorney for any and all the assistance given us in our work. The bailiffs have been faithful in the performance of their duty during our session.

We request that a copy of this report be given the local papers of the county for publication.

Having finished our work for the term, we respectfully ask that we be discharged for the term.
W. M. Adams, Foreman.

Light Local News In This Weeks Paper

Necessarily, on account of the operation of Mrs. Stricklin at the Lubbock Sanitarium Monday at 10 o'clock, this week's Herald will necessarily be light of local news matter. However, we are trying our best to substitute with good reading matter that will be helpful, and we believe that our community correspondents have come up to their usual good average.

Thus, we crave the indulgence of our readers, and promise that as soon as Mrs. Stricklin has sufficiently recovered so as not to in anyway hinder the regular duties of herself, or the making of the Herald, that we will again try to give our readers a paper that contains home news of interest.

Yoakum County Singing Convention At Plains

Sunday week, or the 4th Sunday in Feb., according to J. W. Raley, the Yoakum County Singing Convention will meet for its regular quarterly songfeast at the county's capitol, where all good singers of neighboring counties of Texas and New Mexico, are invited to come and participate.

Our understanding is that a great crowd is expected, and good leaders, duets, trios, and quartets are expected from all over the south plains section.

Corner Drug Store Have Changed Hands

A deal was consummated this week in which Homer Nelson and Jim Graves became the owner of the Corner Drug Store, the deal having been concluded with Mrs. J. C. Lewellen, who has conducted the business since the death of her husband last year. After invoicing, the owners immediately moved in and took charge. Owing to the fact that the writer has been away most of the week, not much information was obtained.

Suffice to say that both owners are only too well known to need any recommendation or mention from us. Both have been connected with the Alexander Drug store here for several years, and both are registered pharmacists. They are men of integrity beyond question, and will always be found giving their customers a square deal. Call on them.

In this connection, we wish to state that Dr. G. W. Graves, father of the junior member of the firm is fitting up a nice series of offices next door west of the store, and as soon as they are completed, will move his offices into the new place, making it mighty handy for his patients to see him, as it will be on the ground floor.

Wife Of Editor Undergoes Operation

Mrs. Stricklin went under the surgeon's knife for the third and we hope for the last time necessary, at the Lubbock Sanitarium at 11:00 o'clock Monday. The operation was classed as a major one, and perhaps the most serious she has ever had.

The work was performed by Dr. J. T. Krueger, one of the best surgeons in Texas. He has performed both of her other operations, and while recognizing there are other good surgeons, Dr. Krueger is her favorite. He was assisted by Dr. J. H. Stiles.

Watching the operation were Dr. G. W. Graves, the faithful family physician, city; Joe Roberts of Coahoma and the writer. At this time the operation, which consisted of the removal of the gall bladder, which was infected, and the removal of a mass of adhesions of the lower bowels, seems to have been successful.

Will add that Mrs. Stricklin says she pulled a fine birthday party. Her birthday was Valentine or February 14th, and she celebrated by an operation on the 13th. The food department of the Sanitarium sent her a cake with (no amount given out) candles thereon. She also got candy, but like cake, "she can no eat."

Clara Bow Makes Debut In First Film For Fox

Clara Bow's first starring vehicle for Fox Films is Edwin Burke's adaptation of Tiffany Thayer's sensational novel, "Call Her Savage." It will be shown at the Rialto Theatre beginning Sunday.

Described as an intimate portrait of an impulsive girl's fight for happiness, the drama pictures the heroine's transition from her carefree, tom-boyish life on a Texas ranch to become the sensation of Chicago society; to a marriage with a worthless playboy; to her mad gamble with men and money; to the birth and tragic death of her baby; and, finally, to her return to the peace and freedom of the ranch and the genuine love of her Indian sweetheart, one of her own kind whose veins carry savage blood.

Gilbert Roland as Moonglow, her half-breed sweetheart, heads the supporting cast. Other featured players are Thelma Todd, Monroe Owsley, Estelle Taylor, Willard Robertson and Weldon Heyburn.

John Francis Dillon directed the production.

Prominent Religious Editor To Speak Here

Foy E. Wallace, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., Editor of The Gospel Advocate, will be in Brownfield Saturday, February 18, and will preach at the Church of Christ, at 7:45 P. M. Bro. Wallace is one of our most brilliant young men, and we are fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing him. His arrangements will only allow him to be with us the one time. We are setting up the time for the service to 7:45 in order that our business men can hear him. The song service will begin at 7:30. Make your arrangements to hear him. You will be well repaid for the effort.

New Ford V-8 Body Lines In Modern Vogue

Last Saturday at Tudor Sales Co., was shown to the public for the first time in Brownfield the new Ford V-8-cylinder motor cars, with 112-inch wheelbase, 75-horsepower motor and modernized slipstream body lines, together with a host of improvements.

The new Fords are the most powerful ever built. Fourteen body types are available, including both standard and de luxe types of the roadsters, phaeton, coupe, tudor and fordor sedans. The cabriolet and Victoria are exclusive de luxe types.

The new Ford bodies are characterized by a new and distinctively modern note, with flowing streamlines. The front end ensemble includes the sloping Vee radiator grille, new skirtped fenders, newly designed lamps, horn and bumpers. The windshield has a 20-degree slope. A wide choice of body colors is available. Colored wheels are optional on the de luxe types.

Many sections are joined by electric welding.

Body interiors are exceptionally roomy, the bodies being materially wider and almost a foot longer than formerly. Seats are wide and deeply-cushioned. Front seats in closed cars are adjustable. A choice of broadcloth or mohair upholstery is used in the standard body types; broadcloth, mohair and bedford cord in the de luxe models.

The interiors reveal a number of convenience features. The instrument panel is directly in front of the driver, with a roomy package compartment at the right. The coincident ignition and steering lock is located on the steering column bracket.

The doors are unusually wide, allowing easy access to the seats. Doors on all closed models may be locked from the inside. A single key operates both coincidental lock and door locks.

On all de luxe models a concealed ash receiver is located in the center of the instrument board, with a cigar lighter just above it. The de luxe tudor and fordor sedans and Victoria are also provided with an ash tray in the rear compartment.

Safety glass is used in the windshields of all body types and in the rear windows of cars with rumble seats. De luxe body types are fitted with safety glass throughout, while standard body types may be similarly equipped upon special order.

All closed cars are fitted with dome lights, while the de luxe types have cowl lights and rear compartment arm rests. The tudor and fordor sedans and Victoria have a convenient radio aerial. All de luxe cars are equipped with twin matched horns and two tall lights.

The motor has aluminum cylinder heads for increased compression, quicker heat dissipation, quicker warming and greater fuel economy. It is a 75 horse power and built for 80-mile-an-hour cruising speeds. It has a 90-mile speedometer.

Brownfield Graduates Do Well In College

The High school office is in receipt of reports on all students who went from Brownfield High school to some college this year. The seven persons who went to college as Freshmen this year are: Pauline Hunter, Vernon Bell, Leora Proctor, Georgie O'Brien, Orvalene Price, Louise Goza, Lois Goza. The first four named went to Texas Technological College at Lubbock, Orvalene Price went to Baylor Belton and the Goza girls went to New Mexico State Teachers College.

These people signed up for a total of 110 term hours and passed successfully 101 hour of it. This nine hours they failed made nine percent. This is a great deal above the average for school of this size and calibre. These young people are to be congratulated for this worthy effort.

The condition of things will prove that most people who go to college these days have a serious purpose at heart and are taking their work with equal seriousness.

The parents of these people are to be congratulated in being able to manage to keep these folks in school during these times.

Gaines County Citizens Commends Terry County Jurors

As a citizen of Gaines county, Texas, we have to commend the splendid citizenship of Terry county, Texas, and especially the services of our new and efficient District Attorney, G. H. Nelson, in the trial and conviction of the Seagraves Bank robbers, as the same is in such marked contrast with the result of a mistrial in the District court of Gaines county, Texas, where a week was consumed in the mistrial of one of said robbers, and the jury being seven for acquittal to five for conviction.

Certainly there is a reason for such results and such a marked contrast, between the intelligent and law abiding jurors of Terry county, Texas, and the careless and inconsiderate jurors of Gaines county, Texas, and why offense committed in Gaines county have to be prosecuted in Terry county, and also why a whole week was consumed in the mistrial of one case in Gaines county. Too much unnecessary delay is indulged in the trial of cases in district courts, and whoever is to blame for these conditions should prevent such cause. Entirely too many continuances and permitted and upon to flimsy reasons.

It is certainly a reflection upon the citizenship of any county that the state has to have a change of venue in order to get a conviction for crime. Lately four felonies were committed in one night at Seminole, county seat of Gaines county, for which one man is under a flimsy bail bond, the other two felonies still at large in the county, and such is a sample of conditions in Gaines county, so that it certainly behooves the good citizens of Gaines to organize and maintain a Law and Good Order Club to create some changes. It is to be hoped that our new and efficient District Attorney will have the hearty cooperation of the good law abiding citizens of Gaines county in prosecuting law breakers in Gaines county and in enforcing law and good order.

New Highway Will Serve Many Plains Cities

A new state highway from Channing to Brownfield and serving Littlefield, has been designated by the State Highway commission, according to a telephone message received in Littlefield Tuesday.

The action of the Highway commission places Littlefield on two state highways and will route north and south through this city.

With the establishing of the new highway Littlefield will have a direct highway into Colorado and other northern states and a good road connection with the Bankhead Highway, "The Broadway of America," which serves the country east and west from coast to coast.

The designation of the new highway marks an important step forward in the development of this city and section, and the action of the State Highway commission, which was carried out Tuesday at Austin, came as a warming sun out of the clouds as the thermometer registered sub-zero temperatures.—Littlefield Leader.

Little Willie, the brightest boy in the geography class, was given an outline map of Europe and was told to fill in the names of the countries. When he had finished, the teacher took the map and discovered that he had omitted the name of the largest country there.

"Why Willie, don't you know the name of that country?"

"No, I can't place it," said Willie.

"That," said the teacher, "is Russia."

"But, teacher," objected Willie, "we don't recognize Russia."

Troop 45 Has Exhibit

In recognition of the anniversary of scouting, Troop 45 has placed an exhibit in the window of the building formerly occupied by Jones Dry Goods Company. The committee in charge of this exhibit is Wayne Mullins, James Davis and Chester Stewart.

The exhibit is calculated to illustrate a great many of the vocations a boy may study in scouting while earning the regular awards of advancement. Also many items of handicraft are displayed in this window. The laws of scouting are prominently displayed in carved letters. The boys of Troop 45 have been doing these as a part of the woodcarving work of regular scouting work.

The camping fever is gradually taking hold of the boys now that warm weather is back with us. You hear them talking about that week at camp and about troop hikes etc. Scouting is outing someone has said and the true scout is the out-of-door fellow who knows the ways of nature and how she deals with her children.

It is now time for Troop 45 to re-register. All old members are urged to get in their registration fee as soon as possible. There is room for a few new members of the right type. Troop 45 prides itself in the matter of knowing the type of member that comes in.

Parents who are interested in their boys having something worth while to do during the summer and during his idle hours during the school term are invited to talk the matter over with M. L. Penn, Assistant Scoutmaster and A. B. Sanders, Scoutmaster.

HARMONY HAPPENINGS

This warm weather certainly looks good to us after having so much cold weather.

THE TOWN'S NEED

An editor in a neighboring state has just received a capital prize of $1,000 from one of the big magazines for giving the best answer to the following question: "What my town needs most." The editor's answer was: "Six or eight funerals rightly placed."—Pointers.

An editor usually knows his people. He has to know the people. And when the people all live in the same vicinity for a few generations and marry and enter-marry and all become more or less related in one way or another, the average editor keeps a "morgue" full of cuts and obituaries, marriages, births, and all other useful information that may come handy. All he has to do is to turn to the files and he has a complete history of the case. He knows the stingy citizens and the liberal ones; he is well versed in the crooks and turns of the human family—from Adam down. Experience has taught him many a lesson. And he knows a whole lot that he never puts in print. Therefore, he is well qualified to say truthfully that for all the good some folks are to their town, they might as well be dead. However, no editor really wants his citizens to pass out. There may possibly be some good in even the worst specimen of town hinderers, and editors always hope for the best. Sam Jones once said: "God should forget to call up some dead souls because they would be just as grasping as ever and would chip off the golden gate and cash in on the pieces."—Higgins News.

WORLD LANGUAGE

Some carpenter with a sense of values and a fair knowledge of English has devised and copyrighted a "world language" which he says will enable all people to understand each other and carry on ordinary business and social conversations without trouble. His "new" language consists of only 850 basic English words—no more, no less. They make up the vocabulary of the average English-speaking conversationalist, and by using them one might talk his way around the world without using a "single foreign word"—providing his contacts possessed a knowledge of the same English words.

The idea isn't as fantastic as it sounds. English is conquering the modern world—the only language except Spanish which is growing steadily both in body and usage.

The Denison Herald points out that when the Japanese and Chinese delegates to the league of nations council berated each other the other day in Geneva, they did not use Japanese or Chinese, or the language of diplomacy, French; they used English. It seems that Mr. Matsuoka, the Japanese spokesman, is an alumnus of the University of Oregon, while Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese spokesman, received his education at the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia.

"When they got ready for an argument," observes the Herald, "they did not fall back upon the studied and classic phrases of their oriental homelands, but upon the virile and trenchant Anglo-Saxon learned in their alma maters."

English has the strength of youth, and the elasticity that goes with it. —Abilene News.

Willow Wells Worries

Say! did some one say it was cold weather last week? This reporter almost froze up. The corn and cotton seed done their duty at our house—and then water froze under the stove. Here's hoping this will be the last of such cold weather.

Mrs. Don Hart and baby son came home Saturday afternoon after spending four months with her mother, Mrs. E. R. Taylor, of Seagraves. This was Kenneth's first automobile ride.

Bay Willingham happened to a painful accident Sunday when an air-gun accidentally discharged and shot his tongue. Doctor Graves remove the shot Monday at Brownfield.

Mrs. T. L. Murray and son, Fred, are quite ill this week with the pneumonia.

Frank Hayes has been suffering with an ear he froze Tuesday.

Miss Florence Lónis is spending a few days this week with Dessie Hyten, of Seagraves.

Thelma Bonham is sick this week with the pneumonia.

Cap Carter and family left Sunday night for parts unknown. They left in a covered wagon. We wonder how this cold weather served them.

There was a party given in the home of Max Cole Saturday night for Miss Victoria Hendrix. We understand it was a farewell party for her, as she is moving away from here. Mrs. Mack visited her son at Seagraves Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Welton Willingham and daughter, Joe Ann, spent the week-end in the home of Wayne Willingham.

The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Burness Holley are quite sick with the relapse of the flu.

A number of people attended the party of Wayne Willingham's Saturday night. Everyone reported a good time.

It was too cold for most of the children to go to school this week, although school was not discontinued.

Noah Horner has purchased the fresh air car formally owned by Dick Denton. We understand Noah is going to make a community taxi out of it.

Did you know there has been eight new babies born in the Willow Wells community in the past twelve months?

Did you know that Willow Wells is noted for it's good amateur characters and A-1 plays?

Did you know that Willow Wells has a two teacher school and over 50 enrollment?

Did you know A. G. Bigham was the sleepest man in Willow Wells?

Did you know Mrs. Cutrells' foot froze while in bed Tuesday night?

Did you know that Mrs. W. L. Willingham had five hens to freeze to death Tuesday?

Did you know Willow Wells was the best place to live in Terry county? If you didn't, come and visit our school, people and plays. Then you will agree it is a "gosh-durn" good place to live. We also have preaching every Sunday at the school house. Bro. Joel Alldridge preaches every first Sunday and Bro. Fisher ever second and fourth Sunday, Bro. Noah Phillips every third and Bro. T. L. Murray every fifth Sunday. Mr. Carl Bonham takes his car and trailer or truck every Sunday night to Seagraves to Bible study and most everyone in the community gets to go. Mr. Bonham is doing a good deed by gathering up the young people and taking them to services Sunday nights. Could anyone wish to live in a better community among better people?

Did you know Willow Wells furnishes plenty of entertainment for the young people without them going away from home to find it?

Did you know there were 61 in Sunday school Sunday?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes and Bryan Cutrell enjoyed several games of pitch and 42 last Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Willingham. Coffee, popcorn and candy were served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Alldridge visited his brother, J. W. O. Alldridge and family Sunday.

Several young men met at the school house after preaching, Sunday, and played basket ball.

Benman Gross and family are moving on the Will Menderman place vacated by Less Pipkins.

Mrs. Rouse: "Norway is about the same size as Siam."

Louise: (in test next day) "Norway is about as big as teacher."

Mr. Alldridge: (talking to Mrs. Alldridge) "Here is a surprise for you."

Mrs. Alldridge (unrapping) "But there's nothing in it."

Mr. Alldridge: "That's the surprise."

Mrs. Ruth Baker, the Intermediate teacher, at Lou spent the week end with Mrs. Roy Griffith of Lahey.

"Mamma, I wish you would give me a dark breakfast," said the little boy.

"What do you mean by that?" asked the mother.

"Well," answered the youngster; "Last night Dad told you to give me a light supper, and I didn't like it."

Well, at least this week started off with more common sense than last week. It was warm enough that one did not have to sit with his heels to a hot stove, with all his overthings on to keep from freezing. There was a dispute Tuesday whether we were to have a sandstorm or a rain. The part of West Texas that tries to represent the Sahara said sandstorm. That part representing out East Texas connection said a rain. It was a draw. But enough of weather this week.

We have been studying the peculiarities of the weather in West Texas for a long time, in which we oftentimes compliment and praise. However, on occasions we have had to criticize, yea, even denounce on occasions. We have had to fight this battle alone most of the time, for while most west Texas papers are willing to get on the trusts, the tariff and tyrants with all four sheets and a supplement, they have religiously laid off the weatherman. Most of the agree that it makes the weatherman worse by teasing him. The Abilene News, however, has at last woken up to the fact that West Texas, almost has a corner on weather peculiarities. It wants to know why Amarillo, which usually has the bottom place during cold spells was several degrees with its 8 minus, of Lubbock with its 17 minus. Also, it wants to know why Abilene with 5 minus had to shiver, while San Angelo in almost same latitude and altitude got along with 3 plus. Three above was real balmy weather during that spell. While we are at it, we want to know what became of that norther Plainview and Lubbock had last Friday. It failed utterly to reach Brown.

"Visit the widows and orphans in their sickness and affliction," is a Biblical command, and many carry it out. Some don't do anything about it, widows, orphans or what not. It is generally the prevailing idea that small town and rural people are the best folks on earth to care for the sick, and help the families of the sick. But as bad as we dislike to say it, we believe Lubbock has our little city badly bested along this line, although our people must be above the average. As we understand it, each Sunday or at mid-week meetings, a list of the sick of that faith, both local or out of town, are announced by the pastor. But the pastor urge their folks to visit the sick of all faiths. You are soon made aware of this after entering one of Lubbock hospitals, for callers begin to arrive to see the patients, if the patients are able to have callers, otherwise, they tell an attendant or relative about who has called. Flowers or pot plants are sent patients, often too many. Taking Lubbock's plan as an example, we could easily emulate her, by having the pastors announce the sick, both at the local hospital, or out in the city or community. We had all kinds of offer of help in our most recent sickness from both home and Lubbock people who know us.

HITCH-HIKERS "RIGHTS"

Gradually the courts are working around to a common sense and just interpretation of the responsibility of an owner of a motor car who is generous enough to have thumb-pointer ride with him and unlucky enough to have an accident in which his guest passenger gets hurt. For years the legal idea was that the motorist was liable in such cases, and the "unrightness" of such a situation caused some States, notably Texas, to enact a law specifically removing liability from the owner. Recent Court decisions, including sense interpretation of the law of responsibility is about the triumph over the technical interpretation without the aid of "fixer" laws.

In a recent decision in a case wherein a hitch-hiker sought damages from a motorist, Circuit Judge William B. Brown of Grande Rapids, Mich., said: "Guest passengers in private automobiles have no rights under the automobile damage laws of the State. They have two alternatives: one is to refrain from riding with others and the second is to go to Lansing and have the law changed."

The question, Judge Brown said, hinges upon the interpretation of the term "wilful and wanton negligence." According to the ruling of the court, negligence to be wanton and wilful almost must be intentional. Naturally the cases are rare in which the owner of a car intentionally smashes it.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

NEWSPAPER LOYALTY

The explanation given by John Sten Cooke as to why his issue dropped from the usual eight pages down to six recently, calls to mind the fact that a weekly paper such as he prints, is much like a passenger train—it must go out on time regardless of the amount of passengers (advertising) even though the man at the throttle knows the run must be made at a loss. The weekly papers of Texas have set a fine example for other groups in the face of declining revenue the past few months except in a few instances, there has been no decline in the service rendered their communities.

Railroads may increase their rates. Many public utility companies are guaranteed a reasonable return on their investments. The weekly paper serving the community can do neither. It must continue to "carry on" despite the fact that revenues have decreased from 20 to 40 percent over the past 18 months.—Leader.

SEE TROPICAL SPOT IN ARCTIC CIRCLE

Explorers Find Hot Springs in Hidden Valley.

Ottawa.—The often-rumored "land that time forgot," in Canada's far northwest, is a reality and no mere prospector's myth or fragment of Indian folklore.

Such is the positive assurance given by Dr. J. Norman Henry of Philadelphia and his companions, who are now homeward bound with the proud distinction of being the first white men who have ever gazed upon the hidden tropical valley, which lies within the Arctic circle, in northern British Columbia.

The valley remains today as it must have been in prehistoric eras, before the glacier age swept over North America—a luxurious garden of rich tropical growth, such as are now common only in the equatorial zone.

Bubbling Hot Springs. The valley, located in the mountains near the junction of the Racing and Toad rivers, nearly 1,000 miles northwest of Edmonton, is three-quarters of a mile wide and nearly a quarter of a mile in length, and is honeycombed with bubbling hot springs, to which it owes its continued existence.

In some of the craters the water was too hot to touch, and Indian guides who know the district vow that the water in the valley does not freeze even in mid-winter when the surrounding district has a temperature of 50 degrees below zero.

The expedition was disappointed in its hope of finding prehistoric animal life in the valley, although Professor Henry believes that systematic excavation might yield well-preserved remains. The best of the vegetation had also been destroyed by fairly recent forest fires, but a number of specimens were obtained which are expected to astound the botanical world.

For centuries, the location of the "valley of steaming waters" has been a jealously guarded secret among a band of Indians inhabiting a section of the Peace river area. Their numbers have been decimated by tuberculosis and other diseases, until today only a handful remain; and, rather than see the secret lost forever, three members of the tribe consented to guide the Henry expedition to the spot.

Rich in Wild Life. From the Indian camp north of Fort St. John, a ten days' journey led the party to the valley, over a route which would have been impassable but for a collapsible rubber boat which the expedition carried and which enabled them to cross several torrential rivers.

Although no new species of animal life were uncovered, the district is rich in game—moose, caribou, mountain sheep, bear and goats being seen in large numbers. Miss Mary Henry, daughter of the expedition's leader, shot two splendid mountain sheep.

The botanical end of the expedition was directed by Mrs. Henry, who collected large numbers of specimens which will be presented to the Academy of Natural Sciences, Philadelphia, and the Royal Botanical Gardens, Edinburgh. Doctor Henry, leader of the expedition, is a retired physician, and a former college mate of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National railways.

France Honors Deeds of U. S. Tars in Memorial

Brest, France.—Fifteen Italian sculptors, under direction of Benito Quattrocchi, an American citizen of Italian extraction, are putting the finishing touches on the American naval memorial, which is to be completed here in February.

So far no date for its dedication has been chosen, but it has been suggested that February 22 would be appropriate.

This memorial, at Cours d'Ajot, Brest, is a tribute in granite to the gallant deeds and services of United States seamen during the World War. The tower, which will be 164 feet high, has attained a height of 118 feet. It will be surmounted by four giant eagles.

On the sides will be allegorical sculpture. More than 3,000 cubic feet of Breton granite will be required for it, and the cost is estimated at $125,000.

Horns of Lost Cattle Herd Enrich Texas Man

San Antonio, Texas.—Remains of a lost herd of longhorn cattle, famous in the history of the Texas range, have been found by L. D. Bertillon of Mineola, Texas, and their horns have made him rich.

In 1812 Jacob Don Lomerr's entire herd of several thousand longhorns stampeded in a storm near Terlingua creek. They were never found.

That is, not until Bertillon trailed a nearby canyon to a cave opening and found a great heap of bones and horns. Bertillon has since sold more than $50,000 worth of horns, and is now negotiating for a sale to the prince of Wales.

Raid on Sheep Corral Brings Dog Curfew Law

American Fork, Utah.—A dog curfew has been invoked in this little Utah town. Every canine found on the streets between 7 p. m. and 6 a. m. runs the risk of being shot on sight. The measure was taken after a nocturnal raid on a corral, in which 80 sheep were killed or maimed.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS FOR THE PEDESTRIAN

While this is a good season for the motorist to determine that he will drive more carefully during 1933, it is also a proper time for the pedestrian to resolve that he will avoid those walkers which in 1931 killed 14,500 walkers and injured nearly 300,000.

Maxwell Halsey, Traffic Engineer of the Nation Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, has drawn up a set of resolutions for the man-a-foot. They are:

CITY
I will not cross a street when traffic lights are against me, nor will I cross diagonally or between intersections.

I will not come from behind parked cars without observing what is before me.

I will not get on or off a street car without satisfying myself that my way is clear and I will not take it for granted that all motorists always obey all rules.

I will not take a chance any place against a dangerous driver.

COUNTRY
I will not forget to walk on left side of road so that I can face oncoming cars.

I will not cross at a sharp curve or just at the brow of a steep hill where I cannot see what is coming.

I will not forget to allow for a swerve of a car on rough roads, giving all vehicles plenty of room.

I will not forget when I drive how I feel when I am walking.

Follow these instructions and be a "safe walker."

Puppy Love Party Ends in Tragedy

Tragedy stalked through a San Antonio rooming house Friday night after two boys rented a "room" with two beds and brought two girls there. Five minutes after the door to the room was bolted, a shot was heard, and Miss Constance King, inset in the lower photo, was found dead. Upper photos show Leonard Poss, left, James Hobbs, right, and Miss Winnie Mann, center. Below is the bedroom with a detective pointing to the spot where Miss King's body was found. All of the participants in the party were 18 years old, and high school students.

Fisher Body Borrows Idea From Hollywood to 'Shoot' New Ventilation System in Action

The special "rig" below was devised by Fisher Body Corporation to make possible a pictorial record of the New Fisher No Draft Ventilation System in action. Cameramen standing on the platform 10 feet from the side of the car took pictures with the car in motion at 30, 40, and 50 miles an hour. The stunt was especially valuable as showing the system's effectiveness in the removal of tobacco smoke, which has always been a source of annoyance to non-smokers in cars of conventional type. The three frames at the left are excerpts from a motion picture taken from the special camera rig, and they show clearly how smoke is drawn from the car by the Fisher Ventilation System. How rapid the smoke removal is, may be judged by the fact that these three frames were actually adjacent to each other in the film. A large mouthful of cigar smoke snatched out of the car in a fraction of a second! Efforts to capture the same action with a still camera were less successful. Besides assuring comfort for smokers and non-smokers alike, the Fisher Ventilation System promotes safety for all occupants of the car, since it enables the driver to prevent the clouding of windows and windshield which in ordinary cars impairs driving vision in cold weather.

SIDELIGHTS

By Marvin Jones, Member of Congress from Texas.

I feel that the people of our section would be interested in the program on which a number of us have been working during this session of Congress.

We have been doing everything possible to get the members of the House and Senate to realize just how serious conditions are. Ordinary remedies will not be sufficient, for these are not ordinary times. We are face to face with grim facts which call for emergency action.

In the first place there should be a stay of foreclosures until such time as the necessary legislative program can be worked out. The house has already passed a measure of this kind. I hope the officials of the various states will take such action as is necessary to supplement the work of the Congress.

In my judgement, it is absolutely essential that the program of refinancing and, if possible, a scaling down of principal and interest rate and a refinancing of farm mortgages on a long time basis be accomplished. A number of us have been working in every way possible toward this end.

This republic is anchored in the farm homes of America. Wholesale foreclosures on the part of mortgage companies would be detrimental to the companies as well as to the farmers and others who are interested. I hope they are beginning to realize the truth of this proposition.

Another matter that needs immediate attention is a complete revamping of our currency system. The price of the American dollar is too high when measured in the terms of commodity prices. There should be a readjustment in such a way as to make our unit of money a true measure of values. This would automatically increase commodity prices and enable people to pay debts.

Every thinking person realizes that taxes bear too heavily on the farm and ranch. While this is largely a local matter, depending upon action of state and local authorities, nevertheless, the expenses of federal government should be reduced in every possible way. Many bureaus should be abolished and the activities of others curtailed. I have repeatedly urged this before the economy committee and have offered numerous amendments to accomplish this end.

Our freight rate schedules are too great a burden on the producer of the farm and ranch. Freight rates at the present time are all out of proportion to the value of commodities.

I am glad to know that the President-elect has declared that something must be done in reference to the excessive short selling and gambling in the stock market. He has declared for a correction of these evils and I shall be more than happy to join him in supporting such a program.

The individual members of Congress are sometimes criticized for not taking action more quickly. And some of these criticisms are just. However, I think it is but fair to detail some of the difficulties under which we who are representing farming districts are working.

There are 435 members of the House, each representing a different district. A majority of these members represent consuming rather than producing districts. Again, a clear majority, to-wit, 228 of the 435 members of the House of Representatives, live north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river. It takes a majority of the members of the House to pass any kind of legislation. I mention this fact to show the complications which any program may face.

Practically all of the members of Congress who represent farming and livestock districts have been earnestly working toward a solution of the grave problems which confront the country, and I feel that it is but fair that the public should know these facts.

Again, not all the difficulties will yield to legislative remedies, but certainly there are some conditions that can be helped. Most certainly our financial system can be revamped in the interest of the people, and the long time discriminations in our traffic barriers and freight rates, which which have had the effect of paralyzing the agricultural sections can be removed, and thus an unhindered opportunity given for equality in the operation of the laws of the country.

THE HOME LOAN BANK

Much has been said about the new Home Loan Banks, but what the man in the street, and the man in the field wants to know is just how they can get benefit from them—how to proceed to use them to save their mortgaged homes.

The home owner will not receive loans, mortgages extensions or mortgage increases directly from the 12 regional Home Loan Banks. These banks make loans to mortgage holding institutions—building and loan associations, insurance companies, homestead associations, cooperative banks, etc.—in order that these in turn, may renew mortgages they now hold and be able to extend further credits to their customers.

This is the way Chairman Fort, of the Home Loan Bank Board, explains it: The bank or mortgage company which now holds your mortgage can become a member of the Home Loan Bank System. Immediately upon it becoming a member, not only your mortgage, but 12 per cent of all the home mortgages which it holds become rediscountable at the regional Home Loan Bank. Consequently the bank will not need to put pressure on you for repayment, since, in event, it has need for substantial funds quickly, it can secure them from the Home Loan Bank by a loan at low interest against your mortgage and others.—The Pathfinder.

The above is characteristic of the Hoover administration to help relieve the depression. The building and loan companies can now borrow to relieve their condition, but it is entirely optional with them if the individual home owner is to be benefited by this governmental agency. The trouble has been that the government stands ready to aid big business—the railroads have borrowed to pay the New York bankers, who takes the money and further depresses the country. Nothing is being done for the common people.

Many congressmen allege that it was the intention of Congress to loan direct to the home owners when this legislation was passed. As it is the home owner will continue to lose his home, as there has been no cessation of foreclosures since the passage and set up of the home loan bank bill. Unless the plan is changed, the people who need help will not get it—in fact foreclosures will become more numerous than ever as the loan companies will buy distressed properties at a fraction of their value and depend upon the funds of the government to enable them to keep them until they can sell them at a profit. The only thing to prevent this is the coming of the new administration next March which may change a system that has been a menace to recovery.—Level-land Herald.

Red Goose—The Ojibwa

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls
By Carlyle Emery
Chapter Two Story No. 16

(Synopsis)

Red Goose is alone in the country of the hostile Blackfeet Indians. In his eagerness to show Little Beaver he wasn't afraid of a locomotive, which the Indians called The Iron Horse, he had climbed into the caboose just as the train started. It carried him over four hundred miles away from his own Ojibwa Tribe, and as he got down out of the caboose, Doyle, the engineer warned him to beware of the Blackfeet.—Now go on with the story.

As Doyle, the engineer, opened the throttle and the great Iron Horse began to travel again on the Silver Trail—poor Red Goose didn't know which way to turn.

He was alone in the country of the Blackfeet, sworn enemies of the Ojibwa Tribe, and Red Goose—brave as he was—was fearful of what might happen to him if he were caught.

He started walking slowly down the tracks, which the Indians called the Silver Trail, but hardly was he out of sight of the crude railway station when three husky Blackfeet pounced on him and carried him off to their wicked Chief, Raven Feather.

Raven Feather folded his big red arms and looked down at Red Goose long and searchingly.

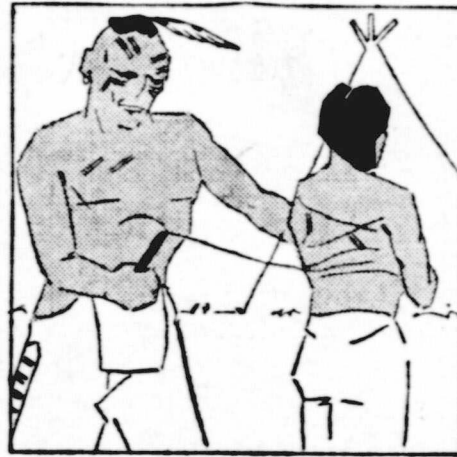

"Humph!" he said—"Little boy is Ojibwa—Raven Feather can tell by his hair.—Beat him!"

One of the big Blackfeet who had captured Red Goose, picked up a long whip and brought it down with stinging lashes, six times on the bare back of Red Goose.

The son of Red Eagle stood erect and though the whip raised big welts on his skin, he neither cringed nor whimpered.

"Ojibwa boy brave," chuckled Raven Feather. "He doesn't cry!"

"Red Goose is the son of Red Eagle—not squaw. Blackfeet can kill Red Goose, but they can not make him cry," was the answer.

"Red Goose is Whipped by the Blackfeet"

This brave retort made big impression on Raven Feather, and after thinking a few minutes, he decided what he would do.

Dismissing the other Blackfeet, he approached Red Goose, looking him over carefully from head to feet.

His eyes lighted with pleasure as he noticed the slim, straight, athletic body, and the round, smooth muscles that rippled under the smooth, firm red skin.

Here was the making of a great Blackfeet Chief, a warrior who would throw fear into other tribes later on. So, smiling cunningly, he said:

"Red Goose is captive of Raven Feather. Raven Feather will not kill the son of Red Eagle, but will make him great Blackfeet Brave. Come!—Red Goose will join Blackfeet Tribe tonight."

ROADS LEAD AS JOB PROVIDERS FOR UNEMPLOYED

"Highway construction is the most effective job creator among public works. For that reason, Federal Aid for roads assumes an important warranting immediate action by Congress."

This statement was made today by C. H. Mooresfield, president of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

"Highway construction offers a distribution of labor perhaps unequalled by any other large industry," declared Mr. Mooresfield. "The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads learned in a thorough study that 90 cents of the road dollar goes to labor.

"State Highway programs, aided by Federal Aid, in 1932 provided employment for over 333,000 men directly on roads. This figure is taken from the contractors' pay rolls. Another 660,000 men were kept busy supplying materials and equipment, with the dependants, state road building gave a means of livelihood to at least four million people.

"Highway building brings to the people of the country over something they need and something that does not have to be sold before used. For these reasons, highways have been given first rank as a provider of jobs.

"Immediate action should be taken by Congress, for Federal Aid authorizations have not been made for the fiscal years 1934-35. The current authorization ends July 1, 1933. Unless Federal Aid expenditures for roads are authorized in the near future the states will not be able to make definite plans for road construction. Federal Aid allotments to the states must be matched by the states. If a Federal authorization for funds is not made soon, states are likely to use their own road funds for purposes other than road building. That would mean a marked increase in jobless men and an increase in doles.

"Last spring the Senate passed a bill that would continue the annual road authorization. All that is now needed is similar action by the House and the President's signature. This done, the states can lay plans immediately to proceed with their full 1933 program and men can resume their jobs. Then the country will at least have one industry proceeding on its normal course, for balanced rations are more necessary than balanced budgets," concludes Mr. Mooresfield.

NO SUCH ANIMAL

Pat was tipping his young friend, Mike, off on what to see when he went to Dublin. "Of course you will be going to the zoo, and I want to give you a word of warning about that," said Pat. "You'll see some foine animals if you follow the directions 'to the Lion,' 'to the Elephant'; but take no notice 'To the Exit,' for begorra, Mike, it's a fraud and it was outside I found myself when I went to look at it."

Economy

is essential—

Economy in the use of Natural Gas is essential as a means of keeping gas bills down.

Economy does not mean stinting. It means using only what is needed to perform useful heating and cooking operations and to check all waste.

The more miles an auto may run on a gallon of gasoline, the greater the fuel efficiency. When the auto engine is allowed to run without moving the machine there is no fuel economy nor efficiency.

When Natural Gas is allowed to burn without performing some useful operation, or when it is allowed to leak at fittings and valves, there is absolute waste.

Send for a Service Man to adjust your gas appliances and test your lines.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

We are so pleased with our improved attendance and interest at all our Sunday services that we want to tell you about it, and extend to every one a cordial invitation to visit with us. Our visitors, in number, is increasing all along, and we appreciate your presence. For the last several Sundays we have had out of town visitors with us. Last Sunday we had visitors from Dallas and Greenville, as well as from nearby towns. Our desire is to make all visitors feel that we have a hearty welcome for all.

Last Sunday, in spite of the fact that a number of our faithful attendants being out of town, on sorrowful missions, and some who were kept at home on account of sickness, we had one of the largest crowds in weeks. The night attendance, too, was especially good, with many new faces in the audience. A new interest and zeal is in evidence in every service, and there seems to be a united determination to press the Lord's work as it should be done. The many handicaps is hindering some, of course, but with coming better weather, and a waning of the usual winter sicknesses, we hope to make even better progress.

The two young peoples classes are doing exceptionally good work. They now meet at 6:15 P. M. The Ladies Bible class attendance and interest is increasing with each Monday afternoon meeting. Our Wednesday night (7:30) Bible study and prayer service is proving a very interesting service. The study of the Corinthian letters is proving unusually interesting.

We extend to all a cordial invitation to be with us in every service.
M. O. Daley.

IN THE DAYS OF OLD

In the days of old,
When the knights were bold
And sheet-iron trousers wore,
They lived in peace,
For then a crease
Would last ten days or more.
In those old days
They had the craze
For cast-iron shirts—and wore 'em
And there was bliss
Enough of this;
The laundry never tore 'em.

What's The Use?

A young man ran for the legislature of Illinois, and was badly swamped.

He next entered business, failed, and spent 17 years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner.

Entering politics again, he ran for Congress and was badly defeated. He then tried to get appointed to the United States land office, but failed.

He became a candidate for the United States Senate and was badly defeated.

He became a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, and was once more defeated.

One failure after another bad failure—great setbacks. Then he became one of the greatest men of America—Abraham Lincoln.

We are glad to report that Mr. Ledbetter is back in school with us this week.

Mr. Hayhurst—Ima George what is the difference between life and love?

Ima George—Life is one fool thing after another and love is two fool things after each other.

Mr. Hayhurst: Ledbetter where did you get that black eye?

Mr. Ledbetter: I kissed a girl pretending it was my wife.

Mr. Hayhurst: Well, what of that?

Mr. Ledbetter: It was my wife!

Mr. Hayhurst: When I go to heaven, I'm going to ask Mr. Hoover why he caused this depression.

Mr. Ledbetter: What if he doesn't go there?

Mr. Hayhurst: You ask him then!

James Parker: What did the monkey say when he caught his tail in the lawnmower?

Sidney: I don't know—what?

James Parker: It won't be long now!!

Mr. Penn: Bert do you know why so many more white men commit suicide than negroes do?

Bert: No, Why?

Mr. Penn: When a white man gets worried he sits down to worry over his troubles. He soon gets distressed and kills himself. But when a negro sits down to worry he goes to sleep!!

Terry County League Members To Par

The list of members school in Terry County Interscholastic League shows as many schools as last year. There are some twenty-two school units registered for competition this year.

The League meet will be conducted on the basis of the four championships provided for in the Constitution and Rules of the League. They are Class A High schools, Class B High schools, Ward schools and Rural schools. There are only two entries this year in the Class A High school Division. Meadow and Brownfield constitute the two. Meadow comes into that class of competition voluntarily for the benefit of the County Meet. This gives her competition with a school that can have a chance with her and permits the smaller class B schools to compete with each other.

The class B High schools in competition this year are Gomez, Tokio, Union, and Wellman, High schools. These four schools will compete for the cup won last year by Gomez. This division promises to have keen interest in this particular championship.

The Ward schools who will be in the race this year are Wellman, Grammar; Tokio Grammar; Meadow Ward; Gomez Grammar; Brownfield Ward and Brownfield Junior High. This group last year had some of the peppiest contests in the meet. Who will win this time?

The largest group of schools is the rural schools. They will compete for the cup won last year by Prairie View. Those listed as members are Harmony, Hunter, Johnson, Lahey, Midway, Needmore, Prairie View and Scudday.

The schools are listed as they appear to be classed by themselves in the payment of dues. In case there is an error in the classification of any school we shall be glad to correct same.

The time of the meet has not been set as yet. There will be a meeting of the executive committee in the Brownfield High School Building, Saturday, February 25th, at 2:30 P. M. for the purpose of planning the League work. Anyone interested in the League work is welcome at this meeting but all directors are urged to be present with all their problems for planning the meet.

One of the regular pioneer physicians is now connected with the Lubbock Sanitarium in the person of Dr. M. C. Overton. To see him in his white jacket visiting patients, one would never suspect that he used to urge two mustangs hitched to a buggy over the "ballies." It is said that he had to have two such teams to make his "mileage." His hobby is a fresh red carnation in his coat lapel each day.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish,—no danger.

Calotabs are sold in 10c and 35c packages at drug stores. (Adv)

HESTER RETIRES

Retirement at the age of 86 of that Grand Old Man of the cotton trade—Henry G. Hester, secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange since its organization in 1871—removes from active life one of the most useful, constructive as well as powerful forces in the world cotton industry. With an almost uncanny genius for statistics Colonel Hester built up throughout his 61 years of active service a reputation for accuracy, fearlessness under fire, frankness where necessary, yet withal that true courtesy and friendliness that mark the gentleman.

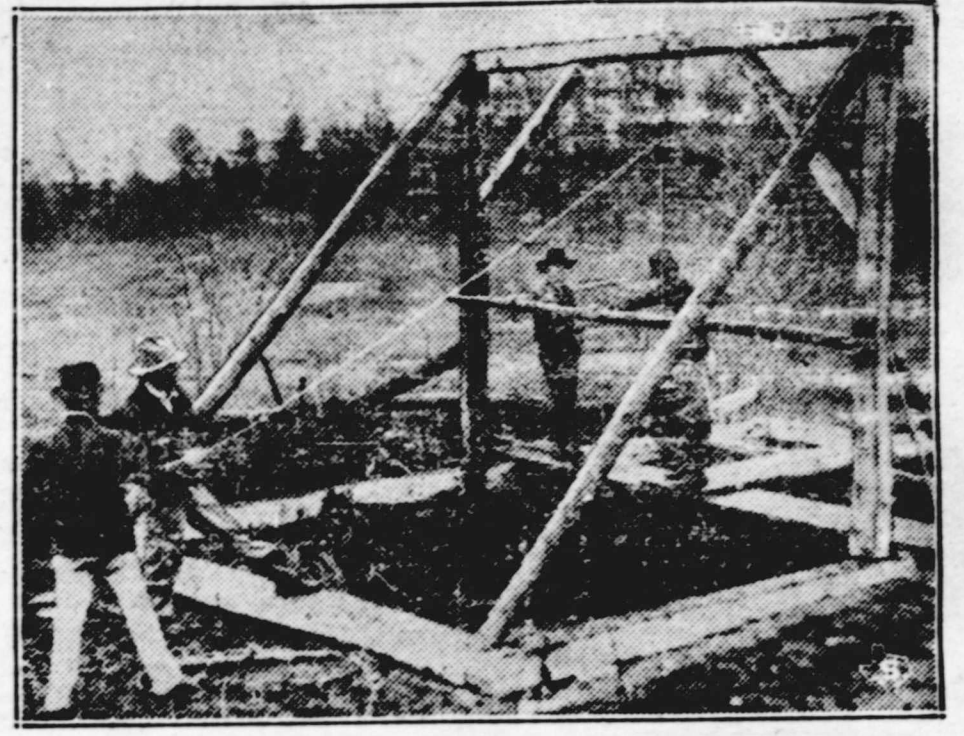

Colonel Hester's name has become a household word in cotton circles in all parts of the world. At the close of the cotton year each August 1, his statistics as to carry-over, consumption and supply enlightened a waiting world. With masterly grasp Secretary Hester fused into one cohesive, challenging report the facts that left little to be desired. It is no wonder that the New Orleans Cotton Exchange throughout six decades maintained him as its active head. Colonel Hester's reputation may be said to amount to veneration, almost reverence among men to whom his dicta were final. It is exceedingly rare for a man to be before the public so long in one capacity and not find himself discredited to some extent. But in Col. Hester's case his authority went unchallenged to the end.

Henry Plauche, for twenty-five years Hester's assistant, fitly has been chosen to fill the place vacated by his chief and doubtless will continue his labors in the traditions so long and admirably established. He will still have the Grand Old Man's counsel because the exchange has named Hester secretary-emeritus. Thus the great work of cotton statistics will go on much as the trade has been accustomed to it and there will be no impairment of confidence in its source.—Dallas News.

WATER IN PLACE OF MEAL HELPS STOMACH

Stomach trouble is often helped by skipping one meal. Drink lots of water. Add a spoonful of Adlerika each morning to clean out poisons in stomach and bowels.—E. G. Alexander Drug Co. Inc., Meadow Drug Store.

Shades of Past in Gold Mine Drama

Alleged discovery of a gold mine abandoned a century ago by Santa Anna, armed interference with operation of the mine, captivity of the foreman, Dan Watkins, and his release by officers are woven into a melodrama of real life in the historical old town of Nacogdoches, in East Texas. Here is the mine shaft, sunk after an aged Mexican came there and found a kettle, an old pistol, and a gun barrel purported to locate the mine. Two farmers were arrested in connection with holding Watkins.

WE MIGHT LEARN SOMETHING FROM MEXICO

Recently it was discovered that 300 Mexicans living in the Panhandle Country of Texas were not citizens of the United States and were in this country in violation of our immigration laws. They were assembled at Amarillo for deportation to their native land. The Mexican government came to their relief, took them back to Mexico and gave them farms on which to live.

At the same time the government of this country and of the various states were taking from the people of the United States their homes and farms for taxes and for the default of interest to the Federal Land Bank.

Maybe the Mexico government is better than we have been led to believe. But things are good or bad only by comparison.—Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

Have you ever noticed how an icicle is formed? If you have, you noticed how it froze one drop at a time until it was a foot or more long. If the water was clear, the icicle remained clear, and sparkled almost as brightly as diamonds in the sun; but if the water was slightly muddy, the icicle looked foul, and its beauty was spoiled. Just so our characters are formed—one little thought of feeling at a time. If each thought be pure and right, the soul, will be lovely and sparkle with happiness; but if impure and wrong, there will be deformity and wretchedness.—Ex.

WHAT DOES MIX WITH 'EM

This seems to be open season on fugitives from the road gangs. The celebrated Burns case has just been closed, and now up bobs Glen Smeeman (Harry Stanley), who has been leading an upright life in Cleveland for the past nine years as manager of a music publishing house. Smeeman was arrested and returned to Colorado prison, from whence he escaped while serving a sentence for theft of an automobile in 1917. As with Burn's rearrest after his first escape, a woman is said to have turned Stanley in. The moral seems to be that "hanging it on a limb" and women don't mix.

The birds have faith in this country. They are always happy.

Keep up your courage. That's something the government can't tax.
