Tottin' water seemed to be the order of the day at Amherst recently when the electric motor that is used in pumping their water from the well to the stand pipe, went to the bad. The old saying is still true, "that we never miss the water till the well runs dry," or in this case, the pumping machinery goes flooey. Then the town men who are used to just turning the spigot, sure ache when they have to go to the barrel at some neighboring windmill.

It was suggested in the Chamber of Commerce column last week that one of the projects to be put on here with government funds, was a golf course. The Herald has no objection to that game, and feel sure that a lot of fun is had in playing the game. But, inasmuch as scarcely one person in fifty play it, or are financially able to equip themselves to play the game, the Herald believes that some project in which more people can take part and use, would be much more appropriate. In view of the fact that our fire fighting equipment is now housed in a crowded building where there is much noise of machinery, we believe that now is as good a time as any to think of building a city hall and fire station. In a few years, with even normal growth, this city will have to build one, and the wherewithal to do the job might be a sight harder than now. What do you think.

We have a very prominent citizen, our fair city who hails from the great old State of Arkansas, and as he frequently visits back there, he keeps in fair touch with the politics and sentiments concerning men and measures in that fine commonwealth. Some one was speaking of the steady sweep of the 18th amendment from the statute book as state after state gave it the blackeye, when this former Arkansas lawyer advanced the idea that Arkansas would be the first state to stop the march of the wet. He informed those about him that there were a few real dries in old Arkansas who would vote dry, and joined by the host of bootleggers, repeal would meet its fatal doom.

The writer was one of the pioneer editors of the Plains. True there are some still editing papers that started the game on the plains before we did, but they have either got rich and retired, or sold out and moved to other sections. Our only senior, perhaps, is James L. Dow, who was writing editorials for the Lubbock Avalanche before we poked our old head over the caprock, but he is now at Wink, which is hardly considered a part of the south plains. We do not give this information boastfully, but just as a preface in leading up to our subject matter. Directly after we came, we saw how inadequately the western part of our state was represented either at Austin or the national capital. In fact we felt then just as we do now, that we were just big steps on to the rest of the state. We got the leavings after the heirs-apparent filled their bellies. And we are quite sure that the Herald wrote one of the first if not the first editorial proposing a division of the state. We were hooted by not only the press in various sections of the state, but were laughed at by home people who could not see a division of the state without again crucifying our hero martyrs of the Alamo and San Jacinto. And to this day, all the argument that has ever been advanced against division is pure sentiment and rot. Lately, we have been joined by scores of other editors and public men who see the injustice to west Texas by the more populous section. We are closer to the capitals of four other states than to Austin, namely, Topeka, Kans., Oklahoma City, Denver and Santa Fe. And may we add that the conditions of the soils, climate and other things of these states are nearer our own than is east and central Texas. It is costing the people of the Panhandle alone, $125,000 annually to make trips to Austin to attend business.

WHISPERS

In New York State for some years it has been a crime to knowingly circulate a false report about the financial stability of a bank. Recently, Governor Lehman approved an amendment to this law extending its provisions to cover false reports about insurance companies and commercial organizations.

This has been done to check, so far as possible the whispering epidemic which has been one of the most dangerous features of the present world depression. The whisper spreads more rapidly than any fever or scourge. Men who gather statistics say that one maliciously uttered remark can spread from a single individual to every person in a city of 100,000 in less than two hours. That is how runs on banks have been precipitated. The whisper plays no favorites.

Often a whisper has nothing more malicious about it than the habit of individuals to pass along hints or rumors that have been imparted to them. However, this innocence of motive does not mitigate the effect of the action. It must be stopped. James A. Beha, general manager and counsel of the national bureau of casualty and surety underwriters, recently characterized the whisper properly when he said:

"A whisper is like a snake and should be treated as such. We crush the head of a serpent, trample it under our heel. We should do the same thing to a whisper."—Ex.

TWO MORE FOR REPEAL

Two more states—Delaware and Nevada—voted to ratify the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment on last Saturday by decisive majorities. This brings the total that have acted so far to eight, and all of them have voted for repeal. During the present month eight more States will express themselves on the question: Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, Iowa, and California. The population of the eight States which already have acted totals 26,450,642. The combined population of the 8 States which will vote during June is 27,068,163. So, within the next four weeks States representing more than 43 per cent of the population of the United States will have acted on the matter. Then during summer months thirteen additional States will pass on the question. They are Maryland, Maine, Oregon, Washington, Vermont, Minnesota, Idaho, New Mexico, Alabama, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Texas. These thirteen States have a combined population of 24,076,085. By the end of September twenty-nine States, with a combined population of 77,595,890, or more the 63 per cent of the total population of the United States, will have acted. Of the twenty-one States yet to vote, thirteen are rated as certain to ratify and eight as doubtful, and it is almost certain that half of the doubtful eight will vote for repeal. The outlook, therefore, is that within the next four months States representing more than a majority of the people of the United States, and having a majority in the lower house of Congress, will have ratified the repeal amendment. Once that happens, it can be taken for granted that there will be no more appropriations for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. That is what we mean when we say that the choice before the country is not whether national prohibition shall be continued or repealed; the choice is repeal or nullification.—Texas Weekly.

2-Cent Postage Applies Locally Only

Believing that a lot of people are like us, thinking the 2 cent postage rate applies to first class mail any where in the U. S., we print this to set you right. Our postmistress, Mrs. Lela Toone, says that the 2 cent applies only to people getting their mail at this office or on any of the routes. Letters intended for other than this office will have to bear a 3 cent stamp after July 1st, the same as now. J. H. Eubanks of Plains, was over Saturday, shopping.

ALIAS CITATION BY PUBLICATION—CLASS 5.

The State of Texas:— To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon the unknown heirs of P. H. Partin, deceased, their heirs and legal representatives, whose names and places of residence are unknown, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, on the Fourth Monday in August, A. D. 1933, the same being the 28th day of August, A. D. 1933, then and there to answer plaintiff's first amended original petition filed in said Court on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1933, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 1665, wherein Nelson W. Willard is Plaintiff, and M. J. Golden, W. E. Kimbell, Mrs. Florence Kimbell, Mrs. N. L. Partin, W. H. Partin, Mrs. Maggie Lile, J. E. Lile, Mrs. Helen Davis, John Davis, Mrs. Eadie Sullivan, G. W. Sullivan, Mrs. Lorena Scott, Omer Scott, and the unknown heirs of P. H. Partin, deceased, their heirs and legal representatives, whose names and places of residence are unknown, are Defendants, and said petition alleging that the Plaintiff is owner and holder of seven vendor's lien notes for $504.00 each, dated November 15, 1920, executed by M. J. Golden, payable to the order of Thos. C. Spearman, and the vendor's and deed of trust liens securing same on the Southwest Quarter (SW 1/4) and the West Half (W 1/2) and the South Half (S 1/2) of the East Half (E 1/2) of the Southeast Quarter (SE 1/4) of Section No. Thirty-two (32), Block DD, containing 280 acres of land, in Terry County, Texas; that said notes liens on the above described property, are past due and unpaid; that as authorized by the Deed of Trust plaintiff has paid $82.88 State interest and taxes on said land, which is also secured by valid lien on said property; plaintiff prays for judgment for the principal interest, and attorney's fees due upon said notes, and for State interest and taxes paid by him, and costs of Court against M. J. Golden and W. E. Kimbell, and for foreclosure of his vendor's and deed of trust liens upon the above described property against all of the defendants, for order of sale, writ of possession, and such other and further relief, both at law and in equity, to which he may be entitled. Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Egg Drying Plant Installed at Abilene

The Abilene Chamber of Commerce announce that the American Dried Egg corporation, a Texas institution, with offices in Dallas and Chicago, had installed a large and modernly equipped egg drying plant in that city with a production capacity of one million pounds of egg powder per year. It will employ 100 people. L. Coquet, who installed the first egg drying plant in the United States in Fort Worth two years ago, is president and general manager of the Abilene concern, machinery for which has been installed at a cost of $25,000.

Clade Hudgens and family have returned from San Angelo where they visited his brother and family for a few days. They report catching all the fish they could eat. They also report that from O'Donnell and past Big Spring, it is sure dry and that they got none of the rains Saturday and Monday.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas:—To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Bert W. Stewart by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, on the Fourth Monday in August, A. D. 1933, the same being the 28th day of August A. D. 1933, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 24th day of June, A. D. 1933, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 1681, wherein Violet Stewart is Plaintiff and Bert W. Stewart is Defendant, and said petition alleging: That for twelve months past Plaintiff was an actual bona fide citizen of the State of Texas, and resided in the county of Terry for the past six months preceding the filing of the petition. That Plaintiff and Defendant were legally married in April, 1925, and lived together as husband and wife until July 1931, and since said time have not lived together; Plaintiff alleges that during the time she and the defendant lived together that defendant was cruel to her striking and beating her and thereby inflicting serious bodily injury which caused great pain and humiliation to such an extent that their further living together is insupportable. That defendant left her in the State of Kansas destitute with two small children to care for. That defendant never supported plaintiff or their children. That they have two children, ages 5 and 7, and plaintiff is asking for the care, custody and education of them. Plaintiff prays for dissolution of the bonds of matrimony, and that she be granted a divorce from defendant, for the care, custody and control of said minor children, for costs of suit and for general and special relief in law and in equity to which she may be entitled to receive. Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, this 24th day of June, A. D. 1933. Eldora A. White, Clerk, District Court, Terry County, Texas.

Mrs. T. G. Allen of Lubbock, is here visiting her son, Wayne Wright Allen.

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

From the issue of July 2, 1910: Harris Happenings: A light shower had fallen in that section, but they still needed more. Robert Shaw and wife had returned from Lubbock, where they visited their mother, who was ill. Dock Powell and A. M. Brownfield were out there prospecting. Harris Bros. were drilling a well for Arch McPhaul.

A program was printed of the second annual South Plains Odd Fellows Association, which was to be held at Tahoka, July 14-15. Uncle Tom DeShazo carried an announcement that he had to carry his son, Shelby, to the mountains of New Mexico, for his health, but hoped the people would not forget him at the primary election for tax assessor.

A rain had been received here, but rather light around Brownfield. Better in other sections of the county. We were rejoicing over the fact that an auto mail line had been established to Big Spring, and remarked that we could then get a communication to Dallas and a reply in three days instead of six. It just takes two days now. Pride Dots: A good rain had visited that section. Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Epperson had gone to Colorado, Texas, where the former was to receive treatment. Locals: J. T. Gainer of Gomez, had passed through on his way to Emma, on business. Judge Neill was stirring out among the voters. Noah Bell and family were in for dental attention. Judge Copeland had withdrawn from the race for county judge. O. C. Belt of Columbus, O., was here looking after his real estate interests. W. C. Smith had become a reader of the Herald and had kept it up 23 years. John W. Gordon had come in and had the Herald sent to his brother, M. G. at Hannibal, Mo. J. J. Kendrick had passed through from Plains, on his way to Spur, on business. Mrs. W. W. Royalty of Lubbock, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. May, of this city. A. G. McAdams of Dallas, and W. B. Atkins, manager of the Lubbock yard, were down inspecting their new yard here. G. A. Whitley of Meadow, was a business visitor in Brownfield. Ed Neill reported that Yoakum county had received a fair rain in most sections. Word Price had returned from Waco where he attended Baylor U. Rev. J. H. Hill of Clovis, N. M., was here visiting his brother, J. R. The foundation for the new addition to the school building had been laid. A bunch of Lubbock boosters were here to encourage this territory to trade in that city. That was likely their first trade trip into Terry county.

On the back page, we find that W. J. Ayers of Big Spring had his auto destroyed when it backfired, igniting the gas. Miss Annie Good of the Spade ranch, had been thrown from a horse and her arm broken. A physician was called from Lubbock to attend her. The first bale of cotton that year was received on the floor of the Houston Cotton Exchange on

Firestone Still Leader In Rubber Industry

Akron, Ohio, June 24.—The Firestone Company, which 21 years ago refused to be merged or consolidated with any other rubber company, continues to be a leader in the rubber industry.

To enable his company to stand alone, Harvey S. Firestone sought both efficient production and efficient distribution, pioneering in the "one-stop service." Firestone supplies the local merchant with tires in each price classification.

BARRY MILLER

In the history of every State there are men whose lives lend color to its politics. Texas, among others, had its Barry Miller—so long a warhorse of campaign and legislation. It will be difficult to envision a Governor's race or a legislative session without him. His physical stature made him an unforgettable figure on the hustings, and, when radio began making inroads on stump campaigning, in spite of advancing age, Barry Miller's voice, trained in half a century of Texas political oratory, commanded for him the ready use of the new instrument.

The veteran of the Democratic party held his long mastery of Texas politics because of his ability, his personal magnetism and his tireless enthusiasm for carrying a fight. The News has not always agreed with Barry Miller, but like all Texans, it admired him as a rugged battler who never quit. He was the friend of his friends, the enemy of his enemies and equally forceful at liking and hating. Infrequently he could be defeated in his own or other's battles—he never was daunted.

Death has called him, and, in the manner of men, he has fought his last battle and takes at last his rest. It will be long, however, before those who fought with or against him in the campaigns that have made political history in Texas forget the fine figure of Barry Miller.

His passing is first-page copy. You can read in many columns that he was a State Senator at 30, a commanding figure at the bar and on the bench of his adopted State, thrice Lieutenant Governor of Texas, and how honors came to him in fraternal and social as well as in political life. But the Barry Miller who loved a good battle would have Texas remember him as a man who never failed to give all that he had to his friends and the causes for which he had fought.—Dallas News.

Willow Wells Worries

The drought in this community is getting to be a very serious proposition. A large number of old timers are wondering what is going to happen next. Not much has been planted, and those new farmers who have planted cotton got it burned up. So I guess we are as well off as any.

The Home Helpers Club were entertained by Mrs. Jock Rouse, Mrs. J. R. Dosier, and Miss Florence Lonis Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dozier. The afternoon was spent in playing games, and two contests were held. Mrs. Welton Willingham and Mrs. Burness Holley were winners. At the close of the afternoon, refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and lemonade were served to about 25 members, and all reported a very enjoyable afternoon. Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. C. J. Bonham on July 20th. Everyone bring their needle and thimble.

Wednesday night a nice crowd enjoyed ring games and "42" in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Welton Willingham. L. D. Austin and Bay Willingham also furnished some good music and singing.

Thursday night was the time of much gaiety in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bonham, where the Home Helpers Club entertained their husbands. The main diversion of the evening was "42." About 20 cakes were brought and about 20 gallons of lemonade, tea and coffee were served during the evening. About 1:15 A. M., everyone departed for home declaring they had spent a most delightful evening.

Friday afternoon our team was defeated on the local diamonds by Gomez. The score was 10 to 9. We hope for better luck next time. A musical was held in the home of Mr. Bandy Friday night. A large crowd attended the dance in the home of Lewis Gary Saturday. There was a party at the McSwain home Saturday night and a nice crowd attended. The party was given in honor of Ruby's birthday. Welton, Wayne and Bay Willingham, Bryan Cutrell, Frank Hayes, Thomas Willingham and Janella Carl attended the ball game at Wellman Sunday, between Wellman and Seagraves.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Carson of Lamesa, spent the week end visiting Mrs. Carson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Willingham and family. T. L. Murray and family spent Sunday in the J. R. Dozier home. Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Sisco of Tokio, were week-end guests of C. D. Hart and family.

Dow Hart is suffering with a badly sprained ankle. He has been unable to go around very much. Friends of W. C. Cutrell will be sorry to hear of his failure to improve much. It is thought at this writing that he will be home to stay in a few weeks.

Bro. Noah Phillips preached at the school house Sunday to a nice crowd. Miss Thelma Bonham is spending a few weeks in the home of her uncle, who lives east of Brownfield. Maxine Hudson of Hill Dale, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Wayne Willingham.

Mrs. Mack and two children, Junior and Pauline, Mrs. Lewis Gary and baby and Miss Marie Rouse, spent a few days last week in the home of Mrs. Mack's daughter, Mrs. Raymond Myers and family.

Frank E. Givan of Hereford, prominent young rancher of that section, and with much holdings in Terry, Hockley and Cochran counties, was down this week, and while here was a caller at the Herald office to renew his Herald, as well as the one going to his mother at Hannibal, Mo. He, like most real business men, can see a steady improvement in conditions. Frank is getting much heavier, but lays it to lots of good milk, and not to home brew.

Miss Vona Lee Ditto and little niece, Miss Beverley Ann Duke, were guests of their aunt, Mrs. Henry, at Lamesa last week.

Red Goose—The Ojibwa

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls
By Carlyle Emery

Episode No. 33

Red Eagle and his warriors are returning to the Ojibwa Village, which has been attacked by the Sioux in their absence. Red Goose is with his father, having gone North to warn the Ojibwa of the coming of the Sioux. Now go on with the story.

Slowly the Sioux were closing in on the Ojibwa Village. Their Chief, Yellow Thunder, had not yet given the signal to attack, but was waiting craftily for his men to get placed in every possible vantage point.

But Yellow Thunder had a big surprise coming. He did not know that Red Eagle and his Warriors had gone North on a hunting expedition, and so he thought they were all trapped in the Village, which he was surrounding with his Red Skins.

Imagine then, his feelings when the Ojibwa Braves came riding in from all directions, filling the air with their war whoops, throwing fear and consternation into the hearts of the Sioux.

For a little while, a fierce battle raged between the two tribes in which many Sioux were killed. Red Eagle quickly found Yellow Thunder and, approaching him fearlessly, said:

"So! Yellow Thunder comes back to Ojibwa Village in war paint."

"Yes," was the reply, "But this is only the first war party. Soon, more Sioux warriors will come—kill all Ojibwa and all Paleface."

"Yellow Thunder makes big talk, but look! Ojibwa have surrounded Sioux. Many of your braves have been killed. Take your men and go home now, and Red Eagle promise no more Sioux shall die."

"Umph. Red Eagle talk like a coward. Yellow Thunder will not go home until Sioux have killed all Ojibwa."

"Then the death of Yellow Thunder shall be his own fault."

"Yellow Thunder shall not die," answered the cunning Sioux Chief, and as he spoke he drew his tomahawk from his belt and swung it high and swiftly through the air.

Almost at the same instant, a rifle shot rang out and Yellow Thunder fell to the ground, badly wounded, his tomahawk falling harmlessly beside him.

Turning quickly, Red Eagle saw his son approaching, his smoking rifle still clutched tightly in his hands.

"Red Goose is a good shot," said the Ojibwa Chief proudly. "His bullet saved the life of his father."

FAIR BUILDING AT LUBBOCK BURNED

Lubbock, June 22.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Agriculture Building at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds here today. Loss was estimated at $4,000.

NEWSPAPERS BRANDED AS "ENEMIES OF GOD"

Lafayette, Ind., June 24.—The Northwest conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church adopted a resolution today declaring "the American newspaper today is one of the chief enemies of the Kingdom of God."

The resolution directed against the newspapers was part of a report on the general situation in this country.

WESTERN SENATOR ATTACKS ADVANCE IN PRICES

Washington, June 24.—Sen. King (Dem.), Utah, planned Saturday to recommend to Atty. Gen. Cummings the prosecution under the antitrust laws of wholesalers and retailers, who he said were hiking prices without reason. He has already taken the matter up with Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the industrial recovery law.

"There has been an unwarranted increase in commodity prices without benefit to the producer," King said, citing particularly rubber products, bread and other commodities.

Leola White, whose home is in Brownfield, Texas, is a guest of Charley and Mrs. Franks. Charley and Peggy as they are familiarly known are proprietors of the Tatum Cafe, one among the most popular eating resorts in this section, and commands a generous business at the hands of the travelling public.—Tatum, (N. M.) Courier.

Rev. Arthur Scuddry and family are moving to Tatum in the near future from Tokio, Texas. The Nazarene church is very fortunate in securing this young man for pastor. He does not come here a stranger as he already has a number of friends in this community. He is a western man and understands western people and we are glad to welcome such a fine family to Tatum.—Tatum (N. M.) Courier.

Mrs. T. I. Brown and children, of Lubbock, were here last week visiting friends.

Frank Ballard, one of our efficient plumbers, called this week to renew.

THE "CONTAGION" OF REPEAL

The Dallas News, surveying the progress of repeal of the Federal prohibition amendment, and noting particularly the performance of Iowa thought to be determiningly dry, asks the question: "Is repeal contagious?" The News suggests that "it is becoming doubtful whether the dries can rally thirteen states to the defense of the amendment."

The "contagion" of repeal ratification is, more than likely, a surface phenomenon arising from the accidental fact that a large number of first-ratifying states were situated in bloc. But even at that, the bloc extends rather fully across the continent, with the further certainty that states soon to ratify will stretch the flanks of wet territory so far as to rest on both oceans. Nevertheless, there is an appearance of an accumulative momentum which suggests the sort of contagion the News evidently had in mind.

There was contagion of this sort, as will be remembered, in the ratification of the prohibition amendment. States, whose people consistently demonstrated small liking for prohibition nevertheless ratified, joining the parade at various stages of the march. It would not be strange if the same sort of enthusiasm should be found playing a part now to the confusion of those it formerly aided.

It is also probable that some of the contagious apparently functioning to hasten repeal arises from the common sense view of citizens which informed us that after a short vacation with the homefolks at Seminole, he would enter with the City-County hospital at El Paso, where according to Texas laws, he must practice two years before becoming a full-fledged practitioner on his own hook.

FDR Throws Influence In Drive to Cut Acreage

Washington, June 24.—President Roosevelt threw his personal influence behind the cotton acreage reduction program today as administrators of the farm act put final touches on plans for beginning Monday an intensive campaign in southern states to cut down this year's output of the crop.

In the preface of an explanation of the plan issued under the president's signature, farmers of the cotton belt were called upon to cooperate in the program under which Secretary Wallace hopes to reduce acreage about ten million acres and cut down this year's potential production from three to four million bales.
