

Chamber of Commerce

—By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

Several activities of importance in which we are vitally interested are being completed at this time, or are being arranged for. Among them being the Cotton Acreage Reduction plan and is probably the most important of them all. And it is going along in a satisfactory manner. In fact, Terry county has exceeded its quota and has still two days to go. Our quota was 26,502 acres and approval by the County Control Committee has been had on 25,000 with more than 2,000 in the hands of the Community Committees that will be passed upon before Wednesday night. The amount contracted represents a fraction above 40%. So there is evidently more acres of cotton up and growing than was thought by anyone prior to the time that the acreage drive was commenced.

However, up to this date (Tuesday) nothing has been heard of the results of the trip that was made to Washington in the interest of the farmers who did not have any cotton up and growing, and in fact, nothing has been heard of the committee, except that they were hopeful of some action. It is very possible that the extension that was given on the time of signing of the contracts, with inspections to be made later, was for the purpose of giving the farmer that had his cotton planted, but not up, a chance to get in on the deal and it is also possible that further extensions will be allowed, but there is nothing official upon which this can be based. However, as it stands, something in the neighborhood of $200,000 will be turned into the hands of the farmer within the next two weeks, in addition to his 6 cent cotton options, and this will beat any crop that we have grown within the last two years and we still have 60% of our cotton up and growing, unless a hail or something else does not interfere with it.

For the past two or three weeks, the writer has been trying to arrange for a meeting with Judge Ely, concerning the program with reference to our highways, but due to the fact that he was appointed to act on the cotton reduction committee and the further fact that transportation was hard to procure and expense money at a low ebb, we had not been able to make the grade. However, after receiving several phone calls from Lubbock, asking us to arrange to send a representative to Austin for the highway commission meet that is slated for this week and also arrange to send several telegrams to the commission asking them to take some favorable action on 137, we decided that as we were pretty well acquainted with him, that a shot could be taken at him by way of telephone. This was done and we were assured by the judge that it was not necessary to send any one to Austin nor to send any telegrams, as 137 was on their construction program and that it would probably be arranged for at the present meeting.

Also talked with him concerning No. 84 and was informed by him that work on No. 84 was not on the present program, but would receive attention by the commission as soon as it was possible to get to it. He further said that he regarded it as one of the important links in the state system and that they were certainly going to give it proper attention. It is my personal opinion that 84 is more valuable to us than 137, especially from a tourist standpoint and to our trade territory west, but at the same time, we are sold on the south portion of 17.

It might be said that East and Central Texas is not going to "hog" the $25,000,000 emergency appropriation. They will only receive their proportionate part.

A Later Report
Report of Cotton Acreage Reduction Campaign, with number of acres contracted and bales optioned up to Tuesday night:
56,000 acres planted and growing
26,456 acres contracted.
$55,233.81 cash, without option.
Average $6.00 per acre.
$108,488.90 cash, with cotton option.

3,996 bales optioned.
Total average acreage production, 115.6 pounds.
Total option average 143.8 pounds
It is estimated that there is about 1,500 acres to be finally passed on, which would place us above our quota. Acreage contracted represents 40 per cent of growing cotton.

The amount of cash that will come to growers on acres contracted is $153,722.71.
Additional amount that may be received by Terry county growers on optioned cotton, based on present market is $79,920.

The Stamps Quartet To Be Here Sunday

Mr. Odie L. Echols, manager of the Lubbock Stamps Quartette and president of the Panhandle Plains Singing Convention, was a visitor at the Herald office Monday. He was on his way to Hobbs, N. M., where he is to conduct a large singing school. Mr. Echols stated to us that they had made several efforts to be at the Terry County Singing Convention, but this is the first time that he had ever been able to definitely state that his singers would be here. They will render selections throughout the day Sunday, at the convention, which meets at the high school auditorium.

Mr. Echols stated that he had notified the other members of the quartet to be here without fail Sunday. They are teaching singing schools in Floyd county this week. The personnel of the quartet are, Clyde Burleson, who formerly resided in Brownfield, 1st tenor; Howard Kidwell, second tenor; Odie L. Echols, baritone; and M. W. Week, basso. Make an effort to hear these singers some time during the day.

C. Sears was in this week and stated that inasmuch as the Methodist meeting would be going on under the tabernacle, the convention would be held at the high school auditorium. He also stated that as usual, the visitors from other counties would be fed, but Terry countians would be expected to bring their own lunch.
Mr. Sears stated that they were looking for some good singers here from several adjoining counties, among which will be some mighty good quartets

Administration Claims Cotton Drive a Success

Washington, July 8.—Farm administrators today officially described the first major program to adjust American farm production downward an "unqualified success" in announcing that cotton growers had signed contracts offering to plow up 5,566,169 acres of their growing crop.

Secretary Wallace at the same time extended the period for growers to sign contracts, which was to have ended tonight, to midnight, Wednesday, and said later extensions would be made if necessary so that every cotton grower would be given a chance to enter the program. They desire to cut the potential crop by at least 3,000,000 bales and Wallace and George N. Peek, chief administrator of the Farm Act, indicated confidence that this goal would be achieved.

Earlier in the day the crop reporting board, in its first cotton estimate this year, report the acreage as of July 1 was 40,798,000 acres, an increase of 11.6 per cent over last year. The board will make its first production estimate in August, but on the basis of the long-time average yield in the Cotton Belt of one-third of a bale to the acre, this would indicate a potential crop of about 13,500,000 bales.

Four Terry Tech Students Make Good

According to a report sent to the Herald by Texas Technological College, four of the students from Terry county have made extra good grades up there the past term. The four students and their grades are given below:

Ira Lee Watkins of Meadow, made the spring term honor roll with an average grade of B-plus in 15-17 term hours work.

Orville Watkins of Meadow, made the spring term honor roll with an average of B-plus on 15-17 term hours work.

Mrs. J. T. Auburg of Brownfield, made the spring term honor roll with an average of B on 18 term hours work.

Miss Christova Sawyer of Brownfield, made the spring honor roll with an average grade of B-plus on 15-17 term hours work.

Don't Plow Up Cotton Till Authorized To

College Station, July 10.—Questions and answers are the order of the day at the Extension Service building, where the cotton campaign heads up for the entire state, according to H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent, who was designated by Director O. B. Martin to have charge of the campaign.

Indicating an eagerness to cooperate with the Secretary of Agriculture, farmers begin firing in the inquiry, "when can we begin to plow up our cotton" even before the "offer contract" was in their hands. The answer to that was and is "not until the offer contract" was in their hands and had been signed by the farmer, inspected by the local committee, approved by the county committee, and accepted by the Secretary.

Human enough is the ever recurring question, "when do we get the money?" To which the answer comes back in a business like way, "not until the offer to plow has been accepted by the Secretary, the farmer has plowed under his cotton and the local committee has certified his actual compliance with his share of the contract." In other words, not until the contract has been entered into and its terms complied with, will any money or cotton-change hands, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has come to the Secretary's assistance and supplied him with cash with which to secure the cotton bought by the old Farm Board to be used in the option contract where the farmer chooses that form of payment.

Calling to the eye of the imagination rolling acres of Texas cotton land stretching away in endless vista comes the question, "if a farmer owns cotton land that runs in two counties does he regard the county line and deal with two county committees or may he sign up with one or the other committees?" And perfectly in accord with the traditional feeling for local self-government the typical Texan has, back comes the answer, "each county is organized as a unit to handle the lands within its boundaries. Land to be retired must be inspected by the local committee responsible for the work in the county where the land is situated and approved by the county committee, unless there is an understanding between the two county committees."

A. B. Sander Named Scout Commissioner

Littlefield, July 8.—A. B. Sanders, who comes here as superintendent of the Littlefield Independent School district the first of the school year, was elected district Boy Scout commissioner to Lamb and Bailey counties.

Mr. Sanders, both at Brownfield and at Ralls where he previously served, was active in Boy Scout work, as scoutmaster and a leader. He has been a member of the area council since 1925.

Recently Bailey county was added to the South Plains area, the scout work there transferred to this area.

LARGEST CITRUS CROP ON RECORD FORESEEN

Westlaco, July 10.—With its earliest and largest crop on record in prospect for the coming season, the lower Rio Grande valley is making preparations for handling its 1933-34 citrus crop.

The crop is expected to approximate 15,000 carloads, and the fruit is expected to be ready for market the latter part of August. An earlier opening of the shipping season may be sought according to shippers.

Contracts for Acreage Reduction Piling In

BY J. SAM LEWIS

Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer
With two-thirds of the cotton acreage in 17 South Plains counties under the caprock that is to be plowed under already secured by contract, county agents and others were of the opinion Saturday that the area's quota of 410,000 acres would be reached.

Check made with the several agents in the counties shows a total of 277,000 acres already contracted for, with an additional 135,000 acres expected.

Two Over Top
Two counties, Lamb and Garza, were over the top with three other counties without an assigned quota having reported approximately 6,000 acres.

Lamb county's quota of 32,000 acres to be plowed under was exceeded 137 per cent, with indications of an additional 10,000 acres. Garza county's 15,000 acre quota was exceeded by 4,000 acres with prospects of another thousand, making the excess one third of the total.

Lubbock Incomplete
Lubbock county's figures were incomplete but O. G. Tumlison, county agent, estimated contracts in the office would approximate 40,000 acres and that additional contracts would add 20,000 more acres or 4,000 above the quota.

County	Quota	Contracted
Bailey	22,000	9,263
Cochran	5,400	3,600
Crosby	55,000	40,000
Castro	5,000	4,000
Briscoe	none	1,500
Dawson	52,000	8,000
Floyd	20,000	8,974
Gaines	5,000	1,418
Hale	24,000	14,000
Hockley	26,500	20,000
Lamb	32,000	75,898
Lubbock	55,000	40,000
Lynn	56,000	13,000
Swisher	no quota	1,976
Terry	26,502	14,870
Yoakum	no quota	2,500
	410,000	277,000

Probable Totals
Reports indicated probable totals as follows: Lynn county would plow under approximately 36 per cent of its total acreage of 200,000; Terry will reach 40 per cent, and would be more had not drought conditions prevailed at this time; Gaines, many contracts out of 1,700 acres pledged turned back because of too high yield reported; Hale county expects to contract between 35,000 and 40,000 acres.

Hockley county expects 35,000 acres pledged and would be more but for present crop conditions; Cochran county will not exceed quota owing to short acreage; Dawson county expects to reach 20,000 acres under contract; Bailey county expects to reach 25,000 acres; Crosby county will probably reach 45,000 to 50,000 with quota considered a little high; Briscoe county expects to reach 2,500 acreage; Castro county to reach 4,000 acres; 3,644 more acres in Swisher county not yet approved but offered.

Colorado Minister to Hold Johnson Meeting

The Herald has been requested to announce that Elder J. D. Harvey, of Colorado, Texas, will hold the revival meeting for the church of Christ at the Johnson school house, beginning tonight (Fri.) 14th, and continuing over the 4th Sunday.

Bro. Harvey has a wide reputation as a speaker and a Bible student, and the Johnson church cordially invites you to attend all services possible.

What we love, we see, and what we see, that we are.—Dean Ingle.

Roswell-Bronco Highway May Be Oiled

If present plans work out the highway that leads from Bronco, Texas, to Roswell, via Tatum, will be oiled in the very near future, making it one of the best all-weather roads in the state. On top of this, plans are being worked out for hardsurfing the road between Bronco and Brownfield, and from Brownfield to Lubbock.

When this work is completed a greater volume of tourists during the winter will be routed through this place, and will assure for the town a greater volume of business, besides bringing a larger number of people in direct contact with our beautiful valley.

As things now stand, our highways are our main arteries of commerce, due to the fact that the depression has stifled railroad building, and it is not likely that steel rails will be laid into this section until hard times and poor business has abated. However, the excellent roads of the state have given us splendid service that is equal to rail service, and perhaps, in our case, better. We have five mails a day, and through busses that connect with international lines, and reach across the continent, traverse our territory four times daily. Hence it is an easy matter to see why we are interested in good, all-weather roads.

Roads and highways mean to us what railroads mean to other sections. Give us good roads and we have a constant outlet without trouble, and over all-weather roads there are few obstacles that would be encountered by the tru busses, as the winters are seldom severe, and there are few days that are not pleasant enough for comfortable travel in a closed car, and the thing that confronts us occasionally, and disrupts our otherwise perfect is mud and severe rain spells. Too, the road from Brownfield to Bronco not being paved, divert a great deal of travel over other routes that we otherwise would get.

In the matter of tourist travel, Tatum is well prepared to take care of a large volume, having at the disposal of the travelers some of the best and most up-to-date tourist camps in the state, to say nothing of our unequalled hotel facilities.—Tatum, (N.M.) Courier.

Methodist Revival Begins Sun. at Tabernacle

Our revival begins Sunday. The morning worship will be the first service, and the Sunday School will also be held under the tabernacle. Rev. Frank Simms, one of our Terry county boys will do the preaching. Rev. Simms is a great preacher and a true christian, and he comes to put his best efforts in the meeting for us. We are expecting each and every member of the church to be in their place and do whatsoever they can to bring about one of the best meetings Brownfield ever had.

We invite all christians to join us in this campaign. We will be glad to have you, and shall expect your co-operation. This will not be a campaign for membership to our church, but a campaign for lost souls. Not that we would not appreciate receiving anyone who may come for membership in our church, for we will be only too glad to receive you. But the main purpose of the meeting is the salvation of the lost.

We extend a cordial invitation to all to come and worship with us, Sunday School at 9:45 in the morning. Worship at 11 A. M.
—Ed Tharp, Pastor

Fire Damages Snappy Service Station Sun.

What might have proven a very serious fire was quickly extinguished by the firemen Sunday soon after the noon hour, when they answered a hurried call from the Snappy Service Station that had a big gas fire out in front. Most of the damage was to the pumps.

It seems that Ernest Burnett was taking a load of friends to the ball game at Tahoka, and stopped there to refuel his car. We did not learn whether any gasoline was spilled or not. Anyway some had accumulated and the backfire from his car ignited it, and soon the space under the shed was a mass of flames.

Telford Tells About His Trip o Cool Col.

Mon. Telford dropped into the Herald office one day this week to tell us some of their escapades on their recent trip to northern New Mexico and southern Colorado. And according to his version, he had plenty thrills to last them for quite awhile, and some of the prettiest natural scenery in the United States.

They first visited his sister, who lives somewhere about the north central part of New Mexico, where the valleys are narrow and the mountains and canyons tall. They had a great time here, but said it rained seven inches in two days while they were there and it washed big rocks, or rather loosened them from the mountain side, and they had to do a lot of road work before they could get out to leave. He reports that his sister and brother-in-law were snow bound on the ranch for over a month last winter.

They next visited his brother, Byrch, who has been working on the T. O. ranch out from Raton, N. M., for the past several years. This big ranch belongs to an easterner, and comprises some 200,000 acres, with about 4,000 head of cattle on the range. The ranch is laid out in a long street which is gravelled and has nice shade trees on each side. Almost ice cold water is piped down from the side of the mountain to the some 12 or 14 houses along the street, which contain from four to 12 rooms each. Mon says this spring would furnish almost enough water for Brownfield.

All the houses have all modern conveniences except lights, and they have a good grade of gas light, a good substitute for electricity. A huge concrete dam is thrown across a mountain stream some two miles from the headquarters, making a lake perhaps 15 feet deep at the dam, and about a mile long. The dam contains gates that can be regulated as the operator likes, and the water is used to produce alfalfa, prairie hay, oats, etc., for the ranch. Mon says he never saw prettier cattle than they have on the ranch, but as soon as an animal gets a bit poor or its hair don't look just right, it is put on this feed. The lake is well stocked with bass and rainbow trout. Mon Junior hung one that weighed seven pounds, and it was a tug of war to see whether Mon Jr. would be pulled in the lake or land the fish. Junior won by a small margin.

The families on the ranch did not have enough children to have a public school, so two widow women who lived in town and had no jobs, were moved to the ranch and their larger children given jobs on the farm part of the ranch. Byrch's wife has the job as teacher. The widow women get their rent free, and Mon says all the ranch hands show them special consideration.

After a few days on the ranch, Mon and wife and son, Mrs. Telford's niece, Miss Lucile Webb of Roby, who accompanied them, with Byrch and wife and child, loaded on the camping apparatus, and struck for the mountains of southern Colorado, and finished at the snow line. Mon tried his luck with mountain trout, but said the water was so swift his hook would always bounce out. Byrch had better luck as he had more experience fishing for them. Mon says that he got pretty dizzy himself when he could look down the side of the mountain and see from three to seven roads below. But he got his real thrill when he came to the bridge over Royal Gorge.

He says that this bridge is some 1100 feet from the waters of the Arkansas river, and he thought it was some little mountain stream about ten feet across. The Santa Fe railroad looked like a kids play train track down there and he thought it was just a tram or something to carry visitors up stream a piece. But when they reached the river, he could not throw a rock across it, and it was roaring so loud you could hardly hear one talk. And of course the railroad was full standard gauge. But while looking down was when he got his thrill. All kinds of bugs and worms began to crawl up his back, and he thought some one was tickling the bottom of his feet. Mon says he didn't look long.

The mountains abound in mountain lion, bears and elk. The later is thoroughly hated by the cattleman, as he will become frightened and plunge through a fence, tearing it up for perhaps a hundred feet. As to the mountain lion and bear, Mon leaves it up to Lucile to tell you of them, and how bravely she faced the foe.

Pioneer Ranchman Passes in Missouri

Only a brief message was received from Frank E. Givan, who was then at Amarillo, on his way to attend the funeral of his uncle, Tuesday directly after noon. This message simply stated that Martin G. Gordon had passed away at Hannibal, Mo., and that he would be buried there. Reading between the lines, we would guess that Mr. Gordon had died rather sudden Tuesday morning some time, and that Frank had left here for Hannibal as soon as he received the wire.

It will be remembered that the Herald carried an article some 3 weeks ago stating that Mr. Gordon was leaving for Hannibal to spend some time with his sister, Mrs. Mary E. Givan, who lives there. That was the last time this pioneer ranchman was seen by his Terry county friends.

Mr. Gordon came here some 30 ago, and bought land, and leased other lands, and with Ray Brownfield and John Long, ran cattle on some 70 odd sections of land in the southwest part of Terry county. Therefore Ray Brownfield would be better informed than any other man here, perhaps to say what kind of a man Mr. Gordon was. With all the dealing he would naturally have with another running cattle on the same ranch, and as intimately connected as he was with him in a business way, for several years, Ray says that they never had the least friction whatever and that he always found him the soul of honor, a square shotter and always carried an optimistic outlook on life.

Like his brother, the late John W. Gordon, he never married, and so far as the writer knows, all the close kin that survive him is his sister, Mrs. Givan and family.

Mr. Gordon, who was around 70 years of age, has been too feeble the past few years to be actively engaged in business, and his nephew, Frank E. Givan has been looking after his affairs. Mr. Gordon's good natured smile will be greatly missed by his many friends here.

Troup 45 to Hold Court of Honor Tonight

On Friday evening, July 14, at 8 o'clock, Troup 45 of Brownfield will have a court of honor. Advancements will be awarded to James Burnett, Clifton Jones, Bill Hardin, Bill Savage, Chester Stewart, Kyle Adams and Richard Kendrick. Some 20 odd merit badges will also be given to these boys and to Wayne Mullins.

Everyone is cordially invited to come out and see the campfire Court of Honor. The fire will be started by one of the scouts without the use of matches. A program has been arranged for the occasion, and you will enjoy this hour with the boys. We want you to be there.

The fire will be lighted near the Scout Hall east of the school ground.

Last of the Babicora Steers Out This Week

Twenty-one cars of Hearst steers from the Babicora ranch in old Mexico, that have been fed here this past winter and spring, were loaded out Sunday, and we understand were all billed to Los Angeles, as that has proven heretofore to be the best market for these finished steers as well as hogs, as most of our hog buyers also ship to that market.

There was about 26 cars left, and it is presumed that a special train that came down Tuesday picked them up, thus ending the season feeding here by the Hearst interests.

But Mr. Barbee, manager of the feeding project here indicates that they will feed out here again this winter if a corn and feed crop is made.

ABERNATHY CHILD HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH BY POISON

Abernathy, July 8.—Patricia Lou, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Pulliam, living on a farm near Monroe, south of here, narrowly escaped being poisoned to death recently when she ate six strychnine tablets.

The girl's parents observed her munching them and rushed her to a physician here. The doctor hurriedly administered and antidote and she threw off the poison. Latest reports were to the effect the girl was recovering.

There really isn't such a thing as a real pessimist.—Henry Ford.

The Official paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield.

The thermometers stood 109 in the shade here Wednesday afternoon. Made one want to experience just a tiny touch that old boy that hit us like a ton of brick right off the north pole last February.

It is said by those who have been out to get farmers to sign up for acreage reduction in Terry county, that very few are holding back. But in some sections they are having a hard time getting the county's quota. We wonder if any farmer thinks that if they lay down on the government and there is no acreage reduction, that they will get nine cents for their cotton? It will be nearer five cents if it isn't reduced.

C. B. McCormack, son of R. H. McCormack of this city, who formerly was editor and publisher of the Levelland Herald is back in the game again. After running a fruit farm in New Mexico several years, he has traded for the Penasco Valley News at Hope, N. M. One of the first issues under his management reached us last week, and we found it a very interesting paper.

We don't know what other people may think, but so far as the Herald is concerned, the new local 2 cent letter rate is a hoax, fake and farce. We've done got used to telling our rural route friends all we want them to know on a 1 cent post card, and who wants to make it 2 cents when the other is just as good. We are just about fed up on looking at that doggoned old purple 3 cent stamp. We always did hate purple.

Thurber, once a thriving brick and coal town, has been deserted and the headquarters of both industries moved to Fort Worth. Perhaps for the past few years there has been little demand for Thurber brick, and natural gas has taken the demand for their coal. In fact, their coal was always an inferior grade, and used only when Colorado and New Mexico coal could be obtained. It also shows that gradually most of the big industries are centering their headquarters in the big cities.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal says that the treasuries of both the wets and dries in Texas are empty, and they feel that there won't be very much of a campaign in Texas to tear up community peace. But Editor Guy has not been in Texas long or he'd know better. Texas can raise more hell on a credit than most any other state can on cash. Besides, what's the columns of the Avalanche and the Herald for but for them to use free? And both sides will make full use of the "Peepul's Colymuns."

Right straight down the line the wets are parading one after another of the states in the wet column, and smashing the 18th amendment like nobody's business. Just why there has been such a change in sentiment in the past few years, few will hazard a guess. Even Oklahoma, always regarded as one of the driest of the dry slashed all precedent Tuesday by voting for beer by perhaps 100,000 majority. If the Herald had a guess coming, it would be that the people have become tired of just a few politicians telling them what they should or should not have. This domineering spirit of those who believed they had all the doors locked and sealed, even went so far as to try to block a vote this year. We know that many wires were sent from this town right here telling Representative Thomas and Senator Duggan to vote against submission. So, to our mind, the people have become tired of this dictatorial policy of the extreme dries, and it may take years for the dries to regain ground they have lost by this domineering attitude. It remains to be seen. Even so, most American still regard themselves as freemen and not serfs and have decided that they will show the dictators so at the polls.

The Snyder Signal had a pen and ink sketch on their front page last week drawn by one of their local artists, and did well for an amateur, even to details. It showed a young guy out in front of a beer parlor with one bottle hoisted in the attitude of a toast while another bottle layed in fragments at his feet. He was gripping a light post with his free hand to steady himself. He must have been raising a rough house, for no other soul was in sight either on the street, peeping out of windows or around door facings. Even "the law" was nowhere in sight. But the worst detail we noticed was that the light standard was straight. Usually the cartoonist depicting a drunk has the sustaining light standard rather well bent. Which all reminds us of the plasterer we saw in Anson one time. It used to be the habit of plasterers and bricklayers, or at least some of them to knock off Saturday afternoon for the weekly spree. He was well shot early in the afternoon and came in contact with one of those old fashioned 2 inch pipe that formerly supported awnings over the sidewalks. The awning support gave the more or less meandering drunk a rather hard slap on the side of the head, and it was greatly resented by the inebriate. He stood for just one half minute and eyed the pipe as best he could, and with an oath, he asked the pole if it thought he couldn't go around it. And suiting action to words he showed it that he could, by hugging it with both arms.

WHAT HOME BREW DOES

Somebody sent the editor of the Pickett Gazette a few bottles of home brew. The same day he received for publication a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale. Here's the result as printed in the paper:

William Smith and Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my farm a mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about 70 guests, including two milch cows, six mules and one bob sled. Reverend Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope and the bridal couple left on an extended trip with terms to suit the purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with one good buggy and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some chickens.—Scandia (Kans.) Journal.

R. C. Burleson was in from the farms Monday, and informed us that he had received good rains, and had rented his farms to people over in the dry belt in the Willow Wells section.

Mrs. Emily Quiet of El Paso, spent last week here the guest of relatives and friends.

PRAISE FOR FERGUSON FROM THE MIGHTY

In the State Press column of the Dallas News of June 29th, J. J. Taylor comments fairly, justly and also thusly:

"We now have a hectic communication from an angry, though anonymous customer with a Dallas address. He, or she, is not mad at State Press. Heaven forbid that anyone should conceive anger toward the co-ordinator of this column whose obduracy may sometimes approach contumacy, but who perhaps would have no fixed principles even if there were any such thing as fixed principles. In a recent Dallas Journal, the cartoonist had Old Man Texas asking, 'is my face red?' I answered, if it isn't, it ought to be. If the old codger had any sense of shame he would be red all over." That red hot indictment induced State Press to read further, and find out what the matter might be. And it developed that our indignant customer of this morning was embittered over "two Governors for the price of one." It is too late to indignify over that more or less controversial bargain. The people of Texas wanted two governors and are about as well satisfied with their two governors as they ever were with one governor. Every governor is subject to criticism from the just and unjust, but it can be said, that there has been less condemnation of the present State administration than of many which preceded it.—From the Clarendon Leader.

THE POPULARITY OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

How could he help being popular? Here is a man who has worked night and day for months, under strains that would break the heart and nerve of a weaker man. Now, he takes a brief vacation; and his idea of a good time is to steer a small boat through a heavy storm off the coast of New England. Even in a family devoted to a "strenuous life," that is a startling amusement; yet is half the story. When Theodore Roosevelt hunted bears in the Rockies, he was in pink of condition. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in the flush of exulting manhood, was stricken with infantile paralysis, and paralyzed from the waist down. It took him agonizing efforts, hours each day for months, to win back the power to "wriggle his foot." Most men, stricken with such a calamity and owning wealth enough to be comfortable, would think themselves venturesome if they voyaged forth in a wheel chair with a nurse in attendance. President Roosevelt steers a boat through a storm for the fun of it. The gay courage of Franklin D. Roosevelt is a blessing and an encouragement to the whole country. Popular? How could he help it?—Lockney Rotary Buzzer.

J. H. Howell says there are still a few fellows out in the Challis community who think it will rain some of these days.

After 24 years, the street cars in Wichita Falls gives way to motor buses. They had only had street cars a few months when we were there in 1910, and they were still rather proud of them then.

KAHN'S PATRIOTISM

The "patriotism" and "strong national sentiment" which prevails in most financial circles was illustrated by an impromptu talk which Otto Kahn gave some newspapermen Wednesday afternoon.

"Yes, I was born in Germany, and then I became an Englishman," he said. "I had been in England about five years, and they told me if I become naturalized they'd make me president of a bank. I thought that an excellent idea. So I signed on the dotted line—just like you do on an income tax return. "I held that job for only three weeks, and then I got an offer to come to America. The Americans said they'd give me a really good job. So I quit the English bank, quit being an Englishman and came to this country. I've liked it fine. But, if I'd had better opportunity elsewhere, I probably would have become a Chinaman or a Turk."

That Plaintiff and Defendant were legally married in April, 1925, and lived together as husband and wife until July 1931, and since said time have not lived together; Plaintiff alleges that during the time she and the defendant lived together that defendant was cruel to her striking and beating her and thereby inflicting serious bodily injury which caused great pain and humiliation to such an extent that their further living together is insupportable. That defendant left her in the State of Kansas destitute with two small children to care for. That defendant never supported plaintiff or their children. That they have two children, ages 5 and 7, and plaintiff is asking for the care, custody and education of them. First Bale Race Evens Football Grudge

Challis Chats

What crops we have in this part of the county are growing very slow on account of dry, hot weather. Some few of the farmers had enough cotton up to sell from 25 to 50 per cent of what was up. While others have it planted and it can't come up until we get rain.

Mr. Tolbert Marchbanks of Detroit, Texas, was here last week visiting his mother who has been very sick for some time.

Those on the sick list this week are Mrs. M. P. Gates and Mrs. Abney.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil George and Mrs. Ada Howze, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. J. George, Sunday.

Uncle Joe Bryant from Union, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Bayne Price and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Evans had as their guest Sunday, his brother, Mr. Elco Evans and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Brock, of Brownfield.

Mrs. Bursan of Brownfield, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. Money Price and family.

Mesdames Cecil George, Edwin and J. H. Howell, spent the day with Mrs. Howze, last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dol Jones of Aspermont, visited with their uncle, Mr. Jim Jones and family, last week.

Those who visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Money Price Sunday, were, her brother, Dick Bursan and family, of Forrester, and Ralph and Wayne D. Howell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lense Price visited their daughter, Mrs. Earl McCutcheon of Ropes, Sunday.

Mrs. Jimmie Langford entertained the quilting club Friday evening. Three quilts and a nice door stop were made. Refreshments consisted of chicken sandwiches, cheese nibbles and ice tea and cake.

We are still having good Sunday School and singings each Sunday morning and night. You are invited to come.

"UNCLE ELI" GOLF

Uncle Eli's oldest son got the idea into his head that it was time he learned to play golf, so as to get plenty of exercise. Uncle Eli told him that he could get just as much exercise chopping wood as he could from playing golf.

"Oh, no, father," said the son; "it's the walking between the strokes that provide such wonderful exercise; it strengthens the legs as well as the arms."

"Oh, that's it, is it?" said uncle Eli, and then he went out in the yard and placed sticks of wood at intervals all around it. When he had got this all arranged he handed the boy an ax and said: "Now play the full course."

MIGHT BE AN IDIOT

A clergyman, annoyed by people talking and giggling, looked at the disturbers, and said: "Some years since, as I was preaching, a young man was constantly laughing, talking and making uncouth grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service a gentleman said to me: 'Sir, you made a great mistake; that young man is an idiot.'"

"Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave in chapel lest I should reprove another idiot."

During the rest of the services there was good order.

RURAL CARRIERS GIVEN WARNING

A special congressional committee of the house of representatives, Washington, agreed unanimously to ask the federal civil service commission for an order "causing all civil service employees to refrain from engaging in other occupations." Rep. McClintic, democratic leader of Oklahoma, is chairman of the committee. He said government employees "should be willing to allow the unemployed a free hand in seeking available positions without this kind of unfair competition."

The Oklahoma representative traveled all the road. He stressed that rural carriers were not allowed to engage in other businesses and this is "a precedent sufficient to warrant an order which will take care of many who are unemployed." All of which may be harsh but it is logical and humane.

In its last analysis the order means that a government employee should not hold two jobs at the same time with millions of men and women who are willing to work unable earn their bread.—Abilene Times.

Mrs. Marriam is here from Austin, visiting her brother and sister, Judge Neil and Mrs. Stewart and families.

The greatest crowds in its history attended the Cowboy Reunion at Stamford last week. This reunion and rodeo is becoming almost as well known as those in the northwest.

A GOOD CHANCE FOR A CIRCUS

The Tahoka Produce Company has in its display window a rooster that is somewhat handicapped when it comes to rustling for a living. This rooster has no bill. His mouth looks more like the mouth of a horse than that of a fowl; and Mr. Jones says that he drinks like a horse. Not only does he have a hard time picking up grain, seeds and other food but it is also a little difficult for him to pick at his own skin as all normal roosters do occasionally. Still, this bird is reasonably fat and looks healthy.

This rooster is also somewhat handicapped in his personal appearance. He has no comb and no gills. He must be an object of contempt among his barnyard companions, for every normal rooster is proud of his comb. Having no mirror in his apartments, however, this rooster is perfectly unconscious of his pitiable aspect. But a lot of men are very much like that rooster; we are not able to see ourselves as others see us.—Lynn County News.

ANNOYING A LADY

We newspaper people can be insufferable nuisances, at times. We lose our sense of proportion and go to extremes in the search for what we are pleased to call news.

We have in mind the Roosevelt divorce case. Mrs. Roosevelt, good scout that she is, made a brief announcement at Los Angeles that her son Elliot and the latter's wife would get a divorce on the ground of incompatibility. She gave all the information essential to the story, and said that she would have nothing to add to her announcement, then or later.

All the same, the reporters just couldn't resist the temptation to dig. Every time the Roosevelt plane came to a landing, reporters questioned her about the divorce. With that good sense and gentleness that form a part of her nature, the wife of the president reiterated her former announcement, almost word for word, and again added that she would say nothing more. The first such incident should have shut the news hawks up, but it did not. The fact that Mrs. Roosevelt had been perfectly fair with them, and that the wife of the president of the United States should not be annoyed, did not stop them. They persisted.

There is nothing to be gained by making a sensation out of the Roosevelt divorce. It seems to be quite the ordinary and usual thing of its kind. The fact that one of the principals is the son of the president is just incidental. The wife of the president and the president himself should not be subjected to needless and perfectly silly annoyances about it.—Abilene News.

Cleve Holden and Mr. Dill of Sudan, were visitors in the Stricklin home Sunday afternoon. Mr. Holden came down to see relatives from Arizona and California, whom he had not seen in several years.

WHO IS EDUCATED?

Amidst confusion among various schools of thought regarding present-day education, it is really difficult to find a satisfactory yardstick with which to measure the illusive individual, the educated man.

Many hold the view that no one is truly educated unless he is familiar with the classics, proficient in several languages living and dead, versed in higher mathematics, and so on. Another school, while reorganizing the desirability of a classical education when circumstances permit, denies that the classicists have license to lord it over their more practical brethren, or to lay exclusive claim to real education.

In this connection a thought expressed by the Boston philanthropist, Edward A. Filene, is pertinent. He declares that "the educated mind today is the mind which best learns how to use the knowledge in existence, particularly those truths which apply to the thing which he is doing."

And that seems to be a very good definition.—Wellington Leader.

Co-Ed Slain, Fiance Shot on Lonely Road

Miss LeDee Hammond of Kosse, Texas, was shot to death and her fiance, Ervin Conway of Bryan, Texas, was wounded on a highway near Bryan, when two men and a woman stopped them at an underpass to rob them. Conway stopped when the woman, apparently alone and in distress, flagged him. The two men ran out of the dark and opened fire at once. Conway, shot and beaten, drove Miss Hammond to a Bryan hospital before he learned that his bride-to-be was dead.

At left is his friend, 13-year-old Jack Thurman of San Antonio who is riding with him, and in center his colleague in passing the bill, Rep. A.W. ### Red Goose—The Ojibwa

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls
By Carlyle Emery
Episode No. 35

Little Beaver is ill and the Medicine Man up North with his Otter Tribe, near the Lake of Pines, Red Goose pleads with his father, Red Eagle, to let him go and bring the Medicine Man back, but Red Eagle says, "No my son, it is too far and too cold. Even a grown man could not make the trip. Wow go on with the story."

"How! Red Eagle."
"How! Sun-on-Mountain. Have you seen my son, Red Goose?"
"Umph! Red Goose come to play with Little Beaver this morning. Little Beaver is sick, so Red Goose went away."
"Yes, I know. Red Goose wanted to go for the Medicine Man, but I told him the trip was too long for this cold weather."
"Son-on-Mountain told him the same thing."
"Red Goose has not been to the lodge all day. It is now sundown, and there is a cold wind, but Red Goose is not in the Village."
"Maybe he has gone for the Medicine Man."
"That would be foolish. The Medicine Man is far away. I told him so. He would die before he could reach him."
"That is what Sun-on-Mountain said, but Red Eagle must remember his son is very brave."
Sun-on-Mountain was right. Red Goose was brave and he was loyal, too. The more he had thought about Little Beaver, the more certain he had been that the Medicine Man was the only one who could save her life. He knew that his father had great wisdom, but nevertheless, he felt that he could make the trip to Lake of Pines.

A light snow had started falling and as Red Goose tramped around through the Village on his snow shoes, he kept saying to himself over and over again, "Little Beaver is sick. She must not die."
Then, as he suddenly made up his mind, he changed direction, and headed for the home of the Otter Tribe and plunged into the blizzard that was now well under way.

The storm increased in its fury as the falling snowflakes became hard and icy cold. The cold penetrated through his warm clothing and began to chill his very bones.

As the hours went by, his strength grew less and less, until with one long cry for help and one big sob of despair, he fell head first into a big snow bank.

And it was just at that moment that his father and Sun-on-Mountain were talking about him, and wondering what had become of the finest Indian boy that ever lived.

A BIT TOO MUCH

A Scot was engaged in an argument with a conductor as to whether the fare was five or ten cents. Final up the Scots suitcase and tossed it off the train, as they passed over a bridge. It landed with a splash.
"Mon," screamed Sandy, "isn't it enough to try and over charge me, but now you try to drown my little boy!"

Three of the members of the Texas legislature during the latest session are blind. Lon E. Alsop of Carthage, serving his second term, is author of the bill that repealed the "three-day notice of intention to marry" law. Olin R. Van Zandt of Tioga, serving his third term, is one of the ablest constitutionalists in the house. Tom Hicks of Grand Saline is a newcomer, serving his first term, and is a close student of legislative procedure.

STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

CHEVROLET

CHEVROLET Why is it that every 12-cylinder and 16-cylinder car in America has bodies of steel reinforced by hardwood? Why is it that every make of car selling for over $4000 uses bodies of exactly the same type? Why? For the same reason that Chevrolet uses it exclusively. Because every test and every experiment has definitely proved: STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

The trouble with steel alone is that it stands just so much shock and punishment! Steel alone is also inclined to rattle and rattle. BUT—when you put the two together—a heavy, staunch steel body over tough, solid hardwood—then the hardwood reinforces the steel—and vice versa! And the result: the strongest, safest type of body, such as Fisher builds for Chevrolet. CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

From the issue of July 16, 1910: Harris Happenings: The drought had been broken with a good rain. Mr. Centers bought a bunch of heifer yearlings from J.W. Cotton at $15 per head. There was a big campaign on in Terry to kill the prairie dogs. We find that we were giving quite a lot of space to the candidacy of R. V. Davidson for governor. Miss Irene Copeland had entertained with a 42 party. J. R. Hill had accumulated quite a little menagerie at the hotel. His collection consisted of a lobo wolf, a bob cat, a coon and a half breed lobo and dog.

How to Control Poplar Caterpillars

Lubbock, July 8.—How to kill caterpillars which destroy the leaves of the Lombardy poplar is explained by Prof. Geo. W. Woodbury of the department of horticulture of Texas Technological college. He says:

"This pest constitutes a serious menace almost every season. It is found principally only on this particular species, no evidence having shown that it attacks the common cottonwood. The Lombardy poplar, of course, is characterized by its tall, slender form.

"This pest is best controlled by spraying with arsenical poison, arsenate of lead being preferred on account of its small cost and the ease with which it may be obtained. It can be purchased in limited quantities at almost any drug store. This same poison is the one commonly used for controlling potato beetles. It is purchased either in the paste or powder form. Mix the paste with water at the rate of from four to five pounds to 100 gallons. The powder is used at one-half the above rate.

"The material should be sprayed on the tree with a pressure sprayer, care being taken to cover the foliage thoroughly. It is not necessary that the insect be covered, as arsenate of lead is a stomach poison and the insect must eat it. Usually one good application will give fair control, although succeeding treatments should be made if the pests persist."

CALIFORNIA METHODISTS TO BE ROUGH WITH WETS

California Methodists of the Southern persuasion plan to expell from their membership all who manufacture liquor, sell it or transport it, as well as all who act as landlord, attorney of bondsman in connection with furthering the interests of liquor. At the same meeting at which the program was announced, it was voted to recommend the release of Tom Mooney on the ground that he is innocent.

If the Methodist has been rough with Methodists who dally with liquor and had done it a little sooner, the story of liquor might be different. And so might the story of Methodism. As much might be said of other denominations.

Any church has an inalienable right to say who shall not march in its particular pilgrimage toward heaven. But a trial for murder by vote of a church conference is not yet authorized. Nor ought it ever to be.—Dallas Journal.

Croley Reports His Wife Much Better

Weatherford, Texas, July 10, 1933. To the Herald:—

Will you give me space in your paper for a short letter. Wife and I left Brownfield June 11th, and she is so much better than when we left Brownfield. We have several good friends there that read your paper and would be glad to learn how we are getting along. I am hardly able to write all of them a personal letter. I have worked some. Made $7.65 repairing chairs and furniture.

I hope you have had rain. It is awfully dry here. The crops are burning up and the garden ruined. It looks like rain this morning. I would like to read a letter or card from all my friends while we are here, and will be here 10 days. Also would like to have a copy of your paper. You said you would send me one. Wishing your paper and all well, I close. Excuse bad writing and spelling.

C. N. HASKELL HAD A SENSE OF DIGNITY

C. N. Haskell, Oklahoma's first governor, has been gathered to his fathers. During his term of public service he had his share of criticism—some of it bitter enough, for that matter. But with the passing of the years, he is seen to have been a man who meant well by his people and served them well, also.

The early Governors of the Sooner have a dignity which later executives seem to scorn. Nor was this sense of fitness merely one of hauteur and conformity to ceremonial prestige. They had a feeling for the bigness of their responsibility which seems strangely lacking now in the Southwest chief executives, taking them as a whole.

Nowadays uncouthness and gallusness are a sign of greatness. With Haskell it was not so.—Dallas Journal.

HOW TO REDUCE

Franklin D. Roosevelt has a very simple but highly effective system of reducing weight.

On his recent sea cruise the president picked up seven pounds. The combination of salt air and rest whipped his appetite up to a high pitch, with inevitable result.

Upon his return to the White House the president stepped on the scale and discovered that his weight was 181 pounds, instead of his customary 174. Remarking that he would have to take drastic action to get his weight back to normal, the president was asked how he proposed going about it.

"Eating less," was the Roosevelt reply. Such a system requires much fortitude, more than most people possess, but it is guaranteed to be effective.—Abilene News.

Dr. Bernice Weldon attended the district Chiropractic meeting in Lubbock Sunday. Dr. Drain, president of the chiropractic college at San Antonio, from which institution Dr. Weldon received her degree, was on hand, and delivered a wonderful address before that body. Dr. Weldon took some patients to this noted masseur to have an alysis made of their symptoms.

Chevrolet Doubles Production of June 1932

Production of new Chevrolet cars and trucks in June more than doubled output for the corresponding month last year and was the largest single month's production in two years W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company announced today.

With a total output of 81,573 units, June compares with 36,142 in June last year and with 68,538 in May this year, previously the best month since June 1931.

He emphasized the high June total was made possible only with the splendid morale and co-operation extended by the more than 36,000 employees now on the company's payrolls. Mr. Knudsen said he hoped, through the share-the-work plan practiced by his company in recent years, to hold the employment curve flatter this summer than has been possible in past seasons.

PROHIBITION AS VIEWED BY A DRUNK MAN

I had twelve bottles of whiskey in my cellar, and my wife made me empty the contents of each and every bottle down the sink, so I proceeded to do as my wife desired and withdrew the cork from the first bottle and poured the contents down the sink, with the exception of one glass which I drank. Then I withdrew the cork from the second bottle, and did likewise, with the exception of one glass which I drank. I extracted the cork from the third bottle, emptied the good old booze down the bottle, except a glass which I devoured. I pulled the cork from the fourth sink and poured the bottle down my neck. I pulled the fifth bottle from the cork of the next and drank one sink from it, and then threw the rest down the sink. I pulled the sink out of the next cork, and poured the bottle down my neck. I pulled the next bottle out of my throat, and poured the cork down the sink, all but the sink, which I drank. I pulled the next cork from my throat, and poured the sink down the bottle and drank the cork.

Well, I had them all emptied and steadied the house with one hand and counted the bottles again, which were twenty-four, so I counted them again, when the came around again, and I had seventy-four, and as the house came around I counted and proceeded to wash the bottles, but I couldn't get the brush in the bottles, so I turned them inside out and washed and wiped them all, and went upstairs, and told the other half, all about what I had done, and Oh! boy! I've got the wisest little nice in the world.—Jack Wingo in Community Weekly.

SELL CROP TO UNCLE SAM AND GO VISITING Cancer Can Be Cured In Its Early Stages

College Station, July 10.—"In the community where I grew up it used to be the practice that some farmer would sell their cotton crop at this time of year and spend July and August in other occupation, coming back in the fall and pick cotton for hire," said H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent of the Extension service, who is heading up the gigantic job of signing up nearly five million acres of Texas cotton land for retirement in the government's campaign to retire ten million acres throughout the south.

Austin, Texas.—Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer in speaking of cancer, said it ranked fourth as a cause of death in Texas, being exceeded only by heart disease, tuberculosis, and pneumonia, in the order named. One of the reasons so many people die of cancer is because the disease usually exists some time before it is recognized and treated. It has then progressed from a local and small cancer to a large and dangerous one.

"The only difference between the situation of the farmer then and the one who signs up to sell the government his crop in this campaign now is that there'll not be any cotton on that land for him to bend his back over this fall, and consequently he should get a better price for the balance of his crop. The old time sale was made on the bases of the condition of the crop and its estimated yield, and so is this one."

Rheumatism Gone Too

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter:

"I started taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.), at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less, which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." (Miss) E. L. P.

Overweight and rheumatism poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yes—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all drug stores—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c.

LITTLE M. J. JONES, JR.

On July 9, the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jones was made very sad by the death of their darling baby, little M. L. Jr. aged 5 months and 3 days old. He was only sick a few hours, and everything was done for him that loving hands could do, but to no avail. God needed another angel among his shining band, and he reached with tender touch and clasped our darling's hand. Cheer up, dear mother, father and little sister. You know where to find your darling.

A precious one from them is gone. A voice they loved is stilled, A place is vacant in their home, Which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled, The boon his love had given, And though the body lingers here, The soul is safe in heaven. Dearest baby, thou hast left us, And the love we deeply feel But 'tis God that has bereft us, He can our sorrows heal. But again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled, And in heaven with joy to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed. No clouds are seen in that sinless land, where storms never sweep over the sky, for all's so fair on that glittering strand, that sorrow's dark clouds never rise.

With tearless eyes and joyful hearts, we say good bye for we must part. But we'll meet again I say, with joy to greet on some sweet day. A friend, Orbie,

Crosby county got some fine rains last week, in some places as much as 2 inches.

O. E. Swain, federal district engineer, previously announced that bids probably will be made on the first project under the improvement program by July 15.

The old O'Donnell Index building was sold at sheriff's sale here Tuesday to satisfy a judgement in favor of C. H. Doak and H. E. Baldrige against J. W. and Sam Roberts. The building was bought in by Tom Kellis, former owner and publisher of the Index.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING PAY OF FOREST WORKERS AMENDED

The regulation governing monthly cash allowances to forest workers is amended by order of the President effective July 1. The original regulation made a flat cash allowance of $30 per month to each of the camp workers.

As announced by Robert Fechner, director of the Emergency Conservation work the regulation as amended provides that not more than 5 percent of the authorized strength of any Civilian Conservation Corps Company, may be paid a cash allowance of $45 per month while an additional 8 percent may be paid a cash allowance of $36 per month.

Selection of those to receive the higher cost allowances will be made by the company commander and camp superintendent of each camp. The latter will be selected by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture and the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior.

To date 100,000 men are working in camps, and by July 1, 175,000 will have begun their duties.

Experience during the past few weeks has disclosed a need for a mild form of discipline for minor offenses that may be committed by the enrolled personnel of the Civilian Conservation Corps. The disciplinary system invoked is similar to that imposed by the management of industrial enterprise in which it is necessary to maintain a high moral and efficiency of production, as well as equality of opportunity and privilege for those employed.

Hearings will be conducted on all offenses that appear to merit such attention, governing the rules of evidence. A record of the findings of each hearing and the penalty imposed will be made as may be directed.

It is stated as the belief of the director of Emergency Conservation Work that these changes—a scale of increased cash allowances and the mild penalty system customarily imposed in large industrial enterprises—will result in maintaining a high moral.

Seagraves, July 8.—Eastern Gaines county, midway between Seagraves and Lamesa, has the newest postoffice in the county.

It is known as "Spot" and was authorized recently by the postoffice department. Lonnie Mingus was named postmaster.

"Spot" is at Cedar Lake, and there are 41 families to be served by the new office. Chas. H. Doak, well known rancher, gave the location for the office. Mail will come from Loop, the nearest office, about 10 miles from Seagraves. Loop is served by a star route from Seagraves.

Milt Howard from old Yoakum, was shopping here Saturday.

A TOUGH PROPOSITION

An old newspaper man said this to us, not long after we started: If a business man buys himself a pair of socks, that don't answer anybody's demand for socks but his. No one can drop in and say, "Let me have your socks awhile Bill." His wife can't say "Papa, when you get through with those socks, hand them over to me." One of the neighbors can't drop in and say, "I thought I'd come over and see if you were through with your socks." But with a newspaper it's different. One copy will answer very well for 20 people. Tough proposition, this running a newspaper.—Lamar (Mo.) Democrat.

WHAT IF DOCTORS DISAGREE?

When a doctor doctors a doctor, In a strictly professional way; If the doctor who doctors the doctor And the doctor whom the doctor doctors With each other disagree, Does the doctor who doctors the doctor, Or the doctor the doctor doctors, In the argument, have final say?
